Seton Hall University

Publication Number CLVIII Volume I.

Produced by the Seton Hall University Office of the Provost in conjunction with the Department of Public Relations and Marketing. The information presented in this catalogue is current as of July 2015. While this catalogue was prepared on the basis of updated and current information available at the time, the University reserves the right to make changes, as certain circumstances require. For more information, visit our web site at www.shu.edu

All of Seton Hall’s programs and policies are consistent with the University’s mission and are carried out in accordance with the teachings of the Catholic Church and the proscriptions of the law.

The University supports and implements all state and federal anti-discrimination laws, including Executive Order 11246, as amended, which prohibits discrimination in employment by institutions with federal contracts; Titles VI and VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, which prohibit discrimination against students and all employees on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin or sex; Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, which prohibits discrimination against students and all employees on the basis of sex; Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, which require affirmative action to employ and advance in employment qualified disabled veterans of the Vietnam Era; the Equal Pay Act of 1963, which prohibits discrimination in salaries; the Age Discrimination in Employment Acts of 1967 and 1975, which prohibit discrimination on the basis of age and; the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, which prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability.

Seton Hall University is committed to programs of equal employment opportunity and affirmative action (EEO/AA). No person may be denied employment or related benefits or admission to the University or to any of its programs or activities, either academic or nonacademic, curricular or extracurricular, because of race, color, religion, age, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, handicap and disability, or veteran’s status. All executives, administrators, faculty and managers — both academic and administrative — are responsible for individual and unit support of Seton Hall University’s EEO/AA programs. EEO/AA policies are to be applied in all decisions regarding hiring, promotion, retention, tenure, compensation, benefits, layoffs, academic programs, and social and recreational programs.

Charles Creamer, Senior Human Resources Generalist, is the University’s equal employment opportunity/affirmative action officer who is responsible for providing information regarding the provisions of the laws and regulations referenced in the preceding paragraphs and their applicability to the services, programs and activities offered by the University. Mr. Creamer is located in the Department of Human Resources in the Martin House, 366 South Orange Avenue and may be contacted at charles.creamer@shu.edu or (973) 761-9284. Lori Brown is the University compliance officer who is responsible for providing information regarding sexual harassment and racial and/or ethnic discrimination, as well as protocols for the investigation of complaints in those areas. Ms. Brown is located in Presidents Hall and may be contacted at lori.brown@shu.edu or (973) 313-6132.

For further information and inquiry, call, toll free, 1-800-THE-HALL (843-4255). Information sessions are available; please call for an appointment. Other offices may be reached via the University switchboard at (973) 761-9000. Address to write for information: Enrollment Services - Bayley Hall, Seton Hall University, 400 South Orange Avenue, South Orange, NJ 07079.

NOTE: University policy indicates that the Provost is responsible for the decision to cancel or delay classes or University operations. When classes are cancelled, the University is closed except for essential services. Information regarding the suspension or delayed start of classes and/or operations will be made available to the University community via the PirateAlert Emergency Notification System, the SHU South Orange (http://www.shu.edu) and Law School (http://law.shu.edu) websites, and WSOU 89.5. An informational message is also placed on the University telephone system (South Orange Campus at 973-761-9000 and the Law School at 973-642-8725). Every effort will be made to have emergency closing information available by 6 am.
This catalogue is a sampling of the exceptional array of knowledge available at Seton Hall University through its academic offerings. As you make your course selections, it is also important to remember that time in classrooms, laboratories and libraries is part of the bigger picture that prompted you to come to this preeminent Catholic institution of higher education.

Saint Elizabeth Ann Seton, for whom our University is named, began our country’s parochial school system in the belief that faith should be lived in responsible citizenship capable of bringing to society wisdom, knowledge and integrity. Her nephew, Bishop James Roosevelt Bayley, built on that philosophy in founding Seton Hall as “a home for the heart, the mind and the spirit.” Today, we use the term “servant leader” to summarize the University’s mission to form women and men of ethical leadership and competence in all fields of enterprise, and who are also dedicated to serve others. For our institution, that is the core of academic excellence.

In recent years, we have seen an increase in the number and quality of students who attend Seton Hall. We have inaugurated new programs across the disciplines and we continue to build new facilities. Yet, the fundamental values remain the same.

This is the Catholic mission, to form the whole person in a nurturing community that offers our students personal attention and care. Please keep this in mind as you peruse this catalogue and prepare for the academic year ahead. In selecting your courses, know that you will share your journey with thousands, indeed tens of thousands who have gone before you. Like them, you are in pursuit of that truth, which alone sets us free.

A. Gabriel Esteban, Ph.D.
President
Seton Hall University
Your experience at Seton Hall University will represent a period of incomparable intellectual, emotional and spiritual growth – it will be a period unlike no other you have experienced during any other part of your entire life. To fully exploit this opportunity, you must be open – to classmates whose backgrounds are wholly different from yours, to teachers who challenge you more than you are accustomed, to ideas that may be contrary to your prior world view, and to the presence of God in your daily life. How you experience Seton Hall is completely within your control.

Seek to become a well-rounded and educated person. If you are a pre-med student, attend to the humanities, which will provide you with an insight into the human condition, thereby enabling you to become a physician of the person as well as the body. If you are a science major, aspire to excellence not only in your discipline, but in those skills essential to general competence in life, such as writing. Every one of you should seek that knowledge that makes you an informed citizen, able to participate intelligently in the political process. Finally, all students should strive to integrate faith and reason, to enable you to live the good life. Our Catholic Studies courses provide a particular opportunity for you to understand the connections between your faith and other disciplines.

Your college years create the foundation upon which you will build your adult life. Make wise and mature choices. Appreciate the multitude of gifts that comprise your college experience.

Provost and Executive Vice President

Seton Hall University

Our Mission

Seton Hall is a major Catholic university. In a diverse and collaborative environment it focuses on academic and ethical development. Seton Hall students are prepared to be leaders in their professional and community lives in a global society and are challenged by outstanding faculty, an evolving technologically advanced setting and values-centered curricula.

AS APPROVED BY THE SETON HALL UNIVERSITY BOARD OF REGENTS, JUNE 6, 1996.
University Overview

Seton Hall University was founded in 1856 by Bishop James Roosevelt Bayley, the first bishop of Newark, who named it after his aunt, Elizabeth Ann Seton, a pioneer in Catholic education and the first American-born saint. The University is the oldest diocesan university in the United States.

Nestled on 58 acres in the suburban village of South Orange, New Jersey, Seton Hall’s campus is home to eight schools and colleges: the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Education and Human Services, the College of Nursing, the School of Diplomacy and International Relations, the School of Health and Medical Sciences, the Stillman School of Business, and Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology. Seton Hall’s eighth school, the School of Law, is located in Newark, New Jersey. The Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies is located on the South Orange Campus.

A Tradition of Christian Values

Seton Hall University is founded on and defines itself and its academics, student life and community programs on a Christian understanding of the nature of the world and the human person. With a tradition of quality education based on Christian values, the University takes pride in its concern for the intellectual, ethical and spiritual development of its undergraduate and graduate students.

Religious beliefs and values are taken seriously at Seton Hall. The University emphasizes the importance of religious and ethical concerns to all areas of human inquiry. With Roman Catholic teaching and tradition as a life-enhancing and enabling vision, the University calls on its students to explore and appreciate all that is the best and most humane in the world.

Seton Hall is Catholic not only by its charter and mission, but also by its ongoing spirit and activity. There exists a basic tenet at the University that religious faith is vital to life and its meaning. This tenet provides a context in which the University has and will continue to define and develop its identity. The Office of Mission and Ministry was instituted in order to foster the spirit and the reality of the Catholic faith on campus.

At the same time, Seton Hall is committed to bringing together people of different races, cultures, religious traditions, lifestyles and ethnic backgrounds into a community that is respectful and supportive. This commitment has helped to establish a truly multicultural community in which all people of good will are welcome.

Seton Hall strives to develop the intellectual, social and religious talents of its students so they may live their lives responsibly, generously and successfully.

Academic Programs: A Commitment to Excellence

At the undergraduate level, Seton Hall offers more than 60 majors and concentrations, as well as many minors, certificates, and interdisciplinary and other special programs. These curricula are continually evaluated and enhanced to meet the changing educational, professional and technological needs and expectations of our increasingly complex society.

One thing that has remained consistent, however, is the University’s commitment to individual attention: With more than 400 full-time faculty and many adjunct faculty, the average class size is just 20 students, and the student-faculty ratio is 14:1. In addition to a highly dedicated and accessible faculty, the University offers comprehensive academic advising and career development programs, as well as a diversity of special services designed to assist students in their academic, personal, professional and spiritual development. At Seton Hall, students find people who are willing to listen, offer support and help them achieve their goals.

The University also encourages students to enhance their academic preparation through involvement in extracurricular activities, such as student government; student professional organizations; internships and cooperative education experiences; varsity, intramural and club sports; recreation and fitness activities; fraternities and sororities; community service; cultural programs; and ethnic and other special-interest organizations.

A Window to the Wider World

Seton Hall is in the midst of one of the world’s most cosmopolitan centers of education, business, publishing, art and entertainment. The University’s close proximity to New York City (which is 14 miles from South Orange) allows students to explore the best that the “Big Apple” has to offer, including museums, plays, concerts and sporting events. In the city as well as throughout areas of New Jersey, students take part in field trips, internships, cooperative education assignments and community service activities. And with the increasing importance of international business, communication and governmental cooperation, many students elect to pursue international study programs.

The History of Seton Hall

The “three chapters” of the University’s history span over 150 years of intellectual and spiritual development, from the founding era into the 20th century, through depression, world war and cold war, and through the most recent period of expansion.

From its original enrollment of a handful of students in 1856, Seton Hall grew rapidly. During its first 12 years, the College enrolled more than 500 freshmen from 17 states and six foreign countries. The seeds of diversity at Seton Hall were planted almost from its birth.
Seton Hall always has reflected the growing ethnic scope of its students and the increasing diversity of the Church and society it has served. In the 19th century, in spite of setbacks, major fires, lean times and the Civil War, the College continued to expand. By 1937, Seton Hall established a University College. This marked the first matriculation of women at Seton Hall. The University became fully coeducational in 1968.

The years after World War II witnessed unprecedented growth for Seton Hall as it responded to the needs of thousands of veterans seeking higher education. The College was organized into a university in 1950, comprising the College of Arts and Sciences and the schools of Business, Nursing and Education. The School of Law opened its doors in 1951 and the School of Diplomacy and International Relations was established in 1997.

The next two decades saw the construction and modernization of a large number of facilities including the Library, the Science and Technology Center, residence halls and the University Center. Many new programs and majors were inaugurated. New ties were established with the private and industrial sectors, and a growing partnership developed with federal and state governments creating programs for the economically and educationally disadvantaged.

The '70s and '80s continued to be a time of growth and renewal. New business and nursing classroom buildings and an art center were opened. In 1984, Immaculate Conception Seminary returned to Seton Hall, its original home until 1927, when it moved to Darlington. With construction of four new residence halls between 1986-88, the purchase of off-campus apartment buildings in 1990 and 2004 and the expansion of Aquinas Hall in 2014, Seton Hall now provides living space for approximately 2,300 students.

The physical development of the campus continued in the 1990s. In 1994, construction was completed on Walsh Library, a $20 million, four-story facility. Walsh Library provides first-class study and research resources to undergraduate and graduate students, faculty and scholars from around the world. The opening of Walsh Library is symbolic of Seton Hall’s transformation from a small, local institution whose library housed the personal collection of its president to a major national university with current library holdings of nearly 700,000 volumes.

Seton Hall houses its College of Education and Human Services, Stillman School of Business, Center for Public Service, and the departments of Sociology and Anthropology, Psychology, and Political Science in Jubilee Hall, named to commemorate the University’s Sesquicentennial in 2006. The building provides a wide range of teaching spaces — from seminar rooms to a 390-seat auditorium. All classrooms in the building are wired to accommodate notebook computers, and many of the lecture halls are equipped with distance-learning technology.

When the Sesquicentennial of Seton Hall was observed in 2006, we looked back on the prophetic concluding words from the 1956 centenary history of the University: “Seton Hall University’s great boast and claim to fame is not predicated on expansion, buildings or even curriculum. It lies rather in the hearts and minds of a dedicated and devoted faculty.” Seton Hall’s history has been one primarily of people: students and faculty living and working together in a community of learning, a community rooted in a Catholic tradition that is a home for the mind, the heart and the spirit.

The Science and Technology Center opened in Fall 2007. This state-of-the-art facility houses the departments of Biological Sciences, Chemistry and Biochemistry, Mathematics and Computer Science, and Physics.

The Stafford Hall opened in Fall of 2014. The building, which architects designed to complement Presidents Hall, features 12 technologically advanced classrooms. Nine of the rooms can accommodate 35 students each, while the remaining rooms include two large classrooms that can hold 70 and 50 students apiece and one smaller room for 25 students.

Seton Hall remains in the forefront of global education, and at the same time honors its history.

Priest Community at Seton Hall

From its earliest existence as a diocesan college, Seton Hall has been staffed by the priests of the Archdiocese of Newark. At present, 48 priests (the largest single apostolate of diocesan clergy anywhere) serve the University community in a variety of ways. Some work in administration or on staff, others are professors on the University or Seminary faculties. Some work directly with students in a pastoral capacity in Campus Ministry. Some serve on the University Boards and some have retired after many years of service to the University and continue to live on campus and contribute to the spiritual and liturgical life of the campus community.

The presence of so many priests of the Archdiocese of Newark, as well as those from other dioceses or religious orders who also work on campus, is a vital element in furthering the Catholic mission and identity of the University. In addition to their administrative and/or academic duties, the priests minister to all members of the University community, not only through the scheduled liturgical services in the University chapels, but also through their availability, personal concern and response to individual needs.

Accreditation and Memberships

Seton Hall University is fully accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. The academic qualifications of the undergraduate programs have merited their accreditation by appropriate professional memberships as well. Below is a list of University memberships; additional information regarding individual program accreditation is available from appropriate University departments. The University’s National Honor Society memberships are listed in the Academic Policies and Procedures section of this catalogue.
Documents describing the University’s accreditation status are available for review in the Monsignor William Noé Field University Archives and Special Collections Center, University Libraries.

International Relations, the Stillman School of Business, and Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology. Undergraduate programs offered within these areas may be found by consulting the table of contents and/or index of this catalogue. Information regarding graduate programs offered by these schools may be found in the University’s Graduate Catalogue.

Seton Hall also has two schools offering primarily graduate and professional programs: the School of Health and Medical Sciences, and the School of Law. Information about programs offered within these areas may be obtained directly from these schools and from the Graduate Catalogue.

School of Law

The Seton Hall University School of Law was founded in 1951. It is the only law school in New Jersey operated by a private university. It offers a full-time program, leading to a J.D. in three years and a part-time evening division leading to a J.D. in four years. It also offers an LL.M. in Health Law and an LL.M. in Intellectual Property Law. An M.S.J. in Health Law and/or Intellectual Property Law is also available.

In addition to basic courses required for admission to the bar in all states, the School of Law offers advanced courses in a variety of areas of the law, including a number considering legal and policy questions being addressed across the nation and internationally. The School offers opportunities for concentrations in health law and intellectual property, as well as opportunities to explore criminal law, corporate law, employment law and international law. Active participation in appellate and trial moot court provides training in the effective presentation of legal cases and argument.

In the area of clinical legal education, the School of Law’s Center for Social Justice has developed a number of litigation clinics and other programs that offer practical skill training and an opportunity to serve the community.

Further information on concentrations in health law or intellectual property for J.D., LL.M. or M.S.J. students is available at (973) 642-8871. General admissions information and information on the J.D./M.B.A. and J.D./M.A.D.I.R. is available from Admissions, Seton Hall School of Law, One Newark Center, Newark, NJ 07102, (973) 642-8876, or visit the website at law.shu.edu

Information Technology

Dennis J. Garbini, M.B.A., Vice President for Administration
Stephen G. Landry, Ph.D., Chief Information Officer

Seton Hall University is recognized as one of the leaders in the use of technology to support research and education, and at Seton Hall technology is ubiquitous. The University’s award-winning Mobile Computing Program provides laptops computers to all undergraduate students and faculty. This technology is supported by a campus-wide wireless network.
network, an on-campus computer repair facility, “24x7” phone support, and a state-of-the-art data center providing network services that include the PirateNet campus portal, the Blackboard learning management system, an ePortfolio system, and online services such as registration, payment and access to grades. Many of the University’s online services are also available through mobile smartphones, and additional mobile smartphone services are brought online each year. The Department of Information Technology and the Department of Public Relations and Marketing have developed a comprehensive website to serve the community.

For more information about technology at Seton Hall University visit technology.shu.edu

The Mobile Computing Program

One of the cornerstones in achieving the University’s vision of supporting ubiquitous technology on campus is the University’s Mobile Computing Program. The program is mandatory for all full-time undergraduate students and is supported by the Mobile Computing Technology fee. The Mobile Computing Program has three mutually reinforcing components: 1) Ubiquitous Access: all faculty and students in the program are equipped with a state-of-the-art laptop computer with a full suite of productivity tools such as Microsoft Office. Most students’ laptops are replaced every two years, including students in some five-year programs who receive one replacement laptop during their five years of study. Students are eligible to keep their laptop when they graduate. (2) Services and Support: the University provides high levels of support for technology, including on-site laptop repairs, “24x7” phone support, a campus-wide wireless network, ubiquitous classroom technology such as built-in video projection in every classroom, and network services such as online file storage, online collaboration tools and online access to academic and administrative services. (3) Curricular Integration: through the Teaching, Learning and Technology Center, the University provides particular support to faculty and academic departments in order to facilitate the use of technology to enhance teaching and learning. The Mobile Computing Technology Fee is currently $650 per semester for most students. However the fee varies somewhat by academic program and students in some five-year programs will have a lower fee their fifth year of study.

The Teaching, Learning and Technology Center (TLTC)

The University’s Teaching, Learning and Technology Center (TLTC), located in Walsh Library, supports classroom technology and provides the programs and services that support the effective use of information technology to enhance teaching and learning. The TLTC provides facilities and classroom support for technology; audiovisual equipment for classrooms and events; media production; video conferencing facilities; and facilities for acquiring, converting and editing digital media and streaming media. The TLTC provides faculty support for the appropriate integration of technology. The TLTC also provides training for all University-supported computer hardware and software to the entire Seton Hall community. Available classes range from the basics of using a laptop computer through courses on all levels of Microsoft Office, the Blackboard Learning System, developing a personal web site or ePortfolio, and many other topics. The TLTC also administers several programs aimed at supporting faculty and student use of technology and infusing technology appropriately into the curriculum. One of these programs the Curriculum Development Initiative (CDI), provides systematic support for departments integrating information technology into required core courses or course sequences.

The Student Technology Assistants Program

The Student Technology Assistants Program (STA) provides on-campus employment to students whose job it is to support faculty in their integration of technology into the curriculum. The STA program is student-centered and student-run with guidance from University faculty and technologists, who provide students with appropriate training and a structured experience in technology support and consulting services. The STA program accepts students from all majors and with all levels of knowledge about technology, from the novice to the expert. Interested students can find more information on the technology website at technology.shu.edu

The Campus Network

Seton Hall University campus has a state-of-the-art wireless network that provides access from everywhere on campus – in the classrooms, the residence halls and all public meeting and study spaces. Many of our classrooms and public spaces have also been outfitted with power at each seat. Each student at the University automatically receives a network account. All common network services are available through the University’s PirateNet portal (piratenet.shu.edu). The University’s campus e-mail is based on Microsoft’s Office365 suite of services. Many courses use the Blackboard learning system as a collaborative learning environment, providing online document repositories, discussion groups and assessment tools for faculty and student use. The University provides webhosting services for student personal websites and ePortfolios and network storage for student files (currently 50 GB of online storage). Upon graduation, students are eligible for an alumni e-mail account for life at no cost.

Technology Services

The University provides a wide range of facilities and services to support information technology. Among these are:

PC Support Services: Located on the lower level of Corrigan Hall, PC Support Services provides walk-in support, computer repairs and one-on-one laptop consultation, as well as phone support for the entire University community. Operating 24 hours a day, seven days a week the Technology Service Desk helps answer questions regarding the University’s standard suite of software and applications including the Blackboard learning system. The Technology Service Desk can be reached on campus at ext. 2222, off campus at (973) 275-2222, or by e-mail at servicedesk@shu.edu

Public Computer Labs: PC Support maintains three public computer labs containing more than 100 computers in three academic buildings: in Jubilee Hall, in Schwartz Hall and Information Commons in Walsh Library. All of the University’s public computing labs are equipped with modern computers connected to the campus network, and public access printers and mobile ports for those students who wish to use a laptop in the lab. The software in the computer labs consists of the standard Seton Hall supported applications, including the Microsoft Professional Office Suite, Internet Explorer, Mathematica and SPSS, as well as several discipline-specific applications that have been installed at the request of various departments throughout campus. In addition to the public computing labs, a number of academic departments, including business, communication, education, mathematics and computer science, and modern languages, operate their own computer labs in partnership with PC Support Services. The Public Computer Labs are staffed and supported by students in the STA program.

University IT Services (UITS): Located in Corrigan Hall, University IT Services is responsible for maintaining the campus network, the campus Internet connection, all campus servers (e-mail, web, applications) and the Banner student, administrative and financial systems. UITS is also responsible for all telephones, telephone switches, voice mail accounts and cell phones.

University Libraries
John E. Buschman, D.L.S., Dean

Walsh Library faculty and staff provide Seton Hall university students library services on the South Orange campus. During the academic year the Library is open Monday through Thursday from 8 a.m. to 2 a.m.; Friday from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m.; Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; and Sunday from Noon to 2 a.m. This four-story 155,000 square-foot facility opened in August 1994 and houses the University Libraries, the Walsh Gallery, and the Monsignor William Noé Field University Archives and Special Collections Center. Walsh Library also accommodates the Teaching, Learning and Technology Center, or TLTC. TLTC includes the Instructional Design Team, the Computer Training Center, the Student Technology Assistant Program, the Interactive Television Classroom and University Media Services.

The Library is home to the Bernard J. Lonergan Institute, the Center for Catholic Studies, and the Chesterton Institute. The Monsignor James C. Turro Theology Library is located in Lewis Hall as part of Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology. Strong onsite collections in the University Libraries are augmented by electronic gateways to connect Seton Hall University library community members with global academic resources in other libraries and institutions worldwide. Visit the web site at library.shu.edu The Peter W. Rodino, Jr. Law Library, located on the School of Law campus, is separately administered.

The University Libraries

The University Libraries have notable resources, including extensive holdings of more than 1,000,000 book volumes and electronic access to full-text articles in more than 30,000 journals. Further, the Libraries subscribe to a broad selection of indexing and abstracting services in both digital and print formats, various microform collections, music CDs, and audiovisual aids. The University Libraries are a selective depository for U.S. Federal, State of New Jersey and U.N. publications.

Depository status provides exclusive access to thousands of publications in electronic or print formats. For added bibliographic access and document delivery, the University Libraries participate in consortia such as PALCI, VALE and the international OCLC. It provides more than 12,000 interlibrary loans to students and faculty free of charge. A majority of periodical interlibrary loans are delivered through e-mail. The University Libraries have strong and growing collections in the areas of theology, Asian studies, Judaeo-Christian studies, Italian studies (Valente Collection), Slavic and Eastern European studies and other areas of the humanities. The Curriculum Resource Lab contains K-12 resources that support instruction provided by the College of Education and Human Services. New books are available on open stacks and are displayed on specifically marked shelves. Popular periodicals and a variety of local, national and international newspapers are displayed in the Browsing Room, which offers soft chair seating and study tables. All information resources are catalogued and accessible through SetonCat, the University Libraries’ online public access catalog.

The Library accommodates more than 1,100 students, faculty and visitors in a variety of study facilities, including tables, carrels, group-study rooms and scholar study rooms. The Silent Study Room has been created to accommodate those students who prefer a totally quiet environment for their research and scholarship. In the past year, more than 38,000 students used group study rooms and more than 474,800 people visited the library. A faculty of 13 qualified full-time professional library faculty, supported by administrative staff, focus on offering excellent service to Seton Hall’s community of students and classroom faculty. The Library faculty respond to the needs of our scholars, continually transforming the Library’s services to exceed client expectations. Library faculty, staff and administrators practice the virtue of hospitality in welcoming and assisting students in using information resources to produce rigorous scholarship and by assisting faculty in classroom instruction. The library faculty provide reference desk, internet and telephone service consultation, as well as offer bibliographic and information services via telephone, e-mail and virtual reference through the library website. Library faculty serve as subject bibliographers and liaisons to various academic disciplines for collection development and curriculum support.

The University is committed to developing students’ information literacy skills. The University Libraries provide orientation and instruction in information literacy skills to all freshmen in partnership with the Freshman Studies Program and the Department of English. In a growing number of English courses, faculty are available to assist students through an electronic course management system called Blackboard. The library faculty instruct nearly 4,000 students including upper level and graduate students. They also provide services to high school students through Project Acceleration, a program that enables high school students to earn college credits. Library administrators and faculty teach in the University’s Core Curriculum Program.

Technology available in the University Libraries includes the web-based delivery of key academic databases of indexes, abstracts and digital full-text resources for study and research. The University Libraries’ Learning Resource Center provides users with 70 state-of-the-art computer workstations, and the University Libraries feature wireless connectivity throughout the facility. The libraries’ electronic-reserve (e-Reserve) capability allows students to access faculty-assigned readings from any place with internet access.

The University Libraries facility complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act (1990) and the Rehabilitation Act (1973) by providing building access via an entrance ramp and elevator service, accommodating wheelchair-bound individuals, providing handicapped-accessible rest rooms and nearby parking spaces for the handicapped. Students or faculty with visible or invisible disabilities, who self-identify at the Circulation Desk, may receive special assistance. Individuals may use an array of adaptive equipment that is available to assist persons with disabilities or impairments in the use of resources and facilities in the Libraries.

The Monsignor James C. Turro Theology Library

The Monsignor James C. Turro Library is located in Lewis Hall on the South Orange campus. Its collections support the undergraduate and graduate curricula of the Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology, which is also the major seminary of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Newark. The Turro Theology Library contains more than 80,000 books, 400 periodical titles, periodical microfilm holdings and some audiovisual material. The collection’s focus is on theology and Church history and is particularly strong in liturgical and biblical studies. Resources are available in German, French, Italian, Latin, Spanish and other essential languages for theological and biblical scholarship such as Hebrew, Greek and Syriac. Turro Library’s collections are housed in a modern facility that provides comfortable and convenient study areas. Access to the collection is primarily for students and faculty of Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology and other University faculty. Seton Hall University undergraduate and graduate students sign a guestbook in order to use the Library. Borrowing privileges are extended only to those with a valid Seton Hall ID (students, faculty, administrators, staff and alumni). All others must make requests through the interlibrary loan services provided by the University Libraries, or their home library. Visit the Turro Library website at www.shu.edu/academics/theology/seminary-library/index.cfm

The Monsignor William Noé Field Archives and Special Collections Center

The Monsignor William Noé Field Archives and Special Collections Center is located on the first floor of Walsh Library. Encompassing nearly 4,000 square feet, this center contains a wide range of historically significant resources that document the history of Seton Hall University, the Archdiocese of Newark and Catholic New Jersey. These resources include manuscripts, ledger books, photographs, newspapers, annual reports, scrapbooks, physical artifacts and other materials. The University Archives, which date from 1856, include presidential papers, departmental files, architectural plans and self-study records, among other resources. As the repository for the archives of the Archdiocese of Newark, the Center holds bishops’ papers, parish histories, Catholic directories and related materials highlighting the continuous development of the Archdiocese from 1853 to the present day.

Among the distinctive manuscript collections are the papers of prominent former New Jersey governors Richard Hughes and Brendan Byrne along with the papers of national political figures, including Marcus Daly, Leonard Dreyfuss, Matthew Rinaldo, Bernard Shanley and Donald Payne. The Seton-Jevons family papers (1792-1963) include materials documenting the family of one of the children of the first American-born saint, Elizabeth Ann Seton, and the Salt family letters include the correspondence of William Salt (1837-1891), noted professor and administrator of the 19th century and his family. The literary papers of noted Puerto Rican poet laureate, Trina Padilla de Sanz (1864-1957), and prolific author and first managing editor of the Paris Review, John Train, are also housed at this repository. Other significant collections include those of the late Monsignor John Oesterreicher (1904-1993), founder of the Institute of Judaico-Christian Studies, and the late Monsignor William Noé Field (1915-2000), English professor and archivist. The collection also contains more than 11,000 printed works, including rare and autographed books, the Meagher MacManus, Rita Murphy and John Concannon Irish History and Literature Collections, the Gerald Murphy and Pierce Byrne U.S. Civil War and World Military Uniform Book libraries, and hundreds of master-level and doctoral dissertations of Seton Hall graduate students.

The Monsignor William Noé Field Archives and Special Collections Center provides a comfortable reading room designed for serious research and an adjacent room for instruction and small-group seminars. Microfilm readers are available for reading and photocopying or scanning Setonian or Catholic Advocate newspapers, family history records from parishes and cemeteries, among our other microfilm based resources. The collections are open by appointment to faculty, clergy, administration, students and the general public who have specific research needs. The Monsignor William Noé Field Archives and Special Collections Center accepts donations of materials that fit within its scope. For more information about the Monsignor William Noé Field University Archives and Special Collections Center please consult our website at www.shu.edu/academics/libraries/archives or call (973) 761-9476.

New Jersey Catholic Historical Commission

The Monsignor William Noé Field Archives and Special Collections Center serves as the headquarters for the New Jersey Catholic Historical Commission. The NJCHC was founded in 1976 by Archbishop Peter Gerety and is supported by the hierarchy from each diocese within New Jersey to promote scholarship initiatives related to all aspects of Church History statewide. This work includes promotion of scholarship, lectures, outreach and other preservation-focused activities undertaken by the board along with affiliated friends and supporters of the organization.

For more information call (973) 275-2378, email alan.delozier@shu.edu, or visit their website at www.shu.edu/njchc/

Office of Records Management

The Records Management Center is located within the Monsignor William Noé Field Archives and Special Collections Center. It houses non-current and permanent non-archival institutional records. The Records Management program is designed to create, facilitate and monitor the official retention schedules for each University department. Files are systematically transferred, stored and made available for review by the originating University office upon request. The Records Management Center can be reached at (973) 275-2063.

The Walsh Gallery

Since 1994, the Walsh Gallery has provided visitors with the opportunity to encounter the world’s cultural heritage in an intimate, welcoming setting that promotes learning. The Gallery is one of the most vibrant nonprofit exhibition spaces in the New York area. In keeping with the mission of Seton Hall University, there is an emphasis on spiritual growth through the presentation of exhibitions that promote critical thinking and cultural appreciation. Serving both the campus and surrounding communities, the gallery hosts five exhibitions annually. Admission to the gallery and all special events is free and open to the public.

Advancing the University’s service-based mission, programming in the gallery encourages collaboration with students, various departments on campus and nonprofit organizations. The Walsh Gallery places importance on global themes which promote intercultural appreciation and awareness. Recent programming has investigated Italian immigration to America during the first half of the 20th century, New Jersey’s seminal role in the film history, communal modes of art-making in the Portuguese tradition of “Colcha” and the relationship between art and science.

The Walsh Gallery regularly hosts programming and scholarly events such as the renowned Poetry-in-the-Round series which features readings by award winning authors, symposia, film screenings, artist talks and meeting space for events. Students and faculty can publicize their events, coursework and accomplishments by reserving exhibition space in the display windows, located on the first and second floor arcades of the Walsh Library. Faculty and community groups can book guided tours with advance notice. Receptions provide an opportunity to meet and speak with exhibiting artists and scholars.

For further information, contact the director at 973-275-2033, jeanne.brable@shu.edu or visit the website at shu.edu/walshgallery

Office of International Programs

Maria V. Bouzas, M.A., Director

The Office of International Programs (OIP) internationalizes the Seton Hall community in three distinct areas.

1. Education Abroad

The OIP coordinates the study abroad process for Seton Hall students. Students are encouraged to make study abroad part of their college experience by participating in faculty-led programs, exchange agreements or opportunities through third-party providers. Opportunities abroad can range from one week to a year and to countries such as, Spain, France, Italy, Ethiopia, the Philippines, England and China. The OIP is a central information point, providing pre-departure orientation and guidelines for safe travel. The OIP also advises the Seton Hall International Programs (SHIP) student organization.

2. International Student and Scholar Services

The Office of International Programs assists international students and visiting scholars who wish to study or do research at Seton Hall. This includes issuing the initial documentation required to obtain a student visa or an exchange visitor visa, as well as providing immigration counseling to all international students and scholars regarding maintaining visa status, employment, traveling, changing status, etc. The OIP also provides assistance and guidance to the International Student Association (ISA).

3. Cultural Activities

The OIP promotes awareness and understanding of other cultures throughout the campus and assists international students with integration into the Seton Hall community through social and cultural events. The International Celebration in the fall highlights cultures and customs from around the world.

For further information, contact the Office of International Programs at (973) 761-9072 or visit www.shu.edu/offices/oip-index.cfm

Alumni Relations
Matthew Borowick, M.B.A., Associate Vice President
Alumni Relations

The Department of Alumni Relations, with a constituency of more than 92,000 alumni, serves as the primary University resource for all Seton Hall graduates.

Alumni Relations is advised by a Board of Directors which is composed of members representing various alumni constituencies. The board is responsible for supporting the development of activities designed to engage alumni in the University.

This engagement fosters an environment that encourages Seton Hall alumni to be proud proponents of and consistent supporters of their alma mater and fellow alumni. All individuals who have received degrees from Seton Hall University or who have withdrawn under honorable conditions having been a student in good standing for a period of at least two academic semesters are considered alumni and welcome to participate in these activities and programs.

Recognizing the vital importance of building relationships with our many alumni, the Department of Alumni Relations produces both print and electronic communications. These contain updates on campus activities and feature stories about alumni, as well as news from the various schools, alumni chapters and constituent groups.

For more information on alumni activities, call (973) 378-9822 or 1-800-992-GRAD, write to the Department of Alumni Relations, Seton Hall University, George M. Ring Building, 457 Centre Street, South Orange, NJ 07079-2691, visit the website at alumni.shu.edu or write to alumni@shu.edu

Seton Hall University Parents’ Association

Parents and family members are an integral part of the Seton Hall community and play an important role in enhancing the student experience. Parents of all admitted students are members of the Parents Association. The executive body of the association is the Parents Leadership Council, which provides a forum for discussion between the parent community and University leadership. Participating in the Parents Association is an excellent way for parents to stay connected and to support the education of their college student. Specifically, benefits of membership include a subscription to the parents’ bimonthly e-newsletter What’s New @ SHU, service on special volunteer committees, invitations to University events, an opportunity to have greater impact through directed philanthropy, and the option to join the Parents Leadership Council. The Parents website at www.shu.edu/parents is a valuable source of information for parents and family members. Visit the site to learn more about the association and to subscribe to the e-newsletter.

Providing individual consultations, workshops and academic coaching, the Academic Success and Transfer Student Center (the University’s Advising Center) serves as an important resource for undergraduate students.

The Academic Success and Transfer Student Center provides:
• Academic advising for transfer and pre-major students
• Assistance to students transitioning from one major to another
• Support for students having difficulty maintaining GPA for scholarship eligibility or are on academic probation
• Assistance in creating a 4-year plan

While many students visit the Academic Success and Transfer Student Center solely for academic advising, several come to receive advice about how to improve their study skills. Advisors at the Academic Success and Transfer Student Center will counsel students on how to manage their time and review different studying techniques. The Academic Success and Transfer Student Center also offers an academic coaching program; this unique program is designed to help students excel by connecting them with a department advisor, coach, or administrator. In addition to their mentor, students will meet with their academic coach regularly. This additional support and one-on-one contact has proven to be extremely effective in helping students succeed.

Academy for Urban School Transformation
Charles P. Mitchel, Ed.D., Executive Director

The mission of the Academy for Urban School Transformation is to raise student achievement by providing urban schools with research-based, practitioner-validated, quality education services. The Academy builds on the successful relationships that have been forged between the Academy, CEHS staff and New Jersey’s urban educators. Since 1996, the Academy has worked with Newark, Orange, East Orange, Irvington, Jersey City, Paterson, and many other urban districts, providing workshops and training for administrators and teachers on such critical issues as instructional leadership, best practices in effective teaching, re-charging your physical, emotional and spiritual battery, teaching styles, time management, and closing the achievement gap. More recent training includes understanding and implementing the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) and preparing for the new Partnership for Assessment of Readiness for College and Careers (PARCC).

Opportunities for partnerships between urban schools and the Academy include the following:
• Professional Development – The Academy provides tailor-made, state of the art professional development services based on school and district needs. Follow-up in-class coaching is provided.
• Research – The Academy conducts research relevant to the urban school setting upon request.
• Beyond Restructuring – Re-culturing and re-timing are where the real work begins.

For more information, contact Charles P. Mitchel, Ed.D., at (973) 275-2854 or charles.mitchel@shu.edu

Asia Center
The Asia Center at Seton Hall has a long and rich history of more than 50 years. The center’s mission is to foster understanding, respect and knowledge of East, Southeast and South Asia among the Seton Hall and local communities. The Asia Center works in cooperation with the Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures and other groups promoting interest in Asia to support the exploration of Asian history, cultures, politics, and social and economic issues.

Bernard J. Lonergan Institute
Monsignor Richard M. Liddy, S.T.L., Ph.D., Director

Bernard Lonergan, S.J. (1904-1984) was an influential Catholic philosopher and theologian whom Newsweek magazine cited as among “the finest philosophical thinkers of the 20th century.” In November 2006 the Center for Catholic Studies at Seton Hall University inaugurated the Bernard J. Lonergan Institute dedicated to the study of the great thinker’s ideas and their application in contemporary culture. The founder and director of the institute, Monsignor Richard Liddy, was a student of Lonergan’s and has written books and papers about the Jesuit theologian.

The Institute’s mission includes creating a repository for all Lonergan’s published works, copies of his most significant unpublished writings, doctoral dissertations on Lonergan, the most significant secondary literature on the subject and Lonergan “memorabilia,” including letters and photos for public display.

The Institute also publishes The Lonergan Review, an annual peer-reviewed journal that explore the work of Bernard Lonergan. The journal’s mission is to link explicit self-knowledge - Lonergan’s self-appropriation - with the various academic disciplines and professions. It seeks to foster authentic human culture of high ideals, open to religion, the Catholic intellectual tradition and service to the poor. For more information about the Bernard J. Lonergan Institute and other Catholic Studies programs, visit academic.shu.edu/ccs

Catholic Center for Family Spirituality
Diane M. Traflet, J.D. S.T.D., Director

Created by Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology, the Catholic Center for Family Spirituality is a direct response to the challenge of Saint John Paul II to create new institutes dedicated to theological and pastoral dimensions of family life. Launched in 2009 through a generous grant from the William E. Simon Foundation, the center focuses on the spiritual foundations of family life.
It also reflects on the family as the “Church in miniature,” and explores ways to meet the challenges and stresses influencing modern family life. Experts in the field offer retreats, courses and lectures, including a program titled 70x7: Faith, Family and Forgiveness, which has drawn large audiences since its inception in 2013.

Center for Academic Industry Partnership

Nicholas H. Snow, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Academic Industry Partnership is an institutional initiative to promote our programs specific to ensuring quality laboratory science practice in the chemical and pharmaceutical industries. The center enhances current efforts in the training of undergraduate students, graduate students and industrial scientists through unique programmatic initiatives housed in the University’s Science and Technology Center, a state-of-the-art research and training facility. Laboratories provide the latest in chemical analysis, scientific instrumentation and computing technology. For further information, please call (973) 761-9035, or visit the Science and Technology Center, Room 420.

Center for Africana Studies

Kwame Akonor, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Africana Studies, established at the University in 1970, works in cooperation with the Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures and other groups to encourage serious scholarship committed to social change and human rights. The center seeks to involve the entire University in an appreciation of the black experience and places a balanced emphasis on traditional scholarship as well as experiential and co-curricular activities, such as guest lectures, internships, study abroad trips and community activism.

Center for Applied Catalysis

Robert L. Augustine, Ph.D., Executive Director
Setrak K. Tanielyan, Ph.D., Technical Director

The Center for Applied Catalysis (CAC) realizes the positive impact of harnessing the talent and resources of both academia and industry through mutually beneficial partnerships. Established at Seton Hall University in 1997 as an entrepreneurial offshoot of the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry, its main thrust is to assist industrial clients in developing catalytic processes for commercially important reactions. The work is performed primarily by post-doctoral associates working under the supervision of Robert L. Augustine, executive director, and Setrak K. Tanielyan, technical director. The center works on research projects that have industrial applications, and thus, are of maximum use to clients. For more information about the CAC, visit www.shu.edu/academics/arts/cac/index.cfm

Center for Catholic Studies

Founded at Seton Hall University in 1997, The Center for Catholic Studies is dedicated to fostering a dialogue between the Catholic intellectual tradition and all areas of study and contemporary culture, through scholarly research and publications and ongoing programs for faculty, students and the general public. In 2001, the Center conducted the annual faculty Summer Seminar, “The Core of the Core,” which originated the present University Core Curriculum. The Center also developed the undergraduate degree program in Catholic Studies with its major, minor and certificate, which in 2012 became the Department of Catholic Studies. The Center continues to support the Department with scholarship aid and its ongoing program of co-curricular activities.

Focusing on the central role of the faculty, the Center is the primary sponsor of regular faculty development programs, including lectures, seminars and retreats. The Center also administers two national faculty development programs: Collegium: A Colloquy on Faith and Intellectual Life, and The Lilly Fellows Program.

The Center maintains a global focus in international scholarship and is the home of the G.K. Chesterton Institute for Faith and Culture, as well as the Bernard J. Lonergan Institute and the Micah Institute for Business and Economics. It publishes two journals: The Lonergan Review and The Chesterton Review, now in its 40th year. The Center is also the home of William J. Toth Endowed Professorship which supports visiting professors in interdisciplinary studies at Seton Hall. For more information about the Center for Catholic Studies, visit the website at www.shu.edu/academics/arts/catholic-studies-center

Center for Community Research and Engagement

Roseanne Mirabella, Ph.D., Executive Director

The Center for Community Research and Engagement (CCRE) was established in 1997 to support the activities of Seton Hall University as it implements service learning and community-based research on campus. Service learning is defined as a form of experiential education in which students engage in activities that address human and community needs together with structured opportunities intentionally designed to promote student learning and development.

Designed to introduce students to the complexity of social issues and community decision making, the center provides students with opportunities to participate in both in-class and onsite projects, such as volunteerism, community development and nonprofit management. Service learning and community-based research affords students the opportunities to explore the causes of community problems, clarify his or her values, consider social service as a career choice, and become a more informed citizen and decision maker.

The Center also develops and implements seminars to introduce faculty to the theory and practice of service learning and community-based research, works with faculty in graduate and undergraduate departments as they develop courses that involve service learning and community-based research, and works with community leaders in Newark, Essex County and beyond to establish service learning and nonprofit management relations.

Center for Computational Research
Stephen Kelty, Ph.D., Director
The Center for Computational Research’s mission is to complement existing and future basic and applied research being conducted at Seton Hall University through the use of computer-based modeling and simulation tools provided by the Center, thereby enhancing the research capabilities and competitiveness of the University. Research collaborations exist with faculty in the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry, the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science, and the Department of Physics.

Center for Diaconal Formation
Deacon Andrew E. Saunders, M.A., Director
Created in 2010 by Seton Hall University’s Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology as part of the Institute for Christian Spirituality, the Center for Diaconal Formation is designed to provide graduate-level formation for permanent diaconate candidates. A student formally matriculated into the Center’s graduate-level program upon successful completion receives a Master’s Degree in Theology with a Systematic concentration and/or a Certificate in Diaconal Studies. In addition to graduate-level courses, the Center for Diaconal Formation offers workshops, lectures and presentations for permanent diaconate candidates and their wives, covering a wide variety of topics that address the spiritual, pastoral and human dimensions of diaconal formation, as well as post-ordination diaconal formation and continuing education needs.

For more information about the Center for Diaconal Formation, visit www.shu.edu/academics/theology/diaconal-formation/

Center for Emerging Powers and Transnational Trends
Ann Marie Murphy, Ph.D., Director
The mission of the Center for Emerging Powers and Transnational Trends is to foster cutting edge scholarly research on the causes and consequences of emerging powers and the global trends that arise as a result. The Center examines the impact of emerging powers across a wide range of issues such as global governance, international stability, foreign policy, environmental issues and energy security. It also analyzes transnational issues such as climate change, and study trends common to emerging powers such as migration, the demands of a growing middle class, and democratization, including the introduction of new participatory institutions. The Center disseminates its research to the academic community in scholarly books, journal articles, and working papers. It also engages the broader public and policy community through opinion pieces, media appearances and participation in policy conferences. Through its research, publication and outreach activities, the Center aims to raise the academic profile of Seton Hall University and the School of Diplomacy and International Relations.

Center for Entrepreneurial Studies
Susan Scherreik, M.B.A., Director
The Center for Entrepreneurial Studies was created in 2003 to raise student awareness of self-employment as a career option. The Center fosters the collaboration of faculty, students, alumni and entrepreneurs in a variety of activities and projects to advance hands-on entrepreneurial learning in the Stillman School of Business. The Center is integral to the Stillman School’s mandate to prepare students for careers in the 21st century by acknowledging the growing importance of entrepreneurship in the global economy.

Center for Global Health Studies
Yanzhong Huang, Ph.D., Director
The Center for Global Health Studies is a research center that is dedicated to the interdisciplinary study of health issues from the perspectives of governance, diplomacy, security, human rights, trade and development. The Center also serves as a resource center that not only promotes learning and engagement of scholars and students in global health, but also inform and educate policy makers, practitioners, journalists, and the general public on global health issues. Through research, publication and outreach activities, the Center aims to raise the academic profile of the School of Diplomacy and International Relations and contributes to Seton Hall’s reputation as a preeminent institution addressing important global issues.

Center for Interprofessional Education in Health Sciences
Genevieve Pinto Zipp, P.T., Ed.D., Director
The Center for Interprofessional Education in Health Sciences (CIEHS) is the result of the School of Health and Medical Sciences’ (SHMS) faculty-led Task Force on Interprofessional Education’s (IPE) strategic planning efforts to create meaningful and cross-disciplinary educational and research experiences for students, faculty and clinical partners in order to further develop SHMS’ patient-centered care mission. Innovative research, productive scholarship and the creation of several “Core Signature IPE Experiences” provide a solid foundation for continuous growth, ground-breaking developments and, ultimately, synergistic collaboration. A cornerstone of the CIEHS is interprofessional involvement from across and beyond the Seton Hall community.
Center for Mobile Research & Innovation
Director, Michael A. Taylor, Ph.D.

The Center for Mobile Research and Innovation (CMRI) fosters the investigation of mobile technology through the creation of original research, the promotion of critical partnerships, the development and support of innovative initiatives, and the dissemination of knowledge. CMRI conducts academic research that examines the diverse and complex impact of mobile technology on society through objective assessment and evaluation, and structured pilot programs.

CMRI promotes the development and distribution of applications and services designed to define the next generation of mobile growth, as well as to contribute to the evolution of platform ecosystems and their innovative implementation.

Seton Hall University is a pioneer in the use of technology in higher education, and has an institutional commitment to experiential learning and servant leadership. Within this rich setting, CMRI offers formal and informal educational programming, targeting all segments of the community.

For more information about the Center for Mobile Research and Innovation, visit cmri.shu.edu or call (862) 253-6182

Center for Peace and Conflict Studies
Zheng Wang, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Peace and Conflict Studies promotes interdisciplinary research on a wide range of topics related to peace and conflict with an emphasis on conflict prevention, management, resolution, and post-conflict peace building and reconstruction. The Center is committed to advancing the understanding of social conflict, global peace and conflict issues through multidisciplinary, multilevel, and multicultural approaches. Through the Center’s ongoing research projects as well as education and practice activities, faculty, students, alumni and colleagues work together to develop the interdisciplinary field of peace and conflict studies. The Center aims to improve the cooperation and exchange among faculty members and between faculty and students on issues of peace and conflict studies. The Center is also used as a platform to apply for external grants and fellowships and to conduct international exchange between the School of Diplomacy and academic institutes of other countries.

Center for Public Service
Naomi Wish, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Public Service is the University’s arm for outreach programs to the public and nonprofit sectors, Housing the Nonprofit Sector Resource Institute and located in the Department of Political Science and Public Affairs, the center runs a variety of programs to place members of the University community into closer contact with the public and nonprofit organizations that surround us. The center facilitates student internship and practicum placement, organizes speakers and seminars throughout the year, and serves as a clearinghouse for the nonprofit community of Northern New Jersey.

Director: Elven Riley, B.A.

The Center for Securities Trading and Analysis is designed to mimic the actual trading room activity of a hedge fund, wealth manager, or corporate treasurer. Several Bloomberg Professional Workstations are installed to provide the same dynamic market information flow that industry professionals rely on. Filling in with today’s world news, two wall mounted monitors complete the sounds and information of an active trading environment. The laboratory model encourages interaction and experimentation providing students with an outstanding opportunity to test the real world relevance of classroom theories in accounting, finance, economics and international business.

In addition to the traditional faculty and student learning relationship, industry professionals are often invited by the two active student clubs, the Investment Club and the Finance Club, to lead workshops on investment techniques as well as job coaching. Over their academic career students become more confident and self-aware of how to successfully apply the classroom knowledge with the real world demands, always a skill set sought after by our corporate partners.

Center for Sport Management
Ann M. Mayo, Ph.D., Director

The Center for Sport Management, established in 1996, serves as the center for sport management expertise, nationally and internationally, at the undergraduate, graduate and industry levels. The center offers a cutting-edge approach to sport management education from a business school perspective, offering the B.S.B., the M.B.A., graduate certificates and executive education covering all facets of the sport industry.

In Fall 2006, the center opened the new Seton Hall Sports Poll conducted by the Sharkey Institute. Founded with a major donation from alumnus Tom Sharkey and his wife Ruth, Seton Hall Sports Poll surveys the public on ethical and moral questions regarding current issues in sport and will bring national interest to Seton Hall.

Located in the heart of the sport industry, the Center for Sport Management at Seton Hall University provides students with unparalleled internship opportunities in the major and minor leagues, major sports facilities, sport marketing firms, league offices and more; the center takes advantage of its unique location by using industry professionals as instructors and guest lecturers in the classroom. Visit the business.shu.edu/sports for more information.
Center for United Nations and Global Governance Studies
Martin Edwards, PhD., Director

The Center for United Nations and Global Governance Studies serves both as an umbrella for coordinating research activities and as a key site for institution building. The Center builds research networks internally between School of Diplomacy faculty members and students and externally to promote School programs to prospective students and stakeholders. The Center uses technology and social media to disseminate knowledge about scholarship on the United Nations and other international actors. Our goal is to be an online leader in disseminating new and different types of material such as briefs, podcasts, and video lectures, that will be accessible to a wide range of academic policy, and public audiences. The research and scholarly activities of the Center include speakers and team research projects resulting in both articles and memos. In addition, the Center provides important administrative support for existing U.N. initiatives at the School of Diplomacy, including the United Nations Intensive Summer Study Program. For more information, please visit us on the web at http://www.shu.edu/academics/diplomacy:center-for-global-governance-studies/index.cfm

Center for Vocation and Servant Leadership
Monsignor C. Anthony Ziccardi, S.S.L., S.T.D., Acting Director

God calls each of us, and every call is in some way a call to serve. The Center for Vocation and Servant Leadership promotes openness to God’s call in both the academic life and common life of Seton Hall University to support the overall mission of forming students as servant leaders in a global society.

The Center began in 2003 supported by a grant from Lilly Endowment. It currently offers programming for students and professional development for faculty and administrators.

For students it offers a scholarship and leadership program called the Servant Leader Scholarship. Students must maintain a 3.0 GPA, complete 20 hours of service each semester and participate in scheduled meetings and events.

For faculty and administrators, the Center offers four retreats annually, and a series of three mission seminars whose purpose is a sustained reflection on the University’s mission in light of its Catholic character. The Center also cosponsors other faculty development programs, spiritual outreach to students, service learning opportunities and local community development.

Charles and Joan Alberto Italian Studies Institute
Gabriella Romani, Ph.D., Director

The Charles and Joan Alberto Italian Studies Institute was founded in 2003 to coordinate Seton Hall University’s many activities relating to Italian and Italian-American history and culture. The Institute sponsors cultural events, such as lectures and symposia, and promotes curriculum development and community outreach. The Institute additionally administers several scholarships that are made available to students in Italian Studies, and offers a Visiting Fellowship to international scholars. The mission of the Institute is to spread the message of the universal relevance and inclusiveness of the Italian contributions to the history of the world and of America, regardless of nationality and ethnic background. For more information contact Dr. Romani at gabriella.romani@shu.edu or (973) 275-2926 or visit www.shu.edu/academics/artscli/alberto-institute

Elizabeth Ann Seton Center for Women’s Studies
Vanessa May, Ph.D., and Karen Gevirtz, Ph.D., Co-Directors

The Elizabeth Ann Seton Center for Women’s Studies was established in the spirit of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton, whose life of activism, spirituality and leadership serves as an inspiration to our community. The center offers a minor in Women and Gender Studies and coordinates a series of interdisciplinary seminars featuring the scholarship of our faculty. The center is also actively involved with grant-funded research, particularly on the role of gender in education and career paths, and joins other programs to support a variety of activities aimed at the University’s commitment to diversity, gender equity and social justice. For more information, visit www.shu.edu/academics/artscli/womens-studies/index.cfm

G.K. Chesterton Institute
Reverend Ian Boyd, C.S.B., Director
Dermot Quinn, D.Phil., Associate Editor, The Chesterton Review

The G. K. Chesterton Institute at Seton Hall University, promotes the thought of the English writer G.K. Chesterton (1874 - 1936) and his circle and, more broadly, explores the application of Chestertonian ideas in the contemporary world. Poet, novelist, journalist and theologian, Chesterton was one of the most versatile writers of his day. He was able to write on serious matters in a style accessible to the ordinary person, making him one of the most beloved literary figures of the 20th century. His thought has particular importance for the scholars of the sacramental tradition, Catholic social teaching and Christian spirituality. The Institute’s work consists primarily of organizing conferences and lecture series, research, writing and the publication of The Chesterton Review, a widely respected, academic journal. This commitment is not narrow or exclusive. On the contrary, because of his versatility, Chesterton’s reach is wide. In response to the revival of Chesterton in the world, since 2006 The Chesterton Review publishes an annual edition in Spanish, French, Italian and Portuguese. As interest in Chesterton grows The Chesterton Review is growing too. For more information, contact the Institute, located in Walsh Library, Rooms 430 & 431, by phone (973) 275-2430 or email: chestertoninstitute@shu.edu
Institute for Advanced Study of Rehabilitation and Sports Science
Michael LaFountaine, Ed.D., ATC, Director

The Institute for Advanced Study of Rehabilitation and Sports Science (IASRSS) provides an interdisciplinary forum for the conduct of clinical research on injuries that result from individuals’ participation in recreational exercise or competitive sports, as well as research on the physiological and biomechanical elucidation of novel or minimally explored topics in sports medicine, exercise and movement science or physical rehabilitation. A hallmark of IASRSS is its fostering of interprofessional dialogue on contemporary issues in sports, exercise and physical rehabilitation through hosted journal clubs, continuing education seminars and outreach within and beyond the Seton Hall community. The IASRSS Scientific Advisory Board, comprised of volunteer leaders, will present opportunities for faculty and clinical staff to become more involved in the Institute’s worthwhile pursuits.

Institute for the Advancement of Teaching, Learning and Leading in International Schools
Charles P. Mitchel, Ed.D., Director

Seton Hall University has been a catalyst for leadership for more than 150 years at all levels and has been recognized for its outstanding academic and humanitarian programs. In following this tradition, the College of Education and Human Services has strengthened its standing commitment to leadership and to school improvement with the creation of The Institute for the Advancement of Teaching, Learning and Leading in International Schools.

The challenge of teaching and leading in the global community has never been greater. Under the leadership of Dr. Charles P. Mitchel, the institute seeks to share the expertise and diverse experiences of its dedicated faculty to serve the international school community. In this sense, the institute is committed to raising student achievement by providing international schools with research-based, practitioner-validated, quality education services in education capacity building, parent training, and world class professional development and mentoring/coaching for today’s leaders, teachers, counselors, and psychologists. Our services are designed to maximize the effectiveness of international schools and enhance the achievement of international students.

The institute has developed a sequence of instructional experiences designed to supplement and enhance the skills and abilities of teachers and administrators in the international education community. Our services provide quality, research-based instruction in the areas of teaching, learning and leading, designed to maximize the effectiveness of international schools and enhance the achievement of international students through our effective program offerings:

Master of Arts in International Leadership and Master of Arts in School Counseling with courses delivered on-line, in-country and an optional on-campus at Seton Hall internship. Note: The internship will be field-based in elementary, middle and high schools in the metropolitan area.

Professional development and coaching (tailor-made, state of the art professional development services based on school and regional needs, delivered in-country and on-line);

World class seminars in leadership, curriculum, supervision, evaluation, assessment, teaching, and education capacity building in relation to international schools. Offered at Seton Hall University;

School, family, and community relationships - nationally research-based strategies; and Research relevant to international schooling upon request.

The institute has most recently engaged in a partnership with the Association of American Schools in South America (AASSA), an organization dedicated to enhancing the quality of American education abroad. A delegation from Seton Hall has represented the institute as AASSA’s annual Educator’s Conference in Bogota, Colombia, where the institute presented five distinct workshops to conference attendees.

Through ongoing conversations with the College of Staten Island, the institute is developing a program which may provide Chinese educators with on-line Master’s degrees in Leadership. A working relationship with educators from Vaal University of Technology and Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University, both located in South Africa, is focusing on the professional development of school administrators. The institute has also provided the Seton Hall community with an opportunity to participate in a two-week, three credit undergraduate or graduate course in Celtic Studies, held in Sligo, Ireland.

Institute for Christian Spirituality
Dianne M. Traflet, J.D., S.T.D., Director

The Institute for Christian Spirituality was created by Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology to provide a premier center where those who serve in the Church today may obtain a solid foundation in their faith, learn effective skills in pastoral ministry and leadership and be given tools for discernment and spiritual growth – all in an atmosphere of collaboration and camaraderie.

The Institute’s mission is grounded in 2 Timothy 1:6: “I remind you to stir into flame the gift of God within you.” Begun in 2005 through a grant from the Lilly Endowment, the Institute accomplishes this goal through various programs, including the Catholic Evangelization Program (in collaboration with St. Paul Inside the Walls, Madison, NJ), the Center for Diaconal Formation, the Prayerfully Speaking Initiative and STEPS Seminary’s Theological Education for Parish Services (offered at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Parish, Ridgewood, NJ).

For more information about the Institute for Christian Spirituality, visit www.shu.edu/academics/theology/institute-christian-spirituality/
Institute for Education Leadership, Research and Renewal

Michael J. Osnato, Ed.D., Director

The Institute for Education Leadership, Research and Renewal (IELRR) is built on four pillars, each of which provides unique and essential programs or services. Pillar number one is The School Study Council, which provides learning and networking opportunities for superintendents. Study councils improve the skills and knowledge of district leaders. At Seton Hall University, this is accomplished through a wide range of activities, including conferences, a “Best Practices” website and exposure to state and national education experts. In addition, the Institute now oversees The New Superintendents Initiative and the Practicum for New Superintendents, formerly sponsored by the Citizens for Better Schools, Inc.

The second pillar is an in-house program known as the “Grow Your Own” Emerging Leaders M.A. This program develops the next generation of school leaders from outstanding teachers who have been identified as potentially talented administrators. Based on an innovative model of emerging prominence, this program will partner Seton Hall with several small districts or individual large districts to provide practical and contemporary preparation programs that yield “home grown” administrators.

Pillar three is the IELRR’s Continuous Support Services component, which provides practicing administrators with a variety of essential services by noted experts, including consulting services, professional development and career placement. Through this program, novice as well as veteran administrators find relevant and essential services at their doorsteps. Shadowing, mentoring and coaching opportunities aid new leaders and help them explore a variety of critical issues.

Pillar four is The Center for Urban Leadership, which provides resources, training and research services specific to the needs of New Jersey’s urban schools and districts. Established in 2001 as the Principals’ Leadership Institute, this program now falls under the direction of the IELRR, and has expanded to provide support to superintendents and principals who serve New Jersey’s neediest population of students. Urban school leaders have selected the Center as their research arm relating to statewide reform efforts.

Institute for International Business

Larry McCarthy, Ph.D., Director

The Institute for International Business, serves as the center of international business expertise for students, faculty and the business community. It fosters the collaboration of faculty, graduate and undergraduate students, to engage in a wide variety of activities and projects to advance the internationalization of the Stillman School.

The Institute sponsors international courses, lectures, internships and scholarly exchange for both students and faculty with several leading academic institutions as part of the mission of the Stillman School. Endowed with a grant from the estate of W. Paul Stillman in 1994 to support its initiatives, the Institute funds internationally focused faculty research.

At the undergraduate level, the Institute offers a minor in international business in which the curriculum includes language and cultural components, as well as core business courses. The Certificate in International Business, offered as part of the M.B.A. program consists of courses in the international aspects of accounting, economics, finance, management and marketing. The certificate is also available to qualified individuals from industry on a non-degree basis.

Institute for International Schools

Charles P. Mitchel, Ed.D., Director

Rebekah Hastey, Coordinator

The Institute’s services are designed to enhance the effectiveness of international school teachers and administrators, enabling them to better prepare their students for acceptance into top universities in the U.S. The following are a few of the services offered:

- Master of Arts degree programs in Education, Leadership, Management and Policy, in Instructional Design and Technology, and in Special Education. The courses are delivered in a blended online and in-country format;
- Professional development and coaching (tailor-made, state of the art professional development services based on school and regional needs, delivered in-country and online);
- Seminars in leadership, technology, curriculum, supervision, evaluation, assessment, teaching, and education capacity building.

Curriculum audits, training in school/community relationships, and research relevant to international schooling is also available upon request. Certificates in English as a Second Language and Teacher Certification are being developed.

For more information, contact Charles P. Mitchel, Ed.D., at (973) 275-2854 or charles.mitchel@shu.edu or rebekah.hastey@shu.edu

Institute of Interdisciplinary Studies

The Institute of Interdisciplinary Studies houses the University Core and the Department of Catholic Studies.

University Core

Anthony Sciglitano, Ph.D., Director

Fahy Hall Room 323

The University’s Core is composed of unique signature courses and a system of proficiency distributions, ensuring that each graduating student has encountered key skill sets (such as numeracy, writing, and critical thinking) in a minimum number of courses toward the baccalaureate degree.
Department of Catholic Studies
Ines A. Murzaku, Ph.D., Chair
Arts and Sciences Hall Room 215

The academic program in Catholic Studies is open to students of all tradition, and is interdisciplinary, integrative and multicultural in its approaches to learning. It is the perfect complement to all academic curricula, and provides a deepening of the University Core.

For additional information about the University Core and the Department of Catholic Studies, please see the Institute of Interdisciplinary Studies section of this catalogue.

Institute of Judaeo-Christian Studies
Reverend Lawrence Frizzell, D.Phil., Director

The Institute of Judaeo-Christian Studies, founded in 1953, is primarily a center for research and publication. Its area of study is the Church’s rootedness in Judaism and the relationship between the Church and the Jewish people through the ages. Its work includes an annual series of lectures, study days and conferences. These are intended to inform the general public about various facets of Christian-Jewish relations. A special lecture in the Fall of each year celebrates the memory of Monsignor John M. Oesterreicher, founder of the Institute. He was an important collaborator in preparing the declaration by the Second Vatican Council on “The Church’s Bond with the Jewish People (Nostra Aetate).”

The institute began a graduate program in Jewish-Christian studies in Fall 1975. In 1978, the program was incorporated into the College of Arts and Sciences; in 1979, it became a department within the College. The department and institute are thus independent units, even though origin and goal bespeak an intimate relationship. The requirements for admission to the program and a description of the course offerings may be found at www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/jewish-christian-studies www.shu.edu/go/judaeo-christian www.facebook.com/JudaeoChristianStudies

Institute of Museum Ethics
Sally Yerkovich, Ph.D., Director

The Institute of Museum Ethics (IME) was founded in 2007 to foreground the consideration of museum ethics as one of the most pivotal issues for museum professionals in the 21st century. In November 2007, the IME received a three-year Museum Professionals Grant from the Institute of Museum and Library Services.

The IME promotes integrity and competence in museum ethics, and creates a physical and virtual community of emerging and practicing museum professionals and museum studies faculty who use our resources to make informed decisions about ethical issues. It draws upon the strengths of Seton Hall University as an institution that prioritizes teaching in ethics to establish innovative collaborations between ethicists and museum professionals that will spark new conversations about museum ethics. The IME serves the needs of our region’s small museums but also has national reach. It partnered with the American Alliance of Museums to conduct a national forecasting exercise on museum ethics in the 21st century.

