All of Seton Hall’s programs and policies are consistent with the University’s mission and are carried out in accordance with the teachings of the Catholic Church and the proscriptions of the law.

The University supports and implements all state and federal anti-discrimination laws, including Executive Order 11246, as amended, which prohibits discrimination in employment by institutions with federal contracts; Titles VI and VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, which prohibit discrimination against students and all employees on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin or sex; Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, which prohibits discrimination against students and all employees on the basis of sex; Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, which require affirmative action to employ and advance in employment qualified disabled veterans of the Vietnam Era; the Equal Pay Act of 1963, which prohibits discrimination in salaries; the Age Discrimination in Employment Acts of 1967 and 1975, which prohibit discrimination on the basis of age; and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, which prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability.

Seton Hall University is committed to programs of equal employment opportunity and affirmative action (EEO/AA). No person may be denied employment or related benefits or admission to the University or to any of its programs or activities, either academic or nonacademic, curricular or extracurricular, because of race, color, religion, age, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, handicap and disability, or veteran’s status. All executives, administrators, faculty and managers — both academic and administrative — are responsible for individual and unit support of Seton Hall University’s EEO/AA programs. EEO/AA policies are to be applied in all decisions regarding hiring, promotion, retention, tenure, compensation, benefits, layoffs, academic programs, and social and recreational programs.

Charles Creamer, Senior Human Resources Generalist, is the University’s equal employment opportunity/affirmative action officer who is responsible for providing information regarding the provisions of the laws and regulations referenced in the preceding paragraphs and their applicability to the services, programs and activities offered by the University. Mr. Creamer is located in the Department of Human Resources in the Martin House, 366 South Orange Avenue and may be contacted charles.creamer@shu.edu or (973) 761-9284. Lori Brown is the University compliance officer who is responsible for providing information regarding sexual harassment and racial and/or ethnic discrimination, as well as protocols for the investigation of complaints in those areas. Ms. Brown is located in Presidents Hall and may be contacted at lori.brown@shu.edu or (973) 313-6132.

To contact the Office of Graduate Admissions, call (973) 275-2892. Other offices may be reached via the University switchboard at (973) 761-9000. Address to write for information: Office of Graduate Admissions - Presidents Hall, Seton Hall University, 400 South Orange Avenue, South Orange, NJ 07079.

NOTE: University policy indicates that the Provost is responsible for the decision to cancel or delay classes or University operations. When classes are cancelled, the University is closed except for essential services. Information regarding the suspension or delayed start of classes and/or operations will be made available to the University community via the PirateAlert Emergency Notification System, the SHU South Orange (http://www.shu.edu) and Law School (http://law.shu.edu) websites, and WSOU. An informational message is also placed on the University telephone system (South Orange Campus at 973-761-9000 and the Law School at 973-642-8725). Every effort will be made to have emergency closing information available by 6 am.
From the President

This catalogue is a sampling of the exceptional array of knowledge available at Seton Hall University through its academic offerings. As you make your course selections, it is also important to remember that time in classrooms, laboratories and libraries is part of the bigger picture that prompted you to come to this preeminent Catholic institution of higher education.

Saint Elizabeth Ann Seton, for whom our University is named, began our country’s parochial school system in the belief that faith should be lived in responsible citizenship capable of bringing to society wisdom, knowledge and integrity. Her nephew, Bishop James Roosevelt Bayley, built on that philosophy in founding Seton Hall as “a home for the heart, the mind and the spirit.” Today, we use the term “servant leader” to summarize the University’s mission to form women and men of ethical leadership and competence in all fields of enterprise, and who are also dedicated to serve others. For our institution, that is the core of academic excellence.

In recent years, we have seen an increase in the number and quality of students who attend Seton Hall. We have inaugurated new programs across the disciplines and we continue to build new facilities. Yet, the fundamental values remain the same.

This is the Catholic mission, to form the whole person in a nurturing community that offers our students personal attention and care. Please keep this in mind as you peruse this catalogue and prepare for the academic year ahead. In selecting your courses, know that you will share your journey with thousands, indeed tens of thousands who have gone before you. Like them, you are in pursuit of that truth, which alone sets us free.

A. Gabriel Esteban, Ph.D.
President
Seton Hall University
Students pursue a graduate or professional education for a variety of reasons – the love of knowledge, the aspiration to advance one’s professional goals, or the desire to take one’s career in a totally different direction. The graduate catalogue represents your opportunity to accomplish these goals, and more. Irrespective of what brought you back to school, take advantage of the opportunity not simply to accomplish your goals, but to experience personal and spiritual growth. Take a course not because it is required by your degree program but because it will be intellectually stimulating, or provide a respite from your daily life.

Seton Hall University is dedicated to producing student-leaders whose personal and professional lives are built upon an ethical foundation. We also adopt a global vision in our approach to the world, and urge you to as well. At this point in your educational lives, your professors should become your colleagues. Take advantage as much as your busy lives allow of this opportunity.

Provost and Executive Vice President
Seton Hall University

Our Mission

Seton Hall is a major Catholic university. In a diverse and collaborative environment it focuses on academic and ethical development. Seton Hall students are prepared to be leaders in their professional and community lives in a global society and are challenged by outstanding faculty, an evolving technologically advanced setting and values-centered curricula.

AS APPROVED BY THE SETON HALL UNIVERSITY BOARD OF REGENTS, JUNE 6, 1996.
University Overview

Seton Hall University was founded in 1856 by Bishop James Roosevelt Bayley, the first bishop of Newark, who named it after his aunt, Elizabeth Ann Seton, a pioneer in Catholic education and the first American-born saint. The University is the oldest diocesan university in the United States.

Nestled on 58 acres in the suburban village of South Orange, New Jersey, Seton Hall’s campus is home to eight schools and colleges: the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Education and Human Services, the College of Nursing, the School of Diplomacy and International Relations, the School of Health and Medical Sciences, the Stillman School of Business, and Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology. Seton Hall’s eighth school, the School of Law, is located in Newark, New Jersey. The Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies is located on the South Orange Campus.

A Tradition of Christian Values

Seton Hall University is founded on and defines itself and its academics, student life and community programs on a Christian understanding of the nature of the world and the human person. With a tradition of quality education based on Christian values, the University takes pride in its concern for the intellectual, ethical and spiritual development of its undergraduate and graduate students.

Religious beliefs and values are taken seriously at Seton Hall. The University emphasizes the importance of religious and ethical concerns to all areas of human inquiry. With Roman Catholic teaching and tradition as a life-enhancing and enabling vision, the University calls on its students to explore and appreciate all that is the best and most humane in the world.

Seton Hall is Catholic not only by its charter and mission, but also by its ongoing spirit and activity. There exists a basic tenet at the University that religious faith is vital to life and its meaning. This tenet provides a context in which the University has and will continue to define and develop its identity. The Office of Mission and Ministry was instituted in order to foster the spirit and the reality of the Catholic faith on campus.

At the same time, Seton Hall is committed to bringing together people of different races, cultures, religious traditions, lifestyles and ethnic backgrounds into a community that is respectful and supportive. This commitment has helped to establish a truly multicultural community in which all people of good will are welcome.

Seton Hall strives to develop the intellectual, social and religious talents of its students so they may live their lives responsibly, generously and successfully.

Academic Programs: A Commitment to Excellence

At the undergraduate level, Seton Hall offers more than 60 majors and concentrations, as well as many minors, certificates, and interdisciplinary and other special programs. These curricula are continually evaluated and enhanced to meet the changing educational, professional and technological needs and expectations of our increasingly complex society.

One thing that has remained consistent, however, is the University’s commitment to individual attention: With more than 400 full-time faculty and many adjunct faculty, the average class size is just 20 students, and the student-faculty ratio is 14:1. In addition to a highly dedicated and accessible faculty, the University offers comprehensive academic advising and career development programs, as well as a diversity of special services designed to assist students in their academic, personal, professional and spiritual development. At Seton Hall, students find people who are willing to listen, offer support and help them achieve their goals.

The University also encourages students to enhance their academic preparation through involvement in extracurricular activities, such as student government; student professional organizations; internships and cooperative education experiences; varsity, intramural and club sports; recreation and fitness activities; fraternities and sororities; community service; cultural programs; and ethnic and other special-interest organizations.

A Window to the Wider World

Seton Hall is in the midst of one of the world’s most cosmopolitan centers of education, business, publishing, art and entertainment. The University’s close proximity to New York City (which is 14 miles from South Orange) allows students to explore the best that the “Big Apple” has to offer, including museums, plays, concerts and sporting events. In the city as well as throughout areas of New Jersey, students take part in field trips, internships, cooperative education assignments and community service activities. And with the increasing importance of international business, communication and governmental cooperation, many students elect to pursue international study programs.

The History of Seton Hall

The “three chapters” of the University’s history span over 150 years of intellectual and spiritual development, from the founding era into the 20th century, through depression, world war and cold war, and through the most recent period of expansion.

From its original enrollment of a handful of students in 1856, Seton Hall grew rapidly. During its first 12 years, the College enrolled more than 500 freshmen from 17 states and six foreign countries. The seeds of diversity at Seton Hall were planted almost from its birth.
Seton Hall always has reflected the growing ethnic scope of its students and the increasing diversity of the Church and society it has served. In the 19th century, in spite of setbacks, major fires, lean times and the Civil War, the College continued to expand. By 1937, Seton Hall established a University College. This marked the first matriculation of women at Seton Hall. The University became fully coeducational in 1968.

The years after World War II witnessed unprecedented growth for Seton Hall as it responded to the needs of thousands of veterans seeking higher education. The College was organized into a university in 1950, comprising the College of Arts and Sciences and the schools of Business, Nursing and Education. The School of Law opened its doors in 1951 and the School of Diplomacy and International Relations was established in 1997.

The next two decades saw the construction and modernization of a number of facilities including the Library, the Science and Technology Center, residence halls and the University Center. Many new programs and majors were inaugurated. New ties were established with the private and industrial sectors, and a growing partnership developed with federal and state governments creating programs for the economically and educationally disadvantaged.

The ’70s and ’80s continued to be a time of growth and renewal. New business and nursing classroom buildings and an art center were opened. In 1984, Immaculate Conception Seminary returned to Seton Hall, its original home until 1927, when it moved to Darlington. With construction of four new residence halls between 1986-88, the purchase of off-campus apartment buildings in 1990 and 2004 and the expansion of Aquinas Hall in 2014, Seton Hall now provides living space for approximately 2,300 students.

The physical development of the campus continued in the 1990s. In 1994, construction was completed on Walsh Library, a $20 million, four-story facility. Walsh Library provides first-class study and research resources to undergraduate and graduate students, faculty and scholars from around the world. The opening of Walsh Library is symbolic of Seton Hall’s transformation from a small, local institution whose library housed the personal collection of its president to a major national university with current library holdings of nearly 700,000 volumes.

Seton Hall houses its College of Education and Human Services, Stillman School of Business, Center for Public Service, and the departments of Sociology and Anthropology, Psychology, and Political Science in Jubilee Hall, named to commemorate the University’s Sesquicentennial in 2006. The building provides a wide range of teaching spaces — from seminar rooms to a 390-seat auditorium. All classrooms in the building are wired to accommodate notebook computers, and many of the lecture halls are equipped with distance-learning technology.

When the Sesquicentennial of Seton Hall was observed in 2006, we looked back on the prophetic concluding words from the 1956 centenary history of the University: “Seton Hall University’s great boast and claim to fame is not predicated on expansion, buildings or even curriculum. It lies rather in the hearts and minds of a dedicated and devoted faculty.” Seton Hall’s history has been one primarily of people: students and faculty living and working together in a community of learning, a community rooted in a Catholic tradition that is a home for the mind, the heart and the spirit.

The Science and Technology Center opened in Fall 2007. This state-of-the-art facility houses the departments of Biological Sciences, Chemistry and Biochemistry, Mathematics and Computer Science, and Physics.

The Stafford Hall opened in Fall of 2014. The building, which architects designed to complement Presidents Hall, features 12 technologically advanced classrooms. Nine of the rooms can accommodate 35 students each, while the remaining rooms include two large classrooms that can hold 70 and 50 students apiece and one smaller room for 25 students.

Seton Hall remains in the forefront of global education, and at the same time honors its history.

Priest Community at Seton Hall

From its earliest existence as a diocesan college, Seton Hall has been staffed by the priests of the Archdiocese of Newark. At present, 45 priests (the largest single apostolate of diocesan clergy anywhere) serve the University community in a variety of ways. Some work in administration or on staff, others are professors on the University or Seminary faculties. Some work directly with students in a pastoral capacity in Campus Ministry. Some serve on the University Boards and some have retired after many years of service to the University and continue to live on campus and contribute to the spiritual and liturgical life of the campus community.

The presence of dozens of priests of the Archdiocese of Newark, as well as those from other dioceses or religious orders who also work on campus, is a vital element in furthering the Catholic mission and identity of the University. In addition to their administrative and/or academic duties, the priests minister to all members of the University community, not only through the scheduled liturgical services in the University chapels, but also through their availability, personal concern and response to individual needs.

Accreditation and Memberships

Seton Hall University is fully accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. The academic qualifications of the undergraduate programs have merited their accreditation by appropriate professional memberships as well. Below is a list of University memberships; additional information regarding individual program accreditation is available from appropriate University departments. The University’s National Honor Society memberships are listed in the Academic Policies and Procedures section of this catalogue.
Documents describing the University’s accreditation status are available for review in the Monsignor William Noé Field University Archives and Special Collections Center, University Libraries.

Schools and Colleges
Schools and colleges of the University that offer both undergraduate and graduate programs are the College of Arts and Sciences, College of Education and Human Services, College of Nursing, the School of Diplomacy and International Relations, the Stillman School of Business, and Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology.
Information regarding graduate programs offered by these schools may be found consulting the table of contents and/or index of this Catalogue. Undergraduate programs offered within these areas may be found in the University’s Undergraduate Catalogue.

Seton Hall also has two schools offering primarily graduate and professional programs: the School of Health and Medical Sciences, and the School of Law. Information about programs offered within these areas may be obtained directly from these schools and from this Catalogue.

School of Law
The Seton Hall University School of Law was founded in 1951. It is the only law school in New Jersey operated by a private university. It offers a full-time program, leading to a J.D. in three years and a part-time evening division leading to a J.D. in four years. It also offers an LL.M. in Health Law and an LL.M. in Intellectual Property Law. An M.S.J. in Health Law and/or Intellectual Property Law is also available.

In addition to basic courses required for admission to the bar in all states, the School of Law offers advanced courses in a variety of areas of the law, including a number considering legal and policy questions being addressed across the nation and internationally. The School offers opportunities for concentrations in health law and intellectual property, as well as opportunities to explore criminal law, corporate law, employment law and international law. Active participation in appellate and trial moot court provides training in the effective presentation of legal cases and argument.

In the area of clinical legal education, the School of Law’s Center for Social Justice has developed a number of litigation clinics and other programs that offer practical skill training and an opportunity to serve the community.

Further information on concentrations in health law or intellectual property for J.D., LL.M. or M.S.J. students is available at (973) 642-8871. General admissions information and information on the J.D./M.B.A. and J.D./M.A.D.I.R. is

University Overview

Information Technology

Dennis J. Garbini, M.B.A., Vice President for Administration
Stephen G. Landry, Ph.D., Chief Information Officer

Seton Hall University is recognized as one of the leaders in the use of technology to support research and education. Technology is ubiquitous at Seton Hall. The University’s award-winning Mobile Computing Program provides laptops computers to all undergraduate students and faculty. The technology is supported by a campus-wide wireless network, an on-campus computer repair facility, “24x7” phone support, and a state-of-the-art data center providing network services that include the PirateNet campus portal, the Blackboard learning management system, an ePortfolio system, and online services such as registration, payment and access to grades. Many of the University’s online services are also available through mobile smartphones, and additional mobile smartphone services are brought online each year. The Department of Information Technology and the Department of Public Relations and Marketing have developed a comprehensive website to serve the community.

For more information about technology at Seton Hall University visit technology.shu.edu

The Mobile Computing Program

One of the cornerstones in achieving the University’s vision of supporting ubiquitous technology on campus is the University’s Mobile Computing Program. The program is mandatory for all full-time undergraduate students and is supported by the Mobile Computing Technology fee. The Mobile Computing Program has three mutually reinforcing components: 1) Ubiquitous Access: all faculty and students in the program are equipped with a state-of-the-art laptop computer with a full suite of productivity tools such as Microsoft Office. Most students' laptops are replaced every two years (for example, students in some five-year programs are scheduled to receive one replacement laptop during their five years of study). Students are eligible to keep their laptop when they graduate. (2) Services and Support: the University provides high levels of support for technology, including on-site laptop repairs, “24x7” phone support, a campus-wide wireless network, ubiquitous classroom technology such as built-in video projection in every classroom, and network services such as online file storage, online collaboration tools and online access to academic and administrative services. (3) Curricular Integration: through the Teaching, Learning and Technology Center the University provides particular support to faculty and academic departments that make it easy for them to use the technology to enhance teaching and learning. The Mobile Computing Technology Fee is currently $650 per semester for most students, but the fee varies somewhat by academic program (for example, students in some five-year programs will have a lower fee their fifth year of study).

The Teaching, Learning and Technology Center (TLTC)

The University’s Teaching, Learning and Technology Center (TLTC), located in Walsh Library, supports classroom technology and provides the programs and services that support the effective use of information technology to enhance teaching and learning. The TLTC provides facilities and classroom support for technology; audiovisual equipment for classrooms and events; media production; video conferencing facilities; and facilities for acquiring, converting and editing digital media and streaming media. The TLTC provides faculty support for the appropriate integration of technology. The TLTC also provides training for all University-supported computer hardware and software to the entire Seton Hall community. Available classes range from the basics of using a laptop computer through courses of all levels on Microsoft Office, the Blackboard Learning System, developing a personal web site or ePortfolio, and many other topics. The TLTC also administers several programs aimed at supporting faculty and student use of technology and infusing technology appropriately into the curriculum. For example, the Curriculum Development Initiative (CDI) provides systematic support for departments integrating information technology into required core courses or course sequences.

The Student Technology Assistants Program

The Student Technology Assistants Program (STA) is a nationally renowned program which provides on-campus jobs to students who help support faculty use of technology into the curriculum who help support the University community on its standard hardware and software. The STA program is student-centered and student-run with guidance from University faculty and technologists, who provide students with appropriate training and a structured experience in technology support and consulting services. The STA program accepts students from all majors and with all levels of knowledge about technology, from the novice to the expert. Interested students can find more information on the technology website at technology.shu.edu

The Campus Network

Seton Hall University campus has a state-of-the-art wireless network that provides access from everywhere on campus – in the classrooms, the residence halls and all public meeting and study spaces. Many of our classrooms and public spaces have also been outfitted with power at each seat. Each student at the University automatically receives a network account. All common network services are available through the University’s PirateNet portal (piratenet.shu.edu). The University’s campus e-mail is based on Microsoft Exchange. Many courses use the Blackboard learning system as a collaborative learning environment, providing online document repositories, discussion groups and assessment tools for faculty and student use. The University provides webhosting services for student home pages and ePortfolios and network storage for student files (currently 50 GB of online storage). Upon graduation, students are eligible for an alumni e-mail account for life at no cost.
Technology Services

The University provides a wide range of facilities and services to support information technology. Among these are:

PC Support Services: Located on the lower level of Corrigan Hall, PC Support Services provides walk-in support, computer repairs and one-on-one laptop consultation, as well as phone support for the entire University community. The Technology Service Desk operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week to support all standard supported software, including the Blackboard learning system. The Technology Service Desk can be reached on campus at ext. 2222, off campus at (973) 275-2222, or by e-mail at servicedesk@shu.edu

Public Computer Labs: PC Support maintains three public computer labs containing more than 100 computers in three academic buildings: Jubilee 524 Lab in Jubilee Hall, Nursing 203 Lab in Schwartz Hall and the Information Commons in Walsh Library. All of the University’s public computing labs are equipped with modern computers connected to the campus network, and public access printers and mobile ports for those students who wish to use a laptop in the lab. The software in the computer labs consists of the standard Seton Hall supported applications, including the Microsoft Professional Office Suite, Internet Explorer, Maple and SPSS, as well as several discipline-specific applications that have been installed at the request of various departments throughout campus. In addition to the public computing labs, a number of academic departments, including business, communication, education, mathematics and computer science, and modern languages, operate their own computer labs in partnership with PC Support Services. The Public Computer Labs are staffed and supported by students in the STA program.

University IT Services (UITS): Located in Corrigan Hall, University IT Services is responsible for maintaining the campus network, the campus Internet connection, all campus servers (e-mail, web, applications) and the Banner student, administrative and financial systems. UITS is also responsible for all telephones, telephone switches, voice mail accounts and cell phones.

University Libraries

John E. Buschman, D.L.S., Dean

Walsh Library faculty and staff provide Seton Hall University students library services on the South Orange campus. During the academic year the Library is open Monday through Thursday from 8 a.m. to 2 a.m.; Friday from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m.; Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; and Sunday from Noon to 2 a.m. This four-story 155,000 square-foot facility opened in August 1994 and houses the University Libraries, the Walsh Gallery, and the Monsignor William Noé Field University Archives and Special Collections Center. Walsh Library also accommodates the Teaching, Learning and Technology Center, or TLTC. TLTC includes the Instructional Design Team, the Computer Training Center, the Student Technology Assistant Program, the Interactive Television Classroom and University Media Services.

The Library is home to the Bernard J. Lonergan Institute, the Center for Catholic Studies, and the Chesterton Institute. The Monsignor James C. Turro Theology Library is located in Lewis Hall as part of Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology. Strong onsite collections in the University Libraries are augmented by electronic gateways to connect Seton Hall University library community members with global academic resources in other libraries and institutions worldwide. Visit the web site at library.shu.edu. The Peter W. Rodino, Jr. Law Library, located on the School of Law campus, is separately administered.

The University Libraries

The University Libraries have notable resources, including extensive holdings of more than 1,000,000 book volumes and electronic access to full-text articles in more than 30,000 journals. Further, the Libraries subscribe to a broad selection of indexing and abstracting services in both digital and print formats, various microform collections, music CDs, and audiovisual aids. The University Libraries are a selective depository for U.S. Federal, State of New Jersey and U.N. publications.

Depository status provides exclusive access to thousands of publications in electronic or print formats. For added bibliographic access and document delivery, the University Libraries participate in consortia such as PALCI, VALE and the international OCLC. It provides more than 12,000 interlibrary loans to students and faculty free of charge. A majority of periodical interlibrary loans are delivered through e-mail. The University Libraries have strong and growing collections in the areas of theology, Asian studies, Judaic-Christian studies, Italian studies (Valente Collection), Slavic and Eastern European studies and other areas of the humanities. The Curriculum Resource Lab contains K-12 resources that support instruction provided by the College of Education and Human Services. New books are available on open stacks and are displayed on specifically marked shelves. Popular periodicals and a variety of local, national and international newspapers are displayed in the Browsing Room, which offers soft chair seating and study tables. All information resources are catalogued and accessible through SetonCat, the University Libraries’ online public access catalog.

The Library accommodates more than 1,100 students, faculty and visitors in a variety of study facilities, including tables, carrels, group-study rooms and scholar study rooms. The Silent Study Room has been created to accommodate those students who prefer a totally quiet environment for their research and scholarship. In the past year, more than 38,000 students used group study rooms and more than 474,800 people visited the library. A faculty of 13 qualified full-time professional library faculty, supported by administrative staff, focus on offering excellent service to Seton Hall’s community of students and classroom faculty. The Library faculty respond to the needs of our scholars, continually transforming the Library’s services to exceed client expectations. Library faculty, staff and administrators practice the virtue of hospitality in welcoming and assisting students in using information resources to produce rigorous scholarship and by assisting faculty in classroom instruction. The library faculty provide reference desk, internet and telephone service consultation, as well as offer bibliographic and information services via telephone, e-mail and virtual reference through the library website. Library faculty serve as subject bibliographers and liaisons to various academic disciplines for collection development and curriculum support.

The University is committed to developing students’ information literacy skills. The University Libraries provide orientation and instruction in information literacy skills to all freshmen in partnership with the Freshmen Studies Program and the Department of English. In a growing number of English courses, library faculty are available to assist students through an electronic course management system called Blackboard. The library faculty instruct nearly 4,000 students including upper level and graduate students. They also provide services to high school students through Project Acceleration, a program that enables high school students to earn college credits. Library administrators and faculty teach in the University’s Core Curriculum Program.

Technology available in the University Libraries includes the web-based delivery of key academic databases of indexes, abstracts and digital full-text resources for study and research. The University Libraries’ Learning Resource Center provides users with 70 state-of-the-art computer workstations, and the University Libraries feature wireless connectivity throughout the facility. The libraries’ electronic-reserve (e-Reserve) capability allows students to access faculty-assigned readings from any place with internet access.

The University Libraries facility complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act (1990) and the Rehabilitation Act (1973) by providing building access via an entrance ramp and elevator service, accommodating wheelchair-bound individuals, providing handicapped-accessible rest rooms and nearby parking spaces for the handicapped. Students or faculty with visible or invisible disabilities, who self-identify at the Circulation Desk, may receive special assistance. Individuals may use an array of adaptive equipment that is available to assist persons with disabilities or impairments in the use of resources and facilities in the Libraries.

The Monsignor James C. Turro Theology Library

The Monsignor James C. Turro Library is located in Lewis Hall on the South Orange campus. Its collections support the undergraduate and graduate curricula of the Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology which is also the major seminary of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Newark. The Turro Theology Library contains more than 80,000 books, 400 periodical titles, periodical microfilm holdings and some audiovisual material. The collection’s focus is on theology and Church history and is particularly strong in liturgical and biblical studies. Resources are available in German, French, Italian, Latin, Spanish and other essential languages for theological and biblical scholarship such as Hebrew, Greek and Syriac. Turro Library’s collections are housed in a modern facility that provides comfortable and convenient study areas. Access to the collection is primarily for students and faculty of Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology and other University faculty. Seton Hall University undergraduate and graduate students sign a guestbook in order to use the Library. Borrowing privileges are extended only to those with a valid Seton Hall ID (students, faculty, administrators, staff and alumni). All others must make requests through the interlibrary loan services provided by the University Libraries, or their home library. Visit the Turro Library website at www.shu.edu/academics/theology/seminary-library/index.cfm

The Monsignor William Noé Field Archives and Special Collections Center

The Monsignor William Noé Field Archives and Special Collections Center is located on the first floor of Walsh Library. Encompassing nearly 4,000 square feet, this center contains a wide range of historically significant resources that document the history of Seton Hall University, the Archdiocese of Newark and Catholic New Jersey. These resources include manuscripts, ledger books, photographs, newspapers, annual reports, scrapbooks, physical artifacts and other materials. The University Archives, which date from 1856, include presidential papers, departmental files, architectural plans and self-study records, among other resources. As the repository for the archives of the Archdiocese of Newark, the Center holds bishops’ papers, parish histories, Catholic directories and related materials highlighting the continuous development of the Archdiocese from 1853 to the present day.

Among the distinctive manuscript collections are the papers of prominent former New Jersey governors Richard Hughes and Brendan Byrne along with the papers of national political figures, including Marcus Daly, Leonard Dreyfuss, Matthew Rinaldo, Bernard Shanley and Donald Payne. The Seton-Jevons family papers (1792-1963) include materials documenting the family of one of the children of the first American-born saint, Elizabeth Ann Seton, and the Salt family letters include the correspondence of William Salt (1837-1891), noted professor and administrator of the 19th century and his family. The literary papers of noted Puerto Rican poet laureate, Trina Padilla de Sanz (1864-1957), and prolific author and first managing editor of the Paris Review, John Train, are also housed at this repository. Other significant collections include those of the late Monsignor John Oesterreicher (1904-1993), founder of the Institute of Judaeo-Christian Studies, and the late Monsignor William Noé Field (1915-2000), English professor and archivist. The collection also contains more than 11,000 printed works, including rare and autographed books, the Meagher...
MacManus, Rita Murphy and John Concannon Irish History and Literature Collections, the Gerald Murphy and Pierce Byrne U.S. Civil War and World Military Uniform Book libraries, and hundreds of master-level and doctoral dissertations of Seton Hall graduate students.

The Monsignor William Noé Field Archives and Special Collections Center provides a comfortable reading room designed for serious research and an adjacent room for instruction and small-group seminars. Microfilm readers are available for reading and photocopying or scanning Setonian or Catholic Advocate newspapers, family history records from parishes and cemeteries, among our other microfilm based resources. The collections are open by appointment to faculty, clergy, administration, students and the general public who have specific research needs. The Monsignor William Noé Field Archives and Special Collections Center accepts donations of materials that fit within its scope. For more information about the Monsignor William Noé Field University Archives and Special Collections Center please consult our website at www.shu.edu/academics/libraries/archives or call (973) 761-9476.

New Jersey Catholic Historical Commission

The Monsignor William Noé Field Archives and Special Collections Center serves as the headquarters for the New Jersey Catholic Historical Commission. The NJCHC was founded in 1976 by Archbishop Peter Gerety and is supported by the hierarchy from each diocese within New Jersey to promote scholarship initiatives related to all aspects of Church History statewide. This work includes promotion of scholarship, lectures, outreach and other preservation-focused activities undertaken by the board along with affiliated friends and supporters of the organization.

For more information call (973) 275-2378, email njchc@shu.edu, or visit their website at blogs.shu.edu/njchc/

Office of Records Management

The Records Management Center is located within the Monsignor William Noé Field Archives and Special Collections Center. It houses non-current and permanent non-archival institutional records. The Records Management program is designed to create, facilitate and monitor the official retention schedules for each University department. Files are systematically transferred, stored and made available for review by the originating University office upon request. The Records Management Center can be reached at (973) 275-2063.

The Walsh Gallery

Since 1994, the Walsh Gallery has provided visitors with the opportunity to encounter the world’s cultural heritage in an intimate, welcoming setting that promotes learning. The Gallery is one of the most vibrant nonprofit exhibition spaces in the New York area. In keeping with the mission of Seton Hall University, there is an emphasis on spiritual growth through the presentation of exhibitions that promote critical thinking and cultural appreciation. Serving both the campus and surrounding communities, the gallery hosts six to eight exhibitions yearly. Admission to the gallery and all special events is free and open to the public.

Advancing the University’s service-based mission, programming in the gallery encourages collaboration with students, various departments on campus and nonprofit organizations. The Walsh Gallery places importance on global themes which promote intercultural appreciation and awareness. Recent programming has investigated post-war Bosnian culture, Jewish communities in Poland during World War II, contemporary Latino art from Museo del Barrio, rites of passage in Christian, Jewish, Hindu and Islamic cultures, Japanese contemporary art and biblical themes as depicted in the prints of French modernist, Georges Rouault.

The Walsh Gallery regularly hosts programming and scholarly events such as the renowned Poetry-in-the-Round series which features readings by award winning authors, symposia, film screenings, artist lectures and meeting space for events. Students and faculty can publicize their events, coursework and accomplishments by reserving exhibition space in the display windows, located on the first and second floor arcades of the Walsh Library. Receptions provide an opportunity to meet and speak with exhibiting artists. For further information, contact the director at 973-275-2033, jeanne.brasile@shu.edu or visit the website at academic.shu.edu/libraries/gallery

Office of International Programs

Maria V. Bouzas, M.A., Director

The Office of International Programs (OIP) internationalizes the Seton Hall community in three distinct areas.

1. Education Abroad

The OIP coordinates the study abroad process for Seton Hall students. Students are encouraged to make study abroad part of their college experience by participating in faculty-led programs, exchange agreements or opportunities through third-party providers. Opportunities abroad can range from one week to a year and to countries such as, Spain, France, Italy, Ethiopia, the Philippines, England and China. The OIP is a central information point, providing pre-departure orientation and guidelines for safe travel. The OIP also advises the Seton Hall International Programs (SHIP) student organization.

2. International Student and Scholar Services

The Office of International Programs assists international students and visiting scholars who wish to study or do research at Seton Hall. This includes issuing the initial documentation required to obtain a student visa or an exchange visitor visa, as well as providing immigration counseling to all international students and scholars regarding maintaining visa status, employment, traveling, changing status, etc. The OIP also provides assistance and guidance to the International Student Association (ISA).
3. Cultural Activities

The OIP promotes awareness and understanding of other cultures throughout the campus and assists international students with integration into the Seton Hall community through social and cultural events. The International Celebration in the fall highlights cultures and customs from around the world.

For further information, contact the Office of International Programs at (973) 761-9072 or visit www.shu.edu/offices/oip-index.cfm

Alumni Relations and the Alumni Association

Matthew Borowick, M.B.A., Associate Vice President
Alumni Relations

The Department of Alumni Relations, with a constituency of more than 92,000 alumni, serves as the primary University resource for all Seton Hall graduates.

Alumni Relations is advised by a Board of Directors which is composed of members representing various alumni constituencies. The board is responsible for supporting the development of activities designed to engage alumni in the University.

This engagement fosters an environment that encourages Seton Hall alumni to be proud proponents of and consistent supporters of their alma mater and fellow alumni. All who have received degrees from Seton Hall University or who have withdrawn under honorable conditions having been a student in good standing for a period of at least two academic semesters, are considered alumni and welcome to participate in these activities and programs.

Recognizing the vital importance of building relationships with our many alumni, the Department of Alumni Relations produces both print and electronic communications. These contain updates on campus activities and feature stories about alumni, as well as news from the various schools, alumni chapters and constituent groups.

For more information on alumni activities, call (973) 378-9822 or 1-800-992-GRAD, write to the Department of Alumni Relations, Seton Hall University, George M. Ring Building, 457 Centre Street, South Orange, NJ 07079-2691, visit the website at alumni.shu.edu or write to alumni@shu.edu

Seton Hall University Parents’ Association

Parents and family members are an integral part of the Seton Hall community and play an important role in enhancing the student experience. Parents of all admitted students are members of the Parents Association. The executive body of the association is the Parents Leadership Council, which provides a forum for discussion between the parent community and University leadership. Participating in the Parents Association is an excellent way for parents to stay connected and to support the education of their college student. Specifically, benefits of membership include a subscription to the parents’ bimonthly e-newsletter What’s New @ SHU, service on special volunteer committees, invitations to University events, an opportunity to have greater impact through directed philanthropy, and the option to join the Parents Leadership Council. The Parents website at www.shu.edu/parents is a valuable source of information for parents and family members. Visit the site to learn more about the association and to subscribe to the e-newsletter.

Academic Success and Transfer Student Center
Hezal Patel, M.A., Director
Mooney Hall 11

Providing individual consultations, workshops and academic coaching, the Academic Success and Transfer Student Center (the University’s Advising Center) serves as an important resource for undergraduate students.

The Academic Success and Transfer Student Center provides:
- Academic advising for transfer and pre-major students
- Assistance to students transitioning from one major to another
- Support for students having difficulty maintaining GPA for scholarship eligibility or are on academic probation
- Assistance in creating a 4-year plan

While many students visit the Academic Success and Transfer Student Center solely for academic advising, several come to receive advice about how to improve their study skills. Advisors at the Academic Success and Transfer Student Center will counsel students on how to manage their time and review different studying techniques. The Academic Success and Transfer Student Center also offers an academic coaching program; this unique program is designed to help students excel by connecting them with a department advisor, coach, or administrator. In addition to their mentor, students will meet with their academic coach regularly. This additional support and one-on-one contact has proven to be extremely effective in helping students succeed.

Academy for Urban School Transformation
Charles P. Mitchel, Ed.D., Executive Director

The mission of the Academy for Urban School Transformation is to raise student achievement by providing urban schools with research-based, practitioner-validated, quality education services. The Academy builds on the successful relationships that have been forged between the Academy, CEHS staff and New Jersey’s urban educators. Since 1996, the Academy has worked with Newark, Orange, East Orange, Irvington, Jersey City, Paterson, and many other urban districts, providing workshops and training for administrators and teachers on such critical issues as instructional leadership, best practices in effective teaching, re-charging your physical, emotional and spiritual battery, teaching styles, time management, and closing the achievement gap. More recent training includes understanding and implementing the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) and preparing for the new Partnership for Assessment of Readiness for College and Careers (PARCC).

Opportunities for partnerships between urban schools and the Academy include the following:
- Professional Development – The Academy provides tailor-made, state of the art professional development services based on school and district needs. Follow-up in-class coaching is provided.
- Research – The Academy conducts research relevant to the urban school setting upon request.
- Beyond Restructuring – Re-culturing and re-timing are where the real work begins.

For more information, contact Charles P. Mitchel, Ed.D., at (973) 275-2854 or charles.mitchel@shu.edu

Asia Center

The Asia Center at Seton Hall has a long and rich history of more than 50 years. The center’s mission is to foster understanding, respect and knowledge of East, Southeast and South Asia among the Seton Hall and local communities. The Asia Center works in cooperation with the Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures and other groups promoting interest in Asia to support the exploration of Asian history, cultures, politics, and social and economic issues.

Bernard J. Lonergan Institute

Monsignor Richard M. Liddy, S.T.L., Ph.D., Director

Bernard Lonergan, S.J. (1904-1984) was an influential Catholic philosopher and theologian whom Newsweek magazine cited as among “the finest philosophical thinkers of the 20th century.” In November 2006 the Center for Catholic Studies at Seton Hall University inaugurated the Bernard J. Lonergan Institute dedicated to the study of the great thinker’s ideas and their application in contemporary culture. The founder and director of the institute, Monsignor Richard Liddy, was a student of Lonergan’s and has written books and papers about the Jesuit theologian.

The Institute’s mission includes creating a repository for all Lonergan’s published works, copies of his most significant unpublished writings, doctoral dissertations on Lonergan, the most significant secondary literature on the subject and Lonergan “memorabilia,” including letters and photos for public display.

Activities of the Institute include support for ongoing research and scholarship, the creation of the Bernard J. Lonergan Annual Student Development Awards and faculty and student reading groups to study the philosopher’s writings. For more information about the Bernard J. Lonergan Institute and other Catholic Studies programs, visit academic.shu.edu/ccs

Catholic Center for Family Spirituality

Dianne M. Traflet, J.D., S.T.D., Director

Created by Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology, the Catholic Center for Family Spirituality is a direct response to the challenge of Saint John Paul II to create new institutes dedicated to theological and pastoral dimensions of family life. Launched in 2009 through a generous grant from the William E. Simon Foundation, the center focuses on the spiritual foundations of family life. It also reflects on the family as the “Church in miniature,” and explores ways to meet the challenges and stresses influencing modern family life. Experts in the field offer retreats, courses and lectures, including a program titled 70x7: Faith, Family and Forgiveness, which drew large audiences throughout the series 2013-2014.

Center for Academic Industry Partnership

Nicholas H. Snow, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Academic Industry Partnership is an institutional initiative to promote our programs specific to ensuring quality laboratory science practice in the chemical and pharmaceutical industries. The center enhances current efforts in the training of undergraduate students, graduate students and industrial scientists through unique programmatic initiatives housed in the University’s Science and Technology Center, a state-of-the-art research and training facility. Laboratories provide the latest in chemical analysis, scientific instrumentation and computing technology. For further information, please call (973) 761-9035, or visit the Science and Technology Center, Room 420.

Center for Africana Studies

Kwame Akonor, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Africana Studies, established at the University in 1970 and located in the Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures, encourages serious scholarship committed to social change and human rights. The center seeks to involve the entire University in an appreciation of the black experience and the promotion of social change.

Center for Applied Catalysis

Robert L. Augustine, Ph.D., Executive Director

Setrak K. Tanielyan, Ph.D., Technical Director

The Center for Applied Catalysis (CAC) realizes the positive impact of harnessing the talent and resources of both academia and industry through mutually beneficial partnerships. Established at Seton Hall University in 1997 as an entrepreneurial offshoot of the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry, its main thrust is to assist industrial clients in developing catalytic processes for commercially important reactions. The work is performed primarily by post-doctoral associates working under the supervision of Robert L. Augustine, executive director, and Setrak K. Tanielyan, technical director. The center works on research projects that have industrial applications, and thus, are of maximum use to clients. For more information about the CAC, visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/cac/index.cfm

Center for Catholic Studies

Monsignor Richard M. Liddy, S.T.L., Ph.D., Director

Founded at Seton Hall University in 1997, The Center for Catholic Studies is dedicated to fostering a dialogue between the Catholic intellectual tradition and all areas of study and contemporary culture, through scholarly research and publications and ongoing programs for faculty, students and the general public. In 2001, the Center conducted the annual faculty Summer Seminar, “The Core of the Core,” which originated the present University Core Curriculum. The Center also developed the undergraduate degree program in Catholic Studies with its major, minor and certificate, which in 2012 became the Department of Catholic Studies. The Center continues to support the Department with scholarship aid and its ongoing program of co-curricular activities.

Focusing on the central role of the faculty, the Center is the primary sponsor of regular faculty development programs, including lectures, seminars and retreats. The Center also administers two national faculty development programs: Collegium: A Colloquy on Faith and Intellectual Life, and The Lilly Fellows Program.

The Center maintains a global focus in international scholarship and is the home of the G.K. Chesterton Institute for Faith and Culture, as well as the Bernard J. Lonergan Institute and the Micah Institute for Business and Economics. For more information about the Center for Catholic Studies, visit the website at www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/catholic-studies-center

Center for Community Research and Engagement

Roseanne Mirabella, Ph.D., Executive Director

The Center for Community Research and Engagement (CCRE) was established in 1997 to support the activities of Seton Hall University as it implements service learning and community-based research on campus. Service learning is defined as a form of experiential education in which students engage in activities that address human and community needs together with structured opportunities intentionally designed to promote student learning and development.

Designed to introduce students to the complexity of social issues and community decision making, the center provides students with opportunities to participate in both in-class and onsite projects, such as volunteerism, community development and nonprofit management. Service learning and community-based research affords students the opportunities to explore the causes of community problems, clarify his or her values, consider social service as a career choice, and become a more informed citizen and decision maker.

The Center also develops and implements seminars to introduce faculty to the theory and practice of service learning and community-based research, works with faculty in graduate and undergraduate departments as they develop courses that involve service learning and community-based research, and works with community leaders in Newark, Essex County and beyond to establish service learning and nonprofit management relations.
Center for Computational Research
Stephen Kelty, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Computational Research’s mission is to complement existing and future basic and applied research being conducted at Seton Hall University through the use of computer-based modeling and simulation tools provided by the Center, thereby enhancing the research capabilities and competitiveness of the University. Research collaborations exist with faculty in the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry, the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science, and the Department of Physics.

Center for Diaconal Formation
Deacon Andrew E. Saunders, M.A., Acting Director

Created in 2010 by Seton Hall University’s Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology as part of the Institute for Christian Spirituality, the Center for Diaconal Formation is designed to provide graduate-level formation for permanent diaconate candidates. A student formally matriculated into the Center’s graduate-level program upon successful completion receives a Master’s Degree in Theology with a Systematic concentration and/or a Certificate in Diaconal Studies. In addition to graduate-level courses, the Center for Diaconal Formation offers workshops, lectures and presentations for permanent diaconate candidates and their wives, covering a wide variety of topics that address the spiritual, pastoral and human dimensions of diaconal formation, as well as post-ordination diaconal formation and continuing education needs.

For more information about the Center for Diaconal Formation, visit www.shu.edu/academics/theology/diaconal-formation

Center for Emerging Powers and Transnational Trends
Ann Marie Murphy, Ph.D., Director

The mission of the Center for Emerging Powers and Transnational Trends is to foster cutting edge scholarly research on the causes and consequences of emerging powers and the global trends that arise as a result. The Center examines the impact of emerging powers across a wide range of issues such as global governance, international stability, foreign policy, environmental issues and energy security. It also analyzes transnational issues such as climate change, and study trends common to emerging powers such as migration, the demands of a growing middle class, and democratization, including the introduction of new participatory institutions. The Center disseminates its research to the academic community in scholarly books, journal articles, and working papers. It also engages the broader public and policy community through opinion pieces, media appearances and participation in policy conferences. Through its research, publication and outreach activities, the Center aims to raise the academic profile of Seton Hall University and the School of Diplomacy and International Relations.

Center for Entrepreneurial Studies
Susan Scherreik, M.B.A., Director

The Center for Entrepreneurial Studies was created in 2003 to raise student awareness of entrepreneurship as a career option. The Center fosters the collaboration of faculty, students, alumni and entrepreneurs in a variety of activities and projects to advance hands-on entrepreneurial learning in the Stillman School of Business. The Center is integral to the Stillman School’s mandate to prepare students for careers in the 21st century by acknowledging the growing importance of entrepreneurship in the global economy. In the Spring semester, the center sponsors Pirates Pitch, the Seton Hall University Venture Fund Competition, which awards $10,000 in prizes to student teams for innovative business ideas.

Center for Global Health Studies
Yanzhong Huang, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Global Health Studies is a research center that is dedicated to the interdisciplinary study of health issues from the perspectives of governance, diplomacy, security, human rights, trade and development. The Center also serves as a resource center that not only promotes learning and engagement of scholars and students in global health, but also inform and educate policy makers, practitioners, journalists, and the general public on global health issues. Through research, publication and outreach activities, the Center aims to raise the academic profile of the School of Diplomacy and International Relations and contributes to Seton Hall’s reputation as a preeminent institution addressing important global issues.

Genevieve Pinto Zipp, P.T., Ed.D., Director

The Center for Interprofessional Education in Health Sciences (CIEHS) is the result of the School of Health and Medical Sciences’ (SHMS) faculty-led Task Force on Interprofessional Education’s (IPE) strategic planning efforts to create meaningful and cross-disciplinary educational and research experiences for students, faculty and clinical partners in order to further develop SHMS’ patient-centered care mission. Innovative research, productive scholarship and the creation of several “Core Signature IPE Experiences” provide a solid foundation for continuous growth, ground-breaking developments and, ultimately, synergistic collaboration. A cornerstone of the CIEHS is interprofessional involvement from across and beyond the Seton Hall community.

Center for Mobile Research & Innovation
Director, Michael A. Taylor, Ph.D.

The Center for Mobile Research and Innovation (CMRI) is a collaborative, cross-functional center, fostering the investigation of mobile technology through the creation of original research, the promotion of critical partnerships, the development and support of innovative initiatives, and the dissemination of knowledge. It will investigate, create, and educate the role of mobile technology broader social change.

INVESTIGATE: CMRI conducts academic research that examines the diverse and complex impact of mobile technology on society through objective assessment and evaluation, and structured pilot programs.

CREATE: CMRI promotes the development and distribution of applications and services designed to define the next generation of mobile growth, as well as to contribute to the evolution of platform ecosystems and their innovative implementation.

EDUCATE: Seton Hall University is a pioneer in the use of technology in higher education, and has an institutional commitment to experiential learning and servant leadership. Within this rich setting, CMRI offers formal and informal educational programming, targeting all segments of the community.

For more information about the Center for Mobile Research and Innovation, visit cmri.shu.edu or call (862) 253-6182

Center for Peace and Conflict Studies
Zheng Wang, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Peace and Conflict Studies promotes interdisciplinary research on a wide range of topics related to peace and conflict with an emphasis on conflict prevention, management, resolution, and post-conflict peace building and reconstruction. The Center is committed to advancing the understanding of social conflict, global peace and conflict issues through multidisciplinary, multilevel, and multicultural approaches. Through the Center’s ongoing research projects as well as education and practice activities, faculty, students, alumni and colleagues work together to develop the interdisciplinary field of peace and conflict studies. The Center aims to improve the cooperation and exchange among faculty members and between faculty and students on issues of peace and conflict studies. The Center is also used as a platform to apply for external grants and fellowships and to conduct international exchange between the School of Diplomacy and academic institutes of other countries.

Center for Public Service
Naomi Wish, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Public Service is the University’s arm for outreach programs to the public and nonprofit sectors, Housing the Nonprofit Sector Resource Institute and located in the Department of Political Science and Public Affairs, the center runs a variety of programs to place members of the University community into closer contact with the public and nonprofit organizations that surround us. The center facilitates student internship and practicum placement, organizes speakers and seminars throughout the year, and serves as a clearinghouse for the nonprofit community of Northern New Jersey.

Center for Securities Trading and Analysis
Director: Elven Riley, B.A.

The Center for Securities Trading and Analysis is designed to mimic the actual trading room activity of a hedge fund, wealth manager, or corporate treasurer. Several Bloomberg Professional Workstations are installed to provide the same dynamic market information flow that industry professionals rely on. Filling in with today’s world news, two wall mounted monitors complete the sounds and information of an active trading environment. The laboratory model encourages interaction and experimentation providing students with an outstanding opportunity to test the real world relevance of classroom theories in accounting, finance, economics and international business.

In addition to the traditional faculty and student learning relationship, industry professionals are often invited by the two active student clubs, the Investment Club and the Finance Club, to lead workshops on investment techniques as well as job coaching. Over their academic career students become more confident and self-aware of how to successfully apply the classroom knowledge with the real world demands, always a skill set sought after by our corporate partners.

Center for Sport Management
Ann M. Mayo, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Sport Management, established in 1996, serves as the center for sport management expertise, nationally and internationally, at the undergraduate, graduate and industry levels. The center offers a cutting-edge approach to sport management education from a business school perspective, offering the B.S.B., the M.B.A., graduate certificates and executive education covering all facets of the sport industry.

In Fall 2006, the center opened the new Seton Hall Sports Poll conducted by the Sharkey Institute. Founded with a major donation from alumnus Tom Sharkey and his wife Ruth, Seton Hall Sports Poll surveys the public on ethical and moral questions regarding current issues in sport and will bring national interest to Seton Hall.

Located in the heart of the sport industry, the Center for Sport Management at Seton Hall University provides students with unparalleled internship opportunities in the major and minor leagues, major sports facilities, sport marketing firms, league offices and more; the center takes advantage of its unique location by using industry professionals as instructors and guest lecturers in the classroom. Visit the business.shu.edu/sports for more information.

Center for United Nations and Global Governance Studies
Martin Edwards, PhD., Director

The Center for United Nations and Global Governance Studies serves both as an umbrella for coordinating research activities and as a key site for institution building. The Center builds research networks internally between School of Diplomacy faculty members and externally to promote School programs to prospective students and stakeholders. The approach of the Center will be to use technology and social media to disseminate knowledge about scholarship on the United Nations and other international actors. This Center will be an online leader in disseminating new and different types of material such as briefs, podcasts, and video lectures, that will be accessible to a wide range of academic and policy audiences. Moreover, the internet presents new opportunities for education about the U.N. and other international issues, and this center hopes to develop a variety of products aimed at teaching people about the U.N. and its work. The research and scholarly activities of the Center include speaker series and team research projects resulting in both articles and memos. In addition, the Center provides important administrative support for existing U.N. initiatives at the School of Diplomacy, including the United Nations Intensive Summer Study Program.

Center for Vocation and Servant Leadership
Monsignor C. Anthony Ziccardi, S.S.L., S.T.D., Acting Director

God calls each of us, and every call is in some way a call to serve. The Center for Vocation and Servant Leadership promotes openness to God’s call in both the academic life and common life of Seton Hall University to support the overall mission of forming students as servant leaders in a global society.

The Center began in 2003 supported by a grant from Lilly Endowment. It currently offers programming for students and professional development for faculty and administrators.

For students it offers a scholarship and leadership program called the Servant Leader Scholarship. Students must maintain a 3.0 GPA, complete 20 hours of service each semester and participate in scheduled meetings and events.

For faculty and administrators, the Center offers four retreats annually, and a series of three mission seminars whose purpose is a sustained reflection on the University’s mission in light of its Catholic character. The Center also cosponsors other faculty development programs, spiritual outreach to students, service learning opportunities and local community development.

Charles and Joan Alberto Italian Studies Institute
Gabriella Romani, Ph.D., Director

The Charles and Joan Alberto Italian Studies Institute was founded in 2003 to coordinate Seton Hall University’s many activities relating to Italian and Italian-American history and culture. The Institute sponsors cultural events, such as lectures and symposia, and promotes curriculum development and community outreach. The institute additionally administers several scholarships that are made available to students in Italian Studies, as well as in other fields of study. The mission of the Institute is to spread the message of the universal relevance and inclusiveness of the Italian contributions to the history of the world and of America, regardless of nationality and ethnic background.

G.K. Chesterton Institute
Reverend Ian Boyd, C.S.B., Director
Dermot Quinn, D.Phil., Associate Director

The G.K. Chesterton Institute, a nonprofit educational organization incorporated in the United States, Canada and Great Britain, is located at Seton Hall University. Its purpose is to promote the thought of the English writer G.K. Chesterton (1874-1936) and his circle and, more broadly, to explore the application of Chestertonian ideas in the contemporary world. Poet, novelist, journalist and theologian, Chesterton was one of the most versatile writers of his day. He was able to write on serious matters in a style accessible to the ordinary person, making him one of the most beloved literary figures of the 20th century. His thought has particular importance for scholars of the sacramental tradition, Catholic social teaching and Christian spirituality.

The Institute’s work consists primarily of organizing conferences and lecture series of research and writing. Under the editorship of its president, Reverend Ian Boyd, it also publishes The Chesterton Review, a widely respected academic journal. Other journals sponsored by the institute are Gilbert and Second Spring. For more information, contact the institute, located in Presidents Hall, Room 9, at (973) 275-2430.

Institute for Advanced Study of Rehabilitation and Sports Science
Michael LaFountaine, Ed.D., A.T.C., Director

The Institute for Advanced Study of Rehabilitation and Sports Science (IASRSS) provides an interdisciplinary forum for the conduct of clinical research on injuries that result from individuals’ participation in recreational exercise or competitive sports, as well as research on the physiological and biomechanical elucidation of novel or minimally explored topics in sports medicine, exercise and movement science or physical rehabilitation. A hallmark of IASRSS is its fostering of interprofessional dialogue on contemporary issues in sports, exercise and physical rehabilitation through hosted journal clubs, continuing education seminars and outreach within and beyond the Seton Hall community. The IASRSS Scientific Advisory Board, comprised of volunteer leaders, will present opportunities for faculty and clinical staff to become more involved in the Institute’s worthwhile pursuits.

Institute for the Advancement of Teaching, Learning and Leading in International Schools
Charles P. Mitchel, Ed.D., Director

Seton Hall University has been a catalyst for leadership for more than 150 years at all levels and has been recognized for its outstanding academic and humanitarian programs. In following this tradition, the College of Education and Human Services has strengthened its standing commitment to leadership and to school improvement with the creation of The Institute for the Advancement of Teaching, Learning and Leading in International Schools.

The challenge of teaching and leading in the global community has never been greater. Under the leadership of Dr. Charles P. Mitchel, the institute seeks to share the expertise and diverse experiences of its dedicated faculty to serve the international school community. In this sense, the institute is committed to raising student achievement by providing international schools with research-based, practitioner-validated, quality education services in education capacity building, parent training, and world class professional development and mentoring/coaching for today’s leaders, teachers, counselors, and psychologists. Our services are designed to maximize the effectiveness of international schools and enhance the achievement of international students.

The institute has developed a sequence of instructional experiences designed to supplement and enhance the skills and abilities of teachers and administrators in the international education community. Our services provide quality, research-based instruction in the areas of teaching, learning and leading, designed to maximize the effectiveness of international schools and enhance the achievement of international students through our effective program offerings:

Master of Arts in International Leadership and Master of Arts in School Counseling with courses delivered on-line, in-country and an optional on-campus at Seton Hall internship. Note: The internship will be field-based in elementary, middle and high schools in the metropolitan area; professional development and coaching (Tailor-made, state of the art professional development services based on school and regional needs, delivered in-country and on-line); world class seminars in leadership, curriculum, supervision, evaluation, assessment, teaching, and education capacity building in relation to international schools. Offered at Seton Hall University; school, family, and community relationships - nationally research-based strategies; and research relevant to international schooling upon request.

The institute has most recently engaged in a partnership with the Association of American Schools in South America (AASSA), an organization dedicated to enhancing the quality of American education abroad. A delegation from Seton Hall has represented the institute as AASSA’s annual Educator’s Conference in Bogota, Colombia, where the institute presented five distinct workshops to conference attendees.

Through ongoing conversations with the College of Staten Island, the institute is developing a program which may provide Chinese educators with on-line Master’s degrees in Leadership. A working relationship with educators from Vaal University of Technology and Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University, both located in South Africa, is focusing on the professional development of schools administrators. The institute has also provided the Seton Hall community with an opportunity to participate in a two-week, three credit undergraduate or graduate course in Celtic Studies, held in Sligo, Ireland.

Institute for Christian Spirituality
Dianne M. Traflet, J.D., S.T.D., Founder and Director

The Institute for Christian Spirituality was created by Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology to provide a premier center where those who serve in the Church today may obtain a solid foundation in their faith, learn effective skills in pastoral ministry and leadership and be given tools for discernment and spiritual growth – all in an atmosphere of collaboration and camaraderie.

The Institute’s mission is grounded in 2 Timothy 1:6: “I remind you to stir into flame the gift of God within you.” Begun in 2005 through a grant from the Lilly Endowment, the Institute accomplishes this goal through various programs, including the Center for Diocesan Formation, the Catholic Center for Family Spirituality, the Prayerfully Speaking Initiative, the Workplace Spirituality Program and Seminary’s Theological Education for Parish Services (STEPS).

For more information about the Institute for Christian Spirituality, visit www.shu.edu/academics/theology/institute-christian-spirituality/

Institute for Education Leadership, Research and Renewal
Michael J. Osnato, Ed.D., Director

The Institute for Education Leadership, Research and Renewal (IELRR) is built on four pillars, each of which provides unique and essential programs or services. Pillar number one is The School Study Council, which provides learning and networking opportunities for superintendents. Study councils improve the skills and knowledge of district leaders. At Seton Hall University, this is accomplished through a wide range of activities, including conferences, a “Best Practices” website and exposure to state and national education experts. In addition, the Institute now oversees The New Superintendents Initiative and the Practicum for New Superintendents, formerly sponsored by the Citizens for Better Schools, Inc.
The second pillar is an in-house program known as the “Grow Your Own” Emerging Leaders M.A. This program develops the next generation of school leaders from outstanding teachers who have been identified as potentially talented administrators. Based on an innovative model of emerging prominence, this program will partner Seton Hall with several small districts or individual large districts to provide practical and contemporary preparation programs that yield “home grown” administrators.

Pillar three is the IELRR’s Continuous Support Services component, which provides practicing administrators with a variety of essential services by noted experts, including consulting services, professional development and career placement. Through this program, novice as well as veteran administrators find relevant and essential services at their doorsteps. Shadowing, mentoring and coaching opportunities aid new leaders and help them explore a variety of critical issues.

Pillar four is The Center for Urban Leadership, which provides resources, training and research services specific to the needs of New Jersey’s urban schools and districts. Established in 2001 as the Principals’ Leadership Institute, this program now falls under the direction of the IELRR, and has expanded to provide support to superintendents and principals who serve New Jersey’s neediest population of students. Urban school leaders have selected the Center as their research arm relating to statewide reform efforts.

Institute for International Business

Larry McCarthy, Ph.D., Director

The Institute for International Business, serves as the center of international business expertise for students, faculty and the business community. It fosters the collaboration of faculty, graduate and undergraduate students, to engage in a wide variety of activities and projects to advance the internationalization of the Stillman School.

The Institute sponsors international courses, lectures, internships and scholarly exchange for both students and faculty with several leading academic institutions as part of the mission of the Stillman School. Endowed with a grant from the estate of W. Paul Stillman in 1994 to support its initiatives, the Institute funds internationally focused faculty research.

At the undergraduate level, the Institute offers a minor in international business in which the curriculum includes language and cultural components, as well as core business courses. The Certificate in International Business, offered as part of the M.B.A., program consists of courses in the international aspects of accounting, economics, finance, management and marketing. The certificate is also available to qualified individuals from industry on a non-degree basis.

Institute for International Schools

Charles P. Mitchel, Ed.D., Director
Rebekah Hastey, Coordinator

The Institute’s services are designed to enhance the effectiveness of international school teachers and administrators, enabling them to better prepare their students for acceptance into top universities in the U.S.. The following are a few of the services offered:

- Master of Arts degree programs in Education, Leadership, Management and Policy, in Instructional Design and Technology, and in Special Education. The courses are delivered in a blended online and in-country format;
- Professional development and coaching (tailor-made, state of the art professional development services based on school and regional needs, delivered in-country and online);
- Seminars in leadership, technology, curriculum, supervision, evaluation, assessment, teaching, and education capacity building.

Curriculum audits, training in school/community relationships, and research relevant to international schooling is also available upon request. Certificates in English as a Second Language and Teacher Certification are being developed.

For more information, contact Charles P. Mitchel, Ed.D., at (973) 275-2854 or charles.mitchel@shu.edu or rebekah.hastey@shu.edu

Institute of Interdisciplinary Studies

The Institute of Interdisciplinary Studies houses the University Core and the Department of Catholic Studies.

University Core

Anthony Sciglitano, Ph.D., Director
Fahy Hall Room 323

The University’s Core is composed of unique signature courses and a system of proficiency distributions, ensuring that each graduating student has encountered key skill sets (such as numeracy, writing, and critical thinking) in a minimum number of courses toward the baccalaureate degree.

Department of Catholic Studies

Ines A. Murzaku, Ph.D., Chair
Arts and Sciences Hall Room 215

The academic program in Catholic Studies is open to students of all tradition, and is interdisciplinary, integrative and multicultural in its approaches to learning. It is the perfect complement to all academic curricula, and provides a deepening of the University Core.

For additional information about the University Core and the Department of Catholic Studies, please see the Institute of Interdisciplinary Studies section of this catalogue.
Institute of Judaeo-Christian Studies
Reverend Lawrence Frizzell, D.Phil., Director

The Institute of Judaeo-Christian Studies, founded in 1953, is primarily a center for research and publication. Its area of study is the Church’s rootedness in Judaism and the relationship between the Church and the Jewish people through the ages. Its work includes an annual series of lectures, study days and conferences. These are intended to inform the general public about various facets of Christian-Jewish relations. A special lecture in the Fall of each year celebrates the memory of Monsignor John M. Oesterreicher, founder of the Institute. He was an important collaborator in preparing the declaration by the Second Vatican Council on “The Church’s Bond with the Jewish People (Nostra Aetate).”

The institute began a graduate program in Jewish-Christian studies in Fall 1975. In 1978, the program was incorporated into the College of Arts and Sciences; in 1979, it became a department within the College. The department and institute are thus independent units, even though origin and goal bespeak an intimate relationship. The requirements for admission to the program and a description of the course offerings may be found at www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/jewish-christian-studies www.shu.edu/go/judaeo-christian www.facebook.com/JudaeoChristianStudies

Institute of Museum Ethics
Sally Yerkovich, Ph.D., Director

The Institute of Museum Ethics (IME) was founded in 2007 to foreground the consideration of museum ethics as one of the most pivotal issues for museum professionals in the 21st century. In November 2007, the IME received a three-year Museum Professionals Grant from the Institute of Museum and Library Services.

The IME promotes integrity and competence in museum ethics, and creates a physical and virtual community of emerging and practicing museum professionals and museum studies faculty who use our resources to make informed decisions about ethical issues. It draws upon the strengths of Seton Hall University as an institution that prioritizes teaching in ethics to establish innovative collaborations between ethicists and museum professionals that will spark new conversations about museum ethics. The IME serves the needs of our region’s small museums but also has national reach. It partnered with the American Alliance of Museums to conduct a national forecasting exercise on museum ethics in the 21st century.

IME prepares students in Seton Hall’s Master of Arts in Museum Professions Program (MAMP) to become visionary leaders who make important contributions to the discourse on museum ethics. It produces new models of teaching museum ethics for students and museum professionals. Initiatives include a web portal; two national conferences and publication of the proceedings; an international conference and ‘conversation’ on “Hide/Seek”: Difference and Desire in American Portraiture”; and ongoing workshops and public lectures. For more information, please visit www.museumethics.org or e-mail museumethics@shu.edu

Institute of NeuroImmune Pharmacology
Sulie L. Chang, Ph.D., Director

The Institute of NeuroImmune Pharmacology (I-NIP) is a research institute that was established at Seton Hall University in 2007 with Dr. Sulie L. Chang as the founding Director. The I-NIP is fully funded by the National Institute of Health (NIH) grants. The institute is located on the third floor of the Science and Technology Center (McNulty Hall), Rooms 309, 319 and 320. It is the home for all active and pending federal grants of the scientists affiliated with the Institute. The I-NIP is committed to bringing knowledge of neuroimmune pharmacology to life via research, teaching, and community service. Current research at the I-NIP focuses on the: (1) bi-directional interaction between drug abuse and microbial infection, including HIV, in the central nervous system; (2) molecular mechanisms underlying nicotine’s modulatory effects on learning behavior in the presence of HIV-1 viral proteins; (3) age-dependent developmental changes in the neurotransmitter systems in the brain; (4) alcohol related behavior disorders in the adolescent; (5) structural understanding of cell proliferation and cell death related to cancers; and (6) involvement of ion channels in the actions of addictive substances including alcohol and methamphetamine. The I-NIP participates in the formal curricula and Academic Exposition at Seton Hall as well as the teaching and learning workshops at the NeuroImmune Pharmacology Colloquia. The I-NIP cultivates research among and between the basic and social sciences, and prides itself on fostering translational research from the laboratory bench to the community. The I-NIP trains all its members in scientific and academic integrity and honesty, and has implemented a contractual agreement entitled, “The I-NIP Proper Laboratory Conduct Contract” in response to its ongoing mission of scientific excellence.

The I-NIP, as well as its preceding group, has sponsored research for both faculty and students and their travels to national and international research presentations. It has sponsored various research and academic events, including the Life Science Symposium (2000-2005), Molecular Bioscience Symposium (2004-2005), Biannual Molecular Bioscience Meeting (2006-present), Annual Women’s Conference (2009-2010), and the Petersheim Academic Exposition (2009-2013), at Seton Hall University and the National and International Meeting of Society on NeuroImmune Pharmacology. The I-NIP has facilitated the international collaboration of the College of Arts and Sciences at Seton Hall including agreements with China Medical University’s College of Pharmacy in Taiwan in 2008 and the Third Institute of Oceanography (TIO) of State Oceanic Administration in China in 2014 to coordinate education, training and faculty research building upon each school’s areas of expertise.
For more information, visit the office in the Science and Technology Center (McNulty Hall) Room 307/309, call (973) 275-2340, or fax (973) 275-2489.

Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute

Denisse Oller, B.A., Director

Building on a rich legacy of service to the Seton Hall Latino community by the Puerto Rican Institute (founded in the early 1970s) and the Dominican Republic Institute, the Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute seeks to fulfill two intertwined missions of service and scholarship.

The Institute was created through a generous gift from Joseph A. and Carmen Ana Unanue, and aims to provide a space for dialogue, to encourage research and study of the Latino experience, with particular emphasis on literature and the arts, the sciences, and business and finance to further advance intercultural understanding.

The Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute sponsors co-curricular activities, programs and events with a focus on the Latino experience. In connection with the Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies Program, the Latino Institute offers wide-ranging cultural programming.

The interdisciplinary Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies major and minor combine our assets in the areas of modern languages, sociology, anthropology, religious studies, history and political science. For more information about the Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies Program, please e-mail Dr. Matthew Escobar at escobama@shu.edu

The Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute supports the Latino student organizations on campus by collaborating with, advising and publicizing their programs. For information, visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/latino-institute or call (973) 761-9422.

Language Resource Center

Director: T.B.D.

The Language Resource Center in the College of Arts and Sciences is committed to facilitating a teaching and learning environment where students, faculty and staff have the opportunity to explore language and culture in a technology-enhanced setting. In 2007, the College of Arts and Sciences, in conjunction with the Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures and the Teaching, Learning and Technology Center, extensively renovated the Language Resource Center. Language learners will find computer workstations with headphones and language learning software, allowing them to type compositions in Arabic, Chinese, Japanese, Russian, French, Spanish, German and Italian. Students can also listen to and record audio for classes. Reference books and publications in various languages are displayed for easy access. The Language Resource Center also maintains a collection of classic and modern foreign language feature films and documentaries. A screening room with surround sound and theatre-style seating allows students to comfortably watch and discuss films in small groups.

The Language Resource Center also provides information on assessment and placement exams, as well as careers for language learners. For information about the Language Resource Center, visit Fahy Hall, Room 202, or e-mail lrc@shu.edu

Market Research Center

Adam Warner, M.B.A., Director

The Market Research Center provides a hands-on learning environment and programs for students to gain practical market research skills and experience. At the Center, students, faculty, and business clients partner together on customized market research projects across a variety of industries.

Located on the 6th floor of Jubilee Hall, the Center features state-of-the-art facilities including an interview/conference center, observation room and audio-visual recording equipment. Students learn transferable market research skills with the opportunity to conduct interviews, moderate focus groups, create web-based surveys, uncover insights and develop actionable solutions for real business clients.

For more information, for both students wishing to learn more about the Market Research Center or the Market Research Certificate, and businesses interested in learning more about partnering with the Market Research Center, please visit www.shu.edu/academics/business/market-research or contact us directly at (973) 275-6489.

Micah Institute for Business and Economics

Seton Hall University’s Micah Institute for Business and Economics operates under the aegis of the Center for Catholic Studies. Its mission is to introduce faculty, students and the business community to the Catholic perspective on business and economic life. It seeks to present the multiple ways in which these two interactive and vital engines impact the lives of all individuals personally, communally and professionally.

Through its programs and projects, namely the Micah Business Leadership Project, the Woodstock Business Conference/Seton Hall Chapter and the Catholic Social Teaching Topics online resource, the Micah program offers a comprehensive understanding of Catholic social teaching, economic justice and the world of work. It addresses key social issues, explores whether there is a more just way for the economy to work, and how well we prepare people, particularly the next generation, to build a more just and equitable society.

For more information, call (973) 275-2525 or visit www.shu.edu/catholic-mission/micah-index.cfm

Nonprofit Sector Resource Institute

Audrey Winkler, M.S., Director

The Nonprofit Sector Resource Institute (NSRI) serves to build the capacity of the nonprofit sector in New Jersey and nationally by training leaders in the areas of board leadership, financial fluency and nonprofit governance, by utilizing the resources of the Seton Hall University community in collaboration with recognized specialists in the nonprofit sector and business partners who are committed to bettering their communities.

The NSRI has developed a series of well-regarded programs serving both the nonprofit and corporate sectors over the years, including formal training sessions contracted with corporations and nonprofit groups, as well as workshops to share best practices and promote discussion and networking among sector participants.

Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center
Monica Burnette, M.A., Director

The Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center (ARC) is located in Arts and Sciences Hall. The ARC is a resource for all Seton Hall students who wish to maximize their academic potential by engaging with a learning community that consists of peers, graduate teaching assistants, faculty and administrators.

All students are encouraged to take advantage of the ARC’s free tutorial services, which are designated to supplement classroom instruction and improve academic achievement and performance. ARC tutoring programs offer students the option to schedule appointments in advance, drop in for assistance, or attend group review sessions. Tutoring is available in disciplines such as business, education, humanities, mathematics, nursing, science and modern languages. Schedules and announcements are accessible on the ARC web pages. The ARC also provides skill-building seminars, study skills workshops, online resources, and tutoring events to further support student success.

The ARC is also responsible for managing the electronic Early Alert System, which allows faculty and staff to notify their students, academic advisers, and campus resources when a student is either facing academic or personal challenges, or demonstrating strong performance. Increased communication between faculty and staff is a proven strategy for increasing student success and completion.

Seton Center for Community and Population Health
Anne M. Hewitt, Ph.D., Director

The Seton Center for Community and Population Health (SCCPH) was established in 2004 as an academic resource for collaboration, learning and research to enhance the quality of life for individuals and communities in need. The center is located in the Department of Interprofessional Health Sciences and Health Administration, in the School of Health and Medical Sciences and provides technical assistance to community health agencies focused on improving the health status of New Jersey residents. The Center follows a partnership approach that facilitates linkages with community stakeholders, healthcare providers and graduate students. Since its inception, the Center has collaborated through grants with eight different community agencies and involved graduate students from the Master of Healthcare Administration (M.H.A.) and other health-related SHU graduate programs. The SCCPH serves as an academic link and resource to local and regional nonprofit health service agencies.

Seton Hall Sports Poll Conducted by the Sharkey Institute
Richard Gentile, B.A., Director

The Seton Hall Sports Poll conducted by the Sharkey Institute, an initiative of the Center for Sport Management within the Stillman School of Business, officially launched in the Fall 2006 semester. The Institute serves as a source of polling services and survey research dedicated to sport, placing the University in a domain unoccupied by any other university in America.

Founded with a generous donation from Thomas J. Sharkey and his wife Ruth, the Seton Hall Sports Poll serves as a barometer of public opinion on the important issues confronting sports today. The dynamics of the sport industry provide an ideal opportunity for the Institute to present newsworthy findings on a regular basis, on topics such as the NCAA final four, commercialization of the Olympics, the steroid issue in Major League Baseball and sports gambling.

The Sharkey Institute also impacts the broader curriculum within the Stillman School and throughout the University. Among numerous educational opportunities, marketing courses have the benefit of a live market research center, and students in their core statistics classes analyze real-time data. Management students develop planning and organizing competencies required to run a polling center, and students in communication have the opportunity to craft new releases.

Sister Rose Thering Fund for Education in Jewish-Christian Studies
David M. Bossman, Ph.D., Executive Director
Marilyn Zirl, Administrator

The Sister Rose Thering Fund for Education in Jewish-Christian Studies, established in 1993 in honor of Sister Rose’s work as an educator and advocate for improving relations between Christians and Jews, is part of the Department of Religion in the College of Arts and Sciences.

The Fund advances the legacy of Sister Rose by fostering understanding and cooperation among Jews, Christians and people of other religious traditions through advocacy and education; provides tuition assistance for teachers in public, private and parochial schools for graduate courses in Jewish-Christian and Holocaust studies at Seton Hall University; and allows teachers to enroll as students for up to 12 credits and receive a certificate of completion. Teachers may also enroll in the Master of Arts in Jewish-Christian Studies degree program with financial assistance from the Institute for Judaeo-Christian Studies.
The Sister Rose Thering fund allows both educators and members of the community to explore lessons of lasting social significance, countering the destructive power of prejudice, anti-Semitism, ethnocentrism and bigotry born of ignorance, through workshops, lectures and travel programs. More than 300 teachers, K-12 have received Sister Rose Thering Fund scholarships since its inception, and have reached over 160,000 students in their classrooms. This program supports teacher education to implement the Mandate of the State of New Jersey to teach about Genocides and the Holocaust in all schools, grades K-12.

Sister Rose’s Passion, a film about the life and work of Sister Rose Thering, won the first prize award for the short documentary film category at the Tribeca Film Festival in 2004 and was nominated for an Academy Award® in 2005.

Sister Rose passed away on May 6, 2006 at her beloved Siena Center of the Dominican Sisters in Racine, Wisconsin. Her lifetime achievements are being memorialized by continuing her work toward improved dialogue between Christians and Jews.

Scholarship applications are available by contacting the fund office at, (973) 761-9006, sending an e-mail to srtf@shu.edu, or visiting www.shu.edu/go/srtf.

The Gerald P. Buccino ’63 Center for Leadership Development

Michael M. Reuter, M.B.A., Director

Since its inception in 1994, the mission of the program has been to develop great leaders of the future, enabling its members to successfully achieve their fullest potential in both their personal and professional lives. The program enhances its members’ core values, competencies and skills that will enable them to be effective leaders, corporate citizens and community servants. The essential skills developed include proficiency in strategic thinking, critical analysis, logical reasoning and effective oral and written communication.

Practical business experiences are an integral part of the program and are emphasized in the program’s lecture series. Throughout their University journey students are mentored and coached by Leadership Council executives. The Leadership Council is the advisory body to the Leadership Development Program, and is comprised of corporate executives, entrepreneurs and community leaders. The personal mentoring experience provides students with valuable insights into leadership perspectives and thinking as well as important networking opportunities.

In addition, students must complete 80 hours of community service, hold leadership positions both on and off campus to complement their studies, attend leadership functions and maintain a GPA of 3.4 or higher. Visit www.shu.edu/academics/business/leadership-development

Writing Center

Kelly A. Shea, Ph.D., Director

Part of the Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center, the Writing Center is available to all students through the Department of English. It provides a range of services, including free consultations and tutorials, to both undergraduate and graduate students. Tutors are trained to provide advice, feedback and suggestions on how writers might improve their writing, focusing especially on content, organization, structure and flow, as well as some mechanics, where time allows. Located in Arts and Sciences Hall, Room 206, the center is open during the academic year Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. – 7 p.m., and Friday, 10 a.m. – 3 p.m. Students may drop in or make an appointment online by going to their “Success Network” in Starfish, available through Blackboard, choosing “Services” and then clicking on a day in the calendar on which they would like to be seen. For special accommodations during finals week and Summer Session hours, call (973) 761-9000, ext. 7501 or (973) 275-2183, or visit the Writing Center website at www.shu.edu/academics/artssci/writing-center

Seton Hall’s Online Writing Lab (OWL) is also available. This service is a web-based, virtual tutoring program, designed primarily for upperclassmen and graduate students, as well as faculty and staff, through which individuals can get feedback on their writing from Writing Center tutors via e-mail. The web address for the OWL is academic.shu.edu/owl/

Cultural and Community Programs

Seton Hall University hosts many cultural programs that are open to the general public as well as the University community.

Archbishop Peter L. Gerety Lecture Series

Monsignor Robert J. Wister, Hist.Eccl.D., Director

Through a grant received from Archbishop Emeritus Peter L. Gerety, Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology sponsors a lecture series in Church history, broadly defined. These lectures (usually one per semester) are given by prominent figures from the fields of education, Church, public service and journalism. They address issues of contemporary interest, with some attention to the historical roots of these issues.

Information about the Archbishop Peter L. Gerety Lecture Series may be obtained by calling the School of Theology, (973) 761-9575, or by visiting www.shu.edu/academics/theology/gerety-lectures.cfm
Arts Council Classical Concert Series
Dena Levine, D.M.A., Director
For more than 30 years, Seton Hall’s Arts Council has sponsored the Arts Council Classical Concert Series, presenting top-flight artists and ensembles from around the globe in performance on campus and at the South Orange Performing Arts Center, and in workshops and clinics for students and the general public.

Students, faculty and audiences from the local community have enjoyed the opportunity to hear and meet world-renowned soloists such as Jorge Bolet, Leonard Pennario, Rudolph Firkusny, Bella Davidovich, Ilana Vered, John O’Conor, Ruth Laredo and Emanuel Ax, pianists; Ransom Wilson, flutist; Ruggiero Ricci, Jaime Laredo, Robert McDuffie and Elmar Oliveira, violinists; Kim Kashkashian, violist; Janos Starker and Nina Kotova, cellists; the Romeros, Sharon Isbin and the Assad Brothers, guitarists; Fusako Yoshido, koto player; and many others.

All events are free to students, and available at a reduced price to faculty and staff with valid Seton Hall I.D. To receive information about the series, call (973) 275-2450.

Jazz ‘n the Hall
Gloria Thurmond, D.Min., Director
The Jazz ‘n the Hall program brings prominent jazz musicians to Seton Hall University several times a year for public performances. Recent performers have included the Count Basie Jazz Orchestra, West Point Jazz Knights U.S. Army Band, and the Dick Hyman and Ray Kennedy Jazz Piano Duo. For more information, call (973) 313-6338 or e-mail arts council@shu.edu

Monsignor John M. Oesterreicher Lecture
Reverend Lawrence Frizzell, D.Phil., Director
The John M. Oesterreicher Endowment funds an annual lecture in memory of Monsignor Oesterreicher, founder of the Institute of Judaeo-Christian Studies at Seton Hall University. Additionally, a series of conferences and workshops sponsored by the Institute dealt with current and historical perspectives in the relationship between Christians and Jews. These programs are open to the public. More information may be obtained by calling the Institute of Judaeo-Christian Studies at (973) 761-9751.

Poetry-in-the-Round
Nathan Oates, Ph.D., Director
Poetry-in-the-Round invites the world’s most compelling and celebrated writers to Seton Hall University each year to read and discuss their works with students and community members. Among the many poets, novelists and critics who have come to Seton Hall are Azar Nafisi, Billy Collins, Thomas Lynch, Amy Tan, George Plimpton, Harold Bloom, Adrienne Rich, Jonathan Franzen, Frank McCourt, John Updike, Arthur Miller, Ted Hughes, Jorie Graham, Nadine Gordimer, Derek Walcott and James Merrill. For more information about the series, call (973) 761-9000 Ext. 5105, or visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/arts-council/poetry-in-the-round.cfm

Seton Hall Arts Council
Nathan Oates, Ph.D., Director
The Seton Hall University Arts Council supports the integral role of the arts in higher education and their universally recognized status as a hallmark of an educated and humane culture. The Council contributes to the cultural vitality of the campus and to the University’s role in the greater community by fostering and promoting the visual, literary and performing arts, enhancing communication and collaboration among its members.

The Arts Council serves as the umbrella organization for the Arts Council Classical Concert Series, Jazz ‘n the Hall, Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute, Poetry-in-the-Round, Seton Hall Theatre. It also supports the efforts of and works in collaboration with the Walsh Gallery, the Seton Hall Touring Choir and other arts and cultural groups on campus. The Council is committed to increasing the visibility of University arts and cultural events on and off campus.

The Arts Council continues its unique partnership with the South Orange Performing Arts Center (SOPAC). Classical and jazz concerts and the Seton Hall Theatre productions are performed in SOPAC’s intimate performance space. Walsh Gallery exhibitions and Poetry-in-the-Round are offered on Seton Hall’s beautiful 58-acre campus.

Visit www.shu.edu/go/arts-council or call (973) 313-6338 for event information.

Seton Hall Theatre
Dena Levine, D.M.A., Director
The Seton Hall Theatre program runs throughout the academic year. Shows are presented September to May. Three productions take place at the nearby South Orange Performing Arts Center (SOPAC), a state-of-the-art facility that features a new and fully equipped 415 seat proscenium theatre. Student actors in these shows are directed by a department faculty member. Shows vary in style from classical to modern. The program strives to give students a practical and historical approach to the dramatic arts. Performance credit can be earned for participation. All students are eligible to audition.

For more information, call (973) 761-9474, or visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/seton-hall-theatre/

Seton Hall University Choir
Jason Tramm, D.M.A., Director
The Seton Hall University Choir is an auditioned group of students, faculty, alumni and community singers. The choir has toured in Canada, Italy and Washington, D.C., in addition to performing concerts at Carnegie Hall in New York City, and the New Jersey Performing Arts Center in Newark with the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra. For more information, call (973) 761-9417.
Seton Hall University Gospel Choir
Reverend Forrest Pritchett, Ph.D., Program Director

The Seton Hall University Gospel Choir started in 1972 as a small group called “Jus Us.” This group initially consisted of six individuals, whose primary purpose was joining in fellowship through the singing of gospel songs. Later the group changed its name to “Voices United.” During the mid-1970s The Center for Black Studies began official sponsorship of the choir, and it became the Seton Hall University Gospel Choir. The Center also offered academic credit for participation with the choir. During the late 1970s, a highlight of the choir’s itinerary involved performing with the Dance Theatre of Harlem on Broadway in New York City. During the 1990s, the choir’s emphasis began to focus on ministry.

Today, the choir offers ministry in song, movement arts, spoken word and instrumental renditions. The choir has given weekly performances in the community at homeless shelters, community centers, churches, schools and colleges. The Gospel Choir, consisting of approximately 60 students and musicians, offers motivational and spiritual workshops to community churches and organizations. The choir performs a Fall and a Spring concert on campus each year.

For more information, please contact Reverend Forrest Pritchett, Program Director, at (973) 275-2760, or e-mail forrest.pritchett@shu.edu

Walsh Gallery
Jeanne Brasile, M.A., Director

The Walsh Gallery is the primary exhibition space on the Seton Hall University’s South Orange campus. Since its inception in 1994, The Walsh Gallery has presented dynamic exhibitions with a broad range of appeal and subject matter. Serving both the University and surrounding communities, the Walsh Gallery hosts six to eight exhibitions annually that range in topics from fine art to the historical, with an emphasis on interdisciplinary themes. The Walsh Gallery welcomes more than 9,000 visitors each year. Students and faculty utilize the gallery as a laboratory for experiential learning, with exhibitions designed to complement the University’s curriculum. Graduate students in the Museum Professions Program receive practical education in all facets of exhibition production while earning credit toward their degrees. Undergraduate students may earn credit for internships and special projects. The Gallery produces a number of programs each year including: artist talks, gallery lectures, workshops and educational seminars to enhance the learning potential of the exhibitions. All programs are free and open to the public. For further information contact the director at (973) 275-2033, jeanne.brasile@shu.edu or visit the website at academic.shu.edu/libraries/gallery

Classification of Graduate Students

Degree Students
Students who have been accepted as candidates for a graduate degree and have enrolled in their designated program.

Nonmatriculated Graduate Students
Students who usually fall into one of the following categories:
• those who are pursuing courses outside a degree program for continuing education purposes;
• those enrolled in non-degree certificate programs or licensing programs; and
• those intending to make formal application to a degree program after preliminary coursework (12-credit limit).

Full-Time Graduate Student
Those registered for 9 or more credits in a given Fall or Spring semester.

Part-Time Graduate Student
Those registered for fewer than 9 credits in a given Fall or Spring semester.

Graduate Auditors
Those who are enrolled in specific courses taken on an audit (noncredit) basis. Students may be admitted to auditor status by proving to the department chair that they can profit from class discussion and by filing an audit declaration. Audit applicants are the last to register for any class.

Qualifications for Admission
Among the criteria applied in determining eligibility for admission to graduate studies are a satisfactory undergraduate scholastic average in appropriate coursework from an accredited college or university; satisfactory scores on any entrance examinations required by the department; and interviews, appropriate references and any other assessment procedures when requested. Graduate students must meet the course and credit requirements of the department in which they intend to study.

No documents submitted as part of the application procedure will be returned, nor will any requests to duplicate documents be honored.
Applications for degree programs in the School of Health and Medical Sciences received after the above deadlines will be reviewed on a space-available basis. Admissions will remain open until the classes are filled.

College of Nursing
M.S.N. Clinical Nurse Leader (program for non-nurses with bachelor’s degree) - June 15 for fall enrollment.
M.S.N. April 15 for fall enrollment and October 15 for spring enrollment
Ph.D. and D.N.P. - April 1 for fall enrollment
Applicants for the Nursing Ph.D. and D.N.P. programs received on a space available basis.

Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology
August 1 – Fall Semester
December 15 – Spring Semester
Rolling Admission – Summer Session

Advanced Standing (Transfer Students)
Graduate credits earned recently in another accredited college or university, and not applied toward a prior degree, may be accepted in partial fulfillment of graduate degree credit requirements at Seton Hall. The courses taken should be similar to required or elective courses approved for the curriculum concerned. The grades earned must not be lower than a “B.” In general, a total of 6 credits may be approved for master’s degree programs and 30 credits for the doctoral program. Graduate students applying for transfer of credit should contact their adviser in the appropriate college/school, requesting advanced standing on the basis of official transcripts. Stillman School of Business only accepts transfer credits from an AACSB accredited school.

Once enrolled, students may not register for graduate course work at another institution without prior written permission of the department chair or program director. Some departments will not authorize any transfer credits or may impose restrictions. Students should consult their adviser prior to any registration at another institution.

Admission Information
Students are expected to acquaint themselves with all procedures and requirements applying to graduate studies, as well as with specific requirements of the college and department in which they intend to study. Graduate admissions materials are available through the following areas:

• Graduate Record Exam (GRE) or Miller Analogies Test (MAT)

Note: Applicants are advised to check with specific graduate program departments to verify the materials required for their application packet

* Not all programs require the GRE. See individual program requirements for details.

* The College of Nursing Ph.D. and D.N.P. Programs require the GRE taken within the last five years. This requirement may be waived for the D.N.P. Program with a GPA of 3.5 or higher.

Nonmatriculated Graduate Students

Not all graduate courses are available to non-matriculated students. Applicants are advised to reach out to specific program to determine if non-matriculated graduate study is permitted prior to applying. To enroll in graduate courses on a non-matriculated basis, the student must complete an “Application for Non-matriculated Graduate Studies” at the time of their initial registration. This application can be found on-line at www.shu.edu/applying/graduate/. Evidence of receipt of an undergraduate degree, or graduate degree for doctoral non-matriculated study, must be submitted to the office at that time. The maximum number of credits non-matriculated students may earn before matriculation is 12 in an academic year and only 6 credits per semester. The College of Nursing is more restrictive – students may only complete a maximum of 6 graduate nursing credits on a non-matriculated basis.

International Graduate Student Applications

Seton Hall welcomes applications from international students holding F-1 student visas for admission into full-time on-campus graduate degree programs. The Office of International Programs (OIP) provides counseling and support for all student visa and immigration issues, and also assists international students in becoming active members of the University and surrounding community. The Office of International Programs offers a variety of services and social/cultural activities for this purpose. More information is available from the Office of International Programs, (973) 761-9072, or visit the web site at www.shu.edu/offices/oip-index.cfm

All graduate international student applicants to Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology, please contact the School of Theology at (973) 761-7491.

The University requires that all transcripts be original. Transcripts in languages other than English must be accompanying a certified English translation. No documents submitted as part of the application process will be returned nor will any requests be honored. Seton Hall requires international applicants to have all transcripts from institutions not accredited in the United States or Canada evaluated by an organization that is a member of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES.org). AACRAO or reputable evaluation agency as deemed appropriate by the college.

All evaluations must be course-by-course evaluations, as confirmation of course level and degree equivalency. Applications submitted without credential evaluations will not be considered for admission or transfer credit evaluation. Students are responsible for all costs associated with credential evaluations. International students are subject to a one-time fee of $400. This fee is assessed in the first semester of attendance.

In addition to the admission requirement set forth by the individual college/programs, international student must also submit official scores attained on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOFEL) given by the Education Testing Service, if English is not the language used in the student’s undergraduate study. Stillman also accepts IELTS and PTE.

*International students who are applying to School of Theology should reach out to the school directly for additional information as the school issue their own student visa.

Student Visa

International students requiring a student visa must complete their application by August 1 for Fall admission and December 1 for Spring admission. International student will also need to submit additional documents which are required by the Student Exchange Visitor Program (SEVP) under the Department of Homeland Security. Upon admission to the University, the Office of International Programs (OIP) will review these documents and determine if they are sufficient to issue a Form I-20 which is used to apply for an F-1 student visa. For all graduate international student applicant to Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology, the School of Theology will review these documents and determine if they are sufficient to issue a Form I-20, which is used to apply for an F-1 student visa. The documentation required to issue an I-20 is as follows:

• Application for an I-20 Form
• Proof of ability to pay for the cost of education
• Proof of passport

All F-1 visa international students are required to enroll full-time (at least 9 credits for graduate students) and comply with all other requirements of maintaining visa status. The international student’s F-1 visa status must be kept valid at all times. It is the responsibility of each international student to familiarize him/herself with and abide by immigration regulations. Please see the section on Dissertation/Thesis Research - International Students on page 41 of this catalogue.

The OIP serves to counsel students on these issues as well as report immigration matters to USCIS through SEVIS (the federal immigration database). Questions about initial I-20 issuance or maintaining visa status should be directed to the OIP in Presidents Hall room 321 or by e-mail at oip@shu.edu or by phone at (973) 761-9072. Please also visit the OIP Web site at www.shu.edu/offices/oip-index.cfm for immigration regulations and details about documents required for I-20 issuance. All graduate international student applicants to Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology, please contact the School of Theology at (973) 761-7491.

No documents submitted as part of the application process will be returned nor will any requests to duplicate documents be honored.

International students will be assessed a one-time International Student Fee of $400.00.

Acceptance

After the application has been processed, and if the qualifications are satisfactory, graduate applicants will receive a letter of acceptance from the appropriate graduate office.

Deferment of Application

If applicants for admission to a graduate program find it impossible to submit all required documentation by the application deadline, they may request a deferment to the next semester or next academic year. This request for deferment must be submitted in writing. In no case may applicants defer an application after receiving an unfavorable admission decision.

Duplicate Degrees

Students who have earned a graduate degree at Seton Hall may be accepted to another program with a different major that culminates in the same degree provided that the content of the program is significantly different. In this case, the dean determines the number and distribution of credits required in the second degree.

Readmission

Students in good academic standing when they leave the University are academically eligible to return to regular student status upon their readmission. If the leave is within one academic year, students will be reinstated through the Office of Registrar. If it is more than one year, student must reapply through the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. Students who are not in good academic standing when they leave the University must meet any restrictions or conditions imposed by their department chair.

Student seeking readmission from a medical leave of absence may be required to meet certain conditions before returning. These conditions normally include but are not limited to: 1) providing documentation from a medical provider that the student is ready to resume studies; 2) meeting with Seton Hall University staff for assessment and review of applicable SHU services. All other readmission policies and procedures apply.

Readmission policies for the School of Health and Medical Sciences differ. Please contact the program department for specific readmission criteria.

Financial Aid

Financial aid for graduate students is extremely limited. The primary form of aid is student loans.

University Graduate Assistant Program

The University offers a limited number of graduate assistantships each year for full-time, matriculated graduate students. These teaching, research and administrative assistantships are by separate application only.

Each assistantship is usually for one academic year, carries a stipend for nine or 10 months (September through May or June) and includes tuition remission for a maximum of 12 credits per semester (except for law students, for whom the maximum is 9 credits). Assistantships are renewable for the next year upon the recommendation of the hiring department.

Assistants generally spend 20 hours per week doing directed, quasi-professional work, research or teaching.

Applicants for graduate assistantships must show evidence of formal University acceptance into a graduate degree program as part of their application. Applications and information are available through the Graduate Student Web page at www.shu.edu/applying/graduate/grad-finaid.cfm

Please note: Applicants for teaching assistantships in the biological sciences, chemistry and English also must contact those departments.

Generally, graduate students who are at least half-time status may be eligible for Federal Direct Loans.

Graduate students are not eligible to receive grants, such as Federal Pell, Federal SEOG, New Jersey TAG, SHU Need, Seton Hall Grant, and/or any other undergraduate merit based scholarship program, such as but not limited to, University Scholarship, Regents, Chancellors, and Provost Scholarship.

International Students

Financial aid for international students is limited.

International students are eligible to apply for graduate assistantships and graduate scholarships on an equal basis with domestic students. However, citizenship and residency requirements eliminate all foreign students from the federal assistance programs in which the University participates. International students who qualify for admission to the University must seek financial assistance through agencies in their own country rather than attempting to base an education at Seton Hall on scholarship awards or other aid from the University.

Graduate Educational Opportunity Fund Program

Graduate Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF) grants are available to eligible students in the amount of $2,850 (maximum grant for the 2012-13 academic year). Students must be full-time, matriculated students and must document financial eligibility as determined by the students’ gross income.

Although priority in awarding the EOF graduate grant is given to those who received undergraduate grants, individuals who did not receive undergraduate grants but who demonstrate historical poverty will also be considered.

Applicants must complete and submit the Data Sheet for Graduate and Law School Students to the coordinator of Enrollment Services, located in the Educational Opportunity Office on the South Orange campus. In addition, applicants must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) www.fafsa.gov

Federal Assistance Programs

Various departments and agencies of the federal government offer programs of aid for graduate students. These include fellowships, traineeships, Summer traineeships or loans. Students interested in these programs are requested to contact the department in which they intend to study.

Veterans’ Benefits

Educational benefits may be available to eligible veterans and children or spouses of deceased or permanently disabled veterans. Details of the program are available from any Veterans Administration Office or Seton Hall University’s Office of Financial Aid. The University participates in the Yellow Ribbon Program. For more information, please visit http://www.shu.edu/offices/financial-aid/veterans-benefits.cfm

Federal Direct Loans

Seton Hall participates in the Federal Direct Student Loan Program. Loan proceeds are delivered to the student directly through the University and repaid to the loan servicer.

The Office of Financial Aid processes applications for the Stafford Loan. As of July 1, 2012, the Federal Government has ended subsidized loans for graduate and professional students. Students may receive up to $20,500 in unsubsidized funds. A master promissory note must be electronically completed and filed with the Department of Education before the loan proceeds can be credited to a student’s account.

Seton Hall University is a Direct Lending School. All loans are through the Department of Education and must be applied for at www.studentloans.gov

Applicants must enroll at least half-time and complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) to apply for the loan. In completing the FAFSA, be sure to include Seton Hall’s Title IV School Code: 002632.
Interest rates for Federal loans are set annually by the United States Department of Education. More information about these loan programs may be obtained from the Office of Financial Aid or from the United States Department of Education at http://studentaid.ed.gov

Student Eligibility
In order for students to receive financial aid they must meet certain eligibility requirements listed below:
- have financial need as determined by the FAFSA;
- be a high school graduate;
- be enrolled at least half-time at Seton Hall in a degree granting program;
- be a U.S. citizen or eligible noncitizen;
- be making satisfactory academic progress toward a degree (the following section provides details);
- not be in default of a federal loan or owe a repayment of a federal grant; or have exceeded the loan aggregate for a graduate student;
- comply with the terms of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act;
- certify registration with selective service if required; and
- certify that information reported on the Student Aid Report (SAR) is accurate if selected for Federal Verification.

Requirements to Maintain Eligibility for Federal Aid
In addition to the requirements above, the Higher Education Amendments require colleges and universities to define and enforce standards of academic progress. Students receiving federal financial aid must conform to these requirements in order to be eligible for this financial assistance.

Satisfactory academic progress requirements at Seton Hall provide a maximum time frame for completion of a degree, a graduated credit accumulation over time, as well as a quality mechanism. These minimum standards require students to demonstrate that they are actively pursuing their degree. Progress will be evaluated at the end of every semester.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Guidelines

General Considerations
- Federal Regulations (General Provision CFR 668.43) require the Seton Hall University the Office of Financial Aid to review the academic progress of students who apply for and/or receive financial assistance. This regulation applies to each financial aid applicant whether a previous recipient or not.
- Satisfactory Academic Progress evaluation cannot take place until final grades have been posted each year. Therefore, any financial assistance awarded prior to the annual academic evaluation is subject to cancellation if the minimum standards are not met.
- Deficiency with the quantitative and qualitative Satisfactory Academic Progress Guidelines will result in the denial of financial assistance. Applicants denied financial assistance because of inadequate Satisfactory Academic Progress will be granted the option of appealing their aid denial. Appeals must be based on “special or unusual circumstances.”

Grade Point Average
- Graduate students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.00, consistent with Seton Hall University standards;
- Students whose cumulative GPA does not meet the minimum requirements are automatically placed on probation for the current semester.

Number of Credits Completed - Full-Time
- Graduate students must complete a minimum of 72 percent of credit hours attempted for each academic year (i.e., Summer, Fall, Spring) at Seton Hall University;
- Students attending the University a portion of an award year will be evaluated on that portion of the academic year;
- Students who leave the University for an award year will be evaluated on their most recent academic year or attendance at Seton Hall University.

Determination of Award Amounts
To be considered for financial aid, a student must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The federal government will then process the information and send it to the colleges indicated and to the appropriate state agencies. Students should make sure that Seton Hall University is listed on the FAFSA using Seton Hall’s Title IV Code 002632. The website to apply online is www.fafsa.gov To e-sign the FAFSA, students will need a PIN. To apply for a PIN, visit www.pin.ed.gov

Student Loans:
Rights and Responsibilities
Before incurring any loan, students should know the terms and conditions of the loan, as well as their rights and responsibilities as student borrowers.

A loan is money that is borrowed and paid back with interest. The specific sum of money borrowed is called the principal. Interest is a percentage of the principal that the student pays as a fee for borrowing. Students usually pay back the loan in monthly installments until the entire amount of the loan (principal and interest) is repaid. In some cases, students may postpone or defer payment of the loan, but a deferment must be approved by the loan servicer. If students fail to repay their loan (or defaults), the government may impose a penalty and may withhold money from paychecks and tax refunds. In addition, students will be ineligible to receive any future federal aid, and their credit ratings will be negatively affected. The exact terms and conditions of a student loan may be obtained in detail from the loan servicer.

While student loan programs differ in some ways, students’ rights and responsibilities as a borrower are basically the same for all programs. These rights and responsibilities are specified in federally mandated Entrance Counseling.

Rights
As borrowers, students have the right to be provided with clear and concise information about the terms and conditions of student loans. The following list describes students’ rights regarding financial aid:

- students must receive a copy of the promissory note that legally binds them to repay the loan;
- students have the right to a “grace period” before the repayment period begins;
- students must be given a list of deferment conditions;
- students must be informed of the full amount of the loan, the interest rate and when repayment begins;
- students must be informed of the effect borrowing will have on eligibility for other aid;
- students must be aware of any charges to them by the federal government;
- students must know the maximum yearly and total loan amounts, as well as the maximum and minimum repayment periods;
- students must be informed of their expected total debt and what their monthly repayments will be;
- students must be aware of what default is and its consequences;
- students must be informed of refinancing and consolidation options; and
- students must be notified if their loan is transferred to a different holder.

Responsibilities
- Students must notify the loan servicer if they graduate, withdraw from school or drop below half-time; transfer to another school; change their name, address or social security number.
- Students must repay their loans in accordance with the repayment schedule given to them, even if they do not receive a bill or complete their education.
- Students must notify the loan servicer of anything that affects the ability to repay the loan or changes student’s eligibility for deferment or cancellation.
- Student borrowers must complete both Entrance and Exit Counseling requirements.

Student Loans
Direct loans are disbursed in two equal payments, and are applied to the student’s account after the student signs a promissory note. First-time borrowers at Seton Hall must complete Entrance Counseling before loan proceeds can be credited to the student’s account.

Repayment Policy
Students receiving federal financial aid, who completely terminate enrollment or stop attending all classes during a term for which payment has been received before completing more than 60 percent of the enrollment period, are subject to specific federal regulations.

The amount of Title IV aid that a student must repay is determined via the Federal Formula for Return of Title IV funds as specified in Section 484B of the Higher Education Act. This law also specifies the order of return of the Title IV funds to the programs from which they were awarded.
A repayment may be required when aid has been disbursed to a student from financial aid funds in excess of the amount of aid the student earned during the term. The amount of Title IV aid is determined by multiplying the total Title IV aid (other than FWS) for which the student qualified by the percentage of time during the term that the student was enrolled.

If less aid was disbursed than was earned, the student may receive a late disbursement for the difference. If more aid was disbursed than was earned, the amount of Title IV aid that must be returned (i.e., that was unearned) is determined by subtracting the earned amount from the amount actually disbursed.

The responsibility for returning unearned aid is allocated between the University and the student according to the portion of disbursed aid that could have been used to cover University charges and the portion that could have been disbursed directly to the student once University charges were covered. Seton Hall University will distribute the unearned aid back to the Title IV programs as specified by law. The student will be billed for the amount the student owes to the Title IV Programs and any amount due to the University resulting from the return of Title IV funds used to cover University charges.

Students in Dissertation

Federal loan regulations indicate that any time a student drops below less than half-time status, the student is no longer eligible for federal student loans and the clock on their 6 month grace period on repayment begins. However, the student may still apply for alternative loans to cover the cost of remaining studies.

Dissertation advisement is a 3-credit course, and if taking alone will be reported as less than half-time. However, the 3-credit dissertation advisement class can be considered to be the equivalent of half-time or full-time study if this is certified by the department. In order to submit a certification requesting that the dissertation work is equivalent to full-time or half-time study, an e-mail must be sent from the department chair to the University Registrar. In order for this to go into effect, the student must be registered for at least 1 credit at Seton Hall University. The request should only be made for students whose dissertation work is taking a substantial amount of time equivalent to at least half-time study. Please note that this cannot continue for multiple semesters without legitimate degree related work (i.e. internships for the counseling program). Once certification is submitted to the University Registrar, the student will be coded for half-time or full-time equivalency (based on the request). When the student is coded as half-time or full-time, federal loan eligibility is still intact and the deferment clock does not start ticking.

Tuition and Fees

The most recent information on tuition and fees can be found on the Seton Hall University website:

http://www.shu.edu/offices/bursar/ tuition-and-fees.cfm

Payment

Seton Hall University utilizes electronic billing as the official means of distributing student bills. Students are required to monitor their accounts through the online self-service access and make on-time payments. (Pre-registration is required of continuing students.) Charges are assessed for all course reservations, regardless of class attendance. Courses must be officially dropped online or in the Office of the Registrar before the applicable due dates. Details are available online at the Seton Hall Website. All checks and money orders should be made payable to Seton Hall University. Payments made by mail should be sent to the address listed on the eBill. The University encourages online payments through the student PirateNet portal. Electronic checks, echecks, are accepted with no charge. Credit card payments can only be made online, and a 2.75% convenience fee is applied to the amount paid.

No student may preregister for a subsequent semester, begin a new semester, reserve a residence hall assignment or make any course changes with an unpaid balance from the preceding semester. In no case will a student receive a degree, diploma, grades, certificate of degree or transcript of credits until charges have been paid in full. The University reserves the right to drop from classes any students who are in default of their payment.

Payment Plan

Seton Hall University has partnered with TuitionPay, a Division of Sallie Mae Corp., to provide students and their families with no-interest payment plans at a nominal fee. Please contact TuitionPay at 1-800-635-0120 or www.tuitionpay.com for more information. TuitionPay is not available for Summer Sessions or past due charges.

Late Fees and Collection Costs

Any amounts unpaid after the semester’s due date are subject to late fees. The late fee is up to $250 each semester. The University reserves the right to pursue legal action in a court of law for any outstanding account balances. If legal action is pursued, the student will be responsible for all collection costs, including reasonable attorney fees, collection agency fees and court costs, in addition to such amounts owed to the University.

Tuition Discounts

Priests, brothers, and sisters of the Roman Catholic Church are eligible for a 50 percent religious reduction in graduate tuition rates. Application, accompanied by verification of eligibility, must be submitted to Student Financial Services prior to registration. Written guidelines are available from this office upon request. Senior citizens also receive a discount when they enroll for courses which are available
If a student is dismissed or withdraws because of prolonged illness, the account will be rendered strictly according to the percentage ratio of the total number of days elapsed during the student’s attendance to the total calendar days of the semester. A “prolonged illness” is one that must be attested to by a doctor’s certificate to the effect that the illness is or was of such a nature as to require the student’s absence for a period of three consecutive weeks.

If a student has made only partial payment of tuition and fees and the prorated charges exceed the partial payment, the additional amount is due and payable at the time of withdrawal. Students will not receive clearance from the University until all financial obligations have been met.

Any refund that is necessary as a result of withdrawal from the University will be made only by mail. This policy is separate from the Return of Title IV Policy for students who withdraw and have Federal Aid for that term. The Return of Title IV Policy can be found on the Financial Aid Office website.

