During some semesters additional course sections will be offered if you want to take 3 courses in one semester to expedite program completion. However, if you depart from this plan, we do not guarantee that any particular course will be offered in a given semester.

* EDST6216 should be taken during your first semester of Master’s courses.

 Do not take during the same semester as EDST6306.

 EDST6306 – Capstone Course – must be taken your last semester and may not be combined with more than one course during that semester, including summer.

† Production of Instructional Resources I and II may be taken in any sequence. No prerequisite skills required.