IME prepares students in Seton Hall’s Master of Arts in Museum Professions Program (MAMP) to become visionary leaders who make important contributions to the discourse on museum ethics. It produces new models of teaching museum ethics for students and museum professionals. Initiatives include a web portal; two national conferences and publication of the proceedings; an international conference and ‘conversation’ on “Hide/Seek”: Difference and Desire in American Portraiture”; and ongoing workshops and public lectures. For more information, please visit www.museumethics.org or e-mail museumethics@shu.edu

Institute of NeuroImmune Pharmacology
Sulie L. Chang, Ph.D., Director

The Institute of NeuroImmune Pharmacology (I-NIP) is a research institute that was established at Seton Hall University in 2007 with Dr. Sulie L. Chang as the founding Director. The I-NIP is fully funded by the National Institute of Health (NIH) grants. The institute is located on the third floor of the Science and Technology Center (McNulty Hall), Rooms 309, 319 and 320. It is the home for all active and pending federal grants of the scientists affiliated with the Institute. The I-NIP is committed to bringing knowledge of neuroimmune pharmacology to life via research, teaching, and community service.

The INIP has continuously focused its research on the bi-directional interaction between substance abuse and microbial infection, including HIV, in the central nervous system. The Institute organizes and/or sponsors numerous symposia exploring the theory that HIV infection and neuroHIV can lead to the use of addictive substances including alcohol, morphine, methamphetamine and nicotine. Ongoing research projects include molecular mechanisms underlying nicotine’s modulatory effects on learning behavior in the presence of HIV-1 viral proteins; age-dependent developmental changes in the neurotransmitter systems in the brain; alcohol related behavior disorders in the adolescent; and aging in the brain immunity of HIV positive individuals.

The I-NIP participates in the formal curricula and Academic Exposition at Seton Hall as well as the teaching and learning workshops at the NeurolImmune Pharmacology Colloquia. The I-NIP cultivates research among and between the basic and social sciences, and prides itself on fostering translational research from the laboratory bench to the community. The I-NIP trains all its members in scientific and academic integrity and honesty, and has implemented a contractual agreement entitled, “The I-NIP Proper Laboratory Conduct Contract” in response to its ongoing mission of scientific excellence. The Institute as well as its predecessors, has sponsored research for both faculty and students and their travels to national and international research presentations. The I-NIP has also facilitated the international collaboration of the College of Arts and Sciences at Seton Hall including agreements with China Medical University’s College of Pharmacy in Taiwan in 2008 and the Third Institute of Oceanography (TIO) of State Oceanic Administration in China in 2014 to coordinate education, training and faculty research building upon each school’s areas of expertise.

For more information, visit the office in the Science and Technology Center (McNulty Hall) Room 307/309, call (973) 275-2340, or fax (973) 275-2489.

Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute
Denisse Oller, B.A., Director

The Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute is dedicated to inspire, educate and transform our students into the next generation of servant leaders in our ever changing global society.

The Institute was created through a generous gift from our benefactors Mr. and Mrs. Joseph and Carmen Ana Unanue. Built on a rich legacy of service to the Seton Hall Latino community, the Joseph A. Latino Institute had its genesis as the Puerto Rican Institute, founded in the early 1970s.

Then and now, the Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute provides scholarships to students who need it most; it also promotes intellectual growth by inviting scholars and Latino leaders to campus; encourages our students to take on leadership roles guided by “Éxito” mentoring program; creates outreach programs designed for at-risk high schools students, and develops students as humanitarians both locally and in Latin America.

The Institute aims to provide a space for dialogue, to encourage research and study of the Latino experience, with particular emphasis on literature and the arts, the sciences, and business and finance to further advance intercultural understanding.

In connection with the Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies Program, the Latino Institute offers wide-ranging cultural programming. The interdisciplinary Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies major and minor combine our assets in the areas of modern languages, sociology, anthropology, religious studies, history and political science. For more information about the Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies Program, please e-mail Dr. Matthew Escobar at escobama@shu.edu

The Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute supports the Latino student organizations on campus by collaborating with, advising and publicizing their programs. For information, visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/latino-institute or call (973) 761-9422.

Language Resource Center
Director: T.B.D.

The Language Resource Center in the College of Arts and Sciences is committed to facilitating a teaching and learning environment where students, faculty and staff have the opportunity to explore language and culture in a technology-enhanced setting. In 2007, the College of Arts and Sciences, in conjunction with the Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures and the Teaching, Learning and Technology Center, extensively renovated the Language Resource Center. Language learners will find computer workstations with headphones and language learning software, allowing them to type compositions in Arabic, Chinese, Japanese, Russian, French, Spanish, German and Italian. Students can also listen to and record audio for classes. Reference books and publications in various languages are displayed for easy access. The Language Resource Center also maintains a collection of classic and modern foreign language feature films and documentaries. A screening room with surround sound and theatre-style seating allows students to comfortably watch and discuss films in small groups.

The Language Resource Center also provides information on assessment and placement exams, as well as careers for language learners. For information about the Language Resource Center, visit Fahy Hall, Room 202, or e-mail lrc@shu.edu

Market Research Center
Adam Warner, M.B.A., Director

The Market Research Center provides a hands-on learning environment and programs for students to gain practical market research skills and experience. At the Center, students, faculty and business clients partner together on customized market research projects across a variety of industries.

Located on the 6th floor of Jubilee Hall, the Center features state-of-the-art facilities including an interview/conference center, observation room and audio-visual recording equipment. Students learn transferable market research skills with the opportunity to conduct interviews, moderate focus groups, create web-based surveys, uncover insights and develop actionable solutions for real business clients.

Our programs are seamlessly integrated into many courses at the Stillman School of Business. However, to be better prepared to enter the profession, please explore our Market Research Certificate option. Details about the certificate can be found on our website or elsewhere in this catalog.

For more information, for both students wishing to learn more about the Market Research Center or the Market Research Certificate, and businesses interested in learning more about partnering with the Market Research Center, please visit www.shu.edu/academics/business/market-research or contact us directly at (973) 275-6489.

Micah Institute for Business and Economics
Seton Hall University’s Micah Institute for Business and Economics operates under the aegis of the Center for Catholic Studies. Its mission is to introduce faculty, students and the business community to the Catholic perspective on business and economic life. It seeks to present the multiple ways in which these two interactive and vital engines impact the lives of all individuals personally, communally and professionally.

Through its programs and projects, namely the Micah Business Leadership Project, the Woodstock Business Conference/Seton Hall Chapter, the Ethics and Economics Forum and the Catholic Social Teaching Topics online resource, the Micah program offers a comprehensive understanding of Catholic social teaching, economic justice and the world of work. It addresses key social issues, explores whether there is a more just way for the economy to work, and how well we prepare people, particularly the next generation, to build a more just and equitable society. The Micah Institute led to the development of the Micah Center for Business Ethics in the Stillman School of Business.

For more information, call (973) 275-2525 or visit www.shu.edu/catholic-mission/micah-index.cfm

Nonprofit Sector Resource Institute
Audrey Winkler, M.S., Director

The Nonprofit Sector Resource Institute (NSRI) serves to build the capacity of the nonprofit sector in New Jersey and nationally by training leaders in the areas of board leadership, financial fluency and nonprofit governance, by utilizing the resources of the Seton Hall University community in collaboration with recognized specialists in the nonprofit sector and business partners who are committed to bettering their communities.

The NSRI has developed a series of well-regarded programs serving both the nonprofit and corporate sectors over the years, including formal training sessions contracted with corporations and nonprofit groups, as well as workshops to share best practices and promote discussion and networking among sector participants.

Seton Hall Sports Poll Conducted by the Sharkey Institute
Richard Gentile, B.A., Director

The Seton Hall Sports Poll conducted by the Sharkey Institute, an initiative of the Center for Sport Management within the Stillman School of Business, officially launched in the Fall 2006 semester. The Institute serves as a source of polling services and survey research dedicated to sport, placing the University in a domain unoccupied by any other university in America.

Founded with a generous donation from Thomas J. Sharkey and his wife Ruth, the Seton Hall Sports Poll serves as a barometer of public opinion on the important issues confronting sports today. The distinction of the Seton Hall Sports Poll is that it is strictly focused on current sport issues. The dynamics of the sport industry provide an ideal opportunity for the Institute to present newsworthy findings on a regular basis, on topics such as the NCAA final four, commercialization of the Olympics, the steroid issue in Major League Baseball and sports gambling.

The Sharkey Institute also impacts the broader curriculum within the Stillman School and throughout the University. Among the numerous educational opportunities, marketing courses have the benefit of a live market research center, and students in their core statistics classes analyze real-time data. Management students develop planning and organizing competencies required to run a polling center, and students in communication have the opportunity to craft news releases.

Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center
Monica Burnette, M.A., Director

The Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center (ARC) is located in Arts and Sciences Hall. The ARC is a resource for all Seton Hall students who wish to maximize their academic potential by engaging with a learning community that consists of peers, graduate teaching assistants, faculty and administrators.

All students are encouraged to take advantage of the ARC’s free tutorial services, which are designated to supplement classroom instruction and improve academic achievement and performance. ARC tutoring programs offer students the option to schedule appointments in advance, drop in for assistance, or attend group review sessions. Tutoring is available in disciplines such as business, education, humanities, mathematics, nursing, science and modern languages. Schedules and announcements are accessible on the ARC web pages. The ARC also provides skill-building seminars, study skills workshops, online resources, and tutoring events to further support student success.

The ARC is also responsible for managing the Starfish early alert system, which allows faculty and staff to notify their students, academic advisers, and campus resources when a student is either facing academic or personal challenges, or demonstrating strong performance. Increased communication between faculty and staff is a proven strategy for increasing student success and completion.

For more information, please call (973) 761-9108 or send an e-mail to ARC@shu.edu

Seton Center for Community and Population Health
Anne M. Hewitt, Ph.D., Director

The Seton Center for Community and Population Health (SCCPH) was established in 2004 as an academic resource for collaboration, learning and research to enhance the quality of life for individuals and communities in need. The Center is located in the Department of Interprofessional Health Sciences and Health Administration, in the School of Health and Medical Sciences and provides technical assistance to community health agencies focused on improving the health status of New Jersey residents. The Center follows a partnership approach that facilitates linkages with community stakeholders, healthcare providers and graduate students. Since its inception, the Center has collaborated through grants with eight different community agencies and involved graduate students from the Master of Healthcare Administration (M.H.A.) and other health-related SHU graduate programs. The SCCPH serves as an academic link and resource to local and regional nonprofit, health service agencies.
Sister Rose Thering Fund for Jewish-Christian Studies

David M. Bossman, Ph.D., Executive Director
Marilyn Zirl, Administrator

The Sister Rose Thering Fund for Education in Jewish-Christian Studies, established in 1993 in honor of Sister Rose’s work as an educator and advocate for improving relations between Christians and Jews, is part of the Department of Religion in the College of Arts and Sciences.

The Fund advances the legacy of Sister Rose by fostering understanding and cooperation among Jews, Christians and people of other religious traditions through advocacy and education; provides tuition assistance for teachers in public, private and parochial schools for graduate courses in Jewish-Christian and Holocaust studies at Seton Hall University; and allows teachers to enroll as students for up to 12 credits and receive a certificate of completion. Teachers may also enroll in the Master of Arts in Jewish-Christian Studies degree program with financial assistance from the Institute for Judaeo-Christian Studies.

The Sister Rose Thering fund allows both educators and members of the community to explore lessons of lasting social significance, countering the destructive power of prejudice, anti-Semitism, ethnocentrism and bigotry born of ignorance, through workshops, lectures and travel programs. More than 300 teachers, K-12 have received Sister Rose Thering Fund scholarships since its inception, and have reached over 160,000 students in their classrooms. This program supports teacher education to implement the Mandate of the State of New Jersey to teach about Genocides and the Holocaust in all schools, grades K-12.

Sister Rose’s Passion, a film about the life and work of Sister Rose Thering, won the award for the short documentary film category at the Tribeca Film Festival in 2004 and was nominated for an Academy Award® in 2005.

Sister Rose passed away on May 6, 2006 at her beloved Siena Center of the Dominican Sisters in Racine, Wisconsin. Her lifetime achievements are being memorialized by continuing her work toward improved dialogue between Christians and Jews. In 2008 a mission to Israel is included a street being named in her memory in Jerusalem.

Scholarship applications are available by contacting the fund office at, (973) 761-9006, sending an e-mail to srtf@shu.edu, or visiting www.shu.edu/go/srtf.

The Gerald P. Buccino ’63 Center for Leadership Development

Michael M. Reuter, M.B.A., Director

Since its inception in 1994, the mission of the program has been to develop great leaders of the future, enabling its members to successfully achieve their fullest potential in both their personal and professional lives. The program enhances its members’ core values, competencies and skills that will enable them to be effective leaders, corporate citizens and community servants. The essential skills developed, include proficiency in strategic thinking, critical analysis, logical reasoning and effective oral and written communication.

Practical business experiences are an integral part of the program and are emphasized in the program’s lecture series. Throughout their University journey students are mentored and coached by Leadership Council executives. The Leadership Council is the advisory body to the Leadership Development Program, and is comprised of corporate executives, entrepreneurs and community leaders. The personal mentoring experience provides students with valuable insights into leadership perspectives and thinking as well as important networking opportunities.

In addition, students must complete 80 hours of community service, hold leadership positions both on and off campus to complement their studies, attend leadership functions and maintain a GPA of 3.6 or higher. Visit www.shu.edu/academics/business/leadership-development

Writing Center

Kelly A. Shea, Ph.D., Director

Part of the Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center is available to all students through the Department of English. It provides a range of services, including free consultations and tutorials, to both undergraduate and graduate students. Tutors are trained to provide advice, feedback and suggestions on how writers might improve their writing, focusing especially on content, organization, structure and flow, as well as some mechanics, where time allows. Located in Arts and Sciences Hall, Room 206, the center is open during the academic year Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. – 7 p.m., and Friday, 10 a.m. – 3 p.m. Students may drop in or make an appointment online by going to their “Success Network” in Starfish, available through Blackboard, choosing “Services” and then clicking on a day in the calendar on which they would like to be seen. For special accommodations, finals week and Summer Session hours, call (973) 761-9000, ext. 7501 or (973) 275-2183, or visit the Writing Center website at www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/writing-center
Seton Hall’s Online Writing Lab (OWL) is also available. This service is a web-based, virtual tutoring program, designed primarily for upperclassmen and graduate students, as well as faculty and staff, through which individuals can get feedback on their writing from Writing Center tutors via e-mail. The web address for the OWL is academic.shu.edu/owl.

Cultural and Community Programs

Seton Hall University hosts many cultural programs that are open to the general public as well as the University community.

Archbishop Peter L. Gerety Lecture Series
Monsignor Robert J. Wister, Hist.Eccl.D., Director

Through a grant received from Archbishop Emeritus Peter L. Gerety, Immaculate Conception School of Theology sponsors a lecture series in Church history, broadly defined. These lectures (usually one per semester) are given by prominent figures from the fields of education, Church, public service and journalism. They address issues of contemporary interest, with some attention to the historical roots of these issues.

Information about the Archbishop Peter L. Gerety Lecture Series may be obtained by calling the School of Theology, (973) 761-9575, or by visiting www.shu.edu/academics/theology/gerety-lectures.cfm

Arts Council Classical Concert Series
Deirdre Yates, M.F.A., Director

For more than 30 years, Seton Hall’s Arts Council has sponsored the Arts Council Classical Concert Series, presenting top-flight artists and ensembles from around the globe in performance on campus and at the South Orange Performing Arts Center, and in workshops and clinics for students and the general public.

Students, faculty and audiences from the local community have enjoyed the opportunity to hear and meet world-renowned soloists such as Jorge Bolet, Leonard Pennario, Rudolph Firkusny, Bella Davidovich, Ilana Vered, John O’Conor, Ruth Laredo and Emanuel Ax, pianists; Ransom Wilson, flutist; Ruggiero Ricci, Jaime Laredo, Robert McDuffie and Elmar Olivera, violinists; Kim Kashkashian, violist; Janos Starker and Nina Kotova, cellists; the Romeros, Sharon Isbin and the Assad Brothers, guitarists; Fusako Yoshido, koto player; and many others.

All events are free to students, and available at a reduced price to faculty and staff with valid Seton Hall I.D. To receive information about the series, call (973) 275-2450.

Jazz ’n the Hall
Gloria Thurmond, D.Min., Director

The Jazz ’n the Hall program brings prominent jazz musicians to Seton Hall University several times a year for public performances. Recent performers have included the Count Basie Jazz Orchestra, West Point Jazz Knights U.S. Army Band, and the Dick Hyman and Ray Kennedy Jazz Piano Duo. For more information, call (973) 313-6338 or e-mail artsCouncil@shu.edu

Monsignor John M. Oesterreicher Lecture
Reverend Lawrence Frizzell, D.Phil., Director

The John M. Oesterreicher Endowment funds an annual lecture in memory of Monsignor Oesterreicher, founder of the Institute of Judaeo-Christian Studies at Seton Hall University. Additionally, a series of conferences and workshops sponsored by the Institute deal with current and historical perspectives in the relationship between Christians and Jews. These programs are open to the public. More information may be obtained by calling the Institute of Judaeo-Christian Studies at (973) 761-9751.

Nathan Oates, Ph.D., Director

Poetry-in-the-Round invites the world’s most compelling and celebrated writers to Seton Hall University each year to read and discuss their works with students and community members. Among the many poets, novelists and critics who have come to Seton Hall are Azar Nafisi, Billy Collins, Thomas Lynch, Amy Tan, George Plimpton, Harold Bloom, Adrienne Rich, Jonathan Franzen, Frank McCourt, John Updike, Arthur Miller, Ted Hughes, Jorie Graham, Nadine Gordimer, Derek Walcott and James Merrill. For more information about the series, call (973) 761-9000 Ext. 5105, or visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/arts-council/poetry-in-the-round.cfm

Seton Hall Arts Council

The Seton Hall University Arts Council supports the integral role of the arts in higher education and their universally recognized status as a hallmark of an educated and humane culture. The Council contributes to the cultural vitality of the campus and to the University’s role in the greater community by fostering and promoting the visual, literary and performing arts, enhancing communication and collaboration among its members.

The Arts Council serves as the umbrella organization for the Arts Council Classical Concert Series, Jazz ’n the Hall, Joseph A. Unanue Latino Institute, Poetry-in-the-Round, Seton Hall Theatre. It also supports the efforts of and works in collaboration with the Walsh Gallery, the Seton Hall Touring Choir and other arts and cultural groups on campus. The Council is committed to increasing the visibility of University arts and cultural events on and off campus.
The Arts Council continues its unique partnership with the South Orange Performing Arts Center (SOPAC). Classical and jazz concerts and the Seton Hall Theatre productions are performed in SOPAC’s intimate performance space. Walsh Gallery exhibitions and Poetry-in-the-Round are offered on Seton Hall’s beautiful 58-acre campus.

Visit www.shu.edu/go/arts-council or call (973) 313-6338 for event information.

Seton Hall Theatre
Dena Levine, D.M.A., Director

The Seton Hall Theatre program runs throughout the academic year. Shows are presented September to May. Three productions take place at the nearby South Orange Performing Arts Center (SOPAC), a state-of-the-art facility that features a new and fully equipped 415 seat proscenium theatre. Student actors in these shows are directed by a department faculty member. Shows vary in style from classical to modern. The program strives to give students a practical and historical approach to the dramatic arts. Performance credit can be earned for participation. All students are eligible to audition.

For more information, call (973) 761-9474, or visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/seton-hall-theatre/

Seton Hall University Choir
Jason Tramm, D.M.A., Director

The Seton Hall University Choir is an auditioned group of students, faculty, alumni and community singers. The choir has toured in Canada, Italy and Washington, D.C., in addition to performing concerts at Carnegie Hall in New York City, and the New Jersey Performing Arts Center in Newark with the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra. For more information, call (973) 761-9417.

Seton Hall University Gospel Choir
Reverend Forrest Pritchett, Ph.D., Program Director

The Seton Hall University Gospel Choir started in 1972 as a small group called “Jus Us.” This group initially consisted of six individuals, whose primary purpose was joining in fellowship through the singing of gospel songs. Later the group changed its name to “Voices United.” During the mid-1970s The Center for Black Studies began official sponsorship of the choir, and it became the Seton Hall University Gospel Choir. The Center also offered academic credit for participation with the choir. During the late 1970s, a highlight of the choir’s itinerary involved performing with the Dance Theatre of Harlem on Broadway in New York City. During the 1990s, the choir’s emphasis began to focus on ministry.

Today, the choir offers ministry in song, movement arts, spoken word and instrumental renditions. The choir has given weekly performances in the community at homeless shelters, community centers, churches, schools and colleges. The Gospel Choir, consisting of approximately 60 students and musicians, offers motivational and spiritual workshops to community churches and organizations. The choir performs a Fall and a Spring concert on campus each year.

For more information, please contact Reverend Forrest Pritchett, Program Director, at (973) 275-2760, or e-mail forrest.pritchett@shu.edu

Walsh Gallery
Jeanne Brasile, M.A., Director

The Walsh Gallery is the primary exhibition space on the Seton Hall University’s South Orange campus. Since its inception in 1994, The Walsh Gallery has presented dynamic exhibitions with a broad range of appeal and subject matter. Serving both the University and surrounding communities, the Walsh Gallery hosts six to eight exhibitions annually that range in topics from fine art to the historical, with an emphasis on interdisciplinary themes. The Walsh Gallery welcomes more than 9,000 visitors each year. Students and faculty utilize the gallery as a laboratory for experiential learning, with exhibitions designed to complement the University’s curriculum. Graduate students in the Museum Professions Program receive practical education in all facets of exhibition production while earning credit toward their degrees. Undergraduate students may earn credit for internships and special projects. The Gallery produces a number of programs each year including: artist talks, gallery lectures, workshops and educational seminars to enhance the learning potential of the exhibitions. All programs are free and open to the public. For further information contact the director at (973) 275-2033, jeanne.brasile@shu.edu or visit the website at academic.shu.edu/libraries/gallery

Admission

Student Classification

Seton Hall University classifies undergraduate students as listed below:

Matriculated Students
Those students who have applied for admission to a degree program and have been accepted by the Committee on Admissions for a prescribed course of study leading to the baccalaureate degree.

Non-matriculated Students
Those who have not made formal application to a degree program but have been approved by the Committee on Admissions to enroll in courses; or those who have made formal application to a degree program but have only been accepted by the Committee on Admissions in a nondegree status as a nonmatriculated student.
Credit Limits
Non-matriculated students may enroll for a maximum of 9 credits per semester and may pursue no more than 18 credits total. If a non-matriculated student wishes to apply for matriculation, that student must apply with the Office of Undergraduate Admissions no later than the term in which the 18-credit maximum will be reached. The University recognizes that some students may legitimately seek to enroll for more than 18 credits. Accordingly, students reaching the 18-credit maximum who do not wish to matriculate must sign a statement indicating non-intent to matriculate.

Visiting Students
Students currently enrolled in another institution who wish to take courses at Seton Hall as nonmatriculated students must present a copy of their college transcript or a letter from their institution giving them permission to enroll in classes at Seton Hall, or sign a statement indicating non-intent to matriculate. Seton Hall does not normally enroll students who have been dismissed from or placed on probation by their previous institution.

Full-time Undergraduate Students
Those in a degree program who take courses for 12 or more credits in any semester, day or evening.

Part-time Undergraduate Students
Those in a degree program who take courses for 11 or fewer credits in any semester, day or evening.

Qualifications for Admission
The University actively seeks qualified persons of varied races, cultures, experiences and national backgrounds. Qualified students are admitted without regard to race, color, religion, age, handicap, sexual orientation, national origin, ancestry or gender. The recommended academic requirement for admission is satisfactory completion of a college-preparatory course of study, suggested below, in an accredited secondary school with credit for 16 acceptable units or a secondary school equivalency diploma.

For students wishing to major in the physical or biological sciences, a more extensive background in the appropriate science areas is recommended. Applicants for the College of Nursing must present two units in science (biology and chemistry) in addition to the general University requirements for admission. Students wishing to major in music must audition before being admitted into the major.

Application Procedures for First-Year Students
All applicants should submit the following by March 1 for the Fall semester and December 1 for the Spring semester:
1. Completed application;
2. Counselor report;
3. Teacher recommendation;
4. $55 Application fee;
5. Official copy of high school transcript or GED;
6. SAT or ACT scores.

Application Deadlines

Fall Semester:
- Early Action I (non-binding): November 15
- Early Action II (non-binding): December 15
- Regular Decision I: February 1
- Regular Decision II: March 1

Spring Semester:
- December 1

Application Consideration and Notification:
Each application received at Seton Hall is evaluated on an individual basis. Grades and test scores are given primary importance, curriculum, essay, references and activities outside the classroom may also be considered in the review process. Priority review is given to early action candidates. All Early Action I applicants with completed applications on file can expect to receive a response by December 3- and all Early Action II applications can expect to receive a response by the end of January. In general, all completed applications should expect a response within 4 to 6 weeks. Applications received after March 1 deadline are considered on a space available basis.

The University requires students to confirm their intention to enroll by submitting a non-refundable tuition deposit no later than May 1. Based on space availability, students submitting a tuition deposit after May 1 are not guaranteed a spot at the University.

No applicant is permitted to register for any undergraduate course until a letter of acceptance has been received. Freshman applicants who are denied admission are generally not permitted to enroll for a minimum of one year. Some applicants are placed on a waiting list depending on the size and competitiveness of the applicant pool. All waiting list candidates will be notified of a final decision no later... than August 1. The University reserves the right to dismiss students who knowingly mislead or present false information on the application.

Home Schooled Students

Students who have been home schooled are required to submit a completed application, essay, recommendation letter, application fee, SAT or ACT scores. Standardized test scores must be sent directly from the testing agency. All home schooled students are required to meet their home state requirements and must submit supporting documentation demonstrating that they have done so.

Students must submit one of the following:

1. Transcript from a home school program or primary teacher. If any of the high school education was completed in a conventional public or private school, Seton Hall University requires that the transcript of that academic work be sent directly from the registrar of that school. Additionally, if the student has completed any college-level course work while in high school, or to satisfy graduation requirements, all transcripts must be submitted. OR

2. Portfolio of academic work completed to include syllabi, list of text books used, academic curriculum outline and any other documentation of academic work completed. The portfolio must also include grade evaluations by the primary teacher. OR

3. GED.

Transfer Students

A transfer student is defined as any student who has attempted more than six college-level credits after high school graduation. Candidates for admission must submit official transcripts of all college-level work taken at other institutions. Additionally, candidates with fewer than 24 credits of college-level work at the time of application are also required to submit an official high school transcript and SAT or ACT scores.

All credentials should be submitted by June 1 for the Fall semester and December 1 for the Spring semester. Accelerated Nursing and second degree students should have all credentials submitted by April 1 for the Fall semester.

Decisions are made by the Office of Admissions on a rolling basis. Seton Hall normally does not enroll transfer applicants who recently were dismissed or placed on probation by other institutions within the previous year, although an exception may be made on a case-by-case basis. Transfer applicants who are denied admission are not generally permitted to enroll under any status or in any department of Seton Hall for a minimum of one year. Transfer applicants from other regionally accredited two and four-year post-secondary institutions who are accepted to Seton Hall University will have their previously earned college credits evaluated for advanced standing at Seton Hall. Seton Hall may, depending upon the area of concentration, accept up to 90 credits of college-level courses completed with a grade of “C” or better at accredited colleges and universities. Remedial, vocational and developmental courses are not deemed college-level. In addition, the University may disqualify other courses from transfer eligibility based on course content and other factors.

We will perform transfer evaluations of credit earned on a course-by-course basis. Upon completion of this process, the Office of Undergraduate Admissions will notify accepted students of advanced standing granted. In recognizing courses for transfer credit, the schools/colleges of the University must observe the regulations of their accrediting agencies.

The University reserves the right to refuse to accept credits from a previously attended institution that was not listed on the application for admission. The University also reserves the right to dismiss students who knowingly mislead or present false information on the application.

Students who transfer to Seton Hall University with A.A. or A.S. degrees from accredited two-year colleges and who are accepted into the College of Arts and Sciences or the College of Nursing may be considered for a partial waiver of the school or college core curriculum, depending upon the date and sequence in which the associate’s degree was earned. To be eligible for this waiver, students must have completed the associate degree prior to their admission to Seton Hall. Students earning an A.A.S. degree or an A.A.A. degree are not eligible for a core waiver. Students must submit their final transcript that reflects the award of their associate degree in order to be eligible for core waiver consideration.

Transfer students who have fewer than 30 credits are responsible for the University Core Curriculum, including the 120-credit minimum requirement. Depending upon the student’s major and other factors, some students will need to complete more than the 120-credit minimum in order to complete the University, school or college, and major requirements.

In general, degree requirements are determined by the date of admission, the number of transfer credits and the college/department curriculum as approved by the faculty. Students who have a question about their degree requirements may contact their department chair or their dean. Returning students are required to follow the Core Curriculum requirements in the catalogue under which they were admitted.

Transfer students may seek advisement in the Academic Success and Transfer Student Center in Mooney Hall. The Academic Success and Transfer Student Center functions as an information clearing house and as a resource for transfer students during their first semester. Transfer students may contact the Academic Success and Transfer Student Center at (973) 275-2387 or write to academicsuccess@shu.edu
International Students

Seton Hall welcomes applications from international students for either full-time degree campus-based programs or the English as a Second Language (ESL) Program.

International students applying for full-time study in degree programs should take the Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) or ACT, and must submit their applications for admission, application fee and all official documents several months in advance of the semester in which they plan to enroll. Students for whom English is a second language and who have been in the United States for fewer than five years may submit results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL or IELTS) in place of the SAT or ACT. International students with SAT and/or ACT scores may be considered for merit-based scholarships.

International students who meet the academic requirements but not the language requirement may be conditionally accepted on a case-by-case basis. If conditionally accepted to an undergraduate program, students will be required to complete the English as a Second Language (ESL) Program. Students may take classes toward their degrees in consultation with their ESL adviser. The ESL adviser will also determine when the conditional admission can be lifted and when the student can continue full-time pursuit of his or her undergraduate degree.

The University requires that all transcripts be original. Transcripts in languages other than English must be accompanied by a certified English translation. No documents submitted as part of the application process will be returned nor will any requests to duplicate documents be honored. Seton Hall requires international applicants to have all transcripts from institutions not accredited in the United States or Canada evaluated by a credential evaluator that is a member of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES.org). Alternatively, transcripts may be evaluated by AACRAO.

All evaluations must be course-by-course evaluations, with confirmation of course level and degree equivalency. Applications submitted without credit equivalency will not be considered for admissions or transfer credit evaluation. On a case-by-case basis, the Office of Admissions may waive the requirement for a credential evaluation. Students are responsible for all costs associated with credential evaluations.

If a student is not an American citizen or permanent resident, he or she is not eligible to receive any need-based financial aid.

The University requires that all international students carry basic health and hospitalization insurance. Upon arrival, international students will be required to purchase health coverage through the University and must maintain this coverage throughout their studies.

International Students will be assessed a one-time International Student Fee of $400.00, which is subject to change.

English as a Second Language

Applicants for the English as a Second Language (ESL) Program are required to submit the appropriate application. Applicants who need a student visa to attend the ESL Program also must submit certification of financial support.

International students who are applying to study English as a Second Language will be admitted only to the ESL Program. Upon successful completion of the prescribed course of study, students will be awarded a certificate of proficiency by the ESL Program.

Admission to the ESL Program does not constitute admission to a degree program at the University. However, ESL Program students are eligible to apply for admission to the University after successful completion of the program. Certification of the successful completion of the ESL Program at Seton Hall can be submitted in place of a TOEFL score for admission as a matriculated student.

For further information on the English as a Second Language Program visit www.shu.edu/offices/esl-index.cfm

Student Visa

Seton Hall University is permitted by the Student Exchange and Visitor Program (SEVP) under the Department of Homeland Security to admit non-immigrant F-1 visa students. Upon admission to a degree program or ESL program, and upon submission of the required financial support documentation, the student is issued an I-20 form, which is used to pursue an F-1 student visa through the American Embassy or Consulate in the student’s home country. The international student’s F-1 visa status must be kept valid at all times. The international student must pursue a full-time course of study (12 or more semester hours) to remain in status, except during the summer.

Before an I-20 form is issued, the student must submit the following to the Office of International Programs:
• Application for an I-20
• All supplemental documents, including proof of finances and photocopy of passport

Readmission

Degree candidates whose work has been interrupted for more than five years and who have not attended another institution in the meantime, are subject to reevaluation upon return and may be held to any change of requirements that may have been instituted in the period of absence.

When students who have been away from Seton Hall for less than five years are readmitted, they will follow the catalogue requirements in effect at the time of their original admission. Students may be evaluated on a case-by-case basis, with program modifications made at the dean’s discretion.

Students seeking readmission from a medical leave of absence may be required to meet certain conditions before returning. These conditions normally include but are not limited to: 1) providing documentation from a medical provider that the student is ready to resume studies;
2) meeting with Seton Hall University staff for assessment and review of applicable SHU services. All other readmission policies and procedures apply.

Returning students are required to follow the Core Curriculum requirements in the catalogue under which they were readmitted.

Students in good academic standing when they leave the University are academically eligible to return to regular student status upon their readmission. Students who are not in good academic standing when they leave the University must meet any restrictions or conditions imposed by their dean.

When a student who has been suspended for academic reasons has been absent from the University for less than one year, the student must meet the criteria established by the academic dean before being allowed to return to studies at Seton Hall. Such a limited absence does not require that the student reapply through admissions; the student should contact the academic dean directly.

When the absence of a suspended student has exceeded one year, the student must file an application for readmission with the Office of Undergraduate Admissions, and meet the criteria established by the appropriate office before they are allowed to return to studies at Seton Hall.

In cases where the conditions of the suspension imposed by the academic dean involve completion of studies at a community college with specific grade and credit requirements, the readmission review process will encompass an assessment of those requirements, as well as consultation with the dean’s office.

Placement Tests for First-Year Students and Transfer Students

Seton Hall University administers a placement test in English to select first-year and transfer students who have not taken college-level introductory English courses. This test measures a student’s reading and writing skills. The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science places students in the appropriate mathematics course based upon the placement test result and the mathematics SAT score.

Placement tests in foreign languages are given to students who plan to enroll in a foreign language to which they have had some prior exposure. Placement tests are given at the beginning of the Fall and Spring semesters. There is no fee for taking the tests. It is recommended that students prepare well before taking any of the placement tests. Satisfactory scores on the English placement test and the mathematics assessments are prerequisites to the college-level sequence of courses in English, mathematics and science.

Students who do not perform satisfactorily on these tests will be required to take developmental coursework. In English, one of the following courses or workshops may be required: ENGL 0150, ENGL 0160, ENGL 0180. In mathematics, MATH 0012 may be required. Final grades for these courses are recorded as satisfactory pass (SP) or required to repeat (RR). Students must maintain a “C” average in these courses and may have to pass a post-test form of the placement test to earn a grade of SP. Institutional credit is granted for these courses. Institutional credit counts toward determining class standing (freshman, sophomore, junior, senior), but does not count toward credit required for graduation. Students who are required to complete developmental courses must do so in the first semester of enrollment.

For more information, contact the academic advising office of Freshman Studies (973) 761-9740 or freshman@shu.edu

Credit by Examination

Advanced Placement Examinations

Students with secondary school records indicating superior performance and who attain a score of 4 or 5 on an Advanced Placement Examination of the College Entrance Examination Board receive credit and may be permitted to register for advanced courses in the area(s) in which they qualify. No more than 30 credits may be obtained through examination. Students may contact the Office of the Registrar for the list of Advanced Placement Examinations for which Seton Hall awards credit and for the Seton Hall course equivalents of the examinations. The University reserves the right to modify the course equivalents of Advanced Placement examinations based on departmental review.

College-Level Examination Program

General and Subject examinations of the College-Level Examination Program (CLEP), with certain limitations, are recognized for advanced standing credit. General Examination scores must be at or above the 50th percentile for degree credit. No score in mathematics or any language will be considered for credit, and no CLEP credit will be granted in a student’s major. CLEP credits in English are limited to 6 credits (ENGL 1201 for the composition exam and ENGL 2101 for the literature exam). To receive credit for subject examinations, scores must be at or above the recommendations of the Commission on Educational Credit of the American Council on Education. Students should consult Enrollment Services before registering for CLEP examinations. The maximum number of credits by examination that may be applied toward a baccalaureate degree is 30. Full-time students may not apply for CLEP credits within their final 60 credits. Part-time students may not apply for CLEP credits within their final 30 credits.

International Baccalaureate

Seton Hall University grants placement and credit for higher-level examinations of the International Baccalaureate (IB). Advanced placement credit will only be considered for higher-level passes grade 6 or 7.

Transfer Credit for Freshmen

At the time of admission, entering freshmen may transfer a maximum of 45 credits to their undergraduate record. No more than 30 of these credits may be earned via testing (AP, CLEP, IB).
Campus Tours

Campus tours are offered regularly throughout the academic year by the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.

Tour Times:
Mon - Fri: 10 A.M. & 2 P.M.
Saturday: 10 A.M., Noon and 2 P.M.

Times are subject to change, please reference the website.

Tour appointments may be arranged by visiting the Web site at www.shu.edu/visiting

Financial Aid

Seton Hall University maintains and administers programs of financial aid funded by the University, federal and state governments, and various industries and foundations. Financial aid may be in the form of a scholarship, grant, loan, employment opportunity or a combination of these. To determine eligibility, the University requires each applicant to file a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) available at www.fafsa.gov. This form is used to determine a student’s eligibility for federal, state and institution financial aid. Students completing the FAFSA must include Seton Hall’s Title IV School Code: 002632. Students requesting financial aid must complete the FAFSA as soon as possible after January 1 each year. Seton Hall’s financial aid filing deadline date is March 1st for consideration for institutional need-based grants. Limited financial aid funds require that all applications will be considered on a first-come, first-served basis.

Student Eligibility

In order for students to receive federal/state financial aid they must meet certain eligibility requirements listed below:

- have financial need as determined by the information reported on the FAFSA;
- be a high school graduate;
- be enrolled at least half-time at Seton Hall University in an eligible degree-granting program;
- be a U.S. citizen or eligible non-citizen;
- be making satisfactory academic progress toward a degree (the following section, Requirements to Maintain Eligibility for Federal Aid, contains details);
- not be in default of a federal loan or owe a repayment of a federal grant;
- comply with terms of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act;
- certify registration with selective service if required; and
- certify that information reported on the Student Aid Report (SAR) is accurate.

Federal Programs Administered by Seton Hall University

Federal Pell Grant

A federal grant program of up to $5,775 per academic year in 2015-2016. The Pell Grant amount is based on the information provided on the FAFSA. When the FAFSA is filed, an Estimated Family Contribution (EFC) is computed and a Pell Grant amount is calculated. The Pell Grant amount is listed on the student’s SAR report he or she receives after the FAFSA is filed. This amount is based on full-time registration and contingent on completing all requirements. The Pell Grant can be prorated if a student is not full-time. Students can only receive 12 semesters of Pell Grant eligibility from all schools attended.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant

A grant to students from low-income families, on a funds available basis, not guaranteed from year to year.

Federal Work-Study Program

Students who demonstrate need may qualify for part-time jobs at the University (maximum 20 hours per week). The federal government contributes the major portion of the funds; the University contributes the remainder. The University also offers Community Service positions under the Federal Work-Study Program. Information is available at http://www.shu.edu/offices/student-employment-index.cfm

Veterans’ Benefits

Eligible student veterans may receive monthly payments under the Veterans’ Education Program. Children and spouses of veterans whose death or total and permanent disability was service-connected may be eligible for educational benefits under the War Orphans’ Educational Act of 1956. Details on these programs are available from the nearest Veterans’ Administration Office or Enrollment Services. The Office of Financial Aid certifies eligible veterans and their dependents for education benefit payments. The veteran and/or his or her dependents must first complete an application for benefits on the Veterans Administration (VA) portal. The VA will send the student a Certificate of Eligibility which should be submitted to the Office of Financial Aid. Seton Hall University participates in the Yellow Ribbon Program. Information regarding this program may be found at http://www.shu.edu/offices/financial-aid/veterans-benefits.cfm

ROTC Scholarships

For full-time graduate and undergraduate students who seek a commission in the U.S. Army after receiving their college degrees, scholarships are awarded, in addition to an allocation for books and an annual stipend. Contact ROTC for additional information.
New Jersey State Grants

New Jersey Tuition Aid Grants (TAG)
Full-time New Jersey residents may qualify for the TAG grant of up to $12,006 (maximum grant for the 2014-2015 academic year) per academic year by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and demonstrating financial need. Eligibility is determined by the New Jersey Higher Education Student Assistance Authority (HESAA). The Tuition Aid Grant requires full-time registration and can only be applied to tuition. More information regarding this award can be found at www.HESAA.org

New Jersey Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF)
This grant, funded by the state, is limited to New Jersey residents accepted into the University’s Educational Opportunity Program (EOP) as educationally and economically disadvantaged. Awards are up to $2,500 per year. The EOF Grant requires full-time registration unless the student is approved for the part-time EOF Program by the EOP Office.

Distinguished Scholars Program
Awards of $1,000 are available to qualified New Jersey residents attending in-state colleges. Students are nominated by their high schools based on scholastic records and SAT/ACT scores. Awards are renewable for four years. The State of New Jersey has eliminated this program for 2011-2012, but will honor prior year recipients.

Urban Scholars Programs
Awards of $1,000 are available to qualified New Jersey residents living in New Jersey’s urban and economically distressed areas. Students are nominated by their high schools based on scholastic records and SAT scores. Awards are renewable for four years. The State of New Jersey has eliminated this program for 2011-2012, but will honor prior year recipients.

Student Loans

Federal Perkins Loan Program
This is a federal loan program that provides low interest loans to help needy students finance the costs of post secondary education. There is a limited pool of money to distribute to students based on available funds from repayment of loans from prior Perkins loan borrowers.

Federal Direct Loan
Seton Hall University participates in the Federal Direct Student Loan Program. The program consists of Federal Direct Loans (both subsidized and unsubsidized). Loan proceeds are delivered to the student through the school and are repaid to the loan provider. Before loan proceeds are credited to a student’s account, the promissory note must be electronically signed and entrance counseling must be completed with the Department of Education. The Direct Loans are guaranteed if all requirements are met, and are not based on credit.

Subsidized Loan – Students must demonstrate remaining need. The principle and the interest are deferred until the student graduates.

Unsubsidized Loan – No remaining need demonstrated, (determined by the FAFSA). The interest is not deferred until graduation. The interest is accruing while the student is in school. Students can choose to pay the interest while attending school or defer these payments and allow the interest to capitalize and start paying all of it after graduation. It will cost the student less money to pay the interest while they are in school instead of allowing it to accrue.

The following limits apply to subsidized Direct loans for Dependent Students. It is possible that part or all of the below subsidized limits can be awarded as Unsubsidized. That is determined by remaining need. In addition to the amounts below, all students are eligible to receive an additional $2,000 in Unsubsidized Direct Loan funding. In addition to the previously stated amounts, independent students and dependent students whose parents are denied a PLUS loan may borrow additional amounts under the unsubsidized loan program. The amounts are: freshman and sophomores, $4,000; juniors and seniors, $5,000. All are illustrated in the chart below.

Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (PLUS)
In addition to student loans, parents may borrow up to the cost of education less any financial aid the student receives. Interest is capped at 9 percent and repayment begins 60 days after the second disbursement of the loan unless the deferment option is chosen. All families applying for a PLUS Loan must have a complete FAFSA on file. This can be completed at www.fafsa.gov Interest rates for Federal PLUS loans are set annually by the United States Department of Education. More information about these loan programs may be obtained from the Office of Financial Aid or from the United States Department of Education at www.studentloans.gov

University-Funded Programs

University Scholarships

University scholarships can only be applied to undergraduate tuition and cannot cover fees, room and board, books or any other indirect cost. Therefore, they may be reduced or eliminated if other aid which only applies to tuition takes precedent such as TAG, tuition exchange, tuition remission or a full tuition scholarship is awarded. Additionally, these awards cannot apply to graduate courses (even as part of a joint degree program), non-Seton Hall enrollment, Summer enrollment or study abroad program. These awards can also only be used for Fall and Spring and cannot be used in the Summer. This award may be renamed at a later date to recognize the donor supporting these funds.

These awards carry forward annually for three additional years as long as the student meets the renewal criteria for the award, usually a 3.0 GPA and full-time enrollment, earning at least 24 credits per academic year. A review for renewal eligibility is made annually at the end of the academic year, generally in June.

In addition, the University offers several other scholarship opportunities for incoming students. Information about these scholarships can be found at www.shu.edu/go/scholarships

Need-based Grants

Institutional need based grant programs are for undergraduate students pursuing their first bachelor degree. Second degree and/or graduate students are not eligible for institutional need based grant programs.

Need-based grants from Seton Hall University can only apply to undergraduate tuition and cannot cover fees, room and board, books or any other indirect cost and may be reduced accordingly. Students who receive full tuition merit-based scholarships and/or tuition remission and/or tuition exchange are not eligible to receive Seton Hall need-based grants. Students must be enrolled full-time and meet Satisfactory Academic Progress rules to maintain this award. In addition, renewal is not guaranteed; students must re-file the FAFSA annually no later than March 1 to determine eligibility. Students in their last semester who are not full-time may have their need-based grant prorated based on the number of undergraduate credits for which the student is registered.

Student Employment

In addition to the Federal Work-Study (FWS) Program, the University funds a number of campus jobs that are not based on financial need. Information is available at http://www.shu.edu/offices/student-employment-index.cfm

Sibling 10 Percent Tuition Discount

The University will no longer offer a Sibling 10 Percent Tuition Discount beginning with the 2013-2014 academic year. All prior recipients will be honored if a Sibling Discount Renewable application is received each year, which is found on the Financial Aid website.

Policy for current students: Eligible siblings are two or more brothers or sisters who are concurrently enrolled as full-time undergraduate degree students at Seton Hall University. The siblings must be dependent students who reside in the same household. The Sibling Tuition Grant is for the incoming sibling of a family with two or more children enrolled in degree-seeking programs at Seton Hall University. The incoming sibling can apply for a grant for Second degree-seeking undergraduate students should apply for financial aid by following the same procedures as other undergraduate students. Second degree-seeking undergraduate students must have declared majors different from the major in which they have already earned a degree. Second degree-seeking undecided majors are considered undeclared for financial aid purposes, and are not eligible for aid.

Endowed and Restricted Scholarships

The University has a website with a searchable database of scholarship and grant opportunities to assist students. Please visit http://www.shu.edu/go/pirate-scholarships

Students are encouraged to utilize this database to find additional scholarship opportunities. Students can also visit the Financial Aid Office and complete a scholarship consideration form. The office will use the form to attempt to match students with scholarship opportunities.

Requirements to Maintain Eligibility for Federal Aid

All forms of financial aid – federal, state and institutional – are subject to set academic progress. Students who do not meet the condition of Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) may lose their aid eligibility. In addition to the requirements above, the Higher Education Amendments require colleges and universities to define and enforce standards of academic progress. In order to be eligible for federal financial aid, students must conform to the standards of academic progress.

Satisfactory academic progress requirements at Seton Hall provide a maximum time frame for completion of a degree, a graduated credit accumulation over time, as well as a quality mechanism. These minimum standards require students to demonstrate that they are actively pursuing their degrees.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Guidelines

General Considerations

- Federal Regulations (General Provision CFR 668.43) require Seton Hall University, Enrollment Services, to review the academic progress of students who apply for and/or receive financial assistance. This regulation applies to every financial aid applicant.
- Satisfactory Academic Progress evaluation cannot take place until final grades have been posted each semester. Therefore, any financial assistance awarded prior to the academic evaluation is subject to cancellation if the minimum standards are not met.
- Transfer students will be considered for assistance for one term prior to the evaluation of Satisfactory Academic Progress. At the end of the first semester of attendance at Seton Hall University, transfer students will be evaluated based on the standards for their designated academic level.

Tuition Remission

Seton Hall University employees and eligible dependents may qualify for tuition remission benefits in accordance with policies established by the Department of Human Resources. Tuition remission can only cover tuition costs and cannot be used to cover course fees, technology fees, University fees, room and board or any other fees. In order to receive tuition remission, students must file the FAFSA annually and maintain satisfactory academic progress. Tuition remission cannot be combined with any other form of tuition-only assistance from Seton Hall, such as University scholarships or need-based grants. Tuition remission may be reduced by NJ State Tuition Assistance Grants (TAG).

Second Degree Students

Generally, second degree-seeking undergraduate students may be eligible for Federal Direct Loans. Second degree-seeking undergraduate students are NOT eligible to receive grants, such as Pell, SEOG, New Jersey TAG, SHU Need and the Seton Hall Institutional Scholarships and Grants. Second degree-seeking undergraduate students should meet the condition of Satisfactory Academic Progress.
• Deficiency with the quantitative and qualitative Satisfactory Academic Progress Guidelines will result in the denial of financial assistance. Applicants denied financial assistance because of inadequate Satisfactory
  Academic Progress will be granted the option of appealing their aid denial. Appeals must be based on “special or unusual circumstances.”

Academic Requirements

Grade Point Average

• Undergraduate students must have a cumulative GPA of at least 1.75 for Freshmen; 1.90 GPA for Sophomores; and a 2.00 GPA for Juniors and Seniors.

• Students who meet cumulative GPA criterion, but whose GPA for any one semester falls below 1.75 for Freshmen;
  1.90 for Sophomores or a 2.00 for Juniors or seniors will receive a letter or warning from the dean of his or her school/college, reminding the student of the criteria for probation.

• Students whose cumulative GPA does not meet the minimum requirements are automatically placed on probation for the current semester.

Number of Credits Completed - Full-Time

• Undergraduate and post-undergraduate students must complete a minimum of 72 percent of credit hours attempted for each academic year (i.e., Fall, Spring, Summer) at Seton Hall University.

• Students attending the University for a portion of an award year will be evaluated on that portion of the academic year.

• Students who leave the University for an award year will be evaluated on their most recent academic year or attendance at Seton Hall University.

  Policies are subject to periodic revision due to federal legislative and regulatory requirements, as well as federal review. The full policy can be found on the Financial Aid website.

Determination of Award Amounts

To be considered for any federal, state or University financial aid based on need, a student must complete the FAFSA. The federal government will then process the information and send it to the colleges indicated and to the appropriate state agencies. Students should make sure that Seton Hall University is listed on the FAFSA (use Federal ID number 002632).

Students will be awarded aid on a first-come, first-served basis. Need is determined by taking the difference between total college costs (tuition, fees, room and board, books, transportation and personal expenses) and the federally calculated ability of the family to contribute to these costs.

Except for limited scholarship funds, student financial aid at Seton Hall is awarded on the basis of need and academic achievement.

Awards are made without reference to racial or ethnic origin, gender, age or physical disability. Awards are made singly or in a “package” (a combination of grants, scholarships, loans and employment). In “packaging” a student with a variety of funding, the University first estimates grants from federal and state programs not directly administered by the University, such as Pell grants, TAG and EOF grants, and outside scholarships. If eligible, students are then awarded the maximum Stafford Loan. If the student has remaining need, he or she may be awarded an S.E.O.G.
(if Pell-eligible), a Perkins Loan or a SHU Need-Based Grant. The amount of these awards depends on the funding level for each program, as well as the total number of eligible applicants in each award year. Federal PLUS and/or alternative loans may be awarded to cover any remaining gaps between financial aid, family resources and the total cost of attendance.

Beginning in Fall 2012, students are now limited to 12 semesters (or 600%) of Pell Grant eligibility during their lifetime. This change affects all students regardless of when or where they received their first Pell Grant. Students who are currently receiving the Pell Grant in the academic year 2011-2012 and have already used 600% of their Pell Grant eligibility will no longer be eligible to receive a Pell Grant starting Fall 2012. More information concerning this and how to determine your Pell Grant percentage can be found on the Financial Aid office website.

A new provision to the Direct Loan requirements limits a first-time borrower’s eligibility for Direct Subsidized Loans to a period not to exceed 150 percent of the length of the borrower’s educational program. Under certain conditions, the provision also causes first-time borrowers who have exceeded the 150 percent limit to lose the interest subsidy on their Direct Subsidized Loans. Only first-time borrowers on or after July 1, 2013 are subject to the new provision.
Generally, a first-time borrower is one who did not have an outstanding balance of principal or interest on a Direct Loan or on a FFEL Program Loan on July 1, 2013. These students may still be eligible for Direct Unsubsidized loans if they have not reached the Aggregate Loan Limit for their program.

Student Loans:
Rights and Responsibilities

Different types of federal student loans are available to assist in financing a student’s education. They are the Perkins Loan, Federal Direct Loan (both subsidized and unsubsidized), and the Parent Loan (PLUS). Before incurring any loan, students should know the terms and conditions of the loan, as well as their rights and responsibilities as student borrowers. A loan is money that is borrowed and paid back with interest. The specific sum of money borrowed is called the principal. Interest is a percentage of the principal that the student pays as a fee for borrowing. Students usually pay back the loan in monthly installments until the entire amount of the loan (principal and interest) is repaid. In some cases, a student may postpone or defer payment of the loan, but a deferment must be approved by the loan provider. If a student fails to repay the loan (or defaults), the government may penalize the student and may withhold money from paychecks and tax refunds. In addition, the student will be ineligible to receive future federal aid and his or her credit rating will be negatively affected. The exact terms and conditions of a student loan may be obtained from the loan provider. While federal student loan programs differ in some ways, a student’s rights and responsibilities as a borrower are basically the same for all programs. These rights and responsibilities are specified in federally mandated Entrance Counseling at www.studentloans.gov

Rights

As borrowers, students have the right to be provided with clear and concise information about the terms and conditions of student loans. The following list describes students’ rights regarding financial aid:

- students must receive a copy of the promissory note that legally binds them to repay the loan;
- students have the right to a “grace period” before the repayment period begins;
- students must be given a list of deferment conditions;
- students must be informed of the full amount of the loan, the interest rate and when repayment begins;
- students must be informed of the effect borrowing will have on eligibility for other aid;
- students must be aware of any charges incurred by the federal government;
- students must know the maximum yearly and total loan amounts as well as the maximum and minimum repayment periods;
- students must be informed of their expected total debt and what their monthly repayments will be;
- students must be aware of what constitutes default and its consequences;
- students must be informed of refinancing and consolidation options; and
- students must be notified if their loan is transferred to a different holder.

Responsibilities

- students must notify the loan provider if they graduate, withdraw from school or drop below part time; transfer to another school; change their names, address or social security numbers.
- students must repay their loans in accordance with the repayment schedule given to them, even if a student does not receive a bill, or does not complete his or her education.
- students must notify the loan provider of anything that affects the ability to repay the loan or changes the students’ eligibility for deferment or cancellation.
- student borrowers must complete both Entrance and Exit Counseling requirements.

Student Employment

Students must meet and maintain certain eligibility requirements to be considered for on-campus employment. A comprehensive explanation of the terms and conditions of employment is listed in the Seton Hall University Student Employment Handbook, available in Financial Aid. Generally, a student must be enrolled and matriculated at Seton Hall and be making progress toward a degree as defined by the University. Students also must be given an official work assignment before any work is performed. Students eligible for a Federal Work-Study Award must:

- file a FAFSA and demonstrate financial need for the program;
- interview and be hired for a position;
- submit proof of citizenship and employment eligibility (I-9 Form); and
- provide documentation of information provided on FAFSA if required.

- have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0.

Disbursement of Financial Aid

Disbursement of financial aid is done in different ways depending on the type of aid.

Student Employment

Student employment, whether federally or institutionally funded, is disbursed in a paycheck that goes directly to the student for the hours worked during a specific pay period. Students are paid once every two weeks.

New Jersey State Grants

New Jersey State Grants are disbursed electronically into the computer system at Seton Hall. After proper certification, the student’s account is credited for the specific award for which he or she is eligible, determined by the New Jersey Higher Education Student Assistance Authority (NJHESAA).
Federal and Institutional Aid

The remainder of financial aid programs are disbursed through Seton Hall’s computer system. Reports generated through the system identify students who meet all requirements for disbursement. Requirements include completion of verification if required, certifications on file and promissory note completion (Federal Direct Student Loans and Perkins). If a student meets the requirements, his or her account is updated from the financial aid records to the student account with credit for each award for which the student is eligible. The disbursement program is run for both the current term and any previous terms in which adjustments need to be made. Contact the Office of Financial Aid in Bayley Hall for more information, (800) 222-7183.

Repayment Policy

Students receiving Title IV federal financial aid, who terminate enrollment or stop attending all classes during a term for which payment has been received before completing more then 60 percent of the enrollment period, are subject to specific federal regulations. The amount of Title IV aid that a student must repay is determined via the Federal Formula for Return of Title IV funds as specified in Section 484B of the Higher Education Act. This law also specified the order of return of the Title IV funds to the programs from which they were awarded.

A repayment may be required when aid has been disbursed to a student from financial aid funds in excess of the amount of aid the student earned during the term. The amount of Title IV aid is determined by multiplying the total Title IV aid (other than FWS) for which the student qualified by the percentage of time during the term that the student was enrolled. If less aid was disbursed than was earned, the student may receive a late disbursement for the difference. If more aid was disbursed than was earned, the amount of Title IV aid that must be returned (i.e., that was unearned) is determined by subtracting the earned amount from the amount actually disbursed.

The responsibility for returning unearned aid is allocated between the University and the student according to the portion of disbursed aid that could have been used to cover University charges and the portion that could have been disbursed directly to the student once University charges were covered. Seton Hall University will distribute the unearned aid back to the Title IV programs as specified by law. The student will be billed for the amount the student owes to the Title IV Programs and any amount due to the University resulting from the return of Title IV funds used to cover University charges. The Return of Title IV calculation is separate from the University Refund Policy. The University does not have a policy of mandatory attendance. In the case of unofficial withdrawals, the mid-point of the semester will be used to determine federal refunds in line with the return to Title IV policies.

Repeat Coursework Regulations

The Department of Education has implemented new regulations governing repeated coursework. The regulations have been implemented to improve the pace of graduation for students, which in turn should reduce loan indebtedness and preserve grant funding levels. The full Repeat Coursework Policy can be found on the Financial Aid Office website. Any time a course is repeated, associated charges (tuition and fees) will be applied.

• Students may repeat a previously passed course only once. Passing includes grades of A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, C-, D+, D.
• Students may repeat a failed course until it is passed.
• All courses previously taken, even if financial aid was not used, are compared against the current semester to determine if a class has been repeated and if it can be paid for with financial aid.
• A student’s financial aid may be recalculated if he or she takes a class that is not eligible for financial aid.
• Additional information can be found at http://www.shu.edu/offices/policies-procedures/repeat-coursework.cfm

Tuition and Fees

The most recent information on tuition and fees can be found on the Seton Hall University web site: http://www.shu.edu/offices/bursar/tuition-and-fees.cfm

Payment

Seton Hall University utilizes electronic billing as the official means of distributing student bills. Students are required to monitor their accounts through the online self-service access and make on-time payments. Registration during the early registration periods of November (for the Spring semester) and March-April (for the Fall semester) is required of continuing students. Charges are assessed for all course reservations, regardless of class attendance. Courses must be officially dropped online or in the Office of the Registrar before the applicable due dates. Details are available online at the Seton Hall Website. All checks and money orders should be made payable to Seton Hall University. Payments made by mail should be sent to the address listed on the eBill. The University encourages online payments through the student PirateNet portal. Electronic checks, echecks, are accepted with no charge. Credit card payments can only be made online, and a 2.75% convenience fee is applied to the amount paid.

No student may register for a subsequent semester, begin a new semester, reserve a residence hall assignment or make any course changes with an unpaid balance from the preceding semester. In no case will a student receive a degree, diploma, grades, certificate of degree or transcript of credits until charges have been paid in full. The University reserves the right to drop from classes any students who are in default of their payment.
Payment Plan
Seton Hall University has partnered with Tuition Payment, a Division of Higher One Corp., to provide students and their families with no-interest payment plans at a nominal fee. Please contact Tuition Payment at 1-800-635-0120 or www.tuitionpaymentplan.com/shu for more information. TuitionPay is not available for Summer Sessions or past due charges.

Late Fees and Collection Costs
Any amounts unpaid after the semester’s due date are subject to late fees. The late fee is up to $250 each semester. The University reserves the right to pursue legal action in a court of law for any outstanding account balances. If legal action is pursued, the student will be responsible for all collection costs, including reasonable attorney fees, collection agency fees and court costs, in addition to such amounts owed to the University.

Withdrawal from the University
By registering for classes, a student has entered a legal and binding contract to pay all tuition, fees and housing charges with Seton Hall University. Non-attendance of classes does not constitute an automatic withdrawal. A formal withdrawal application must be submitted and approved immediately following the student’s decision to cease attendance at the University.

Returned Check Policy
If a bill is paid by personal check in order to register and the check is returned for insufficient funds, the student will be dropped from all classes. The student will not be allowed to re-register for classes until after the account is settled. A registration hold will be placed on the student’s record until the balance is resolved through an alternate payment. Alternate payment options are credit card (MasterCard or American Express), cash, money order or cashier/bank check. Future personal check payments will be held until funds have cleared through the student’s bank. Students who abuse check payments may be barred from paying by personal check in the future. A returned check fee of $35 will be charged for each returned check.

Tuition, Room and Board
The most recent information on tuition and fees can be found on the Seton Hall University web site, www.shu.edu

Seton Hall utilizes a flat rate tuition plan for full-time undergraduate students. All full-time students who enroll in more than 18 credits in a term will be charged the applicable basic flat amount for their first 18 credits with an additional $1,095 for each undergraduate credit above 18. Undergraduates who enroll in fewer than 12 undergraduate credits will be assessed $1,095 per credit.

Undergraduates who are officially enrolled in a dual-degree program may take up to three of the graduate courses required for the program as part of their undergraduate flat tuition by paying the difference between the graduate and the undergraduate per credit rate for the semester during which the courses are taken. Otherwise, undergraduates who enroll in a graduate course will be assessed graduate tuition charges for that course.

Students in a joint degree program are eligible to take their first three graduate level courses at the undergraduate tuition rate. If a student is enrolled in 12 or more undergraduate credits in a Fall or Spring semester, this will fall under flat-rate tuition. If a student is in enrolled in 1-11 undergraduate credits in a Fall or Spring semester, the tuition for the graduate course will be adjusted to the undergraduate per-credit rate. Students can take the first three graduate classes at the undergraduate rate in a Fall or Spring semester if they are enrolled in undergraduate courses in that same semester.

Additionally, University and mobile computing fees are charged each semester:

Tuition Discounts
Priests, brothers, and sisters of the Roman Catholic Church are eligible for a 50 percent religious reduction in the undergraduate tuition rates. Application, accompanied by verification of eligibility, must be submitted to the Office of Student Financial Aid in Bayley Hall prior to registration. This office will provide written guidelines upon request. Senior citizens also receive a discount when they register for courses on a space-available basis; they are asked to present proof of age (65 or older) each semester. Tuition waiver forms are available from the Office of the Registrar in Bayley Hall, at the time of registration.

Online courses or those taught under comprehensive fee-based structures are not eligible for tuition discounts.
Withdrawal from Residence Halls

The housing license that all resident students sign is binding for the entire academic year (Fall and Spring semesters). Once a student “checks in” to a room assignment, the license obligation begins, and no refund of housing charges will be made. The University considers “check in” to be proper when the student accepts the room key.

At the end of the Fall semester, a resident student may be released from the housing license and relieved of Spring Semester housing charges.

The student must notify the Department of Housing and Residence Life in writing by November 15. Such requests are granted if the resident student is:

• withdrawing from the University;
• marrying (proof required);
• transferring to another University (proof required);
• graduating;
• or approved by the assistant director of housing and residence life for a special exemption.

Requests not meeting one of the above criteria will be considered, however, there is no guarantee that the student will be released from the housing license and relieved of Spring Semester housing charges.

Please note: Withdrawal from the residence hall is a separate request from withdrawal from the University and as such, a student withdrawing or transferring from Seton Hall University must complete both processes.

Withdrawal from the University

General University policy for refund/credit of tuition for registered students who wish to withdraw from the University is based on prorated charges keyed to the date of actual withdrawal after the end of the add-drop period:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Duration</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 week</td>
<td>80%</td>

<td>3 weeks</td>
<td>40%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4 weeks</td>
<td>20%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>more than 4 weeks</td>
<td>none</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

These charges apply to students who leave to attend another college or university, who leave because of financial conditions, family or personal reasons, or as the result of University community standards sanctions.

Adjustments will be made only if the official withdrawal forms are properly filed by the student and processed by the University. Fees remain payable.

During Summer Session, no refunds are made after the second class, and no prorated refund/credit for withdrawal is granted.

If a student is dismissed or withdraws because of prolonged illness, the account will be rendered strictly according to the percentage ratio of the total number of days elapsed during the student’s attendance to the total calendar days of the semester.

A “prolonged illness” is one that must be attested to by a doctor’s certificate to the effect that the illness is or was of such a nature as to require the student’s absence for a period of three consecutive weeks.

If a student has made only partial payment of tuition and fees and the prorated charges exceed the partial payment, the additional amount is due and payable at the time of withdrawal. Students will not receive clearance from the University until all financial obligations have been met.

Any refund that is necessary as a result of withdrawal from the University will be made only by mail.

Charges for Course Changes

Course schedules may be modified through the online self-service access or with an Adjustment to Schedule Form by the add-drop deadline for the semester or Summer term. The payment due date for additional tuition incurred by a student as a result of such a change is immediate; details regarding payment deadlines appear online. If changes are made after the initial registration, payment is due immediately. Students are required to monitor their accounts through the online self-service access and make on-time payments.

Any credit that appears on the student’s financial account as a result of a dropped course may be applied toward charges for a subsequent semester or, if requested in writing, refunded directly to the student. No financial adjustment will be made for individual courses dropped after the change in program period.
Degree Requirements

To assure the attainment of its particular aims, each school and college of the University prescribe a program of basic courses and areas of study. Each student in the school/college must complete the required program. For specific school/college course and credit requirements candidates should consult the individual sections of this catalogue pertaining to the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Education and Human Services, the College of Nursing, the School of Diplomacy and International Relations, the Stillman School of Business, and the Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology.