Students who cease attending classes during the term without officially withdrawing are considered as unofficially withdrawn. These students will lose 50% of their financial aid for that term.

Charges for Course Changes

Course schedules may be modified through the online student self-service or with an Adjustment to Schedule Form through the add-drop deadline. Payment for additional tuition incurred by a student as a result of such a change is due upon the execution of this schedule change. Students are required to monitor their accounts through the online self-service access and make on-time payments.

Any credit that appears on the student’s financial account as a result of a dropped course may be applied toward charges for a subsequent semester or, if requested in writing, refunded directly to the student. No financial adjustment will be made for individual courses dropped after the change in program period.
Degree Requirements

To qualify for a graduate degree, students must fulfill all course, examination and other requirements prescribed by the department. Only graduate coursework may be applied to a graduate degree. In rare instances, an upper-level undergraduate course may be counted toward a graduate degree on the recommendation of the department chair and dean. Degree candidacy must be established in keeping with departmental and school standards.

Advanced degrees are not awarded automatically upon completion of a required number of courses or credit. Such degrees are awarded for demonstrated achievement in scholarship. A GPA of 3.0 is required for graduate degree eligibility.

The University reserves the right to close, cancel or modify any academic program and to suspend admission to any program.

Student Educational Records: Access and Privacy

The University provides all present and former students with the right of access to inspect and review by appointment any and all educational records, files and data that relates directly to them. Students also are afforded the opportunity to challenge these records.

All educational records are considered confidential. Their release is regulated by University policy in keeping with the provisions of Public Law 93-380, Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended. The University policy is fully detailed in the Student Handbook available at http://www.shu.edu/offices/student-services/index.cfm

Students who wish to inspect information or records may do so by requesting a Right of Access form from the office or department in which a specific record is kept and filing it with that office. Right of Access forms also are available from the Office of the Registrar. Within 10 days of receipt of the Right of Access form, the office or department will notify the student about the date, time and location the record will be available for inspection.

The Office of the Registrar answers all questions relating to right of access.

Academic Integrity

Faculty, students, administrators and staff of Seton Hall University both recognize and cherish academic integrity as the cornerstone of our shared academic enterprise. As a Catholic institution, we are particularly bound to personal values and self-discipline and seek to combine that reality within the context of a trusting and caring academic community. All individuals in the University community have an obligation to attend to the highest degree of personal integrity while in the pursuit of knowledge and the service of one another.

In particular, the pursuit of knowledge requires honesty. Students must do their own work. A student who hands in work that is not his or her own, or who cheats on a test, or who plagiarizes an academic assignment is doing harm to himself or herself and taking advantage of others. Any dishonesty threatens the individual standards of the person committing the act and the other members of the Seton Hall community as well.

As we continue to seek for what is best and authentically human, each member of this University community must commit himself or herself to service of the truth. A student should refer to the Policy on Academic Integrity Policy of his/her major department/school/college. This University Policy of Academic Integrity shall apply to all students. The Procedures for Handling Violations of Standards of Academic and Professional Integrity are contained in the Student Handbook.

Class Attendance

Attendance at each class meeting is expected of each student. Instructors may take class attendance into account when determining grades as long as a clear statement on attendance policy and its impact on grading is given to students at the start of the semester within the syllabus. Students who are recipients of federal funds for a given term may compromise their eligibility to retain that aid if they fail to attend class and/or do not earn academic credit for their courses.

Change of Program

After admission to a graduate program in one department, students who wish to change to another program in the same department must file a Curriculum Adjustment Form. Forms may be obtained at the departmental office. During the 2014-
Course Requirements

Students are expected to present themselves for examinations as scheduled and meet all other course obligations by the end of the semester in which the course is offered. All course requirements (examinations, papers, projects, etc.) must be completed by the dates specified in the academic calendar for the term.

If students are unable to complete the requirements for one or more courses during the regular term, the course load for subsequent terms may be reduced.

Comprehensive Examination

In addition to department certification that comprehensive command of the field has been established, the successful completion of a final comprehensive examination is a degree requirement in some programs. Examinations are scheduled during Fall and Spring semesters, and some programs also schedule examinations during Summer Session. Applications for the examination are obtained from the department and must be signed by the adviser and submitted by the dates specified by the department.

The candidate is entitled to one reexamination for which a new application must be submitted (see General Fees). A candidate also must maintain continuous registration at the University until the requirement has been fulfilled.

Specific school regulations concerning the examination are included in the appropriate sections of this catalogue.

Transfer Credit Policy for Active Graduate Students

Graduate students may not take graduate courses at any other institution without the prior written permission of their chair and dean and, in cases where the course involved is outside of the student’s department, the chair of the course-equivalent department. Transfer policies may vary as to department/school. Some departments do not allow students to take courses at other institutions for transfer, while others impose restrictions. Students should contact their adviser about prevailing policies.

Authorization to study elsewhere is granted upon completion of an Application to Study at Another Institution, which is available in the Office of the Registrar. No credit for work completed at another school is granted unless the grade is “B” or higher and the course is at the graduate level. Grades for transferred courses are not used in computing the student’s GPA. Students should consult their department for any additional transfer regulations that may apply.

In general, a maximum of 6 credits may be transferred into master’s and educational specialist programs. Students may not transfer to their Seton Hall graduate degree any course which has been applied to a degree at another institution.

Transfer credit is granted only for courses taken at an accredited college or university. In all cases, the student is responsible for submitting an official transcript to the University.

Thesis

In those programs in which a thesis is required, degree candidates must submit an approved thesis prepared under the direction of a mentor at least three weeks before the end of the semester in which all requirements will be completed. Before conferral of the degree, a minimum of three copies (four for education) suitable for binding must be submitted to the appropriate department.

Continuity

Students enrolled in a degree program are required to register each Fall and Spring semester until all requirements for the degree are satisfied. Failure to register without being granted a leave of absence is interpreted as a resignation from the program, and the processing of a Change of Status application will be required before students may reenter the program.

Master’s degree students who have completed all degree requirements except the thesis will register for THCN 7999 Thesis Continuation (Master’s) as their first thesis continuation registration. Only fees are assessed for the first semester of thesis continuation. Thereafter, students will register for THCN 8000 Thesis Continuation (Master’s). Thesis continuation and fees are assessed for THCN 8000.

Doctoral students must register for dissertation advisement and research courses in keeping with departmental curriculum requirements until they have successfully completed their research. Doctoral students who have scheduled their dissertation defense and do not need to register for any other courses to fulfill their degree requirements will register for THCN8999 for the first term of Thesis Continuation, and for THCN9000 for any subsequent terms. Only fees are charged for the first semester of thesis continuation; thereafter, thesis continuation and fees are assessed.

Students who have completed all degree requirements except the comprehensive examination or other required examination or who must complete supervised clinical or internship hours must register each Fall and Spring semester in Registration Continuation (RGCN 8000) status until the necessary examinations are passed.

Students who have successfully defended their dissertation but are not eligible for their degree until the subsequent semester must register for RGCN 8000 for that semester. Similarly, students who are resolving incomplete grade requirements in order to qualify for their degree must register for RGCN 8000.

Please note: Matriculated graduate students must maintain continuous registration, including during the semester of graduation.
Dissertation/Thesis Research – International Students

International graduate students who have completed all credit hour and curricular requirements except completion of the thesis or dissertation may register for Thesis Continuation or Dissertation Advisement to maintain matriculation status according to the academic policies of the individual school or college. In each case, a school official would make an individual determination through consultation with the student’s academic adviser as to whether or not the international graduate student is pursuing a full course of study as defined in the federal regulations (CFR 3.22.3). Graduate students who have completed formal coursework.

Leave of Absence

A student who is unable to attend the University during a regular semester because of illness, family emergency, extraordinary job requirements, military service or other factors may be granted a leave of absence without penalty. The student must submit a written request for a leave to their program director and to the Office of the Registrar.

Except in the case of military service, a leave of absence ordinarily will be limited to one year. Students who have been granted such leave must apply for reactivation by the following dates:

- July 1: Fall Semester
- December 1: Spring Semester
- May 1: Summer Session

When a student has been officially granted a leave of absence, that period of authorized leave shall not be counted toward the degree time limit.

Time Limit for Master Degree Students

Generally, candidates for all master’s and the Educational Specialist degrees are expected to fulfill all requirements for the degree within six years (five years in the School of Business) after they have been formally accepted. Time extensions may be granted in unusual cases upon written application to a candidate’s adviser. Students given an extension may have to repeat courses or enroll in new courses as stipulated by program directors. Any time a course is repeated, associated charges (tuition and fees) will be applied.

Doctoral degree time limits vary by program.

Application for Degree

Students must file an online Application for Graduate Degree with the Office of the Registrar in Bayley Hall by the deadline. Students who do not meet the application deadline will have their degree date advanced to the next term. See the following section on Summary of Procedures for Graduate Programs for specific deadlines.

Eligibility for Degree

Students must be formally accepted as candidates for a specific degree with a declared major in order to be eligible for that degree. Only when the department chair/program director officially advises the Office of the Registrar that all requirements have been satisfied will the student’s record be updated to reflect the award of the graduate degree. A minimum GPA of 3.0 is required for degree eligibility. Degrees for students in joint graduate programs must be awarded in the same semester. If a student completes one program before the second, the first degree will not be awarded until the student has established eligibility for both degrees.

Student Policy and Procedure

A handbook delineating policy and procedures for students is available online at http://www.shu.edu/offices/student-services/index.cfm

Registration

Registration for New Students

Students are expected to register for courses in the semester for which they have been accepted. Requests to defer an acceptance date must be made in writing directly to the graduate program director. The University will not retain applications and supporting documents of those who do not register within a two-year period; the Stillman School of Business retains application materials for one year.

Students are expected to register on the published registration date.

Graduate Adviser

Students admitted to graduate study are assigned an adviser from the department in which they are studying. The adviser will help determine the student’s course load and assist in planning the program of study. The adviser must approve the students’ program for each semester (as well as the total program) before they will be permitted to enroll for courses.

To prepare for registration for the coming semester, students will consult with their academic adviser, who will assist them in selecting an appropriate schedule of classes. Students can view the semester course offerings online within Banner Student Self-Service. Additional important information, including the details of registration procedures for the semester, the academic calendar, and information about academic regulations and procedures, is also available on this site.

Online registration is available for all students. Students are encouraged to use this convenient method of registration after consulting their adviser for course selection and to get their registration PIN.

Registration

Active students who plan to continue their studies in the following semester are required to register for courses in March-April for the Fall term and in November for the Spring term. This affords continuing students first priority in course selection. Continuing students who do not register during these periods may be required to pay tuition and fees at the time of registration. Details regarding registration procedures appear online within the student portal.
Academic Policies and Procedures

Academic and Financial Responsibility

The University reserves seats in classes for all students who register. The students incur both academic and financial responsibility for any preregistered course(s). Accordingly, students who register during the early registration periods must pay their tuition bills by the due date or officially drop their courses online or in the Office of the Registrar by that same date so that their reserved class seats may be reopened to other students. Official cancellation of course reservations by this deadline removes all semester tuition and fee charges.

Registered students who cancel course registrations after the payment due date, but before the end of the add-drop period, will be liable for registration fees but not tuition charges. Students who withdraw from all classes will incur prorated tuition charges and full fees according to the Total Withdrawal Schedule in the Tuition and Fees section of this catalogue. These charges are assessed regardless of payment status or class attendance.

Students who register during the Registration or Late Registration periods incur academic and financial responsibility for their courses and must submit payment by the due date that appears on the bill. These students are liable for tuition charges and fees, unless they officially drop their courses before the end of the add/drop period, in which case they are responsible for fees only. Withdrawal after the end of the add/drop period will result in the assessment of prorated tuition charges and full fees as delineated under “Charges for Course Changes” in the Tuition and Fees section of this catalogue.

The University reserves the right to drop from classes any students who are in default of their payment. The University may also require students with a prior balance to prepay the tuition/fees for the semester prior to being allowed to register.

Students are required to complete their semester registration prior to the semester end of the add-drop deadline. Students may not attend any class unless they are officially registered for that class section that semester.

In extraordinary circumstances, students may petition the Office of the Registrar in Bayley Hall for permission to register after the add-drop period. If authorization is granted, the student will be required to pay tuition, fees and a late fee of $250 before being allowed to register.

Independent Study

Application forms for programs of independent study may be obtained from department chairs who have information on University and department requirements. Students may not register for any independent study course without the signed approval of the department chair.

Schedule Changes

Adjustments to the semester schedule are permitted through the end of the add-drop period. For Fall and Spring semesters, the add drop period ends at midnight on the next occurring day of the week within which classes begin. For example, if the semester begins on Monday, then the add-drop period ends at midnight of the following Monday. This pattern is altered if the end date falls on a University holiday in which case the end of the period would be midnight on the next occurring business day. For Summer courses, the add-drop period ends on the day of the second class meeting. To add or drop a course, the student under advisement must complete the schedule adjustment process by the add/drop deadline. When students properly drop a course, the course is removed from the semester schedule.

In no case will students be allowed to add or drop a course after the end of the add/drop period. Also, no refund or credit will be granted for any course that is not officially dropped by the appropriate deadline. Nonattendance does not constitute a drop or a withdrawal. After the end of the add/drop period, students who do not wish to continue in a class may submit a Course Adjustment Form to withdraw from the course. This form must be submitted to the Office of the Registrar with all required signatures by the appropriate deadline.

Semester Credit Load

Full-time status at the graduate level is 9 credits. Normally, a full-time graduate student will not exceed 18 credits in a given semester; graduate students in the Stillman School of Business may not exceed 15 credits without special permission. Halftime status is considered 5 credits. Students registered at the part-time level will be registered for fewer than 9 credits.

During Summer Session, students may enroll for 6 credits in any one session. The maximum for students enrolling in multiple sessions during a given Summer is 15 credits.

Graduate students enrolling in credit-bearing internships that are full-time and semester-long may be certified as full-time-equivalent with the approval of the department.

Refund Policy

The amount of tuition refund, if any, will be determined by Enrollment Services.

If students totally withdraw from the University during the University’s refund period, recalculation of their financial aid (including loans) will be performed by Student Financial Services to ensure that students are entitled to the financial aid they received for that term. If it is determined that a student is not eligible for the aid received, either a portion or the full amount of aid will be refunded to the program source from which it was received. Students are responsible for any outstanding balances with the University resulting from reduction or cancellation of financial aid. Federal aid will be reduced or canceled first, followed by state and institutional aid.

Graduate Grading System

Effective with the Fall 2004 semester, the University modified its grading system to include minus grades. This change is not retroactive to any prior semester.

The University uses the following letter grades on the graduate level to indicate the record of achievement in courses taken:

The following are explanations and regulations that apply to certain grades listed above:

I – Incomplete: Indicates noncompletion of assignment(s) or failure to take the examination for a course. Students must obtain written permission to receive an incomplete by submitting a Course Adjustment Form to the professor before the officially scheduled final examination. The professor will indicate on this form the amount of time allowed for completion of this work, up to a maximum of 12 months or by the time the student has graduated (whichever comes first). If the missing course requirements are completed within this time period, the professor must submit a new Course Adjustment Form indicating the changed grade to the dean’s office within 10 working days. During the 2014-15 academic year, the University expects to implement functionality that will enable faculty members to enter grade change requests online. Effective with Fall 2007 courses, if a grade of “I” is not resolved within the time allotted, this grade will be changed automatically and permanently to “FI.” In extenuating circumstances a written request for a limited time extension to complete course requirements may be submitted in advance of the one-year deadline by the student to the professor and dean of the college in which the course was offered, with a copy to the Office of the Registrar for approval. The grade “I” is not counted in determining class standing, eligibility or grade point average. An unresolved “I” grade will count in the calculation of the grade point average when it changes to “FI” after the one year period.

Although a student’s GPA is not affected by an “I” grade, the fact that the student receives no credit for the course may impact academic eligibility and, as a consequence, the student’s eligibility for financial aid. An unresolved “I” grade may also impact the student’s eligibility for financial aid and academic standing when it changes to an “FI” grade, as an “FI” grade affects both the grade point average and the credit completion ratio.

An “incomplete” grade cannot be given when a student does not complete any course requirements or fails to attend class meetings. A student who receives an “I” grade may not attend class meetings in a future semester in order to make up outstanding requirements. Students who must attend all class meetings to complete requirements for an “I” in a course must register for the course. Full tuition is due in this circumstance.

IW – Incomplete Withdrawal: If, within 12 months, or by graduation (whichever comes first), a grade of “NR” has not been resolved, it is automatically changed to “IW.” The grade “IW” indicates that the student has not satisfied within the permissible time period all outstanding requirements for the course in which an “NR” was received. An “IW” grade is not reversible; it does not count in determining class standing, eligibility or grade point average.

WD – Withdrawal: Withdrawal from a class with written permission incurs no academic penalty. Appropriate forms must be submitted to the Office of the Registrar. Withdrawal will be allowed up to the end of the fourth week of the semester without faculty or dean signature during Fall and Spring semesters. Students may request a course withdrawal by submitting a Course Adjustment Form. After the end of this initial period, withdrawals require signatures of the faculty member and dean. Under normal circumstances withdrawal will be allowed only through the Friday of the eighth week of each semester. Withdrawal after that date will be allowed by the respective deans’ offices only under exceptional circumstances. The Summer Session catalogue includes applicable withdrawal deadlines. A “WD” is not reversible; it is not counted in determining class standing, eligibility or GPA.

When students receive a “WD” grade, their grade point average is not affected. However, the fact that the student receives no credit for the course may affect the student’s academic eligibility, and, as a consequence, the student’s eligibility for Title IV financial aid.

F – Failure: When students receive an “F” grade in a course, no academic credit or quality points are awarded for that course. Their GPA is, of course, negatively impacted by a failing grade. The “F” grade is not counted in determining class standing, but its statistical effect is factored into the calculation of GPA and, consequently, it also affects eligibility issues.
When students fail a course that is required in their program of study, they must successfully repeat that course in order to establish degree eligibility. When students fail a free elective, they are not required to make up the course.

Any time a course is repeated, associated charges (tuition and fees) will be applied.

When students successfully repeat a course at Seton Hall that they have failed, the original “F” grade remains on their transcript with the repeated designation, but is no longer factored into the students’ GPA.

In general, students are not granted permission to retake at another institution a course they failed at Seton Hall.

If students were to retake the course at another institution for transfer to their Seton Hall record, no statistical adjustment would be made. In this case, the “F” would continue to be calculated into the average. Students earn credits, but no quality points, from transferred courses.

Poor academic performance can affect eligibility for financial aid. In general, it is recommended that students repeat courses at Seton Hall that they have initially failed so that they may improve their GPA. Any time a course is repeated, associated charges (tuition and fees) will be applied. Students on probation should consult with their adviser to determine how to improve their academic performance and raise their GPAs.

AU – Audit Option (no credit): Students who register as auditors are expected to attend class regularly but are not obligated to take tests or comply with any other course requirements. Please note: There are two audit options available:

- Audit Declaration at Registration - students who declare an audit option at the time of registration by filing an Audit Declaration are assessed tuition of $100 per credit plus fees. Audit declaration is restricted to open courses at in-person registration sessions immediately prior to the beginning of a semester. Audit declaration is not allowed in computer, computer-based, laboratory, graphic arts, applied art, applied music, independent study, thesis or dissertation, online or off-campus courses. Audit declaration also is not allowed in closed courses.

  Students who file an Audit Declaration subsequently may not rescind that declaration and switch to credit status. Auditors who withdraw from a course for which they have filed an Audit Declaration will not receive any refund. Within the add/drop period, auditors may drop a course for which they have filed an Audit Declaration; they will receive a refund of tuition only, not fees.

- Standard Audit Option - Students who wish to audit a class may submit this request on a Course Adjustment Form available in the Office of the Registrar. Auditors may enroll for any course for which they are qualified. They may be dropped from a course by the professor if their presence impedes normal class progress. They may not change from audit to credit or vice versa after the fifth week of class or the first third of the course meetings in Summer Session. Regular tuition and fees are assessed for the standard audit option.

The designation of “AU” is noted on the transcript. “AU” is not used in determining class standing, eligibility or GPA.

U – Unsatisfactory: When students receive a “U” grade in a course, no academic credit or quality points are awarded for that course. Their GPA is negatively impacted by this grade. The “U” grade is not counted in determining class standing, but its statistical effect is factored into the calculation of GPA and, consequently, it also affects academic eligibility.

When students fail a course that is required in their program of study, they must successfully repeat that course in order to establish degree eligibility. When students fail a free elective, they are not required to make up the course.

Grade Point Average

To calculate weighted averages, the quality points assigned to grades are multiplied by the number of credits assigned to the course in which the grade is received. For example, a grade of “B+” in a 2-credit course represents 6.66 quality points; a grade of “A” in a 3-credit course equals 12 quality points and so forth. The sum of the quality points that the student has earned then is divided by the sum of credits attempted which re graded “A” through “F.” The resulting figure when truncated to four decimal places is then rounded by adding .0005 and truncating all but three digits to the right of the decimal.

Academic Good Standing

A grade point average of 3.0 is considered the minimum standard for satisfactory completion of coursework. Students who have accumulated two “C” grades or one “F” grade will undergo a record review by the appropriate faculty to determine future standing. Graduate students whose grade point averages are below 3.0 must receive clearance from their department/dean in order to register. Some colleges and programs have additional criteria for retention and good standing. In all cases, students are subject to these requirements.

Dismissal/Suspension

Dismissal constitutes permanent separation from the University. Suspension constitutes removal from the University for a stipulated period of time. Dismissal and suspension are based on the student’s unsatisfactory academic progress. Dismissed and suspended students are not in good standing with the University and are not eligible for financial aid.

Repeated Courses

A student may repeat a course in order to earn a higher grade. Any time a course is repeated, associated charges (tuition and fees) will be applied. The student must repeat the course at Seton Hall; no statistical adjustment is made when a student repeats a course at another institution. No credit is awarded when a student retakes at another institution a course for which he or she has earned credit at Seton Hall. When a course taken at Seton Hall is repeated at Seton Hall, only the higher grade is used in the calculation of the GPA. In this case, the lower grade will remain on the transcript with the designation “E” to denote its exclusion from the Diplomas are released upon determination of academic eligibility and financial clearance. Graduates who have an unresolved financial obligation to the University will not receive their diplomas until cleared by Student Financial Services. Graduate students whose program requires the completion of a thesis or dissertation will not receive their diploma until the thesis/dissertation is submitted for binding.

Transcripts
Transcript requests should be filed well in advance of any deadline. Normal processing time for transcripts ranges from three days to three weeks during peak demand periods at the end of each semester. Transcripts reflecting the award of a graduate degree will not be available until the Office of the Registrar has confirmed the eligibility of the candidate for the degree.

Current students may order transcripts online via Banner Student Self Service, using the PirateNet portal. Former students may order transcripts online, using the link on the Registrar’s home page. The transcript fee is $5.00 per copy.

Complete information detailing the procedure and charges for transcript requests is available online at the Registrar web site: http://www.shu.edu/offices/registrar-index.cfm

The University reserves the right to withhold transcript services from students who have an outstanding financial obligation to the University.

Name and Address Change
Changes in personal data, including change of name, address, next of kin and expected graduation date, should be reported in writing to the Office of the Registrar Students may also update their address and other information online. Requests for changes in first or last name require accompanying official documentation (e.g., marriage certificate or court order). Graduating students must file name change requests by April 1 preceding the May commencement date. Name changes and changes in student identification numbers will not be made after a student has graduated.

The University uses official names on all records in compliance with federal guidelines and University identity management policies.

Students may update their personal information, including address, telephone, personal email, emergency contact online within student self-service.

Personal Identification Number (PIN)
Each student is assigned a PIN each semester for use in online registration. Students should keep their PIN confidential. In the event that a student forgets his or her PIN, the student should contact his/her adviser.

Seton Hall Student Identification Number (SHU ID)
Upon admission to the University, every student is assigned an 8-digit student identification number. Students should use this number for general identification purposes.
Occasionally, after the housing process for undergraduate students is completed, there is limited housing available for unmarried, full-time graduate students. When available, most bedrooms are double occupancy. Terms of the lease are for the Fall and Spring semesters. Please contact the Department of Housing and Residence Life for more information.

Dining on Campus
Bishop Dougherty University Center

Seton Hall University’s Meal Plan Program allows students to select one of seven options. Once purchased, the student’s ID card will have a set number of meals per week plus Pirate Bucks that can be used to purchase products from the Galleon Food Court and Pirate’s Cove, or to enter the Pirate Dining Room. In the Pirate Dining Room portion of the meal program, students will have one meal deducted every time they enter. Once in the Pirate Dining Room, students are allowed to eat whatever they choose with unlimited returns. Each student’s number of meals will be reset according to his or her meal plan every Monday morning unless on the Block Plan. A display at the register shows the amount being charged and the balance of meals or points remaining. Additionally, there is a plan specially designed for commuters only which allows them access to the benefits of a meal plan. Plans are active during the entire Fall and Spring semesters, however, they are not active during breaks or Summer. Meals remaining at the end of each week throughout the semester are not refundable.

Information concerning current Resident Meal Plans can be found at http://www.shu.edu/offices/bursar/meal-plan/index.cfm or by calling (973) 761-9559.

24-hour Security Service

Security Building, (973) 761-9300

E-mail: publicsafety@shu.edu

The Department of Public Safety and Security at Seton Hall University provides 24-hour security services throughout the campus and at our off-campus facilities. Our staff conducts security patrols on foot, in cars, and on bicycles and is responsible for monitoring our state-of-the-art burglar alarm and safety systems. We also provide access control to our residence halls from 12:00 a.m. until 8:00 a.m. daily and provide 24 hour on-campus escort services when requested. Seton Hall University Public Safety works closely with the South Orange Police Department and we employ off-duty police officers to patrol our campus each evening. Our administrative staff provides an array of security services for the University community including event management, emergency management training and response, parking services, investigations and lost and found. More information about the Department of Public Safety and Security can be obtained by calling (973) 761-9328.

Parking Services

Seton Hall University offers limited parking for commuting students and senior residents. Exceptions are made for other resident students in curriculum-related employment, such as co-op programs, internships, student teaching and clinical assignments. A.D.A. approved accessible parking spaces are located throughout the campus in proximity to academic buildings. The use of these spaces is strictly enforced.

Students (including those studying part-time) must obtain a parking decal to park on campus. Detailed information about parking is available through the Parking Services Office, Duffy Hall, (973) 761-9329, 8 a.m. – 5:45 p.m. (Monday-Thursday), 8 a.m.- 4:45 p.m. (Friday). The email address is ParkingServices@shu.edu

SHUFLY

The SHUFLY shuttle operates seven days a week, and is a safe and convenient way for all Seton Hall University community members to travel in and around the Village of South Orange as well as weekend trips to the Livingston Mall and Target. The fare for SHUFLY is included in the housing fees of all resident students. For all other Seton Hall University community members, as well as any guests, the SHUFLY fare is $1 per ride which can only be accepted through Pirate’s Gold. Optional monthly and semester unlimited ride plans are offered for frequent SHUFLY riders who are not resident students. SHUFLY can be tracked online at shuflyshuttle.com or on your mobile device at shuflyshuttle.com/m

SHU Safe Ride

In an effort to enhance the off-campus safety of our community members, the Department of Public Safety offers an important transportation alternative called SHU Safe Ride. This service operates from 6:00 p.m. until 3:00 a.m. seven days per week and provides free on-demand van service to and from locations within the immediate vicinity of our campus that are not on the SHUFLY shuttle route. Service to these locations from campus originates at the Public Safety building near the Ward Gate. Service to campus from these locations is obtained by calling the Public Safety dispatcher at (973) 761-9300.

Campus ID Office

Identification Cards/Card Access

The Campus ID Office provides identification cards to University students, faculty and staff. The card is utilized for identification, access, meal plans, Pirate Bucks and Pirate’s Gold. All members of the University community must present a University identification card upon request to any University official, representative or campus security officer. Identification cards must be presented at residence halls, the Recreation Center, the computer center and Walsh Library. It is also used for access into many academic buildings and labs.

Pirate’s Gold

Pirate’s Gold acts as a debit card that is part of the ID card program. Seton Hall cardholders can add money to their cards to be used at various locations on and off campus. These locations are the bookstore, dining facilities, convenient printer stations, residence hall laundries and vending, as well as any participating merchant in the Township of South Orange Village.

A list of merchants accepting Pirate’s Gold can be found at the following link: www.shu.edu/offices/campus-id-index.cfm

Campus Ministry

Director: Reverend Warren Hall, M.Div., M.A.

Associate Director: Reverend Nicholas Figurelli, M.Div, M.A.

http://www.shu.edu/catholic-mission/campus-ministry-index.cfm

Campus Ministry provides a pastoral presence on campus and seeks to evangelize and empower all, by the prompting of the Holy Spirit, to become dedicated members of God’s family.

Campus Ministry seeks to bring the Church’s general mission to higher education; namely, to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ, by creating an environment that allows for spiritual, moral, liturgical and sacramental development, as well as nurturing students intellectually, socially and physically. Campus Ministry staff helps guide the maturing Christian conscience, educate for peace and justice, and develop future Christian leaders.

The activities listed below are open to participants of all faiths. The Campus Ministry staff will also direct any member of the University community to local congregations that will foster individual spiritual development. An Interfaith Directory, which includes addresses and telephone numbers of houses of worship in the area, is available through Campus Ministry.

Worship

Sunday Mass is celebrated at 10 a.m., 6 p.m., 8 p.m. and 10 p.m. Daily Mass is offered Monday – Thursday at 8 a.m., noon and 5 p.m., and on Fridays at 8 a.m. and noon, and Holy Hour on Monday – Thursday from 10:45 to 11:45 a.m. in the Immaculate Conception Chapel. Confession is available Monday – Friday at 11:30 a.m. and Wednesday at 10 p.m. and by appointment.

Lay Ministry is an important element of Catholic worship. To enhance the celebration of the Liturgy, anyone interested in serving as a liturgical minister (lector, music minister, Eucharistic minister or greeter) will be trained and mandated.

Morning Prayer is offered Monday – Friday in the Immaculate Conception Chapel at 7:30 a.m.
Additionally, Campus Ministry enriches the academic year by celebrating the University’s Catholic heritage in traditions of:

- Mass of the Holy Spirit in September
- Eucharistic Days
- Sacrament of Reconciliation Day each semester during Advent and Lent
- A Christmas Tree Lighting and blessing of the manger
- Lenten Liturgies
- Baccalaureate liturgical celebrations

There also are liturgies specially arranged for student groups. Chapels in Boland and Xavier residence halls complement the main chapel and are available for private prayer, Bible studies, meditations, and specially scheduled events. All are open daily. Arrangements for Masses, baptisms, and weddings may be made through the Campus Ministry office.

Catechetics

The Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults (RCIA) is a process that directs the full formation of students into the Catholic Church. Students learn to understand the teaching, worship, formation and community that comprise the Church. It is also a catechetical program for baptized Catholics who desire full membership in the Catholic Church through the sacraments of Confirmation and the Eucharist. RCIA meets weekly in both the Fall and Spring semesters. Students attend the RCIA retreat and field trips to the Cathedral Basilica of the Sacred Heart, the Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology, Latin Rite masses and Eastern Catholic churches. Students celebrate all the rites in the RCIA program and receive the Sacraments of Initiation at the Immaculate Conception Chapel.

Seton Hall United for Life (SHUFL) is the pro-life student organization recognized by the Student Government Association (SGA) and advised and sponsored by Campus Ministry. SHUFL hosts pro-life awareness activities throughout the year beginning with a Spiritual Adopt a Baby program, Respect Life Sunday program, pro-life movie nights and concludes with a pro-life baby shower and Celebrate Life Day. Students also attend the annual Right to Life March in Washington DC, the New Jersey Right to Life Dinner and pray peacefully outside a local abortion clinic. SHUFL works with Students for Life America (SFLA) to bring pro-life speakers to campus and host pro-life events.

The Cardinal Newman Circle is a lecture series founded upon the theology of Blessed Cardinal Henry Newman. Each semester a prominent theologian, philosopher, author or speaker is invited to campus to deliver a lecture to assist the Seton Hall communities’ understanding of the theology of the church. A wide range of speakers including: internationally acclaimed author and Chesterton and Tolkien scholar Joseph Pierce, speaker and founder of Joy Filled Marriage Damon Owens, speaker and founder of Made in His Image ministries Maura Bryne, professor and Newman theologian Msgr. Gerard McCarren, professor, author and biblical scholar Dr. Gregory Glazov and professor, author and Thomistic scholar Dr. Victor Velarde have all been Cardinal Newman Circle guest speakers.

Spiritual Renewal

Retreat experiences are offered each semester, both on and off campus. Campus Ministry also provides a small-group environment, known as Small Christian Communities, where the formation of Christian life is nurtured through friendship, reflection and social action.

Campus Ministry also assists any person who seeks spiritual direction, vocation discernment or crisis counseling. For more information, call (973) 761-9545.

Friars of the Community of St. John, FOCUS (Fellowship of Catholic University Students), and SPO (St. Paul’s Outreach) are present on Seton Hall University’s campus as a resource for students desiring to learn more about their faith and how to apply it to every facet of their lives. Discussions of life’s important issues relevant to the college students, hiking with reflections, Bible studies, Praise and Worship are available on campus for all students, as well as other various activities and opportunities.

Social Awareness

The Campus Ministry Division of Volunteer Efforts (DOVE) is one aspect of Seton Hall University’s response to the ongoing call for social justice. DOVE’s aim is to raise the awareness of the Seton Hall University community to social injustice through direct involvement in serving others. This service stems from our desire to affirm the dignity of all people and to live as Christ taught us by putting our faith into action. It seeks to aid the University in its commitment to graduate not only well educated professionals, but also compassionate individuals rooted in and guided by faith and its expression in firm moral convictions.

DOVE encourages all members of the Seton Hall community, regardless of faith or service background, to get involved. It operates 7 days a week serving both our local and global communities. Ministries include feeding the hungry, tutoring and mentoring local children, visiting the lonely and aged, helping people with disabilities, teaching English as a second language, working with homeless teen mothers, and more. DOVE also coordinates international (El Salvador, Haiti) and domestic (Philadelphia) service trips.
The Career Center

Director: Reesa Greenwald, M.A.
Bayley Hall, Suite 209
(973) 761-9355

Hours: Monday - Friday
8:45 a.m. - 4:45 p.m.

E-mail: careers@shu.edu

PirateNet - Click on Career Center or visit www.shu.edu/go/careers

The Career Center places a strong emphasis on engaging students in the process of career development and self-assessment very early in their academic program. Seton Hall students are supported by an integrated career development plan which includes career assessment, career advising/coaching, career-based-experiential education, mentoring and networking and recruiting activities. Career Center professionals provide personalized career advising assistance to support students in preparing and securing internships as well as professional employment upon graduation.

Career-based Experiential Education

Career-based Experiential Education at Seton Hall University provides out-of-the-classroom learning in pre-professional experiences. Career-based programs include: internships, field experiences, practica, clinicals and student teaching assignments.

The Career Center supports students’ preparation for all career-based Experiential Education programs and manages the University Internship Program for the College of Arts and Sciences and the Stillman School of Business. More than 600 internships are reported each year.

Internships

Seton Hall’s Internship program integrates substantive work experience with intentional learning and academic goals. All Internships are approved and monitored. Career Center professionals work closely with employers to ensure that students have a meaningful learning and work experience.

Internship experiences help students to focus career choices, hone professional skills, clarify work values and gain confidence in their post-graduation pursuits. Students can work 15-40 hours per week and earn money to offset educational expenses. Internships can be paid or non-paid and credit bearing or non-credit bearing.

To be eligible to participate in an Internship, students must be in good academic standing at the University. Students who elect to earn academic credit for their Internship experience must obtain approval from an internship faculty advisor. Internship faculty advisors work closely with The Career Center to help students articulate learning objectives and evaluate and grade the academic component of the experience. Students are asked to reflect on what was learned during the Internship. Academic departments may have additional requirements for credit-bearing internships.

Students not interested in obtaining academic credit for the experience will work closely with a career adviser from The Career Center. Students interested in obtaining an Internship, should make an appointment with an adviser at The Career Center.

Career Counseling and Assessment

National trends indicate that more than seventy percent of college students will change their academic major at least once. Career assessments, such as the Career Decision Scale, Strong Interest Inventory, Myers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI) and other online tools offer students insights into how one’s interests, personality, values and motivations impact academic and lifelong career goals and decisions.

Vocation and Career Workshops

Each year, more than 2500 students and alumni attend career education seminars. These hands-on workshops help students to see their lives as a vocation/calling, and prepare them for their internship and professional career searches. Workshops include: résumé and cover letter writing, interviewing techniques, preparing personal/career statements, using social media to network, and tips on networking and negotiating an offer.

Employer/Alumni Networking Events

The Career Center has forged strong partnerships with hiring employer organizations that specifically recruit Seton Hall students and alumni. Each year, hundreds of organizations attend on-campus career networking events, and/or recruit students and alumni for internship and full-time professional opportunities. Employers and alumni serve as career mentors and participate in networking events and on-campus interviewing throughout the year to identify talent for their organizations.

Career events target specific industry areas and include: Careers in Business Networking Event, the Finance Networking Forum, the Marketing Networking Forum, the Consumer Products Forum, the Internship and Career Fair, the Education Career Fair, the Healthcare Professions Career Fair, the Science Network Forum, the Communication Network Forum and the Nursing Recruiting Forum. The Career Center also participates in the annual Big East Career Fair in New York City.

eCareer Resources

The Career Center’s online system provides access to employment postings (i.e. internships, fellowships, part-time jobs and full-time professional employment opportunities). The Career Center tab within PirateNet offers access to this and other career tools and services such as Career Insider/Vault, CareerSpots videos, résumé samples, the “Career Guide”, career webinars and a résumé writing and interview preparation system.
Alumni
The Career Center provides career transition guidance to alumni and invites their involvement in professional networking events. As members of the Seton Hall University community, alumni stay involved by serving as industry experts at various career forums and recruiting students for internships and full-time professional employment opportunities. The Pirate Mentoring Program also offers alumni an opportunity to stay connected to students and fellow alumni by serving as career mentors.

Department of Athletics and Recreational Services
Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center, Second Floor
(973) 761-9498
Hours: Monday-Friday, 8:45 a.m.-6 p.m.
E-mail: athletics@shu.edu

Mission Statement
The Seton Hall Department of Athletics and Recreational Services embraces its mission to promote the positive character-building attributes and life skills gained through intercollegiate athletics and recreational programs. We are also committed to demonstrating competitiveness in the BIG EAST Conference and on the national scene. The Department mirrors the University’s commitment to servant leadership and operates in conjunction with its overall mission, which focuses on academic and ethical development while enriching the mind, heart and spirit.

As part of an institution where the Catholic faith and intellectual tradition are celebrated, the Department of Athletics is dedicated to enriching the lives of its student-athletes. We recognize no gender, racial or ethnic barriers and provide quality opportunities and programs to ensure that every student-athlete reaches their maximum potential.

Athletics
The Department of Athletics and Recreational Services organizes, manages and promotes all intercollegiate and recreational sports activities at Seton Hall University, with the objective of enriching the educational experience of every involved student. On an intercollegiate level, the University competes in 14 sports, with approximately 230 student-athletes participating. Seton Hall is a charter member of the prestigious BIG EAST Conference, and competes on the NCAA Division I level in all sports.

Pirate athletics has enjoyed a rich tradition. In the last 25 years alone, the men’s basketball team has made nine NCAA Tournament appearances and advanced to four “Sweet-16’s,” two “Elite-8’s” and the 1989 National Championship game. The program also won three BIG EAST titles during the 1990s. The women’s basketball team competed in the NCAA Tournament in 1994 and 1995, advancing to the “Sweet-16” in 1994. The baseball, golf, men’s and women’s track, men’s soccer, softball and volleyball teams all have won BIG EAST titles. Student-athletes from the track, swimming and tennis programs have earned BIG EAST individual titles and have excelled at the national level.

Seton Hall student-athletes have been recognized for their athletic and academic achievements by being named to All-America, Academic All-America and All-BIG EAST Academic teams. Several athletes have been awarded postgraduate scholarships for their outstanding academic and athletic accomplishments. Most recently, Seton Hall’s first Rhodes Scholarship was awarded to a former student-athlete.

Seton Hall also has had a substantial impact in international competition. The University has been well-represented in recent Olympic Games, as coaches and athletes from the University participated in the 1992, 1996, 2000 and 2008 Summer Games.

Recreational Services
The University’s Recreational Services Program promotes health and wellness and encourages wise use of leisure time. It provides extensive programmed activities developed to complement the many “open-recreation” opportunities provided by the Recreation Center.

The intramural program is open to all students and offers recreational and leisure sports activities such as leagues, tournaments and special events. Students can participate in flag football, basketball, volleyball, softball, soccer, tennis, hockey, road races and more.

Club sports at Seton Hall are available to students interested in a higher level of competition than intramurals in a sport not offered on the intercollegiate level. Clubs are organized, financed and run by the students with administrative assistance provided by Recreational Services. Current club sports include ice hockey, rugby, soccer, lacrosse and volleyball.

The offices of the Department of Athletics and Recreational Services are located in the Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center. Information about athletic programs may be obtained by calling (973) 761-9497. For information concerning intramurals, club sports or Recreation Center memberships, call (973) 761-9722.

Recreation Center Hours (during the Regular Session):
Sunday 11 a.m. – 10 p.m.
Monday – Thursday 7 a.m. – 10 p.m.
Friday 7 a.m. – 9 p.m.
Saturday 11 a.m. – 8 p.m.
Department of Community Development

Associate Vice President for Student Services and Dean of Students: Karen Van Norman, M.Ed.
Bishop Dougherty University Center, Room 237
(973) 761-9076
Hours: Monday-Friday, 8:45 a.m.-4:45 p.m.
E-mail: community@shu.edu
http://www.shu.edu/offices/community-development/index.cfm

The Department of Community Development partners with students to develop and promote opportunities that celebrate unity. The department provides educational, social and leadership opportunities for all members of the Seton Hall University community, and encourages all students to create and take responsibility for the community in which they live. The department motivates and empowers students to succeed today and in the future. For more information, call (973) 761-9076.

Community Standards

Seton Hall seeks to create a community, through community standards, where rights and mutual responsibilities are both recognized and valued, where truth and Christian ideals are sought and lived. The University seeks to foster an environment of mutual respect and dignity for each member of its community of scholars and learners, and expects each person to take seriously his or her role in establishing such an environment. For details about the University’s community standards and process, please consult the Student Handbook available on the website.

Leadership Development

The department provides a student-focused environment that enhances creative expression, motivates students and organizations to achieve goals for individuals and groups, and enhances interpersonal connections with others. The department fosters collaboration among campus departments and student organizations toward the goal of presenting a comprehensive campus life program that facilitates social, educational, spiritual, cultural, cognitive and ethical development.

Student Government Association (SGA)

The Student Government Association is made up of the legislative (senate) and executive branches. Both branches are responsible for representing students, providing educational programs and allocating monies to clubs. Elected representatives from the schools/colleges and departments of the University make up the Student Senate. Student senators are elected to the University Senate, which addresses all legislative matters pertinent to the University. The executive branch is responsible for managing the student government and its organizations.

Student Activities Board (SAB)

The Student Activities Board is the central programming body that plans all activities on campus. Through its various committees, the board provides a variety of low-cost programs. Events, such as films, lectures, travel, recreation, special events, comedy, concerts and coffeehouses are sponsored by the SAB and organized through committees.

Student Organizations

Over 130 student clubs and organizations and more than 20 fraternities and sororities are recognized by the University. All of these groups are student-led and determined by student interest and activity. Details on each organization and its leadership are available on the Community Development section of the University’s website.

Counseling and Psychological Services

Director: Katherine Evans, Ed.D.
Counseling and Psychological Services
Mooney Hall, Second Floor
(973) 761-9500
Hours: Monday-Friday, 8:45 a.m.-5 p.m.
Evenings and Early morning sessions by appointment
http://www.shu.edu/offices/counseling-services/index.cfm

Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) promotes student well-being by helping students overcome obstacles that may otherwise prevent them from attaining academic, personal and professional goals. Toward this mission, our trained professional staff of licensed and license-eligible psychologists and our psychiatrist provide a variety of psychological services as well as education, and general support to the campus community. All services are free and strictly confidential. CAPS is accredited by the International Association of Counseling Services. Services are consistent with the University’s Catholic mission.

Crisis Services

In the event of a psychological crisis, students may contact CAPS directly or call the Department of Public Safety and Security at (973) 761-9300 or 911 on campus. After hours, for health emergencies the 911 system activates an immediate response by EMTs, local police, and the Department of Public Safety and Security. Counseling professionals can be paged by the Department of Public Safety and Security to assist with urgent psychological crises after regular business hours (evenings and weekends).
Therapeutic Services

Psychological services are available to all enrolled undergraduate, graduate, seminary and law students. Services offered include – but are not limited to – the following: short-term individual counseling, group counseling, crisis intervention, psychiatric consultation, psychological evaluation and assessment, and sexual assault/trauma survivor support services. Referrals for longer term treatment in the larger community are also provided. The office is open from 8:45 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. To make an appointment, call (973) 761-9500 or come to CAPS on the second floor of Mooney Hall, room 27. Usually students will have their first appointment within a few days of when they call or come in. Students in crisis are seen immediately. After the initial interview, regular appointments can be conveniently scheduled. All services are free and strictly confidential.

Group Counseling and Therapy

CAPS offers a variety of counseling groups. Group counseling is a type of psychotherapy that provides the opportunity for small groups of students to share common concerns, explore personal issues, and learn new skills. Some groups typically offered throughout the academic year include Interpersonal Group, Transitions (for freshmen only), Men’s Group, Family Matters, Journey through Grief, Managing Moods, and Anxiety and Stress Management.

Health Services

Director: Mary Elizabeth Costello, M.S., FNP, BC
Health Services
303 Centre Street
Phone (973) 761-9175; Fax (973)761-9193
Hours: Monday-Friday, 8:45 a.m.-4:45 p.m. (appointments recommended)
http://www.shu.edu/offices/health-services/index.cfm

Health Services is a campus medical facility that is accredited by the Accreditation Association for Ambulatory Health Care (AAAHC). The Health Services staff assists students in achieving and maintaining optimal health. The staff provides primary medical care emphasizing health education.

The office provides a full range of primary care services, including assessment and treatment of acute illness, laboratory tests, allergy injections, treatment for sports injuries, men’s and women’s health care and immunizations. Commonly prescribed medicines are available for purchase. Referrals to specialists are available as necessary. Health Services supports the larger University community by serving as a clinical placement site for the School of Health and Medical Sciences and the College of Nursing.

Required Health Records and Immunizations

Health Services complies with New Jersey laws, the recommendations of the Centers for Disease Control and University policy by requiring all matriculated students to meet specified health requirements. The Health Form can be accessed via the department website. Failure to submit required health history and vaccine data will result in a registration hold.

Mandatory Health Insurance

All full-time students must carry health insurance. Full-time students who do not submit an electronic waiver form (located on PirateNet) will be automatically enrolled in the University-Sponsored Student Health Insurance Plan. For plan information and waiver deadlines, please review information on the website. Contact Student Services (973) 761-9075 if further information is needed.

Disability Support Services

Director: Angela Millman, M.Ed.
67 Duffy Hall
(973) 313-6003
Hours: Monday-Friday, 8:45 a.m - 4:45 p.m., and evening hours by appointment
E-mail: DSS@SHU.edu
http://www.shu.edu/offices/disability-support-services/index.cfm

Disability Support Services (DSS) is committed to providing equal access to all university programs and activities for students with disabilities. Policies and procedures have been developed to provide students with as much independence as possible, to promote self-advocacy, and to provide the same exceptional opportunities that are available to all Seton Hall students to students with disabilities. DSS collaborates closely with other University resources to provide a unique, integrated model to serve the needs of students with disabilities.

Academic Accommodations

All accommodations are determined on an individual basis for qualified students with documented disabilities in compliance with University policy, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and the New Jersey Law against Discrimination (NJLAD) including but not limited to:

- Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder
- Learning Disabilities
- Chronic Medical Conditions
- Psychological Disabilities
- Traumatic Brain Injuries
- Mobility Challenges
- Sensory Impairments
- Temporary Injuries & Medical Conditions

Further information and specifics for all of these items are contained within the DSS web site: http://www.shu.edu/offices/disability-support-services/index.cfm
Student Complaint Procedure and Designated Consumer Officials

United States Department of Education Regulation 34 CFR 600.9, the “Program Integrity Rule,” was adopted to ensure that students have the opportunity to voice concerns relating to programs offered by postsecondary educational institutions authorized under Title IV of the Higher Education Act, as amended.

Student (or prospective students) complaints should be filed to the respective office/department or through the appropriate grievance process. These processes may be found in this catalogue or the Student Handbook, available on the University website. In addition, the University has designated the following administrators as consumer information officials. For assistance with filing a complaint or for questions pertaining to various aspects of student life, students (or prospective students) are encouraged to contact the following:

Academic Affairs:
Larry A. Robinson, Provost and Executive Vice President, Presidents Hall, (973) 761-9655

Enrollment Services:
Alyssa McCloud, Vice President for Enrollment Management, Bayley Hall, (973) 275-2577

Graduate Admissions:
Gregory Burton, Associate Provost for Research and Graduate Studies, Presidents Hall, (973) 275-2974

Student Records:
Mary Ellen Farrell, University Registrar, Bayley Hall, (973) 275-2293

Student Services:
Karen Van Norman, Associate Vice President for Student Services and Dean of Students, Bishop Dougherty University Center, (973) 762-9076

If the complaint is not satisfactorily resolved through the proper University channels, then in compliance with the federal government’s Program Integrity regulations (34 C.F.R. §668.43), students (or prospective students) may then file a complaint with the University’s accreditor and/or with its State approval or licensing entity and any other relevant State official or agency that would appropriately handle a such a complaint. The contact information for Seton Hall University’s accrediting agency and for its licensing authority is listed below:

Application and Admission
Applicants to graduate study in the College of Arts and Sciences are expected to meet the general University requirements for admission and to comply with its admission procedures.

Department and program descriptions include specific admission requirements for the individual graduate degree programs. Every application for admission to graduate study at the College of Arts and Sciences is evaluated carefully by the graduate admissions committee for each program. Information about the graduate programs and applying online can be found at www.shu.edu/academics/arts/sci/grad-programs.cfm

Degree Requirements
In addition to the general University requirements, the College of Arts and Sciences requires the candidate to:
• complete department course and credit requirements; and
• pass the comprehensive and/or language examinations where required.

Foreign Language Requirement
Some departments in the College of Arts and Sciences require candidates to demonstrate ability to read material pertinent to their fields in one foreign language. See individual program descriptions for further information.

This requirement may be met by satisfactorily completing a special language course or by passing a reading proficiency examination. Information about examination dates is available from the department.
Comprehensive Examination

The successful completion of a comprehensive examination is required in some departments of the College of Arts and Sciences. University regulations concerning this examination are detailed in “The Comprehensive Examination” and “Continuity” in the Academic Policies and Procedures section of this catalogue.

Programs of Study

The Department of Biological Sciences offers graduate programs leading to the following degrees: Master of Science (M.S.) in Biology, Master of Science (M.S.) in Microbiology, and Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in Molecular Bioscience.

The master’s degree in biology has three programs of study: Plan A, with thesis, and Plans B and C, without thesis. Plan A is recommended for students who intend to continue their studies at the doctoral level or pursue a career in research; Plan B is primarily a coursework oriented degree program; Plan C, with a component in business administration courses, is for students who are interested in acquiring knowledge about the technical aspects as well as the business aspects of the biological and pharmaceutical industries.

The master’s degree in microbiology has two programs of study: Plan D, with thesis, and Plan E, without thesis. Plan D is recommended for students who intend to continue their studies in microbiology/biotechnology at the doctoral level or pursue a career in research; Plan E is primarily for students wishing a coursework oriented degree program.

The master’s degree in biology with a neuroscience track has two programs of study: Plan F, with research thesis, and Plan G, with library thesis. Plan F is recommended for students who intend to continue their studies at the doctoral level or pursue a career in research; Plan G is primarily a coursework oriented degree option.

The Ph.D. in Molecular Bioscience program emphasizes the application of molecular and cellular biotechnology in studies on living systems, and provides the students with a strong foundation in research and teaching. A brochure containing research interests of faculty members is available.

General Academic Requirements

Academic deficiencies must be made up during the first year of graduate study and before taking graduate courses for which the deficiency areas are prerequisites; these courses will not be credited toward the graduate degree.

Admission as a non-matriculated student (limited to 12 credits) may be granted pending the evaluation of an application submitted after the admission deadline.

General Admission for Biology Graduate Programs

In addition to the general University requirements for admission to graduate studies, the Department of Biological Sciences requires a B.S. in a biological science or related science with a GPA of 3.0 or above. A minimum of 24 credits in biology including general biology, cell biology and molecular genetics; 16 credits in general chemistry and organic chemistry with adequate laboratory time; 8 credits of physics with laboratory; and 8 credits in mathematics beyond precalculus.

Graduate Record Examination scores (minimum 50th percentile, general exam) are required for: (i) all applicants whose degrees were earned at institutions outside the U.S., (ii) all Ph.D. program applicants who lack an M.S. degree (biological science) from a U.S. university. For applicants to the M.S. programs, a request for waiver of the GRE may be submitted if the undergraduate GPA (B.S. biological science) from a U.S. institution was 3.0 or better, on a 4.0 = A scale. GRE is required for all Ph.D. program applicants.

Résumé and personal statement describing candidate’s scientific background, including previous laboratory training from coursework or work experience, and career goals are required.

International students must provide proper immigration documents and a TOEFL score equal to 75% of the maximum possible score. For all degrees from institutions outside the U.S., a World Education Service (WES) assessment of the transcript is required.

Three letters of recommendation are required.

Seminar Requirements

Students are required to attend seminars for a minimum of two semesters to fulfill requirements for the M.S. degree and eight semesters to fulfill the requirements for the Ph.D. degree. Students should register for the semester in which the library thesis or research thesis is presented.

General Degree Requirements

Students must maintain a minimum 3.0 GPA for all coursework toward the doctoral degree and master’s degree taken at Seton Hall University. Students with a grade of C or lower in a course will not be allowed to apply those course credits toward the total credit requirement. If the course with a grade of C or lower is a required course, the student must repeat the course with a satisfactory grade of B or better. Students with an overall GPA below 3.0 will be placed on probation for one year to regain acceptable status. The student who is unable to meet these remedial measures or has an overall GPA below 2.0 will not continue in the program.

Degree Requirements for M.S. in Biology Program

In addition to the general University and College requirements for the degree, the Department of Biological Sciences requires the candidate to complete the following:

Plan A – With Thesis
1. Complete a total of 31 credits, as follows:
   11 credits:
   BIOL 6113 Biostatistics
   BIOL 8201 Biology Seminar for M.S. Students I
   BIOL 8202 Biology Seminar for M.S. Students II
   BIOL 8601-8605 Research for Master’s Thesis I-V (Two thesis courses are required for the degree. However, the student may register for more than two, as needed.)
   20 credits in graduate biology courses*; at least half of these must have a laboratory component.
2. Make an oral presentation of thesis to Graduate Biology Seminar
3. Submit an acceptable thesis based on laboratory research three months before the expected degree completion date with an oral defense two weeks before the expected degree completion date.

Plan B – Without Thesis
1. Complete a total of 34 credits, as follows:
   5 credits:
   BIOL 6113 Biostatistics
   BIOL 8201 Biology Seminar for M.S. Students I
   BIOL 8202 Biology Seminar for M.S. Students II
   1 credit from any Selected Topics course
   28 credits in graduate biology courses*; at least half of these must have a laboratory component.
2. Prepare a library research paper in conjunction with a Selected Topics course. Selected Topics must be taken two semesters before expected completion of degree. Oral presentation of research results is to be made during the last semester in the Graduate Biology Seminar.
*Graduate biology courses may be taken from the biology or microbiology course list.

General Admission for M.S. in Microbiology Program

In addition to the general University requirements for admission to graduate studies and admission to the graduate programs in the Department of Biological Sciences, the M.S. in Microbiology program requires a prerequisite course in microbiology.

Degree Requirements for Microbiology Program

In addition to the general University and College requirements for the degree, the Department of Biological Sciences requires the candidate to complete the following:

Plan D – With Thesis
1. Complete a total of 31 credits as follows:
   11 credits:
   BIOL 6113 Biostatistics
   BIOL 8201 Biology Seminar for M.S. Students I
   BIOL 8202 Biology Seminar for M.S. Students II
   BIOL 8601-8605 Research for Master’s Thesis I-V (Two thesis courses are required for the degree. However, the student may register for more than two, as needed.)
   19 credits in graduate biology courses*; at least half of these must have a laboratory component.
   16 credits from the following courses:
   BMBA 9111 Analytical Methods and Information Systems for Business
   BMBA 9112 Accounting and Legal Considerations
   BMBA 9113 Financial and Economic Analysis
   BMBA 9114 Organizational and Market Dynamics
   BMBA 9201 Corporate Social Responsibility
   BMBA 9202 International Perspective
   Consistent with the Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.) program policy, to enroll in specific core courses students must either complete the required Pre-Qualification (PQ) courses or obtain a waiver of specific courses based on prior business coursework, or by examination. Biology students would be waived from the requirement to take the Statistics PQ (BMBA 8019) upon successful completion of BIOL 6113 Biostatistics.
2. Prepare a library research paper in conjunction with a Selected Topics course. Selected Topics must be taken two semesters before expected completion of degree. Oral presentation of research results is to be made during the last semester in the Graduate Biology Seminar.
2 credits from either Microbiology Course Group or Biology Course Group

3. Submit an acceptable thesis based on laboratory research three months before the expected degree completion date with an oral defense two weeks before the expected completion date.

Plan E – Without Thesis

1. Complete a total of 34 credits as follows:

   5 credits:
   BIOL 6113 Biostatistics
   BIOL 8201 Biology Seminar for M.S. Students I
   BIOL 8202 Biology Seminar for M.S. Students II

   20 credits from the Microbiology Course Group; at least half of these must have a laboratory component.

   1 credit from the following:
   BIOL 7291 Selected Topics in Molecular Biology
   BIOL 7292 Selected Topics in Immunology
   BIOL 7491 Selected Topics in Microbiology
   BIOL 7492 Selected Topics in Virology

   3 credits from the following:
   BIOL 6231 Molecular Biology
   BIOL 6233 Biochemistry of Metabolism
   CHEM 6501 General Biochemistry.

   5 credits from either Microbiology Course Group or Biology Course Group.

2. Prepare a library research paper in conjunction with a Selected Topics course. Selected Topics must be taken two semesters before the expected completion of degree. Oral presentation of research results is to be given during the last semester at the Graduate Biology Symposium.

Degree Requirements for M.S. in Biology with a Neuroscience Track

In addition to the general University and College Requirements for the degree, the Department of Biological Sciences requires the candidate to do the following to be awarded a Master’s of Science in Biology with a Neuroscience Track:

Plan F – Research Thesis

1. Complete 31 credits from the following groups of courses:

   Group I - Core Requirements (14 credits):
   BIOL 6115 Fundamentals of Neuroscience 3
   BIOL 6216 Recombinant DNA Technology Lab 3
   BIOL 6231 Molecular Biology 3
   BIOL 6355 Methods in Neuroscience 3
   BIOL 8201 Biology Seminar for M.S. Students I 1
   BIOL 8202 Biology Seminar for M.S. Students II 1

   Group II – Electives (to be selected from the following to complete 11 credits):
   BIOL 6113 Biostatistics 3
   BIOL 6233 Biochemistry of Metabolism 3
   BIOL 6242 Immunology 3
   BIOL 6243 Immunology Lab 2
   BIOL 6323 Neuroendocrinology 3
   BIOL 6325 Introduction to Pharmacology 3
   BIOL 6326 Vertebrate Physiology 4
   BIOL 6333 Cell Culture Techniques 3
   BIOL 6334 Developmental Biology 3
   BIOL 6369 Cancer Biology 3
   BIOL 6412 Molecular Virology 3
   BIOL 6431 Microbial Genetics 3
   BIOL 7226 Signal Transduction 3
   BIOL 7228 Fundamentals of Toxicology 3
   BIOL 7244 Cellular Immunology 3
   BIOL 7291 Selected Topics in Molecular Biology 1

2. Group III – Thesis (6 credits):
   BIOL 8601-8605 Research for Master’s Thesis I-V 6
   (Two thesis courses are required for the degree. However, the student may register for more than two, as needed.)

3. Oral presentation of thesis at the Graduate Biology Symposium

4. Submission of an acceptable thesis based on laboratory research at least three months prior to expected completion of degree; an oral defense two weeks before the expected degree completion date.

Plan G – Library Thesis

1. Complete 34 credits from the following groups of courses:

   Group I - Core Requirements (14 credits):
   BIOL 6115 Fundamentals of Neuroscience 3
   BIOL 6216 Recombinant DNA Technology Lab 3
   BIOL 6231 Molecular Biology 3
   BIOL 6335 Methods in Neuroscience 3
   BIOL 8201 Biology Seminar for M.S. Students I 1
   BIOL 8202 Biology Seminar for M.S. Students II 1

   Group II – Electives (to be selected from the following to complete 19 credits):
   BIOL 6113 Biostatistics 3
   BIOL 6233 Biochemistry of Metabolism 3
   BIOL 6242 Immunology 3
   BIOL 6323 Neuroendocrinology 3

The Doctoral Degree in Molecular Bioscience

General Admission for the Ph.D. Program

The doctoral program in Molecular Bioscience follows the general University requirements for admission to graduate studies and admission to the graduate programs in the Department of Biological Sciences. All Ph.D. program applicants are required to submit their GRE scores.

For students in the current M.S. program, credit will be given for courses taken within the Department of Biological Sciences at Seton Hall University with a grade of 3.0 or above that meet the Ph.D. course requirements. A maximum of 30 credits may be accepted towards the Ph.D. program.

For students who have obtained M.S. degrees outside the Department of Biological Sciences at Seton Hall University, courses will be evaluated and a maximum of 30 credits may be accepted towards the Ph.D. program.

Degree Requirements

The doctoral program consists of two phases: foundation coursework and dissertation research. Between completion of the foundation coursework and the start of research, the doctoral candidate will take a comprehensive qualifying examination and select a dissertation mentor.

Students must complete a total of 72 credits, including 47 required credits in coursework (21 credits in required courses, 36-38 credits in thesis and seminar courses) and 13 - 15 credits of electives. The required courses will provide the student with a strong foundation in subject content and training in research techniques. Electives will provide breadth to the students’ training in the various subdisciplines of Molecular Bioscience.

Both full time and part-time students are eligible to enroll in the doctoral program at Seton Hall University. Full time students will carry at least 9 credits per semester in the Fall and Spring semesters. Part-time Ph.D. students should have at least one year of “residency,” where they must complete 18 credits. Other than that, they can have semesters where they are registered for just 3-4 credits.

Completion of the doctoral program must take place within seven years for full-time students and ten years for part-time students.

Students must maintain a minimum 3.0 GPA for all coursework toward the doctoral degree taken at Seton Hall University. Students with a grade of C or lower in a course will not be allowed to apply those course credits towards the total 72-credit requirement. If the course with a C or lower is a required course, the student must repeat the course with a satisfactory grade of B or better. Students with an overall GPA below 3.0 will be placed on probation for one year to regain acceptable status. The student who is unable to meet these remedial measures or has an overall GPA below 2.0 will not continue in the program.

Students must pass a comprehensive or qualifying examination after completion of the 21 credits of required courses after the second year.

Students must present and defend an oral and written doctoral dissertation.

Required Courses (21 credits)

- BIOL 6113 Biostatistics 3
- BIOL 6216 Recombinant DNA Technology Lab 3
- BIOL 6231 Molecular Biology 3
- BIOL 6333 Cell Culture Techniques 3
- BIOL 7226 Signal Transduction 3
- ENGL 6414 Scientific and Technical Writing 3
- GMHS 7603 Biomedical Ethics 3

Required thesis and seminars (36 - 38 credits)

- BIOL 9011-9013 Readings in Molecular Biosciences I-III 2 credits each
- BIOL 9091-9093 Special Topics in Biological Research I, II, III 2 credits each
- BIOL 9201-9208 Biology Seminar for Ph.D. Students 1 credit each
- BIOL 9601-9606 Research for Dissertation I-VI 3 credits each

Note: Four thesis courses are required for the degree.

Electives (13 - 15 credits)

In addition to the required courses listed above, select 13 - 15 credits of biology courses; CHEM 6501, 7512 (General Biochemistry I/II) may not be included.

Course Descriptions

Course names followed by two asterisks are the microbiology elective courses.

BIOL 6113 Biostatistics
Elementary statistical methods as applied to experimental biology. Topics include hypotheses testing, probability and chi square, linear regression and correlation, analyses of
BIOL 6115 Fundamentals of Neuroscience
This introductory course provides an overview of the structure and function of the human nervous system. Emphasis is placed on understanding the cellular and molecular mechanisms underlying neural transmission, connectivity, integration of the sensory motor systems, cognitive functions and behavior. 3 credits

BIOL 6216 Recombinant DNA Technology Laboratory
Basic techniques used in recombinant DNA studies. Hands on experience with DNA isolation, hybrid plasmid production, restriction mapping and clone selection and characterization. Lecture will focus on theory and applications of recombinant DNA technology, including: vector design, PCR strategies, bioinformatics and DNA structure. Prerequisite: Genetics, Microbiology, Molecular Biology or Biochemistry. Lab fee $25 effective Fall 2014. 3 credits

BIOL 6231 Molecular Biology
Study of structure and function of macromolecules. Prokaryotic and eukaryotic genome. Bacterial and bacteriophage genetics, mutation and gene expression. Genetic code, transcription, translation and the regulatory systems. Replication of viruses, genetic programming and biotechnology. Review of research papers and discussion of current topics. Prerequisite: Genetics or Biochemistry. 3 credits

BIOL 6233 Biochemistry of Metabolism
Synthesis and degradation of organic molecules in living systems, especially humans. Dietary, medical and genetic aspects of metabolism. Integration and regulation of pathways. Includes metabolic activities restricted to plants and microorganisms; representative antibiotics, toxins and drugs. Lecture only. (Formerly Metabolic Pathways in Living Systems) 3 credits

BIOL 6242 Immunology
Principles of recognition, memory and specificity. Structural basis of antigenicity. Development of the immune system. Structure function and genetics of immunoglobulins, gammopathies and monoclonal antibodies, T-cell receptors and MHC antigens. Activation of lymphoid cells, tolerance, autoimmunity and regulation of the immune system. Complement system, aspects of clinical and diagnostic immunology, tissue typing and immunogenetics. A term paper is required. 3 credits

BIOL 6234 Developmental Biology
Examination of the mechanisms involved in the emergence of pattern, form and function during the life cycles of organisms. Topics include differential control of gene expression, nucleocytoplasmic interactions, factors and interactions responsible for determining pattern and cell fate, and cellular behaviors responsible for morphogenesis. Prerequisites: Genetics and Cell Biology; Embryology is recommended. 3 credits

BIOL 6323 Neuroendocrinology
Role of hormones in coordinating homeostasis. Emphasis on neuroendocrinology, including functional neuroanatomy and neuro-chemistry. Study of the mechanism of action of hormones at the cellular and molecular levels. Review and analysis of current literature. 3 credits

BIOL 6325 Introduction to Pharmacology
Fundamentals of drug distribution, biotransformation and excetration (pharmacokinetics), dose-effect relationships and drug receptor relationships. Major emphasis on basic mechanisms of selected drug actions and effects at the molecular cellular, organ and system levels (pharmacodynamics). Concepts and examples of drug structural-activity relationships. Reviews of relevant physiology when required for a more complete understanding of mechanisms of drug action. 3 credits

BIOL 6326 Vertebrate Physiology
A comprehensive coverage of the physiology of cells, organs and organ systems with emphasis on the underlying biophysical and biochemical principles of function. Organ systems including nerve, muscle, cardiovascular, respiratory and renal are examined from the standpoint of their regulation and role in maintenance of homeostasis. Lab fee $25 effective Fall 2014. 4 credits

BIOL 6333 Cell Culture Techniques
Discussion and practical application of the in vitro cultivation of animal cells including both general and specific techniques for obtaining, growing and maintenance of clonal cultures. Lab fee $25 effective Fall 2014. 3 credits

BIOL 6334 Developmental Biology
Examination of the mechanisms involved in the emergence of pattern, form and function during the life cycles of organisms. Topics include differential control of gene expression, nucleocytoplasmic interactions, factors and interactions responsible for determining pattern and cell fate, and cellular behaviors responsible for morphogenesis. Prerequisites: Genetics and Cell Biology; Embryology is recommended. 3 credits

BIOL 6335 Methods in Neuroscience
The participants in this course will become acquainted with basic concepts and techniques commonly used in Neuroscience to study the organization of neurons, their signaling pathways, and the mechanisms of synaptic transmission, in order to better understand the workings of the human brain. Lab fee $25 effective Fall 2014. 3 credits

BIOL 6369 Cancer Biology
This course brings together and puts into perspective a large body of knowledge about cancer, cancer research and cancer treatment. Specifically, this course will first explore microevolutionary processes to illustrate the nature of cancer and the natural history of the disease from a cellular standpoint. The molecular genetics of cancer will then be dissected to understand how abnormalities in any of the different intracellular signaling pathways of the system can lead to development of cancer. This course will also include a discussion of various cancer treatment approaches to illustrate how basic research translates to clinical aspects of cancer treatment. 3 credits

BIOL 6412 Molecular Virology
Basic principles of the virus-host cell relationship presented by lectures and student discussion of recent publications. Topics include mechanisms of viral replication, viral-mediated genetic transfer, viral-induced host changes, including neoplasia and immunologic procedures fundamental to virology. 3 credits

BIOL 6415 Mycology
Study of structure, development, physiology and taxonomy of fungi. Includes secondary metabolism and fungal nutrition, as well as a consideration of the place of fungi in medicine, agriculture, ecology and research. Offered in alternate years. Lecture and lab. Lab fee $25 effective Fall 2014. 4 credits

BIOL 6421 Microbial Physiology
The normal life functions of microorganisms. The metabolism of E. coli, anaerobes, sulfur bacteria and photosynthetic bacteria as well as one-celled eukaryotes. Emphasis on general principles of physiology and the diversity of microbial solutions to physiological stresses. Includes lectures, text and reading, and discussion of original literature. Offered in alternate years. 3 credits

BIOL 6422 Microbial Physiology Lab
Practical exercises, both bench methods and computational biology, addressing current techniques for measuring growth and physiology in a variety of microorganisms; use of molecular databases to probe proteomics, metabolomics and other physiological processes. Lab fee $25 effective Fall 2014. 1 credit

Examination of the mechanisms of genetic recombination in microorganisms. Genetic changes in microorganisms and the resulting alterations in their biochemical and physiological features. 3 credits

BIOL 6643 Microbial Ecology
Emphasis on techniques for the enrichment, isolation and purification of microorganisms from natural environment. Use of Winogradsky enrichment and anaerobic culture technique. Offered in alternate years. Prerequisite: Microbiology and Biochemistry of Metabolism (formerly Metabolic Pathways in Living Systems) or Biochemistry. Lab fee $25 effective Fall 2014. 4 credits

BIOL 7112 Introduction to Bioinformatics
This course is designed to introduce bioinformatics to biology graduate students. Students will learn to access and use bioinformation data, conventional software, web-based applications, and the methods of sequence and structure analysis. Projects are designed to help the student learn how to find and search databases, use a variety of application software, and analyze results. 3 credits

BIOL 7226 Signal Transduction
Course brings together and puts into perspective a large body of knowledge about intracellular and intercellular signaling systems as well as cell-cell communication. Explores the molecular and cellular pathways, the components of these pathways, as well as the regulation of these pathways in cellular homeostasis. Current findings from the scientific literature are emphasized. Prerequisite: Cell Biology or Biochemistry. 3 credits

BIOL 7227 Research Ethics: Responsible Conduct of Research
This course is designed to introduce future scientists to topics in research ethics. Emphasis on foundational principles underlying scientific integrity and their application to a range of issues, including data management, animal and human subjects, collaboration, mentoring, peer review, and the ethical implications in different forms of scientific research. 3 credits

Principles of toxicology; testing procedures used in toxicology studies, including carcinogenesis, mutagenesis, teratogenesis and immunotoxicology; studies of individual target organs such as the liver and kidney and systems such as cardiovascular, respiratory, nervous and reproductive; studies of risk assessment of toxic substances, such as food additives and pesticides. Lab fee $25 effective Fall 2014. 3 credits

BIOL 7244 Cellular Immunology
Advanced immunology course to further understanding of the immunological principles at the cellular and molecular levels. Study of immunocompetent cells, cell culture and cellular interactions; role of interleukins and other factors in initiation of the immune response; regulatory systems and immune networks. Review of research papers and discussion of current topics. Offered in alternate years. Prerequisite: BIOL 6242. 3 credits

BIOL 7291 Selected Topics in Molecular Biology
Individualized study of a specific topic in molecular biology to be arranged between instructor and student. Student will research topic and develop a library research paper analyzing current research on the topic. It is required that an oral presentation of the paper will be given during scheduled seminar (BIOL 8202) the following semester. 1 credit

BIOL 7292 Selected Topics in Immunology
Individualized study of a specific topic in immunology to be arranged between instructor and student. Student will research topic and develop a library research paper analyzing current research on the topic. It is required that an oral presentation of the paper will be given during scheduled seminar (BIOL 8202) the following semester. 1 credit

BIOL 7293 Selected Topics in Genetics
Individualized study of a specific topic in genetics to be arranged between instructor and student. Student will research topic and develop a library research paper analyzing current research on the topic. It is required that an oral presentation of the paper will be given during scheduled seminar (BIOL 8202) the following semester. 1 credit
BIOL 7391 Selected Topics in Physiology
Individualized study of a specific topic in physiology to be arranged between instructor and student. Student will research topic and develop a library research paper analyzing current research on the topic. It is required that an oral presentation of the paper will be given during scheduled seminar (BIOL 8202) the following semester. 1 credit

BIOL 7392 Selected Topics in Endocrinology
Individualized study of a specific topic in endocrinology to be arranged between instructor and student. Student will research topic and develop a library research paper analyzing current research on the topic. It is required that an oral presentation of the paper will be given during scheduled seminar (BIOL 8202) the following semester. 1 credit

BIOL 7393 Selected Topics in Developmental Biology
Individualized study of a specific topic in developmental biology to be arranged between instructor and student. Student will research topic and develop a library research paper analyzing current research on the topic. It is required that an oral presentation of the paper will be given during scheduled seminar (BIOL 8202) the following semester. 1 credit

BIOL 7491 Selected Topics in Microbiology
Individualized study of a specific topic in microbiology to be arranged between instructor and student. Student will research topic and develop a library research paper analyzing current research on the topic. It is required that an oral presentation of the paper will be given during scheduled seminar (BIOL 8202) the following semester. 1 credit

BIOL 7492 Selected Topics in Virology
Individualized study of a specific topic in virology to be arranged between instructor and student. Student will research topic and develop a library research paper analyzing current research on the topic. It is required that an oral presentation of the paper will be given during scheduled seminar (BIOL 8202) the following semester. 1 credit

BIOL 7493 Selected Topics in Neuroscience
Individualized study of a specific topic in neuroscience to be arranged between instructor and student. Student will research topic and develop a library research paper analyzing current research on the topic. It is required that an oral presentation of the paper will be given during scheduled seminar (BIOL 8202) the following semester. 1 credit

BIOL 7495 Selected Topics in Neuroimmunology and Signal Transduction
Individualized study of a specific topic in neuroimmunology and signal transduction to be arranged between instructor and student. The student will research a topic and develop a library research paper analyzing current research on the topic. It is required that an oral presentation of the paper will be given during scheduled seminar the following semester. 1 credit

BIOL 7591 Selected Topics in Toxicology
Individualized study of a specific topic in toxicology to be arranged between instructor and student. Student will research topic and develop a library research paper analyzing current research on the topic. It is required that an oral presentation of the paper will be given during scheduled seminar (BIOL 8202) the following semester. 1 credit

BIOL 8201-8202 Biology Seminar for MS Students
Students are required to attend seminar for a minimum of two semesters and to present their thesis research during this period. Students register for BIOL 8201 in their first year and for BIOL 8202 in the semester that they intend to present their research. Those pursuing the non-thesis option also register for a Selected Topics course (1 credit) usually in the semester before they intend to present their library thesis. 1 credit each

BIOL 8601-8605 Research for Master’s Thesis I-V
Credit given at completion of project. 3 credits each

BIOL 9011-9013 Readings in Molecular Biosciences I-III
A weekly seminar course that includes the reading of current literature in subdisciplines of molecular biology. Students will be assigned reading from current leading journals in the fields. Students will make a presentation based on the assigned article. The use of technology in the presentation is mandatory. Discussions will be led by faculty experts in their respective fields. Critiques of the presentation involve both faculty and student participation. Faculty will rotate in teaching the course. 2 credits each

BIOL 9091-9093 Special Topics in Biological Research I-III
Subject and hours to be arranged. Credit for this course may be obtained only once. 2 credits each

BIOL 9201-9208 Biology Seminar for Ph.D. Students I-VIII
Mandatory for all students. Students are required to attend seminar for a minimum of eight semesters. All students are required to present at least one seminar during this period. Students must register for this course in the semester they present a seminar based on their dissertation research. 1 credit

BIOL 9601-9614 Research for Ph.D. Dissertation I-XIV
Credits given at completion of dissertation. 3 credits each

The Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry offers programs of study in analytical, inorganic, organic, physical chemistry, and biochemistry, leading to the degrees of Master of Science or Doctor of Philosophy in Chemistry. The programs are open to full-time and part-time students.

Programs of Study
Four different programs of study are available leading to the Master of Science degree. Plan A, with thesis, is intended for students who wish to engage in an original research project as part of the M.S. degree requirements. Plan B is awarded to students passing the Ph.D. matriculation examination (generally for part-time students). Plans C and D, without thesis, are primarily for students who are not interested in a research-oriented degree program. Plan D, which includes a minor in Business Administration, is designed to enhance the student’s understanding of the legal, managerial, financial and technical aspects of the chemical and pharmaceutical industries.

Students may choose to be admitted to the Ph.D. or one of the M.S. programs. In addition, part-time students may choose to initiate graduate study on a non-matriculated basis. Non-matriculated students can transfer up to four graduate courses to a matriculated program. Students interested in this option may choose it when creating their graduate application account. Transfer into a matriculated program can be initiated at any time. Descriptions of the programs of study including current course offerings with detailed descriptions for the upcoming two year period, faculty biographies and research interests, and other pertinent information can be accessed from the departmental web page at www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/graduate-chemistry-programs.cfm

Admission
In addition to the general University requirements for admission to graduate studies, the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry requires the following of all degree applicants:
• a minimum of 30 credits in chemistry, including a two-semester course in physical chemistry;
• a one-year course in physics;
• mathematics through differential and integral calculus; and
• three letters of recommendation from individuals

Biological Sciences /Chemistry and Biochemistry 67

colorful text

• Applicants for whom English is not their native language must submit TOEFL score results. The department requires a minimum total score of 550 on the paper based test (PBT) or 80 on the Internet test (IBT) with at least a 22 in the speaking skill component in order to be considered for admission.

Dates for submission of completed applications to graduate programs are:
• July 1 – Fall Semester
• November 1 – Spring Semester
Late applicants may be admitted as special students pending evaluation.

Applications may be obtained online from the College of Arts and Sciences’ web page http://www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/apply-graduate.cfm If submitting an online application, the applicant must also submit the special application form from the department, also available online from the departmental web page.

Leaves of Absence and Readmission
Students requiring a leave of absence for any reason must submit a written request to the Director of Graduate Studies and the University Registrar. For further details regarding leaves of absence, please see the Graduate Catalogue section covering this topic. Upon readmission to the program, any new degree requirements instituted by the department during the students’ leave will be required for graduation.

Financial Aid
The Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry offers teaching assistantships for students in the Ph.D program to provide teaching and research support for Ph.D. degree candidates. A number of research fellowships also are available to students at the beginning of their second year of graduate study. Details are available from the department.

In addition to the assistantship or fellowship award, the Reverend Owen Garrigan Graduate Biochemistry Supplemental Award is given to outstanding students who are doing graduate work in the biochemistry area. This award is available each year to supplement the stipend of one or more full time biochemistry graduate students.

Distribution Requirement
Each student must take at least one course from four of the following five groups:

Analytical Chemistry: CHEM 6201, 6203, 6204, 6205, 6206
Organic Chemistry: CHEM 6301, 6303
Physical Chemistry: CHEM 6401, 6402, 6403, 6404
Biochemistry: CHEM 6501
Inorganic Chemistry: CHEM 6601

The distribution requirement will normally be completed by the end of the third semester of full-time study or its equivalent.
Evaluations
After the course distribution requirements are completed, each student’s performance in courses and seminar is evaluated by the faculty.

The student is then:
- advised to take the matriculation examination for Ph.D. candidacy; or
- advised to continue studies toward the master’s degree (Plan A) with the possibility of reevaluation for Ph.D. candidacy after the attainment of the degree; or
- advised to continue studies toward the master’s degree as a terminal degree; or
- required to discontinue study in the graduate degree programs in chemistry.

Students may be evaluated earlier if their records so warrant.

Seminar Requirement
A departmental seminar is held each week of the academic year. All full-time and part-time students are required to register for and attend this seminar series each year prior to completion of the degree requirements. During the second year of full-time or equivalent study, all students are required to present a formal seminar in this series, which will be graded by faculty members. In addition, those students who have initiated a research program (M.S. Plans A and B, or Ph.D. program) and who have not otherwise presented a formal seminar during the current year, are required to present a poster on their research activities at the Petersheim Academic Exposition, usually held in April.

Prizes and Awards
Each year the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry honors outstanding graduate students in the areas of academic excellence (Ander Award), research (Petersheim Award and Garrigan Award) and teaching.

Laboratories
The research facilities of the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry are housed in the Science and Technology Center (McNulty Hall) which is shared with the physics, biological sciences, and the mathematics and computer science departments. Within the department are the Center for Applied Catalysis and the Center for Computational Research. The department maintains a comprehensive array of experimental and computational instrumentation. Please see the department web page.

The Master of Science Degree (M.S.)
In addition to the general University and College requirements for the degree, the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry requires the candidate to fulfill the seminar requirements as well as one of the following:

Plan A – With Thesis
1. Complete the following:
   18 credits (minimum) in approved courses, including the distribution requirement.
   1 credit in CHEM 6711-6720
   11 credits (maximum) in CHEM 8831-8840
   30 credits total
2. Present an acceptable thesis based on research performed at the University.
3. Present a satisfactory oral defense of the thesis to the committee approved by the Graduate Advisory Committee for this purpose.

Plan B – Without Thesis (for Ph.D. candidates)
1. Complete the following:
   29 credits (minimum) in approved courses, including the distribution requirement and other courses for the doctorate approved by the research mentor and the Graduate Advisory Committee. Any number of courses in the CHEM 8831-8840 sequence may be included in these approved courses, provided that an acceptable written research report is filed with the research mentor at the conclusion of this work. 1 credit in CHEM 6711-6720. 30 credits total.
2. Pass the matriculation examination for the Ph.D.

Plan C – Without Thesis
Complete the following:
12 credits in the distribution requirement.
21 credits (minimum) in additional approved graduate-level chemistry courses; up to 6 credits in the CHEM 8831-8840 sequence may be included in these approved courses provided that the Graduate Advisory Committee is notified of this intention before this research is initiated and that an acceptable written research report is filed with the research supervisor at the conclusion of this work. 1 credit in CHEM 6711-6720. 34 credits total

Plan D – Without Thesis (Minor in Business Administration)
Complete the following:
12 credits in the distribution requirement.
6 credits (minimum) in additional approved graduate-level chemistry courses (excluding CHEM 8831 - 8840).
1 credit in CHEM 6711-6720.
Additional coursework from the Stillman School of Business in the following areas: information technology management, accounting, finance, marketing, social responsibility, and international business.*
34 credits (minimum) total
*Consult the Director of Graduate Studies for specific courses from the Stillman School of Business.
The Doctor of Philosophy Degree (Ph.D.)

Matriculation

Students must pass a matriculation examination to qualify as matriculated doctoral students. To take this examination, the student must secure the permission of his or her mentor and have at least a “B” average in coursework. This examination is to be taken within 12 months of meeting the distribution requirement, unless an M.S. degree other than Plan B is first pursued. Should the examination not be passed, it may be repeated only once and within six months of the first examination.

The matriculation examination is oral and pertains to the proposed research problem. It is administered by a Matriculation Committee that comprises the mentor and four additional members of the faculty approved by the Graduate Advisory Committee.

Cumulative Examinations

After matriculating for the doctoral degree, the student is required to demonstrate mastery of the current literature in the chosen area of study through a series of cumulative examinations.

Requirements for these examinations have been established by each division of the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry.

Seminar Requirements

As part of the annual seminar requirement, all doctoral candidates present a full seminar during their final year on the subject of their research contributions.

Additional Degree Requirements

To fulfill the requirements for the doctoral degree, in addition to seminar and cumulative examination requirements described previously, the student must:

1. complete 70 credits distributed among research, course work and seminar. Students who enter the program with the M.S. degree shall be required to earn at least 40 additional credits before being granted the Ph.D. degree;
2. complete nine consecutive months of full-time enrollment after matriculation. This time should be used primarily to perform research. Part-time students must secure the approval of the Graduate Advisory Committee before beginning residency;
3. petition the Dissertation Committee, which is comprised of the mentor and two members of the Matriculation Committee approved by the Graduate Advisory Committee, for permission to write a dissertation. Details concerning the granting of this permission are available from the department; and
4. present a dissertation based on the chosen research problem to the Dissertation Committee for its approval. For details, consult regulations available from the department.

The time limit for completion of the doctorate in chemistry spans a minimum of three years after entry into the graduate program to a maximum of five years after matriculation for the degree.

Course Descriptions

CHEM 6111 Introduction to Chemical Data Analysis
Extraction of chemical information from chemical data using numeric techniques will be introduced. Applications include statistics, sampling theory, smoothing, integration, differentiation, least squares, multicomponent analysis and roots of equations. Chemical topics will include NMR, UV-VIS, LC and GC, titrations and gravimetry. The course will apply to all areas of chemistry and require computer programming. 3 credits

Analytical Chemistry

CHEM 6201 Survey of Analytical Chemistry
Physico-chemical principles of laboratory experimentation and research: instrumental techniques for characterization and quantitative measurement, calculations of equilibria, statistical methods, separations, analytical uses of kinetics and principles of instrumentation and computerization. 3 credits

CHEM 6203 Electrochemical Methods of Analysis
Electrochemical principles and their applications to analysis: voltammetry, chronoamperometry, chronocoulometry and other controlled potential methods; chronopotentiometry and other controlled current methods; bulk electrolysis methods; other selected topics. 3 credits

CHEM 6204 Spectrochemical Methods of Analysis
The application of electromagnetic absorption and emission processes to the characterization of chemical systems. Emphasis on experimental techniques in all regions of the spectrum. 3 credits

CHEM 6205 Modern Separation Techniques
Principles and practice of chemical and physical separation methods, gas and liquid chromatography, electrophoresis, membrane separation methods, extraction, distillation. Theory, instrumentation and applications of each technique. 3 credits

CHEM 6206 Chemical Methods of Analysis
Rigorous development of the fundamental principles of analytical chemistry as applied to the classical methods of analysis: gravimetry; acid-base, redox and complexation titrimetry; separations; statistics. 3 credits

CHEM 6212 Statistics and Applied Analytical Chemistry
Principles of experimental design, statistics and analysis of data. Principles of data acquisition and interpretation and other aspects of applied analytical chemistry. 3 credits

CHEM 6217 Instrumentation Electronics
Treatment of modern electronics specifically intended for chemists. Includes transistors, operational amplifiers and devices for digital logic. 3 credits

CHEM 7299 Special Topics in Analytical Chemistry
Discussion of selected topics of current interest. 3 credits
Organic Chemistry

CHEM 6301 Theoretical Organic Chemistry I
Correlation of structure and mechanism in organic chemistry. Major topics include bonding; aromaticity; substituent effects, including linear free energy relationships, kinetics and rate studies; isotope effects; solvent effects and solvent scales; nucleophilicity; acid and base catalysis. Specific reactions covered include additions to carbon-carbon multiple bonds, additions to carbonyls, acyl transfer reactions, conservation of orbital symmetry for electrocyclic reactions and cycloadditions. 3 credits

CHEM 6303 Synthetic Organic Chemistry
Reactions commonly used in the synthesis of organic compounds; discussion of their selectivity and stereochemistry and the extent to which they can be utilized in the preparation of complex materials. 3 credits

CHEM 7312 Theoretical Organic Chemistry II
Structure-reactivity relationships, reaction mechanisms, stereochemical aspects, and relevant rearrangements in organic systems involving carboxyls, carbanions, free radicals, carbene, eliminations, photochemistry and electron transfer (oxidation/reduction). Prerequisite: CHEM 6301. 3 credits

CHEM 7399 Selected Topics in Organic Chemistry
Selected topics in organic chemistry chosen by the instructor. 3 credits

Physical Chemistry

CHEM 6401 Chemical Thermodynamics
The course will review classical thermodynamics, including Laws of Thermodynamics with application to real and ideal systems. The course will cover an introduction to statistical thermodynamics including application to gases, liquids and solid-state systems. 3 credits

CHEM 6402 Chemical Kinetics
Treatment of experimental kinetic data; kinetic theory of gases and the collision theory of reaction rates; introduction to statistical mechanics and transition-state theory of reaction rates; chemical reactions in solution; complex chemical reactions; catalysis; stochastic processes. 3 credits

CHEM 6403 Quantum Chemistry
Use of quantum theory applied to the structure of atoms and molecules; Topics to be covered include angular momentum and spin, harmonic oscillators, electronic quantum states, and variational and perturbation many-body approximation methods. 3 credits

CHEM 6404 Surface Chemistry
The fundamentals and the applications of solid surfaces and interfaces, including solid-vapor, solid-liquid and solid-solid will be covered. Advanced topics will include surface thermodynamics, adsorption, electronic structure of surfaces, surface modification and organic monolayers, and nanostructured materials. The course will review surface sensitive techniques including, XPS, FTIR, UPS, LEED, STM/AFM, Adsorption, and Contact Angles. The application of surface modified materials to separation science, wettability and adhesion control, optical and electronic devices will be discussed. 3 credits

CHEM 6411 Introduction to Polymer Chemistry
Classification of macromolecules; methods and mechanisms of polymerizations; methods of polymer characterization; properties of polymeric solids. 3 credits

CHEM 6423 Computational Chemistry
The course will cover the fundamental theory and application of Molecular Mechanics, Classical Molecular Dynamics, Semiempirical, Ab Initio and Density Functional simulation and modeling techniques to atoms, molecules, and solids. Available application programs will be used by the students to demonstrate the principles and provide hands-on experience with modern computational chemistry tools. 3 credits

CHEM 7499 Special Topics in Physical Chemistry
The course will encompass an area of current technological interest in Physical Chemistry. It will cover both the fundamental background of the topic in connection with current interest and applications. 3 credits

Biochemistry

CHEM 6501 General Biochemistry I
The course focus will be directed to selected aspects of the biomacromolecules (carbohydrates, lipids, proteins, enzymes, nucleic acids) involved in cell architecture and dynamics. Cell dynamics will be addressed from a molecular-level perspective, with emphasis on the fine-tuned interplay between the energetic and kinetic components of the main metabolic pathways. 3 credits

CHEM 7512 General Biochemistry II
Course deals with topics not usually covered in CHEM 6501, such as biosynthetic pathways, nucleic acid chemistry (including replication, repair, transcription, translation) and integration/ chemical control of metabolism. Prerequisite: CHEM 6501. 3 credits

CHEM 7515 Proteins
Thematic coverage deals with purification, size, shape, structure and function, and the tools used to measure these characteristics. Representative proteins from current literature that serve a transport, catalytic, structural or regulator function are examined. An introduction to the interactive computer graphics display of protein structures is included. Prerequisite: CHEM 6501. 3 credits

CHEM 7516 Enzymes
Selected principles of catalysis and transition state theory, rate constant measurement and mechanisms are emphasized and developed using examples from current literature. Aspects of protein engineering are illustrated with examples drawn from site-directed mutagenesis studies and catalytic antibodies. Prerequisite: CHEM 6501. 3 credits

CHEM 7517 Aspects of Cell Chemistry
Discussion of topics taken from classical and current literature concerning the chemistry and biochemistry of subcellular organelles, including the origin of life, microbial metabolism, higher cells in culture, the structure and function of membranes, genetic transfer of information and control mechanisms. 3 credits

CHEM 7599 Special Topics in Biochemistry
Course is designed to provide in-depth coverage of one or a few restricted topics of current interest. Prerequisite: CHEM 6501. 3 credits

Inorganic Chemistry

CHEM 6601 Advanced Inorganic Chemistry I
A survey of transition metal chemistry focusing on the structural and dynamic properties of transition metal complexes. The presentation begins with a discussion of ions and their environment followed by a description of the bonding theories for transition metal complexes. Electronic spectra, magnetism and reactivity of these molecules will be explained in terms of these bonding theories. Related topics of main group compounds, organometallic complexes and bioinorganic chemistry also will be covered. 3 credits

CHEM 7614 Kinetics and Mechanism in Inorganic Chemistry
Kinetics and mechanisms of substitution and oxidation-reduction reactions of octahedral and square planar coordination complexes. The theoretical and practical aspects of the determination of reaction rates and the establishment of the rate laws will be discussed. The presentation will include related topics, such as organometallic and bioinorganic mechanisms. 3 credits

CHEM 7618 Physical Methods in Chemistry
An advanced theoretical study of the electronic, magnetic and vibrational properties of transition metal complexes. Emphasis will be placed on the application of group theory to the molecular orbital and ligand field description of bonding, vibrational spectroscopy (including simple normal mode analysis) and magnetic susceptibility. The use of electrochemistry to study the stability and electron transfer chemistry of transition metal complexes also will be discussed. 3 credits

CHEM 7699 Special Topics in Inorganic Chemistry
Discussion of selected topics of current interest. 3 credits

Interdisciplinary

CHEM 6711-6720 Chemistry Seminar
Discussion of current literature topics by staff and students. One credit for two semesters. 1 credit each

CHEM 7991-7996 Advanced Topics in Chemistry
Offers advanced topics in chemistry to meet the present and future needs of graduate students and other professionals in the surrounding chemical industry. Topics include chiral separations, asymmetric synthesis, medicinal chemistry and biotechnology. 1 credit each

CHEM 8831-8840 Introduction to Research
Acceptable written research report or thesis on work performed in these courses must be filed with the research supervisor in order to count these credits toward the requirements for any graduate degree. 2 credits each

CHEM 9931-9940 Research for Doctorate
Research courses are taken only after the student has successfully passed the matriculation examination. 3 credits each

The Department of Communication and The Arts offers five Master of Arts (M.A.) degrees in communication: a blended program in Strategic Communication (MASC), an online program in Strategic Communication and Leadership (MASCL), an online program in Corporate and Professional Communication (MACPC), a Master’s in Public Relations (MPR) and a dual master’s program in Strategic Communication and International Relations with the School of Diplomacy and International Relations. These programs of study are designed to serve the needs of the manager, executive or professional communicator working in the public or private sectors.

The department also offers six professional certificate programs in the MASC Program: Intercultural Communication, International Communication, Organizational Communication, Public Relations, Strategic Communication and Leadership, and Strategic Communication Planning as well as two in the MASCL Program; Change Communication and Leadership and Leading and Communicating Across Cultures.

The Department also offers two Five Year Dual Degree Programs (BA/MA) in Communication Studies and in Public Relations.
Master of Arts in Strategic Communication (Blended)

The Master of Arts in Strategic Communication (MASC) is a blended program that combines the curricula and resources of the Department of Communication and The Arts and other related programs in a cross-disciplinary course of study. Each student’s program is developed with an academic adviser to meet individual academic and professional goals.

Requirements

The Master of Arts in Strategic Communication (MASC) requires 36 credits distributed as follows:

I. 15 credits in communication coursework, including the following required courses:

- COMM 6000 Writing for the Organization and the Client 3
- COTC 6100 Introduction to Organizational Communication 3
- COST 7220 Effective Presentations 3
- COMM 8190 Master’s Project 3
- COTC 7110 Communication Research 3

II. 21 credits in Communication Electives (from the courses listed below, as well as other course in our inventory).

Master of Arts in Strategic Communication and Leadership (Online)

Executives and managers face increasing demands and challenges due to global markets, a diverse workplace and an explosion in electronic media and technology.

The online Master of Arts in Strategic Communication and Leadership (MASCL) program provides highly motivated mid-career professionals with the opportunity to strengthen and enhance their leadership, communication and organizational development skills as they complete the program’s 36 credits over the course of 18 months. New learning teams begin twice a year, in September and March.

This cohort-based online program includes three on-campus weekend residencies, five sequential learning modules that include extensive online interaction with faculty and peers, and an individualized component to enhance presentation and writing skills.

Admission Requirements

The Master of Strategic Communication and Leadership program candidate has significant experience in a corporate, military, governmental or nonprofit environment and is seeking to develop and enhance his/her communication skills in preparation for greater responsibilities. An admissions committee comprised of faculty in the MASCL program, will evaluate each applicant on the following criteria:

- a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university;
- transcripts from all institutions attended;
- three letters of recommendation, two from current colleagues (preferably a supervisor) and one from a former colleague or supervisor;
- work sample in any medium that demonstrates the candidate’s excellence in his/her field;
- significant work experience; and
- a current résumé.

Master of Arts in Corporate and Professional Communication (Online)

The Master of Arts in Corporate and Professional Communication (MACPC) is an online program that combines the curricula and resources of the Department of Communication and the Arts and other related programs in a cross-disciplinary course of study. Each student’s program is developed with an academic adviser to meet individual academic and professional goals.

Requirements

The online Master of Arts in Corporate and Professional Communication (MACPC) requires 33 credits distributed as follows:

I. 15 credits in corporate communication coursework, including the following required courses:

- COMM 6000 Writing for the Organization and the Client 3
- COTC 6100 Introduction to Organizational Communication 3
- COST 7220 Effective Presentations 3
- COMM 8190 Master’s Project 3
- COTC 7110 Communication Research 3

II. 18 credits in Communication Electives (from the courses listed below, as well as other course in our inventory).
Master of Arts in Public Relations

The Master of Arts in Public Relations (MAPR) is an on-campus program that combines the curricula and resources of the Department of Communication and The Arts in a cross-disciplinary course of study in Public Relations. Each student’s program is developed with an academic adviser to meet individual academic and professional goals.

Requirements

The Master of Arts in Public Relations (MAPR) requires 30 credits distributed as follows:

I. 18 credits in communication coursework, including the following required courses:
   - COMM 6000 Writing for the Organization and the Client 3
   - COMM 6003 Theory and Evolution of Public Relations 3
   - COST 7220 Effective Presentations 3
   - COMM 7796 PR Concepts and Practical Applications 3
   - COMM 8190 Master’s Project 3
   - COTC 7110 Communication Research 3

II. 12 credits in Communication Electives (from the courses listed below, as well as other courses in our course inventory).

Dual Program with the School of Diplomacy and International Relations

The dual master’s program with the School of Diplomacy and International Relations is an onsite program that combines the curricula and resources of the Department of Communication and The Arts and the School of Diplomacy and International Relations in a cross-disciplinary course of study. Each student’s program is developed with an academic adviser to meet individual academic and professional goals. Students earn both the Master of Art in Strategic Communication (MASC) and the Master of Art in Diplomacy and International Relations at the completion of this program.

Requirements

The Dual Master’s Degree with the School of Diplomacy and International Relations requires 57 credits distributed as follows:

I. 21 credits in strategic communication coursework, including the following required or elective courses:
   - COMM 6000 Writing for the Organization and the Client 3
   - COTC 6100 Introduction to Organizational Communication 3
   - COST 7220 Effective Presentations 3

II. 36 Credits in M.A. Diplomacy and International Relations courses.

Professional Certificates (12 credits)

The Graduate Communication program offers six professional certificates either as part of the M.A. degree programs or on a stand-alone basis. Each certificate is comprised of four courses (12 credits). Students who pursue and successfully complete a certificate program will be awarded a professional certificate that can be noted on a résumé.

The Professional Certificates offered are:

Intercultural Communication (MASC)
- COMM 8001 Multiculturalism and Leadership: Communication Perspectives
- COMM 7420 Cross Cultural Communication
- COMM 6193 Independent Study - Diversity and Globalization
- COMM 8110 Communication Ethics

International Communication (MASC)
- COMM 8001 Multiculturalism and Leadership: Communication Perspectives
- COMM 7420 Cross Cultural Communication
- COMM 7000 International Business Communication
- COMM 6193 Independent Study - Diversity and Globalization

Organizational Communication (MASC)
- COTC 6100 Introduction to Organizational Communication
- COMM 6000 Writing for the Organization
- COST 7220 Effective Presentations
- COMM 7783 Employee Relations and Communication

Public Relations (MASC)
- COMM 6000 Writing for the Organization and the Client
- COMM 7782 Media Relations
- COMM 7762 Events Management
- COMM 7796 Public Relations: Concepts and Practical Applications

Strategic Communication and Leadership (MASC)
- COMM 7798 Managerial Communication
- COMM 6300 Strategic Organizational Communication
- COMM 8001 Multiculturalism and Leadership: Communication Perspectives
- COMM 7779 Crisis Communication

Strategic Communication Planning (MASC)

Application Procedures for MASC and MACPC Degree and Certificate Programs

The following items are needed for application to the program, unless otherwise noted:
• College of Arts and Sciences Graduate Admissions application and application fee;
• three letters of recommendation*;
• official undergraduate/graduate transcripts;
• career goals essay*;
• résumé or curriculum vitae
*NOTE: Students applying to the Professional Certificate Program applications do not need to submit three letters of recommendation or the career goals essay.

International Student Application Procedures

In addition to the above requirements, international students also must submit:
• evaluation of their academic credentials from the World Education Services (www.wes.org or info@wes.org)
• official TOEFL test scores
• request for Certificate of Eligibility (Form I-20 AB);
• Declaration and Certification of Finances

Five Year Dual Degree Programs (BA/MA)

The Department offers two dual degree five year programs that allow highly qualified undergraduate Journalism/Public Relations or Communication Study students to take advantage of combining undergraduate and graduate level study during their junior and senior years. Students are offered the opportunity earn both their BA and MA degrees in five years. There are two programs; Communication Studies or Public Relations.

Accepted students can complete a Master of Arts in one year beyond their BA. Students who qualify for admission into the dual degree program will take 12 credits of graduate-level courses during their junior and senior years (3 in the Junior Year and 9 in the Senior Year). A maximum of 12 credits (4 courses) may count toward both the BA and MA degree

Students accepted into this program follow the academic program prescribed by their majors in consultation with their advisers (including the core requirements of the University and the Colleges of Arts & Sciences as well as the requirements of their majors) during the first two years. Students apply to the Five Year Program upon completion of their sophomore year.

Journalism/Public Relations majors who are on track to complete at least 60 undergraduate credits (by the end of sophomore year) with a minimum GPA of 3.2 may apply in the second semester of their sophomore year. Students can apply to the Five Year Program by completing the SHU Graduate Application process.

Applicants are not required to take the GRE, but they must complete the graduate application form, and their application must include a transcript, a writing sample and three letters of recommendation from their undergraduate professors, two of whom must be full-time faculty in the Department of Communication and The Arts. In addition, the student will have an entry interview with the Director of Graduate Studies, Graduate Communication Program. Students are charged the undergraduate tuition rate for undergraduate courses and the graduate tuition rates for graduate level courses. This will be clearly stated in the graduate application.

Master of Arts in Museum Professions

Program of Study

The Master of Arts in Museum Professions is designed for individuals interested in pursuing careers in museums or related cultural institutions. Combining structure with flexibility, this 39-credit program offers four professional tracks:
I. Museum Education
II. Museum Management
III. Museum Registration
IV. Exhibition Development

These diverse offerings are provided through cooperation with other departments and schools of Seton Hall University, and through collaboration with museums and museum professionals who serve as advisers and faculty for the program.

Museums have become complex, multipurpose organizations. The Master of Arts in Museum Professions is designed to meet their need for professionally trained employees. This program is designed for recent college graduates, people seeking a career change, and museum employees who wish to improve their skills.

Admission Requirements

Admission to this program is open to those with a baccalaureate degree in a field related to museums, such as art history, history, anthropology, archaeology, or biology. Students who have majored in other fields must have completed 12 undergraduate courses in a museum-related area. If they have not, these undergraduate courses may be taken while at Seton Hall University. GRE scores and a minimum GPA of 3.0 are required, although under certain circumstances these requirements may be waived. Some form of museum experience (intern, volunteer) is desired. Applicants are asked to submit a personal essay and recommendation letters as part of their application.

A total of 39 credits is required.

Students in the Museum Management track have the option to also earn a graduate certificate in Nonprofit Organization Management by taking some additional courses. For more information about this certificate, please see the Department of Public and Healthcare Administration section of this catalogue.

B.A./M.A. Museum Professions Dual Degree Option

The combined B.A./M.A. in Museum Professions leading to a master’s degree in museum professions allows students to take 12 graduate credits during their junior and senior years, which count at once as elective credits for the B.A. and as graduate credits toward the M.A. degree. Students are admitted into the dual degree program at the end of their sophomore year. Admission is based on GPA, application essay, and interview.

Students must maintain a 3.0 average in the four graduate courses in order to be allowed to continue beyond the B.A. degree. They must also take the GRE as soon as possible after their B.A. graduation. The M.A. degree will not be awarded if the student has not completed the GRE. Please contact Dr. Petra Chu, Director of Graduate Studies, at (973) 761-9460 or petra.chu@shu.edu or visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/ma-museum-professions for further information.

The Institute of Museum Ethics

The Institute of Museum Ethics (IME) was founded in 2007 to foreground the consideration of museum ethics as one of the most pivotal issues for museum professionals in the 21st Century. In November 2007, the IME received a three-year Museum Professionals Grant from the Institute of Museum and Library Services. The IME promotes integrity and competence in museum ethics. It creates a physical and virtual community of emerging and practicing museum professionals and museum studies faculty who use our resources to make informed decisions about ethical issues. It draws upon the strengths of Seton Hall as an institution that prioritizes teaching in ethics to establish innovative collaborations between ethicists and museum professionals that will spark new conversations about museum ethics. The IME serves the needs of our region’s small museums but also has national reach. It prepares our M.A. in Museum Professions (M.A.M.P.) students to become visionary leaders who make important contributions to the discourse on museum ethics. Additionally, it produces new models of teaching museum ethics for students and museum professionals. Initiatives include a web portal; a national conference and publication of the proceedings; workshops and public lectures; and travel stipends for M.A.M.P. graduate students. For more information, visit www.museumethics.org or e-mail museumethics@shu.edu

Museum Professions

ARMS 6000 Anatomy of a Museum
A survey of the entire museum: its governance, its mission, and its operation. Topics include the roles of the museum board and key staff members, including the director, curator, registrar and other department heads, as well as contemporary issues such as audience development and relevance of programming. 3 credits

ARMS 6505 History and Theory of Museums
This course presents a survey of the history of museums and introduces students to the complex theoretical discourse that has both informed and framed museums since their inception. Special attention will be given to the lively debate regarding the significance of museums that has gone on during the past two decades. 3 credits

ARMS 6604 Seminar Abroad - Paris
Accompanied by a faculty member, students travel to Paris, where they visit museums and galleries and meet with local museum professionals. For more information, see www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/ma-museum-professions 3 credits

ARMS 6606 Seminar Abroad - Rome
Accompanied by a faculty member, students travel to Rome, where they visit museums and galleries and meet with local museum professionals. For more information, see www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/ma-museum-professions 3 credits

ARMS 6608 Seminar Abroad - Berlin
Accompanied by a faculty member, students travel to Berlin, where they visit museums and galleries and meet with local museum professionals. For more information, see www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/ma-museum-professions 3 credits

ARMS 6609-6610 Seminars Abroad
A seminar abroad is offered each year in May. Accompanied by a faculty member, students travel to a major European city where they visit museums and galleries and meet with local museum professionals. For more information, see www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/ma-museum-professions 3 credits

ARMS 6802 Object Care for Collection Managers
The course introduces future registrars and collection managers to issues associated with care, preservation (conservation), history, and technique of objects in a wide variety of media. To be considered are works on paper, paintings, sculpture, textiles, photographs, frames, and ethnographic objects. 3 credits

ARMS 6803 Museum Registration I
Among the major topics addressed are: care and management of museum collections, administrative duties, ethics and accountability, legal issues, storage and handling, acquisitions, loans, transportation of works, art theft, risk management, authentication and appraisal. 3 credits

ARMS 6804 Museum Registration II
Students acquire basic knowledge of curatorial skills through personal involvement and observation of the actual planning and implementation of an exhibition. Topics include design, budget, interpretive material, registration, conservation, lighting and promotion. 3 credits

ARMS 6805 Legal and Ethical Issues in Museums
This course is an overview of selected ethical and legal issues that arise in museums. It focuses upon ethical issues that have been recently identified as becoming more critical to museums over the next 15 to 20 years, as well as specific legal issues that museum professionals encounter in their work. Topics covered include: mission, vision, and values; professional codes of ethics; roles and responsibilities of museum directors and board members; authority, social responsibility, accountability and transparency; and the responsibility of maintaining collections. 3 credits

ARMS 6806 Museum Fundraising Fundamentals
This course will provide an overview of the creation, implementation and management of a comprehensive museum fundraising program. Highlights will include positioning the annual (including membership), capital and planned giving campaigns; articulating the mission and case for support; and, becoming familiar with the techniques and methods of identifying, researching, cultivating, soliciting and stewarding donors. In addition, it will cover important aspects such as prospect research, special events, finance and accounting issues of reporting, tracking and managing a fundraising effort. The use of technology in fundraising will also be discussed. 3 credits

ARMS 6813 Museum Education I
This course gives an overview of learning theories especially applicable to childhood, then applies these theories to the museum setting. Examples from museums of diverse genres from across the country and around the world will be used to explore how museums can work with school-age audiences, curriculum, and current trends in education and testing in beneficial collaborations. The course will focus on such questions as: how can museum educators make our exhibits come alive for young learners; and, how can our collections engage students actively and experientially. 3 credits
ARMS 6814 Museum Education II
Learn how education theory can help museums attract learners of all ages and cultural backgrounds, including adults, seniors, and family audiences. Explore how theories of learning and audience motivations for museum visitation influence the development of exhibits, technology such as websites and podcasts, collaborations with adult organizations, and professional assessment. Examples from museums of diverse genres from across the country and around the world will be used to explore how museums can turn lifelong learners into constituents and docents. 3 credits

ARMS 6815 Museums and Communities
This course will introduce the student to the educational role that museums play in the community to provide civic and social change through programming. Students will explore the importance of museum collaboration with other community agencies and institutions serving diverse populations. 3 credits

ARMS 6816 Writing for Museums
This course will familiarize students with the many different styles of writing that are practiced in museums. From labels to grant proposals, the assignments are modeled on the kinds of writing that museum professionals engage in on a regular basis. 3 credits

ARMS 6817 Audience Research and Project Evaluation
This course will introduce students to current theory and practice in the field of museum visitor studies. In a weekly seminar, we will review and discuss exemplar literature by practitioners working in the social sciences to familiarize students with the range of contemporary discourse and to introduce the major terms and concepts operationalized within museum visitor studies. Through a sequence of practical exercises employing qualitative methods, students will collaboratively engage their emerging conceptual understanding through first-hand research with museum users. Research exercises will combine the students’ growing understanding of research methodology, ethics and best practices, and comparative analysis to produce written reports of their findings that meet accepted standards for professional practice. Students will also investigate a current key topic in visitor studies by a careful reading of literature broadly, and produce a written essay at the end of the semester that examines and argues a position regarding that theoretical or practical topic. 3 credits

ARMS 6818 Introduction to Archives for Museum Professionals
This course provides a basic introductory overview of archival administration, historical documentation, and the management of historical resources. Students will gain a basic understanding of the archival functions of arrangement, description, collection development, appraisal, preservation, and reference. The class will also discuss current issues, trends, and theories that continue to change the nature of archival management, with an emphasis on the web, electronic records, digitization, and MPLP. 3 credits

ARMS 7001 Exhibitions A-Z
This course will introduce students to the conceptual and practical concerns of developing museum exhibitions. Students will discuss the exhibition as metaphor and learn ways to communicate this metaphor most effectively. Students will examine how the exhibition process defines and is defined by the mission of the host institution, and will build skills in key areas of exhibition development - from design to wall texts, programming to audience research. The class will consider the experiences of both specialist exhibition developers in large museums and generalists meeting many competing needs in smaller institutions. 3 credits

ARMS 7002 Producing an Exhibition
Small groups of students (2-3) produce an exhibition in the Seton Hall Walsh Library Gallery or an alternative location, under the guidance of the gallery director and a faculty member. 3 credits

ARMS 7005 Museum Technologies
Information technologies prompt museums to rethink the ways in which they manage and exhibit their collections. Just as corporations, agencies, and universities reinvent operations in response to technological innovation, museums must meet these challenges in creative manners. The profusion of sophisticated museum websites and breathtaking “virtual exhibitions” contrasts sharply with growing discontent among professionals over lacking information standards, insufficient data storage systems, and widely differing policies regarding collection accessibility. Do “virtual exhibits” increase visitorship or will they substitute museum visits one day? This course explores the institutional impact of technology by charting the practical application of knowledge in various areas of the museum. Guest lectures and site visits facilitate assessment of traditional methods and innovative tools in the museum. 3 credits

ARMS 7800 Internship

COMM 8190 Master’s Project
The Master’s Thesis is the culmination academic experience for a Masters Student and represents his/her ability to apply learned research, writing and other technical skills. The thesis is continued from Communications Research and supervised by a faculty thesis adviser. Prerequisite: Communication Research. 3 credits

Communication Electives

COGR 6323 Presentation Graphics
This course introduces students to the communication of information through visual symbols, including charts and graphics. Presentation, business and information graphics are taught within the context of professional and ethical standards using professional systems and software. 3 credits

COJR 7420 Advanced Corporate Writing
This course synthesizes the communication practices emphasized throughout the Masters Program and puts them into action: analyzing, writing, presenting and interacting with peers to achieve project objectives. It is an advanced writing and communication course designed to equip students with skills to perform impressively in many communication roles, such as an account executive in an agency; a communications/marketing director; a communications consultant; or a leadership role in any organizational context. 3 credits

COMM 6002 International Public Relations
Designed to present the professional principles and practices in public relations for corporate, governmental, and nonprofit organizations in an international framework. The course includes the history, organization, and scope of the field, the issues that arise from crossing borders and the types of campaigns and programs consistent with international relations. Theories, strategies, and tactics in practice will be emphasized and analyzed. Students will learn how to conduct public relations campaigns in the global sense. The course will specifically focus on Asia, North America and Europe with an emphasis on the structure and function of public relations and communication organizations in international settings. Consideration will be given to the level of economic development, prevailing culture, and the geopolitical variables affecting public relations in an international setting. 3 credits

COMM 6300 Strategic Organizational Communication
Change within American business is commonplace. How does the communications specialist adapt and guide the communications strategy during a transition, a merger, or company reorganization? What effective role can the communications specialist play in order to facilitate and direct productive message delivery during a time of company transition? 3 credits

Designed to give students the tools to cope with the communication demands of international business. Students learn to identify areas of difference and similarity between how people of various cultures communicate. The students will also investigate and analyze the internal and external communications challenges that face transnational organizations. This course examines the opportunities and problems inherent in the process of international business communication. Readings, lecture, discussions, and small group exercises will be utilized to master conceptual material necessary for communication excellence. The goal of this course is to help the student improve their leadership and communication skills so they will be effective in an international setting as well as to help prepare students for business assignments outside of their native countries. 3 credits

COMM 7002 New Media and Organizational Communication
Communication technology has changed the way we live, work and communicate. This course will address the role of interactive media in transforming organizations around the world from social, ethical, legal, and economic perspectives. Course content will include analyses of the impact of new communication technologies such as the Internet, digital communication, wireless computing, media technologies, electronic mass media, computers, consumer electronics, satellite systems, telephony, and personal communication devices. Students will develop conceptual tools for examining the psychological, political, social, organizational, leadership and cultural implications of various communication technologies and the future of communication. 3 credits

COMM 7003 Leadership Communication
Leadership success often hinges on effective communication that engages employees, key stakeholders and the media. Leaders need to compete with an infinite number of messages just to be heard. This is true for leaders who are using the media to communicate messages about their organizations or even just to communicate to their organization’s internal stakeholders. Leaders who can cut through the noise and deliver targeted, clear, and relevant communications and make themselves understood to an audience have a great advantage. Students will polish communication strategies and methods through discussion of principles, examples, and cases. Several written and oral assignments will help introduce interactive oral and interpersonal communication skills important to managers, including: presenting to a hostile audience, running meetings, listening, and contributing to group decision-making. 3 credits

COMM 7111 Advanced Techniques in Visual Communication
Students gain hands-on experience in page designing, scanning, and electronic page description programs (PageMaker and QuarkXpress) used in today’s industry. Students will create various print and electronic media for profit and non-profit corporations and are responsible for concept through to the final printed piece. Emphasis is placed on use of typography, color, images and layout to enhance the message of the piece. 3 credits

COMM 7410 Cross Cultural Issues in Interpersonal Communication
This course analyzes cultural variability and its impact on interpersonal, inter-group and inter-organizational communication. This course also studies ethnic and gender based cultural differences within the organization, differences between merging organizational cultures, and cultural issues in the globalization process of the marketplace. Relationships between national and organizational culture are discussed. 3 credits

COMM 7411 Cross Gender Communication
This course provides participants with an opportunity to discuss issues associated with communication and gender in the workplace. It explores the question of how, why, and when men and women communicate differently and the resulting impact on personal and professional success. This course assists individuals as they prepare themselves for the challenge associated with a diverse workforce. 3 credits

COMM 7412 Team Building
This class gives students an opportunity to combine theoretical and practical application of the components of team building in a workshop format. Learning principles and activities that reflect the workplace environment are central to instruction. Application to the students’ workplaces is immediate. 3 credits

COMM 7762 Events Management
This course helps students to develop an in-depth knowledge of the practices and concepts related to event management. Students will understand the management techniques and strategies required for successful planning, promotion, implementation and evaluation of special events within various contexts (e.g. fundraising, business conferences, sports, entertainment, and others). 3 credits

COMM 7763 Employee Relations
This class will examine the roles of the employer and employee within the context of integrated human capital management and organizational communication strategies. In particular, the class will focus on how employee relations communications can affect recruitment, retention, motivation, development and supervision in an organization. Readings, lectures, discussions, case studies and small group exercises/presentations will be utilized to master conceptual and practical material. The goal of this course is to help the student improve his/her understanding of the issues related to employee relations and how an organization can engage its workforce to meet strategic goals. 3 credits

COMM 7770 Special Topics: Perspectives in Advertising
This course will define and explain the basics of advertising with some emphasis on corporate communication as well as consumer advertising. Students learn not only how to be more creative and the elements of a good communication piece, but also how advertising approaches are developed from a creative viewpoint. The course concentrates on real examples from current. There is focus on the differentiation of PR writing from copywriting as well as an evaluative process to quantify effectiveness of advertising and other communication material. 3 credits

Faculty: Alexander; Balkun (Chair); Carpentier; Farina; Gevirtz; Gray (Assistant Chair); Jones; Oates; Shea; Sherman; Svenvold; Thoms-Cappello; Wargacki; Weisl (Director of Graduate Studies);
Faculty Emeriti: Byrnes; Grieco; Winser

The Department of English offers graduate courses in British literature, American literature and critical theory, as well as writing, leading to the Master of Arts. A master’s degree in English provides the basis for a wide range of career and professional choices. At Seton Hall, the M.A. in English serves as preparation for a doctoral degree program in literature, the Master of Fine Arts in Writing, and for professional degrees in law or business, as well as for careers in creative writing, secondary education, publishing, and professional writing. The diversity of student goals and interests is accommodated through a choice of three programs of study, as outlined below. Students should consult the Director of Graduate Studies for details of these programs and for guidance in selecting the programs and courses best suited to their needs.

Undergraduate English majors at Seton Hall who qualify for the dual degree B.A./M.A. program in English can complete the M.A. in one year beyond their B.A. Applicants must have a 3.5 GPA in the major, apply in the second semester of their junior year, and may start taking graduate classes in their senior year. See the Undergraduate Catalogue for full description and admission requirements.

General Admission
In addition to the general University requirements for admission to graduate studies, the Department of English requires at least 21 undergraduate credits in English and American literature and/or writing. Applicants must also submit GRE scores.

Degree Requirements
In addition to the general University and College requirements, the Department of English requires a reading knowledge of French, German, Italian or Spanish as attested by the Department of Modern Languages. Subject to approval, Latin, Greek or another language may be substituted. Reading knowledge will be demonstrated through a foreign language translation examination. Students who cannot pass the language exam may take the Rapid Reading and Translation course, offered in the Spring, in its place. This course may be offered in French, Spanish, or Italian.

A final written comprehensive examination is required of all M.A. candidates.

Hub and Spoke Program
All students pursuing the Master of Arts in English will complete a 12-credit “Hub” of core requirements. Students can then choose to pursue one of three “Spokes,” depending upon their interests and goals. The Literature Spoke is intended for students who plan to go on to a doctoral program or whose primary interest is in continuing literary study. The Writing Spoke is designed for students who plan to teach English at the secondary level, are already teaching, or plan to pursue a career involving advanced writing skills. The Creative Writing Spoke is designed for students who are interested in becoming writers, teaching creative writing, or hoping to pursue an M.F.A. or a Ph.D. in creative writing.

The Writing Center

The Writing Center, part of the Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center, serves as a support system for all students through the Department of English. It provides a range of services, including free consultations and tutorials on drafts, to both undergraduate and graduate students. It is staffed by undergraduate, graduate, and professional tutors to assist with every step of the writing process. Tutoring in the Writing Center provides an excellent opportunity for English graduate students to work on campus in an academically-oriented position. Interested students should contact the Director of the Writing Center at (973) 275-2183.

Located on the second floor of Arts and Sciences Hall, Room 206, the center is open during the academic year, Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. – 7 p.m., and Friday, 10 a.m. – 3 p.m. For details, call (973) 761-9000, ext. 7501. In order to make an appointment, students may drop in or make an appointment online by going to their “Success Network” in Starfish, available through Blackboard, choosing “Services” and then clicking on a day in the calendar on which they would like to be seen. For the SHU Online Writing Lab, visit http://academic.shu.edu/owl/ Arts and Sciences Hall does not have an elevator; to make a request for a first-floor appointment, please call the director or email her at kelly.shea@shu.edu

Program Description
The Master of Arts (M.A.) in History provides training to students pursuing a range of careers, including education and library science, and those planning to undertake doctoral studies in history. It is particularly appealing to K-12 teachers wishing to pursue study in this field to enhance their knowledge and build their credentials. The program invites students to choose a concentration suited to individual interests, encourages them to conduct original historical research, and engages them in the most significant historical debates and fields of study. Students can work closely with knowledgeable professors on a wide range of topics.

Degree Requirements
The Department of History’s Master of Arts (M.A.) degree program has four concentrations:
- United States History
- European History
- Global History
- Catholic History

The program requires successful completion of 10 courses (30 credits). All students must take HIST 6190 The Historian’s Craft, at least one Program in Directed Readings (PDR) course (HIST 7221-7550), as well as four additional courses in the chosen area of concentration, and electives in at least one other area. Advanced graduate students may choose either to conduct two semesters of thesis research and writing (HIST 9111-9112) or to complete comprehensive written and oral examinations (HIST 9110) in the final semester of study. Those continuing for a doctorate are strongly urged to complete a thesis.

The graduate program requires all students to pass a foreign language translation exam (proving reading knowledge), or demonstrate mastery of advanced statistical methods. Students are expected to be, or to become, familiar with computer technology and with the major databases used to access historical materials.

Capstone: Thesis and Oral/Written Examination Options
Students within the M.A. program have the option of choosing between researching and writing a graduate thesis or undertaking both a 180-minute written examination and an oral examination at the conclusion of their final semester in the program.
Options within the Degree Programs/Admission Requirements

The M.A. degree may be obtained through completing requirements within one of two distinct options: first, through a five year (B.A./M.A.) accelerated degree program available both to Seton Hall history majors and education/history majors; and second, through the traditional Master of Arts (M.A.) degree program that is available to qualified candidates who have successfully earned a baccalaureate degree prior to enrollment in this graduate program.

I. B.A./M.A. Dual Degree Option

This study option is designed to allow for completion of both the undergraduate (B.A.) and graduate (M.A.) degrees in a total of 10 semesters (five years of study). After having completed 75 credits toward a B.A. with at least 21 credits in history, students may apply for admission to this joint degree program. Accepted candidates will normally be expected to enroll in two approved graduate-level history courses each semester of their senior year of study for a total of 12 credits. During the fifth year of study, students will be expected to enroll in a total of three approved graduate-level courses each semester for a total of 18 credits.

To qualify for admission, students must have completed HIST 2180: Introduction to Historical Research; and must be showing consistent progress toward a B.A. in History with a minimum overall GPA of 3.40 and a minimum history GPA of 3.40. During the application process, students will be asked to produce a statement of intent outlining their reasons for pursuing the M.A. in History at Seton Hall; official transcripts documenting all academic work undertaken; three letters of recommendation; official Graduate Record Examination (GRE) scores; and a writing sample demonstrating the student’s academic potential.

II. M.A. Degree Option

This study option is designed to allow for completion of the graduate degree in four semesters (two years of study). During their first year of graduate study, students are expected to enroll in three approved graduate-level courses per semester. During their second year of study, students are expected to enroll in the remaining four approved graduate-level courses. Though this is designed for completion within two years, students have the freedom to complete their course work, research, and writing over a longer span of time by attending on a part-time basis.

Students accepted directly into the M.A. degree program will have completed a baccalaureate degree prior to beginning course work in the M.A. degree program, preferably in history or a history-related field such as political science, geography, or economics. Students who have majored in other fields may be asked to take up to four undergraduate courses in history. During the application process, applicants will be asked to produce a statement of intent outlining their reasons for pursuing the M.A. in history at Seton Hall; official transcripts documenting all academic work undertaken; three letters of recommendation; official Graduate Record Examination (GRE) scores; and a writing sample demonstrating the student’s academic potential.

The Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures offers graduate courses leading to the Master of Arts (M.A.) in Asian Studies degree. The Teaching Chinese Language and Culture Track prepares aspiring Chinese language teachers to meet the language content requirement for the New Jersey Chinese Language Teaching Certificate of Eligibility (CE). In addition, the department offers a dual masters degree program with the School of Diplomacy and International Relations. Students have the option to also earn a certificate in International Business offered by the Stillman School of Business, by following these requirements as well as applying some of the International Business courses to the M.A. in Asian Studies as electives. Please refer to the information about the certificate in International Business, which may be found in the Stillman School of Business section of this catalogue.

In cooperation with The Asia Center, the department conducts research on East Asia, sponsors conferences, conducts Summer institutes and carries on a program of publication.

The department also offers a limited number of teaching assistantships in Chinese and Japanese languages.

General Admission
In addition to the general University requirements for admission to graduate studies, candidates for admission to the M.A. program of the Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures should show a strong background in Asian studies or other disciplines in which the department offers courses. The candidate should also submit a Statement of Purpose in the application, together with two letters of recommendation. For the dual masters degree program, students must apply independently to each degree program, preferably indicating at the time of application that they intend to follow the joint Asian Studies/Diplomacy program when admitted.

The Department of Political Science and Public Affairs offers the Masters in Public Administration and the graduate certificate in nonprofit management. Students working toward the M.P.A. choose one of three concentrations - public service: leadership, governance and policy; nonprofit organization management; or health policy and management. The M.P.A. degree requires 39 graduate credits, while the nonprofit management certificate program requires 15 credits. Students who complete the certificate programs with a 3.0 GPA or higher can apply all earned credits toward the M.P.A. degree if they wish to continue their education. Courses are offered in the late afternoons and evenings, on alternate Saturdays, and online to accommodate the schedules of working professionals.

The department offers a 60-credit dual degree program with the School of Diplomacy and International Relations leading to both M.A. and M.P.A. degrees, and a five-year B.A./M.P.A. degree programs with select undergraduate majors in the Department of Political Science and Public Affairs and the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work.

The M.P.A. is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration (NASPAA).

Master of Public Administration Degree (M.P.A.)

The M.P.A. degree serves students interested in careers in the public and nonprofit sectors. The program is professional in nature, and stresses development of managerial and analytical skills, as well as ethical and professional values. All courses are scheduled for the convenience of working students, and the program is offered throughout the year. Many students in this program have 5-10 years of professional experience, although the department does enroll students directly from their undergraduate programs. The program is also appropriate for students wishing to transition from private to public or nonprofit sector careers. The three M.P.A. concentration areas are as follow:

- Public Service: Leadership, Governance and Policy - for students interested in learning to manage complex public policy issues in a global society, and craft creative

Students must complete a 3-credit Applied Research and Practice (Capstone) experience towards the end of their course of study. The requirements depend on the student’s managerial experience. The three options are an internship/field placement (PSMA 7991), the practicum (PSMA 7992), and the research seminar (PSMA 7993).

Students who have completed all degree requirements except the research seminar (PSMA 7993) must register for Thesis Continuation (THCN 7999) for the first semester subsequent to the research seminar (PSMA 7993) registration, and THCN 8000 from the second subsequent semester until the completion and presentation of the culminating research project.

Admission Requirements for the M.P.A. Program

Anyone with a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university is eligible to apply for admission to the M.P.A. program. In general, applicants with the following credentials are admitted: a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or better, a well written essay, and three strong letters of recommendation. Standardized test scores are optional for the M.P.A. Program. M.P.A. applicants may be asked to complete a personal interview.

International applicants are strongly encouraged to apply. However, it is important to note that the University requires confirmation of undergraduate degree standards by World Educational Services program (see http://www.wes.org/index.asp). In addition, the M.P.A. program generally requires a TOEFL score of greater than 100 for students with undergraduate degrees awarded outside the United States.

Applicants who are confident that they are ready to succeed in a graduate program but do not meet the M.P.A. admissions criteria may be offered conditional acceptance. Candidates granted conditional acceptance must achieve a cumulative GPA of 3.0 in their first four graduate courses at Seton Hall.

Application Procedures for the M.P.A. Program

Applicants must complete a College of Arts and Sciences Application for Admissions to Graduate Study (self-managed application packet) that includes:
- a 750-1,000 word essay outlined in the application;
- official sealed transcript from each college and/or university attended;
- three letters of recommendation;
- current résumé;
- official copy of Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) scores if applicant is an international candidate. The M.P.A. program requires a minimum TOEFL score of 100.
- a completed application with the $50 application fee (payable to Seton Hall University)

Financial Aid

Seton Hall University and the Department of Political Science and Public Affairs offer a variety of financial aid options to assist students in paying for their graduate education. These include:
- Graduate and Research Assistantships
- Partial Tuition Scholarships
- Paid Internships and Fellowships
- External Scholarships
- Loan and Installment Payment Programs
- Employer Tuition Remission Programs

Graduate and Research Assistantships

Graduate assistants receive full tuition remission up to a maximum of 12 credits per semester and a monthly stipend in exchange for 20 hours of work per week in the administrative office of the department, or in other offices on campus.

Research assistants receive full tuition remission and a monthly stipend in exchange for 20 hours of work per week assisting department faculty on various research projects.

Graduate and research assistantships are available to full-time students only.

M.P.A. Program Tuition Scholarships

The M.P.A. program has a number of department-based scholarship opportunities.
- These competitive, merit-based scholarships provide partial and possibly full tuition remission for selected courses in nonprofit organization management and public service leadership.
- Both full and part-time students in the M.P.A. on-campus programs are eligible. Graduate certificate students are also eligible for these scholarships.
- M.P.A. scholarships are awarded on a competitive basis; therefore, students who plan to apply for any or all of these funding opportunities should submit their applications for admission early. For information on M.P.A. scholarship opportunities, please visit http://www.shu.edu/academics/artssci/mpa/advantages.cfm

For further information, including application deadline information and to receive application materials, contact the department at (973) 761-9510 or mpa@shu.edu

Paid Internships and Fellowships

Internships are required for all pre-service students and are an option for in-service students. The department, working closely with the University’s Career Center, assists students in finding internships and maintains information on the availability of paid internships. Information on paid fellowships is also made available to students.

External Scholarships

The department makes information on external scholarships available to M.P.A. and graduate certificate students through a bi-weekly newsletter.
Loans and Installment Payment Programs
Several types of loan programs and installment payment programs are available to assist students with tuition and other expenses. Loans through FAFSA and Sallie Mae are available to M.P.A. students. Contact Enrollment Services at (973) 761-9332 for further information and application materials.

Graduate Certificate Program
The Department of Political Science and Public Affairs offers a graduate certificate program in nonprofit organization management.

This graduate certificate is designed for individuals who (1) want to explore a career in one of the nonprofit areas, (2) possess a graduate degree and need to develop specific nonprofit management skills, or (3) want to take some graduate courses without applying to the M.P.A. degree program.

Admissions Requirements for Graduate Certificate
Anyone with a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university is eligible to apply for admission to the graduate certificate program. In general, applicants with a GPA of 2.75 or better and a well-written essay are admitted into the graduate certificate program.

Applicants who are confident that they are ready to succeed in a graduate program but do not meet the graduate certificate admissions criteria may consider enrolling as non-matriculating students-who are allowed to take two MPA courses (PSMA 6002 and 6005) prior to applying for the M.P.A. degree program.

Admissions Procedures
Individuals applying for admission to the graduate certificate program must submit the following:
• official transcript(s) showing successful completion of a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university;
• one essay answering the question provided in the application;
• current résumé;
• graduate certificate application; and
• application for non-matriculating graduate students

Application materials may be obtained by contacting the department at (973) 761-9510.

Academic Credit
Graduate certificates are awarded for the successful completion of 15 graduate credits as designated. These graduate credits can be applied toward the M.P.A. degree, provided the student attains a 3.0 GPA or higher in the certificate program and satisfies the admission requirements for the M.P.A. program.

Dual Degree Programs
M.A./M.P.A. in Diplomacy and International Relations and Public Administration
Seton Hall University’s College of Arts and Sciences and School of Diplomacy and International Relations offer a 60-credit dual degree program that combines the Master of Arts in Diplomacy and International Relations with the Master in Public Administration in Nonprofit Organization Management; Public Service: Leadership, Governance and Policy; or Health Policy and Management.

The joint degree takes advantage of the similarity in the goals of the two programs for preparing professionals equipped to respond to the challenges of public sector administration in a global environment.
The Master of Arts in Diplomacy and International Relations combines global studies in cultural, organizational and economic issues with international management and leadership training, internships and a research project or thesis. The Master of Public Administration is a professional degree for those employed or seeking management positions in the public and nonprofit sectors. The program stresses development of managerial and analytic skills, as well as ethical and professional values.

Admissions Requirements
Students must apply independently to each degree program, preferably indicating at the time of application that they intend to follow the joint M.A./M.P.A. program if admitted. Only one application fee for the two programs is required.

Students may also apply for admission to the dual degree program after admission to either of the two separate programs, but some loss of credits may result from such late admission.

Concentration Courses:

Four courses in one of the following concentrations: 12

- Public Service: Leadership, Governance and Policy
- Nonprofit Organization Management
- Health Policy and Management

Elective:

One additional M.P.A. elective 3

B.A. in Political Science or Sociology/Master of Public Administration

The Department of Political Science and Public Affairs and the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work at Seton Hall University offer a dual degree program that leads to two degrees completed in a five-year span: a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science or Sociology and a Master of Public Administration degree.

The program has a two-fold purpose: to provide a broad-based undergraduate education with a comprehensive grasp of one’s major in either Sociology or Political Science; and to permit students to earn a Master of Public Administration degree within the timeframe of five years.

Students accepted into this program follow the academic program prescribed by their majors in consultation with their advisers (including the core requirements in the College of Arts and Sciences and the requirements of their majors) during the first three years.

If accepted into this program, students may take a maximum of four M.P.A. courses (12 credits) during their senior year which count toward the completion of the bachelor’s degree. Students interested in this option should consult carefully with their undergraduate adviser, the Director of Graduate Studies for the M.P.A. program, and the University’s Financial Aid Office prior to applying so that they are aware of the cost structure of the program.

At the end of the fourth year and upon completion of 120 credits, students in the program receive a Bachelor of Arts degree.

If the student wants to complete the Five-Year B.A./M.P.A. degree, 12 of those credits must come from the core courses of the graduate public administration program. During the fifth year, 27 additional M.P.A. credits, including a 3-credit Summer internship, must be completed.

For further information, contact the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work or the Department of Political Science and Public Affairs.

The Center for Public Service

The Center for Public Service, located in the Department of Political Science and Public Affairs, is the University’s arm for outreach programs to the public and nonprofit sectors. The center offers non-credit certificate programs through its Nonprofit Sector Resource Institute.
The Nonprofit Sector Resource Institute
Located in the Department of Political Science and Public Affairs, the Nonprofit Sector Resource Institute (NSRI), a project of the Center for Public Service, was established in 1994 to offer non-credit certificate programs that address the needs of nonprofit organizations through research, educational enhancement and technical assistance. NSRI is a significant vehicle by which Seton Hall University offers the skills of its faculty and students in support of community building and human service efforts.

As a resource for nonprofits, NSRI disseminates information through its publication, The Nonprofit Connection: Bridging Research and Practice. Each issue focuses on a managerial theme such as collaborations, legal issues or leadership, and provides concise reviews of academic research, related book reviews and a list of easily accessed resources.

Nonprofit leaders are encouraged to build support networks and share skills through workshops and seminars organized throughout the year by NSRI staff. Members of the University faculty, practitioners, community, and other accomplished professionals from the nonprofit sector serve on panels or facilitate discussion groups for many of these gatherings.

Course Descriptions
PSMA 6001 The Environment of Public Service Management
Political, social, legal and ethical realities affecting managers in public and nonprofit organizations such as government agencies, churches, schools, museums and community service organizations. Theoretical as well as operational perspectives, particularly as they distinguish public administration from business administration. The power of the public service professional and values of public service systems. Political processes, legal factors and other mechanisms of accountability are emphasized. 3 credits

PSMA 6002 Research Methods and Statistical Analysis
Introduces both quantitative and qualitative research methodologies. Topics include descriptive and inferential statistics, issues in sampling and hypothesis testing, analysis of variance, regression and time series analysis, as well as survey design. Computer software is used for statistical analysis. 3 credits

PSMA 6003 Public Policy Process, Analysis and Evaluation
The administration of public policy depends on knowledge of the policy process. This course focuses on those stages of the policy process of most interest to public administrators, specifically policy formation, implementation and evaluation. Among the questions to be addressed: How are programs designed? What happens after a policy is made? What methods are used to measure and assess public policy outcomes? What are the methodological, theoretical, political, administrative and ethical problems encountered in policy analysis? The course draws on a variety of substantive policy areas for illustration purposes. Students are encouraged to relate the general material of the course to their specific policy interests. 3 credits

PSMA 6004 The Economic Environment of Public Service Management
Economic system as the setting within which nonprofit, healthcare, arts and public service organizations function. Introduction to microeconomic principles, with some coverage of fiscal, monetary and regulatory policies, as well as public goods and problems of market failure. Economic concepts and tools as they relate to the management of public service organizations. 3 credits

PSMA 6005 Financial Management and Control
An introduction to basic financial, budgetary and accounting concepts, processes and techniques relevant to public service and healthcare managers; how and why financial decisions are made; how they affect healthcare operations; use of financial documents and analysis. 3 credits

PSMA 6007 Organizational Theory
Course is designed to introduce students to the conceptual and practical perspectives and tools for perceiving and managing organizational phenomena. Explores formal and informal realities in organizations, including group dynamics, power, and organizational culture, organizational change and resistance; and external environmental factors such as turbulence and shifting priorities. Cases and simulation exercises are incorporated to familiarize the students with practical applications of theoretical concepts. 3 credits

PSMA 6008 Information and Computers in Public Service Management
Information and computer technologies (ICT) have profoundly and permanently changed the way that nonprofit and public sector organizations conduct business. Examples include the use of ICT by nonprofit organizations for fundraising purposes and the electronic dissemination of public documents by government agencies. Information, and the computer systems that process it, are increasingly seen as strategic resources that effective public and nonprofit administrators must know how to use, evaluate and manage. This course will provide students with skills necessary to serve as an interface between persons focused primarily on organization policy and those focused primarily on ICT operations. In addition, the course will explore wide variety of cutting edge ICT tools and how these tools can be integrated into a traditional organization. 3 credits

PSMA 6009 Managerial Decision Making
Introductory course in applied decision and game theory. Introduces students to decision trees, Nash equilibria, winning strategies, tit-for-tat, auction theory and end-games. Competitive scenarios are an intrinsic part of the course, as are problem sets and simulations. 3 credits

PSMA 6010 Managing Human Resources in Public Service Organizations
Examines the strategies used to manage human resources effectively in public service organizations. The best human resource practices of public and other service organizations are discussed, including workforce legal issues, teams, performance assessment and leadership. Additional topics covered include management strategies for encouraging positive, interpersonal relationships, managing conflict and creative thinking approaches to human resource issues.

PSMA 7121 Public Service Leadership: Involving Groups and Communities in Decision Making
This course examines techniques of effective leadership, including defining purpose, mobilizing external support and leading stakeholders that have been successfully developed for use by servant leaders in our communities. Particular emphasis is placed on mobilizing communities for social change. Students will investigate the applicability of course concepts to their own experiences and community settings. This course will foster the skills necessary for effective collaborative leadership within a civil society.

PSMA 7122 Strategic Management of Collaborative Governance
Explores the theoretical and practical tools available for strategically managing collaborative governance and planning. An emphasis will be placed on planning efforts across sectors (public, private and nonprofit) and among citizens and organizations alike. The historic origins of collaborative governance are explored.

3 credits

PSMA 7124 Finance and Budgeting for Effective Governance
Successful managers must be able to forge relationships among partners while effectively managing complex financial and budgetary issues. This course introduces students to the fiscal pressures and budgetary constraints facing leaders in our society and provides them with the tools and knowledge necessary to manage these issues in an era of increasingly scarce resources. An overview of the budget process and the policy implications of this process is included as well.

PSMA 7311 Foundations of the Nonprofit Sector
Promotes a thorough understanding of the nature of nonprofit organizations and the nonprofit sector as a whole. Explores size, scope and dimensions of the sector as well as its history, the various perspectives of philanthropy and the changing role of the nonprofit sector in contemporary society.

3 credits

PSMA 7312 Leadership and Management in Nonprofit Organizations
Explores various areas of responsibility in leading and managing nonprofit organizations with particular emphasis on the relationship and interaction between the chief executive and the board of directors. Course is intended as a follow-up to and extension of PSMA 7311.

PSMA 7313 Resource Development in Nonprofit Organizations
Examines principles, techniques and issues surrounding resource development in nonprofit organizations. Focuses on raising funds from private sources, including individuals, corporations and foundations. Annual funds, capital campaigns and endowment support are among topics covered. The board’s role in resource development, ethical issues and government regulations is discussed.

3 credits

PSMA 7314 Financial Management of Nonprofit Organizations
Addresses particular financial, budgetary and accounting issues in tax-exempt organizations. Assumes some knowledge of finance and budgeting.

3 credits

PSMA 7315 Managing Volunteers in Nonprofit Organizations
Volunteers provide the lifeblood of many nonprofit organizations. Course covers topics of volunteer administration - planning, marketing, recruitment, screening and selection, training, supervision, evaluation and recognition. Understanding legal issues surrounding the use of volunteers and designing effective volunteer policies are also discussed.

3 credits

PSMA 7321 Grantsmanship
Provides students with a comprehensive overview of grants and contracts from the perspective of furthering the mission of the nonprofit or governmental agency. Trends in grantmaking, grantwriting, funding source identification, and relationship development with funders are among the topics covered.

PSMA 7513 Healthcare Management
The role of the contemporary healthcare manager with emphasis on identifying basic managerial skills and knowledge that contributes to effective healthcare administration. Focus is on contemporary knowledge, skills and real-world applications for management of diverse healthcare organizations. Recommended prerequisite: HCAD 7521 or permission of instructor.

3 credits

PSMA 7514 Healthcare Financial Management and Accounting
Designed to enhance both analytical and decision-making skills, this course covers financial accounting as applied to healthcare organizations. Emphasizes tools for analyzing financial statements as well as key management issues (profitability and liquidity) and explores the use of debt as part of financial structure. Prepares students to apply financial management theory and concepts as real-world managers in the health services industry. Prerequisite: HCAD 6005 or permission of instructor.

PSMA 7518 Managing Community Health Systems
Designed to examine the manager’s role, responsibilities and involvement in developing, implementing, and evaluating strategies for community health initiatives. Topics covered include community health assessment techniques, collaboration strategies, and the application of population management models for health promotion. Emphasis on managerial epidemiology (study of distribution and determinants of diseases) and its integration with health systems planning to meet local community needs. Recommended prerequisite: HCAD 7521.

3 credits

PSMA 7521 21st Century Healthcare Systems
Provides a systematic overview of the structures and organizations in U.S. healthcare delivery system with emphasis on interactions of governmental authorities, delivery systems, financing of health care, regulation, competition, organizational innovations in healthcare services and alternate delivery strategies. 2 credits

PSMA 7522 Healthcare Policy
A major overview of current U.S. health policies and their implications with in-depth study of the policy process and analytical approaches to decision making. Special emphasis on the nature and role of healthcare policy studies in decision-making. Also includes an examination of comparative international systems. Prerequisite: HCAD 7521 or permission of instructor. 2 credits

PSMA 7712 Program Evaluation Methods: Outcome Assessment
A review of the approaches to program evaluation focusing on evaluation methodology, design, interpretation and formal report development and presentation. Methods for developing and using standards, indicators and measurements for ascertaining impacts and outcomes will be covered. Provides a special focus on assessing program appropriateness, effectiveness, adequacy, efficiency and cost benefit. Students will be required to complete a program evaluation during the semester. 3 credits

PSMA 7715 Ethics in Public Service
Probes the ethical realities faced by professionals in government, healthcare, religious, educational and other nonprofit organizations. Designed to develop and broaden awareness and appreciation of the power wielded by the public service professional, of the values public service professionals are expected to maintain, and of the ethical dimensions of public service management. The course is geared to developing operational skills for ethical analysis and action. 3 credits

PSMA 8111-8129 Topics in Public Service: Leadership, Governance and Policy
Designed to meet special needs and interests that are not addressed in other courses and in which faculty expertise exists. Topics include information management for public service, sustainable development, grantsmanship, advocacy and legal issues. 3 credits

PSMA 8311-8329 Topics in Nonprofit Management
Selected topics in nonprofit management chosen by the instructor. 3 credits

PSMA 8312 Nonprofit Advocacy and Lobbying
In addition to their role in service delivery to the community, nonprofits serve an important function as advocacy organizations, providing information to policy makers on their particular areas of expertise, lobbying government for change, and providing information on particular policy positions. This course provides students with an overview to the nonprofit functions of advocacy and lobbying, examining ways that nonprofits may and may not become involved in the public policy process. The role of advocacy in advancing issues of democracy and social justice are explored, as well as strategies to build social capital within communities. International case studies of innovative and successful advocacy campaigns will be introduced as examples of advocacy strategies that worked and why. The interdisciplinary curriculum draws on theories from sociology, political science, organization theory and social work. 3 credits

PSMA 8313 Legal Issues in Nonprofit Organizations
This course helps current and future managers of nonprofit organizations understand the legal issues facing them as leaders in the nonprofit sector. Thorough understanding of the legal issues requires not only a firm grasp of the letter and application of the law but also recognition of the context in which the law arose and in which it currently is implemented. This course promotes a deep understanding of nonprofit organizations and their activities and the environments in which they exist, all as illustrated by the ever more complex legal issues that provide the framework within which all nonprofits must operate. 3 credits

PSMA 8317 Nonprofit Marketing and Public Relations
This course examines the special challenges for successful promotion of the nonprofit organization. Integrated marketing communications (public relations, marketing and advertising) will be explored. Emphasis will be on marketing strategies, written tactics, and ways to develop a successful communications program. 3 credits

PSMA 8514 Healthcare Economics
The study and application of economic process and methods pertinent to healthcare managers and policy practitioners. Traditional economic models pertaining to supply and demand, competition, market power, production function and efficiency are applied to the healthcare industry. Case studies reflect recent economic conditions and their application to real world management decisions. Recommended prerequisite: HCAD 7521. 3 credits

PSMA 8517 Strategic Planning and Marketing in Healthcare Organizations
Study of the role, functions and application of strategic planning and marketing in healthcare organizations. Emphasis on the process of strategy assessment, development and implementation and the unique aspects of healthcare services and service design/performance as they interact with marketing plans. Prerequisites: HCAD 6005, 7513, 7521 and 8514 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

PSMA 8518 Legal Aspects of Healthcare Organizations
Overview of legal issues associated with the delivery of healthcare and the legal pitfalls surrounding everyday practice and administration. Explores legal aspects of human resource administration in healthcare, as well as issues of liability and corporate responsibility. Prerequisites: HCAD 7521, 7513 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

PSMA 8521 Quality and Information Management Systems
Overview of quality improvement and information management systems for health care leaders. Quality performance management models, approaches, tools and techniques are presented in the context of organizational culture and leadership. Management techniques applicable to the use of health information systems are discussed along with QI/QM applications and topics – computerized records, order entry systems, and electronic healthcare applications. Reviews current ethical, legal and policy implications and regulations. Recommended prerequisite: HCAD 6002.

PSMA 8523 Ethics in Healthcare Administration
Basis for analyzing medical and healthcare ethics involving clinical practice, legal dimensions, and public policy. Personal, professional, and organizational ethical dilemmas and decision-making responsibilities are discussed in the context of contemporary healthcare factors and environment. 2 credits

PSMA 8531 Emergency Management and Health Security
As health professionals at all levels seek to understand the impact of natural and man-made disasters on health status, best practices for emergency management strategies are emerging. Using an all-hazards approach, this course provides an overview of emergency preparedness and its application to all aspects of a population’s health. Focuses on issues such as bioterrorism, food security, pandemics, and other related topics. Skills necessary for performing risk vulnerability assessments and developing emergency management plans versus traditional operational processes will be covered. Recommended prerequisite: HCAD 7521. 3 credits

PSMA 8711 Leadership Institute
This course provides an opportunity for intensive graduate study by examining the dynamic nature of leadership in the context of modern healthcare organizations. Students learn and apply leadership principles, theories, models and skills to enhance personal capabilities. Addresses ways of managing career decisions under conditions of accelerated change and focuses on the development of servant leadership skills. Prerequisites: HCAD 7513, 7514, 7522, and 8518 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

Applied Research and Practice Experience
Pre-service students are required to take PSMA 7991. Other students are required to take PSMA 7991, PSMA 7992, or PSMA 7993, to be decided in consultation with a faculty adviser.

PSMA 7991 Internship
Designed for pre-service students or for those with fewer than two years of management experience, this course affords students an opportunity to learn management skills through onsite experience. The students must complete a minimum of 300 hours of managerial or administrative work under the tutelage of a public service, nonprofit, arts or healthcare administrator and complete all assignments given by the professor of the seminar associated with the internship. 3 credits

PSMA 7992 Practicum
Consists of a 3-credit, group-consulting project related to an area of public service, nonprofit, arts or healthcare administration or management. The practicum typically requires the writing of a management report and the delivery of an oral presentation for the subject organization. All work is completed under faculty supervision. 3 credits

PSMA 7993 Research Seminar
Designed for students currently working full time on a supervisory or management level in the healthcare, nonprofit, or public sector, as well as in the arts, this course gives each individual the opportunity to design and conduct a research project that focuses on a management or policy problem at his/her place of employment or in the public arena. The student presents methodology, results and recommendations both as a written capstone project and as an oral presentation. Students who have completed all degree requirements except the research seminar (PSMA 7993) must register for Thesis Continuation (THCN 7999) for the first semester subsequent to the research seminar (PSMA 7993) registration, and THCN 8000 from the second subsequent semester until the completion and presentation of the culminating research project. 3 credits

PSMA 7997 Project Completion
This course is an independent study of some aspect of healthcare delivery, administration or policy. With the assistance of the instructor, the topic is of the student’s own choosing. The course provides an excellent opportunity for the student to delve more deeply into an area of healthcare which he or she has not previously studied. The intended result of the project is for the student to make a contribution to his or her organization or profession. 3 credits

PSMA/HCAD 7513 Healthcare Management
This course studies the role of the contemporary healthcare manager with emphasis on identifying basic managerial skills and knowledge that contributes to effective healthcare administration. Course materials focus on contemporary knowledge, skills and real-world applications for management of diverse healthcare organizations. Prerequisite: HCAD 7521 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

PSMA/HCAD 7514 Healthcare Financial Management and Accounting
Designed to enhance both analytical and decision-making skills, this course covers financial accounting as applied to healthcare organizations. Emphasizes tools for analyzing financial statements as well as key management issues (profitability and liquidity) and explores the use of debt as part of financial structure. Prepares students to apply financial management theory and concepts as real-world managers in the health services industry. Prerequisite: HCAD 6005 or permission of instructor. 3 credits
PSMA/HCAD 7518 Managing Community Health Systems
Designed to examine the manager’s role, responsibilities and involvement in developing, implementing, and evaluating strategies for community health initiatives. Topics covered include community health assessment techniques, collaboration strategies, and the application of population management models for health promotion. Emphasis on managerial epidemiology (study of distribution and determinants of diseases) and its integration with health systems planning to meet local community needs. Prerequisite: HCAD 7521 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

PSMA/HCAD 7521 21st Century Healthcare Systems
Provides a systematic overview of the structures and organizations in US healthcare delivery systems with emphasis on interactions of governmental policy, authorities, delivery systems, financing of health care, regulation, competition, organizational innovations in healthcare services and alternate delivery strategies. Also examines stakeholder interests. 2 credits

PSMA/HCAD 7522 Healthcare Policy
A major overview of current U.S. health policies and their implications with in-depth study of the policy process and analytical approaches to decision making. Special emphasis on the nature and role of healthcare policy studies in decision-making. Also includes an examination of comparative international systems. Prerequisite: HCAD 7521 or permission of instructor. 2 credits

PSMA/HCAD 8514 Healthcare Economics
The study and application of economic process and methods pertinent to healthcare managers and policy practitioners. Traditional economic models pertaining to supply and demand, competition, market power, production function and efficiency are applied to the healthcare industry. Case studies reflect recent economic conditions and their application to real world management decisions. Prerequisite: HCAD 7521 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

PSMA/HCAD 8517 Strategic Planning and Marketing in Healthcare Organizations
Study of the role, functions and application of strategic planning and marketing in healthcare organizations. Emphasis on the process of strategy assessment, development, and implementation and the unique aspects of healthcare services and service design/performance as they interact with marketing plans. Prerequisites: HCAD 6005, 7513, 7521, and 8514 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

PSMA/HCAD 8518 Legal Aspects of Healthcare Organizations
Overview of legal issues associated with the delivery of healthcare and the legal pitfalls surrounding everyday practice and administration. Additionally, explores legal aspects of human resource administration in health care, as well as issues of liability and corporate responsibility. Prerequisites: HCAD 7521, 7513 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

PSMA/HCAD 8521 Quality and Information Management Systems
This course provides an overview of quality improvement and information management systems for health care leaders. Quality performance management models, approaches, tools, and techniques are presented in the context of organizational culture and leadership. Management techniques applicable to the use of health information systems are discussed along with QI/QM applications and topics - computerized records, order entry systems, and electronic health care applications. Reviews current ethical, legal and policy implications and regulations. Prerequisite: HCAD 6002 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

PSMA/HCAD 8523 Ethics in Healthcare Administration
This course offers students a basis for analyzing medical and healthcare ethics involving clinical practice, legal dimensions, and public policy. Personal, professional, and organizational ethical dilemmas and decision-making responsibilities are discussed in the context of contemporary healthcare factors and environment. 2 credits

PSMA/HCAD 8531 Emergency Management and Health Security
As health professionals at all levels seek to understand the impact of natural and man-made disasters on health status, best practices for emergency management strategies are emerging. Using an all-hazards approach, this course provides an overview of emergency preparedness and its application to all aspects of a population’s health. Focuses on issues such as bioterrorism, food security, pandemics, and other related topics. Skills necessary for performing risk vulnerability assessments, developing emergency management plans, and crisis versus traditional operational processes will be covered. Prerequisite: HCAD 7521 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

PSMA/HCAD 8711 Leadership Institute
This course provides an opportunity for intensive graduate study by examining the dynamic nature of leadership in the context of modern healthcare organizations. Students learn and apply leadership principles, theories, models and skills to enhance personal capabilities. Addresses ways of managing career decisions under conditions of accelerated change and focuses on the development of servant leadership skills. Prerequisites: HCAD 7513, 7514, 7522, and 8518 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

Programs of Study
The Department of Psychology offers the Master of Science (M.S.) in Experimental Psychology (with an optional concentration in Behavioral Neuroscience). The program is designed to train students in the scientific methods of psychology in preparation for involvement in basic research and teaching, as well as for work in applied settings (e.g. clinical psychology or industrial/organizational psychology). The M.S. degree program is designed specifically for students seeking to gain a solid foundation in empirical research either for eventual entry into Ph.D. programs in scientific psychology or for students desiring to explore the field. Students completing this program will be in a better position to apply for admission to doctoral programs in the field, including experimental psychology and neuroscience as well as doctoral degrees in scientist/practitioner programs in clinical or counseling psychology. Graduates may also go on to related areas of employment such as laboratory assistants, market researchers, science writers and community college instructors.

Admission
Students applying for admission to the M.S. program in Experimental Psychology must choose both a track and a concentration:

tracks:
I. Empirical Research Thesis
II. Non-Thesis/Literature Review

Concentrations:
A. Psychological Science
B. Behavioral Neuroscience

In addition to the general University requirements for admission to graduate studies, the Department of Psychology requires the following of all degree applicants.

- Applicants must have a baccalaureate degree and completed a minimum of 18 credits in psychology with at least a 3.0 (or B) grade point average. All applicants must have completed Introduction to Psychology, Psychological Statistics, and Research Methods. Additionally, it is preferred that applicants considering a concentration in Behavioral Neuroscience have taken Biological Psychology or the equivalent.
- Official transcripts of all previous academic work
- Official scores for the General Aptitude Test of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE).
- International students must submit an acceptable Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) score.
- Three letters of recommendation from individuals familiar with the applicant’s academic and research ability.
- A personal statement of 300-400 words outlining your academic achievements, research interests, and career goals.

Master of Science Degree in Experimental Psychology: Thesis Track
12 courses (36 total credits)
Students must select a concentration:
A. Psychological Science, or
B. Behavioral Neuroscience

In general, each concentration consists of the following requirements:

A. Psychological Science, General (without a concentration) - Students must consult with adviser for guidance on elective course selections.
Two General Experimental Required Courses
Four semesters of Independent Research
( Includes a Research Thesis)
Six Core Courses

B. Behavioral Neuroscience (BNS) Concentration
Two General Experimental Required Courses
Four Semesters of Independent Research
(Includes a Research Thesis)
Six Required Core Electives (indicated with * below)

B.A. Psychology/M.S. Experimental Psychology (3+2) Dual Degree Program
The Department of Psychology offers a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology (B.A.) and a Master of Science in Experimental Psychology (M.S.). This five-year program permits undergraduate students to take two required 3-credit courses (Research Design and Analysis I, Independent Research I) and two 3-credit electives from the graduate program in the experimental psychology curriculum during their senior year. The 12 graduate credits earned would count toward the completion of the bachelor’s degree. Students will take 24 graduate credits in the 5th year and Summers, preferably 9 credits during the Fall and Spring semesters and 3 elective credits in the Summers before and after the fifth year. Satisfactory performance in these remaining 24 credits of graduate-level coursework as well as an empirical thesis project completed in the 5th year would earn students an M.S. degree in Experimental Psychology.

As part of the coursework in the M.S. Experimental Psychology program, students have the option of focusing their electives on a Behavioral Neuroscience or a Psychological Science (general) concentration. The Behavioral Neuroscience concentration requires courses and research experiences that are most directly relevant to behavioral studies of brain functioning.

Either concentration in experimental psychology would well prepare students for a broad range of career possibilities. The program is designed to train students in the scientific methods of psychology in preparation for involvement in basic research and teaching, as well as for work in applied settings (e.g., clinical psychology or industrial/organizational psychology). The M.S. degree program is designed specifically for students seeking to gain a solid foundation in empirical research for eventual entry into doctoral programs in scientist/practitioner programs in clinical or counseling psychology, as well as doctoral programs in a number of experimental science fields such as cognitive, developmental, social, or biological psychology and neuroscience. Graduates may also go on to related areas of employment such as laboratory assistants, market researchers, science writers and community college teaching.

Students may apply for the B.A./M.S. option during their junior year (second semester). For more information and course advisement, please contact the Director of Graduate Studies in the Department of Psychology.

Requirements for Program Admission:
- Have senior status (90 credits) by the time courses begin (apply in the second semester of junior year)
- Submit College of Arts and Sciences graduate application (available online)
- Overall undergraduate GPA of 3.0 or higher; Psychology GPA of 3.2 or higher
- Letter of recommendation from major adviser
- Personal Statement

Note: The GRE is waived for psychology majors applying to this program.

B.A. Psychology/M.A.E. Psychological Studies (3+2) Program with the College of Education and Human Services

The Departments of Psychology (College of Arts and Sciences) and Professional Psychology and Family Therapy (College of Education and Human Services) offer a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology (B.A.) and Master of Arts in Education (M.A.E.). This five-year program permits students to take four required courses from the graduate Psychological Studies program during their senior year. The 12 graduate credits earned count toward the completion of the bachelor’s degree. Satisfactory completion of the M.A.E. program would enable entry into one of the Professional Psychology and Family Therapy (PPFT) Ed.S. practitioner programs in School Psychology, Mental Health Counseling, or Marriage and Family Therapy. Selection of graduate electives should be done in consultation with the PPFT graduate program adviser and/or Dr. Sandra Lee, Program Director.

Requirements for Admission to the B.A./M.A.E. Program:

• Have senior status (90 credits) by the time courses begin (apply in the second semester of junior year)
• Submit College of Education and Human Services graduate application (available online)
• Overall undergraduate GPA of 3.0 or higher; Psychology GPA of 3.2 or higher
• Letter of recommendation from major adviser

Course Descriptions

Course descriptions for all CPSY courses can be found under the Department of Professional Psychology and Family Therapy in the College of Education and Human Services section of this catalogue.

PSYC 6100 Research Design and Analysis I
This first of two courses in research design and analysis. Students will develop an understanding of basic statistical theory and research design with special emphasis on research designs that use analysis of variance (NOVA) and relate analysis. Students will learn to choose the appropriate statistical techniques for a range of situations, and compute the statistics both by hand and with standard statistical software packages. 3 credits

PSYC 6200 Research Design and Analysis II
The second of two courses in research design and analysis. This course introduces students to basic behavioral science research in psychology, with special emphasis on research designs that use various types of regression analyses. The course will help students read, understand, and interpret published literature as well as translate their ideas into practical research designs. Prerequisite: PSYC 6100. 3 credits
PSYC 7101 Conditioning and Behavior
The primary research literature will be read to investigate traditional and contemporary views of conditioning. Emphasis is placed on how classical and instrumental conditioning procedures are used to examine how animals and humans learn, process, and remember information. How experience interacts with pre-organized, elicited behaviors will also be considered. 3 credits

PSYC 7102 Cognition
The main theoretical models that explain how the mind works will be discussed and reviewed in light of the supporting/disconfirming data. The models discussed are the product of the interaction and integration of several areas of investigation: experimental psychology, neuropsychology, computer science, neurobiology and philosophy. The specific contribution of each area will be discussed. Also, some of the most recent studies on memory will be the topic of in-depth examination and discussion. Some of the most recent studies on memory will be the topic of in-depth examination and discussion. 3 credits

PSYC 7103 Perception
Covers the major theoretical perspectives on perception, particularly the dispute over the adequacy or inadequacy of physical information for perception, and how learning, genetic factors, biological and neural factors, and physical dynamics also provide constraints on ultimate perception. Philosophical issues, and cases and implications of impaired perception are also considered. 3 credits

PSYC 7104 Psychopharmacology
A comprehensive examination of the mechanisms by which drugs interact with the brain and behavior, with emphasis on the role of neurotransmitters systems. 3 credits

PSYC 7111 Independent Laboratory Research I
Hands-on experience working on empirical research in the laboratory of a faculty member. May perform multiple tasks such as guiding human participants through an experiment, coding data, working in an animal laboratory and/or assisting in administrative tasks. Can be taken once under each course number. 3 credits

PSYC 7112 Independent Laboratory Research II
Hands-on experience working on empirical research in the laboratory of a faculty member. May perform multiple tasks such as guiding human participants through an experiment, coding data, working in an animal laboratory and/or assisting in administrative tasks. Can be taken once under each course number. 3 credits scientific skills within a domain of experimental psychology. In order to receive credit for this course, students must obtain an acceptable grade from an adviser. Students should be prepared to revise and resubmit papers based on feedback from the adviser. Prerequisite: GMHS 7503, GMHS 7507 or ENGL 6414. 3 credits

The Department of Religion awards the Master of Arts degree (36 credits) and graduate certificate (12 credits) in Jewish-Christian Studies. The curriculum covers all aspects of the relationship between Jews and Christians - their respective values and traditions. Studies build critical academic bases for understanding Christians and Jews historically and phenomenologically. A Jewish-Christian critical awareness will equip graduates for many facets of interreligious and multicultural encounters.

Courses are rooted in the study of sacred texts in their historical and socio-religious world context, utilizing critical methods to promote an honest and in depth analysis of the individuals and communities that produced them. Courses examine the religious, ethical and social issues that are central for understanding Christians and Jews today through cross-cultural and phenomenological studies and dynamic analysis.

The program is ideally suited for teachers in public, private and parochial schools; education and ecumenical administrators; clergy and seminarians; as well as generalists who seek the means to explore Jewish and Christian studies. The Foundation for Judaeo-Christian Studies

The Foundation for Judaeo-Christian Studies has supported the Master of Arts program in Jewish-Christian Studies since its inception in 1975. In addition to support for the administrative services of the program and an endowment for Walsh Library to purchase educational materials in the field, the Foundation sponsors the H. Suzanne Jobert Scholarship Fund which offers full or partial tuition assistance for matriculated students. Applications may be made to the program director. In addition to a commitment to complete the M.A. program and demonstrated financial need, the student should present an essay explaining how his or her participation in this program will lead to some contribution toward understanding and amity between Christians and Jews. Because funding is limited, the three criteria for acceptance are evaluated carefully by the scholarship committee.

The Sister Rose Thering Fund for Education in Jewish-Christian Studies

The Sister Rose Thering Fund for Education in Jewish-Christian Studies, established in 1993 in honor of Sister Rose’s work as an educator and advocate for improving relations between Christians and Jews, provides scholarships for teachers who want to learn more about promoting interreligious understanding and cooperation through education. Scholarships are available to teachers who wish to enroll as non-matriculated students and take up to 12 credits to receive a certificate of completion.

Please contact the Fund Office at (973) 761-9006 or marilyn.zirl@shu.edu for a scholarship application. Information can also be found at www.shu.edu/go/srte

Cooperman/Ross Endowed Chair of Jewish-Christian Studies

The Cooperman/Ross Endowed Chair of Jewish-Christian Studies in honor of Sister Rose Thering was created in 2007. The endowed chair allows the Department of Religion to increase its course offerings in the modern period of Jewish history and Jewish-Christian relations. It is held by Rabbi Alan Brill, Ph.D.

Admission

In addition to the general University requirements for admission, the department strongly recommends an interview or suitable correspondence with the department chair to determine the objectives of the student in relation to the resources of the department.

Students working for a degree normally gain an elementary knowledge of Hebrew early in the program, allowing them to enter the Hebrew mind-set of the writers.

With the approval of the department chair, professional, graduate and sufficiently advanced undergraduate students may take individual courses without fulfilling the above requirements. Participating auditors will be accepted for most courses.

Degree Requirements

For the Master of Arts degree in Jewish-Christian Studies, the department requires a selection from either of two programs of study in consultation with an adviser.

Required Course - 3 credits

JCST 6001 Christian Jewish Encounter
Thesis Program
Students in the thesis program are expected to complete 27 credits offered by the Department of Religion and 6 credits in the reading of Hebrew texts. Approval of the adviser must be obtained for all courses chosen. Three credits must be completed in JCST 9001 Thesis (with the topic approved by the Thesis Committee). The thesis must make a contribution to continuing research in some aspect of Jewish-Christian studies.

After consultation with the faculty, students with a strong background in research may choose to do a more extensive investigation of an approved topic and produce a thesis for 6 credits (JCST 9002).

Non-Thesis Program
Students in the non-thesis program will complete 36 credits in Jewish-Christian studies, selecting courses with the approval of the departmental adviser. Students must demonstrate a basic knowledge of biblical Hebrew.

Certificate in Jewish-Christian Studies

Course Descriptions

Jewish-Christian Studies

JCST 6001 Christian-Jewish Encounter
Historical review of Christian origins and Jewish-Christian relations. Heritage of Christian faith and practice draws upon Jewish sources. The Vatican II Declaration on Non-Christian Religions and other pertinent documents. Tasks and challenges for the coming decades. 3 credits

JCST 6005-6006 Biblical Readings in Hebrew Bible I and II
Complementing JCST 6010, selections from prose and poetry of the Hebrew Scriptures are studied grammatically, with an emphasis on their literary, historical and theological content. Examinations of the Hebrew world of thought as a vehicle for faith-expression. 2 credits each

JCST 6007 Readings in Qumran Literature
Investigation of the major Hebrew texts peculiar to the Qumran community. Comparison with the grammar and vocabulary of the Biblical period. Implications of these works for contemporary Jewish history and theology. 2 credits

JCST 6008 Rabbinic Readings in Hebrew
Readings may be coordinated with JCST 6012 and JCST 7044. Examples of Mishnah, prayer and Midrashim to distinguish between Biblical and Mishnaic Hebrew. 2 credits

JCST 6010 Biblical Thought I: The Hebrew Scriptures
Course in three main parts: Hebrew thought contrasted with myths of the ancient Middle East, evaluating the basic themes and their presentation; the experience, nature and message of Hebrew prophecy; comparative study of Old Testament theology, analyzing the models and experiential hermeneutics of Judaism and Christianity. 3 credits

JCST 6011 Biblical Thought II: Paul and John
Early Christian understanding of the mystery of God’s life as shared with the people He has chosen. Integration of election, covenant and Torah into new perspectives. Use of the Hebrew Bible and the Jewish liturgy by the writers in their reflection on the person of Jesus and the nature of the Church. Letters of Paul and the Gospel according to John studied in detail. 3 credits

JCST 6012 The Jewish Texture of the Gospels
Gospels studied redactionally, preserving an ongoing interpretation of the works and words of Jesus in light of the early Christian experience. Detailed account of the Jewish socioreligious background for a better understanding of both the Gospels and the Jesus tradition. Distortions and misconceptions persist due to a lack of phenomenological understanding of this crucial period. Course develops a new direction. 3 credits

JCST 6013 Hebrews and Catholic Epistles
The investigation of New Testament texts, the Epistle to the Hebrews and the seven Catholic (general) Epistles, explores early Christian understanding of the faith in Jesus and moral life and its relation to the Jewish Scriptures and the Jewish people. 3 credits

JCST 6014 Lessons from the Holocaust
Personal and societal impact of prejudice and hatred; exclusionary and destructive societal practices relating to race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, ethnicity and political views; institutionalized anti-Semitism in Germany under the Nazis; social world conditions that minimize personal freedoms and lead to genocidal behavior; probing alternative educational models. 3 credits

JCST 6015 Cross-Cultural Analysis for Jewish-Christian Studies
Examination of social science models for studying the circum-Mediterranean world as the context for Jewish/Christian symbols and values; comparative study of Jews and Christians as distinct but related traditions in various social world contexts; the causes and effects of anti-Semitism; impact of individualism on Judaism and Christianity in a pluralistic society. 3 credits

JCST 6016 Values for a Pluralistic Society
A study of pluralism as a system along with its concomitant social values: civil rights and responsibilities, individualism and diversity, separation of church and state, community building and prejudice reduction. Deriving resources from a cross-cultural study of Jewish and Christian sources, the course will examine various societal models for valuesformation and practical guides for communicating values in a pluralistic socio-religious setting. 3 credits
JCST 6017 Jewish and Christian Foundations for Social Service
This course will examine the biblical and theological foundations in Judaism and Christianity for promoting social services. It will study notable examples of such services through history and explore various agencies today that continue this tradition. The focus of the course will be on an understanding of the rationale as well as a motivational base for responding to social needs. The course is particularly suited to teachers seeking to foster social consciousness among students in public, private and parochial schools. 3 credits

JCST 6020 Jewish History I: Bible to Talmud
Survey of the dispersion of the Hebrew people in the circum-Mediterranean world during the Second Temple period to the formation of the rabbinic canon; contextual reading of relevant ancient texts; examination of sects and factions within the House of Israel; the influences of Hellenism and Rome; effects of the break-off of Christianity; diversity among Jewish communities. 3 credits

JCST 6021 Jewish History II: Medieval to Modern
Investigation of selected post-Talmudic developments and variations within Judaism: the Jews in Muslim lands; political and economic circumstances of Jews in Medieval, Renaissance and Enlightenment Europe; the rise of Hasidism and Zionism in Eastern Europe; the Holocaust; the State of Israel; Jews in pluralistic America. 3 credits

JCST 6022 Judaism in the Second Temple Period
Development of Jewish spirituality and theology from 300 B.C.E. until the destruction of Jerusalem. Various interpretations of the Hebrew Scriptures. Deuterocanonical (apocryphal), pseudepigraphical works and Qumran scrolls assessed for their contribution to Judaism of the time. 3 credits

JCST 6024 Medieval Jewish Thinkers
Review of Jewish religious philosophy, beginning with Philo and the rabbis and continued with the appearance of the major medieval works. Comparative study with neo-Platonism, Aristotelianism and Kalam. Contribution of Jewish thinkers like Saadiah Gaon, Bahya Ibn Paquda, Judah Halevi, Abraham Ibn Daud and Moses ben Maimon. 3 credits

JCST 6027 The Middle East in the 20th Century
Historical development of the Zionist movement from the late 19th century through the period of the Mandate and the establishment of the state of Israel. Conflict between Zionist movement and Arab nationalism. Post-1948 internal and external problems of Israel within the context of continuing hostilities with its Arab neighbors and the Palestinians. The peace process and the future development. 3 credits

JCST 6028 Modern Jewish Thinkers
Evaluates the works of Moses Mendelssohn, Samson Raphael Hirsch, Hermann Cohen, Leo Baeck, Franz Rosenzweig, Martin Buber, Achad Haam, Aaron David Gordon, Abraham Isaac Kook, Kaufman Kohler, Mordecai Kaplan, Abraham J. Heschel, Joseph Soloveitchik. 3 credits

JCST 6029 The Holocaust: History and Interpretation

JCST 7030 Law and Ethics: Jewish and Christian Perspectives
Covenant and Torah in ancient Israel; Law and ethics in the wisdom tradition; Torah and commandments in the literature of the Second Temple period. Sadducees and the Qumran community; the Pharisaic teaching concerning written and oral Torah. Approaches of the New Testament writers and the Rabbis to Covenant, law and ethics. Great legal codes of Medieval Jewry; canon law; law versus Gospel in Luther’s thought; Calvin’s reverence for law. Ethics concerning the family and sanctity of life in modern thought. Structures in society as opposed to nihilism and terrorism. 3 credits

JCST 7031 Jewish Mysticism
Course traces the major themes of the Jewish mystical tradition from Biblical through Rabbinic, Kabbalistic and Hasidic epochs, using translations of classical sources. Approach is both phenomenological and historic, with comparison between Jewish mystical thought and other mystical systems explored. 3 credits

JCST 7033 Biblical and Jewish Eschatology
Development of Hebraic thought concerning immortality and resurrection. Background of the early apocalyptic thought and hope expression. Models for community life and morality inspired by belief in the afterlife. Use of biblical ideas (Kingdom of God, new creation, retribution) in the Jewish and Christian liturgies. Modern views on the meaning of life and the eternal destiny of human beings. 3 credits

JCST 7034 Biblical Interpretation and the Religious Experience
Explores the modes of interpretation as related to religious experience through a study of the phenomena and the literary expression, paradigms and models, symbols and myth. Relates the biblical tradition as canonical scriptures for a worshipping community to the ongoing dialogue with the word of God in Midrash and Targum. Structure and meaning, guiding principles and hermeneutical systems; the dynamics of interpretation in ever-changing times. 3 credits

JCST 7035 Jewish Philosophy of Education
Important contributions of Jews to every area of western culture, studied in the context of the integrated approach to education from the biblical and Rabbinic periods. Themes in ancient literature followed into medieval and modern times as related to philosophy and practice. 3 credits
JCST 7036 Peace and War in Bible and Jewish Tradition
Review of biblical tradition (including New Testament) and rabbinic literature (such as Pereq Hashalom) on the dynamic meaning and application of peace in the transpersonal and interpersonal realms. Study of war and violence and the vision of universal peace in Jewish thought, from early times to the modern period. 3 credits

JCST 7037 Jewish Law
This course presents a tripartite review of the Rabbinic tradition and the legal sources, its history and development, conceptual dynamics as related to value system and comparative law. The course focuses on the relationship of law and ethics, of biblical codes and rabbinic works, of decision making with a view on contemporary issues. 3 credits

JCST 7038 Bible and Masorah
This course investigates how the biblical text was prepared by scribes from earliest times. There will be a comparison with the Qumran (Dead Sea) scrolls and other sources of the first century C.E. Careful attention to its Hebrew form will be accompanied by study of the translations into Aramaic and Greek. 3 credits

JCST 7041 Jewish Roots of Christian Spirituality
Christian faith and prayer (liturgical and personal) is rooted in the biblical heritage as experienced by the Jewish community. The challenge of early Christian adaptation to cultures of the Mediterranean and north Europe forms a background to a discussion of inculturation of liturgy of the Sacraments in modern society. 3 credits

JCST 7042 Dead Sea Scrolls and Variegated Judaism
Review of the latest scholarship and recent findings, especially the Dead Sea Scrolls, in relation to the critical period for the rise of Early Christianity and Rabbinic Judaism. Special attention to the variegated expressions of the biblical heritage, leading to uniformity, heretical tendencies and distinct forms. 3 credits

JCST 7043 Jewish and Early Christian Prayer
Jewish prayer and worship in their intrinsic worth and as matrix of the Christian liturgy. Structure and meaning of the early tradition of prayer with reference to Temple, synagogue and home, as well as to calendar and celebration. Particular attention to early Christian prayers and symbols. 3 credits

JCST 7044 Rabbinic Thought
Introduction to criticisms, structure and literary history of rabbinic material. Evaluation of the legal and value concepts of the rabbinic mind in light of various examples of the tradition. Current developments in the study of rabbinic Judaism. 3 credits

JCST 7045 Jerusalem’s Fall: Jewish and Christian Interpretations
Themes of land, Jerusalem and Temple as related to God and His people in the Hebrew Bible as part of both Jewish and Christian thought. Assesses the interpretative development of the destruction of Jerusalem and the Temple through the different strata of early tradition, focusing on specific prophetic motifs for evaluating the issue of theodicy. 3 credits

JCST 7046 Teachings of Jesus
Critical and exegetical introduction to selected texts and themes illustrating the principal characteristics of the teachings of Jesus. Explanation of their significance in the Jewish context of that time and their impact on the disciples and the early Church, with a view of the socioreligious and experiential settings. 3 credits

JCST 7047 Philosphic Perspectives on the Shoah
This course seeks to engage students in a critical consideration of the moral, religious and theological implications of the Holocaust. This course will start with the classic positions of Fackenheim, Greenberg, Berkovits, and Rubenstein. It will then move to the thought of the last two decades, incorporating both Jewish and Christian thinking, including: Levinas, Hauerwas, Tracy, and Jonas. We also look at a variety of contemporary religious positions. Topics covered will include challenges to religion, lessons for preventing future genocide, and possibility of forgiveness, the need for ethics and bioethics. 3 credits

3 credits

JCST 7520, 7525 Independent Study

We will look at both traditional religious sources and contemporary discussions on women and gender from a variety of perspectives, including Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism. 3 credits
Interdisciplinary Programs

Data Visualization and Analysis Certificate Program
Science and Technology Center (McNulty Hall) Room 116 (973) 761-9466, dava@shu.edu
Director: Manfred Minimair, Department of Mathematics and Computer Science

The program is offered by the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science and the Department of Psychology. This pioneering program identifies the skills and knowledge that information workers need to succeed. It trains students to communicate information clearly and effectively through graphic depictions that stimulate and encourage viewer engagement. The students learn how to analyze and portray complex data in an attractive and vivid design format. The students practice preparing real-world data for storing in databases, analyzing data with statistics and machine-learning tools, and using visualization in order to study data and present findings.

Prerequisites
- PSYC 1101 Introduction to Psychology (minimum grade of C-), or equivalent
- Minimum undergraduate GPA: 2.75
- Graduate admission to Seton Hall University

Curriculum
The certificate is earned by completing 15 course credits and an additional 3-credit internship, for a total of 18 credits.

Data Visualization and Cognition (6 credits)
DAVA 7000 Data Visualization
PSYC 7214 Cognition for Visualization

Data Analytics (6 credits)
DAVA 6010 Data Mining
PSMA 6002 Research Methods and Statistical Analysis (or CHEM 6212, GMHS 7500 and 7508, PSYC 6100 and 6200 for majors with these courses)

Practical Experience (3 credits)
DAVA 8011 Intern in Visual Analytics or
DAVA 8021 Project in Visual Analytics

Elective (choose one of the following 3-credit courses)
COGR 6323 Presentation Graphics
COST 7220 Effective Presentations

Course Descriptions
DAVA 6010 Data Mining
This course introduces the foundations of applied data mining. There is a need for extracting useful information from raw data in fields such as social and health sciences, business, the natural sciences and engineering. This course covers the fundamental ideas and algorithms of data mining. Furthermore, it teaches applying data mining techniques in order to extract useful information from data. Standard software for data mining will be used. The course is intended for any student desiring an introduction to data mining. Prerequisites: B.A. or B.S. undergraduate degree with GPA of at least 2.75. 3 credits

DAVA 7000 Data Visualization
Visualization is crucial for understanding complex information and for enabling humans to act on information appropriately. For example, visualization is used in many application areas such as social and health sciences, business, the natural sciences and engineering. This course introduces the foundations of information visualization rooted in cognitive psychology and perception. This course also teaches retrieving information from data sources, such as data bases and the internet, preparing data for processing, as well as creating and presenting information visualizations using standard software. 3 credits

DAVA 8011 Intern in Visual Analytics
This course provides credit for students participating in an internship experience through the Career Center. As part of the requirements, students are required to give a presentation about their experience in the departmental seminar. Students interested in the internship experience are required to consult the departmental internship adviser. Prerequisites: DAVA 7000 and PSYC 7214 with an average 2.5 GPA on each. DAVA 6010, and PSMA 6002 (or equivalent) are co-requisites. 3 credits

DAVA 8021 Project in Visual Analytics
Students participate in a project in visualization and data analysis under the guidance of a faculty member in the Departments of Mathematics and Computer Science. The topic of the project is closely integrated with the learning experience in the prerequisite course on visualization and in the co-requisite courses on data mining and on statistics. The topic is chosen in consultation with faculty guiding the project. Prerequisites: DAVA 7000 and PSYC 7214 with an average 2.5 GPA on each. DAVA 6010, and PSMA 6002 (or equivalent) are corequisites. 3 credits
Multidisciplinary Certificate in Gerontology
Fahy Hall
(973) 761-9471

Faculty: Arancibia; Blake; Bunnage; Corrigan; Heer; Quartaro (Coordinator)

This concentration of study is designed for those who wish to understand and advance the quality of life of older persons. Although most courses are offered at the baccalaureate level, the certificate program is open to post-baccalaureate students. More information about this certificate can be found in the undergraduate catalogue. Interested students may also contact the gerontology coordinator, Dr. Emma Quartaro, D.S.W., at (973) 761-9471 or emma.quartaro@shu.edu

Course Descriptions
These courses may be used as electives in various graduate degree programs.

SOWK 6411 Children and Society
Overview of principal supportive, supplementary and substitutive child and youth welfare services: family and child guidance, social insurance, public assistance, education and employment, day care, protective services, adoption, institutional care and advocacy. 3 credits

SOWK 6435 Family Violence
Examines the causes, manifestations, preventive strategies, and interventions applicable to the inappropriate use of force between and among persons known to each other, including acquaintance rape; spouse battering; child, adolescent and elder abuse. 3 credits

SOWK 6911 Introduction to Gerontology
Overview and critical analysis of the basic facts about aging including demography, biology, psychology, sociology and policy analysis with emphasis on applied aspects of gerontology for advanced students and practitioners in the field. 3 credits

SOWK 6912 Psychosocial Aspects of Aging
Critical analysis of the person/situation of older adults focusing on factors contributing to behavioral stability and change over time. Includes age-relevant aspects of personality theory (ego psychology) and general systems analysis within the ecological perspective (life model) of direct service practice. 3 credits

Mission Statement

The mission of the Stillman School of Business is to enrich each student’s life through an ethics-centered education focusing on transforming concepts into business practice.

Seton Hall University’s Stillman School of Business, established in 1950, provides professional education geared toward the complex practical needs of business leaders. The Stillman School maintains professional accreditation from the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business International (AACSB). Seton Hall was the first private university in the state of New Jersey to have earned this distinction, which recognizes that its business programs meet the highest academic and professional standards.

The Stillman School offers a Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.), as well as Master of Science (M.S.) degrees in Accounting and Professional Accounting.

Joint degree offerings include the B.A. or B.S./M.B.A. (for both business and non-business majors), M.B.A./J.D., M.B.A./M.A.D.I.R., and M.B.A./M.S.N. in Health Systems Administration. Accounting students in the Stillman School’s B.S. in Business Administration program are eligible to apply to the combined B.S./M.S. in Professional Accounting program.

The school offers certificates in several business discipline areas (Certificates of Advanced Study). These include the Certificate in Entrepreneurial Studies, the Certificate in Graduate Business, and the Certificate in Graduate Taxation. Undergraduate degree programs also are available. Seton Hall graduate students in most University programs can earn a Certificate in International Business.

To support and enhance its academic programs, the Stillman School has established the Division of Research and Teaching, the Center for Sport Management, the Institute for International Business, the Market Research Center, and the Center for Entrepreneurial Studies.

The University’s Teaching Learning and Technology Center (TLTC), encourages and supports information technology literacy and application, and provides technology support services. All business students should maintain Seton Hall University e-mail accounts in order to keep abreast of current University activities.

The Market Research Center provides a hands-on learning environment and programs for students to gain practical market research skills and experience. At the Center, students, faculty, and business clients partner together on customized market research projects across a variety of industries.

Located on the 6th floor of Jubilee Hall, the Center features state-of-the-art facilities including an interview/conference center, observation room, and audio-visual recording equipment. Students learn transferable market research skills with the opportunity to conduct interviews, moderate focus groups, create web-based surveys, uncover insights and develop actionable solutions for real business clients.

For more information, for both students wishing to learn more about the Market Research Center or the Market Research Certificate, and businesses interested in learning more about partnering with the Market Research Center, please visit our website or contact us directly at (973) 275-6489.

Micah Center for Business Ethics
Amoroso (Director)

The Micah Center for Business Ethics seeks to engage and support the development of Stillman School faculty and assist them with incorporating consideration of ethical behaviors and decision making into the curricula of business courses, all within the context of the Catholic social tradition and the Catholic mission of Seton Hall. Though business creativity and innovation, we seek to address the human problem of making the world a better place to live and an even better place to bring up future generations.

Graduate Business Programs

General Academic and Professional Objectives
Organizational success depends upon people who deeply understand current practices and interdisciplinary business issues and possess strong leadership, management, decision-making and communication skills.

The Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.) and Master of Science (M.S.) programs serve the needs of their respective constituencies in a variety of ways. Both the M.B.A. and M.S. degrees incorporate practical responses to the rapidly changing business environment including, but not limited to, the effects of technology, diversity and globalization. The M.B.A. provides the comprehensive and broad-based management skills and knowledge required of today’s business leaders in all fields. Each M.S. program focuses on one specific field, providing managers with updated skills and information in their respective areas.

Convenience of Graduate Course Offerings
Coursework in the M.B.A. and M.S. programs is geared in content and format to professionals employed full-time. Most upper-level classes meet one evening per week starting at 6:15 p.m. or 8:35 p.m. For added convenience, students can usually take two courses (or a 4-6 credit module) back-to-back in one evening, thereby accelerating degree completion.

Graduate Business Program Admission Requirements
Although graduate applications are considered on a rolling basis, the 2012-13 priority application deadlines are May 31 (Fall), October 31 (Spring) and March 31 (Summer). Admission is selective. Applicants must hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university. The Stillman School welcomes applicants from business and non-business undergraduate majors.

While all requests will be considered based on individual merit, a minimum GPA of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale) and a minimum GMAT score of 500 (or equivalent GRE results) are required. The Graduate Admissions Committee of the Stillman School reviews all of the following submitted evidence of relevant professional and academic potential:

- work experience and credentials;
- personal statement;
- grade point averages;
- letter of professional or academic recommendation (three letters required for sport management applicants); and
- scores on the GMAT/GRE.

Students who have satisfied the following criteria may be waived from taking the GMAT/GRE per a written request to the Director of Graduate Admissions:

- Applicants who hold a D.C., D.D.S., D.V.M., J.D., M.D., Pharm.D or Ph.D. degree;
- Applicants who hold a previous M.B.A. degree from an AACSB-accredited institution;
- Applicants who hold an M.S. in a business-related field with five or more years of work experience;
- M.B.A. applicants who satisfy the criteria for “Alternate Route” admission (senior managers who have at least 5 years of strong full-time work experience);
- M.S. Accounting applicants who satisfy the criteria for “Alternate Route” admissions;
- M.S. Professional Accounting applicants who have passed the Uniform CPA Examination;

M.S. Professional Accounting applicants with a GPA in accounting concentration courses of 3.5 or higher (The GPA computation must be based on at least four concentration courses, including Intermediate Accounting I and II - BACC 3110 and 3111, or equivalent - earned at an AACSB-accredited school.); and

M.B.A. applicants who have successfully completed all parts of the Uniform CPA Examination or Level III of the CFA Exam.

You can find information pertaining to GMAT dates and locations at www.gmat.com. Another excellent source for that information (and taking “practice tests”) is www.mba.com

Graduate Business Program Application Procedure
The Stillman School utilizes a self-managed application packet that affords the student the opportunity to send all the required materials together, or individually as they are acquired. We encourage you to apply online. Our online application system allows you to upload your résumé and personal statements with your electronic application. We must receive the following before formally reviewing your application:

- Stillman School application form;
- official transcript from each college and university attended for credit toward all previous degrees (including Seton Hall);
- official GMAT score (or GRE results);
- official TOEFL score or IELTS international applicants only;
- written 250-500 word personal statement;
- résumé;
- one professional or academic recommendation (three for sport management applicants);
- copies of relevant professional certificates and licenses;
- full application fee, either by credit card or a check made payable to Seton Hall University; and
- for international applicants, an official course-by-course evaluation of all transcripts from institutions not accredited in the United States or Canada, as described below under “International Applicants.”

Students applying to our joint degree programs M.B.A./M.S.N. with the College of Nursing, or the M.B.A./M.A.D.I.R. with the School of Diplomacy and International Relations are required to fill out a separate application for each school/college. Candidates applying to the M.B.A./J.D. must submit the GMAT scores to the Stillman School and the LSAT scores to Seton Hall Law School. Candidates also should submit official transcripts and official GMAT/GRE scores to both units. The candidate must meet the admissions standards and be accepted by each school in order to enter the joint program. All joint program applications are subject to the same deadlines as the other graduate business programs offered by the Stillman School.

Students applying to any certificate program offered by the Stillman School of Business must submit a completed application form, official transcripts from all colleges attended, a professional résumé and the full application fee either by credit card or a check made payable to Seton Hall University.
Individual programs reserve the right to require additional information or requisites pertinent to their specific areas. To apply, please access the online application at www.shu.edu/go/stillmangrad.

International Applicants

International applicants must hold an undergraduate degree that represents the equivalent of four years of undergraduate study in the United States. Transcripts from institutions not accredited in the United States or Canada must be evaluated by one of the following agencies:

- Educational Credential Evaluators www.ece.org
- Evaluation Service, Inc. www.evaluationservice.net
- Global Credential Evaluators, Inc. www.gceus.com
- World Education Services www.wes.org

All evaluations must be course-by-course evaluations, as confirmation of course level and degree equivalency. We will not consider applications submitted without credential evaluations for admission or transfer credit evaluation. Applicants are responsible for all costs associated with credential evaluations.

In addition to satisfying all the academic criteria for regular admission, international applicants must also meet the standards enforced by the Office of International Programs to be granted an F-1 student visa from Seton Hall University. International applicants must submit additional documentation along with their M.B.A. or M.S. applications. For specific requirements, please consult the website of the University’s Office of International Programs at www.shu.edu/offices/international-programs.

Study as a Nonmatriculated Student

Students may begin their graduate studies at the Stillman School on a nonmatriculated basis. Any student holding a 4-year undergraduate degree from an accredited college or university may take up to a maximum of 12 credits within 12 months (no more than 6 credits per semester) in any of our graduate programs. Please consult the Office of Graduate Admissions for procedures and policies relating to study as a nonmatriculated student.

Academic Information

Academic Standing

In order to be admitted into the Graduate Business Capstone course and certified for graduation, students must have a cumulative GPA of 3.0. A student whose GPA falls below 3.0 will be placed on probation. Each student’s academic progress will be reviewed after the completion of 12 additional credits. At that time, if the student’s GPA does not meet the 3.0 requirement, the student will be subject to dismissal from the program.

Leave of Absence

Students unable to register for a regular semester because of illness, extraordinary job requirements, military service or other reasons may be granted a leave of absence without penalty. A leave of absence is ordinarily limited to one year. Requests for a leave of absence must be made in writing to the Stillman School’s Associate Dean of Academic Services. Students who have been granted such leave must apply for reactivation no less than eight weeks prior to the start of the semester in which they plan to return.

To activate an application that has expired or to continue taking classes after a leave of absence longer than one year, a student must contact the Office of Graduate Admissions and submit the following documents: a new letter of recommendation, an updated professional résumé, a new application form and a $25 reapplication fee.

Advanced Standing

Graduate credits earned in an AACSB-accredited business program within the last five years may be accepted in partial satisfaction of degree requirements by the Stillman School. A maximum of 6 credits may be accepted when the grade earned is “B” or higher and the course has not been applied to a prior degree. Students requesting transfer credits should write to the Stillman School’s Associate Dean of Academic Services. Evaluations and transfer of credits are made on the basis of specific courses having substantial similarity of content to courses offered in the respective graduate program. For the M.B.A., all students must complete at least 30 credit hours of coursework at the Stillman School.

Visiting Students

Graduate students in good standing at other universities may be granted permission to register for up to 12 credits at the Stillman School by submitting a letter of authorization from the dean of the graduate school in which they are enrolled and by filing a non-matriculated student application. No visiting student may register for any graduate course in the Stillman School without the approval of the respective program director. For more information regarding this procedure, contact the Office of Graduate Admissions at (973) 761-9262 or visit http://www.shu.edu/applying/graduate.

Time Limit

Candidates for the degree of Master of Business Administration or Master of Science are expected to fulfill all requirements for the degree within five years after they have commenced their studies. Official leaves of absence may be granted by the Associate Dean of Academic Services, and such absences may extend the completion time of the degree to six years.
Graduate Assistantships

The Stillman School awards graduate assistantships each semester to a number of accepted full-time students exhibiting high academic and professional potential. Graduate assistants are assigned a maximum of 20 hours of work per week in support of faculty research and administrative functions. The award consists of a two-semester, renewable appointment with a stipend of $450 per month and remission of tuition for a maximum of 12 credits per Fall and Spring semesters at the graduate business rate.

Applications for these assistantships must be obtained from the Stillman School’s Student Information Office (973) 761-9222, and be submitted, along with a résumé describing technical and administrative skills, by the following priority deadlines:
Fall Semester - May 31
Spring Semester - October 31
Summer Semester - March 31

Master of Business Administration

Degree Requirements

The M.B.A. curriculum is designed to provide a strong foundation in accounting, economics, the behavioral and quantitative sciences, and the functional areas of business. The Pre-Qualification, Foundation and Essential Knowledge Sequences provide the base from which each student can select a concentration area.

Currently, concentrations include accounting, finance, information technology management, international business, management, marketing, sport management and supply chain management. Students are required to complete 12 credits in their chosen concentration (13 credits for sport management; 15 credits for accounting).

The remaining credits are electives selected from a field in the M.B.A. curriculum other than the student’s field of concentration. No more than two elective courses can be from a single discipline. The capstone of the program, Business Policy (BMBA 9400), which is normally taken in the last semester, integrates the knowledge gained in previous courses.

In recognition of the University’s mission to mold students as global servant leaders, students are required to complete 20 hours of volunteer work for a community-based organization of their choice (M.B.A. Service Project), with approval of the Corporate Social Responsibility Course Coordinator. M.B.A. candidates also must participate in an assessment process that includes a comprehensive case analysis and an exit interview.

After completing the program, students will have acquired the necessary background to integrate concepts and techniques from all of the business disciplines.

IV. Breadth Sequence (Elective Courses) - 8 credits

Eight credits to be selected from graduate offerings outside the primary concentration area (but within the Stillman School) or from BMBA (interdisciplinary) elective courses, with no more than two courses from any single discipline.

V. Concentration - 12-15 credits

A minimum of 12 credits from one of the following tracks:

Note: The Foundation Sequence courses (BMBA 9111-9114) are prerequisites for all concentration courses.

- Accounting (15 credits):
  - BMBA 7100
  - BMBA 7114
  - BMBA 7123
  - Either BMBA 7121, BMBA 7122 or BMBA 7135.

- Finance

Pre-Qualification Sequence

Pre-qualification courses are designed to help students update and refresh their basic business skills. All students must complete the pre-qualification sequence as outlined below, or be waived from certain courses based upon prior coursework or by opting for and passing a challenge examination. Many pre-qualification courses are web-based. The time required to complete these courses generally ranges from 12 to 30 hours. The pre-qualification courses and the M.B.A. core courses for which they are required are:

Legal Studies:  BMBA 8009
(Required for BMBA 9112 and 9113)

Accounting:  BMBA 8010
(Required for BMBA 9112 and 9113)

Economics:  BMBA 8011  (Required for BMBA 9113)

Finance:  BMBA 8013  (Required for BMBA 9113)

Math:  BMBA 8018
(Required for BMBA 9111 and 9113)

Statistics:  BMBA 8019
(Required for BMBA 9111 and 9113)

ITM:  BMBA 8020
(Required for BMBA 9111 and 9113)

Students may be granted waivers of pre-qualification courses on the basis of their prior coursework. The waiver policies for specific pre-qualification courses are as follows:

Legal Studies:  Business Law, Legal Environment of Business or the equivalent taken within five years of enrolling in the M.B.A. program. Students may opt to take the Legal Studies Pre-Qualification Challenge Examination; a passing grade on that exam will waive the requirement to take the pre-qualification course.

Accounting:  Financial Accounting or the equivalent taken within seven years of enrolling in the M.B.A. program. No challenge examination available.

Economics:  Six credits of undergraduate economics taken within seven years of enrolling in the M.B.A. program. A student with only 3 credits of undergraduate economics may opt to take the Economics Pre-Qualification Challenge Examination; a passing grade on that exam will waive the requirement to take the pre-qualification course.

Finance:  A business degree earned or any basic finance course taken within five years of enrolling in the M.B.A. program. No challenge exam available.

ITM, Math and Statistics:  Three areas of prerequisite knowledge are covered. These areas are: (1) basic mathematics; (2) basic statistics; and (3) information technology “office” skills (i.e., proficiency in spreadsheet design). All entering students must either place out of each of these skill areas via the corresponding “challenge” exam offered by the School, or take and pass the pre-qualification course in that area. The Math pre-qualification course (BMBA 8018) will be waived for students who possess an undergraduate degree with a major in math.

Second Concentration Option

The second concentration option allows students to complete 12 credits of coursework (13 credits for sport management; 15 credits for accounting) in an additional concentration area. Two options are provided:

(1) students may count one 3-credit second concentration course toward the Breadth Sequence requirement. The degree will increase by 9 credits (10 for sport management; 12 for accounting); or

(2) students may take all second concentration courses outside of their Breadth Sequence requirement. The degree will increase by 12 credits (13 for sport management; 15 for accounting).

Master of Science Programs

The Stillman School’s Department of Accounting and Taxation offers Master of Science (M.S.) degrees in accounting and professional accounting.

Note: Program directors must be consulted concerning prerequisite coursework, course sequencing and choice of electives. Students lacking prerequisite knowledge may need to successfully complete additional coursework/credits or part of the M.B.A. Pre-Qualification Sequence in order to fulfill the M.S. requirements. Additional program-specific requirements are included under each degree and are subject to change as required by the Stillman School.

Mission Statement - Department of Accounting and Taxation

The mission of the Department of Accounting and Taxation is to prepare students to assume roles as accounting professionals in a global society and to advance the body of knowledge in the discipline. Our curricula, delivered in an environment characterized by small classes and extensive faculty-student engagement, provide innovative and high-quality educational experiences that emphasize technical knowledge, analytical and communication skills, proficiency in information technology, and ethics. Our programs are strengthened both by the contributions made by our industry partners and the ethical philosophy of the University.

Master of Science in Accounting

(30-36 credits; total credits depending on prior completion of prerequisite coursework)

Seton Hall’s Master of Science (M.S.) in Accounting is geared toward graduates of non-accounting programs. The program is of particular interest to candidates with liberal arts, social science, education, nursing or engineering degrees. Students can earn this academic credential in accounting while preparing for eligibility for such certifications as the CPA, CMA, and CIA.

Degree Requirements
Completion of the M.S. in Accounting requires a minimum of 30 credits of approved coursework, composed of 21 credit hours of required courses and 9 credit hours of accounting or taxation electives.

Three restrictions apply: First, no course may be transferred if it has been applied to a prior degree. Second, a minimum of 24 credit hours of coursework must be completed at the Stillman School. Third, students may not repeat courses taken previously at the graduate or undergraduate level.

As part of the graduation requirements for the M.S. in Accounting, students are required to successfully participate in an assessment panel and complete a post-assessment test, preferably in their last semester before graduation.

Prerequisite Knowledge
Prerequisite requirements include courses in basic financial accounting, managerial accounting and introductory business law. At Seton Hall, these prerequisites may be satisfied by successfully completing the sequence at the undergraduate (BACC 2103, BACC 2104 and BLAW 2301) or graduate (BMBA 8009 and BMBA 9112) levels.

Upon acceptance into the program, all students must meet with the program director to draw up a plan of study.

Course Sequence and Program Length
Candidates for the master’s degree are expected to fulfill all degree requirements within a maximum of five years after they have begun their studies. The program can be completed in approximately 1.5 academic years (evenings only).

Master of Science in Professional Accounting (30 credits)
Director: David Mest, Ph.D.

Seton Hall’s Master of Science in Professional Accounting is intended to help students meet the 150-credit hour requirement, which will enable accounting majors to qualify to sit for the CPA exam in the state of New Jersey and earn a graduate degree at the same time.

This curriculum, also suited for accountants seeking to upgrade their skills, was developed in collaboration with top-level specialists to provide a practical graduate accounting education. It caters to those who agree that:
• those proactively securing a competitive edge in this increasingly innovative field will be most marketable as tomorrow’s senior-level accounting professionals; and
• organizational success relies on those who demonstrate strong leadership, management and decision making skills in combination with a comprehensive understanding of current practices and interdisciplinary issues in their field.

Degree Requirements
Completion of the M.S. in Professional Accounting requires a minimum of 30 credits of approved coursework, composed of 21 credit hours of accounting courses and 9 credit hours of non-accounting courses.

Three restrictions apply:
• no course may be transferred if it has been applied to a prior degree;
• a minimum of 24 credit hours of coursework must be completed at the Stillman School; and
• students may not repeat courses taken previously at the graduate or undergraduate level.

As part of the graduation requirements for the M.S. in Professional Accounting, students are required to successfully participate in an assessment panel and complete a post-assessment test, preferably in their last semester before graduation.

Course Sequence and Program Length
Candidates for the master’s degree are expected to fulfill all degree requirements within a maximum of five years after they have begun their studies. The program can be completed in approximately one year (evenings only).

Certificate in Entrepreneurial Studies

The Certificate in Entrepreneurial Studies is composed of four 3-credit courses (12 credits). See below for details. The focus of the Certificate is to provide students with both a theoretical basis and the practical hands-on skills they will need to launch a new business venture and grow that business venture successfully. This certificate is for graduate students who are interested in (1) studying entrepreneurship to launch their own venture, manage a family business or work for small or medium-sized companies or (2) developing entrepreneurial skills, creative thinking and innovative approaches as career-builders working for large corporations. The Certificate program provides students with an overview of the different stages of the entrepreneurial process and gives them the skills and knowledge they need to succeed at each stage in the process. A student who wishes to earn the Certificate should consult with the faculty and the department chair to ensure that the elective course selected is in line with the student’s academic/career objectives. Any course taken for the certificate that can appropriately count as a Breadth Sequence elective can double-count in fulfillment of the Breadth Sequence requirements and the Certificate in Entrepreneurial Studies.

Because the certificate is not a degree, students who complete solely the certificate program do not participate in University commencement exercises.

Students are required to take two of the following courses. (Course offerings change each semester.)

BMGT 7540  Entrepreneurship  3
BMGT 7544  Growing a Small Business  3
BMGT 7565  Innovation and Entrepreneurship  3
BMGT 7596  Directed Research (Approval needed)  3
BMGT 9342  Social Entrepreneurship  3

Certificate Programs

Certificate in Accounting

The Certificate in Accounting provides students who already have a business degree with additional accounting credits that can be used to become educationally qualified to sit for the Uniform CPA Examination and ultimately to be licensed as Certified Public Accountants. The certificate consists of the following required courses:

Required courses credits
BACC 7100  Financial Reporting  6
BACC 7123  Auditing Standards and Problems  3
BACC 7128  Advanced Accounting  3
BACC 7135  Essentials of Federal Taxation  3

Total  15 credits

These classes are standard requirements of virtually all accounting programs. Students completing this Certificate in Accounting are eligible to apply to one of our graduate programs in accounting and can use all certificate courses to fulfill applicable degree requirements.

Note: Students must complete all prerequisite requirements for the courses selected.

Because the certificate is not a degree, students who complete the certificate program do not participate in University Commencement Exercises.

Certificate in Graduate Taxation
The Certificate in Graduate Taxation is composed of four 3-credit courses (12 credits): BTAX 6001, BTAX 6003, and two elective courses. The focus of the certificate is to provide students with both a theoretical basis and practical hands-on skills. The certificate is dedicated exclusively to the study of taxation. Admission to the Certificate in Graduate Taxation program requires a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university. The completion of the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) is not required.

The program is suitable for practicing accountants, attorneys, and financial planners who do not primarily practice in the field of taxation but who wish to gain a background in that field of practice. In addition, it is an ideal vehicle for recent accounting graduates and non-accountants graduates who have a desire to receive a focused and convenient program of study in the area of taxation. This certificate is designed for students who are interested in studying taxation for their own professional practice or a venture in family business as well as for those who are interested in developing tax skills, creative thinking and innovative approaches as a career-builder in working for small or large corporations.

The certificate program provides students with an overview of the different areas of taxation and provides them with the skills and knowledge they need to identify and resolve many tax issues. The curriculum provides an exposure to the basic areas of taxation while permitting students to take courses designed to accommodate their particular interests. Coursework in the certificate program is geared to professionals employed on a full-time basis. Classes meet one evening per week or are offered online. A student who wishes to earn the certificate should consult with the Director of Graduate Tax Programs to ensure that the two BTAX elective courses selected are in line with his or her academic/ career objectives.

Because the certificate is not a degree, students who complete the certificate program do not participate in University Commencement Exercises.

Additionally, electives may be approved by the program director. In addition to the “Doing Business in ...” courses explicitly mentioned in the list above, any graduate level “Doing Business in ...” course is also admissible.

Any course taken for the Certificate that can appropriately count as a Breadth Sequence elective can double-count in fulfillment of both the Breadth Sequence requirement and the Certificate in International Business.

In addition to providing an opportunity for matriculated Seton Hall graduate students to study international business, the certificate is available on a non-degree basis to qualified working professionals who hold a graduate degree. For nonbusiness students, BMGT 6900 must be taken as a prerequisite for all other courses, except for those marked with an asterisk (*).

Because the certificate is not a degree, students who complete the certificate program do not participate in University Commencement Exercises.

Certificate of Advanced Study

The Certificate of Advanced Study consists of a five-course program of additional graduate education for those business professionals who have already completed a graduate degree in business (or, for the area of Sport Management, a J.D. degree). Students may choose five courses from one of the areas listed below. (Students may not repeat courses for which they already have earned credit.)

Accounting
Finance
Information Technology Management
International Business
Legal Studies
Management
Marketing
Taxation

In addition to the aforementioned, students also may develop an individual plan of graduate coursework in consultation with a selected faculty member. This individual study plan may center on a theme, such as portfolio management, entrepreneurship, small business management or international management.

Depending upon the concentration area selected and the specifics of the graduate business degree possessed by the applicant, applicants may be required to take additional core graduate business courses as a prerequisite to the advanced courses. The certificate is awarded when the student completes five approved courses within three years, maintaining a 3.0 GPA. Because the certificate is not a degree, graduates from the certificate program do not participate in University Commencement Exercises.

Stillman Business Review and Update Certificate

Any person possessing an undergraduate degree may select all or part of the M.B.A. Pre-Qualification Sequence in order to enhance or update his or her professional skills. The successful completion of at least three segments will result in the award of the Business Review and Update Certificate. Application is made to the Director of Graduate Admissions.

Dual Degree Programs
(Undergraduate and Graduate)

B.A. or B.S./M.B.A. Program
(For Non-Business Majors)
Adviser: Karen A. Passaro, M.B.A., J.D.

The College of Arts and Sciences and Stillman School offer a joint program that leads to two degrees: a bachelor’s degree in a liberal arts or science and a Master of Business Administration.

The unique feature of this program is that both degrees can be earned in five years. By carefully selecting courses, the student can complete the requirements for both degrees in as few as 150 credit hours. The student spends the first three years taking arts and sciences courses. After the completion of 75 credit hours, the student applies for the M.B.A. program. Students must meet all requirements for admission to the M.B.A. program, including earning a GMAT score of 500 or higher (or equivalent GRE results) and attaining an undergraduate GPA of 3.5 or above. If accepted, the student takes a mixture of arts and sciences and business courses in the fourth year. The fifth year is reserved exclusively for graduate business courses. When the student has completed all undergraduate degree requirements and a minimum of 120 credit hours, the student receives a bachelor’s degree. After completing the M.B.A. requirements and a minimum of 150 total credit hours, the student also receives an M.B.A.

Purpose

The purpose of the program is twofold:

- Students receive a broad-based undergraduate education. Students major in an arts and sciences discipline to gain a broad perspective in the humanities and social and physical sciences and a comprehensive grasp of one arts and sciences major.

- Students begin graduate coursework while completing a bachelor’s degree. This enables the arts and sciences student to obtain an M.B.A. with one additional year of study.

Basic Principles and Requirements

In offering this program, Seton Hall operates on three basic principles:

- Students must complete their undergraduate arts and sciences courses and fulfill the requirements for an undergraduate major; students must apply for and gain admission to the M.B.A. program after the completion of a minimum of 75 credit hours in arts and sciences; and the joint program requires a minimum of 150 credit hours; within this number, a student completes specified arts and sciences requirements, an undergraduate arts and sciences major field, and the specified M.B.A. curriculum.

- The breakdown of the minimum 150 credit hours is as follows:
  - Students complete the core curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences and major field requirements. The total credits vary depending upon the requirements of the major field. Students complete the following undergraduate and graduate business courses:

2. Arts and Sciences Major Field Requirements
3. M.B.A. Pre-Qualification Sequence
4. M.B.A. curriculum credit-bearing courses: Foundation Sequence, Essential Knowledge Sequence, Breadth Sequence, Concentration Courses and the Business Policy Capstone

Consult course descriptions for more details. If these requirements can be met in fewer than 150 credit hours, students may take elective courses to complete the 150 credit-hour minimum.