In addition to individual school/college requirements, each department or division of the University prescribes certain courses to fulfill major field and concentration requirements. All candidates for the bachelor’s degree must maintain a GPA of 2.0 overall, in major courses, and in any optional minors, except where departments require a higher minimum average. In the College of Education and Human Services, 2.75 is the minimum GPA for retention in the program and graduation.

Students admitted as freshmen must complete the catalog/degree requirements in effect as of the term of their admission, but they will qualify for a waiver of University Core courses based on the number of transfer credits awarded. Transfer students with fewer than 30 transfer credits must complete the entire University core; those with 30 to 59 transfer credits will qualify for a waiver of CORE 1001 and CORE 1101; those with more than 60 transfer credits will qualify for a waiver of CORE 1001, CORE 1101 and CORE 2101.

The University reserves the right to close, cancel or modify any academic program and to suspend admission to any program.

Academic Advisement

Academic advising is a process that assists students in gaining the greatest possible benefit from their education at Seton Hall. In addition to helping prepare student schedules, academic advisers help students understand themselves; recognize their educational needs; realize their educational aspirations; and prepare for their future in an appropriate career, profession or graduate study program.

During the freshman year, students work with a Freshman Studies mentor (see Freshman Studies page 65). Thereafter, students consult with departmental advisers assigned by the chair. Students are urged to consult their advisers on a regular basis with regard to program planning, academic policy questions, graduate school options and career information. Advisers can direct students to persons and University offices that offer specialized assistance in areas such as personal counseling, career placement services, tutorial assistance and other student services. Transfer students accepted to Seton Hall will receive, by mail, an advanced standing evaluation. This evaluation indicates how many credits are approved for transfer to Seton Hall, and in which areas. Transfer students then may seek advisement for course selection from their assigned adviser.
Class Attendance

Attendance at each class meeting is expected. Instructors may take class attendance into account when determining grades as long as a clear statement on attendance policy and its impact on grading is given to students within the syllabus at the start of the semester.

Students whose absences, in the judgment of the instructor, are causing performance below reasonable expectations may be referred to their dean for appropriate action. Students who are recipients of federal or state aid for a given term may compromise their eligibility to retain that aid if they fail to attend class and/or do not earn academic credit for their courses.

Transfer Between Schools

Students who wish to transfer from one University school or college to another must file a Curriculum Adjustment Form with the chair of the department and the dean of the school/college to which they wish to transfer. The dean may admit students who meet requirements for admission to the school/college. Within the 2013-2014 academic year, the University expects to offer students the option to submit an online request to transfer to a new major in a different school.

Change of Major

Students may change major programs with the permission of the chair of the department into which they wish to transfer. If the major change involves a change in school/college, the permission of the dean of the school/college also is required. In order to effect a change of major, students must secure the required signature(s) on a Curriculum Adjustment Form, which then must be filed with the Office of the Registrar. Within the 2013-2014 academic year, the University expects to offer students the option to submit an online request for a change of major.

Tracking a Major

Students who seek admission to a major for which they are not initially eligible may track that major under advisement until they qualify for admission by completing required courses and earning required grades within the stipulated time frame. In the event that they do not qualify for admission to their preferred program after earning 60 credits, they will need to work with their adviser to evaluate other options. A final major must be officially declared by the point that the student has earned 75 credits.

Students should consult the applicable section of this catalogue for specifics regarding admission standards for various programs. They can also follow the guidelines below:

- Pre-major students who seek admission to the School of Business should follow the guidelines in “Standards for Admission to and Continuance in the Stillman School of Business” within this catalogue. These students should seek advisement in the Stillman School’s Student Advisement Office. Students should complete MATH 1205 Finite Mathematics with Calculus for Business before taking any accounting or economics course.

- Pre-science majors who seek admission to a science major must successfully complete the required introductory courses in mathematics and science to be considered for acceptance into biology, chemistry, mathematics and physics majors.

- Pre-major students who seek admission to a communication major must achieve a minimum GPA of 2.5 after their first semester of study.

- Pre-nursing majors who seek admission to the nursing major must achieve a minimum GPA of 3.0 after their first semester of study.

- Pre-major students seeking admission to the School of Diplomacy and International Relations must achieve a minimum GPA of 3.0 both overall and in their diplomacy courses after earning 30 credits.

Freshmen who are tracking majors should work with their Freshman Studies mentors and meet with an academic adviser in their desired major to determine eligibility and to investigate thoroughly the specific requirements for acceptance into that major.

Declaration of Second Major

Students may declare a second major with the permission of the chair of the department offering the second major. Students in the College of Education and Human Services are required to declare a second major.

Students who declare a second major will follow the core curriculum and overall degree requirements of their primary major, as they will earn the degree that is linked to that program. The declaration of the second major does not qualify a student for a second baccalaureate degree.

Declaration of Minor

Students may declare a minor by completing a Curriculum Adjustment Form with signature of the chair of the department of their minor field. Students also may use a Curriculum Adjustment Form to rescind a prior minor declaration. Some majors require the declaration of a minor. Within the 2013-2014 academic year, the University expects to offer students the option to initiate a minor declaration online.

Course Transfer Policies

Students matriculated at the University may not take courses at any other college or university without the prior permission of their chair, the dean of their school/college and the chair of the department offering the equivalent course at Seton Hall. In order to secure this authorization, students must submit an Application to Study at Another Institution with all required signatures. Students with 30 or fewer credits to complete for their degrees are not eligible for this permission. No credit is allowed for courses taken... unless an official form granting permission is on file with the Office of the Registrar, to which an official transcript of this work must be sent directly. No credit for work completed at another institution will be accepted in transfer unless the grade received is “C” or better; courses with “Pass” grades will not be accepted in transfer. Grades for transfer courses are not used in computing the major GPA or the overall cumulative GPA.

At the time of admission, entering freshmen may transfer a maximum of 45 credits to their Seton Hall program, with no more than 30 credits earned through testing (AP, CLEP, IB).

Students who wish to study abroad must complete the Application to Study at Another Institution to secure advance approval of the courses they plan to take. Students studying abroad in Fall or Spring semesters will be registered for a study abroad course so that their student status remains active.

Continuing Seton Hall students may be granted permission to take a maximum of 12 credits of general electives at another college/university for transfer to their degree program. Students studying abroad may request permission for additional transfer credits. Transfer regulations vary by department/school. Students should consult their own department, as well as the department offering the Seton Hall course equivalent.

The total number of credits a transfer student may accrue via transfer or testing is 90. Once a student reaches this maximum, no further transfer or testing authorizations are accepted.

Residency

The final 30 consecutive credits for a degree must be taken at Seton Hall University. Of these 30 credits, the number to be taken in the major field is determined by each department.

Nursing students in off-campus programs must complete a minimum of 30 credits at Seton Hall University. These students are encouraged to study in residence during their final term at the University.

Students must be matriculated in a degree program and must complete a minimum of 30 credits at Seton Hall in order to be eligible for a degree.

Time Limit

Full-time undergraduate students are expected to complete their degree requirements within seven years. However, financial aid is restricted to a maximum of six years. Part-time undergraduate students are expected to complete their degree requirements in 12 years. Students may petition their dean for an extension if medical problems, family obligations, changes in program or other significant factors make it impossible for them to complete their degrees within the applicable time frame. In this case, the dean must execute a waiver if the student is to be granted additional time to pursue his or her studies. This waiver must include a signed written agreement between the dean and the student outlining a proposed plan of study and a calendar for completion of outstanding degree requirements.

If a student is granted a leave of absence, the time on leave shall not be counted toward degree completion time. Students may request a leave of absence or temporary withdrawal by submitting a Request for Withdrawal; this form is available online.

Academic Integrity

Faculty, students, administrators and staff of Seton Hall University both recognize and cherish academic integrity as the cornerstone of our shared academic enterprise. As a Catholic institution we are particularly bound to personal values and self-discipline and seek to combine that reality within the context of a trusting and caring academic community. All individuals in the University community have an obligation to attend to the highest degree of personal integrity while in the pursuit of knowledge and the service of one another. In particular, the pursuit of knowledge requires honesty. Students must do their own work. A student who hands in work that is not his or her own, or who cheats on a test, or who plagiarizes an academic assignment is doing harm to himself or herself and taking advantage of others. Any dishonesty threatens the individual standards of the person committing the act and the other members of the Seton Hall community as well.

As we continue to seek for what is best and authentically human, each member of this University community must commit himself or herself to service of the truth. A student should refer to the Policy on Academic Integrity Policy of his/her major department/school/college. This University Policy of Academic Integrity shall apply to all students. The Procedures for Handling Violations of Standards of Academic and Professional Integrity are contained in the Student Handbook.

Class Standing

These classifications do not excuse the student from meeting the course requirements of a school/college or department.

Freshman - A student who has completed fewer than 30 credits.

Sophomore - A student who has completed at least 30, but fewer than 60, credits.

Junior - A student who has completed at least 60, but fewer than 90, credits.

Senior - A student who has completed 90 or more credits.

Application for Graduation

Students are required to file an online Application for Degree with the Office of the Registrar according to the following deadlines: January 15 for Spring graduation, August 15 for Fall graduation, and April 15 for Summer graduation. Students should consult their degree audit as a guide to course selection and to assure that they meet degree requirements. Students must declare any curriculum change at least six weeks prior to the end of the semester in which they plan to complete degree requirements.

Graduation Eligibility
In order to be eligible for graduation, a candidate must successfully complete all degree requirements and achieve the required minimum overall GPA, as well as the minimum GPA in his or her major and any second major or minor field he or she may have.

Undergraduate degree candidates must also be formally accepted into their degree program. Transfer students must complete a minimum of 30 undergraduate credits at Seton Hall in order to be eligible for a degree at Seton Hall. Graduate courses which apply to a graduate degree cannot be counted toward this 30-credit requirement.

Participation in the commencement ceremony is restricted to those students whom the Office of the Registrar determines to be eligible for their degree. The University also may allow students who are within 6 credits of degree eligibility, and who have the requisite GPA, both overall and in each degree component, to participate in the ceremony as space permits. Participation in the ceremony does not constitute confirmation of degree eligibility.

The Office of the Registrar determines eligibility for participation in commencement.

Diploma Policy
Diplomas are normally available three months following the degree completion date. A student’s name appears on his or her diploma exactly as it appears on the University’s computerized database. Students must file a name change request with the Office of the Registrar by the appropriate deadline in order to have their diploma reflect that change. Changes in first or last name require official documentation, e.g., marriage certificate or court order. The addition of a middle name or initial does not require supporting documentation.

Diplomas are released upon determination of academic eligibility and financial clearance. Graduates who have an unresolved financial obligation to the University will not receive their diplomas until that obligation has been fully resolved.

Graduation Rate
Of the students who entered Seton Hall University in Fall 2005 as first-time, full-time freshmen, approximately 67 percent graduated from the University within six years. Students who did not graduate and/or left the University did so for various reasons, including academic difficulties, financial problems, changes in career plans, family and personal circumstances, and medical problems.

Registration Regulations

Registration
To prepare for registration for the coming semester, students must consult with their academic advisers, who will assist them in selecting an appropriate schedule of classes. Students can check on-line for important information pertaining to registration, including the schedule of courses, the details of registration procedures for the semester, the academic calendar, and information about academic regulations and procedures.

Students who plan to continue their studies in the following semester are required to register for courses in November (for the Spring term) and in late March-April (in the Fall term). This accords continuing students first priority in course selection for the following semester.

Online registration is available for all students. Students are encouraged to use this convenient method of registration after consulting their adviser to select their courses and get their PIN number.

Registration periods for new and readmitted students immediately precede the beginning of each term. The University calendar specifies these dates.

Academic and Financial Responsibility
The University reserves seats in classes for all students who register. The students then incur academic and financial responsibility for these course(s). Accordingly, students who register must pay their tuition bills by the due date. Students who decide not to continue their studies must drop their courses online or notify the Office of the Registrar in writing by the payment due date, of their intention not to attend so that their reserved class seats may be made available to other students. Cancellation of course reservations by this deadline removes all semester tuition and fee charges.

Registered students who cancel course registrations after the payment due date, but before the end of the add-drop periods, will be liable for registration fees but not tuition charges.

Students who withdraw from all their courses will incur prorated charges according to the Total Withdrawal Schedule. Students who register during the Registration or Late Registration periods incur academic and financial responsibility for their courses and must submit payment by the due date. These students are liable for tuition charges and fees, unless they officially drop courses by the end of the add/drop period, in which case they are responsible for registration fees only. Withdrawal after the end of the add/drop period will result in the assessment of prorated tuition charges when the student withdraws from all classes within the refund period.

Students who have a prior outstanding balance and/or who have been late in making payments on their deferred payment schedule are subject to a hold on their registration. These students must satisfy their current balance and prepay the tuition/fees for the next term before they can be cleared to register for that term.
Students are required to complete their semester registration prior to the end of the semester add-drop deadline. Students may not attend any class unless they are officially registered for that class section for the semester.

In extraordinary circumstances, students may petition the Office of the Registrar in Bayley Hall for permission to register after the add-drop period. If authorization is granted, the student will be required to pay tuition, fees and a late fee of $250 before being allowed to register.

The University reserves the right to drop from classes any students who are in default of their payment arrangement. The University may also require students with a prior balance to prepay the tuition/fees for the semester prior to being allowed to register.

Schedule Changes

Adjustments to the semester schedule are permitted through the end of the add-drop period. For Fall and Spring semesters, the add drop period ends at midnight on the next occurring day of the week within which classes begin. For example, if the semester begins on Monday, then the add-drop period ends at midnight of the following Monday. This pattern is altered if the end date falls on a University holiday in which case the end of the period would be midnight on the next occurring business day. For Summer courses, the add-drop period ends on the day of the second class meeting.

To add or drop a course, the student must login to Student Self Service to make the schedule change or submit a Schedule Adjustment to the Office of the Registrar in Bayley Hall by the add/drop deadline. When a student has properly dropped a course, the course is removed from the student’s semester schedule.

Nonattendance does not constitute dropping a course. The only way a schedule may be adjusted is for the student to complete the add/drop procedure on-line or in person by the appropriate deadline.

In no case will a student be allowed to drop or add a course after the end of the add/drop period. No refund or credit is granted for any course that is not officially dropped by the appropriate deadline.

Semester Credit Load

Full-time, matriculated students may enroll for a maximum of 18 credits in any Fall or Spring semester. However, with the permission of the dean of the school/college, a student whose GPA in the preceding semester is 3.0 or higher may be allowed to take additional credits. Non-matriculated students may not register for more than 9 credits in any semester. Part-time student status involves a maximum of 11 credits in any semester. During Summer Session the credit load is one and one-half credits for each week of the particular session. Students may not complete more than 15 credits during Summer Session (inclusive of Intersession, Summer I and Summer II). Students in the College of Arts and Sciences are restricted to a maximum of 3 credits in the May Intersession.

Undergraduate Grading System

Effective with the Fall 2004 semester, the University modified its grading policy to include minus grades. This change is not retroactive to any prior semester. The University uses the following letter grades on the undergraduate level to indicate the record of achievement in courses taken:

Institutional Credit Courses Only:

| SP            | Satisfactory Performance | 0.00 |
| RR            | Retake Required         | 0.00 |

The following are explanations and regulations that apply to certain grades:

I – Incomplete: This grade indicates non-completion of assignment(s) or failure to take the examination for a course. An Incomplete grade cannot be given when a student does not complete any course requirements or fails to attend class meetings. A student who receives an “I” grade may not attend class meetings in a future semester in order to make up outstanding requirements. Students must obtain written permission to receive an Incomplete by submitting a Course Adjustment Form to the professor before the officially scheduled final examination. The professor will indicate on this form the amount of time allowed for completion of this work, up to a maximum of 12 months or by the time the student has graduated (whichever comes first). If the missing course requirements are completed within this time period, the professor must submit a new Course Adjustment Form indicating the changed grade to the dean’s office within 10 working days. Within the Fall 2013 semester, the University expects to implement functionality that will allow a professor to enter grade changes online. Effective with Fall 2007 courses, if a grade of “I” is not resolved within the time allotted, this grade will be changed automatically and permanently to “FI” which is a failing grade. In extenuating circumstances a written request for a limited time extension to complete course requirements may be submitted in advance of the one-year deadline by the student to the professor and dean of the school/college in which the course was offered, with a copy to the Office of the Registrar for approval. The grade “I” is not counted in determining class standing, eligibility or grade point average. An unresolved “I” grade will count in the calculation of the grade point average when it changes to “FI” after the one-year period.

An “I” grade disqualifies a student from the Dean’s List. If the “I” grade is changed to a grade of “C” or higher, the student’s record will be reviewed for Dean’s List eligibility. Although a student’s GPA is not affected by an “I” grade, the fact that the student receives no credit for the course may impact academic eligibility and, as a consequence, the student’s eligibility for financial aid. An unresolved “I” grade may also impact the student’s eligibility for financial aid and academic standing when it changes to a failing grade, as an “FI” grade affects both the grade point average and the credit completion ratio.

IW – Incomplete Withdrawal: If, within 12 months or by graduation (whichever comes first), a grade of “NR” has not been resolved, it is automatically changed to “IW.” The grade “IW” indicates that the student has not satisfied, within the permissible time period, all outstanding requirements for the course in which an “NR” was received. An “IW” grade is not reversible; it does not count in determining class standing, eligibility or GPA. For courses taken prior to Fall 2007, a grade of “I” will also change to an “IW” if not resolved within 12 months.

WD – Withdrawal: Withdrawal from a class with written permission incurs no academic penalty. Withdrawal will be allowed up to the end of the fourth week of the semester without faculty or dean signature during Fall and Spring semesters. Students may request a course withdrawal by submitting a Course Adjustment Form to the Office of the Registrar. After the end of this initial period, course withdrawals will require the signature of the faculty member and dean. Under normal circumstances course withdrawal will be allowed only through the Friday of the eighth week of each semester. Withdrawal after that date will be allowed by the respective deans’ offices only under exceptional circumstances. The Summer Session schedule specifies withdrawal deadlines. A “WD” is not reversible; it is not counted in determining class standing, eligibility or GPA. A “WD” grade disqualifies a student from Dean’s List eligibility.

When a student receives a “WD” grade, the student’s grade point average is not affected. However, the fact that the student receives no credit for the course may affect the student’s academic eligibility, and, as a consequence, the student’s eligibility for Title IV financial aid.

P/F – Pass/Fail Option: This option is open to matriculated undergraduate students on a restricted basis. Students may opt for Pass/Fail grading in free electives for a maximum of 12 credits, with no more than 6 pass/fail credits in any 12-month period. To request the Pass/Fail Option on a course, students must file a Course Adjustment Form with the course instructor and the dean of the school/college in which they are matriculated. The deadline for Pass/Fail requests (and for their cancellation) is the end of the fifth week of class for Fall/Spring semesters and for Summer, the first third of the course’s class meetings. The academic calendar for each semester specifies these deadline dates. Pass/Fail courses may not be taken in the department in which a student is majoring. A “PASS” grade is used in determining class standing and eligibility, but is excluded from the GPA. The “F” grade is factored into the GPA.

F – Failure: When a student receives an “F” grade in a course, no academic credit or quality points are awarded for that course. The student’s grade point average is, accordingly, negatively impacted by a failing grade. When a student fails a course for which the student has elected a pass/fail option, the “F” grade has the same statistical effect as in a regularly graded course.

When a student fails a course required in his or her program of study, the student must successfully repeat that course in order to establish degree eligibility. Any time a course is repeated, associated charges (tuition and fees) will be applied. When a student fails a free elective, he or she is not required to make up the course. When the student successfully repeats the failed course at Seton Hall, the original “F” grade remains on the student’s transcript with the “repeated” designation, but is no longer factored into the student’s grade point average. In the event that a student fails a course for the second time, the most recent “F” grade is excluded from the grade percent average.

In general, students are not granted permission to retake, at another institution, a course failed at Seton Hall. If the student were to retake a failed course at another institution for transfer to Seton Hall, no statistical adjustment would be made. In this case, the “F” would continue to be calculated into the average. The student would earn credits, but no quality points, from the transferred course.

Poor academic performance can affect eligibility for financial aid and eligibility to participate in student activities. In general, it is recommended that students repeat courses that they have initially failed so that they may improve their GPA. Any time a course is repeated, associated charges (tuition and fees) will be applied. Students on probation should consult with their advisers to determine how to improve their academic performance and raise their grade point averages.

An “F” is not counted in determining class standing, but it is counted in the GPA until the course is successfully repeated at Seton Hall. An “F” grade also is factored into determinations regarding academic eligibility.

AU – Audit Options (no credit): Students who register as auditors are expected to attend class regularly but are undergraduate degree, they cannot later be applied to a graduate program.

Permission to take graduate courses does not constitute admission to a graduate program.

Withdrawal

Students who find it necessary to withdraw from any school/college of the University on a temporary or permanent basis should initiate the withdrawal process by completing the Request for Withdrawal and meeting with the Dean of Students and Community Development. This form, as well as other important information related to the withdrawal process, is available at http://admin.shu.edu/enrollmentservices/withdrawalinfo.htm. The Office of Community Development will forward the withdrawal form to the Office of the Registrar. It is imperative that this notification be sent in writing as soon as possible after the decision to withdraw has been made.

When students file the Request for Withdrawal within the official withdrawal period, they will automatically receive “WD” grades in all their courses. If the request to withdraw is made after the eighth week of the semester, then the posting of “WD” grades is not automatic. In this case, the student must submit a Course Adjustment Form to each of his professors to request a “WD” grade. The only exception to this deadline is for documented cases of medical/health problems that preclude the student from completing the semester.

Students who withdraw for medical reasons must submit medical documentation with their withdrawal form to the Office of Community Development. Students who are recipients of federal financial aid should consult with Student Financial Services in Bayley Hall prior to withdrawing to confirm what, if any, impact their withdrawal may have on their financial aid eligibility. Non-attendance does not constitute official withdrawal; students who seek to withdraw from their classes must complete the official withdrawal process.

Students who cease attending classes during the term without officially withdrawing are considered as unofficially withdrawn. These students will lose 50% of financial aid for the term.

Students who are activated for military service should contact the University Registrar for assistance. If the activation date occurs late in a semester, students may qualify for an Incomplete grade in some or all of their courses. In this case, students should file a Course Adjustment Form on which the faculty member will specify the work that must be completed to resolve the Incomplete. In the event that the military activation date falls early in the semester, the student may be dropped from any course which he/she cannot complete. In this case, tuition charges for any dropped courses will be removed from the student’s account.
Grade Point Average

To calculate weighted averages, quality points assigned to grades are multiplied by the number of credits assigned to the course in which the grade is received. For example, a grade of “B+” in a 2-credit course represents 6.66 quality points; a grade of “A” in a 3-credit course equals 12 quality points and so forth. The sum of the quality points that the student had earned is then divided by the sum of credits attempted, which are graded “A” through “F.” The resulting figure, when truncated to four decimal places, is then rounded by adding .0005 and truncating all but three digits to the right of the decimal.

Grade Reports

Effective Fall 2007, the University does not mail grade reports to students. Students will access their grades on-line through student self-service. Students who need written documentation of their grades should contact the Office of the Registrar for assistance.

Grade Change Policy

A request for a grade change must be made in writing to the instructor no later than four months from the date of the submission of the final grade in the course. Incompletes are not final grades and are governed by stated University policies. If the matter is not resolved in 10 class days from the submission of the request for change, the student has recourse to the University grievance policy.

After clearance for graduation, the student’s academic record is finalized, and no grade changes may be authorized. Graduating students who have a pending grade appeal must advise the University Registrar in writing of this fact.

Repeated Courses

A student may repeat a course in order to earn a higher grade. Any time a course is repeated, associated charges (tuition and fees) will be applied. The student must repeat the course at Seton Hall; no statistical adjustment is made when a student repeats a course at another institution. A student may not repeat at another institution a course for which the student has already earned credit at Seton Hall. When a course taken at Seton Hall is repeated at Seton Hall, only the higher grade is used in the calculation of the GPA. In this case, the lower grade will remain on the transcript marked “E” to denote its exclusion from GPA calculation. Credit (if any) attached to the lower grade is rescinded; only the credit attached to the higher grade is applied to the student’s record. This statistical adjustment will be made only when the student repeats the exact course with the identical course number.

If a student receives the same grade in the course when it is repeated, the more recent grade will be removed from the student’s record. If a student receives a lower grade when the course is repeated, the higher grade will remain applied to the student’s record. The lower grade will be reflected on the student’s transcript, but will not be calculated into the student’s GPA.

Students should inform their advisers if they are repeating a course for a better grade. While there is no limit to the number of times a student may repeat a course, excessive repeated courses may have an impact on satisfactory academic progress requirements.

Students may not repeat a course to improve their GPA after they have graduated.

Honors

Dean’s List

After the close of every semester, the deans of the schools/colleges publish on the Dean’s List the names of full-time matriculated students who have done outstanding work during the semester. Undergraduate students completing all courses with a GPA of 3.4, with no grades lower than “C,” qualify for the Dean’s List. In order to be eligible for the Dean’s List, students must be enrolled for a minimum of 12 undergraduate credits. Students who receive a grade of “I,” “WD,” “NR,” “RR” or “IW” in a semester are disqualified from Dean’s List eligibility for that semester. Students who are ungraded in a course are ineligible for Dean’s List consideration until such time as they are fully graded.

Graduation Honors

Honors citations are awarded in connection with the granting of the bachelor’s degree. Honors awards are computed on the basis of all Seton Hall credits earned by the student through the semester in which the degree is granted. The Office of the Registrar determines eligibility for graduation honors. In computing these honors the grade point system is used. Honors are awarded only to students who meet the following GPA requirements and have a minimum of 60 earned Seton Hall credits:

- Cum Laude (with honors) 3.395-3.594
- Magna Cum Laude (with high honors) 3.595-3.894
- Summa Cum Laude (with highest honors) 3.895-4.000

Transfer Student Honors

Transfer students are awarded honors only on the basis of course work taken at Seton Hall; transfer students must complete a minimum of 60 credits in residence by graduation in order to qualify for graduation honors.

Full-Time Student Probation Policy

Standards
A full-time undergraduate student is one who is registered for a minimum of 12 credits in the Fall or Spring semester. A student enrolled in a department-approved program in which fewer than 12 credits is the recommended full-time credit load is considered a full-time equivalent student.

Full-time undergraduate students are required to:
• complete successfully at least 24 credits in each 12 months of full-time registration; and
• have a cumulative GPA of at least 1.75 for freshmen, 1.90 for sophomores, and 2.00 for juniors and seniors.

Eligibility
Students who were registered for the previous two semesters as full-time students, but have not successfully completed 24 credits in the previous 12 months, are not eligible:
• for student employment;
• to participate in recognized student activities, including varsity athletics; and
• to hold office in recognized student organizations.

The dean of the student’s school/college may waive any or all of these ineligibilities if the student’s failure to complete the 24 credits in the previous 12 months was due to medical conditions, family emergencies or other similar circumstances beyond the student’s control. The dean’s waiver is to be accompanied by a signed written agreement between the student and the dean outlining the course of action to be taken by the student to remedy the deficiency.

Warning
A student who meets the cumulative GPA criterion but whose GPA for any one semester falls below 1.75 (if a freshman), 1.90 (if a sophomore) or 2.00 (if a junior or senior) shall receive a letter of warning from the dean of his or her school/college, reminding the student of the criteria for probation.

Probation
Students whose cumulative GPAs do not meet the minimum requirement are automatically placed on probation for the current semester. Probation is a disciplinary period during which the student is afforded the opportunity to raise his or her cumulative GPA to meet the minimum requirement.

As soon as the respective dean is informed of the failure of a student to maintain the minimum GPA, the dean must inform the student by letter that he or she is on probation and remind the student of the minimum requirements. The dean must require the student to meet with the dean and with the student’s department chair or representatives.

Students on probation are permitted to enroll on a full or part-time basis. Their course loads may be restricted by the dean.

If a student is placed on probation for a second consecutive semester, the dean must conduct a suspension/dismissal review, and the student is ineligible:
• for student employment;
• to participate in recognized student activities, including varsity athletics; and
• to hold office in recognized student organizations.

The dean may waive any or all of these ineligibilities if the student’s failure to maintain the required minimum GPA was due to medical conditions, family emergencies or other similar circumstances beyond the student’s control. The dean’s waiver is to be accompanied by a signed written agreement between the student and the dean outlining the course of action to be taken by the student to remedy the deficiency.

The dean shall review the student’s progress with the student’s department chair and with the student, and also may consult with other appropriate persons. The resulting decision must be communicated to the student in writing by the dean. Normally, the review will allow no more than one additional semester for the student to improve his or her performance.

If a student’s performance is not satisfactory after the period of extension, suspension or expulsion is automatic unless the dean grants an additional extension in writing.

Dismissal constitutes permanent removal from the University. Suspension constitutes removal from the University for a stipulated period of time. Dismissal and suspension are judgments based on the student’s unsatisfactory academic process. Dismissed and suspended students are not in good standing with the University and are not eligible for financial aid.
The Office of the Registrar shall distribute lists of students placed on probation or in default of the 24-credit requirement to the deans, department chairs, faculty representative for athletics and vice president for Student Affairs. The dean shall notify these officials and Enrollment Services of any waivers, extensions, suspensions or dismissals. In areas under their jurisdiction, these officials must assure that students do not participate in activities or organizations or employment for which they are ineligible under this policy.

Part-Time Student Probation Policy

Standards
A part-time undergraduate student is one who is registered for fewer than 12 credits in the Fall or Spring Semester.

Part-time undergraduate students are required to have a cumulative GPA of at least 1.75 for freshmen, 1.90 for sophomores, and 2.00 for juniors and seniors. Part-time students who were enrolled for the previous two semesters must complete a minimum of 6 credits in the previous 12 months.

Eligibility
Part-time students who meet the above standards are eligible to:
• participate in student activities which allow for part-time involvement;
• hold office in student organizations, the constitutions of which specifically provide for such office holding; and
• receive Title IV federal aid for which part-time students may qualify and for which the student may otherwise be eligible.

The dean of the student’s school/college may waive the 6-credit per year requirement if the student’s failure to complete the required credits within the stipulated time frame was due to medical conditions, family emergencies, employment factors or other similar circumstances beyond the student’s control.

Unsatisfactory academic progress by part-time students can affect eligibility for financial aid.

Probation
Part-time undergraduate students whose cumulative GPAs do not meet the minimum requirements are automatically placed on probation.

As soon as the respective dean is informed of the failure of a student to maintain the minimum GPA, the dean must inform the student by letter that he or she is on probation and remind the student of the minimum requirements. The dean must require the student to meet with the dean and the student’s department chair or representatives. Part-time students on probation are subject to the rules and procedures outlined above for full-time students.

A part-time student who meets the cumulative GPA criterion, but whose GPA for any one semester falls below the applicable minimum, shall receive a letter of warning from the dean of his or her college, reminding the student of the criteria for probation.

Appeals
A student who believes that a decision made in his or her regard has been procedurally incorrect, or has otherwise violated his or her rights, may appeal the dean’s decision to the provost, according to the established University grievance procedures. Details appear in the Student Handbook, which is located on the Student Services web site at http://www.shu.edu/offices/student-services/index.cfm

Student Academic Records

Access and Privacy
The University provides all present and former students with the right of access to inspect and review by appointment any and all educational records, files and data that relate directly to them. Students also are afforded the opportunity to challenge these records.

All educational records are considered confidential. Their release is regulated by University policy in keeping with the provisions of Public Law 93-380, Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended. The University policy is fully detailed in the Student Handbook available on the Student Services web site at http://www.shu.edu/offices/student-services/index.cfm

Students who wish to inspect information or records may do so by requesting a Right of Access form from the office or department in which a specific record is kept, and filing it with that office. Right of Access forms also are available in the Office of the Registrar. Within 10 days of receipt of the Right of Access form, the office or department will notify the student about the date, time and location where the record will be available for inspection. The Office of the Registrar answers all questions relating to right of access.

Transcripts
Transcript requests should be filed well in advance of any deadline. Normal processing time for transcripts ranges from three days to three weeks during peak demand periods at the end of each semester.

Current students may order transcripts online via Student Self Service, using the PirateNet portal. Former students may order transcripts online, using the link on the Registrar’s home page. The transcript fee is $5.00 per copy.

Complete information detailing the procedure and charges for transcript requests is available online at the Registrar web site: http://www.shu.edu/offices/registrar-index.cfm

The University reserves the right to withhold transcript services from students who have an outstanding financial obligation to the University.
Course Information

Course Numbering System

The course identification number includes a four-character subject field and a four-digit course number; for example, ENGL 1201, Core English I.

The following guide was used to develop the course numbers:

Significance of first digit
0 Noncredit or institutional credit.
1 Freshman-level course; no prerequisites, except for the first part of a two-semester course.
2 Second-level course, with at least one one-level prerequisite.
3 Third-level course, with at least one two-level prerequisite.
4 Fourth-level course, with at least one three-level prerequisite.
5 Senior seminars and similar capstone undergraduate courses.
6 First-level graduate courses.
7 Second-level graduate courses, with at least one six-level prerequisite.
8 Third-level graduate courses, with at least one seven-level prerequisite.
9 Fourth-level graduate courses.

Significance of second digit
May indicate sub-discipline within a subject area.

Significance of third and fourth digits
May indicate course order or corequisite, etc.

Caution: The course number is intended as a guide only.

Prerequisites must still be checked with the University catalogue and faculty advisers.

Course Offerings

Not every course listed in University catalogues is offered each semester. Students can view the course schedule on-line within Banner Student Self-Service. The University reserves the right to cancel any course for which registration is insufficient, change the time and place of any course offered, and change the professor assigned to teach the course.

Each course section for a term is assigned a unique course registration number (CRN) for use in on-line registration. Students should make note of the CRNs of the courses to facilitate on-line registration.

Independent Study

Several schools and departments of the University offer opportunities for independent study. Application forms and regulations for independent study may be obtained from the department chairs. Students may not register for any independent study course without the prior written permission of the department chair.

Name and Address Changes

Changes in personal data, including changes of name, address, next of kin and expected graduation date, should be reported in writing to the Office of the Registrar on a priority basis. Requests for changes in first or last name require accompanying official documentation (e.g., marriage certificate or court order). Graduating students must file name change requests by April 1 preceding the May commencement date. Name changes will not be made after a student has graduated. Similarly, student identification numbers are not changed after graduation.

The University uses official names on all records in compliance with federal guidelines and University identity management policies.

Students may update their personal information, including address, telephone, personal email, emergency contact on-line within student self-service.

Personal Identification Number (PIN)

Each student is assigned a PIN each semester for use in on-line registration. Students should keep their PIN confidential. Students should contact their adviser if they lose or forget their PIN.

Seton Hall Student Identification Number (SHU ID)

Upon admission to the University, every student is assigned an 8-digit student identification number. Students should use this number to access on-line student services and for general identification purposes.
Student Services

Department of Housing and Residence Life

Director: Tara J. Hart, M.A.
Duffy Hall, Room 68
(973) 761-9172

Hours: Monday-Friday, 8:45 a.m.-5:00 p.m.
E-mail: shuhousing@shu.edu
http://www.shu.edu/offices/housing-residence-life/index.cfm

The Department of Housing and Residence Life provides a living, learning environment that fosters the academic and personal experience of residents, and helps them prepare for the rest of their lives.

Seton Hall is “home” to approximately 2,300 students – nearly 50 percent of the undergraduate population. There are six on-campus traditional residence halls for undergraduate students and two University-owned and operated apartment buildings, located in South Orange, for upperclassmen.

Seton Hall University and the Department of Housing and Residence Life are dedicated to meeting the needs of all residential students. The residence halls provide a rich variety of lifestyle options, including a Sophomore Discovery Program, Honors and Servant Leader Hall for upperclassmen and academic based living-learning clusters within some first year residence halls. In addition, residents are encouraged to develop as leaders by participating in hall council and Resident Student Association (RSA).

All residence hall rooms are smoke-free environments and are furnished with twin beds, dressers, desks and wardrobe/closets. Additionally, each room is technologically ready with both wired and wireless high-speed data connections. All rooms are air conditioned and have cable television service, as well as free on-campus phone service with off-campus calling through individualized student billing. All students have full access to SHUFLY, the campus shuttle service. Laundry and lounge facilities are available in each hall.
The department employs a diverse and experienced staff of professionals who work together to facilitate the personal growth of each resident student. The staff’s goal is to create a strong community that encourages student involvement. The director of Housing and Residence Life is responsible for overall management of all activities, administrative processes and supervision of all staff. One associate director is responsible for residential education, staff supervision and programming. Three assistant directors are responsible for the first-year residential experience, training and development, and housing operations and marketing.

In addition, each residence hall and apartment building has its own staff. Five residence hall directors and five residence coordinators are responsible for all the activities and staff in a particular building or area. They are assisted by resident assistants (RAs) and tutors in residence (TIR). RAs are undergraduate students assigned to each wing or floor in the residence halls and apartments. RAs are programmers, mediators, policy enforcers and advisers for residents. TIRs are undergraduate students who live in the first year halls and conduct programs aimed at promoting academic success.

GPA Requirement for On-Campus Living
Residents are required to maintain at least a 1.8 overall GPA to reside in campus housing. A student may file an application for an exception to this minimum GPA requirement. If granted, the student can expect conditional residence focused on ensuring academic success and progress.

Priests in the Residence Halls
Priests of the University community live in the residence halls. The role of priests living in the halls is pastoral. They offer opportunities for spiritual growth, counseling, prayer and Mass, room blessings, individual/group prayer and other celebrations.

Dining on Campus
Bishop Dougherty University Center, (973) 761-9559
Hours: Monday-Sunday, 7 a.m.-1 a.m.
E-mail: shu@gourmetdiningllc.com

The Galleon Room is located in the lower level of the Bishop Dougherty University Center. It is open from 7 a.m.-1 a.m., seven days a week when the University is in regular session. The Galleon Room is divided into two sections, the Galleon Food Court and the Pirate Dining Room. The Galleon Food Court accepts Pirate Bucks, Pirate’s Gold, and cash. This section of the room allows students to purchase food on an “a la carte” basis from different stations in a food court setting (hours are listed below). The Pirate Dining Room is designed for traditional style dining and uses the meal per week portion of the meal plan, cash or Pirate’s Gold to access the area. Once inside, the student has the choice of several buffet selections with unlimited returns.

The hours of operations for both areas can be found: http://www.gourmetdiningllc.com/campus/shu/
Full Service Menu is located in Walsh Library.

Seton Hall University’s Meal Plan Program allows students to select one of seven options. Once purchased, the student’s ID card will have a set number of meals per week plus Pirate Bucks that can be used to purchase products from the Galleon Food Court and Pirate’s Cove, or to enter the Pirate Dining Room. In the Pirate Dining Room portion of the meal program, students will have one meal deducted every time they enter. Once in the Pirate Dining Room, students are allowed to eat whatever they choose with unlimited returns. Each student’s number of meals will be reset according to his or her meal plan every Monday morning unless on the Block Plan. A display at the register shows the amount being charged and the balance of meals or points remaining. Additionally, there is a plan specially designed for commuters only which allows them access to the benefits of a meal plan. Plans are active during the entire Fall and Spring semesters, however, they are not active during breaks or Summer. Meals remaining at the end of each week throughout the semester are not refundable.

Information concerning current Resident Meal Plans can be found at http://www.shu.edu/offices/bursar/meal-plan/index.cfm or by calling (973) 761 9559.

Public Safety and Security
Assistant Vice President/Director: Patrick P. Linfante, M.A.
Office Hours: Monday - Friday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

The Department of Public Safety and Security at Seton Hall University provides 24-hour security services throughout the campus and at our off-campus facilities. Our staff conducts security patrols on foot, in cars, and on bicycles and is responsible for monitoring our state-of-the-art burglar alarm and safety systems. We also provide access control to our residence halls from 12:00 a.m. until 8:00 a.m. daily and provide 24 hour on-campus escort services when requested. Seton Hall University Public Safety works closely with the South Orange Police Department and we employ off-duty police officers to patrol our campus each evening. Our administrative staff provides an array of security services for the University community including event management, emergency management training and response, parking services, investigations and lost and found. More information about the Department of Public Safety and Security can be obtained by calling (973) 761-9328.
Parking Services

Seton Hall University offers limited parking for commuting students and senior residents. Exceptions are made for other resident students in curriculum-related employment, such as co-op programs, internships, student teaching and clinical assignments. A.D.A. approved accessible parking spaces are located throughout the campus in proximity to academic buildings. The use of these spaces is strictly enforced.

Students (including those studying part-time) must obtain a parking decal to park on campus. Detailed information about parking is available through the Parking Services Office, Duffy Hall, (973) 761-9329, 8 a.m. - 5:45 p.m. (Monday-Thursday), 8 a.m. - 4:45 p.m. (Friday). The email address is ParkingServices@shu.edu

SHUFLY

The SHUFLY shuttle operates seven days a week, and is a safe and convenient way for all Seton Hall University community members to travel in and around the Village of South Orange, as well as weekend trips to the Livingston Mall and Target. The SHUFLY is free for all Seton Hall community members. SHUFLY can be tracked online at shuflyshuttle.com or on your mobile device at shuflyshuttle.com/m

SHU Safe Ride

In an effort to enhance the off-campus safety of our community members, the Department of Public Safety offers an important transportation alternative called SHU Safe Ride. This service operates from 6:00 p.m. until 3:00 a.m. seven days per week and provides free on-demand van service to and from locations within the immediate vicinity of our campus that are not on the SHUFLY shuttle route. Service to these locations from campus originates at the Public Safety building near the Ward Gate. Service to campus from these locations is obtained by calling the Public Safety dispatcher at (973) 761-9300.

Campus ID Office

Manager: Ibiyemi Adesanya, M.S.
Duffy Hall, Room 63 (973) 761-9771
Office Hours: Monday-Friday 8 a.m.-5 p.m.
E-mail: CampusID@shu.edu
http://www.shu.edu/offices/campus-id/index.cfm

Identification Cards/Card Access

The Campus ID Office provides identification cards to University students, faculty and staff. The card is utilized for identification, access, meal plans, Pirate Bucks and Pirate’s Gold. All members of the University community must present a University identification card upon request to any University official, representative or campus security officer. Identification cards must be presented at residence halls, the Recreation Center, the computer center and Walsh Library. It is also used for access into many academic buildings and labs.

Pirate’s Gold

Pirate’s Gold acts as a debit card that is part of the ID card program. Seton Hall cardholders can add money to their cards to be used at various locations on and off campus. These locations are the bookstore, dining facilities, convenient printer stations, residence hall laundries and vending, as well as any participating merchant in the Township of South Orange Village.

A list of merchants accepting Pirate’s Gold can be found at the following link: www.shu.edu/offices/campus-id-index.cfm

Campus Ministry

Director: Father Robert McLaughlin, M.A., M.Div.
Associate Director: Reverend Nicholas Figurelli, M.Div, M.A.
South Boland Hall, (973) 761-9545
Hours: Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m.
E-mail: warren.hall@shu.edu
nicholas.figurelli@shu.edu
http://www.shu.edu/catholic-mission/campus-ministry-index.cfm

Campus Ministry provides a pastoral presence on campus and seeks to evangelize and empower all, by the prompting of the Holy Spirit, to become dedicated members of God’s family. Campus Ministry seeks to bring the Church’s general mission to higher education; namely, to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ, by creating an environment that allows for spiritual, moral, liturgical, and sacramental development, as well as nurturing students intellectually, socially and physically. The Campus Ministry staff helps guide the maturing Christian conscience, educate for peace and justice, and develop future Christian leaders.

The activities listed below are open to participants of all faiths. The Campus Ministry staff will also direct any member of the University community to local congregations that will foster individual spiritual development. An Interfaith Directory, which includes addresses and telephone numbers of houses of worship in the area, is available through Campus Ministry.

Worship

Sunday Mass is celebrated at 10 a.m., 6 p.m., 8 p.m. and 10 p.m. Daily Mass is offered Monday – Thursday at 8 a.m., noon and 5 p.m., and on Fridays at 8 a.m. and noon, and Holy Hour on Monday – Thursday from 10:45 to 11:45 a.m. in the Immaculate Conception Chapel. Confession is available Monday – Friday at 11:30 a.m. and Wednesday at 10 p.m. and by appointment.

Lay Ministry is an important element of Catholic worship. To enhance the celebration of the Liturgy, anyone interested in serving as a liturgical minister (lector, music minister, Eucharistic minister or greeter) will be trained and mandated.

Morning Prayer is offered Monday – Friday in the Immaculate Conception Chapel at 7:30 a.m.

Additionally, Campus Ministry enriches the academic year by celebrating the University’s Catholic heritage in traditions of:
• Mass of the Holy Spirit in September
• Eucharistic Days
• Sacrament of Reconciliation Day each semester during Advent and Lent
• A Christmas Tree Lighting and blessing of the manger
• Lenten liturgies
• Baccalaureate liturgical celebrations

There also are liturgies specially arranged for student groups. Chapels in Boland and Xavier residence halls complement the Main Chapel and are available for private prayer, Bible studies, meditations, and specially scheduled events. All are open daily. Arrangements for Masses, baptisms and weddings may be made through the Campus Ministry office.

Catechetics

The Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults (RCIA) is a process that directs the full formation of students into the Catholic Church. Students learn to understand the teaching, worship, formation and community that comprise the Church. It is also a catechetical program for baptized Catholics who desire full membership in the Catholic Church through the sacraments of Confirmation and the Eucharist. RCIA meets weekly in both the Fall and Spring semesters. Students attend the RCIA retreat and field trips to the Cathedral Basilica of the Sacred Heart, the Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology, Latin Rite masses and Eastern Catholic churches. Students celebrate all the rites in the RCIA program and receive the Sacraments of Initiation at the Immaculate Conception Chapel.

Seton Hall United for Life (SHUFL) is the pro-life student organization recognized by Student Government Association (SGA) and advised and sponsored by Campus Ministry. SHUFL hosts pro-life awareness activities throughout the year beginning with a Spiritual Adopt a Baby program, Respect Life Sunday program, pro-life movie nights and concludes with a pro-life baby shower and Celebrate Life Day. Students also attend the annual Right to Life March in Washington DC, the New Jersey Right to Life Dinner and pray peacefully outside a local abortion clinic. SHUFL works with Students for Life America (SFLA) to bring pro-life speakers to campus and host pro-life events.

The Cardinal Newman Circle is a lecture series founded upon the theology of Blessed Cardinal Henry Newman. Each semester a prominent theologian, philosopher, author or speaker is invited to campus to deliver a lecture to assist the Seton Hall communities’ understanding of the theology of the church. A wide range of speakers including: internationally acclaimed author and Chesterton and Tolkien scholar Joseph Pierce, speaker and founder of Joy Filled Marriage Damon Owens, speaker and founder of Made in His Image ministries Maura Bryne, professor and Newman theologian Msgr. Gerard McCarren, professor, author and biblical scholar Dr. Gregory Glazov and professor, author and Thomistic scholar Dr. Victor Velarde have all been Cardinal Newman Circle guest speakers.

Spiritual Renewal

Retreat experiences are offered each semester, both on and off campus. Campus Ministry also provides a small-group environment, known as Small Christian Communities, where the formation of Christian life is nurtured through friendship, reflection and social action.

Campus Ministry also assists any person who seeks spiritual direction, vocation discernment or crisis counseling. For more information, call (973) 761-9545.

Friars of the Community of St. John, FOCUS (Fellowship of Catholic University Students), and SPO (St. Paul’s Outreach) are present on Seton Hall University’s campus as a resource for students desiring to learn more about their faith and how to apply it to every facet of their lives. Discussions of life’s important issues relevant to the college students, hiking with reflections, Bible studies, Praise and Worship are available on campus for all students, as well as other various activities and opportunities.

Social Awareness

The Campus Ministry Division of Volunteer Efforts (DOVE) is one aspect of Seton Hall University’s response to the ongoing call for social justice. DOVE’s aim is to raise the awareness of the Seton Hall University community to social injustice through direct involvement in serving others. This service stems from our desire to affirm the dignity of all people and to live as Christ taught us by putting our faith into action. It seeks to aid the University in its commitment to graduate not only well educated professionals, but also compassionate individuals rooted in and guided by faith and its expression in firm moral convictions.

DOVE encourages all members of the Seton Hall community, regardless of faith or service background, to get involved. It operates 7 days a week, serving both our local and global community. Ministries include feeding the hungry, tutoring and mentoring local children, visiting the lonely and aged, helping people with disabilities, teaching English as a second language, working with homeless teen mothers, and more. DOVE also coordinates international (El Salvador, Haiti) and domestic (Philadelphia) service trips.

The Career Center

Director: Reesa Greenwald, M.A.
Bayley Hall, Suite 209
(973) 761-9355
Hours: Monday - Friday 8:45 a.m. - 4:45 p.m.
E-mail: careers@shu.edu
PirateNet - Click on Career Center or visit www.shu.edu/go/careers

The Career Center places a strong emphasis on engaging students in the process of career development and self-assessment very early in their college experience. Seton Hall students are supported by an integrated career development plan which includes career assessment, career advising/coaching, internships, mentoring and networking and recruiting activities. Career Center professionals provide personalized career advising assistance to support students in preparing and securing internships as well as professional employment upon graduation.

Career-based Experiential Education

Career-based Experiential Education at Seton Hall University provides out-of-the-classroom learning in pre-professional experiences. Career-based programs include: internships, field experiences, practica, clinicals and student teaching assignments.

The Career Center supports students’ preparation for all career-based Experiential Education programs and manages the University Internship Program for the College of Arts and Sciences and the Stillman School of Business. More than 600 internships are reported each year.

Internships

Seton Hall’s Internship program integrates substantive work experience with intentional learning and academic goals. All Internships are approved and monitored. Career Center professionals work closely with employers to ensure that students have a meaningful learning and work experience.

Internship experiences help students to focus career choices, hone professional skills, clarify work values and gain confidence in their post-graduation pursuits. Students can work 15-40 hours per week and earn money to offset educational expenses. Internships can be paid or non-paid and credit bearing or non-credit bearing. Graduating seniors who have participated in an Internship often report that they received a full-time professional offer from their intern employer.

To be eligible to participate in an Internship, students must have completed 30 credits and be in good academic standing at the University. Students who elect to earn academic credit for their Internship experience must obtain approval from an internship faculty advisor. Internship faculty advisors work closely with The Career Center to help students articulate learning objectives and evaluate and grade the academic component of the experience. Students are asked to reflect on what was learned during the Internship. Academic departments may have additional requirements for credit-bearing internships.

Students not interested in obtaining academic credit for the experience will work closely with a career adviser from The Career Center. A prerequisite of sophomore standing (30 credits) is recommended. Students interested in obtaining an Internship, should make an appointment with an adviser at The Career Center.

Career Counseling and Assessment

National trends indicate that more than seventy percent of college students will change their academic major at least once. Career assessments, such as the Career Decision Scale, Strong Interest Inventory, Myers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI) and other online tools offer students insights into how one’s interests, personality, values and motivations impact academic and lifelong career goals and decisions.

Vocation and Career Workshops

Each year, more than 2500 students and alumni attend career education seminars. These hands-on workshops help students to see their lives as a vocation/calling, and prepare them for their internship and professional career searches or the graduate school application process. Workshops include: résumé and cover letter writing, interviewing techniques, preparing personal/career statements, using social media to network, and tips on networking and negotiating an offer.

Employer/Alumni Networking Events

The Career Center has forged strong partnerships with hiring employer organizations that specifically recruit Seton Hall students and alumni. Each year, hundreds of organizations attend on-campus career networking events, and/or recruit students and alumni for internship and full-time professional opportunities. Employers and alumni serve as career mentors and participate in networking events and on-campus interviewing throughout the year to identify talent for their organizations.

Career events target specific industry areas and include: Careers in Business Networking Event, the Finance Networking Forum, the Marketing Networking Forum, the Consumer Products Forum, the Internship and Career Fair, the Education Career Fair, the Healthcare Professions Career Fair, the Science Network Forum, the Communication Network Forum and the Nursing Recruiting Forum. The Career Center also participates in the annual Big East Career Fair in New York City.

eCareer Resources

The Career Center’s online system provides access to employment postings (i.e. internships, fellowships, part-time jobs and full-time professional employment opportunities). The Career Center tab within PirateNet offers access to this and other career tools and services such as Career Insider/Vault, CareerSpots videos, résumé samples, the “Career Guide,” career webinars and a résumé writing and interview preparation system.

Alumni

The Career Center provides career transition guidance to alumni and invites their involvement in professional networking events. As members of the Seton Hall University community, alumni stay involved by serving as industry experts at various career forums and recruiting students for internships and full-time professional employment opportunities. The Pirate Mentoring Program also offers alumni an opportunity to stay connected to students and fellow alumni by serving as career mentors.
Department of Athletics and Recreational Services
Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center, Second Floor
(973) 761-9498
Hours: Monday-Friday, 8:45 a.m.-6 p.m.
E-mail: athletics@shu.edu
www.shupirates.com

Mission Statement
The Seton Hall Department of Athletics and Recreational Services embraces its mission to promote the positive character-building attributes and life skills gained through intercollegiate athletics and recreational programs. We are also committed to demonstrating competitiveness in the BIG EAST Conference and on the national scene. The Department mirrors the University’s commitment to servant leadership and operates in conjunction with its overall mission, which focuses on academic and ethical development while enriching the mind, heart and spirit.

As part of an institution where the Catholic faith and intellectual tradition are celebrated, the Department of Athletics is dedicated to enriching the lives of its student-athletes. We recognize no gender, racial or ethnic barriers and provide quality opportunities and programs to ensure that every student-athlete reaches their maximum potential.

Athletics
The Department of Athletics and Recreational Services organizes, manages and promotes all intercollegiate and recreational sports activities at Seton Hall University, with the objective of enriching the educational experience of every involved student. On an intercollegiate level, the University competes in 14 sports, with approximately 230 student-athletes participating. Seton Hall is a charter member of the prestigious BIG EAST Conference, and competes on the NCAA Division I level in all sports.

Pirate athletics has enjoyed a rich tradition. In the last 25 years alone, the men’s basketball team has made nine NCAA Tournament appearances and advanced to four “Sweet-16’s,” two “Elite-8’s” and the 1989 National Championship game. The program also won three BIG EAST titles during the 1990s. The women’s basketball team competed in the NCAA Tournament in 1994 and 1995, advancing to the “Sweet-16” in 1994. The baseball, golf, men’s and women’s track, men’s soccer, softball and volleyball teams all have won BIG EAST titles. Student-athletes from the track, swimming and tennis programs have earned BIG EAST individual titles and have excelled at the national level.

Seton Hall student-athletes have been recognized for their athletic and academic achievements by being named to All-America, Academic All-America and All-BIG EAST Academic teams. Several athletes have been awarded postgraduate scholarships for their outstanding academic and athletic accomplishments. Most recently, Seton Hall’s first Rhodes Scholarship was awarded to a former student-athlete.

Seton Hall also has had a substantial impact in international competition. The University has been well-represented in recent Olympic Games, as coaches and athletes from the University participated in the 1992, 1996, 2000 and 2008 Summer Games.

Recreational Services
The University’s Recreational Services Program promotes health and wellness and encourages wise use of leisure time. It provides extensive programmed activities developed to complement the many “open-recreation” opportunities provided by the Recreation Center.

The intramural program is open to all students, and offers recreational and leisure sports activities such as leagues, tournaments and special events. Students can participate in flag football, basketball, volleyball, softball, soccer, tennis, hockey, road races and more.

Club sports at Seton Hall are available to students interested in a higher level of competition than intramurals in a sport not offered on the intercollegiate level. Clubs are organized, financed and run by the students with administrative assistance provided by Recreational Services. Current club sports include ice hockey, rugby, soccer, lacrosse and volleyball.

The offices of the Department of Athletics and Recreational Services are located in the Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center. Information about athletic programs may be obtained by calling (973) 761-9497. For information concerning intramurals, club sports or Recreation Center memberships, call (973) 761-9722.

Recreation Center Hours (during the Regular Session):
Sunday 11 a.m. – 10 p.m.
Monday – Thursday 7 a.m. – 10 p.m.
Friday 7 a.m. – 9 p.m.
Saturday 11 a.m. – 8 p.m.

Department of Student Life
Associate Vice President and Dean of Students:
Karen Van Norman, M.Ed.

Hours: Monday-Friday, 8:45 a.m.-4:45 p.m.
E-mail: karen.vannorman@shu.edu
http://www.shu.edu/offices/community-development/index.cfm

The Department of Student Life partners with students to develop and promote opportunities that celebrate unity. The department provides educational, social and leadership opportunities for all members of the Seton Hall University community, and encourages all students to create and take responsibility for the community in which they live. The department motivates and empowers students to succeed today and in the future. For more information, call (973) 761-9076.
Community Standards

Seton Hall seeks to create a community, through community standards, where rights and mutual responsibilities are both recognized and valued, where truth and Christian ideals are sought and lived. The University seeks to foster an environment of mutual respect and dignity for each member of its community of scholars and learners, and expects each person to take seriously his or her role in establishing such an environment. For details about the University’s community standards and process, please consult the Student Handbook available on the website.

Leadership Development

The department provides a student-focused environment that enhances creative expression, motivates students and organizations to achieve goals for individuals and groups, and enhances interpersonal connections with others. The department fosters collaboration among campus departments and student organizations toward the goal of presenting a comprehensive campus life program that facilitates social, educational, spiritual, cultural, cognitive and ethical development.

Student Government Association (SGA)

The Student Government Association is made up of the legislative (senate) and executive branches. Both branches are responsible for representing students, providing educational programs and allocating monies to clubs. Elected representatives from the schools/colleges and departments of the University make up the Student Senate. Student senators are elected to the University Senate, which addresses all legislative matters pertinent to the University. The executive branch is responsible for managing the student government and its organizations.

Student Activities Board (SAB)

The Student Activities Board is the central programming body that plans all activities on campus. Through its various committees, the board provides a variety of low-cost programs. Events, such as films, lectures, travel, recreation, special events, comedy, concerts and coffeehouses are sponsored by the SAB and organized through committees.

Student Organizations

Over 130 student clubs and organizations and more than 20 fraternities and sororities are recognized by the University. All of these groups are student-led and determined by student interest and activity. Details on each organization and its leadership are available on the Community Development section of the University’s website.

Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS)

Director: Katherine Evans, Ed.D.
Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) Mooney Hall, Second Floor (973) 761-9500 Hours: Monday-Friday, 8:45 a.m.-5 p.m. Evenings and early morning sessions by appointment http://www.shu.edu/offices/counseling-services/index.cfm Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) promotes student well-being by helping students overcome obstacles that may otherwise prevent them from attaining academic, personal and professional goals. Toward this mission, our trained professional staff of licensed and license-eligible staff psychologists and our psychiatrist provide a variety of psychological services as well as education, and general support to the campus community. All services are free and strictly confidential. CAPS is accredited by the International Association of Counseling Services. Services are consistent with the University’s Catholic mission.

Crisis Services

In the event of a personal crisis, students may contact CAPS directly or call the Department of Public Safety and Security at (973) 761-9300 or 911 on campus. After hours, for health emergencies the 911 system activates an immediate response by EMTs, local police, and the Department of Public Safety and Security. Counseling professionals can be paged by the Department of Public Safety and Security to assist with urgent psychological crises after regular business hours (evenings and weekends).

Therapeutic Services

Psychological services are available to all enrolled undergraduate, graduate, seminary and law students. Services offered include – but are not limited to – the following: short-term individual counseling, group counseling, crisis intervention, psychiatric consultation, psychological evaluation and assessment, and sexual assault/trauma survivor support services. Referrals for longer term treatment in the larger community are also provided. The office is open from 8:45 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. To make an appointment, call (973) 761-9500 or come to CAPS on the second floor of Mooney Hall, room 27. Usually students will have their first appointment within a few days of when they call or come in. Students in crisis are seen immediately. After the initial interview, regular appointments can be conveniently scheduled. All services are free and strictly confidential.

Group Counseling and Therapy

CAPS offers a variety of counseling groups. Group counseling is a type of psychotherapy that provides the opportunity for small groups of students to share common concerns, explore personal issues, and learn new skills.
Some groups typically offered throughout the academic year include Interpersonal Group, Transitions (for freshmen only), Men’s Group, Family Matters, Journey through Grief, Managing Moods, and Anxiety and Stress Management.

http://www.shu.edu/offices/health-services/index.cfm

Health Services is a campus medical facility that is accredited by the Accreditation Association for Ambulatory Health Care (AAAHC). The Health Services staff assists students in achieving and maintaining optimal health. The staff provides primary medical care emphasizing health education.

The office provides a full range of primary care services, including assessment and treatment of acute illness, laboratory tests, allergy injections, treatment for sports injuries, men’s and women’s health care and immunizations. Commonly prescribed medicines are available for purchase. Referrals to specialists are available as necessary. Health Services supports the larger University community by serving as a clinical placement site for the School of Health and Medical Sciences and the College of Nursing.

Required Health Records and Immunizations

Health Services complies with New Jersey laws, the recommendations of the Centers for Disease Control and University policy by requiring all matriculated students to meet specified health requirements. The Health Form can be accessed via the department website. Failure to submit required health history and vaccine data will result in a registration hold.

Mandatory Health Insurance

All full-time students must carry health insurance. Full-time students who do not submit an electronic waiver form (located on PirateNet) will be automatically enrolled in the University-Sponsored Student Health Insurance Plan. For plan information and waiver deadlines, please review information on the website. Contact Student Services (973) 761-9075 if further information is needed.

Student Complaint Procedure and Designated Consumer Officials

United States Department of Education Regulation 34 CFR 600.9, the “Program Integrity Rule,” was adopted to ensure that students have the opportunity to voice concerns relating to programs offered by postsecondary educational institutions authorized under Title IV of the Higher Education Act, as amended.

Student (or prospective students) complaints should be filed to the respective office/department or through the appropriate grievance process. These processes may be found in this catalogue or the Student Handbook, available on the University website. In addition, the University has designated the following administrators as consumer information officials. For assistance with filing a complaint or for questions pertaining to various aspects of student life, students (or prospective students) are encouraged to contact the following:

Academic Affairs:
Larry A. Robinson, Provost and Executive Vice President, Presidents Hall, (973) 761-9655

Enrollment Services:
Alyssa McCloud, Vice President for Enrollment Management, Bayley Hall, (973) 275-2577

Student Records:
Mary Ellen Farrell, University Registrar, Bayley Hall, (973) 275-2293

Student Services:
Karen Van Norman, Associate Vice President for Student Services and Dean of Students, Bishop Dougherty University Center, (973) 762-9076

If the complaint is not satisfactorily resolved through the proper University channels, then in compliance with the federal government’s Program Integrity regulations (34 C.F.R. §668.43), students (or prospective students) may then file a complaint with the University’s accreditor and/or with its State approval or licensing entity and any other relevant State official or agency that would appropriately handle such a complaint. Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center

Director: Monica Burnette, M.A.
Arts and Sciences room 202
(973) 761-9108

Hours: Monday-Friday 8:45 - 4:45
arc@shu.edu

The Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center (ARC) is located in Arts and Sciences Hall. The ARC is a resource for all Seton Hall students who wish to maximize their academic potential by engaging with a learning community that consists of peers, graduate teaching assistants, faculty and administrators.

All students are encouraged to take advantage of the ARC’s free tutorial services, which are designated to supplement classroom instruction and improve academic achievement and performance. ARC tutoring programs offer students the option to schedule appointments in advance, drop in for assistance, or attend group review sessions. Tutoring is available in disciplines such as business, education, humanities, mathematics, nursing, science, and modern languages. Schedules and announcements are accessible on the ARC web pages. The ARC provides skill-building seminars, study skills workshops, online resources, and tutoring events to further support student success.

The ARC is also responsible for managing the electronic Early Alert System, which allows faculty and staff to notify their students, academic advisers, and campus resources when a student is either facing academic or personal challenges, or demonstrating strong performance. Increased communication between faculty and staff is a proven strategy for increasing student success and completion.

For more information, please call (973) 761-9108 or send an e-mail to ARC@shu.edu

Freshman Studies

Every entering student wants to succeed. Success is measured in many ways, but at Seton Hall University we envision a type of success where individuals are at their best socially and academically. The University aims to instill in its students a vision that involves forming students to be servant leaders in a global society.

The Freshman Studies Program, beginning its 30th year in Fall 2015, is an award-winning academic advising program designed to initiate students into this kind of success. The particular objectives of this crucial first year experience are:

• to help students adjust to life on a college campus;
• to assist in creating a social network; and
• to ensure that each student receives the best academic support available.

Freshman Studies uses three elements to accomplish these objectives: the Mentor, the Peer Adviser and the University Life course.

Mentors

During the University’s Pirate Adventure orientation, students meet the mentors in Freshman Studies. The mentors are highly trained professionals whose primary responsibility is to provide a constant resource person throughout a student’s first year at Seton Hall University.

Mentors teach the University Life Course that all freshmen take in order to ensure a regular academic contact. Mentors help students take advantage of the many resources available at Seton Hall, including Academic Support Services,
The Career Center, Health/Counseling Services, Campus Ministry and the many activities in Student Affairs. Mentors also ensure that students are connected to their chosen departments, and that the particular academic experience within each major happens according to plan. Students who are “undecided” as to their major when they enter Seton Hall are provided additional resources to assist in clarifying career and professional goals. All students are encouraged, through formal programming and informal meetings, to connect to an academic department as soon as they feel comfortable. Every effort is made to place students into a major by the end of their first year.

The primary goal of the mentors is to assist students in making choices regarding an academic program, while simultaneously integrating students into the life and community of the University.