B.S.B. or B.A.B.A./M.B.A. Program

(For Business Majors)

Adviser: Karen A. Passaro, M.B.A., J.D.

Students pursuing either the B.S. or B.A. in Business Administration have the option to apply to a dual degree program in which they can earn both their bachelor’s degree and a Master of Business Administration within a five-year period. Two options are available. Students may: (1) apply for dual admission to both degrees at the time of their initial application to the School or (2) apply for admission to the M.B.A. portion of the program during their junior year.

- To be offered admission to both programs at the time of initial application, prospective students must have an SAT score of 1300 or higher (math and critical reading components). To be eligible to begin graduate coursework (generally after the completion of 90 credits), dual-admissions applicants must have attained a GPA of 3.5 or higher.

- Stillman students who do not apply for dual admission may apply after completing between 75 and 90 undergraduate credit hours. Applicants must meet all requirements for admission to the M.B.A. program, including earning a GMAT score of 500 or higher (or equivalent GRE results) and attaining an overall GPA of 3.5 or above.

- If accepted, the student takes a mixture of undergraduate and graduate business courses in the fourth year. The fifth year is reserved exclusively for graduate business courses. When the student has completed all undergraduate degree requirements and at least 120 credit hours, the student receives a bachelor’s degree. After completing the M.B.A. requirements and a minimum of 150 total credit hours, the student also receives an M.B.A.

- The breakdown of the minimum 150 credit hours is as follows:

  - Students complete all requirements of the B.S.B. or B.A.B.A. program; 2 credits of general elective coursework will be waived for all concentrations other than accounting and economics.

Certificate Programs/Dual Degree Programs   123
Students will receive waivers for the following M.B.A. Pre-Qualification courses: Legal Studies, Accounting, Economics, and Finance.

4. Remaining M.B.A. curriculum requirements, including 12-15 credits in the selected concentration area, are fulfilled by taking graduate business courses.*

*As part of their program, students must take at least one 3-credit BMKT course. In addition, students concentrating in areas other than sport management must take at least one 3-credit BACC course.

The total credit hours consist of 118-121 undergraduate credits and 32-35 graduate business credits. Students must consult their concentration advisers in the Stillman School for specific information. Graduate course information is available through the Stillman School’s Student Information Office, Jubilee Hall, Room 526, (973) 761-9222.

B.S.B./M.S.P.A. Program
(For SHU Accounting Majors)
Adviser: David Mest, Ph.D.

Students pursuing the B.S. in Business Administration with a concentration in accounting have the option to apply to a dual degree program in which they can earn both their bachelor’s degree and a Master of Science in Professional Accounting within a five-year period. Two options are available. Students may: (1) apply for dual admission to both degrees at the time of their initial application to the School or (2) apply for admission to the M.S.P.A. portion of the program during their junior year.

To be offered admission to both programs at the time of initial application, prospective students must have an SAT score of 1300 or higher (math and critical reading components). To be eligible to begin graduate coursework (generally after the completion of 90 credits and BACC 3111), dual-admissions applicants must have attained a GPA of 3.5 or higher.

Stillman students who do not apply for dual admission may apply for admission to the M.S.P.A. program after completing between 75 and 90 undergraduate credit hours. Applicants must meet all requirements for admission to the M.S.P.A. program, including earning a GMAT score of 500 or higher (or equivalent GRE results) and attaining an overall GPA of 3.0 or above. The GMAT/GRE can be waived for applicants with a GPA in accounting concentration courses of 3.5 or higher. (This GPA calculation must be based on at least four concentration courses, including BACC 3110 and BACC 3111.)

Students are eligible to enroll in the combined B.S.B./M.S.P.A. program once they have earned 90 credits and have completed BACC 3111 (Intermediate Accounting II). Students enrolled in the combined program take a mixture of undergraduate and graduate courses during their senior year followed by all graduate work thereafter. After earning 120 undergraduate credits, completing the required accounting concentration courses with an average GPA of 2.0 or higher, and fulfilling all other specific B.S.B. degree requirements, students have the option of receiving their B.S.B. degree. Students in the combined program will satisfy the required courses in Auditing (BACC 3119), Enterprise-Wide Accounting Information Systems II (BACC 4102), and Advanced Accounting (BACC 4113) by taking similar graduate courses. Courses taken at the graduate level cannot be used to satisfy the 120 undergraduate credit hour requirement. After completing all M.S.P.A. requirements and earning 150 credits (120 undergraduate credits and 30 graduate credits), students receive their M.S.P.A. degree.

Joint Degree Programs

M.B.A./M.A.D.I.R.

The M.B.A./M.A.D.I.R. is a joint degree program offered by the faculties of the Stillman School of Business and the School of Diplomacy and International Relations. Completion of the program yields both a Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.) and a Master of Arts in Diplomacy and International Relations (M.A.D.I.R.).

M.B.A./J.D. Program

The Stillman School and the School of Law jointly offer a four-year program leading to the degrees of Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.) and Juris Doctor (J.D.). The program is available only to full-time students and may be completed in four years rather than the five years usually required for the completion of both degrees.

Application to the joint program is open to holders of baccalaureate degrees from accredited colleges or universities who are not enrolled in either the School of Law or the Stillman School or who are full-time students in the first-year program at the School of Law.

Application Procedure

Candidates for admission to this program must complete separate applications for both the School of Law and the Stillman School, identifying on each application that they intend to participate in the joint program. Applications must be filed by the deadline dates specified by the School of Law. Alternatively, students enrolled in the first-year, full-time program at the School of Law may, during that year, apply for admission to the joint program by making application for admission to the Stillman School, identifying themselves as candidates for the joint program and notifying the School of Law of their intent to seek admission to that program.
Admission to the joint program requires that the student be accepted for admission at each of the respective schools and that the student's participation in the joint program be approved separately by the admission committees of both schools.

The M.B.A. admission procedure appears at the beginning of the Stillman School section of this Catalogue. Applications for the School of Law are available from the Office of Admissions, Seton Hall University School of Law, One Newark Center, Newark, NJ 07102.

Applicants must take the Law School Admission Test (LSAT). Official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended must be sent to the Law School Data Assembly Service (LSDAS), Educational Testing Service, Box 2000, Newton, PA 18940. The LSDAS report containing the LSAT scores should be forwarded to the School of Law at the above address.

Curriculum Requirements

The J.D. degree consists of 85 credits and the M.B.A. degree of 42 credits (43 for those concentrating in sport management; 45 for those concentrating in accounting). A maximum total of 12 credits may be used as cross-credits between the two programs. Only courses specified by the respective schools as eligible for cross-credits may be utilized for this purpose. Under exceptional circumstances, courses not included on the list of those eligible for cross-credits may be approved for this purpose by the academic deans of the law school and the business school. No required courses at either the School of Law or the Stillman School may be eligible for cross-credits under the joint degree program.

Because of residency requirements and other considerations, the joint degree program can only be completed by students enrolled on a full-time basis. With the joint consent of the academic deans of the School of Law and the Stillman School, and for good cause, a student may be allowed to remain in the program although enrolled on a part-time basis only after the second year of full-time participation in the program. Such approval for part-time status must be renewed every semester. No waiver of full-time status may be granted for the first two years of the program.

A minimum of 30 credit hours must be taken in the M.B.A. program at Seton Hall. No waived credits may be counted toward the completion of the J.D. degree, and the Law School does not permit any waiver of credits for the J.D. degree.

Additional Requirements

Students in the joint program must complete TAXN 7112 Taxation I at the Law School and are, therefore, not eligible to take BACC 7121 Federal Income Taxation of Individuals at the Stillman School.

Advising

Students in the joint degree program must have their course schedules approved by the joint program advisers in both the School of Law and the Stillman School. The procedure for such approval will be established by the respective schools, and students in the program should consult the joint program adviser at each school. Where courses with similar content are offered by the two schools, students may complete such courses at either school (except as noted above), but may not take the courses at both schools.

Pattern of Study

Students in the joint degree program spend their first year of study completing the regular first-year curriculum of the School of Law. During the second and subsequent years, students complete the program by taking credits at both the Stillman School and the School of Law.

Course Descriptions
Course descriptions provide information on offerings for the 2012-13 academic year. All courses are run subject to enrollment and faculty deployment within each department.

Integrated M.B.A. Courses

BMBA 8009 Legal Studies Pre-Qualifier
The course provides an overview of the American legal process; an introduction to the relationship between law and business with special emphasis on the law of contracts. no credits

BMBA 8010 Accounting Pre-Qualifier
The course provides the foundation for understanding how accounting information serves decision-makers in the global business world. The course focuses on the basics of accounting and reporting, outlining the composition and interrelationship of the primary financial statements and the principles that underlie their preparation. no credits

BMBA 8011 Economics Pre-Qualifier
The course provides an introduction to or review of both micro and macro economics principles. Topics covered include major economic systems, forces of supply and demand and their effect on equilibrium prices, various markets, government intervention and regulation, fiscal policy and international economic issues. no credits

BMBA 8013 Finance Pre-Qualifier
Introduction to the principles of finance for incoming MBA students with very limited finance backgrounds. Topics deal with the terms and tools of basic finance: money and capital markets, time value of money, capital budgeting, asset pricing/portfolio analysis and derivatives. no credits

BMBA 8018 Mathematics Pre-Qualifier
The course will review a variety of mathematical concepts and their applications to the business setting. Elementary algebra and calculus techniques will be the primary focus, and special attention will be paid to the manner in which they can be used in the modeling of basic business situations. no credits

BMBA 8019 Statistics Pre-Qualifier
The course introduces and develops an understanding of statistical concepts and methods as tools in the managerial decision making process in the face of uncertainty. Descriptive statistics, probability and probability distributions and statistical inference will be discussed. Linear regression and correlation also will be introduced. Emphasis will be placed on the student’s ability to identify appropriate statistical tools for analysis in a variety of business-related problems. no credits

BMBA 8020 ITM Pre-Qualifier – Software Personal Productivity Tools
The course familiarizes students with the software productivity tools used in business today. The course focuses on the use of Microsoft Excel. Topics covered include worksheet construction, use of simple equations, creation of graphs and charts and sorting/filtering of data. no credits

The focus of this course is on helping students learn: (1) the basics of information technology (IT) and how IT is used effectively by organizations and (2) quantitative analysis skills that are essential to function effectively as a business professional. Problem formulation strategies, decision making methodologies and analytical reasoning from operations research will make information technology concepts more meaningful and help students make better decisions regarding the management of IT as a strategic resource. Students will also learn how technology can be used to enhance the formulation and development of commonly encountered business problems and to solve them effectively. Prerequisite: Pre-Qualification Sequence in IT, Math and Statistics (BMBA 8018, 8019, 8020) or equivalent. Offered: Fall, Spring. 4 credits

BMBA 9112 Accounting and Legal Considerations
This course covers various accounting and legal issues that business professionals need to know to succeed in a business environment. Topics covered include: asset valuation issues; liabilities; footnote disclosures; financial statement analysis; stockholders’ equity; cost behavior; cost-volume-profit analysis; ethical issues; business associations and introductions to antitrust and employment laws. Prerequisite: Pre-Qualification courses in Legal Studies and Accounting (BMBA 8009 and 8010) or equivalent. Prerequisite or corequisite: BMBA 9111. Offered: Fall, Spring. 4 credits

BMBA 9113 Financial and Economic Analysis
An integrated approach to decision making, with emphasis on quantitative methods in economics and finance. Topics include model estimation, demand and supply, revenue, production, cost, money, interest rates, business cycles, valuation, return, risk, capital budgeting, asset pricing and derivatives. Prerequisites: Pre-Qualification courses BMBA 8009 – BMBA 8020 or equivalent and BMBA 9111. Prerequisite or corequisite: BMBA 9112. Offered: Fall, Spring. 4 credits

This course offers an integrative environment in which the students will be able to develop skills to analyze strategic management and marketing problems, to develop appropriate solutions, and to implement them. This course provides (1) an overview of theories and behavioral and social science approaches to more effective management of complex organizations; and (2) an overview of the marketing management process to better understand buyers and buying behavior and more effectively manage the delivery of value to an organization’s stakeholders. Prerequisites: BMBA 9111 and BMBA 9112. Prerequisite or corequisite: BMBA 9113. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer. 4 credits

The course will examine the relationship of the business enterprise to its stakeholders and raise questions about the social and ethical conduct of the enterprise. Case presentations; discussion of the consequences of enterprise behavior and analysis of the ethical implications of corporate policies and procedures. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer. 2 credits

BMBA 9202 International Perspective
This course is designed to introduce the graduate student of business to the world of international business, international trade and political economy. These subjects are approached from the viewpoint of a generalist, offering information and insights from the broad perspectives of business, economics, finance, political and economic geography, risk management, marketing, ethics and international law. Through an introduction to these fields, it is expected that students will gain a core understanding of the concepts, ideas and vocabulary of international business. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer. 2 credits

M.B.A. Breadth Sequence
Eight credits to be selected from the following 2-credit courses or from any 3-credit offering outside of the student’s concentration area(s) but within the Stillman School.

BMBA 9302 Economics of Strategy
Case selections offer a range of managerial problems demonstrating the application of production, location and game theory and other microeconomic optimal decision path tools. Prerequisite: BMBA 9113. 2 credits

BMBA 9303 Financial Markets and Institutions
Overview of the structure and function of the markets for financial assets, including various forms of money, stocks, bonds and the institutions that help to drive these markets. Prerequisite: BMBA 9113. Offered: Irregularly. 2 credits

BMBA 9304 Leadership and Team Building
The process of providing a vision, standing on principle and sponsoring an atmosphere that develops leaders is the focus of this course. The importance of how we must work together in a team atmosphere is emphasized. Concerns of the business world such as trust, empowerment, globalization and the increased influence of technology will be explored. Students will be exposed to the differences between leadership and management and, through experiential learning, will develop techniques to improve their skills. No prerequisites required. 2 credits

BMBA 9305 Management Accounting
The course describes how to use accounting as an internal management tool. Topics covered include: product costing, process costing, job-order costing, variance analysis, make or buy decisions, adding or dropping a product line, relevant costs and costing of special orders. Prerequisite: BACC 6101, BMBA 9112 or equivalent. 2 credits

BMBA 9307 (BMKT 7633) Cases in Strategic Marketing
This course incorporates current developments in marketing strategic thinking to further acquaint students with the present-day challenges of marketing activities. The course provides an opportunity to further develop an understanding of the scope, importance, and process of marketing as a system. Through practical illustrations, the course forwards a deeper understanding of the development and evaluation of marketing plans, strategies and action programs. Prerequisites: BMBA 9111, 9112, 9113 and 9114. Offered: Irregularly. 2 credits

BMBA 9309 Topics in Commercial Law (BLAW 7313 Uniform Commercial Code)
Examination of legal and ethical issues related to transactions involving aspects of commercial paper, sales, warranties and secured transactions with respect to personal property under the Uniform Commercial Code. Also considers issues arising under bankruptcy and debtor-creditor rights. Prerequisite: BMBA 9112. Offered: Fall, Summer. 2/3 credits

BMBA 9310 and 9311 MBA Internships (maximum of 6 credits)
Students obtain positions with companies in order to obtain hands-on experience in their chosen field. No prerequisites required. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer. 3 credits each

BMBA 9312 MBA Internship (maximum of 6 credits)
Students obtain positions with companies in order to obtain hands-on experience in their chosen field. No prerequisites required. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer. 2 credits

BMBA 9314 Risk and Insurance
Analysis of risk and the methods of risk bearing, basic insurance contracts: life, property, casualty and surety; claim control and loss prevention; non-insurable risks; social insurance. No prerequisites required. Offered: Fall. 2 credits
BMBA 9316 Legal Issues in Estate Planning (BLAW 7315 Wills, Estates and Trusts)
A current review of legal and ethical issues relating to personal property, real property and conveyance; decedent’s estates; duties of executors, administrators and trustees; financial implications of estate planning. Prerequisite: BMBA 9112. Offered: T.B.D. 2 credits

BMBA 9317 (BITM 7739, BMKT 7621, BQUA 7825) Supply Chain Management
Firms in many industries are scrambling to develop innovative ways to move products from raw materials through manufacturing to customers more quickly and efficiently. This course examines many of the recent innovations in this area. Through this course students will (a) recognize salient strategic challenges and opportunities for managing supply chains; (b) learn to use several basic analytical tools to assess performance tradeoffs and support decision making; (c) become familiar with the core supply chain concepts and strategies that have been adopted by leading companies and (d) review emerging supply chain strategies facilitated by Internet technology. Prerequisite: BMBA 8019 or permission of the instructor. Offered: Fall. 2 credits

BMBA 9319 (BMGT 9320) Managing Knowledge Workers
This course covers the emergence and management of a new powerful breed of organizations - knowledge organizations - that thrive on knowledge and human creativity. The course will provide an in-depth understanding of these organizations and will adapt and update available management principles and techniques. It will expose students to new and organization-specific practices that are suitable to managing employees who possess special cutting-edge knowledge and the ability to transform it into contemporary marketable goods and services. Managing Knowledge Workers will also cover psychological and sociological needs of these employees, in particular those belonging to Generations X and Y. With the help of assessment instruments, students will learn how to identify and design knowledge organizations for their efficient operation, as they cannot be managed in traditional ways. No prerequisites required. Offered: Fall, Summer. 2 credits

BMBA 9321 (BLAW 7331) Franchising and Leasing
This course investigates the practical and business aspects of franchising, including legal aspects relating to taxation, business associations, and antitrust (tying arrangements). Issues of quality control, characteristics of franchisers and franchisees, classification of franchises, negotiating and drafting of the franchise contract, the franchise disclosure document, multi-unit franchising, international franchising, and types of leasing arrangements are explored in a lecture/discussion format. Offered: Irregularly. 2 credits

BMBA 9330 (BITM 7735) Strategic Information Technology
An alarming number of today’s business professionals lack a basic understanding of how information technology (IT) functions in a business. This course will address this deficiency by demonstrating: (1) how easy it is to understand technology operations in the business environment, (2) how to capitalize on the strategic use of technology for competitive advantage through effective planning, and (3) how to devise and utilize tools and techniques to drive business professionals to effective strategic and tactical alignment of IT within their own environment. Topics to be covered are hardware, software, organizational design, technology planning, technology budgeting, technology implementation, business and system architecture and ethical usage of technology. The major focus of the course will be the development of a business systems plan for an organization or business. Offered: Every other year. 2 credits

BMBA 9331 Law in the Media
The course explores the manner in which law, the legal system and important legal issues are portrayed in film. Students will view classic films that have shaped public perceptions about law; they will critique the content of these films and review constitutional law cases related to the legal issues involved. No prerequisites required. Offered: Summer. 2 credits

BMBA 9332 (BITM 7728) Business Modeling for Decision Support
Businesses today operate in very complex and dynamic environments. Effective decision making under such conditions demands that managers become systems thinkers – thinkers who can build models encompassing the many factors and complex interactions that play a role in the outcomes of decisions. The course is very application oriented, and we will build and study models in several functional areas and some public policy situations as well. This course covers the area of System Dynamics and focuses on modeling techniques to enable participants to go beyond simplistic mental models and to build powerful models of business situations. These models can be simulated on a computer in order to forecast the outcomes. Such models have often been called “Business Flight Simulators”. Offered: Irregularly. 2 credits

BMBA 9337 (BLAW 7319/BMKT 7319) Seminar in Products Liability
Intensive review of this specialized area of tort law highlighting its ethics and social responsibility ramifications. Particular emphasis is on the development of products liability and its impact on the business environment. Topics covered include negligence, warranties and strict liability. An analysis of the historical development of the common law and statutory responses to product liability. Offered: Summer. 2/3 credits

BMBA 9340 (BQUA 7845) Logistics and Operations in Supply Chain Management
This course is about logistics: the design, planning and quality control of supply chains in business. Supply chains extend from raw material suppliers through production to the consumer and there are many logistics problems associated with each stage. Managing the logistics and operation of a supply chain is a demanding task, which requires a mixture of skills. This course is concerned with developing those skills as well as understanding how to efficiently manage the supply chain operation in practice. Prerequisite: BMBA 9111. Offered: Spring. 2 credits

BMBA 9341 (BMGT 7541) Knowledge and Innovation Management

The strategic role of corporate knowledge for today’s firms requires specialized management of human, organizational and social capitals. This course addresses the range of technical and managerial issues related to the acquisition and management of knowledge and its conversion to innovation for success in developing products, services and processes for the contemporary marketplace. No prerequisites required. 2 credits

BMBA 9344 (BITM 7744) Business Intelligence

An important determinant of business success today is the ability of an organization to extract intelligence from data generated as a byproduct of normal operations. Typical business intelligence applications include: recommender systems (used for example by Amazon.com to suggest additional products and by NetFlix.com to suggest movies) and market-based analysis (used to identify which products are frequently purchased together). Business intelligence systems can be used to help optimize store shelf layout and promotions. This course covers the analytic techniques currently used by businesses. Rather than stress the mechanics of the underlying mathematical and statistical concepts, the course will build a strong intuitive understanding of the techniques and leave the mechanics to statistical packages. 2 credits

BMBA 9351 (BMGT 7551) Seminar in Global Leadership

This seminar course is designed to provide a foundation for leaders operating in the global business environment. In this discussion-based class, students will be presented with the leadership field’s prominent findings from theoretical, empirical, and applied research. Course topics will integrate knowledge with real world situations through the use of case studies, cultural incidents, class exercises and individual assignments. A strong emphasis will be placed on understanding the cultural components of leadership. Experimental. 2 credits

BMBA 9400 Business Policy: Capstone

This capstone course addresses the strategic issues in a competitive and global business environment; integrates functional and tool courses in a comprehensive framework for managing an organization; and uses computerized simulation that provides student teams with an opportunity to coordinate production, marketing and financial objectives and decisions in strategic and operating plans. This course is normally taken in the last semester of the program. Prerequisites: BMBA 9111-9114, BMBA 9201-9202. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer. 2 credits

BMBA 9510 and 9511 MBA Internships

(maximum of 6 credits)

Students obtain positions with companies in order to obtain hands-on experience in their chosen field. No prerequisites required. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer 3 credits each

Integrated Concentrations

Supply Chain Management
Supply Chain Management integrates supply and demand management functions within and across companies. Over the past few decades, supply chains have risen in prominence within many companies. This has created a growing need for individuals who can contribute to various parts of the supply chain by means of specializations obtained as part of their education. The ability to stand out in the marketplace has become more acute in view of an economy in which jobs are scarce. Consequently, in all the courses, we emphasize examples from industry and use them to provide illustrations of the concepts in practice. The concentration provides a practical understanding of the principles of supply chain management and helps students develop an understanding of both analytic and technical methods which can be applied to optimize these systems.

Students should take 6 credits from the concentration core and at least 6 credits from the elective areas.

1. Students may elect to substitute one IB concentration course with a “Doing Business in ...” class. Approval is granted by the director of the Institute for International Business. No more than one “Doing Business in ...” class (3 credits) will be accepted as part of the IB concentration.

2. Students may elect to participate in a “Doing Business in ...” class and have this count toward their Breadth Electives. This also applies to a second “Doing Business in ...” class taken by a student in the IB concentration. Approval is granted by the director of the Institute for International Business.

International Courses

The following “Doing Business in ...” elective courses provide students with an opportunity to study business practices by visiting a particular country accompanied by a knowledgeable faculty member. These classes involve visits to prominent businesses, and provide opportunities to meet and exchange ideas with business leaders. In addition, the classes include social and cultural activities. These courses generally include visits to important government departments, so students get a holistic perspective of the business and socio-cultural environment of the country visited.

The following “Doing Business in ...” courses have been offered.

Students participate in an innovative curriculum that educates students from an international perspective, with an emphasis on global studies, multilateral diplomacy, conflict resolution, international management, economics and leadership training. A distinguished faculty of scholars and professionals bring cutting-edge theory and practical perspectives to the classroom. A unique link with the United Nations community exposes students to the policymakers and practitioners addressing today’s worldwide concerns. Students in the School also have the opportunity to take certain courses in Washington, D.C., in order to maintain their full-time status while pursuing Washington-based professional internships.

A degree from the School of Diplomacy enables graduates to be effective and ethical leaders in their professional careers and to engage dynamically in the complexities of a global society.

Master of Arts in Diplomacy and International Relations

The graduate curriculum combines interdisciplinary global studies with research methodology and policy analysis, culminating in a professional internship and a research project. To attain the M.A. degree, students complete a total of 45 credit hours, satisfying core curriculum requirements and concentrating in two fields of specialization. Specializations offer students the opportunity to structure their academic studies according to their particular interests, career goals and background. Among the functional specializations offered are international economics and development, international organizations, international law and human rights, negotiation and conflict management, global health and human security, foreign policy analysis, international security, and post-conflict state reconstruction and sustainability. Regional specializations include Africa, Asia, Europe, Latin America and the Caribbean, and the Middle East.

At the School of Diplomacy, graduate students of diverse cultural, educational and professional backgrounds form an international academic community. The graduate program fosters leadership and civic responsibility, while sharpening analytical and practical skills. Small classes create a supportive environment that encourages mentoring relationships. An active graduate student association engages in a variety of projects and activities. Graduate assistantships, research assistantships and positions on the student-edited Journal of Diplomacy and International Relations are awarded on a competitive basis.

The School participates in five dual degree programs designed to prepare students to bring diplomacy to the professions of business, law, communications and nonprofit management, and to specialize in Asian studies.

Application and Admission

Graduate applications are considered on a rolling basis; the preferred deadlines are May 1 (Fall) and October 1 (Spring).

- For admission, applicants must hold a baccalaureate degree or equivalent from an accredited college or university.
- Standardized test scores are required from applicants who have graduated from U.S. undergraduate programs as well as any applicant who has graduated from an undergraduate institution where the primary language of instruction is English. (GRE, GMAT, LSAT)
- Applicants who have graduated from undergraduate institutions in which English is not the primary language of instruction and/or whose native language is not English, may substitute TOEFL or IELTS scores in place of the GRE, GMAT or LSAT.
- The School of Diplomacy reserves the right to require additional information or request a personal interview.

Application material must include:

- official transcripts from each college and university attended for credit toward any previous degree;
- a type-written 750-900 word personal statement discussing professional goals, and special accomplishments or experiences;
- three completed academic and/or professional recommendation forms and accompanying letters;
- official standardized test scores, to be submitted by test administrator;
- application fee of $75.

For additional information, contact the Director of Graduate Admission for the School at (973) 275-2142.

Academic Information

Academic Standing

In order to maintain good academic standing and be certified for graduation, students must have a minimum cumulative GPA of at least 3.0. Students whose GPA falls below 3.0 will be placed on academic probation. The academic progress of these students will be reviewed each semester. Students on academic probation may elect to repeat a class they failed or in which they performed poorly only once. Students whose academic performance falls below 3.0 in two consecutive semesters are subject to dismissal. Students seeking to remain in the program after this point must make a written appeal to the School of Diplomacy’s Admissions Committee outlining how they intend to improve their academic performance.

Graduate Assistantships

The School may award one or more graduate assistantships each year to full-time students exhibiting high academic and professional potential. Graduate assistants are assigned 20 hours of work per week in support of faculty research and administrative work. The award consists of a 10-month appointment with a small stipend and partial or full tuition remission.

Research Assistant Scholarships

The School of Diplomacy offers a small number of merit scholarships to top students accepted into the master’s degree program. These scholarships are available to full-time students beginning their study in the Fall semester. To be considered for a merit scholarship, applicants must submit a résumé, and a one-page statement describing their research skills, along with their application by March 31. Scholarship recipients generally spend 10 hours per week assisting faculty of the School with research and other academic projects. Scholarships are renewed annually for students who maintain a 3.8 grade point average. Dual-degree program applicants are not eligible.

Dual Degree Programs
The School of Diplomacy and International Relations participates in five graduate dual degree programs with the Seton Hall School of Law, the Stillman School of Business, and within the College of Arts and Sciences, the Department of Public and Healthcare Administration, the Program in Strategic Communications and the Department of Asian Studies. Each program has its own admission process. Applicants for a dual degree program must be accepted separately to each program, either at the time of initial enrollment or during the first semester.

Once enrolled, students should consult with academic advisers in both programs to coordinate their curriculum. Dual degree course requirements for each program are listed below.

J.D./M.A. in Law and Diplomacy
The School of Diplomacy and the School of Law jointly offer a four-year program leading to the degrees of Master of Arts in Diplomacy and International Relations and Juris Doctor (J.D.). The program, which is available only to full-time students, may be completed in only four years and one Summer, rather than the five years usually required for the completion of both degrees.

Admission Requirements
Students must complete separate applications for the School of Diplomacy and for the School of Law. Students should indicate on their original applications that they wish to pursue the combined degree program. Alternatively, students enrolled in the first or second year of full-time study at the School of Law may, during that year, apply for admission to the joint program by making application to the School of Diplomacy, identify themselves as candidates for the joint degree program and notify the Law School of their intent to seek admission to that program. Some loss of credits may result from such late application to the joint program. Only one application fee for the two programs is required.

Admission to the joint degree program requires that students be accepted for admission to each of the respective schools and that students’ participation be approved by the admissions committees or academic deans of both schools.

Curriculum Requirements
A student enrolled in the combined degree program must complete 85 credits at the Law School and another 30 credits at the School of Diplomacy and International Relations, for a total of 115 credits, instead of the 130 credits that would be required to complete the two programs separately.

At the School of Diplomacy, students must complete 18 credits of required courses and 12 credits of electives. At a student’s option, 9 of these elective credits may be concentrated in a functional or regional specialization.

As part of coursework at the Law School, students must complete 12 credits within the International Legal Studies Group (except INTL 9607 International Organizations). Students must also complete the Law School course Independent Research (2 credits – WRTG 9142) or a second Advanced Writing Requirement course drawn from the International Legal Studies Group.

Course Requirements
I. Students must complete a minimum of 30 credits of Diplomacy courses.

* A student with a clerkship may substitute a Diplomacy elective for the internship requirement.

II. As part of their Law School coursework, students must complete the following requirements:
A. 12 credits within the International Legal Studies Group (except INTL 9607 International Organizations).
B. In addition to A above, students must complete Independent Research (2 credits – WRTG 9142) or a second Advanced Writing Requirement course drawn from the International Legal Studies Group.
Full Time Status

Because of residency requirements and other considerations, the combined program can only be completed by students enrolled on a full-time basis. With the joint consent of the academic dean of the Law School and the academic dean of the School of Diplomacy, and for good cause, a student may be allowed to remain in the program although enrolled on a part-time basis only after the completion of the second year of full-time participation in the program. Such approval for part-time status must be renewed every semester. No waiver of the full-time status requirement may be granted during the first two years of the program.

Pattern of Study

Students in the combined program spend their first year of study completing the regular first-year curriculum of the School of Law. During the second and subsequent years, students may complete the program by taking credits at both the School of Law and the School of Diplomacy and International Relations.

Advising

Students in the combined program must have their courses approved by the advisers in both the Law School and the School of Diplomacy and International Relations, and students should consult with the academic dean of each school regarding course schedules.

Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.)/M.A. in Diplomacy and International Relations Dual Degree Program

The School of Diplomacy and the Stillman School of Business offer a dual degree program that combines the Master in Business Administration (M.B.A.) with the Master of Arts (M.A.) in Diplomacy and International Relations. The dual degree program takes advantage of the synergy between the two fields to offer a program that provides a unique combination of detailed business training with a thorough understanding of international policy issues. Students apply independently to each program, either at the time of initial application or during the first semester of either program. For further information, please contact the School of Diplomacy or the School of Business. Course requirements are listed below.

Master of Public Administration (M.P.A.)/M.A. in Diplomacy and International Relations Dual Degree Program

The Department of Public and Healthcare Administration in the School of Health and Medical Sciences and the School of Diplomacy and International Relations offer a dual degree program that combines the Master of Arts in Diplomacy and International Relations with the Master of Public Administration. The dual degree prepares professionals equipped to respond to the challenges of public sector administration in a global environment. The joint degree can be completed in 60 credits, instead of the 84 credits required to complete the two programs separately.

Students apply independently to each degree program, preferably indicating at the time of application that they intend to follow the joint M.A./M.P.A. program if admitted. Applicants for a dual degree program must be accepted separately to each program, either at the time of initial enrollment or during the first semester of study.

For further information, please call the School of Diplomacy and International Relations at (973) 275-2514, or the Department of Public and Healthcare Administration at (973) 761-9510.

M.A. in Asian Studies/
M.A. in Diplomacy and International Relations
The Department of Asian Studies in the College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Diplomacy and International Relations offer a dual degree program with a focus on East Asia. A solid understanding of East Asian history, language and culture complements students’ competence in international relations. The dual degree program can be completed in 60 credits, instead of the 81-84 credits that would be required to complete the two programs separately. Applicants for a dual degree program must be accepted separately to each program, either at the time of initial enrollment or during the first semester of study.

Graduate Certificate Program in Post-Conflict
State Reconstruction and Sustainability
Rising conflicts and tensions in many regions of the world posing critical socio-economic and institutional challenges have increased the need for skilled professionals with specialized knowledge, applied learning, and training in post-conflict work. To address this growing demand, the School of Diplomacy is pleased to offer the first graduate certificate program in post-conflict state reconstruction and sustainability among New York Metropolitan area members of the Association of Professional Schools of International Affairs (APSIA). Courses in the certificate program provide a comprehensive foundation for building sustainable peace in societies emerging from violent conflict.

The graduate certificate program is designed for professionals who seek to explore a career or develop additional skills without committing to a master’s degree and for matriculated graduate students who wish to secure an additional credential. This coursework is a tool for government civilian planners, diplomatic and UN practitioners, educators, and humanitarian workers engaged in stabilization and reconstruction missions. The skills developed through this program are a valuable resource for international agencies, nongovernmental organizations and more.

The 15-credit certificate program can be completed in two semesters. Courses are offered once a week in the evening to accommodate working professionals. Students admitted to this program may elect to apply their coursework towards an M.A. in Diplomacy and International Relations provided they meet the M.A. admission requirements.

The five required courses include:

DIPL 6000: International Relations Theory
Acquaints students with the key theoretical debates in international relations scholarship, and introduces students to the practice of diplomacy. Taken during the first semester of the program to strengthen writing and analytical skills. 3 credits

DIPL 6001: Politics of Cultural and Ethnic Pluralism
Surveys cultural diversity manifested in the concepts of ethnicity, national identity and nationalism. Includes study of political and sociological theory and case studies. 3 credits

DIPL 6002: International Organizations
Provides a historical and contemporary perspective on the role of intergovernmental and nongovernmental organizations in drafting public policy at the regional and global levels. 3 credits

DIPL 6003: Sustainable Development
Explores concepts of sustainable development in social, economic and political frameworks. 3 credits

DIPL 6004: Peacemaking and Peacekeeping
Examines theories and research concerning the nature and causes of conflict at both the domestic and international levels, as well as methods for avoiding, managing or resolving such conflicts. 3 credits

DIPL 6005: Public International Law
Explores the nature and content of international law governing relations between states and relations between states and nonstate actors. The first part of the course examines the building blocks of international law; the second part applies this framework to particular topics, such as the use of force, human rights and international environmental law. 3 credits

DIPL 6007: UN: Insider’s View
Bridges the gap between students and practitioners by complementing an academic understanding of the United Nations with an appreciation of the day-to-day concerns and realities of the organization. Structured around a series of guest lectures offered by U.N. officials and representatives of governments, civil society and the private sector on a broad range of substantive issues of current concern to the United Nations. 3 credits

DIPL 6008: International Criminal Law
Explores the historical, political and diplomatic evolution of international criminal law in this century, including war crimes, crimes against humanity and the International Criminal Court. 3 credits

DIPL 6015: Human Resources Management in International Organizations
Provides a comprehensive review of human resources management policies and practices in international organizations. It is designed to develop both analytical and practical skills for dealing with complex personnel management issues in a multicultural and political environment. 3 credits

DIPL 6019: Women, World Religions and Human Rights
Examines what sacred sources in religion say about women and how those scriptures have been interpreted and used in society. It examines contemporary women’s work that affirms or amends traditional religious views and roles about women, especially how contemporary women working through human rights organizations address the questions raised by modernity and the quest for universal human rights. 3 credits

DIPL 6031: International Environmental Policy
Applies an interdisciplinary set of analytical tools to understand international environmental problems, especially those affecting the global commons, including climate change, ozone depletion and biodiversity. Surveys and analyzes the actual and potential institutions the international community employs to address these issues. 3 credits

DIPL 6032: International Trade Law
This course examines the law of international trade, focusing on the law of the World Trade Organization, the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, and the trade law of the United States. The course will address the rules that restrain national restrictions on trade, as well as the negotiation practices and dispute settlement processes of the world trade law system. Among other things, the course will explore how that system manages the relationship between trade and other values and areas of regulatory control, such as environmental protection, health and other product standards, human rights, and intellectual property protection. 3 credits

DIPL 6103 Concepts and Applications for Leadership in the Global Community
Analysis of traits and behaviors essential in leading organizations and in managing organizational stakeholders. 3 credits

DIPL 6104 Art and Science of International Negotiation
International negotiations take place in the shadow of conflicts, crises and wars. Selected theories of international cooperation, as well as insights from other disciplines have contributed to our understanding of the dynamics of international negotiation. The course provides opportunities for simple and complex negotiation exercises as well as conceptual knowledge needed for analyzing real world cases. 3 credits

DIPL 6105 International Political Economy
Fundamental concepts of international economics and global financial institutions as a basis for understanding the global political economy. 3 credits

DIPL 6109 Negotiating International Trade
Provides basic background on reimbursement prices, transparency, standardization and dispute resolution at the federal, state and local level. 3 credits

DIPL 6110 Globalization: Impact on the State
Examines the major trends leading to the critical and rapidly changing role of the state, and explores how globalization is shaping the world of the 21st Century. 3 credits

DIPL 6113 International Financial Institutions
Analyzes dynamics of international trade and finance through the structure and work of the international financial institutions. Covers the basics of the international financial system and explores the potential for international cooperation in the field of development. 3 credits

DIPL 6114 Conflict Prevention
The course will identify the role and function of the principal actors working to prevent international conflict in theory and practice. Particular focus will be on organizations and processes from North America and Europe in a post-September 11 world. 3 credits

DIPL 6115 Cross Cultural Negotiation and Conflict Management
The ability to negotiate and manage conflicts across cultures is no longer an optional skill set in the worlds of international business, diplomacy and advocacy. This course, built on cases, interactive exercises and theoretical frameworks, develops skills and knowledge for managing the most challenging political, organizational and interpersonal relationships. 3 credits

DIPL 6116 Palestinian-Israeli Peace Process
The Palestinian-Israeli conflict is generally thought to be intractable. Much journalistic and even scholarly work tends to be partisan, while contributing little to our understanding of how this conflict can be resolved. In fact, there is a significant history of attempts to transform this conflict into coexistence. This instructor will build on his significant field research into the open and secret negotiations between Israel and the PLO, as well as the long history of Arab-Zionist encounters. A major component of the class will be simultaneous conduct of actual negotiations by the students, who will join one of four delegations: a Palestinian or an Israeli negotiation delegation, negotiating with interim or permanent issues. 3 credits

DIPL 6117 International Mediation
Third parties, including governments, prestigious individuals, IOs and NGOs often attempt to mediate international conflicts and wars. Some succeed brilliantly. Others fail miserably. This course offers perspective on the political, behavioral and strategic dimensions of international mediation. Participants learn about the methods, tactics and strategies of international mediation, the causes of failures and success, the dynamics of mediation in crises, internal wars and other conflicts. Participants also develop skills by practicing on large and small international mediation exercises. 3 credits

DIPL 6118 Global Conflict Resolution and Peacebuilding
Introduces the interdisciplinary field of conflict analysis and resolution. Investigates the dynamics of conflict transformation, post-conflict peace-building and reconciliation. Connects theory to practice through class discussions, research and case study, and simulation role play. 3 credits

DIPL 6119 New Approaches to Managing the Evolving Conflict Environment
Changes in the international environment require changes in the way we think about peace and security. Long-term sustainable stability requires improved governance, protection of individual rights, equitable economic development, and engagement of many different individuals and institutions in order to work. This course explores the new international environment, and looks at different actors and some of the issues they face in trying to provide peace, stability and social and political development in this environment. This course is intended to provide a solid foundation for both inquiry and application. The course will introduce students to some of the major concepts and dilemmas faced by professionals and policymakers, and will also put them into the role of practitioners trying to develop responses to these challenges. The course will connect theory to practice through discussion, research, and case studies, and will stress application through frequent class exercises. 3 credits

DIPL 6120 Catholic Peacemaking
The Catholic Peacemaking course offers an introduction to the understanding and practice of Catholic peacemaking as experienced through the centuries. It focuses on Catholic contributions to a contemporary understanding of peace;
the appreciation of the changing context in which this understanding has evolved, especially through the encounter with relevant Catholic Peacemakers; and the identification of peace as a relevant contemporary challenge that must be confronted by all. Each student will present on an historical case. 3 credits

DIPL 6121 Catholic Peacemaking Intensive Study Seminar
The Catholic Peacemaking Intensive Summer Study Program immerses participants in the practice of Catholic peacemaking as experienced through the offices of the Holy See and the work of the Community of Sant’Egidio. After an introduction to the themes of the course, the students will visit and have interactions with diplomats and researchers based in Rome. The course is designed to familiarize students with the inner workings of Vatican diplomacy and of the non-governmental organizations dedicated to peacemaking. 3 credits

DIPL 6129 Preventing Humanitarian Crisis
Investigates the causes, global responses to, and prevention of complex humanitarian emergencies. Beginning with the fundamental problem of defining what qualifies as a humanitarian crisis, this course further examines significant cases searching for factors to account for successful and unsuccessful international engagement. 3 credits

DIPL 6130 International Security
International security is a critical component of statecraft and global politics with domestic and international constraints and characteristics. This course is built upon an interdisciplinary approach that combines history, theory and policy regarding the origins of conflict, the uses of force in politics, classic approaches to security, strategies and modes of security, and the emerging security environment. 3 credits

DIPL 6131 Causes of War
What causes war? What do we need to know to prevent war if possible, and prepare for it when necessary? This course first systematically examines major schools of thoughts on the origins and prevention of war, including power and system-level theories of war and peace, domestic and societal sources of conflict, miscalculation, and psychological and emotional causes of war. The second part of this course applies these theoretical approaches to a series of important historical and contemporary cases of war and conflict in world politics. It is strongly encouraged that students registering for DIPL 6131 have previously completed DIPL 6130. 3 credits

DIPL 6132 American Grand Strategy
Grand strategy is the collection of political and military means and ends with which a state attempts to achieve security. This course examines the formulation, implementation, and outcomes of American grand strategy. It particularly explores the structure, operation, and capacity of American military establishment. It also covers the evolution of American grand strategy beginning with the containment strategy during the Cold War, to nuclear deterrence and arms control policy, followed by post-Cold War debates on American strategies of engagement, humanitarian intervention and democracy promotion to cope with the new security environment. 3 credits

DIPL 6133 Energy and Resources Security
As a result of increasing global demands for energy, natural resources, and clean environment, serious conflict of interest has emerged among nations and can potentially lead to deadly violence. Using carefully selected case studies, this course addresses these pressing security concerns. Topics covered include international politics of oil, water disputes, environmental conflict, and contention for fishery and other maritime resources. 3 credits

DIPL 6134 Nuclear Weapons in International Relations
This course provides a background for understanding current international relations in which nuclear weapons play a central role. An historical overview of nuclear weapons and issues, beginning with their development during World War II and continuing through the nuclear arms race between the United States and the Soviet Union, as well as events following the breakup of the Soviet Union are studied. The evolution and future possibilities of nuclear arms control treaties are examined. The spread of nuclear weapons with particular attention to developments in Pakistan, North Korea, India, Iran and Israel, and the potential for nuclear terrorism are reviewed and analyzed. 3 credits

DIPL 6140 International Human Rights
This course introduces the basic philosophy and principles of human rights and examines the historical development and expansion of human rights norms. The course then focuses on the instruments, institutions, and enforcement of human rights from a multidisciplinary perspective, exploring the major international human rights regimes and treaties. 3 credits

DIPL 6150 Current Issues and Approaches in International Political Economy
In this course, we will examine a variety of new approaches and new issues in international political economy. We will look at how two level games, second image and second image reversed theories, bargaining approaches, and ideational theories are being used to analyze issues, such as international trade and development. We will also examine how new issues are changing the way we think about international political economy, such as trafficking of humans, international migration, international laws and norms, transnational organizations, and food and safety issues (e.g. genetically modified food). 3 credits

DIPL 6153 Comparative Political Economy Development
This course provides and examines concepts and frameworks regarding comparative economic development of nations. The course introduces basic theories of macroeconomic growth and examines how institutions structure political, social, and economic incentives. The course also investigates how different rules and conventions in societies can result in differences in incentives, and how those differences shape human interactions. 3 credits
Course Descriptions

DIPL 6155 Advanced Economic Aspects of International Relations
This course will familiarize students with the essential concepts required to understand the economic issues associated with globalization. In particular, we will address a set of topics including why and how nations trade, how governments regulate international trade, regionalism and multilateralism, and the international financial architecture. 3 credits

DIPL 6156 Advanced Financial Aspects of International Relations
This course provides an overview of international financial economics. The course familiarizes students with the theoretical frameworks that economists use in examining controversial contemporary issues in international finance and globalization. Specifically, the course explores issues such as financial integration, determinants of exchange rates, macroeconomic policy (fiscal and monetary policy), exchange rate regime choice, and currency/economic crisis. 3 credits

DIPL 6170 Advanced Topics in Economic Development for International Affairs
This course is an in depth analysis of current aspects of development. We consider recent development dilemmas such as delivery of services for poor people, building institutions for markets, the role of knowledge in advancing economic and social well being, the role and effectiveness of the state in the changing world, and infrastructure and development. We analyze experiences of different countries in Latin America, Africa, East Asia, Eastern Europe, the Former Soviet Union, and the Middle East. 3 credits

DIPL 6180 Comparative Foreign Policy
Comparison among the attributes of various actors in international politics helps us understand the sources and outcomes of foreign policy-making. This course introduces students to the principal theories on the sources of foreign policy-making, ranging from the psychology and decision making of the individual policy maker, to the domestic and international constraints involved. Historical and current case studies are utilized by students to apply and test theories of policymaking. 3 credits

DIPL 6181 Statecraft: Designing Foreign Policy
Examines the tools of statecraft available to foreign policymakers as they attempt to protect national values and attain desired objectives vis-a-vis other international actors. The course first reviews key analytical concepts that underpin the study of foreign policy-making, such as influence attempts, threats, promises, policy-contingency frameworks and cost-benefit analysis. It then explores the conditions under which various policy instruments such as military power (ground combat, surgical air strikes, naval power, peacekeeping operations), economic statecraft (sanctions, trade, foreign aid) and public diplomacy are likely to achieve national goals. 3 credits

DIPL 6182 U.S. Foreign Policy
Introduces students to the actors, policy-making processes, and historical themes that influence U.S. foreign policy. The course first reviews the U.S. foreign policy-making process, focusing on key actors such as the president, congress, the bureaucracy, the media and public opinion. It then explores the history of U.S. foreign policy, from Washington’s Farewell Address to the present, with primary emphasis on the postwar period. Current foreign policy challenges facing the U.S. are then examined in light of these historical themes and general theories that bear upon them. 3 credits

DIPL 6190 Seminar in Foreign Policy Analysis
Examines a series of pivotal foreign policy cases in order to assess the relative success or failure of these policies and the lessons they hold for foreign affairs more broadly. Using critical cases chosen from substantive areas such as nuclear proliferation, economic diplomacy, and humanitarian intervention, as well as from all major world regions, this course analyzes them from their initial appearance on the foreign policy agenda to the ultimate policy outcome. Prerequisites: DIPL 6180 and/or 6181 and the instructor’s permission. 3 credits

DIPL 6195 Creating a 21st Century Diplomacy
The profession of diplomacy and the role of the diplomat are rapidly changing. Can diplomacy help meet the challenges of the 21st Century? Students will consider what should constitute the practice of 21st Century diplomacy and then apply these ideas to real world challenges through presentations and role play. 3 credits

DIPL 6196 Talking with the Enemy
Through a detailed investigation of a series of case studies, this course will take a close look at past efforts of the United States to manage relations with “enemies” or adversaries including former USSR, Nazi Germany, China, and Iran. The course will examine the different strategies Presidents have used to “talk to the enemy”. It will also seek to explore the various theories connected with decision making in analyzing historical events. 3 credits

DIPL 6197 U.S. Policy on Stabilization and Reconstruction in Fragile States
This course examines new developments in U.S. policy for dealing with failing or fragile states. While lessons learned in conflict situations will be considered, primary emphasis will be on states now hovering on the brink of collapse. Attention will be paid to innovative uses of tools such as anthropology, as well as to rule of law, sustainable development, and democracy building. A central issue throughout the semester will be the inherent contradiction between stability and changes which come about as a result of reconstruction and development. 3 credits

DIPL 6198 Human Rights in U.S. Foreign Policy
This course will examine the evolution of human rights as a policy priority and consider the effectiveness of both international and U.S. policy to date. Through this analysis, students will be encouraged not only to identify factors which aid or impede human rights protection but also to develop recommendations for the improvement of human rights policy. 3 credits

DIPL 6201 UN Security Council Issues
An in-depth study of the bureaucratic and political factors that shape the policy and process of this key UN institution. Lectures and class sessions will focus on specific topical issues of relevance to the Security Council. 3 credits

DIPL 6202 Politics at the United Nations: Relevance and Reform
This course will examine how the United Nations seeks to address the growing range of transnational problems that appear on its agenda. This increased demand for action comes at a time when the organization is being subjected to varying interpretations about its structure, role and potential in the international system. The course will explore what the UN does, how it works, and the challenges it faces while also considering the potential for United Nations reform in the name of greater effectiveness and legitimacy. 3 credits

DIPL 6250 Conflict and Conflict Resolution in Plural Societies
This course aims to present and discuss the major theoretical and empirical approaches to intra-state conflict and conflict resolution. It examines theories that attempt to explain causes and courses of violent ethnic conflicts and civil wars. It discusses the roles played by ethnicity, religion, culture and development in the generation, conduct, and resolution of social conflicts. It also investigates the dynamics of post-conflict peace-building and reconstruction in plural societies. It would ground students the basic concepts of conflict resolution and skills of diagnosing social conflict. 3 credits

DIPL 6251 Justice, Truth, and Reconciliation in Post-Conflict Societies
This course focuses on the ongoing debate between truth and justice in post-conflict societies, and how to maintain balance of the two in order to pave the way for post-conflict state sustainability. The course interrogates rule of law, justice, and truth as they relate to both the victims and perpetrators of serious human rights violations, and examines the question of reconciliation in the aftermath of violence. Also, included in the course are the nature, scope of mandate, and procedures of truth and reconciliation commissions. 3 credits

DIPL 6252 Institutions of Post-Conflict Governance
This course seeks to answer two basic questions: 1) why have states failed and 2) what can be done to prevent failure and rebuild weak/failed states in the 21st century? To answer these questions, this course focuses on the integral role that institutions play in ensuring the day-to-day stability of nation-states. The course will explore the theory and practice of rebuilding institutions to strengthen states that have undergone failure, and assess strengths and shortcomings of varied interventions at the institutional level. 3 credits

DIPL 6253 Civil Conflict and Development
One of the central challenges in post-conflict reconstruction is rebuilding a viable economy. This course examines the economic after-effects of civil wars and how states and international organizations have responded to the challenge of rebuilding post-conflict economies. Students will appraise the possible tradeoffs that exist in forming a government that can protect property rights, reconstituting a viable economy, and promoting peace. In evaluating the role of international actors (through foreign aid and the role of the IMF and World Bank), our aim is to develop and propose more optimal policies that mitigate these tradeoffs. 3 credits

DIPL 6277 Global Health, Bioterrorism, and International Security
This interdisciplinary course covers the issues of global health, biological weapons and international security. It has four main objectives: 1) to introduce students to the concept of health security; 2) to elucidate the linkages between health and security, with special attention paid to bioterrorism; 3) to examine the global health challenges and their conflict and security implications; and 4) to explore the policy options addressing such challenges. 3 credits

DIPL 6278 Global Health Diplomacy
The course’s central mission is to introduce a goal-oriented framework used by senior international policymakers and apply them to global health issues. As new forms of global health policy architecture are constantly being created and implemented, the student has many opportunities to examine new ideas and event sequences in real time and think critically about risks and opportunities of such policy initiatives. By undertaking the framework approach, the course aims to provoke strategic and creative thinking on global health topics of high importance and visibility, and to enable the student to develop practical policy recommendations across an ever-changing landscape of issues and problems. 3 credits

DIPL 6279 Contagion and Conflict: Global Impact of Infectious Disease
This course examines the role of epidemics as causative agents of historic change, focusing on the global impact of infectious disease. In addition to the demographic and social effects of infectious disease, it examines the impact on political stability, economic development, and international relations. The implications of human response to infectious disease, including the impact on human rights, are also discussed. 3 credits

DIPL 6280 International Health and Development
This course provides in-depth and multifaceted analyses of issues, problems, and policies in international health and development in the major regions of the world. Issues that are considered include environmental and ecological change, demographic and epidemiological transitions, new and re-emerging diseases, family and reproductive health, and health systems change. Implications for development and policy responses are explored in detail for each issue. 3 credits
DIPL 6310 Research Methods for Policy Analysis
Facilitates development of the ability to design, execute and critique of research pertinent to policy development and management, at global, regional or national levels, including governmental, inter-governmental or non-governmental organizations. 3 credits

DIPL 6311 Master’s Research Project
Students develop, execute and present a research project as a culminating component of the master’s program, in consultation with a faculty mentor. Prerequisite: DIPL 6310. 3 credits

DIPL 6312 Master’s Thesis
Provides an opportunity for certain students to extend the research and writing performed in DIPL 6311 by completion of a formal master’s thesis. Registration requires approval from the graduate thesis adviser. The thesis and its defense must conform to standards established by the School of Diplomacy. Prerequisite: DIPL 6311. 3 credits

DIPL 6401 European Union: Development and Dynamics
An in depth study of the structures, procedures, processes and institutions of the European Union. Both politics and policy are covered. Sessions focus on structural issues such as enlargement and the CAP, as well as on developments of a more political nature including trade issues and trans-Atlantic relations. 3 credits

DIPL 6402 European Union: Governance and Policy
Readings and seminar discussion on the internal operations of the European Union in light of expansion. 3 credits

DIPL 6403 European Union: External Relations
Readings and seminar discussion on the emerging role of the European Union as it relates to neighbors and the world. 3 credits

DIPL 6405 Foreign Policy of Post-Soviet States
Detailed analysis of the global role of states within the former Soviet sphere, both among themselves and in relation to the European Union, China and the United States. 3 credits

DIPL 6406 Eastern European and Post-Soviet Politics
Comprehensive introduction to the politics of the former Soviet Union, Eastern Europe, and post-Soviet Russia, including development of the Soviet Union as a multinational, planned economy empire and the causes of collapse. It also explores the challenges faced by the new states that emerged from the collapse, with special attention to the economic and political problems of these states’ transformations as affected by the different legacies of the Soviet period in each of the countries involved. 3 credits

DIPL 6408 Kosovo Study Seminar
Examines Kosovo’s transition from autonomous province within Yugoslavia to independent country recognized by half the member states of the UN through a combination of traditional learning and research and a ten day study tour. Students meet with representatives of the international organizations and NGOs that continue to play a central role in shaping the society, senior officials of Kosovo, representatives of Serb and Albanian communities in Kosovo, and political party leaders. 3 credits

DIPL 6409 Small State Diplomacy: Portugal’s Role in International Affairs
This course examines Portugal as an example of the role smaller states play in global affairs and especially international institutions, including the European Union, the United Nations, NATO, and the Community of Portuguese Speaking Countries. Through a study trip to Lisbon, students will learn how small states defend their interests in international affairs, what strategies they use, and what resources they draw upon, as well as the benefits and constraints that accrue from membership in international organizations. 3 credits

DIPL 6410 European Union Seminar in Luxembourg
Students learn about diplomacy and international relations as well as European culture and history first-hand, by visiting some of the major institutions involved in European Union governance and in Europe’s trans-Atlantic relations. 3 credits

DIPL 6422 Trans-Atlantic Organizations and World Politics
Examines the changing architecture of contemporary trans-Atlantic relations, and places this relationship within the wider frame of world politics, including NATO, the European Union, Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe, as well as the changes in the trans-Atlantic relations after the demise of communism in Russia, and in Eastern and Central Europe. Beyond the institutional analysis of international organizations, the course examines and explores Trans-Atlantic diplomacy, European identity, trade tensions and the economic dimension to common security, the treatment of U.S. disengagement in Europe and the impact of domestic politics on international relations. 3 credits

DIPL 6500 The Modern Middle East: History, Challenges and Opportunities
Commences with an overview of the historical events of the Middle East that are crucial to understanding the emergence of the modern period beginning in 1832, and concluding with current issues and opportunities. 3 credits

DIPL 6501 Modern Middle East: U.S. Involvement
This course examines U.S. involvement in the Middle East in the 20th Century, exploring how the U.S. has emerged as the principal foreign actor in the Middle East. 3 credits

DIPL 6502 Islamic Religion and Culture
Comprehensive introduction to history and contemporary themes of Islam as a world religion developing in diverse cultural settings. 3 credits

DIPL 6503 Women/Gender in Islam
Exploration of the historical and contemporary interpretations of Islamic teaching and practice. 3 credits
DIPL 6505 Afghanistan: History and Current Issues
In-depth analysis of Afghanistan’s modern history and its uneasy juxtaposition as a buffer state between British India and Russia. Also discussed are the rise and fall of the Taliban movement, U.S. war against terrorism, and the challenges and opportunities of having emerged from two decades of Russian occupation and civil war. 3 credits

DIPL 6506 Energy Policies of the 21st Century
This course explores energy options, analyzing the economic, political, environmental and technical constraints upon them, in light of major current imperatives – climate change and the deregulation of nuclear power. 3 credits

DIPL 6507 Water Politics of the 21st Century
This course analyzes the water resources in critical areas and their role in shaping the future patterns of international relations. 3 credits

DIPL 6508 Dialogue Among Civilizations
In past centuries the world has experienced great physical, human, and emotional devastation due to the mindset that going to war is the best and easiest option for achieving peace. A new doctrine presented to the United Nations and approved by the international community calls for conflict and hostility to be resolved through dialogue among nations, cultures, and civilizations. This course aims to help students better understand the dimensions of cultural differences among people as well as various strategies for achieving peace and prosperity through dialogue. 3 credits

DIPL 6509 EU and Cyprus Seminar
This course will assess the economic, political and social impact of EU membership on Cyprus. Students will gain insights based on the perceptions of different actors, namely public sector, private sector, and civil society. After serious preparation, students will visit Cyprus and interact with the main players. Based on this visit, the class will prepare a report, for which every member will contribute. 3 credits

DIPL 6510 The Persian Gulf in the 21st Century
Examines the communities and economics of the region, historical background and causes of conflict both at the domestic and international levels, as well as U.S. policies to manage or resolve such conflicts. After addressing the present problems of the region and its importance in international relations, the course examines case studies and issues which present significant challenges to global peace and security in the 21st Century. 3 credits

DIPL 6520 Politics of Terrorism in the Middle East
This course takes an in-depth look at terrorism in its contemporary political incarnation. Areas covered include the connections between fundamentalism, religion and terrorism; the abilities of security services and intelligence organizations to effectively monitor and combat terrorism; use of the internet by extremist groups; cooperation between and among terrorist networks; and the drug trade, arms trafficking, and terrorism. 3 credits

DIPL 6501 Sino-U.S. Relations
Based on historical events and the latest developments of the bilateral relationship between the United States and China, this course will explore how the relationship between Washington and Beijing evolved in the past three centuries with the interactions between the U.S. and “new China” - the People’s Republic of China as the focus. Moreover, in probing the current affairs in the Sino-U.S. relationship, specific areas such as the Taiwan issue, security and economic cooperation, and human rights will be discussed. 3 credits

DIPL 6602 Islam and Southeast Asia

The College of Education and Human Services is accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education.
The mission of the College of Education and Human Services is to promote professional practice. We strive to do that by developing competent, socially conscious, reflective professionals. What does this mean for a candidate in the college? The faculty and the professionals we work with in the community are committed to: (i) the development of a broad, deep knowledge base that can be translated into practice; (ii) a respect and valuing for difference in our society; and (iii) the ability to practice introspection regarding self-development and practice. An integral step toward achieving these goals is the alignment of our programs with national professional standards and those of the State of New Jersey. When a candidate graduates from the College of Education and Human Services from Seton Hall University, he/she will be recognized for these qualities and future potential.

The College of Education and Human Services offers programs of study leading to the following degrees: Bachelor of Science in Education; Master of Arts, Master of Arts in Education, and Master of Science; Educational Specialist; Doctor of Education; and Doctor of Philosophy. Students prepare for careers in teaching, broaden their knowledge and understanding of the process of education, improve their professional techniques and prepare for leadership positions or careers in the psychological, counseling, and human services professions.
General Information

Application and Admission
Applicants to graduate study in the College of Education and Human Services are expected to meet the general University qualitative requirements for admission and comply with its admission procedures. Department and program descriptions include specific admission requirements.

Admission Examination
Applicants for admission to graduate study in the College of Education and Human Services must take a standardized examination. Most programs require the Miller Analogies Test or the GRE. The catalogue lists test requirements for specific programs.

For information concerning the Miller Analogies Test or the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) and the dates on which they are administered, students should contact The Career Center, (973) 761-9355. Test results must be no more than five years old.

Requirements for Graduate Matriculation
Students and applicants should be familiar with the academic and financial information provided in previous sections of this catalogue.

Master’s degree students are expected to maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.0. Doctoral and Ed.S. students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.25. Students who fall below these levels are subject to departmental review and action.

Adequate academic performance is necessary but not sufficient for continuation and completion of College of Education and Human Services programs. The College is concerned that the professionals it prepares to work with others in helping relationships, demonstrate technical, ethical and interpersonal competency in their chosen field, particularly through field experiences. Despite adequate academic performance, as measured by the GPA, students may be denied a recommendation for certification program continuance and/or for graduation, if, in the judgment of the faculty, they do not demonstrate acceptable ethical, technical and professional behavior. Where possible, the faculty will assist students in remediating deficiencies. See the specific criteria of each program for an elaborated understanding of expected dispositional and professional behaviors.

Students should consult the appropriate department for specific programs and requirements.

Degree Requirements
In addition to the general University requirements for the degree, the College of Education and Human Services requires the student to:

- complete foundation courses as required;
- complete department course and credit requirements;
- pass the comprehensive examination where required;
- complete all required coursework within six years of initial registration.; and
- complete all program requirements for the Ph.D. in Counseling Psychology within 8 years of admission.

Successful completion of a written comprehensive examination is required in most departments of the College. The examination will reflect both foundation courses and application of specialization coursework. The decision of the readers concerning the quality of the examination is final and not subject to appeal.

The M.A. and M.S. programs require a minimum of 36 graduate credits. Some programs require more than this. Individual programs may accept up to six graduate credits completed at another accredited institution. However, the proposed transfer credits may not have been applied to a prior master’s degree. In addition, the currency and relevancy of the courses must be perceived as relevant to the proposed program of study at Seton Hall. Students must speak with the program director to determine whether prior graduate credits meet these criteria and may be accepted. Within the Department of Professional Psychology and Family Therapy, a policy on the transfer and/or waiver of credits details the number of credits that will be considered for transfer/course waivers.

There is no transfer or waiver of assessment, practicum, externship, or internship coursework. Coursework completed as part of an undergraduate degree program will not be accepted for transfer credit. Courses must have been completed within five years of admission to PPFT programs to be considered for transfer credits.
Graduate Teaching Clinical Experience
Candidates whose program of study includes clinical practices are required to apply by December 1 for the following Fall semester and April 1 for the following Spring semester. Candidates need approval from their advisers and department chairs. Transfer students must complete a minimum of 12 credits at Seton Hall before they will be assigned as student teachers. They should adhere to the following procedures:

- secure an application from the Director of Field Placement and Supervision; and,
- return the completed application and a receipt from the Bursar’s Office for $100 to the Director of Field Placement and Supervision by December 1 for the following Fall semester and April 1 for the following Spring semester.

The culminating clinical experience is one full semester, full time, meaning that the candidate is in his or her school from the start of the school day until the end as well as attending meetings and planning activities with the cooperating teacher. Each student teacher is assigned to an approved accredited school and is guided by a college supervisor and a cooperating teacher who has been appointed by the principal of the school.

The student teacher is required to register for and attend the weekly seminar for the entire semester as well as complete the required Teacher Work Sample as part of that course.

Programs Leading to New Jersey State Certification

Educational Specialist Programs

General Objectives

The Ed.S. degree is intended for professional educators and those in the helping professions who need preparation beyond the master’s degree. The purpose of the degree is to advance and update skills and competencies. Credits earned in the Ed.S. degree may, in some programs, apply to advanced degrees.

The Ed.S. program is of particular interest to school administrators, educational researchers, teachers, department chairs, supervisors, professional counselors, school psychologists, management and training consultants, specialists in learning disabilities, marriage and family therapists, and specialists in pupil personnel services.

Application and Admission

Formal admission to graduate studies is necessary to enter the Ed.S. program. Requests for applications may be directed to the Graduate Admissions Office, College of Education and Human Services at (973) 761-9668.

Admission Requirements

- a master’s degree in an appropriate field from an accredited college or university;
- public school teaching certification, if appropriate;
- acceptable scores on the Miller Analogies Test or the Graduate Record Examination (GRE scores required for the combined M.A./Ed.S. in Counseling/Professional Counseling);
- statement of professional goals, including indices of special accomplishments, such as leadership roles in the student’s field;
- academic competence with a graduate-level cumulative average of 3.25 or better;
- three letters of recommendation from graduate faculty and professional associates in administrative and/or supervisory roles;
- an interview with the admission committee, if applicable; and
- at least one course in research on the graduate level.

Individual programs may have additional requirements.

Degree Requirements

The Ed.S. programs require a minimum of 12 graduate credits beyond the master’s degree. Some Ed.S. programs are significantly larger and may require up to 45 additional credits. It is important to read the requirements of each program. Students must meet the requirements set by their program and/or department in each of the four component areas. These components may include departmental course requirements, interdisciplinary/interdepartmental studies, supervised field experience/internship and culminating experience (a project chaired by a faculty adviser and graded by a faculty committee).

Graduate credits earned in other accredited colleges or universities may be accepted in partial satisfaction of degree requirements, provided they have not been used to fulfill requirements for a previous degree and that the grade is a “B” or higher. The exact number credited depends on the currency and relevancy of the courses to the program pursued. A maximum of 6 credits can be accepted in transfer for some degree programs. The time limit for completion of the Ed.S. program is six years from first registration.

Doctoral Programs

The College of Education and Human Services offers graduate programs leading to the Doctor of Education (Ed.D.), and Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) with concentrations in a number of areas and programs:

Department of Education Leadership, Management and Policy (Ed.D./Ph.D.)
- Education Leadership, Management and Policy (Ed.D.)
- Higher Education Leadership, Management and Policy (Ed.D./Ph.D.)

Department of Professional Psychology and Family Therapy (Ph.D.)
- Counseling Psychology (Ph.D.)
- Family Psychology (Ph.D.) (Admissions Suspended for 2014-2015)

General Objective

The doctoral degree is granted upon completion of a program of study at Seton Hall University by which the student achieves mastery in a specialty field and demonstrates the ability to pursue and complete an independent, scholarly investigation. The degree is not awarded automatically after a period of time or on the accumulation of a prescribed number of semester hours. The granting of the degree signifies that the individual has the competency to fill a leadership role in his or her area of specialization and that the College of Education and Human Services and the University attest to this.

Application and Admission

Formal admission to graduate studies is necessary to enter the Ed.D. and Ph.D. programs. Requests for applications may be directed to the Office of Graduate Studies, College of Education and Human Services at (973) 761-9668. Admission requirements for the Ed.D. and Ph.D. are as follows:

- a master’s degree in an appropriate field; (The Ph.D. program in counseling psychology does accept applicants with a bachelor’s degree, as well as those with a master’s degree in a related field.)
- superior academic record (two official transcripts of all graduate and undergraduate coursework required);
Course of Study

In consultation with an adviser, each doctoral student develops an individualized program consisting of courses and other educational experiences, taking into consideration prior education and experiences, so as to best achieve appropriate professional and personal goals. A minimum of 90 graduate semester hours is required, although some programs may require more. Up to 45 graduate hours may be accepted as transfer credit. The exact number credited depends on the currency and relevancy of the work to the program pursued. The Ph.D. in Counseling Psychology Program will not accept transfer courses that are more than 5 years old.

Completion Requirements

Some programs require doctoral students to apply for permanent matriculation during the semester in which 12-15 credits of doctoral coursework are completed at Seton Hall. Satisfactory completion of a program of at least 90 graduate semester hours (at least 45 of which must be taken at Seton Hall) is required. Many programs require more than 90 total credits to meet specific program requirements. Each doctoral student must demonstrate competency in statistics and computer science. This may be accomplished through coursework and/or by examination.

A residency or period of intensive study is required. The specific conditions are determined in consultation with an adviser. Some programs require doctoral students to take a comprehensive written examination to test their command of integrated knowledge in their field upon completion of all or most of the required coursework. When students have passed this examination and have the positive recommendation of the department concerned, they will be advanced to candidacy for the doctorate.

Preparation and successful defense (oral examination) of an acceptable dissertation are required. Students must complete all requirements for the degree, including the oral examination on the dissertation and the approval and filing of final copies of the dissertation within four years (two years for Executive Ed.D. students) after being advanced to candidacy or within eight years of their first enrollment, whichever comes first. Time extensions may be granted in unusual cases upon written application. Requests must have the support of the student’s adviser and department chair and receive the concurrence of the associate dean. The total of all extension(s) shall not exceed two years. Students granted an extension may have to repeat courses, or take new courses as stipulated by programs.

Students who have been advanced to candidacy must register continuously for dissertation advisement in their major department. Dissertation advisement does not apply to the 90-credit requirement. If continuous matriculation is not maintained, students must reapply for admission.

Department of Professional Psychology and Family Therapy

www.shu.edu/academics/education/professional-psychology

Faculty: Beitin; Brady-Amoon; Cole; Datchi; Farrelly; Hartman; J. Lee; S. Lee; Massarelli; Palmer (Chair); Smith; Thompson-Sard

Degree and Certification Programs

The department offers master’s degree specialist (Ed.S.), and Ph.D. programs. The School Psychology (Ed.S.) and School Counseling (M.A.) programs and post-master’s in School Counseling also are approved for New Jersey State Department of Education certification. The curriculum of the combined M.A./Ed.S. in Professional Counseling is approved by the Professional Counselors Examiners Committee of New Jersey. The Marriage and Family Therapy M.S. and Ed.S. programs at Seton Hall University are accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Marriage and Family Therapy Education (COAMFTE) of the American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy (AAMFT), 112 South Alfred Street, Alexandria, Virginia 22314, (703) 838-9808. The Ph.D. program in counseling psychology is accredited by the American Psychological Association (APA) through its Office of Program Consultation and Accreditation (750 First Street NE, Washington, D.C. 20002-4242; Phone: 202-336-5979) since October 22, 1999.

General Admission

In addition to the general University requirements for admission to graduate studies, the Department of Professional Psychology and Family Therapy requires submission of standardized test scores, either the Miller Analogies Test (MAT) or the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) for the M.A. degree, the Marriage and Family Therapy M.S. and Ed.S. degrees, and the GRE for the Counseling M.A./Ed.S. and School Counseling M.A., as well as the Ph.D. programs in Counseling Psychology and Family Psychology, and other program specific assessment techniques in addition to the requirements outlined below.
Academic and Competency Standards

The Department of Professional Psychology and Family Therapy follows University graduate policies on Academic Good Standing. In addition to this University policy, students must show continued evidence of academic achievement by maintaining a 3.0 GPA at the master’s level and a 3.25 GPA at the Ed.S. and Ph.D. levels. Students who drop below these averages, as measured at semester intervals, are referred to the academic standards committee for review. The committee decisions range from a warning to dismissal; and, students may not register until a final decision has been rendered by the committee. The Ph.D. program in Counseling Psychology has a separate set of academic standards that are outlined in the program’s Doctoral Student Handbook available at: education.shu.edu/academicprograms/profpsych/phd_counsel/index.html

Adequate academic performance is necessary but not sufficient for continuation in a program. Students must demonstrate technical, ethical, interpersonal and effective competence in their chosen fields, particularly through practica and internship experiences. Despite adequate academic performance, as measured by the GPA, students may be denied a recommendation for certification or prevented from continuing or graduating if, in the judgment of the faculty, they have not demonstrated particular competencies or have violated the ethical principles of the American Psychological Association (APA), the American Counseling Association (ACA), or the American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy (AAMFT). All students entering programs in the Department of Professional Psychology and Family Therapy are expected to become familiar with Department Policies available at education.shu.edu/academicprograms/profpsych/index.html, particularly the department’s policy on Retention and Remediation of Students.

Statement on Student Disclosure of Personal Information

As part of their professional training, students are expected to be reflective in relation to themselves, their own families of origin, and to other systems with which they interact. Further, it is expected that students will engage in appropriate self-disclosure during classes, training, and supervision. This is for the purpose of increasing awareness, knowledge, and skills as family therapists, counselors, and psychologists.

*Students admitted to programs in PPFT must undergo a criminal background check within the first year of the program in order to complete clinical training experiences. Findings of a criminal record are subject to program dismissal.

Master’s Programs

The Department of Professional Psychology and Family Therapy offers graduate courses leading to the Master of Arts (M.A.) in the following areas:

• School and Community Psychology

The Department of Professional Psychology and Family Therapy offers courses leading to a professional certificate or professional diploma with the following specializations:

• School Counseling
• Marriage and Family Therapy (professional diploma)
• Sports and Exercise Psychology

The department has two professional post-master’s programs leading to certificates or a professional diploma in School Counseling, and Marriage and Family Therapy (professional diploma). A post-master’s in School Counseling sequence designed to meet the educational requirements for school counseling in the state of New Jersey is offered as an adjunct to a student’s current program or for those who already hold a master’s in the helping professions. A minimum 18-credit post-master’s sequence to facilitate license-eligible professionals to meet the requirements for licensure in New Jersey as a marriage and family therapist is also available.

Application Deadline

Applications are reviewed once they are complete. Please check with graduate studies (973) 761-9668 to be sure all your application materials have been received. The certificate programs have rolling admissions and accept applicants on a continuing basis.

Admission

Applicants must satisfy all University requirements for admission to graduate studies as well as the requirements of the department and the individual program.

Each program applicant for admission to a degree is required to do the following:

• submit a statement relating relevant experience, motivation and career objectives; and
• submit three letters of reference attesting to academic potential and personal qualifications for the area of intended program of study.

Additional admission requirements may be listed in the appropriate program descriptions.

Combined M.A./Ed.S. Degree Programs

The Department of Professional Psychology and Family Therapy offers courses leading to a combined M.A./Ed.S. degree with the following specialization:

• Counseling/Professional Counseling

Application Deadline

Applications are reviewed once they are complete. Please check with graduate studies (973) 761-9668 to be sure all your application materials have been received. The application deadlines for the combined programs are November 1 (for Spring) and May 1 (for Fall).

Admission

Applicants must satisfy all University requirements for admission to graduate studies as well as the requirements of the department and the individual program.

Each program applicant for admission to a degree is required to do the following:

• submit a statement relating relevant experience, motivation and career objectives; and
• submit three letters of reference attesting to academic potential and personal qualifications for the area of intended program of study.

Additional admission requirements may be listed in the appropriate program descriptions.

Ph.D. Programs

The Department of Professional Psychology and Family Therapy offers courses leading to the doctoral degree with the following specializations:

• Counseling Psychology (Ph.D.) (Accredited by The American Psychological Association)
• Family Psychology (Ph.D.) (Admissions Suspended for 2014-15)

The Counseling Psychology and Family Psychology Ph.D. programs follow the scientist-practitioner model.

The programs integrate science and practice. Accordingly, research is considered a significant component of the doctoral programs. The development and demonstration of research competency culminating in original research is expected of every student. Applicants should have both an aptitude for research and a willingness to pursue the rigors of research requirements in courses, independent study and in conducting of research.

Admission

Admission to doctoral programs is competitive and is based on a thorough evaluation of each applicant by an admissions committee. Based on committee ratings, selected applicants are interviewed, and final decisions are then made.

In addition to the general admission requirements, each applicant must submit the following to the Office of Graduate Studies, College of Education and Human Services:

• recent (within five years) scores on the Graduate Record Examination (no subject test required for Ph.D. for Counseling Psychology; for Family Psychology, the Ph.D. Psychology subject test is desirable);
• a detailed statement of all relevant professional work experience;
• a personal statement of 2-3 pages addressing accomplishments, goals, clinical training and work, research involvement and interests, and academic experiences;
• three letters of recommendation, including (for the Family Psychology Program) at least one from a former professor and one from a present or former supervisor. Letters of recommendation for the Family Psychology Ph.D. must address three areas: clinical experience, research potential and academic qualifications; and
• other supporting data, such as copies of publications, research reports, newspaper articles or other documentation supporting the student’s qualifications and accomplishments (For Family Psychology Ph.D. a graded or published writing sample is required).

Doctoral students are admitted for the Fall semester only. Applications and all supporting material must be submitted no later than December 15 for Counseling Psychology (February 15 for the Family Psychology Ph.D.). Admission decisions are made by April 15.

Program Plan
Admitted students are assigned a doctoral mentor for research mentoring. The director of training meets with all students to develop a tentative program based on prior coursework and college and program requirements. Students who have not completed this plan prior to the end of the first semester will not be allowed to enroll for courses in the subsequent semester.

Residency/Intensive Study
The requirements of intensive study vary according to each doctoral program’s requisites.

Comprehensive Examination
The passing of the comprehensive examination is considered a prerequisite for doctoral internships. The examination is normally taken after the student has completed at least 60 credits of graduate work, including all coursework in the core and research areas.

Students who fail any part are required to take that part over. A second failure results in dismissal from the program. Students should check individual program requirements, since these policies may vary by program.

Continuous Registration
Students must register continuously for CPSY 9991-9999 Dissertation Advisement, until the thesis is completed and the final oral examination is passed. Students who are not taking courses or those who have failed the comprehensive exams must register for additional research study or maintain registration. Students also should refer to the general catalogue statements on continuity with regard to leaves of absence and continuation. Failure to register without being granted a leave of absence constitutes resignation.

Professional Psychology and Family Therapy 167

Final Oral Examination
Following completion of the dissertation, a final dissertation defense is conducted. The examining committee is composed of each student’s dissertation committee plus two additional faculty members. The final oral examination focuses upon, but is not necessarily limited to, the dissertation. Students who fail this examination may request another examination but not earlier than three months from the time of the original examination. Students should check with the Graduate Admissions Office in the College for deadlines for submission of final copies and defense dates.

Time Limit
Doctoral students in the department’s Ph.D. programs must complete their program within eight years of their acceptance dates. Time extensions may be granted in unusual cases upon written application. Requests must originate with the student, and receive the approval of the program faculty. Final approval is from the chair of the department.

Student Responsibility
It is each student’s responsibility to remain informed of all requirements, prerequisites, deadline dates and procedures within the doctoral programs. It also is each student’s responsibility to maintain contact with the adviser and dissertation mentor.

Ph.D. with a Major in Counseling Psychology (Accredited by APA)
The over-arching goal of the program is to prepare counseling psychologists in the scientist-practitioner model to assume roles as responsible, competent members of the professional psychological community. Such members understand the value of science and research for the practice of psychology and the value of applied practice for the science of psychology. These individuals have developed skills, knowledge and self-understanding that allow them to help persons take responsibility for and control of their lives within the context of their development as human beings and the various systems and environments that impact their lives. Because counseling psychologists are working in increasingly diverse settings, the program provides an intensive grounding in psychological theory comparable to that provided to students in other specialties.

The philosophy of training maintains a strong emphasis on the approach to practice that distinguishes counseling psychologists from other professionals, as defined by APA Division 17: a focus on training multiculturally aware and responsive psychologists, a focus on social justice; a lifespan approach to advancing mental health and well-being with individuals, families, systems and communities; a strength-based focus; an emphasis on relatively brief interventions; an emphasis on person-environment interactions rather than an exclusive focus on person or environment; a focus on local as well as global applications of psychological science; a focus on clinical supervision; and an emphasis on educational... and career development. All students follow a defined sequence of training in theory, research and practice with a comprehensive generalist focus and select an individual nine-credit minor concentration area in preparation for more specialized training in their internship and/or post-doctoral experiences. Past graduates have chosen careers in a variety of settings, including college and university counseling centers, health care and rehabilitation facilities, academic departments in universities, private practice and consultation, and business and organizational practice.

Consistent with the scientist-practitioner model, students are involved in research projects throughout their training. This begins in the first year, with an assignment as a research assistant to a faculty member, and culminates with the design, data collection and analysis of at least one independent research project in addition to the dissertation. As members of the professional community, students are strongly encouraged to present their work at national and regional conferences, both during their academic career and after graduation.

Admission to the Program

Students are admitted to the Counseling Psychology Ph.D. Program if they have completed a bachelor’s degree in psychology or a related field, or with a master’s degree in psychology or counseling; transfer credits are evaluated on a case-by-case basis. Admission to the program is competitive. Students are admitted once a year for the Fall semester, with an application deadline of December 15. The following must be submitted to the Graduate Admissions Office, College of Education and Human Services, by all applicants:

- official copies of all previous undergraduate and graduate transcripts;
- official scores from the Graduate Record Examination;
- a completed graduate application form;
- three letters of reference from former teachers, professional colleagues or supervisors at work;
- a statement of career goals;
- a statement of research interests; and
- a sample of work that demonstrates the student’s ability to perform at the doctoral level (optional). This may be a research project, publication from a professional journal or a case report on a client. Applicants who believe their standardized test scores are not representative of their true potential are particularly encouraged to submit work samples.

Individuals may be admitted to the Ph.D. program in counseling Psychology with a B.A. in Psychology if they demonstrate strong academic promise (e.g., GPA, GRE scores, research experience, etc.), potential for personal growth (e.g., highly developed interpersonal skills, clinical experience, letters of recommendation, etc.), and a commitment to the profession of counseling psychology (personal statement). Students from historically underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply.

Admissions decisions are based on all of the above, in addition to a personal interview for a small group of applicants. The program also focuses on students who have demonstrated interests in both research and practice. Further, because of the highly interactive nature of the classroom and practicum experiences, students in the program learn from one another, as well as from their professors and supervisors. Therefore, the program seeks to admit students who bring both well-developed interpersonal skills and a variety of personal backgrounds, perspectives and life experiences that may serve to enhance the professional and personal development of their peers.

   Students registering for CPSY 9788-9789 will remain enrolled in the University and will pay a per-semester registration fee.

   D. Minor Area (9 credits)

   The minor area of specialization provides an opportunity for students to develop further expertise in some area of their choosing. This involves taking a 9-credit-hour sequence of related courses, independent readings, and/or research other than the dissertation. Possible minor areas are multicultural counseling, neuropsychological assessment, career counseling, and marriage and family therapy. The minor area is selected by the student in consultation with the director of training. Modifications to the minor area may be made at any time in consultation with the student’s mentor.

   Up to 3 credits may be double-counted toward degree requirements. For example, a student selecting neuropsychological assessment as a minor area would be allowed to count CPSY 6105:

   Biological Bases of Behavior, a psychological core course, as satisfying three of the nine credits for the neuropsychological assessment minor as well as satisfying three of the 21 credits in the psychological core. The course has been double counted because it has satisfied credit hour requirements in two different areas. If a student chooses to double count a course, the total number of credit hours for the Counseling Psychology Ph.D. Program is reduced from 97 to 94 credit hours. Six of the nine credits in the minor area must be taken at Seton Hall.

   Please note: Students who select neuropsychological assessment as their minor area will need to take CPSY 6105: Biological Bases of Behavior in the Fall semester of their first year and CPSY 8521: Foundations of Neuropsychological Assessment in the Spring of their first year in the program.

   III. Dissertation Advisement (a minimum of 6 credits)

   The 6 credit hours for dissertation advisement are counted in the calculation of the 97 total credit hours in the curriculum for the Counseling Psychology Ph.D. program. Dissertation advisement will begin in the Fall semester of the student’s second year and continue for a minimum of two semesters (CPSY 9991-9992). Enrolling for additional dissertation advisement credits will be determined in consultation with the student’s mentor. In addition, in order to stay continuously enrolled in the University after all courses and the Internship are completed, students must enroll in Dissertation Advisement (CPSY 9993-9994) until the dissertation is completed.
Family Psychology (Ph.D.)
(Admission Suspended for 2014-2015)

The Ph.D. program in Family Psychology is designed to prepare professionals who already possess a relevant master’s degree to become leaders in understanding, researching, and treating couples, families, and systems. Students engage in advanced study of family psychology (recognized as a specialty by the American Psychological Association) and family therapy. In learning about these sometimes distinctive domains and their vital interrelationships in the lived experiences of individuals, couples and families in their multiple contexts, students obtain a broad and comprehensive grasp of the knowledge base and technical expertise required to address the complex issues of individuals and families in contemporary society. Students obtain the academic training to be license-eligible as psychologists and as marriage and family therapists. The curriculum is based on a systems/relational understanding of human functioning. The curriculum provides the foundations in psychology, assessment, research, and treatment to become a psychologist. Concurrently the curriculum offers the bases in systemic theory, techniques, therapy, research, and supervision to serve as a leader in the practice of couple and family therapy. Students who do not already possess a graduate degree in marriage and family therapy earn the Ed.S. in Marriage and Family Therapy enroute. Throughout the curriculum the focus remains on a systems approach to families as they interrelate with other systems including communities, cultures, schools, health care and legal procedures. The comprehensive examinations foster reflective interconnecting of biopsychosocial with systemic processes. Graduates are expected to assume roles as licensed mental-health professionals, supervisors, researchers and systemic thinkers.

Students who pursue this multidimensional and integrated curriculum engage in academic classes, research, and clinical work under supervision throughout the course of studies. The curriculum emphasizes biopsychosocial foundations, human development over the lifespan, gender and culture processes, systemic theories, assessment skills, statistical and research competencies, ethical and effective treatment and therapy. Research occurs in teams and under the guidance of a mentor. Research training includes a two-year sequence in statistics and a course in family-systems research methods. Research ends with the completion of an empirical dissertation. Clinical work takes place in collaboration with an approved supervisor. During their doctoral clinical work students complete 1,000 hours of direct client contact (500 are required for the en-route Ed.S.). At least 50 percent of these hours must be with families or couples. Students are to be supervised by an approved supervisor at a ratio of one hour of supervision for every five hours of client contact. At least 100 hours of the minimum of 200 hours of supervision must include live or taped data with at least 50 hours with live or video-taped data. Students are to receive both individual and group supervision. Students are expected to gain facility in individual and relational diagnoses; cognitive, personality, relational, and systemic assessment; treatment planning and interventions for individuals, couples, families, and larger systems. The full range of assessment training includes cognitive, personality, projectives, and family assessment, with an option for neuropsychology. A clinical comprehensive examination is required. Clinical work culminates in a year-long internship. The internship must meet requirements for psychology (APPIC, APA, New Jersey state licensing).

Marriage and Family Therapy (Ed.S.) (Accredited by COAMFTE)

This program is intended for those persons who have completed a master’s degree in counseling, psychology, social work, pastoral counseling or an allied field, and who wish to pursue a career in marriage and family therapy. All students must complete a minimum of 39 credits at Seton Hall University. If students lack any prerequisite, they may be required to complete additional credits beyond the 39 credit minimum. Prerequisite courses are Abnormal Psychology and Couple and Family Dynamics: Systemic Perspectives.

The purpose of this program is to provide students with the theoretical background and experiential training necessary to develop professional qualifications as couple and family therapists. The program must be completed within six years. It meets the educational requirements for licensure within the State of New Jersey and member status in the American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy. The Marriage and Family Therapy Ed.S. program has accreditation status with the Commission on Accreditation for Marriage and Family Therapy Education (COAMFTE) of the American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy (AAMFT) (Renewal Date: November 1, 2014).

Admission

In addition to university admission regulations, candidates for this program are required to submit the following:

- An official transcript reflecting a master’s degree in counseling, psychology, social work, pastoral counseling or an allied field;
- Transcripts of all graduate and undergraduate course work;
- Evidence of relevant experience as a counselor/therapist;
- Recent (within three years) Graduate Record Examination (GRE) or Miller Analogy Test (MAT) scores;
- Three letters of recommendation, including at least one from a former professor and one from a counseling/therapy supervisor;
- Personal statement including professional goals; and
- Appear for a personal interview.

The application deadlines are July 1 for Fall admission and December 1 for Spring admission. Requests for applications may be directed to the Office of Graduate Studies, College of Education and Human Services, (973) 761-9668. Any information or questions about the program can be directed to the graduate assistant for the program at (973) 761-9451 or e-mail at ben.beitin@shu.edu

Degree Requirements

(Total credits: 39 minimum)

The curriculum for the Ed.S. is as follows:

- CPSY 6102 Psychology of Human Development
- CPSY 7101 Research Methods
- CPSY 7610 Human Sexuality I
- CPSY 7615 Gender and Ethnicity in Families
- CPSY 7620 Seminar in Systemic Therapies
- CPSY 7621 Couple and Family Systems Techniques I
- CPSY 7622 Couple and Family Systems Techniques II
- CPSY 8011 Seminar on Ethical and Legal Issues: A Systemic Approach
- CPSY 8517 Seminar on Psychopathology and Systemic Diagnoses
- CPSY 8800 Seminar: Contemporary Issues in Marriage & Family Therapy
- CPSY 8801 Foundations of Assessment and Treatment in Systems
- CPSY 9880 Internship in Couple and Family Therapy I
- CPSY 9881 Internship in Couple and Family Therapy II

The prerequisites for the Ed.S. are CPSY 6601 (Couple and Family Dynamics: Systemic Perspectives) and CPSY 6103 (Abnormal Psychology).

A minimum of 500 hours of supervised client contact (at least 50 percent with families and couples) at an appropriate site with program-approved supervisors is required for completion of the program. There must be one hour of supervision for every five hours of client contact, and the supervision must include at least 50 hours of live or taped cases with at least 25 live or videotaped. Students receive individual and group supervision. Students who have completed all course work but have not completed all the supervised clinical hours for CPSY 9880-9881 will be required to register for CPSY 9886 (one credit) for one semester, and, if the hours remain unfinished, for CPSY 9880 or 9881. Students will work in a diversity of settings which meet licensing and accreditation standards at sites throughout New Jersey and the metropolitan area. The standards for licensing are available from the New Jersey State Board of Marriage and Family Therapy Examiners and for accreditation from the Commission on Accreditation for Marriage and Family Therapy Education. Successful defense of a written case study and taped clinical interview is the final step toward graduation.

Students who are interested in the program, but have missed the application deadline dates can also take up to 3 master’s level courses (a total of 9 credits) as a nonmatriculated student. This option should be discussed with the program director. Taking courses as a nonmatriculated student does not guarantee admission into the program.
M.A. Program in Psychological Studies (School and Community Psychology Concentration)

Program Overview

The Master’s Program in Psychological Studies (School and Community Psychology Concentration) is a 36 credit program that provides the foundation courses for students who are interested in working with school-age children and adolescents within the school setting, in child/adolescent mental health facilities, or those who are preparing for doctoral study. Courses include Abnormal Psychology, Human Development, Multicultural Counseling and Psychology, Statistics, Research Methods, etc. The use of Blackboard on-line technology is used in most courses. The use of email, PowerPoint, and basic computer technology is a requirement for the program.

A Unique Approach

The master’s program focuses on the child/adolescent, the school, and the community. Inherent in this training is the belief that children must be viewed in the contexts in which they live. The social, economic and cultural contexts shape their feelings, thoughts and actions. The school can usefully be regarded as the second nurturing agent beyond the family and, thus, is intimately involved in the growth and development of society’s youngest member.

In addition, the students in the program are considered a “community of learners.” The School Psychology Leadership Association of Seton Hall (SPLASH) was established in 2005, and meets twice each semester.

SPLASH represents the interests of graduate school psychology students engaged in the enhancement of Seton Hall University’s School and Community Psychology Program. The mission of SPLASH is to heighten the awareness of and advocate for issues relevant to the professional field of school psychology. Members of SPLASH intend to accomplish this through building a strong network of colleagues, remaining informed about current issues that affect our profession, and encouraging others to enter the school psychology profession. It is our goal as future school psychologists to become competent, socially conscious, and reflective professional leaders who advocate for the needs of a diverse society of students, families, and communities.

SPLASH is a recognized student organization of the National Association of School Psychologists (NASP), and Student Affiliates in School Psychology (Division 16, School Psychology) of the American Psychological Association (APA). SPLASH service activities include participating in: hosting the annual Seton Hall School Psychology Conference which draws over 200 school psychologists and students from the tri-state area; the Polar Bear Plunge to raise funds for Special Olympics; and bake sales to support SPLASH activities.

Who Should Apply?

The faculty of the School and Community Psychology Program are seeking applicants who are dedicated to the field of school psychology. This includes being passionate about working with diverse children, families, and staff in schools and within their respective communities. Successful applicants are able to demonstrate their: (1) dependability; (2) respect and empathy for others in thought and action; (3) open-mindedness; (4) ability to identify, admit and learn from their mistakes; (5) problem solving skills; (6) professional and ethical integrity; (7) ability to successfully cope with stress; and (8) self care skills. Experience working with students in schools and other settings is highly valued although it is not a requirement for admission to the program.

The Application Process

All students who are interested in the School and Community Psychology Program are required to apply to the Master’s Program in Psychological Studies (School and Community Psychology concentration). Generally, candidates for admission to the Master’s program have earned their undergraduate degree in psychology or in a related area (i.e., education) although other undergraduate majors are also considered.

Students who have already earned a master’s degree in a related field and/or have completed some graduate level courses would still need to apply to the master’s program in order to complete their Seton Hall University master’s level required courses and take/pass the master’s comprehensive examination. These students would need to have their graduate transcript and college/university course catalogue reviewed to determine if any of their courses are applicable to the program. Courses accepted towards the master’s program from other universities must be approved by the program director and/or admissions committee. A maximum of 12 credits can be accepted for advanced standing at the master’s level.

An application to the college of Education and Human Services Graduate School can be found online at http://www.shu.edu/academics/education/graduate-studies.cfm or obtained from the Graduate Office located in Jubilee Hall, 4th floor. In addition to University admission regulations, candidates who apply to the Master’s in Psychological Studies (School and Community Psychology concentration) program are required to submit the following:

- A completed graduate application and fee;
- Student résumé;
- Official copies of all previous undergraduate and graduate transcripts;
- Three letters of recommendation, including at least two from former professors;
- Recent scores (within three years) from the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) (preferred) (Verbal, Quantitative, and Writing is required: the Psychology Subject test is optional) or scores on the Miller Analogies Test (MAT); and
- A statement of career goals.
Once the application is complete, it will be reviewed by program faculty. A personal interview by the program director and/or admissions committee will be arranged with applicants who are considered potential candidates for the program. A writing sample will be requested from candidates during their personal interview. It is the applicant’s responsibility to follow up with the Graduate Admissions office to verify that all application materials have been received. Please be sure that your application is completed in a professional manner.

The application deadline for Fall admission is February 1 of each year. Application will be accepted after the February 1 deadline provided there is space available. Applicants will be advised of their status by April 1. Students admitted to the masters program complete the courses outlined below. These students will earn the masters degree after successful completion of the 36-credit program, passing the comprehensive exam, and displaying the ethical/professional behaviors required for functioning as a school psychologist.

Students who are interested in the program, but have missed the application deadline dates can also take up to 3 master’s courses (a total of 9 credits) as a nonmatriculated student. Please discuss this option with the Program Director. Taking courses as a nonmatriculated student does not guarantee admission into the program.

Three courses (9 credits) a semester is considered full time status at the graduate level. Each class is arranged on one night per week for 130 minutes during the Fall and Spring semesters. Courses are scheduled in the evenings, Mondays through Thursdays, from 4:30 to 6:40 p.m. or 6:50 to 9:00 p.m. There are also 3 Summer Sessions: Intersession, June/July, and July/August. The Summer Session courses are scheduled on various days and times, and some Summer courses are scheduled on weekends. Therefore, students at the masters level can work part-time while obtaining the masters degree. However, students at the Ed.S. level are expected to make a full-time commitment to the program.

Ed.S. Program in School and Community Psychology

Program Overview

The Ed.S. in School and Community Psychology program, offered through Seton Hall University’s College of Education and Human Services, trains students to become “full service” school psychologists. Coursework in intelligence and personality testing, learning disabilities, child and adolescent psychopathology, counseling and consultation, educational leadership, and curriculum development comprise the matrix of the program. There are fieldwork requirements in most of the Ed.S. courses. The program also includes an intensive 300-hour practicum as well as a 1,200-hour internship, allowing students to train under the supervision of a licensed school psychologist, which helps to bridge the gap between theory and practice. The use of Blackboard on-line technology is used in most courses. The use of email, PowerPoint, and basic computer technology is a requirement for the program.

A Unique Approach

The Ed.S. in School and Community Psychology program trains “full service” school psychologists to address the psycho-educational and socio-emotional needs of school-age children and adolescents. Inherent in this training is the belief that children must be viewed in the contexts in which they live. The social, economic and cultural contexts shape their feelings, thoughts and actions. The school can usefully be regarded as the second nurturing agent beyond the family and, thus, is intimately involved in the growth and development of society’s youngest members.

Ed.S. students are encouraged to be leaders in SPLASH, the school psychology student organization (see A Unique Approach under the Masters program). This fosters the sense of being part of a “community of learners,” developing leadership abilities, and continuing to participate in service activities. Ed.S. students share their experiences and become role models for the students in the Masters program.

Who Should Apply?

The faculty of the School and Community Psychology Program are seeking applicants who are dedicated to becoming school psychologists and display the ethical/professional behaviors and dispositions required to enter this service profession. This includes being passionate about working with diverse children, families, and staff in schools and within their respective communities. Successful applicants are able to demonstrate their: (1) dependability;
(2) respect and empathy for others in thought and action; (3) open-mindedness; (4) ability to identify, admit, and learn from their mistakes; (5) problem solving skills; (6) professional and ethical integrity; (7) ability to successfully cope with stress; and (8) self-care skills.

The Application Process

Once students successfully complete their master’s degree in Psychological Studies (School and Community Psychology concentration) including passing the Comprehensive Examination, they can apply to the Ed.S. Program in School and Community Psychology. Completion of the master’s program does not guarantee admission to the Ed.S. program. It is a separate application process. This 45-credit program, including practicum and internship, leads to the specialist degree and licensure in School Psychology.

Students admitted to the Ed.S. program are required to take the Praxis II (School Psychology-10400) as part of their Ed.S. graduation requirements. Please visit the following website: http://www.ets.org/media/tests/praxis/pdf/0400.pdf

An application to the College of Education and Human Services Graduate School can be found online at http://www.shu.edu/grad.html or obtained from the Graduate Office located in Jubilee Hall, 4th floor. In addition to University admission requirements, candidates who apply to the Ed.S. program in School and Community Psychology are required to submit the following:

- A completed SHU graduate application and fee;
- Student résumé;
- Official copy of graduate transcripts documenting at least a 3.25 GPA;
- Two letters of recommendation preferably from Seton Hall University full-time faculty; and
- An updated statement of career goals.

Once the application is complete, it will be reviewed by program faculty. A personal interview by the program director and/or admissions committee will be arranged. It is the applicant’s responsibility to follow up with the Graduate Admissions office to verify that all application materials have been received. Please be sure that your application is completed in a professional manner.

The Program

The Ed.S. program in School and Community Psychology is a 45-credit program leading to the Education Specialist (Ed.S.) degree from Seton Hall University and licensure as a school psychologist from the New Jersey Department of Education (NJ DOE). Please note that licensure as a school psychologist does not enable graduates to practice privately.

The Ed.S. program builds on the foundations of the Masters course by training students to apply their knowledge and skills and enhance their dispositions. This program takes two and a half years to complete (which includes the practicum and internship). Students in the program take part in a rigorous course of study which requires fieldwork for most of the courses and are therefore expected to make a full-time commitment to the program. They also participate in a 300-hour practicum over the course of one semester (generally 3 to 4 days a week) and a 1,200-hour internship over the course of two semesters (five days a week) under the supervision of a licensed school psychologist. This allows students to train under supervision, which helps to bridge the gap between theory and practice. These supervised hours are required for licensure as a school psychologist in the state of New Jersey.

Following the successful completion of the coursework, practicum, and internship, taking the Praxis II Exam in School Psychology, and demonstration of the ethical/professional behaviors required for functioning as a school psychologist, students are granted the Ed.S. degree from Seton Hall University and are eligible for NJDOE license as a school psychologist. The program is acknowledged by the NJDOE as a recognized program in school psychology. State certification is mandatory to practice as a school psychologist in the schools.

More specifically, students in the program will:

- Use data-based decision making to identify strengths and needs, understand programs and measure progress;
- Develop positive interpersonal communication, collaboration and consultative skills;
- Develop and monitor challenging, yet achievable, cognitive, academic, social, behavioral and adaptive goals for school-age children;
- Appreciate and work with individuals and groups with diverse skills and backgrounds;
- Understand the school as a system and work with others to create safe, caring, effective schools;
- Develop and implement prevention and intervention programs;
- Understand family strengths and influences of the student and form partnerships with parents, educators, and the community;
- Use research, statistics and evaluation methods; translate research into practice; and evaluate programs to improve services;
- Practice in a manner that meets ethical, professional and legal standards to enhance the quality of services and protect the rights of individuals; and
- Access, evaluate and use information sources and technology to safeguard and enhance the quality of services provided.

Career Advancement

Graduates of the Ed.S. program in School and Community Psychology are working in key leadership positions as school psychologists in various educational settings. They work in preschool through twelfth grade public school districts and private schools throughout the tri-state area and the country. They work with parents, school staff and the community to enhance the academic, social, emotional growth of students. Ed.S. graduates function as “full service” school psychologists, who provide consultation, interventions, participate in intervention and referral services, provide both individual and group counseling, conduct psychological assessments, develop Individual Education Programs for classified students, etc.

Some of our Ed.S. graduates go on for advanced degrees (Ph.D., Psy.D., Ed.D.) in school psychology, counseling psychology, school administration/supervision, and other related fields. Students from our program have been accepted to doctoral programs throughout the tri-state area.

Marriage and Family Therapy M.S./M.F.T.

(Accredited by COAMFTE)

This program of study is designed for the beginning professional with an area of study in psychology or other relevant field at the undergraduate level, who wishes to specialize in marriage and family therapy. The courses build the foundations in counseling/therapy skills and for completing the standard curriculum as stipulated by the Commission on Accreditation for Marriage and Family Therapy Education. This program takes approximately 3 years to complete if attending full time (which includes the practica and internship).

Applicants for the program who do not have experience in providing counseling/therapy must demonstrate a readiness to do so. Throughout the program, students are expected to combine classroom learning with clinical work under supervision at appropriate sites.

A minimum of 500 hours of supervised client contact (at least 50 percent with families and couples at an appropriate site) with a program-approved supervisor is required. There must be one hour of supervision for every five hours of client contact, and the supervision must include at least 50 hours of live or taped cases with at least 25 live or videotaped. Students receive individual and group supervision. Students who have completed all course work but have not completed all the supervised clinical hours for CPSY 9880-9881 will be required to register for CPSY 9886 (one credit) for one semester, and, if the hours remain unfinished, for CPSY 9880 or 9881. Students will work in a diversity of settings which meet licensing and accreditation standards at sites throughout New Jersey and the metropolitan area. The standards for licensing are available from the New Jersey State Board of Marriage and Family Therapy Examiners and for accreditation from the Commission on Accreditation for Marriage and Family Therapy Education. Successful oral defense of a written case study is the final step toward graduation.

The degree fulfills the current educational requirements for licensing in New Jersey as a marriage and family therapist, and for clinical membership in the American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy. The Marriage and Family Therapy M.S. program achieved accreditation in July 2008 with the Commission on Accreditation for Marriage and Family Therapy Education (COAMFTE) of the American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy (AAMFT) (Renewal Date: May 1, 2014). All students accepted in Fall 2008 or after enter the program with accreditation.

Admission

In addition to the general University and department requirements for admission to graduate studies, the following guidelines are in force:

- Official undergraduate transcript(s);
- Recent (last 3 years) Graduate Record Examination (GRE) or Miller Analogies Test (MAT) scores;

- Official undergraduate transcript(s);
- Recent (last 3 years) Graduate Record Examination (GRE) or Miller Analogies Test (MAT) scores;
• Three letters of recommendation including at least one from a former professor;
• Personal statement including personal goals;
• Résumé;
• Appear for a personal interview;
• Students are expected to have completed the prerequisites of CPSY 6105 Biological bases of Behavior/Physiological Psychology (or a biology course, including a focus on human anatomy and the nervous system) and CPSY 7515 Social Psychology, or these may be taken during the course of study.

The application deadlines are July 1 for Fall admission and December 1 for Spring admission. Students who are interested in the program, but have missed the application deadline dates can also take up to 3 master’s courses (a total of 9 credits) as a nonmatriculated student. This option should be discussed with the program director. Taking courses as a nonmatriculated student does not guarantee admission into the program.

Professional Counseling (M.A./Ed.S.) Online

This online program is designed for individuals with a bachelor’s degree who wish to pursue a license-eligible degree in Counseling. The combined online program has a 46-credit master’s which provides foundational courses for understanding individual and systems behavior. The online Ed.S. program is comprised of an additional 12 credits of advanced-level practice and knowledge courses. The total credits for the Combined M.A./Ed.S. degree is 60, which meets the academic requirements for licensure as a Professional Counselor in New Jersey and most states around the country. A capstone project or the equivalent is required of all students prior to program completion, and is usually completed in the final semester of field placement.

Note: The online Ed.S. degree is available only to students who have completed the M.A. requirements for their combined degree from Seton Hall University.

Admission Requirements

Applications are reviewed as they are received. Admission is rolling, however, in the Fall semester a June 15 deadline is considered, and the deadline for the Spring semester is December 1. Applicants must submit the following:
- A completed graduate application and fee;
- Three letters of recommendation. Recommendations must be from person(s) who can attest to your relational abilities, fit with the counseling profession, and capacity for graduate study (e.g., prior clinical supervisor);
- Personal Statement, which includes a description of prior related work experience, qualifications, goals for self in the program, and professional goals;
- Official copies of all previous graduate transcript; and
- Scores from the GRE. (GRE scores accepted within the past five years. This requirement may be waived;

Data obtained from these sources provide information regarding student diversity, interests, and prior academic accomplishments in relation to program goals.

For additional information about this program, contact Rosalie Maiorella, M.A., program director, at (973) 313-6239 or email rosalie.maiorella@shu.edu, or contact John Smith, Ed.D., academic director, at john.smith@shu.edu. Requests for applications may be directed to the Office of Online Counseling Programs, College of Education and Human Services, (973)313-6239.

Residency Requirement

The Online Master of Arts in Counseling and School Counseling programs require students to attend two on-site residencies, with the first residency held at the beginning of the program from Friday to Sunday, and the second residency taking place during the second year of the program from Friday to Sunday.

Recommended sequence for students without previous background: 6601, 7620, 7610 or 7615, 7621, 7622, 8801.

Throughout the sequence of courses, students are to maintain a minimum GPA of 3.25 as specified in the graduate catalogue and to demonstrate technical, ethical, interpersonal and effective competency as stated in the graduate catalogue. Final granting of a professional diploma depends on fulfillment of these two criteria as well as completing sufficient courses. The professional diploma states that it attests only to the taking of courses. Final determination for practice, licensing or professional membership rests with state licensing boards and the American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy.

Post-M.A. in School Counseling Certificate Program

This program is designed to meet the requirements set forth by the New Jersey Department of Education for certification as a school counselor. The program is designed for those who already have or are receiving a graduate degree in the helping profession but who desire to either re-specialize or dual specialize in school counseling.
Admission
Candidates for admission must have earned their graduate degree from a regionally accredited university. Application requirements and deadlines follow those established for the on-campus M.A. in School Counseling. Students may begin coursework during Fall, Spring, or Summer terms. A completed graduate application and official transcripts of all graduate and undergraduate work must be received by the Office of Graduate Admissions.

Course of Study
The curriculum for the certificate follows the same curriculum as that for the M.A. in School Counseling (see below). The program director will review each student’s transcripts in order to evaluate course equivalencies. Courses where an equivalent course has not been taken will need to be completed in the program.

Certificate in Sport and Exercise Psychology
The interdisciplinary Certificate in Sport and Exercise Psychology consists of 5 courses and 16 credits. In addition to courses in the Department of Professional Psychology and Family, the Certificate includes a course from the School of Graduate Medical Education, Department of Athletic Training and Sport Science. The program provides the student with a knowledge foundation to work with athletes and athletic teams; to work in wellness programs in corporate or medical settings; or in other health promotion areas. It is designed for individuals who aspire to work in the field of counseling, coaching, education, fitness/wellness, sports medicine, or psychology.

The program is appropriate for: matriculated graduate students pursuing other programs in the department; licensed professionals in psychology, counseling, social work, marriage and family therapy; or nonmatriculated students who wish to pursue study for the certificate. Seton Hall students who take certificate courses as part of another program will be awarded the certificate upon completion of the additional courses.

Requirements
The program requires 5 courses (15 credits). Up to 3 credits may be waived, at department discretion, for equivalent graduate or undergraduate courses taken at Seton Hall University.

The following five courses are required:
CPSY 6105 Biological Bases of Behavior
CPSY 7105 Psychology of Sport and Exercise
CPSY 8007 Mind Body Issues and Interventions
CPSY 8010 Ethical and Legal Issues in Counseling and Psychology
CPSY 8541 Special Topics: Case Studies and Applications in Sport and Exercise Psychology

Psychological Studies (M.A.)
This 36-credit program in basic theory and methods in psychology is recommended for: (1) preparation for the Ed.S. or the doctoral degree in professional psychology, (2) exploration of the field. Upon completion of the master’s program, many graduates proceed to obtain post-master’s and doctoral-level training in school, counseling, marriage and family, or other areas of psychology. Other graduates function professionally in mental health agencies, clinics, hospitals, youth and family services, residential homes, and forensic settings, or in employee assistance programs or other areas. Psychological Studies Program, in and of itself, does not lead to a license for professional practice. Students have the opportunity to select a concentration area of 4 elective courses (12 credits). Students may also select an individualized concentration area with adviser approval. With adviser approval, students may undertake independent research or an independent study project.

Master of Arts with a Major in School Counseling - Online

Academic Director: John E. Smith, Ed.D.

The Master of Arts with a Major in School Counseling program is a degree program that trains school counselors for work in ethnically, geographically, and socially diverse K-12 educational settings. The 48 credit program prepares students for certification as school counselors through theoretical, clinical, and professional coursework and experiences including a 9 credit field internship in a school.

Students will develop skills as competent counselors and effective consultants, collaborators, advocates, and leaders in our schools. The overarching program goals are to prepare school counselors to maximize the potential of all students through comprehensive developmental school counseling programs; to advocate for the academic, career and personal-social success of every student through positive systemic school counseling reform; and to empower students and their families as partners in life-long learning and development in an ever changing global world.

The program meets the credentialing requirements set by the New Jersey State Board of Education.

www.shu.edu/academics/education/elmp

Faculty: Babo; Caulfield; Chen; Colella; Finkelstein; Furman; Gutmore; Kelchen; Kim; Osnato (Chair); Sattin-Bajaj; Starratt (Visiting Professor); Stedrak; Stetar; Strobert; Tienken; Walker

The Department of Education Leadership, Management and Policy is dedicated to serving students seeking leadership roles in elementary and secondary schools, higher education, state and federal organizations and in other public and private schools and institutions. Programs of study leading to the degrees Master of Arts, Educational Specialist, Doctor of Education and Doctor of Philosophy are individualized to meet student needs. Candidates may broaden their knowledge and understanding of the process of education, improve their professional techniques or prepare for leadership positions or careers in the human service professions. Academic excellence, service, managerial competence, ethics, diversity, values and visionary leadership are department programmatic goals.

The department is at home in a state-of-the-art facility on the Seton Hall campus, yet it also takes its programs to many other educational, government and corporate sites that offer the technology to keep pace with current training requirements. Many courses are available in the evening and on weekends to meet the needs of working professionals.

The Department of Education, Leadership, Management and Policy offers programs of study to the following degrees:
- Master of Arts (M.A.)
- Educational Specialist (Ed.S.)
- Doctor of Education (Ed.D.)
- Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.)

Academic Integrity Policy

The Department of Education Leadership, Management and Policy will not tolerate any form of academic dishonesty. Infractions will be appropriately penalized; students should understand that suspension or expulsion from the University is a possible result. Refer to the Education Leadership, Management and Policy Graduate Student Handbook for further clarification.

Writing Policy and Guide

1. All candidates in the Masters, Educational Specialist and Doctoral Program should complete an “in seat” writing sample as part of the admission process or present evidence of writing competency within the taking of the GRE.

2. Students who may be eligible for admission in all other areas except the writing sample, will be required to register in the writing lab for a period of time that ensures quality writing products.

3. The Department should adopt a writing guide (similar to our APA standard) that will be used as the foundation for writing activities such as Strategies for Successful Writing by Reinking and von der Osten or other suitable writing guides.

4. Faculty are encouraged to provide opportunities in their respective classes for students to demonstrate writing proficiency (perhaps even mandatory).

Master of Arts

The Department of Education Leadership, Management and Policy offers graduate courses leading to the degrees Master of Arts in Education, Master of Arts in College Student Personnel Administration, and Master of Arts in Human Resource Training and Development, with specializations qualifying graduates to serve in the following capacities:

- School Administrator K-12
- Principal/Supervisor K-12
- School Business Administrator K-12

The programs of study align and correlate with the Interstate School Leaders Licensure Consortium (ISLLC) standards for Education Leadership. The standards are:

Standard 1.0: Candidates who complete the program are educational leaders who have the knowledge and ability to promote the success of all students by facilitating the development, articulation, implementation, and stewardship of a school or district vision of learning supported by the school community.

Standard 2.0: Candidates who complete the program are educational leaders who have the knowledge and ability to promote the success of all students by managing the organization, operations, and resources in a way that promotes a safe, efficient, and effective learning environment.

Standard 3.0: Candidates who complete the program are educational leaders who have the knowledge and ability to promote the success of all students by coordinating with families and other community members, responding to diverse community interests and needs, and mobilizing community resources.

Standard 4.0: Candidates who complete the program are educational leaders who have the knowledge and ability to promote the success of all students by acting with integrity, fairly, and in an ethical manner.
Standard 6.0: Candidates who complete the program are educational leaders who have the knowledge and ability to promote the success of all students by understanding, responding to, and influencing the larger political, social, economic, legal, and cultural context.

Standard 7.0: Internship. The internship provides significant opportunities for candidates to synthesize and apply the knowledge and practice and develop the skills identified in Standards 1-6 through substantial, sustained, standards-based work in real settings, planned and guided cooperatively by the institution and school district personnel for graduate credit.

M.A. for Certification in Education Leadership, Management and Policy

These programs of study may lead to New Jersey state supervisory or administrative certification. In addition, graduates meet requirements for the Master of Arts degree. If students are not seeking certification, their programs can be individually tailored to meet their needs and interests by permitting an option of a variety of administration electives. There are three education specializations: School Business Administrator, Principal/Supervisor Certificate, Supervisor Certificate, and School Administrator (Superintendent).

The M.A. for Principal, Supervisor and School Administrator Certification is also offered online through the Department of Education Leadership, Management and Policy www.shu.edu/academics/education/cert-k-12-supervisor.cfm

Admission and Program Requirements

In addition to the general University requirements for the degree, candidates in this program must do the following:

- fulfill matriculation requirements;
- submit recent (within five years) satisfactory scores on the Miller Analogies Test or Graduate Record Examination (General). This requirement must be satisfied prior to admission;
- give evidence of sound communication and research skills;
- successfully complete the departmental comprehensive examination;
- successfully complete a portfolio assessment review; and
- complete the following:
  1) 15 credits in foundation courses such as ELMP 7768, ELMP 8891, EDST 6336, EDST 7310;
  2) 24 credits in concentration courses selected to meet certification requirements, for a total of 39 credits.

Programs are tailored to the needs of individual students, the State Department of Education regulations, and standards. Concentration and elective courses are selected in consultation with a department adviser. Students are advised that, beginning with the Fall 2003 semester, the required internship is a 6-credit, 600 hour experience.

M.A., Principal/Supervisor Degree Requirements

(New Jersey Principal/Supervisor Certificate)

The master’s degree offered by the Department of Education Leadership, Management and Policy addresses the changing New Jersey State Department of Education requirements for certification as principal, as well as the rigorous Educational Leadership Constituent Council (ELCC) standards. Ethical, psychological and research foundations, microcomputers for administrators, and leadership/management assessment and internship are requirements for the master’s degree.

Admission Requirements for Principal/Supervisor Certificate

In addition to the general University requirements for admission to graduate studies, applicants to this program must present:

- official transcripts reflecting a bachelor’s degree from an accredited institution;
- three letters of recommendation;

Executive M.A. or Ed.S. in Education Leadership, Management and Policy for Principal/Supervisor Certification
The Department of Education Leadership, Management and Policy offers an accelerated master’s degree ideal for educators who want to be eligible for school principal and school supervisor certification. Offered on a convenient weekend and online schedule, this rigorous, 39-credit accelerated program meets the needs of working educators and may be completed in two years. Eighteen credits are offered on weekends, 15 credits are offered online and 6 credits are earned through an administrative internship program. Classes meet on campus or at a satellite location two weekends per semester (Friday - in the evening, Saturday and Sunday - during the day) for the Fall, Spring and Summer semesters. This program is a cohort-based program, starting once a year.

Each module (course) will be presented in a manner focused on both theory and practical application. In addition to outstanding Seton Hall professors, students will learn from accomplished practitioners and special visiting faculty, including Tom Sergiovanni, Terry Deal, Alan November and Carol Shakeshaft.

The Cohort
Cohort members represent suburban, urban and rural districts. Team members complete projects and assignments pursued through library and Internet searches while on campus and from home. Sharing of resources through computer conferencing is encouraged. Individual and group assignments, tests and examinations also contribute to the assessment of each student’s progress.

Admission Policy
Candidates are admitted to the program annually after careful screening of application documents and personal interviews with the finalists. This cohort remains together for the duration of the program. A collegial study environment allows ample time for professional sharing and cooperative activity. The seminar format, study teams and computer conferencing among the members and with the instructors further this goal of collegiality.

M.A./Ed.S., Education Leadership, Management and Policy Focusing on Catholic School Leadership
Program Director: Constance S. McCue Ed.D., (973)-275-2735
constance.McCue@shu.edu

The College of Education and Human Services offers a cohort master’s or educational specialist degree for Catholic school educators and administrators through its Department of Education Leadership, Management and Policy. Seton Hall’s College of Education and Human Services is the contemporary embodiment of nearly one and one half centuries of history of educating the educators and ministers of New Jersey and beyond. Seton Hall’s Master of Arts or Educational Specialist degree in Education Leadership, Management and Policy, with a focus on Catholic School
Leadership, is today’s expression of the University’s commitment to meeting the needs of Catholic education for the new millennium.

This program culminates in the Master of Arts or Educational Specialist degree as well as satisfying all course requirements for the New Jersey Principal Certification eligibility and the New Jersey Supervisor Certification eligibility. It is designed to equip participants for Catholic school leadership with particular focus on the mission of the school and the formation of Catholic educators. Applicants have the option of choosing the full 45-credit dual certification program or the 39-credit principal only certification program.

Courses draw upon both the secular field of educational and spiritual tradition, with attention to contemporary issues in the life of the Catholic Church and schools. Faculty come from the College of Education and Human Services and recognized local and national Catholic school leaders. Seton Hall, as the Catholic university of New Jersey, wants to express its gratitude to those who minister to the Catholic education and spiritual growth of children and adults throughout the Garden State and beyond. In recognition of their efforts the University awards a 50-percent tuition discount to program participants.

The Cohort

The cohort will form a community of learners. Teams of members form and reform, completing projects and assignments pursued through library and Internet searches while on campus and from home. Sharing of resources through computer conferencing is encouraged. This cohort remains together for the duration of the program. A collegial study environment allows ample opportunity for professional sharing and cooperative activity. Campus seminars, study teams and computer conferencing among the cohort and faculty further this goal.

Format

Offered on a convenient schedule (weekends and summers), this two-year program meets the needs of working educators. During Fall and Spring semesters, classes meet Friday evenings from 5 to 9 p.m., Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sundays from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Online students take class during the Summer, Fall and Spring semesters, and also participate in the program's administrative internships. In the summer, all students will meet for one week session with an orientation and a course focusing on the Catholic School ministry. In addition, if a student decides to apply for the New Jersey Principal’s certification, he/she must adhere to the New Jersey Department of Education rules concerning certificates for principals. Students will be required to pass the Praxis Examination in Educational Leadership and complete the approved Assessment Center experience. Courses are taught by full-time professors and experienced practitioners who provide cohort members with a balance of sound theory and practical application.

Admission Policy

Candidates are admitted after careful screening of application documents by the selection committee and a possible personal interview.

Applicants for admission to this graduate program must take the Miller Analogies Test or the Graduate Record Examination taken within the last five years. In addition, applicants need to provide official transcripts of all their academic performance in an undergraduate degree program, résumé, a statement of their goals and three letters of recommendation, which must include a letter from the school office of their diocese.

Master of Arts in Education Leadership, Management and Policy – National Online

Academic Director: James A. Corino, Ed.D.

The National Online Master of Arts in Education, with a specialization in Education Leadership, Management and Policy, is offered by Seton Hall University’s College of Education and Human Services. It is designed to provide students throughout the United States with an extensive preparation in educational administration, covering a myriad of theoretical approaches and real-world applications. Students may broaden their knowledge and understanding of the process of education, improve their professional techniques, and prepare for leadership positions or careers in education. Academic excellence, service, managerial competence, ethics, diversity, values and visionary leadership are the programmatic goals of the online M.A. in Education Leadership, Management and Policy.
Our national online program shares the same philosophy as our traditional and Executive Cohort “blended” programs. All programs focus on four central pillars: academic rigor, practical application, technology and ethical standards. The curriculum and instruction reflect the latest research and applications of effective educational administration and supervision.

Programs also emphasize the need for ethical standards and strength of character. Students, through case study and other interactive methods, are exposed to potential situations and concerns, which challenge today’s educational leaders. The degree requires 39 semester hours of coursework. Six modules comprised of two courses (6 semester hours) are delivered online every four months. This degree program concludes with a culminating project or internship, depending on the student’s specific career goals.

This degree can lead to certification with the New Jersey State Education Department and most other states. For more information on how to be certified in your state, contact The College of Education and Human Services or visit the website at www.shu.edu/academics/education/ma-elmp-online/index.cfm

Admission Requirements

The admission process focuses on academic qualifications and prerequisites rather than the applicant’s particular undergraduate major. Admission will be open to holders of baccalaureate degrees from accredited colleges or universities. An admissions committee composed of full-time faculty in the Department will evaluate each applicant based on the following criteria:

- undergraduate GPA 3.0 (or equivalent);
- three letters of recommendation from academic and/or professional references;
- letter of intent;
- current résumé;
- results of recent (within last 5 years) test scores from the Miller Analogies Test (MAT) or the Graduate Record Examination (GRE);
- a master’s degree in an appropriate field from an accredited college or university;
- certified school teaching experience, if supervisory certification is desired;
- personal telephone interview; and
- professional vision statement.

M.A. in Education – College Student Personnel Administration (CSPA)

The M.A. program of College Student Personnel Administration (CSPA) at Seton Hall University is committed to the preparation of practitioners for positions in student affairs administration at the post-secondary level. The program offers a balance of classroom-based academic learning and field-based experiential learning opportunities. Students are introduced to theory, research, policy, and practice related to higher education administration in general and student affairs administration in particular. Graduates from the CSPA program will be well equipped to pursue careers in administration and management positions in student affairs in postsecondary institutions and/or to continue doctoral education in higher education administration, policy, and research.

Admission Policy

Applicants are encouraged to apply by the recommended deadlines: March 15 for Summer admission, October 15 for Spring admission, June 15 for Fall admission. Additional applicants may be accepted beyond the recommended deadlines on a space available basis only. The minimum requirements for the application materials include:

- Transcripts of course work for the baccalaureate degree and other graduate programs;
- Scores on the Miller Analogies Test (MAT) or Graduate Record Exam (GRE) taken within five years;
- Statement of personal and professional goals;
- Résumé of professional background;
- Two letters of recommendation.
Program Capstone

As a capstone course of the CSPA program, the internship prepares graduate students to manage various roles in student affairs administration and other functional areas in higher education settings. Through internship coursework, students gain competencies, knowledge, critical thinking and an understanding of theoretical foundation and practice, conducive to fostering a holistic approach to college student development and learning.

Comprehensive Exam

Doctor of Education
The department offers the Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in several areas of concentration, including general administration, school business administration, administration of higher education and a minor track in college teaching.

The doctoral degree is designed to provide administrative and supervisory skills for potential and practicing administrators in elementary, secondary, and higher education institutions, as well as New Jersey and other State Department of Education settings. The program focuses on training informed leaders through the utilization of scholarly research and of theoretical models, which are applied to experiential situations.

Admission
All application materials must be received by February 1 for the Fall semester and by October 1 for the Spring semester.

The minimum requirements include:
• a master’s degree in an appropriate field with a minimum of 3.0 GPA;
• a superior academic record (two official transcripts of all undergraduate and graduate coursework required);
• recent (within five years) scores on the Miller Analogies Test or Graduate Record Exam, which is representative of a minimum of 50 percentile;
• résumé of professional background;
• statement of personal and professional goals, with an indication of the specialization to be pursued; and
• two letters of recommendation regarding one’s potential for doctoral study.

Graduate Assistantships
A limited number of graduate assistantships, both in the department and across the University, may be available each year to full-time students exhibiting high academic and professional potential. Graduate assistants are assigned 20 hours of work per week in support of academic and or administrative work. The graduate assistantships generally consist of a 10-month appointment with a modest stipend and partial or full tuition remission. Interested students are encouraged to consult the GA Database at www.shu.edu/applying/graduate/grad-finaid.cfm for information on openings and application procedures.

Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) Matriculation K-12
Doctoral students will be considered for matriculation after completing 15 core course credits and by demonstrating competence in the core by successfully passing a qualifying written examination. The core courses are:
ELMP 6005 Statistical Methods
ELMP 7765 Policy Analysis in Administration
ELMP 7773 Organizational Structures and Processes

For More Information:
James A. Corino, Director
(973) 275.2356
james.corino@shu.edu
ELMP 7776  Curriculum: Design and Engineering
ELMP 8891  Directed Research

Students are prohibited from taking additional credits until successfully passing the qualifying written examination and will have only two opportunities to pass the qualifying written examination.

Scoring Criteria for the Qualifying Examination

All students admitted into the doctoral program shall meet the following criteria for passing the Qualifying Examination; (1) a total minimum score of 80; and (2) a minimum score of 16 in each of the five sections shall be achieved regardless of the total score.

If a total score of 80 is not achieved, the student shall retake the entire Qualifying Examination.

If a student achieves the minimum score of 80, but fails to score a minimum of 16 on any section of the examination, the student shall retake the sections in which he or she scores below 16.

Advancement to Candidacy

In order to advance to candidacy, that is, receive formal approval to work on the dissertation doctoral students must pass a Comprehensive Evaluation consisting of a choice between either a Comprehensive Examination or a Comprehensive Assessment.

The Comprehensive Examination

The Comprehensive Examination is generally administered twice a year. A student shall be successful on this exam to continue in the program. In all cases the decision of the Committee is final. Students will answer Research and Statistics questions. Students shall retake the entire exam if they fail Research and Statistics or fail both content questions. Students shall receive a grade of Pass, Conditional Pass or Fail.

The Comprehensive Assessment

Students shall have the option of selecting a Field-Bases Analysis of an actual problem or practice thereby assessing the candidate’s academic and scholarly ideas to a practical problem or selecting a Case Study thereby assessing the candidate’s ability to critique, analyze, and apply possible solutions.

Policy on Failure

If a student fails both the “initial” and “retake” of the Qualifying or Comprehensive Examination or the Comprehensive Assessment he or she shall be dismissed from the program. An appeal process is available under ELMP Department guidelines.

Matriculation – (New Procedures) Higher Education Advancement to Candidacy (Comprehensive)

In order to advance to candidacy, doctoral students must pass a comprehensive performance-based assessment upon completion of most of the required coursework. The doctoral student, with departmental approval, will determine the form the assessment will take, i.e., portfolio assessment, case studies, written examination, etc. The more authentic, performance-based assessment will tie the knowledge and understanding, what the student knows; with performance, what the student can do. Upon successful completion of the comprehensive performance-based assessment, the student will be advanced to candidacy.

Ed.D. (K-12) Completion Requirements

These requirements include:
• admission to the program;
• achievement of matriculation;
• advancement to candidacy;
• successful completion of a minimum of 90 graduate credits in consultation with one’s advisor. 45 of these credits must be taken at Seton Hall University, following admission to the program;
• successful completion of an internship experience, where required;
• successful completion of a portfolio review; and
• successful oral defense of a doctoral-level dissertation.

Executive Ed.D. in Education Leadership, Management and Policy (K-12)

Offered on a convenient schedule, weekends and Summers, this rigorous, 54 credit accelerated program meets the needs of working K-12 school administrators. Classes meet on 10 weekends (Friday evenings, Saturdays, and Sundays during the Fall and Spring over two years. There are two 16 day Summer Sessions during the month of July. The dissertation topic is chosen prior to the first Summer Session and work begins immediately. A cohort of thirty candidates is admitted to the program annually after careful screening of application documents and personal interviews with the finalists. The cohort model encourages collegiality and a cooperative study environment.

Doctor of Philosophy

The Ph.D. with a major in Higher Education Leadership, Management and Policy is designed to provide students with a broad understanding of the interrelated societal and organizational dimensions of higher education, and prepare students for senior administrative and policy development and management posts in colleges and universities, government agencies, foundations, as well as careers in teaching and research. This program offers students the opportunity to focus in areas, such as administration and policy analysis, international and comparative higher education, organizational culture and change and the academic profession. Degree requirements for the Ph.D. in Higher Education Leadership, Management and Policy, which is a research-oriented degree, differ from those required by the Ed.D. in Higher Education Leadership, Management and Policy, which is a practice oriented degree.

A student in the Ph.D. program will be expected to prepare a dissertation that represents a significant contribution to knowledge; the student also must orally present the dissertation in a scholarly manner, which will reveal an ability on the part the candidate to do independent research of high-quality, as well as indicate an expertise in using appropriate research techniques.
Higher Education Core Courses (required for all Higher Education Doctoral Students)

- ELMP 6005 Statistical Methods
- ELMP 6101 Introduction to Higher Education as a Field of Study
- ELMP 7765 Policy Analysis in Administration
- ELMP 8891 Directed Research
- ELMP 9993 Organization and Governance in Higher Education
- ELMP 9997 Historical Development of American Education

Advanced Content (minimum 9 credits)

- ELMP 6102 American College Student
- ELMP 7763 Educational School Law
- ELMP 7774 International Comparative Study
- ELMP 9994 Faculty Personnel
- ELMP 9995 Financial Administration of Higher Education
- ELMP 9997 Historical Development of American Education

Research Skills (minimum 12 credits)

- ELMP 8616* Intermediate Statistical Methods
- ELMP 8986 Qualitative Research
- ELMP 8890 Survey Research
- ELMP 8894 Applied Quantitative Research
- ELMP 8895 Program Evaluation
- ELMP 8896 Multivariate Statistics
- ELMP 9962 Advanced Qualitative Research

Research Practicum (3 credits)

- ELMP 8982* Research Practicum

Dissertation Seminar (6 credits)

- ELMP 9979 Dissertation Seminar I
- ELMP 9980 Dissertation Seminar II

Ph.D. Track in Education Research, Assessment, and Program Evaluation

A track in education research, assessment, and program evaluation is available within the Ph.D. Program in Higher Education. This concentration is intended to produce graduates with a range of competencies, including the ability to implement an academic or applied research program from start to finish; assess the effectiveness of educational policies, practices, and programs; and integrate research findings into practical initiatives designed to improve the performance of students and organizations.

In addition to the 18-credit matriculation requirements for the Ph.D. in Higher Education, the program requires that a minimum of 36 credits be taken at Seton Hall University as follows:

Qualifying Examination

The Qualifying Examination (QE) for both the Ed.D. and Ph.D. in Higher Education is based on the six (6) core courses, and it focuses on the integration of knowledge from across the six core courses and the application of such knowledge to a significant broadly based question rooted in research, policy or practice. Doctoral students will be considered officially “matriculated” in the Higher Education program ONLY after completing the 18-credit core and successfully passing a written, qualifying examination.
Students are prohibited from taking additional credits until successfully passing the qualifying written examination and will have only two opportunities to pass the qualifying written examination.

General Guidelines

The qualifying examination (QE) is offered twice a year, and students who intend to take the exam during any given semester must file an application with the department approximately one month prior to the exam date. Information about the application, application deadline, and the date of the qualifying exam can be directed to the department secretary. The qualifying examination will consist of one or more broad, conceptual question(s). Students will have 7 days to complete examination. QE will have three possible grades: Passing with Distinction (PD), Passing (P) for Failed (F). Students receiving grade of “Failed” will be required to retake examination.

Any student who has achieved grade of “A” (not A-) in each of the six core courses will be exempted from the Qualifying Examination. Students seeking this exemption must submit written request, along with a copy of their Seton Hall University Transcript to the Higher Education Program Director at least 20 days prior to the posted examination date.

QE Grading

All QE’s will be graded anonymously. If a student fails both the “initial” and “retake” of the Qualifying Examination, he or she will be dismissed from the program. An appeal process is available under University guidelines. A grade of “Failure” will require the concurrence of at least two faculty members.

Grading Criteria

Answering the Question: The response clearly and directly answers the question, including all components of the question. Support/Evidence: Claims are supported by/based in scholarly literature and/or empirical research evidence. Synthesis and Analysis: The response illustrates competence gained across more than one core course/topic area (synthesis). While providing a coherent and well-elaborated analysis. Writing: The response is logically organized and precise in thought and expression. The response follows the APA style manual in use of grammar, citation/references, etc.

Advanced Content

Following successful completion of the core and the Doctoral Qualifying Examination, higher education students embark on the specific degree and program track to which they were initially admitted: the Ed.D. in Higher Education Leadership, the Ed.D. with a college teaching concentration, the Ph.D. in Higher Education, or the Ph.D. with a concentration in Education Research, Assessment and Program Evaluation.

Course taking at this point in the program should be planned out in consultation with the student’s advisor, and approved by the advisor and department chair in the student’s program plan. If a student, after admission to a particular degree program, believes that a different degree or concentration is more appropriate for her/his goals, it is possible to apply for transfer to a different track after completion of the qualifying examination. Such transfer requires that the student petition the program faculty, who will base the decision on (a) the student’s rationale and evidence for transfer, (b) the student’s academic record in the core courses, and (c) the student’s performance on the qualifying exam. For further information, students should consult with their advisor.

Advancement to Candidacy- The Comprehensive Assessment

In order to advance to candidacy, that is, receive formal approval to work on the dissertation, doctoral students must pass a comprehensive, performance-based assessment upon completion of most required coursework. Thus, following completion of the advanced courses, but prior to enrolling in Dissertation Seminar I, students register for the Comprehensive Assessment. This performance-based assessment is administered twice a year, in the Fall and Spring semesters. Students who intend to take the exam during any given semester must file an application with the department approximately one month prior to the exam date. The comprehensive assessment provides an opportunity to explore systematically research and theories that are directly related to a potential dissertation topic. Upon successful completion of the Comprehensive Assessment, the student will be advanced to candidacy for the degree. The Comprehensive Assessment must be completed BEFORE students can register for Dissertation Seminar I. Following successful passage of the Comprehensive Assessment, a student will receive written notification from the Department Chair of advancement to candidacy for the doctoral degree. A student MUST be a candidate for the doctoral degree in order to have her/his dissertation proposal formally approved and BEFORE collecting data for her/his dissertation research.

Policy on Failure

If a student fails both the “initial” and “retake” of the Qualifying or Comprehensive Performance-Based Assessment he or she shall be dismissed from the program. An appeal process is available under University guidelines.

Dissertation Seminar I & II and Dissertation Advisement

After completing the comprehensive assessment, the student advances to candidacy, and is eligible to begin the two-semester sequence of Dissertation Seminar. Dissertation Seminars provide a structured environment and the guidance of a faculty member for students to develop their dissertation proposals. The first semester of Dissertation Seminar focuses on the process of framing an appropriate research problem, while the second semester focuses on the design of the Skills and Competencies That Constitute Outcomes of the Doctoral Programs in Higher Education

Leadership, Management and Policy

Knowledge:

1. familiarity with basic trends in American higher education enrollment, staffing, degree production, institutional types, financial resources, etc., since World War II;
2. familiarity with the historical antecedents of contemporary higher education forms and practices;
3. familiarity with how American forms and practices compare with those of other nations;
4. a broad familiarity with current policy issues in American higher education (i.e. the capacity to “list” the ten most critical policy issues and the capacity to describe current debate on those issues);
5. familiarity with the classics of higher education research and theory in the basic areas of curriculum and instruction, history, organization and governance, faculty and student issues, government policy and finance issues, and comparative higher education (reading list to be distributed);
6. familiarity with basic data resources related to higher education, e.g. federal databases, including HEGIS/IPEDS, NCES surveys, etc., major independent data sources, including Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, the National Research Council, etc;
7. familiarity with the non-campus organizational matrix of American higher education, including the increasing number of membership and advocacy organizations representing various constituencies, including, e.g., ACE, AAHE, AGB, AACU, AAU, etc.;
8. familiarity with basic methodology and method of social science research, including the process of finding and adequately describing research problems, statistical estimation and inference, hypothesis testing and basic research reporting;
9. familiarity with the basic techniques of qualitative research and survey research;
10. familiarity with basic organization and leadership theory;
11. familiarity with theory and research on reflective professional practice, presented in the work of Schon and Argyris;
12. familiarity with basic learning theory and pedagogy (at the individual and organizational level); and
13. familiarity with ethical issues in organizational life and frameworks for the analysis of ethical dilemmas in practice.

Completion Requirements

• admission to the program;
• achievement of matriculation;
• advancement of candidacy;
• successful completion of a minimum of 90 graduate credits in consultation with an adviser. At least 45 of these credits must be taken at Seton Hall University following admission to the program; and
• successful oral defense of doctoral-level dissertation

Graduate Assistant Program

In conjunction with the University, the ELMP program offers a number of graduate assistantships by separate application only (research and administrative) each year for full-time, matriculated graduate students. There are about 150 positions on campus, about one third of which become available each year, as the award is renewable annually. Each assistantship carries a stipend for nine or ten months (September through May or June) and includes tuition remission for a maximum of 12 credits per semester. Assistantships draw on a variety of different skills and require a presence on campus of 20 hours each week.

Students must be admitted to a program before an application may be submitted for a graduate assistantship. Assistantships are not available to non-matriculated students or students in certificate programs. Students must complete the application form, attach a resume and a personal statement. There is no official deadline for applications, but most departments conduct hiring interviews in the Spring semester for the following Fall. There are very few mid-year appointments, so most applications are reviewed in the spring semester. The ELMP department will review applications, conduct interviews and hire assistants. Students can view information on open positions and submit an application online using the Graduate Assistant Job Database.
Skills/Competencies:
1. demonstrate basic skills in performing literature reviews, including (a) capacity to identify goals and objectives for defining parameters of review; and (b) capability of integrating the results of previous research studies in a given topical area via analysis of patterns in the findings by methodological characteristics of the studies;
2. demonstrate skills in defining a policy issue (a “should” question), summarizing pro and con arguments and taking a “reasoned” position;
3. demonstrate skills in defining and describing a research problem, and using available data to define the scope and magnitude of the problem in the state, national or international higher education context;
4. demonstrate skills in applying social science theories and concepts to the analysis of research problems in higher education;
5. demonstrate capacity to assess the strengths and weaknesses of individual research studies, including conceptual frameworks, use of theory and previous research, sampling, research methods, analytical procedures and generalizability;
6. demonstrate capacity to design tables, charts and other figures that display data in the most cogent way possible;
7. demonstrate the capacity to identify and present evidence in writing that supports a cogent line or argument;
8. demonstrate skills in the quantitative and qualitative analysis of policy alternatives at the national, state and institutional level;
9. demonstrate skill in the design and implementation of instruction;
10. demonstrate skill in the design of professional development experiences for administrators and/or faculty;
11. demonstrate skill in the public presentation of research results;
12. demonstrate skill in the public presentation of a position paper;
13. demonstrate skill in the application of information technology to instruction; and
14. demonstrate skill in the application of information technology to research and data analysis.

Course Descriptions
Education Leadership, Management and Policy
ELMP 6005 Statistical Methods
Introduction to statistical methods needed for basic data analysis in educational administration. Included frequency distribution, graphic presentation of data, measures of central tendency, variability and linear regression/correlation. (Formerly CPSY 6004). 3 credits
ELMP 6101 Introduction to Higher Education as a Field of Study
Designed for newly admitted students to the doctoral program in higher education administration or students who are considering applying to the program. Seminar has two principal goals: (1) to introduce students to higher education as a field of study, and (2) to address issues and concerns that arise as part of the students’ doctoral experience. 3 credits
ELMP 6102 American College Student
Provides an overview of the literature and research on American college students. After reviewing the literature on student transition to college, student collegiate experiences, student development in college, and college impact on students, focus is on effective institutional policies and practices in enhancing positive student college experiences, learning and other desirable outcomes. 3 credits
ELMP 6103 College Student Affairs Administration
This course is designed to provide graduate students with an introduction, as well as a broad understanding of the professional field of student affairs administration in higher education. The student affairs professional has the important responsibility of fostering students’ academic success, personal/social development, and career/professional development, while improving students’ chances of becoming engaged citizens and life-long learners. 3 credits
ELMP 6601 Organization and Administration of Education
Comprehensive principles, historical background and future perspectives. Innovative curricula, individualization and other new organizational patterns; general and clinical supervisory techniques and practices; human, technological and conceptual skills for effective school administrators; leadership patterns and pitfalls; generalist’s view of school finances, school law, school business administration; human and public relations, aligned to current ISLCC and NCATE standards. 3 credits
ELMP 6664 Current Legal Issues of Public Policies at Local, State and Federal Level
Current trends in public bargaining; a review of discrimination for reasons of sex, age, disabilities and more; current issues and other current legal issues in funding of public education, teacher, student and parental rights; Sunshine Law issues; insurance issues and other current legal issues in publication, as aligned to current ISLCC and NCATE standards. 3 credits
ELMP 6665 Curriculum Development and Evaluation
Evolving concepts of the curriculum. Philosophy of curriculum development, principles and procedures, essential tools, preparation, approaches, direct and indirect influences, as aligned to current ISLCC and NCATE standards. 3 credits

ELMP 6666 Supervision of Instruction and Evaluation
Theories, principles and practices that determine effectiveness, efficiency and humane supervision at all levels of education. Emphasis on clinical supervision, general supervision, new research in the field, and better techniques for observation, evaluation and in-service programs, and as aligned to current ISLCC and NCATE standards. 3 credits

ELMP 6667 Personnel Administration
Current perspectives of the personnel administration function, including recruitment, selection, job orientation, appraisal and development processes. Personnel security matters covering employee and administrative compensation; collective bargaining and job continuity extended from the initial selection and development aspects. 3 credits

ELMP 6761 Finance in Administration
Development of problems of school finance in the United States: sources of revenue, expenditures and indebtedness, fiscal problems, existing and proposed plans for school support, and as aligned to current ISLCC and NCATE standards. 3 credits

ELMP 6764 Principles of Public Sector Bargaining
Introduction to the phenomenon of collective bargaining in the public sector. Broad overview of the fundamentals of the process. 3 credits

ELMP 6765 Policy Analysis in Administration
Emphasis on the process of educational policy analysis, decision making and implementation. Analysis of alternative explanations of the process of decision making at the local, state and federal levels. Political and economic theory; other core areas incorporated into a multidisciplinary approach to policy analysis, and as aligned to current ISLCC and NCATE standards. 3 credits

ELMP 6861 School Building and Planning and Plant Management
School plant planning for new or modernization of existing facilities. Emphasis on selection of school site, architect, plans and specifications; award of contract; supervision of construction; building maintenance; public relations; financing; and instructional influence on construction. 3 credits

ELMP 6870 Catholic Leadership: Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow
An overview of the history of the administration in the Christian tradition and Catholic schools in the United States. An examination of the multiple tasks of the school leaders in fostering faith development and an exploration of the norms for the school of the future. The role of the administrators as managers, academic leaders and liaisons to their religious institutions will be explored. 3 credits

ELMP 6871 Principal as Catholic School Servant Leader
An exploration of the role of the principal with a particular focus on the vocation of servant leadership. Topics include leadership, the school as a parish or order based institution and a community of faith, and the work of formation of faculty, students and program. 3 credits

ELMP 6872 Catholic Leadership and Identity, Ethos and Culture and Leadership Dynamics
An examination of key aspects of Catholic identity and belief, and an overview of some components of Catholicism, including aspects of Catholic history, doctrine, culture, judicial system, moral teaching and institutional life. This course is geared toward meshing excellent leadership skills and the Catholic mission. 3 credits

ELMP 7000 Data Analysis
This course will prepare administrators to analyze, manage and utilize the vast array of data that have become commonplace in America’s schools. 3 credits

ELMP 7100-7102 Seminar: Selected Topics in Administration
Provides students and faculty with the opportunity to work collaboratively in studying in-depth a current or special topic in the area of administration or human resources training and development. May be repeated for up to 12 credits. 3 credits

ELMP 7761 Management of Fiscal Affairs in Administration
Review of fiscal affairs pertaining to education on a national, state and local level. Problems dealing with sources of revenue, expenditures, indebtedness and existing and proposed plans for school support. 3 credits

ELMP 7762 Public Relations in Administration
Analysis and understanding through research and study of the agencies, the varied forces and diverse institutions in the community affecting the educational program. Evaluation of trends in public relations in regard to educational administration and supervision. 3 credits

ELMP 7763 School Law: State of New Jersey/Constitutional Law
Designed to help teachers and school administrators understand their legal status in the school. School Laws of New Jersey. Emphasis on legislation and school decisions regarding contemporary problems, such as students’ rights, teachers’ rights, academic freedom. 3 credits

ELMP 7765 Policy Analysis in Administration: Political and Economic Aspects
Examination of the interaction between political/economic theory and the educational policy-making arena. Focus on the process of policy analysis and formulation with antecedent attention to political and economic theory. Various decision making models studied as a means of offering alternative explanations to local, state and federal policy decisions. 3 credits
ELMP 7766 Administration of Bilingual/Bicultural Education: Policy and Practice
Examination of the administration of bilingual/bicultural education movements in the United States, including an in-depth analysis of the legal and sociopolitical impact. Critical analysis of the research and program design in the administration of bilingual/bicultural education. 3 credits

ELMP 7767 Advanced Study in Personnel Administration
Total systems approach to the personnel administration function incorporating recruitment and selection techniques; employee orientation, appraisal and development considerations; job security matters such as compensation, collective bargaining and employment continuity. Concentrated study in one topical area as well as a broad spectrum of personnel functions. 3 credits

ELMP 7768 Microcomputers for Administrators
Introduction to use of microcomputers in school administration, including: computer literacy, computers in the curriculum, managing instruction, budgeting, scheduling, data base management systems and word processing. 3 credits

ELMP 7770 Cybernetic Research for Educational Administrators
This is a cybernetics-based research course that combines research with currently available technology for educational decision makers. Topics and hands-on activities will include educational administration-specific applications: databases, data mining, Internet resources, search engines, research design issues, and microcomputer software programs. Class will have multiple opportunities to work directly with these applications using campus microcomputer labs. Prerequisite: ELMP 7768 or 7769 or permission of professor. 3 credits

ELMP 7771 Organizational Decision Making
For students enrolled in the K-12 doctoral program who have completed all the requirements for certification as a principal and are interested in enhancing their leadership and management skills through intensive research and analysis of decision making theory and practice. (Not to be substituted for courses which have been approved for certification purposes). The class will emphasize computer simulations and practical applications of theoretical frames to educational issues. 3 credits

ELMP 7772 Leadership Dynamics: Analysis of Supervisory Behavior
Leadership traits, strategies and techniques used by administrators and supervisors to implement changes in our system of observation and evaluation. Theories, research results, clinical supervisory techniques and methods for humanely observing teaching practice, monitoring supervisory performance and evaluating in-service, internships and field experiences to improve instruction and reduce grievances, and as aligned to current ISLCC and NCATE standards. 3 credits

ELMP 7773 Organizational Structures and Processes in Administration
Insights into organizational behavior including classical theory, social system theory, open system theory, theory Z and institutional leadership theory. Application of these theories in educational settings. 3 credits

ELMP 7774 Comparative Study of International Educational Systems
Inquiry into contemporary educational theory and practice, focusing on international similarities, differences and purposes in educational systems. 3 credits

ELMP 7776 Curriculum Design and Engineering
Advanced course designed to provide program-engineering capability for elementary, secondary and central office managers. Specific strategies for recasting curricula in light of the societal demands for accountability-based education. Innovative organizational patterns that foster learning, instructional interventions, individualization, personalization and mastery learning. 3 credits

ELMP 7777 Diversity in Higher Education
Introduction to theory, research and practice related to diversity and equity in higher education, focusing on race/ethnicity, class, and gender. Emphasis on historical and contemporary perspectives, the politics of diversity, equal opportunity, access, and campus climate issues in higher education and cultivation of critical thinking and reading. 3 credits

ELMP 8159 Curriculum Policy. Ideology, and Leadership
This doctoral level course is designed for all students who have passed the qualifying exam and desire an in-depth study of PK-20 curriculum policy, theory, research, ideology, and leadership issues through the lens of some seminal works in the field of curriculum. Topics will include (a) an exploration of theories and philosophies that influence curriculum development and policy; (b) in-depth analysis of some seminal works that have contributed to curriculum policy during the last 75 years; (c) critique of current curriculum policy; and (d) the development of an evidence-based curriculum vision and leadership strategies. 3 credits

Extension of correlation techniques including multiple correlation and regression, exploration of various complex analysis of variance procedures. Emphasis on application to problems faced by researchers in educational administration. (Formerly CPSY 8616.) Prerequisite: ELMP 6005 or CPSY 6004. 3 credits

ELMP 8801 Interdisciplinary Studies for Administrators: Issues and Theories
Need for general educational backgrounds of present and future educational administrators is emphasized. Insights into the arts, economics, sociology and futures with implications for educational administration and supervision. 3 credits
ELMP 8890 Survey Research
Systematic introduction to the logic and skills of survey research. Various aspects of survey designs and analysis are studied, to include sampling questionnaire design and construction, scale construction, interviewing techniques and analytical strategies of survey data. 3 credits

ELMP 8891 Directed Research in Administration and Supervision
Presents research methodology and procedures in educational administration and supervision. Students develop a research project with the guidance of the professor. 3 credits

ELMP 8892 Independent Study in Administration
For doctoral students who wish to study selected topics in depth and conduct research. Approval by chair and dean is necessary. 3 credits

ELMP 8894 Applied Quantitative Analysis
Provides opportunities for students to conduct an empirical research study using statistical methods and large-scale databases. The course will review quantitative research study design and statistical techniques, introduce major national survey databases available for educational research, help students generate research questions and hypotheses based on the sample data, guide students through the design and execution of their empirical studies, and require students to write up their research results. Prerequisites: Directed Research or other prior research methods course, Statistical Methods, and Intermediate Statistics. 3 credits

ELMP 8895 Program Evaluation
This course is designed to introduce students to the fundamental logic and methodology of program evaluation as it applies to P-20, non-profit, and private education settings. Topics include (a) an introduction to evaluation theory, (b) design, (c) needs assessment, (d) criterion checklists, (e) setting standards, (f) collecting and synthesizing mixed-method data, (g) drawing evaluative conclusions, and (h) presenting evaluation findings. Prerequisites: Directed Research, Statistical Methods and Intermediate Statistics. 3 credits

ELMP 8896 Multivariate Statistics
This course introduces students to the foundations of 2-level hierarchical linear modeling (HLM) with an emphasis on the use of these models in K-12 and higher education settings. In addition to HLM, the course will explore the following statistical and research techniques; logistic regression; repeated measures, determining statistical power for cluster designs, and understanding the importance of intra-class correlations. Students taking this course must have earned a grade of B+ or higher in intermediate statistics. 3 credits

ELMP 8898 Administrative Internship
Administrative internship K-12 or higher education with permission of administrator and Department of Education Leadership, Management and Policy. 3 credits

ELMP 8898-8992 Administrative Internship
Administrative internship K-12 or higher education with permission of administrator and Department of Education Leadership, Management and Policy. 3 credits each

ELMP 8983 Leadership and Management Assessment
Diagnostic and prescriptive teaching model covering critical skill areas of leadership and management. 3 credits

ELMP 8984-8985 Leadership Institute for Administrators and Supervisors
Workshops for all levels of administration. Through techniques including case studies, role play, debate, panel discussions, audiovisual presentations, and group interactions, expert consultants involve participants in the use of effective methods to solve contemporary problems of leadership. Innovative approaches to curriculum design, supervisory practice, business and financial problems, administrative relationships with the board, the general public, the government and outside agencies. 3 credits each

ELMP 8986 Qualitative Research Seminar in Administration
For doctoral students who wish to review the content, techniques and findings of research in administration and supervision with emphasis on evaluative studies in the field. 3 credits

ELMP 8987-8988 Dissertation Seminar in Administration
Seminar for doctoral candidates for the purpose of developing an approved dissertation proposal. 3 credits each

ELMP 9962 Advanced Qualitative Research Methods
This course provides advanced training in qualitative approaches applicable to the study of education. Students will explore a variety of philosophical and conceptual approaches, as well as practical methods for collecting and analyzing qualitative data. Prerequisites: Directed Research or other prior research methods course, Qualitative Research. 3 credits

ELMP 9979-9980 Dissertation Seminar in Administration of Higher Education
Seminar for doctoral candidates for the purpose of developing an approved dissertation proposal. 3 credits each

ELMP 9981-9992 Dissertation Advisement
Doctoral students who have advanced to candidacy and completed Dissertation Seminars must register continuously for advancement until the dissertation is completed. Credit may be used toward degree upon application to department. 3 credits each

ELMP 9993 Organization and Governance of Higher Education
Discussion of administrative philosophies and approaches in higher education settings, highlighting the roles of each office, the philosophical questions and options available to institutions; the policy issues that need to be addressed by university administrators. 3 credits

ELMP 9994 Faculty Personnel Policies of Higher Education
Personnel problems in colleges, including faculty and staff evaluation, recruitment, affirmative action, promotion, tenure, development and leadership management. 3 credits
Education Leadership, Management and Policy/Educational Studies  211

ELMP 9995 Financial Administration of Higher Education
Institutions Business principles and their importance for decision making in higher education including budgeting, financial reporting and planning. 3 credits

ELMP 9996 Organization and Administration of Junior/Community Colleges
Topics include organizational and administrative problems, curriculum instruction, student personnel programs and their relationship to the community. 3 credits

ELMP 9997 Historical Development of American Higher Education
Study focusing on the period from 1865-1915, when many of the institutions and practices of contemporary higher education were shaped. Secondary sources extensively supplemented by readings of primary documents. Surveys of the national scene supplemented by case studies at specific instructions. 3 credits

ELMP 9998 Curriculum and Instruction in Higher Education
Current status of the undergraduate curriculum and approaches to instruction in American colleges and universities, including reform efforts. Principal factors/forces shaping undergraduate curriculum and instruction including epistemology and the sociology of knowledge; psychology and developmental status/needs of the contemporary college student, both traditional and nontraditional; socio-cultural, economic and political factors. 3 credits

ELMP 9999 Culminating Research Seminar
Culminating research seminar designed to synthesize all coursework into a final major research project. 3 credits

Human Resources Training and Development

HRTD 6501 Introduction to Human Resources Development
Key concepts and principles of human resources training and development field. Topics might include the foundation and evolution of HRTD, the ethical and philosophical issues associated with human resources training and development and the role of the HRTD professional in the organization. 3 credits

HRTD 6502 Adult Learning for Human Resources Development Professionals
Theories of adult development and learning with emphasis on implications for design and delivery of human resource development programs in organizational environments. 3 credits

HRTD 6503 Design and Evaluation of Human Resources Development Programs
Theory and practice of program design and evaluation applied to the organization. Special attention to integration of design and evaluation processes, evaluation strategies, measuring results, assessing return on training investment and the role of design and evaluation in securing management support for the HRTD function. 3 credits

HRTD 6504 Performance Analysis
The knowledge and skills basic to needs assessment, organization, person and task analysis. Data collection methods such as questionnaires, interviews and observation scales are covered, as well as data analysis and selection of appropriate HRTD interventions. 3 credits

HRTD 6505 Performance Improvement Strategies
Instruction is one means of improving human performance. When performance problems have causes other than skills and knowledge deficiencies, other means are necessary. Students in this course will learn how and when to use non-training and reward systems, work place design and job design. Students should apply design improvement applications of their choice. 3 credits

HRTD 6506 Consulting Skills
Enables students to function responsibly as new or mid-level practitioners. Includes an examination of the consulting process including an overview of consultant-customer behaviors and dilemmas. Using theory and field experience, students will learn how to apply consulting skills and strategies to their own work situations. 3 credits

HRTD 8891 Directed Research
Presents research methodology and procedures in educational administration and supervision. Students develop a research project with the guidance of the professor. 3 credits

HRTD 7100 Selected Topics
Provides students and faculty with the opportunity to work collaboratively in studying in-depth a current or special topic in the area of administration or human resources training and development. 3 credits

Department of Educational Studies
Jubilee Hall
(973) 275-2824
www.shu.edu/academics/education/educational-studies

Faculty: Carr; Liberty; Martinelli; Ruzicka; Skeele; Zaccone; Zinicola (Chair)

Field Director: Brisini

The Department of Educational Studies offers graduate courses in the following areas:

- Teacher Certification
- Teacher of Students with Disabilities Endorsement
- Professional Development
- Information Technologies
- Online Course Development and Management
- Instructional Design and Technology
- Special Education
- Autism Studies
- Transition Specialist
- School Library Media Specialist Certification
- Bilingual/Bicultural Education (Inactive)
The Department of Graduate Educational Studies in the College of Education and Human Services offers ten concentrations and four certificates. In all concentrations, the standards of national organizations in each field are followed.

The Department of Graduate Educational Studies offerings are designed to enable graduates to assume leadership roles in their professions, to provide critical insights that help solve problems in the workplace, in the larger society, and to exhibit at all times the high ethical, intellectual, and professional ideals that are honored and taught at Seton Hall University.

The Department of Graduate Educational Studies offers two certificate programs, specialized undergraduate courses and nine graduate degree programs for teachers, media specialists, business trainers, IT professionals, health professionals, and individuals whose work would be enhanced by knowledge of instructional design, information technologies, educational media, and new pedagogies. Degree and certificate programs enable learners to select courses that complement their professional needs and personal interests.

Specific requirements for admission, the objectives of each program, courses in each program relative to the degree sought and other regulations appropriate to individual programs are described under the heading for each area.

Becoming a Teacher: Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing (CEAS)

Graduate Educational Studies
Program Director: Lourdes Mitchel, Ed.D.
(973) 761-9396
Director of Graduate Admissions: Diane Minakakis, M.A.

The Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing (CEAS) program is an online hybrid program intended for professionals seeking teacher certification. All the courses are taught online with the exception of mandated sessions on campus: orientation, a two hour evening session on the first night of class, a face to face 3 hour method session, with each methods instructor prior to clinical experience, and one session during student teaching. The purpose of the certificate is to provide skills and competencies to meet changing certification requirements. Students who successfully complete this program will be qualified for an Advanced Certificate of Eligibility for the New Jersey Instructional License as an elementary or secondary teacher. The CEAS program is guided by state and national standards.

Admission

Formal admission is required to enter CEAS program. Applicants must submit the following materials:

- Application online
- Official transcripts confirming a 3.0 GPA and completion of an undergraduate degree from an accredited institution showing 15-30 credits in specialized field for secondary teachers subject areas (English, History, Science, Math) and 60 Liberal Arts credits required for Elementary (K-6).
- Submitting a passing score on the appropriate Praxis II (For information on upcoming Praxis dates, visit www.ets.praxis or call 1-800-772-9476).
- Two page, double spaced, typed statement of goals
- Résumé
- Interview with an admissions adviser

CEAS Course of Study: Total Required Credits 18, Candidates must take courses in sequential orders:

- EDST 6421 Child and Adolescent Development and Diversity
- EDST 6422 Classroom Curriculum, Planning and Organization
- EDST 6425 Assessment of Student Learning

Select two courses below, based on specialization:

- EDST 6423 Elementary Literacy and Social Studies Methods: Technology and Materials
- EDST 6424 Secondary Literacy and Social Studies Methods: Technology and Materials
- EDST 6411 Elementary Math and Science Methods: Technology and Materials
- EDST 6412 Secondary Math and Science Methods: Technology and Materials
- EDST 6426 Clinical Practice Seminar

Academic Standards

Students must maintain at least a “B” in all courses. Students who receive a “C” will be referred to the Academic Standards Committee of the department, which will recommend appropriate action to the chair.

Clinical Practice I and II

Students seeking New Jersey state teacher certification must complete a full semester of field experience. The field experience is a two part clinical experience consisting of 16-17 weeks in a school setting. In the first phase, Clinical Practice I, candidates will be enrolled in the online methods classes and will report to a school for an initial two week internship. The internship allows for gradual introduction to teaching, and gives candidates the opportunity to learn the contextual factors of the school, classroom, students and community while completing the required assignments in the methods courses. After completing the internship, candidates will continue student teaching (see student teaching handbook) in the same school, while enrolled in the EDST 6426 Clinical Practice Seminar.

An application fee for student teaching is required. There is a separate application for the clinical practice and candidates must complete application prior to registering for methods courses. The student should consult with program advisers and student teacher handbook for specific requirements.
The application fee for student teaching is $100. Completed applications must be received by the Director of Field Placement and Supervision by the posted dates.

Eligibility for Certification

Upon completion of the Post Baccalaureate Certificate program, students are eligible for recommendation to the State of New Jersey for the certificate of eligibility with advanced standing as a classroom teacher. Under current New Jersey state regulations, the student must then successfully serve one year as a provisionally certified teacher before the state will grant standard (permanent) certification.

Although there are reciprocal certification agreements among many states, these are subject to change. Students from states other than New Jersey should check with their state’s Department of Education for specific requirements.

Master’s Degree Programs

Students may apply the 18 credits awarded for the CEAS program toward an M.A. in Education. Students may apply for admission to an M.A. program after they have successfully completed the CEAS program, or take the M.A. courses to make up an unsatisfactory GPA. The M.A. programs are 36 credits, reflect current good practice in education, and are guided by National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) standards. The programs are constantly evolving as new ideas, pedagogies and technologies develop and emerge.

The following M.A. programs are available:

- Instructional Design and Technology (18 credits – includes IT certificate)
- School Library Media Specialist (24 credits – includes NJ certification)
- Special Education (21 credits – includes NJ certification)

M.A. Requirements

- Students applying for the MA program must also submit satisfactory scores on the Miller Analogies Test (MAT) or the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) taken within the last 5 years. For full admission, a score in the 30th percentile or above is required. For conditional admission, a score in the 20th percentile is required.
- Candidates who already possess an advanced degree do not need to submit entrance exam scores. An official transcript from their graduate program is required.
- A candidate admitted to the M.A. program conditionally must complete 6 credits with a 3.0 GPA as a nonmatriculated student.
- Those students who are making up an unsatisfactory GPA must submit MAT or GRE scores after completing 12 graduate credits before they will be able to register for additional courses.

Advanced Standing (Transfer of Credit)

No credits may be transferred into this program.

Graduate Educational Studies

Master of Arts in Education

There are three degree programs, four licensure programs, and three certificate programs within the Department of Graduate Educational Studies.

Degree Programs

- Instructional Design and Technology - Master of Arts in Education
- School Library Media Specialist - Master of Arts in Education
- Special Education - Master of Arts

Licensure Programs which may be added to degree programs

- Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing
- Teacher of Students with Disabilities Endorsement
- Associate School Library Media Specialist Certification
- School Library Media Specialist Certification

There are special programs for non-teachers and for professional librarians (M.L.S.) to acquire these certificates.

Alternate Route Degree Completion Program

- Graduate Credit for Alternate Route Teaching Experiences (at New Jersey State approved alternate route provisional teacher training programs)
- M.A. in Education Program for Alternate Route Teachers

Seton Hall University Certificate Programs in Graduate Studies and Special Programs

- Seton Hall University Certificate in Information Technologies (Graduate - 15 credits)
- Seton Hall University Certificate in Online Course Development and Management
- Seton Hall University Certificate in Autism Studies
- Seton Hall University Certificate in Transition Studies

Admission

Formal admission to graduate studies is necessary to enter the M.A. programs. In addition to the general University requirements for the degree Master of Arts in Education, applicants for all M.A. programs must submit the following:

- application;
- $50 application fee, payable to Seton Hall University.
- official transcripts confirming the completion of an undergraduate degree and, when applicable, a graduate degree in an appropriate field from an accredited college or university;
• two letters of reference from professional and/or academic contacts attesting to the applicant’s academic abilities and personal qualifications;
• two page, double-spaced, typed statement of goals;
• résumé; and
• conduct an interview with an admissions adviser.

Students applying for the MA program must also submit satisfactory scores on the Miller Analogies Test (MAT) or the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) taken within the last 5 years. For full admission, a score in the 30th percentile or above is required. For conditional admission, a score in the 20th percentile is required.

Candidates who already possess an advanced degree do not need to submit entrance exam scores. An official transcript from their graduate program is required.

Degree and Curriculum Requirements

Students admitted to a master’s degree program must satisfy all University, College and program requirements for admission and for graduation. Most master’s degree programs require a minimum of 36 credits, and a graduate academic record of 3.0. The credits for each master’s program consist of foundation courses and concentration courses. Up to six graduate credits earned recently at another accredited college or university may be accepted for some programs in partial satisfaction of graduate degree requirements in the Department of Graduate Educational Studies. The candidate’s program adviser must approve the credit transfer.

Master’s Degree

Instructional Design and Technology

Nationally Recognized Program-AECT and ISTE

Program Director: T.B.D.

Jubilee Hall, Room 443

(973) 761-9257

The Instructional Design and Technology program assists teachers, technology coaches, technology directors, library media specialists, and trainers in many settings to improve their professional performance as educators and instructional and curriculum designers, and to assume instructional leadership roles in their place of employment. Students are accepted from many instructional environments, including K-12, college and adult education as well as from corporate, government, health, and nonprofit environments. The program emphasizes a theoretical base for instructional design and exposure to a broad array of the most current instructional methods, strategies, technologies and materials. Seton Hall University is a recognized leader in the use of a variety of modern techniques and digital technologies for teaching and learning. The program is NCATE accredited with AECT and ISTE national accreditations.

School Library Media Specialist
Nationally Recognized Program NCATE/AECT
Program Director: T.B.D.
Jubilee Hall Room 433
(973) 761-9257

The School Library Media Specialist (SLMS) program prepares K-12 School Library Media Specialists to be certified by the State of New Jersey. We are the first New Jersey University, approved by the state, to offer a three-track program—one track for certified teachers, a second for students without teacher certification, and a third for professional librarians—that leads to full licensure as a school library media specialist.

The SLMS program provides courses that fulfill the NJ State certification requirements with the technology orientation sought by many school districts today. Graduates are fully certified to administer K through 12 school library media centers. Our program includes the most current courses and technologies in the field to prepare candidates to become school library media specialists who are technology leaders.

Programs are offered at the master’s level. The program contains three tracks-track one for candidates with a standard NJ instructional certificate, track two for candidates without a standard NJ instructional certificate and track three for professional librarians who desire to be certified as school library media specialists.

Employment Prospects

Our candidates are in great demand. Every candidate in the SLMS program seeking apposition has been hired as a full-time SLMS, most before completing the program and receiving full certification. We are contacted regularly by school districts seeking to hire our candidates. The Graduate Studies Program is service-oriented and includes more technology integration training than traditional programs. Schools seek our candidates for this reason. Their overall performance is highly rated by employers.

Teacher of Students with Disabilities Endorsement
For Candidates with a Standard Instructional Certificate

The Teacher of Students with Disabilities Endorsement is designed and developed for New Jersey teachers who hold an initial Certification in another teaching specialty. The major area of the program includes initial New Jersey certification as a Teacher of Students with Disabilities for certified elementary and secondary teachers. Because of the need for general education teachers to be dually certified in general and special education, Seton Hall’s Special Education Endorsement adheres to the New Jersey state law that requires the development of recommendations on awareness of and instructional methods for teaching children with special needs, autism and other developmental disabilities.

Degree in Education Leadership, Management and Policy, and take specialized courses to fulfill the competencies in bilingual/bicultural Education.

Educational Partners in Catholic Schools (EPICS) (Admission Suspended)

Mary F. Ruzicka, Ph.D., Academic Director

The program leading to an M.A. in Education with a focus on Catholic helping professions has been offered since Summer 2000. The mission of the program is twofold: to recruit and further train non-certified or already certified teachers to serve in Catholic schools while simultaneously earning a graduate degree; and to offer a M.A. program to professionals working in any Catholic setting. The program is designed to enable beginning teachers with entry level professional knowledge and skill to acquire the advanced competencies needed to become teacher leaders within the Catholic educational community. This program is available for individuals who teach in Catholic schools or work in other church agencies, live together in community housing, and participate in spiritual and ethical development activities while also enrolled in a master’s program. The academic program consists of 12 courses (36 credit hours). The courses are organized around four themes:

- Catholic Heritage (6 credits)
- Information Technology (6 credits)
- Instructional Excellence (15 credits)
- Contemporary Issues (9 credits)

The academic program is organized on a cohort basis. Students will be enrolled in a specially sequenced curriculum that will permit the completion of the degree in two years, and where appropriate state certification. If necessary, course substitutions will be allowed if approved by the academic director of the program. Completion within two years is contingent upon enrollment in all courses scheduled for the cohort group.

Ed.S. in Bilingual/Bicultural Education Program (Admission Suspended)

The purpose of this program is to train bilingual education leaders who will become school managers and administrators. The program assists them to attain the Ed.S. degree in Education Leadership, Management and Policy, with a concentration in Bilingual/Bicultural Education. Seton Hall University has designed a highly effective quality, competency-based Ed.S. program.

The program has received federal funding under the National Professional Development from the US Office of Education. Eligible students receive grant support to cover part of the cost of tuition. The program is designed to satisfy the needs of school districts to manage educational programs serving groups of language minority students in target languages such as Chinese, Japanese, Haitian Creole, Portuguese, Spanish.

At the end of the program, students will receive the Educational Specialist (Ed.S.) degree and be eligible for New Jersey certification as a supervisor and a school leader. The program offers articulation with various school districts in New Jersey and has a strong track record of placement of former graduates in New Jersey, New York, Connecticut and Pennsylvania. The program incorporates the latest research on best practices and instructional effectiveness. The competencies of the program have been updated every year to comply with state standards and complies with UNESCO guidelines.

Online Graduate Certificate in Information Technologies

Certificate Requirements
The College will award the Certificate in Information Technologies to students who successfully complete five three-credit information technology courses (15 credits). A maximum of 6 credits will be accepted for equivalent courses taken in other Divisions of the University, or for courses taken at other colleges. Graduate students may apply the credits earned toward the Certificate to a master’s degree.

The Graduate Information Technologies

Certificate Program
The following courses may be applied toward the Information Technologies Certificate.

Select five of the following courses: (15 credits)
- EDST 6210 Real World Technologies
- EDST 6214 Emerging Web Technologies
- EDST 6215 Production of Instructional Resources III:
- EDST 6216 Digital Research and Information Literacy
- EDST 6304 Production of Instructional Resources I
- EDST 6305 Production of Instructional Resources II
- EDST 6314 Multimedia Technologies
- EDST 6315 Technical Processes for Educational Media and Technology Resources
- EDST 6344 Seminar: Social, Ethical, and Legal Issues in Technology
- EDST 6345 Online Course Management and Delivery
- EDST 6348 Online Course Design and Implementation
- EDST 7349 Internship in Information Technologies I
- EDST 7350 Internship in Information Technologies II

Certificate in Autism Studies
Seton Hall University is meeting the current special education needs of the educational community. If you are a general education teacher with an existing M.A. in any field other than special education, a special education teacher with an M.A. in areas other than special education, a school psychologist, a guidance counselor, an occupational therapist, or a speech pathologist, you are a faced with teaching or creating behavior plans for students with autism within the general education environment. The Seton Hall University certificate will provide you with the conceptual knowledge, strategies, and assessments that are necessary to serve the special needs of students with autism.

Certificate Requirements
A Seton Hall University Certificate in Autism Studies to students will be awarded to students who successfully complete a five course, 15-credit program. A maximum of 6 credits will be accepted for equivalent courses taken in other divisions of the University, or for courses taken at other Seton Hall University will evaluate application materials. A grade of “A” or “B” will be posted to the student’s Seton Hall transcript for the related graduate credits. A grade of “A” reflects an outstanding rating and a grade of “B” reflects a satisfactory rating. No credits will be awarded for unsatisfactory grades. Courses will appear on the student transcript for the semester in which Seton Hall University receives the applicant’s paperwork and payment. The tuition rate for that semester will apply.

- Credits must be awarded within 3 years of completing the alternate route experience.
- Up to 15 awarded credits may be applied to an M.A. degree at Seton Hall University in Educational Studies.

Conversion of Alternate Route Provisional Teacher Program Hours to Seton Hall University Credit Hours

Students may acquire credits as they complete each phase of the provisional teacher program. Seton Hall University will accept proof of completion of the following experiences toward the awarding of 15 graduate credits:

- Phase IA/Phase IB (80 hrs) for
  - EDST 6407 Foundations of Education (3 Credits)

- Phase II (60 hrs) for
  - EDST 6408 Child and Adolescent Development (3 Credits)

- Phase III (60 hrs) for
  - EDST 6409 Life in the Classroom (3 Credits)

Teaching with mentor (1 Year) for

- EDST 6460 Contemporary Assessment Practice (3 Credits) and
- EDST 6229 Clinical Practice Seminar (3 Credits)

Master’s Degree Programs

Students may use the 15 credits awarded for the Provisional Teacher Training Program (PTTP) toward a 36-credit Master of Arts in Education. Seton Hall’s M.A. programs reflect current good practice in education and are guided by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) standards. The programs are constantly evolving as new ideas, pedagogies, and technologies develop and emerge. The following M.A. programs are available:

- Instructional Design and Technology (Includes IT certificate; 15 credits from PTTP may be applied to this program.)
- Instructional Design and Technology with School Library Media Specialist (includes NJ certification: 12 credits from PTTP may be applied to this program)
- Instructional Design and Technology with supervisor’s certificate (9 credits from PTTP may be applied to this program)
- Special Education (Includes New Jersey Teacher of Students with Disabilities Endorsement: 15 credits from PTTP may be applied to this program.)
Admission to the M.A. Degree Programs
A streamlined admissions process has been designed especially for alternate route teachers. Students will have three years to apply their credits to a degree program at Seton Hall University. To be accepted as a candidate for a graduate degree, complete the following:

- application;
- $50 application fee, payable to Seton Hall University;
- official transcripts confirming the completion of an undergraduate degree and, when applicable, a graduate degree from an accredited college or university;
- two letters of reference from professional and/or academic contacts attesting to the applicant’s academic abilities and personal qualifications;
- two page, double-spaced, typed statement of goals;
- résumé; and
- interview with an admissions adviser.

No credits beyond the 15 alternate route training program credits will be accepted in transfer toward the M.A. programs.

Students will be charged at the full tuition rate for credits beyond those 15 awarded for the alternate route training program.

Course Descriptions

EDST 6001 Comprehensive Approach to the Exceptional Learner
This course surveys the physical, emotional, intellectual, and social conditions affecting children with learning problems and necessitating special conditions for success in the educational process. The etiology of learning disabilities, classifications, disability categories assessments, and educational programming for the learning disabled, preschool through adolescent youth, will be discussed. A review of relevant laws and the revised New Jersey Special Education Code will be included. 3 credits

EDST 6002 Graduate Research Methods
A survey of research principles, methods and practices in education and the helping professions. 3 credits

EDST 6003 Teachers as Inquirers: Classroom-Based Research
Introduction to classroom-based research to support participants as they prepare to research a designated problem. Participants reflect on their teaching practices, examine examples of classroom research, formulate research questions and hypotheses, study a variety of data-gathering techniques and conduct a classroom based inquiry. Participants are encouraged to publish their findings in professional journals. 3 credits

EDST 6005 Reading in Content Areas
Provides an overview of the teaching of reading in grades 7-12, college years and adult courses. Emphasizes skills and techniques used when the reading teacher assumes the role of reading supervisor, reading consultant or administrator of reading programs. 3 credits

EDST 6009 Teaching Strategies for Multicultural Education
Definition of the social foundations and theories of multicultural education. Exploration of past and current issues and directions of multicultural education. Strategies for teaching multicultural education that reflect an understanding and respect for the cognitive, affective and communicative diversity of students. 3 credits

EDST 6108 Educational Interventions for Students with Learning Disabilities
Introduction to the field of learning disabilities, bringing together theory and practice. The historical background and evolution of the learning disabilities concept and the theoretical foundations that support the evolving field of study, research and practice. The current status of the learning disabilities field, including definition, prevalence, etiology, legislative parameters and diagnosis and treatment. 3 credits

EDST 6210 Real World Technologies
Introduction to computers and computing, problem solving, changes in technology, and the impact of computers in our lives. Provides a working knowledge of computers and the Windows operating environment with an emphasis on word processing, desktop publishing, spreadsheets, presentation, and Web editing software programs. This course is designed to focus on student computing needs. 3 credits

EDST 6212 Real World Technologies II
Introduces and develops expertise in database, desktop publishing, photo-editing, and semantic networking software. Presents advanced concepts in word processing, spreadsheet, and presentation graphics. Emphasis is placed on using these programs to their full advantage by use of advanced integration. The terminal goal is to develop computing skills as they apply in appropriate organizational settings. 3 credits

EDST 6214 Emerging Web Technologies
The theory, creative design, software skills, and practical applications for effective web page development will be presented. A special feature of the course is the development of an ADA compliant website. Real world applications the student will experience are: developing text, graphics, links, tables, styles, layout position, and experiencing numerous on-line web design applications. By the end of the course, students will have completed professionally designed online employment, or personal portfolios and informational sites. 3 credits

EDST 6215 Production of Instructional Resources III: Digital Video and Animation
This course combines the use of new media tools to create and develop instructional products that enable the creation of products which can fully engage the community through creative educational experiences. New media applications such as Windows Live Movie Maker, Adobe Premiere Elements and Audacity, can be used to remix video, audio, songs, text and images into products which will be delivered through Web 2.0 social networking applications such as Facebook, YouTube and Twitter. 3 credits
EDST 6216 Digital Research and Information Literacy
Advanced digital research using computer-based and Internet accessible tools. Students find, evaluate and assemble the best information for individual action research interests and workplace needs; develop research skills and information discrimination techniques using digital resources. Includes research problem development, research methodology, bibliography development, search strategies, digital reference materials, online newspapers and periodicals, email, wikis, blogs and online surveys. 3 credits

EDST 6229 Clinical Practice with Seminar
The candidate integrates and connects models of teaching and subject matter in the classroom with the direct supervision of a cooperating teacher, a Seton Hall University supervisor, and a seminar professor. Students are able to fine-tune their teaching skills through instruction, reflection, and responses to feedback from teaching professionals. Portfolio development, career readiness, reflection on practice and professional growth are the primary foci of this course. 3 credits

EDST 6301 Literature for Children and Young Adults
Evaluating, selecting and using literature in print and electronic formats with children and adolescents. Course emphasis is on strategies for motivating children to read and the integration of literature with lesson plan development throughout the curriculum. 3 credits

EDST 6304 Production of Instructional Resources I: Visual Communication Design
An introduction to visual communication that provides students with the needed skills to design, produce, practice, and present creative products utilizing a variety of electronic media. The importance of developing visual literacy through practice in interactive media, print, video, digital photography and presentation will be a focus. From typography and layout to color and composition, an array of design elements will be explored in relationship to constructing a clear channel of communication for maximizing student learning. 3 credits

EDST 6305 Production of Instructional Resources II: Technology Enhanced Learning Strategies
Learn to design and develop technology-based strategies that support the instructional needs of learners in any content area. Advanced digital techniques will be employed to visualize the thought process, design games, create simulations, encourage collaboration, stimulate active learner participation, and spur learners to engage in both independent and group activities that encourage higher order thinking skills. 3 credits

EDST 6306 Instructional Design
Using a systematic approach, students will design, develop, evaluate and revise instruction to meet defined goals and objectives. Contemporary theories of learning become the framework and catalyst for the design process. 3 credits

EDST 6307 Integrating Curriculum and Technology in the Inclusive Classroom
Candidates integrate “best practice” with state and national standards while designing and developing a technology-based instruction for diverse learners. The instructional design/lesson planning process is explored while developing well-supported rationales for the selection of strategies, materials, and tools based on particular student needs, experiences and expectations. A broad range of computer-supported learning tools, projects, assistive technologies, and emerging technologies are examined, developed, and evaluated through an interactive approach. 3 credits

EDST 6308 Organizing and Administering Educational Media and Technology Programs
Exploration of the roles, functions and responsibilities of the educational media specialist and the instructional technology professional. Philosophical perspectives; the selection and handling of materials and equipment; managing media and technology services; grant writing; facility design; computer-based technologies for management; budgeting; and issues such as professionalism, ethics, public relations and copyright laws are studied. 3 credits

EDST 6310 Practicum in Educational Media Services
This graduate-level practicum involves a minimum of 150 hours, for certified teachers and a full semester for those non-certified working at an approved school library media center under supervision of a certified school library media specialist and a Seton Hall University SLMS supervisor. This practicum involves observation and participation in all important aspects of school library media administration, including selection and organization of materials; reference and bibliographic services; production of resources; curriculum development; and techniques of teaching lessons, information literacy and other school library media skills. 3 credits

EDST 6314 Multimedia Technologies
The use of a computer to present and combine text, graphics, audio and video with links and tools to create learning packages, assessment tools, presentations, and stand-alone training. Focus is on good multimedia design, scripting, use of audio and video tools, the Internet as a delivery tool and multimedia authoring tools. 3 credits

EDST 6315 Technical Processes for Educational Media Resources
An analysis of the theory of classification and information systems, techniques for print and non-print cataloging with emphasis on practical application utilizing automated resources, and a survey of developments in information retrieval and other educational media center applications of modern procedures in acquisition, circulation, management and periodical control. 3 credits
EDST 6324 Human Relations
Theory and practice in the treatment and elimination of destructive human conflicts. Special reference to inter-group and intercultural problems in a period of changing social relations. 3 credits

EDST 6325 Psychological Foundations of Education
Advanced study of human personality. Cognitive and dynamic factors; learning and transfer, critical and creative thinking, motivation, emotion, volition, attitudes, individuality and sociality. 3 credits

EDST 6326 Advanced Psychology of Learning
Research in learning, motivation, individual differences, teaching methods and adjustment as applied to the learning process. Survey of major contemporary psychologists. 3 credits

EDST 6328 Critical Issues in Education
Analysis of specific and experiential problems in education within the context of current philosophical and psychological assumptions. 3 credits

EDST 6329-6331 Independent Study
For students who wish to design and conduct independent graduate research. Permission must be obtained from the participating faculty. Prerequisite: Approval of department chair. 1-3 credits

EDST 6336 Educational Psychology
Advanced scientific study of human personality. Cognitive and dynamic factors; learning and transfer, critical and creative thinking, motivation, emotion, volition, attitudes, individuality and sociality. 3 credits

EDST 6337 Foundations of Contemporary Education
Advanced course in the fundamental concepts of educational thought from primitive society to the present. Emphasis is on significant historical, philosophical and educational movements. 3 credits

EDST 6344 Seminar: Social, Ethical and Legal Issues in Technology
Social, ethical and legal problems associated with computer-based technologies will be explored, debated and researched, along with the means for reducing problems and coping with their effects. 3 credits

EDST 6347 Special Projects in Technology
Students develop technology-based projects using new and emerging technologies. The instructional design process is employed throughout the development of the project. Project content is related to student’s field of study. 3 credits

EDST 6352-6353 Risk Prevention, Reduction and Intervention
For school personnel to effectively participate in a Coordinated School Health Program, this course addresses issues of resiliency, misuse, and abuse of chemical substances. Educators who aim to meet their responsibilities with regard to school health will be trained in the comprehensive approach toward reducing risks and consequences associated with experimentation, use, misuse, and dependency of chemical substances. Factors that promote resiliency toward chemical abuse are studied with respect to their implications for youth (preschool through grade 12). Effective planning and implementation of substance abuse education for students, staff, and family will be fostered through class projects and activities. 2 and 3 credits, respectively

EDST 6407 Foundations of Education
This course will introduce the teacher candidate to the challenges and rewards of teaching in today’s society. It is designed to assist future teachers in developing a passion for teaching and to explore techniques for putting one’s passion to work in the classroom. To do this we explore the roles of a professional educator in today’s changing society and the public policy affecting teachers. We will look at learners and their diverse needs and how to address these needs in a heterogeneous classroom. We will examine the curriculum, effective instruction, and the history of education. 3 credits

EDST 6408 Child and Adolescent Development
This course is designed to equip teacher candidates with knowledge of human development, cognitive, emotional, physical, social, and moral, across the lifespan. By integrating theory into practice, this knowledge will enable them to understand, from multiple perspectives, how education has been developed, from early childhood through adolescence. Candidates will be empowered to create developmentally appropriate curricula and approaches for students with developmental patterns that fall within the norm as well as those that vary from the norm. Curricular controversies and current issues in development will be explored and debated to enable candidates to think critically in making enlightened decisions that benefit children and their learning experiences. 3 credits

EDST 6409 Life in the Classroom
This course is designed to assist the teacher candidate in developing the skills, competencies and attitudes needed for teaching and to explore techniques for putting your passion to work in the classroom. We will explore the roles of a professional educator in today’s changing society and the public policy affecting teachers. We will look at learners and their diverse needs and how to address these needs in a heterogeneous classroom. We will examine the nature of teaching, overview of the elementary curriculum, strategies for working with diverse learners, planning for effective instruction, and applying instructional theory to practice. 3 credits

EDST 6411 Elementary Math & Science Methods: Technology & Materials
The purpose of this course is to address critical thinking, problem solving, and inquiry as they relate to the mathematics and science curriculum in elementary schools. Prospective teachers will become acquainted with classroom practice that focuses on both the National and NJ State Core Curriculum Standards. They will become conversant with the contemporary science and math curriculum that emphasizes the application of problem solving concepts and strategies using manipulatives and materials, exploring alternative mental processes, conducting research, collecting, reporting, and analyzing data, implementing a variety of inquiry methods, and utilizing a hands-on, minds-on interactive approach. Teaching for understanding of mathematical and scientific ideas is the goal as well as building classroom communities centered on sharing understandings, developing explanations, and scaffolding the acquisition of new concepts built on foundational knowledge. The focus will be on deep learning and utilizing strategies that teach children how to formulate written and oral explanations to illustrate concepts in multiple contexts. 3 credits

EDST 6412 Secondary Math & Science Methods: Technology & Materials
The purpose of this course is to address critical thinking, problem solving, and inquiry as they relate to the mathematics and science curriculum in secondary schools. Prospective teachers will become acquainted with classroom practice that focuses on both the National and NJ State Core Curriculum Standards. They will become conversant with the contemporary science and math curriculum that emphasizes the application of problem solving concepts and strategies using manipulatives and materials, exploring alternative mental processes, conducting research, collecting, reporting, and analyzing data, implementing a variety of inquiry methods, and utilizing a hands-on, minds-on interactive approach. Teaching for understanding of mathematical and scientific ideas is the goal as well as building classroom communities centered on sharing understandings, developing explanations, and scaffolding the acquisition of new concepts built on foundational knowledge. The focus will be on deep learning and utilizing strategies that teach students how to formulate written and oral explanations to illustrate concepts in multiple contexts. 3 credits

EDST 6417 Methods of Teaching Science/Math II
Addresses problem solving as it relates to mathematics and science curriculum in elementary schools. Students become acquainted with classroom practice that focuses on both the national and NJ State Core Curriculum Standards. Students become conversant with contemporary science and math curriculum that emphasizes the application of problem solving concepts and strategies using manipulatives, exploring alternative mental processes, conducting research, collecting and reporting data and utilizing a hands-on, minds-on interactive approach. Field experience required. 3 credits

EDST 6421 Child and Adolescent Development & Diversity
This course is designed as an introduction to child and adolescent development. We will explore the changes in physical, social, emotional, and cognitive development from birth through late adolescence. Unlike psychology courses with similar content, this course will have an added component: the translation of theory into practice for classroom teachers. Educational theorists such as Montessori and Dewey will be discussed alongside developmental psychologists like Piaget and Vygotsky as we explore how children develop and learn. 3 credits

EDST 6422 Classroom Curriculum, Planning & Organization
Classroom curriculum, planning, and organization in an initial course in curriculum, instruction, and classroom management. It is intended to introduce candidates to the profession of teaching and all that it entails. Candidates will develop knowledge and skills in curriculum and lesson planning. Emphasis will be on effective teaching strategies that are useful across the disciplines as well as their application to specific subject areas in accordance with NJ Core Curriculum Content Standards. In addition, candidates will develop skills in managing effective learning environments and supporting students through daily classroom routines. Using the knowledge and skills gained in this course, candidates will create their own classroom management plan based on their anticipated grade level/content area. Basic teaching strategies and technological applications designed for contemporary classrooms will be modeled throughout the course. 3 credits

EDST 6423 Elementary Literacy & Social Studies Methods: Technology and Materials
This course focuses on literacy and social studies methods. For literacy, the goal is to develop effective teachers of literacy who understand how children learn to read and write and use literacy to learn in content areas. For social studies the goal is to develop an understanding of the multi-discipline of the social studies and to explore and implement effective strategies for teaching in social studies. Graduate students will learn to integrate literacy and social studies effectively into the elementary education curriculum. 3 credits

EDST 6424 Secondary Literacy & Social Studies Methods: Technology and Materials
This course focuses on literacy and social studies methods. For literacy, the goal is to develop effective teachers of literacy who understand how students learn to read and write and use literacy to learn in content areas. For social studies the goals is to develop an understanding of the multi-discipline of the social studies and to explore and implement effective strategies for teaching in the social studies. Graduate students will learn to integrate literacy and social studies effectively into the secondary education curriculum. 3 credits

EDST 6425 Assessment of Student Learning
In an era of accountability, there exists a high demand for teachers who have a variety of tools in their repertoire to assess students and guide them to increased learning. In addition to the traditional forms of testing and ability to analyze test results, school districts are seeking professionals who are skilled in designing alternative opportunities for students to demonstrate their learning: performance-based tasks, portfolios, exhibitions, inquiry/group investigations, and projects. To help students show what they know through these diverse vehicles, teachers have a variety of instruments and processes to assess the work products of students: rating scales, rubrics, checklists, conferences, focus groups, interviews. Criteria for these assignments are explained in advance, so students understand how their pieces and demonstrations will be judged. Peers, outside judges, other teachers, and family can assist in reviewing student work. 3 credits

EDST 6426 Clinical Practice and Seminar
The Clinical Practice and Seminar supports post baccalaureate teacher candidates as they integrate and implement their knowledge of teaching and subject matter with the instruction of students in classrooms during their clinical practice internship. The seminar professor, the cooperating teacher and the university supervisor coordinate their efforts to support, instruct and guide the teacher candidate to demonstrate best practice in classrooms. The weekly seminar is a support system - an avenue for teaching, learning, sharing, reflecting, questioning, discussing and experimenting to inspire and promote personal and professional growth, satisfaction and achievement as candidates embark on a new career. Portfolio development linked to College, New Jersey INFASC, and NCATE Standards, preparation of a teacher work sample, career readiness, preparation for certification, reflection on practice and professional growth are the primary outcomes of this course. 3 credits

EDST 6440 Behavioral Disorders: Theory, Treatment and Classroom Management
The goal of this course is to introduce students to several different types of disabilities related to behaviors (e.g. emotional and behavioral disorders, attention deficit disorders, developmental disorders, as well as various conduct disorders). Various approaches will be discussed to positively and effectively deal with these challenging behaviors within a general education classroom. Creating environments that support learning and on-task behavior as well as interventions to deal with off-task behavior are studied. 3 credits

EDST 6441 Serving Diverse Learners I: Foundations, Special Education Laws & Impact on Schools & Families
Introduction to the profession of special education, the laws and legislation associated with the field, and the knowledge and skills to understand special education and become familiar with the Individualized Education Program (IEP). The course prepares candidates to understand the impact of a disability on the student, school, family, and examines family structure and functioning to foster understanding of the interconnection between home, school, and community. 3 credits

EDST 6442 Serving Diverse Learners II: Disabilities, Accommodations, Transitions & Community Resources
Building upon the foundational knowledge related to special education law and classifications in EDST 6441, five disability categories, Learning Disabled, Other Health Impaired (ADHD), Autism, Traumatic Brain Injury, mild/moderate Mental Retardation, and culturally and linguistically diverse students are examined. This prepares candidates to adapt their classrooms, teaching styles, and learning strategies to better serve diverse students. Woven throughout each module is the importance of integrating the services of community agencies to maximally assist students with disabilities and their families. 3 credits

EDST 6444 Autism Spectrum Disorders: Theory, Treatment, Practice
This course focuses on children with autism and examines the variety of exceptionalities and special needs of these children emphasizing the collaborative partnerships among educators, clinicians, parents and families. Neurobiological, psychological, educational, social, and emotional factors will be addressed. Specialized teaching strategies for successful inclusion. Opportunities to observe children with autism will be part of the course experience. 3 credits

EDST 6445 Creating an Environment for Diverse Learners: Curriculum, Strategies, Tools & Materials
Candidates are introduced to best practices for teaching students with exceptional, diverse and at-risk learning styles in inclusive classrooms for academic, functional, and transitional learning. The multicultural curriculum and instructional accommodations for linguistic diversity and second language acquisition are included. Candidates will write a Response to Intervention (RTI) Action Plan and Individual Education Plan (IEP) using the knowledge and skills acquired In EDST 6446-Assessment. The selection design, development, and modification of instructional strategies, tools and materials using both low tech and computer-based technologies for teaching diverse students will be used within the IEP. 3 credits

EDST 6446 Assessment for Special Education & Diverse Learners
The process of educational and psycho-educational assessment and its relationship to instructional planning for diverse students is explored. Candidates begin with assessment that directly relates to universal screening and progress monitoring in the general education classroom and progresses toward knowledge of special education (SpEd) measurements, which include intellectual, perceptual and achievement. SpEd eligibility is embedded in informal and formal measurements of assessment. Candidates prepare a Comprehensive Evaluation. Response to Intervention (RTI) action plan and an Individualized Education Program (IEP). 3 credits

EDST 6450 Inclusive Practices in Educational Settings
Candidates are introduced to the theory and practice of working with students with diverse backgrounds and needs in a single classroom: the inclusive classroom. It includes an exploration of past and current issues and directions in inclusive education. Strategies for teaching students with diverse needs, in the area of cognition, affective development and communicative style will be addressed. Specifically this course will examine these issues in relationship to (i) gender; (ii) race; (iii) culture; (iv) class; (v) disability; and (vi) language use. 3 credits
EDST 6460 Contemporary Assessment Practices
Theory and practice of educational testing, development of, and use of tests and other methods for assessment, analysis and interpretation of test results. Practice in major test construction in student’s area of concentration. Emphasis placed on alternate and authentic forms of assessment. 3 credits

EDST 6551 Advanced Strategies of Teaching
Teaching techniques for transmitting skills, knowledge and understanding to students: lecture; discussion; heuristic approaches; educational trips; group projects; programmed, individualized, mediated, computer-assisted instruction. Motivation, guidance and classroom management. Evaluation of student programs. 3 credits

EDST 6555 English Language Arts
Adopts an integrated skills approach to teaching English; presents techniques for teaching various forms of composition; stresses the importance of process writing; develops strategies for teaching literature and applying reader response theory; focuses on computer applications; introduces portfolio and authentic assessment. 3 credits

EDST 6557 Secondary Science Methods
Examines interrelationships among the sciences, analyzes real world problems in each science field. Classes model essential strategies and practices while students actively engage building knowledge and skills necessary for teaching and learning secondary science, using state and national standards. 3 credits

EDST 6558 Secondary Mathematics Methods
Examines current curricular trends and practices in the teaching of secondary mathematics using state and national standards. 3 credits

EDST 6561 World Languages
Presents students with a current picture of modern language teaching and its place in society. Students learn a number of approaches to communicative language instruction and create lessons using these methods. Students practice presenting their lessons and learn to become reflective practitioners of their craft. 3 credits

EDST 7001 Seminar: Education Research Methods
Review and critical evaluation of selected writings and research in education. Written appraisals concern research design, fundamental concepts, recent data and significant educational issues. (Formerly RESH 7001). Prerequisite: EDST 6002. 3 credits

EDST 7204 The Gifted Child
Examination of the criteria which identify gifted children. Materials, methods and programs for stimulating these pupils to satisfactory achievement, occasionally offered in special content areas such as reading, mathematics and science. 3 credits

EDST 7310 Ethical Issues in School and Society
Justice and the universal natural law as related to every aspect of education. Discussions focus on the most significant and fundamental moral issues in education today. 3 credits

EDST 7312 Current Issues in School and Society
This course examines the background and current status of proposals that address a variety of educational controversies. Past and present cycles of reform are considered generally, with specific attention given to issues such as governmental roles in education; financial reform; school choice; multicultural education; teacher education; teacher empowerment; race, class, and gender issues in education; education and work; and the relationship of children’s health and learning. 3 credits

EDST 7313 Catholic Education: Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow
A history of the development of Catholic educational institutions and the values and circumstances that promoted their existence. The culture and norms of Catholic schooling are examined, as are the social and religious issues that impact their well-being. 3 credits

EDST 7314 Fostering Moral Development in the Classroom
Examines and evaluates theories and approaches to fostering the moral development of children and young adults. Factors such as school climate, curriculum and instructional methods are analyzed as variables that can promote or inhibit moral development. 3 credits

EDST 7345 Online Course Management and Delivery
Learn to design and build online course instruction for delivery via the Internet. Develop the tools to provide online instruction including creating an online environment, learning research techniques, examining plagiarism and copyright issues, and planning overall online course management. 3 credits

EDST 7348 Online Course Design and Implementation
Design and develop a complete plan for building an online course for Internet delivery. Learn to create course modules, use facilitation and moderating techniques, design assessment, and develop a student centered online environment that encourages positive learning outcomes. 3 credits

EDST 7349 Internship in Information Technologies I
A field-based opportunity to gain professional experience in a work situation appropriate to career goals. Development of critical thinking and leadership skills while performing authentic tasks. 3 credits

EDST 7350 Internship in Information Technologies II
Students may take a second semester of a field-based opportunity to gain professional experience in a work situation appropriate to career goals. Development of critical thinking and leadership skills while performing authentic tasks. 3 credits
EDST 7447 Autism Spectrum Disorders: Assessment and Intervention
This course examines assessment tools and strategies for use with individuals on the Autism Spectrum. Candidates will explore formal and informal assessment procedures used with children and young adults who manifest learning characteristics of students with Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), including Pervasive Development Disorder-Not Otherwise Specified (PDD-NOS), Autism and Asperger’s Syndrome. Emphasis is placed on assessment procedures, including formal, informal and environmental practices, which is a component of curricular decision-making. Candidates will become familiar with the types of assessment, such as screening, diagnosis, and identification of skills within the developmental domain, sensory, play, socialization, behavior and communication. Practical strategies detailing what to teach based on assessment results and an overview of curricula approaches and materials will be taught. The course will further examine both general education and alternative curricula to assist teachers in planning appropriate formal and informal assessment strategies. 3 credits

EDST 7448 Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) for Teachers
This course will present the candidate with an introduction to the basic principles of Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA), learning theory, and the fundamental principles of behavior. The course will also provide an introduction to the process of measuring and recording behavior. The application of behavior analytic principles will be illustrated through readings and projects regarding the treatment of individuals with autism and their behavioral needs. 3 credits

EDST 7449 Autism: Behavior Therapy and Classroom Management
This course will explore the principles of Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) and their use in the special education classroom. Areas of focus will include behavioral observation and assessment, data collection and analysis, and behavioral intervention using principles of ABA. Specific reinforcement strategies will be discussed. The course will assist special education teachers to more effectively manage behavior, teach children with behavioral challenges, and manage their classrooms. Ethical concerns in relation to behavior change will be addressed throughout the course. 3 credits

EDST 7450 Single-Case Design
This course presents an overview of single-case design and applied research design by exploring their characteristics, strengths, and limitations. General procedures in single-case research, single-case experimental designs, and their methodologies will be analyzed. This course will also provide an overview of behavior measurement and assessment, recording, graphing, and the visual analysis of the data investigated while demonstrating experimental controls and intervention effects. Ethics relevant to single-case design research will be applied. 3 credits

EDST 7451 Seminar: Research Methods in Special Education
Review and critically evaluate selected writings and research in special education. Research design, developing a problem and hypothesis, reviewing literature, collecting data, and making recommendations on significant special education issues will be addressed. A fully documented research paper worthy of publication is required in a specialized area of Special Education. 3 credits

EDST 7452 Introduction to Transition Education and Services for Students with Disabilities Part 1
This course reviews the major historical programs for educating and preparing students with disabilities. It further discusses the movements, concepts and initiatives that have affected education and transition services. Transition junctures from early childhood to middle school will be investigated. Topics covered include education and transition services in perspective, legislative foundations, students and families as key participants, assessment for transition education and services, transition in early childhood through middle school and instructional strategies for transition. 3 credits

EDST 7453 Introduction to Transition Education and Services for Students with Disabilities Part 2
This course reviews the major historical programs for educating and preparing students with disabilities. It further discusses the movements, concepts and initiatives that have affected education and transition services. Transition junctures from high school to employment to living in the community will be investigated. Topics covered include transition to employment, job placement, training and supervision, transition to postsecondary education, transition to living in the community, school-based and community-based resources and transition services in the IEP. 3 credits

EDST 7501 Human and Intercultural Relations
Race, gender and ethnic relations in the historical perspective of the foundation of the United States as a nation. A critical review of theories of assimilation and the goals of a post-melting pot society for a new social order. 3 credits

EDST 7502 General Linguistics
Introduction to language and the analysis of some of the basic technical concepts of linguistics. Representative theories of grammar, the nature of grammatical rules, and the process of language standardization and the process of non-standardized varieties. 3 credits

EDST 7505 Social Psychology of the Bilingual Child
The social psychology of bilingualism and bilingual behavior. Effects of bilingualism on intelligence and cognitive development. The effects of bilingual development and intelligence. The correlation between culture and styles of processing information, with attention to the differentiation of cognitive styles. Alternative learning and cognitive styles in the classroom. Cross-cultural counseling and its impact on strategies for helping the culturally different child. Language attitudes and their impact on academic achievement and intergroup relations. Acculturation stress and the impact on mental health of linguistic minorities. 3 credits

EDST 7506 Principles of Bilingual/Bicultural Education
The history of bilingualism in the United States. State and federal legislation; court decisions. Vernacular languages in education at the national and international levels. Types of bilingual communities. Models of bilingual instruction. Bilingual education methodology and educational rights of linguistic minorities. Instructional effectiveness of bilingual education programs. Cognitive and socio-cultural effects of becoming bilingual. Evaluation of bilingual education programs and educational policy. 3 credits

EDST 7507 Bilingual/Bicultural Education: Theory and Practice Teaching Content Areas
Strategies in teaching the content-area subjects bilingually. Student placement and language proficiency; criteria of entry and exit. Lesson planning for the limited English proficient (LEP) student. Curriculum development and adaptation of materials for bilingual instruction in the content areas. Curriculum modules and planning. Career infusion of the bilingual curriculum. Ethnic infusion of bilingual curriculum. Testing in the bilingual content areas. Teacher competencies and training in the content areas. 3 credits

EDST 7510 Secondary Education Curriculum Design and Implementation
Historical and philosophical foundations of Secondary Education curriculum design, the social forces affecting curriculum decisions and the process of curriculum improvement. The process of curriculum improvement, the different participants involved and the impact of curriculum improvement on staff development and student learning. Strategies used in curriculum development are studied as well as the evaluation of outcomes. 3 credits

EDST 8214 Group Dynamics
This course provides an in-depth cognitive understanding of dynamics of the processes operating in groups as well as an analysis of leadership in different types of groups. Strategies for effective group processes in instructional, workplace and global settings today are presented so that productive and positive outcomes are enhanced. 3 credits

EDST 8511 Field Experience in Bilingual/Bicultural Education
Cross-cultural experiences through the bilingual classroom setting. Involvement in learning bilingual teaching strategies and classroom management procedures; specific emphasis on teaching content area subjects bilingually. Introduction to the educational applications of ethnographic interviews. Ethnographic report submitted at the end of the course. 3 credits

EDST 9301 The History of Education in America
Study of the reciprocal relationship between educational theory and practice and the historical development of American society; special emphasis given to analysis of competing educational perspectives, goals and accomplishments of educational reforms, origin of teaching practices and evolution of educational institutions. 3 credits

EDST 9306 Culminating Research Seminar/Project
Complete research or a project under the guidance of a University mentor and faculty committee. Completed projects shared for exchange of ideas and information with other degree candidates before final acceptance by the department. Prerequisite: completion of all program requirements. 3 credits

EDST 9502 Research Seminar
An introduction to ethnographic research methodology. Students investigate how the cultural relations of community work. Case studies are analyzed throughout the course based upon intensive ethnographic interviews of selected informants. Analysis of the various steps of ethnographic research include data gathering, analysis of ethnographic data and interpretation. 3 credits

EDST 9503 Curriculum and Readings in the Selected Field of Study
Nature of curriculum and the need for curricular synthesis; focus on materials, methods, research and current developments relating to the specialized fields; investigation of curriculum construction and evaluation in the specialized field. 3 credits

EDST 9504 Problems and Issues in Secondary and Post-Secondary Teaching
Study of pertinent problems of educators. Seminar work relevant to student’s selected area of investigation. 3 credits

EDST 9505 Sociolinguistics and Bicultural Education
Social aspects of speech, problems of variation in language, dialects, bilingualism and diglossia, code-switching, pidginization, creolization and other fundamental sociolinguistic concepts. Some problems of language policy, language planning and sociolinguistic issues of bilingual education. 3 credits

EDST 9506 Psycholinguistics and Bilingualism
Topics in linguistics and psychology relevant to first and second language acquisition, including reading and writing skills. The interrelationship among language, culture, thought and comprehension. Bilingual and bicognitive development both in children and adults. Prerequisites: (1) Two linguistics courses, including applied linguistics; and (2) TESL II or Foundations of Bilingual Education or a course in cognitive psychology. 3 credits

EDST 9511 Culminating Research Project
A continuation of EDST 9502 using an expanded research design. The course is intended for students pursuing the Ed.S. Degree. 3 credits

The School of Health and Medical Sciences offers two distinct educational programs for healthcare professionals: medical residency and fellowship training for physicians, dentists and pharmacists; and graduate programs in health sciences. By design, the programs are intended to prepare healthcare practitioners to competently, creatively and critically function in a dynamic healthcare environment.

Note: A Master of Science in Jurisprudence in Health Law is offered through Seton Hall University School of Law. For more information about the program, please see the Law School section of this catalogue.

General Information

The school of Health and Medical Sciences, established in 1987, is a professional school within the University structure. The School’s mission is to prepare healthcare professionals to assume leadership roles in the healthcare arena. To achieve this goal, a variety of unique and innovative educational programs are offered utilizing a multi-institutional/integrated approach to graduate education. The School comprises three distinct educational programs: residency and fellowship training, continuing professional development and graduate programs in health sciences.

Residency programs offer training for physicians in specialty areas such as internal medicine, surgery, neurology, orthopedics, podiatry, AOA internship, internal medicine and emergency medicine. There also is subspecialty training available for qualified candidates who have completed the appropriate prerequisite training. All residency and fellowship programs are ACGME, AOA, APMA accredited. Residency training is also available in pharmacy. The training occurs at participating institutions: Saint Michael’s Medical Center in Newark; St. Joseph’s Regional Medical Center in Paterson; Trinitas Hospital in Elizabeth; St. Francis Medical Center in Trenton and John F. Kennedy Medical Center in Edison. The hospitals and the University jointly attest to the successful completion of the residency training through issuance of a certificate.

The School offers several innovative graduate programs in the health sciences that prepare healthcare professionals for leadership roles in clinical practice, healthcare management, education and research. These programs are designed to provide healthcare professionals with an enhanced knowledge base through a flexible and diverse curriculum. The school offers a Doctor of Philosophy degree in Health Sciences with specializations in health professions leadership, movement science, and speech-language pathology. The school offers a Master of Science in Physician Assistant program prepares post-baccalaureate students to perform as certified physician assistants in the broad healthcare arena.

The Master of Science in Physician Assistant program prepares post-baccalaureate students to perform as certified physician assistants in the broad healthcare arena.

The School offers a Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology. The program prepares practitioners with the broad-based knowledge and skills to work with the infant-toddler, preschool, school-age, adolescent, adult, and geriatric populations in all settings that employ speech-language pathologists.

The School offers the only Master of Science in Athletic Training in New Jersey, and is one of less than two dozen entry-level master’s programs in the country. The program prepares students to practice as entry-level athletic training practitioners who provide a wide range of patient care services.

The School offers a Doctor of Physical Therapy program. The program is intended to prepare individuals to become professional doctors of physical therapy, who are competent and autonomous practitioners, possessing a depth and breadth of knowledge to support the best practice of physical therapy.

Center for Interprofessional Education in Health Sciences
Genevieve Pinto Zipp, PT, EdD, Director

The Center for Interprofessional Education in Health Sciences (CIEHS) is the result of the School of Health and Medical Sciences’ (SHSM) faculty-led Task Force on Interprofessional Education’s (IPE) strategic planning efforts to create meaningful and cross-disciplinary educational and research experiences for students, faculty and clinical partners in order to further develop SHMS’ patient-centered care mission. Innovative research, productive scholarship and the creation of several “Core Signature IPE Experiences” provide a solid foundation for continuous growth, ground-breaking developments and, ultimately, synergetic collaboration. A cornerstone of the CIEHS is interprofessional involvement from across and beyond the Seton Hall community.

Institute for Advanced Study of Rehabilitation and Sports Science
Michael LaFountaine, EdD, ATC, Director

The Institute for Advanced Study of Rehabilitation and Sports Science (IASRSS) provides an interdisciplinary forum for the conduct of clinical research on injuries that result from individuals’ participation in recreational exercise or competitive sports, as well as research on the physiological and biomechanical elucidation of novel or minimally explored topics in sports medicine, exercise and movement science or physical rehabilitation. A hallmark of IASRSS is its fostering of interprofessional dialogue on contemporary issues in sports, exercise and physical rehabilitation through hosted journal clubs, continuing education seminars and outreach within and beyond the Seton Hall community. The IASRSS Scientific Advisory Board, comprised of volunteer leaders, will present opportunities for faculty and clinical staff to become more involved in the Institute’s worthwhile pursuits.
Class Attendance and Academic Integrity

Attendance at each class meeting is expected. Instructors may take class attendance into account when determining grades.

All forms of dishonesty, whether by act or omission, including, but not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, and knowingly furnishing false information to the University, are prohibited. Intentional disruption or obstruction of teaching, research or administrative proceedings is prohibited. University sanctions may extend to suspension and dismissal.

Work submitted in courses must be the product of the efforts of the student presenting it, and contributions of others to the finished work must be appropriately acknowledged. The presentation of another’s work as one’s own is a serious violation of the academic process, and it is penalized accordingly. The decision on the appropriate penalty is in the first instance the professor’s, and it may extend to a failing grade for the course.

Admission Criteria

Admission to the School of Health and Medical Sciences is competitive. Admission decisions are holistic and based on multiple indicators of likely student success; it will not be possible to admit every student who meets minimum qualifications for any one criterion. Program needs and capacities are also factors in the admission decisions.