Peer Advisers

Each first-year student is assigned a specially selected and trained peer adviser. The peer adviser, a successful undergraduate student representing the various schools and colleges in the University, works in tandem with mentors to provide “firsthand” insight to the student. It is vital that new students connect to the existing student body. Peer advisers provide an immediate resource in accomplishing this objective. Peer advisers serve as “big-brothers” and “big-sisters,” working to ensure personal support and assistance to each person in our entering class.

The University Life Course

Each first-year student is enrolled in a 1-credit academic course required for graduation that meets during the first semester. This University Life Course, taught by the mentor with assistance from the peer adviser, meets once a week for 50 minutes. The objectives are:

- to provide an academic context for resolving and planning academic and personal success;
- to integrate computer technology into regular classroom instruction;
- to familiarize students with University resources and opportunities;
- to improve reading and writing skills as well as analytical thinking; and
- to help meet the mission at Seton Hall University in “forming students to be servant leaders in a global society.”

First Semester of Coursework

The major programs in the University have common requirements for beginning students. This core curriculum, in combination with a declared interest or major, makes up the courses of the first term. Most entering students take five classes and the University Life Course. Because most courses meet three times a week for 50 minutes or twice a week for 75 minutes and the University Life Course meets once a week for 50 minutes, the majority of Seton Hall students have a course load of 16 credits. Students who are admitted on a probationary basis, or who have other time constraints to consider, will take a course load of approximately four courses or 12 credits.

Freshman Studies is located in Mooney Hall on the University Green. Contact the office at (973) 761-9740 or visit the Web site at http://www.shu.edu/offices/freshman-studies-index.cfm

Supplemental Instruction

Coordinator: Brandon Larmore
(973) 275-2160

Supplemental Instruction (SI) provides peer-led support by having students who have succeeded in traditionally difficult academic courses guide other students to successfully complete these courses. Supplemental Instruction requires close collaboration among the SI Coordinator, faculty members and SI instructors. SI is a non-remedial approach that provides regular review sessions outside of the classroom in which students work together to discuss readings, compare notes, predict test items, and share ideas for improving understanding and application of the material.

The Transfer Student Center

Director: Hezal Patel
Mooney Hall room 15
(973) 275-2387
Hours: Monday-Friday, 8:45 a.m. - 4:45 p.m.
transfercenter@shu.edu

The Transfer Center is the “home base” for transfer students. This should be the first stop for all transfer students who will then be assisted by an adviser in the Center or referred to an adviser in the appropriate academic department. Our transfer student advisers work closely with our Registrar’s Office, Admissions and academic departments to insure that our transfer students’ transcripts are in order and to provide accurate academic advising. They also provide individual guidance and referrals to meet the academic, social and emotional needs of our transfer students. Transfer students are encouraged to visit the Transfer Center where they will be greeted by enthusiastic seasoned advisers who are prepared to assist them with any concerns they have.
The Sophomore Center

Adviser: Megan Hall
Mooney Hall room 14
(973) 275-2105
Hours: Monday – Friday 8:45 a.m. – 4:45 p.m.
sophomorecenter@shu.edu

Our Sophomore Center is designed to help our second year students make productive choices that will lead them to graduation. The Sophomore Center provides resources, guidance and academic advising, especially for students who are still unsure about a major or who have changed their minds about their career goals. Students in transition will find a home for their second year by visiting the Sophomore Center.

Academic Success Center and Pre-Major Advising

Adviser: Joan Brennan
Mooney Hall room 14
(973) 275-2595
Hours: Monday – Friday 8:45 a.m. – 4:45 p.m.
academicsuccess@shu.edu

Our Academic Success Center (ASC) provides academic services to any student who has completed more than 30 credits and who is either “tracking” a major or still unsure of a major. The ASC adviser provides students with academic advising, the procedure for declaring a major, and the academic requirements required to declare a major. Guidance is provided to students transitioning to a new major; support is offered to students having difficulty maintaining a GPA for scholarship eligibility or who are on academic probation and assistance is available for creation of a year-by-year academic plan for graduation. Students who find themselves with more than 30 credits who are still in pursuit of a declared major will receive support and referrals from the adviser in the Academic Success Center.

The Educational Opportunity Program (EOP)

The Educational Opportunity Program (EOP) is a special scholars program that seeks to provide access and opportunity to New Jersey residents who demonstrate significant academic promise and a strong desire to want to succeed at the next level. Students who are admitted into EOP will receive a variety of student support services, which include: pre-freshman student Summer program, academic year tutoring and academic support, counseling, academic advisement, professional development, Summer program support for upperclassmen, and the ability to receive individualized attention toward helping students recognize and reach their personal and professional goals.

Annually, admission into EOP remains competitive and students are highly encouraged to apply early. To apply to the program, students must submit an application for admission to Seton Hall University and should contact either the admissions office or EOP. A personal interview is required as part of the application procedure. Each scholar is reviewed annually for eligibility to receive financial aid support from both Seton Hall University and from the State of New Jersey’s Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF). The parameters to determine financial eligibility are established annually by the State of New Jersey’s Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF). Unfortunately, due to limited number of seats and scholarships offered, not every eligible student is admitted or may receive an EOF Grant. All admitted students must abide by the policies and procedures as outlined in their student agreement form. Additional inquiries about the program should be directed to the Education Opportunity Program office.

Army ROTC

The Department of Military Science contributes to Seton Hall University’s mission of developing and educating global, adaptable, strategic thinking and flexible servant leaders of tomorrow by administering the Army Reserve Officers’ Training Corps (ROTC) Program. Through the ROTC Program’s coursework and practical experience, students will develop decision-making, team-building, and time-management skills—leadership qualities that are essential to success in any field and are highly valued in the private sector. The program provides an opportunity to examine service in the Army while earning a baccalaureate degree. A student who completes the program may earn a commission in the Regular Army, Army Reserve, or National Guard. Students may participate in the first two years of Army ROTC with no commitment to military service. Completing the program guarantees a student a job upon graduation serving in career fields such as the Nurse Corps, Aviation, Engineer, Infantry, Military Intelligence, and Signal Corps to name a few. Students may choose to major in any academic discipline as long as it leads toward a baccalaureate or graduate degree.

Cross-Enrollment
Students attending one of the 23 affiliated universities in the northern New Jersey area may cross-enroll, participate and complete the ROTC program through Seton Hall University. Classes are held on the campus of Seton Hall University. Cross-enrolled students may take ROTC courses for credit or no credit. However, in order to transfer credits from Seton Hall to their respective academic colleges, students must pay for the credits at Seton Hall.

The Army ROTC program is divided into two parts, the Basic Course and the Advanced Course.

Basic Course
The basic course consists of the first two years of the program, typically completed in the freshman and sophomore years. The first year focuses on the Army profession, basic leadership and officership. The second year concentrates on the experiential examination of managing, decision-making, and group dynamics. Students are placed in a wide variety of group exercises designed to emphasize various professional leadership competencies and insights. These events are held both inside the classroom and in outdoor settings. The instructor, acting as a facilitator, helps guide student processing, or after-action reviews of the events to derive the leadership, group dynamics, and problem-solving lessons that the exercises offer. Practical “life skills” are emphasized throughout the two years. By the end of the Basic Course, students should possess a basic understanding of the unique aspects of leading, individual physical fitness, and a healthy lifestyle. The lessons are designed to explore leadership principles and theories, inspire intellectual curiosity, and stimulate self-study. Upon completion of the course, students are eligible to enter the advanced course.

The basic course imposes no military obligation on the part of students. Basic course requirements also can be fulfilled through attendance at ROTC Leadership Training Course or LTC (a twenty-eight day training course held each Summer) or by having prior military service. LTC can count as an internship awarding a student with credits applicable toward a degree with prior approval by the student’s academic adviser. Basic course requirements also can be waived, on a case-by-case basis, by the Professor of Military Science for students who participated in a Junior ROTC High School Program.

Advanced Course
The advanced course is for students in their junior and senior years, or with four semesters of graduate school remaining. Course work includes military history and ethics, leadership development, tactics and national security issues and concerns. The advanced course also includes a requirement to attend a five-week Leadership Development Assessment Course (LDAC), held during the Summer between the junior and senior years, in which the student is further trained and evaluated for leadership potential. While at LDAC, students receive pay, travel expenses and benefits. LDAC can count as an internship awarding a student with credits applicable toward a degree with prior approval by the student’s academic adviser.

In keeping with the military’s demanding challenges, physical fitness is an important part of the ROTC experience. All Cadets participate in supervised physical training designed to gradually bring individuals to a high level of health and fitness.

Four-, Three-, or Two-Year Programs
Graduate or undergraduate students can complete the ROTC requirements through a four-year, three-year, or two-year program. The four-year and three-year programs involve the basic and advanced courses; the two-year program involves only the advanced course. The core coursework includes 16 to 26 credits in topics such as the art and science of leadership, ethics, values, integrity, honor, problem solving skills, military history, physical training, and adventure training. Depending on the student’s degree program, a maximum of 26 credits in ROTC courses may be applied to the bachelor’s degree, with the approval of the student’s academic adviser.

Four-Year Program
The four-year program is divided into two parts, the basic course and the advanced course. The basic course is typically completed in the first two years of college. Unless a student has accepted a scholarship, the basic course is voluntary and all students are eligible. After completing the basic course, students who meet the physical and academic standards, and have demonstrated leadership potential, contract into the advanced course. The advanced course includes four consecutive semesters of coursework and completion of the Leader Development Assessment Course (LDAC). LDAC is a paid six-week leadership course conducted at Fort Lewis, Washington. Typically students attend LDAC during the Summer after the first year of the advance course.

Three-Year Program
The three-year program is designed for students who want to start ROTC as sophomores or graduate students with six semesters remaining required to complete their degree. Students complete the basic course in one year instead of two then complete the advance course in due course. This method is referred to as compression. Students completing the basic course as compression students go on to contract in the advanced course.

Two-Year Program
The two-year program enables eligible students to contract in the advanced course at the time they are academic juniors or seniors, or graduate students with four semesters remaining before graduation. Eligible students are those with one or more of the following:

- Prior service in the military
- Member of the National Guard or Reserve with basic training completed
• Completion of three or more years of Junior ROTC in high school
• Completion of the Army ROTC Leader’s Training Course (LTC)
• Qualified, selected, and completed an accelerated commissioning program.

Students who are members of the National Guard or Army Reserve can participate in the Simultaneous Membership Program (SMP), which provides additional income and the opportunity to serve in a leadership position in the student’s unit of choice.

Students eligible for the two-year program may complete requirements for their commission in two years. Students in the two-year program are fully eligible for financial assistance and may apply for an Army scholarship.

Benefits
The ROTC Program offers the best leadership course to college students with or without military experience.

Personal Development
The program allows students to gain the confidence to lead and manage while improving self-discipline, physical fitness, and mental and physical endurance. Learning how to lead effectively and efficiently is a marketable asset.

Scholarships
A wide variety of scholarships are available and application can be made at anytime during the year. Scholarships range from two to four years in duration with extensions possible for high demanding majors, such as nursing or engineering. Scholarships provide full coverage of either tuition and mandatory fees or room and board. Scholarship recipients choose to apply their scholarship toward tuition or room/board (not both). It also includes $1200 per year for books and fees. Two-year scholarships are available for members of the National Guard and Army Reserve. These scholarships feature continued reserve duty after commissioning and guaranteed branching in the student’s unit. Scholarships for two to four years are also available and include duty in the Active Army after commissioning.

For Students Majoring in Nursing
Students who accept an Army Nurse Scholarship and are pursuing a Nursing degree through Seton Hall University can receive a room and board incentive. Seton Hall University provides this incentive to qualified Army Nurse Scholarship students who are in good standing with the ROTC Program and Nursing Program.

Guaranteed Job after Graduation
Upon commissioning, students have a full time job in the Active Army or part time job in the National Guard or Army Reserve. The military obligation of service is eight years after commissioning (four years Active Army or eight years in the National Guard or Army Reserve). The type of obligation is determined at the time of contracting in the advanced course and based on the type of scholarships a student selects. Students are selected for a specific branch depending on factors such as their interest, academic achievement, Leader Development Assessment Course (LDAC) performance rating, and the needs of the Army.

Income
All contracted students receive a monthly stipend: $300 for freshmen, $350 for sophomores, $450 for juniors or first year advanced course students, $500 for seniors or second year advanced course students. Contracted students receive a stipend for ten months of the year. Students with prior service, SMP Cadets, and members of the National Guard or Army Reserve may be eligible for the Montgomery GI Bill (MGIB) benefits, financial assistance or reimbursement for tuition, and an additional monthly incentive.

Please contact the Department of Military Science for more information concerning the program or Army scholarships: (973) 761-9446; 313-6255/6256; 699-0325 or on the web at http://armyrotc.com/edu/setonhall/index.htm

Course Descriptions

Basic Course

ROTC 1010 or ROTC 0110 Leadership and Personal Development
Introduces students to the personal challenges and competencies that are critical for effective leadership. Instructors explain and illustrate how the personal development of life skills such as critical thinking, goal setting, time management, physical fitness, and stress management relate to leadership (in both the civilian and military environment), officerdom, the Army profession, and daily life. Leadership principles within the current context of a university are emphasized. Application is also made to leadership in military and civilian settings that include government, corporate, and non-profit organizations. Corequisite: ROTC 5500 or ROTC 0550 Leadership Laboratory and ROTC 1115 or ROTC 0115 Physical Fitness. 2/0 credits

ROTC 1012 or ROTC 0112 Introduction to Tactical Leadership
Overviews leadership fundamentals such as setting direction, problem-solving, listening, presenting briefs, providing feedback, and using effective writing skills. Students explore dimensions of leadership values, attributes, skills, and actions in the context of practical, hands-on, and interactive exercises and scenarios. Students apply learning to their immediate university context as well as to a variety of military, government, corporate, and non-profit situations. Corequisite: ROTC 5501 or ROTC 0551 Leadership Laboratory and ROTC 1125 or ROTC 0125 Physical Fitness. 2/0 credits

ROTC 2020 or ROTC 0220 Innovative Team Leadership
Explores the dimensions of creative and innovative tactical leadership strategies and styles by examining team dynamics and two historical leadership theories that form the basis of much of modern leadership frameworks (trait and behavior theories). Students practice aspects of personal motivation and team building in the context of planning, executing, and assessing team exercises and participating in leadership labs. Students study historical leaders from a variety of backgrounds: from Lincoln, Grant, and Lee to Gandhi, Kennedy, and Mother Theresa. Corequisite: ROTC 5502 or ROTC 0552 Leadership Laboratory and ROTC 1135 or ROTC 0135 Physical Fitness. 3/0 credits

ROTC 2022 or ROTC 0222 Foundations of Tactical Leadership
Examines the challenges of leading teams in complex contemporary operating environments. Instructors highlight course of action development, analysis, the execution of orders, and the achievement of mission success. Students develop greater self awareness as they assess their own leadership styles and practice communication and team building skills while studying the theoretical basis of situational and contingent leadership. Students analyze recent and historical military case studies to gain insight into the importance and practice of teamwork and techniques in real-world scenarios. Parallels are drawn to the competitive and cross-cultural environments of most modern corporations. Corequisite: ROTC 5503 or ROTC 0553 Leadership Laboratory and ROTC 1145 or ROTC 0145 Physical Fitness. 3/0 credits

ROTC 3030 or ROTC 0330 Adaptive Tactical Leadership
Challenges students to study, practice, and evaluate adaptive leadership skills as they are presented with complex scenarios related to the contemporary operating environment and across the full spectrum of military, corporate, and civic operations. Instructors and fellow students give students systematic and specific feedback on their leadership attributes and actions as they are applied in a variety of situations. Self-evaluations also allow students to develop their leadership skills and critical thinking abilities. Corequisite: ROTC 5504 or ROTC 0554 Leadership Laboratory and ROTC 1155 or ROTC 0155 Physical Fitness. 3/0 credits

ROTC 3032 or ROTC 0332 Leadership in Changing Environments
Presents increasingly intense situational leadership challenges to build student awareness and skills in leading small teams of people. Students explore, evaluate, and develop skills in decision-making, persuading, and motivating team members across a full spectrum of military, corporate, and civic operations. Apply principles and techniques of effective written and oral communication. Instructors review aspects of military operations as a means of preparing students for the ROTC Leader Development and Assessment Course (LDAC). Corequisite: ROTC 5505 or ROTC 0555 Leadership Laboratory and ROTC 1165 or ROTC 0165 Physical Fitness. 3/0 credits

ROTC 4040 or ROTC 0440 Developing Adaptive Leaders
Strengthens student proficiency in planning, executing, and assessing complex operations while functioning as a member of a staff and providing performance feedback to subordinates. Students assess risk, make ethical and moral decisions, identify responsibilities of key staff members, coordinate staff roles, and use situational opportunities to lead, teach, train, and develop junior ROTC Cadets. Apply leadership and problem solving principles to a complex case study and simulation. Lessons on military and civil justice and personnel processes prepare students to make the transition to their initial leadership positions. Prerequisite: ROTC 3030 or ROTC 0330. Corequisite: ROTC 5506 or ROTC 0556 Leadership Laboratory and ROTC 1175 or ROTC 0175 Physical Fitness. 3/0 credits

ROTC 4042 or ROTC 0442 Leadership in a Complex World
Explores the dynamics of leading in the complicated situations of current operations in the contemporary operating environment (COE) of the global village. Students examine differences in customs and courtesies, culture, military law, principles of war, and rules of engagement in the face of international terrorism. They also explore aspects of interacting with non-government organizations, engaging in civil duties, and host nation support. Instructors place significant emphasis on preparing Cadets for their first unit of assignment. Case studies, scenarios, and exercises prepare Cadets to face the complex ethical and practical demands of leading organizations of varied sizes to succeed in a global and complex world. Prerequisite: ROTC 3030 or ROTC 0330. Corequisite: ROTC 5507 or ROTC 0557 Leadership Laboratory and ROTC 1185 or ROTC 0185 Physical Fitness. 3/0 credits

ROTC 5500-5507 or ROTC 0550-0557 Leadership Laboratory: Applied Leadership and Management
Leadership Laboratory is designed to provide students the environment and scenarios to lead organizations of varied sizes (from team to company size). It offers the opportunity to apply leadership and management principles, theories, and techniques explored in the formal classroom military science courses. By design, the Leadership Labs are progressive and sequential, where students are placed in increasing complex scenarios. This is a 2-hour session. All students accepted as Cadets in the ROTC program are required to enroll in this course. 1/0 credit

ROTC 1115, 1125, 1135, 1145, 1155, 1165, 1175, 1185 or ROTC 0115, 0125, 0135, 0145, 0155, 0165, 0175, 0185

Physical Fitness: Developing Personal and Organizational Physical Fitness Programs
This is a one-hour physical fitness session focused on building the physical and mental strength and endurance of each student. While it uses the Army Physical Fitness Standard to develop fitness goals, the program concentrates on developing, sustaining, and continually improving each student’s cardiovascular, upper body, and abdominal strength. The program also provides opportunities for students to lead and manage their own and their assigned organization’s fitness program toward fitness excellence. All students accepted as Cadets in the ROTC program are required to enroll in this course. Prerequisite: Medical evaluation and clearance. 1/0 credit

Independent Study and Elective Courses

ROTC 1600 or ROTC 0600 Applied Leadership
Independent study of applied leadership through internships and special projects. Offered: Fall. Prerequisite: Department approval. 4/0 credits

ROTC 1620 or ROTC 0620 Leadership in the 21st Century
Independent study of the demands of leadership in today’s Army and the Army of the future. Offered: Spring. Prerequisite: Department approval. 4/0 credits

ROTC 5412 Seminar Leadership/Ethics
Designed to explore the legal aspects of moral decision making and ethical leadership. Cadets learn to explore leadership theories that foster an ethical behavior and command climate, develop confidence and leadership competencies, recognize leader responsibility to accommodate subordinate spiritual needs, and apply principles and techniques of effective written and oral communication. Prerequisite: Department approval. 3 credits

For Nursing Majors Only

NUCL 4210 Nurse Summer Training Program Clinical
This elective course is offered through the College of Nursing. See course description and prerequisites in the College of Nursing section of this catalogue. 3 credits

Mission:
“To Challenge, Build, Develop, Expose and Assist.”

The Upward Bound Project at Seton Hall University is a Pre-College program that provides the skills necessary for post secondary success.
The Project assists students with participation in:
• enriching skill proficiency in key component areas (English, reading, writing, mathematics and science);
• enhancing the development of skills needed in studying, writing, critical thinking, research, use of computers, and test preparedness;
• increasing motivation to learn and achieve academic excellence;
• developing career goals and increasing the awareness of career options;
• thinking positively about themselves;
• fostering growth and ability as student leaders; and
• working toward acceptance and completion of a four-year college or university.

The Project combines federal, state, and private funding to offer a variety of academic, counseling, and cultural enrichment activities for low income first generation students in grades 9-12. The academic curriculum is a Competency Based Initiative and conforms to High School Proficiency Assessment, as well as the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards. The Project offers a six-week non-residential Summer program and an 18-week (Saturday and after school programming) academic year program for 126 students from the cities of Newark, Irvington, and East Orange, New Jersey. In addition to student programming, the Project promotes parental involvement through its Parents Association. This group is an independent body and operates in an advisory capacity. The Association meets monthly during the academic year.

Funding sources include the U.S. Department of Education, the United States Department of Agriculture (New Jersey Summer Foods Program), and the Mayor’s Office of Employment in East Orange and Newark, NJ.
University Core

The University Core is the official curriculum for students. This Core is composed of unique signature courses and a system of proficiency distributions ensuring that each graduating student has encountered key skill sets (such as numeracy, writing, and critical thinking) in a minimum number of courses. The University Core requirements are in addition to individual school or college curriculum requirements.

First-time, full-time freshmen entering the University will be held to the graduation requirements listed in this catalogue, including the 120-credit minimum requirement. Depending upon the student’s major and other factors, some students will need to complete more than the 120-credit minimum in order to complete the University, school or college, and major requirements. Transfer students entering the University in Fall 2015 will participate in the new University Core and will be responsible for the requirements in the 2015-2016 catalogue, including the 120-credit minimum requirement.

Transfer students who have completed fewer than 30 credits are responsible for the entire University Core, including all three signature courses. Note: Transfer students should register for the sections of Journey of Transformation, CORE1101 specifically designated for transfer students. The first signature course will be waived for transfer students who have completed at least 30 credits but fewer than 60
Credits; these transfer students will be required to take the second and third signature courses. Transfer students who have completed at least 60 credits or have an Associates Degree will have the first two signature courses waived. The third-year signature course and the major capstone are required of all students.

Returning students are required to follow the Core requirements in the catalogue under which they were admitted.

Students may seek advisement from the Director of the Core or from the Academic Success and Transfer Center in Mooney Hall. The Academic Success and Transfer Center advises both transfer students and students who are continuing their studies at Seton Hall.

The Signature Courses are to be taken in sequence, CORE 1101 is a prerequisite for CORE 2101, and CORE 2101 is a prerequisite for CORE 3XXX. The first two courses, Journey of Transformation and Christianity and Culture in Dialogue, are University-wide common courses taken by all Seton Hall undergraduates. The third course, CORE 3XXX Engaging the World (ETW), continues the conversation of the first two courses, but is offered within the departments. Students are not required to take the third course in their major, but may do so if they prefer.

Note: All CORE 3XXX courses are cross-listed with the department offering the course. Students can register for either the CORE section or the department section to receive credit within the department. However, they must register for the course with the CORE 3XXX designation if they want the course to fulfill the University CORE requirement.

The “core proficiencies” are an integral part of the CORE experience at Seton Hall, providing students with the tools for lifelong learning and equipping them for life beyond college. All sections of CORE 1101, CORE 2101, ENGL 1201 and ENGL 1202 are proficiency infused. The CORE proficiencies are: Critical Thinking, Information Fluency, Numeracy, Oral Communication, and Reading/Writing.

Students are required to take a total of 10 infused courses by the time they graduate; this total includes the University core courses (Signature I and II, CORE English I and II). Students are not required to have had a course with each proficiency by graduation, although this is strongly recommended.

Transfer students entering the University in Fall 2013 and after with fewer than 30 credits must complete the core proficiency requirement. Transfer students entering the University in Fall 2013 and after will be required to take the following number of infused courses:

- Students entering with fewer than 30 credits must complete the full requirement of 10 infused courses by graduation.
- Students entering with 30 to 60 credits are required to complete 1/2 the number of infused courses required (5).
- Students entering with more than 60 credits are required to complete 1/3 the number of infused courses required (3).

CORE 1001 University Life

Each first-year student is enrolled in a 1-credit academic course that meets during the first semester. The University Life Course, taught by the mentor with assistance from the peer adviser, meets once a week for 50 minutes. The objectives are:

- to provide an academic context for resolving and planning academic and personal success;
- to integrate computer technology into regular classroom instruction;
- to familiarize students with University resources and opportunities;
- to improve reading and writing skills as well as analytical thinking; and
- to help meet the mission at Seton Hall University in “forming students to be servant leaders in a global society.”

Corequisite: CORE 1101. 1 credit

CORE 1101 Journey of Transformation

This first signature course in the University CORE, generally taken by first year students in the Fall semester, seeks to forge a community of conversation inspired to explore perennial questions central but not exclusive to the Catholic intellectual tradition. People throughout the different cultures and traditions of the world strive to understand the transcendent mysteries of the human journey that are addressed by the world’s religions, philosophies, art, music and literature. The first signature course invites students into this conversation via some of the great texts and other cultural artifacts that focus on transformative journeys as they are portrayed in Catholic, Greek, Islamic, Hindu and other traditions. Students are asked to reflect upon their own transformative experiences and envision their personal journeys. Classes meet twice a week for 75 minutes.

Corequisite: CORE 1001. 3 credits

CORE 2101 Christianity and Culture in Dialogue

This course is taken by second year students in the Spring semester as part of the University Core. CORE 2101 considers the relationship between Christianity and culture through an approach based on principles of dialogue, development, and community. Texts from the Christian tradition paired with texts from non-Christian traditions demonstrate direct connections across cultures that influence the development of the Catholic intellectual tradition. The course seeks to foster the development of a community of conversation through a focus on key questions and significant texts that address these questions. Prerequisites: 30 credits, CORE 1101. 3 credits

CORE 3XXX Engaging the World (ETW)

Course numbers are specific to departmental offerings. See course descriptions below. The third signature courses are discipline-specific and link the general principles of the Catholic intellectual tradition to the various disciplines. In this way, questions emerging from the first two signature courses find applications to the disciplines and professions taught at the University. Students generally take this course in either the Fall or Spring semester of the junior year. All University courses listed as CORE 3XXX satisfy this requirement. Prerequisites: 60 credits and CORE 2101.

3 credits

Core English
Coordinator: Nancy Enright, Ph.D.

ENGL 1201 Core English I
Structured exercises in writing and revising short essays based on themes suggested by representative readings. Prerequisite: satisfactory score on required placement test or ENGL 0100 or 0150 as appropriate. 3 credits

ENGL 1202 Core English II
Introduction to literature through representative readings in the three major genres of fiction, poetry, and drama. Training in methods of library research and the mechanics of citation, quotation, and paraphrase in the writing of longer research papers. Prerequisite: ENGL 1201. 3 credits

Catholic Studies

CORE 3373 (CAST 2422, ENGL 3422) Catholic Literature and Film
This course is concerned with the translation of specifically Catholic literature into film. We shall be examining seven texts in the course, all of which have been adapted for the screen. We shall be reading five novels, one play, and a collection of sermons. The collection of the sermons of the late Archbishop of San Salvador Oscar Romero is not directly parallel to the film bearing his name, Romero but the spirit of the sermons is deeply reflected in the filmed depiction of the man. All the other works have been intentionally adapted into their filmed counterparts. 3 credits

CORE 3722 (CAST 2410) Bible as Literature
This course studies literary qualities of the Bible with attention to its poetic and narrative modes. It provides an in-depth exploration of the ways in which biblical literary forms, biblical themes, and biblical images influence American and European literatures. 3 credits

CORE 3745 (CAST 3320) Chesterton, Lewis and the Sacramental Tradition
This course examines the works of two of the most prominent 20th century British Christian writers. Although both authors are renowned as apologists, the course focuses upon their imaginative writings and how these served as invaluable expressions of their thought and spiritual vision. Works considered include Chesterton’s novel, The Man Who Was Thursday and Lewis’ novels, Out of the Silent Planet and Till We Have Faces. 3 credits

CORE 3746 (CAST 3940) Catholic Classics and Interiority
This course flows from the Seton Hall University Core and endeavors to flesh out the meaning of “the Catholic intellectual tradition.” Its aim is to analyze the Catholic classics in the light of human interiority, particularly the human passion for meaning, for the good and for God. 3 credits

CORE 3747 (CAST 2011) Catholicism and Art
This course will study the role of art in Christian history as well as contemporary Catholic attitudes towards artistic creation and appreciation. It will consider various examples of early Christian, Byzantine, medieval, Renaissance and Baroque art. It will also consider the relationship between Catholicism and “modern” art and what recent cultural studies have called “the Catholic imagination.” Visiting speakers will address the class on various aspects of Catholicism and art through the centuries. We will also try to arrange some class trips. 3 credits

CORE 3748 (CAST 3994) Foundations of Christian Culture
Drawing from a variety of sources (historical, literary, philosophical and theological) this course examines the origins and nature of Christian culture, exploring in particular the value of culture itself as an aspect of revelation and incarnation. The course offers some answers from the contemporary Christian tradition to the ancient questions: How am I meant to understand the world? How am I meant to understand myself? This course is part of the Catholic Studies foreign study tour program. 3 credits

CORE 3749 (CAST 3749) The Philosophy and Theology of Bernard Lonergan
This course will treat the life and work of the Canadian philosopher/theologian Bernard Lonergan from his early days to his later manuscripts on economic theory. It will outline the early influences on his thought – Newman, Plato, Augustine, Aquinas – as well as the influence of the modern sciences and historical scholarship. It will present the broad outlines of his theory of consciousness with an emphasis on self-appropriation. The relevance of his thought to the fields of education, philosophy, history, economics and theology will be highlighted. 3 credits

CORE 3750 (CAST 3015) Catholicism and Literature
Christianity is literally the religion of the Word, and Catholic writers have been expressing, exploring and communicating the mystery of “the Word made flesh” for two thousand years in every genre of the literary arts. The course will examine this legacy of “artful theology” in its many variations and in its constant features. Representative authors and works from different epochs will be examined both in their socio-historical context and for their enduring theological and spiritual significance. 3 credits
CORE 3751 (CAST 3017) Saints Alive!
The course examines the lives and struggles of famous Saints as seen through the lens of contemporary film-makers and playwrights. 3 credits

CORE 3752 (CAST 3016) Global Christianity
This course explores the distinctive characteristics of non-western forms of Christianity in the Middle East and Egypt, Africa, the Caucasus, Central Asia, India, China and Latin America and the recent spread of western forms of Christianity into non-western cultures from an interdisciplinary, historical and theological perspective. 3 credits

CORE 3754 (CAST 3997) Latin American Catholicism
Catholicism is not only an inextricable part of Latin American history and identity, but the region’s experience of the Faith has a profound influence on the universal and future life of the Church. This course examines in particular Catholicism in Latin America, which embraces a rich ensemble of the humble and the heroic, the struggles for human dignity and the miraculous. 3 credits

CORE 3755 (CAST 3018) John Henry Newman: His Life and Teaching
The course focuses on the philosophical-theological thought of John Henry Newman, tracing Newman’s views from his early life to his conversion to Roman Catholicism.

CAST 3019 /CORE 3756 Christians and Muslims in Dialogue, A Catholic Perspective
This course examines the historical interaction between Christianity and Islam in light of pertinent themes in Christian-Muslim encounters. It explores contemporary positions in interreligious dialogue between Christianity and Islam from interdisciplinary, historical and theological perspectives. 3 credits

CORE 3759 (CAST 3020/JCS 6018) Catholic-Jewish Dialogue on the Holocaust
A critical assessment of facts, issues, and attitudes affecting Catholic-Jewish inter-faith dialogue on the Holocaust. 3 credits

CORE 3760 (CAST 3022) Spirituality and Sports: A Catholic Perspective
In this course students will explore and examine the Catholic Tradition and Spirituality through the analogy of sports. Students will examine how human beings encounter the Holy in the midst of everyday life with emphasis on athletic experiences as both an athlete and a “fan”. 3 credits

College of Arts and Sciences

Chemistry and Biochemistry

CORE 3243 (BIOL 3243) Ecology and Stewardship
Students examine the inter-relationships of organisms with their environment, including the influences of human activities. Through reading, research, class discussion, computer simulation, field experiences and contemplative exercises, students explore their roles within the Earth community in the context of both natural sciences and the Catholic tradition of Saint Francis of Assisi and Bernard Lonergan. 4 credits

CORE 3250 (CHEM 3103) Foundations of Modern Science
This course is concerned with the development of the experimental sciences (viz., physics, chemistry and molecular biology) within the western tradition, and the influence that the church and science have exerted upon each other since the beginning days of Christianity. 3 credits

Communication and The Arts

CORE 3130 (ARTH 3101) The Art of Saint Peter’s
The course explores the physical fabric and artistic embellishment of Saint Peter’s and the Vatican from early Christian times through the twentieth century as a way of assessing the development of Catholicism’s distinctive and powerful visual language. Among the topics to be considered: the transformation of the legacy of classical antiquity into one of the first Christian basilicas at Old Saint Peter’s; Michelangelo’s Sistine Ceiling, and the Vatican within the urban context of Rome as the capital of modern Italy. 3 credits

CORE 3131 (MUHI 3131) Music and Theology: Historical Debates within the Catholic Church
The change in sacred music over several centuries (c. 750-1750) prompted debates within the Catholic Church as to the identity of religious music. Traditionalists often felt that the importance of sacred music was related to its devotional characteristics – that is, that sacred music should be a form of sung prayer. Others thought it to be a religious art form that could become increasingly complex. Traditionalists objected to the latter definition by believing that this diluted the original intent of the music. Many of these disputes over changes with regard to sacred music paralleled theological and social disagreements within the church over the mission of Catholicism. The Counter-Reformation, for example, was, in part, a discussion about developments in sacred music that paralleled many social and theological practices that many within the church felt needed reform. This class will discuss these ideas and developments within the church in relationship to music as well as theology. 3 credits

CORE 3320 (COST 3101) Propaganda, Religion, & War
The course entails a political, historical, and ethical exploration of discursive and visual propaganda. As a form of mass persuasion, propaganda has long been a vital constituent of both religious discourse and the rhetoric of warfare. The course begins with an examination of the emergence of propaganda as a strategic concept in the 17th century Vatican’s response to the Protestant Reformation. It then combines analytical and ethical perspectives on propaganda with a detailed examination of propaganda-like practices throughout history. Such perspectives enable an ethical evaluation of war-related propaganda efforts, such as those enacted by governments in World War I and World War II, as well as more recent propaganda relating to the 9/11 attacks and to the conflicts in Iraq and Afghanistan.
Ultimately, students will be able to assess propaganda as a political practice, with an emphasis on communication ethics. 3 credits

CORE 3321 Great Contemporary English and American Literary Apologists
Excerpts of readings from the works of John Henry Cardinal Newman, G. K. Chesterton, Hilaire Belloc, Ronald Knox, Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, and C. S. Lewis will be examined in order to inform a dialogue conducted among students and professor regarding the arguments of each writer. Two measurements will be kept in mind. First, Apologetics is defined as “the affirmation that it is not irrational to believe.” Second, the criteria for evaluating the effective communication of each of the writer’s arguments will be measured against Aristotle’s theory of civic discourse, On Rhetoric. 3 credits

CORE 3322 (COTH 3628) The Religious Experience on Stage
An examination of religious traditions, values and beliefs as expressed through theatrical performance. The course centers on examining aesthetic texts and using performance as a method of inquiry. 3 credits

English

CORE 3370 (ENGL 3370) Illness and Literature
This course will explore representations of and responses to illness from the perspective of those suffering from it (the patients), those helping the sufferers (doctors, nurses, spouses, siblings, children, parents, and so on), and those living in a society ravaged by epidemic, such as the Black Death. We will read literature from three traditions – the Western secular literary tradition, the Catholic tradition, and the Jewish tradition – to deepen our understanding of what illness does to individuals and their society, and to strengthen our resources as future patients, caregivers (personal or professional), and individuals for dealing with the spiritual as well as practical crisis that illness generates. 3 credits

CORE 3371 (ENGL 3371) Fantasy and Faith in British Literature
This course examines questions of meaning central to the Catholic intellectual tradition in connection with the study of literature. We will focus on works of fantasy, specifically the fiction of C. S. Lewis, J.R.R. Tolkien, and their predecessors. The course will examine the implications for social action, morality, heroism, and sacrifice in these works. 3 credits

CORE 3750 (ENGL 3015, CAST 3015) Catholicism and Literature
Christianity is literally the religion of the Word, and Catholic writers have been expressing, exploring and communicating the mystery of “the Word made flesh” for two thousand years in every genre of the literary arts. The course will examine this legacy of “artful theology” in its many variations and in its constant features. Representative authors and works from different epochs will be examined both in their socio-historical context and for their enduring theological and spiritual significance. 3 credits

This course, which fulfills both a Catholic Studies and an English requirement, is concerned with the translation of specifically Catholic literature into film. We shall be examining seven texts in the course, all of which have been adapted for the screen. We shall be reading five novels, one play, and a collection of sermons. This collection of the sermons of the late Archbishop of San Salvador Oscar Romero is not directly parallel to the film bearing his name, Romero, but the spirit of the sermons is deeply reflected in the filmed depiction of the man. All the other works have been intentionally adapted into their filmed counterparts. 3 credits

CORE 3374 (ENGL 3315) James Joyce’s Ulysses
Ulysses is arguably the greatest novel of the 20th century, written by the greatest Catholic fiction writer of the 20th century, James Joyce. Modeled on Homer’s Odyssey, the novel charts the modern odyssey of an Everyman through Dublin on one day, June 16, 1904. Reading Joyce’s masterpiece provides students with a transformative journey that unites past and present, as Joyce explores the familial triad of father, son and mother, and develops the richly allusive cultural intersections of Bloom (father)/Odysseus/ Moses/Parnell/Jesus/Hamlet/Stephen (son). Goals of this course include providing students with a detailed study of Ulysses and all of its challenging narrative innovations, as well as helping them contextualize the novel through exploring its classical, religious, political, and psychological themes. To facilitate entering the world of Ulysses, the course will begin with Joyce’s first autobiographical novel, A Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man, and it will include excerpts from commentaries by major Joyce scholars. 3 credits

CORE 3375 (ENGL 3211) Medieval Literature
This course will explore a literary world where religious piety includes visions of toads, lovers encountering magic ships and talking deer, madness means running around naked in the woods and eating food without salt, and not serving the good wine to guests means you might get vomited to death. We’ll meet green knights, people with giant legs in the woods and eating food without salt, and not serving the good wine to guests means you might get vomited to death. We’ll meet green knights, people with giant legs, madmen, and peas, and whether the sun actually ever shone in the Dark Ages. 3 credits

CORE 3376 (ENGL 3319) Representations of the Body in Early America
This course explores representations of the body in early American literature, including the place of the body in a variety of religious traditions. More than just its physical form, the body can be read sexually, scientifically/medically, religiously/spiritually, economically, legally, aesthetically, culturally, politically, and philosophically. Readings will begin with explorer and Native American oral narratives, will include texts from a variety of New World settlements, and will go through the literature of the early Republic.

CORE 3377 (ENGL 3623) Spiritual Writing Workshop: Creative Nonfiction
Spiritual Writing is a reading and writing-intensive course in the genres that make up spiritual non-fiction: spiritual autobiography, spiritual memoir, spiritual/travel narrative, the nature essay, and others. Students will study and engage in dialogue with some of the great historical and contemporary spiritual writers of the world, such as St. Augustine, Thomas Merton, Viktor Frankl, Mother Teresa, St. Elizabeth Ann Seton, Joseph Campbell, Martin Luther King Jr., Carlos Castaneda, Annie Dillard, Anne Lamott, Black Elk, and others. Students engage in figurative and literal dialogue not only with Catholicism in particular and Christianity in general but with other spiritual faith traditions, including Judaism, Buddhism, Islam, Hinduism, Native American spirituality, and others. 3 credits

CORE 3378 (ENGL 3624) Spiritual Writing Workshop: Research and Analysis
The genre of spiritual writing, broadly defined, is not just about religious beliefs or doctrine but about experience that is transformative and has the capacity to transport us to another dimension. This course will focus on classic and contemporary readings that demonstrate how writers from a variety of traditions, both western and non-western, have used writing to explore, understand, and represent their spiritual experiences. Writing assignments invite students to analyze issues related to spirituality and the rhetoric of spiritual writing. 3 credits

CORE 3380 (ENGL 3314) Irish Literature: Celtic Revival to the Present
This course explores 20th-century Irish writers publishing in the English from the Celtic Revival through the formation of the Irish Free State and the civil war, “The Troubles” of the 1960s-80s, to the present day. Beginning with background in Yeats and Joyce, the course will survey writers in all three major genres including dramatists J.M. Synge, Sean O’Casey, Samuel Beckett, Brian Friel, Marina Carr, poets Patrick Kavanagh, Seamus Heaney, Eavan Boland, and Paula Meehan; and fiction writers such as Elizabeth Bowen, Sean Ó’Faoláin, Edna O’Brien, Patrick McCabe, and Roddy Doyle. 3 credits

CORE 3722 (ENGL 3410, RELS 2154, CAST 2410) The Bible as Literature
This course studies literary qualities of the Bible with attention to its poetic and narrative modes. It provides an in-depth exploration of the ways in which biblical literary forms, Biblical themes, and Biblical images influence American and European literatures. 3 credits

History

CORE 3420 (HIST 3385) Catholic Social Engagement
Through a close examination of primary and secondary source material, this course explores the history of Catholic social engagement in the American context. It examines how Catholics in the United States bore public witness to their faith and brought their influence to bear upon wider society. Particular attention will be given to four areas in which Catholicism has traditionally provided a counterto dominant social values: church-state relations, education, healthcare and bioethics, and the social order. This course draws attention to how a particular tradition of Catholic social engagement emerged in response to Catholics’ dynamic interaction with a distinctive American cultural, social, and political environment. 3 credits

CORE 3422 (HIST 3387) The Catholic Church in the U.S.
Role of Catholics and the Church in the United States from colonial beginnings to the recent past, focusing on internal developments and on relations with the wider society. 3 credits

CORE 3423 (HIST 3230) The High Middle Ages
Formation of medieval civilization in the so-called Dark Ages and its transformation between the 11th and 14th centuries. 3 credits

CORE 3424 (HIST 3235) Medieval Italy
Ages to the Council of Trent. Emphasis is placed on the dramatic changes in peoples, state institutions, religion, the economy and society that occurred during these centuries. 3 credits

CORE 3425 (HIST 3264) Modern Ireland
Political, economic, and social history of Ireland from the Treaty of Limerick in 1691 to the Great Famine of the 1840s. 3 credits

CORE 3426 (HIST 3234) Medieval Italy
Examination of the forces of Ireland’s recent past that account for her present condition. 3 credits

CORE 3430 (HIST 3235, CAST 2235) Modern Italy
This course treats the history of Italy from the early Middle Ages to the Council of Trent. Emphasis is placed on the dramatic changes in peoples, state institutions, religion, the economy and society that occurred during these centuries. The abiding and sometimes determinant role of geography in Italian history is a subject that receives particular attention. All areas of the peninsula are discussed, with special attention to relations between peripheral or provincial areas and cultural or administrative centers. Major intellectual, religious, social and political developments are explored through primary and secondary readings, and a mixture of lecture and class discussion. 3 credits

CORE 3430 (HIST 3235, CAST 2235) Modern Italy
This course treats the history of Italy from the Baroque Age down to contemporary events. Emphasis is placed on the dramatic changes in peoples, state institutions, religion, the economy and society that occurred during these centuries. The abiding and sometimes determinant role of geography in Italian history is a subject that receives particular attention. All areas of the peninsula are discussed, with special attention to relations between peripheral or provincial areas and cultural or administrative centers. Major intellectual, religious, social and political developments are explored through primary and secondary readings, and a mixture of lecture and class discussion. 3 credits
CORE 3431 (HIST 4393) Topics in American History: 20th Century Catholic Social Activists
This course deals with activist priests who remained true to their calling and were successful advocates for social justice during the most turbulent days of the 20th century. Included are television personalities, Congressmen, community organizers, the man who led the largest march on Washington, DC before 1963, and another who fought gangsterism on the docks of New York who was immortalized in the film, On the Waterfront. During their heyday they may have challenged authority but remained faithful Catholics. Theirs is a story of high politics, violence, romance, and faith. 3 credits

CORE 3432 (HIST 3229) The Early Middle Ages
This course surveys medieval European political, legal, social, economic, cultural and religious history from circa 300 to circa 100. Through discussion of a wide range of primary sources, student in this course will analyze the processes through which early Europeans amalgamated elements of Roman, “barbarian,” and early Christian cultures to create a new civilization in western Europe. 3 credits

CORE 3433 (HIST 3389) American Catholics and the Movies
Through selected readings and films this course chronicles the changing image of the Catholic Church, its practitioners and its parishioners, during that period of the mid-20th century when movies were the mass medium. 3 credits

CORE 3434 (HIST 3420) Religion and Society in Latin America
Students will explore the ways in which religious ideas and practices have shaped political, social, cultural and economic experiences in the region of Latin America from the 16th through the 18th centuries. 3 credits

CORE 3435 (HIST 3240) The Renaissance and Reformation
The beginning of modern Europe as the renewal of trade is followed by rediscovery of the ancient world, discovery of the New World, changes in art, literature and thought and the division of Christianity by the Protestant movement. 3 credits

Languages, Literatures and Cultures

CORE 3300 (CLAS 3300) Death and Afterlife in Antiquity
This course highlights some of the most fundamental and important concepts in the Catholic intellectual tradition, specifically death, the afterlife, and the nature of God. Classical texts will be compared with biblical texts. The heart of the course is to examine the way that the ancient texts have contributed to, or disagree with biblical ideas. 3 credits

CORE 3301 (CLAS 3301) The Odysseus Theme
This course will begin with a close reading of Homer’s Odyssey, focusing on the character of Odysseus and moral questions raised by the trickster figure. We will then examine the literary tradition inspired by the Odyssey, including adaptations made by classical, Christian and modern authors, such as Sophocles, Vergil, Dante, James Joyce and Margaret Atwood. 3 credits

CORE 3540 (MOLG 3321) Journey of Emigration: Meeting the Other
How do we ethically deal with cultural and ethnic difference? Students will read excerpts from twentieth century philosophers whose theories explore how difference and identity may coexist. We will read numerous shorter literary writings describing the Immigrant and Outsider experience from different perspectives. 3 credits

Mathematics and Computer Science

CORE 3490 (CSAS 3085, PSYC 3698) Robotics and the Mind
This course explores the relationship between Catholic theological reflection and scientific evidence on the question of what it means to be human. Theoretical discussion will be accompanied by physically constructing and programming a variety of robots. 3 credits

Philosophy

CORE 3594 (PHIL 3950) Faith and Reason
Explores the relationship between faith and reason, theology and philosophy, revelation and natural knowledge. Considers whether faith and reason are similar, separate, opposed or complementary. Prerequisites: 6 credits of philosophy at the 2000 level. 3 credits

CORE 3595 (PHIL 3595) 19th and 20th Century Catholic Thinkers
Introduction to important issues in 19th and 20th century philosophy as approached and dealt with by notable Catholic thinkers. Through examination of their works, the course explores relations between religious beliefs and both modern and contemporary philosophy, and indicates the enduring relevance of the Catholic philosophical tradition. (Formerly PHIL 2160). 3 credits

CORE 3596 (PHIL 3010) St. Augustine
Consideration of the major works and ideas of Augustine; his life, historical context and major contributions to Western philosophy, religion and culture. Prerequisites: 6 credits of philosophy at the 2000 level. 3 credits

CORE 3597 (PHIL 3015) St. Thomas Aquinas
Historical background; life and achievements of Aquinas, analysis of the main themes of his philosophy, development and influence of Thomistic philosophy, and its continuing relevance. 3 credits

Political Science and Public Affairs

CORE 3640 (POLS 3101) Catholics in the Political Process
This course is designed to examine the appropriate roles of the institutional Catholic Church, its citizens, and its political candidates within in the American political process today. It will explore traditional Christian political theory; the Church’s relevant major social teachings, and the challenges that confront Catholicism and its adherents in the current, American public arena. In the long term, this course will encourage students to make judgments about both the moral agenda and political policies of the Church, particularly as they impact the behavior of Catholic citizens and political actors in their quest for the common good. 3 credits

Core 3641 (POLS 3696) Philanthropy and Christianity
This course will examine the influence of Christianity on the practice of philanthropy from early Christianity through the 21st century. Philosophical tenets from the writings of Aristotle, Aquinas, Ignatius, and others from the Christian tradition provide clues to understanding the role of Christianity in the formation of societal expectations around philanthropic giving and receiving. Students will also be encouraged to examine and discern the ultimate purposes of philanthropy in their daily lives. 3 credits

Psychology

CORE 3490 (CSAS 3085, PSYC 3698) Robotics and the Mind
This course explores the relationship between Catholic theological reflection and scientific evidence on the question of what it means to be human. Theoretical discussion will be accompanied by physically constructing and programming a variety of robots. 3 credits

CORE 3670 (PSYC 3695) Neuropsychology of Religious Experience
This course will explore the intersection between religious experiences and neuropsychology. We will discuss what the fields of neuroscience and theology can learn from each other based on current research on the neurobiology of religious experiences. 3 credits

CORE 3470 (JCST 3480) Judaism and Other Religions
This course will explore the major approaches to thinking about another religion. We will focus on Jewish texts as textual examples but we will also discuss in every lecture the parallel Christian material. Some of the lectures will focus on the Islamic, Hindu, or Buddhist parallels. The objective of the course is to gain a sense of how Judaism might conceive its relationship to other religious traditions beyond the poles of pluralism or rejection. This is a crucial task in our era of globalization and post-secularism. 3 credits

CORE 3720 (RELS 3102) The Bible, Film, and Popular Culture
The course examines the interaction of the Bible, film and popular culture by considering how stories, ideas, and themes from the Bible have been portrayed in Hollywood movies. Specific biblical texts will be analyzed in their historical context and in their depiction in popular films. The course will address such questions as: How has the Bible shaped the way the stories told in film? How has popular culture shaped the way the Bible is read or understood? In particular, the course will focus on ideas of how religion, faith, the God/human relationship, and gender roles are shaped in the intersection of the Bible and popular culture. The aim of the course will be to develop the students’ ability to think critically about biblical interpretation and religious experience more generally, is shaped by cultural context, both past and present. 3 credits

CORE 3721 (RELS 3201) Catholicism and Ecumenism
This course provides a great service to dialogical or ecumenical critical thinking. The course situates the Catholic modern ecumenical movement in the larger context of Christian history, allowing students to understand the contemporary dialogues in relation to the history of doctrine. 3 credits

CORE 3722 (RELS 3522) Religion, Morality, and the Problem of Suffering
This course examines the relationship between religion and morality from three, interrelated angles of inquiry. First, we will examine whether religious belief is necessary for moral knowledge and action. Second, we will turn to the question of human suffering as a test case. Specifically, we will explore how various points within the Christian tradition have grappled with human suffering. Third, we take up the question of religion and morality through an interreligious or comparative theological exercise on the question of suffering. 3 credits

CORE 3723 (RELS 3503) Race, Politics and Theology
This course explores questions of race, ethnicity, and political community. More specifically, is a multi-ethnic and multi-racial society viable? Alternatively, is a post-racial society more preferable? What might it mean to “recognize” and value one’s ethnic or racial identity? Should one’s ethnicity or race be recognized at all? If so, then how? What, then, are the political implications? Questions such as these underscore the larger question of difference and cultural pluralism: in what normative sense can difference and cultural pluralism be considered public goods — what is the limit and extent of these goods? We will pursue this question through a theological-ethical perspective that is in dialogue with contemporary issues in American politics, constitutional law, and moral philosophy. 3 credits

CORE 3724 (RELS 2223) Modern Christian Thought
This course examines the development of Christian thought from the Reformation to modern times. Topics include: Early attempts at Church reform; the Protestant reformation in Germany, Switzerland and England; the Council of Trent and the Catholic Reformation; the Orthodox Churches; the Peace of Westphalia and the religious settlement; the challenge of rationalism and the Christian response in modern times. We will explore the relation of free will and grace, clashes between religion and politics on a variety of fronts, including the Peasant Revolt and the French Revolution, the rise of nationalism, and Enlightenment and Romantic views of religion. The course will be grounded in close examination of theological texts, but will also include works of art, poetry, historical accounts, and film. 3 credits

CORE 3727 (RELS 2222) Medieval Christian Thought
Tracks the development of Christian thought from Augustine to the eve of the Reformation. Influence of Augustine in the West; widening breach between Eastern and Western Christendom; rise of Islam and the interaction of the monotheistic faiths; religious orders and the universities; scholasticism and the achievement of Thomas Aquinas; dissolution of the medieval synthesis. 3 credits

CORE 3729 (RELS 2315) Theology of Marriage
The course traces the relationship between faith and commitment in a “theology of marriage.” Past and present Christian understandings of the marital relationship in light of Scripture and sacramental theology. Insights about marriage based on knowledge from psychology and anthropology. Christian marriage as promise, symbol and vocation. 3 credits

CORE 3730 (RELS 3180) Responses to Suffering in the Ancient World
The course invites students to reflect intellectually on the problem of human suffering. To facilitate this reflection we will survey a range of ancient religious, literary and philosophical texts that respond in different ways to suffering. We will read texts from the biblical, Buddhist, and Hindu traditions. Throughout the course, these ancient texts will provide an analytic framework for the student to reflect on responses to the problem of suffering in our contemporary world. 3 credits

CORE 3731 (RELS 3280/CAS 4390) The Popes and the Modern Ecumenical Movement
The course traces the involvement of the Popes, especially after Vatican II, in the ecumenical movement. Because of this movement, which has been developing during the last century (since 1910), the relationships between the different Christian churches, long divided from one another, have changed and continue to change significantly. This course seeks to interpret the reasons why Christianity divided centuries ago, and the ways in which the churches are seeking to remedy those divisions today, seeking to restore the unity of the Church, showing especially the contributions of the Popes to that movement. 3 credits

CORE 3733 (RELS 2520, CAST 2520) Catholic Social Teaching
Emphasizing the Catholic social encyclical tradition, the course investigates the theoretical and practical relationships between Christian belief and thought, and social and economic life (involving issues of economic justice, peace, race, gender, family, etc.). In so doing, we explore the lives of those who have worked to shape Christian social justice movements, and other concrete contemporary applications of Catholic social teaching 3 credits

Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work

CORE 3790 (ANTH 3816, SOCI 3816) African Religions in America
This course will examine the products of interrelations between West African religions and Catholicism as they met via the slave trade and forced relocation of Africans to the New World. It will also view contemporary versions of those interrelations. We will discuss continuities and changes, syncretism, resistance, and divergence between and among African derived religious practice and the religious and cultural forms that people of African descent encountered in the New World. The main focus will be social-scientific. Among the topics to be considered: Mexican, Cuban, Haitian, Trinidadian, Brazilian, and U.S. traditions, including discussions of Catholic Saints, slave Baptisms, the Inquisition, folk Catholicism, sacred drumming, trance possession, and Santeria. Prerequisites: SOCI 1101 or ANTH 1202. 3 credits

CORE 3791 (ANTH 3888; SOCI 3888) Thomas Merton, Religion, and Culture
Roman Catholic, Cistercian monk, civil rights and anti-war activist, cultural critic and poet, Thomas Merton (1915-1968) was among the first pioneers of what it means to be a Roman Catholic and simultaneously “interreligious”. Through the lens of Cultural Anthropology, this course will provide: an examination of Merton’s approach to other religious traditions which in many ways was ethnographic despite the fact that he was not an anthropologist; a broad exposure to the writings of Thomas Merton; an appreciation for the continued relevance of his work in the increasingly religiously pluralistic 21st century and beyond; an understanding of what it means to be interreligious without having to abandon one’s original religious tradition; and a firsthand experiential appreciation of the value of contemplative practice (sacred silence) and its importance in the fast-paced and fragmented world of technology and information overload in which we find ourselves. Prerequisites: SOCI 1101 or ANTH 1202. 3 credits

CORE 3792 (ANTH 3304) Roman Catholic Mystics: Anthropological Approaches
This course explores the lives of specific Roman Catholic mystics, and mystical phenomena drawing on the anthropology of consciousness, a subspecialty of cultural anthropology. Students will read about the lives of these mystics as well as their writings and together with the professor will strive to make meaningful sense out of the fascinating lives of the Catholic mystics selected for the course and of the firsthand nature of their experiences with the Divine in a non-reductionist way. Special attention will be paid to the relationship between ascetic, ritual and devotional practice and mystical experiences and the production of mystical phenomena. Prerequisite: ANTH 1202. 3 credits

CORE 3793 (SOCI 3886) Catholicism and the Human Sciences
Models of integration and tension between Catholicism and the various sciences of human behavior are examined in their historical contexts. Main controversies – the relationship between facts and values, essentialism vs. anti-essentialism, voluntarism vs. determinism, and relativism vs. objectivism – are examined from a Catholic perspective that emphasizes how theology and the human sciences “implicate” each other. A Catholic theology of the human sciences is applied to modern and postmodern conditions of life, and contrasted with other Christian as well as non-Christian theologies.
Prerequisite: SOCI 1101. 3 credits

CORE 3794 (ANTH 3794) Indigenous Peoples, Conversion, Nation and Empire
In what way does being Christian also signal civic belonging? When conversion to Catholicism occurs in contexts of large colonial projects, often spanning generations or centuries, what happens to the belief systems central to the lives of native or indigenous peoples before colonization? The causes and processes that end colonial rule are often marked by organized forms of armed and sustained violence. Indigenous peoples have been drawn into wars started by others, but have also actively led, participated or inspired many nationalist revolutionary projects. This course will focus on social formations and knowledge systems that shaped native peoples’ actionable responses to projects of conversion, nation and empire. Students will unpack persistent ideological constructs concerning native peoples from the 1500s to the present century, and read works that seek to present a view “from below.”
Prerequisite: ANTH 1202. 3 credits

Stillman School of Business

CORE 3810 (BINT 3001) Global Business
The thrust of this course is to develop “global business literacy” among students, with particular emphasis on the influence/impact of Catholic Social Thought and other religious traditions on the practice of global business. The focus is on trends and forces that shape international commercial activity and their impacts on business decisions. The topics covered stem from the broad viewpoint of international trade, economics, and finance, political and economic geography, risk management, marketing, ethics and international law. These topics are presented from the perspective of a generalist. (The faculty strongly recommends that students complete this course before taking other international business courses in the Stillman School curriculum). Prerequisite: Junior Standing or above, CORE 1101, CORE 2101, ECON 1402 and 1403, BACC 2103 and 2104, and BLAW 2301. 3 credits

School of Diplomacy and International Relations

CORE 3850 (DIPL 3850) Church, State, and Politics in Latin America
This course has two central objectives: (1) to provide students with an understanding of the evolving role of religion in Latin American politics, with a primary emphasis on the role of Catholicism and the Catholic Church from the period of the Second Vatican Council until the present; and (2) to provide students an opportunity to reflect on the normative questions of how religious beliefs and religious institutions should affect politics and of how different political systems and state policies should affect the practice of religion. The major themes, to be examined through both Catholic and non-Catholic perspectives, include the institutional relationship between the Catholic Church and the state, the different political expressions of Catholicism (from those inspired by Liberation Theology to supporters of Christian Democratic or Conservative political parties), the persecution of the Church under certain authoritarian regimes and the Catholic response, the rise of religious and political pluralism, and the role of religion in contemporary politics and public policy. 3 credits

CORE 3851 (DIPL 3851) Religion, Law and War
This course will examine wars of religion and religious views of war. We are living through an era fraught with religious warfare – wars animated by religious conflict and wars that use religious abuse as weapons to demoralize and subdue the enemy. The course will focus on three major religious traditions (Christianity, Islam, and Buddhism) and set in dialogue their respective views of war, assess their contributions to the contemporary laws of war, and examine particular historical episodes of religious conflict – as well as contrary episodes of religious toleration. 3 credits

College of Education and Human Services

CORE 3880 (CPSY 3300) Institutional Imperatives and Globalization: Competing Influences of Schools, Religion, Government and Media in Shaping and Changing Society
In the United States, public schools have relatively recently been viewed as secular, with a heightened sensitivity to church/state separation. This secularization process may also be evident in both government and media. However, there never has been a complete separation given that most administrators, teachers, and students come from a Judeo-Christian background and their belief systems permeate every aspect of the schools’ social justice environment. The aim of the course is to explore the tensions that arise in these areas by means of a comparison between the US and the institutions of another society. Students will come to appreciate the impact of history on current political, educational and social policy as well as the influence of geography and geo-politics on social/cultural/religious development. This course involves travel. 3 credits

CORE 3881 (CPSY 3105) Leadership through Service Learning
This course responds to contemporary calls for the development of more informed and civic minded citizenry. Themes (human dignity, economic justice) from documents (U.S. Catholic Bishops’ Letters, Papal Encyclicals, Councils, Biblical text) related to Catholic Social Teaching (CST) and from other religions will inform and illuminate the purposes and activities of this course as will readings from education concerning caring and social justice. Exploring principles, theoretical and social, that provide the basis for service to others, in discussions and writings, students will consider broad questions that have consequences for real people. Differing perspectives on purposes of and strategies for service will be discussed as well as service learning role models. Throughout the course, students will discuss and experience service as a social action designed to improve a situation in a setting or community by identifying, discussing, analyzing and acting on needs at a local site. 3 credits
College of Nursing
CORE 3910 (NUTH 3020) Religious Values in Healthcare
This course focuses on a discussion of major themes and precepts in Catholic and other intellectual and religious traditions and their application to contemporary health care issues. Emphasis is on how Catholic and other religious and cultural traditions affect and influence people facing various transformative health care issues in their lives. 3 credits

Catholic Studies Program
Catholic Studies is an innovative curriculum with uniquely designed tracks focusing on history, philosophy, theology, literature, art, religion and the University Honors Program. Students may choose a Bachelor of Arts (30 credits), a minor (15 credits) or a certificate (12 credits) in Catholic Studies. The Catholic Studies program can appeal to students of any creed who seek to deepen their knowledge of Catholicism’s rich intellectual tradition and living heritage. An interpersonal approach to learning and many opportunities for spiritual reflection invite students to a more profound and mature understanding of faith. A good number of students are enrolled as double majors or minors, thus enhancing their primary majors. A degree in Catholic Studies complements their primary majors in diplomacy, business, philosophy, theology, social work and other disciplines. Because of its emphasis on close interaction with faculty members, students and alumni, those who choose to participate in the program are part of a unique intellectual community.

Students pursuing a degree in Catholic Studies may apply for several competitive scholarships including Scholarships for Catholic Studies Majors; Scholarships for Catholic Studies Minors from the Diplomacy, Business or Sciences programs; Scholarships for Incoming Freshmen in Catholic Studies; Father Walter Debold Scholarship for students participating in foreign study and the Reverend Richard M. Nardone (*50) Endowed Scholarship in Catholic Studies. Additional scholarships are provided by the University of Münster to students who take either a semester or a year-long study in Germany.

Major in Catholic Studies
A major in Catholic Studies consists of 30 credits:
Common Experience Courses:
CAST 1001  The Search for Human Fulfillment
CAST 3940 (CORE 3746)  The Catholic Classics and Interiority
CAST 3193  Integrating Seminar in Catholic Studies
Other Capstone options might include:
- Senior Internship
- Senior Thesis
- Senior Seminar
- Advanced Study

Exploratory and Analytical Components (21 credits)
Students take four 1000-2000 level courses and three 3000 level courses from the following four areas inspired by the document, Gaudium et Spes (The Church in the Modern World) from the Second Vatican Council approved by the department chair. Prerequisite: CAST 1001 The Search for Human Fulfillment

Enrichment
The academic program in Catholic Studies offered by the Department of Catholic Studies, appeals to students, Catholic or not, who seek to deepen their knowledge of the riches of the Catholic intellectual tradition. Its interdisciplinary nature allows students to encounter the beauty and vitality of Catholicism as it is expressed across the disciplines.

By examining the role Catholicism has played in various cultures, students are challenged to take seriously its influence in every aspect of intellectual, spiritual and social life.

The program is flexible and the curriculum can be customized to fit with every university major. This is due to the program’s interdisciplinary nature. Students who major or minor in other disciplines are invited to take courses in the program. Such courses can shed light on the religious and humanistic dimensions of the various disciplines.

Course Descriptions

See cross-listed courses for additional course descriptions.