Repetition of Courses

Students who have completed SHMS courses and received a grade of C or better are not permitted to repeat such courses. However, any student receiving a grade of less than “C” (including a grade of “U” when applicable) shall be required to repeat the course the next time the course is offered and earn a grade of “B” or better (or “S”, when applicable), in the repeated course and maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or better. As a result of a course failure, the student shall be placed on academic probation. A student will have only one opportunity to repeat a failed course. Failure to successfully retake and/or pass a failed course shall result in a recommendation of dismissal from the program.

For further information see the SHMS Academic Performance Standards Policy and Student Performance Review Committee (SPRC) Procedures document.

Ph.D. in Health Sciences

The Department of Interprofessional Health Sciences and Health Administration offers the Doctor of Philosophy in Health Sciences (Ph.D. in H.S.) degree. The Ph.D. in Health Sciences is distinguished by its interdisciplinary and intradisciplinary approach to graduate study. The fundamental design of the program is a model of post-professional education that is broadly based with a core curriculum in health sciences and varied specialization tracks, which permit healthcare professionals to assume leadership roles as advanced practitioners, researchers, managers or health professions educators. The program is designed for health professionals interested in pursuing advanced education at the doctoral level.

A core group of courses provide the basis for an understanding of the healthcare delivery system and an understanding of the role and importance of communication skills within organizations. Additional courses in research methods and scientific writing, taken by students in all tracks, promote the development of critical thinking necessary to achieve career goals. Students select specialized courses designated for each track, which provide them with the opportunity to design an individualized plan of study that meets their needs and interest. The coursework is enhanced through participation in seminars, practica, research projects, independent studies and research forums.

The three tracks in the Doctor of Philosophy program are health professions leadership, movement science, and speech-language pathology. The program is committed to the enhancement of leadership and clinical practice applications by assisting students in the development of basic research skills; the investigation of research questions in the clinical, healthcare services or health professions education environment; and the acquisition and distribution of new information to society. Flexible scheduling allows for full-time and part-time studies.

Specialization in Health Professions Leadership

The health professions leadership specialization track is designed to provide doctoral education for those healthcare professionals seeking leadership roles in a variety of healthcare settings, as well as teaching and research careers. The leadership track prepares these individuals to design and evaluate methodologies for the delivery of high-quality, cost-effective and integrated healthcare services and health professions education programs. The specialization also prepares students to apply the theories and functions of healthcare management, strategic planning, finance, budgeting and marketing in the design and delivery of healthcare services and health professions education programs; influence healthcare policies and regulations that affect the delivery of healthcare and the education of health professionals; and utilize tools for managing healthcare and educational information.

Specialization in Movement Science

A trend toward the multidisciplinary study of human movement and motor control has resulted in a restructure and redesign of traditional theories of movement. This has contributed to the need for rehabilitation professionals who read and apply new knowledge and findings for clinical or educational practice, and for educators to alter what is taught at the entry-level of practice. Students specializing in a concentration in movement science develop a coherent view of theory, clinical practice and research in motor learning and control. Study is directed at both normal and dysfunctional movement.
The goal of the specialization is to prepare students for research and teaching careers. This goal is met by the comprehensive educational program, which is complemented by a mentoring model of graduate education emphasizing research under the direction of experienced faculty.

Specialization in Speech-Language Pathology

The specialization track in speech-language pathology offers a flexible program of advanced study tailored to address the individual needs of doctoral students with a primary interest that can range from basic research in speech, voice or language science to applied research and/or clinical applications related to speech and language disorders. Doctoral-level courses are offered in the various areas of communication science and disorders, as well as in a large number of related disciplines. This coursework can be combined with independent study in order to design a program of study that provides an even closer match for the individual’s interests and professional goals. Supervised research and teaching experiences further supplement this comprehensive and rigorous training program which culminates in the completion of the doctoral dissertation.

Program Goals, Objectives and Outcomes Goals

The overall goal of the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) program leading to the Doctor of Philosophy in Health Sciences is to prepare healthcare providers, managers, academics and health science researchers to assume leadership roles in professional leadership, research, teaching and practice within the changing healthcare system. To achieve this goal a flexible and diverse curriculum has been designed to develop individuals who:

- exhibit advanced communication, educational and research skills to serve as active contributors to the healthcare system;
- consider ethical values and principles fundamental to the provision and receipt of healthcare services and research;
- use pedagogical and organizational skills necessary to deliver health care in an efficient and effective manner;
- critically appraise health science literature and apply the appropriate principles and procedures to the recognition, evaluation, interpretation and understanding of current issues;
- apply the principles of scientific inquiry to investigate problems at the frontiers of knowledge; and
- demonstrate knowledge and sensitivity of culturally diverse populations and their attitudes toward health and illness.

Objectives

On completion of the Doctor of Philosophy program, graduates should be able to:

- demonstrate proficiency in a chosen area of specialization;
- demonstrate the integration of research methods for scholarly outcomes;
- synthesize concepts, models and theories through the appropriate application of theoretical and empirical knowledge in a chosen area of specialization;
- integrate professional and ethical values and behaviors in research activities;
- engage in analytical research that fosters change in the delivery of health care;
- advance the scientific base within healthcare;
- assume responsibility for learning and professional growth.

Outcomes

Upon completion of the Doctor of Philosophy program, graduates will:

- demonstrate oral and written competency in both scholarly and technical formats;
- conduct and defend original research to generate knowledge in their field;
- design and evaluate methodologies for the delivery of high-quality, cost-effective and integrated health care, research endeavors and health professions education programs; and
- demonstrate knowledge of scientific advances in their field of practice.

Criteria for Admission

The following are prerequisites for admission to the program leading to the Doctor of Philosophy in Health Sciences:

- graduate of an accredited college with a master’s degree. For the movement science and speech specializations, proof of eligibility for licensure to practice in New Jersey is also required;
- two letters of recommendation indicating that the applicant possesses the aptitude and ambition to complete a course of doctoral study. Preferably, letters should be from current or previous employers and/or from last school attended;
- statement of goals and research career interests;
- personal interview: this may be accomplished via a telephone conference;
- completion of an application for admission along with official transcripts from all undergraduate or graduate study. Applicants with international degrees must have their academic records evaluated by a member agency of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES);
- minimum GPA of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale on all graduate work;
- curriculum vitae; and
- if English is not the native language, a student must submit a Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) Score Report documenting a paper-based score of 550 or above, a computer-based score of 213 or above, or an Internet-based score of 79 or above. Exception to this requirement may be granted if the applicant is a U.S. resident and a graduate of a U.S. college within the previous two years.
- GRE test score within five years of application is preferred.
For program admittance consideration, a completed application should be received by:
November 1 - Spring Semester
April 1 - Summer/Fall Semesters

Curriculum Requirements
This program of study requires a minimum of 57 credits. For students who hold a clinical doctorate, the minimum number of credits is 48. The educational program plan is developed by the student in consultation with and approval by an academic adviser who is assigned to the student upon admission to the program. This adviser serves as the student’s academic adviser while the student is pursuing course work and participates in selection of the dissertation committee. All students who require a minimum of 57 credits complete 12 credits of core courses; 18 credits of specialization courses; 15 credits of research courses; and 12 credits of dissertation. Specific specialization courses are selected by the student in consultation with the academic adviser to ensure a flexible and creative process of continuing personal and professional development. Substitutions for courses identified as “required” and curriculum adjustments for students holding a clinical doctorate must have the approval of not only the academic advisor but also the Department Chair.

Core (12 credits)
The goal of this portion of the program is to provide the basis for an understanding of the healthcare delivery system, scientific inquiry process, the philosophical basis for research and an understanding of the importance of professional communication skills (both oral and written) within an organizational structure.

Research (15 credits)
The goal of this portion of the program is to provide the student with a broad and comprehensive understanding of statistics, qualitative and quantitative research methods and designs, and the methods for communicating those findings to others.

Dissertation Process (12 credits)
Students conduct and defend an original research investigation for the purpose of advancing the body of knowledge in their own field.

Specialization (18 credits)
For this area of study, students with their advisors select specialized coursework designed to provide the student with the content knowledge needed to pursue their area of research interest and achieve their professional goals.

Ph.D.

Core Courses (12 credits - Required)
GMHS 6110  Health Services Issues and Trends
GMHS 7403  Philosophy of Science
GMHS 7503  Scientific Inquiry/Writing
GMHS 6409  Styles of Teaching and Learning in Health Professions Education

Research (15 credits)
GMHS 7500  Intermediate Statistical Methods (required)
GMHS 7501  Research Methods (required)
GMHS 7502  Research Project I (required)
GMHS 7508  Intermediate Statistical Methods II (required; prerequisite GMHS 7500)
GMHS 7602  Research Project II (required)
RGCN 8000  Research Advisement

Dissertation Process (12 credits)
GMHS 9504  Dissertation I (prerequisite: student must have attained doctoral candidacy)
GMHS 9505  Dissertation II (prerequisite: GMHS 9504)
GMHS 9506  Dissertation Advisement (prerequisite: GMHS 9505)

Specialization (18 credits)
Select one of the three specialization tracks:

Health Professions Leadership
GMHS 6210  Curriculum Development in Health Professions Education
GMHS 6211  Institutional Culture and Human Relationships
GMHS 6212  Finance in Health Care
GMHS 6230  Leadership Theory and Practice
GMHS 6240  Management and Leadership in Health Professions
GMHS 6301-3  Topical Seminar
GMHS 6307  Integrating Technology and Education in Health Professions
GMHS 7110  Strategic Planning for Healthcare Professions Education
GMHS 7204  Health Perspectives Topical Seminar
GMHS 7316-18  Independent Study in Health Sciences
GMHS 7603  Biomedical Ethics and Legal Issues in Healthcare
GMHS 8400  Government Regulation/Scientific Inquiry and Grantsmanship
GMHS 8508  Practicum

Movement Sciences
GMHS 6301-3  Topical Seminar
GMHS 7202  Issues in Motor Control: Reaching and Manipulation
GMHS 7203  Issues in Motor Control: Gait
Qualifying Examination
All Ph.D. students are required to pass a qualifying examination which assesses the student’s understanding of research methodologies. Students are eligible to sit for the exam once they have completed the following research requirements for the program: GMHS 7500, GMHS 7501, GMHS 7502, GMHS 7508. (Note: For students admitted prior to academic year 2009-2010, only GMHS 7500 and 7501 are required.) The examination is a written pass/fail examination given on the Seton Hall University campus in January and September. Students must pass the qualifying exam in order to proceed with the program. If a “pass” is not achieved on the first exam, a student has up to two additional opportunities to re-take the exam in order to achieve a “pass” and remain in the program.

Candidacy Examination
All Ph.D. students are required to pass a candidacy examination. Once students pass the candidacy examination, they are considered doctoral candidates and are eligible to begin the dissertation process. The examination is a written examination given on the Seton Hall University campus in January and September.

Students may apply to prepare to take the candidacy exam when they have completed 39 credits of coursework, including completing the required core courses and research courses. (Note: Students who have a clinical doctorate may apply to prepare to take the candidacy exam when they have completed 27 credits of coursework. If a “pass” is not achieved on the first candidacy exam, a student has up to two opportunities to remediate (e.g., re-take part or all of the exam, take additional coursework, etc.) in order to achieve a “pass” and remain in the program.

Students must complete a Candidacy Examination Application, and the application must be signed by the faculty adviser. The application may be obtained from the student’s adviser or from the program’s office or student manual.

Dissertation Guidelines
With input from the academic adviser, students must select a dissertation committee chair prior to initiating the dissertation proposal process. This occurs following successful completion of the candidacy examination. The chair shall hold an earned Doctorate and a faculty appointment (excluding adjunct positions) in the Department of Interprofessional Health Sciences and Health Administration. The chair will act as the student’s primary research adviser and advocate throughout the dissertation process.

Proposal Hearing and Dissertation Courses
Dissertation I culminates when the candidate orally defends the proposal. Candidates must receive written approval of the proposal from the dissertation committee and the appropriate Institutional Review Board before further progress on the research is allowed. Candidates register for Dissertation II and undertake the research investigation outlined in the proposal following receipt of IRB approval for the dissertation study. It is expected that candidates will register for Dissertation Advisement following completion of data collection and completion of the first draft of the Discussion section. Candidates will continue to register for Dissertation Advisement until the dissertation document has been fully approved and accepted by the Dissertation Committee and the document has been defended in the oral dissertation defense. Students must complete a minimum of 12 credits of dissertation.

Dissertation Defense
The candidate must submit to all committee members a “near” complete (i.e., minimal changes expected post-defense) dissertation manuscript a minimum of four weeks prior to the scheduled oral defense of the dissertation. Students must submit the application for Dissertation defense three weeks prior to the scheduled defense date. Public notification of the author, title, date and location of the defense will be made to the Office of the Provost, SHMS faculty, students and the University community two weeks prior to the event. A dissertation will not be considered approved and accepted until all members of the dissertation committee sign the manuscript’s signature page. A dissertation may be signed only when no revision or only minor revisions are required. Candidates must adhere to all dissertation guidelines as specified by the program and the university.
Master of Healthcare Administration (M.H.A.)

Faculty: Anne M. Hewitt, PhD, Program Director

The Department of Interprofessional Health Sciences and Health Administration offers the Master of Healthcare Administration (M.H.A.) and a graduate Certificate in Healthcare Administration. The M.H.A. degree requires 42 credits, while the certificate program requires 15 credits. Students who complete the certificate program with a 3.0 GPA or higher can apply all earned credits toward the M.H.A. degree if they wish to continue their education.

Courses are offered in the late afternoons and evenings, and online to accommodate the schedules of working professionals.

The M.H.A. program is a member of the Association of University Programs in Healthcare Administration, a national association of university-based educational programs, faculty practitioners, and provider organizations whose members are dedicated to continuously improving the field of health management and practice. The program is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Health Management Education (CAHME).

Healthcare Administration

Today’s fast changing healthcare system has a critical need for managers with advanced managerial competencies and leadership skills. Seton Hall University’s Master of Healthcare Administration (M.H.A.) and the Certificate in Healthcare Administration programs prepare managers for leadership roles within the healthcare industry.

Housed in the Department of Interprofessional Health Sciences and Health Administration in the School of Health and Medical Sciences, the M.H.A. degree and the Certificate in Healthcare Administration are designed around the student’s professional interests and career challenges. Providing a rigorous and thorough understanding of the healthcare environment, the programs address “real world” strategies and skills that will help managers make significant contributions to their organizations. Designed for professionals who wish to advance in their management career or individuals interested in pursuing a healthcare management position, it draws students from a broad array of health service organizations such as healthcare systems, hospitals, assisted living facilities, medical group practices, managed care organizations, home care agencies, pharmaceutical companies, management consulting firms and industries that supply services to healthcare organizations.

The 42-credit M.H.A. program may be completed in a 24-month period. The curriculum consists of courses designed to develop core competencies vital to the success of the contemporary healthcare manager. These courses address topics such as strategic leadership, emergency management, financial management, healthcare ethics, policy and economics. The Certificate in Healthcare Administration consists of three required courses and two electives for a minimum of 15 credits. This graduate certificate is designed for individuals who (1) want to explore a career in healthcare management (2) possess a graduate degree and need to develop specific management skills, or (3) want to take some graduate courses without applying for the M.H.A. degree program. Students who complete the Certificate in Healthcare Administration with a minimum 3.0 GPA or higher can apply all earned credits toward the MHA degree.

M.H.A. On-campus and Online Formats

The Master of Healthcare Administration (M.H.A.) program is a 42 credit curriculum that is offered in two delivery formats: on-campus courses or online courses.

Students are admitted to either the on-campus format or the online format and complete their degree requirements according to their selected format.

M.H.A. On-campus

Students enrolled in the 42 credit M.H.A. on-campus format take courses during the late afternoon and early evening hours. The on-campus M.H.A. program may be completed in a 2-year timeframe or with the approval of the student’s Advisor, the time-to-complete the degree may be extended. This latter option allows students to maintain their employment while they pursue the M.H.A. degree. All M.H.A. courses are offered each academic year to accommodate student scheduling needs. Students selecting the M.H.A. on-campus format do not attend M.H.A. online courses.

M.H.A. Online

Students selecting the 42 credit M.H.A. online format complete all of their coursework online or at one of the three mandatory on-campus residencies. Online M.H.A. students complete the degree in a 24 month timeframe. Mandatory residencies are held at the beginning of the program (orientation), at one year into the program,(mid-residency), and at the completion of the program (final residency & graduation). The M.H.A. online format is a cohort model and students selecting this format do not attend M.H.A. on-campus courses.

Program of Study

The Master of Healthcare Administration program is a 42-credit curriculum with courses designed to develop core competencies vital to the success of the contemporary healthcare manager. The curriculum provides a synthesis of general management concepts and healthcare specific applications emphasizing analytic and management decision-making skills. Regardless of whether a student selects the on-campus or the online learning option, the curriculum is the same.

The 42 credits required for the degree are designed to be taken in a proscribed sequence and prerequisites are included in the catalogue course descriptions. The degree requirements below are listed in numerical order.
Degree Requirements

HCAD 6002  Research Methods and Statistical Analysis for Healthcare
HCAD 6005  Financial and Managerial Accounting and Costing in Healthcare
HCAD 7513  Healthcare Management
HCAD 7514  Healthcare Financial Management
HCAD 7518  Managing Community and Population Health Systems
HCAD 7521  21st Century Healthcare System (2 credits)
HCAD 7522  Healthcare Policy (2 credits)
HCAD 8514  Healthcare Economics
HCAD 8517  Strategic Planning and Marketing in Healthcare Organizations
HCAD 8518  Legal Aspects of Healthcare Organizations
HCAD 8521  Quality and Information Management Systems
HCAD 8523  Ethics in Healthcare Administration (2 credits)
HCAD 8531  Emergency Management and Health Security
HCAD 8711  Leadership Institute

Applied Research and Practice Capstone Experience
HCAD 7991-7993, 7997 (3 credits)

Students must complete a 3-credit Applied Research and Practice (Capstone) experience toward the end of their course of study. The requirements depend on the student’s managerial experience. The three options are an internship/field placement (HCAD7991), a practicum (HCAD 7992), or the research seminar (HCAD 7993). Online students have an additional option of completing a Capstone Paper (HCAD 7997)

Criteria for Admission to the M.H.A. Program

The following are prerequisites for admission to the program leading to the Master of Healthcare Administration degree (M.H.A.):

- graduate of an accredited college with a bachelor’s degree.
- three letters of recommendation indicating that the applicant possesses the aptitude and ambition to complete a course of study for the M.H.A. degree. Preferably, letters should be from current or previous employers and/or from last school attended;
- statement of goals and career interests;
- completion of an application for admission along with official transcripts from all undergraduate courses and, if applicable, graduate courses. Applicants with international degrees must have their academic records evaluated by a member agency of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES);
- minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale in the coursework of the most recently conferred undergraduate or graduate degree (note: applicants with a cumulative GPA of 2.8-2.99 who have a minimum of 2 years post-degree healthcare experience are also encouraged to apply)
- curriculum vitae or resume; and
- If English is not the native language, a student must submit a Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) Score Report documenting a paper-based score of 550 or above, a computer-based score of 213 or above, or an Internet-based score of 79 or above. Exception to this requirement may be granted if the applicant is a U.S. resident and a graduate of a U.S. college within the previous two years.

Application Deadlines

Applicants may apply online at the Seton Hall University website: www.shu.edu Applications are processed on a “rolling admission” basis with deadlines for the on campus format of August 1 for the fall term and December 1 for the spring term and for the online format of 1 month before the scheduled orientation residence.

Graduate Certificate in Healthcare Administration

The Department of Interprofessional Health Sciences and Health Administration also offers the Certificate in Healthcare Administration.

Admissions Requirements for Graduate Certificate in Healthcare Administration

Applicants for the Certificate in Healthcare Administration must meet the same admission requirements as applicants for the M.H.A. degree:

- graduate of an accredited college with a bachelor’s degree.
- statement of goals and career interests;
- completion of an application for admission along with official transcripts from all undergraduate courses and, if applicable, graduate courses. Applicants with international degrees must have their academic records evaluated by a member agency of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES):
- minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale in the coursework of the most recently conferred undergraduate or graduate degree (note: applicants with a cumulative GPA of 2.8-2.99 who have a minimum of 2 years post-degree healthcare management experience are also encouraged to apply)
- curriculum vitae or resume; and
- If English is not the native language, a student must submit a Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) Score Report documenting a paper-based score of 550 or above, a computer-based score of 213 or above, or an Internet-based score of 79 or above.
Exception to this requirement may be granted if the applicant is a U.S. resident and a graduate of a U.S. college within the previous two years.

Applicants for the Certificate in Healthcare Administration may be asked to complete a personal interview, either in person or via telephone.

Application Deadlines

Applicants for the Certificate in Healthcare Administration may apply online at the Seton Hall University website: www.shu.edu. Applications are processed on a “rolling admissions” basis, with deadlines for the on campus format of August 1 for the fall term and December 1 for the spring term and for the online format of one month before the scheduled orientation residence.

M.H.A. Academic Credit for Certificate Course Work

The Certificate in Healthcare Administration is awarded for the successful completion of 15 graduate credits as designated. These graduate credits can be applied toward the M.H.A. degree, provided the student achieves a B or better in each course, and attains a 3.0 cumulative GPA or higher in the certificate program and satisfies the admission requirements for the M.H.A. program.

Certificate Curriculum (minimum 15 credits)

The Graduate Certificate in Healthcare Administration is earned by successfully completing three required and three elective courses.

Required Courses (8 credits)

- HCAD 7521 21st Century Healthcare Systems (2 credits)
- HCAD 7513 Healthcare Management
- HCAD 6005 Financial and Managerial Accounting and Costing in Healthcare

Elective Courses (minimum 7 credits)

Complete any three of the following list of courses:

- HCAD 7522 Healthcare Policy (2 credits)
- HCAD 7518 Managing Community Health Systems
- HCAD 8523 Ethics in Health Care (2 credits)
- HCAD 8514 Healthcare Economics
- HCAD 8517 Strategic Planning and Marketing in Healthcare Organizations
- HCAD 8518 Legal Aspects of Healthcare Organizations
- HCAD 8521 Quality and Information Management Systems
- HCAD 8531 Emergency Management and Health Security

The Seton Center for Community and Population Health

The Seton Center for Community Health (SCCH) was established in 2004 as an academic resource for collaboration, learning, and research to enhance the quality of life for individuals and improve the health status of New Jersey residents. The SCCH is located in the Department of Interprofessional Health Sciences & Health Administration in the School of Health and Medical Sciences. It provides technical assistance and scholarship to local community agencies using a partnership approach and involves students who are pursuing the M.H.A., Ph.D. in Health Sciences, and other graduate health degree programs.

M.S. in Physician Assistant

Physician Assistants (PAs) are healthcare professionals licensed to practice medicine with physician supervision. As part of their comprehensive responsibilities, PAs conduct physical exams, order and interpret tests, diagnose illnesses, counsel patients on preventive healthcare issues, assist in surgery, and prescribe treatments. Within the physician-PA relationship, physician assistants exercise autonomy in medical decision making and provide a broad range of diagnostic and therapeutic services. A physician assistant’s practice may also include education, research and administrative services. Physician assistants are found in all areas of medicine. They practice in the areas of primary care medicine, family medicine, internal medicine, medical sub-specialties (pediatrics, and obstetrics and gynecology) as well as emergency medicine and other medical and surgical subspecialties.

The Master of Science in Physician Assistant (M.S.P.A.) program is designed to develop healthcare practitioners who:

- practice in a variety of settings;
- possess a broad base of knowledge with which to serve patients of all ages;
- critically appraise health science literature and apply the appropriate principles and procedures to the recognition, evaluation, interpretation and understanding of current trends; and
- demonstrate knowledge of and sensitivity to culturally diverse populations.

This 96-credit, three-year professional program includes courses specific to physician assistant practice that are intended not only to provide students with the technical skills necessary to perform as certified practitioners, but also provides the foundation for graduates to become critical thinkers, life-long learners, and empathetic clinicians.

Mission

The mission of the Physician Assistant (PAs) program at Seton Hall University is to prepare primary care PAs who practice in a variety of settings. The program provides the foundation for graduates to become critical thinkers and life-long learners who excel in servant leadership, research and the practice of medicine.

Accreditation

The Accreditation Review Commission on Education for the Physician Assistant (ARC-PA) has granted Accreditation-Continued status to the Physician Assistant Program sponsored by Seton Hall University.
Accreditation-Continued is an accreditation status granted when a currently accredited program is in compliance with the ARC-PA Standards. Accreditation remains in effect until the program closes or withdraws from the accreditation process or until accreditation is withdrawn for failure to comply with the Standards. The approximate date for the next validation review of the program by the ARC-PA will be March 2017. The review date is contingent upon continued compliance with the Accreditation Standards and ARC-PA policy.

Admission

The curriculum of the Physician Assistant Program is rigorous, and the admissions process is extremely selective. In reviewing applications, the Admissions Committee considers academic performance, performance on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE), healthcare experience, and letters of recommendation as outlined below. Special admissions consideration is given to students enrolled in the dual-degree program at Seton Hall University and other affiliated dual-degree programs at the College of Saint Elizabeth, Monmouth University, and St. Peter’s College.

Academic Requirements for Admission

Application to the program is open to individuals who:

- possess a baccalaureate degree* from an accredited institution and have a cumulative GPA of 3.2 or greater
- have a 3.2 GPA in the following prerequisite courses, with no grade lower than a “C.”

As noted above, prerequisite science courses listed above must include a laboratory component and must have been completed within 10 years prior to matriculation. Prerequisite courses must be completed at an accredited institution of higher education. College Level Examination Program (CLEP), Advanced Placement (AP), and International Baccalaureate (IB) credits cannot substitute for prerequisite courses required for admission. Students with incomplete prerequisites may apply; however, they must state how they will satisfy the prerequisites by June 1st prior to the start of the program.

*Individuals who do not possess a baccalaureate degree should consult the Undergraduate Catalogue for the Dual-Degree program (BS/MS) with the College of Arts and Sciences - Department of Biological Sciences.

Standardized Testing

The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is required of all applicants. While the program does not use a strict cutoff score, most competitive applicants will have scores at or above the fiftieth percentile in each test area. Candidates who have already earned a graduate degree in a science or health-related field may request that the GRE be waived. Such requests will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

The Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) is required of any applicant who is not a native speaker of English. A score report must be forwarded documenting a paper-based score of 550 or above, a computer-based score of 213 or above, or an Internet-based score of 79 or above. All international transcripts must be evaluated by a member agency of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES).

Letters of Recommendation

Applicants are required to obtain three letters of recommendation from sources able to attest to an applicant’s academic ability and character. It is recommended that letters be obtained from course instructors and clinical supervisors. Letters from family members and casual acquaintances are not acceptable.

Healthcare Experience Requirement

Applicants are required to complete a minimum of 100 hours observing or participating in the delivery of healthcare in a clinical environment. This requirement may be met through paid or volunteer experiences. While shadowing a physician assistant or physician will meet this requirement, priority consideration is given to experiences where the applicant has assumed responsibility for patient care. Past experiences that students have used to meet this requirement include but are not limited to: shadowing a PA or physician in an office or hospital; volunteering or working as an emergency medical technician; working as a nurse, nurse’s aide, respiratory therapist, paramedic, athletic trainer or other healthcare provider, or volunteering in a healthcare facility. The healthcare experience is intended to strengthen interpersonal skills and to develop an understanding of the role of healthcare provider.

Interviews

All applicants being considered for admission will be invited to campus for an interview. The interview is used to assess an applicant’s knowledge of the physician assistant profession, their motivation for becoming a physician assistant and communication and interpersonal skills. Meeting the minimum standards for admission does not guarantee that an applicant will be invited for an interview.
Advanced Standing and Transfer Students
Regardless of previous educational or work experience, all students are required to complete the entire physician assistant curriculum. No advanced placement, transfer credit, or credit for experiential learning will be granted.

Application Deadlines
Applicants may apply online at the Seton Hall University website: www.shu.edu Seton Hall University does not participate in CASPA. Seats fill quickly, and applicants are encouraged to apply as early as possible.

• Early Review: Applicants with a superior academic record (GPA>3.4) and who have successfully completed all prerequisite coursework are encouraged to apply by August 15 for an early admissions decision.

• General Admission: Applications for general admission are accepted from September 1st through a deadline of March 31st. Students with incomplete prerequisites may apply; however, they must state how they will satisfy the prerequisites by June 1st prior to the start of the program. Applicants may be asked to provide proof of enrollment in any outstanding prerequisite courses. Information regarding application procedures and deadlines may be obtained from the School of Health and Medical Sciences, (973) 275-2596.

Employment During the Academic Year
Training to become a physician assistant demands a full-time commitment. Due to the rigorous nature of the curriculum, it is recommended that students not engage in outside employment. If a student chooses to work during the academic year, the work schedule must not interfere with class performance or clinical rotation schedules.

Curriculum Requirements

Professional Year III

Fall Semester
GMPA 6102  Principles of Epidemiology
GMPA 7303  Biomedical Ethics
GMPA 8509  Research Methods II
Four clinical rotation blocks

Spring Semester
GMPA 8511  Research Methods III
GMPA 8603  Healthcare Policy
Four clinical rotation blocks

Clinical Rotations
Students shall not be permitted to begin clinical rotations until they have successfully completed all preceding didactic coursework. Students are required to complete a minimum of 16 clinical rotation blocks. Required clinical experiences include the following: outpatient medicine (three blocks), internal medicine (two blocks), surgery (two blocks), pediatrics (two blocks), obstetrics/gynecology (one block), behavioral/mental health (one block), geriatrics (one block), emergency medicine (one block), elective rotations (three blocks).

Graduation Requirements
Students will not be eligible for graduation until all didactic coursework and required clinical rotations have been successfully completed. Successful completion of clinical rotations requires that students document exposure to patients across the lifespan and across a variety of required diagnoses. Specific documentation requirements may be found in the Program Handbook and Policy Manual. Students who fail to meet documentation requirements will be required to register for additional rotation blocks at the current graduate tuition schedule. Students who are required to complete additional rotation blocks may experience a loss of vacation time and/or delayed graduation.

As required by the Accreditation Review Commission on Education for the Physician Assistant, the Department conducts summative assessments during the final semester of the program. A variety of measures are used to assess clinical knowledge, patient skills and professional development. No student will be eligible for graduation until all summative assessments have been successfully completed.
Doctor of Physical Therapy (DPT)

The Doctor of Physical Therapy is the post-baccalaureate degree conferred upon successful completion of a professional entry-level physical therapy educational program. Physical therapy is a dynamic profession with an established theoretical base and widespread clinical application in the preservation, development and restoration of optimal physical function. This Doctor of Physical Therapy program is intended to prepare physical therapists to be employed within the healthcare delivery system. Upon graduation, these practitioners will be able to provide a broad range of patient care services as well as perform research, teaching and administrative responsibilities.

The curriculum also provides graduates with the skills to assume leadership roles in rehabilitation services, prevention and health maintenance programs, and professional and community organizations.

The Commission on Accreditation in Physical Therapy Education (CAPTE) grants specialized accreditation status to qualified entry-level education programs for physical therapists and physical therapist assistants. CAPTE is listed as a nationally recognized accrediting agency by the U.S. Department of Education and the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA). The Doctor of Physical Therapy program at Seton Hall University is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation in Physical Therapy Education (CAPTE), 1111 North Fairfax Street, Alexandria, Virginia 22314; Telephone: 703-706-3245; email: accreditation@apta.org; website: http://www.capteonline.org. The program’s accreditation has been granted for a period of ten (10) years effective November 17, 2010.

Mission

The mission of the program is to educate individuals to become competent and autonomous Doctors of Physical Therapy who possess the depth and breadth of knowledge to support the best practice of Physical Therapy. Through diverse academic and clinical experiences, graduates are prepared to advance the field of physical therapy and assume leadership roles within the profession and health care environment. As a program within a Catholic university, graduates learn to provide care with sensitivity and respect for all individuals within the communities they serve.

The shared missions of physical therapy and the other professional entry programs within the School of Health and Medical Sciences provide opportunities for mutual support, sharing of resources and interactive development of programs.

This is a four-year academic program that includes academic courses and clinical practica and internships in physical therapy. Students develop the skills they need to perform as entry-level practitioners and to grow and adapt to the rapid changes in the profession and the healthcare delivery system. Upon completion, graduates will be thoroughly prepared for the National Physical Therapy Examination.

Admission

The curriculum of the Doctor of Physical Therapy Program is rigorous, and the admissions process is extremely selective. Applicants holding a bachelor of science degree must complete an application through the Physical Therapist Centralized Admissions Service (PTCAS); this is located at www.ptcas.org. In reviewing applications, the Admissions Committee will determine candidates’ eligibility upon review of the following:

- undergraduate academic performance, performance on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE), and non-quantifiable items such as letters of recommendation, healthcare experiences, professional and community activities, and essay review. Special admissions consideration is given to students enrolled in the dual-degree program at Seton Hall University, who do not participate in the PTCAS process.

Admission to the program requires:

- official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended;
- a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution with a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 3.0 on a four-point scale;
- completion of the following prerequisite courses with a GPA of 3.0; and a grade of “C” or better in each course:
  - Human Anatomy and Physiology (8 credits);
  - Physics (8 credits);
  - Chemistry (8 credits);
  - College Math or Statistics (3 credits);
  - English/Communication (6 credits);
  - Social and Behavioral Sciences (6 credits);
  - General Psychology (3 credits);
- a minimum of 50 hours of clinical observation with a licensed physical therapist in the delivery of physical therapy services in a clinical environment;
- three letters of recommendation, one from a physical therapist;
- the Graduate Record Examination (GRE), Seton Hall PTCAS GRE Code is 3886;
- a written essay; and
- completion of the essential functions statement.

As noted above, prerequisite science courses listed above must include a laboratory component (online laboratories are not accepted) and must have been completed within 10 years prior to matriculation. Students with incomplete prerequisites may apply; however, they must state how they will satisfy the prerequisites by June 1st prior to the start of the program.

Individuals who do not possess a baccalaureate degree should consult the Undergraduate Catalogue for the Dual Degree program (BS/DPT) with the College of Arts and Sciences - Department of Biological Sciences.
Standardized Testing

The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is required of all applicants. A minimum of 150 (400 on older version) on the verbal portion and a cumulative score of at least 310 (900 older version) on the verbal and quantitative reasoning portions are required. Candidates who have already earned a graduate degree may request that the GRE be waived. Such requests will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

If English is not the native language, a student must submit a Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) Score Report documenting a paper-based score of 550 or above, a computer-based score of 213 or above, or an Internet-based score of 79 or above. All international transcripts must be evaluated by a member agency of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES).

Advanced Standing and Transfer Students

Regardless of previous educational or work experience, all students are required to complete the entire doctor of physical therapy curriculum. No advanced placement, transfer credit, or credit for experiential learning will be granted.

Information regarding the application deadline may be obtained from the School of Health and Medical Sciences, (973) 275-2051.

Curriculum Requirements

The Doctor of Physical Therapy Program is a full-time lock-step program and requires continuous enrollment throughout the four years of study. Students who have interrupted enrollment will be required to register for a 1 credit Independent Study course prior to beginning courses with clinically related experiences. This independent study will emphasize continued mastery of previously learned knowledge and skills. Permission of the department chairperson is required. The following courses must be taken in the predetermined sequence.

M.S. in Occupational Therapy

The Master of Science in Occupational Therapy (M.S.O.T.) professional program is designed to develop occupational therapists who are practitioners, contributors, and managers. As practitioners, occupational therapists establish, restore, maintain or enhance health and wellness through engagement in activities and occupations, and participation in lifestyles that are satisfying to clients. As contributors, occupational therapists advocate for their profession and clients, use current research to inform practice, and participate in the development of occupational therapy scholarship. As managers, occupational therapists plan, establish, supervise and evaluate occupational therapy services, promote occupational therapy services, collaborate with other professionals.

This 84-credit program consists of two years of didactic learning and two Level II fieldwork rotations. The program contains courses specific to occupational therapy practice that are intended to provide students with the theoretical knowledge and technical skills necessary to perform as entry-level practitioners in a rapidly changing global society. All students must complete Level II fieldwork within 24 months following completion of academic preparation.

The occupational therapy program is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Occupational Therapy Education (ACOTE) of the American Occupational Therapy Association (AOTA), located at 4720 Montgomery Lane, Suite 200, Bethesda, MD 20814-3449. ACOTE’s telephone number c/o AOTA is (301) 652-AOTA and its web address is www.acoteonline.org.

Graduates of the program are eligible to take the National Certification Examination for the Occupational Therapist administered by the National Board for Certification in Occupational Therapy (NBCOT). After successful completion of this examination, the individual will be an Occupational Therapist, Registered (OTR). One letter of recommendation must be from an occupational therapist (OTR). The Committee on Admissions will determine candidates’ eligibility upon review of the following: GPA; non-quantifiable items, including letters of recommendation, occupational therapy volunteer experiences, employment experiences, healthcare experiences, professional and community activities, and a written essay demonstrating understanding of and commitment to the profession. If English is not the native language, a student must submit a Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) Score Report documenting a paper-based score of 550 or above, a computer-based score of 213 or above, or an Internet-based score of 79 or above.

Information regarding the application deadline may be obtained from the School of Health and Medical Sciences, (973) 761-7145 or email shms@shu.edu.

Curriculum Requirements

First Year

Fall Semester
GMOT 6150  Functional Anatomy & Kinesiology
GMOT 6412  Introduction to Occupational Therapy
GMOT 6170  Occupational Therapy Practice Skills
GMOT 6100  Professional Formation I

Spring Semester
GMOT 6250  Group Process in Occupational Therapy
GMOT 6260  Cognition, Perception, Vision and Function
GMOT 6270  The Occupational Therapy Process
GMOT 7303  Research Methods I
GMOT 6200  Professional Formation II

Summer Session
GMOT 6301  Health and Medical Complexities of Older Adults
GMOT 6303  Evaluation of Older Adults
GMOT 6305  Interventions for Older Adults

Admission

Admission to the program requires:

- a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution with a minimum overall GPA of 3.0;
- completion of the following pre-requisite courses with a minimum GPA of 3.0 and a grade of “C” or better in each course; and
- three letters of recommendation, one from a registered occupational therapist (OTR).

Course | Credits
--- | ---
Human Anatomy and Physiology (with Lab) | 8
English | 3
Statistics | 3

Introduction to Sociology | 3
Introduction to General Psychology | 3
Abnormal Psychology | 3
Developmental Psychology (Across the Life Span) | 3

Anatomy and Physiology must include a laboratory. Students with incomplete prerequisites may apply; however, they must state how they will satisfy the prerequisites prior to the start of the program. All prerequisite courses must be completed within 10 years of the application date. College Level Examination program (CLEP), Advanced Placement (AP), and International Baccalaureate (IB) credits cannot substitute for prerequisite courses required for admission.

Applicants are required to perform a minimum of 50 hours of volunteer work with an occupational therapist (OTR). One letter of recommendation must be from an occupational therapist (OTR). The Committee on Admissions will determine candidates’ eligibility upon review of the following: GPA; non-quantifiable items, including letters of recommendation, occupational therapy volunteer experiences, employment experiences, healthcare experiences, professional and community activities, and a written essay demonstrating understanding of and commitment to the profession. If English is not the native language, a student must submit a Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) Score Report documenting a paper-based score of 550 or above, a computer-based score of 213 or above, or an Internet-based score of 79 or above.

Information regarding the application deadline may be obtained from the School of Health and Medical Sciences, (973) 761-7145 or email shms@shu.edu.
Second Year

Fall Semester
GMOT 6750  Health and Medical Complexities of Adults
GMOT 6760  Evaluation of Adults
GMOT 6770  Interventions for Adults
GMOT 6780  Professional Ethics in Occupational Therapy
GMOT 6700  Professional Formation III

Spring Semester
GMOT 6850  Health and Medical Complexities of Children/Adolescents
GMOT 6860  Evaluation of Children/Adolescents
GMOT 6870  Interventions for Children/Adolescents
GMOT 6880  Wellness and Entrepreneurship I
GMOT 7320  Research Methods II
GMOT 6800  Professional Formation IV

Summer Session
GMOT 6980  Wellness and Entrepreneurship II
GMOT 6960  Health Care Policies and Organizations

Third Year

Fall Semester
GMOT 7013  Level II Fieldwork I

GMOT 7023  Level II Fieldwork II
GMOT 7000  Professional Formation V

Summer Semester (optional)
GMOT 7033  Level II Fieldwork III (optional)

M.S. in Speech-Language Pathology

The mission of the Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology program is to prepare students as independent professionals with a broad knowledge base, competency in clinical service delivery, and a strong foundation in the principles of evidence based practice. Aligned with the Catholic mission of Seton Hall University and the School of Health and Medical Sciences, students will be prepared with the skill set to assume servant leadership roles in a global society. The program promotes a culture of life-long learning, collaboration, creation of new knowledge, and contribution to the profession and the community.

This comprehensive 65-credit, five-semester program includes academic courses, experiential learning opportunities, and clinical practica in speech-language pathology that are intended to provide students with the necessary skills to perform as entry-level practitioners and enable students to grow and adapt to the rapid changes in the profession and the health care service delivery system.

Accreditation

The Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology program received full accreditation for an eight-year period by the Council on Academic Accreditation (CAA) of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA) effective May 1, 2006 through April 30, 2014. In order for an individual to be eligible to apply for national certification with ASHA, a student must initiate and complete coursework and clinical practicum at a CAA-accredited institution.

Admission

A baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution with a cumulative GPA of no less than 3.0 on a four-point scale is required for all applicants. Admission to the program is open to individuals who have an undergraduate degree in speech-language pathology or who have completed a minimum of 18 credits of pre-professional coursework in communication sciences and disorders with a grade of “B” or better that must include the six courses listed below. The Department of Speech-Language Pathology offers the following undergraduate pre-professional courses:

The Committee on Admission determines a candidate’s eligibility upon review of all academic transcripts, Graduate Record Examination (GRE) scores within the past five years, a personal statement of professional goals, three letters of recommendation, and 25 hours of observation of a professional holding a certificate of clinical competence (CCC) in Speech-Language Pathology.

In accordance with ASHA’s knowledge and skills acquisition (KASA) guidelines for certification in Speech-Language Pathology, completion of at least one course with a grade of “C” or better in each of the following areas is required for admission:

- English Composition
- Statistics
- Social or Behavioral Science (Typically a course in psychology, sociology, or cultural anthropology)
- Biological Science (Typically a course in biology, general human anatomy, physiology, genetics, or zoology)
- Physical Science (Preferably physics or chemistry)

Please note that pre-professional coursework in Speech-Language Pathology cannot be used to fulfill the course requirements in the above mentioned areas (i.e., English composition, statistics, social or behavioral science, biological and physical science). Further, all prerequisite...

* To meet the research requirements of the program, students have the option of enrolling in GMSL 7003 Research Methods II (offered in professional year I) or enrolling in a research project sequence [GMSL 7039 Research Project I (offered in professional year I) & GMSL 7040 Research Project II (offered in professional year II)].

M.S. in Athletic Training

The Master of Science in Athletic Training program (MSAT) is intended to prepare graduates to critically analyze and convey information to patients, colleagues and other health professionals. These clinicians will be able to provide a broad range of patient care services and perform research and administrative responsibilities. This is accomplished through students and faculty building collaborations, participating on professional organizations in athletic training, and administering athletic training services.

The mission of the Master in Science in Athletic Training Program is to prepare students to become competent and independent clinicians who will enhance the quality of patient health care and to advance the profession of athletic training. The program teaches and provides practical experiences to enable graduates to assume leadership roles both within the field of athletic training, and within the community.

This is a two year, 64-credit, six-semester Entry-Level Master of Science Degree Program. Students develop the knowledge and skills needed to perform as entry-level athletic training clinicians and to grow and adapt to the rapid changes in the profession and health care. Upon program completion, students will be thoroughly prepared for the Board of Certification Examination (BOC) and prepared to enter the profession as entry-level athletic training clinicians. Additionally, the curriculum prepares students for the Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS) examination.

Accreditation

The Master of Science in Athletic Training is a fully CAATE accredited entry-level graduate program. The Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education (CAATE), maintain educational standards for accredited athletic training education programs.

Admission

- Baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution
- Cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 3.0 on a four-point scale. However, applicants not meeting the cumulative 3.0 GPA requirement are encouraged to apply and will be seriously considered
- Completion of the following pre-requisite courses with a grade of “C” or better:
  - Human Anatomy & Physiology* 8 credits
  - Biological or Exercise Science* 3 credits
  - Physics* 4 credits
  - English 3 credits
  - College Math or Statistics 3 credits
  - Social Sciences 6 credits

* Courses must include a laboratory. All prerequisite courses must be completed no longer than ten years prior to application date.
• Fifty (50) hours of clinical observation with a certified athletic trainer
• Official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended
• Current certifications in CPR/AED for the Professional Rescuer
• Letter of recommendation from a certified athletic trainer
• Two additional letters of recommendation required
• Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is not required
• Completion of applicant essay question
• Student must read, sign, understand and meet the Standards of Essential Functions of the School of Health and Medical Sciences and the MSAT program.
• If English is not the native language, a student must submit a Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) Score Report documenting a paper-based score of 550 or above, a computer-based score of 213 or above, or an Internet-based score of 79 or above.

Qualified students are admitted without regard to race, color, religion, age, disability, natural origin, sexual orientation, ancestry or gender. Students with incomplete prerequisites may apply; however, they must state how they will satisfy the prerequisites by the end of the Spring semester prior to the start of the program. All prerequisite courses must be completed no longer than 10 years prior to the application date.

Course Descriptions

GDPT 6001 (PTFY 4001) Functional Human Anatomy
This course provides the student with knowledge of functional human anatomy using a regional approach with emphasis placed on the musculoskeletal, cardiovascular, respiratory, and nervous systems and review of the gastrointestinal system. Anatomical models, computer programs, and cadaveric dissection complement didactic classroom activities. 3 credits

GDPT 6004 (PTFY 4040) Biomedical Ethics
A study of the application of human and professional values, judgment, and choices to selected ethical dilemmas that arise in practice. Emphasis on various traditional and contemporary approaches to normative ethics within decision-making models applicable to resolving professional dilemmas in the delivery of health care. 2 credits

GDPT 6007 Research Methods and Biostatistics
This course is designed to provide students with a working knowledge of the research process. The importance of research in the practice of physical therapy will be covered. Students will learn about the variety of research publications in physical therapy and how to critically appraise these publications. Evidence-based practice will be emphasized and covered, including how to find and appraise systematic reviews of the literature. Students will also complete a systematic review of the literature. A variety of research designs will be covered including experimental, quasi-experimental, and non-experimental designs. Methods for gathering representative samples and controlling experiments will also be covered. Students will gain experience collecting and performing elementary statistics on data, and reviewing published research articles. Students will learn about the various sources of research findings in physical therapy. 3 credits

GDPT 6009 (PTFY 4009) Surface Anatomy and Palpation
This course introduces the student to the application of palpation and observation as part of the physical examination process. Emphasis is placed on identification and location of superficial anatomical structures. Attention is paid to manual identification of selected musculoskeletal structures. 1 credit
GDPT 6012 (PTFY 4012) Kinesiology
This course presents the application of physics, anatomy, and physiology to the understanding of human movement. Emphasis is on the study of the development and function of bone, muscle, and ligaments in contributing to normal motion. Attention is paid to synovial joints as key linkage in the human mechanical system and how their movements are created and governed. The laboratory component of this course reviews the theory and application of physical examination and evaluation through the use of selected biomechanical instruments. Gait and activity analysis are included. 3 credits

GDPT 6013 (PTFY 4013) Therapeutic Modalities
This course emphasizes the use of heat, cold, compression, traction and electrotherapeutic techniques in the management of patients with impairments and functional limitations due to a variety of orthopedic, neurological and medical conditions. Management strategies and techniques to promote healing in dermal wounds and burns will also be discussed. This course will stress a problem solving approach for the selection and application of appropriate procedures to manage pain, edema, and limitations in motion, muscle weakness and wound healing. Clinical decision-making will be practiced through the course to develop appropriate treatment strategies and applications for the use of these physical agents for initial treatment as well as treatment modification based on the assessment of physiological and physical responses to those interventions. 3 credits

GDPT 6015 Pharmacology
Problem oriented approach to examining the most commonly used pharmacologic agents seen in clinical practice. Basic principles of pharmacodynamics and pharmacokinetics, along with pertinent physiology are presented. Practical aspects of dosing schedules, therapeutic effects, interactions and adverse reactions emphasized, especially as they apply to physical performance and safety. 2 credits

GDPT 6016 Orthopedic Clinical Medicine
This course presents the orthopedic pathological processes, conditions and manifestations in relationship to their influences on the patient across the lifespan. This course presents an in-depth analysis of the muscle, bone, and joint structures, with emphasis on the orthopedic surgeon evaluation and medical management in the presence of illness, disease, trauma, overuse, and developmental and aging processes. Topics include medical musculoskeletal evaluation, diagnosis and prognosis. Issues of soft tissue and fracture management as well as surgical and basic rehabilitation management for orthopedic concerns of the spine and extremities. Emphasis on clinician-physician/ practitioner communication is stressed. Case studies will emphasize the clinician’s role in clinical decision-making, communication, individual and cultural differences, screening, examination, diagnosis, and prognosis, prevention and wellness, and the development of a plan of care. 2 credits

GDPT 6017 Clinical Imaging
This course emphasizes the theory and utilization of basic clinical imaging in the management of patients with various neuromusculoskeletal, peripheral vascular, cardiopulmonary, and selected medical conditions. Emphasis is placed on the uses of basic radiological techniques for multiple biological systems and organs of the human body. 2 credits

GDPT 6019 Management of Musculoskeletal Problems I – Extremities
The management of musculoskeletal dysfunction is examined with emphasis on the development of analytical knowledge necessary to evaluate and treat musculoskeletal dysfunction. Normal musculoskeletal physiology of peripheral joints is the basis for understanding pathophysiologic and therapeutic intervention. A problem solving model for intervention of peripheral joint dysfunction including medical screening, physical evaluation and goal setting will be stressed. Students will develop skill in manual therapy techniques and integration of these techniques with therapeutic exercise and physical modalities. 3 credits

GDPT 6020 Management of Musculoskeletal Problems II – Spine
The management of musculoskeletal dysfunction is examined with emphasis on the development of analytical knowledge to evaluate musculoskeletal dysfunction related to the spine and temporomandibular joint. Normal musculoskeletal physiology of spinal joints is the basis for understanding pathophysiologic and therapeutic intervention. A problem-solving model for intervention of spinal joint dysfunction includes medical screening, physical evaluation and goal setting will be stressed. Students will develop skill in manual therapy techniques and integration of these techniques with therapeutic exercise and physical modalities. 3 credits

GDPT 6030 (PTFY 4030) Clinical Skills I
This course facilitates skills acquisition in basic elements of patient services and professional practice. Emphasis is placed on basic physical handling skills, health care record information collection and documentation, elementary physical examination, general screening for all systems, and essentials of patient-practitioner interaction. 2 credits

GDPT 6031 (PTFY 4031) Clinical Skills II
The course promotes skills acquisition in basic elements of patient services. Emphasis is placed on basic patient handling skills, physical examination and intervention techniques, health care record information collection and documentation, general screening, and essentials of patient-practitioner interaction. 3 credits

GDPT 6010 (PTFY 4101) Human Physiology
Analysis of normal physiological function in the presence of disease or trauma affecting all systems. Information is presented at the tissue, organ and system level. Discussion will address changes in response to disease or trauma over the entire lifespan. 3 credits
GDPT 6102 (PTFY 4102) Neuroscience
This course will cover the basic structure, organization, and function of the central nervous system (CNS). Lectures and laboratories focus on understanding localization of function within specific structures and pathways of the brain and spinal cord, and typical syndromes associated with vascular accidents, trauma or diseases of the various parts of the CNS. 3 credits

GDPT 6108 (PTFY 4108) Motor Control Principles
This introductory course has been designed to assist students in the understanding and integration of the principles of motor control and learning into practice for the advancement of motor skill acquisition. Learning is an essential feature of human perceptual-motor behavior. This course provides an introduction to the principles of learning skills, as well as a preliminary application of the principles to therapeutic practice. Theory is explored as it relates to learning, performance and skill acquisition. Principles of learning as they pertain to task analysis and characteristics of learner and learning environment are also addressed. 2 credits

GDPT 6109 Internal Clinical Medicine
Survey of major classes of problems or diagnoses involving pathology of general medical conditions includes the presentation of patterns of practice in the specialties of general medicine. Use of clinical cases to present standard patterns of physician evaluation, diagnosis, intervention and communication/referral with other health care practitioners. 2 credits

GDPT 6122 Principles of Teaching and Learning
This course presents the basic concepts and principles underlying teaching and learning in the cognitive, psychomotor and affective domains. Emphasis is placed on the ability to assess the educational needs of varied audiences (patients, caregivers, students, peers, and other professionals) and apply traditional and alternative teaching strategies to facilitate learning in a professional and culturally sensitive manner. The impact of learning preference on teaching style will be addressed. Course experiences will be guided by a spectrum of teaching methods: a framework that delineates options in teaching and learning. 2 credits

GDPT 6123 (PTFY 4123) Physical Therapy Roles in Health Care
This is an introductory course into the field of physical therapy taken by entry-level students. The focus of this course is to introduce the student to professional issues related to physical therapy; the professional organization; the concepts of evidence based medicine; the Guide to PhysicalTherapist Practice; and medical terminology. Foundational skills in communication, professional behavior, evidenced-based practice, self and peer assessment, and cultural competency. 2 credits

GDPT 6311 Embryology and Genetics
Discussion of normal fetal development. Analysis of genetic, timing/sequencing, and environmental mechanisms, which control patterns of development. Discussion of potential out-of-sequence modification of post-fetal structure and function through genetic manipulation. Introduction to major classes of developmental disorders. 2 credits

GDPT 6321 Psycho-Social Concepts in Healthcare Delivery
This course addresses the complex psycho-social issues relative to the health care provider. It will provide the student with the opportunity to actively reflect upon the socialization process, beginning and ending with the key player, oneself. Additionally, it will emphasize to the physical therapists a responsibility to create a role consistent with the patient/client management model in both a competent and compassionate delivery system. This course will also provide students with necessary insights and techniques for handling a variety of psycho-social and cultural factors in the clinical settings. This course will integrate the Guide to Physical Therapist Practice in relation to issues in contemporary clinical practice. 2 credits

GDPT 6433 Orthotics and Prosthetics/Functional Assistance
Clinical problem-centered discussion providing integration of concepts of physical therapy management of patients/clients including the description, prescription, training in the use of, and evaluation of prostheses, orthoses, and functional assistance. Students will discuss clinical case studies integrating the Guide to Physical Therapist Practice and evidenced-based practice into the current doctoral level of physical therapy practice. 2 credits

GDPT 6434 Life Span Development
Overview of human development across the life span. Changes in physical, cognitive, and social development are explored using a framework that highlights the contribution of multiple interacting systems to behavior and performance. Emphasis on the application of the Guide to Physical Therapist Practice. Elements of patient/client management and application of the Guide’s framework of tests and measures will be stressed. 3 credits

GDPT 6445 Therapeutic Exercise
This course provides a foundation of knowledge and skills used to manage motor problems using appropriate exercise principles and techniques. Student will learn to design a program of therapeutic exercise to address specific patient problems and goals. Students will develop skill in the performance and teaching of therapeutic exercises based on examination results. 3 credits

GDPT 6534 Clinical Integration Seminar I
Clinical problem-centered discussions and assignments providing integration of concepts of physical therapy practice. Students will discuss clinical cases integrating the Guide to Physical Therapist Practice, evidence-based practice guidelines, and contemporary professional practice standards and procedures. 1 credit

GDPT 6551 Research Project I
This course is a continuation of the principles of research design and statistics begun in Research Methods. Principles of statistics are reviewed and expanded, so that the basic principles and tests for answering experimental and non-experimental questions are covered. The course also continues the mentored research experience into the development of a research proposal. Students will work with a mentor, alone or in pairs, to develop a review of the literature, question, and methods to answer the question. Students will also learn the details of the IRB process. 2 credits

GDPT 6552 Exercise Physiology and Nutrition
Presentation of the normal and pathological human body responses to physiological conditions and processes in relationship to their influence on human performance. Emphasis is placed on the study of muscle physiology, metabolism, cardiovascular and respiratory adaptation, aging, thermoregulation, strengthening, and aerobic and anaerobic training exercise prescription, and use of ergogenic aids. Topics will focus on evaluation and management for a ‘well’ population, as well as for those persons with chronic diseases and disabilities. The laboratory component reviews the knowledge of the physiological effects of exercise. Application of examination and evaluation procedures are provided through the use of selected human performance instruments. 3 credits

GDPT 6659 Clinical Practicum I
This clinical experiential learning experience facilitates skill acquisition in basic elements of patient service provision for an outpatient population. There will be an emphasis on professional practice development, basic physical handling skills, health care record information collection and documentation, general screening for all systems, elementary physical therapy examination and treatment and essentials of patient-practitioner interaction. 1 credit

GDPT 6660 Clinical Practicum II
In this second Clinical Practicum within a similar clinical environment as Clinical Practicum I, the student will continue to develop professional practice skills and behaviors and skill acquisition in basic elements of patient/client service provision. There will be an emphasis on physical handling skill, health care record information collection and documentation, general screening for all systems, basic physical therapy examination, evaluation and treatment, and essentials of patient-practitioner interaction and interaction with all staff. This practicum serves as the clinical foundation for preparation of Internship I. 1 credit

GDPT 6661 Clinical Internship I
A full-time clinical practical internship in an outpatient clinical setting. Emphasis is on refinement of professional practice and attainment of skills in physical therapy practice and patient management with progression to an intermediate level of performance in the given clinical setting. 2 credits

GDPT 7131 Management of Neuromuscular Problems
This course will include the following: analysis of mechanisms of motor dysfunction arising from neurological disorders, basic and functional evaluation of neurological disorders and the use of manual and technological methods of intervention to address neuromuscular dysfunction. 5 credits

GDPT 7134 Clinical Integration Seminar II
Patient/client-centered discussions and assignments providing integration of concepts of physical therapy management, professionalism and core values. Students will discuss clinical cases integrating the Guide to Physical Therapist Practice, Professionalism in Physical Therapy and evidence-based practice guidelines. This seminar prepares student for the application of examination and intervention, clinical decision-making and evidence based practice. 1 credit

GDPT 7141 Neurological Clinical Medicine
Survey of major classes of problems or diagnoses involving the peripheral and central nervous system. Presentation of patterns of practice in the specialties of neurology and neurosurgery. 2 credits

GDPT 7142 Cardiopulmonary Clinical Medicine
This is a survey course of primary and secondary cardiovascular and pulmonary conditions and dysfunctions. The focus of this course will be on standard procedures used including evaluative and diagnostic procedures as well as pharmacological and physical interventions for problems involving the cardiovascular and pulmonary systems. 2 credits

GDPT 7152 Research Project II
The main focus of this course is data collection related to the research proposal that was developed during Research Project I. Students will work closely with mentors to collect data using the proposed methods and written protocol from the research proposal. In-class topics will include data collection, authorship, plagiarism, presentation skills and data analysis. Out-of-class, students will collect and record data, and begin data analysis. 3 credits

GDPT 7231 Management of Pediatric Problems
This course sets a foundation for the pediatric neurological clinical education coursework and clinical practices to follow and includes: analysis of mechanisms of motor dysfunction arising from pediatric neurological and neuromusculoskeletal disorders; basic, developmental and functional examination and evaluation of pediatric disorders; and the use of manual and technological methods of intervention to address pediatric neuro-musculoskeletal and developmental dysfunction. 4 credits

GDPT 7232 Management of Geriatric Problems
Analysis of the developmental and social/economic factors unique to the resolution of problems occurring in maturity and aging. Development of integrated resource plans involving physical therapy, other healthcare providers, and the financial resources of the health and social systems. 2 credits

GDPT 7235 Management of Cardiopulmonary Problems
This is a physical therapy clinical management course, in the series of hands-on skills courses taken by entry-level students. The focus is on skill acquisition in both basic and advanced elements of cardiovascular and pulmonary screening, examination and evaluation with emphasis on therapeutic interventions, physical handling skills, health care record information collection and documentation. This course integrates material presented in the clinical medicine course with an applied approach toward acute care practice. Communication skills, professional behavior, critical inquiry, clinical decision-making, cultural sensitivity and patient education are advanced. 3 credits

GDPT 7251 Research Project III

This course provides students with the experience of data analysis and presentation. Students will work closely with mentors to analyze data from their projects using the proposed methods from the research proposal. In-class, students will engage in peer-mentoring to develop effective research presentations. Working with their mentors, students will analyze data and prepare poster presentations. The posters will be presented at a poster session at the end of the semester. 2 credits

GDPT 7359 Clinical Practicum III

This clinical experiential learning experience will facilitate skill acquisition in basic elements of patient service provision for the adult/pediatric population with increasing complexity in neurological and/or cardiopulmonary conditions. There will be an emphasis on professional practice development and patient/client management skills including basic observational skills, movement analysis, physical handling skills, health care record information collection and documentation, general screening for all systems, elementary physical therapy examination and treatment and essentials of patient-practitioner interaction. This practicum serves as the clinical foundation for preparation of Internship II. 1 credit

GDPT 7360 Clinical Practicum IV

Continuation of clinical experiential learning experience to facilitate skill acquisition in basic elements of patient service provision for the adult/pediatric population with increasing complexity in neurological and/or cardiopulmonary conditions. Ongoing emphasis on professional practice development and patient/client management skills including basic observational skills, movement analysis, physical handling skills, health care record information collection and documentation, general screening for all systems, elementary physical therapy examination and treatment and essentials of patient-practitioner interaction. This practicum serves as the clinical foundation for preparation of Internship II. 1 credit

GDPT 7361 Clinical Internship II

A full-time clinical practice internship in the pediatric or rehabilitative clinical setting. Emphasis on the practice of skills in physical therapy with refinement to intermediate level competence in these settings. 2 credits

GDPT 7362 Management of Special Problems

Design of physical therapy intervention for management of special problems otherwise not addressed in the physical therapy professional entry curriculum including: oncology, women’s health, mental health, wound care, immune function, etc. Includes discussion of medical/health team management of these special problems. 2 credits

GDPT 7421 Healthcare Organization and Administration

This course is an introduction to the theory and application of leadership and management principles. The course evaluates the changing healthcare environment and the role of the physical therapist as an autonomous practitioner/manager/business owner/healthcare leader and advocate within this environment. Fundamental concepts of leadership, management, strategic and operational planning/forecasting, legal structures, business development, networking, marketing, business communication, accounting, financial management, human resource management, information management, third party reimbursement, risk management and third party regulation are introduced within the professional milieu. The content is explored through lecture, discussion facilitation, and team projects leading to a Business Plan and Presentation. 3 credits

GDPT 7461 Clinical Internship III

A full-time clinical practice internship in an acute/sub-acute/assisted living/home care, pediatric, orthopedic or rehabilitation clinical site. Emphasis is on the practice of skills and professional core values in physical therapy with progression toward professional entry level practice in a given clinical setting. 6 credits

GDPT 7522 Curriculum Integration Seminar

This capstone course synthesizes curricular threads and serves as the student’s final preparation as autonomous practitioners of physical therapy. The course will emphasize clinical decision making necessary for effective patient/client management, and incorporate a systems review approach for cardiovascular/pulmonary, integumentary, musculoskeletal, and neuromuscular systems. Topics also include personal and professional development through service and lifelong learning, licensure, career preparation and first employment considerations and developing in areas of teaching, leadership and scholarship. 3 credits

GDPT 7561 Clinical Internship IV

A final full-time clinical practice internship in an acute/sub-acute/assisted living/home care, pediatric, outpatient or rehabilitation clinical site. Emphasis is on the practice of skills and professional core values in physical therapy with refinement to the professional entry level in the given practice setting. 6 credits

GDPT 7562 Clinical Integration Seminar III

Patient/client/person-centered discussions and assignments providing integration of concepts of physical therapy professional practice, management, professionalism, core values and leadership. Students will use clinical cases as a basis for integrating the Guide to Physical Therapist Practice, Professionalism in Physical Therapy, APTA Vision and evidence based practice. 1 credit

GDPT 7563 Clinical Integration Seminar IV

Final clinical seminar facilitating patient/client/person-centered discussions and assignments providing integration of concepts of physical therapy professional practice, management, professionalism, core values and leadership.
Students will use clinical cases as a basis for integrating the Guide to Physical Therapist Practice, Professionalism in Physical Therapy, APTA Vision and evidence based practice. 1 credit

GDPT 7565 Service Learning Seminar
Designed to promote experiential learning while advancing the mission and goals of the doctor of physical therapy program and the profession of physical therapy. Students will participate in a semester-long service project in cooperation with community partners. Students will implement a service project to meet a community need and will critically reflect on the experience through discussion, journaling, and portfolio development. 2 credits

GDPT 7567 International Innovation Project
This course incorporates didactic and experiential learning through inter-professional collaboration with international healthcare professionals to address issues in global health. Students will participate in a concentrated learning experience to promote skills in management, strategic planning, leadership, innovation and entrepreneurship within the healthcare sector. In cooperation with community partners, students design proposals for innovative solutions to meet client needs while exploring the global role of the physical therapist. Prerequisite: permission of the physical therapy department. 5 credits

GMAT 6010 (ATFY 4010) Athletic Training Principles I
This is an introductory course orienting the entry-level athletic training student to the profession of athletic training and discusses the various responsibilities of a certified athletic trainer. Other topics discussed include the recognition of environmental illnesses and emergency situations including the evaluation and management of acute cervical spine-related injuries. This course includes a lab component in which students learn and practice different taping and wrapping techniques, and fabricating protective padding. Students also learn to properly apply different sports equipment. 3 credits

GMAT 6011 (ATFY 4011) Athletic Training Principles II
This is a continuation of GMAT 6010 and includes discussion of common and acute pathologies of the upper and lower extremity. Mechanism of injury, signs, and symptoms, and on-field injury management is discussed in lecture and practiced in lab. Students demonstrate the appropriate care for these acute conditions as well as demonstrate preventative and protective methods. Prerequisite: GMAT 6010 (ATFY 4010). 3 credits

GMAT 6113 Sports Psychology
This course introduces the science of sport psychology. Emphasis will be placed on applied sport psychology for the purpose of enhancing athletic performance, as well as understanding the psychology of injuries and the social-psychological aspects of human enrichment. 2 credits

GMAT 6115 General Medical Conditions
The focus of this course is on standard differential diagnostic procedures used to evaluate medical conditions as well as identifying the appropriate care and referral to medical specialist. During the lab component, students will demonstrate increasing competence in patient examination, evaluation and management, prognosis, and intervention skills for general medical conditions. Prerequisites: GMED 6101, GMED 6104. 2 credits

GMAT 6116 Healthcare Administration
This course provides the student with an introduction to the local healthcare delivery system. Students learn the principles of administration and organization specific to the profession of athletic training. 2 credits

GMAT 6907 (GMAT 4907) Research Methods
Introduces and provides students a working knowledge of the research process with an emphasis on formulating a research question and research design. The goal is to help students prepare a research proposal for a research topic. 3 credits

GMAT 7007 (ATFY 4007) Research Project I
Students develop a clinically focused research proposal for submission to the University Institutional Review Board. Students work in small classroom groups with a faculty adviser. Prerequisite: GMAT 6907 (ATFY 4907). 1 credit

GMAT 7107 (ATFY 4107) Research Project II
In this course the student finalizes and implements the research proposal designed in Research Project I. Emphasis is on statistical procedures, data collection, data analysis and interpretation. Students work in small classroom groups with a faculty adviser. Prerequisite: GMAT 7007 (ATFY 4007). 1 credit

GMAT 7207 Research Project III
The focus of this course is on completion and oral presentation of the student research project to peers and faculty. Throughout this final research process students continue to work in small classroom groups with a faculty adviser. Prerequisite: GMAT 7107. 1 credit

GMAT 7400 (ATFY 4400) Clinical Practicum I
This is the first of four clinical and seminar experiences. The students continue to develop clinical proficiency through the performance of selected clinical skills. With the clinical preceptor’s direct supervision and instruction, the students begin to integrate the examination, evaluation, assessment, and intervention skills learned in the classroom into the clinical setting. The seminar component will engage students in clinical problem-centered discussion providing integration of concepts of evaluation and management of musculoskeletal problems and proper medical documentation. Prerequisite: GMAT 6011 (ATFY 4011). 2 credits

GMAT 7402 Clinical Practicum II
This course continues to build on preceding classroom and clinical experiences. With more of a guidance approach from the approved clinical instructor, students will further develop clinical proficiency through performance of clinical skills. Students are required to observe health care professionals in a general medical setting as assigned by the program. The seminar component will engage students in concepts of Students will learn about the variety of research publications in physical therapy and how to critically appraise these publications. Evidence-based practice will be emphasized and covered, including how to find and appraise systematic reviews of the literature. Students will also complete a systematic review of the literature. A variety of research designs will be covered including experimental, quasi-experimental, and non-experimental designs. Methods for gathering representative samples and controlling experiments will also be covered. Students will gain experience collecting and performing elementary statistics on data, and reviewing published research articles. Students will learn about the various sources of research findings in physical therapy.

3 credits

GMED 6009 (GMED 4009) Surface Anatomy and Palpation

This course introduces the student to the application and techniques of palpation and observation as part of the physical examination process. Emphasis is placed on identification, location and palpation of anatomical structures.

1 credit

GMED 6012 (GMED 4012) Kinesiology

This course presents the application of physics, anatomy, and physiology to the understanding of human movement. Emphasis is on the study of the development and function of bone, muscle, and ligaments in contributing to normal motion. Attention is paid to synovial joints as key linkage in the human mechanical system and how their movements are created and governed. The laboratory component of this course reviews the theory and application of physical examination and evaluation through the use of selected biomechanical instruments. Posture, gait and activity analysis are included.

3 credits

GMED 6013 (GMED 4013) Therapeutic Modalities

This course emphasizes the use of heat, cold, compression, traction and electrotherapeutic techniques in the management of patients with a variety of medical conditions. This course will stress a problem solving approach for the selection and application of appropriate procedures to manage pain, swelling, and limitations in motion and muscle weakness. Clinical decision-making will be practiced through the course to develop appropriate treatment strategies and applications for the use of these physical agents for initial treatment as well as treatment modification based on the assessment of physiological and physical responses to those interventions.

3 credits

GMED 6015 Pharmacology

Problem oriented approach to examining the most commonly used pharmacologic agents seen in clinical practice. Basic principles of pharmacodynamics and pharmacokinetics, along with pertinent physiology are presented. Practical aspects of dosing schedules, therapeutic effects, interactions and adverse reactions emphasized, especially as they apply to physical performance and safety.

GMED 6016 Orthopedic Clinical Medicine
This course presents an in-depth analysis of the muscle, bone, and joint structures, with emphasis on the orthopedic surgeon evaluation and medical management in the presence of illness, disease, trauma, overuse, and developmental and aging processes. Case studies will emphasize the clinician’s role in clinical decision-making, communication, individual and cultural differences, screening, examination, diagnosis, and prognosis, prevention and wellness, and the development of a plan of care. 2 credits

GMED 6017 Clinical Imaging
This course emphasizes the theory and utilization of basic clinical imaging in the management of patients with various and selected medical conditions. 2 credits

GMED 6018 Therapeutic Exercise
This course provides a foundation of knowledge and skills used to manage the majority of musculoskeletal problems using appropriate exercise principles and rehabilitative techniques. Additionally, this course will examine current concepts in strength and conditioning designed to assist individuals in achieving maximal performance without incurring injury. 3 credits

GMED 6019 Management of Musculoskeletal Problems I – Extremities
The management of musculoskeletal dysfunction is examined with emphasis on the development of analytical knowledge necessary to evaluate and treat musculoskeletal dysfunction. A problem solving model for intervention of peripheral joint dysfunction including medical screening, physical evaluation and goal setting will be stressed. Students will develop skill in mobilization techniques and integration of these techniques with therapeutic exercise and physical modalities. 3 credits

GMED 6020 Management of Musculoskeletal Problems II – Spine
The management of musculoskeletal dysfunction is examined with emphasis on the development of analytical knowledge to evaluate musculoskeletal dysfunction related to the spine. A problem-solving model for intervention of spinal joint dysfunction includes medical screening, physical evaluation and goal setting will be stressed. Students will develop mobilization techniques and integration of these techniques with therapeutic exercise and physical modalities. 3 credits

GMED 6021 Exercise Pharmacology
This course discusses the use of herbal medicine and performance-enhancing substances and provides insight into how drugs, chemicals, and hormones can affect physical performance. It looks into the extent and physiological dangers such substances can adversely alter biological function(s). 1 credit

GMED 6022 (GMED 4022) Basic Rehabilitation Procedures
Provides the student with an introduction to the principles of patient care. Students are introduced to physical examination skills including: goniometry, range of motion, manual muscle testing, reflex testing and sensory testing. Students engage in the proper fitting and use of assistive equipment for ambulation and ADL activities. 3 credits

GMED 6011 (GMED 4011) Human Physiology
Analysis of normal physiological function in the presence of disease or trauma affecting all systems. Information is presented at the tissue, organ and system level. Discussion will address changes in response to disease or trauma over the entire lifespan. 3 credits

GMED 6012 (GMED 4012) Neuroscience
This course will cover the basic structure, organization, and function of the central nervous system (CNS). Lectures and laboratories focus on understanding localization of function within specific structures and pathways of the brain and spinal cord, and typical syndromes associated with vascular accidents, trauma or diseases of the various parts of the CNS. 3 credits

GMED 6014 (GMED 4014) Exercise Physiology and Nutrition
This course integrates principles of nutrition and application to exercise. It examines the dietary practices used in pursuit of weight maintenance, health, and fitness. Also, presents the responses of the human body to normal and pathological processes. Emphasis is placed on the study of muscle physiology, metabolism, cardiovascular and respiratory adaptation, aging, thermoregulation, strength training, and exercise prescription. Application of evaluation procedures is provided thru the use of selected human performance instruments. 4 credits

GMED 6019 Internal Clinical Medicine
Survey of major classes of problems or diagnoses involving pathology of general medical conditions includes the presentation of patterns of practice in the specialties of general medicine. Use of clinical cases to present standard patterns of physician evaluation, diagnosis, intervention and communication/referral with other health care practitioners. 2 credits

GMHS 6110 Health Services Issues and Trends
An analysis of selected professional and policy issues affecting the present and projected healthcare delivery system. Issues concerning healthcare personnel, patients, healthcare technology, organizational structures and facilities, finance mechanisms and the role of government are stressed in relation to how they influence healthcare services and delivery. The course uses a blended instructional format by combining classroom instruction with virtual instruction. 3 credits

An intensive study of the basic principles and procedures utilized in the development of health professional curricula, as well as the instruction implemented with the health care facility and community. Students will learn the principles of curricula plans and component parts, and will be engaged in developing evidence-based curricula addressing the current and projected needs of health care and professional education. 3 credits
GMHS 6211 Institutional Culture and Human Relationships
Communication challenges in the diverse clinical and educational areas are identified as opportunities for organizational enrichment. Issues related to cross-cultural communication and gender, age and other diversity issues are examined, with a focus on the interdisciplinary perspectives and the relevant psycho-social dynamics inherent to developing sound leadership and staff relations. The course uses a blended instructional format by combining classroom instruction with virtual instruction. 3 credits

GMHS 6212 Finance in Healthcare
An exploration of the issues that healthcare leaders must understand and care about for institutions to survive during the continual reorganization of healthcare and its payment structures. Students will focus on leadership and policy aspects of various types of healthcare institutions, through examination and thought about the corporate form and requirements dictated by that form, starting with the concept of an integrated delivery system. Some topics will include: regulations, licensure and accreditation standards, corporate forms, health insurance reform, economic regulatory theory and cost containment, certificates of need regulations, Medicare and Medicaid providers, ERISA benefits and the Federal Right to Care. Material will be presented from the law and policy perspectives with emphasis on questioning the benefits and deficits of the current healthcare system in the US. Additional issues will include: reimbursement, DRG coding changes and insurance. 3 credits

GMHS 6230 Leadership, Theory and Practice
This course focuses on understanding key leadership theories (1920-present) and how they are practiced, particularly in health care organizations; examining critical variables related to the expression of leadership, such as, power, motivation and influence, context, gender, culture, emotional intelligence, and, teamwork; exploring students’ personal leadership capabilities through the use of assessment instruments, reflection, and feedback; and, planning leadership development activities. The course is organized as an action learning experience, with equal emphasis on reviewing concepts and engaging in activities in which learning emerges from acting, observing, and critically inquiring. The course uses a blended instructional format by combining classroom instruction with virtual instruction. 3 credits

GMHS 6240 Management and Leadership in Health Professions Education
This course challenges students to increase their knowledge and understanding of evidence-based management principles and practices, particularly in the four major functions of management (planning, organizing, leading and controlling), to expand their working knowledge of management terminology, and to explore key approaches and tools that managers utilize to influence organizational outcomes. The course uses a blended instructional format by combining classroom instruction with virtual instruction. 3 credits

GMHS 6301 Topical Seminar: Spring
Provides students the opportunity to participate in an in-depth, literature-based review of special topics. Integration of current information from research findings into clinical practice is a primary focus. Repeated enrollment is permitted when special topic is different. 3 credits

GMHS 6302 Topical Seminar: Summer
Provides students the opportunity to participate in an in-depth, literature-based review of special topics. Integration of current information from research findings into clinical practice is a primary focus. Repeated enrollment is permitted when special topic is different. 3 credits

GMHS 6303 Topical Seminar: Fall
Provides students the opportunity to participate in an in-depth, literature-based review of special topics. Integration of current information from research findings into clinical practice is a primary focus. Repeated enrollment is permitted when special topic is different. 3 credits

GMHS 6307 Integrating Technology and Education in Health Sciences
This course is designed for the healthcare professional/educator, and will expand one’s capacity to integrate today’s technology with teaching and learning strategies. An overview of the background on the technology’s role in education as well as the issues concerning implementation will be explored. An interactive approach to understanding and utilizing various hardware and software products is provided. Topics: networks, the Internet, email, advanced word processing, imaging, CD-ROM and related multimedia, and other applicable healthcare/research/education technologies. Students should be comfortable utilizing the computer, have access to the Internet and email, and be available to access SHU computers outside of class hours. 3 credits

GMHS 6409 Styles of Teaching and Learning in Health Professions Education
Study of alternative relationships in the teaching-learning process. Course experiences will be guided by the “spectrum of teaching styles,” a framework that delineates options in teaching and learning. Organizing students and subject matter; managing time, space and equipment; interacting with students; choosing verbal behavior; and creating cognitive connections with learners. 3 credits

GMHS 7110 Strategic Planning for Healthcare and Health Professions Education
This course focuses on methods related to strategic planning in healthcare institutions and health professions education programs. The methods include planning, implementing and evaluating clinical or educational outcomes. The course uses a blended instructional format by combining classroom instruction with virtual instruction. 3 credits
GMHS 7202 Issues in Motor Control: Reaching and Manipulation
This seminar is designed to advance the practitioner’s knowledge base and clinical decision-making skills in dealing with issues related to upper extremity control. Upper extremity control is explored using a multidimensional framework that highlights the contribution of the individual, task and environment to the organization and control of reach and manipulation across the life span. 3 credits

GMHS 7203 Issues in Motor Control: Gait
The course has been designed to advance the practitioner’s knowledge base and clinical decision-making skills in dealing with issues related to gait and lower extremity control. This course will examine: 1) contemporary theories of motor control as related to the acquisition, organization and control of locomotor skills, 2) changes in gait and lower extremity control across the lifespan, 3) effects of pathology on gait and lower extremity control, 4) qualitative and quantitative measures of gait, and 5) current treatment approaches used in rehabilitation. Literature from both clinical and experimental research provides the basis for classroom discussion designed to explore the implications of this information for clinical practice. 3 credits

GMHS 7306 Investigatory Methods in Electromyography
Designed to provide students with knowledge of EMG through a combination of data collection, analysis and interpretation, and discussion of relevant literature. Data acquisition and signal processing of various types of movements will allow the student to explore practical and theoretical issues affecting interpretation. Lab time outside of class period to collect and analyze the data is required to complete required course projects. 3 credits

GMHS 7316/7317/7318 Independent Study
This course provides the student with intensive study of a specialized area within the field of health sciences under the mentorship of a faculty member. Subject and credit hours will be arranged. Permission of departmental mentor is required. 1-3 credits

GMHS 7403 Philosophy of Science
This course introduces the student to a broad range of philosophical and sociological concepts in the development of the scientific and medical enterprises. While not a strict philosophy course, the reading encompasses many of the foundations of the body of modern philosophy of science, while at the same time drawing the student into historical readings on medical practice, biology, psychiatry, epidemiology, and mechanisms. Exploration of theory, hypothesis, probability and other related aspects of scientific inquiry are reviewed. Chaos Theory, Quantum Science and String Theory are explored at the end to provide a full spectrum review of scientific research processes. 3 credits

GMHS 7500 Intermediate Statistical Methods I
Part I - Nature of statistics. This is the first part of a two-part course sequence. The following topics are covered: descriptive statistics, graphical methods, measures of central tendency and variability, probability, correlation and regression. The SPSS Statistical Analysis package will be used throughout the course. 3 credits

GMHS 7501 Research Methods
This course is designed to provide students with an introduction to research in health care. An overview of the research process will be provided, with an emphasis on how a research question is formulated based on a review of literature and identification of an appropriate theoretical framework. Quantitative research design strategies will be presented. 3 credits

GMHS 7502 Research Project I
This course continues the introduction to research methods by focusing on qualitative research methods and survey research methods. In the qualitative section of the course, students will consider research elements that are unique to conducting qualitative research such as basic assumptions, sampling, data collection and analysis, and report writing. In the survey methods section of this course the primary focus is on development a survey instrument. Theoretical and practical issues related to the development, validation and implementation of research surveys will be addressed. Key issues include: question construction, questionnaire design, validating and piloting a new survey and survey data collection methods. 3 credits

GMHS 7503 Scientific Inquiry/Writing
This course focuses on the disarray in healthcare based on four distinct themes: 1) malpractice/quality of care; 2) bioethics/individual autonomy; 3) public health/right of...
GMHS 8001 Registration Continuation
Matriculated students in GPHS who are not taking any coursework during the Fall or Spring semester of an academic year must register for this course in order to maintain an active status in the program. Students must maintain contact with their advisers and be involved in the research forums while registered for this course. 3 credits

GMHS 8113 Principals of Motor Control and Learning
This course will contain three major topics. The first topic will explore the historical and current theories of motor control. Topics related to the control processes and mechanisms of skilled movement will be addressed. The students will be introduced to the techniques currently available to measure the kinetics and the outcomes of movement. In the second topic, students will learn about the variables that are most important for the learning of new movement behaviors. The third topic will explore issues related to the recovery of motor function such as neural plasticity, cortical reorganization and motor learning following brain damage. The student will have the opportunity to review the literature relevant to each of the topics and to observe and analyze the process and measure the outcome of a subject learning a novel motor skill. 3 credits

GMHS 8200 Topics in Articulation/Phonological Development and Disorders
Intensive study of selected topics regarding the development of articulatory and phonological processes in children and the development, nature, and clinical management and disorders of articulation and phonology. Topics will vary according to student needs. 3 credits

GMHS 8203 Topics in Language Acquisition and Disorders
Intensive study of selected topics regarding language acquisition and the etiology and clinical management of language disorders. Topics may vary according to student needs. 3 credits

GMHS 8206 Topics in Speech Analysis Methods and Instrumentation
Intensive review of, and practical exercises with, laboratory instrumentation for the analysis of acoustic and physiological characteristics of speech production. Topics may vary according to student needs. 3 credits

GMHS 8207 Topics in Speech Motor Control
Intensive study of selected topics regarding the neuromotor processes underlying normal speech production. Topics may vary according to student needs. 3 credits

GMHS 8400 Government Regulation/Scientific Inquiry and Grantsmanship
Various grants funding agencies, search tools, and University resources are covered, with an emphasis on identifying appropriate granting sources. Basic principles of grantsmanship and scientific writing, and strategies to improve funding potential are reviewed. Students will review grants in mock study sections. 3 credits

GMHS 8402 LabVIEW
This course will introduce students to the use of the LabVIEW computer programming language for the collection, manipulation and processing of data collected from instruments which measure various aspects of human movement. 3 credits

GMHS 8508 Practicum: Teaching Experience
Provides students the opportunity to integrate the goals of the program in a practical situation through the application of clinical, administrative or educational principles in a healthcare organization or institution of higher learning. The type of practicum and facility assigned depends on the student’s background and career goals. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor. 3 credits

GMHS 9305 Investigatory Methods in Biomechanics of Human Movement
Goals of this course are to develop an understanding of the variety of methods of data collection, data processing and analysis used in human movement research. Students gain an understanding of the concepts and techniques required in analyzing human movement. Develops the skills necessary to choose practical research questions and analytical methods concerning human movements. Lab time outside of class period to collect and analyze data is required to complete required course projects. Permission required. 3 credits

GMHS 9504 Dissertation I
Working with the committee, the student develops his/her study proposal. Areas emphasized include review of the literature, identification of problem statements/research question(s)/hypotheses, selection and application of appropriate methods, conducting a pilot study and consideration of protection of human subjects/IRB requirements. Includes reviews and critiques of sample proposals, mock proposal hearings and candidate presentations of draft proposals. This course culminates in the dissertation proposal hearing. 4 credits

GMHS 9505 Dissertation II
Working with the committee, the student conducts participant recruitment, data collection, analysis of the data and an initial draft of the study’s findings. Prerequisite: GMHS 9504, Dissertation I. 4 credits
GMHS 9506 Dissertation Advisement
The candidate will submit a completed dissertation and successfully orally defend the dissertation in a public forum. Candidates must adhere to all dissertation guidelines as specified by the program. Prerequisite: GMHS 9505. 4 credits

GMOT 6150(OTFY4150) Functional Anatomy and Kinesiology
This course focuses on understanding and analyzing typical and atypical human movement across the life span using anatomy and kinesiology principles. This course includes labs. 5 credits

GMOT 6160 (OTFY4160) Neuroscience for Occupational Therapy
This course covers body functions and structures of the nervous system, including the impact of impairment on activity and participation. 2 credits

GMOT 6170 (OTFY 4170) Occupational Therapy Practice Skills
This course introduces basic health assessment; client and provider safety; and demonstration and integration of occupational therapy practice skills. This course includes labs. 2 credits

GMOT 6180 (OTFY4180) Introduction to Occupational Therapy
This course introduces the students to the foundations of the occupational therapy profession. This course includes labs. 5 credits

GMOT 6100 (OTFY4100) Professional Formation I
This course focuses on the acquisition of professional knowledge and skills expected of graduate students in a professional program. 2 credits

GMOT 6250 (OTFY4250) Group Process in Occupational Therapy
This course integrates theories of group dynamics and leadership with the development and implementation of functional activity-based groups. This course includes fieldwork I experiences. 4 credits

GMOT 6260 (OTFY4260) Cognition, Perception, Vision and Function
This course addresses cognition, perception, and visual impairments; their impact on function; and principles of related occupational therapy assessments and interventions. This course includes labs. 3 credits

GMOT 6270 (OTFY4270) The Occupational Therapy Process
This course introduces the principles and implementation of the occupational therapy process. 4 credits

GMOT 7303 (OTFY4303) Research Methods I
This course addresses the use of quantitative methods to inform clinical practice and research. 3 credits

GMOT 6200 (OTFY4200) Professional Formation II
This course critically examines sociocultural and other contextual aspects of health and occupational justice. 2 credits

GMOT 6301 Health and Medical Complexities of Older Adults
This course examines common health conditions associated with older adults and how impairment impacts activity and participation. 2 credits

GMOT 6303 Evaluation of Older Adults
This course focuses on the evaluation and assessment of older adults. 2 credits

GMOT 6305 Interventions for Older Adults
This course integrates theories and interventions for occupational therapy practice with older adults. This course includes labs and fieldwork I experiences. 4 credits

GMOT 6750 Health and Medical Complexities of Adults
This course examines common health conditions associated with adults and how impairment impacts activity and participation. 2 credits

GMOT 6760 Evaluation of Adults
This course focuses on the evaluation and assessment of adults. 2 credits

GMOT 6770 Interventions for Adults
This course integrates theories and interventions for occupational therapy practice with adults. This course includes labs and fieldwork I experiences. 6 credits

GMOT 6780 Professional Ethics in Occupational Therapy
This course introduces principles of ethics and law for occupational therapy practice. 2 credits

GMOT 6700 Professional Formation III
This course continues to develop therapeutic use of self and clinical reasoning and introduces self-reflection. This course includes service learning experiences. 2 credits

GMOT 6850 Health and Medical Complexities of Children/Adolescents
This course examines common health conditions associated with children and adolescents and how impairment impacts activity and participation. 2 credits

GMOT 6860 Evaluation of Children/Adolescents
This course focuses on the evaluation and assessment of children and adolescents. 2 credits

GMOT 6870 Interventions for Children/Adolescents
This course integrates theories and interventions for occupational therapy practice with children and adolescents. This course includes labs and fieldwork I experiences. 5 credits

GMOT 6880 Wellness and Entrepreneurship I
This course examines emerging occupational therapy practices, program development, and processes associated with entrepreneurship. This course includes service learning activities. 3 credits

GMOT 7320 Research Methods II
This course addresses the use of qualitative methods to inform clinical practice and research. 2 credits
GMOT 6800 Professional Formation IV
This course advances clinical reasoning and self-reflection in clinical practice and in the community. This course includes service learning experiences. 2 credits

GMOT 6890 Wellness and Entrepreneurship II
This course applies concepts developed in Wellness and Entrepreneurship I course to community program and emerging practice areas. This course includes service learning activities. 4 credits

GMOT 6960 Health Care Policies and Organizations
This course addresses the practice and management of occupational therapy services across healthcare, education and community environments. 3 credits

GMOT 7013 Level II Fieldwork I
The Level II Fieldwork course requires students to integrate the roles of practitioner, contributor, and manager in a clinical setting. Time spent in clinical setting is equivalent to a full time job. 3 credits

GMOT 7023 Level II Fieldwork II
The Level II Fieldwork course requires students to integrate the roles of practitioner, contributor, and manager in a clinical setting. Time spent in clinical setting is equivalent to a full time job. 3 credits

GMOT 7000 Professional Formation V
This course focuses on transitioning into professional roles and continued professional development as practitioners and managers. 1 credit

GMOT 7033 Level II Fieldwork III (optional)
This optional Level II Fieldwork course requires students to integrate the roles of practitioner, contributor, and manager in an additional area. Time spent in clinical setting is equivalent to a full time job. 3 credits

GMPA 6001 (PAFY 4001) Human Anatomy
The course provides instruction to significant aspects of human anatomy with respect to physician assistant practice. Lecture instruction as well as prosected dissection in cadaver lab are methods used to convey material. Clinical application of anatomic structure and function are emphasized. 4 credits

GMPA 8604 Principles of Epidemiology
An introduction to the basic epidemiologic strategies and thinking. Epidemiologic sophistication fosters a questioning attitude; without it, medical practices may be introduced and accepted even though they lack adequate support from well-controlled studies. Students will be exposed to the variations that characterize acute/infectious and chronic disease epidemiology. Implications for primary care practitioners will be emphasized. This course is a hybrid course requiring online participation and attendance at class sessions. 3 credits

GMPA 6104 (PAFY 4104) Psychiatry
An overview of psychiatric concepts and an introductory approach to the evaluation of patients with emotional problems, in preparation for clinical rotations. Includes the various psychiatric syndromes, in terms of causal factors, clinical presentation, diagnosis, treatment and outcome. The impact that psychological problems have on the total health care of the patient will be emphasized. 2 credits

GMPA 6107 (PAFY 4107) Pathophysiology
Building upon the foundation provided in GMPA6111/PAFY4111, this course provides an in-depth study of the pathophysiologic changes which occur in the body in response to disease and injury. The course discusses how pathologic changes noted at both the cellular and organ system levels alter homeostasis. Correlation to the clinical aspect of disease is emphasized. 3 credits

GMPA 6108 (PAFY 4108) Health Maintenance and Education
Prepares students to provide preventive health care through the understanding of human development as it relates to illness, proper nutrition and health maintenance. Students will receive in-depth instruction in the principles of health maintenance from the Physician Assistant perspective. This course is a hybrid course requiring online participation and attendance at class. 2 credits

GMPA 6111 (PAFY4111) Human Physiology
This course provides an in-depth exploration of the physiologic aspects of homeostasis at both the cellular and organ system levels. Topics include the cell, musculoskeletal, cardiac, pulmonary, digestive, renal, endocrine, and reproductive systems. Open to physician assistant majors only. 3 credits

GMPA 6112 (PAFY 4112) Pharmacology and Clinical Therapeutics
An introduction to the therapeutic agents most commonly used in the practice of medicine. Emphasis will be placed on drug interaction, adverse reactions, therapeutic effects and dosage schedules. Demonstrates the practical application of the pharmaceutical science as utilized for the formulation of drug therapy decisions. The course will assist the physician assistant student to develop management plans for initiating routine drug therapy, writing prescriptions, monitoring drug therapy, and providing emergency drug therapy. 4 credits

GMPA 6203 (PAFY 4203) Introduction to Clinical Medicine I
This course introduces interviewing techniques and principles, psychosocial development and behavior, and the fundamentals of a complete medical history and physical examination. Proper communication between the physician assistant, other health professionals, and the patient are emphasized. Students are assigned to preceptors for the purpose of taking complete histories and performing physician examination on clinical patients. 4 credits

GMPA 6205 (PAFY 4205) Introduction to Clinical Medicine II
A continuation of GMPA 6203, this course provides instruction in the problem-oriented medical record format, techniques of focused-physical diagnosis, and clinical case analysis. Systems-based approach to signs and symptoms of diseases commonly seen in primary care are discussed. Students are assigned to preceptors for the purpose of further understanding of the patient-health care provider relationship and communication with other healthcare providers. An introduction to the concepts of evidence-based medicine and documentation are included. 4 credits

GMPA6206 (PAFY 4206) Electrocardiography
This course introduces students to analysis of the electrocardiograph. The course will review cardiac electrophysiology and indications for ECG testing. Students will learn how to perform a 12 lead ECG as well as how to analyze an ECG for rate, rhythm, axis, intervals, cardiac hypertrophy and ischemia/infarction. 1 credit

GMPA6207 (PAFY 4207) Diagnostic Imaging
This course introduces students to diagnostic imaging. Following an introduction to different imaging modalities and their indications, the course will progress through an organ system based review of normal radiographic anatomy and pathologic findings. 1 credit

GMPA6208 (PAFY 4208) Laboratory Diagnostics
This course introduces students to laboratory diagnostic testing. The course will review indications for testing, normal results, and common pathologic findings discovered in testing blood, urine, stool, cerebrospinal fluid, synovial fluid and other body fluids. Students will have the opportunity to practice laboratory procedures including phlebotomy, urinalysis and guaiac testing for occult blood. 2 credits

GMPA 7313 Clinical Transitions
Case-based and small student group centered course designed to guide students through the transition from textbook medical knowledge to clinically essential patient care elements of logical differential diagnoses and appropriate patient treatment plans. Using a problem-based learning strategy, students will be guided through the process of developing a differential diagnosis and treatment plan. 2 credits

GMPA 8604 Biomedical Ethics
The application of human and professional values, judgments and choices to selective ethical dilemmas that arise in practice. Emphasis will be placed upon various traditional and contemporary approaches to normative ethics within decision making models applicable to resolving professional dilemmas in the delivery of health care. Open to physician assistant majors only or permission by department chair. This course is a hybrid course requiring online participation and attendance at class sessions. 3 credits

GMPA 7312 Fundamentals of Clinical Medicine
Provides a comprehensive systems-based overview of various disease entities in preparation for clinical rotations. Students will gain in-depth knowledge of the etiology, clinical presentation, differential diagnosis, diagnoses and therapeutic approach to diseases processes. The specialties of internal medicine, surgery, pediatrics, and obstetrics and gynecology are addressed. 8 credits

GMPA 7404 Research Methods I
An exploration in the fundamental concepts of research in the health sciences. Problem finding, formulation of a research question, research methodology, design, and data collection and interpretation will be addressed. Ethical considerations in research will be discussed. Published research articles will be critically analyzed. At the conclusion of the course, the students will have developed the framework of an original study, which will be further developed in GMPA 8509 (Research Methods II). This course is a hybrid course requiring online participation and attendance at class sessions. 2 credits

GMPA 7500 Professional Seminar I
An organ-system based review course culminating in formative assessments of knowledge base and hands-on skills. 2 credits

GMPA 7501 Professional Seminar II
A continuation of GMPA7500, this is an ongoing organ-system based review course culminating in formative assessments of knowledge base and hands-on skills. 2 credits

GMPA 7502 Professional Seminar III
A continuation of GMPA7501, this is an ongoing organ-system based review course culminating in summative assessments of knowledge base and hands-on skills. 2 credits

GMPA 8000 Internal Medicine
Required clinical practicum in internal medicine. 4 credits

GMPA 8001 Surgery
Required clinical practicum in surgery. 4 credits

GMPA 8002 Pediatrics
Required clinical practicum in pediatrics. 4 credits

GMPA 8003 Obstetrics and Gynecology
Required clinical practicum in obstetrics and gynecology. 2 credits

GMPA 8004 Behavioral and Mental Health
Required clinical practicum in behavioral and mental health. 2 credits

GMPA 8005 Outpatient Medicine I
Required clinical practicum in outpatient medicine. 2 credits

GMPA 8006 Outpatient Medicine II
Required clinical practicum in outpatient medicine. 2 credits

GMPA 8007 Outpatient Medicine III
Required clinical practicum in outpatient medicine. 2 credits

GMPA 8008 Geriatrics
Required clinical practicum in geriatrics. 2 credits

GMPA 8009 Emergency Medicine
Required clinical practicum in emergency medicine. 2 credits

GMPA 8010-8012 Elective Rotations
Required elective clinical practice. 2 credits each

GMPA 8013-8015 Elective Rotations
Additional elective clinical practice. 2 credits each

GMPA 8509 Research Methods II
Provides experiential learning in the research process as students, working in groups and with a faculty advisor, bring the data collection process for a small scale study to completion. Data will be further analyzed and discussed in GMPA 8511 (Research Methods III). This course is a hybrid course requiring online participation and attendance at class sessions. 1 credit

GMPA 8510 Biostatistics
Provides an introduction to statistical research methods in health science as applied to study of distribution of disease in human population. The course is intended to develop students’ competencies in the application of the statistical techniques used to explore, describe, and analyze information for research or evaluation purposes. Topics include hypotheses testing, t-tests, analysis of variance, linear correlation and regression, nonparametric tests, and power analysis. An introduction to the SPSS statistical software is included. 2 credits

GMPA 8511 Research Methods III
The research process will culminate with a full analysis of data collected. Students will be asked to draw a conclusion using appropriate qualitative or quantitative analytic techniques and to present their findings to peers, faculty and clinicians through various media including a paper, poster and presentation. This course is a hybrid course requiring online participation and attendance at class session. 1 credit

GMPA 8603 Healthcare Policy
An overview of the health care industry and policies with information regarding the various topics related to the US health care delivery system. The impact that health care policy and managed care has on the total health of a patient will be discussed. The course is given in the Spring semester of the third professional year so that the student can incorporate clinical skills with an analytic perspective on those issues that drive the current health care system. This is a hybrid course requiring online participation and attendance at class sessions. 2 credits

GMSL 6007 Physiologic and Acoustic Phonetics
This course addresses physiological aspects of the ventilatory, laryngeal, supralaryngeal, and orofacial mechanism as it relates to normal speech production. The acquisition and analysis of aerodynamic and acoustic aspects of voice and speech will be reviewed along with its application to disordered speech assessment. 3 credits

GMSL 6009 Diagnostic and Clinical Principles
This course focuses on assessment in communication disorders as a problem-solving process. Students will develop knowledge and skill competencies in selection, administration, and analysis of testing materials as well as writing and interpreting clinical notes and reports for pediatric populations. The course will also cover review of policies, procedures, expectations, and professional behavior in the clinical environment. 2 credits

GMSL 6010 Child Language Development and Disorders
This course is an advanced study of the relationship between language development, cognitive development, and language impairment in pediatric populations from birth to five years of age. First, the course begins by giving the student a solid footing in typical developmental milestones as well as current theories of language development and disorders. Second, populations of children who demonstrate language impairment, including late talkers, Autism Spectrum Disorder, Down syndrome, and Preschool Language Impairment/Specific Language Impairment are explored. Third, the importance of the assessment process in determining a diagnosis, a prognosis, and recommendations for intervention are emphasized. Finally, setting of appropriate language goals and scaffolding of language performance in treatment sessions. Students will gain an understanding of how language development within culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds differs from language impairment. Students will become familiar with ASHA standards, ethics and scope of practice as it relates to language impairment and working with individuals from diverse cultural and language backgrounds. 4 credits

GMSL 6011 Speech Intelligibility and Its Disorders in Children
This course provides a strong foundation in the typical development of speech intelligibility and the knowledge and skills needed to assess and treat children with speech intelligibility disorders. Students will learn the developmental milestones related to speech intelligibility development and undergo a review of the normal anatomical and physiological process for producing intelligible speech and review IPA transcription. Students will expand their knowledge of the assessment, diagnostic and treatment aspects of pediatric speech intelligibility. Characteristics of special populations will also be considered. 3 credits

GMSL 6012 School Age Language and Literacy
This course will cover principles and practices relevant to the assessment and treatment of language and literacy disorders in school age populations including children and adolescents ages 5 to 21. The goal of this course is to equip students with the knowledge and skills that ASHA specifies as necessary for school-based speech-language pathology. Topics covered include: foundational knowledge in the structure of schools; screening, referral, and diagnostic procedures in school settings; collaborating on Individualized Education Plan (IEP) teams; developing evidence-based treatment plans that meet Individual with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) guidelines; and theoretical foundations for the treatment of language-based learning disabilities and literacy deficits. 3 credits

GMSL 6013 Adult Neuromotor Disorders of Communication
An overview of acquired disorders of speech motor planning, programming and execution in neurologically impaired adolescents, young adults and older populations. Special emphasis will be on the methods of assessment and rehabilitation for apraxias and dysarthrias. 2 credits

GMSL 6022 Biomedical Ethics and Professional Issues in Speech-Language Pathology
This course presents a study of the application of human and professional values, judgment, and choices to selected ethical dilemmas that arise in health care practice. The scope of practice and code of ethics in speech-language pathology will be explored; theories and styles of counseling and interviewing techniques used with communicatively-impaired individuals and their families will be included. This is a problem-based course presented through complex medical case studies relevant to the speech-language pathologist. Ethical clinical decision making models will be explored. 2 credits

GMSL 6141 Neuroscience
This course offers information pertaining to communication neuroscience. Communication neuroscience is a specialized sub-field of cognitive neuroscience that deals with the neural networks that support human communication. Special emphasis will be placed on topics such as the development, structure, function and pathology of the nervous system in relation to cognition, language and communication. 3 credits

GMSL 6518 Acquired Disorders of Language and Cognition
The focus of this course will be on theoretically-motivated protocols for diagnostic evaluation and treatment of aphasia. This course, in its entirety, will deal with the conceptual scaffolds of two major paradigms of thought in the field of aphasia, namely, the impairment approach and the social-functional approach. In addition, this course offers information on the cognitive-linguistic deficits in the right hemisphere damaged adults. 3 credits

GMSL 6521 Dysphagia
This course is an advanced study of the nature, etiology and physiology of the normal and disordered swallow across the lifespan. Instrumentation as it relates to the diagnosis of dysphagia will be presented. Treatment and clinical decision making will be highlighted. 3 credits

GMSL 6522 Early Intervention
This course is an intensive study of language impairment and speech and feeding delays and disorders in the infant-toddler population. Specific topics include federal and state mandates for service provision to infants and toddlers, transdisciplinary play-based assessment and intervention models, prematurity and developmental delay. 3 credits

GMSL 6523 Fluency Disorders
This course is an advanced study of the nature and etiology of stuttering and other fluency disorders. Current assessment protocols and evidence based intervention programs for pediatric and adult populations are emphasized. 3 credits

GMSL 6524 Augmentative and Alternative Communication
Assessment, treatment, and management of infants and children with speech motor disorders; intensive study of the interdisciplinary approach to augmentative and alternative communication; team approach to designing appropriate treatment plans, neurormotor management, environmental control, computer access and funding support. 3 credits

GMSL 6525 Voice Disorders
Intensive review of the anatomy and physiology of the vocal mechanism; normal and abnormal ventilatory and laryngeal function; identification, assessment, diagnosis, and outcome-based management of patients with functional, neurogenic, and organic voice disorders. 3 credits

GMSL 7001 Audiology and Aural Rehabilitation for the Speech-Language Pathologist
The objective of this course is to supply the prospective SLP with the information necessary to interpret and best utilize the results of an audiologic assessment, and enable them to plan and carry out appropriate intervention and management strategies. Students will be provided with the basic knowledge and skill necessary for performing audiologic screenings (pure tone, tympanometric and otocoustic emissions as per ASHA’s Scope of Practice for the SLP) as well as a working knowledge of evaluation procedures and interpretation of audiometric results; normal and abnormal hearing processes; appropriate treatment and referral. Communication assessment, intervention and management of children and adults with hearing loss will be addressed. Students will also gain an understanding of individualization of treatment/rehabilitation plans, the importance of family education and involvement, and collaborative interdisciplinary team models. 3 credits

GMSL 7002 Research Methods I
This course provides an overview of concepts as it relates to the question, design, and data analysis of a research study. The goal is to help students in developing skills that will make them better consumers of research. 3 credits

GMSL 7003 Research Methods II
The goal of this course is for students to use critical thinking skills in the evaluation of research in the field of communication sciences and disorders. Students will gain a clearer understanding in evaluating the efficacy of treatment and intervention studies across multiple areas within the field of speech-language pathology. Focus on evidence-based treatment models and single-subject designs will empower students to become better consumers of research. 3 credits

GMSL 7010 Traumatic Brain Injury
This course offers information pertaining to the effects of traumatic brain injury on human communication and cognition from a life-span perspective. Although a variety of communication disorders can result from traumatic brain injury, this course mainly highlights the cognitive and linguistic deficits in this population. Contemporary approaches to assessment and treatment of such disorders form the core of this course. 3 credits

GMSL 7013 Craniofacial Disorders
Study of the evaluation and treatment of speech, language, and feeding problems associated with cleft palate and other craniofacial disorders. 3 credits

GMSL 7039 Research Project I
Faculty-supervised research review or pilot project focusing on a single area within Speech-Language Pathology or Speech, Language, and Hearing Sciences. 2 credits

GMSL 7040 Research Project II
Faculty-supervised independent research on a single area within Speech-Language Pathology or Speech, Language and Hearing Sciences. 1 credit

Graduate Catalogue 2014-15
GMSL 7041 Clinical Practicum/Clinical Seminar I
Supervised clinical practicum in speech-language pathology with associated clinical seminar. 3 credits

GMSL 7102 Clinical Practicum/Clinical Seminar II
Supervised clinical practicum in speech-language pathology with associated clinical seminar. 2 credits

GMSL 7103 Clinical Externship
Advanced intensive supervised clinical practicum in speech-language pathology with associated clinical seminar. 5 credits

RGCN 8000 Registration Continuation
Students who are not in the dissertation phase, not on an approved leave of absence and not able to register for another course must maintain continuous program registration by enrolling in this course.

HCAD 6002 Research Methods and Statistical Analysis for Healthcare
This course reviews and applies research study design methodologies (quantitative, qualitative and mixed), as well as statistics for healthcare professionals and practitioners. Topics include descriptive and inferential statistics, issues in sampling and hypothesis testing, analysis of variance, and regression. Students use hands-on applications essential to developing, analyzing, and interpreting healthcare studies. Computer software is used for statistical analysis. 3 credits

HCAD 6005 Financial and Managerial Accounting and Costing in Healthcare
Provides a hands-on introduction to basic accounting and financial statements and their analysis for planning and decision-making. Emphasizes tools for analyzing financial statements as well as key management issues of profitability, liquidity and costing and pricing decisions. Recent changes in financial regulation of organizations as well as strategic management tools such as Logic Models and Balanced Scorecards are applied to support comprehensive understanding of financial planning, analysis and decision-making. 3 credits

HCAD 7513 Healthcare Management
This course studies the role of the contemporary healthcare manager with emphasis on identifying basic managerial skills and knowledge that contributes to effective healthcare administration. Course materials focus on contemporary knowledge, skills and real-world applications for management of diverse healthcare organizations. Prerequisite: HCAD 7521 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

HCAD 7514 Healthcare Financial Management
Designed to enhance both analytical and decision-making skills, this course covers financial analysis such as time value, risk and return, capital structure and cost of capital as applied to healthcare organizations and explores the use of equity and debt as part of financial structure. Understanding and application of financial analysis and related managerial decision making concepts, in turn will lead to the development of better stewards of scarce resources. This course has been designed to ensure that students understand, think through and correctly apply key financial concepts and processes to better manage healthcare organizations. 3 credits

HCAD 7518 Managing Community and Population Health Systems
Designed to examine the manager’s role, responsibilities and involvement in developing, implementing, and evaluating strategies for community health initiatives. Topics covered include community health assessment techniques, collaboration strategies, and the application of population management models for health promotion. Emphasis on managerial epidemiology (study of distribution and determinants of diseases) and its integration with health systems planning to meet local community needs. Prerequisite: HCAD 7521 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

HCAD 7521 21st Century Healthcare Systems
Provides a systematic overview of the structures and organizations in U.S. healthcare delivery systems with emphasis on interactions of governmental policy, authorities, delivery systems, financing of health care, regulation, competition, organizational innovations in healthcare services and alternate delivery strategies. Also examines stakeholder interests. 2 credits

HCAD 7522 Healthcare Policy
A major overview of current U.S. health policies and their implications with in-depth study of the policy process and analytical approaches to decision making. Special emphasis on the nature and role of healthcare policy studies in decision-making. Also includes an examination of comparative international systems. Prerequisite: HCAD 7521 or permission of instructor. 2 credits

HCAD 8514 Healthcare Economics
The study and application of economic process and methods pertinent to healthcare managers and policy practitioners. Traditional economic models pertaining to supply and demand, competition, market power, production function and efficiency are applied to the healthcare industry. Case studies reflect recent economic conditions and their application to real world management decisions. Prerequisite: HCAD 7521 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

HCAD 8517 Strategic Planning and Marketing in Healthcare Organizations
Study of the role, functions and application of strategic planning and marketing in healthcare organizations. Emphasis on the process of strategy assessment, development, and implementation and the unique aspects of healthcare services and service design/performance as they interact with marketing plans. Prerequisites: HCAD 6005, 7513, 7521, and 8514 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

Overview of legal issues associated with the delivery of healthcare and the legal pitfalls surrounding everyday practice and administration. Additionally, explores legal aspects of human resource administration in health care, as well as issues of liability and corporate responsibility. Prerequisites: HCAD 7521, 7513 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

HCAD 8521 Quality and Information Management Systems
This course provides an overview of quality improvement and information management systems for health care leaders. Quality performance management models, approaches, tools, and techniques are presented in the context of organizational culture and leadership. Management techniques applicable to the use of health information systems are discussed along with QI/QM applications and topics - computerized records, order entry systems, and electronic health care applications. Reviews current ethical, legal and policy implications and regulations. Prerequisite: HCAD 6002 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

HCAD 8523 Ethics in Healthcare Administration
This course offers students a basis for analyzing medical and healthcare ethics involving clinical practice, legal dimensions, and public policy. Personal, professional, and organizational ethical dilemmas and decision-making responsibilities are discussed in the context of contemporary healthcare factors and environment. 2 credits

HCAD 8531 Emergency Management and Health Security
As health professionals at all levels seek to understand the impact of natural and man-made disasters on health status, best practices for emergency management strategies are emerging. Using an all-hazards approach, this course provides an overview of emergency preparedness and its application to all aspects of a population’s health. Focuses on issues such as bioterrorism, food security, pandemics, and other related topics. Skills necessary for performing risk vulnerability assessments, developing emergency management plans, and crisis versus traditional operational processes will be covered. Prerequisite: HCAD 7521 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

This course provides an opportunity for intensive graduate study by examining the dynamic nature of leadership in the context of modern healthcare organizations. Students learn and apply leadership principles, theories, models and skills to enhance personal capabilities. Addresses ways of managing career decisions under conditions of accelerated change and focuses on the development of servant leadership skills. Prerequisites: HCAD 7513, 7514, 7522, and 8518 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

HCAD 7991 Internship
Designed for pre-service students or for those with fewer than two years of management experience, this course affords students an opportunity to learn management skills through onsite experience. The students must complete a minimum of 300 hours of managerial or administrative work under the tutelage of a healthcare administrator and complete all assignments associated with the internship. Seminar discussions link students’ real world experience with common human resource management topics. Requires instructor approval. 3 credits

HCAD 7992 Practicum
Consists of a 3-credit, group-consulting project related to an area of healthcare administration or management. The practicum typically requires the writing of a management report and the delivery of an oral presentation for the partner organization. All work is completed under faculty supervision. Requires instructor approval. 3 credits

HCAD 7993 Research Seminar
Designed for students currently working full time on a supervisory or management level in healthcare, this course gives each individual the opportunity to design and conduct a research project that focuses on a management or policy problem at his/her place of employment or in the public arena. The student presents methodology, results and recommendations both as a written capstone project and as an oral presentation. Requires instructor approval. 3 credits

HCAD 7997 Project Completion
This course is an independent paper or project based on an aspect of healthcare delivery, administration or policy. With the assistance of the instructor, the topic is of the student’s own choosing. The course provides an excellent opportunity for the student to delve more deeply into an area of healthcare which he or she has not previously studied, or to relate the curriculum to their workplace. The intended result of the project is for the student to make a contribution to his or her organization or profession. Requires instructor approval. 3 credits
Master of Science in Jurisprudence in Health, Science and Technology Law at Seton Hall University School of Law

Seton Hall Law School offers a Master of Science in Jurisprudence (M.S.J.) in Health, Science and Technology Law. The M.S.J. program provides professionals working in health care, information technology, telecommunications, pharmaceuticals and biotechnology with a solid foundation in the legal and regulatory aspects of these industries.

The M.S.J. degree is an extension of the Law School’s nationally ranked Center for Health & Pharmaceutical Law & Policy and the Gibbons Institute of Law, Science & Technology. The legal and regulatory challenges for professionals in health care, pharmaceuticals, biotechnology, information technology and telecommunications have never been greater. The M.S.J. degree provides these professionals with a better understanding of the laws that impact their professional responsibilities.

The M.S.J. provides a rigorous grounding in the law for students who do not want to become lawyers, but who, instead, want to use the law to enhance their effectiveness and marketability in a non-legal career. Combining this degree with their professional experiences, M.S.J. graduates have numerous opportunities available to them. Alumni work in a broad spectrum of positions as compliance officers, contract analysts, healthcare administrators, nurse managers, patent/trademark assistants, pharmaceutical financial analysts, quality assurance managers, supervisors, clinical operations directors and lobbyists. Courses are offered in the evening to accommodate working students. The Law School is conveniently located one block west of Newark Penn Station.

Admission Requirements
A candidate seeking admission to the M.S.J. Program must have at least a bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited college or university, or the foreign equivalent. The Admissions Committee prefers candidates who have professional experience in the health, technology, pharmaceutical, biotechnology, communications or related industries. Decisions are based on quality of undergraduate performance and, if applicable, graduate school academic records, ability to do superior work, and writing skills. Candidates are not required to take pre-admissions tests such as the LSAT, GRE or GMAT. Any applicant whose pre-college education was in a language other than English will be required to take the Test of English as a Second Language (TOEFL).

Enrollment in the program begins each June with a Summer class, The Legal System, Research and Writing I, followed by a course of study beginning in the Fall. Students who do not successfully complete the Summer course are not invited to continue in the program.

Admission Procedures
Interested applicants must apply directly to the Law School. Please contact the Center for Health & Pharmaceutical Law & Policy (973) 642-8871 to request information regarding the M.S.J. degree. Completed M.S.J. applications may be submitted online or mailed to the Office of Graduate Programs-Room 208, Seton Hall Law School. Please contact the Center for Health & Pharmaceutical Law & Policy (973) 642-8871 to request information regarding the M.S.J. degree. Completed M.S.J. applications may be submitted online or mailed to the Office of Graduate Programs-Room 208, Seton Hall Law School, One Newark Center, Newark, NJ, 07102, along with:

- $60 application fee payable to Seton Hall University;
- personal statement (as described in the application);
- résumé;
- official transcripts from all colleges/universities attended; and
- two letters of recommendation.

Financial Assistance
Financial aid may be available through the Federal Loan Program. For more information, please call the Office of Enrollment Services at (973) 642-8744.

Course of Study
The M.S.J. candidate must complete 30 credit-hours of coursework at the Law School. The M.S.J. candidate’s curriculum is substantially made up of required courses. The program begins each Summer with the 4-credit Legal System: Research and Writing I to orient the M.S.J. student to the tools of legal reasoning. Thereafter, the M.S.J. candidate must take two survey courses of 3 credits each, Business Law Survey and The Legal System: Research and Writing I, which are designed specifically to provide an overview of basic areas of legal study.

Upon completion of the second semester in the program, candidates must select the track they will follow: health law, intellectual property, or a combined track. The health law track will focus on legal, regulatory and ethical issues related to traditional healthcare industries and medical professions. The intellectual property track will focus on legal, regulatory and ethical issues related to science, information technology and telecommunications. Professionals working in the pharmaceutical or biotechnology industry are permitted to create a combined curriculum.

Students choosing the health law track will be required to take Health Law for MSJs: Patient Rights and Public Health, Health Law for MSJs: Health Care Organizations, and Constitutional Law Survey. Students choosing the Intellectual Property track will be required to take Intellectual Property and one of the following seminars: Copyright, Trademark and Unfair Competition or Patent Law.

Health LawTrack Core Courses
HLTH 7515 Health Law for MSJs I: Health Care Organizations
This course will examine the means by which patients gain access to health care and through which health care providers. It will include a study of private and public means of health insurance and different types of third-party payors, including Medicare, Medicaid, and managed care organizations. The class will also survey the organization of hospitals and other healthcare entities and introduce students to the issues, laws, regulations and accreditation standards essential to understanding the structure and permitted functions of healthcare entities. The course will introduce students to the physician-patient relationship, which includes understanding the confidentiality of medical information, informed consent, and the standard of care used for malpractice actions. 3 credits
HLTH 7517 Health Law for MSJs II: Patient Rights and Public Health
This course will examine the major legal and ethical issues surrounding patients' rights and varied approaches to medical practice and research. Topics will include medical decisions at the end of life, procreative rights and parenting issues, and the use of human subjects in medical research and drug development. The course will also examine alternative medicine and the means by which medicine is regulated. The class will also introduce students to a variety of public health issues. 2 credits

Health Law Track Electives
PUBG 7801 Administrative Law
This course studies the theory of administrative actions; administrative process; agency organization; determination and promulgation of the administrative regulations; right to notice and hearing; enforcement; judicial review; standing; and the Administrative Procedure Act. 3 credits
HLTH 9526 Bioethics
This seminar will introduce students to the principles and methods of bioethics analysis, and the focus on the way that the law deals with human reproduction and birth, human genetics, the definition of death, the process of health care decision-making at the end of life, physician assisted death, the regulation of research involving human subjects, the regulation of public health, and the just distribution of health care resources. 3 credits
HLTH 7528 Compliance Planning
The course will focus on the managerial and legal aspects of corporate compliance programs including the need for, and development of, an effective corporate compliance program. The course will examine government regulations, guidance documents and enforcement initiatives which have created a framework for modern compliance programs in the health care industry. In addition, the course will examine other laws and standards such as Sarbanes-Oxley and NYSE and NASDAQ listing rules which mandate certain elements of a corporate compliance program. The course will provide a practical overview of how to design, implement and manage a corporate compliance program, focusing on the essential “seven elements” of an effective program. Emphasis will also be placed on the incorporation of ethics into a compliance program with the goal of creating a culture of compliance within an organization. 2 credits
PUBR 7912 Disability Law
The 43 million Americans with disabilities are engaged in public activities on a daily basis. Many work, take public transportation, use public accommodations and government services. This course will examine the legal standards that guide the treatment of people with disabilities in many areas, including public accommodations, governmental services, and employment. We will examine the constitutional and statutory law in this area, and consider the public policy balance driving legal development in this area. A primary focus will be on the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, although we will consider other sources of law. We will examine such central concepts as the definition of disability, the remedies available for violations of disability rights law, defenses to claims of disability discrimination, and the jurisdiction of courts to consider private claims against government defendants. 3 credits
HLTH 7513 Drug and Medical Device Liability and Policy
The course will examine liability within the drug and device industries. It will cover liability based on inadequate warnings, state statutes that provide presumptions about medical product warnings, proximate cause in warning cases and how “over-promotion” permits imposition of liability despite the presence of an adequate warning. It will also examine whether design defect liability is applicable to FDA-approved drugs and discuss application of design and manufacturing defect theories to devices. The course will explore preemption of state law tort claims and provide an overview of FDA regulation of drugs and devices, including issues pertinent to litigation of the preemption issue. It will consider the absence of a private right of action under the Food Drug & Cosmetic Act, the implied preemption doctrine in pharmaceutical cases, and cover the case pending before the Supreme Court (to be argued Fall, 2010) in which the Court will rule on preemption of state law design defect claims under National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act of 1986. The course will address the issue of causation and different methods of proving causation, including use of epidemiological evidence and will address damages and remedies in medical products cases including the remedy of “medical monitoring” and the divergent ways in which the courts have analyzed and resolved claims for medical monitoring. The course will analyze mass torts where much of pharmaceutical and medical device litigation takes place including public events like a product recall or publication of a significant clinical study and will examine the difficulty of using the class action vehicle in the drug and device liability area for personal injury claims. The course will evaluate evolving approaches to settling mass-tort cases and their implications, including the settlements.
in the Dalkon Shield litigation, diet drug litigation and, more recently, Vioxx litigation. The course will look at how to allocate compensation among injured claimants, the question of limiting the size of the ultimate settlement, and ethical issues for defendants’ and plaintiffs’ counsel in devising settlements. The course will also analyze how well the current system works including whether the traditional litigation process works adequately in compensating injured claimants and deterring industry misconduct and will explore some of the arguments against the current system: that it negatively impacts innovation and investment in medical products and technology, increases the cost and decreases the availability of certain products and that it unequally compensates injured patients. Finally, the course will consider the alternatives to the current system and opportunities for tort reform in the drug and device arena. 2 credits

HLTH 8500 Food and Drug Law

This course provides an overview of the laws and regulations of the Food and Drug Administration that restrict the sale of unsafe, deceptive or unproven foods and drugs. The pre-market approval system governing drugs will be examined along with the debate about the length of testing. Other topics include the prescription status of drugs, consumer advertisements, and the impact of commercial speech protections. Major issues concerning food regulation are considered such as the appropriateness of a no-risk policy for carcinogens and the use of biotechnology in foods. The justification for the deregulation of dietary supplements will also be explored. The course aims to provide students with an understanding of the principal regulatory means used by the agency, such as rulemaking, and court enforcement. In addition students will be able to consider the appropriateness of schemes based on disclosure and those that impose additional restrictions. 2 credits

HLTH 8502 Health Care Access and Payment

This course examines the rapidly-shifting means by which patients gain access to health care, and through which sponsors of health coverage organize and compensate health care providers. It begins by surveying issues of health coverage across a social spectrum including the uninsured, those covered by Medicare, Medicaid and other government programs, and the privately insured. The course focuses on financing, administrative and legal structures through which quality, cost and access are balanced. It then discusses issues raised by the dominance of managed care systems of health finance and delivery, focusing on cost containment mechanisms. The course examines a range of statutory and common law devices employed to balance the interests of providers, payers and patients. It will survey such topics as tort claims against managed care plans, the “right” to health care, discrimination in health insurance, antitrust and fraud applications in health care finance and delivery, and the relationship between markets and regulation in health care delivery and finance. 2 credits

HLTH 8504 Health Care Finance

The financing of health care is a fundamental aspect of the U.S. health care system. Health care finance has grown and changed over the years and has become an increasingly complex and confusing mix of fragmented private and public mechanisms. The extent and rapidity of the changes that have taken place have created a number of problems which relate to such basic issues as: who provides care, where it is provided, what incentive exists, and who receives services. This course examines and explores the current issues and problems in health care finance policy and offers an in-depth study of the finance dimensions of specific topics (e.g., politics and players in health care financing: government, providers, payers and consumers; reimbursement methodologies; regulating and rate setting; etc.). 2 credits

HLTH 8505 Health Care Fraud and Abuse

The complex business of health care finance and delivery is increasingly structured by reference to an array of federal regulatory and statutory requirements. Attorneys reviewing relationships among the providers and between providers and payors must be familiar with the anti- kickback laws, the False Claims Act, Stark I & II, and RICO. This course examines the application of those laws in the context of commercial relationships, regulatory reviews, and criminal investigations and prosecutions. It also examines the burgeoning area of corporate compliance programs. 2 credits

HLTH 9511 Health Data Analysis & Advocacy

This seminar will train law students in quantitative and analytic skills related to law enforcement and advocacy. Though many of our examples will relate to cutting edge health law enforcement and compliance, we expect that students in nearly any regulatory or litigation context will find the skills taught both transferable and useful. Substantively, the seminar will focus on fraud and abuse detection tools and methods used by public and private health insurers. Procedurally, the seminar will train students in skills of data analysis, basic statistical and quantitative methods, and data visualization. Skills such as text summarization, chart drafting, and spreadsheet management will be explained and practiced. The course will feature examinations of the intersection of health law with e-discovery and computational legal analysis. The seminar will aim to enable students to: (1) excel as uniquely technically qualified attorneys at traditional firms; (2) leverage unique skill sets to compete for positions in compliance departments, revenue cycle management departments, and quality control divisions; and (3) understand cutting edge law enforcement tactics that will prove increasingly important in a world of predictive policing and algorithmic assessments of threats. 3 credits

HLTH 9530 Health Information Privacy and Innovation

This course will focus on the uses (and misuses) of health information compiled about patients, insureds, research subjects, and populations. Medical privacy law has focused on assuring the privacy, security, and accuracy of medical data. The post-ARRA and post-ACA landscape will include more concern about balancing privacy, innovation, access, and cost-control. The course will also examine the legal aspects of data portability, integrity, and accuracy. When two health records conflict, which takes priority? What is “meaningful use” of an electronic health record under ARRA, and how will regulators and vendors assure interoperability between medical records systems? The course will also cover innovators’ efforts to protect their health data systems using contracts, technology, trade secrecy, patents, and copyright, and “improvers’” efforts to circumvent those legal and technological barriers to openness. We will also examine pharmaceutical companies’ past and present strategies regarding the disclosure of their research, including non-publication of adverse results and ghostwriting of positive outcomes. Will a “reproducible research” movement, popular in the hard sciences, reach pharmaceutical firms? After covering provider data, we will turn to insurer data, including trade-secret protection of prices paid to hospitals, conflicts over the interpretation of disclosure requirements in the ACA, and state regulation of insurer-run doctor-rating sites. Post-HCQIA quality improvement programs will also be examined. All students will be required to write a comment on a current rulemaking on health records, data, or privacy (at agencies like FDA, HHS, or state health departments). They may incorporate the comment (with proper editing) into an AWR paper at their discretion. The course will emphasize creative, critical thinking about using state and federal law and regulation to advance clients’ interests and the public interest. 3 credits

HLTH 9525 Health Law and Governance
This seminar will explore the rise of new forms of governance and regulation and their implications for legal interventions in health care. Governments and international organizations around the world have begun to use new tools and processes to achieve public policies. These may involve the use of broad standards instead of fixed rules; rely on networks of policy makers, experts, stakeholders, non-government organizations, and patients for decision-making; and employ measurement and monitoring in place of mandates and sanctions. The goal is to consider different types of governance that are problem solving rather than controlling, coordinating rather than mandatory and bottom-up rather than top-down. The seminar provides an opportunity to learn about health law and governance in the context of analyzing case studies in using alternative regulatory approaches to contemporary health issues. The seminar will open with three classes that discuss theoretical and legal perspectives on health law and governance. Each student is expected to submit a two-page response paper to one of the three introductory classes. The remaining classes will use “case problems.” Each student will be expected to choose a case problem and present an analysis of alternative regulatory and governance approaches in class. Each case problem is based on the materials assigned for the course and solutions proposed will vary with the type of issue and the attitudes and interests of the student. All students are expected to actively participate in class discussions. 3 credits

HLTH 7529 Human Reproduction and the Law
This course will analyze the way that the law protects, limits and regulates the process of reproduction. It will review the possible definitions of personhood, the legal and ethical issues surrounding the recognition of human life, legal regulation of contraception, sterilization and abortion, “conscience” clauses in law, the law regulating assisted reproduction (including in vitro fertilization and related techniques, gestational surrogacy and cloning), fetal maternal decision-making, legal determination of parenthood and the distribution of the rights of parenthood, legal issues in human genetics, and the legal issues surrounding population control. 2 credits

HLTH 9509 The Law of Death & Dying
This seminar engages the student in an extensive study and analysis of empirical data, current statutes and cases as well as proposed changes to the law dealing with issues related to death and dying. Class topics include alternative definitions of death, organ donation, withholding and withdrawal of death-prolonging and life-sustaining treatment, advance directives, patient demands for futile treatment, the cost of end-of-life care, wrongful living, and physician-assisted death. 3 credits
HLTH 8508 Medical Malpractice
This course focuses on traditional principles underlying New Jersey medical malpractice law, using a practical and substantive approach to the subject. The course will explore the standard of care, expert-related issues, causation and damages, and the relationship between medical malpractice actions. The school attendance will be in effect for this course, and class participation is expected. 2 credits

HLTH 7511 Mental Health Law
Most basically, this course focuses on the way law treats those who are deemed mentally disordered. This “special treatment” will be explored in both the criminal and civil contexts. In the civil context, core topics such as the insanity defense, mens rea, and criminal sentencing will be deeply explored. In the civil context, the course focuses on the use of governmental authority to restrict or deprive individuals with a mental disorder of liberty or property by seeking to prevent future harm to self or others. The rules governing expert testimony, the right to refuse psychiatric medication, and competency determinations will also be examined. To provide a foundation for the legal analysis, the nature and treatment of mental disorders will be summarily explored. 2 credits

HLTH 9519 Nonprofit Organizations
This seminar examines state corporate law and the state and federal laws governing the taxation of non-profit health care organizations. It addresses issues of public charity, unrelated business income and private foundation status as they relate to corporate restructuring, financing, and joint ventures. 2 or 3 credits

HLTH 7522 Pharmaceutical and Medical Device Marketing and Compliance
This class will address the regulatory issues that pharmaceutical and medical device companies confront after drugs and devices have been approved by the FDA for market. The class will examine the pricing, marketing, reimbursement, anti-trust, and fraud and abuse issues that pharmaceutical and medical device companies must face. It will also touch on some intellectual property questions and privacy issues. 2 credits

HLTH 9515 Public Health Law
This seminar examines the structure of public health law, with emphasis on government responsibility and power, individual rights, and the relationship between the law concerning population and individual health. Topics will include responses to threats of terrorism, infectious disease, environmental threats such as tobacco and lead, and privacy concerns. 3 credits

HLTH 9517 Regulating Research with Human Subjects
This seminar examines the legal, ethical and public policy issues surrounding the use of human subjects in biomedical research, focusing on current controversies and efforts to reform the existing regulatory structure. The seminar begins with a historical examination of human subject research, but the bulk of the semester is devoted to critical analysis of the current system for overseeing human subject research. Throughout the seminar we consider how the regulatory system should take into account the changing relationship between academia, industry and government. 2 credits

Intellectual Property Track Core Courses
INDL 7301 Intellectual Property
This course is a survey of the law of patent, copyright, and trademark. It serves as an introduction to the scope of protection of ideas and creation of legal monopolies and provides a foundation in the area for those who intend to undertake further training in more specialized areas of proprietary rights. 3 credits

INDL 8301 Copyright
This course covers all phases of common law and statutory copyright including works subject to protection; securing protection; rights of copyright holder and succession to those rights by agreement and inheritance; international problems; and fair use and infringement questions. 3 credits

INDL 8303 Patent Law
This course undertakes an intensive examination of the nature of patents and questions of patent validity and procurement, primarily for those intending to specialize in the patent area in their future practice. It includes: nature of patent property; problems in the procurement of patents including filing date, obtaining and maintaining; international practice and problems; patent office practice; problems of validity including novelty, utility and non-obviousness; and transfers of property rights in patents. 3 credits

INDL 8302 Trademark and Unfair Competition
This course treats common law and statutory protection of ideas, trade secrets, and trademarks, including: acquisition and loss of trademark rights; registration and licensing; problems of infringement; dilution; misappropriation of trademark; fair use and internet use of trademarks; and related remedies. 3 credits

Intellectual Property Track Electives
INDL 7315 Biotechnology & the Law
Counseling new or small businesses on intellectual property issues is challenging. They have limited resources, and often have personnel who are not familiar with the intricacies of intellectual property laws. However, without effective counsel, they will fail to maximize the value of their own intellectual property and run the risk of being shut down because they violate someone else’s rights. Using a hypothetical biotechnology company, this course will navigate a series of complex intellectual property issues that counsel for a start-up company will likely confront. For each of the topics, students will review the current state of the law and explore ways to respond to the concerns and questions of employees of the hypothetical company. 2 credits

INDL 7310 Communications Law & Policy
This lecture provides an intensive study of the law and public policy relating to communications, with special emphasis on telecommunications. We will study the history and structure of the telecommunications industry in the United States, and... recent developments toward creating competition in formerly monopoly markets. We also will review the sources of communications law and policy (federal and state agencies and courts), explore a layman’s understanding of the technical network fundamentals, and evaluate content issues. We will discuss practical client concerns as they evaluate entry into new lines of business and defending existing lines of business from competitive threat. 2 credits

INDL 9234 Information Privacy Law
In recent years new information technologies have greatly transformed our everyday lives. The effects of these technologies on our personal privacy have become a particularly pressing matter under constant scrutiny in both the popular discourse and the law-making process. This seminar will focus among other topics on: (1) Internet privacy, including issues related to anonymity, commercial profiling and spam; (2) Health and genetic privacy, including issues related to medical records, confidentiality of physician-patient relationships, DNA databases and genetic discrimination; (3) Law enforcement privacy, including issues related to wiretapping, surveillance, and counter-terrorism and post 9/11 reactions. In the seminar we will examine the effect of technological change on our social conceptions of privacy and evaluate the legal reactions to these changes. 3 credits

INDL 9329 Intellectual Property and Global Public Health
The seminar will consider the intersection of intellectual property rights and global public health. Issues to be discussed may include, for example, the impact of patents on access to essential medicines, compulsory licensing and pandemic preparedness, proprietary and open access publishing models for scientific and technological information, economic incentive theory and healthcare innovation, biodiversity and the protection of indigenous genetic information, and the relationship between intellectual property and healthcare finance. Students will be required to participate in discussions of weekly readings and to submit a paper on a topic, to be approved by the professor, related to the themes of the course. 3 credits

INDL 9317 Intellectual Property Licensing
The seminar will provide a comprehensive study of all aspects of intellectual property licensing and related issues. Students will analyze and draft various trademark, copyright, music, software, patent and technology licenses, and develop related negotiation skills and litigation strategies. The focus will be practical and will show how value can be unleashed in intellectual property assets through licensing. 2 credits

INDL 8309 Internet Law
This course surveys legal issues related to the use and misuse of global electronic networks including the Internet. Topics to be discussed include: regulation of digital content; privacy and control of personal data; legal and constitutional implications of public key infrastructure; and regulation of electronic commerce. 3 credits

INDL 9310 Patent Application Preparation and Prosecution
This seminar develops the writing and analytical skills required to draft applications for United States patents. Patent claim drafting skills are not undertaken in this course. Patent prosecution techniques, however, including evaluation of Patent and Trademark Office Official Actions and preparation of responses to these Official Actions are studied. There also is practice in drafting appellate briefs for submission to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. 2 credits

INDL 9305 Patent Claim Drafting
This drafting seminar will focus on the “claim” or “claims” appended to a patent specification. The claim defines the scope of the grant, or the technical extent of the exclusive privilege the patent accords to its owner. Claim drafting assignments will be distributed to the students before each class. Each student’s work will be reviewed on an individual basis, with rewriting and revision as needed. 2 credits

INDL 9322 Trademark Registration
Federal registration provides important benefits to trademark owners. Registration work is a staple of many law firm and in-house intellectual property practices. This class will cover the basics of trademark registration practice, from selection of a mark and initial screening through opposition proceedings. Assignments will include hands on drafting of opinion letters, registration papers, and pleadings drawn from real-world examples. 2 credits

INDL 8302 Trademark and Unfair Competition
This course treats common law and statutory protection of ideas, trade secrets, and trademarks, including: acquisition and loss of trademark rights; registration and licensing; problems of infringement, dilution, and misappropriation of trademarks; fair use and Internet use of trademarks; and related remedies. 3 credits

Historical Overview

Nursing courses were first offered by Seton Hall University in 1937 with an enrollment of eight students. Each of these students received a bachelor’s degree in nursing education in 1940, at which time the School of Nursing Education was organized as an autonomous division. From this small beginning the College of Nursing has grown and now serves over 1,000 students annually.

Seton Hall University has continued to recognize the complexity of modern healthcare delivery and the educational...
Faculty Preparation

Faculty teaching courses in the Graduate Nursing Division hold advanced degrees in nursing. All of the full time faculty possess an earned doctoral degree and most are actively engaged in research.

Faculty seek to disseminate nursing knowledge through the provision of consultation as accreditation visitors and through scholarly presentations at the state, national and international level. They also promote scholarship through publications and service on the editorial boards of refereed journals.

In keeping with the College of Nursing’s belief in the importance of active involvement in professional and community activities, many members of the College of Nursing faculty and administration are active with and hold positions of leadership in a variety of professional organizations.

In addition, many clinical faculty have advanced certification in their areas of practice, exemplifying the College’s belief that excellence in teaching demands expertise in practice.

Master’s Level Entry Program: Clinical Nurse Leader

The Master’s Level Entry Program (Clinical Nurse Leader) is an accelerated master’s level program into professional nursing practice for students with a non-nursing baccalaureate degree. Graduates of this program are prepared for professional nurse licensure (NCLEX-RN) and AACN’s certification as Clinical Nurse Leaders. These graduates are prepared to provide direct patient care as well as lead the nursing team in acute care, long term care and in community settings.

Master of Arts Program in Nursing Education

M.S.N./M.A. Program

preparation needed to meet these challenges by initiating a graduate level master’s degree program in nursing in September 1975, a Ph.D. program in 2006, and a D.N.P. program in 2009. The M.S.N., DNP and post MSN/APRN Certificate programs are fully accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE), and the Ph.D. in Nursing and the D.N.P. programs meet all University requirements for doctoral education.

The American Associations of Colleges of Nursing decision in October 2004 adopted the goal that preparation for specialization in nursing should occur at the doctoral level by 2015. In alignment with this goal the College of Nursing offers the Doctor of Nursing Practice as a post masters option at this time. It is anticipated that by 2019 the Doctor of Nursing Practice program will be the only option at Seton Hall University for preparation for advanced practice nursing and will encompass the current M.S.N. curriculum.

College of Nursing Mission Statement

The College of Nursing’s mission is to educate generalists and specialists in nursing at the undergraduate and graduate levels respectively. Undergraduate and graduate curricula exist within a university community that embraces a student body enriched by cultural, ethnic, and racial diversity where religious and ethical commitment and academic freedom are valued. The College of Nursing aims to cultivate values in its students and graduates that enable a commitment to lifelong learning, service and leadership for the greater good of the global society.

Graduate Philosophy

The faculty of the College of Nursing believes that graduate education is achieved in a values-centered environment with diversity of educational and technological resources, and professional experiences that foster creative inquiry. Graduate level programs prepare students for entry into professional practice and/or advanced role development.

The faculty believes that graduate students in nursing initiate, as well as contribute to, change directed toward improving the quality of nursing care, education, and leadership. They develop skills in analyzing the economic forces of health care and in influencing the sociopolitical process as a means of affecting health care at local, national, and global levels. Collegial relationships among students and faculty at the College of Nursing are encouraged in an atmosphere that fosters scholarly achievements, continued development of critical thinking skills, and self-actualization.

The philosophy of the graduate nursing program is the basis for the development of the following outcomes. At the conclusion of the programs, the students will:

1. communicate in a scholarly manner;
2. demonstrate advanced critical thinking and decision making skills;
3. use best evidence to advance practice; and
4. act as a servant leader in a global society.

Bridge Program
For eligible registered nurses with a non-nursing BA/BS prior to enrolling in the M.S.N. program

Academic Information

Academic Standards
The following academic standards apply to all students enrolled in the Graduate Program.

1. Students are required to maintain a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of at least 3.0.
2. Students receiving a first grade of “C” or “C+” in any course and/or a GPA less than 3.0 are not in good academic standing. Students are required to contact their adviser immediately.
3. If students earn a second grade of “C” or “C+” in the same or subsequent semester they will be dismissed from the program.
4. If students receive a grade of “F” in any course, they will be dismissed from the program.
5. Students must have a minimum GPA of 3.0 to graduate.

Leave of Absence
Requests for a leave of absence should be sent to Enrollment Services, Office of the Registrar, with a copy to be sent to the program director, and the student’s academic adviser. Upon return to the University, the student must notify and meet with the program director. Students who have an interruption in their practicum sequence are required to develop a remediation plan with their adviser to assure success in their program. This is developed on a case by case basis. Such plans may include skill evaluation, additional studies and clinical practicum hours and fees. Students are advised to review the university catalog requirements for Leave of Absence.

Continuity
Students in the Master’s degree programs who do not register for courses in the Fall and Spring semesters (as well as the semester of graduation) must register for ‘Registration Continuation’ (RGCN 8000). Students who are not registered in courses and are resolving incomplete grade requirements in order to qualify for their degree must also register for RGCN 8000. Failure to register without being granted a leave of absence is interpreted as withdrawal from the program.

For doctoral programs, please see specific program requirements.

Add/Drop Policy for Students Enrolled in Clinical Nursing Courses
A student is not permitted to change from one clinical course to another once the semester has started.

Status of Students

1. Matriculated students in the Master’s programs may take up to six years to complete the requirements. Students in the Ph.D. and D.N.P. programs may take up to 10 years to complete the requirements.
2. Nonmatriculated students in the master’s and D.N.P. programs may not take more than 6 graduate credits. Nonmatriculated master’s students may only enroll in NURS 6123 Theoretical Basis of Nursing and/or NURS 6124 Forces in Health Care prior to application. Enrollment as a nonmatriculated student does not guarantee admission. Students are considered to be matriculated at the time they are offered official acceptance into the program and accept the offer. Students in the Clinical Nurse Leader and Ph.D. programs cannot register for any course before official matriculation.
3. Students who wish to change their nursing major within the graduate programs must consult with the program director from the current program and the program director from the desired program within the College of Nursing.
4. Registering for a course during pre-registration does not assure admission into the course.
5. Undergraduate students may be permitted to register for NURS 6123 Theoretical Basis of Nursing and/or NURS 6124 Forces in Health Care in their last two semesters of undergraduate study if they have a cumulative GPA of 3.5 at the time of enrollment in the course(s).

Financial Aid
In addition to aid available through Enrollment Services, graduate nursing students may be eligible to apply for aid through the Associate Dean of Administration and Business Affairs in the College of Nursing. Scholarship, loans, and/or any traineeship funding opportunities are posted on the graduate student Blackboard sites with application deadlines and forms.

Honor Society
Eligible graduate nursing students may be invited to apply for membership in the Gamma Nu Chapter of Sigma Theta Tau, International Honor Society of Nursing. Refer to the Graduate Student Handbook for further information.
Learning Resources

The College is one site where didactic instruction is provided and has its own building, with classrooms designed to accommodate various class sizes and teaching strategies, such as seminar rooms, small to large classrooms and an amphitheater seating 150 people.

The College has a sophisticated Patient Care Simulation Learning Laboratory equipped with a patient care simulator, a full range of physical examination and treatment equipment, as well as audiovisual materials. Students use the laboratory to reinforce preparation in advanced physical and psychosocial assessment skills.

A wide variety of clinical sites are used to prepare students with the advanced nursing knowledge and skills necessary for their roles as educators, administrators or advanced nurse practitioners.

Graduate Nursing Programs

Ph.D. in Nursing Program

The College of Nursing offers a 48 credit plus dissertation advisement credits, post master’s in nursing program curriculum leading to the Doctor of Philosophy in Nursing (Ph.D.) degree. The Ph.D. in nursing curriculum is composed of core and related course requirements in knowledge development in nursing science, research methods, select cognates, and dissertation advisement. These courses may be taken from within the College of Nursing or from designated course offerings from other schools and colleges within the University with permission of the program director.

Students will identify a research concentration, which will culminate in a doctoral dissertation focusing on theory development and testing in academic, research, clinical practice, or healthcare administration. The primary goal of the Ph.D. in nursing program is to prepare nurse scholars for a lifetime of intellectual inquiry, creative scholarship and research.

Criteria for Admission

The following are required for admission to the Ph.D. in Nursing Program:

- graduate of an N.L.N.A.C. or C.C.N.E. accredited master’s program in nursing with a minimum of 3.0 GPA;
- résumé or curriculum vitae;
- statement of career goals and research interests;
- two letters of recommendation from nurse professionals;
- writing sample;
- official transcripts from all post-secondary colleges and schools attended, both undergraduate and graduate;
- satisfactory score on the Graduate Record Exam (GRE) within the past 5 years;
- documentation of professional nursing licensure within the United States and be eligible for New Jersey R.N. License;
- TOEFL scores and WES reports for all nurses educated outside the United States and/or educated in a language other than English; and
- application fee of $75.00.

Selected candidates will be invited for a personal interview.

Pre-Dissertation Advisement

Students will be assigned to an academic adviser upon admission to the program, based upon the student’s area of interest. Once a dissertation committee is selected, the chair of the dissertation committee will assume the responsibility of academic advisement.

The academic adviser or dissertation committee members must approve selection of cognates. The cognate courses support the topic of the dissertation and/or research methods. Students are carefully advised to identify a research concentration early in the doctoral program to facilitate appropriate course choices.

Ph.D. Candidacy Requirements

Students must qualify for candidacy in the doctoral program through participation in a scholarly dialogue that includes the development and presentation of a comprehensive concept paper to a faculty committee. Students must pass candidacy before beginning the dissertation sequence.

Eligibility for Candidacy:

1. Matriculation: Only doctoral students who are fully matriculated are eligible for the Candidacy Examination. Matriculation occurs at the first registered semester.
2. Good academic standing: All doctoral students are required to have a cumulative, doctoral minimum grade point average of 3.0 to qualify for the Candidacy Examination.
3. Candidacy Examination application must be filed within one year of completing NURS 8701 and before taking NURS 9900.
4. Scheduling of a candidacy oral presentation is determined based on student eligibility and faculty and student schedules.

Continuous Registration for Ph.D. Students

Doctoral students who are engaged in preparation for, or have passed candidacy, but have not completed Dissertation Seminar (NURS 9902) must register for the 1 credit Continuing Ph.D. Advisement course (NURS 8000 - 8008) each semester they are not registered for any other 3 credit course.

Doctoral students who have passed candidacy and have completed Dissertation Seminars I or II (NURS 9902 or 9903), with or without having successfully passed dissertation proposal review, must continuously register for a Dissertation Advisement course (NURS 9904-NURS 9912 plus) during any semester in which they are not registered for any other 3 credit course, until the dissertation is completed and the final oral defense of dissertation is passed and any required revisions have been made to the satisfaction of the chair and committee members if required, post-defense. If the dissertation defense is completed successfully in a given semester, and any required revisions have been completed post-defense in that semester, but the student does not officially graduate until the next semester, then the student must register for THCN 8999 Thesis Continuation for the semester in which graduation occurs. Students also should refer to the general University Catalog statements on continuity with regard to leaves of absence and continuation. Failure to register without being granted a leave of absence constitutes resignation.

Dissertation Defense and Graduation Dates

The candidate must submit a dissertation oral defense application and the required number of copies of the completed dissertation document to the Ph.D. program director four weeks prior to a scheduled oral dissertation defense. Ph.D. dissertation dates in the College of Nursing will be limited to the Fall or Spring semesters of the academic year and comply with the Seton Hall University submission deadlines and procedure dates for Fall or Spring graduates. (Refer to this graduate catalogue for graduate program academic policies that pertain to application, submissions, and doctoral defenses.) For additional information specific to all Ph.D. in Nursing Candidacy and Dissertation processes, please refer to the Ph.D. in Nursing Document Binder, available to all Ph.D. in Nursing students through the Ph.D. office in the College of Nursing.

Time Limit for Ph.D. Degree Students

Candidates for the doctoral degree in nursing are expected to fulfill all requirements for the degree within ten years of matriculation. The time period of an authorized Leave of Absence is not counted toward the degree time limit.

V. All Ph.D. students will take a minimum of six additional cognate credits. Some students may require additional courses to develop an area of expertise or research interest. Total Program Credits: A minimum of 48 credits, plus continuous dissertation advisement (which does not count toward the 48 required credits). The total number of credits required to graduate is determined by the academic needs of the student.

Doctor of Nursing Practice Program

The College of Nursing offers a 31 – 37 credit program for the student who has completed an M.S.N. with a major in Advanced Practice Nursing (Direct Care) or Health Systems Administration (Indirect Care) [71 – 77 credits for the post B.S.N. applicant] leading to the Doctor of Nursing Practice (D.N.P.) degree (M.S.N./D.N.P. for post-baccalaureate students). The program prepares graduates to improve the health care of diverse populations through application of research, analysis of health care systems and leadership in development of practice models, health policy and standards of care. The D.N.P. curriculum is comprised of core course requirements in theory and research, and didactic and practice course requirements in a chosen specialty area, either Advanced Practice Nursing (APN) or Health Systems Administration (HSA). These courses are offered within the College of Nursing as well as at other schools and colleges in the university.

The D.N.P. requires a total of 1,000 hours of post-baccalaureate supervised clinical practice and will culminate in completion of a Scholarly Project. Applicants with an M.S.N. degree who major in APN or HSA will be evaluated on a case by case basis to determine required coursework and clinical hours.
Upon completion of the D.N.P. program the graduate will be able to:

- Evaluate and apply conceptual models, theories, and research in order to improve health care of diverse populations
- Analyze the social, economic, political, and policy components of health care systems which affect care planning and delivery.
- Assume leadership roles in the development of clinical practice models, health policy, and standards of care in order to advance health care
- Integrate professional values and ethical decision-making in advanced nursing practice.
- Systematically investigate a clinically focused area of nursing.

Criteria for Admission
The following are required for admission to the D.N.P. Program:

- graduate of an A.C.E.N. or C.C.N.E. accredited Baccalaureate or Master’s Program in Nursing with a minimum of 3.0 GPA;
- résumé or curriculum vitae;
- personal statement (not more than 1,000 words) outlining career goals and objectives, career progress and area of interest for Scholarly Project;
- portfolio - Hard copy examples of scholarly work and achievements;
- two professional letters of recommendation;
- official transcripts from all post-secondary colleges and schools attended, both undergraduate and graduate;
- satisfactory scores on the Graduate Record Exam (GRE) taken within the past 5 years. This requirement may be waived with a 3.5 or higher GPA

The following areas of undergraduate study must be completed prior to the first graduate course in nursing and are not credited toward the graduate degree: Statistics, Nursing Research and an Undergraduate Physical Assessment course. Nurse practitioner students must complete a basic physical assessment refresher course no more than three years prior to enrolling in Practicum I.

- documentation of professional nursing licensure, CRNP license (if applicable) and specialty certification (if applicable) within the United States;
- TOEFL scores and WES reports for all nurses educated outside the United States and/or educated in a language other than English; and
- application fee of $75.00.

Selected candidates will be invited for a personal interview

Prior to enrollment in clinical courses, accepted students must complete Joint Commission and OSHA requirements for immunization, medical history, liability insurance, criminal background check and competencies including the American Heart Association Certification course for CPR (BLS for Healthcare Professionals).

Pre-Scholarly Project Advisement
Students will be assigned to an academic advisor upon admission to the program based upon the student’s area of interest. Students will choose the role they prefer, Advanced Practice Nursing or Health Systems Administration, and identify how they want to put their knowledge into practice in that health care arena. Once a Scholarly Project committee is selected the chair of the Scholarly Project committee will assume the responsibility for academic advisement for the student.

D.N.P. Scholarly Project Approval Process and Requirements
Students must qualify for Scholarly Project Approval in the D.N.P. program by first satisfactorily completing the Scholarly Project Dialogue, which is the formal presentation of a project related to professional practice to a faculty committee. Students must receive written approval for the Scholarly Project before they begin to implement it.

Eligibility to apply for Scholarly Project Dialogue:
1. Matriculation: Only D.N.P. students who are fully matriculated are eligible to qualify for the Scholarly Project.
2. Good Academic Standing: All D.N.P. students are required to have a minimum cumulative, post master’s grade point average of 3.0 to qualify for the Scholarly Project Dialogue.
3. Scholarly Project Dialogue application must be filed before taking NURS 9922, Scholarly Project I.
4. Scheduling of a Scholarly Project Dialogue is determined based on student eligibility and faculty and student schedules

Continuous Registration for D.N.P. Students
D.N.P. students who completed Scholarly Project Dialogue, received approval for their proposed Scholarly Project and completed the Scholarly Project I and II course sequence must register for a one-credit Scholarly Project Advisement course (NURS 9924 - 9935) each semester until they have satisfactorily completed and defended the Scholarly Project. Students should also refer to the general University catalogue statements on continuity with regard to Leave of Absence and Continuation. Failure to register without being granted a leave of absence constitutes resignation. Students must complete all degree requirements within ten years of matriculation

Master of Science in Nursing Programs

The College of Nursing offers seven 30-46 credit majors leading to the Master of Science in Nursing degree. Areas of concentration include Advanced Practice Nurse: Pediatric Nurse Practitioner Primary Care; Pediatric Nurse Practitioner Acute Care; Adult/Gerontological Primary Care Nurse Practitioner; Adult/Gerontological Acute Care Nurse Practitioner; Women’s Health Nurse Practitioner; Health Systems Administration; Case Management/Health Administration and Master of Science in School Nursing.

Criteria for Admission:

• baccalaureate degree with a major in nursing from an N.L.N.A.C. or C.C.N.E. accredited program;
• cumulative GPA of 3.0 or above, plus a “B” average in all nursing courses;
• statement of professional goals;
• registered professional nurse licensure in U.S. state of practice and in New Jersey if clinical performed in New Jersey;
• professional liability insurance; and
• letters of reference (one professional, one academic).

Selected students will be invited for a personal interview. Prior to enrollment in clinical courses, accepted students must complete Joint Commission and OSHA requirements for immunization, medical history, liability insurance, criminal background check and competencies including the American Heart Association Certification course for CPR (BLS for Healthcare Professionals).

It is recommended that nurse practitioner track applicants have a minimum of at least one year of nursing experience, prior to enrolling in practicum courses.

Academic Prerequisites

The following areas of undergraduate study must be completed prior to the first graduate course in nursing and are not credited toward the graduate degree: Statistics, Nursing Research (if undergraduate program was completed prior to 1982) and an Undergraduate Physical Assessment course. Nurse practitioner students must complete a basic physical assessment refresher course no more than three years prior to enrolling in Practicum I.

Degree Requirements

For the Master of Science degree, satisfactory completion of 30-48 credits in the following areas is required:

Clinical Instruction

Clinical instruction in all majors of the graduate program follows the preceptorship model. At sites serving as placements for development of students’ clinical and functional role expertise, agency personnel collaborate with the faculty in identifying master’s and doctorally prepared personnel within the agencies who serve as onsite preceptors. Under this collaborative model of instruction, students’ learning experiences are guided and enhanced by the faculty members who have primary responsibility for students’ progress. The preceptors may include nurses, physicians or members of other disciplines with whom the nurse educator, administrator or advanced practice nurse interacts. The onsite preceptors are invaluable in helping each student to identify and take advantage of the learning opportunities available within an institution.

M.S.N., Nurse Practitioner

Students selecting the nurse practitioner tracks are prepared as Pediatric or Adult/Gerontological Nurse Practitioners. Students in the Pediatric track focus on: the maintenance and promotion of health and the management of children with acute and/or chronic illness.

Students in the Adult/Gerontological track focus on the primary prevention and management of adults with acute and chronic illnesses in either primary or acute care settings.

The major emphases of the nurse practitioner tracks are to develop graduates with: (1) a base for continued inquiry and contributions to the art and science of nursing and the knowledge and skills to exert a leadership role in the formulation of healthcare policy; (2) expertise in the provision of health care; and (3) leadership ability in today’s health care environment. Students complete courses in theory of advanced nursing practice where they develop skill in making independent clinical judgments as well as participate in experiences involving peer review, client advocacy, the development of collaborative, interdisciplinary relationships and role negotiation. Clinical instruction is carried out by nurse practitioners and/or physicians who actively model collaborative practice behaviors. An introductory basic physical assessment course is required within the three years prior to beginning Graduate Nursing Practicum I.

Curriculum Plan: Pediatric Nurse Practitioner

a minimum of 540 clinical hours and are eligible to sit for the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) or Pediatric Nursing Certification Board (PNCB) examination.

Certification as an Advanced Practice Nurse

All advanced role courses have parallel experiences in didactic and clinical practicum. Differential learning experiences between specialty practices such as pediatric and adult/gerontological nurse practitioners and health system administration are focused on the clinical requirements for each specialty track such as children, older adults or administration. Supervised clinical hours, as well as didactic classes in specialty curricula are arranged in a prescribed curricular sequence so that upon completion of the program requirements, the eligibility requirements to sit for national certification through American Academy of Nurse Practitioner (AANP) or American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) or Pediatric Nursing Certification Board (PNCB) are satisfied. These requirements and expectations are detailed by specialty track advisors and discussed with students during advisory sessions.
Post-Master’s Certificate Program

Advanced Practice: Pediatric Nurse Practitioner or Adult/Gerontological Nurse Practitioner

These programs are designed to prepare the nurse with a master’s degree in nursing to become a nurse practitioner. They are 18 – 39 credit (30 credits for those wishing to earn a second master’s degree) programs that include didactic and clinical courses. Students gain in-depth knowledge of human development and develop clinical skills necessary for complete health assessment and management of acute, minor illnesses and stabilized chronic illnesses.

Clinical placements are individualized and congruent with certification requirements. Placement is made with certified, experienced advanced nurse practitioners. Upon completion of the program, graduates are eligible to apply for certification as advanced nurse practitioners with the appropriate certifying body.

Certificate Requirements: Post-Master’s APN Certificate

M.S.N., Health Systems Administration

Nurse executives require the sound clinical knowledge and business skills necessary to function effectively within today’s integrated healthcare delivery systems. Students will be taught organizational and financial management perspectives about organizations that provide services through horizontal and vertical integration initiatives. A base for continued inquiry and contributions to the art and science of nursing is provided, as are the knowledge and skills to exert a leadership role in the formulation of healthcare policy.

Graduates will be fully prepared to advocate for and direct the provision of high quality patient care while at the same time addressing realities of the costs.

The M.S.N. in Health Systems Administration focuses on the new sets of skills demanded by today’s healthcare environment: teamwork, global thinking, multitasking, creativity and flexibility.

Along with clinical expertise, students learn to be responsive to the needs of multiple constituencies from patients to physicians in a multidisciplinary environment that integrates the latest technology into the strategic planning process. Students are empowered with the requisite management skills to be leaders in healthcare decision-making.

Students in the Health Systems Administration Program complete a capstone of 90 hours in an Executive Internship with a Chief Nursing Officer preceptor which requires the successful completion of a Strategic Business Plan Initiative preparing the graduate to perform effectively in a high level managerial or executive position in a healthcare provider institution. Additionally, students completing the curriculum are eligible to sit for the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) Nursing Administrator examination and the American College of Healthcare Executives (ACHE) Board of Governor’s Examination to achieve Diplomat Status.

M.S.N., Case Management/Health Administration

In the current healthcare climate of rapid change in technology and patient care services, coupled with increasing implementation of managed care systems, healthcare professionals are seeking mechanisms for enhancing quality while accomplishing cost-effective care. A base for continued inquiry and contributions to the art and science of nursing is provided, as are the knowledge and skills to exert a leadership role in the formulation of healthcare policy. Knowledge of the continuum of resources available within the healthcare delivery system and in the community is essential. Integration of case management initiatives into the strategic mission of the organization facilitates a collaboration that will produce integrated programs providing the best possible patient care outcomes and ensuring organizational survival and success.

The program requires a total of 30 credits.

M.S.N., Health Systems Administration/Master of Business Administration, M.B.A.

Seton Hall University’s College of Nursing and the Stillman School of Business, both recognized leaders in their fields, have joined to offer nurses the clinical knowledge and business skills needed to function effectively within today’s integrated healthcare delivery systems. Graduates receive both an M.S.N. (Master of Nursing, Health Systems Administration) and an M.B.A. (Master of Business Administration). As nurse executives, they will be fully prepared to advocate quality patient care while at the same time addressing administrative issues. A base for continued inquiry and contributions to the art and science of nursing is provided, as are the knowledge and skills to exert a leadership role in the formulation of healthcare policy.

The M.S.N. in Health Systems Administration focuses on the new set of skills demanded by today’s healthcare environment: teamwork, global thinking, multitasking, creativity and flexibility. Along with clinical expertise, students learn to be responsive to the needs of multiple constituencies from patients to physicians. The M.B.A. provides a newly revised multidisciplinary environment integrating the latest technology into the strategic planning process.

Students are empowered with the requisite management skills to be leading healthcare decision makers. The combined M.S.N./M.B.A. program offers both full-time and part-time options to meet the needs and time constraints of nurse professionals. Students will take 24 credits within the College of Nursing and 30 credits within the School of Business.

Full-time students can complete the M.S.N. and M.B.A. in three years. A part-time option allows students to complete the M.S.N. and M.B.A. in 42 months.

The Faculty

Faculty members at the College of Nursing and Stillman School of Business include distinguished educators, researchers and practitioners who bring real-world management perspectives to the learning environment. Students receive individualized attention, as well as supportive career direction and guidance. All students will be assigned the program director of the M.S.N./M.B.A. program as their academic adviser.

School Nurse Certification*

Graduate study in the school nurse certification program reflects the conviction that the school nurse should play a significant role as a school and community healthcare provider. The curriculum is designed to include information and skills of specific relevance to school nursing, school health and community health care. Emphasis is on prevention of illness, health education, health promotion and health maintenance. In addition, courses in foundations of education, curriculum design and strategies in teaching prepare the school nurse for classroom teaching. A practicum in school nursing and teaching is required.

Students in this program are College of Nursing students who have been admitted to the School Nurse Certification program but are not matriculated for a graduate degree. Upon completion of required courses, students are eligible for New Jersey State Department of Education School Nurse Certification. Up to 15 credits of previous coursework may be transferred to meet certification requirements. Courses are offered in the evening on a full-time or part-time basis. The supervised field experience is a daytime experience.

*Courses may be altered to reflect changes being made by the N.J. State Education Department

Admission Requirements

- baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university;
- cumulative “B” average; and
- current licensure as a registered professional nurse in New Jersey.

Prior to enrollment in clinical courses, accepted students must complete Joint Commission and OSHA requirements for immunizations, medical history, liability insurance, criminal background check and competencies including the American Heart Association Certification course for CPR (BLS for Healthcare Professionals).

Certificate Requirements: School Nurse Certification Program

Student transcripts will be evaluated by the Program Director to see how many courses are required for the state certification. If no prior coursework is accepted for transfer, students must complete all of the following courses:

Master’s Level Entry Clinical Nurse Leader Program

The Master’s Entry Clinical Nurse Leader Program at Seton Hall University’s College of Nursing is designed to prepare the non-nurse for clinical leadership positions in nursing in acute and chronic health care settings. The Master’s Level Entry Clinical Nurse Leader degree program includes course work in interdisciplinary team care, patient-centered care, evidence-based practice, resource management, and utilization of informatics. Graduates of this program will be prepared for licensure (NCLEX-RN) and the AACN’s Clinical Nurse Leader certification, and to provide direct patient care as well as lead the nursing team at the bedside, be it in a hospital or a community location. The graduate of this program does not acquire an advanced practice specialty, but functions in a role utilizing horizontal leadership skills, leading and collaborating to improve the overall quality of care in otherwise frequently fragmented care delivery settings commonly found in today’s health care practice environments.

Admission

Students may apply for admission to the program online or through paper application. All applications are reviewed by the Graduate Admissions Committee beginning April 15th. The following criteria apply:

1. To be considered for admission to this graduate program, applicants must submit a completed application and:
   a. a minimum of a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution or WES evaluation (or equivalent);
   b. all transcripts from all colleges/universities attended;
   c. minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.2 on a 4.0 scale on all college/university courses completed prior to admission;
   d. all ESL applicants to the CNL program must have taken the TOEFL within the past 5 years unless degree from a US accredited college or university. Any Applicant must achieve a total score of at least 84, along with a minimum speaking section score of at least 26, to be considered for admission to the CNL program;
e. two letters of recommendation, preferably from past professors or employers; and
f. a personal interview is required.
2. Students must have completed the following program pre-requisites prior to admission:
   a. Anatomy and Physiology with lab – 8 credits
   b. Microbiology – 3/4 credits
   c. Organic or biochemistry with lab – 4 credits
   d. Ethics – 3 credits
   e. Statistics – 3 credits
   f. Developmental Psychology – 3 credits
   g. Economics – 3 credits
3. Prior to enrollment in clinical courses, accepted students must complete Joint Commission and OSHA requirements for immunization, medical history, liability insurance, criminal background check and competencies including the American Heart Association Certification course for CPR (BLS for Healthcare Professionals).

Information for Students in the Master’s Level Entry Clinical Nurse Leader Program

Master’s Level Entry students in the Clinical Nurse Leader program complete a progression of clinical and didactic courses which prepare them to function as beginning practitioners with advanced knowledge in management and leadership. Upon completion of all coursework the graduate is prepared to sit for the professional nurse (NCLEX-RN) licensure and is required to sit for the American Academy of Colleges of Nursing (AACN) Clinical Nurse Leader exam.

M.A. Program in Nursing Education and Combination M.S.N./M.A. Program

The Graduate Nursing Program offers a Master of Arts in Nursing Education to prepare nurses who have already completed a master’s degree in advanced practice for positions in educational settings that include the following: in-service education, continuing education and higher education. A base for continued inquiry and contributions to the art and science of nursing is provided, as are the knowledge and skills to exert a leadership role in the formulation of healthcare policy.

The M.A. in Nursing Education can be completed in combination with any of the advanced practice programs offered at Seton Hall, or following the completion of any N.L.N.A.C. or C.C.N.E. accredited master’s program in which the applicant majored in an advanced practice specialization. The combination M.S.N. and M.A. program requires completion of a total of 61 credits. Additional courses may be required depending upon the specialty selected.

Students completing the nursing education track are eligible upon graduation to sit for the National League for Nursing (NLN) Nurse Educator examination.

This program is for registered nurses with a baccalaureate degree in another field who wish to obtain their master’s degree in nursing. Candidates must complete all requirements for admission to the master’s program including the following courses, Complex Care I and Advanced Complex Care.

- NURS 6307 Complex Care I 3
- NURS 6308 Advanced Complex Care 3

Course Descriptions

CLLB 6003 (NURS 6003) HIV/AIDS: Concepts and Issues
Multidisciplinary exploration of the relevant concepts and issues of HIV/AIDS. Major focus on legal, political, social, medical and ethical issues. 3 credits

CLLB 6004 (NURS 6004) Women and Health
A multidisciplinary forum for the exploration and analysis of relevant concepts and issues of women’s health. 3 credits

CLLB 6005 (NURS 6005) Childbirth Education: Pre-Seminar Course
This course is designed to help the childbirth educator candidate acquire the knowledge necessary to teach expectant parents childbirth education. This pre-seminar course is one of three approved by Lamaze International as meeting the requirements to take the Lamaze International Childbirth Educator Certification Examination. 2 credits

CLLB 6006 (NURS 6006) Childbirth Education: Seminar
An intensive three day, workshop that is designed to provide the candidate with knowledge, skills and resources to prepare them to become a Lamaze International certified childbirth educator. Educator National Certification Examination. 2 credits

CLLB 6008 (NURS 6008) Childbirth Education: Post-Seminar Course
This course is designed to support qualified candidates to develop a childbirth education course design to prepare the childbearing family for pregnancy, labor, birth and the early parenting period. 2 credits
CLLB 6233 (NURS 6233) Community Health
Basic factors in providing community-based health care; assessments of community needs, community organization and planning, community politics and the relationship of consumers and providers; scope of practice of healthcare professionals, including interdisciplinary collaboration and the organization of healthcare delivery systems. 3 credits

CLLB 6234 Foundations and Practices of Higher Education
An examination of current beliefs, values, practices and related issues in higher education. 3 credits

CLLB 6240 Foundations in Continuous Quality Improvement
Provides a basic understanding of the cultural, mechanical and developmental processes necessary to create a successful quality environment within an organization. 3 credits

CLLB 6241 Grant Writing
Students are actively involved in the grant writing process. They will select a funding source, develop a complete grant proposal and have it reviewed in a mock study session in class. 3 credits

CLLB 6441 Measurement and Evaluation
This course provides students with opportunities to acquire skills in the development, evaluation, selection and use of evaluation instruments that measure a variety of intended learning outcomes. 3 credits

NULD 6001 Introduction to Nursing Leadership in Healthcare
This course explores the history of nursing leadership to the present with emphasis on the evolution of healthcare and healthcare delivery, and an introduction to systems theory. Leadership is defined as it applies to both micro and macro systems. The interdisciplinary work of the CNL is emphasized. 1 credit

NULD 6005 Health Assessment and Clinical Skills
This course focuses on acquiring, analyzing, and refining healthy assessment data as a basis for the development of an accurate nursing problem list. Normal variations and abnormalities characteristic of different developmental, cultural, and ethnic groups are considered throughout the course. This course serves as an introduction to therapeutic communication, psychomotor skills, and interpersonal skills used in providing patient care. The laboratory portion of the course allows the student to practice assessment and clinical skills in a simulated patient care environment. 4 credits

NULD 6010 Clinical Role Development I: Nursing Care of Adults and the Aged
This course provides the student with theoretical knowledge to deliver safe, effective nursing care to adults and aged clients. Clinical experience focuses on developing and applying health assessment and fundamental nursing skills learned in Health Assessment and Clinical Skills, to adults and the aged with minimal health deviations. These experiences will take place in primary, secondary, and or tertiary care settings. 4 credits

NULD 6015 Pathophysiology
This course provides a conceptual, integrative approach to view and examine pathophysiological phenomena that will serve to focus on clinical problems encountered across disease or illness categories. The pathophysiological phenomena are those for which nurses assume a major role in assessing, monitoring, evaluating, and managing. Concentration is on mechanisms and pathological consequence of each phenomenon. 4 credits

NULD 6020 Pharmacology
This course focuses on the role of the nurse in pharmacological therapy and considers sociocultural, economic, and technologic changes in the safe administration of prescription medications, over-the-counter drugs, and herbal therapy. Drug categories, including prototypes related to each body system will be studied. Emphasis is on developing the knowledge and critical thinking skills needed to formulate and implement plans of care for clients receiving pharmacological therapy in acute care, critical care, and community settings. 3 credits

NULD 6124 Forces in Healthcare
This course examines the issues and concepts that are relevant to an understanding of the relationship among social and economic networks, bio-medical ethics and health policy. Emphasis will be placed on the process by which health care policy is formulated and on identifying the central issues within the social, ethical and political framework together with their supportive and non-supportive argumentation. 3 credits

NULD 6200 Leading Healthcare Teams
This course introduces the student to the nursing role in leading healthcare teams, and examines the principles of collaboration, coordination, and change. Students in this course learn principles of delegation, interdisciplinary teams and group processes, as well as interpersonal communication skills. Prerequisite: CNL First semester courses. 1 credit

NULD 6203 Clinical Role Development II: Nursing Care of Persons with Psychiatric Illness
This course is designed to provide an opportunity to learn and use biopsychosocial concepts in the care of mentally ill of all ages and in a variety of hospital and community settings. The focus of the course is on assessment strategies, plans of care, nursing interventions, medication management, and rehabilitative processes for individuals with a variety of acute and chronic mental health problems. Prerequisite: CNL First semester courses. 5 credits

NULD 6206 Clinical Role Development III: Nursing Care of Adults with Acute Health Problems
This course provides the student with opportunities to acquire the knowledge and clinical skills necessary to provide safe effective nursing care to adults experiencing acute illness. Care is delivered within a nursing process framework, which is viewed as a continuous discipline specific approach to problem solving. It utilizes critical thinking in making clinical judgments. Clinical experiences in acute care settings focus on the principles of family centered care and offer opportunities to provide care concentrating on health promotion, risk reduction, disease prevention and illness management. Prerequisite: CNL First semester courses. 5 credits

NULD 6209 Ethical Issues in Nursing and Healthcare
This course focuses on ethical issues encountered in nursing and healthcare environments that are influenced by professional, legal and societal concerns. Selected ethical decision making models will be applied in professional nursing dilemmas that impact quality of care. Prerequisite: CNL First semester courses. 3 credits

NULD 6212 Theory and Evidence-Based Practice
This course provides an overview of nursing and healthcare related theory, research, and evidence-based practice. Students continue to develop the skills and knowledge to critique individual research studies, conduct systematic literature reviews, and use these abilities to address immediate clinical nursing problems. Students learn to identify health outcomes and important related outcome measures. Prerequisite: CNL First semester courses. 4 credits

NULD 6300 Clinical Role Development IV: Nursing Care of Childrearing Families
This course focuses on giving the student a framework for evaluating developmental health care needs unique to children from birth through young adulthood with emphasis on the family context. Additionally the student will acquire the knowledge and clinical skills necessary to assess and provide safe effective nursing care for children and adolescents experiencing an episodic or acute illness. Clinical experiences are in primary, secondary and tertiary care settings and focus on the principles of family centered care for health promotion, risk reduction, disease prevention and illness management. Prerequisite: CNL Second semester courses. 5 credits

NULD 6305 Clinical Role Development V: Nursing Care of Childrearing Families
This course encompasses the care of childbearing families, spanning preconception planning and care through pregnancy, birth, and family integration. The course presents the management of normal and high-risk pregnancy and explores the social, cultural, economic, and other factors that impact the changing individual and family dynamics. Prerequisite: CNL Second semester courses. 5 credits

NULD 6315 Legal Aspects of Nursing
This course reviews the rights, privileges and obligations of nurses in their relationship to each other, their employers, their patients, and all providers of health care. Emphasis is placed on developing the ability of the nurse to recognize and apply relevant legal concepts to insure his/her legal safety while providing optimal patient care. 1 credit

NULD 6310 End-of-Life Care
This course is designed for the student to develop an awareness of the dying process as a life transition. The focus will be on planning and evaluating nursing care which is culturally and spiritually sensitive to patient and family needs. The students and faculty will discuss the literature from the biological, psychosocial and spiritual domains and its utilization for end-of-life care. Prerequisite: CNL Second semester courses. 1 credit

NULD 6400 Clinical Role Development VI: Community Health Nursing
This course emphasizes application of concepts, theories, and competencies that are the foundation for population-focused nursing practice in the community setting which may include but is not limited to hospices, schools, child care or senior centers. Students will have opportunities to engage in direct and/or indirect care to culturally diverse individuals, families, aggregates, and communities. Prerequisite: Third semester courses. 5 credits

NULD 6405 Clinical Role Development VII: Nursing Care of Critically Ill Individuals
This course focuses on the use of the nursing process in the management of complex health problems, including the use of advanced pharmacological therapies, with particular emphasis on the collaborative and independent functions of the nurse in an intensive, specialty, and technologically advanced care environment. Prerequisite: CNL Third semester courses. 5 credits

NULD 6500 Clinical Role Development VIII: Synthesis Practicum
This course provides students with the opportunity to integrate the knowledge and skills acquired from previous courses. Students refine clinical skills in group patient care delivery, priority setting, and decision-making, explore the nurse’s role in the formal organization, the progression of leadership roles and responsibilities, and begin the transition to leadership in professional nursing practice. Prerequisite: CNL Fourth semester courses. 5 credits

NULD 6505 Organization of Healthcare Environments
Students are introduced to the healthcare system as a laterally integrated care environment with a conceptual framework based on organizational theory. Students examine strategies of the CNL within the interdisciplinary system, using an evidence-based approach. Students develop competency in nursing informatics to monitor and improve organizational and clinical performance. Prerequisite: CNL Fourth semester courses. 3 credits

NULD 6510 Epidemiology and World Health
This course focuses on the distribution and determinants of health-related states or conditions in specified populations and the application of this study to control health problems. Students are presented with epidemiologic models and methods in order to assess the health of individuals and populations and to assess the health of individuals and populations to prevent or control health conditions, diseases, and injuries. Emphasis is on a local to global perspective and on application of methods to improve healthcare delivery and health policy. Prerequisite: CNL Fourth semester courses. 3 credits
NULD 6600 Clinical Nurse Leader in Healthcare
This course offers a framework for a conceptual analysis of the CNL role with advanced application of leadership skills to actual and/or simulated problems. Students explore the context of professional nursing in the healthcare system, standards of ethical nurse leadership and higher level theories involving lateral integration of care and organizational culture. Prerequisite: CNL Fifth semester courses. 3 credits

NULD 6605 Clinical Nurse Leader Capstone Practicum
This course is an intensive clinical experience supervised by a professional nurse preceptor. The experience allows for full implementation of the clinical nurse leader competencies and includes a strong interdisciplinary practice focus. Seminars will be scheduled with faculty to discuss clinical progress and issues. A capstone project is required and will be presented at the end of the course. Prerequisite: CNL Fifth semester courses. 7 credits

NURS 6011 School Nursing
This course provides a working knowledge of the organization and administration of school health services. The role and function of the nurse in a school setting are discussed. Students develop Individualized Healthcare Plans based on current evidence and assessment of adolescents or school age children. 3 credits

NURS 6017 Health Promotion: School-Aged Children
This course examines the issues and concepts that are relevant to an understanding of the relationships among forces in health care. Emphasis will be placed on the process by which health care policies are formulated and on identifying the central issues within policies together with their supportive and non-supportive argumentation. 3 credits

NURS 6021 Health Concepts for Aging
This didactic course is designed to explore issues related to care of the elderly, including healthful aging, and issues related to chronic illness and frailty. Age related changes and the biopsychosocial theories of aging will provide the foundation for understanding key aspects of healthful aging. Principles of evidence-based practice will be utilized to explore the management of chronic health problems unique to older adults. An analysis of public policy and the impact of the prospective payment system in long-term care will highlight the constraints of healthcare services to institutionalize and community residing elders. 3 credits

NURS 6223 Health Promotion
The course focuses on primary, secondary and tertiary levels of prevention across the lifespan. Age and condition specific strategies for health promotion and risk reduction are synthesized from the physical, social and psychological sciences. The student views the person/family/community from a nursing perspective, while integrating new theories and strategies for screening and early intervention programs. The provision of comprehensive health promotion and screening are analyzed from an interdisciplinary and public health perspective. 3 credits

NURS 6224 Nursing and Health Systems Administration
This course addresses the political, social, legal, and ethical realities affecting nursing administrators in integrated health care delivery systems. Theoretical as well as operational perspectives are presented, particularly as they distinguish nursing administration from business administration. Students analyze the interactions of government authorities, delivery systems, the financing of healthcare, regulation, competition, and organizational innovation. 3 credits

NURS 6225 Teaching Methodologies and Curriculum
This course provides a working knowledge of the interrelationships between curriculum and instruction. Evolving concepts of curriculum development and current practices and trends are presented. Emphasis is on the relationship of philosophy to curriculum development. 3 credits

NURS 6226 Perspectives/Forensic Nursing
This course establishes the foundation for forensic decision making in advanced nursing practice. The emphasis is on the holistic approach of victims from a sociological and psychological perspective. This course includes the scope and responsibilities of advanced nursing practice as it interfaces with the justice system. 3 credits

NURS 6227 Health Assessment of the School-Aged Individual
This course presents comprehensive and systematic approaches to the assessment of children and families. Emphasis is placed on collaborating with family and professional to promote health. 3 credits

NURS 6228 Health Promotion I: Promoting Health and Preventing Injury and Disease Across the Lifespan
The focus of the first part of this two semester course is on primary, secondary and tertiary levels of prevention across the life span. Students refine and augment their knowledge of biopsychosocial changes across the lifespan and their impact on preventive health care needs. Age and condition specific strategies for health promotion are identified. Current and evolving modes of culturally competent health care delivery and the need for interdisciplinary collaboration in the provision of comprehensive health promotion and screening are analyzed. 2 credits
NURS 6229 Health Promotion II: Risk Reduction and Injury Prevention
In the second part of this two course sequence the student will be introduced to concepts of escalating risks and adverse events across the lifespan. A variety of evidence-based approaches in the treatment of at risk individuals and groups will be explored. The student continues to view the person/family/community at risk from a nursing perspective. Students will integrate new theories and strategies for screening and early intervention of at risk populations. Prerequisite: NURS 6228. 2 credits

NURS 6231 Teaching Methodologies
Content and teaching strategies to enable the student to relate learning to the instructional process, and to assess learning styles and needs, write performance objectives, design and deliver instructional units and evaluate student performance, instructional products and instructional procedures. 3 credits

NURS 6304 Case Management
This course investigates the role of the nurse case manager in a managed care environment. Case management initiatives employed with specific multicultural clinical populations will be discussed with a focus on patient and family education to maximize health. Prerequisite NURS 6224 or by permission 3 credits

NURS 6305 Financial Management of Health Care Systems
This course will focus on the financial aspects of integrated health care delivery systems. Basic principles of economics and accounting will be reviewed as they relate to health care organizations. Emphasis will be on the synthesis of clinical and financial operations in ways that limit resource consumption and maximize resource utilization. Prerequisite NURS 6304 or by permission. 3 credits

NURS 6306 Legal and Risk Management Issues in Health Care
This course examines legal issues and risks in healthcare administration. The course will address the broad and divergent elements of health care risk management that healthcare facilities and administrators experience in the current environment of managed care. Prerequisite: NURS 6304 or by permission. 3 credits

NURS 6307 Complex Care 1
Major issues related to health care delivery are discussed. The course supports the current and emerging roles and responsibilities of professional nurses to meet the challenging dimensions of health care and client illness-wellness states. The client population crosses the life span and includes children, adults, and aged within a family framework as well as the community at large. 3 credits

NURS 6308 Advanced Complex Care
This course is designed to support the R.N. (to M.S.N.) student in examining the roles of the professional nurse in meeting the changing dimensions of health care for families, groups, communities experiencing multifaceted problems that affect health status with emphasis on case study methodology. Health promotion, primary prevention, cultural implications and research are stressed. 3 credits

NURS 6309 Legal/Ethical Issues in School Health
The course will increase the school nurses’ awareness and understanding of the aspects of value-driven policy deliberations, enable them to analyze policy issues, enhance their political knowledge and skills, and prepare them for leadership roles in shaping policies that affect school health. The impact of criminal, civil and family proceedings upon children is discussed. This course is designed to empower school nurses to take an active part in the political and policy processes. 2 credits

NURS 6411 Advanced Clinical Pathophysiology
Pathogenesis of major conditions will be presented. Symptoms and signs of clinical situations will be analyzed and discussed in order that the student may have an understanding of the etiology of health deviations as well as a cognizance of the rationale for their management. 3 credits

NURS 6415 Clinical Pharmacology
This course provides a working knowledge of pharmacotherapeutics with emphasis on the needs of clients throughout the lifespan. Concepts in qualitative and quantitative drug actions within the body are discussed. Prerequisite: NURS 6411. 3 credits

NURS 6991, 6992, 6993 Independent Study in Nursing
Opportunity for graduate nursing students to study a selected area or problem in nursing and to enhance the ability for self-directed learning. Students are assigned or select qualified faculty to serve as consultants. 1/2/3 credits

NURS 7000 Curriculum Structure and Development
The focus of this course is on evolving concepts of curriculum development, current practices and trends. Emphasis is on understanding, organizing the curriculum, the relationship of philosophy to curriculum development and higher order thinking that unifies curriculum. Instruction and learning principles utilized are applicable for primary, secondary or higher education. 3 credits

NURS 7015 Communication and Counseling in School Health
This course examines theories of counseling and communication in the school setting. Skill building behaviors, various techniques and training methodologies will be emphasized. 3 credits

NURS 7016 Contemporary Issues/Family Dynamics in School Health
This course explores contemporary issues and family dynamics affecting school age children and adolescents in relation to their health. Culture and genetics as they relate to these topics will be discussed. 2 credits

NURS 7140 Introduction to Data Management and Analysis for Research Designs: Application of Computers
An introduction to the quantitative methods of data management and analysis used in research for nursing. An introduction to SPSS statistical software with basic concepts needed for creating, running and editing computer files. Prerequisite: a course in introductory statistics. 1 credit

NURS 7141 Nursing Research I
This course examines methods of nursing research. Critique of published quantitative and qualitative nursing research studies is conducted. Emphasis is on the utilization of knowledge to provide evidence-based nursing skills. Students develop skills for preparing practice focused, nursing research utilization projects. Prerequisites: Undergraduate Nursing Research course, Undergraduate Basic Statistics Course. 3 credits

NURS 7143 Nursing Research II
This is the second course in the graduate nursing research sequence where the student develops skills for analysis of data and interpretation of findings. The focus is on data collection, data analysis and interpretation. Qualitative and quantitative data collection and analysis techniques are presented and applied through course assignments. Prerequisite: NURS 7141. 2 credits

NURS 7145 Leadership, Management, and Administration in School Health
The focus of this course is the conceptual, theoretical and practical perspectives of school health and school nursing. The role of the school nurse as a leader in health care is examined and demonstrated. 3 credits

NURS 7240 Primary Health Care of Women
Provides the knowledge and skills to formulate clinical judgments needed to initiate, manage and evaluate primary healthcare regimens for women of all ages. Course integrates the concepts of health promotion and health maintenance continue. Prerequisite: NURS 7339. 3 credits

NURS 7241 Curriculum Structure and Development in Nursing
Focuses on the evolution of curricula structure in contemporary nursing education. Concepts identified from nursing models developed and utilized within curricular frameworks. Analysis and evaluation of nursing curricula. Prerequisites: NURS 6123, 6124. 3 credits

NURS 7242 Advanced Practice Nursing I: Younger Years
Students acquire theory to initiate, manage, and evaluate health care regimens for children and adolescents within a framework for clinical decision-making and clinical management in a variety of pediatric health care situations, building on the prerequisite courses. The student conceptualizes the nurse practitioner role as part of a collaborative interdisciplinary team. Prerequisites: NURS 7334, 7370 and 6415. Corequisite: NURS 7344. 3 credits

NURS 7243 Advanced Practice Nursing I: Older Years
This course focuses on providing the student nurse practitioner with the necessary knowledge and skills to formulate clinical judgments needed to initiate, manage and evaluate culturally competent health care regimens for adults. Content is built upon concepts of the biopsychosocial aspects taught in the required prerequisites. Emphasis is placed on commonly occurring health problems. The concepts of health promotion and health maintenance are integrated throughout this course. Prerequisites: Successful completion of core courses and NURS 7333 and 7370. Corequisite: NURS 7349. 3 credits

NURS 7244 Advanced Practice Nursing II: Younger Years
This course focuses on the synthesis of current nursing theory relevant to pediatric health care and special care management of the developing individual with a long-term health care deviation from birth through adolescence within the context of the family, community and culture. Prerequisites: NURS 7334, 7370, 7242 and 7344. Corequisite: NURS 7357. 3 credits

NURS 7246 Advanced Practice Nursing II: Older Years
This course builds on information taught in the required prerequisites and provides the student with the necessary knowledge and skill to formulate complex clinical judgments needed to initiate, manage, and evaluate culturally competent primary health care regimens for adults. The concepts of health promotion and health maintenance continue to be integrated throughout this course. Students will continue to synthesize and evaluate theoretical knowledge in primary health care of adults with increased independence and decision-making ability. Prerequisites: NURS 7243 and 7343. Corequisite: NURS 7356. 3 credits

NURS 7249 Advanced Primary Health Care Theory: Women's Health
This course focuses on providing the knowledge and skills to formulate clinical judgments needed to initiate, manage and evaluate primary healthcare regimens for women during pregnancy and postpartum. Complications of pregnancy and problems of high-risk pregnant women are included. Prerequisites: NURS 7240, 7250. Corequisite: NURS 7451. 3 credits

NURS 7250 Acute Care Theory
This course focuses on the diagnosis and management of the illness trajectory of patients with chronic conditions. Diagnosis and management of select chronic conditions will be discussed via case scenarios. Risk factor modification is included for leading causes of morbidity and mortality spanning ages from older adolescent to the elderly, including ethnic minorities. Prerequisite: NURS 7339. 3 credits

NURS 7252 Advanced Acute Care Theory
This course focuses on acute care through rehabilitation using a case management approach. The content focuses on acute conditions: cardiovascular, respiratory, GI and renal disease, trauma and neuroendocrine emergencies. Students learn to diagnose and manage patients with acute conditions in collaboration with physicians. Research utilization is incorporated. Family dynamics are included. Special considerations for ethnic minorities and the age range of late adolescents to the elderly are incorporated. Prerequisite: NURS 7250. 3 credits

NURS 7307 Managed Care and Reimbursement Systems
This practicum course examines how integrated health care delivery systems are reimbursed for services. Types of managed care organizations and their organizational and operational structures are studied. The practicum format allows the student to examine and participate in financial management operations employed in an actual health care setting. Prerequisite: NURS 6305 or by permission. 3 credits
NURS 7310 Managerial Internship in Health Systems Administration

The initial internship experience offers students the opportunity to develop midlevel leadership/management competencies within selected healthcare organizations. Course focus is on the assessment of integrated health care delivery systems and on the multicultural constituencies served by these systems. The roles and interrelationships of managers and administrators in organizational units are examined. Prerequisite: NURS 7307 or by permission. 3 credits

NURS 7333 Graduate Practicum I: Older Years

Students spend 135 hours in a practice setting where they acquire mastery of advanced comprehensive and integrated assessment skills. These include bio-psycho-socioeconomic, developmental and functional appraisals of all age groups, with a focus on cultural competence. Specialty assessments are incorporated. The student practices advanced assessment skills and begins role acculturation under close preceptorship supervision. Prerequisites: Matriculation for the Master of Science in Nursing Degree or acceptance for the Post-Master’s Certificate. Basic Physical Assessment course completed within previous three years, NURS 6415. Corequisite: NURS 7370. 3 credits

NURS 7334 Graduate Practicum I: Younger Years

The focus of this course is on clinical practice with children, performing behavioral, developmental, functional, environmental and physical assessments. Emphasis is on the student’s clinical judgment and decision-making during pediatric care and health supervision for children. Current best evidence for practice is applied in clinical encounters with children and families. The student develops an appreciation of the role of the advanced practice nurse in pediatric health care. Prerequisites: Matriculation for the Master of Science in Nursing Degree or acceptance for the Post-Master’s Certificate. Basic Physical Assessment course completed within previous three years, NURS 6415. Corequisite: NURS 7370. 3 credits

NURS 7339 Advanced Health Assessment: Graduate Nursing Practicum I

This course focuses on providing the student with knowledge of biopsychosocioeconomic, developmental and functional appraisals of all age groups with a focus on cultural competence. Specialty assessments are incorporated. Students spend 135 hours in a clinical setting where they acquire mastery of advanced comprehensive and integrated assessment skills and begin role acculturation under close preceptorship supervision. Prerequisites: Basic Physical Assessment course completed within previous three years; NURS 6415. 5 credits

NURS 7343 Graduate Nursing Practicum II: Older Years

Students spend 135 hours in a clinical practice setting where they gain skill in providing scientifically-based culturally competent primary health care to adults. With faculty guidance and preceptor supervision students manage the health and illness of clients based upon analysis of findings from health histories, physical examination, developmental and behavioral assessments. Prerequisite: NURS 7339. Corequisite: NURS 7243. 3 credits

NURS 7344 Graduate Practicum II: Younger Years

This course focuses on building the student’s clinical appraisal, diagnostic decision-making, and management skills for health promotion, illness prevention or acute episodic illness in children. Students manage the care of children and their families from a variety of economic, cultural, and familial backgrounds. The advanced practice nursing role is analyzed. Prerequisites NURS 7334 and 6415. Corequisite: NURS 7242. 3 credits

NURS 7345 Graduate Nursing Practicum IIA: Younger Years

This is a continuation course which focuses on building clinical appraisal, diagnostic decision-making, and management skills for health promotion, illness prevention or acute, episodic illness management with children from a variety of economic, cultural, and familial backgrounds who are healthy or experiencing acute, episodic illness, and their families. There is opportunity for advanced practice nursing role analysis. Prerequisites: NURS 7334 and 6415. Corequisite: NURS 7242. 1 credit

NURS 7348 Graduate Nursing Practicum II: Acute Care

Students will begin to function in the role of ACNP. Students will be involved in team rounds, working with health professionals. Desired experiences are settings where patients have chronic conditions or stabilizing acute conditions. Seminars will focus on case studies relevant to content in Acute Care Theory II. Case management is stressed. Seven clinical hours and 2 hours of seminar/week. Prerequisite: NURS 7339. Corequisite: NURS 7250. 3 credits

NURS 7349 Graduate Nursing Practicum II: Older Years

Students spend 180 hours in a clinical practice setting where they gain skill in providing scientifically-based, culturally competent primary health care to adults and the aged. With faculty guidance and preceptor supervision, students manage the health and illness of clients based upon analysis of findings from health histories, physical examination, developmental and behavioral assessments. Prerequisite: NURS 7333. Corequisite: NURS 7243. 4 credits

NURS 7355 Final Role Practicum in Nursing Education

The teaching practicum provides students with the opportunity to select, test and expand theory in an educational or staff development setting. Practice teaching and assumption of the educator’s role permit students to evaluate and refine their effectiveness in role socialization. Prerequisites: All program requirements with the exception of NURS 7143 and one functional support course which may be taken simultaneously. 3 credits

NURS 7356 Graduate Nursing Practicum III: Older Years

Students spend 135 hours in a clinical practice setting where they continue to develop skills needed to provide culturally competent primary health care to adults with increasingly complex health and illness issues. With faculty guidance and
NURS 7357 Graduate Nursing Practicum III: Younger Years
This course focuses on providing cost-effective care for clients with a long term health deviation. Emphasis is on development of therapeutic regimens for children with long term health deviations in collaboration with the family and the interdisciplinary team. Prerequisites: NURS 7242, 7334, 7344 and 7345. Corequisite: NURS 7244. 3 credits

NURS 7359 Graduate Nursing Practicum III: Older Years
Students spend 180 hours in a clinical practice setting where they continue to develop skills needed to provide culturally competent primary health care to adults and the aged with increasingly complex health and illness issues. With faculty guidance and preceptor supervision, students manage the health and illness of clients. Prerequisites: NURS 7243, 7349. Corequisite: NURS 7246. 4 credits

NURS 7360 Graduate Nursing Practicum III: Acute Care
This practicum course emphasizes strategies for the ongoing assessment and management of clients. All settings are inner city with multicultural groups. Students will carry a case load of patients with both acute and chronic illnesses in the tertiary care setting, including the critical care areas. New procedures/tests will be performed as per the following approach: (1) observe and assist, (2) perform with assistance and (3) perform with supervision. Seven clinical hours and two hours of seminar per week. Prerequisites: NURS 7250, 7348. Corequisite: NURS 7252. 3 credits

NURS 7363 Graduate Nursing Practicum IV: Older Years
Students spend 135 hours in a clinical practice setting where they continue to integrate and synthesize data and demonstrate expert clinical judgment and decision making in the provision of culturally competent care to adults. With faculty and preceptor consultation students manage the health and illness of increasing numbers of clients with complex problems. Prerequisites: NURS 7356, 7246. Corequisite NURS 7453. 3 credits

NURS 7364 Graduate Nursing Practicum IV: Younger Years
The focus of the course is on the advanced application of knowledge and skills synthesized from previous work in nursing and the supportive biopsychosocial sciences and humanities. Interdisciplinary collaboration for effective, holistic health care is emphasized. Students function in the role of the nurse practitioner under supervision. Prerequisites: NURS 7334, 7344, 7357, 7242, 7244. Corequisite: NURS 7365. 3 credits

NURS 7365 Graduate Nursing Practicum IVA: Younger Years
This is a continuation course which provides for further advanced application of knowledge and skills synthesized during previous work in nursing and the supportive biopsychosocial sciences and humanities. Interdisciplinary collaboration for effective, holistic health care in the acute care setting is emphasized. Students function in the role of the nurse practitioner under supervision. Prerequisites: NURS 7334, 7344, 7345, 7357, 7242, 7244. 1 credit

NURS 7366 Graduate Nursing Practicum IV: Older Years
Students spend 180 hours in a clinical practice setting where they continue to integrate and synthesize data and demonstrate expert clinical judgment and decision making in the provisions of culturally competent care for adults and the aged. With faculty and preceptor consultation, students manage the health and illness of increasing numbers of clients with complex problems. Prerequisites: NURS 7359, 7246. Corequisite: NURS 7470. 4 credits

NURS 7369 Graduate Nursing Practicum IV: Acute Care
The focus of this clinical course is on the acute care nurse practitioner’s management of critically ill adults and their families from critical illness onset through rehabilitation or resolution. Case management is holistic and incorporates the family, critical care and long term institutions and the community. The application of complex technologic care is emphasized and analyzed. This course affords the learner continued opportunity to collaborate with clinical nurse specialists in the care of critically ill adults and their families in healthcare institutions and the community. Prerequisites: NURS 7252, 7360. 3 credits

NURS 7370 Advanced Health Assessment and Clinical Decision Making
The focus of this course is on advanced comprehensive and integrated assessment skills leading to the making of accurate, efficacious, and expedient clinical decisions in the expanded nursing role. Relevancy of data is considered in the context of the patients’ bio-psycho-socio-economic, cultural, developmental, and functional status. Strategies in shared decision making and decision support are explored. Failed heuristics, biases, and cognitive dispositions to respond are addressed. Assessments relevant to specialties are included. Pre-requisite: NURS 6415, Co-requisite: NURS 7333 or NURS 7334. 3 credits

NURS 7449 Final Role Practicum: Acute Care
The focus on this fifth and final practicum is on solidifying functioning as an acute care nurse practitioner. Students manage a case load of clients under the guidance of faculty and preceptors. Critical thinking and conceptual model integration are incorporated as are current research findings. Corequisite: NURS 7369. 3 credits

NURS 7450 Graduate Nursing Practicum II: Women’s Health
Opportunity to gain skills in providing sound, scientifically based primary health care to women. Students participate in the care of women (from adolescence to the advanced years) who are well, have common or minor illnesses, or are experiencing common gynecological disorders. They assess, execute and manage the health/illness care of clients based on analysis of findings from health histories, physical, developmental and behavioral assessments. Prerequisite: NURS 7339. Corequisite: NURS 7240. 3 credits
NURS 7451 Graduate Nursing Practicum III: Women’s Health
With faculty guidance and preceptorship supervision, students begin to manage women and uncomplicated pregnancies and actively care for women who are well, have common minor illnesses or are experiencing common gynecological disorders. The opportunity to test and utilize theoretical concepts in primary health care practice and to develop competencies in clinical judgment. Prerequisites: NURS 7240, 7450. Corequisite: NURS 7249. 3 credits

NURS 7452 Graduate Nursing Practicum IV: Primary Health Care of Women
Opportunity to integrate, synthesize and demonstrate expert clinical judgment and decision making in the provision of health care to women. Focus is on mastery of skills and leadership strategies. A variety of clinical settings are utilized. Prerequisites: NURS 7249, 7451. 4 credits

NURS 7453 Advanced Professional Role Enactment within Healthcare Systems
This course will focus on sensitizing the nurse practitioner student to the emerging and ever changing role of the Advanced Practice Nurse. Students will explore the societal, economic and politico-legal developments affecting acceptance and utilization of the nurse practitioner role. Issues related to role development, leadership skills and case management for diverse client populations are analyzed. 2 credits

NURS 7470 Advanced Professional Role Enactment
This course will focus on sensitizing the student to the emerging and ever changing role of the Advanced Practice Nurse. Students will explore the societal, economic, and politico-legal developments affecting acceptance and utilization of the role. Issues related to role development, leadership skills and case management for diverse client populations are analyzed. Prerequisite: Three semesters of advanced practice clinical nursing courses. 3 credits

NURS 7600 Executive Internship in Health Systems Administration
This executive-level internship experience offers students the opportunity to demonstrate advanced leadership/management competencies in a selected healthcare organization. Course focus is on the depth and breadth of integrated delivery system components and on the multicultural constituencies served by these systems. Learning outcomes stress creative leadership behaviors and the development of a strategic business initiative for a product or service that serves organization’s constituency. Prerequisite: Successful completion of all courses in HSA major or by permission. 4 credits

NURS 8000 - 8008 Continuing Ph.D. Advisement
Doctoral students who are engaged in preparation for, or have passed Candidacy, but have not completed NURS 9902, must register for the one credit continuing Ph.D. advisement course each semester they are not registered for any other 3 credit course. 1 credit

NURS 8048 Curriculum Development and Teaching in Nursing
This course examines issues in higher education with a focus on curriculum development and teaching in nursing education. This course includes critiquing a curriculum identifying student outcomes and competencies as well as designing a nursing course. The role of nursing faculty in higher education is included. 3 credits

NURS 8049 Measurement and Evaluation in Nursing Education
This course focuses on the development, evaluation, selection and use of tools that measure a variety of intended learning outcomes. The relationship between measurement and evaluation in teaching are discussed. 3 credits

NURS 8052 Practicum in Nursing Higher Education
This course provides the student the opportunity to synthesize components of the faculty role by working with a faculty mentor. Students will spend a minimum of 90 hours working with the faculty mentor and participating in varied faculty roles. Prerequisites: NURS 8048 & NURS 8049. 3 credits

NURS 8101 Emerging Nursing Theory
The focus of this course is the development of scholarly inquiry in nursing. Students engage in a systematic analysis and critical evaluation of current nursing theory. Emphasis is placed on the historical development of nursing theory from its inception to the present. The course highlights the relationship between scientific inquiry and the development of knowledge and the practice of nursing. 3 credits

NURS 8102 Building Nursing Knowledge: Evidence for Practice
The focus of this course is the critical evaluation of evidence derived from contemporary nursing research from a theoretical and methodological perspective. Selected studies that are representative of different methods of inquiry are carefully critiqued. Students are helped to interrelate findings, identify gaps in knowledge, and explore concepts of their own interest. Emphasizes the extent and nature of potential synthesis of knowledge across traditional boundaries. Prerequisite: NURS 8101. 3 credits

NURS 8104 Special Topics in Health Care
This course is designed to develop knowledge about contemporary issues in health care and the state of nursing science in specific areas. Emphasis is placed on critical appraisal and synthesis of nursing and multidisciplinary literature that will guide future research and practice. Culturally informed competencies and health disparities will be threaded throughout course discussions. Prerequisites: NURS 8701, CPSY 7005. 3 credits

NURS 8201 Independent Study
1 credit

NURS 8202 Independent Study
2 credits

NURS 8203 Independent Study
3 credits
NURS 8500 Informatics for Evidence-Based Practice
The focus of this course is on the integration of informatics knowledge, skills, and attitudes to support culturally-competent evidence-based practice. Selected informatics topics relevant to evidence-based practice with varied populations are included, such as: 1) the development, use, and evaluation of computer systems for clinical practice, decision support and shared clinical decision-making; 2) standards in clinical terminology; data storage, and transmission; 3) clinical data capture, analysis, and application for quality improvement; and 4) computer-aided instruction. Prerequisites: Successful completion of core courses and Practicum III. Corequisite: NURS Practicum IV. 3 credits

NURS 8600 Executive Interpersonal Collaboration
This executive-level communication and advanced collaboration strategies course offers students the opportunity to recognize and eventually demonstrate advanced leadership/management, communication and relationship management competencies to improve unique patient, family, community and population health outcomes. The major emphasis of the course will focus on the depth and breadth of integrated delivery system components and on nurse-patient-community-physician partnerships to achieve health outcomes and organizational efficiency through the development and implementation of high performing, multidisciplinary teams. Prerequisites/Corequisites: Successful completion of all didactic courses in HSA major or by permission of the professor. 3 credits

NURS 8701 Research Design and Methods of Inquiry in Nursing
The principles and methods employed in a variety of qualitative and quantitative research designs used for the development of nursing knowledge are presented and compared. Issues of clinical practice research are discussed. The importance of selecting an appropriate design for an identified research problem is emphasized. Prerequisites: NURS 8102, GMHS 7403. Corequisite: CPSY 7005. 3 credits

NURS 8702 Qualitative Research Design
The focus of this course is the use of qualitative methods to build knowledge. This is the first of two courses in the qualitative research sequence that are required for students who choose to do a qualitative dissertation. In this course the student develops a simple qualitative study (not the dissertation), and collects data. In the second course the student leaves the field and the focus is on rigorous analysis and writing up the results. In this course the students learn by doing. Students conduct interviews, engage in participant observation, develop field notes, and examine their personal beliefs. Students are guided with support from peers to develop codes, categories and themes. Trustworthiness guides the design, data collection, and analysis. Ethical issues related to qualitative research are discussed. Prerequisite: NURS 8701. 3 credits

NURS 8703 Qualitative Research Analysis
The focus of this course is the completion of the field study begun in NURS 8702 Qualitative Research Design. The student leaves the field and continues the work of deeper analysis. Work becomes increasingly focused and complex. Trustworthiness guides the work of analysis. Students are challenged to reflect and understand the influence of personal beliefs on their interpretations. Students have an opportunity to explore a wide range of ways of reporting findings and writing qualitative reports. At the completion of the course the student has the foundational skills required to do the qualitative dissertation. Prerequisite: NURS 8702. 3 credits

NURS 9900 Doctoral Colloquium
This course integrates scholarship and policy central to the role of nurse scientist, nurse leader, and nurse educator that influence the future of nursing and health care. An emphasis is placed on identifying potential phenomena of interest to nursing and engaging in focused academic discussions in an ongoing process to select and refine a specific phenomenon for dissertation research. Prerequisites: Candidacy Status; NURS 8701. 3 credits

NURS 9902 Dissertation Seminar I
This course consists of a seminar and discussion for doctoral candidates. Students develop the dissertation research proposal with guidance of faculty and input of fellow students. Emphasis is on the refinement of the problem statement, research question(s)/hypothesis, review of the literature and selection and application of appropriate methods. Prerequisites: NURS 9901 or NURS 9900 and all previously required research and statistics courses. 3 credits

NURS 9903 Dissertation Seminar II
This course consists of a seminar and discussion for doctoral candidates who are continuing to develop their dissertation proposal. The focus is on candidate discussion and presentation of topics related to issues dealing with the development of the dissertation proposal. Discussion of scholarly writing is included as well as opportunities for a “mock” oral defense of final dissertation proposal. Prerequisite: NURS 9902. 3 credits

NURS 9904 - 9918 Dissertation Advisement
Doctoral students who have completed Dissertation Seminars I or II, with or without having successfully passed dissertation proposal review, must continuously register for dissertation advisement (NURS 9904-NURS 9923) any semester they are not registered for any other 3 credit course until the dissertation is completed and the final oral defense of dissertation is passed. Students must maintain contact with their dissertation chair and committee members and be involved in the research and writing process. Prerequisite: NURS 9902 or NURS 9903. 1 credit

NURS 9919 Using Research for Evidence-Based Practice
This course will build on knowledge of the essentials of research and the components of evidence-based practice (EBP). The student will acquire the knowledge and skills necessary to evaluate and apply evidence-based principles
Course Descriptions 297

NURS 9937 Using Research for Advanced Nursing Practice
This course will build on knowledge of the essentials of research and the components of evidenced based practice (EBP). The student will acquire the knowledge and skills necessary to evaluate and apply evidence based principles in clinical settings. Development of scholarly writing ability utilizing APA format will be emphasized. 3 credits

NURS 9938 Integrity in Nursing Leadership
This course addresses the intersection of clinical integrity and clinical leadership in the context of advanced nursing practice. Using a case-based approach, nursing and biomedical ethical norms are integrated with leadership theory in the analysis of problems encountered by nurses in advanced roles. Contemporary leadership theories, foundational and advanced principles of ethical leadership, and dilemmas in the delivery of healthcare are examined in depth. Prerequisites: NURS 6123 or equivalent. 3 credits

NURS 9920 D.N.P. Residency I (Two semester course sequence)
Synthesis of the evidence for health care delivery occurs. Depending upon the focus of the student’s D.N.P. studies, the emphasis of the residency is on health care delivery for clients or on health care delivery in systems. Settings for practice are varied and expand upon previous practica in the D.N.P. curriculum. A total of 135 clinical practice hours are completed within the first semester of the D.N.P. residency. Prerequisites: NURS 7363 or NURS 7364 or NURS 7308 . 3 credits

NURS 9921 D.N.P. Residency II (Two semester course sequence)
Synthesis of the evidence for health care delivery occurs. Depending upon the focus of the student’s D.N.P. studies, the emphasis of the residency is on health care delivery for clients or on health care delivery in systems. Settings for practice are varied and expand upon previous practica in the D.N.P. curriculum. A total of 135 clinical practice hours are completed within the second semester of the D.N.P. residency. Prerequisites: NURS 9920. 3 credits

NURS 9922 Scholarly Project I
This course focuses on designing and implementing a scholarly project in which research is translated into practice in the student’s specialty. The project benefits a group, population or community rather than an individual patient or family, and addresses an identified health related need. Students develop the scholarly project with the guidance of faculty and community-based nursing experts. A total of 120 clinical hours are completed within the semester. This is a Pass/Fail course Prerequisites: NURS 9921. 3 credits

NURS 9923 Scholarly Project II
This course is a continuation of Scholarly Project I. The focus is project implementation, and evaluation. Students implement and evaluate project outcomes with the guidance of faculty and community-based nursing experts. A plan for professional and public dissemination of the project results will be elaborated. A total of 120 clinical hours are completed within the semester. Prerequisites: NURS 9922. 3 credits

NURS 9924-9935 D.N.P. Continuous Scholarly Project Advisement
D.N.P. students who have completed Scholarly Project I and II must continuously register for advisement (NURS 9924-NURS 9935) any semester they are not registered for any other 3 credit course until the Project is completed and the final presentation is passed. Students must maintain contact with their Scholarly Project chair and committee members and be involved in the project implementation and evaluation. Prerequisite: NURS 9922 or NURS 9923. 1 credit

Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology (ICSST) is the School of Theology of Seton Hall University and the major seminary of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Newark. ICSST admits both seminarians studying for the Catholic priesthood and lay students.

Founded in 1860 at Seton Hall, Immaculate Conception Seminary remained part of the University until 1927, when it moved to separate facilities in Darlington, near Mahwah. In 1984, Immaculate Conception Seminary re-affiliated with the University.

Mission Statement
Immaculate Conception Seminary is a House of Formation for the Roman Catholic priesthood and the School of Theology of Seton Hall University.

As a House of Formation, the Seminary offers men preparing for the priesthood the personal, academic, ministerial and spiritual formation essential for their conversion to Jesus Christ and for their commitment to a life of service to the Church.

As a School of Theology, the Seminary provides: a theological and philosophical foundation for men and women pursuing undergraduate studies; a theological foundation and a pastoral and spiritual formation for men and women preparing for ministries among the people of God; a theological foundation for men and women desiring to pursue doctoral studies; and varied opportunities for continuing theological education. Approved by the Board of Overseers – June 2, 2008

Accreditation
ICSST is accredited by the following organizations: Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada; Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools.

Degree Programs
For the past 154 years, the Seminary has dedicated itself to providing an educational and formational program of the highest caliber for men preparing to serve God’s People through the priesthood. Since 1974, the Seminary also has prepared lay men and women to fulfill their Christian vocations, rooted in the new life received in the Sacrament of Baptism, and to dedicate themselves to their specific roles in the mission of the Church.
ICSSST offers three graduate degree programs: the Master of Arts in Theology, the Master of Arts in Pastoral Ministry and the Master of Divinity.

ICSSST offers one undergraduate degree program: the Bachelor of Arts in Catholic Theology.