CAST 1001 The Search for Human Fulfillment
What is human fulfillment and how does one find it? Beginning with the Scriptural understanding of the great human drama, the course will explore the Catholic understanding of who we are and therefore what kind of human fulfillment is suited to us. The course will investigate the basics of the Catholic Intellectual Tradition through theology, history, literature, philosophy and end with a look at ultimate fulfillment in the life of heaven. The course will look at primary resources from several disciplines, including theology, philosophy, history, and literature, and from different ages of the Church, ancient, medieval and modern. 3 credits

CAST 1601/MUAP1500 The Practice of Catholic Liturgical Music
The course will feature a study of key elements in the development of sacred music practice as seen through the prism of 2000 years of musical development in the Roman Catholic Church, from Plainchant, commonly known as Gregorian Chant, to Vatican II. 3 credits

CAST 2011 (CORE 3747, RELS 2011) Catholicism and Art
This course considers the relationship between the Catholic faith and artistic expression and why art is an inextricable aspect of Catholicism. Particular attention is paid to the various forms and ages of Catholic art, and the rich theological/spiritual messages conveyed through nearly two millennia of painting, sculpture and architecture. 3 credits

CAST 2012 (MUAP 2152) Catholic Liturgical Music
The course will feature a study of key elements in the development of sacred music practice as seen through the prism of 2000 years of musical development in the Roman Catholic Church, from Plainchant, commonly known as Gregorian Chant, to Vatican II. 3 credits

CAST 2410 (CORE 3722) Bible as Literature
This course studies literary qualities of the Bible with attention to its poetic and narrative modes. It provides an in-depth exploration of the ways in which biblical literary forms, Biblical themes, and Biblical images influence American and European literatures. 3 credits

CAST 2422 (CORE 3373, ENGL 3422) Catholic Literature and Film
This course, is concerned with the translation of specifically Catholic literature into film. We shall be examining seven texts in the course, all of which have been adapted for the screen. We shall be reading five novels, one play, and a collection of sermons. This collection of the sermons of the late Archbishop of San Salvador Oscar Romero is not directly parallel to the film bearing his name, Romero, but the spirit of the sermons is deeply reflected in the filmed depiction of the man. All the other works have been intentionally adapted into their filmed counterparts. 3 credits

CAST 3015 (CORE 3372) Catholicism and Literature
Christianity is literally the religion of the Word, and Catholic writers have been expressing, exploring and communicating the mystery of “the Word made flesh” for two thousand years in every genre of the literary arts. The course will examine this legacy of “artful theology” in its many variations and in its constant features. Representative authors and works from different epochs will be examined both in their socio-historical context and for their enduring theological and spiritual significance. 3 credits

CAST 3018/CORE 3755 John Henry Newman: His Life and Teaching

CAST 3019 /CORE 3756 Christians and Muslims in Dialogue, A Catholic Perspective
This course examines the historical interaction between Christianity and Islam in light of pertinent themes in Christian-Muslim encounters. It explores contemporary positions in interreligious dialogue between Christianity and Islam from interdisciplinary, historical and theological perspectives. 3 credits

CAST 3020/CORE 3759/JCS 6018 Catholic-Jewish Dialogue on the Holocaust
A critical assessment of facts, issues, and attitudes affecting Catholic-Jewish inter-faith dialogue on the Holocaust. 3 credits

CAST 3021/ CORE 3980/WMST 3513 Modern Women of Faith
The course focuses on the question of what it means to be women of faith, by considering the example of several Catholic women who have lived exemplary, faith-filled lives in a way that has challenged conventional expectations of women on the part of society. In view of their examples, students are encouraged to identify and consider the characteristics of an authentic, faith-filled, Catholic feminism. 3 credits

CAST 3022 (CORE 3760) Spirituality and Sports: A Catholic Perspective
In this course students will explore and examine the Catholic Tradition and Spirituality through the analogy of sports. Students will examine how human beings encounter the Holy in the midst of everyday life with emphasis on athletic experiences as both an athlete and a “fan”. 3 credits

CAST 3023 (PHYS 3101) The Popes and Science
This course is designed to introduce students to Papal teaching on the relations between Christian Faith and natural science and also to serve as a foundation for further study of faith and reason. The course aims to explore the impact of the Popes on the development of modern science. 3 credits

CAST 3024 (CORE 3764) The Literature of Catholic Conversion
This course is designed to help students to understand and to explore the experience of voluntary conversion in the Catholic tradition. Beginning with conversion even before Christianity with the story of Moses, moving through the New Testament and St. Augustine to later converts like John Henry Cardinal Newman and Dorothy Day, the course examines the nature of conversion, what led to it in each case, and the impact on the life of the converted and his or her society. 3 credits

CAST 3025 (HSTD 6834) New Jersey Catholic Experience
This course is designed to provide students with a detailed knowledge of how the Catholic Church developed within the context of New Jersey and American history over the past three centuries. The story of a distinctive Catholic experience has many dimensions which will be described not only through major milestones and eras, but through a growing socio-religious perspective which includes the laity, religious leaders, and key individuals who contributed to the legacy of their faith statewide. 3 credits

CAST 3026 (CORE 3763) The Human Person in Faith and Fashion: A Catholic Perspective
The course looks at the age-old question, what it means to be a human person. The course explores this question by analyzing three views: [1] the human person in the image of God in the Catholic Intellectual Tradition, [2] the human person in the image of self, as defined by other schools of thought, and [3] the human person in the image of fashion (person as portrayed by the fashion media). We will look at fashion images as a visual language, and evaluate what it communicates about men and women. The course will also explore the impact of the three views or personhood on culture at-large. 3 credits

CAST 3027/CORE 3981/JCST 6026 The Catholic Church and Jews in Poland
An analytical survey of Catholic-Jewish coexistence throughout Polish history. Through the reading of primary texts referring to the settling of Jewish community in Poland, the conditions of flourishing of Jewish culture, evolving Catholic attitudes towards the Jewish minority, complex Church-Jewish relations during the Holocaust, and unprecedented renewal of Jewish culture in postwar Poland, as well as the rebuilding of Catholic-Jewish relations in recent decades, the course will provide an advanced introduction to Catholic-Jewish history in Poland. The study abroad trip to Poland, through visiting important Catholic shrines and famous sites of Jewish culture, will provide students with tangible examples of Catholic-Jewish coexistence in Poland, the destruction of Jewish community by the Nazis, as well as with more recent memorialization of the Jewish culture in Poland. 3 credits

CAST 3031 (CORE 3768/NUTH3950) Catholicism, Healthcare and the Human Condition
This course will explore the experiences of both patient and healthcare provider and the relationship between the two. The healthcare encounter (e.g. doctor-patient, nurse-patient) is privileged, unique and multidimensional. The groundwork will be set by study of the human condition and the structure of the healthcare delivery system; students will examine how humans live and how they die revealed by a consideration of disease, socioeconomics, psychology and religion. Our study will be advanced using the tools of art, literature, science and theology. 3 credits

CAST 3028/HSTD 6404/STHO 6404 Worship and Holy Images in the Catholic Church
Using theological, historical, and anthropological perspectives, the course explores the spiritual significance of Christian iconography from early Christianity to the Middle Ages focusing on the links between imagery and Christian worship. 3 credits

CAST 3193 Integrating Seminar in Catholic Studies
This course represents an integrating experience of the student’s participation in the Catholic Studies Program, whereby theological understanding and lived experience of Catholicism become intertwined. Particular attention is paid to how Catholicism’s incarnational theology necessarily applies to and acts within the specific setting of the student’s life, parish and community. 3 credits

CAST 3320 (CORE 3745) Chesterton, Lewis and the Sacramental Tradition
This course examines the works of two of the most prominent 20th century British Christian writers. Although both authors are renowned as apologists, the course focuses upon their imaginative writings and how these served as invaluable expressions of their thought and spiritual vision. Works considered include Chesterton’s novel The Man Who Was Thursday and Lewis’ novels Out of the Silent Planet and Till We Have Faces. 3 credits

CAST 3749 (CORE 3749) The Philosophy and Theology of Bernard Lonergan
This course will treat the life and work of the Canadian philosopher/theologian Bernard Lonergan from his early days to his later manuscripts on economic theory. It will outline the early influences on his thought – Newman, Plato, Augustine, Aquinas – as well as the influence of the modern sciences and historical scholarship. It will present the broad outlines of his theory of consciousness with an emphasis on self-appropriation. The relevance of his thought to the fields of education, philosophy, history, economics and theology will be highlighted. 3 credits
CAST 3891 Internship in Catholic Studies
The Catholic Studies internship provides an opportunity for students to gain experience working with agencies whose activities draw their inspiration from or demonstrate an engagement with the Catholic Intellectual Tradition in its many forms and applications. This may include Catholic-related ministries, social justice agencies, or non-governmental organizations. 3 credits

CAST 3940 (CORE 3746) The Catholic Classics and Interiority
This course flows from the Seton Hall University Core and endeavors to flesh out the meaning of “the Catholic intellectual tradition.” Its aim is to analyze the Catholic classics in the light of human interiority, particularly the human passion for meaning, for the good and for God. 3 credits

CAST 3994 (CORE 3748) Foundations of Christian Culture
Drawing from a variety of sources – historical, literary, philosophical and theological – this course examines the origins and nature of Christian culture, exploring in particular the value of culture itself as an aspect of revelation and incarnation. The course offers some answers from the contemporary Christian tradition to the ancient questions: How am I meant to understand the world? How am I meant to understand myself? This course is part of the Catholic Studies foreign study tour program. 3 credits

CAST 3955 ST (CORE 3793) Catholicism and Social Sciences
Models of integration and tension between Catholicism and the various sciences of human behavior are examined in their historical contexts. Main controversies—the relationship between facts and values, essentialism vs. anti-essentialism, voluntarism vs. determinism, and relativism vs. objectivism—are examined from a Catholic perspective that emphasizes how theology and the human sciences “implicate” each other. A Catholic theology of the human sciences is applied to modern and post-modern conditions of life, and contrasted with other Christian as well as non-Christian theologies. 3 credits

CAST 3997 (CORE 3754) Latin American Catholicism
Catholicism is not only an inextricable part of Latin America history and identity, but the region’s experience of the Faith has a profound influence on the universal and future life of the Church. The course examines in particular Catholicism in Latin America, which embraces a rich ensemble of the humble and heroic, the struggles for human dignity and the miraculous. 3 credits

CAST 3998 (CORE 3762) Italy in the Footsteps of the Saints
Italy enjoys a pre-eminence as a spiritual center for the Christian world alongside its importance in the development of Western civilization’s art, music, architecture and political thought. The course will examine the interplay between Italy’s profound spiritual heritage and cultural achievements, focusing on the contributions of such key figures as the Apostles Peter and Paul, Saints Francis and Clare of Assisi, Saint Catherine of Siena and Saint Ignatius of Loyola. This course is part of the Catholic Studies foreign study tour program. 3 credits

CAST 3999 Emergence of Christianity in Rome
The Church in Rome has manifested the greatest durability, adaptability and influence of all the early Christian communities mentioned in the New Testament. The course begins with the Roman Church’s Jewish roots, the Apostles Peter and Paul and the age of persecutions and continues through its increasingly central role in shaping Western Christianity from the time of Constantine to the early Middle Ages. Special focus is given to the developing office of the papacy and the self expression of this vibrant community through its art and architecture. This course is part of the Catholic Studies foreign study tour program. 3 credits

CAST 3016 (CORE 3752) Global Christianity
This course explores the distinctive characteristics of non-western forms of Christianity in the Middle East and Egypt, Africa, the Caucasus, Central Asia, India, China and Latin America and the recent spread of western forms of Christianity into non-western cultures from an interdisciplinary, historical and theological perspective. 3 credits

CAST 3017 (CORE 3751) Saints Alive!
The course examines the lives and struggles of famous Saints as seen through the lens of contemporary film-makers and playwrights. 3 credits

CAST 4290 - 4292; 4390 - 4392 Special Topics in Catholic Studies
Topics to be set by instructor. 3 credits each University Honors Program

The University Honors Program is an intellectually lively, interdisciplinary program in the liberal arts. At the heart of the program is a series of four six-credit courses that follow and explore the story of human civilization and thought from the ancient world until today. The Honors Program is truly interdisciplinary and global in orientation. The Honors curriculum includes the study of history, world literature, philosophy, religion, theology, economics, political science, and other aspects of the social, behavioral, and natural sciences. In addition to western civilization and thought, the program gives serious attention to Chinese and Islamic civilization. Participation in the program is open to students from every school within the University, and can be combined with any major program.

During the first two years of this certificate program, students meet twice a week for two and a half hours and complete the four Honors Colloquia, HONS 1101, 1102, 2103 and 2105. These colloquia are taught in small discussion sections, with two faculty members in each section. These colloquia substitute for several core curriculum requirements. During the third year, students will complete a 3000 CORE course (Engaging the World) and another advanced course (3000 level or above) approved by the director of the Honors Program. Students are encouraged to choose this advanced level course in light of their possible project/thesis topics. By the end of their third year, Honors students are expected to submit a completed proposal for their projects/theses to the Honors Program. Once the proposal has been approved by the Honors Program, the student completes the project/thesis in collaboration with a faculty mentor.

In order to continue in the Honors Program and to receive the Certificate of the Honors Program at its completion, students should maintain a B average in their Honors courses as well as an overall B average. The courses in the Honors Program are accepted by several schools and colleges of the University in replacement of many of their core curriculum requirements. For more specific information on how the Honors Program counts in particular cases, please consult the Honors Program website at: http://blogs.shu.edu/honors/

Director: Reverend John J. Ranieri, Ph.D.
Administrative Assistant: Mary Mountcastle
The Honors Program provides a coordinated liberal arts concentration for outstanding students of all schools and majors at Seton Hall University. The Certificate of the Honors Program demonstrates the completion of a broad education in the humanities. In addition to course work, the Honors Program provides opportunities for students to attend concerts and other cultural events in the metropolitan area. Several of the colloquia include class visits to museums and galleries in the New York area for first-hand study of artifacts from the period they are studying. Resident Honors students live together in the residence halls. Honors students and faculty form a cohesive academic community that lasts throughout a student’s career at Seton Hall University and beyond.

Course Descriptions

HONS 1101 Colloquium on the Ancient World
Examines the ancient civilizations of the Near East, Asia, Greece, Rome, and North Africa through reading and discussion of their literature, art, history, philosophy, science and religion. 6 credits

HONS 1102 Colloquium on the Middle Ages and the Renaissance
Focuses on four civilizations – Byzantium, China, Islam and Europe – and considers their origins, development and interactions from the fourth to the fifteenth centuries. 6 credits

HONS 2103 Colloquium on the Early Modern World
Traces modern developments in philosophy, religion, literature, economics, politics, and the natural sciences from the sixteenth century through the 1830s. 6 credits

HONS 2105 Colloquium on Contemporary Civilizations
Focuses on the emergence of global civilization and the effects of industrialization, urbanization, popular movements, revolutions and wars. Explores the development of the social and natural sciences and their relationship to the social, philosophical, aesthetic and political developments. 6 credits

HONS 5101 Honor Thesis
The Honors Thesis is a substantial project undertaken with the collaboration of a University faculty member, whether in the student’s major department or another appropriate field. A departmental thesis or a senior project may be accepted as the equivalent of the Honors Thesis with the agreement of the Program Director. 3 credits

From time to time, the College offers special courses unattached to any particular department. They are by nature occasional, interdisciplinary and experimental, and allow for a variety of interests and initiatives.
The undergraduate program is based on the general requirements to which students, guided by a faculty adviser, add courses required in their major field and free electives.

Academic Advising and Tutoring

Students who have declared majors within the College of Arts and Sciences are advised by experienced faculty in their chosen academic departments within the College. This faculty adviser assists the student in the determination of educational objectives commensurate with his/her interests, talents and abilities. Course selection, particularly the sequencing of courses, is also accomplished in these advising sessions. Appropriate advising is a shared responsibility; both the faculty person and the student are engaged to seek the best possible experience for the student. As adults, it is the responsibility of each student to familiarize themselves with all academic policies and to understand all academic requirements. Included in these discussions is information about academic policies and procedures, curricular and co-curricular programs, and exposure to the full range of services and opportunities available for all Seton Hall students. Students follow the requirements listed in the Undergraduate Catalogue for the year in which they entered Seton Hall University.

Please note: It is the responsibility of each student to know and meet graduation and other requirements, and to make every reasonable effort to obtain adequate academic advising. It is recommended that students declare their majors by the time they complete 60 credits. Any student in the College of Arts and Sciences who has not declared a major and who has completed 75 or more credits prior to October 15 preceding a Spring Semester, or prior to March 1 preceding a Fall Semester, shall not be allowed to register or pre-register for any further courses at Seton Hall University without formally declaring an academic major. A hold will be placed on the student’s record, which can only be removed with permission of the dean and by filing a declaration of major.

Health Professions/Pre-Medical and Pre-Dental Advisory Committee

Seton Hall graduates have been successful as doctors, dentists, physical therapists, physician assistants, athletic trainers, optometrists, occupational therapists, podiatrists, veterinarians and chiropractors. Admission to medical, dental or other health professional schools is a highly selective process based generally on scholarship, character and overall fitness. Although the majority of health professional schools prefer applicants with a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree, occasionally an exceptional student is admitted after completion of three full years of college work. Traditionally, health profession students have selected a science concentration. However, health professional schools encourage applicants to select major fields of concentration that reflect their interests and require some depth of learning within a given discipline.

While there is some variation of practice, most health professional schools require the following undergraduate studies: two years of chemistry, one year of biology, one year of physics, one year of English and one year of mathematics. Normally medical and dental schools require an aptitude examination (MCAT, DAT). The MCAT is administered January through September of the prospective students’ junior year in college. The DAT given year round.

The health professions committee at Seton Hall aids students in selecting appropriate courses. Committee members get to know each student personally and consider all the variables in a student’s academic and personality profile in order to advise the student/applicant in his/her choice of a health profession.

The University participates in several dual degree programs (Physical Therapy, Physician Assistant, Athletic Training, Occupational Therapy) and in the early admission program, AccessMed with Robert Wood Johnson Medical School. Interested students should contact the director of health professions for details about these programs. For additional information, visit the health professions’ web site at http://www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/health-professions-advising

Pre-Medical/Pre-Dental Plus Program

The Pre-Medical/Pre-Dental Plus Program (PMPDPP) is a four-year undergraduate degree program for students pursuing a science major in the College of Arts and Sciences. The program provides a supportive environment for historically underrepresented and economically disadvantaged students to prepare for study in a medical, dental, or other health related field. PMPDPP provides students with the necessary tools and resources required for a smooth transition to medical, dental or graduate study in an allied health field.

Potential candidates must be full-time residents of New Jersey, demonstrate the desire to pursue a career in the sciences and satisfy academic and need-based financial criteria. Financial assistance is offered through New Jersey’s Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF). University scholarships are also available to eligible students.

Entering freshmen attend a six-week Summer program offering courses in college-level chemistry, mathematics and writing to help them make the transition to studying at the college level. Students earn up to six undergraduate credits during the Summer program.

Pre-Med/Pre-Dental Plus students receive academic, career, and personal counseling as well. They work with the university’s health adviser to plan course work in preparation for advanced level science courses as well as the student’s own academic interests. Tutoring in key science disciplines is offered at least two times a week. A sense of community is fostered through meetings with the PMPDPP student counselor and monthly student meetings.

An additional feature of the program is Access Med. Access Med is a program offered, through an affiliation with Seton Hall University and Robert Wood Johnson Medical School, at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey. Selected students begin taking first-year medical courses in their senior year and receive credit toward both the Seton Hall University Bachelor of Science degree and the M.D. at Robert Wood Johnson Medical School. Access Med offers a Medical College Admissions Test (MCAT) preparation course for selected junior-level PMPDPP students. This intense preparation class offers diagnostic and review sessions as well as several simulations of the MCAT examination. Students admitted to this phase of the Access Med program can achieve superior results on the MCAT exam.

For additional information visit the program’s website at www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/pmpdpp or call (973) 761-9648.

Pre-Law Advising

Admission to law school is highly competitive. The selection of applicants for admission rests with the admissions committees of the various law schools and is generally based on an acceptable level of performance at the undergraduate level, an acceptable score on the Law School Admissions Test (LSAT) and other criteria that may be set by the individual institutions.

There are no mandatory requirements for specific courses or majors that must be taken in preparation for entrance into law school; students from a wide variety of undergraduate major programs are regularly accepted by the various schools. Prospective law students most commonly major in such disciplines as political science, history, English, philosophy and economics, but admission to law school has often been granted to students who have majored in other areas.

Of far more importance to the prospective law student than the choice of major or of specific courses is attention to the development of skills in the expression and comprehension of the English language, and to the cultivation of the ability to think creatively and critically, with thoroughness and intellectual curiosity. As noted in the Pre-Law Handbook, the official guide to American Bar Association-approved law schools, the development of these capacities “is not the monopoly of any one subject-matter area, department or division.” Students interested in pursuing a career in law should work closely with the University’s pre-law adviser.

The St. Thomas More Pre-Law Society is an organization for students interested in pursuing a career in law.

For additional information, visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/pre-law/index.cfm or contact Robert Michael Pallitto, Ph.D., J.D., pre-law adviser, at pallitto@shu.edu

Project Acceleration

Project Acceleration provides high school students the opportunity to earn college credit for successfully completing courses at their local high schools. Courses are offered at significantly reduced tuition rates, and are available in all fields, including the physical and biological sciences, languages, English, mathematics, education, art, music, economics, philosophy, religion, and social sciences. Upon completion of these courses, the credits earned are entered on to an official Seton Hall transcript. Project Acceleration credits can then be applied towards a Seton Hall degree, or can be transferred to many other colleges and universities.

For more information call (973) 761-9224, send an e-mail to projectacceleration@shu.edu or visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/project-acceleration/index.cfm

Internships

Internships are offered as an optional educational program available to students in the College of Arts and Sciences. Internships integrate classroom study with supervised learning through productive work experiences. Employer partners work closely with The Career Center and the College of Arts and Science internship faculty advisers to provide students with supervised, “hands-on” working and learning experiences that have relevance to their academic major and career goals. All internship positions are carefully screened to insure that they provide a quality work and learning experience.

To be eligible, students must have completed 30 credits and maintain an overall GPA of 2.5. (Some academic departments may have additional requirements.) Transfer students need to complete at least one semester at Seton Hall to be eligible. Internships can be paid or non-paid and credit bearing or non-credit bearing.

All students interested in either a credit-bearing or non-credit internship experience should schedule an appointment with career professional at The Career Center. Upon approval from an internship faculty adviser, internship credits will satisfy general elective requirements. At the discretion of the College and/or the academic department, internship credits may be used to fulfill major elective credits. Students are eligible to earn 3 credits per semester for an internship experience and a maximum of 9 credits. Students pursuing multiple semesters with the same employer must demonstrate increased level of responsibilities in their internship experience. Students who elect a non-credit internship experience are closely monitored by The Career Center. Courses in the Internship Program include:

Internship I - Pre-professional exploratory experience in a field. Assignments will be made in an entry-level position of employment. Taken only with the written permission of a co-op faculty adviser.

Internship II - Intermediate professional experience in a field. Taken only with the written permission of a coop faculty adviser.

Internship III - Professional experience in the field specifically oriented to the academic major and career objectives. Taken only permission of a co-op faculty adviser.
Course Identification

The course numbering system used throughout the University is described in the Academic Policies and Procedures section of this catalogue. The abbreviations used to designate courses offered within the College of Arts and Sciences are:

Degree Requirements

To attain the degree Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science in the College of Arts and Sciences, students must satisfactorily complete the core curriculum requirements of the University and the College, the requirements of their major fields and a sufficient number of electives. Effective in Fall 2008, a minimum of 120 credits is required for first time/full time students. To qualify for the bachelor’s degree, the student must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0. A GPA of 2.0 also must be maintained in the major field and in any optional second major or minors unless a higher GPA is required.

All students are assigned a faculty adviser from the department or program in which they are enrolled who will assist in planning the program.

Core Curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences

The hallmark of a liberal education is that it entices a student to examine the tree of knowledge, to see both the distinction and interdependence of its branches. Through its program, the College of Arts and Sciences offers students the opportunity to examine areas of the humanities and sciences in depth, while exposing them to the breadth of the related disciplines.

The following core curriculum is the basis of the education of all students in the College of Arts and Sciences. This statement of the core curriculum begins with a discussion of the aims of a college education and proceeds to a listing of the various elements of the core requirements.

The College of Arts and Sciences recognizes the value of the distinctive and complementary perspectives of humanities, physical and biological sciences, and the social and behavioral sciences in understanding our world and the human condition. Its core curriculum is designed to enable students to be conversant with the goals, methods, and values of these perspectives and to acquire the habits of mind to appreciate and contribute to the constantly evolving body of knowledge.

In order to understand and place in personal perspectives the world in which they live:

1. Students will grasp the relationship between themselves as individuals and their communities, and develop an appreciation for the past’s influence on the present and the cultural differences and challenges posed by increased globalism.
2. Students will display the ability to write clearly and effectively, to read texts critically, to articulate ideas, to reason quantitatively and to use appropriate technology.
3. Students will develop the analytical tools required for an appreciation of the strengths and limitations of scientific methodologies and their applications to the natural world as well as human behavior.
4. Students will acquire basic interpretive tools to develop an appreciation of human creativity in its many forms, and understand its central place in people’s daily lives and rituals.
5. Students will appreciate and understand diverse human existence including its spiritual dimension and critically assess their values.

In addition to these broad liberal education objectives, students will develop competence in an academic discipline or area of study.

The Arts and Sciences Core Curriculum

The following are the requirements for the Core Curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences and courses and examinations that fulfill these requirements for students required to complete 120 credits to obtain a Bachelor’s degree from Seton Hall University. The A&S Core Curriculum focuses on the following seven areas:

- Aesthetics. To acquire the interpretive tools to understand its place in people’s daily lives and rituals, students will explore human creativity in its many forms.
- Humanities. To better understand the world in which they live, and how it developed, students will examine the human story through time and place, using history and literature, while equipping themselves with the critical skills to analyze and evaluate evidence, and to understand race, gender, and power.
Language. To increase awareness of cultural roots and traditions, students will demonstrate understanding and appreciation of classical or modern language.

Rhetoric. To be prepared to speak in public, and to understand the varieties of speech discourse, students will study and practice presentations and other forms of spoken influence.

Philosophy and Religion. To examine different ethical or spiritual worldviews, students will use the principles of sound reasoning to critically evaluate fundamental moral or spiritual values in making well-informed decisions about the issues of faith or moral issues.

Science and Mathematics. To sharpen abilities to use and interpret quantitative information and utilize the power of mathematical reasoning to solve problems, students will study mathematical methodologies, modeling and their applications; and to better understand the natural and physical world around them, including the challenges and impacts of discovery, students will examine the scientific principles and practices.

Social Science. To provide a sound basis for understanding and appreciating human institutions and behavior and to create the capacity for civic engagement, students will explore the foundations of society, culture, and government.

A course taken to fulfill one core requirement may not be used to fulfill another core requirement.

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Core Curriculum

The following are the requirements for the Core Curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences and courses and examinations that fulfill these requirements for students required to complete a minimum of 120 credits to obtain a Bachelor of Science degree from Seton Hall University.

UNIVERSITY CORE (16 credits)
All students must demonstrate college-level competence in the following courses
CORE 1001 University Life (1 credit)
CORE 1101 The Journey of Transformation (Signature 1)
CORE 2101 Christianity and Culture in Dialogue (Signature 2)
CORE 3101 Engaging the World (Signature 3)
ENGL 1201 Core English I
ENGL 1202 Core English II

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES CORE for B.S. Students
As of Fall 2009, all incoming freshmen and transfer students with 29 or fewer credits who are candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science in the College of Arts and Sciences must demonstrate college-level competence in the following areas.

A. Mathematics and Science (15-16 credits)
A-1) All students must take at least two mathematics courses at the level of MATH 1401 or higher, or one such mathematics course and one computer science course. Only one of MATH 1401/1501 can be used to satisfy this requirement.

CSAS 1113 Computing for Science Majors
CSAS 1114 Introduction to Program Design I
MATH 1401 Calculus I
MATH 1411 Calculus II
MATH 1501 Calculus I for the Mathematical and Physical Sciences
MATH 2111 Calculus II for the Mathematical and Physical Sciences
MATH 2111 Statistics for Science Majors
A-2) All students must take two courses designed for science majors, with laboratory. Only one of CHEM 1123/1107, and only one of PHYS 1701/1705, can be used to satisfy this requirement.

Faculty: Bentivegna, Bitsaktsis; Blake (Director of Graduate Studies); Chang; Chu; Cottrell; Glenn; Klaus; Ko (Chair); Moldow (Director of Health Professions); Nichols; Zavada; Zhou

Faculty Associates: Rabacchi; Ruscingno (Director of Dual Degree Programs); Tall

Faculty Emeriti: Ahmad; DeProspo; Hsu; Katz; Krause
Biology Degrees Offered

The Department of Biological Sciences offers programs of study leading to the following degrees: Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Master of Science in Biology, Master of Science in Biology with a Business Administration minor, Master of Science in Microbiology, and Doctor of Philosophy in Molecular Bioscience. The Department of Biological Sciences also offers three dual degree programs: Physical Therapy (B.S./D.P.T.), Physician Assistant (B.S./M.S.P.A.), and Athletic Training (B.S./M.S.A.T. and B.A./M.S.A.T.) with the School of Health and Medical Sciences. At the undergraduate level, the Department of Biological Sciences also offers an interdisciplinary minor program in Environmental Sciences.

Biology Honors Program

The Biology Honors Program offers the opportunity for students to work closely with faculty members on sustained research projects, leading to the presentation of their work at scientific forums and published papers. The Biology Honors Program is open to students with a minimum GPA of 3.0 in science courses. Students must complete at least 8 credits of biology research (2181*, 3191, 3192, 3193, 3194*, 4186) under the direction of a faculty member and present their work at two scientific forums. From these credits in the Honors Program, 4 may be applied as biology electives in completing the 14 biology elective credits needed for the major, the remaining 4-6 credits will be counted as general electives. Honors students also will receive training in the responsible conduct of research and are encouraged to continue their research over the Summer. *optional

Advanced Placement

Students with a score of 4 or higher in the Biology Advanced Placement Exam may waive the natural science requirement of the College of Arts and Sciences Core Curriculum. The credits are assigned to BIOL 1101 or BIOL 1111. These two courses are not part of the requirements for biology majors.

Transfer Credits

The department of Biological Sciences welcomes transfer students. The department accepts General Biology I/II, General Chemistry I/II, General Physics I/II and Calculus I/II or Statistics for science majors with a grade of C or better. Students are required to complete BIOL 2221/2222 Genetics with lab, BIOL 2238/2239 Cell Biology with lab (B.S.) or Ecology (B.A. only), BIOL 4199 Senior Seminar and at least two courses of biology electives (as part of the required 14 BIOL elective credits) here at Seton Hall University in order to graduate with the biology major from Seton Hall. All requirements for the major must be met.

Academic Requirements and Declaring the Biology Major

BIOL 1211/1212, 1222/1223, and 2221/2222 are prerequisites for all biology major elective courses. Individual courses may have additional prerequisites as shown in the course descriptions. Students must check with biology department advisers to make sure courses are acceptable before registering.

Students entering as pre-science majors may declare the biology major after completing the following courses with a science GPA of 2.0 or better: BIOL 1211/1212 General Biology I with lab, CHEM 1123/1125 General Chemistry I with lab, and MATH 1015 Pre-calculus or MATH 1401 Calculus I. If students have completed additional courses toward the major, their science GPA must be 2.0 or better in order to declare the biology major.

Student academic records will be reviewed each year. To continue as a biology major after earning 30 or more credits, a student must have earned a minimum 2.0 GPA in the departmental requirements (biology, chemistry, math, and physics courses). Students whose GPA is less than 2.0 will be counseled about an alternate major. Students may continue to take biology courses for which they have satisfied the prerequisites, and may request reinstatement in the biology major at a later time. Note that the University requires a 2.0 GPA (minimum “C” average) in the major and overall in order to graduate.

Major Program

The undergraduate major in biology provides a strong background in the biological sciences in preparation for careers in any area of biology, medicine, dentistry and related professions. It is sufficiently flexible and open to ensure the scheduling of arts and humanities courses for a broad cultural education. Through biology elective courses, the program gives students the opportunity to become familiar with different specialized areas of biology and to engage in independent library or laboratory research.

Each student in the major is assigned a faculty member who serves as academic adviser during the student’s undergraduate years. The adviser provides continuity of information and guidance to help plan the student’s academic program, evaluate progress, and explore career goals. While all students are required to schedule certain courses (see departmental requirements), each student selects courses and develops a specific program in consultation with the academic adviser. However, it is each student’s responsibility to meet their program requirements.

Successful completion of the New Jersey Basic Skills Computation and Algebra tests, or equivalent tests administered by the Seton Hall University mathematics department, is prerequisite to all courses listed.
Professional Programs
For information on Health Professions see the Health Professions/Pre-Medical and Pre-Dental Advisory Committee section of the catalogue.

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree
The Bachelor of Science degree (B.S.) in Biology (major code BIOL) is intended for those students interested in pursuing careers in science and considering application to graduate programs in science or in medicine. In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates for the Bachelor of Science in Biology must complete a minimum of 65 credits in biology, chemistry, mathematics and physics. Students majoring in biology with the intent to earn the B.S. degree follow the College of Arts and Sciences B.S. Core Curriculum. This includes all students pursuing dual degree programs in the Department of Biological Sciences.

Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Degree
The B.A. in Biology (major code BIOA) is a program that provides a solid foundation in laboratory-based life science for students who are interested in integrating their study of biology with other related areas including law, ethics, psychology, history, computer science, writing or journalism. The program is of interest to students majoring in education, for students interested in science writing, and for general understanding of this area of study, that is increasingly important for informed citizenship, intelligent parenting, and life-long learning.

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates for the B.A. in Biology must complete a minimum of 31 credits in biology, chemistry, and mathematics as well as 15 credits from the major elective courses listed below for a total of 46 credits. At least two major elective courses must be in Biology (BIOL), and no more than 4 credits of Biology electives may be in research, independent study, or Co-op courses.

Students pursuing the B.A. in Biology will follow the College of Arts and Sciences Core Curriculum requirements for B.A. students.

1. Prerequisite courses with labs for Ecology and Environmental Toxicology: BIOL 1211/1212 General Biology/Organism; BIOL 1222/1223 General Biology/Cell; BIOL 2221/2222 Genetics;

2. Prerequisite courses with labs for Environmental Chemistry, Environmental Toxicology, and Environmental Physics: CHEM 1123/1125-1124/1125 General Chemistry I-II and CHEM 2313-2314 Organic Chemistry I-II;

3. Prerequisite courses with labs for Environmental Physics: PHYS 1701-1702 General Physics I-II, MATH 1401 Calculus I

Physical Therapy Dual Degree Program

The Department of Biological Sciences and the School of Health and Medical Sciences (SHMS) offer a 3+4 dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Science in Biology and a Doctor of Physical Therapy (B.S./D.P.T.). This seven-year program offers select students an opportunity to study in a traditional liberal arts environment as well as in various healthcare settings.

Physical therapists have the rewarding opportunity to make a positive difference in the quality of people’s lives. Along with the patient and other healthcare practitioners, the physical therapist shares the hard work and commitment needed to accomplish each individual patient’s goals. For people with health problems resulting from aging, injury, or disease, the physical therapist assists in the recovery process by making patients stronger, relieving their pain, helping them to regain use of an affected limb, improving their posture and balance, or to relearning such daily living activities as walking.

Another role of the physical therapist is keeping people well and safe from injury. Physical therapists do this by teaching people the importance of fitness and showing them how to avoid hurting their bodies at work or play. By designing and supervising individualized conditioning programs, physical therapists promote optimal physical performance. Physical therapy practice is centered on patient care and may include education, research and administrative activities.
Admission Criteria

Admission to the (B.S./D.P.T.) program is open to applicants who have successfully completed a high school college preparatory curriculum, including courses in biology, mathematics, chemistry, physics, social sciences, English, and a foreign language. The Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) scores are required of all applicants. International students must submit Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) scores.

Students within the program are required to volunteer or work under the supervision of a physical therapist in a local hospital or other healthcare setting to strengthen interpersonal skills as well as to develop an understanding of the needs and capabilities of patients and the role of physical therapists.

The combined B.S./D.P.T. program is unique because it accepts students for enrollment in the entire program. Students who maintain the required GPA during their 3 years as undergraduates are guaranteed admission into the professional/graduate phase of studies without needing to take the Graduate Record Exam (GRE). Due to a limit on the number of physical therapy students in each entering freshman class, admission into the program is extremely selective.

Program Requirements

Students who maintain the required GPA of 3.2 overall and 3.2 in prerequisite courses (A&P I and II, Chemistry I and II, Physics I and II, English I, Oral Communication/Rhetoric, Calculus I, and Psychology, with no grades less than “C” in prerequisite courses) during each academic semester, and complete the course requirements within the Department of Biological Sciences, will enter the professional/graduate phase of the program after their junior year. Students need to maintain C- or better grades in all science and math courses. Students can only repeat individual courses once. Students enrolled in an undergraduate dual degree program must declare their intent to continue matriculation in their major no later than August 15th prior to their junior year.

 Please note: At the end of each semester, the student’s overall and prerequisite GPAs will be evaluated. If by the end of the fall semester of the freshman year, a student’s overall GPA falls below the required level, the student will loose his or her guaranteed seat as a B.S./D.P.T. dual degree student, and will become a biology major. GPA requirements are exact and will not be rounded to determine eligibility. No exceptions will be made to any dual degree admission requirements.

- Students are required to achieve and maintain at least a 2.7 cumulative and prerequisite GPAs by the end of each semester of the freshman year.
- Students are required to achieve and maintain at least a 3.0 cumulative and prerequisite GPAs by the end of each semester of sophomore year.
- Students are required to achieve and maintain at least a 3.2 cumulative and prerequisite GPAs by the end of each semester of junior year

If a student with low GPA brings his/her GPAs up to the required level before the completion of the undergraduate phase, that student may re-enter the program, depending on seat availability.

The students in the B.S./D.P.T. program are required to take a biology elective in their junior year (please see the list below). Furthermore, all prerequisite and B.S. degree requirements must be successfully completed no later than May 15 prior to beginning the professional/graduate D.P.T. courses.

Transfer Credit

Students may apply to transfer into the undergraduate portion of the physical therapy dual-degree program. All such applications must demonstrate outstanding academic ability and will be considered on a case-by-case basis. The following prerequisite courses must be taken at Seton Hall University even if previously taken elsewhere: Anatomy and Physiology I/II, General Chemistry I/II, and Physics I/II. Students will only be accepted as transfers into the dual-degree program as freshmen or sophomores.

Enrollment During the Graduate Phase

The Doctor of Physical Therapy Program is a full-time lock-step program and requires continuous enrollment throughout the four years of professional study. Students who have interrupted enrollment will be required to register for 1 credit Independent Study course prior to beginning courses with clinically related experiences. This independent study will emphasize continued mastery of previously learned knowledge and skills. Permission of the department chairperson is required. The following courses must be taken in the predetermined sequence.

Elective Courses for the Biology–Physical Therapy Undergraduate Phase

The following biology electives are suitable to meet the Biology requirement. Students can complete a 4-credit biology elective with a laboratory component, or 3 credits of an approved biology elective plus a 1 credit approved Independent Study project.

Eligible students seeking to transfer into the B.S./D.P.T. program will be considered on a space-available basis.

Prior to admission into the fourth year, students must also complete 50 hours of volunteer work under the supervision of a physical therapist. This volunteer experience will allow students to strengthen interpersonal skills and to develop an understanding of the needs and capabilities of patients and the role of physical therapists. The volunteer work can be satisfied at any time prior to admission into the fourth year.

Physician Assistant Dual Degree Program

The Department of Biological Sciences and the School of Health and Medical Sciences (SHMS) offer a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Science in Biology and a Master of Science in Physician Assistant (B.S./M.S.P.A.). This six-year program offers the opportunity to study in a traditional liberal arts environment as well as in diverse clinical settings.

The Bachelor of Science in Biology is awarded at the completion of four years of work and the Master of Science in Physician Assistant is awarded at the completion of the sixth year of study.

Admission Criteria

Admission to the program is open to applicants who successfully completed a high school college preparatory curriculum, including courses in the social sciences, biology, mathematics, physics, English, a foreign language and chemistry. The Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) scores are required of all applicants. International students must submit Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) scores.

Students within the program are encouraged to volunteer or work in a local hospital or other healthcare setting to strengthen interpersonal skills and to develop an understanding of the needs and capabilities of patients and the role of physician assistants. The combined B.S./M.S.P.A. program is unique because it accepts students for enrollment in the entire program. Students who meet the requirements outlined below as an undergraduate are guaranteed admission into the final three years of professional/graduate studies. Due to a limit on the number of PA students in each entering freshman class, admission into the program is extremely selective.

Prerequisite Undergraduate Coursework

The following undergraduate coursework is designed to provide a solid foundation for the study of clinical medicine. All of the prerequisite courses must be completed by June 1st of the junior year. All prerequisite courses must be completed with a grade of “C” or better:

- General Chemistry I (CHEM 1123)
- General Chemistry I Lab (CHEM 1125)
- General Chemistry II (CHEM 1124)
- General Chemistry II Lab (CHEM 1126)
- Calculus I (MATH 1401)* or Statistics (MATH 2111)
- Psychology (PSYC 1101)
- General Biology I with Lab (BIOL 1211/1212)
- General Biology II with Lab (BIOL 1222/1223)
- Microbiology (BIOL 3411)
- Anatomy & Physiology I (BIOL 3338)
- Anatomy & Physiology II (BIOL 3339)

*as required by the dual degree program

High School AP Calculus and Psychology courses will be accepted; however in such cases, to fulfill the pre-requisite requirements students will need to take Statistics (MATH 2111) and an upper level of Psychology (PSYC 2214) course.

Healthcare Experience Requirement

Students are required to complete a minimum of 100 hours observing or participating in the delivery of healthcare in a clinical environment. This requirement may be met through paid or volunteer experiences. Past experiences that students have used to meet this requirement include but are not limited to: shadowing a PA or physician in an office or hospital; volunteering or working as an emergency medical technician; working as a nurse, nurse’s aide, respiratory therapist, paramedic, athletic trainer or other healthcare provider, or volunteering in a healthcare facility. The healthcare experience is intended to strengthen interpersonal skills and to develop an understanding of the role of a healthcare provider. Students are required to arrange their own healthcare experience. Doing so helps to demonstrate the level of commitment and motivation necessary to become a physician assistant. Documentation indicating the completion of a minimum of 100 hours of healthcare experience must be provided to the Department of Physician Assistant by June 1st prior to entering the professional/graduate phase of the program. Students are responsible for arranging their own healthcare experience time.

Undergraduate Academic Standards
Students must demonstrate that they are prepared to meet the demands of the physician assistant program. At the end of each semester, the student’s required GPA will be evaluated. Students must complete all of their college core, University core and biology dual degree requirements in the first three years of their undergraduate curriculum with a prerequisite and overall GPA of 3.2 as described below:

- Prerequisite Courses: Students are required to earn a grade of C or better in all prerequisite courses listed above. Earning a grade lower than C results in immediate dismissal from the dual degree program.
- Freshman Year: At the end of each semester during the freshman year, students must achieve cumulative and prerequisite GPAs of 2.7.
- Sophomore Year: At the end of each semester during the sophomore year, students must achieve cumulative and prerequisite GPAs of 3.0.
- Junior Year: At the end of each semester during the junior year, students must achieve cumulative and prerequisite GPAs of 3.2.

Failure to maintain the required cumulative and prerequisite GPAs will result in immediate dismissal from the dual-degree program. GPA requirements are exact and will not be rounded to determine eligibility. No exceptions will be made to any dual degree admission requirements. Students dismissed from the dual-degree program may become biology majors. Such students are free to apply to the graduate phase of physician assistant program following undergraduate graduation.

Progression into the Graduate Phase
Students enrolled in an undergraduate dual degree program must declare their intent to continue matriculation into the graduate phase of their program no later than June 1st prior to their junior year. Students who successfully complete all of the above requirements and the other course requirements within the Department of Biological Sciences will participate in an interview with the Department of Physician Assistant to ensure a smooth transition into the graduate phase of the physician assistant program after their junior year. Students will be awarded a Bachelor of Science Degree in Biology following the successful completion of the first year of the graduate studies.

Summer Semester Sophomore Year

Health care experience time. This is a prerequisite for admission to the professional phase of the program. Students are responsible for arranging their own healthcare experience time.
Athletic Training Dual Degree Program

The Department of Biological Sciences and the School of Health and Medical Sciences (SHMS) offer a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Science in Biology (B.S.) and a Master of Science in Athletic Training (M.S.A.T.) as well as Bachelor of Arts in Biology (B.A.) and a Master of Science in Athletic Training (M.S.A.T.). This five-year program offers students the opportunity to study in a traditional liberal arts environment as well as in a major healthcare organization.

The Master of Science in Athletic Training (M.S.A.T.) is intended to prepare graduates to critically analyze and convey information to patients, colleagues, and other health professionals. These clinicians will be able to provide a broad range of patient care services, and perform research and administrative responsibilities. This is accomplished through students and faculty building collaborations, participating in professional organizations in athletic training, and administering athletic training services.

The mission of the Master of Science in Athletic Training program is to prepare students to become competent and independent clinicians who will enhance the quality of patient health care and to advance the profession of athletic training. The program teaches and provides practical experiences to enable graduates to assume leadership roles both within the field of athletic training and within the community.

The professional phase of the M.S.A.T. program includes academic courses and clinical practica in athletic training. Students develop the knowledge and skills needed to perform as entry-level athletic training clinicians and to grow and adapt to the rapid changes in the profession and health care. Upon program completion students will be thoroughly prepared for the Board of Certification (BOC) Examination and able to enter the profession as entry-level practitioners. Additionally the curriculum prepares students for the Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS) examination.

Accreditation

The Master of Science in Athletic Training program is fully accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education (CAATE), which maintains education standards for accredited athletic training education programs.

Admission Criteria

Admission to the program is open to applicants who successfully completed a high school college preparatory curriculum including courses in biology, mathematics, physics, chemistry, social sciences, English, and a foreign language. The Scholastic Achievement Test (SAT) scores are required of all applicants. International students must submit Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) scores.
Applicants are encouraged to volunteer or work with a Certified Athletic Trainer (ATC) in their high school, local sports medicine clinic, hospital or other healthcare setting. This experience will help strengthen interpersonal skills and to develop an understanding of the needs and capabilities of patients and the role of athletic trainers.

Program Requirements

The B.S./M.S.A.T. and B.A./M.S.A.T. programs are unique because each program accepts students for enrollment in the entire program. Students who maintain the required GPAs as an undergraduate are guaranteed admission into the final two years of professional studies. GPA requirements are exact and will not be rounded to determine eligibility. No exceptions will be made to any dual degree admission requirements. Due to a limit on the number of athletic training students in each entering freshman class, admission into the program is extremely selective.

 Please note: At the end of each semester, the student’s overall GPA and prerequisite GPAs will be evaluated. The student is expected to achieve overall and prerequisite GPAs of 3.0 or higher at the end of the junior year. If by the end of the fall semester of the freshman year, a student’s overall GPA falls below 2.0, the student will automatically lose his or her guaranteed seat as a B.S./M.S.A.T. or B.A./M.S.A.T. dual degree student, and will become a biology major. In addition, if at the end of freshman spring semester through the end of fall semester of junior year of the B.S./M.S.A.T. or B.A./M.S.A.T. program a student’s overall GPA falls below a 2.7, the student will automatically lose his or her guaranteed seat in the B.S./M.S.A.T. or B.A./M.S.A.T. program and will become a biology major.

Athletic training students who maintain the required overall and prerequisite GPAs, with no grades less than C in these prerequisite courses (A&P I and II, Calculus I, Biology I, Physics I, English I, Psychology, Sociology, and Foundations in Oral Rhetoric) during each academic semester, and complete the course requirements within the Department of Biological Sciences, will enter the professional/graduate phase of the program after their junior year. Students enrolled in an undergraduate degree program must declare their intent to continue matriculation in their major no later than August 15th prior to their junior year. Eligible students seeking to transfer into any SMHS dual degree program will be considered on a space-available basis. Prior to admission into the fourth year, students must submit a current CPR/AED card for the Professional Rescuer and complete 50 hours of volunteer work under the supervision of a Certified Athletic Trainer in at least one healthcare setting to strengthen interpersonal skills and to develop an understanding of the needs and capabilities of patients and the role of athletic trainer. The volunteer work can be satisfied at any time prior to admission into the fourth year and requires a letter of reference from the supervising ATC.

Course Descriptions

Equivalent courses taken elsewhere may be accepted as prerequisites. Students should check with advisers to make sure courses are acceptable before registering.

- BIOL 1211/1212, 1222/1223, and 2221/2222 are prerequisites for all biology major elective courses. Individual courses may have additional prerequisites as shown in the following course descriptions. Students must check with biology department advisers to make sure courses are acceptable before registering.

From the combined course groups of Biology Honors, Independent Study and Biology Research a maximum of 4 credits may be counted toward biology major credits for the B.S. and B.A. degrees. Any additional credits earned in those three course groups count as general electives.

Core waivers will be considered for incoming students who transfer with an Associate Degree in Biology. Please contact the department for more information.

BIOL 1000: Journey of the Universe

An interdisciplinary examination of the story of the Universe based upon recent scientific knowledge, as well as ancient wisdom, as a basis for envisioning a future for the Earth community. This is a Numeracy-infused course. (For students not majoring in the sciences). 3 credits

BIOL 1101 Introduction to Biology

Introduction to concepts that contribute to understanding the distinctive nature and characteristics of life, its cellular, physical and chemical bases. Emphasis on the function of tissues, organs and systems of the human body. Three-hour lecture per week. (For students not majoring in the sciences.) 3 credits

BIOL 1122 (Lecture) and 1123 (Lab) Human Anatomy and Physiology I and BIOL 1133 (Lecture) and 1134 (Lab) Human Anatomy and Physiology II

Introduction to the structure and function of the human body through the molecular, cellular, tissue, and organ system levels. Elements of structure as a basis for understanding function of major body systems, including: neural, endocrine, musculoskeletal, cardiovascular, digestive, renal, respiratory, reproductive, and more. Emphasis on the regulation of body processes to maintain homeostasis/well being in the face of changing environment or disease challenge. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. Not for Biology majors. BIOL 1122 and 1123 is the prerequisite for BIOL 1133 and 1134. Students with a major of nursing or tracking nursing must earn a “C+” or higher grade to fulfill the nursing program requirements. Students with a major of SOBT and SOBZ, or tracking SOBT and SOBZ must earn a “C” or higher grade to fulfill the program’s requirements. Students with nursing/renursing track must earn a “C” in BIOL 1122/1123 to continue to BIOL 1133/1134, and will need to re-take BIOL 1122/1123 to earn a “C+” or better grade to fulfill the program requirement. Students with SOBT and SOBZ or tracking these majors need to earn a “C-” to continue to BIOL 1133/1134, and will need to re-take BIOL 1122/1123 to obtain a C grade or better grade.

Notes

- Classes begin in late July/early August.
Students must take BIOL 1122 and 1123 together as well as BIOL 1133 and 1134 together, except for students who retake a particular course. Lab fee $25 for each lab course.

BIOL 1104 Biology in the World Around Us
Introduction to concepts that contribute to understanding the distinctive nature and characteristics of life, its chemical, informational, cellular, and ecological basis, with emphasis on the human and laboratory discovery. Lecture and Lab. (For students not majoring in the sciences). Lab fee $25.

BIOL 1105-1106 Human Structure and Function I-II
Biology of Homo sapiens, including discussions of human evolution, ecology, genetics and development; mammalian cellular, tissue, and organ structure and function; mammalian physiology emphasizing nervous and hormonal coordination necessary for homeostasis. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. (Primarily for psychology majors). Lab fee $25 for each course.

BIOL 1110 Introduction to Marine Biology
A field and laboratory oriented course covering the biology and characteristics of marine plants and animals. The course is designed to provide the student with instruction and experience in collecting and identifying examples of local marine flora and fauna. Course is held at Sandy Hook, NJ. See instructor for registration materials and information.

BIOL 1111 Introduction to Applications of Biology
A discussion of connections between the concepts and information base of biology and their applications in medicine, agriculture, ecology, genetics and other biological fields. Connections to chemistry, physics and math are shown. Students study biological foundation material from text and lectures in order to evaluate biology-related reports in newspapers, magazines and other media of public information. A free elective, for students in College Algebra who intend to take BIOL 1201/1202, and for those in Pre-Calculus who may want to strengthen their biology background before taking BIOL 1201/1202. Three-hour lecture per week. Corequisite: MATH 1014.

BIOL 1115-1116 Human Structure and Function I-II
Same course content as BIOL 1105-1106, but does not include lab. Three-hour lecture per week. (Primarily for psychology majors).

BIOL 1211 (Lecture) and 1212 (Lab) General Biology/Organism
Introduction to taxonomy, phylogeny, and evolution of organisms. Structure and function of bodily systems to maintain homeostasis. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. Students must take BIOL 1211 and 1212 together, except for students who retake the course. Corequisite or prerequisite: MATH 1015 or higher.

BIOL 1222 (Lecture) and 1223 (Lab) General Biology/Cell
Introduction to genetics, the cellular basis of life forms, the structures and functions of biologically important molecules. Covers cellular and molecular aspects of operation of bodily systems that are treated more descriptively in BIOL 1201 (e.g., kidney function, nerve cell function, muscle contraction, hormone action and cellular recognition in immunity). Includes microscopy, permeability, molecular modeling, enzyme studies, spectrophotometry, statistics and data analysis. Three-hour lecture and three-hour laboratory per week. Students must take BIOL 1222 and 1223 together, except for students who retake the course. Prerequisites: BIOL 1201 and MATH 1015 or higher.

BIOL 2141 (Lecture) and 2142 (Lab) Introduction to Microbiology
Integrated approach to the principles of bacteriology, mycology, virology and parasitology to provide a better understanding of the problems of health and disease. Three-hour lecture, two hour laboratory per week. (Not for science majors or pre-medical/pre-dental students). Students with a nursing major or tracking nursing must earn a “C+” or higher grade to fulfill the nursing program requirements. Students must take BIOL 2141 and 2142 together, except for students who retake the course. Prerequisites: BIOL 1122/1123, BIOL 1133/1134.

BIOL 2181 Biology Honors I
Use of library resources to search the literature of the biological sciences and compile bibliographies. Principles of scientific inquiry and development of scientific theories explored through discussion with faculty. Review of various research areas and topics for laboratory investigation. Class assignments and term papers. One hour per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211/2222.

BIOL 2212 (ENVL 2212) Introduction to Ecology
Application of basic scientific laws, principles and concepts to environmental and resource problems. Scientific concepts such as resources; soil, water and food; ecosystems, atmosphere and geologic processes; air and water pollution and pesticides will be addressed. Studies also include population and community dynamics. Part of the environmental studies major and minor; not a biology major elective course. Prerequisite: BIOL 1101, BIOL 1104 or CHEM 1001 or equivalent. Lab fee $25.

BIOL 2218 Biology Honors I
Use of library resources to search the literature of the biological sciences and compile bibliographies. Principles of scientific inquiry and development of scientific theories explored through discussion with faculty. Review of various research areas and topics for laboratory investigation. Class assignments and term papers. One hour per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 2211/2222.

BIOL 2221 (Lecture) and 2222 (Lab) Genetics
Fundamental principles of classic and molecular genetics. Simple inheritance patterns, cytogenetics, DNA replication, protein synthesis, regulatory mechanisms, genetic engineering and behavioral genetics. Problems of human genetics as related to genetic counseling and genetic engineering. Laboratory experiments illustrate principles of genetics using various organisms. Introduction to statistics and computers as applied to genetics. Students must take BIOL 2221 and 2222 together, except for students who retake the course. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 1211/1212 & 1222/1223.

BIOL 2222 (Lecture) and 2223 (Lab) General Biology/Cell
Introduction to genetics, the cellular basis of life forms, the structures and functions of biologically important molecules. Covers cellular and molecular aspects of operation of bodily systems that are treated more descriptively in BIOL 1201 (e.g., kidney function, nerve cell function, muscle contraction, hormone action and cellular recognition in immunity). Includes microscopy, permeability, molecular modeling, enzyme studies, spectrophotometry, statistics and data analysis. Three-hour lecture and three-hour laboratory per week. Students must take BIOL 1222 and 1223 together, except for students who retake the course. Prerequisites: BIOL 1201 and MATH 1015 or higher. Lecture 3 credits; Lab 1 credit. Lab fee $25.

BIOL 2223 (Lecture) and 2224 (Lab) General Biology/Organism
Introduction to taxonomy, phylogeny, and evolution of organisms. Structure and function of bodily systems to maintain homeostasis. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. Students must take BIOL 1211 and 1212 together, except for students who retake the course. Corequisite or prerequisite: MATH 1015 or higher. Lecture 3 credits; Lab 1 credit. Lab fee $25.
Biology Courses

Biol 2238 (lecture) and 2239 (Lab) Cell Biology
Study of cell morphology and cell physiology, including diversity of cell types resulting from cell specialization, the intracellular and intercellular mechanisms by which cells communicate, reproduce, and develop. Experimental approaches and methodology are emphasized, as well as the cell’s fundamental importance in medicine and disease. Laboratory exercises emphasize experimental design and execution, as well as data collection, analysis and presentation. Quantitative problem solving is emphasized throughout the lecture and laboratory components. Students must take BIOL 2238 and 2239 together, except for students who retake the course. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. Lecture 3 credits; Lab 1 credit. Lab fee $25.

BIOL 2331 Histology
Study of normal cells and tissues and how they are organized to form functional organ systems in humans. Laboratory involves analysis of prepared slides as well as some of the current microscopic techniques used to study cells and tissues. Lecture and labs are offered on-line. Face-to-face meetings with instructor each week for review of lecture and lab materials. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. Lab fee $25. 4 credits

BIOL 2341 Ecology
Adaptation of organisms to their environment; population dynamics; symbiosis; community and ecosystem structure and function; emphasis on role of microorganisms in biotransformation, element cycling and energy flow; experience in field techniques. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. Offered in alternate years. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. Lab fee $25. 4 credits

BIOL 3191-3194 Biology Research I - IV
Methods of original laboratory investigation and research projects. Hours by arrangement. (Limited to juniors and seniors selected by the faculty. Arrangements must be made and permission obtained prior to registration). A maximum of 8 credits is permitted in BIOL 3191-3194. From the combined course groups of Biology Honors, Independent Study, and Biology Research a maximum of four credits may be counted toward the 32 biology credits required in the major. Any additional credits earned in those three course groups count as free electives. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. 2 credits each

BIOL 3195-3198 Independent Study in Biology
Insight into current biological research and, with direct contact with the staff affords the opportunity to examine the biological sciences as a cultural subject and a professional field. Hours are by arrangement. (Limited to students selected by the faculty. Arrangements must be made and permission obtained prior to registration.) A maximum of 8 credits is permitted in BIOL 3191-3198. From the combined course groups of Biology Honors, Independent Study, and Biology Research a maximum of four credits may be counted toward the 32 biology credits required in the major. Any additional credits earned in those three course groups count as free electives. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. 1 credit each

BIOL 3200 Sustainability in the Marine Environment: Campobello Island, Canada
Sustainability in the marine environment involves synchronizing human activities with the rhythms of nature. Students learn the theory of sustainability from the perspectives of marine biology and resource management, religious values, and socio-economic constraints, and study the application of these concepts in a particular geographic setting, Campobello Island, at the US-Canada border. Taught in the summer term, and includes travel and residence for one week on Campobello Island, off the coast of Maine. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222 Genetics. The course is cross-listed as CORE 3200 ETW Sustainability in the Marine Environment and ENVL 3200 Sustainability in the Marine Environment. 3 credits

BIOL 3210 Human Genetics
Inheritance of various traits from simple inheritance patterns to biochemical traits, to behavioral traits and Complex patterns of inheritance. Methods for detection of human traits will be discussed. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. 3 credits

BIOL 3212 Evolution
Population genetics; Hardy-Weinberg equilibrium; genetic variation; kinds of selection; speciation mechanism; major phylogenetic patterns; evidence for organic evolution; and modern techniques (such as biochemical, morphometric, behavioral) in population genetics and taxonomy. Three-hour lecture per week. Offered in alternate years. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. 3 credits

BIOL 3231 Molecular Biology
Study of the chemical and physical structures of DNA molecules. Genetic code, transcription, translation, mutation and the regulatory mechanisms of DNA, RNA and proteins of prokaryotes and eukaryotes. Contemporary biotechnology topics are introduced, and recent scientific articles are also included. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. 3 credits

BIOL 3232 Molecular Biology Lab
Laboratory component of BIOL 3231. Corequisite BIOL 3231. Lab fee $25. 1 credit

BIOL 3233 Biochemistry of Metabolism
Synthesis and degradation of organic molecules in living systems, especially humans. Dietary, medical and genetic aspects of metabolism. Integration and regulation of pathways. Includes metabolic activities restricted to plants and microorganisms; representative antibiotics, toxins, drugs. Three-hour lecture per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 2221/2222 and CHEM 2321/2315; Senior status; 3.0 GPA. 3 credits

BIOL 3241 Introduction to Immunology
Biol 3243 ETW Ecology and Stewardship

Students examine the inter-relationships of organisms with their environment, including the influences of human activities. Through reading, research, class discussion, computer simulations, field experiences, and contemplative exercises, students explore their roles within the Earth community in the context of both the natural sciences and the Catholic tradition of Saint Francis of Assisi and Bernard Lonergan. Prerequisites: CORE 2101, BIOL 2221/2222. Lab Fee $25. 4 credits

Biol 3321 Vertebrate Physiology

A comprehensive coverage of the physiology of cells, organs and organ systems with emphasis on the underlying biophysical and biochemical principles of function. Organ systems, including nerve, muscle, cardiovascular, respiratory and renal, are examined from the standpoint of their regulation and role in maintenance of homeostasis. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. Lab fee $25. 4 credits

Biol 3323 Neuroendocrinology

Role of hormones in coordinating homeostasis. Emphasis on neuroendocrinology, including functional neuroanatomy and neuro-chemistry. Study of the mechanism of action of hormones at the cellular and molecular levels. Review and analysis of current literature. Three-hour lecture per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. Recommended: CHEM 2321/2315. 3 credits

Biol 3333 Embryology

Descriptive and experimental study of the development of vertebrates with emphasis on human development. Topics include gametogenesis, fertilization, cleavage, gastrulation, organogenesis and mechanisms involved in control of shaping, pattern formation and gene expression during development. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. Lab Fee $25. 4 credits

Biol 3338-3339 Human Anatomy and Physiology I-II

Introduction to the skeletal system and muscular system as well as the study of the various organs systems. The cardiovascular and respiratory system are covered in Part I. The nervous system, endocrine and reproductive system are also covered as well as the gastrointestinal and renal system. Metabolism is studied. Element of structure as a basis of understanding function is a key concept in this course. Two one-hour and 15-minute lectures and a three-hour laboratory per week. This course is designed for BIOT (PT Track), BIOP (PA Track), BIOZ (AT Track) specifically. Biology majors who are not in a PT/PA/AT track need special permission of the instructor. Biology majors may take BIOL 3338 for 4 credits in biology electives. Special permission is still needed by the instructor. For biology majors, BIOL 3339 is equivalent to general electives only. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. Lab fee $25 for each course. 4 credits each

Biol 3341 Environmental Toxicology

Introduction to principles of ecotoxicology, including toxicity of petroleum and oil, solvents and pesticides, environmental ionizing radiation, air pollution, plant and animal toxins. Analytical and bioassay methods of detection will be studied as well as risk assessment. Three-hour lecture per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 2221/2222, CHEM 2321/2315. 3 credits

Biol 3411 Microbiology

Microbiological theories, methods and techniques: comprehensive background in the structure, physiology and nomenclature of bacteria, yeast and fungi. Laboratory techniques used for the isolation, staining, culturing and identification of a variety of microorganisms. Three-hour lecture, four-hour laboratory per week. BIOL 3411 is required for B.S./M.S.P.A. and Secondary Education students. Those students will have priority to register for this course. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. Lab fee $25. 4 credits

Biol 3433 Forensic Biology

This course provides a comprehensive review of biological principles applied to forensic science. Topics that will be discussed include, but are not limited to: crime scene, sample recovery and handling, analytical techniques, drug/alcohol use and abuse, serology, firearms, DNA, and hair and fiber analysis. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. Lab fee $25. 4 credits

Biol 3434 Medical Terminology and Physiological Applications

The course has been divided into two specific sections. The first section has been designed to meet the following objectives: word roots, combining forms, prefixes and suffixes, defining and understanding the specialties of medicine, building surgical and diagnostic terms. The course also covers the study of suffixes that pertain to medical diagnosis, the study of suffixes to understand medical procedures, diagnostic imagery- X-ray, CT, MRI, how, why and when to use them. Selected abbreviations that are standard in the medical community. Building terms about disease and disorder- suffixes and prefixes pertaining to specific pathologies will be studied in the first section of the course. Organization of the body- frames of reference, and the anatomical position. Sections of the body: coronal, frontal and transverse and their application to CT scans and MRI will be studied. General word parts about body fluids will be introduced and used to write medical terms. Classification of type of disease, such as organic diseases as opposed to functional disorders. Three-hour lecture. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. 3 credits.

Biol 3593 Permaculture Design

This course introduces students to the theory and application of Permaculture (permanent agriculture) an ecological design system for sustainability. The course focuses upon designing systems to maintain agriculturally productive ecosystems, which have the diversity, stability, and resilience of natural ecosystems. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222 Genetics. Cross-listed as ENVL 3593 Permaculture Design. 3 credits

Biol 3894 Biology Co-op I

(See Co-op Adviser.) 3 credits

Biol 3895 Biology Co-op II

(See Co-op Adviser.) 3 credits

Biol 3896 Biology Co-op III

(See Co-op Adviser.) 3 credits
BIOL 4186 Biology Honors: Senior Thesis
Laboratory research carried out previously are the basis for an extensive written report. The thesis must be completed in order for any biology honors credits to be included in the 32 biology credits required in the major. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. 1 credit

BIOL 4199 Senior Biology Seminar
Seminars and discussions designed to integrate readings of the current biology literature with both written and oral presentation. Specific goals include: acquiring skills in gathering and analysis of biological information, developing confidence and expertise in presenting biology through writing and speaking, formulating a critical method of evaluating and discussing biology. In addition this seminar will be coordinated with the department’s outcome assessment. For senior biology students only. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. 3 credits

BIOL 4412 Molecular Virology
The goal of this course is to introduce students to the basic principles of virology including genome organization, virus structure, gene expression and replication strategies, virus-host cell interactions and the molecular basis of pathogenesis. All important human viruses will be discussed, including papilloma, herpes, smallpox, polio, measles, West Nile, HIV, influenza, SARS, and hepatitis viruses. Three-hour lecture. Prerequisites: BIOL 2221/2222 and BIOL 2238/2239. 3 credits

BIOL 4431 Microbial Genetics
Fundamental principles. Aspects of production and selection of microbial mutants. Classic mechanisms of microbial recombination including transformation, transduction, and conjugation and recombiant DNA technology as it relates to microorganisms. Three-hour lecture. Prerequisite: BIOL 2221/2222. 3 credits

Faculty Emeriti: Augustine; Celiano; Huchital

The Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry offers programs leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Science, Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy.

The bachelor’s degrees in chemistry and biochemistry prepare students for careers and graduate studies in chemistry, biochemistry, forensic science or the health professions. The curriculum includes a rigorous study of the laws, principles and theories applied in the various branches of chemistry, and develops laboratory skills in methods of analysis, synthesis and instrumentation.

The B.S. (ACS) degree program is approved by the Committee on Professional Training of the American Chemical Society. For further information, visit the department website at www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/chemistry

Honors Program
The Honors Program in chemistry and biochemistry is for students of exceptional ability and includes seminars and preparation of a review article in the sophomore and junior years. Each student prepares a senior thesis based on original research and works closely with a faculty member on a tutorial basis.

Major Programs
In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, a degree candidate must complete a minimum of 53 credits in chemistry and allied fields. In general, required courses will be taken in the order listed. However, each student’s program is designed in consultation with the student’s faculty adviser, who may modify the program in view of the student’s background and objectives.

There are three distinct undergraduate programs in chemistry and biochemistry, each leading to the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree. The first leads to a B.S. in chemistry degree certified by the American Chemical Society (ACS). The second degree is a general chemistry major that allows the student more flexibility. Since fewer chemistry courses are required, the student in the second program may also concentrate on an additional field, such as biology, computer science or business administration, or may take a greater variety of liberal arts courses. Either program can lead to further study at the graduate level in a variety of chemistry intensive areas, including chemistry, biochemistry, medicine, dentistry and forensic science.

The third degree is a B.S. in biochemistry, which is designed to prepare students for graduate study in biochemistry or related fields, for medical school or for employment in the pharmaceutical and clinical industries. The course requirements include those for the general chemistry major, with advanced biology and biochemistry courses added to the program of study. Students who intend to enter graduate school may select from a variety of advanced electives in order to meet specific admission requirements.

Five-Year Dual Degree Program

This program is conducted jointly with the New Jersey Institute of Technology (NJIT) and leads to a B.S. degree in chemistry from Seton Hall University and a B.S. degree in chemical engineering from NJIT. Students spend three years at Seton Hall and two years at NJIT. See page 251 of this catalogue for additional information.

Minor Program in Chemistry

To insure sufficient breadth and depth in the minor in chemistry, the department recommends completion of freshman and sophomore-level courses plus some advanced courses.

The minor in chemistry requires a minimum of 22 credits, as follows:

I. Two semesters of general chemistry:
- CHEM 1123-1124 General Chemistry I-II and
- CHEM 1125-1126 General Chemistry Laboratory I-II
  - 8
  - CHEM 1107-1108 Principles of Chemistry I-II
  - 9

II. Two semesters of organic chemistry:
- CHEM 2321-2322 Organic Chemistry I-II and
- CHEM 2315-2316 Organic Chemistry Laboratory I-II
  - 8
  - CHEM 2313-2314 Organic Chemistry I-II
  - 10

Total: 22-25

Course Descriptions

Please note: Laboratory fees are nonrefundable.

Successful completion of the New Jersey Basic Skills Computation and Algebra Tests, or completion of equivalent tests administered by the Seton Hall University mathematics department, is prerequisite to all courses listed below except CHEM 1001, 1005 and 1011. (Successful completion means that the student placed into MATH 1015 or higher).

CHEM 1001 Chemistry and the World Around Us
For students with no science background. Examination of the substances encountered in daily life, including common drugs, food, household chemicals, gasoline, paints, plastics and other consumer products. (For non-science students). 3 credits

CHEM 1011 Preparatory College Chemistry
For students with no previous coursework in chemistry, or an inadequate background for college chemistry. Prepares students for college-level chemistry courses required for nursing and science majors. (For science students). Corequisite: MATH 1014 or higher. 3 credits

CHEM 1107-1108 Principles of Chemistry I-II
Development of the principles of chemistry, principally for chemistry and physics majors. Part I: four-hour lecture, four-hour laboratory per week. Part II: three-hour lecture, four-hour laboratory per week. Laboratory work includes inorganic qualitative analysis. Lab fee $25 for each course. Corequisite: for CHEM 1107 MATH 1015 or higher; for CHEM 1108 MATH 1401. 4/5 credits

CHEM 1123-1124 General Chemistry I-II
Introduction to the principles of chemistry, principally for biology and allied health majors. Corequisite: for CHEM 1123, MATH 1015 or higher; for CHEM 1124, MATH 1401. 3 credits each

CHEM 1125-1126 General Chemistry Lab I-II
Introduction to the principles of the chemical laboratory. Companion courses to CHEM 1123 and 1124. Lab fee $25 for each course. Corequisites: CHEM 1123/1124, respectively; for CHEM 1123, MATH 1015 or higher; for CHEM 1124, MATH 1401. 1 credit each

CHEM 1301 Elements of Organic Chemistry and Biochemistry
Fundamental chemistry. Emphasis on the principles of organic and biochemistry that contribute to health and disease. This course is primarily intended to fulfill the chemistry requirement for students in the College of Nursing. Four-hour lecture, three-hour lab per week. (Not for science majors or allied health science majors.) Lab fee $25. Prerequisite: CHEM 1011 or one year of high school chemistry. 3 credits

CHEM 2215 Analytical Chemistry I
A fundamental course for physical science majors on the classical methods of analysis. Topics include titrimetry, gravimetry, spectrophotometry, potentiometry, separations, sampling and statistics. Two-hour lecture, eight-hour laboratory per week. Lab fee $25. Prerequisite: CHEM 1108 or 1124. 4 credits

CHEM 2216 Analytical Chemistry II
Theory and practice of modern instrumental methods. Emphasis on the principles of instrumentation. Three-hour lecture, four-hour laboratory per week. Lab fee $25. Prerequisite: CHEM 2215 or permission of instructor. 4 credits

CHEM 2226 Analytical Chemistry II
Lecture-only portion of CHEM 2216. Prerequisite: CHEM 2215 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

CHEM 2313-2314 Organic Chemistry I-II
Principal classes of aliphatic and aromatic compounds. Emphasis on structural theory, reaction mechanisms, organic syntheses. Experimental work emphasizes basic organic laboratory techniques and includes an introduction to qualitative organic analysis. Three-hour lecture, six-hour laboratory and recitation per week. (For students majoring in chemistry). Prerequisite: CHEM 1108 or CHEM 1124. Lab fee $25 for each course. 5 credits each
CHEM 2315-2316 Organic Chemistry Lab I-II
Experimental organic chemistry. Companion course to CHEM 2321 and 2322. Corequisites: CHEM 2321/2322, respectively. Lab fee $25 for each course. 1 credit each

CHEM 2321-2322 Organic Chemistry I-II
Principal classes of aliphatic and aromatic compounds. Reactions, mechanisms and synthesis involving simple organic and biochemical molecules. Prerequisite: CHEM 1108 or CHEM 1124. 3 credits each

CHEM 2781 Chemistry Honors I
Seminars and discussions in biochemistry and organic chemistry under the direction of the sophomore honors faculty moderator. Each honors student must deliver one seminar. Seminars are intended to train the honors student in independent searching of the chemical literature, organization and presentation of a technical talk and leadership in discussion. One hour per week. Requires departmental invitation. 1 credit

CHEM 3101 (CORE 3250) Foundations of Modern Science
This course deals with the development of the experimental sciences (viz., physics, chemistry and molecular biology) within the western tradition, the influence that the Church ecumenical played in that development, and the subsequent influence that these mature sciences are now exerting upon philosophical insights within the Church. 3 credits

CHEM 3415 Physical Chemistry I
A one-semester course in physical chemistry with laboratory. Topics will cover laws of thermodynamics, chemical and phase equilibria, introduction to chemical kinetics, introduction to quantum mechanics and atomic structure. Lab fee $25. Prerequisites: PHYS 1702 or PHYS 1706; MATH 1411. 4 credits

CHEM 3416 Physical Chemistry II
A second semester course in undergraduate physical chemistry with laboratory. Topics will cover advanced applications of thermodynamics in surface chemistry, electrochemistry, and multi-phase equilibria, theories of chemical kinetics, quantum mechanics, atomic and molecular structures, spectroscopy, and statistical thermodynamics. Lab fee $25. Prerequisite: CHEM 3415. 4 credits

CHEM 3512 Elements of Biochemistry
Emphasizes the structures of the major biomacromolecules (nucleic acids, amino acids and proteins, lipids and carbohydrates) involved in cell architecture and dynamics. Included will be an overview of the primary functions of these molecules, including membrane structure and transport properties, biological catalysis, and enzyme function and regulation. In addition, the laboratory will provide training in modern biochemical techniques. Lab fee $25. Prerequisite: CHEM 2322 or CHEM 2314. 4 credits

CHEM 3522 Elements of Biochemistry
Lecture portion only of CHEM 3512. Prerequisite: CHEM 2322 or CHEM 2314. 3 credits

CHEM 3611 Inorganic Chemistry
Periodic properties of the elements, their comparative group characteristics and structure of some of their compounds. Introduction to transition metal and organometallic chemistry. Pre- or Corequisite: CHEM 2322 or CHEM 2314. 3 credits

CHEM 3781 Chemistry Honors II
Faculty and student seminars and discussions in analytical, inorganic and physical chemistry under the direction of the junior honors faculty moderator. Each honors student must deliver one seminar. One hour per week. Requires departmental invitation. 1 credit

CHEM 3782 Chemistry Honors III
Independent library research culminating in preparation of a review article. The student works closely with a faculty member on a tutorial basis. Requires departmental invitation. 1 credit

CHEM 3894 Chemistry Co-op I
3 credits

CHEM 3895 Chemistry Co-op II
3 credits

CHEM 3896 Chemistry Co-op III
3 credits

Department of English Mission Statement

English at Seton Hall University is one of the liberal arts and, as such, is devoted to the search for wisdom and understanding. The mission of the Department of English is three-fold: (1) to provide all students with the essential linguistic and literary competency upon which other liberal arts disciplines may build; (2) to develop in all students the ability to think analytically, to read closely and to write well; (3) to provide majors with a broad knowledge and critical understanding of British and American literary traditions, with additional emphasis upon comparative literatures and genres.

Major in English

English courses emphasize the close reading of texts, the study of particular authors and genres, questions of critical theory and method, and the relationship of literary works to their historical periods and other disciplines. The department seeks not only to foster analytical reading and lucid writing but also to stimulate thought about the nature of human experience. In order to be servant leaders, students must be articulate, they must be able to think critically and analytically, and they must have a grounding in humane thought and letters in order to understand the historical and philosophical contexts of today’s world.

Apart from such global rewards of studying literature, a degree in English-language literature offers intensive training in skills essential to the contemporary job market. Graduates of Seton Hall University’s English program have gone on to graduate programs and to successful careers in writing and editing, publishing, teaching, law, business and media.

In addition to the English major and the creative writing major, the department also offers an English minor, a writing minor, and a creative writing minor, each 18 credits and available to students of any major. At the graduate level, the Department of English offers a Master of Arts (M.A.) designed for present or prospective teachers of English on the secondary or college level, for students contemplating the Ph.D., for those interested in creative writing, and for those already involved in careers in publishing, business, writing or media. English majors who qualify for the Dual Degree B.A./M.A. program in English can complete the M.A. degree in one year beyond their B.A. See description below.

Major Requirements

To declare an English major, students must have a 2.5 minimum GPA in ENGL 1201 Core English I and ENGL 1202 II Core English II, or gain permission of the Chair of the Department of English. Core English I and II are prerequisites for all advanced English courses.

NOTE: ENGL 2103-2104 can be used toward the Humanities requirement of the College of Arts and Sciences Core Curriculum as well as the requirements of the English major.

Introductory         Credits
ENGL 2204           Introduction to Literary Studies 3
ENGL 2205           Literary Genres and Precedents 3
ENGL 2111-2112      British Literature I-II 6
ENGL 2103-2104      American Literature I-II 6

Advanced Electives

Choose one course in each of the five categories in advanced electives listed below (15 credits total). (Students also pursuing a Writing Minor must still take a course in the Writing category).

British (pre-1800) 3
British (post-1800) 3
American            3
Thematic/Comparative 3
Writing             3
ENGL 5011 Senior Seminar 3

Total: 36

NOTE: English Education double majors must take the following courses for 9 of the 12 credits in upper-level electives:

- for British pre-1800: ENGL 3312 Shakespeare
- for Thematic/Comparative: ENGL 3115 Literature of Adolescence
• for Writing: ENGL 3620 History of the English Language
• English Education majors are also advised to take 3 more credits in advanced writing as a general elective.

Successful completion of a Department of English version of CORE 3101 (Engaging the World) will count as a literature elective as well as toward the University Core. A list of these courses can be found in the English Majors Blackboard course.

Major in Creative Writing

The creative writing major offers students the opportunity to learn the art and craft of poetry and fiction from faculty members who are widely published authors. Seeking a balance between literary scholarship and literary practice, the course of study aims to help students create their own works based on an understanding of the literary tradition. Creative writing majors will complete 36 credits, including Introduction to Literary Studies, 12 credits of creative writing workshops, and four survey courses selected from designated areas. They will also be expected to choose a concentration in either poetry or fiction for their advanced writing classes. Creative writing majors will be prepared for careers in writing, editing, teaching, public relations, law and media. They will also be prepared for master’s degree programs, Master of Fine Arts programs, and doctoral programs in creative writing.

Major Requirements

To declare a creative writing major, students must have a 2.5 minimum GPA in ENGL 1201 Core English I and ENGL 1202 Core English II, or gain permission of the chair of the Department of English. Core English I and II are prerequisites for all advanced English courses.

NOTE: ENGL 2103-2104 can be used toward the Humanities requirement of the College of Arts and Sciences Core Curriculum as well as the requirements of the creative writing major.

Double Major: English and Creative Writing

Students interested in a double major in English and Creative Writing should contact the English Department Chairperson for additional information about a combined program of study. The double major is 60 credits.

mary.balkun@shu.edu

English Departmental Honors

English majors and creative writing majors may qualify for departmental honors by fulfilling the following criteria:

• maintain a 3.33 GPA in the major.
• take an additional 6 credits in advanced electives, for a total of 42 credits, to complete the English major with honors.
• receive a Pass with honors on the English Major Assessment Portfolio.
• senior thesis (from ENGL 5011) must be included in the Assessment Portfolio (in addition to the two revised papers, see below).

English Major Portfolio Assessment

English majors and creative writing majors should begin keeping an assessment portfolio as soon as they declare their major. The assessment portfolio is to be submitted at the end of the senior year to the chair of the Department of English. Portfolios are reviewed by a rotating committee of Department of English faculty. The grading system is pass/fail and appears on the student’s transcript. Pass with honor is reserved for English Departmental Honors students. The assessment portfolio will be submitted through Blackboard. The assessment portfolio should include:

• two research papers reflecting the student’s best work in the English major from two of the advanced elective categories;
• a written self-assessment (criteria can be found in the English Majors Blackboard course); and
• the senior seminar paper if graduating with English Honors.

Minor in English

The English minor gives students of other majors a broad yet thorough introduction to each of the literature areas of the discipline. It is a valuable addition, enabling students to pursue their majors and career goals with greater literacy, sharper analytical skills and more polished writing skills. Prerequisites: ENGL 1201 and 1202.

Minor in Writing

The Department of English offers an 18-credit minor in writing that is an ideal complement to any major. It is structured to enable students to tailor the minor to suit their own interests, emphasizing creative writing, expository writing, business and technical writing, or a combination of styles. Literature majors may pursue the creative writing minor. In that case, one writing class will count for both the advanced writing elective in the major and for the writing minor. Prerequisites: ENGL 1201 and 1202.

Minor in Creative Writing

The 18-credit Creative Writing minor provides a broad yet thorough introduction to each area of the discipline, including the essay, fiction, and poetry. It enables students to pursue their majors and career goals with greater literacy, sharper analytical skills and more polished writing skills. It also enables students to engage in and foster creative expression. Literature majors may pursue the creative writing minor. In that case, Introduction to Creative Writing will count for both the advanced writing elective in the major and for the creative writing minor.

Dual Degree B.A./M.A. Program in English

English majors can complete a Master of Arts (M.A.) in one year beyond their B.A. Students who qualify for admission to the dual degree program will take 12 credits of graduate-level English courses during their senior year. (English/Education majors should see the English Department chairperson or director of graduate studies about exceptions to this policy.) These will apply toward the 36 credits required for completion of the undergraduate major and toward the 30 credits required for the M.A. in English. Students can then complete the remaining 18 credits of graduate courses after earning a B.A.

Requirements for Admission

English majors who have completed at least 21 credits in the major with a minimum GPA of 3.5 may apply at any time prior to their senior year. Accepted candidates will normally be expected to enroll in two approved graduate-level English courses each semester of their senior year of study for a total of 12 credits. During the fifth year of study, students will be expected to enroll in a total of three approved graduate-level courses each semester for a total of 18 credits. Applicants are not required to take the GRE, but they must complete the graduate application form, and their application must include a transcript, a writing sample and three letters of recommendation from their undergraduate professors, two of whom must be full-time faculty in the Department of English.

Advanced Electives in the Undergraduate Major and Graduate Course Equivalents

These are the graduate courses that students may choose from to count toward the undergraduate upper-level elective requirement of 12 credits in four out of five of the following categories.

(See Graduate Catalogue for full course descriptions.)
British (pre-1800), 3 credits:
6112 Chaucer; 6114 Shakespeare to 1600; 6115 Shakespeare from 1600; 6116 Renaissance Literature; 6118 17th Century Literature; 6119 Milton; 6121 Eighteenth Century Poetry; 6123 Eighteenth Century Literature

British (post-1800), 3 credits:
ENGL 6124 Age of Romanticism; 6125 Victorian Prose and Poetry; 6126 Major British Writers: 1900-1945; 6127 Major British Writers from 1945; 6128 British Poetry of the 20th Century; 6311 The English Novel: Beginnings through the 19th Century; 6313 Modern British Drama

American, 3 credits:
ENGL 6211 American Literature: Beginnings through Poe; 6212 American Romanticism; 6213 Nineteenth Century American Literature; 6214 Major American Writers: 1900-1945; 6215 Major American Writers from 1945; 6216 American Poetry; 6217 African-American Literature

Thematic/Comparative, 3 credits:
ENGL 6010 Introduction to Literary Research. Students are advised to take this course as soon as possible after entering the dual degree program.

Writing, 3 credits:
ENGL 6411 Poetry Workshop; 6412 Modern Rhetoric and Writing; 6415 Composition Theory and Practice; 6420 Linguistic History of English; 6413 Fiction Workshop; ENGL 6414 Scientific and Technical Writing; ENGL 6421 Non Fiction Workshop

Poetry-in-the-Round
Poetry-in-the-Round provides a unique opportunity for Seton Hall students to see and hear the world’s foremost writers, read their works and discuss them informally with students and faculty. Under the direction of Professor Nathan Oates, Poetry-in-the-Round has hosted such distinguished artists as E.L. Doctorow, Derek Walcott, Jennifer Egan, Carolyn Forché, Jonathan Franzen, Wole Soyinka, Nadine Gordimer, Joyce Carol Oates, C.K. Williams, Oscar Hijuelos and many others.

The Writing Center
The Writing Center, part of the Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center, serves as a support system for all students through the Department of English. It provides a range of services, including free consultations and tutorials on drafts, to both undergraduate and graduate students. It is staffed by undergraduate, graduate, and professional tutors to assist with every step of the writing process. Tutoring in the Writing Center provides an excellent opportunity for selected students to work on campus in an academically-oriented position. Interested students should contact the Director of the Writing Center at (973) 275-2183.

Located on the second floor of Arts and Sciences Hall, Room 206, the center is open during the academic year, Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. – 7 p.m., and Friday, 10 a.m. – 3 p.m. For details, call (973) 761-9000, ext. 7501.

THEMATIC AND COMPARATIVE

Introductory
ENGL 2205 Literary Genres and Precedents
This course introduces English majors to the fundamental generic conventions of the British and American traditions by analyzing their most resonant Classical and Eurasian influences and interlocutors. In doing so, the course also introduces the categories of formal textual analysis and interpretation—diction, syntax, trope, theme, genre, narrative, and meter. Students will read diverse, historically significant texts (all in English translation) including epic, drama
(tragedy, comedy, realism), mythology, romance, fiction (romantic, realist, modernist), prose (autobiography, essay, manifesto, critique), and an array of lyric modes. While we will strive to engage these texts in all the complexity of their contexts and content, our focus will be on the particular formal conventions that these texts established, transformed, or otherwise modeled for Anglo-American writers. 3 credits

ENGL 2101 Great Books of the Western World I
Literature of the Western tradition from Homer to the Renaissance. 3 credits
ENGL 2102 Great Books of the Western World II
Literature of the Western tradition from the 17th century to the present. 3 credits

Advanced
ENGL 3011 Introduction to the Short Story
A study of the development of the short story as a genre
beginning with 19th century masters such as Poe, Chekhov, and de Maupassant, through modernist experiments by Joyce, Hemingway, and Katherine Mansfield, to contemporary gothic, grotesque, fantasy and ‘slice of life’ tales by writers
such as Isak Dinesen, Flannery O’Connor, John Cheever, Raymond Carver, and Cynthia Ozick. 3 credits
ENGL 3013 Introduction to Drama
An examination of the drama as a public mode of literary expression, this course will introduce the development of plot, character, setting, dialogue, and costuming along with the critical nuances of performance in a wide spectrum of dramatic works. Playwrights may include Euripides, Shakespeare, Moliere, Calderon, Chekov, O’Casey, Maeterlinck, Pirandello, Ibsen, Strindberg, Brecht, Vicki Baum. 3 credits

ENGL 3014 Introduction to Poetry
This course introduces students to a variety of poetic forms, genres, styles, and methods of interpretation. Readings will range widely through poets of all eras and nations, such as Sappho, Basho, Baudelaire, Garcia Lorca, Eavan Boland, and Anna Akhmatova. 3 credits

ENGL 3112 Irish Women Writers
This course will focus on the work of Irish Women Writers from the nineteenth to the 21st century, considering how female authors have distinctively moulded literary genres to create space for feminocentric plots and subaltern voices. The political and social contexts of the fictions they produced will be examined and their central preoccupations, such as nationhood and selfhood, sexuality, emigration, violence, and power relations will be scrutinized. 3 credits

ENGL 3113 (WMST 2113) Women and Literature I
Contributions of women writers to Western literature from the Middle Ages to the 18th century, such as Marie de France, Christine de Pisan, Queen Elizabeth I, Susanna Rowson, Fanny Burney, and Jane Austen, and including an examination of relevant works in cultural history. 3 credits

ENGL 3114 (WMST 2114) Women and Literature II
A thematic exploration of works by and about women written from the 19th century to the present, including some classic statements of feminist literary theory. Readings will include fiction, poetry, and drama by such authors as Edith Wharton, Zora Neale Hurston, and Joyce Carol Oates, as well as important non-fiction texts. 3 credits

ENGL 3115 Literature of Adolescence and Coming of Age
A study of texts written for both teenage and general audiences that focuses on the theme of coming-of-age. The class will begin with an historical look at adolescence in novels such as Goethe’s The Sorrows of Young Werther and Charlotte Bronte’s Jane Eyre, moving on to more contemporary works by writers such as Jamaica Kincaid and Louis Sachar, to consider how adolescence has changed and developed over time. 3 credits

ENGL 3314 (CORE 3380) Irish Literature: Celtic Revival to the Present
This course will explore 20th century Irish writers publishing in English from the Celtic Revival through the formation of the Irish Free State and the civil war, “The Troubles” of the 1960s – 80s, to the present day. Beginning with background in Yeats and Joyce, the course will survey writers in all three major genres including dramatists J.M. Synge, Sean O’Casey, Samuel Beckett, Brian Friel, Marina Carr; poets Patrick Kavanagh, Seamus Heaney, Eavan Boland, and Paula Meehan; and fiction writers Elizabeth Bowen, Sean O Faolain, Edna O’Brien, Patrick McCabe, and Roddy Doyle. 3 credits

ENGL 3370 (CORE 3370) Illness and Literature
This course will explore representations of and responses to illness from the perspective of the patients, caregivers (such as doctors, nurses, spouses, and family members), and those living in a society facing epidemic, such as the Black Death. Students will read literature from three traditions — western literature, Catholic theology, and Jewish theology — to deepen their understanding of what illness does to individuals and their society, and to strengthen their resources as future patients, caregivers (personal or professional), and individuals for dealing with the crises that illness generates. 3 credits

ENGL 3371 (CORE 3371) Fantasy and Faith in British Literature
This course will focus on the use of fantasy as a literary genre and the presence of religious, and most especially Christian, ideas in the works of C.S. Lewis, J.R.R. Tolkien, and their predecessors. 3 credits

ENGL 3382/WMST 3382/CORE 3382 English Catholic Women Writers of the 17th and 18th Centuries
Through texts by and about English Catholic women composed between 1660 and 1800, students in this course will learn about the challenges and opportunities facing these women and the ways – textual and practical – in which they faced them. Students will explore how text, whether private or public, provided 17th and 18th century English Catholic women with a means for negotiating the opportunities and limitations they faced as women, as Catholics, and as Catholic women. 3 credits

ENGL 3381 (CORE 3381) Fantasy and Faith in British Literature
An exploration of Russian literature from its origins to the late 19th century, including works of narrative fiction, poetry, and drama. 3 credits

ENGL 3401 Classical Russian Literature
An exploration of Russian literature from the late 19th century to the present, including works of narrative fiction, poetry, and drama. 3 credits

ENGL 3402 Contemporary Russian Literature
An exploration of Russian literature from the late 19th century to the present, including works of narrative fiction, poetry, and drama. 3 credits

ENGL 3414 Contemporary Fiction
Tracing contemporary fiction from the precursors of postmodernism, Kafka and Borges, through mid-20th century and 21st century writers such as Milan Kundera, Eudora Welty, Margaret Atwood, Toni Morrison, and Ian McEwan. 3 credits

ENGL 3422 (CORE 3373/CAST 3422) Catholic Literature and Film
Examination of the specific Catholic nature of a variety of works of literature and how they are translated into film. Cross-listed with Catholic Studies. 3 credits
ENGL 3426 Literature and Nature
Readings in literature of the natural world by authors such as Thoreau, Mary Austin, Annie Dillard, John McPhee and Barry Lopez, as well as representative selections of ecocriticism. 3 credits

ENGL 3428 (CAST 3428) Modern Literature and Religion
Humanity’s spiritual quest in works by Faulkner, Salinger, Flannery O’Connor, Saul Bellow and others. 3 credits

ENGL 3429 The Psychological Novel
A study of the development of psychological voice and explorations of subjectivity in the novels of Henry James, Joseph Conrad, and Virginia Woolf, to those of contemporary writers such as Russell Banks, Jonathan Coe, and Margaret Drabble. 3 credits

ENGL 3430 Satire
A survey of the forms and motives of satire from its origins in ancient Greek satyr plays to contemporary television and film comedies. Context, audience, race, and gender will be examined in the satires of Aristophanes, Horace, Voltaire, Ionesco, Pope, Swift, Mel Brooks, Charlie Chaplin, Muriel Spark, Jon Stewart, and Kathy Griffin, among others. 3 credits

ENGL 3431 (WMST 2431) Immigrant and Postcolonial Women Writers
Women writers of the immigrant experience in North America, such as Sandra Cisneros, Cristina Garcia, Maxine Hong Kingston, and Bharati Mukherjee, plus postcolonial women writers such as Edwidge Danticat, Buchi Emecheta, and Arundhati Roy. Issues of gender, ethnicity, identity, and motherhood will be explored within the framework of female narrative strategies. 3 credits

ENGL 3432 Postcolonial Literature
“Postcolonial literature” refers to writing that emerged following the overthrow or withdrawal of European colonial regimes from the developing world around the mid-20th century. In conjunction with African and Caribbean authors such as Walcott, Achebe, Rhys, and Césaire, the course will also address these works’ relation to key “first-world” texts that depict Europe’s incursions in Africa, the Middle East, and the Caribbean, such as Conrad’s Heart of Darkness and Shakespeare’s The Tempest. 3 credits

ENGL 3433 Modern World Poetry
An introduction to the most important non-English-language poetry of the past century, particularly as it has influenced poetry internationally. The course will cover poetry of several nations, including the work of Lorca and Machado (Spain); Yevtushenko, and Voznesenski (Russia), Apollinaire and Char (France), and Neruda and Vallejo (Latin America). All texts will be read in English translations. 3 credits

ENGL 3516 Contemporary Poetry
Trends in poetry from the mid-20th century to the present, including confessional poetry, the Beat Generation, the New York School, poetics of identity, the Black Mountain poets and others. 3 credits

WRITING AND LANGUAGE

First-Year Writing Program Mission Statement
The First-Year Writing Program provides the initial impulse in a four-year experience with writing and reading at Seton Hall University. Students take on projects that give them the experience of joining a community of writers and thinkers, encouraging them to partake in an extended inquiry – about a topic (or topics) of concern to young adults – which moves from peer-based and familiar to increasingly rigorous, critical and text-based. These projects prepare students not only for academic work but also for participation in the wider community, in each case encouraging them to challenge and interrogate their own and others’ texts. Thus, students learn to write for purposes in addition to self-expression and academic analysis and for audiences other than the instructor and other students. In all courses, students are given the tools to develop and reflect on their own writing process, especially by focusing on revision. By the end of Core English I (ENGL 1201), students should possess a common set of key rhetorical concepts and research skills that allow them to approach a wide variety of academic challenges with success. In Core English II (ENGL 1202) they will further develop their research skills and learn to appreciate and analyze the three main literary genres: poetry, drama and fiction. Our ultimate goal is for students to leave the program valuing the reading-writing-thinking connection and experiencing it as empowering to themselves as members of the University and active citizens.

Developmental

Note: 0100-0180 courses do not count toward graduation. They are required for students whose scores on placement examinations indicate the need for additional writing and reading instruction prior to, or linked with, ENGL 1201 Core English I.

ENGL 0100 English Fundamentals
An intensive first-level course covering the writing process, sentence structure, and grammar in the context of paragraphs and short essays, reading comprehension, and vocabulary development. 3 institutional credits

ENGL 0110 English Skills
A developmental writing and reading course designed to increase competence in writing essays and reading comprehension. 4 institutional credits

ENGL 0150 Skills for Effective Writing and Reading
A developmental writing and reading course designed to increase competence in writing essays and reading comprehension. For ESL and EOP students only. 4 institutional credits

ENGL 0160 Reading and Writing Workshop
A 3-credit workshop linked with specified sections of ENGL 1201 required for students whose placement examinations indicate the need for additional reading and writing instruction in a focused, intensive environment. 3 institutional credits

ENGL 0180 Reading/Writing for Multilingual Students
This course is designed to be a reading and writing lab for native-born ESL students, international ESL students, and other immigrant English language learners who are still developing their English skills. 3 institutional credits

Note: Specially denoted sections of ENGL 1201 and 1202 are available for students who have learned English as a second language on the advanced level. These courses are identical to regular sections of Core English in content, text, instruction, and credits, but they provide additional instruction when necessary to aid non-native English speakers and writers.

Introductory

ENGL 1000 Grammar Workshop
This course will concentrate on parts of speech and the grammar of the sentence as they are written and spoken in correct American English. It will provide students with an intense study of grammatical structures and usages in order to improve their use of grammar in academic writing and to help prepare them to teach grammar. Students will participate by group discussion, written practices, and oral presentation. 3 credits

ENGL 1201 Core English I
Structured exercises in writing and revising short essays based on themes suggested by representative readings. Prerequisite: satisfactory score on required placement test or ENGL 0100 or 0150 as appropriate. 3 credits

Introduction to literature through representative readings in the three major genres of fiction, poetry, and drama. Training in methods of library research and the mechanics of citation, quotation, and paraphrase in the writing of longer research papers. Prerequisite: ENGL 1201. 3 credits

Study of research techniques, history of the discipline, and introduction to major critical theories. Practice in applying critical discourse to literary texts. Required for all English majors in the sophomore year or as soon as they declare the major. 3 credits
Advanced

ENGL 2016 Writing Center Theory and Practice
A course in the history and theory of writing center pedagogy and the practice of writing center tutoring for undergraduate Seton Hall University Writing Center tutors, usually in conjunction with (but sometimes in advance of) their appointment. 1 credit

ENGL 2511 Introduction to Creative Writing
Introduction to writing in several literary genres, including short story fiction, poetry, and creative nonfiction. Not a prerequisite for ENGL 2512 or 2513. 3 credits

ENGL 2512 Creative Writing: Fiction
Practical exercises in the techniques of composing short stories. Peer reviews and criticism. 3 credits

ENGL 2513 Creative Writing: Poetry
Practical exercises in the techniques of composing poetry. Peer reviews and criticism. 3 credits

ENGL 2514 Writing Workshop: Research and Analysis
Reading and writing of analytical essays in a broad range of disciplines (literature, business, science, etc.) Peer review and criticism. (Note: Only one section of Writing Workshop is required for the writing minor.) 3 credits

ENGL 2515 Writing Workshop: Creative Nonfiction
Exercises and readings in expository prose, culminating in essays that further develop the skills required in effective writing of creative nonfiction. Peer review and criticism. (Note: Only one section of Writing Workshop is required for the writing minor.) 3 credits

ENGL 2516 Business Writing
Communication for the business world, such as letters, résumés, memos, electronic communication, short and long reports. 3 credits

ENGL 2519 Writing Across the Disciplines
This course is designed to address the needs of students beginning to write or already writing within their major and to help them become more sophisticated readers and writers in their discipline. In addition, it will help them be more adept in any new situation that involves writing. Students will develop their own theory of writing, including the concepts of purpose, audience, context, genre, rhetorical situation, and discourse community, among others. Students will begin to understand the role of writing in a larger academic and professional discourse community as they explore how practitioners in their field use a variety of genres. 3 credits

ENGL 3511 Advanced Composition
Practical techniques in the production of creative nonfiction: personal essay, memoir, travel narrative, review and cultural critique. Peer review and criticism. 3 credits

ENGL 3514 Scientific and Technical Writing
Writing styles for reporting scientific or technical information in formats such as abstracts, reports, manuals, grant proposals, and collaborative writing projects. Cross-listed with the graduate course in Scientific and Technical Writing, ENGL 6414. 3 credits

ENGL 3515 Composition Theory and Practice
An introduction to the theory of composition, the study of composing practices in writers, and its application to education to include how literacy is acquired, the major issues among composition theorists and practitioners, and the various aspects of “the” writing process (invention, drafting, revising, editing). Practical applications may include creating a personal theory of composition, assignment sequences for teaching, and analysis of the tutoring process. 3 credits

ENGL 3520 Advanced Business Writing
Advanced communication for the business world, such as letters, résumés, memos, electronic communication, short and long reports. 3 credits

ENGL 3620 History of the English Language
The linguistic development of English from its first appearance on the island of Britain to its present function as a world language. 3 credits

ENGL 3621 Advanced Fiction Writing
An advanced workshop in writing short stories and longer forms of fiction within the context of important trends and concerns in contemporary fiction. 3 credits

ENGL 3622 Advanced Poetry Writing
An advanced workshop in the writing of poetry within the context of important trends and concerns in contemporary poetry. 3 credits

ENGL 3623 (CORE 3377) Spiritual Writing Workshop: Creative Nonfiction
This is a reading- and writing-intensive course in the genres that make up spiritual non-fiction: spiritual autobiography, spiritual memoir, spiritual/travel narrative, the nature essay, and others. Students will study and engage in dialogue with some of the great historical and contemporary spiritual writers of the world, such as St. Augustine, Thomas Merton, Viktor Frankl, Mother Teresa, St. Elizabeth Ann Seton, Joseph Campbell, Martin Luther King Jr., Carlos Castaneda, Annie Dillard, Anne Lamott, Black Elk, and others. 3 credits

ENGL 3624 (CORE 3378) Spiritual Writing Workshop: Research and Analysis
The genre of spiritual writing, broadly defined, is not just about religious beliefs or doctrine but about experience that is transformative and has the capacity to transport us to another dimension. This course will focus on classic and contemporary readings that demonstrate how writers from a variety of traditions, both western and non-western, have used written to explore, understand, and represent their spiritual experiences. Writing assignments invite students to analyze issues related to spirituality and the rhetoric of spiritual writing. 3 credits

ENGL 4420 (CORE 3379) Travel Writing (Study Abroad)
This course introduces students to the genre and sub-genres of travel writing, focusing on early 20th century British and American travel texts, often set in the Mediterranean and Caribbean, as well as late 20th century texts, in the context of an actual trip to a site outside the United States. Primary purpose is students’ writing of their own travel essays and accounts. 3 credits
ENGL 4414-4415 Special Topics in Writing I-II
Workshop courses that address varying craft issues in fiction, poetry, and nonfiction. Topic will be posted prior to registration. 3 credits

ENGL 5012 Senior Seminar
Capstone course required for all creative writing majors in their senior year, culminating in oral presentations and a significant creative writing project. 3 credits

Independent Study and Internships
Independent studies for English majors require the permission of the professor whose specialization is in the area of the student’s interest. In addition to registration for the independent study, a signed form including the topic, reading list, schedule for meetings and due dates for writing assignments must be submitted to the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

The Department of History offers a major in history leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree, as well as a minor in history. By presenting the story of human achievements, hopes and frustrations, struggles and triumphs, the department helps the inquiring student to understand this complex world and shape its future.

Courses in history will broaden students’ perspectives and prepare them to live in a diverse, interconnected world. By studying the past of various societies including their own, students will enhance their ability to understanding cultural difference while developing skills in critical thinking, historical analysis and oral and written expression. History majors are particularly well prepared for careers in business, law, education and journalism as well as graduate study in the humanities.

The History Department participates in interdisciplinary programs conferring majors, minors and certificates in Africana Studies, Asian Studies, Catholic Studies, Classical Studies, Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies, Russian and East European Studies and Women’s Studies. Majors also have the opportunity as seniors to pursue Honors in History, conducting a program of directed research, the successful completion of which will enable them to graduate with distinction.

Phi Alpha Theta – Lambda-Epsilon Chapter

The national history honors society invites students who have taken 12 or more credits in history and have a GPA of 3.1 in history and 3.0 overall to apply for membership. Having a major in history is not a requirement for induction.

Major in History
In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, history degree candidates must complete a minimum of 36 credits in history to be distributed as follows:

1. Six credits of introductory courses from among the following:
   - HIST 1101-1102 World History I-II
   - HIST 1201-1202 Western Civilization I-II
   - HIST 1301-1302 United States History I-II
   Note: Students may elect to take courses as a two-semester sequence to fulfill College of Arts and Sciences core requirements, but a sequence is not required for the history major.

2. Twenty-one credits distributed as follows:
   - Advanced European history (2000 level or above) 3
   - Advanced United States history (2000 level or above) 3
   - Introductory or advanced Latin American, African, Asian, Middle Eastern history 3
   - Pre-1750 History (see list below) 3
   - Additional history electives* 9
   Note: Up to an additional three credits at the 1000 level in Latin American, African, Asian and Middle Eastern history can count toward the additional history electives.

3. The following nine credits of required courses:
   - HIST 2180 Introduction to Historical Research
   - History Colloquium (Course numbers will vary depending on the topic)
   - HIST 5199 Senior Seminar
   Note: HIST 5711 Honors Research is pursued in addition to the 36-credit major.
Courses that count toward the pre-1750 distribution requirement include:
HIST 2170 Women in Antiquity
HIST 3341 Colonial America
HIST 3183 Historians of Greece and Rome
HIST 3320 Greek Civilization
HIST 3221 Roman Civilization
HIST 3229 The Early Middle Ages
HIST 3230 The High Middle Ages
HIST 3233 Dante and His World
HIST 3234 Medieval Italy
HIST 3240 Renaissance and Reformation

HIST 3254 Early Modern Ireland
HIST 3420 Religion and Society in Early Latin America
HIST 3621 History of Traditional China
HIST 3622 History of Traditional Japan

Advising
Students are required to meet with their advisers at least once each semester to plan their program in light of their abilities and special interests, and to evaluate progress toward completion of the history degree requirements.

The department recommends that students acquire competency in at least one foreign language through the third-year level. This is particularly important for those who plan to pursue graduate studies.

Minor in History
Students majoring in other disciplines may elect a minor in history. Students find that a minor in history enhances their opportunities for employment, law school or graduate school admission.

Program Requirements
1. At least 18 credits in history with at least one course in non-European, non-United States history
2. No more than 6 credits at the HIST 1000 level
3. At least 12 credits at the HIST 2000 level or above

Honors Research in History
The History Department invites outstanding undergraduate majors to pursue intensive research and produce a Senior thesis as part of a community of history honors students. History honors students will be admitted to the program in the Spring semester of their Junior year and undertake two semesters of honors course work (a total of 6 credits for the program) during their senior year. These six credits will include a designated Honors section of HIST 5199: Senior Seminar in the Fall and HIST 5711: History Honors Research in the Spring.

During the Spring semester of their Junior year, qualified students will be invited to apply for the History Honors Program. Students will consult with a proposed thesis adviser and submit a one-page project proposal, including the proposed adviser’s signature. Upon recommendation of the History Honors Research Committee, the program coordinator will inform applicants whether or not they have been accepted into the program. Accepted students may then enroll in the honors section of HIST 5199.

During the Fall semester of their Senior year, admitted students will participate in a designated honors section of HIST 5199: Senior Seminar, to be led by the program coordinator. Throughout the Fall semester, students will continue to consult with the thesis adviser while fulfilling the requirements of HIST 5199.

During the Spring semester of their Senior year, students will enroll in HIST 5711: Honors Research, continuing to pursue independent research under the direction of the thesis adviser. As part of their course requirements in HIST 5711, students will also participate in periodic meetings with fellow history honors students, led by the program coordinator. During these meetings, students will be expected to present updates on their ongoing research. The completed thesis must be submitted by April 15. Those who miss the deadline for submission will receive a grade and credit for HIST 5711, but will not qualify for history honors. Students will be required to present their research findings publicly at the History Honors Symposium in late April.

Eligible students who request admission to HIST 5711 but who have not participated in the history honors section of HIST 5199 may be allowed to enroll at the discretion of the History Honors Research Committee and with the approval of the department chair.

B.A./M.A. in History
History majors with a minimum GPA of 3.4 have the option of completing both the undergraduate (B.A.) and graduate (M.A.) degrees in a total of 10 semesters (five years of study). After having completed 75 credits toward a B.A. with at least 21 credits in history, students may apply for admission to this joint degree program. Accepted candidates will normally be expected to enroll in two approved graduate-level history courses each semester of their senior year of study for a total of 12 credits. During the fifth year of study, students will be expected to enroll in three approved graduate-level courses per semester for a total of 18 credits. The courses students take must include the introductory course “The Historian’s Craft” (HIST 6190) a minimum of one Program in Directed Readings (PDR) course, and four courses in the chosen area of concentration (either United States, European, global, or Catholic history). To complete the degree students may choose either to conduct two semesters of research and writing leading to the completion of an M.A. thesis or to pass comprehensive written examinations in the final semester of study. See the Graduate Catalogue for admissions requirements. Please contact the Director of Graduate Studies in the Department of History for more information.
Course Descriptions

Note: History courses do not have prerequisites and may be taken out of sequence with the exception of the following:

HIST 2180 Introduction to Historical Research is the prerequisite for HIST 5199 Senior Seminar; and HIST 5199 Senior Seminar is the prerequisite for HIST 5711 Honors Research.

Introductory

HIST 1101 World History I
This course traces and interprets the evolution of world civilizations from the emergence of early humans up until approximately 1500, and seeks to study and compare diverse historical experiences worldwide. The content of the course is organized both chronologically and thematically. The advancement of human societies through time is reflected in general themes of universal application: human origins and human culture; settling down; empire and imperialism; the rise of world religions; and the movement of goods and people. 3 credits

HIST 1102 World History II
This course traces the evolution of the modern world from approximately 1300 to the present. The scope of this course is understandably broad as it combines global themes, intercontinental commerce, religious and ethnic strife, mass politics and totalitarian ideologies, with their regional variations. From the 13th century Mongol conquests of Eurasia that expanded dramatically the concept of time and space, to the 20th century information and communication revolution that rendered this same concept relative, this course follows the evolutionary trajectory of the modern world. 3 credits

HIST 1201 Western Civilization I
Development of Western civilization from its origins in the Near East to the Scientific Revolution. 3 credits

HIST 1202 Western Civilization II
Development and expansion of Western civilization from Enlightenment and Industrial Revolution to the present. 3 credits

The Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures comprises the following fields of study: Africana Studies, Asian Studies, Classical Studies, Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies, and Modern Languages.

Africana Studies

www.shu.edu/academics/artscl/ba-africana-diaspora-studies

The Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures offers a program leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts with a major in Africana Studies, as well as a minor in Africana Studies.

The Africana Studies curriculum critically analyzes the historical and contemporary experiences of people of African descent in the United States, Africa, the Americas, Europe, and wherever communities of African descended people have emerged. The department utilizes multidisciplinary faculty and community-based expertise to prepare students to become servant leaders by fostering a commitment to rigorous intellectual inquiry and the movement for racial justice and equality. The program’s commitment to academic excellence and social responsibility is reflected in the balanced emphasis on traditional scholarship as well as experiential and co-curricular activities, such as guest lectures, internships, study abroad trips and community activism.

Depending on their preferences, graduates are prepared to work in social and educational institutions, agencies, government, business or the arts, libraries, museums, communication and other related areas. They are fully prepared to take advantage of graduate training in Black studies, the social and behavioral sciences, the arts, humanities and the professions.

The Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures encourages serious scholarship committed to social change and obtaining human rights. Through the study of the unique history, society and life of Black people, the department encourages active participation in the struggle for social justice and freedom for Black people and thus for all peoples.

Classical Studies

www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/ba-classical-studies/index.cfm

The Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures offers a variety of courses that bring students more fully into contact with the roots of their culture through the Bachelor of Arts in Classical Studies, as well as minors in Greek, Latin, classical languages and classical cultures. Students gain an awareness and appreciation of the continuity of Western thought by studying the historical, literary, linguistic and religious elements of Greece and Rome. The department approaches this study through its two concentrations: language, literature and culture.
Courses in the department are designed not only for classics majors but also for majors in English, history, political science and philosophy, as well as for any students seeking a broader background in the most fundamental and influential writings of the Western world.

Courses in Latin and Greek give students a new understanding of the English and European languages, and offer direct access to the original texts of ancient poetry, drama, philosophy, history, the New Testament and the writings of the Christian tradition from its origins until modern times. Classical culture courses in English translation offer a broad survey of these literary masterpieces, emphasizing their significance for the modern world as well as for their original cultural context.

Eta Sigma Phi, the National Classics Honor Society

Seton Hall Chapter: Theta Delta

Students who have completed at least one class in the Latin or Greek language and earned a grade of B or higher are encouraged to apply for membership in Eta Sigma Phi. This organization seeks to stimulate interest in classical study, and in the history, art, and literature of ancient Greece and Rome. Eta Sigma Phi holds its annual induction ceremony at the end of the Spring semester.

Fr. Eugene Cotter Memorial Prize

Named for the longtime Chairman of the Department of Classical Studies, Rev. Eugene J. Cotter (1931-2005), the Fr. Cotter Memorial Prize is awarded annually to an outstanding graduating Classical Studies major.

Major Program in Classical Studies

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates for the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in Classical Studies must complete a minimum of 36 credits in classical studies; at least 18 credits must be in either Latin or Greek. All Classical Studies majors must take Classical Mythology (CLAS 2317) and Capstone in Classical Studies (CLAS 4301). Classical Studies majors must earn a grade of B or higher in CLAS 4301 to earn a degree in Classical Studies.

This program is designed in consultation with a department adviser who may modify the program in view of the student’s background and objectives.

Leading to a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree the major in Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies at Seton Hall University provides students with an interdisciplinary path to study the diversity of Latin American and Latino culture from several angles while mastering essential skills needed in the business world. Students study the Spanish language... as well as take courses that explore the breadth and depth of a rich cultural heritage and history of a population whose presence is increasingly being felt throughout the United States. This major is designed to offer students both the analytical and writing skills they need to perform in the business world and the cultural knowledge to better understand our society and be an asset to any business whose focus is Latino or Latin American culture. Our majors are well prepared to compete in private and public sector professions in which a deep understanding of cultural diversity is an asset in our increasingly multicultural society.

The program in Latin American and Latino/Latina Studies (LALS) builds from a core of Spanish language, Latin American history and politics, as well as courses that focus on different aspects of Latin American and Latino culture. All LALS majors may take relevant electives in Africana Studies, philosophy, anthropology, history, Catholic studies, religion, political science and sociology that have been designed to explore both Latin American cultural paradigms and Latino immigration and culture in the United States. Students may also take courses designed specifically for bilingual/heritage speakers as well as business Spanish and English/Spanish translation.

Selected literary works from Spain and Spanish America up to the 18th century. (Formerly SPAN 3301) 3 credits each

SPAN 3404 Masterpieces of Spanish Literature II
Selected literary works from Spain and Spanish America from the 19th century to the present. (Formerly SPAN 3302) 3 credits each

SPAN 3491 (LALS 3401/ENGL 3404) U.S. Latina/Latino Literature
A survey of the literature written by Latina/Latino authors in the United States. Reading materials, class discussions, exams, and term papers will be in English, but Spanish majors and minors, and native Spanish speakers will be encouraged to write in Spanish, and read Spanish translations when available. (Formerly SPAN 3401) 3 credits

SPAN 4401 Medieval and Renaissance Spanish Literature
Outstanding Spanish literature from its beginning to the 16th century. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4311) 3 credits

SPAN 4411 Spanish Golden Age Drama and Poetry
Outstanding Spanish playwrights and poets of the 16th and 17th centuries. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4312) 3 credits

SPAN 4412 Spanish Golden Age Prose
Outstanding Spanish prose writers of the 16th and 17th centuries, with emphasis on Cervantes and the picaresque. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4313) 3 credits
SPAN 4421 Romantic and Realistic Spanish
Major Spanish writers of the 19th century. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4317) 3 credits

SPAN 4431 Modern Spanish Literature
Representative Spanish writers of the Generation of 27 and post-Civil War period. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4317) 3 credits

SPAN 4433 Generation of 1898 and Modernism
Representative Spanish writers of the 19th and early 20th centuries. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4315) 3 credits

SPAN 4435, Representations of the Spanish Civil War
This course studies the Spanish Civil War (1936-1939), its antecedents and its consequences through a selection of novels and films and a set of varying perspectives. We will consider issues of trauma, exile, memory, identity, ideology, conflict, and gender. 3 credits

SPAN 4461 Spanish-American Narrative I
Development of the Spanish-American novel and short story from the colonial period up to the Boom. Reading and analysis of representative works. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4318) 3 credits

SPAN 4462 Spanish-American Narrative II
Study of the Spanish American novel and short story from the Boom to the present. Reading and analysis of representative works. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4320) 3 credits

SPAN 4463 Spanish-American Theater
Development of the Spanish-American theater from the colonial period to the present. Reading and analysis of representative works. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4319) 3 credits

SPAN 4465 Spanish-American Essay
Study of the Spanish-American essay. Reading and analysis of representative works. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4322) 3 credits

SPAN 4466 Spanish-American Poetry
Development of Spanish-American poetry from the colonial period to the present. Study and analysis of representative works. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4321) 3 credits

SPAN 4471 Spanish Literature of the Caribbean
Representative authors from Cuba, the Dominican Republic and Puerto Rico. Conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPAN 3002 or 3102 or permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 4323) 3 credits

SPAN 4801-4803 Studies in Spanish Literature
(Formerly SPAN 4391-4393) 3 credits each

SPAN 5401-5404 Spanish Seminar
Study of a special topic announced by the department including Study Abroad. Conducted in Spanish. Permission of department. (Formerly SPAN 5391-5394) 1/2/3/3 credits

Spanish Study Abroad
SPAN 2701 Study Abroad in Alicante, Spain
Course designed for Intermediate-Low level students. Held at the University of Alicante. Immersion in Spanish culture and language. Class emphasis on everyday situations. Excursions to major Spanish cities, including Madrid, Granada, and Barcelona. Prerequisite: SPAN 1002 or permission of the Program Director. 3 credits

SPAN 2702 Study Abroad in Alicante, Spain
Course designed for Intermediate-Mid level students as a continuation of SPAN 2701. Held at the University of Alicante. Immersion in Spanish culture and language. Class emphasis on everyday situations. Excursions to major Spanish cities, including Madrid, Granada, and Barcelona. Prerequisite: SPAN 1002 or permission of the Program Director. 3 credits

SPAN 3701 Study Abroad in Alicante, Spain
Course designed for Advanced level students. Course held at the University of Alicante. Immersion in Spanish culture and language. Class emphasis on Spanish Civilization and Literature. Excursions to major Spanish cities, including Madrid, Granada, and Barcelona. Prerequisite: SPAN 2002 or permission of the Program Director. 3 credits

Other Modern Language Courses
MOLG 3321 Special Topics in Modern Languages
Issues of current interest to the comparative study of French, Italian, Spanish, or Latin-American civilizations. Varying topics focus on region, periods and aspects of these cultures. 3 credits

MOLG 4324 Special Topics in Modern Languages
Issues of current interest to the comparative study of French, Italian, Spanish, or Latin-American civilizations. Varying topics focus on region, periods and aspects of these cultures. 3 credits

The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science offers programs of study leading to the degrees Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in Mathematics and Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in Computer Science. It also offers interdisciplinary undergraduate and graduate certificate programs in Data Visualization and Analysis, jointly with the Department of Psychology.

The department aims to develop students’ analytical skills and attitudes necessary for the effective understanding and application of mathematics and computer science.

A variety of program options are available for undergraduates majoring in mathematics or computer science. Students’ programs are determined in consultation with a faculty adviser from the department and tailored to each undergraduate’s career goals. With the proper choice of electives, students will be prepared to enter teaching, industry or graduate study in mathematics, computer science, business, law or medicine.

Programs for undergraduates majoring in secondary education with mathematics as a teaching field are determined in consultation with a faculty adviser from the Department of Educational Studies in the College of Education and Human Services, as well as the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science.

The Center for Developmental Mathematics offers classes to strengthen the mathematical foundation for students, and tutoring in mathematics and statistics in the Mathematics Learning Lab in association with the Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center. For further information, please refer to the Mathematics Learning Lab web page at www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/math-compsci/math-learning-lab.cfm

Departmental Honors

The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science offers the opportunity for students to graduate with departmental honors in mathematics and/or computer science. The requirements for departmental honors include a GPA and credit requirement, as well as the completion of a capstone project under supervision of a faculty member. It is recommended that any interested student should meet with the chair of the department or his/her adviser by the end of the sophomore year to discuss options for the senior project.

Students who wish to graduate with departmental honors in mathematics:
- must have 3.3 GPA in major courses numbered 3000 or above, including CSAS courses used to satisfy major requirements, a 3.0 overall average GPA, and must have taken at least 60 credits at Seton Hall;
- must complete one full-year sequence in either Algebra (MATH 3815-4816) or Analysis (MATH 3515-4516); and
- must complete a capstone project, ordinarily through a thesis developed for Senior Seminar (MATH 4912), under supervision of a department faculty member. This requirement may be satisfied in conjunction with the thesis requirement in the Humanities Honors Program and is in addition to the 52-credit mathematics major requirement.

Students who wish to graduate with departmental honors in computer science:
- must have a 3.3 GPA in major courses numbered 3000 or above, including MATH courses used to satisfy major requirements, a 3.0 overall average GPA, and must have taken at least 60 credits at Seton Hall;
- must complete both sequences required for the computer science major, plus two additional electives. Courses taken to satisfy a mathematics minor requirement cannot simultaneously be used to satisfy the Honors requirement; and
- must complete the Honors Project sequence (CSAS 4201-4202 Honors Research Project I and II), including written and oral presentation of project results.

Major in Mathematics

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete the requirements listed below. All programs are worked out in consultation with a department adviser who may modify the program in view of the student’s background and objectives. All programs must be approved by the department.

Total: 25-27
Minor in Applied Scientific Mathematics

Purpose of the program: To provide a rounded exposure to mathematics for students majoring in the sciences, using as a basis, courses currently required for the various science majors. The program provides exposure to basic tools and applications of mathematics in science. Students in other majors are welcome to pursue the program if they meet course prerequisites, and complete at least two science laboratory sequences at the level required for the Arts and Sciences BS Core or higher.

Course Descriptions

Computer Science

CSAS 1015 Computer Science Essentials
General overview of the many facets of computer science and information technology: Data, hardware, software, networks. System software in including operating systems and programming environments. Software engineering; program development using data structures, algorithms, files, and databases. Exposure to other topics and issues in computer science, such as data compression, security, theory of computation, computational complexity. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

CSAS 1111 Introduction to Computer Science I
Problem solving using computers. The design and implementation of computer programs. Major areas and issues in computer science including social and ethical concerns. Problem solving and pseudocode. Formal specification and verification. Basic software engineering techniques and software reuse. Data structures. Structured types: arrays, records, files. Objects and methods. Programming in a high-level language, such as C++ or Java. Corequisite: MATH 1015. 4 credits

CSAS 1112 Introduction to Computer Science II
Major issues, areas, and applications of computer science. Data structures and algorithms. Linked lists, trees and graphs. Stacks, queues, and heaps. Object-oriented programming. Problem solving and software engineering. Algorithm design, induction, recursion, and complexity. Social, economic, and ethical concerns. Programming in a high-level language, such as C++ or Java. Prerequisite: CSAS 1111. Corequisite: MATH 1501/1401. 4 credits

CSAS 1113 Computing for Science Majors
A course in programming in C++ with emphasis on applications to the sciences and to numeric algorithms. Basics of software development (variables, control structures, functions), data structures (records, arrays, lists), dynamic structures (pointers, linked lists) and principles of object-oriented programming (fields and methods, classes, inheritance). The course will focus on creating programs for topics of interest in the natural sciences. Corequisite: MATH 1015 or equivalent. 4 credits

CSAS 1114 Introduction to Program Design I
Programming skills are important to virtually every profession. Professionals must make decisions on how to achieve goals by deciding what steps are necessary. This course is an introduction to computer programming that teaches students how to make plans, to organize their thoughts, to pay attention to detail, and to be self-critical. The main focus of the course is the design process that leads students from a problem statement and a blank page to a well-organized solution. Topics include: the processing of simple forms of data, the processing of arbitrarily large data, and the process of abstraction. This course assumes no prior computer programming experience. Corequisite MATH 1014 or greater. 3 credits

CSAS 1115 Introduction to Program Design II
This course continues the study of the design and the programming processes started in CSAS 1114. Building on the abstraction skills acquired in CSAS 1114, the course focuses on new programming design techniques such as generative recursion, tail-recursion, and the changing of state variables through the use of assignment. The disciplined introduction to assignment prepares students to study modern object-oriented design and programming. Prerequisite: CSAS 1114, Corequisite: MATH 1015, 1501 or 1401. 3 credits

CSAS 1191, 1192, 1193 Modern Computing Applications I
These courses will expose the student to some accessible applications in modern computer science. Among the topics are video game programming, mobile device programming and robotics. 1, 2 and 3 credits

CSAS 1291, 1292, 1293 Modern Computing Applications II
These courses will expose the student to some accessible applications in modern computer science. Among the topics are video game programming, mobile device programming and robotics. 1, 2 and 3 credits

CSAS 2123 Introduction to Object-Oriented Design I
This course is an introduction to object-oriented design and programming. Building on the knowledge gained in CSAS 1114-1115 students learn to design a system of classes to represent information. Given a system of classes and a piece of information students will be able to create objects and represent this information with data. Conversely, given an instance of a class in the system, students will be able to interpret this object as information in the real world. Topics include varieties of data, functional methods, and abstraction with classes. Prerequisites: CSAS 1115, MATH 1611. 3 credits

CSAS 2124 Introduction to Object-Oriented Design II
This course continues the investigation of object-oriented design and programming started in CSAS 2123. Topics include circular objects, imperative methods, abstraction over data definitions, and the use of commercial programming environments for object-oriented programs. By the end of this course, students will have a solid grasp on the principles and practice of object-oriented programming. Prerequisite: CSAS 2123. 3 credits

CSAS 2125 Computer Architecture and Assembly Programming
This course introduces the basic design of computing systems: CPU, memory, input and output. In addition, it provides a complete introduction to assembly language: the basics of an instruction set plus experience in assembly language programming using a RISC architecture. During the course student will gain experience using system calls and interrupt-driven programming emphasizing the interaction with the operating system. Other topics include: machine representation of integers, characters, floating point numbers, and virtual memory. Prerequisites: CSAS 1115, MATH 1611, or permission of instructor. 3 credits

CSAS 2126 Data Structures and Algorithms
This course discusses data structures such as arrays, stacks, queues, lists, trees, and graphs and the algorithms that manipulate these structures. Algorithm analysis for the cost of time and space is introduced. Students will learn essential tools for designing efficient software applications, needed in all application areas of computer science, such as industrial and scientific computation and database management. Prerequisites: CSAS 2123, MATH 1611, and either MATH 2111 or MATH 2711 3 credits

CSAS 2191, 2192, 2193 Topics in Applied Modern Computing I
These courses will expose the student to some accessible applications in modern computer science. Among the topics are video game programming, mobile device programming and robotics. May not be taken for credit as part of the computer science major or minor. 1, 2 and 3 credits

CSAS 2291, 2292, 2293 Topics in Applied Modern Computing II
These courses will expose the student to some accessible applications in modern computer science. Among the topics are video game programming, mobile device programming and robotics. May not be taken for credit as part of the computer science major or minor. 1, 2 and 3 credits

CSAS 2213 The UNIX Operating System and the C Language
Using the UNIX environment, shells and customization, UNIX tools. Low-level language features, in C or C++, including I/O and file manipulation, and explicit pointers and structures; compilation. Combining C and UNIX. Introduction to systems programming. The Perl language and systems features. Pipes, sockets and processes. Prerequisite: One year of programming. 3 credits

CSAS 2214 Java and Network Programming
Object-oriented programming principles. Java libraries, including awt and swing. The Graphical User Interface, animation and multithreading. Exceptions and advanced error-handling techniques. Client-server programming, database interfaces, overview of common client/server applications and techniques. Prerequisite: CSAS 2214 or the equivalent. 3 credits
CSAS 3010 (DAVA 3010) Data Mining
This course introduces the foundations of applied data mining. There is a need for extracting useful information from raw data in fields such as social and health sciences, business, the natural sciences and engineering. This course covers the fundamental ideas and algorithms of data mining. Furthermore, it teaches applying data mining techniques in order to extract useful information from data. Standard software for data mining will be used. The course is intended for any student desiring an introduction to data mining. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

CSAS 3085/PSYC 3300 Robotics and the Mind
This course explores the relationship between Catholic theological reflection and scientific evidence on the question of what it means to be human. Theoretical discussion will be accompanied by physically constructing and programming a variety of robots. Prerequisites: MATH 1202 or MATH 1401 or MATH 1501.