Certificate Programs

In addition to degree programs, ICSSST offers certificate programs in Catholic Evangelization and Seminary’s Theological Education for Parish Services (STEPS).

Center for Diaconal Formation

The academic program offered through the Center for Diaconal Formation is the prescribed curriculum for all deacon candidates who are seeking ordination and are enrolled in their diocese’s class cohort. The program is consistent with the intellectual norms established in the National Directory for the Formation, Ministry and Life of Permanent Deacons in the United States. Completion of the academic program leads to a Master of Arts in Theology with a systematic concentration (12 courses; 36 credits) and includes four extra specialized diaconate-specific courses for a Certificate in Diaconal Studies. For more information on the Center for Diaconal Formation, contact Deacon Andrew E. Saunders, M.A. ’08, Acting Director, at (973) 313-6335.

Summer Session

ICSSST offers courses throughout the Summer both for students already matriculated in a program and for nonmatriculated and visiting students. For more information on Summer classes, contact the Academic Resource Coordinator at (973) 761-9633.

Visiting Scholars

ICSSST regularly invites visiting scholars from other institutions as a way of providing students with exposure to distinguished faculty and thinkers in the field of theology. Past scholars have included Eamon Carroll, O.Carm. (Loyola, Chicago); Norris Clarke, S.J. (Fordham, New York); Marcel Dumais, O.M.I. (St. Paul’s University, Ottawa); Balthasar Fischer (Trier); Albert Fuchs (Katholisch-Theologische Hochschule, Linz); Bruno Hidber, C.Ss.R. (Alphonsian Academy); Edward T. Oakes, S.J. (Regis, Denver); Mary O’Driscoll, O.P. (Angelicum, Rome); Alberic Staepool, O.S.B. (Ampleforth Abbey, Yorkshire); D. Vincent Twomey, S.V.D. (Maynooth); Walter Vogels (University of St. Paul, Ottawa); Edward J. Yarnold, S.J. (Oxford University); and Zygmunt Zielinski (Catholic University of Lublin).

Archbishop Peter L. Gerety Fund for Ecclesiastical History

The Archbishop Peter L. Gerety Fund for Ecclesiastical History was established by the former Archbishop of Newark (1974-86) to promote study, research and scholarship in Church history broadly considered. It carries out its mandate in four major ways:

- Gerety Lectures: ICSSST sponsors lectures by distinguished guest speakers on subjects in the field of Church history. Past lecturers have included J. Ian Boyd, C.S.B.; Raymond Leo Cardinal Burke; Stephen Carter; Avery Cardinal Dulles, S.J.; Virgilio Elizondo; John Tracy Ellis; James Fisher; Gerald Fogarty; Robert P. George; Philip Gleason; Scott W. Hahn; Jan Michael Joncas; Mary Kenny; John O’Malley, S.J.; Mark Francis O’Malley; Jaroslav Pelikan; Peter C. Phan; Dermot A. Quinn; Albert Raboteau; Margaret Reher; Most Reverend Arthur J. Serratelli; Thomas Shelley; D. Vincent Twomey, S.V.D.; and Robert J. Wister.

- Gerety Seminarian Award: An annual prize of $300 is given to the Catholic seminarian enrolled at ICSSST who completes the best project in Church history in a given year.

- Gerety Book Award: A biennial subvention of $2,000 is provided for the publication of a book, a substantial portion of which deals with the history of the Roman Catholic community in New Jersey. It is expected that the book will reflect the use of the archives of the Archdiocese of Newark and/or other deposits in the archives of Seton Hall University under care of the New Jersey Catholic Historical Records Commission.

- Gerety Research Award: A $300 prize is given for the best monograph produced as a result of research in the archives of the Archdiocese of Newark and/or other deposits in the archives of Seton Hall University under care of the New Jersey Catholic Historical Records Commission.

For additional information about these awards, contact Monsignor Robert J. Wister at (973) 761-9575.

Admission

In addition to the general University requirements for admission to graduate studies, the Seminary School of Theology requires the following:

- a baccalaureate degree, preferably in the humanities, from an accredited college or university (particular distribution requirements are listed under each degree program);
- original transcripts of all undergraduate and graduate academic coursework from all colleges, seminaries and universities. Student transcripts or photocopies are not acceptable;
- all credentials in languages other than English must be accompanied by certified English translations;
- evaluation of foreign academic credentials: international applicants to have all transcripts from institutions not accredited in the United States or Canada evaluated by an organization that is a member of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES.org). Alternatively, transcripts may be evaluated by AACRAO. All evaluations must be course-by-course evaluations, as confirmation of course level and degree equivalency. Applications submitted without credential evaluations will not be considered for admission or transfer credit evaluation. Students are responsible for all costs associated with credential evaluations. International students are subject to a one-time fee of $400. This fee is assessed in the first semester of attendance;

- Graduate Entrance Exam: Official test results from the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) are preferred; alternatively, Miller Analogies Test (MAT);
- two letters of reference attesting to the student’s academic potential and personal qualifications to pursue advanced theological studies;
- completed application forms; and
- results of the TOEFL Test (for students born or raised in non-English-speaking countries). Seminarians applying to the M.Div. program already sponsored by a diocese or religious community may elect to take ESL testing on campus prior to initial registration.

Additional requirements or exceptions for particular degree programs are included in the descriptions of those programs.

Master of Arts in Theology (M.A.)

The Master of Arts in Theology offers students a substantial academic background in specific theological disciplines. ICSST offers the M.A. in Theology in two formats: general and research. The general M.A. is for students seeking a terminal degree in theology that allows them to pursue in-depth studies without a formal research component. The general M.A. is well-suited for persons teaching at the secondary school level. The research M.A. serves as the basis for further graduate studies and includes language reading and research requirements usually deemed prerequisites to doctoral studies. Admission and matriculation requirements and concentrations are the same for both formats.

Students considering further studies in theology are advised to pursue the research M.A., which leaves more options available. Because the general format M.A. is a terminal degree, ICSST will not recommend general format graduates to doctoral programs.

Admission Requirements

In addition to the University’s general admission requirements for graduate study and the special admission requirements for all ICSST programs, M.A. applicants should have completed at least 12 credits or the equivalent in theology/religious studies in their undergraduate programs. Students lacking this background may be required to enroll in additional coursework to satisfy this requirement.

Matriculation Requirements

All students must maintain an average of at least 3.0 on a 4.0 scale in coursework leading to the M.A. in Theology. Students must complete degree requirements within five years. Extensions of time to fulfill degree requirements may be requested from the ICSST Educational Policy Committee for justifiable reasons.

Concentrations

Concentrations are available in four areas: Biblical Studies, Moral Theology, Systematic Theology and Church History. A fifth concentration, in Judaean-Christian Studies, is available by taking courses offered through the University’s Department of Jewish-Christian Studies.

Degree Requirements

All students must take STHO 6020 Research Seminar in the first semester of study.

In addition, students must complete certain core courses, according to the area of concentration for their M.A.

a. Students enrolled in an M.A. with a concentration in Biblical Studies must complete:
   i. BIBL 6201 Pentateuch
   ii. BIBL 6501 Synoptic Gospels
   iii. and any one of the following:
       1. BIBL 6203 Prophetic Literature
       2. BIBL 6205 Wisdom Literature & Psalms
       3. BIBL 6503 Johannine Literature
       4. BIBL 6505 Pauline Literature

b. Students enrolled in an M.A. with a concentration in Church History must complete:
   i. HSTD 6201 History of Christianity I
   ii. HSTD 6202 History of Christianity II
   iii. HSTD 6807 American Christianity
   iv. and any one of the following:
       1. HSTD 6222 Popes and the Papacy
       2. HSTD 6226 Ecumenical Councils

c. Students enrolled in an M.A. with a concentration in Moral Theology must complete:
   i. CETH 6105 Fundamental Moral Theology
   ii. and any one of the following:
       1. CETH 6205 Health Care Ethics
       2. CETH 6306 Catholic Sexual Ethics
       3. CETH 6407 Catholic Social Teaching.

d. Students enrolled in an M.A. with a concentration in Systematic Theology must complete any two of the following:
   i. STHO 6202 Revelation and Faith
   ii. STHO 6501 Worship of the Church
   iii. STHO 6503 Sacraments of Initiation
   iv. STHO 6207 Ecclesiology
   v. STHO 6505 Eucharist
   vi. STHO 6203 Christology
   vii. STHO 6205 Christian Anthropology

In exceptional circumstances, the Associate Dean who serves as the student’s adviser, as well as the chair of the department in which the student is pursuing an M.A., may permit the substitution of another course for one of those required above.
General (Terminal) Option

Students selecting the M.A. in Theology, general option, must complete 36 credits of coursework, divided into 21 credits in one of the major areas listed under “concentrations” and 12 credits in the other areas of concentration, divided as evenly as possible among them. Students concentrating in Biblical Studies also must complete 6 credits in Biblical Greek (BIBL 6006 and BIBL 6007) and 6 credits in Biblical Hebrew (BIBL 6113 and BIBL 6114). As close as possible to their final semester of studies, students also must complete 3 credits in the M.A. Seminar (STHO 6999), a capstone course integrating their theological studies from among the various concentrations.

Research Option

The M.A. in Theology program, research format, consists of four components: coursework, language reading requirement, comprehensive examinations and thesis. These four components are divided as follows:

I. Coursework (36 credits)

Students must complete 36 hours of graduate coursework, divided into 21 credits in one of the major areas listed under “concentrations” and 15 credits in the other areas of concentration, divided as evenly as possible among them. No pastoral theology (PTho) courses are applicable to the M.A. in Theology degree.

II. Language Reading Requirement

Students must demonstrate reading knowledge of French or German. This requirement should be met as early as possible; no student will be permitted to advance to comprehensive examinations without satisfying it. Substitution of other languages is generally not permitted unless the student demonstrates a compelling relationship between the proposed language substitute and his area of research. Students meet the language reading requirement by taking a one-hour translation examination administered and graded by a faculty member chosen by the associate dean. The exam may be taken during the Fall or Spring semester.

III. Comprehensive Examinations

Students must complete written comprehensive examinations in their areas of concentration, demonstrating relative mastery of the chosen area of concentration. Comprehensives are taken after coursework and the language reading requirement have been fulfilled. Exams may be taken during the Fall or Spring semester.

IV. Thesis

Students must submit an acceptable thesis of substantial length (80-100 pages) in the chosen field of concentration on a topic previously approved by the Educational Policy Committee, only after all other degree requirements have been met successfully. The thesis is read by a mentor and a reader, each of whom grades the thesis, with the final grade established as an average by the associate dean. The final thesis must be filed in the ICSST Library.

V. Additional Requirements for Biblical Studies Students

In addition to the requirements described in I-IV, students concentrating in Biblical Studies must successfully complete 6 credits in Biblical Greek (BIBL 6006 and BIBL 6007) and 6 credits in Biblical Hebrew (BIBL 6113 and BIBL 6114) prior to comprehensive examinations.

Master of Arts in Pastoral Ministry (M.A.P.M.)

The Master of Arts in Pastoral Ministry program prepares students for competent leadership in a specialized ministry in the Catholic Church. The program strives to provide the student with both a theological education and specialized training in a chosen field of ministerial engagement.

Admission Requirements

In addition to the University’s admission requirements for graduate study and the general admission requirements for ICSST programs, M.A.P.M. applicants must:

- submit the results of psychological testing, including the Minnesota Multiphasic Personality Inventory (MMPI), the Rorschach, the Autobiographical Sketch, the Gestalt Test and the Draw-a-Person Test, all taken at a center approved by ICSST; and
- have a personal interview with the associate dean.

Note: At least two years of service to the Church is preferred.

Degree Requirements

The M.A.P.M. program consists of four components: coursework; field education and theological reflection; spiritual formation; and the Integration Seminar/Final Comprehensive Project, as follows. All students must take STHO 6020 Research Seminar in the first semester of study.

I. Coursework (42 credits)

Students complete coursework according to the distribution below, divided into 30 credits in a core theological curriculum and 12 credits in their area of pastoral specialization. Specific courses are selected in consultation with the student’s academic adviser.

A. Core Theological Curriculum

Students must complete 3 credits in each of the following core areas. The courses listed represent typical choices, not concrete requirements.

B. Concentration Area
Students must earn 12 credits in PTHO courses. The coursework should represent a coherent concentration in a particular area of pastoral ministry and be determined by the student’s present and prospective ministerial needs. Areas of concentration currently available include Seminary’s Theological Education for Parish Services (STEPS), Youth Ministry, Christian Spirituality and Great Spiritual Books.

II. Field Education and Theological Reflection
All M.A.P.M. students must complete the equivalent of 6 credits of field education in professionally supervised settings approved by ICSST. Students may meet this requirement as follows: (1) by taking part in two single-semester field education experiences of six to eight hours weekly in a supervised setting; (2) by enrolling in clinical pastoral education; or (3) by other means approved by the associate deans.

Concomitantly with field education, students must enroll in a theological reflection group, which normally meets approximately 10 times over the course of an academic year. Registration for the group is made through the associate dean.

III. Spiritual Formation
The formation program has three components. The first is the “Foundational Spiritual Experience.” A cognitive and experiential introduction to the spiritual life, this year-long program explores movements in the spiritual life. Liturgy, instruction, faith-sharing and communal prayer are some of the elements.

The second component of formation is spiritual direction. A list of recommended directors, persons associated in some way with the School who are familiar with the program and its goals, is available from the associate dean.

The third formation component is a retreat of several days made at some time during the course of studies. When the retreat has been completed, the student should inform the associate dean.

IV. Integration Seminar and Final Comprehensive Project
All students must enroll in and successfully complete the 3-credit Integration Seminar (PTHO 9101). Completion of this seminar involves successful preparation of an acceptable final comprehensive project in ministry, attesting to the student’s successful integration of theological knowledge and pastoral expertise with its appropriate application to a selected pastoral issue. Copies of the final project are submitted to the ICSST Library.

Master of Divinity (M.Div.)
The Master of Divinity program is the first professional degree program providing theological training for those preparing to undertake ministry in the Roman Catholic Church, primarily through ordination to the priesthood. The program meets all the requirements of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops’ Program of Priestly Formation (Fifth Edition, 2005). While the M.Div. program is oriented toward seminarians preparing for the Roman Catholic priesthood, others may be admitted to this program, at the discretion of the rector and dean, provided that they meet all other requirements.

Admission Requirements
In addition to the University’s general admission requirements for graduate study and the special admission requirements for all ICSST programs, M.Div. applicants:

- must undertake psychological testing, according to protocols issued by the Office of the Rector and Dean;
- must have a personal interview with the rector and dean and/or Admissions Committee. Scheduling for such interviews is initiated by ICSST; and
- should have earned at least 15 undergraduate hours in religious studies/theology and at least 30 undergraduate hours in philosophy as part of their undergraduate education, corresponding to the themes required by the Program of Priestly Formation (Fifth Edition, 2005). Further preparation will be provided through the Pre-Theology program at ICSST.

Note: For seminarians already affiliated with a diocese or religious community, on-site testing at Seton Hall University for English language abilities (with possible additional requirements in ESL classes) might be substituted for the TOEFL, in consultation with the associate dean.

Matriculation Requirements
M.Div. students must maintain at least a 3.0 GPA on a 4.0 scale. The M.Div. program should be completed within six years (exclusive of any Philosophy or Pre-Theology requirements) unless extension of time is granted upon petition to the ICSST Educational Policy Committee due to extenuating circumstances.

Degree Requirements
The M.Div. curriculum consists of four components: coursework; field education and theological reflection; spiritual formation; and the M.Div. Comprehensive Projects, as follows. All students must take STHO 6022 Graduate Research Seminar in the first semester of study.

I. Coursework (74 credits)
Students must complete academic coursework according to the following distribution:

C. Moral Theology (6 credits)
CETH 6105  Fundamental Moral Theology  3
Select any other CETH course.

D. Pastoral Theology (27 credits)
Students preparing for priestly ordination must select the following courses:

- PTHO 6109  Introduction to Preaching  2
- PTHO 6112  Preaching Practicum I  2
- PTHO 6113  Preaching Practicum II  2
- PTHO 6203  General Psychology & Counseling  3
- PTHO 6401  General Canon Law  3
- PTHO 6405  Canon Law of Marriage  3
- PTHO 6726  History of Spirituality  3
- PTHO 6601  Pastoral Ministry: Introduction  3
- PTHO 6608  Ministry of Leadership: Priest and Minister in Service to the Community  2
- PTHO 6609  Ministry Synthesis  1

Select a spirituality course in consultation with adviser:  3

Students who are not preparing for priesthood must complete 27 credits of PTHO courses selected in light of ministerial needs, in consultation with their academic adviser.

E. Systematic Theology (23 credits)

- STHO 6022  Graduate Research Seminar  2
- STHO 6202  Revelation and Faith  3
- STHO 6203  Christology  3
- STHO 6204  Trinity  3
- STHO 6205  Christian Anthropology  3
- STHO 6207  Ecclesiology  3
- STHO 6503  Sacraments of Initiation  3

Select one of the following:  3

- STHO 6501  Worship of the Church  3
- STHO 6505  Eucharist  3

II. Field Education and Theological Reflection

All students must complete the equivalent of 12 credits of pastoral field education accompanied by participation in a minimum of 10 sessions (two semesters) in a theological reflection group. Students preparing for priestly ordination meet these requirements during their second and third years of studies by taking PTHO 6602, 6603, 6604 and 6605 (which, together with PTHO 6601 and 6608/9 make up a six-course pastoral sequence for priesthood). Students who are not preparing for priesthood, in consultation with the Office of the Associate Dean, can fulfill this requirement through a seminar and M.Div. comprehensive project in consultation with the associate dean. Copies of the M.Div. project are submitted to the ICSST Library.

III. Spiritual Formation

ICSST provides an integrated spiritual formation program for resident seminarians enrolled in the M.Div. program, based on the vision of St. John Paul II’s Apostolic Exhortation Pastores Dabo Vobis. The program includes: daily celebration of the Eucharist and the Liturgy of the Hours; a weekly group formational program, which includes distinguished speakers; a structure of regular personal mentoring and spiritual direction; days of reflection and organized retreats; and participation in a Summer program of enhanced spiritual formation after I and III Theology, in conjunction with the International Institute for Clergy Formation (Seton Hall University) and the Institute for Priestly Formation (Creighton University). Resident students are regularly reviewed and assessed by the formation faculty. Non-resident seminarians usually participate in the formation programs of their own communities, though they are welcome to avail themselves of formational opportunities at ICSST as may be beneficial to them. Students who are not preparing for priesthood participate in the formation program outlined under Spiritual Formation of the M.A.P.M. degree program.

IV. M.Div. Comprehensive Projects

Students must demonstrate successful integration of theological knowledge with application to specific pastoral issues. Students preparing for priestly ordination fulfill this requirement through a series of written comprehensive projects, which are part of the six-course pastoral sequence for priesthood (PTHO 6601, 6602, 6603, 6604, 6605 and 6608/9). Students who are not preparing for priesthood fulfill this requirement through a seminar and M.Div. comprehensive project in consultation with the associate dean. Copies of the M.Div. project are submitted to the ICSST Library.

Academic Program for Priesthood Candidates

The 126-138 credit Academic Program for Priesthood Candidates is the prescribed curriculum at ICSST for all seminarians seeking ordination to the Roman Catholic priesthood. The program fulfills all the requirements of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops’ Program of Priestly Formation (Fifth Edition, 2005). Students meeting the requirements of this program automatically fulfill the requirements of the M.Div. program. The curriculum is as follows:

Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology

STHO 6202  Revelation and Faith  3
STHO 6501  Worship of the Church  3
STHO 6022  Graduate Research Seminar  2

Spring Semester (15 credits)

STHO 6503  Sacraments of Initiation  3

Second Year

Fall Semester (18 credits)

BIBL 6203  Pentateuch  3
HSTD 6202  History of Christianity II  3
PTHO 6601  Pastoral Ministry: Introduction  3
STHO 6205  Christian Anthropology  3

Spring Semester (17 credits)

BIBL 6205  Wisdom Literature and Psalms  3
PTHO 6507  Reconciliation and Anointing of the Sick  3
PTHO 6740  Priesthood and Ministry  3

Additional Requirements

Electives: The four required electives shown above must consist of one course each in: moral theology (CETH); Church history (HSTD); spirituality (PTHO); and systematics (STHO).

Spanish Language: Seminarians for whom English is their primary language and who are studying for dioceses that require Spanish language proficiency also take PTHO 6017/8 Intermediate Pastoral Spanish and/or PTHO 6019/20 Advanced Pastoral Spanish in their third and/or fourth year of theological studies. (Students should complete Elementary Spanish prior to beginning Pastoral Spanish).

Joint M.Div./M.A. Option

In the course of complying with the Academic Program for Priesthood Candidates, a student meets all requirements for the M.Div. degree. Because there are “surplus” credits in the Academic Program for Priesthood Candidates beyond what is applied toward the M.Div., a student may apply these additional credits toward the M.A. in Theology, either in the research or general format. Credits cannot serve “double-duty.” That is, once credits have been applied toward one degree, they cannot be used toward the other. Assuming that a student has met all the requirements of the Academic Program for Priesthood Candidates, including successful completion of the four required electives, he needs the following additional credits in his concentration area to meet credit requirements of the M.A.: Systematic Theology – 6; Moral Theology – 6; Church History – 15; Biblical Studies – 15 (plus the Greek and Hebrew requirements).

Remaining Requirements

(I) For students choosing the research format: language reading requirements, comprehensive examinations and thesis; (II) for students choosing the general format: the M.A. Seminar also must be completed successfully. In the four years of preparation for the priesthood, it is possible to complete all coursework requirements (in either degree format) and, where applicable, language requirements. Students choosing the research option often complete comprehensives and thesis after ordination. The M.A. is conferred one semester after the M.Div. For more information on the joint degree option, contact the Office of the Associate Dean at (973) 761-9633.
Pre-Theology Program

For students preparing for priestly ordination who possess an undergraduate Bachelor’s degree or equivalent, but who do not have sufficient preparation in Philosophy and Theology, the Pre-Theology program provides a sequence of courses that satisfies all the preparatory requirements for admission to major seminary study in accordance with the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops’ Program of Priestly Formation (Fifth Edition, 2005).

Students whose undergraduate preparation includes one or more of the courses in this sequence may be exempted from particular requirements. The normative duration of the program is two academic years, with the following course sequence:

First Year

Fall Semester (18 credits)
PLTL 1111  History of Philosophy I  3
PLTL 1242  Philosophical Logic  3
THEO 1501  To Know God: Introduction to Roman Catholic Doctrine  3
COST 1600  Oral Communication  3
LATN 1101  Elementary Latin I  3
English Proficiencies  3

Spring Semester (18 credits)
PLTL 1112  History of Philosophy II  3
PLTL 2223  Philosophy of Nature  3
THEO 1102  The Bible: Word of God and Book of the Church  3
THEO 1502  The Church’s Saving Mysteries: Introduction to Roman Catholic Liturgy and Sacraments  3
LATN 1102  Elementary Latin II  3
Elective  3

Second Year

Fall Semester (18 credits)
PLTL 1113  History of Philosophy III  3
PLTL 2218  Philosophy of Person  3
PLTL 3214  Philosophy of Person  3
THEO 1203  New Life in Christ: Introduction to Roman Catholic Moral Theology  3
BIBL 3106  New Testament Greek I  3
Elective (or Elementary Spanish I)  3

Spring Semester (18-21 credits)
PLTL 2243  Theory of Knowledge  3
PLTL 2241  Philosophical Ethics  3

BIBL 3107  New Testament Greek II  3
Elective (or Elementary Spanish II)  3

Additional Requirements

Languages: Each student must complete Elementary Latin I and II, as well as either New Testament Greek I and II or Elementary Greek I and II. Students without prior Spanish study should take Elementary Spanish I & II in Pre-Theology as prerequisites for Intermediate Pastoral Spanish in the M.Div. program.

Certificates

An ICSST certificate attests to the completion of a substantial and coherent program of learning, involving 18 to 24 credits in a given area of study, without completion of all the requirements for a degree program. A certificate program allows some students to finish a discrete program of learning and obtain a credential for it. Other students may use a certificate program as a way of “testing the waters” prior to and/or en route to completion of a degree program. A certificate can be earned concurrently with a degree. ICSST offers a certificate in Catholic Evangelization and a certificate in Seminary’s Theological Education for Parish Services (STEPS).

Certificate Program in Catholic Evangelization

For persons who desire to be equipped to bring the Good News of Jesus Christ to their homes, parishes and local communities.

Admission Requirements: Students must meet the same requirements as those for the M.A. in Pastoral Ministry program, except that the GRE/MAT and psychological testing are not required.

Course Requirements: 18 credits, as follows:
BIBL 6210 Biblical Call Narratives; HSTD/PTHO/STHO 6334 Catholic Evangelization; PTHO/STHO 6333 Evangelizing Church; BIBL/PTHO 6571 The Parables of Jesus; STHO 6999 MA Seminar; and PTHO/STHO 6244 Prayer, Discipleship and Community.

Additional Requirements: Students are required to participate in four Saturday sessions per year designed to help them to discern and deepen their spiritual gifts, while forming small group communities of faith and prayer. The sessions allow students to deepen their faith with one another, as they learn and hone skills of spiritual leadership and Catholic evangelization.
Certificate Program in Seminary’s Theological Education for Parish Services (STEPS)

For persons seeking a deeper understanding of their faith, particularly those who are preparing to work in a parish setting or those who already work in a parish and seek additional academic and professional credentials.

Admission Requirements: Students must meet the same requirements as those for the M.A. in Pastoral Ministry program, except that the GRE/MAT and psychological testing are not required.

Course Requirements: 24 credits, divided as follows:
- Foundational Level: 12 credits, including: BIBL 6529 Spirituality of the Old Testament; BIBL 6501 Synoptic Gospels; HSTD 6809 History of Christianity; STHO 6246 Theology of Vatican II. Advanced Level: 12 credits, including: BIBL 6506 Introduction to Pauline and Johannine Literature; STHO 6503 Sacraments of Initiation; STHO 6202 Revelation and Faith; CETH 6130 Major Themes in Christian Ethics.

Additional Requirements: Students are required to participate in spiritual formation and praxis opportunities that allow them to deepen their spiritual gifts while gaining practical skills that will better prepare them for pastoral service. These include theological reflection, retreats, days of reflection, spiritual conferences and training in public speaking and leadership skills.

The STEPS program was designed in collaboration with Education for Parish Services (EPS), a nationally-recognized lay education organization based in Washington, DC.

Course Descriptions

BIBL 3106/6006 New Testament Greek I
Introduction to New Testament Greek vocabulary and grammar, focusing on noun declensions and elementary verb tenses. Reading, translation and analysis of short passages from the New Testament. 3 credits

BIBL 3107/6007 New Testament Greek II
Further study of New Testament Greek vocabulary and grammar, focusing on more advanced verb tenses and moods. Reading, translation and analysis of passages from the New Testament. Prerequisite: BIBL 3106/6006. 3 credits

BIBL 6113 Biblical Hebrew I
An introduction to the most basic elements of Hebrew grammar with accent on the noun and the qal stem of the verb, Hebrew thought patterns and sentence structure, plus instruction in use of a Hebrew lexicon. A study of grammar accompanied by selected readings from Genesis. 3 credits

BIBL 6114 Biblical Hebrew II
A continuation of BIBL 6113. Prerequisite: BIBL 6113. 3 credits

BIBL 6117 Bible/Christian Morality
This course takes up the issue of difficult moral questions and the way in which the Bible provides resources for resolving these questions in a Christian manner. The course is divided into two parts: Part 1 deals with difficult moral questions provided by biblical narratives themselves and reviews ways in which Christians have addressed them. These questions include the “dark passages of scripture,” such as laws commanding genocide in the book of Joshua, and Old Testament legislation on polygamy, slavery, adultery and homosexuality. Part 2 deals with the biblical principles of New Testament Christian ethics and how they apply to difficult contemporary moral problems in beginning, middle and end-of-life issues, sexual morality, capital punishment, pacifism and war. (Cross-referenced to CETH 6117) 3 credits

BIBL 6122 Biblical Archaeology
The purpose of this course is to provide students with an introduction to biblical archaeology. The course (1) introduces students to the history of archaeology in the Holy Land, (2) reviews the nature, goals and methods used by archaeologists in excavating and studying the material and religious cultures of the Bible and (3) explores ways in which archaeological data can be placed in dialogue with the study of Scripture. (Cross-referenced to HSTD 6122) 3 credits

BIBL 6201 Pentateuch
Introduction to critical theories useful to Pentateuchal research; historical and geographical context of the Pentateuch; literary genres; development of Pentateuchal books and their underlying theologies; exegesis of selected passages. 3 credits

BIBL 6203 Prophetic Literature
A study of the authority, role and key concepts of the Hebrew prophets in the context of their own times and the possible paradigms for the present; an in-depth study of significant passages in the classical prophets; exegesis of selected texts. 3 credits

BIBL 6205 Wisdom Literature and Psalms
An examination of the notion of wisdom in the ancient Near East; genre of wisdom literature; close examination of selected sapiential books; study of various types of Psalms, their significance in Israel and their importance to the Church today; exegesis of selected passages. 3 credits

BIBL 6210 Biblical Call Narratives
Exploration of how divine calls bestow dramatic meaning and personhood upon the lives of various figures in the Bible and those who hear and receive their message. Such figures include Adam and Eve, Cain, Abraham, Jonah, St. Paul and the Church-Bride of the Apocalypse. Clarification of the nature of human objections to the divine call and the way in which they are divinely resolved. Exploration of how biblical narrative can enrich a theology and philosophy of vocation and personhood and strengthen the capacity to live and work in faith, hope and charity. 3 credits
BIBL 6231 Suffering and the Book of Job
Many Old Testament texts explore the meaning of human suffering, but the most sustained reflection on this subject is the Book of Job. The book focuses on how Job, a man renowned for his righteousness, is forced to prove by his suffering that this righteousness is authentic. In doing so, it prompts its readers to explore their own assumptions about suffering and righteousness and leads them to perceive how the meaning of human suffering is linked to religious freedom and love. The book will be of interest to all who wish to understand the poetic and spiritual power of the Old Testament and its pastoral applications to life’s deepest problems. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6267) 3 credits

BIBL 6236 The Book of Genesis and Family Spirituality
This course explores how and why the family dynamics portrayed in the Book of Genesis constitute the foundations of biblical wisdom and spirituality. By examining the stories about Adam and Eve, Cain and Abel, Abraham, Sarah and Hagar, Isaac, Rebekah and Ishmael, Jacob, Esau, Rachel and Leah, and Joseph and his brothers and sister, the course seeks to clarify the wisdom and depth of the principles that ground biblical family spirituality in Judaeo-Christian tradition and in Catholic theology. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6236) 3 credits

BIBL 6237 Biblical Family Narratives
This course examines the central role of family life in the covenant relationship with God. Significant texts from the Old Testament and the New Testament are analyzed. Particular emphasis is given to the Infancy Narratives. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6237) 3 credits

BIBL 6239 Wedding Feast at Cana
This course studies the Wedding Feast at Cana (John 2:1-11) by looking at the pericope in light of the four senses of Scripture: the literal, the allegorical, the moral and the anagogical. It looks at the passage as it fits into the plan of John’s Gospel and the broader scope of John’s theology. In doing so, major themes from the wedding feast are examined with regard to how these themes apply to marriage today. These themes include: New Creation; bride and bridegroom; sacrifice; the domestic church; marriage; and the Eucharist. The course draws heavily on St. John Paul II’s Apostolic Exhortation Familiaris Consortio. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6239) 3 credits

BIBL 6240 The Family in the Early Church
In his writings, St. John Paul II stresses that parenthood is a spiritual rather than a biological function. This course sets out to trace the sources of this conception in the history of the early Church, looking for the sources and development of this conception in the Old Testament, in Christ’s redefinition of the family on spiritual grounds, and in the lives and writings of the early Christians who took up His call to spiritual rebirth. Keeping to the thread of this central idea, the course seeks to identify the essential characteristics of the Christian conception of the family in the early Church in relation to the various dominant but non-Christian models of the family in the Jewish, Greek and Roman cultural world, which the early Christians inhabited. (Cross-referenced to HSTD 6240) 3 credits

BIBL 6241 The Gospel and the Family
What images and lessons of faith, hope and, above all, love, did Jesus impart to families? Close readings of Scripture passages dealing with the family—taken from the Four Gospels—and lively class discussions are the focus of this course. Practical implications and spiritual disciplines for families today will be drawn from Scripture, class discussions and lectures and class exercises and projects. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6241) 3 credits

BIBL 6248 Deuterocanonical Books
Spiritual and social developments within Judaism between the third century B.C. and the second century A.D. are studied through representative works. Interest in the course centers on the heritage of the Hebrew Bible in a variety of religious expressions. The roots of both Rabbinic Judaism and Christianity can be appreciated only within this context. 3 credits

BIBL 6398 The Dark Passages of the Bible
This course explores violence-ridden and morally challenging passages of the Bible, including those that apparently sanction capital punishment, child-sacrifice, extermination of non-combatants in warfare, polygamy, slavery, lying and making the Cross a gateway to eternal life. The course seeks to familiarize students with these passages and illuminate Jewish and Christian ways of explaining their meaning and function in the canon. (Web-based; Cross-referenced to CETH 6398). 3 credits

BIBL 6408 Introduction to the New Testament
This course introduces students to the scholarly study of the New Testament, with a view also to its use in the liturgy and pastoral ministry. The background, structure, characteristics, themes, and theology of the various books of the New Testament are discussed, with special attention given to the four Gospels, the Acts of the Apostles, and the letters of St. Paul. Numerous passages from the New Testament are considered through more detailed exegesis, using both diachronic (historical-critical) and synchronic (narrative) methods, but also considering their theological meaning in light of the whole Bible (canonical exegesis), the Church’s Tradition (e.g., Fathers of the Church and the liturgy) and the analogy of faith (the Church’s faith taught by the Magisterium). Catholic principles for biblical interpretation guide the approach of the course. 3 credits

BIBL 6410 Catholic Epistles – Hebrews
This course presents the Epistle to the Hebrews together with the seven Epistles, known as the seven Catholic or General Epistles: James, 1-2 Peter, 1-2-3 John and Jude. These works present a witness to Jesus of those who had seen him in his earthly career, namely two members of his family (James and Jude) and two of the most important of the Twelve (Peter and John). While discussing various scholarly debates about the Epistles, the course emphasizes basic themes and structure. 3 credits
BIBL 6413 Infancy Narratives
This course examines the infancy narratives in the canonical Gospels. The cultural, historical and theological aspects surrounding the Nativity and its proclamation will be considered. An exegetical study of the passages will be undertaken, emphasizing the historical-critical approach to biblical theology. 3 credits

BIBL 6501 Synoptic Gospels
An historical and critical approach to the study of the gospels, its limits and benefits and its acceptability to the Church. The “synoptic problem” and the consequences of its resolution for study of the gospels. Diverse forms within the gospels and the characteristics of each gospel. 3 credits

BIBL 6503 Johannine Literature
Consideration of the general characteristics, literary relationships, possible sources, overall structure and recurrent themes in John’s Gospel; numerous passages exegeted. Overview of the Johannine epistles and their historical context. 3 credits

BIBL 6504 St. Paul in Acts
This course examines the figure of Paul the Apostle in the Acts of the Apostles. Particular attention is paid to Paul’s missionary journeys as articulated by Acts, the theologically-rich preaching of the apostle and his judicial trials. In this way, students will enter into conversation with early Christian kerygma, missionary strategy, cultural dialogue and apologia for the faith. (Cross-referenced to HSTD 6504) 3 credits

BIBL 6505 Pauline Literature
Treatment of Paul’s life and background; introduction to each of Paul’s letters with attention to the historical situation and major interpretive concerns associated with each; theological development as evidenced from letter to letter; exegesis of selected passages. 3 credits

BIBL 6506 Introduction to Pauline and Johannine Literature
This course aims to introduce the student to an appreciation of various historical, literary and theological aspects of the Fourth Gospel and of Paul’s Letters, especially those to the Galatians and Romans. Special attention is paid to the way in which these writings reflect, interpret and develop the early Christian kerygma (proclamation) and thereby contribute to the Christian interpretation of Jesus, person and mission (Christology and Soteriology) and the means by which faith in him as the Christ and Son of God communicates abundant life (the Sacraments and Ecclesiology). 3 credits

BIBL 6508 Acts and Primitive Christianity
This course treats the Acts of the Apostles, its motifs and its ideas. It focuses especially on the Acts’ presentation concerning the emergence and development of the Christian movement in the decades following Jesus’ death and resurrection, and it compares this presentation with evidence found elsewhere in the New Testament. (Cross-referenced to HSTD 6508) 3 credits

BIBL 6522 The Passion and Resurrection of Jesus
A historical, literary and theological study of the Passion and Resurrection Narratives in the four Gospels, as well as related texts from the letters of St. Paul and Hebrews. Different theories for understanding Christ’s saving work (soteriology) also are examined in historical perspective, so as to address the question of how Christ’s Paschal Mystery effects the world’s redemption. The pastoral application of the material to the Lent and Easter seasons also is considered. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6532) 3 credits

BIBL 6527 Spirituality of John
A study of the Gospel of John from the viewpoint of his spiritual doctrine; the role of faith for John; Jesus’ “Signs” and their Christological significance; antinomies in the Gospel of John: light/darkness, life/death; prayer in John. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6527) 3 credits

BIBL 6529 Spirituality of the Old Testament
The Old Testament insight into the progressive revelation of Divine Presence and Fidelity. A study of the creation stories; the Exodus event; the sagas; Divine forgiveness and faithfulness; the call to holiness and its particular and universal aspects. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6396) 3 credits

BIBL 6530 Peter in the New Testament and Christian Antiquity
Few of the disciples of Jesus have created such a vivid and lasting impression on their contemporaries or upon history and theology as has Simon Peter. Through an attentive dialogue with the documents of the New Testament, the first two Christian centuries and the witness of the archaeological record, participants in this course attempt to come to know more profoundly the fisherman from Galilee. In doing so, they make use of the best tools of biblical study, historical investigation and theological inquiry to understand Peter and the basis of his ongoing role in the Christian faith for both individual disciples and the community of faith. (Cross-referenced to HSTD 6530) 3 credits

BIBL 6535 The Scriptural Sources and Meaning of the Lord’s Prayer
The purpose of this course is to explore the depth, wisdom and power of the Lord’s Prayer by exploring its scriptural contexts and sources. Versions of the Prayer in all the Gospels and in the writings of Paul are studied to highlight the Trinitarian dimension of the Prayer and the way in which it maps out the Christian spiritual journey and enables Christ’s disciples to escape from various cycles of violence that impede their quest for God’s Kingdom. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6535) 3 credits

BIBL 6570 Mary in Sacred Scripture
A study of Scriptural texts and themes related to the Blessed Virgin Mary: Old Testament texts/institutions that prefigure Mary; New Testament texts that refer to Mary. Exegesis of select Lucan and Johannine texts using both modern and traditional methods of interpretation. Scriptural foundations of Marian dogmas/doctrines, liturgical feasts and devotional practices. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6570 and STHO 6570) 3 credits
BIBL 6571 The Parables of Jesus
From the Prodigal Son to the Good Samaritan to the Good Shepherd, there are few things as familiar to us as these disarmingly simple yet penetrating narratives that Jesus used to articulate and proclaim the Kingdom of God during his ministry. They were fashioned by him both to awaken insight and to provoke response in his listeners. This course provides a close study of selected parables of Jesus from the Synoptic Gospels. Particular attention is paid to the cultural, biblical and literary contexts of the parables examined, so that students might approach “hearing” the parables as did their first audiences, both grasping their profound insights and responding to their call to conversion. Through doing so, students will come to appreciate the parables as indispensable sources of theology by and about Jesus, and as fonts for authentic Christian spirituality in our own day. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6571) 3 credits

BIBL 6577 Mariology
Planned lectures include: “Encountering the Mother of God in the New Testament,” “Encountering the Mother of God in the Church Fathers,” “Encountering the Mother of God in Medieval spirituality,” “Encountering the Mother of God in the Renaissance & Baroque,” “Encountering the Mother of God in the 19th century spirituality” and “Encountering the Mother of God today.” (Cross-referenced to HSTD 6577, PTHO 6577 and STHO 6577) 3 credits

BIBL 6595 Book of Revelation
A study of the Book of Revelation, examining issues related to its authorship and interpretation. Analysis of the book within the context of the apocalyptic genre, followed by a study of its particular message and theology of hope. Special attention to imagery and symbolism in Revelation. 3 credits

BIBL 6723 Passover: From Moses to Jesus
“Why is this night different from all other nights?” For centuries, this Passover question has invited remembrance of the mighty deeds by which the Lord rescued his people. This course will offer an extended reflection on the biblical Passover in three basic parts. First, we will explore the roots of Passover in the Old Testament, distilling both its history and theology as Israel’s great feast of national liberation. Second, we will survey the Passover as recounted in intertestamental literature, to grasp how it was thought of and lived out in Jewish society in the time leading up to Jesus. Third, we will delve into the Passover in the New Testament to grasp how, from the ministry of Jesus, to the Last Supper, to the early Christian Eucharist, the Passover grew into a major theological font used to explain and understand what God was accomplishing in Christ. (Cross-referenced to HSTD 6723) 3 credits

BIBL 6724 Jewish Roots of Christian Spirituality
See PTHO 6724. 3 credits

BIBL 6803 Biblical Prayer & Spirituality
The theme of prayer is intrinsic to biblical narrative. The course contains four units, which explore, respectively: 1) The role of prayer in the Old Testament and the perennial relevance of Old Testament prayers, especially the Psalms, to Christian prayer; 2) Jewish and Rabbinic prayer forms and their relevance to the understanding of Christian New Testament prayers, especially the Lord’s Prayer, the Hail Mary and the liturgy of the Eucharist; 3) The Lord’s Prayer and the Hail Mary themselves; and 4) The role that Scripture plays in the prayers of great Christian thinkers, writers, missionaries and saints. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6803) 3 credits

CETH 6105 Fundamental Moral Theology
This course examines the central characteristics of Roman Catholic moral theology in the post-Vatican II era: specifically, how the discipline currently appropriates Scripture, tradition, the magisterium, human experience and reason, the universal desire for happiness, and the realities of sin and grace, to express the dynamics of the Christian moral life conceived as a dialogic response to the gracious initiatives of God and ultimately, as an act of worship that finds its source and summit in the Eucharist sacrifice (Catechism 2031). 3 credits

CETH 6112 Moral Evil and Moral Absolutes
Perhaps no ethical topic is more hotly debated today than moral absolutes: whether there are some actions that are always and everywhere morally wrong. From abortion to artificial contraception, from torture to the death penalty, these issues are of pressing concern for marriages, families, associations, government and international relations. This course seeks to review the Catholic response to this question through encountering the Christian tradition. After a short investigation on the nature of moral evil in Thomas Aquinas, this reading seminar will begin its historical overview of the Christian tradition with Sacred Scripture and culminate with St. John Paul II’s Encyclical Veritatis Splendor. All of this as we seek to get a clearer grasp on the Church’s teaching on moral evil and moral absolutes. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6112) 3 credits

CETH 6114 The Problem of Evil
This course begins with some reflections about experiences of evil in a globalized world, society and culture. The course then examines how Holy Scripture approaches the problem of evil. Systematic reflections follow, focusing on the theological question: “Why does the good and omnipotent God create the human being capable of evil?” Finally, the course presents Christ on the cross and in the resurrection both as the victim of evil and as victor over evil. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6253). 3 credits

CETH 6116 Social Justice in the Fathers
This course examines the social teachings of early Christianity so as to delineate the distinctive features of modern and ancient social doctrines while at the same time revealing the fundamental continuum and trajectory that characterize the genuine development of Catholic theology and moral teaching. (Cross-referenced to HSTD 6419) 3 credits

CETH 6117 Bible/Christian Morality
See BIBL 6117. 3 credits
CETH 6126 Ethics of Virtue
This course examines moral strengths as lived through the four cardinal virtues — both how these virtues can be obtained and how they are related to the Christian life through the theological virtues (faith, hope and charity), the gifts of the Holy Spirit and the Beatitudes. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6126) 3 credits

CETH 6130 Major Themes in Christian Ethics
A team-taught survey of Christian ethics, including fundamental moral theology and Catholic teaching in sexual morality, healthcare and social justice. Not applicable to M.Div. or M.A. with Christian ethics concentration. 3 credits

CETH 6132 The Four Loves
See PTHO 6132. 3 credits

CETH 6134 Four Loves and Family Life
This course begins with Benedict XVI’s Deus Caritas Est and concludes with C. S. Lewis’ The Four Loves and St. John Paul II’s Love and Responsibility. Illuminating these works by engaging with the key philosophical and biblical texts that they cite, the course proceeds to illuminate the nature of love through the writings of Anglican, Protestant and Catholic novelists and theologians. The purpose of the course is to help people to understand the spiritual nature of love in its manifold forms, and so, gracefully to inflame and sustain their aptitude for courtship, family affection, friendship and charity. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6134) 3 credits

CETH 6138 Theological Aesthetics: God, Beauty, and Film
Few realities captivate us culturally, emotionally and aesthetically, as the medium of film. In the complex multimedia culture we live in, film moves us in a way that no other media seem capable of doing. Moreover, films have a rich capacity to explore ideas and raise questions in something more than merely an intellectual manner. In this course, we seek to capture film capturing us as we study three aspects of this draw: First, we explore the medium of film itself and why it is so powerful. Second, we examine the human emotional life to which film is intimately connected and on which it operates. Finally, we explore some theological themes, issues and questions – ranging from anthropology to morals to eschatology – which are raised in contemporary film. (Web-based; Cross-referenced to STHO 6138) 3 credits

CETH 6205 Healthcare Ethics
To develop skills in using Catholic Church teaching and Natural Law argumentation, an examination of the concepts of health, the human person, personal and social responsibility, confidentiality, reproductive technologies, abortion, medical research, experimentation, transplants, psychotherapy, addiction, suicide, euthanasia and care of the disabled, those with AIDS and the dying. 3 credits

CETH 6215 End-of-Life Issues
This course treats contemporary issues regarding the end of human life, including sanctity of human life, patient autonomy, euthanasia, physician-assisted suicide, organ donation, and medically-assisted nutrition and hydration, examined from the perspectives of Faith (Scripture, tradition and magisterium), Reason (philosophy) and Law (natural and civil law). (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6216) 3 credits

CETH 6217 Beginning-of-Life Issues
This course treats contemporary issues regarding the beginning of human life, including cloning, embryonic stem cell research, reproductive technologies including in vitro fertilization, abortion, ectopic pregnancies, early induction and the ethical treatment of rape victims. This course seeks to apply the teaching of the Church and sound ethical reasoning to the issues raised by recent reproductive and prenatal technologies so that students will be able to advise effectively the people to whom they minister in making virtuous medical decisions. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6217) 3 credits

CETH 6227 John Paul II and Sexual Ethics
This course investigates some of the major contributions of St. John Paul II to the Church’s understanding of sexual ethics. It uses his Theology of the Body and pre-papal work Love and Responsibility as a foundation, placing sexual ethics within an “integral vision of the human person.” It also explores relevant passages in his other writings. This course addresses some culturally controversial topics in sexual ethics—such as contraception, homosexual marriage and in vitro fertilization—and discusses the competing “visions of the human person” that are at the root of the modern debate. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6227 and STHO 6256) 3 credits

CETH 6252 Theology of the Body
See PTHO 6224. 3 credits

CETH 6254 Theology and Spirituality of Marriage and the Family
Marriage and family life is a great gift of God’s creation. Through the Sacrament of Marriage, spousal and familial love is taken up into the infinite love of Christ and the Church. In the communion of love open to God’s gift of life, all married couples and their children are called to holiness. Through readings based on the works of St. Paul, St. Augustine, St. Thomas Aquinas, Hugh of St. Victor and St. John Paul II, this course explores the ways in which God’s sanctifying presence is manifest in and through Christian spousal love that is open to life and placed at the service of the human community. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6254 and STHO 6254) 3 credits

CETH 6259 Secularism and Catholicism
This course investigates the historical causes, nature and value of secularism as a cultural and socio-political phenomenon affecting Catholic religious experience in what was once called Latin Christendom. The course is not only interested in secularism as such, but also in various contemporary Catholic responses towards it. Throughout, the investigation will be viewed through the theological lens of Christian faith as revealed in Jesus Christ and authoritatively interpreted through the teaching authority of the Church. (Web-based; Cross-referenced to STHO 6259). 3 credits
CETH 6264 Rules for a Holy Life
This course illuminates Christian conceptions of holiness by exploring how these are reflected in the Scriptures and in Christian monastic rules and practices of spiritual discernment. It begins by reviewing Mosaic commandments regarding the hallowing of space and time and the narratives about Elijah’s prophetic witness to the relevance of these commandments to eternal life. It then reviews the ethical teaching of Christ’s Sermon on the Mount. These form the background for the study of the rules and principles of spiritual discernment grounding and guiding Basilian, Augustinian, Benedictine, Franciscan, Carmelite and Jesuit life and present-day lay attempts to reflect theologically on ways of applying these rules to familial and professional life. The course is of value for students who wish to obtain an introductory overview of classic Christian spirituality, of its root values, final goals and practical applications. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6264 and STHO 6264) 3 credits

CETH 6266 Spirituality of Disability
This course focuses on people who have sacrificed or suffered the loss of normal and vital bodily organs and physiological faculties but who nonetheless, or on account of that loss, have gained or developed wondrous faculties of perception and insight that have brought immeasurable wealth to humanity. A partial aim of the course is to explore how such cases can serve to challenge the pressures upon medics to abandon the Hippocratic oath “to do no harm” to the disabled. Thus, by exploring such accounts and the philosophical, ethical and pastoral issues surrounding them, the course seeks to train and sustain pastoral ministers and medical and legal professionals interested in sustaining our culture’s adherence to the Hippocratic oath to nurture and protect human life. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6266) 3 credits

CETH 6268 The Gospel of Life: Defending the Most Vulnerable
The fullness, beauty and effectiveness of the Church’s pro-life teachings face challenges from contemporary secular society. This course begins with a close reading of St. John Paul II’s Evangelium Vitae, and then systematically applies its teachings across a host of issues: abortion, euthanasia, sexuality, health care distribution, poverty, war, torture, the death penalty and ecology. The course focuses on strategies for effectively advocating for pro-life positions without reducing Catholic teaching to secular politics (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6268). 3 credits

CETH 6306 Catholic Sexual Teaching
An historical and systematic study of Church teaching using the Scriptures, guest lectures, case studies and film to develop a cognitive and affective appreciation of the Catholic view of human sexuality. The course considers chastity, friendship, spousal love, procreation, natural family planning, extramarital sex, masturbation, homosexuality and birth control. 3 credits

CETH 6310 Sexuality, Friendship and Christian Perfection
A theological appreciation of human sexuality at its physical, psychological, socio-moral and spiritual levels in the context of a person’s call to Christian perfection, aimed at assisting the student to integrate sexuality with a call either to celibacy or marriage and a call to contemplation. 3 credits

CETH 6316 Social Teachings of St. John Paul II
The teachings of St. John Paul II continue to shape the Catholic Church and its engagement with the modern world. This course explores the teachings of St. John Paul II and their powerful religious and moral insights, highlighting St. John Paul II’s ethical approach to human life, culture, social justice, and world peace. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6316) 3 credits

CETH 6398 The Dark Passages of the Bible
See BIBL 6398. (Web-based) 3 credits

CETH 6401 Canon Law for Deacons
A survey of Canon Law with an emphasis on topics central for diaconal ministry. Topics include: general norms, rights and obligations of the Christian faithful, especially the clergy, Sacraments (other than Matrimony), particularly Christian Initiation, Christian Burial, Temporal Goods and Sanctions. 3 credits

CETH 6405 Canon Law of Christian Marriage
The role of the deacon in the preparation of couples for the Sacrament of Matrimony in light of the current legislation of the Church. Topics include marriage law and procedural law (including annulments and tribunals). 3 credits

CETH 6407 Catholic Social Teaching
An exploration of the theological warrants for Catholic social justice ministry, its scriptural foundations and its major principles as articulated in papal and episcopal documents. The application of these principles to family, to work, to economic systems and to political orders. An examination of the various ways that local churches and parishes can be effective instruments in bringing about God’s reign of peace and justice. 3 credits

CETH 6409 War and Christian Conscience
A survey of historical movements, issues and ideas that contributed to the evolution of Christian thought on the morality of war, including: the Old Testament and the theory of holy war; early Church and conscription; Crusades; just war theories; pacifism; knighthood; magisterial teaching on war and peace; and contemporary issues. 3 credits

CETH 6421 Theology of Work
This course explores various meanings/definitions of work; biblical, historical and theological warrants for a theology of work; ecclesial and ecumenical dimensions of a theology of work; theology of work in Catholic social teaching; spirituality of work in today’s culture; applications to business/business ethics; implication and application of theology of work at the parish level. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6758) 3 credits
CETH 6507 Reconciliation and Anointing
The Sacrament of Penance in its systematic, moral, pastoral and liturgical aspects, with special attention to the ministry of the priest-confessor. The Sacrament of the Sick in its biblical roots, historical evolution, systematic theology and contemporary liturgical celebration. 3 credits

CETH 6509 Christian Marriage
The biblical, historical, systematic and liturgical development of Christian marriage, from biblical origins, Patristic thought, medieval synthesis, Reformation issues and Tridentine responses, to its contemporary theology. Issues related to the theology of marriage, e.g., sacramentality of marriage, divorce and remarriage, faith and marriage and the pastoral care of Christian marriage. 3 credits

CETH 6602 Ministry of Healing
Utilizing the resources of our Catholic tradition regarding our pastoral and sacramental practices, an examination of the spiritual and psychological dimensions of ministry to the sick and dying. Emphasis is given to the interpersonal dynamic among patient, caregiver and minister. To develop skills in this regard, about one-quarter of the course is set aside for each member of the class to present a pastoral situation from his field education for theological reflection and class discussion. 3 credits

HSTD 6122 Biblical Archaeology
See BIBL 6122. 3 credits

HSTD 6201 History of Christianity I
The development of Christianity from the close of the Apostolic period to the beginning of the Age of Discovery. The course utilizes primary source materials and audiovisual presentations. 3 credits

HSTD 6202 History of Christianity II
The development of Christianity from the Reformation to the present day. The course utilizes primary source materials and audiovisual presentations. 3 credits

HSTD 6222 Popes and the Papacy
The institution of the papacy and individual holders of the papal office; a survey of major periods in the development of Catholicism from the perspective of the papacy; special attention given to the last century and an investigation/analysis of the papal office. 3 credits

HSTD 6224 Eastern Christianity
An overview of Eastern Christian Churches, including Catholic, Orthodox, non-Chalcedonian and others. Origins and development, especially with regard to ecclesiology, theology and culture; examines themes in Eastern Christian spirituality and art, historical origins of the separation between East and West, and current ecumenical situation. 3 credits

HSTD 6226 The Ecumenical Councils
This course addresses the concept of the Church as the custodian of Tradition. It focuses on the ecumenical council as a vehicle for the discernment and teaching of Catholic doctrine. The specific theological and disciplinary questions addressed by each council are also used to elaborate ecclesial life, important questions and significant problems as they were perceived by the Church at a specific time. This course also explains the cultural, social and political situations which influenced each council and thereby demonstrates the use of historical criticism in theological method. 3 credits

HSTD 6235 Ecumenical Dialogue and Marriage
The questions of marriage and mixed marriage have been among the many subjects taken up in the ecumenical dialogues, both international and national, between the Catholic Church and other Christians since the Second Vatican Council. This course surveys the results of these dialogues, looking to see the extent to which Christians of different traditions share a common understanding of marriage. It also takes into account perspectives on the pastoral care of mixed or “inter-church” marriage between Catholics and Christians of other traditions. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6235 and STHO 6235) 3 credits

HSTD 6240 The Family in the Early Church
See BIBL 6240. 3 credits

HSTD 6245 American Catholic History and the Family
This course considers the history of the Catholic Church in the United States, with an emphasis on family. It includes, among others, such topics as the efforts of colonial Catholic families to preserve the faith, Catholic schools and the family, and challenges of immigrant Catholic families. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6245) 3 credits

HSTD 6301 Mediterranean Christianity
This course studies the development of Christianity from the close of the Apostolic/Second Temple periods (ca 100 AD/CE) to the creation of the Papal States and the evangelization of northern Europe (ca 750 AD/CE). Patristic texts and other primary sources are used to illustrate the Church’s passage from its Semitic roots into the Hellenistic and Germanic worlds. Special attention is given to institutional and sacramental development; persecutions; the Constantinian revolution; early Councils; the collapse of the Western Roman Empire; the rise of Islam; and the development of Eastern Christianity. 3 credits

HSTD 6310 History of Spirituality
A survey of the history of Christian spirituality: biblical origins; Patristic period; Desert Fathers; Benedict; Augustine; Benedictine Reforms; Franciscan and Dominican renewals; medieval spirituality; Rhineland Mystics; Ignatius; Francis de Sales; Sulpician influences; 20th-century movements; Vatican II; and contemporary situations (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6726). 3 credits

HSTD 6334 Catholic Evangelization
This course examines and discusses significant contributions to defining Catholic evangelization, including biblical warrants, Church documents, papal teachings, and select publications by Catholic scholars and ministry leaders. A historic review of the development of Catholic Evangelization gives particular focus to the pertinent documents of Vatican II, as well as St. John Paul II’s concept of the New Evangelization, and Pope Emeritus Benedict’s continued teachings on the subject. Methods and programs for evangelization in parish ministry are explored, as well as how Catholics can evangelize in the daily activities of life, e.g., at home and in the marketplace. Guest speakers supplement lectures. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6334 and STHO 6334). 3 credits

HSTD 6406 Monuments and Artifacts of Christendom
From illuminated manuscripts to the grandeur of cathedrals, the monasteries, artistry and artifacts of Christendom enhance, illuminate and explain the culture, belief and history of the Catholic Church. Surveying ecclesiastical objects from the 4th century to the 16th century, students will gain insight into medieval thought and the persons and historical events that contributed to the creation of Christendom. 3 credits

HSTD 6416 Confessions of Saint Augustine
Examines St. Augustine’s masterpiece, Confessions, in detail to see how Augustine seamlessly fuses Scripture, theology, rhetoric, personal history and spiritual growth into a comprehensive whole. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6772 and STHO 6416) 3 credits

HSTD 6419 Social Justice in the Fathers
See CETH 6116. 3 credits

HSTD 6425 Priesthood – History and Theology
This course surveys the concept of priesthood in comparative religion and then proceeds to an historical and systematic examination of the notion of priesthood as applied to Christ, His people and their ministers. Special attention is given to such constitutive notions of priesthood as sacrifice, holiness and mediation. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6425 and STHO 6240) 3 credits

HSTD 6426 Priesthood in the Fathers
The Fathers of the Church are routinely and rightly studied for their essential role in laying the foundations of Christian doctrine, life, worship and morals. At the same time, nearly every one of them was a pastor as actively engaged in shepherding souls as in theological reflection. This course will examine a number of Church Fathers as priests, whose lives in the ministry remain instructive for modern Christians. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6426 and STHO 6426) 3 credits

HSTD 6430 Worshipping with the Fathers of the Church
Examines the earliest records and descriptions of Christian worship alongside the spiritual and theological understandings the first Christians brought to their worship and how these factors contributed to forming the liturgical sensibilities, structures and cycles familiar to Christians today. Special attention is given to the writings of Church Fathers of the first 500 years. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6430) 3 credits

HSTD 6501 Worship of the Church
See STHO 6501. 3 credits

HSTD 6504 St. Paul in Acts
See BIBL 6504. 3 credits

HSTD 6508 Acts & Primitive Christianity
See BIBL 6508. 3 credits

HSTD 6528 Ecumenical Movement in the Church
Since Vatican II, the Catholic Church has been deeply involved in ecumenism, the search for Christian unity. Theological dialogue and cooperation with other churches and ecclesial communities have helped to develop mutual understanding, and have shown that separated Christians today share a great deal of the apostolic faith, though important differences also remain. Significant agreements have been reached, helping to resolve some theological differences over which Christians divided centuries ago. This course traces some of the main achievements of the modern ecumenical movement to which the Catholic Church has contributed. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6528 and STHO 6528) 3 credits

HSTD 6530 Peter in the New Testament and Christian Antiquity
See BIBL 6530. 3 credits

HSTD 6577 Mariology
See BIBL 6577. 3 credits

HSTD 6583 Sanctification of Time
The aim of this course is to explore the way in which the Church over the centuries has employed the various cycles of time — daily, weekly and annual — to redirect our lives toward the Kingdom, which is our ultimate goal. Just as all the major passages of our lives, from birth to death, are sanctified, so also is the daily course of life. The approach will be primarily historical, moving through the origin and development of the cycles of time in both Judaism and Christianity. The first half of the course will focus on the daily cycle, which is the most primitive. The second part will focus on the annual cycles, including the moveable Easter cycle, as well as the cycle of fixed feasts and the sanctoral cycle. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6583 and STHO 6583) 3 credits

HSTD 6709 Spiritual Heritage of the Fathers
The Fathers of the Church are readily recognized for their historic contributions in shaping the Christian faith. Doctrine, sacraments, liturgy, Church organization, Christian living and theological understanding all find their most basic expressions in patristic writings. Less appreciated, however, is the pervading spiritual vision that underlies these other contributions. This course examines how the Fathers saw all these facets of the Christian religion as vehicles for encountering God and growing to perfection in His image and likeness. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6768) 3 credits

HSTD 6710 Women Mystics
An exploration of the phenomenon and meaning of mysticism. A study of the lives, times and spirituality of such women mystics as Teresa of Avila, Thérèse of Lisieux, Edith Stein, Catherine of Siena, Faustina, Elizabeth of the Trinity and Julian of Norwich. An analysis of their major writings, including autobiographies, letters and poetry. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6710) 3 credits

HSTD 6723 Passover: From Moses to Jesus
See BIBL 6723. 3 credits
HSTD 6734 Italian Saints
Using the city of Rome as a point of departure, this intensive course provides an opportunity for students to deepen their Christian identity and spirituality by exploring how various martyrs and saints have lived out the call to holiness through the ages. The lectures, discussions and site visits focus on the various traditions of spirituality that are reflected in the lives of the saints who have lived, ministered and worshiped in Rome throughout the various stages of the history of the Church in the Eternal City. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6734) 3 credits

HSTD 6807 American Christianity
The development of Christianity in the Americas from the beginnings of evangelization to the present, focusing on the Catholic Church in the United States; the impact of the English Reformation as setting the stage for the major cultural forces influencing the present-day United States; growth of the Church in the English colonies and its subsequent expansion, particularly due to 19th and 20th century immigration; Catholic education and the evolution of pastoral ministry; issues facing Catholicism in its contemporary encounter with cultural forces in America today. 3 credits

HSTD 6809 History of Christianity
An overview of the development of Christianity from its origins to the present: the evolution of Christianity from a movement within Judaism to a world religion; Church polity, belief and spirituality in succeeding periods; current challenges facing contemporary Christianity. Issues such as Church-state relations, the Reformation and the influence of the Enlightenment on the Church are major themes. 3 credits

HSTD 6811 20th Century Catholicism
A survey of Catholic Church history in the 20th century, from the Modernism controversy under Pope Pius X up to the pontificate of St. John Paul II. Topics covered include the Lateran Treaties, the Liturgical Movement, World War II, the Church and Communism, and Vatican II. 3 credits

HSTD 6815 Reformation: Its History and Theology
This course begins with an introduction to the idea of church reform, institutional and doctrinal, and the issue of true and false reform. Focusing principally upon the Protestant Reformation of the 16th century, the course examines the careers and thought of the major intellectual figures of the Reformation: Luther and Calvin. The course also traces the rise of the more Radical Reformation as represented by Anabaptists, Mennonites and Unitarians. After analyzing the Reformation in England, it concludes with a consideration of the Catholic Counter-Reformation. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6218) 3 credits

HSTD 6837 Church in New Jersey
Using diocesan and institutional archives in the custody of the NJ Catholic Historical Records Commission at Seton Hall, an investigation and analysis of archival sources and other primary source materials. Research required on a particular topic, using archival materials. 3 credits

HSTD 6839 Art and Architecture of the Churches of the Archdiocese of Newark
This course investigates the principles of historical and contemporary architecture and applies them to churches of the Archdiocese of Newark. It includes tours of exemplary churches and the ateliers of prominent architects and designers. The students will achieve knowledge and skills to interpret and evaluate the design of the churches they encounter. 3 credits

HSTD 6841 Persecution in the 19th & 20th Centuries
The Church and Christian community of the 19th and 20th centuries experienced persecution, discrimination, and attempted domination, which rivals the pre-Constantine waves of persecution. The course will provide a survey of the political motivations and ideologies that have contributed to this reality and the Church’s varied response as reflected in official statements, concordats, religious/political movements, and the witness of its modern martyrs. 3 credits

PTHO 6017 Pastoral Spanish I
Beginning Spanish for non-Spanish speakers, focusing on building communication skills and addressing language situations encountered in pastoral ministry. 3 credits

PTHO 6018 Pastoral Spanish II
A continuation of PTHO 6017. Prerequisite: PTHO 6017. 3 credits

PTHO 6019 Pastoral Spanish III
An intermediate Spanish course for those with elementary knowledge of Spanish, continuing to build communication skills for use in pastoral ministry settings. Prerequisite: PTHO 6018. 3 credits

PTHO 6020 Pastoral Spanish IV
A continuation of PTHO 6019. Prerequisite: PTHO 6019. 3 credits

PTHO 6011 Oral Interpretation
The purpose of this class is to familiarize and empower each student with the techniques of oral interpretation in order to make the Word of God alive and vital to the listener. The course is a skills course, concentrating on the practice of presentation. 1 credit

PTHO 6109 Introduction to Preaching
Introduction to homiletics and engagement in the process of biblical preaching, with attention to its pastoral function. Emphasis on organization, composition and delivery. Evaluation of several homilies as preached to the class. 2 credits

PTHO 6112 Preaching Practicum I
A continuation of homiletic instruction where students deliver homilies for various occasions, subject to self, peer and professional criticism. 2 credits

PTHO 6113 Preaching Practicum II
A continuation of PTHO 6112, with special attention to the practical delivery of homilies. Particularly designed for deacons. Prerequisite: PTHO 6112. 2 credits
PTHO 6132 The Four Loves
This course explores fundamental Christian teaching on the spiritual nature of loving relationships by surveying classic philosophical and theological explorations of love. Texts surveyed include the Song of Songs, the Gospel of St. John, St. Paul’s Letter to the Corinthians, passages from Plato and Aristotle, the Letters of Abelard and Eloise, Vladimir Solovyov’s The Meaning of Love, Soren Kierkegaard’s Diary of a Seducer and Pope Benedict XVI’s recent encyclical Deus Caritas Est. (Cross-referenced to CETH 6132) 3 credits

PTHO 6133 Solitaries, Hermits and Prisoners
An exploration of the value and power, personal and social, residing in spiritual literature written in solitude and prison. The student is called to wrestle with Dietrich Bonhoeffer’s questions about the broad failure of modern Christian middle-class culture to sustain Christians who are imprisoned and bereaved of their loved ones as well as of the possibility of fulfilling their vocational hopes and projects. The readings will stimulate teachers, counselors and ministers wrestling with Bonhoeffer’s questions to share their pastoral experiences and provide those who find or may in the future find themselves in analogous situations with memories and knowledge that may prove to be a source of spiritual friendship, consolation and strength. 3 credits

PTHO 6134 Four Loves and Family Life
See CETH 6134. 3 credits

PTHO 6135 Spiritual Journey in Christian Fiction
This online course explores the spiritual journey in Christian fiction. It surveys fairy tales, Christian allegories and plays, and films of popular spiritual fiction. The course aims to clarify what makes Christian spiritual journeys unique, how they impact people’s understanding of life, and how these stories can facilitate spiritually-heroic decision making. The course will be of special interest to people holding a variety of leadership roles (pastors, parents, teachers, counselors, chaplains). (Cross-referenced to STHO 6135) 3 credits

PTHO 6136 Great Spiritual Biographies
This course focuses on seven classic Catholic biographies that span the Christian centuries. In surveying this material the course aims to prompt the student to identify the essential ingredients of Christian sanctity, the key stages of the Christian spiritual journey, and the characteristic qualities of Christian leadership. The course will be of value to mentors, preachers, pastors and all students and teachers of Christian spirituality, history and literature. (Web-based; Cross-referenced to STHO 6136) 3 credits

PTHO 6199 Psychology for Theologians
What does psychology offer to the understanding of the human person? Does it provide the ultimate answers regarding the nature and goal of human life? This course examines the fundamental tenets of modern psychology and its explanation of the nature of the human person in light of Christian anthropology. It seeks, where possible, to resolve contradictions between psychology and Christian anthropology by offering a vision of the healthy psyche grounded in the Christian tradition. The course addresses the question: “What does the theologian or one charged with working with individual souls need to know about the science of psychology?” In pursuing a Christian psychology, the course also explores the pastoral implications of psychological insights (Cross-referenced to STHO 6199). 3 credits

PTHO 6203 Pastoral Psychology and Counseling
This course provides an introduction to interpersonal skills basic to the helping professions; the nature of counseling; responsibility of the counselor; goals in counseling; resistance and termination. Particular emphasis is placed on competency and self-understanding. The course is taught through lecture, demonstration and class exercises. 3 credits

PTHO 6216 End-of-Life Issues
See CETH 6215. 3 credits

PTHO 6217 Beginning-of-Life Issues
See CETH 6217. 3 credits

PTHO 6224 Theology of the Body
This course examines in depth the Theology of the Body as presented by St. John Paul II, along with evaluative commentary from within the Catholic theological community. It also explores the implications of this theology for sexual ethics, sacramentality of marriage and celibacy. (Cross-referenced to CETH 6252 and STHO 6252) 3 credits

PTHO 6226 The Four Pillars of Formation and Family Life
Since the Apostolic Exhortation of St. John Paul II, Pastores Dabo Vobis (“I Will Give You Shepherds”), the foundation of priestly formation and the ongoing formation of priests have been the four pillars of formation: the human, the spiritual, the intellectual and the pastoral. As marriage and family life stand side-by-side with a vocation to the priesthood or religious life, this course explores how the four pillars of priestly formation can find their parallel or mirror in marriage and family life. Students will attempt to transform the four pillars of priestly formation into parallel pillars for marriage and family life. The course will seek further to see how these transformed pillars are and can be implemented further in marriage and family life. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6226) 3 credits

PTHO 6227 St. John Paul II and Sexual Ethics
See CETH 6227. 3 credits

PTHO 6228 Pope Benedict XVI and the Family
This course examines the theology of Pope Benedict XVI, with particular emphasis on his thought on family life. It is true that compared with his predecessor, Benedict XVI has not composed as many encyclicals and documents that directly pertain to the family. Yet, from a careful review of major themes from his writings (both prior to, and from his pontificate), this course indicates some important implications for family life and spirituality, from the thought of Pope Benedict. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6228) 3 credits

PTHO 6238 St. John Paul II and the Family
Analysis of selected texts from the papal and pre-papal periods of St. John Paul II’s thought on the family, in light of his affirmation of the inalienable dignity of each human person. What makes a human being a person? How is our personhood rooted in the primordial subjectivity of the family? What is the role of the family in society, the responsibility of spouses toward each other and toward their children, and the authentic experience of conscience that makes human love and community possible? PTHO 6251 Families and the Church
This course considers the role of marriage and child-rearing in the mission of the Church. Pertinent Church documents are used to illuminate the importance of families in the life of the Church, to identify and track trends in secular society, to guide Christian families in their response to such trends, and to reflect on the family as the “Church in miniature.” (Cross-referenced to STHO 6251) 3 credits

PTHO 6254 Theology and Spirituality of Marriage and the Family
See CETH 6254. 3 credits

PTHO 6258 The Trinity and the Family
What can we discover about family from the image of God as Trinity? A careful exploration of Catholic tradition (Scripture, St. John Paul II’s Theology of the Body, etc.) provides the basis for this reflection on family, leading to lively class discussions. Practical implications and spiritual disciplines for families today will be drawn from class discussions and lectures, readings and class exercises and projects. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6258) 3 credits

PTHO 6264 Rules for a Holy Life
See CETH 6264. 3 credits

PTHO 6265 Spiritual Theology of Suffering
An exploration of the mystery of human suffering from a Christian perspective, with a particular emphasis on Salvifici Doloris, the 1984 Apostolic Letter of St. John Paul II. Rooted in Scripture, themes include: different types of suffering; the “why” of suffering; prayers in times of trial; the problem of evil; and the role of the Cross. Spiritual writings on the topic are explored, including essays and poems by John of the Cross, Titus Brandsma, Thérèse, Faustina, Thomas Merton and C.S. Lewis. PTHO 6299 Tools for Effective Ministry
An exploration of key dimensions of effective ministry: the person of the minister, the invitation of the Gospel and the life of the community. The focus of this course is on central concepts drawn from various disciplines, including our theological and spiritual traditions, which are applied practically to issues such as working from one’s strengths, empowering volunteers, designing change, and analyzing ministerial settings in order to more effectively develop vibrant disciples and communities of faith. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6299) 3 credits

PTHO 6301 Parish as Learning Community
A consideration of the parish as a learning community and its catechetical approaches to adults, along with the shifts and trends affecting contemporary catechesis. Contemporary approaches to catechesis/religious education, as well as the relationship of catechesis/religious education to liturgy, social justice and human development. Developmental psychology as it pertains to faith development. Current trends in the Church particularly supportive of adult faith growth. 3 credits

PTHO 6323 Adult Catechesis
The history of adult education and adult religious education; psychological and sociological considerations; adult faith development; principles of adult education; learning styles; adult spirituality; program planning; collaboration and integration with other ministries. 3 credits

PTHO 6333 Evangelizing Church
A brief examination of the Church’s origin and identity in the ministry of Jesus, the Gospels and Acts of the Apostles, her missionary self-understanding as expressed in her magisterial teaching, canon law, liturgical and sacramental life and catechesis, and the implications of this understanding for the diocese, parish and individual believer in making intentional disciples. The contention of recent popes—that evangelization is, in fact, the Church’s supreme duty, the reason for her existence and the key to her identity—will be tested and confirmed. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6333) 3 credits

PTHO 6334 Catholic Evangelization
See HSTD 6334. 3 credits

PTHO 6340 Exploring Catechetical Partnerships
Using catechetical and organizational theory, an exploration of old and new catechetical partnerships between parishes and families. Preparation of a three-to-five year plan to create catechetical partnerships meeting the needs of people and parishes for: an integrated approach to total parish catechesis; enspiriting true family involvement in the faith development of all its members; and establishing a parish faith mentoring program especially for youth, young adults and young families. 3 credits

PTHO 6345 Vatican II & the New Evangelization
From its beginning, the Church has sought to respond to the call of God to evangelize, or to share the Good News of our faith in Jesus Christ. In the Apostolic Exhortation Evangelii Nuntiandi, Pope Paul VI goes so far as to say that evangelization is an essential part of the Church’s mission: “We wish to confirm once more that the task of evangelizing all people constitutes the essential mission of the Church. It is a task and mission which the vast and profound changes of the present day society make all the more urgent. Evangelizing is in fact the grace and vocation proper to the Church, her deepest identity. She exists in order to evangelize.” This course, conducted in Rome, Italy, explores how the Church through the ages, as reflected in the art and architecture of the city of Rome, has fulfilled this mission. (Rome-based; Cross-referenced to STHO 6345) 3 credits

PTHO 6395 Sacramental Themes in Modern British and American Literature
Twentieth-century literary works written by distinguished American and British authors are considered as works of art in their own right, as comments upon the religious meaning of the human condition and, above all, as examples of the ways in which sacramental themes are embodied in works of the imagination. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6345) 3 credits

PTHO 6401 General Canon Law
Church law and its role in the Church today; history of canon law, particularly the 1983 Code. Consideration of the character of the 1983 Code of Canon Law as well as certain general institutes of law as they appear in Book I and particular canons in Books II and VII with reference to the status of laity and clerics. 3 credits

PTHO 6403 Sacramental Life: Canonical Issues
The theology of the sacraments of the Catholic Church, and their relationship to the Code of Canon Law. Drawing from the documents of Vatican II and post-conciliar teaching, the course will provide a solid understanding of the theological-canonical understanding on the sacraments, how the sacraments are reflected and regulated in the Church’s legislative structure, and how they are applied and ministered in the life of the Church. Theological-canonical issues on sacramental life that arise will be analyzed and explored in detail, using the tools of theological analysis and reflection, Church law and other legal sources, including civil legislation. Students will be invited to engage actively in the subject, deepening their understanding of the issues that arise, so enabling them to arrive at a deeper understanding of the sacraments as the saving actions of Christ among us. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6403) 3 credits

PTHO 6405 Canon Law of Marriage
Canonical and pastoral aspects of current Church legislation on the Sacrament of Matrimony. Aspects of the 1983 Code having practical and innovative impacts on the marital state, particularly in the area of tribunal jurisprudence. 3 credits

PTHO 6409 Sacraments of Initiation & Canon Law
This course examines from a canonical-pastoral perspective the Sacraments of Baptism, Confirmation and Eucharist. Drawing from the Code of Canon Law, Vatican II and the teaching of the Church’s Magisterium, the course provides the student with a clear understanding of the sacraments of initiation, an examination of the pastoral issues that may arise, and an appreciation of the important role that Church law plays in the ministry of those engaged in catechesis on the sacraments of initiation. PTHO 6441 Penance and the 12 Steps
A biblical, historical and pastoral treatment of the Sacrament of Penance, and an in-depth look at the 12 Steps of Addiction Recovery. Examination of questions relating to this sacrament and to these 12 Steps, with an attempt to see just how these 12 Steps could be fulfilled best by celebrating and living out the Sacrament of Penance. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6441) 3 credits

PTHO 6503 Liturgical Practicum
Demonstration and practical exercises for priesthood candidates in the ministries of celebrating Eucharist and other sacramental liturgies, including RCIA and baptism of children, marriage, funerals, sacramental ministry to the sick and dying, Benediction and the Liturgy of the Hours in parishes. 2 credits

PTHO 6516 Eucharist and the Family
This course explores the Church’s teaching and spirituality of the Eucharist as it relates to family life. It involves an in-depth examination of the St. John Paul II’s final encyclical, Ecclesia de Eucharistia (2003), and the reading of several essays on the Eucharist and Eucharistic spirituality from Pope Benedict XVI. Special attention is paid to how the Second Vatican Council’s teaching that the Eucharist is the “source and summit of the Christian life” (Lumen Gentium 11) pertains to family life and spirituality. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6506) 3 credits
PTHO 6518 Integrating Music and Liturgical Celebration
Principles of Vatican II and subsequent Church teaching on liturgical/musical integration. An overview of the history of liturgical music, emphasizing the proper balance of liturgical, pastoral and musical factors. Other topics: liturgical year; effective selection of music for particular celebrations; copyright issues. 2 credits

PTHO 6565 Dante and Lay Vocation
In this course, students read all of Dante's Divine Comedy, and perhaps sections of his treatises "On Monarchy" and "On the Eloquence of the Vernacular." Dante emphasizes the harmony of nature and grace, the path to God through the goodness of ordinary life and human love. Thus the focus in class discussions and papers is on what Dante reveals about the spirituality of ordinary life in the world, as opposed to the "easier path" - as Dante describes it at the beginning of the Divine Comedy - of religious life. PTHO 6572 Ecumenical Dialogue and Mary
The importance of Mary, the Mother of Jesus, is clearly depicted in the New Testament. At the same time, because of divisions among Christians, which began centuries ago, there are some significant differences, even conflicts, on various doctrinal issues, including important aspects of Marian doctrine, especially between Catholics and Christians of communions stemming from the 16th century Reformation. In the context of the modern ecumenical movement, which has been underway for a century, aimed at restoring unity among Christians, this course explores the formal ecumenical dialogues since Vatican II concerning Mary, between Catholics and other Christian Communions, to see how they have taken steps both toward new common understanding about Mary, and/or clarification of issues on which disagreement continues. PTHO 6587 Psychology of Religion
This course is situated on the interdisciplinary boundary between Psychology and Religion. It will undertake an appreciative and critical investigation of major psychologists Freud, Jung, Adler, Rank, Allport, Maslow, Skinner, Winnicott, Sullivan, Erikson, Kohut, Lifton, Becker, Prusyer, James, Lacan, Kristeva, et al., and the implications of their thinking for Theology. Areas of exploration will be fundamental issues of human personality and behavior, the struggle with suffering, the awareness of death, the imputability of guilt, the grace of forgiveness and the experience of the Holy. (Cross-referenced to STHO 6587) 3 credits

PTHO 6601 Pastoral Ministry: Introduction
An introduction to pastoral theology in its mediating role between theological insight and pastoral practice. This course focuses on the pastoral situation as encountered through Catholic tradition, personal and cultural experience, aspects of pastoral ministry in the contemporary Church and ways of responding both pastorally and prophetically. 3 credits

PTHO 6602 Ministry of Healing
Examines the spiritual and psychological dimensions of ministry to the sick, dying and grieving in the Catholic pastoral and sacramental tradition. Interpersonal dynamics among patient, caregiver(s), family and pastoral ministers are emphasized through theological reflection and discussion of students’ field experience. 3 credits

PTHO 6603 Justice and Charity Ministry
This course considers the ways in which the Church today continues to fulfill the Gospel call to care for those in need, and to address issues of social justice. The role of the parish community and its leaders (priests, deacons and lay ministers) is explored. The collaborative work of clergy and laity is viewed in light of Catholic social teaching. 3 credits

PTHO 6604 Ministry of Sanctifying: Priest, Ministers and Congregation
Discusses the priest as presider in the worshipping community, together with the roles of other liturgical ministers and the assembly. This course focuses on the nature of the parish as a praying people and of the family as a domestic Church. Students will learn to integrate liturgical planning, sacramental catechesis and community worship in parish life. 3 credits

PTHO 6605 Ministry of Teaching
Examines the ministry of teaching in the New Testament, the early Church and our Church today. Explores the role of culture and community in faith information, the nature of faith and conversion, the contribution of developmental psychology and the implications for the various teaching ministries (evangelization, catechesis, preaching). Students will acquire practical skills in identifying resources, lesson planning and teaching and theological reflection on the ministry of teaching. 3 credits

PTHO 6608 Ministry of Leadership: Priest and Minister in Service to the Community
Investigates the spiritual, theological, theoretical and behavioral concepts underlying the dynamics of pastoral leadership. Examines the role of priest as leader and the diversity of leadership roles and functions in parishes today. Considers tools and techniques for effective parish leadership, as well as the spiritual challenges inherent in leadership. This course requires a writing project integrating the ministry course. 2 credits

PTHO 6609 Ministry Synthesis
This course invites students to review the work of their Pastoral Theology sequence of courses, using the six reflection papers they have written, and then to articulate their vision of foundational principles for their own future pastoral work. (Linked to PTHO 6608) 1 credit

PTHO 6939 Parish Administration
This course focuses on pastoral administration in the parochial setting. While primarily designed for future pastors, the areas covered would benefit future parochial vicars, parish administrators and coordinators, lay ministry professionals and pastoral associates. Acknowledging the current infrastructure of parish life, this course addresses basic principles, practices, resources and skills in a variety of administrative arenas including pastoral and organizational leadership, pastoral planning, time management, financial management, stewardship and technology. This course addresses, in an introductory but comprehensive way, the civil, legal and financial issues encountered in a parish setting. Additional topics addressed include: employment, human resources, property management, buildings and grounds, insurance and liability issues, protection of children, crisis and risk management, pastoral and finance councils, parochial reporting, communication and cooperation with the archdiocese, record keeping and filing. Due to the current complexity of parish life, students also have the opportunity to introduce, discuss and analyze other areas and scenarios of pastoral and ministerial life and praxis. Coverage of all topics seeks to integrate prior theological and pastoral studies, prior ministerial experiences, and knowledge gained from other disciplines including, but not limited to, the social sciences and leadership theory. Students will be asked to identify and engage others, people in the pews, as well as clergy and lay ecclesial ministers, in their learning. 3 credits

PTHO 9101 Integration Seminar

Students are required to take this within the first three semesters of matriculation into a degree program. no credits

STHO 6022 Graduate Research Seminar
This course will provide a general introduction to the resources (print, electronic, and personnel) of a graduate theological library. Students will receive an extended introduction to the theological resources and methods proper to each of the major sacred sciences. Students will be guided to develop the practice of critical reading and analysis needed for graduate academic study. Students will also be introduced to introductory graduate academic writing. 2 credits

STHO 6119 Psychology for Theologians
See PTHO 6199. 3 credits

STHO 6201 Foundations for Theology
An examination of contemporary attempts to establish the identity of Christian doctrine through a multiplicity of expressions. Philosophical theologies discussed include: existentialism; process thought; linguistic analysis; transcendental Thomism; liberation/praxis thought; and hermeneutical theory. 3 credits

STHO 6202 Revelation and Faith
An historical and systematic examination of the Catholic understanding of God’s Self-Communication and humanity’s correlative response in faith. On revelation: transmission of revelation; natural and supernatural revelation; Reformation and sola Scriptura; Trent and tradition; Newman on doctrinal development; and la nouvelle theologie and Vatican II. On faith: grace and faith; faith and scholasticism; Luther and sola fides; Trent on fides fiducialis; Vatican I and rational preparation for the act of faith; Blondel and the apologetics of immanence; and contemporary attempts (e.g., Rahner, Tracy, Metz) to ground the act of faith. 3 credits

STHO 6203 Christology
The faith response to the Mystery of Jesus Christ, God’s gift to us, in Scripture and Church tradition; an attempt to answer the question “Who do you say I am?” [Mt. 16:15] in light of contemporary concerns. 3 credits

STHO 6204 Trinity
A systematic and historical examination of the doctrine of the Triune God: dialectical nature of God as both hidden and revealed, immanent and transcendent; attributes and perfections of God; Patristic and Conciliar debates about the nature of the Trinity; persons, processions, relations and missions within the Godhead; speculation in relation to the “economic” and “immanent” Trinity, as well as contemporary retrievals of psychological analogies. 3 credits

STHO 6205 Christian Anthropology
Beginning with the Scriptural understanding of human origins, an examination of the human condition from the viewpoint of Christian revelation. The relationship of God with humanity; sin and redemption; the significance of grace, brokenness and healing; and the meaning of death and resurrection. Consideration of particular and general eschatology in developing a theological anthropology. 3 credits

STHO 6206 Christian Eschatology
An historical and systematic study of central eschatological themes: the Christian understanding of death; the relationship between resurrection and “immortality;” intermediate eschatology and its underlying anthropology; particular and final judgments; the final states in Catholic, Orthodox and Protestant thought; apocatastasis, universalism and conditional immortality; purgatory and the efficacy of suffrages for the dead; nature of eschatological language. 3 credits
STHO 6207 Ecclesiology
The mystery of the Church in its various human incarnations throughout history; the Church’s foundation, nature and fundamental structure. Themes: pluralism and the development of ecclesial life; “models” of the Church; the importance of Mary in the life of the Christian community. 3 credits

STHO 6208 Mission and Ministry
The mission of Christ and His Church as it unfolded in human history with the hope of arriving at a contemporary understanding of Christian mission; the nature, functions and structures of Christian ministry from an historical perspective to appreciate the Spirit-filled forms of ministry present in the contemporary Church: lay and ordained ministries; the Petrine Office in an ecumenical age; authority in the Church; and the gift of women in the service of Christ and His Church. 3 credits

STHO 6209 Christology of the Paschal Triduum
An extended examination of the historical development and current expression of the various liturgies of the Paschal Triduum, applying the principle lex orandi, lex credendi, to discover the various Christologies expressed in those rites. 3 credits

STHO 6218 Reformation: Its History and Theology
See HSTD 6815. 3 credits

STHO 6223 Magisterium
A study of the origins, development and role of the teaching office in the Catholic Church; forms of exercise of the magisterium; contemporary theological speculation regarding the magisterium. 3 credits

See CETH 6227. 3 credits

STHO 6257 The Philosophy & Theology of Sexual Difference
This course seeks to discern and define the nature of human sexual difference. It employs an interdisciplinary approach towards elucidating the essential difference between male and female. Thus the findings of medical science, evolutionary biology and psychology, and deconstructionist theory are assessed in light of Thomistic metaphysics culminating in a provisional definition of sexual difference. This broad philosophical view provides a unique perspective for theological exploration of the same theme. 3 credits

STHO 6317 The Thought of Joseph Ratzinger
This course is by no means intended to be a complete treatment of Ratzinger’s theology. However, the salient features of his thought are worthy to be noted as they present the deep concern and sincere love of the Pope Emeritus towards the human person, the Church and Christ Jesus. His theological perspectives on Anthropology, Christology, Ecclesiology, Patristics and Eschatology are covered in the context of special themes such as “Grace and Nature,” “Faith and Reason” and “Caritas in Veritate.” 3 credits

STHO 6501 Worship of the Church
An introduction to the theology of liturgy and the historical development of liturgy in the Catholic Church, focusing on the Roman Rite; an introduction to the history and theological development of the Mass, the Liturgy of the Hours and the Roman Calendar. (Cross-referenced to HSTD 6501) 3 credits

STHO 6503 Sacraments of Initiation
A Biblical, historical, theological and liturgical treatment of the Sacraments of Christian Initiation: the theologically normative adult initiation with restored catechumenate and its pastoral adaptation to infant baptism, confirmation and first Eucharist of children; anthropological, Christological and ecclesial dimensions of sacramentology, as well as questions common to the seven sacraments. 3 credits

STHO 6504 Sacramental Theology – General
A study of the Christological and ecclesial dimensions of the Seven Sacraments in general, including the biblical, historical and liturgical development of each Sacrament, especially those central to diaconal ministry. 3 credits

STHO 6505 Eucharist
A biblical, historical, systematic, liturgical and pastoral treatment of the Eucharist and the development of the Mass. Questions relating to institution, Real Presence, sacred meal, sacrifice, eschatology and ecumenism are examined. 3 credits

STHO 6506 Eucharist and the Family
See PTHO 6516. 3 credits

STHO 6507 Reconciliation and Anointing of the Sick
The Sacrament of Penance in its systematic, moral, pastoral and liturgical aspects, with special attention to the ministry of the priest-confessor. The Sacrament of the Sick in its biblical roots, historical evolution, systematic theology and contemporary liturgical celebration. 3 credits

STHO 6509 Christian Marriage
The biblical, historical, systematic and liturgical development of Christian Marriage from Biblical origins, Patristic thought, medieval synthesis, Reformation issues and Tridentine responses, to its contemporary theology. Issues related to the theology of marriage, e.g., sacramentality of marriage, divorce and remarriage, faith and marriage, and the pastoral care of Christian marriage. 3 credits

STHO 6510 Sanctification of Life
The aim of this course is to provide students with an historical and theological overview of the sacramental life of the Church. While many aspects of the Church’s liturgy are covered throughout the theological curriculum, this treatment is often from a theological, canonical or pastoral viewpoint. This course aims at a synthetic view of the Church’s liturgical life from the vantage point of liturgical theology. However, the Sacraments of Initiation (including the Holy Eucharist) and the Sacraments of Healing are not covered, as these sacraments have other courses dedicated exclusively to them. 3 credits

STHO 6515 Feasts and Seasons
A study of the development of the Christian celebration of time, historically considered and in its contemporary expression, regarding the day (Liturgy of the Hours), the week (with the primacy of Sunday) and the year (in the Roman Calendar). Attention given to Marian devotions and the sanctoral cycle, the origins of various feasts and issues related to their proper liturgical celebration. 3 credits

STHO 6526 Christian Worship and Spirituality
An introduction to the liturgy of the Roman Rite, with a focus on the liturgy of Vatican II, especially the Mass, with attention also to its history and theological development, the Liturgy of the Hours and the liturgical year. An examination of the relationship of liturgical prayer and personal prayer. Consideration of spiritualities, including the monastic tradition, mystical traditions and Ignatian discernment. 3 credits

STHO 6527 Doctrinal Development: Classical and Contemporary Approaches
This lively seminar examines the most significant understandings of doctrinal development that have been advanced in the history of Catholic theology. Seminar participants read and discuss classical and contemporary works, with the purpose of understanding the salient theological issues related to the “development of doctrine.” How is development to be understood? Is development a legitimate theological proposal, or an after-the-fact construct that seeks to skirt significant problems? How are magisterial reversals to be understood? Has the Church reversed its prior teaching on religious freedom, slavery, usury and the death penalty? These questions and others are treated in the seminar. 3 credits

STHO 6574 Priests and Laity
Using Rome as a classroom, this program offers an historical and theological survey of how laity and ordained have promoted the communion and mission of the Church. Special attention is given to the ways co-responsibility is lived today by focusing on some specific examples: the Sant’Egidio Community and other new lay ecclesial movements. Using the U.S. Bishops’ Document “Co-workers in the Vineyard of the Lord” as a basis for discussion, the course features an international colloquium of priests and laity reflecting on pastoral co-responsibility in the context of communion and mission. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6574) 3 credits

STHO 6575 Ministry of the Laity
New Testament origins of ministry; the history of ministry through the centuries; an exploration of contemporary developments in the ministry of the laity; the teachings of Vatican II that have given rise both to an expansion of ministry in the Church and a focus on ministry in the world; recent developments, both in the teaching of St. John Paul II and grassroots initiatives. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6575) 3 credits

STHO 6576 Marian Spirituality
The biblical image of Mary; devotion to Mary as it developed through the ages and its effect on contemporaneous spiritualities; Vatican II on Mary; post-Conciliar developments in Mariology and their implications for a Marian spirituality today. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6705) 3 credits

STHO 6577 Mariology

See PTHO 6926. 3 credits

STHO 6936 Spiritual Theology and Public Speaking
An overview of spiritual theology, emphasizing key figures of Christian mysticism and models of Vatican II’s universal call to holiness, and their witness to the Gospel. Examples of great Christian speeches and inspirational writings are studied, followed by opportunities for students to prepare, organize and deliver spiritual talks, such as retreats, lectures and days of recollection. (Cross-referenced to PTHO 6936) 3 credits

STHO 6999 M.A. Seminar
Capstone course required for all M.A. in Theology general format students, to be taken near the end of course work. Integration of the various theological perspectives gleaned from the student’s study of the several concentrations in the degree. Seminar topic to be established by the professor and student. 3 credits
Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies

The Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies serves the personal and professional needs of a diverse community of learners through credit and non-credit courses, professional development programs, workshops, seminars, symposia, lecture series, and professional certification.

Uniquely positioned to respond to the needs of the adult learner, the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies provides the leadership in coordinating campus-wide academic partnerships to carry out the University’s mission of educational outreach by offering a wide range of educational options through a full range of delivery methods and formats.

The Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies also collaborates with academic departments to offer credit courses during Summer and weekend semesters and works with faculty and administrative units to develop short-term travel-study programs supporting the development of traditional and non-traditional student populations.

Committed to maximizing the capacity to learn, whether it is on-campus, off-campus, or “anytime-Anywhere,” the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies facilitates access to the outstanding academic and enrichment programs available through Seton Hall University.

The Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies works with the colleges and schools to offer online degree and certificate programs as well as other online learning offerings that are designed for professionals who have the ability, desire and dedication to accept the rigors of a fast-paced, challenging curriculum.

Utilizing a web-based online delivery system, these programs provide a rich educational experience. Completing learning offerings online, students are able to earn the credential while continuing to meet professional and personal commitments.

The Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies serves the educational aspirations and professional needs of students from the region and across the nation. Committed to utilizing the technological advantages that web-based delivery affords and the Seton Hall University high level of academic quality that students deserve, students can pursue their education “any time - anywhere.”
Online Degree Programs

A vital component of the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies is its support of the wide range of online degree programs that have been designed for working professionals who can most benefit from “anytime, anywhere” course work. Acknowledging that these students are particularly able to integrate what has already been learned in their careers and demonstrate to others these enhanced capabilities, the University recognizes that as learning team members, they, along with the faculty and members of the instructional teams, are interrelated and interdependent. These relationships are key to a rich and dynamic online learning experience and each student is a vital link in the overall success of that experience.

Online degree programs are offered through the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Education and Human Services, and the College of Nursing. Please refer to the page references below for curriculum information regarding these programs.

The following programs are offered through the College of Arts and Sciences:

- Master of Arts in Strategic Communication and Leadership
- Master of Healthcare Administration
- Master of Arts with a major in Counseling/Ed.S. in Mental Health Counseling
- Master of Arts with a major in School Counseling/Ed.S. in Mental Health Counseling
- Master of Arts in Education Leadership, Management and Policy
- Master of Arts in Human Resources Training and Development for Law Enforcement Officers

The following programs are offered through the College of Nursing.

- Master of Science in Nursing – Nurse Practitioner Program and Health Systems Administration Program
- Bachelor of Science in Nursing for Registered Nurses (Please see the 2014-15 Undergraduate Catalogue.)

Tuition

Tuition for the online degree programs includes all fees (except for the application fee), and room and board for the three-to-five residency weekends (depending upon the program). Travel expenses, books and materials, computer equipment, software and student ISP costs are not included. A deposit of $200 - $500 (depending upon the program) is required upon admission to the program. This NONREFUNDABLE deposit guarantees space in the program, and is credited toward the total cost of the program. Reduced tuition cost per student can be offered to organizations sponsoring a full learning team of students as part of a customized curriculum. Please contact the program director for tuition information.

Financial Aid

Financial aid payment plans are available for students interested in paying their tuition on a monthly basis or those interested in a loan program. Students must file the FAFSA on the web as a first step in applying for a Stafford Loan. Complete tuition and financial aid information can be found on the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies website, ceps.shu.edu

Online Degree Program Application

The application for online degree programs offered through the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies may be found on the Division’s website, ceps.shu.edu Click on the name of the degree program for further information and to access the application.

University Buildings

525 South Orange Avenue. Enrollment Services offices and art studios are located in this building.

Alfieri Hall. Alfieri Hall, completed in 1984, contains classrooms and faculty offices for the School of Theology, offices of the Educational Opportunity Program, and the Computer Training Center. The Department of Graduate Programs in Health Sciences is located on the lower level.

Alumni Hall. Alumni Hall was planned as a 25th anniversary gift to commemorate the opening of Seton Hall College in 1856. The needed funds were not raised in 1881, but the fund drive continued, and the building was dedicated in 1886 to commemorate the opening and first graduation in South Orange in 1861. Alumni Hall houses the Chapel of the Good Shepherd of Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology, as well as the School’s administrative offices.

Art Center. Originally a carriage house built between 1890 and 1895, and now a registered national landmark, this red brick Victorian building has been preserved and renovated and was officially dedicated in May 1974 as the University’s Art Center. It houses an art gallery, studios, classrooms and faculty offices.

Arts and Sciences Hall. Opened in 1973, the building houses the Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center, lecture halls, seminar rooms, conference rooms, classrooms, and offices for College of Arts and Sciences faculty and administrative personnel.

Bayley Hall. Erected in 1913 and named for Bishop James Roosevelt Bayley, first Bishop of Newark and nephew of Elizabeth Seton, Bayley Hall is used for business and administrative purposes, and houses Enrollment Services.

Bishop Dougherty University Center. Named for Bishop John J. Dougherty, president of Seton Hall from 1960-70, the University Center contains meeting rooms, dining areas, lounges, an art gallery and Theatre-in-the-Round. It houses the offices of student publications and student government, as well as the Department of Community Development and the office of the vice president for Student Affairs.

Chapel of the Immaculate Conception. The Chapel of the Immaculate Conception has been the center of campus religious life since 1863 and was renovated and restored in 2008. Open every day, the chapel serves as a place of meditation and prayer for all members of the University community. Several Masses are offered on weekdays and on Sundays.

Corrigan Hall. Named after Bishop Michael A. Corrigan and Reverend James H. Corrigan, brothers who served as second and third presidents of Seton Hall, this building contains offices, the facilities for Computing Services, classrooms, music studios, and labs.

Duffy Hall. Classrooms, offices, the Bookstore, Parking, Campus ID, Disability Support Services, and the Department of Housing and Residence Life, are located in this building.

Fahy Hall. Opened in 1968, this building houses many departments of the College of Arts and Sciences, as well as the dean of this College. In addition to classrooms and faculty offices, it contains communication laboratories, the language resource center, and a television studio.

Jubilee Hall. With six stories and more than 126,000 square feet of academic space, this structure provides a home for the Stillman School of Business, the College of Education and Human Services, the New Jersey Center for Civic and Law-Related Education and the Departments of Political Science, Psychology, Public and Healthcare Administration, and Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work. It contains 156 faculty and administrative offices and 30 teaching spaces, from seminar rooms that seat eight people to an auditorium seating 390. It also features a central, three-story skylit atrium where students and faculty can congregate informally. A major feature of the building is the technological capabilities it brings to the teaching and learning processes. These include fixed and flexible seating classrooms with the most contemporary information and distance-learning technologies that facilitate the transmission of lectures all over the world; laboratories with one-way observation mirrors; and classrooms with power for laptop computers at each seat.

Lewis Hall/Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology. Lewis Hall was completed in 1984 and houses Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology, including Seminary faculty and student residences, a dining hall, lounges, the Monsignor James C. Turro Theology Library and temporary faculty offices.

Marshall Hall. Built in the 1890s under the direction of Reverend William Marshall, this three-story building is situated to the east side of Presidents Hall. The building’s main level contains a newly restored Regents Suite and Regents Board Room. Marshall Hall connects via a gallery passage and a stair tower with marble treads and wrought-iron railing serves the second floor level.

Martin House. The location of the Department of Human Resources, a private home for many years, was dedicated on November 3, 2006, the feast day of Saint Martin de Porres (1579-1639). The building, located at 366 South Orange Avenue, was named Martin House in honor of the Dominican brother, known for his many good works among the poor of Lima, Peru, and a model of servant leadership.

McQuaid Hall. Named after Bishop Bernard McQuaid, first president of Seton Hall, this building was constructed in the early 1900s. The School of Diplomacy and International Relations is located on a major section of the first floor of this building. The School of Health and Medical Sciences is located on the second floor and part of the first floor.

Mooney Hall. Named for Monsignor James Mooney, president of Seton Hall from 1907-22, the building houses Freshman Studies, the Academic Success Center, Seton Summer Scholars, ROTC/Military Science, Special Academic Services, Counseling Services, the Print Shop, classrooms and offices.

Presidents Hall. Visually the “centerpiece” of campus, Presidents Hall dates back to 1867. It houses administrative offices, including those of the president, provost and executive vice president, general counsel, planning, and the Office of International Programs.
Residence Halls. Seton Hall has housing capacity for approximately 2,400 students. The residence halls include Cabrini, Neumann, Serra, Xavier, Aquinas, and North and South Boland halls. Ora Manor Apartments, Turrel Manor and St. Andrew’s Hall provide University housing off campus.

Ring Building. Located at 457 Centre Street, this building houses the Division of University Advancement, including the vice president’s office and the departments of Alumni Relations, Public Relations and Marketing, Development, and Government and Community Relations.

Schwartz College of Nursing Building. This facility was opened in 1973 and named for the first dean of the College of Nursing, Caroline Di Donato Schwartz, whose husband, Henry Schwartz, was the major benefactor who supplemented a U.S. Public Health Service Building grant for its completion. This building includes a state-of-the-art computer laboratory, patient care simulation laboratories, classrooms, an amphitheater, and offices for faculty and administration.

Science and Technology Center (McNulty Hall). Named in honor of Monsignor John Laurence McNulty, president during the University’s post-World War II expansion years, this building contains newly updated classrooms, teaching and research laboratories, faculty offices, conference rooms and a 230 seat amphitheater. This building has undergone an extensive redesign and was reopened in August 2007. The Departments of Biological Sciences, Chemistry and Biochemistry, Mathematics and Computer Science, and Physics are located in this newly renovated Science and Technology Center.

Seton Hall Law School Building. Seton Hall Law School opened its doors to its first class on the old site of John Marshall Law School, located at 40 Journal Square, Jersey City, in 1951. Twenty years later, in 1971, the School relocated to 1111 Raymond Boulevard, Newark. Outgrowing its space, the Law School moved to its current location at One Newark Center, Newark, in 1992. The Law School entrance leads to a striking, five-story, glass-encased atrium. Offices, classrooms, a moot courtroom and library are interconnected by balconies overlooking the atrium. The School’s location, just one block from Newark Penn Station, allows easy access to Manhattan and other destinations.

Stafford Hall. The building, which architects designed to complement Presidents Hall, features 12 technologically advanced classrooms. Nine of the rooms can accommodate 35 students each, while the remaining rooms include two large classrooms that can hold 70 and 50 students apiece and one smaller room for 25 students.

The building provides direct ADA-access to Marshall Hall on multiple floors, which visitors can then use to enter Presidents Hall. In a nod to the site’s history, Stafford Hall’s cornerstone (which was uncovered during its demolition) has been inlaid into the new building’s lobby.

Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center and Walsh Gymnasium. A student-oriented, multipurpose facility that serves the recreation, physical education and intercollegiate needs of the University community. Features of this facility, which is scheduled to complete a multi-million dollar renovation process in 2014, include the Richard and Sheila Regan Field House – home to a newly-installed four-lane MONDO track and recently re-surfaced basketball courts – and a 25-yard pool. The facility also offers a variety of fitness options available to the entire University community with dedicated areas for dance and exercise classes, extensive free weight and aerobic equipment, in addition to saunas and locker rooms. Adjacent to the Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center, is Walsh Gymnasium, a 2,000-seat arena built in 1939 and named for Newark Archbishop Thomas Walsh. Walsh Gymnasium is the site of practice and competition for many intercollegiate teams. The state-of-the-art WSOU-FM facility is also located here. Outdoor facilities include Owen T. Carroll Field and Ivy Hill Park, 19 acres of practice and intramural fields adjacent to the campus.

Walsh Library. Seton Hall’s Walsh Library was completed in spring 1994. Located opposite the Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center, the four-story, 155,000 square-foot structure is nearly three times the size of its predecessor, McLaughlin Library, and accommodates twice as many users at any given time. The library is named in honor of Board of Regents chairman and University benefactor Frank E. Walsh and his wife, Mary D. Walsh.

Walsh Library facilities include quiet, convenient reading rooms, group study rooms, study carrels and scholar’s studies; compact shelving and a flexible floor plan; state-of-the-art systems to protect, preserve and provide access to valuable resources; an exhibit and art gallery; the Valente Italian Studies Library; the Alberto Italian Studies Institute; and a central location for all library services, including Information Commons, the Special Collections Center, The Teaching, Learning and Technology Center, Walsh Library Gallery, and University Archives.