CSAS 3086 Special Topics in Computer Science
Signature III course with substantial computer science or related content, typically interdisciplinary and perhaps team-taught, taught on an experimental basis with topics to be determined by the instructor(s) in cooperation with the University Core process. See Computer Science Adviser. 3 credits each

CSAS 3094 Computer Science Co-op I
See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits

CSAS 3095 Computer Science Co-op II
See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits

CSAS 3096 Computer Science Co-op III
See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits

CSAS 3111 Operating Systems
Interdependence of operating systems and architectures. System structure and system evaluation. Emphasis on memory management: addressing, virtual memory, paging, segmentation and secondary storage; processes management: scheduling, context switching, priority, concurrency and deadlock; and resource management: memory, secondary storage, buses and printers. Prerequisites: CSAS 2124, 2126. 3 credits

CSAS 3113 Programming Languages
Introduction to principles of programming languages and nonprocedural, non-object-oriented programming. Programming language concepts, including higher-order functions, first-class functions, recursion, tail-recursion and iteration, tree-recursion; issues of pure versus impure languages in relation to performance, implementation and ease of abstraction; environments, parameter passing, and scoping. Structure, the syntax, and implementation of languages, illustrated using interpreters. Emphasis on programming in a language such as Scheme or Prolog; individual programming assignments and team project. Prerequisites: CSAS 2124, 2126, MATH 1611. 3 credits

CSAS 3204/MATH 3204 Logic and the Limits to Knowledge
The course presents an overview of topics in and related to logic, including development of formal logic and an axiomatic first-order logic. It explores the history of mathematics and logic in the Catholic Intellectual and wider Western Traditions, as well as the mutual interactions of mathematics, philosophy and religion. It then considers extensions of first-order logic, and provable limits to knowledge: the three unsolvable problems of Euclidean geometry, and examples from Gödel, Turing, Arrow, quantum physics, and others. Prerequisites: Either PHIL 1204 or PHIL 1104, or permission of chair/instructor. 3 credits

CSAS 3211 Computer Networks
Principles of computer and networking. The layered model of a computer network and its implementation. Course will include: standard protocols, applications mathematical principles and theory, team and individual programming projects. Prerequisite: CSAS 2125 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

CSAS 3212 Computer Graphics Programming
Introduction to computer graphics, with emphasis on applications programming. Covers topics which form the basis for computer graphics, applications programming, such as graphics computer architectures and software, application programmer’s interfaces, interactive programs, geometric objects and their transformations, viewing with a computer, shading of objects, pixel-oriented techniques, implementation of a renderer, curves and surfaces and visualization of scientific data. Graphics programs will be developed using a high-level programming language, such as C++ or Java, and an application programmer’s interface, such as OpenGL or Java 3D. Prerequisites: CSAS 2126 and either MATH 2813 or MATH 2814. 3 credits

CSAS 3311 Computer Security
The security landscape: threats, approaches, and tools. Computer, network, script and storage vulnerabilities. Cryptography and encryption: history, theory, algorithms, and protocols. Public key and private key encryption; secure sessions and session keys; certificates. Secure software and program analysis. Access validation and permissions. Prerequisites: MATH 2511, CSAS 2125 and 2126, and either MATH 2813, or 2814, or permission of instructor. 3 credits

CSAS 3411 (MATH 3411) Graph Algorithms
This course introduces discrete graphs and their applications, with emphasis on applications. It covers the fundamental structures of and algorithms on discrete graphs, teaching students how to use graph algorithms to extract useful information from graph and network data, how to model complex processes using graph theoretic techniques, and how to investigate and validate resulting models in order to test graph models and make predictions. Prerequisites: MATH 1611, and either MATH 2813 or MATH 2814. 3 credits
CSAS 3513 (MATH 3513) Introduction to Numerical Analysis
Direct and iterative methods for solving equations and systems of equations. Numerical methods, including interpolation, polynomial approximations, numerical differentiation and integration. Numerical solution to differential equations. Knowledge of computer programming helpful. Prerequisite: MATH 2511. 3 credits

CSAS 4071-4072 Directed Software Development
(See department chair) 1 credit

CSAS 4081-4086 Special Topics in Computer Science
Special topics and problems in various branches of computer science. Prerequisites: At least five CSAS courses, including CSAS 2122, or permission of chair. 1-3 credits

CSAS 4091-4096 Independent Study in Computer Science
Prerequisites: At least five CSAS courses, including CSAS 2122, or permission of chair. 1-3 credits

CSAS 4111 Introduction to Artificial Intelligence
Different definitions of and approaches to artificial intelligence. Problems, problem spaces and search techniques; special emphasis on heuristic search, including hill climbing, best-first search and A*. The role of knowledge and knowledge representation issues. Programming and AI application. Introductory survey paper. Prerequisites: CSAS 2124, 2126, MATH 1611, 2111. 3 credits

CSAS 4112 Design and Analysis of Algorithms
Analysis of the complexity and validity of algorithms for the solution of problems in graph theory, combinatorics, systems programming, artificial intelligence and other fields. Randomized algorithms and amortized analysis. NP-completeness and undecidability. Prerequisite: CSAS 2124, 2126, MATH 1611. 3 credits

CSAS 4113 Formal Languages and Automata
Introduction to the theory of finite state automata and their equivalence to regular expressions and regular grammars; pushdown automata and context-free languages; context-sensitive grammars and Turing machines; determinism and nondeterminism; issues of complexity including P and NP; and issues of computability including Turing computable versus Turing decidable, the Halting problem and other incomputable problems. Prerequisites: CSAS 2124, 2126, MATH 1611. 3 credits

CSAS 4114 Theory of Programming Languages
Advanced topics in programming languages are introduced such as compilation, garbage collection, interfacing compiled and interpreted code, virtual machine design, lexical addressing, lazy evaluation, and code optimization. The interaction of programming languages and the physical machine on which they are implemented. Significant programming project and introductory survey paper. Prerequisite: CSAS 3113. 3 credits

CSAS 4115 Databases
Modern relational databases. Relational algebra, views and queries, normal forms and normalization, tuning and optimization. The entity-relationship model and database design. Overview of other approaches, especially object-oriented databases, data warehouses and data mining, distributed databases and very large applications. Group project, both design and implementation, in an SQL-based environment, such as SQL Workbench. Prerequisites: CSAS 2124, 2126, MATH 1611 or permission of department chair. 3 credits

CSAS 4117 Software Engineering
The software universe and the role of software engineering. Project, process, and product. Approaches to system and software engineering; software architectures, including component-oriented and service-oriented architectures. Traditional and object-oriented approaches to software engineering; the modern approach, modeling languages and patterns; agile and extreme programming. Requirements elicitation and analysis and system specification; risk analysis; use cases. Knowledge management for requirements elicitation and risk analysis. Design of a software system using patterns and incremental iterative refinement. Complementary approaches, including aspects and interfaces with databases. Security and other non-behavioral considerations. Development of an initial prototype. Prerequisites: CSAS 2124 and CSAS 2126, or permission of instructor. 3 credits

CSAS 4118 Software Engineering II
Design and implementation of a software application. Design patterns and aspects. User and component interfaces. Approaches for software quality assurance: validation and verification, testing, static analysis and model checking. Verification, validation, and testing. Approaches to verification – theorem proving, model checking, and others. Principles and theory of testing; white box and black box testing. Unit, integration, stress, and acceptance tests. Test metrics and test coverage. Testing tools. Maintenance: corrective, preventative, adaptive, and perfective changes. Software configuration management. Technical and business management of large software projects. Technical and business metrics. Cost estimation, scheduling, and staffing – connection to risk analysis. Subcontractors, vendors and collaborators; outsourcing in software projects. Software engineering for web applications and real-time systems. Prerequisites: CSAS 2124 and CSAS 4117, or permission of instructor. 3 credits

CSAS 4121 Computer Graphics Modeling
Computer Graphics Modeling underlies applications in computer graphics and animation, engineering design, architecture, etc. The course CSAS 4121 introduces the basic techniques of computer graphics modeling: Bezier curves and surfaces, and splines, using curves and surfaces for modeling shapes. The course also teaches programming of the essential algorithms used in computer graphics modeling, and using some standard software system for computer graphics design. Graphical concepts will be illustrated by applets, short films and graphics modeling software. Students will implement computer graphics modeling algorithms in Maple. The course will also teach the essentials of Maple programming as they are needed for modeling. Prerequisite: Junior status in Mathematics or Computer Science, or permission of instructor. 3 credits

CSAS 4122 Computer Graphics Visualization

Computer Graphics Visualization is used throughout society, including science, engineering, enterprises, politics, art, etc., for visualizing data and processes. Visualization is crucial for mining usable information from the ever increasing amounts of data and ever more complex procedural relationships of today's society. This course introduces the foundations for computer graphics visualization: basics of visual thinking and perception, techniques for visualization, such as maps, time series, trees, graphs, etc., and applications, such as in medical imaging, biochemistry, social sciences, etc. The course also teaches developing visualizations using a standard programming system. Visualizations will be demonstrated using online material, such as Many Eyes or Google Maps. Prerequisite: CSAS 4121 or permission or instructor. 3 credits

CSAS 4201-4202 Honors Research Project I & II

Undergraduate research project under guidance of a faculty member in the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science, extending over two semesters. The topic will be selected by the student in consultation with the faculty member, and should relate to the undergraduate learning experience in computer science and the faculty member's expertise. In addition to development of code and/or research artifacts, oral and written presentations will be required. Prerequisite: Student must have senior standing, and be eligible for department honors in CSAS, and have approval of the faculty member mentoring the research. 3 credits each

Mathematics

Placement information: The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science has established placement procedures to place students in mathematics courses commensurate with their skill level and to ensure a level of mathematical proficiency that can be expected from graduates of Seton Hall University.

Students are placed into categories according to the math portion of their SAT scores. A student can then take any course within that category or any lower category. Students who have already completed a course in a higher group will not be given credit for a course in a lower group without the written permission of the department. A student can place into a higher category by taking the (optional) Mathematics Placement Exam. Transfer students should contact the department chair before registering for any mathematics courses.

Category I

Math 0011, Math 0012 and MATH 0013 (Developmental Mathematics, institutional credit only)

Category II

Any math course up to Math 1299 excluding Math 1015

Category III

Any math course up to Math 1399

Category IV

Any math course up to Math 1501 excluding Math 1411

Students with a high level of mathematics preparation may place above Math 1401/1501 or receive credit for Math 1303 or Math 1401/1501 if (a) they passed the AP Calculus Exam with a score of 4 or 5, or (b) they passed a “Project Acceleration High School” Calculus course with an A or B. Please see the department chair if you wish to place higher than Math 1401/1501. For details on the mathematics placement procedures, please call (973) 761-9466.

Please note: The prerequisites listed below are strictly enforced. A student who has not completed the prerequisites will not be permitted to remain in a course or receive course credit. For all courses listed with two numbers, such as MATH 3612-3613, the first course is prerequisite to the second. Students who have received credit for a course numbered MATH 1401 or higher may not receive credit for MATH 1014 or MATH 1015, without explicit permission of the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science.

Note: MATH 0011, 0012 and 0013 do not count toward graduation.

MATH 0011 Developmental Mathematics I

Topics covered: integers, fractions, decimals, ratio, percentage, polynomials, exponents, and elementary word problems. After completion of this class students will enroll in either MATH 0012 or MATH 0013 to finish their Developmental Math requirements. Prerequisite: appropriate placement. 2 institutional credits

MATH 0012 Developmental Mathematics II

Topics covered: review of arithmetic skills, simplifying algebraic expressions, exponents, equations, polynomials, graphing, factoring, square roots, algebraic fractions and elementary word problems. Successful completion of this class will satisfy the Developmental Math requirements. Prerequisite: MATH 0011 or appropriate placement. 3 institutional credits

MATH 0013 Developmental Mathematics III

Topics covered: polynomials, graphing, factoring, square roots, algebraic fractions and elementary word problems. Successful completion of this class will satisfy the Developmental Math requirements. Prerequisite: MATH 0011 appropriate placement. 2 institutional credits

MATH 1011 Sabermetrics

Introduces students to the rapidly growing field of sabermetrics, the science of statistics applied to baseball. Demonstrates application of statistical measures to the game. Students gain insight into the interpretation and validity of statistical measures. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 1 credit
MATH 1014 College Algebra
The real number system, algebraic manipulations, solving equations and inequalities, exponents and radicals, functions and graphing. A minimum grade of "C" is required. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1015 Pre-Calculus Mathematics Algebra and Trigonometry
The real number system, functions, polynomial functions and equations, exponential and logarithmic functions, trigonometric functions (graphs, applications, identities and equations), analytic geometry. Prerequisite: MATH 1014 or appropriate placement. 4 credits

MATH 1101 Statistical Concepts and Methods
Nature of statistics. Descriptive statistics, graphical methods, measures of central tendency and variability. Probability, correlation and regression, sampling distributions. Inferential statistics, estimation and hypothesis testing, tests of independence and nonparametric statistics. Use of computer statistical packages. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1102 Mathematical Perspectives
Introduction to traditional and contemporary mathematical ideas in logic, number theory, geometry, probability and statistics. Historical and cultural development of these topics, as well as connections to other disciplines and various problem-solving strategies are included. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1112 Mathematical Perspectives II
Selected topics from set theory and number theory. Algebra, Geometry and right triangle Trigonometry. Counting Methods, Probability and Statistics. Prerequisite: Any 1000-level MATH course or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1201 Calculus for Business and Economic Students I
Introduction to real numbers, functions, elements of geometry, limits, derivatives and integrals, including the Fundamental Theorem of Calculus. This course includes elements of the historical developments of calculus as well as connections to other disciplines. This course is not intended for science or mathematics majors. 3 credits

MATH 1202 Mathematical Models in the Social Sciences
For students in the School of Business. Functions and linear models, systems of linear equations, linear programming, sets and counting, probability, random variables and statistics, quadratic functions, introduction to the derivative, marginal analysis, maximum and minimum problems, the mathematics of finance. Specific and real-world applications to problems illustrate each topic. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1203 Statistical Models for the Social Sciences
Descriptive statistics, levels of measurement, measures of central tendency and dispersion. Contingency tables and measures of association for categorical variables. Correlation and linear regression. Probability and frequency distributions. Parametric and nonparametric inferential statistics. Confidence intervals and hypothesis testing. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1205 Finite Mathematics with Calculus for Business
For students in the School of Business. Functions and linear models, systems of linear equations, linear programming, sets and counting, probability, random variables and statistics, quadratic functions, introduction to the derivative, marginal analysis, maximum and minimum problems, the mathematics of finance. Specific and real-world applications to problems illustrate each topic. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1301 Calculus for Business and Economics Students I
Introduction to real numbers, functions, elements of geometry, limits, derivatives and integrals, including the Fundamental Theorem of Calculus. This course includes elements of the historical developments of calculus as well as connections to other disciplines. This course is not intended for science or mathematics majors. 3 credits

MATH 1302 Mathematical Models for the Social Sciences
Applications of statistics in the social sciences. Analysis and interpretation of statistical models. Sampling techniques, common flaws and errors in sampling and in using statistics. Descriptive statistics, levels of measurement, measures of central tendency and dispersion. Contingency tables and measures of association for categorical variables. Correlation and linear regression. Probability and frequency distributions. Parametric and nonparametric inferential statistics. Confidence intervals and hypothesis testing. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1303 Quantitative Methods for Business and Economic Students
Functions, limits, continuity, derivatives applications of the derivative, in particular to mathematical economics. Exponential and logarithmic functions. Antiderivatives, area and applications to business models. Probabilities and applications. Matrices and an introduction to linear programming. Prerequisite: MATH 1014 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1305 Calculus I for the Physical Sciences
Real numbers, proof by induction, functions, definition by recursion, limits, continuity, derivatives and applications, definite integral, Fundamental Theorem of Calculus and inverse functions. Applications using computer software packages. Emphasis on theory. Prerequisite: MATH 1015 or appropriate placement. 4 credits

MATH 1306 Calculus II for the Physical Sciences
Applications of integration. Differentiation of trigonometric and exponential functions and their inverses. Techniques of integration. Improper integrals, indeterminate forms, polar coordinates and vectors. Applications using computer software packages. Prerequisite: MATH 1401. 4 credits

MATH 1307 Calculus III for the Physical Sciences
Multiple integration, vector calculus, line and surface integrals, vector fields, theorems of Green, Gauss and Stokes. Applications using computer software packages. Emphasis on theory. Prerequisite: MATH 1306. 4 credits

MATH 1308 Calculus IV for the Physical Sciences
Partial differential equations, Fourier series, and special functions. Applications using computer software packages. Emphasis on theory. Prerequisite: MATH 1307. 4 credits

MATH 1310 Calculus for Business and Economic Students II
Implicit differentiation, related rates, differential equations, improper integrals and probability density functions, partial derivatives and applications and multiple integrals. Introduction to matrix theory, solution of systems of linear equations and linear programming. Prerequisite: MATH 1014 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 1311 Calculus for Business and Economic Students II
Implicit differentiation, related rates, differential equations, improper integrals and probability density functions, partial derivatives and applications and multiple integrals. Introduction to matrix theory, solution of systems of linear equations and linear programming. Prerequisite: MATH 1303. 3 credits

MATH 1401 Calculus I
Real numbers, functions, elements of plane analytic geometry, limits, continuity, derivatives, differentiation of algebraic functions, applications of the derivative, antiderivatives, definite integral and Fundamental Theorem of Calculus. Applications using computer software packages. Prerequisite: MATH 1015 or appropriate placement. 4 credits

MATH 1402 Calculus II
Applications of integration. Differentiation of trigonometric and exponential functions and their inverses. Techniques of integration. Improper integrals, indeterminate forms, polar coordinates and vectors. Applications using computer software packages. Prerequisite: MATH 1401. 4 credits

MATH 1501 Calculus I for the Mathematical and Physical Sciences
Real numbers, proof by induction, functions, definition by recursion, limits, continuity, derivatives and applications, definite integral, Fundamental Theorem of Calculus and inverse functions. Applications using computer software packages. Emphasis on theory. Prerequisite: MATH 1015 or appropriate placement. 4 credits
MATH 1511 Calculus II for the Mathematical and Physical Sciences
Applications of integration, polar coordinates, techniques of integration, infinite series, conics, two-dimensional vectors and differential equations. Applications using computer software packages. Emphasis on theory. Prerequisite: MATH 1401 or MATH 1501. 4 credits

MATH 1611 Introductory Discrete Mathematics
Basic counting rules, permutations, combinations, Pigeonhole principle, inclusion-exclusion, generating functions, recurrence relations, graphs, digraphs, trees and algorithms. Prerequisite: MATH 1015 or appropriate placement. 3 credits

MATH 2111 Statistics for Science Majors
Oriented toward direct application to research problems in the sciences. Collecting and organizing data, design of experiments, standard distributions, statistical tests and procedures used in hypothesis testing. A discursive treatment of the probability theory necessary to understand statistical tests is included but minimized. Emphasis on statistical inference and developing an awareness of statistical methods in a given situation. Prerequisite: MATH 1401. 4 credits

MATH 2411 Calculus III
Elements of solid analytic geometry, parametric equations, vector-valued functions, partial differentiation, multiple integrals, line integrals and surface integrals. Applications using computer software packages. Prerequisite: MATH 1411. 4 credits

MATH 2511 Calculus III for the Mathematical and Physical Sciences
Vectors in space, vector-valued functions, partial differentiation, multiple integrals, vector analysis, and line and surface integrals. Applications using computer software packages. Emphasis on theory. Prerequisite: MATH 1511. 4 credits

MATH 2611 Foundations of Higher Mathematics
The logical and set-theoretic foundations of mathematics and computer science. Introduction to mathematical logic and proof techniques. Elementary set theory, including numbers, sets, relations, functions, equivalence classes, partial orders, Boolean algebras and cardinality. Prerequisites: MATH 1511 and MATH 1611. 3 credits

MATH 2711 Introduction to Probability and Statistics
Introduction to statistics. Levels of measurement; central tendency and dispersion; accuracy, precision, error and bias. Probability spaces, random variables, and sampling. Counting: principles, permutations and combinations, combinatorics. Continuous and discrete probability, conditional probability and expectation. Approaches for summarizing and visualizing statistical information. Univariate, bivariate, and multivariate distributions; standard continuous and discrete distributions, including Binomial, Poisson, Exponential, Normal and Chi-Square distributions; introduction to moment generating functions. The Central Limit Theorem. Overview of confidence intervals and hypothesis testing. Independence and association, correlation and regression, and the Chi-Square test. Use of software packages such as Maple, Excel, and/or StatCrunch for statistics. Prerequisites: MATH 1401 or MATH 1501, and MATH 1611. (Note: Students cannot receive credit for both MATH 2711 and MATH 2111.) 4 credits

MATH 2813 Linear Algebra
Matrix algebra, determinants, solutions of systems of linear equations, Rn, abstract vector spaces, linear transformations, inner product spaces and eigenvectors. Prerequisite: MATH 1611. 4 credits

MATH 2814 Introductory Linear Algebra and Computational Mathematics
Topics essential for computer science selected from traditional linear algebra and Calculus II. The material is presented in a constructive and algorithmic way to increase relevance for computer science students. The students will implement relevant mathematical algorithms in a programming language taught during the freshman or sophomore year. Students will acquire skills that are essential for designing efficient software applications, needed in industrial and scientific applications of computer science. Prerequisites: MATH 1501 or MATH 1611; and CSAS1114. 3 credits

MATH 3085-3086 Special Topics in Mathematics
Signature III course with substantial mathematical or related content, typically interdisciplinary and perhaps team-taught, taught on an experimental basis with topics to be determined by the instructor(s) in cooperation with the University Core process. See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits each

MATH 3094 Math Co-op I
See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits

MATH 3095 Math Co-op II
See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits

MATH 3096 Math Co-op III
See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits

MATH 3111 History of Mathematics
The development of mathematical ideas in various cultures, civilizations, and eras including Ancient Greece, Medieval China, the Renaissance, Era of Descartes and Fermat, Era of Newton and Leibniz, as well as the logical foundations and the use of the computer in Modern Mathematics. Prerequisites: MATH 2511 and MATH 1611. 3 credits

MATH 3204/CSAS 3204 Logic and the Limits to Knowledge
The course presents an overview of topics in and related to logic, including development of formal logic and an axiomatic first-order logic. It explores the history of mathematics and logic in the Catholic Intellectual and wider Western Traditions, as well as the mutual interactions of mathematics, philosophy and religion. It then considers extensions of first-order logic, and provable limits to knowledge: the three unsolvable problems of Euclidean geometry, and examples from Gödel, Turing, Arrow, quantum physics, and others. Prerequisites: Either PHIL 1204 or PHIL 1104, or permission of chair/instructor. 3 credits
MATH 3411 (CSAS 3411) Graph Algorithms
This course introduces discrete graphs and their applications, with emphasis on applications. It covers the fundamental structures of and algorithms on discrete graphs, teaching students how to use graph algorithms to extract useful information from graph and network data, how to model complex processes using graph theoretic techniques, and how to investigate and validate resulting models in order to test graph models and make predictions. Prerequisites: MATH 1611, and either MATH 2813 or MATH 2814. 3 credits

MATH 3513 (CSAS 3513) Introduction to Numerical Analysis
Direct and iterative methods for solving equations and systems of equations. Numerical methods, including interpolation, polynomial approximations, numerical differentiation and integration. Numerical solution to differential equations. Knowledge of computer programming helpful. Prerequisite: MATH 2511. 3 credits

MATH 3514 Differential Equations
Existence theorems, graphical methods, phase plane analysis, boundary value problems and selected topics. Prerequisites: MATH 2511, MATH 2813. 3 credits

MATH 3515 Analysis
Structure of R1 and Rn. Sets, equivalence classes, countability; compactness and connectedness; continuity, differentiability and integrability. Theory of series. Pointwise and uniform convergence. Prerequisites: MATH 2411 or 2511; MATH 2813. 4 credits

MATH 3611 Introduction to Operations Research
Construction and use of mathematical models in operations research. Classical techniques for optimization of functions of one and several variables. Linear programming problem and simplex method for their solutions. Applications to practical problems. Prerequisites: MATH 2511, MATH 2813. 3 credits

MATH 3612 Discrete Mathematics
Combinatorial methods and discrete structures. Topics may include enumeration techniques, subsets and designs, partitions, generating functions and recurrence relations; codes and graphs. Prerequisites: MATH 1611, MATH 2813 or MATH 2814. 3 credits

MATH 3614 Graph Theory
Graphs, trees and digraphs. Various properties are discussed and may include connectivity, colorability, planarity, matchings, extremal graph theory, spanning trees, and reliability. Applications to real world problems will be introduced. Prerequisites: MATH 1611, and either MATH 2813 or MATH 2814. 3 credits

MATH 3626 Applied Matrix Techniques
This course introduces fundamental matrices and matrix algorithms used in applied mathematics, and essential theorems and their proofs. It covers matrices used in linear optimization, solving systems of linear differential equations, and modeling of stochastic processes. It also covers implementing matrix algorithms with mathematical software. Prerequisites: MATH 2711, MATH 2813, MATH 3626, MATH 3913 and either CSAS 1113 or CSAS 1114. 3 credits

MATH 3711 Statistical Analysis
Overall emphases on modeling, on concepts and theory, and on standard statistical tools and approaches. Review of probability spaces, random variables, and sampling. Continuous and discrete probability, moment generating functions, standard distributions. Functions of random variables. The Law of Large Numbers and the Central Limit Theorem. Point estimation, confidence intervals and hypothesis testing. The power of a test. Correlation and regression; the Chi-Square Test. Use of software packages such as Maple, Excel and/or StatCrunch/SPSS for statistics. Prerequisites: Either MATH 2111 or MATH 2711, and either MATH 2813 or MATH 2814. 3 credits

MATH 3813 Number Theory
Unique factorization and its applications, congruency, quadratic reciprocity and diophantine equations. Other topics as time permits. Prerequisite: MATH 1611. 3 credits

MATH 3814 Linear Algebra and Matrix Theory
Vector spaces and algebras, unitary and orthogonal transformations, characteristic equation of a matrix, the Jordan canonical form. Bilinear, quadratic and Hermitian forms. Spectral theorem. Prerequisite: MATH 2813. 3 credits

MATH 3815 Abstract Algebra
Introduction to algebraic structures: monoids, groups, rings and fields. Examples are given, and the elementary theory of these structures is described. Prerequisite: MATH 2813. 4 credits

MATH 3911 Geometry
Possible topics include Euclidean geometry, non-Euclidean geometry, projective geometry, transformation geometry, complex geometry. Prerequisites: MATH 1611, MATH 2511. 3 credits

MATH 3913 Junior Seminar
Seminars and discussions designed to integrate readings of mathematical literature with both oral and written presentations. Prerequisite: MATH 3515 or 3815. 3 credits

MATH 4091-4092 Topics in Applied Mathematics I and II
Topics chosen from among operations research, optimization, including an introduction to the calculus of variations, combinatorics, discrete mathematics, Fourier analysis, integral equations, matrix theory, and partial differential equations. Students acquire some experience at constructing mathematical models. Prerequisites: MATH 2511, MATH 2813. 3 credits each

MATH 4093-4098 Independent Study in Mathematics
Prerequisite: permission of department chair. 1-3 credits

MATH 4512 Introduction to Complex Analysis
Analytic functions, elementary functions and mappings, integrals, Cauchy’s integral theorem and formula, power series, residues and poles. Prerequisite: MATH 2511. 3 credits
MATH 4516 Advanced Topics in Analysis
Consequences of continuity, differentiability and integrability in Rn; introduction to metric spaces. Lebesgue integration. Prerequisite: MATH 3515. 3 credits

MATH 4712 Advanced Topics in Applied Probability and Statistics
Advanced topics in probability and statistics or its application, selected by the instructor. Possible topics include, but are not limited to: advanced statistical modeling, stochastic models, applications to actuarial science and reliability, statistical data analysis and visualization, simulation and validation, design of experiments. Prerequisite: MATH 3711. 3 credits

MATH 4816 Advanced Topics in Algebra
Further properties of groups and fields, with a section on the applications of finite fields. Galois theory, the theory of the solution of algebraic equations. Prerequisite: MATH 3815. 3 credits

MATH 4911 Introduction to Topology

MATH 4912 Senior Project
Individual research project applying skills developed in Junior Seminar (MATH 3912) under the guidance of faculty adviser. Grade is ordinarily based on oral and written presentations. Prerequisites: MATH 3912 and permission of department chair. 3 credits

The Department of Philosophy provides a program leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. The program offers the opportunity for examining major philosophers and areas from ancient times to the present. Issues studied include matters of continuing human concern: Is there a God? What is knowledge and how is it acquired? What is the basis of right and wrong? What is the most just form of government? Is my behavior genuinely free or determined by prior causes? The study of philosophy helps students to understand these kinds of fundamental issues and provides the critical skills needed to examine them.

The major provides students with excellent preparation in the field. Students receive strong training in analytical and writing skills and a broad knowledge of the subject. The flexible structure of the program also enables each student to focus on his or her particular area of interest. In addition to courses available in the history of ancient and modern philosophy, there are courses in ethics, logic, philosophy of religion, political philosophy, theory of knowledge, contemporary philosophy, philosophy of science, and existentialism.

International Honor Society in Philosophy
Phi Sigma Tau, Local Chapter: New Jersey Eta (3107)
Students are eligible to apply for membership if they have completed 12 credits in philosophy with a 3.5 GPA and a 3.0 GPA overall.

Major Program
In conjunction with meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, the philosophy major consists of 30 credits. Students work out the details of their course of study in consultation with the chairperson who may modify the program in view of a student’s interest and objectives. Majors are required to maintain a minimum GPA of 2.5.

Philosophy Major Requirements (30 credits):
I. Any two of the following courses are required:
   PHIL 1101 Introduction to Philosophy
   PHIL 1104 Logic
   PHIL 1105 Ethics
II. Five courses at the PHIL 2000 level
   Note: With the permission of the chairperson a student may substitute one related 3 credit course from another discipline.
III. Three courses at the PHIL 3000 level:
   Note: Students must complete 6 credits at the Phil-2000 level before taking any 3000 level courses.
IV. Students who intend to do graduate work in philosophy are directed to take 7 of the following 8 courses in addition to the 3 required 3000 level courses:
   A. Two courses from this section
      PHIL 1104 Logic or PHIL 1204 Symbolic Logic
      PHIL 1105 Ethics or PHIL 2250 Moral Theories
   B. Any three of the following four history of philosophy courses:
      PHIL 2020 Ancient Philosophy
      PHIL 2030 Medieval Philosophy
      PHIL 2040 Modern Philosophy
      PHIL 2050 Contemporary Philosophy
   C. Both of these courses
      PHIL 2500 Epistemology
      PHIL 2950 Metaphysics

There is no separate major or minor in the department for students interested in applying to law school. Students should satisfy the requirements described for the relevant program and take a variety of courses. It should be noted that there are several courses that may be useful to pre-law students which are listed below, though these are not required. It should also be noted that the major is more beneficial than the minor and should be taken if possible, since this gives one a stronger foundation for entrance to law school. Students interested in the program should consult with the chair of the department for advice in selecting courses.

Recommended Pre Law Courses
PHIL 1104 Logic
PHIL 1105 Ethics
PHIL 1204 Symbolic Logic
PHIL 2140 Political Philosophy
PHIL 2150 Philosophy of Law
PHIL 2250 Moral Theories

Minor Programs
The philosophy minor and the philosophy minor in ethics and applied ethics require students to complete a minimum of 18 credits according to the distribution given below. Each student’s program is worked out in consultation with the chairperson.

Philosophy Minor Requirements:
I. Two courses at the 1000 level
II. Three courses at the 2000 level
III. One course at the 3000 level

Note: Six credits at the 2000 level must be completed before a student may take any course at the 3000 level.

Philosophy Minor in Ethics and Applied Ethics
The philosophy minor in ethics and applied ethics is for students who are interested in exploring important domestic and/or global ethical issues and problems that affect people’s well being in the social, political, legal, or economic realm.

A. Students must take PHIL 1105 Ethics and one of the following courses (6 credits):
PHIL 1101 Introduction to Philosophy
PHIL 1125 Business Ethics
PHIL 1130 Biomedical Ethics
RELS 1502 Contemporary Moral Issues

B. Students must take three of the following courses (9 credits):
PHIL 2100 Modern Society and Human Happiness
PHIL 2110 (WMST 2110) Feminist Theories
PHIL 2115 (ENVL 2115) Environmental Ethics
PHIL 2120 Ethics and Technology
PHIL 2125 Ethics and International Affairs
PHIL 2140 Political Philosophy
PHIL 2150 Philosophy of Law
PHIL 2205 Moral Theories

Note: Students may substitute a 2000 level course with one of the following courses or any other relevant course with the approval of chairperson.

- COMM 2134 Communication Ethics
- RELS 2520 (CAST 2520) Catholic Social Teaching
- ANTH 3215 Human Rights and Social Justice
- DIPL 4106 Human Rights

C. Students must take one of the following 3000 level philosophy courses with an emphasis on its ethics component (3 credits):
PHIL 3000 Plato
PHIL 3005 Aristotle
PHIL 3010 St. Augustine
PHIL 3015 St. Thomas Aquinas
PHIL 3060 Spinoza
PHIL 3070 Kant

Course Descriptions

PHIL 1101 Introduction to Philosophy
Exploration of basic issues in philosophy through study of primary sources. Topics approached thematically and historically. 3 credits

PHIL 1102 Philosophy and the Classical Mind
The development of Western philosophy from its origin with the ancient Greeks to 1450 A.D., as seen against the background of the history of the Western culture. 3 credits

PHIL 1103 Philosophy and the Modern Mind
The development of modern Western philosophy, considered in its complex interrelations with the scientific, social and ideological transformations of the 600 years from the Renaissance to the present. 3 credits

PHIL 1104 Logic

PHIL 1105 Ethics
The functions and methods of moral philosophy. A comparison of the major ethical theories. Analysis of a wide range of common moral issues. 3 credits

PHIL 1107 Self and Community: Philosophy in Theory and Practice I
A service learning course providing opportunity to combine community-based fieldwork with the study of classical and contemporary philosophy. Theme of the course is the relationship between individual and society. 4 credits

PHIL 1108 Self and Community: Philosophy in Theory and Practice II
A service learning course providing opportunity to combine community-based fieldwork with the study of classical and contemporary philosophy. Theme of the course is the relationship between individual and society. PHIL 1107 and PHIL 1108 together form a one-year, 8-credit sequence. 4 credits
PHIL 1125 Business Ethics
Overview of important moral, social and political issues involving the business world at large. Emphasis on the application of traditional ethical theories to business practices. 3 credits

PHIL 1130 Biomedical Ethics
This course will examine various ethical issues arising from advances in biological and medical practices and technologies. Topics may include: healthcare administration, end-of-life decision making, human and animal research, the human genome project, the design and use of reproductive technologies, stem cell research, and resource allocation and distribution. 3 credits

PHIL 1204 Symbolic Logic
Propositional logic; predicate logic; modal logic. Topics in the philosophy of logic. 3 credits

Advanced General

PHIL 2020 Ancient Philosophy
Review of the major philosophies of the ancient world from the pre-Socratics to the Stoics. Emphasis on Plato and Aristotle. 3 credits

PHIL 2030 Medieval Philosophy
The transition from late antiquity to the medieval period; Christianity, Neoplatonism and Gnosticism; readings from the major philosophers of the Middle Ages, (e.g., Augustine, Anselm, Bonaventure, Aquinas), as well as Jewish and Islamic thinkers of the period. 3 credits

PHIL 2040 Modern Philosophy
The development of philosophy through the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries, with emphasis upon the distinctively modern approaches to central issues in epistemology, metaphysics and political theory. The nature of modernity and its contemporary legacy. 3 credits

PHIL 2050 Contemporary Philosophy
Development of philosophy through the 20th century, with emphasis on analytic philosophy, phenomenology, existentialism, pragmatism and recent post-analytic and post-modern developments. 3 credits

PHIL 2065 American Philosophy
Pre- and post-colonial philosophical-theological thought: New England transcendentalism; pragmatism of Pierce, James and Dewey; philosophy in America today. 3 credits

PHIL 2080 Theories of Human Nature
A survey of the major theories of human nature from Plato to the 21st century. 3 credits

PHIL 2090 Philosophy of Mind
Examination of major theories about the mind, such as dualism, materialism, behaviorism, and cognitive theories that refer to internal psychological states. Includes consideration of artificial intelligence, consciousness, and the nature of psychology. 3 credits

PHIL 2095 (ENGL 3610) Existentialism in Literature
Existential traits in great world literary figures from Dostoyevsky, Kierkegaard and Nietzsche to the contemporary world of philosophy, literature and art as expressed by Camus, Sartre and representatives of the Theater of the Absurd. 3 credits

PHIL 2100 Modern Society and Human Happiness
Reflection upon the meaning of the good life through study of selected classical and contemporary thinkers. Emphasis upon the concept of the good life in a contemporary American context. 3 credits

PHIL 2110 (WMST 2110) Feminist Theories
Examination of the wide range of theories and perspectives that constitute feminism today. Three main parts: historical overview of the development of feminist thinking; analysis of major feminist theories; and examination of the intersections between traditional philosophy and feminist thinking. Prerequisite: One of the following: PHIL 1101, 1104 or 1105. 3 credits

PHIL 2115 (ENVL 2115) Environmental Ethics
Examination of current theoretical and practical issues in the field of environmental ethics, among them, obligations to future generations, human relationships to nature and pollution. 3 credits

PHIL 2120 Ethics and Technology
This course will examine theories in the philosophy of technology and various applied-ethical issues arising from technological advances. Topics may include: technology and democracy, technology and community, freedom and technology, privacy, hacker ethics, virtual reality and video games, engineering ethics, and robots and cybernetic organisms. 3 credits

PHIL 2125 Ethics and International Affairs
Systematic study of ethics in international affairs, in context of classical and contemporary moral and political theories. Particular emphasis on the relevance of justice, distributive justice in particular, to the behavior of nations and international organizations and assessment of that behavior. 3 credits

PHIL 2140 Political Philosophy
Critical assessment of the nature of Western political thought. What is political philosophy? What are the differences, if any, among political philosophy, political theory and the history of political thought? How should we read a political text? An in-depth exploration of one or several of the following concepts: authority, liberty, justice, legitimacy, political obligation, anarchy and the concept of the political itself. 3 credits

PHIL 2150 Philosophy of Law
Critical assessment of the concept of law. What is the nature of law? Examination of the differences among natural law, legal positivism, legal realism, and critical legal studies. Topics covered include legal reasoning, law and morality, law and liberty and constitution law. 3 credits
PHIL 2170 Philosophy of Religion

PHIL 2175 Philosophy of Death
Attitudes toward death: acceptance or is it an evil? Cross-cultural and historical. The death of children, parents, spouse; grief and bereavement; role of the mortician; suicide and euthanasia; old age and the art of dying; the Hospice movement; immortality. 3 credits

PHIL 2185 Philosophy of Love and Sex
This course consists of a survey of the history of theories of love and sex, from the ancient Greeks to the present; an investigation of selected contemporary issues; a look at ideas about love and sex in classical and contemporary literature and film. 3 credits

PHIL 2190 Philosophy of History
Investigation, in historical perspective, of philosophies of history beginning with Augustin and ending with Marx, covering other figures such as Joachim of Fiore, Hildegard of Bingen, J. B. Vico, Hegel, and Comte. 3 credits

PHIL 2200 Philosophy of Art
Historic and thematic study of theories of aesthetics, including those of Greece. Emphasizes modern and contemporary views of beauty and art in the variety of individual and social expression. 3 credits

PHIL 2250 Moral Theories
Exposition and critical evaluation of moral theories and concepts from ancient times to the present. Analysis of the challenge presented by moral skepticism. Examination of important moral concepts, such as virtues, rights, duties, and moral values. 3 credits

PHIL 2300 Major German Philosophers
Introduction to German philosophy broadly conceived. Some of the philosophers studied are: Kant, Fichte, Hegel, Heidegger. 3 credits

PHIL 2320 Marxism
Lives and works of Marx, Engels and Lenin. Analysis of their main ideas; recent developments in Marxist philosophy in America, Latin America and abroad. Evaluation and application. 3 credits

PHIL 2500 Epistemology
The nature and scope of knowledge. Knowledge and belief. The problem of skepticism. Empiricism, rationalism, and pragmatism. Foundationalism and its critics. 3 credits

PHIL 2700 Philosophy of Science
Investigation of the nature of scientific knowledge and truth. An in-depth exploration of one or several of the following concepts: confirmation, explanation, evidence and the status of scientific laws. Evaluation and criticism of the challenge presented by the history of science to positivist and empiricist accounts of scientific inquiry. 3 credits

PHIL 2810-2815 Special Topics In Philosophy
Focuses on a particular philosophical theme, topic or thinker chosen by instructor. 3 credits

PHIL 2950 Metaphysics
Reflection on the meaning of human existence and our place in reality. Consideration of the nature of the real and our ability to know it. Primary focus on contemporary thinkers who have dealt with these questions. 3 credits

PHIL 2991 Independent Study
1 credit

PHIL 2995-2999 Independent Study
Study of a specific philosophy or philosophical theme, not studied or not studied in depth in the regular philosophy courses. (Under guidance of a faculty member and with permission of chair). 3 credits

PHIL 3000 Plato
A seminar on selected issues in Plato’s philosophy through a close reading of one or more of his works. Prerequisites: 6 credits of philosophy at the 2000 level. 3 credits

PHIL 3005 Aristotle
A seminar on selected issues in Aristotle’s philosophy through a close reading of one or more of his works. Prerequisites: 6 credits of philosophy at the 2000 level. 3 credits

PHIL 3010 (CORE 3596) St. Augustine
Consideration of the major works and ideas of Augustine; his life, historical context and major contributions to Western philosophy, religion and culture. Prerequisites: 6 credits of philosophy at the 2000 level. 3 credits

PHIL 3015 (CORE 3597) St. Thomas Aquinas
Historical background; life and achievements of Aquinas, analysis of the main themes of his philosophy, development and influence of Thomistic philosophy, its continuing relevance. Prerequisites: 6 credits of philosophy at the 2000 level. 3 credits

PHIL 3060 Spinoza
Introduction to the thought of Spinoza through the study of the Ethics and the Tractatus Theologico-politicus. Historical, religious and cultural background. Prerequisites: 6 credits of philosophy at the 2000 level. 3 credits

PHIL 3070 Kant
A close reading and analysis of selected works by Kant will serve as the basis for a critical discussion of his answers to three major questions: What can I know? What should I do? For what may I hope? Prerequisites: 6 credits of philosophy at the 2000 level. 3 credits

PHIL 3595 (CAST 2160, CORE 3595) 19th and 20th Century Catholic Thinkers
Introduction to important issues in 19th and 20th century philosophy as approached and dealt with by notable Catholic thinkers. Through examination of their works, the course explores relations between religious beliefs and both modern and contemporary philosophy, and indicates the enduring relevance of the Catholic philosophical tradition. (Formerly PHIL 2160). 3 credits
PHIL 3910 Research Seminar
Primarily for philosophy majors. Intensive study revolving around topic/theme chosen by instructor. Prerequisites: 6 credits of philosophy at the 2000 level. 3 credits

PHIL 3950 (CORE 3594) Faith and Reason Seminar
Explores the relationship between faith and reason, theology and philosophy, revelation and natural knowledge. Considers whether faith and reason are similar, separate, opposed or complementary. Prerequisites: 6 credits of philosophy at the 2000 level. 3 credits

Department of Physics
Science and Technology Center (McNulty Hall)

Faculty: Lopez; Sahiner (Chair); Shojania-Feizabadi; Troha; Wang

Faculty Emeriti: Schleifer; Stamer

The Department of Physics offers major programs of study leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science (B.S.) and the degree of Bachelor of Arts (B.A.). The department provides students with a comprehensive grounding in the laws governing the behavior of matter. The intimate relationship between theory and experiment, and the open, dynamic character of physics are stressed. Topics of current interest in fundamental physics and modern technology receive special emphasis.

Students majoring in physics may choose one of the following three options leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science (B.S.):
1. Applied Program for students desiring a conventional program in physics to be followed by graduate work in physics or a related field;
2. Industrial Program for those who intend to seek employment in industry or government, or those considering a career in secondary education;
3. Five-Year Dual Degree (Physics/Engineering) Program This program, ideal for technically oriented students, is conducted jointly with the New Jersey Institute of Technology (NJIT) and leads to a B.S. degree in physics from Seton Hall University and a B.S. degree in biomedical, mechanical, electrical, industrial, computer or civil engineering from NJIT. Students spend three years at Seton Hall and two years at NJIT. Please see the Engineering Degree Program in Collaboration with NJIT on page 246 of this catalogue.

The Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) program is ideal for those who intend to seek employment in secondary education and those who wish to study physics and pursue professional careers in such fields as business, law, and allied health.

The sequence and diversity of courses for all students will be worked out in consultation with a department adviser who may modify the program in view of each student’s background and objectives.

Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree Program
In addition to meeting the Core Curriculum requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, each degree candidate must complete at least 68 hours (30 hours for Five-Year Dual Degree Physics/Engineering Program) of the following coursework for the first three years. Students must complete six credits at the 2000 level before taking any 3000-level courses.

Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Degree Program

In addition to the courses needed to satisfy the College of Arts and Sciences Core Curriculum requirements, each student in the Physics B.A. program is required to satisfy physics requirements as are listed below for a total of at least 53 credits. Additionally, students are recommended to take specialized elective courses depending on their career paths.

Physics Minor

The physics minor requires a minimum of 18 credits as follows:

Credits

1. Basic Principles of Physics
   - PHYS 1701-1702 or PHYS 1705-1706 6
2. Laboratory Component
   - PHYS 1811-1812 or PHYS 1815-1816 or PHYS 2883 2-3
3. Principles of Modern Physics
   - PHYS 2185 Introductory Modern Physics 4
4. Specialized Electives
   - PHYS 2112, 2186, 2883, 2894, 3121-3122,
     3185-3186, 3217, 4219 or 4211 6-8

Course Descriptions

ERTH 1019 (ENVL 1019) Introduction to Geology
Descriptive survey of the science of the earth; the composition of the earth; weathering and erosion; the formulation and movement of glaciers; the origin of mountains, volcanoes, earthquakes and deserts; and geological history of the earth. Field trips when possible. 3 credits

PHYS 1001 Introduction to Physical Science
For non-science students. Emphasis on concepts and methods of physical sciences. Topics range from gravitation and astronomy to modern scientific frauds. 3 credits

PHYS 1007 Introduction to Astronomy
Survey of the historical development and current status of astronomy. The solar system, stars and galaxies, quasars, pulsars, black holes and models of the universe and its history. Eight-inch and 16-inch telescopes are used for observation on clear nights. 3 credits

PHYS 1701-1702 General Physics I-II
Mechanics, sound and heat, elementary electricity and magnetism, optics and elementary modern physics. Corequisites: MATH 1401-1411 or MATH 1015, and PHYS 1811-1812. 3 credits each

PHYS 1705-1706 Principles of Physics I-II
Vectors, kinematics and dynamics, heat and thermodynamics, electricity and magnetism, introduction to Maxwell’s equations, physical and geometrical optics and elementary modern physics. Corequisites: MATH 1401-1411 or permission of instructor, and PHYS 1815-1816. 3 credits each

PHYS 1811-1812 Physics Laboratory I-II
Experiments in mechanics, sound, heat, light, electricity, and magnetism and radiation. Statistical analysis. Corequisites: MATH 1401-1411 or MATH 1015, and PHYS 1701-1702 or PHYS 1705-1706. Lab fee $25 for each course. 1 credit each

PHYS 1815 Physics Laboratory and Data Analysis I
Scientific programming with applications to data analysis in addition to all experiments in PHYS 1811. Additional topics include linear regression and numerical integration. Corequisites: MATH 1401 and PHYS 1705. Lab fee $25. 2 credits

PHYS 1816 Physics Laboratory and Data Analysis II
See PHYS 1812 Data analysis involves programs discussed in PHYS 1815. Prerequisite: PHYS 1815. Corequisites: MATH 1411 and PHYS 1706. Lab fee $25. 1 credit

PHYS 2112 Physical Applications of Mathematical Techniques
Selected applications of differential equations, vectors, matrices and determinants, Sturm-Liouville theory and orthogonal functions, numerical analysis, and probability and statistics to the physical sciences. Prerequisites: MATH 2411 and PHYS 1706 or PHYS 1702. 4 credits

PHYS 2185 Introductory Modern Physics
Special relativity, kinetic theory and thermodynamics, early quantum theory, atomic models, particle physics. Prerequisite: a year of general physics. Corequisite: MATH 2411 or permission of instructor. 4 credits

PHYS 2186 Waves Oscillations
Oscillations of particles and rigid bodies; vibrations and waves in one to three dimensions; sound and electromagnetic waves. Prerequisites: MATH 2411, PHYS 2185. 3 credits

PHYS 2883 Electronics I
Circuit analysis; electronic instruments; digital and analog integrated circuits; microcomputer interfacing. One laboratory meeting per week. Prerequisite: a year of general physics. Corequisite: MATH 2411. 3 credits

PHYS 2894 Electronics II
Analog-to-digital and digital-to-analog circuits; assembly/high-level programming and interfacing; resonance; Fourier series. Laboratory included. Prerequisite: PHYS 2883. 3 credits

PHYS 3119-3120 Mathematical Methods of Physics I-II

PHYS 3121-3122 Mechanics I-II
Newtonian mechanics; particle motion in one, two and three dimensions; systems of particles; rigid body motion; gravity; introductory Lagrangian formalism; small vibrations; special relativity; mechanics of continuous media. Prerequisite: PHYS 2186. 3 credits each

PHYS 3185-3186 Electricity and Magnetism I-II
Boundary value problems in electrostatics and magnetostatics; Maxwell’s equations in differential form; time-dependent fields; plasma physics; radiation. Prerequisite: PHYS 2186. 3 credits each
PHYS 3217 Modern Optics
Mathematics of wave motion; physical optics, including polarization, diffraction and interference. Selected topics of current interest; fiber optics, integrated optics, lasers, holography and the principles of spectroscopy. Prerequisite: PHYS 2186. 3 credits

PHYS 3811-3812, 3814-3815 Advanced Laboratory I-II
PHYS 3811 and PHYS 3814 together cover a set of historically important experiments. PHYS 3812 and PHYS 3815 cover these same experiments to greater depth with additional topics. Prerequisites: PHYS 2883. Fall Semester: PHYS 3811 (1 credit), 3812 (2 credits). Spring Semester: PHYS 3814 (1 credit), 3815 (2 credits). $25 lab fee for each course. 1-4 credits

PHYS 3894 Physics Co-op I
See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits

PHYS 3895 Physics Co-op II
See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits

PHYS 3896 Physics Co-op III
See Co-op Adviser. 3 credits

PHYS 4211-4212 Quantum Mechanics I-II
Wave mechanics in one and three dimensions, hydrogen atom, spin, exclusion principle and multi-electron atoms in external fields. Time-independent and time-dependent perturbation theory with applications, scattering theory. Prerequisites: CHEM 3412 or PHYS 2186; PHYS 3185. 3 credits each

PHYS 4219 Statistical Physics
Kinetic theory; quantum statistics; systems of interacting particles. Applications to solids. Prerequisite: PHYS 2186. 3 credits

PHYS 4289 Research in Physics
1 credit

PHYS 4290-4291 Research in Physics I-II
Introduction to the methods of original investigation in experimental or theoretical physics. (For selected seniors majoring in physics.) $25 lab fee for each course. 2-3 credits

PHYS 4811-4815 Advanced Laboratory III-IV
Supervised research. Fall semester: PHYS 4811 (1 credit), PHYS 4812 (2 credits). Spring semester: PHYS 4814 (1 credit), PHYS 4815 (2 credits). Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. $25 lab fee for each course.
Department of Political Science and Public Affairs
Jubilee Hall, 5th Floor
(973) 761-9383
www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/political-science-public-affairs

Faculty: Akonor; Brown; Fisher; Formicola; Hale (Director of Graduate Studies, M.P.A. Program); Hennessy; Mirabella (Chair); Mott; Paitakes; Pallitto (pre-Law Adviser); Taylor (Director of Environmental Studies Program); Togman; Wish

Faculty Emeriti: Adinaro; Boutilier; Connors; Dunham; Manley

At the undergraduate level, the Department of Political Science and Public Affairs offers a program of study in political science leading to the degree Bachelor of Arts. The department offers curriculum in the discipline’s major subfields of United States government and politics, comparative politics, international relations, political theory and methodology, as well as in the areas of public law, environmental studies, urban affairs, public and nonprofit administration, public policy, and political behavior.

The political science major provides students with a rigorous education in the theory and practice of politics, and prepares students for careers in politics, law, government service, journalism, the nonprofit sector, public affairs, the private sector, and numerous other fields.

In addition to the major program, the department offers a minor in political science, a minor in nonprofit studies, and a five-year dual degree (B.A./M.P.A.). (See page 249 for five-year programs).

Major Program in Political Science

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete a minimum of 36 credits in political science. The sequence and diversity of courses for all students will be worked out in consultation with a department adviser, who may modify the program in view of each student’s background and objectives. Students are expected to acquaint themselves with the concepts and methods of related social science disciplines and to develop other skills requisite for the successful pursuit of their particular career objectives.

Note: Students are encouraged to pursue internships for academic credit. A maximum of six credits in internships or practicum courses may be applied toward the completion of the credit requirement for the major.

Internship courses, though listed at the 3000 level to conform to College standards, are considered 2000 level course electives and do not fulfill the 3000 level requirement.

Political science majors must complete MATH 1203 Statistical Models for the Social Sciences, to fulfill the core mathematics requirement for the College of Arts and Sciences.

Political Science Major Admission Policy for Continuing Students

Students who are not originally admitted to Seton Hall University as political science majors may subsequently declare political science as their major, provided they meet the following requirements:

- completion of 9 credits in political science at Seton Hall (courses with the POLS prefix); and
- a grade point average of at least 3.0 in POLS courses taken at Seton Hall.
Minor Program in Political Science
The minor in political science is open to all undergraduate students in the University who have an interest in political studies and wish to complement their own major with courses in government and politics. The minor consists of 18 credits distributed as follows:

Minor Program in Nonprofit Studies
The minor in nonprofit studies is a program designed to prepare students for careers in management in the nonprofit sector, especially with agencies working with youth and social services. The nonprofit sector is growing by leaps and bounds, and the need for higher prepared professionals to lead nonprofits is also soaring. As government funding and programs are cut, there has been increased community dependence on nonprofits, more nonprofit involvement with vulnerable populations, and limited time and resources available to recruit qualified, new employees, particularly African Americans and Latinos.

The minor in nonprofit studies consists of 21 hours of directed study, including one core course, POLS 2120 The Nonprofit Sector, one course in nonprofit financial and fundraising management, POLS 2121, one course in organizational theory, one course in community and social issues, one course in management and one course in leadership from the following list. Students also will be required to complete an internship with a nonprofit organization. Student may apply a maximum of 6 credits from their major to the nonprofit studies minor (exclusive of internship experience).

Required Courses
- POLS 2120 The Nonprofit Sector
- POLS 2121 Financial and Fundraising Management in Nonprofit Organizations

Electives

Organizational Theory
- NUTH 4114 Leadership, Management and Trends in Nursing
- PSYC 1216 Industrial/Organizational Psychology
- SOCI 2314 Formal Organizations
- (POLS 2115) Theories of Organization: The Bureaucratic Phenomenon
- SOWK 1111 Introduction to Social Work

Management
- BMKT 2601 Introduction to Marketing
- BMGT 2501 Principles of Management
- BITM 2701 Management Information Systems
- COPA 2512 Public Relations I

Community and Social Issues
- AFAM 3311 Public Institutions and the African American
- AFAM 2313 Black Politics
- IDNS 2001 Women and Health
- NUTH 4115 Community Health Perspectives
- PSYC 1212 Child Psychology
- PSYC 2123 Adolescent Psychology
- PSYC 2216 Social Psychology
- SOCI 2513 Social Inequality

Leadership Elective
- DIPL 3101 Concepts of Leadership
- PHIL 1125 Business Ethics
- RELS 2520 Catholic Social Teaching
- (CAST 2520)

Internships
- POLS 2516 Nonprofit Practicum I

Certificate in American Humanics (24 Credits):
Students can elect to complete additional requirements to gain a certificate from American Humanics, a national alliance of colleges, universities and nonprofits that provides a national certification of nonprofit competencies for graduating students. In addition to nonprofit studies minor requirements, American Humanics students participate in a national student conference and complete the Nonprofit Practicum II course (150 hour internship, 3 credits).

The Washington Center for Internships and Academic Seminars
In partnership with The Washington Center for Internships and Academic Seminars, an educational nonprofit organization, the Department of Political Science and Public Affairs offers undergraduate students an opportunity to complete an internship and coursework in Washington, D.C. for academic credit. Students select their internship placement from thousands of organizations in government, business and the non-profit sector. As part of their experience, students attend weekly seminars conducted by highly qualified faculty, providing them with the opportunity to further their understanding of the relationship between theory and practice. Interns also participate in The Leadership Forum, a public policy speaker series with distinguished leaders including cabinet members, members of Congress, journalists, and others.
Course Descriptions

POLS 1111 Introduction to Public Policy
Explores the policy process, (i.e., the analytic techniques for setting the agenda, policy formulation, implementation and evaluation). The course emphasizes how to think about government policy. 3 credits

POLS 1211 United States Politics
Introduction to the institutions and processes of United States national government, its development as a constitutional system and the political culture in the United States. Students develop a higher degree of “political literacy” about the workings of the American political system, and a better grasp of the importance of politics in everyday life. 3 credits

POLS 1401 Western Political Thought
Introduction to, and analysis of, the major questions that have challenged Western political thinkers. Selected writers will include Plato, Aristotle, Machiavelli, Hobbes, Locke and Rousseau. 3 credits

POLS 1611 Comparative Politics
Comparative approaches to the study of politics. Analysis of functions, experiences and institutions of political systems, Western and non-Western. 3 credits

POLS 1711 International Relations
Analysis of forces affecting relations between nations and other global actors, including world-level and regional-level intergovernmental organizations as well as religious organizations. Emerging nations and their impact on the international political system. 3 credits

POLS 2090-2094 Topics in Public Policy
Selected topics designated before the semester in the area of public policy. Topics vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit as the topic changes. 3 credits each

POLS 2110 Contemporary Issues in U.S. Public Policy
Overview of agenda setting, formulation, and implementation of public policies, including budgets, taxation, health, business regulation, civil rights and welfare. Students learn how political factors shape policy as well as learning techniques to analyze and evaluate these policies. 3 credits

POLS 2115 (SOCI 2314) Theories of Organization: The Bureaucratic Phenomenon
Nature of bureaucracy and its effect on personality, social relations, group dynamics and social change. Contemporary theories of public organizations, nonprofit and profit-focused entities and to the role of power in bureaucratic settings and exchanges. Understanding pathologies of organizations and approaches to organizational revitalization. 3 credits

POLS 2120 The Nonprofit Sector
Introduction to the important social, political and economic aspects of organizations and activities in the third or “independent” sector, which is neither government nor business. 3 credits

POLS 2121 Financial and Fundraising Management
Introduction to financial, budgetary and accounting issues in tax-exempt organizations, examines principles, techniques and issues surrounding resource development in nonprofit organizations, with an introduction to annual funds, capital campaigns and endowment support and an overview of grants and contracts including trends in grantmaking, grantwriting, funding source identification and relationship development with funders. 3 credits

POLS 2122 Public Administration
Introduction to the field through an exploration of historical development of public bureaucracies and the contemporary politics affecting their organization and operation. Students learn about the causes of bureaucratic malfunction and the strategies managers use to make bureaucracies function more efficiently and effectively. (Formerly POLS 1113) 3 credits

POLS 2190-2193 Topics in Public Administration
Selected topics designated before the semester in the area of public administration. Topics vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit as the topic changes. 3 credits each

POLS 2212 The United States Congress
This course examines the composition and political organization of the United States Congress. The course analyses the evolution of the institution, the congressional decision-making process, and Congress’s relations with other political actors, including other branches of government. 3 credits

POLS 2213 United States Presidency
This course examines how the modern presidency has evolved, how the office has changed to accommodate modern expectation, and how presidents, politicians, and citizens perceive, understand and analyze the office of the presidency, and the people who occupy it. 3 credits

POLS 2214 United States Judicial System
Concepts of law and jurisprudence, functions and staffing of United States courts, state and federal. Strengths and weaknesses of the jury system. The Supreme Court, how it decides, impact of its decisions and the role of the court in United States constitutional law. Controversy over judicial review. 3 credits

POLS 2215 United States Parties and Interest Groups
Examines the structure, operation and interaction of the major political parties and their roles in electing local, state and national officials. It analyzes campaigning for public office, and the impact of interest group politics on the process. 3 credits

POLS 2225 State and Local Politics
Institutions and processes of U.S. government at the state, county and local levels. 3 credits

POLS 2226 Government and Politics of New Jersey
Structural study and functional analysis of state, county and local government in New Jersey. 3 credits

POLS 2229 (SOCI 2213, ANTH 2213) Introduction to U.S. Law
Explores the basis for United States law by examining various theories of jurisprudence, or philosophies of law, and the goals and objectives of law. Distinguishes law from other forms of social control, and looks at the impact of law on society. (Formerly POLS 1212) 3 credits
POLS 2290-2293 Topics in United States Politics
Selected topics designated before the semester in the area of United States politics. Topics vary from semester to semester as the department directs. May be repeated for credit as the topic changes. 3 credits each

POLS 2311 (AFAM 2213) Black Nationalism
Examines the philosophy of Black nationalism as it appears in the writings and speeches of major leadership figures in the African-American community in the 19th and 20th Centuries. The nationalism of Martin R. Delany, Alexander Crummell, Edward Wilmot Blyden, Bishop Henry McMeal Turner, Booker T. Washington, W.E.B. Dubois, Marcus Garvey, Honorable Elijah Muhammad and Malcolm X is covered. 3 credits

POLS 2312 (AFAM 2212, HIST 3364) History of the Civil Rights Movement
Review of major events and campaigns. The decade 1955-65 represents the temporal focus of the course, but the movement’s 20th century antecedents and the period between 1965-68 are discussed; the period within which the movement was broadened in international perspective and transformed into a struggle for human rights. Goals and objectives of the struggle and the movement’s impact on United States society are identified and evaluated. 3 credits

POLS 2313 (AFAM 2313) Black Politics
Analytical study of the impact of black participation in United States political institutions and their responsiveness to the political demands of the Black community. 3 credits

POLS 2326 (AFAM 2326) Development and Democracy in Africa
Materialist analysis of problems associated with underdevelopment in Africa. Origin and evolution of the “anatomy” of underdevelopment through the concept of “structured dependence.” Investigation of trade, colonization, foreign ownership of means of production and dependence on the world market. Examination of alternative development strategies, including socialist planning. 3 credits

POLS 2327 (AFAM 2327, SOWK 2327) Organizing Grassroots Communities
Methods of organizing Black communities to alter the responsiveness of institutions, assume control of them, or replace them. Heavy emphasis on the theories of power, politics and community control along with practical examples. 3 credits

POLS 2333 (AFAM 2333) Africa and the Global Political Economy
This course will entail a critical assessment of the Africa’s position internationally, and of the challenges, as well as the opportunities, to African countries from current global economic and political phenomena. The purpose of this course is to analyze the foreign policy relations of African States, in light of their position in the global division of labor and their political, economic and ideological attributes. 3 credits

POLS 2411 (CLAS 2303, ARCH 2303) Politicians in Antiquity
Topics in Greek and Roman political thought (democracy, tyranny, electoral campaigning, trial by jury, class strife, etc.) studied through political writings, historical evidence and literary texts. 3 credits

POLS 2412 Modern Ideologies
This course is an evaluation of the various ideologies that have influenced political thought and action in the modern era. The content is introduced by an investigation of modernity itself and the meaning associated with this concept. Following this, the course reviews particular political ideologies (democratic theory, capitalism, anarchism, Marxism, socialism, fascism, religious fundamentalism). 3 credits

POLS 2414 United States Political Ideas
Introduction to major United States political theorists, including representative thinkers such as Madison, Calhoun, Thoreau, Sumner, Dewey, Kirk, Viereck, Marcuse and King. 3 credits

POLS 2420 Modern Political Theory
This course examines what constitutes our modern world and political reality. It is difficult to disassociate modern political theory from social, political and economic movements. Modern ideas and systematic theories are bound tightly to political action. Our work includes investigations of anarchism, democratic theory, fascism and totalitarianism, feminism, human rights and liberalism, libertarianism, communism and socialism, and environmentalism. Issues investigated include the rise of liberal democracy and its critics, the impact of the industrial revolution on modern politics, and how technological change and environmental limitations have affected contemporary political thought. 3 credits

POLS 2490-2491 Topics In Political Theory
Selected topics designated before the semester in the area of political theory. Topics vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit as the topic changes. 3 credits

POLS 2512 Washington, D.C. Internship
Opportunity for the student to be an intern in a governmental agency or nonprofit organization in Washington, D.C. Students are placed in legislative, judicial or executive branch agencies, depending on interests/career goals, and work five days per week for one semester. 6 credits

POLS 2513 Washington, D.C. Research
Book critiques and a research paper that integrate information the student gains in the classroom with fieldwork experience. Supervised by the Seton Hall faculty liaison. 6 credits

POLS 2514 Washington, D.C. Seminar
Students attend a weekly seminar led by a professor associated with the Washington Center for Internships and prepare a seminar paper. 3 credits

POLS 2610 (WMST 2610) Women and Politics
The evolving legal, political and governmental positions of women in the world. Cross-cultural implications of the politicalization of women. 3 credits
POLS 2611 (ASIA 3114) Asian Politics
Political systems and behavior in modern Japan, China, India and Southeast Asia. 3 credits

POLS 2612 European Politics
The dynamics of politics and analysis of the evolution and present status of the political systems of selected European powers. 3 credits

POLS 2613 Russian Politics
An analysis of the Russian political system created from the disintegration of the Soviet empire. Focus is on the process of transforming Russia from a communist system to a democratic and capitalist state. 3 credits

POLS 2614 (LALS 2614) Latin American Politics
Basic forces conditioning the politics of the area. The variety of governmental structures and party systems in Mexico, South and Central America. 3 credits

POLS 2615 (AFAM 2312) African Politics
Examination of African political systems. The salient variables economic, social and political involved with discussion of specific experiences. Review of traditional background, colonial experience and post-independence era. 3 credits

POLS 2616 (ASIA 3131) Chinese Politics
Analysis of the political system of China, present trends and future prospects. 3 credits

POLS 2690-2699 Topics in Comparative Politics
Selected topics designated before the semester in the area of comparative politics. Topics vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit as the topic changes. 3 credits each

POLS 2711 Foreign Policy in Middle East
This course provides an historical assessment and examines the nature and conduct of the United States in its foreign policy toward the Middle East, from 1945 to the present. Particular attention will be paid to development in the Middle East in the 21st Century, including the U.S. and its Middle Eastern allies, America and the war on terror, relations between various region’s nation-states, including Israel, and our role in the region post-9/11. 3 credits

POLS 2713 International Law
Evolution and basic concepts of international law. More specifically, cases involving conflict resolution, human rights and legal challenges to space, the sea and sovereignty are explored. 3 credits

POLS 2790-2792 Topics in International Relations
Selected topics designated before the semester in the area of international relations. Topics vary from semester to semester. 3 credits each

POLS 2910 (ENVL 2910) Research Methods
An introduction to social science research. Topics include problem selection and hypothesis formation and testing; research design; sampling; construction and administration of research techniques; elementary data analysis and ethical issues. Some statistical and computer applications. Prerequisite: For POLS majors only, MATH 1101 or MATH 1203, and POLS 1211, 1401, 1611 or 1711. 3 credits

POLS 3014 (ENVL 3014) Ecology and Politics
Explores the relationship between politics and environmental policy in the U.S. Looks at specific problems such as pollution, global warming, species depletion, land management and hazardous waste. Explores attempts by government and other interested parties to rectify these problems. 3 credits

POLS 3101 (CORE 3101) Engaging the World
This course is designed to examine the appropriate roles of the institutional Catholic Church, its leaders, citizens, and its political actors within the American political process today. It will explore traditional Christian political theory; the Church’s relevant major social teachings, and the challenges that confront Catholicism and its adherents in the current, American public arena. In the long term, this course will encourage students to make judgements about the moral dimensions and the political policies of the Church, particularly as they impact the behavior of Catholics and themselves in pursuit of the common good. 3 credits

POLS 3210 Constitutional Law
Approaches to Constitutional interpretation: Supreme Court decision making, Supreme Court as a small group. Fundamentals and principles of constitutional law. Illustrative case studies. 3 credits

POLS 3211 Civil Liberties
Casebook analysis of the constitutional rights of the individual. Selected topics from the first, fourth, fifth, sixth, eighth and 14th amendments. Emphasis on contemporary issues and perspectives. 3 credits

POLS 3212 United States Federalism
Examination of the nature of the Federal system, with historical origins, constitutional evolution and contemporary problem areas highlighted. 3 credits

POLS 3213 United States Political Behavior
Examination of topics such as voter turnout, political ideology, political sophistication, among others. Impact of party identification, issues, and candidate characteristics on elections. 3 credits

POLS 3214 Urban Politics
The politics of the cities and urban areas. Contemporary urban governmental forms, processes and problems. 3 credits

POLS 3215 U.S. Political Economy
This course will critically examine the institutional, economic, and political factors that influence the economic decision making process at all levels of government. The student will develop an understanding of the theories, processes, principles, and concepts of public budgeting and governmental management of the economy. This course is divided into two parts. The first segment of the course will examine in detail how the federal government produces a budget and study the consequences of this process. The second part of the course will analyze the role of government in managing the economy. 3 credits

POLS 3290 Advanced Studies in United States Politics
3 credits
POLS 3311 Research Methods II
Advances the student’s knowledge of research design issues, statistical and computer applications to the research process. Concentrates more fully on applications of research in organizational settings. 3 credits

POLS 3410 Democracy
Considers various theories and practices of democratic society, including those of liberal, radical participatory and pluralistic democracy. Comparison of democratic theory and practice. 3 credits

POLS 3412 Church, State, Law and Politics in the United States
The dynamic and changing relationship between religion and government in the U.S. Competing and cooperative actions between the institutions. Case studies in First Amendment rights. 3 credits

POLS 3591 Political Ideas and Movements of the 20th Century
An examination of the twentieth century forces a re-evaluation of what it means to be human. Standard interpretations of truth are challenged and formerly powerless communities find themselves embroiled in political protest and liberation. Through film, art, literature and ‘live’ accounts, we will investigate and follow several key political ideas that hallmark the twentieth century as a time of radical transformation. 3 credits

POLS 3611 Political Ferment in the Middle East
This course critically examines a wide range of issues and viewpoints regarding the nature of contemporary politics in the Middle East. Included will be a review of the historical, geographic, social and religious development of the Middle East, and the role of each in understanding contemporary problems within the region. Particular attention will be paid to the resulting complexities of daily life in the region and the outlook for the future. 3 credits

POLS 3612 Foreign Policies of Major Powers
This seminar course examines the foreign policies of the major powers, comparing and contrasting the various policy approaches of the US, China, Russia, Japan, etc. Additionally, it analyzes the formulation, development, and execution of a foreign policy agenda by the major powers and the implications for other countries and international organizations. 3 credits

POLS 3613 United States Foreign Policy
Internal factors and global forces affecting policy and performance. Evolution of U.S. doctrine from isolationism to globalization. Current challenges and prospects. 3 credits

POLS 3696 SP (CORE 3641 SP) Philanthropy and Christianity
This course will examine the influence of Christianity on the development of philanthropy from early Christianity through the twenty-first century. Philosophical tenets from Gospels and from the writings of St. Benedict, Gregory the Great, Aquinas, Luther, Ignatious, Catherine of Siena and others from the Christian tradition provide clues to understanding the role of Christianity in the formation of societal expectations around philanthropic giving and receiving. Students will also be encouraged to examine and discern the ultimate purposes of philanthropy in our daily lives. Travel through Italy to explore firsthand the influence of Christianity on the practice of philanthropy in various communities. 3 credits

POLS 3710 International Political Economy
This course is designed to provide students with the conventional and critical approaches to the study of global political economy. It will focus on issues of international trade, the international monetary system, and foreign investment and the relationship of each to both international and domestic politics. Among the specific topics to be discussed are: trade and protectionism, the role and performance of global institutions such as the IMF, World Bank, and WTO, the significance of multinational corporations, the impact of regional economic communities, and the relationship of the world economy to the economic development of poor countries. The complexities and contradictions of globalization serve as the overarching backdrop for this seminar. 3 credits

POLS 3712 Human Rights
Articulates notions of human rights and, through case studies, examines repression around the globe. Seeks to develop and critique United States, United Nations, and other bilateral and multilateral approaches to solving human rights abuses. 3 credits

POLS 3713 International Organizations
An extensive theoretical and empirical introduction to international organizations such as the United Nations, The European Union, The Organization of African Unity, The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries and The Association of South-East Asian Nations. (Formerly POLS 2712) 3 credits

POLS 3891 Political Science Internship I
The goal of the internship/field placement experience is to provide students with the opportunity to “turn theory into practice” by working in an organizational setting in which they can utilize recently-learned management principles and skills as well as observe and gain insight into daily organizational operations and decision-making practices. In augmenting a student’s field placement experience, the purpose of the seminar is to help the student evaluate and analyze his or her experience, learn new information about the workplace, and assess his or her current skills and abilities. To these ends, students will read a number of articles on workplace issues and evaluate his or her placement and performance in light of these readings and seminar discussions. Please see Internship Adviser. Note: Internship courses, though listed at the 3000 level to conform to College standards, are considered 2000 level course electives and do not fulfill the 3000 level requirement. 3 credits
POLS 3892 Political Science Internship II
For students completing an extended internship experience. Note: Internship courses, though listed at the 3000 level to conform to College standards, are considered 2000 level course electives and do not fulfill the 3000 level requirement. 3 credits

POLS 3893 Political Science Internship III
For students completing an extended internship experience. Note: Internship courses, though listed at the 3000 level to conform to College standards, are considered 2000 level course electives and do not fulfill the 3000 level requirement. 3 credits

POLS 5012 Political Science Senior Seminar
This seminar is the capstone course for political science majors, and requires that students have completed most of their major courses before they enroll. As part of the senior seminar, students write their senior theses. Each seminar focuses on a particular area of study. It is expected that political science majors will take their senior seminar in the Fall semester of their senior year. Prerequisites: POLS 1211, 1401, 1611, 1711, 2910 and one POLS course at the 3000 level. 3 credits

POLS 5013 Independent Study
Reserved for students who are unable to complete the Research Seminar in its normal format. Requires extensive collaboration with a faculty member and a major research report. 3 credits

POLS 5161 Independent Study in Political Science Research
Working independently with a faculty adviser, student undertakes independent research in an area of interest in political science. 1 credit

POLS 5171 Independent Study in Political Science Research
Working independently with a faculty adviser, student undertakes independent research in an area of interest in political science. 2 credits

POLS 5191 Independent Study in Political Science Research
Working independently with a faculty adviser, student undertakes independent research in an area of interest in political science. 3 credits

Faculty: Buckner; Burton; Goedert (Director of Graduate Studies); Fisher (Director of Psychology Honors Program; Internship Adviser); Hovancik; Hunter (Chair); Joh; Levy; Lloyd; Nolan; Simon; Teague; Vigorito
Faculty Emeriti: Kendig; Shannon

The Department of Psychology offers undergraduate programs of study leading to either the Bachelor of Arts degree or the Bachelor of Science degree. It also offers an undergraduate minor. The department recognizes that the methods of scientific inquiry can be applied meaningfully and fruitfully to the understanding of individual behavior. The Bachelor of Arts curriculum is designed to provide the student with a strong background in the methodology and content of psychology. Majors receive sound preparation for graduate study as well as for entry-level positions in psychology and related disciplines. The Bachelor of Science degree is intended for those students interested in doctoral level programs in psychology as well as graduate study in medicine.

Donald N. Lombardi Scholarship
Donald N. Lombardi, Ph.D., was a respected and beloved colleague and teacher who, except for his graduate education, was a member of the South Orange community for nearly fifty years. To honor Dr. Lombardi’s memory, the Donald N. Lombardi Scholarship is awarded annually to a Psychology major with junior standing nominated by the faculty of the Department of Psychology.

Major Programs

Bachelor of Arts (B.A.)
In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the University Core and of the College of Arts and Sciences, B.A. degree candidates must complete a minimum of 43 credits in psychology of which 27 are required. BIOL 1105-1106 and MATH 1202 also are required. Students must earn at least a C- in PSYC 1101. The core sequence courses, PSYC 2311, PSYC 3311, and PSYC 5111, may each be taken a maximum of three times. Students also must earn at least a C- in each of these courses.

Through the advising process, individual programs are tailored to the student’s needs and objectives. The psychology major includes the following:

12 additional PSYC credits, with at least 6 credits at the 2000-level or higher

Total: 43
Experiential Learning Requirement

All students are required to take one experiential course as part of their B.S. degree requirements. This class does not constitute additional credits; in completing the major requirements, students must complete one of the following courses:

- PSYC 2315 Laboratory Research Experience 3
- PSYC 3408-3413 Internship in Psychology 3/6
- Any other PSYC course with an explicit service-learning component 3

Laboratory Requirement

All students are required to take two Psychology laboratory credits with the corequisite of the related 3 credit course as part of their B.S. degree requirements (see above). The laboratory courses can be selected from either the Biological Basis of Behavior and Mental Processes category or the Learning and Cognition Category.

- PSYC 3227 Biological Psychology Laboratory 1
- PSYC 3224 Cognitive Psychology Laboratory 1
- PSYC 3225 Learning Laboratory 1

Psychology Electives

12 additional PSYC credits, with at least 6 credits at the 2000-level or higher

Total: 44

Psychology Honors Program

Students with exceptional academic credentials and interest in advanced study in psychology are encouraged to apply to the Psychology Honors Program. This program involves the student in the design, execution, analysis and presentation of his or her original research project. This program also may be coordinated with the College of Arts and Sciences Honors Program.

Students enrolled in the Psychology Honors Program must complete a minimum of 48 credits in psychology. Additionally, modifications to the psychology major requirements are applied as follows:

1. Students must complete:
   - PSYC 3312 Advanced Experimental Psychology
   - PSYC 5112 Honors Research (taken in lieu of PSYC 5111 or PSYC 5113)

2. Two of the following courses must be taken with the related labs:
   - PSYC 3214/3224 Cognitive Psychology/Laboratory
   - PSYC 3215/3225 Learning/Laboratory
   - PSYC 3217/3227 Biological Psychology/Laboratory

3. Students must complete 9 credits of PSYC electives. At least one of these must be a 2000-level course or higher.

Information about admission to the Psychology Honors Program and additional details about program requirements may be obtained from the Director of the Psychology Honors Program, Dr. Paige Fisher.

Minor Program

The psychology minor is designed to expose students to a range of perspectives, methodologies and content areas. In addition to the introductory course (PSYC 1101), students must select courses from three of the five categories of psychology courses. This provides sufficient breadth while permitting the students, with advisement, to obtain depth with the two remaining elective courses.

Required Course (3 credits):

- PSYC 1101 Introduction to Psychology 3

Courses from three of the five following categories:

Biological Basis of Behavior and Mental Processes (3 credits):

- PSYC 3213 Sensation and Perception 3
- PSYC 3217 Biological Psychology 3
- PSYC 3219 Human Neuropsychology 3

Learning and Cognition (3 credits):

- PSYC 3214 Cognitive Psychology 3
- PSYC 3220 Learning 3
- PSYC 3216 Motivation and Emotion 3

Social/Developmental (3 credits):

- PSYC 1212 Child Psychology 3
- PSYC 1213 Adolescent Psychology 3
- PSYC 1214 Adult Development 3
- PSYC 1215 (WMST 1215) Psychology of Gender 3
- PSYC 2212 Developmental Psychology 3
- PSYC 2216 Social Psychology 3
- PSYC 3212 Advanced Social Psychology 3

Fieldwork/Applied (3 credits):

- PSYC 1216 Industrial/Organizational Psychology 3
- PSYC 1219 Sports Psychology 3
- PSYC 1222 International Psychology 3
- PSYC 1223 Psychology of Religion 3
- PSYC 2315 Laboratory Research Experience 3
- PSYC 3408-3413 Internship in Psychology 3/6

Clinical/Professional (3 credits):

- PSYC 1218 Drug and Alcohol Abuse 3
- PSYC 1221 Exceptional Child Psychology 3
- PSYC 2211 Personality Concepts 3
- PSYC 2214 Abnormal Psychology 3
- PSYC 2215 Psychological Testing 3
- PSYC 2220 Behavior Modification 3
Psychology electives
Six of the 18 total credits for the minor must be at the 2000-level or higher.

B.A. PSYCHOLOGY/M.S. EXPERIMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY AND B.S. PSYCHOLOGY / M.S. EXPERIMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY (3+2) DUAL DEGREE PROGRAMS

The Department of Psychology offers two dual degree programs: one leading to a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in Psychology with a Master of Science (M.S.) in Experimental Psychology and one leading to a Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in Psychology with a Master of Science (M.S.) in Experimental Psychology. In these five-year programs, students take 12 psychology graduate credits during their senior year (two courses in the fall and two in the spring), which count as elective credits in the corresponding undergraduate Psychology major (B.A. or B.S.). Thus, these 12 graduate credits count toward both the undergraduate and graduate degrees. Students need an additional 24 graduate credits to earn the M.S. degree. These are typically taken in the 5th year and summers: 9 credits during the fall and spring semesters and 3 elective credits in the summers before and after the fifth year. Students apply to the program in the second semester of their junior year. Detailed requirements for completion of the M.S. degree may be found in the Graduate Catalogue. Please see Dr. Kelly Goedert, the Director of Graduate Studies in the Department of Psychology, for advising.

Dual Degree (3+2) Program in Psychological Studies with the College of Education and Human Services

The Departments of Psychology (College of Arts and Sciences) and Professional Psychology and Family Therapy (PPFT; College of Education and Human Services) offer a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology (B.A.) and Master of Arts in Education (M.A.E.). This five-year program permits students to take four required courses from the graduate Psychological Studies program during their senior year and complete their Master’s Degree in the fifth year. Selection of graduate electives should be done in consultation with the PPFT graduate program adviser. Students apply to the program in the second semester of their junior year. Detailed requirements for completion of the M.A.E. degree may be found in the Graduate Catalogue. Please see Dr. Sandra Lee, the Program Director, for advising.

Course Descriptions

PSYC 1101 Introduction to Psychology
Survey of the major content areas of psychology, including physiological, perception, motivation, learning, cognition, personality, developmental, abnormal and social. 3 credits

PSYC 1201 Orientation to the Psychology Major
Designed to give psychology majors the knowledge and tools they need to get the most out of the major and to assist them in making informed decisions about career choices in psychology. Exposes students to the subdisciplines of psychology. Students explore career options in psychology and develop academic and career plans. 1 credit

PSYC 1212 Child Psychology
Child behavior and development with reference to motor abilities, language, intelligence, cognition, emotional and social development. Emphasis on normal human development in the early stages of life. May not be taken for credit if student has completed PSYC 2212. 3 credits

PSYC 1213 Adolescent Psychology
Fundamental biological, cognitive and psychosocial changes during adolescence in the context of family, school and peer group. 3 credits

PSYC 1214 Adult Development
Study of men and women over the life span, beginning with early adulthood and concluding with death. Emphasis on the patterns of change and stability that occur as a function of biological, social and psychological development in life. 3 credits

PSYC 1215 (WMST 1215) Psychology of Gender
Examines biological, cultural and psychosocial differences and similarities between women and men with respect to development and personality. Emphasizes the role of gender in contemporary culture. 3 credits

PSYC 1216 Industrial/Organizational Psychology
Addresses psychological and interpersonal components of the workplace. Organizations are understood as social systems, with an emphasis on individuals and their interaction. Topics include personnel selection, leadership, motivation, decision making, group dynamics, and performance assessment. 3 credits

PSYC 1218 Drug and Alcohol Abuse
Psychosocial factors leading to drug use and abuse. Short and long-term psychological effects, as well as systematic approaches to institutional modification. 3 credits

PSYC 1219 Sport Psychology
Introduction to the psychological aspects of athletic performance. Topics include roles of personality, physiology, motivation and cognition in sport. Training techniques found to improve performance. 3 credits

PSYC 1221 Exceptional Child Psychology
Overview of psychological, biological, sociological and educational aspects of exceptionality. Topics include giftedness, mental retardation, visual and hearing impairments, communication disorders, behavior problems, learning disabilities and physical handicaps. 3 credits

PSYC 1222 International Psychology
Explores psychology around the world, including its role in international issues such as mental and physical health, immigration, global poverty, peace and conflict, and terrorism. Examines the influences of economic development and culture-based norms. 3 credits
PSYC 1223 Psychology of Religion
Examines the psychological connection of religious belief to such diverse domains as: physical and mental health; attitudes, values, and traits; politics and world view, including terrorism; and interpersonal relationships and happiness. Components of religious belief and practice are analyzed using classic and contemporary psychological perspectives. 3 credits

PSYC 1224 Decision-Making and Careers
Designed to facilitate students’ career exploration process by introducing them to relevant social science principles on career development. Introduces theories of career decision-making, explores personality styles and careers, and provides opportunities to engage in academic and career development. Does not count toward the major or minor in psychology. 3 credits

PSYC 2211 Personality Concepts
Individual, social and cultural factors in personality formation and development. Introduction to the concepts underlying the major theories of personality. Prerequisite: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for psychology majors). 3 credits

PSYC 2212 Developmental Psychology
Basic principles, data and methods in the study of human development from conception to death. Prerequisites: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for psychology majors). May not be taken for credit if student has completed PSYC 1212. 3 credits

PSYC 2214 Abnormal Psychology
Introduction to the field of psychopathology and personality disorders. Examination of problems, causes and treatment approaches. Prerequisite: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for psychology majors). 3 credits

PSYC 2215 Psychological Testing
Theory, methodology and critique of psychological assessment and testing. Exposure to aptitude, achievement, vocational and personality tests, as well as interview assessment techniques. Prerequisite: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for psychology majors). 3 credits

PSYC 2216 Social Psychology
Introduction to the major theoretical views and research in the field, including examinations of conformity and rejection; attraction, aggression and violence; attitudes and beliefs; and prejudice and discrimination. Relationship of principles and research to daily life is emphasized, including applications to business, health, and law. Prerequisite: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for psychology majors). 3 credits

Describes the basic psychological principles underlying such empirically-validated procedures as applied behavior analysis (ABA) for autism spectrum disorders and cognitive behavioral therapy for major depressive disorder. Detailed descriptions are provided of how to implement behavioral procedures with diverse populations. Addresses practical, theoretical, and ethical issues raised by the application of behavioral procedures. Students will learn to apply behavior modification procedures to address topics of interest such as time management and study skills, nutrition and exercise habits, shyness and public speaking anxiety. Prerequisite: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for psychology majors). 3 credits

PSYC 2311 Elementary Psychological Statistics
Descriptive and inferential statistics in the design and interpretation of experimental data. Includes computer laboratory. Prerequisites: MATH 1202 or higher, minimum grade of C- in PSYC 1101; declared PSYC or PSYS major. 4 credits

PSYC 2315-2317 Laboratory Research Experience
Formalizes the experience of working as a research assistant. Provides exposure to a limited domain of psychology research with a single faculty member, while bringing together all students working as research assistants in multiple laboratories (with both human and animal participants). Familiarizes students with ethics in research, professional development, careers as a scientist, and the interaction between laboratory research and applied topics. Research duties may include literature searches, collecting and analyzing data, and reading journal articles related to the studies being conducted. Course may be repeated for a total of 6 credits. Prerequisites: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for psychology majors) and approval of instructor. 2/3 credits

PSYC 3212 Advanced Social Psychology
Research in the theoretical and applied areas of the field. Comprehensive examination of the major theories in the areas of contemporary interest. Prerequisite: PSYC 2216. 3 credits

PSYC 3213 Sensation and Perception
Examination of research literature pertaining to visual, auditory, olfaction, gustation, skin and pain perception. Surveys of psychophysical methods; basic principles of visual acuity, color perception, perception of movement, constancies, development and learning, illusions, form identification, sound localization and perception of speech. Prerequisite: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for psychology majors). 3 credits

PSYC 3214 Cognitive Psychology
Examination of theory and research on the mental processes that characterize thought, including imagery, language, attention, memory, reasoning and problem solving, with discussion of the simulation of mental behaviors. Prerequisite: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for psychology majors). 3 credits

PSYC 3216 Motivation and Emotion
Survey of historical and contemporary theories of motivation and emotion integrating concepts that have emerged from biological, learned, and cognitive approaches. Prerequisite: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for psychology majors). 3 credits
PSYC 3217 Biological Psychology
Survey of the physiological basis for selected psychological phenomena such as stress, emotion, sleep, psychological disorders, and learning and memory. Basic neurophysiological methods and the functions of the nervous system included. Prerequisite: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for psychology majors). 3 credits

PSYC 3219 Human Neuropsychology
Examination of neuroimaging and neuropsychological methods used to study behavior and mental function from a systems-level perspective. Survey of research in the areas of cerebral asymmetry, voluntary action, spatial processing, object recognition, attention, language, memory, and executive function, with special emphasis on disorders of these functions resulting from damage to the brain. Prerequisite: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C-required for psychology majors). 3 credits

PSYC 3220 Learning
An evaluation of the historical and contemporary research literature and theoretical issues concerning basic learning principles and processes. Prerequisite: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for psychology majors). 3 credits

PSYC 3224 Cognitive Psychology Laboratory
Students participate in classic and contemporary experiments in cognitive psychology, including experiments on attention, memory, and reasoning. Students will analyze class results from these experiments, read empirical articles relevant to the experiments, and present their research findings orally and in writing. Pre- or corequisites: PSYC 3311 and PSYC 3214. 1 credit

PSYC 3225 Learning Laboratory
Students conduct classic laboratory exercises in animal learning, including shaping, discrimination training, and chainning. Students collect, compile, and graph the results from these exercises, and produce an American Psychological Association format laboratory report. Pre- or corequisites: PSYC 3311 and PSYC 3220. 1 credit

PSYC 3227 Biological Psychology Laboratory
Experimental examination of the role of physiological mechanisms in the mediation and control of behavior. Exercises include current techniques used to manipulate the nervous system and observe changes in behavior. Pre- or corequisites: PSYC 3311 and PSYC 3217. 1 credit

PSYC 3300 (CORE 3490, CSAS 3085) Robotics and the Mind
This course explores the relationship between Catholic theological reflection and scientific evidence on the question of what it means to be human. Theoretical discussion will be accompanied by physically constructing and programming a variety of robots. Prerequisites: CORE 2101; MATH 1202 or MATH 1401 or MATH 1501. 3 credits

PSYC 3311 Research Methods in Psychology
Examination of the principal methods of empirical psychological research with particular emphasis on experimental design and control procedures. Students develop the ability to assess and critically analyze extant psychological research and report their own research in standardized American Psychological Association (APA) style. Prerequisite: minimum grade of C- in PSYC 2311. 4 credits

PSYC 3312 Advanced Experimental Psychology
Practical applications of the principles learned in PSYC 3311 in the laboratory or field environment. The student is involved in the design, execution, analysis and interpretation of an original research project. Students enrolled in the Psychology Honors Program propose and design their honors project under the direction of a faculty adviser. Prerequisites: PSYC 3311 and approval of the instructor. 4 credits

PSYC 3330 (CORE 3670) Neuropsychology of Religious Experience
This course will explore the intersection between religious experiences and neuropsychology. It will discuss what the fields of neuroscience and theology can learn from each other based on current research on the neurobiology of religious experiences. Prerequisites: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for Psychology majors); CORE 2101. 3 credits

Students participate in applied fieldwork with a professional agency or other psychology-related organization and complete assignments related to career development in the field of psychology. Placement settings are based upon student objectives and are chosen in consultation with the instructor. Courses may be taken for a total of 6 credits. Prerequisites: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for psychology majors) and approval of faculty adviser. 1/2/3 credits

PSYC 3591-3594 Independent Study
Directed study and research in an area selected by the student under supervision of a full-time faculty member in the Psychology Department. Paperwork for the Independent Study must be filed at least one month prior to the first day of class for the term in which it is taken. Courses may be taken for a total of 6 credits. Prerequisites: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for psychology majors), minimum Psychology GPA of 3.0, and approval of faculty adviser. 1/2/3 credits

PSYC 3691-3698 Emerging Topics in Psychology
Special topics in emerging and/or specialized areas of psychology. Topics are designated before the semester and vary from semester to semester as the department directs. Can be repeated in instances where topics change for a maximum of 6 credits. Prerequisites: PSYC 1101 (minimum grade of C- required for psychology majors) and approval of instructor. 1/2/3 credits

PSYC 5111 Seminar in Psychology
An integrative course requiring the student to survey and organize the primary research literature and prepare an American Psychological Association (APA) style term project. For senior majors in the B.A. in psychology program. Prerequisite: minimum grade of C- in PSYC 3311. 3 credits

PSYC 5112 Honors Research

As a vital part of the Catholic mission of Seton Hall University, the Department of Religion offers programs of study leading to the Bachelor of Arts in Religion and Master of Arts in Jewish-Christian Studies. Based on a broad liberal education, the department introduces students to the academic study of religion. In order to give students an understanding of religious beliefs and practices in their various manifestations, the department applies a variety of methodologies including philosophy of religion, sociology of religion, phenomenology, and history of religions. Courses focus on the Christian and major non-Christian theological, intellectual, and moral traditions. Because religion plays such an important role in the global community, we approach specific traditions such as Judaism, Islam, Buddhism, and Hinduism from a comparative perspective and with an emphasis on ecumenism and inter-religious understanding. Faculty and students investigate the religious quest as it relates to other areas of life, particularly human relationships, issues of race, class, and gender, the impact of religion on social and economic and political institutions, and the arts.

A bachelor’s degree in religion provides an excellent foundation for graduate school. Opportunities for continued studies include master’s and doctoral degree programs in religion and theology and graduate programs in religious education and seminary studies. Since religion graduates have a broad training in human culture, they are also in demand in many professional fields, including law, conflict resolution, education, social work and various types of ministry.

Major Program in Religion

The religion program offers courses in four areas:
- Biblical Studies and Sacred Texts
- Christian Traditions, Theology and Ecumenical Studies
- Comparative Religion
- Religious and Social Ethics

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete a minimum of 30 credits in religion. Students may modify the major program only in consultation with a department adviser.

The Department of Religion revised its major as of Fall 2009. Students who entered the program under the old major have the option of either completing the original requirements in effect when they first declared their major, or fulfilling the new requirements as outlined below.

Degree Requirements

The curriculum for the religion program comprises three levels.

Level I: Introductory Level Courses (6 credits)

Level II: Advanced Level Courses (21 credits)

REL5 2010 Methods in the Study of Religion and Theology

REL5 courses numbered between 2100-3999

In consultation with their departmental advisers, religion majors complete the course in method (3 credits), and then choose one advanced course from each of the four major areas of study (12 credits). At least one of these courses must be at the 3000 level. In order to ensure depth of study, majors complete two additional advanced courses (6 credits) in one of the four major areas of study, at least one of which must be at the 3000 level.

If RELS 2411 (Jewish Belief and Practices), RELS 2415 (Intro to Islam), and/or RELS 2418 (Buddhist World of Thought and Culture) are taken to complete the introductory level requirements, then they may not be applied toward the 21 credits of advanced courses.

Level III: Seminar (3 credits)
RELS 4010 Religious Studies Seminar
This seminar serves as the capstone for the religion program. Prerequisites are 75 credits overall, with 27 credits in religion (including RELS 2010).

Minor Program in Religion
To earn a minor in religion, students must complete the following program:
• Two introductory RELS courses (6 credits)
• Three 2000 or 3000 level courses (9 credits), RELS 2411, 2415, and/or 2418 may not count as upper level courses if used to fulfill the introductory level courses)
• RELS 2010 Methods in the Study of Religion and Theology (3 credits)

Theta Alpha Kappa (TAK), The National Honor Society for Theology and Religious Studies
Local Chapter, Alpha Omicron
Students with a 3.0 GPA and 3.5 in religion who have earned 12 credits in religion are encouraged to apply for membership.

Course Descriptions
RELS 1010 The Religious Dimension of Life
Analyzes the philosophical, psychological and theological foundations of human faith and religious belief. Considers the attitude and practices that characterize humanity as religious. 3 credits

RELS 1102 (ARCH 1203) Introduction to the Bible
Formation of the Bible. Its literary, archaeological, historical and theological dimensions. The religious communities of biblical times; their world views, beliefs and religious commitments. 3 credits

RELS 1103 Introduction to the Old Testament/Hebrew Bible
This course introduces students to the academic study of the Hebrew Bible/Old Testament. Focus on the literary, historical, cultural, and religious contexts from which the Hebrew Bible emerged. Examines the place of the Hebrew Bible in Jewish and Christian traditions and its relevance within contemporary global culture. 3 credits

RELS 1104 Introduction to the New Testament
This course introduces students to the academic study of the New Testament. Focus on the literary, historical, cultural, and religious contexts from which the New Testament emerged. 3 credits

RELS 1202 (CAST 1202) Christian Belief and Thought
Introduction to significant doctrines and an exploration of Christian theology in a historical context. Emphasis on the development of Christian faith and theology. 3 credits

RELS 1302 (CAST 1302) Introduction to Catholic Theology
Approaches to revelation and theology, the reality of God and the triune nature of God; cosmology; and the problem of evil, the Church and the sacraments in the teaching of Vatican II. Traditional and nontraditional eschatology. 3 credits

RELS 1402 (ASIA 1101) Religions of the World
Basic issues in major faith traditions of the world. Special emphasis on the religious experience as expressed in sacred literature and specific worldviews and mythologies. Considers traditional rituals and symbols, as well as nontraditional forms used to express a response to the sacred. 3 credits

RELS 1403 (ASIA 1403) History of Asian Religious Reflections
Origin and development of religious speculations in India from the Vedic period to Shankara; in China from Confucius to Chu Hsi; in Japan from the Nara to the Meiji periods. 3 credits

RELS 1502 Contemporary Moral Issues

RELS 1503 Christian Ethics
Systematic study of the distinctive contribution of Christianity to ethical norms. Comparison of various theories and moral systems with each other and with the ethical systems of non-Christian traditions. 3 credits

RELS 1504 Faith and Justice
This course assesses various leading, historical and contemporary theories of justice and considers their implications for the life of religious faith. This course considers two, interrelated sets of questions. First, what is the nature of justice, and what kind of political, economic, and social practices do various theories of justice recommend? Second, what might justice mean from the perspective of religious faith, and does the life of faith necessarily require the pursuit of justice in the world? In considering these questions, this course pays particular attention to the challenges of globalization and poverty and the question of human rights. Special emphasis placed on Catholic and non-Catholic Christian moral traditions, with some engagement in non-Christian religions. 3 credits

RELS 2010 Methods in the Study of Religion and Theology
Primarily for religion majors and minors. Methodologies used in academic study of religion and theology. Emphasizes major figures and theories in each of the various approaches. Prerequisites: three courses at the introductory level. 3 credits
RELS 2011 (CAST 2011) Catholicism and Art
This course considers the relationship between the Catholic faith and artistic expression and why art is an inextricable aspect of Catholicism. Particular attention is paid to the various forms and ages of Catholic art, and the rich theological/spiritual messages conveyed through nearly two millennia of painting, sculpture and architecture. 3 credits

RELS 2112 The Prophets
Prophetic faith in historical perspective. Formation of the prophetic literature in relation to other biblical books. Prophetic “charisma” as expressed in the Bible and other cultures analyzed through psychology of religion, sociology of religion, comparative religion and modern theology. Prophetic awareness of individual and social responsibility. 3 credits

RELS 2113 Ancient Wisdom and Modern Ethics
Values promoted in the wisdom literature of Egypt, Mesopotamia and Israel. Particular emphasis upon Proverbs, Job and Ecclesiastes. Critique of values compared and contrasted with modern social mores. 3 credits

RELS 2121 (ARCH 1114) Archaeology and the Bible
Archaeological discoveries pertaining to the world of the Bible. The value and limitations of using archaeological and other scientific data for interpreting biblical narratives. Topics include creation/evolution, the flood, the exodus from Egypt, the rise and fall of Israel and Judah, the Babylonian exile, Jerusalem and other biblical sites. 3 credits

RELS 2122 Practicum in Biblical Archaeology
Application of archaeological method to specific biblical topics. 3 credits

RELS 2130 Jesus in Film and Theater
Examines the relationship between religious tradition and artistic expression. Studies classic artistic portraits of Jesus and the tension between religion and the arts. Introduction to historical Jesus research; critical film theory; and attitudes toward Jesus in film, novels and plays. 3 credits

RELS 2151 The Gospels of Matthew, Mark and Luke
Gospels as literary testimonies to Christ risen and present. The writers distinctive theological viewpoints passed from the lifetime of Jesus through a period of oral teaching to the final forms. 3 credits

RELS 2152 The Gospel and Letters of John
Analysis of the background and text of the fourth Gospel. Discussion of its understanding of Christian experience and belief in Jesus as Word Made Flesh. Analysis of the Letters of John in relationship to early Christianity. 3 credits

RELS 2153 (CAST 2153) The Letters of Paul
The life, letters and theology of the Apostle Paul. His Jewish heritage, his relationship to Christ and his mission as “Apostle to the Gentiles.” 3 credits

RELS 2160 (ARCH 1250, WMST 2160) Women in the Biblical Tradition
Examines the role and place of women in the Ancient Near East, Biblical Israel, Judaism and the New Testament. Compares textual and mythic traditions of Near Eastern and Greco-Roman society, women in the archaeological artifacts and introduces recent feminist interpretations of biblical texts. 3 credits

RELS 2221 (CORE 3765) Early Christian Thought
Study of Christianity from Jesus and the apostolic preaching to the end of the great ecumenical councils. Emphasis on the development of theology, the structure of the Church and its interaction with society and culture, including Christian art and literature. 3 credits

RELS 2222 (CORE 3737) Medieval Christian Thought
Tracks the development of Christian thought from Augustine to the eve of the Reformation. Influence of Augustine in the West; widening breach between Eastern and Western Christendom; rise of Islam and the interaction of the monotheistic faiths; religious orders and the universities; scholasticism and the achievement of Thomas Aquinas; dissolution of the medieval synthesis. 3 credits

RELS 2223 (CAST 2223, CORE 3724) Modern Christian Thought

Topics include: Early attempts at Church reform; the Protestant reformation in Germany, Switzerland and England; the Council of Trent and the Catholic Reformation; the Orthodox Churches; the Peace of Westphalia and the religious settlement; the challenge of rationalism and the Christian response in modern times. We will explore the relation of free will and grace, clashes between religion and politics on a variety of fronts, including the Peasant Revolt and the French Revolution, the rise of nationalism, and Enlightenment and Romantic views of religion. The course will be grounded in close examination of theological texts, but will also include works of art, poetry, historical accounts, and film. 3 credits

RELS 2224 (CAST 2224) Eastern Christianity
The course will provide an in depth analysis of the historical road of Eastern Christianity from the apostolic time to our own. It will facilitate students’ efforts to understand the essential dogmatic position of Eastern Orthodoxy, and the basic dogmas about Scripture, tradition, the Church, and ecclesiastical authority. 3 credits

RELS 2231 Jewish-Christian Relations
A survey of the historical and theological relationship of Jews and Christians beginning with the New Testament and culminating with the events of the twentieth century and the present day. The history of relations between Jews and Christians is a tormented one and has often been quite negative. During the last several decades, however, the Church and the Jewish people have reached a rapprochement that is honest, repentant and enriching of both. 3 credits

RELS 2241 Introduction to Ecumenism
Contemporary movement toward Christian unity and human solidarity, described in terms of its biblical roots and theological principles. Persistent theological obstacles in attaining unity and solidarity; ecumenical progress of recent decades and future possibilities. 3 credits
RELS 2261 (AFAM 2517) The Black Church
A survey of the major institution for religious expression developed by African-Americans from its origins in slavery until the contemporary urban period. The social, economic and political role of the Black church as well as its cultural and religious functions are examined. 3 credits

RELS 2312 The Church
Relationship between society and Church with a view toward determining the authentic nature and function of the Church. 3 credits

RELS 2313 Christian Spirituality
Religious experience as the heart of various forms of Christian spirituality. Conceptual frameworks that influence the manner of experiencing God. Examines several fundamental models of the Christian experience to gain insight into a personal and communal contemporary spirituality. 3 credits

RELS 2315 (CORE 3729) Theology of Marriage
Past and present Christian understandings of the marital relationship in light of Scripture and sacramental theology. Insights about marriage based on knowledge from psychology and anthropology. Christian marriage as promise, symbol and vocation. 3 credits

RELS 2316 Theology of Death
Consideration of death and dying, particularly from a Christian perspective. Death as a part of life; death as something in itself; death as a beginning. 3 credits

RELS 2322 Religion and Contemporary Culture
Explores the relationship between Christian faith and American culture. Themes of creation, incarnation and redemption are related to democracy, scientific evolution and ecology. Fullness of faith is challenged by the culture in which it is lived. 3 credits

RELS 2411 Jewish Beliefs and Practices
Survey of the beliefs and observances of Judaism designed particularly for the Christian student. Jewish religious texts, the Sabbath and festivals, the family’s role within Judaism, dietary laws, prayer and contemporary religious movements within Judaism. Prerequisite: CORE 1101. 3 credits

RELS 2412 The Holocaust
Survey of Nazi policies and actions against the Jews of Europe from 1933 to 1945. Historical Christian anti-Semitism and its relationship to the Holocaust; an historical description of the Holocaust, Christian reaction to it, and the reflections of Jewish and Christian theologians on the meaning of the Holocaust. 3 credits

RELS 2415 Introduction to Islam
Introduction to basic elements of the Islamic tradition: the Koran, Prophet Muhammad, beliefs, rituals, mysticism, the arts, social and political history. Prerequisite: CORE 1101. 3 credits

RELS 2416 Islamic Spirituality and Mysticism
Islamic culture and religion explored through the lens of the development of Muslim forms of spirituality, including the dimension known as Sufism or Islamic mysticism. Major doctrines and practices associated with Muslim spirituality in its varied cultural forms – philosophical treatises, poetry, prose, rituals, prayer and the arts. 3 credits

RELS 2418 (ASIA 2118) Buddhist World of Thought and Culture
This course is intended as an introduction to Buddhist traditions in South and Southeast Asia, East Asia, and the West. Progressing both chronologically and thematically, the course begins with the earliest known strata of Buddhist ideas created in India some 2500 years ago. After an introduction to basic Buddhist doctrines and practices, students study the spread of Buddhism southward to Sri Lanka and Thailand and northward to Tibet, China, Japan, and Korea. The course will culminate in a brief overview of Buddhist practices in America. Prerequisite: CORE 1101. 3 credits

RELS 2419 (AFAM 2515) African Religions
Explores the complex nature of the African system of thought concerning God, man, animate and inanimate things, and the meaning of religious experience in African society. The effect of Christianity and Islam on African religious thought. 3 credits

RELS 2511 Christian Values and Health Issues
Overview of some of the more significant issues in medicine, biological research and healthcare confronting society, including genetic engineering, behavior modification, abortion, human experimentation, allocation of healthcare resources. Special emphasis on the Catholic moral traditions, with some examination of other Christian, Jewish and secular moralists. 3 credits

RELS 2513 (CORE 3758) War, Peace, and Theological Ethics
This course examines the ethical dimensions of war and peace as presented in the Christian theological and moral traditions. The following areas will be examined: biblical reflections on love and violence, the formation of just war theory in the early Church and its maturation in medieval and post-medieval theology and moral and legal philosophy; the tradition of non-violence and pacifism, and modern Catholic social teaching and contemporary Protestant and philosophical-secular formulations on the use of force. Major thinkers in theological ethics such as Augustine, Aquinas, Reinhold Niebuhr, and John Courtney Murray, SJ, will be considered as well as the writings of influential contemporary thinkers such as Lisa Sowle Cahill, George Weigel, Fr. Bryan Hehir, Paul Ramsey, and John Howard Yoder. 3 credits

RELS 2514 Theology of Sexuality
Examines the Catholic Christian view of sexuality first historically, then with a positive, contemporary approach. Considers present-day issues of sexuality in the light of faith. 3 credits

RELS 2516 Religion and Revolution
Relationship between religion and social change. Topics include the role of religion in discerning the future direction of individuals and society; resources the religious dimension brings to an evaluation of social, political and cultural change. 3 credits
RELS 2517 The Sacred and the Political
Examines the deepest ground upon which life is founded. No religion or political dogma, or institution is taken for granted. Compares radically different responses to the question: In the service of what ultimate way of life do we respond to the sacred and the political faces of life? This question is explored from the perspective of a theory of transformation. 3 credits

RELS 2520 (CAST 2520, CORE 3733) Catholic Social Teaching
Emphasizing the Catholic social encyclical tradition, the course investigates the theoretical and practical relationships between Christian belief and thought, and social and economic life (involving issues of economic justice, peace, race, gender, family, etc.). In so doing, we explore the lives of those who have worked to shape Christian social justice movements, and other concrete contemporary applications of Catholic social teaching. 3 credits

RELS 2551 (ASIA 3113) Eastern Mysticism
Compares the Western model of “spiritual journey,” the intuitive approach of the Upanishads, the devotional orientation of the Bhagavad-Gita, and the Yogic path of spiritual transformation. The early Buddhist notion of “nirvana” and subsequent Zen emphases. The Chinese search for “Tao” and “li.” 3 credits

RELS 3102 (CORE 3270) The Bible, Film, and Popular Culture
The course examines the interaction of the Bible, film and popular culture by considering how stories, ideas, and themes from the Bible have been portrayed in Hollywood movies. Specific biblical texts will be analyzed in their historical context and in their depiction in popular films. The course will address such questions as: How has the Bible shaped the way stories are told in film? How has popular culture shaped the way the Bible is read or understood? In particular, the course will focus on ideas of how religion, faith, the God/human relationship, and gender roles are shaped in the intersection of the Bible and popular culture. 3 credits

RELS 3180 (CORE 3730) Responses to Suffering in the Ancient World: From Bible to Buddha
An academic and intellectual reflection on the problem of human suffering through surveying a range of ancient religious, literary and philosophical texts that respond in different ways to human suffering. 3 credits

RELS 3190 (ARCH 3190) Art and Archaeology of the Ancient Near East
Near Eastern religious, aesthetic, cultural and social patterns as expressed in art, sculpture, architecture and literature retrieved through archaeology from specific sites representing earliest times to the Persian and Hellenistic periods. Development of archaeology, especially in relation to museums, with practical applications of reconstruction, conservation and exhibition. Prerequisite: junior class standing. 3 credits

RELS 3191 Special Questions in Biblical Studies
Select topics in biblical studies chosen by the instructor. 3 credits

RELS 3201 (CORE 3721) Catholicism and Ecumenism
The course will have two major foci as expressed in Catholic ecumenical life and commitment. The first part of the course will focus on the history of Christendom and its many-fold divisions and the impulses that have historically contributed to ecumenism. Catholic ecumenical principles and foundations as found in primary sources including the documents of the Second Vatican Council and the theology of koinonia will be some of the topics to be explored within the first part of the course. The second part of the course will be praxis oriented. It will focus on specific relationships among Churches and the results of ecumenical dialogue. The role of the World Council of Churches, Catholic-Eastern Orthodox, Catholic-Oriental, Catholic-Anglican, and Catholic-Lutheran ecumenical dialogue and the documents produced from such encounters will be analyzed. Furthermore, inter-religious dialogue as expressed in the Catholic-Jewish and Catholic-Muslim dialogues will also be included in the second part of the course. 3 credits

RELS 3220 (HIST 3386, CORE 3436) Religion in the U.S.: Meetinghouse to Megachurch
This course offers a survey of the religious history of the United States from the colonial era to the present. It introduces students to both social and theological trends, exploring how different religious traditions developed, grew, and changed over time, not only in reaction to one another but also in relation to American society and the American experience. 3 credits

RELS 3280 (CORE 3731, CAST 4390) The Popes and the Modern Ecumenical Movement
The course traces the involvement of the Popes, especially after Vatican II, in the ecumenical movement. Because of this movement, which has been developing during the last century (since 1910), the relationship between the different Christian churches, long divided from one another, have changed and continued to change significantly. This course seeks to interpret the reasons why Christianity divided centuries ago and the ways in which the churches are seeking to remedy those divisions today, seeking to restore the unity of the Church, showing especially the contribution of the Popes to that movement. 3 credits

RELS 3285 (CORE 3766) Schism or Unity? Catholic and Protestant Theology and Ethics in Dialogue
This course examines the convergences and divergences between Catholic and Protestant theological and ethical perspectives on a number of fundamental themes such as faith, freedom, nature and grace, natural law, virtue, moral agency, sin, and love. In examining the writings of major theologians within both Christian traditions, this course assesses the general problems and prospects for rapprochement between Catholic and Protestant theology and ethics. 3 credits
REL 3290 (CORE 3761) Christian Theology and Science in Dialogue
Examines how science and Christian theology may contribute to each other’s disciplines. With a special focus on evolutionary biology and Catholic theology (with some reference to Protestant theological perspectives), the course introduces students to the various paradigms for approaching and interpreting the relationship between science and theology. These paradigms are then evaluated through a comparative exploration of the emerging interdisciplinary field of the science of the moral sense. 3 credits

REL 3300 (CORE 3767, JCST 6023) Christian Theological Views of Judaism
This course studies the different ways in which Christian thinkers from early and modern Christianity understand Judaism in relation to both Christianity and to their surrounding cultural milieu, including religious, mythological and philosophical discourses. Of particular interest will be how Christians think of themes such as covenant, law, freedom, revelation, religion, God, and history in relation to Judaism and how Christians define themselves in continuity and discontinuity with the Jewish people. 3 credits

REL 3392 Special Questions in Christian Tradition
Select topics in biblical studies chosen by the instructor. 3 credits

REL 3433 (WMST 3335) Women, World Religions and Human Rights
Examines the role of the world’s religions in defining the nature, roles, and rights of women. Reviews both traditional religious sources and contemporary discussions on women and gender from a variety of perspectives, including Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism. 3 credits

REL 3434 (WMST 3318) Women, Gender and Islam
Examines the concept, role, and status of women in Islamic religion and societies, both historically and in the contemporary world, looking at both traditional and modern sources on gender and human rights. 3 credits

REL 3435 (CORE 3757) Islamic and Christian Perspectives on Faith and Reason
A comparative examination of faith and reason within the Islamic and Christian (primarily Catholic but not exclusively) theological and ethical traditions. The course focuses on how Islam and Christianity approach the nature of scriptural authority, the role of experience, history, and community in religious reflection, the prospects for a common morality (i.e., revealed knowledge versus natural knowledge), and the shape and significance of revelation and grace. 3 credits

REL 3491 Special Questions in World Religions
Select topics in biblical studies chosen by the instructor. 3 credits

REL 3503 (CORE 3723) Race, Politics, and Theology
This course explores questions of race, ethnicity, and political community. More specifically, is a multi-ethnic and multi-racial society viable? Alternatively, is a post-racial society more preferable? What might it mean to “recognize” and value one’s ethnic or racial identity? Should one’s ethnicity or race be recognized at all? If so, then how? What, then, are the political implications? Questions such as these underscore the larger question of difference and cultural pluralism: in what normative sense can difference and cultural pluralism be considered public goods—what is the limit and extent of these goods? We will pursue this question through a theological-ethical perspective that is in dialogue with contemporary issues in U.S. politics, constitutional law, and moral philosophy. 3 credits

REL 3522 (CORE 3722) Religion, Morality, and the Problem of Suffering
This course explores the relationship between morality and religious belief. More specifically, it deals with the question of whether moral knowledge is possible without belief in God, and the manner in which religious belief is necessary for moral knowledge and action. These questions will be considered by turning to the problem of suffering and evil as a case study. We will pay particular attention to whether a religious point of view offers distinctive insight into the reality of suffering and evil. Classic theological, philosophical, and biblical reflections on this question will be studied. 3 credits

REL 3591-3599 Special Questions in Ethical Studies
Select topics in biblical studies chosen by the instructor. 3 credits each

REL 3991-3993 Independent Study of Religion and Theology
Individual study of a student-selected topic under an appropriate professor in a program approved by the department chair. 1/2/3 credits

REL 3998 (CAST 3998, HONS 4195) Italy in the Footsteps of the Saints
Italy enjoys a pre-eminence as a spiritual center for the Christian world alongside its importance in the development of Western civilization’s art, music, architecture and political thought. The course will examine the interplay between Italy’s profound spiritual heritage and cultural achievements, focusing on the contributions of such key figures as the Apostles Peter and Paul, Saints Francis and Clare of Assisi, Saint Catherine of Siena and Saint Ignatius of Loyola. This course is part of the Catholic studies foreign study tour program. 3 credits

REL 4010 Religious Studies Seminar
Final project in religion relating to current trends in the study of religion, theology and other disciplines. Prerequisites: 75 credits overall, with 27 credits in religion (including RELS 2010). 3 credits

The Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work offers four major programs leading to Bachelor of Arts degrees in sociology, anthropology, social work, and social and behavioral sciences. The Department also offers minors in sociology, anthropology and social work.

Sociology and Anthropology Programs

The sociology and anthropology programs are designed to provide students with the tools to analyze, critically evaluate, and understand pressing global and domestic concerns and then to use that knowledge for the betterment of society.

Both sociology and anthropology make connections between how we understand ourselves and behave towards others. Sociology cultivates the sociological imagination in students, enabling them to see the links between social structures and personal problems, social institutions and everyday behaviors. Anthropology gives students the global and evolutionary perspectives to examine our world with critical understanding. With an eye toward affecting change, both disciplines look behind the scenes to identify social, cultural and natural forces that shape behavior and perceptions.

Whether in regard to urban social issues, inter-group relations, social institutions, health, gender, sexual, racial, organizational, environmental and indigenous cultural concerns, our goal is to provide students with the ability to both understand and to act on their knowledge.

There are both intellectual benefits and practical applications gained by studying sociology and anthropology. Many of our graduates find employment as educators, researchers, demographers, urban planners, sales or customer service representatives, counselors, public relations specialists, journalists, diversity trainers, event planners, market researchers, personnel and business managers, and media specialists. Others work in the applied fields of government, diplomacy, and medicine. In addition, a number of growth professions look to students with special training in these disciplines. Sociology majors work in many areas of legal studies, law and law enforcement while anthropology majors engage in historical preservation, archaeology, museum work and other fields of cultural resource management. While our sociology program is oriented toward topics and issues within the social context of American society, the anthropology program emphasizes a more comparative global cultural perspective on what are similar central concerns. The goals of the undergraduate degree programs are threefold: to provide a core of courses for students who may pursue graduate study in their respective disciplines; to prepare students to employ the sociological imagination and the lens of cross-cultural knowledge in a globalizing world; and to enable students to recognize, develop and use the humanistic dimension of these two disciplines for their personal development and on behalf of others. For more information on the benefits of these broad-based, flexible majors, please visit the department website at www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/sociology-anthropology-social-work

Making Connections

Both sociology and anthropology have integrated relations with other departments and programs. Social and Behavioral Science majors and students from the College of Education and Human Services can pick sociology or anthropology as minor concentrations. Both offer courses that are cross-listed in the Honors Program and in the areas of women and gender studies, environmental studies, and Africana studies. In addition, both sociology and anthropology programs work closely with pre-law advisement and provide many courses useful for those with legal studies aspirations.

Sociology offers a dual degree program with the Department of Political Science and Public Affairs that leads to two degrees completed in a 5-year span: a Bachelor of Arts degree in Sociology and a Master of Public Administration. Similarly, Anthropology students applying to the Museum Professions Program offered by the Department of Communication and The Arts can earn two degrees in five years: a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in Anthropology and a Master of Arts in Museum Professions. For more information see the Five-Year Dual Degree Programs section of this catalogue.

Anthropology and Sociology students also have formal and informal opportunities to benefit from the rich cultural offerings in the New York/New Jersey metropolitan area, including the American Museum of Natural History, El Museo del Barrio, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the National Museum of the American Indian, the Jewish Museum, the New York Academy of Sciences, the New York Public Library, Asia Society, the Calandra Institute of Italian and Italian-American Studies, the Newark Museum, and the Jersey City Museum, among others.
Alpha Kappa Delta, International Sociology Honor Society

Bi-annually eligible students are inducted into Alpha Kappa (AK) the International Sociology Student Honor Society of the American Sociological Association. Students are eligible who have completed at least 12 credits in sociology, have a 3.3 GPA overall and 3.0 in the major, and are invited by sociology faculty. Relatives of distinguished majors may be invited to the installation ceremony to join with the faculty in honoring outstanding student achievement. When appropriate, the faculty also present a Distinguished Graduate Award at this event to an alumnus who best illustrates the principles of humanistic sociology in his or her professional and community life.

Lambda Alpha, National Collegiate Honors Society for Anthropology

Students who have completed at least 12 credits in anthropology with an average of 3.0 are encouraged to apply for membership in Lambda Alpha Delta (LAD), the Seton Hall University chapter of the National Collegiate Honors Society for Anthropology. The chapter seeks to promote excellence and increased awareness of anthropology as a humanistic social science. The LA holds joint biannual induction ceremonies with the sociology honor society.

Major Program in Sociology

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete department requirements in sociology and related fields for a total of 36 credits. With good reason, students may modify the major program in consultation with a department adviser.

In recent years, students have pursued double majors in sociology alongside degrees in education, social work, criminal justice, and others. This broad-based major is ideal for students interested in pursuing careers and graduate studies in law, business, media, government, education, counseling, corrections, and social services, among others. Our recent alumni have pursued further studies and careers in social work, law, and non-profit administration, among others.

B.A. in Sociology/Master of Public Administration

The Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work offers a dual degree program with the Department of Political Science and Public Affairs that leads to two degrees completed in a five-year span: a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree in sociology and a Master of Public Administration (M.P.A.) degree. The program has a two-fold purpose: to provide a broad-based undergraduate education with a comprehensive grasp of one’s major in sociology; and to permit students to earn a M.P.A. degree within the timeframe of five years. For more information, please see the section on Dual Degree Programs in this catalogue.

Major Program in Anthropology

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete department requirements in anthropology and related fields for a total of 36 credits. Each student’s program of study should be planned in consultation with the anthropology faculty. The program may be tailored to a student’s needs depending on specialization. In recent years, a significant number of students have pursued double majors in anthropology alongside degrees in Asian studies, art history, education, environmental studies, diplomacy and international relations, and have included students from the University’s Honors Program. Our alumni have pursued... post baccalaureate studies and/or careers in anthropology as well as in law, international advocacy, social work, forensic anthropology, journalism, fashion, museum studies, technology, language acquisition, international arts management, among others.

Program Requirements

Six Required Courses from the following (18 credits):
ANTH 1201 Introduction to Physical Anthropology
ANTH 1202 Introduction to Cultural Anthropology
ANTH 1210 Introduction to Linguistic Anthropology
ANTH 2912 Qualitative Field Research Methods
ANTH 3212 History of Anthropological Theory
ANTH 3296 Independent Study or ANTH 5988 Senior Seminar

Six Elective Anthropology Courses (18 credits):
The student should take a minimum of three courses (9 credits) in anthropology electives at the 2000-4000 level other than those required. The remaining three courses (9 credits) may be any other non-required anthropology courses (1000-4000) or selected from the list below in consultation with a departmental adviser.

Minor Program in Anthropology

The anthropology minor enhances a number of major programs by offering a unique cross-cultural perspective that enables students to apply their skills in their personal as well as their professional lives in an increasingly globalized world. In recent years, students with a minor in anthropology pursued degrees in art history, biology, business, communication, criminal justice, diplomacy and international relations, education, environmental studies, history, political science, and social and behavioral sciences. Students are required to take at least six courses in the discipline, three of which are upper-division electives. In the independent study or its equivalent (normally in the senior year), students write a research paper, integrating anthropological perspectives with their major field of study. Students completing a minor in anthropology must earn 18 credits that include:

Three Required Anthropology Courses (9 credits)
ANTH 1202 Introduction to Cultural Anthropology
ANTH 1201 Introduction to Physical Anthropology OR ANTH 1211 Introduction to Archaeology
ANTH 1210 Introduction to Linguistic Anthropology OR ANTH 2912 Qualitative Field Research Methods

Three Elective Anthropology Courses (9 credits)
See description of anthropology electives in the previous section.

Social Work Program

The Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work offers a program leading to the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree in Social Work, regarded in the profession generically as the B.S.W. The program is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education. The curriculum prepares students for entry-level generalist professional practice and qualifies graduates for New Jersey State Certification (C.S.W.) under current licensing requirements. In addition, graduate programs in social work (M.S.W.) typically offer waiver of courses and advanced standing to program graduates whose applications are accepted for M.S.W. education at regional and national graduate schools. The major in social work also provides general preparation for graduate study in law, public administration, and other professions.

The profession of social work is strongly committed to the amelioration, prevention, and elimination of social problems. The program places strong emphasis on human diversity, discrimination, and oppression within a context of social justice and the values of professional social work. All courses offered by the program emphasize and reinforce these issues. Using a problem solving approach to professional practice, in conjunction with systems strengths, cultural competence and evidence-based thinking, the program helps students to further understand and build upon the capacities possessed by individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. Students will understand, comprehend, competently apply, and internalize the knowledge, skills, and values of the profession. Social work courses are taught by full-time faculty, as well as adjunct faculty who represent a wide range of diversity of demographic variables and types of social work practice. This helps to further reinforce the generalist orientation of the curriculum that is grounded in person-in-environment theory.

Undergraduate study in social work is designed to assure competence in generalist social work practice at the beginning (B.S.W.) level. This competence is to lead to employment, licensure, as well as potential for advanced standing in graduate social work education. Thus, social work is studied in preparation for a career of service to others.

Operating under philosophies of best practices and continuous self-evaluation, the program prepares students to be competent, generalist professionals at the entry level of practice. Specifically, the program emphasizes and requires for completion of the course of study in social work, the following competencies:

- Identify as a professional social worker and conduct oneself accordingly;
- Apply social work ethical principles to guide professional practice;
- Apply critical thinking to inform and communicate professional judgments;
- Engage diversity and difference in practice;
- Advance human rights and social economic justice;
- Engage in research-informed practice and practice-informed research;
- Apply knowledge of human behavior and the social environment;
- Engage in policy practice to advance social and economic well-being and to deliver effective social work services;
- Respond to contexts that shape practice and;
- Engage, assess, intervene, and evaluate with individuals, families, groups, organizations and communities.

Social work is practiced in many different types of organizations and agencies and the generalist curriculum is designed to facilitate professional practice in this broad array. In further preparation for this, students complete professionally supervised internships, described further below. The internship experience, also referred to as “field” and/or “practicum”, is an integral part of the total education program and provides significant opportunity to apply and gain further competency. Field education is the signature pedagogy of the educational milieu. There is never any credit awarded by the program for social service activities conducted outside of the formal internship curriculum.

Internship sites include, but are not limited to: healthcare facilities, mental health centers; schools, corrections and other criminal justice programs; child welfare agencies; poverty programs; senior citizen programs; community action programs; multi-service centers; family service agencies; child guidance programs; legal services; substance abuse treatment and prevention programs, and others. The department constantly strives to expand opportunities with regard to internships. Efforts are strongly made to link students with internships that are compatible with their career interests.

Program advisers assist students by means of consultation and guidance in developing individualized study plans within the overall curriculum design. These full-time faculty members also help students explore the appropriateness of social work as a career choice. Prospective social work students should seek advisement with department faculty as early as possible. A Social Work Program Handbook is available on the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work website. This Handbook is designed to fully communicate the details of becoming a social worker by education in the program; albeit in conjunction with individualized advisement.

Incorporating the values of professional social work, the theoretical framework assures competence in: the problem solving method; a systems approach to practice; building upon strengths of the client/client system; critical thinking; and evaluation. The social work curriculum is integrated and cumulative such that the various courses in the explicit curriculum each help students learn and develop respective competencies applicable to that respective course and building upon competencies from previous courses. In addition to other requirements for entry into the social work internship curriculum, prospective students are required to hold malpractice/liability insurance, undergo a criminal background check that includes fingerprinting, and hold membership in the National Association of Social Workers. These matters are addressed through individual advisement and consultation with respective students.

The social work program participates with other baccalaureate social work programs in New Jersey in The New Jersey Baccalaureate Child Welfare Education Program (BCWEP). This program offers a limited number of full scholarships to senior students who meet BCWEP requirements and are interested in a career in child protective services. This program is coordinated at Seton Hall University by Professor Nelida Arancibia, Director of Field Education. This scholarship program is grant-supported by Stockton College and thus is subject to change in the number of students who may be accepted in any given year.

The social work program participates in Alpha Delta Mu, Social Work Honor Society. Membership application for the Honor Society is done in the early Spring of the senior year and requires a GPA of at least 3.0. The Honor Society advisor is Dr. Emma Quartaro.

The Student Social Work Organization is an integral component of the educational milieu for social work at Seton Hall. The organization is designed to enable students to have a venue for service, self-directed learning, consultation with the program, and mutual information sharing. A representative of the Social Work Student Organization is present at all program meetings. The Student Social Work Organization is advised by Professor Nelida Arancibia.

Majoring in social work also provides opportunity for “outside” learning experiences such as conferences and other learning experiences such as may be offered by the program, The National Association of Social Workers, and other organizations.

Minor Program in Social Work

A minor in social work is available. The minor consists of SOWK 1111 Introduction to Social Work and any other 15 credits of social work courses (total 18 SOWK credits) at the 1000 and 2000 levels. Students minoring in social work may not take courses above the 2000 level. Students wishing to pursue the minor in social work must notify the department in writing and be linked with a faculty adviser.

The availability of courses at the 1000 and 2000 levels is limited, so students who are minoring, or who are planning to minor in social work, should take courses as soon as possible. The minor is designed, primarily, to provide an appropriate learning experience for those planning a career in occupational, physical and speech and language therapy; criminal justice; law; and education.

Social and Behavioral Sciences Program

Leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in Social and Behavioral Sciences, this interdisciplinary major provides the basis for a general education in the social and behavioral sciences. Students seeking a broad based liberal arts education and/or seeking careers in law, government, education, human resources, management, or business are encouraged to enter this program; there is a strong emphasis on human relations.

Major Program in Social and Behavioral Sciences

Program Requirements

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete department requirements for a total of 36 credits. Department requirements include:

1. A minor (minimum 18 credits) in one of the following disciplines: anthropology, criminal justice, economics, political science, psychology, social work or sociology;

2. Four additional courses (12 credits) from the disciplines listed above.

3. A research methods course (3 credits) approved by the selected minor department;

4. IDIS 5002 Senior Seminar (3 credits), resulting in a significant research project and paper. Prerequisites for this course include: senior standing and satisfactory completion of the statistics and research methods courses; and

5. A minimum GPA of 2.0.

Total: 120

Joint Programs in Occupational Therapy or Athletic Training

Students enrolled in Social and Behavioral Science (SOBS) as their majors may choose to enter a dual degree program in either Occupational Therapy (OT) or Athletic Training (AT) with Seton Hall’s School of Health and Medical Sciences. Students receive both a B.A. in Social and Behavioral Sciences and Master of Science (M.S.) in OT or AT.
SOBS students who enroll in the dual degree programs must choose a minor in sociology, psychology or anthropology. SOBS/OT students can also select a minor in social work. The minor in anthropology focuses on culture, communication, rituals and language usage. A minor in sociology provides insights into behavioral and social relations in families, communities, social groups and organizations. It attempts to provide an awareness of social influences on behavior and the requirements for living with others. A minor in psychology provides insight into individual behavior and lays the foundation for understanding emotional and psychosocial functioning. The special concerns of social work are poverty, illness, racism, sexism, homophobia, ageism, and human suffering. Social work is committed to the prevention of social problems and the provision of social services.

The following Social and Behavioral Science dual degree programs are offered in conjunction with the School of Health and Medical Sciences (SHMS).

Occupational Therapy

Program Overview

The College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Health and Medical Sciences offer a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Social and Behavioral Sciences, and a Master of Science in Occupational Therapy. This six-year program offers the opportunity to study in a traditional liberal arts environment as well as pursue a professional degree in one of the health professions. The Occupational Therapy Program is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Occupational Therapy Education of the American Occupational Therapy Association (ACOTE) of the American Occupational Therapy Association (AOTA), located at 4720 Montgomery Lane, Suite 200, Bethesda, MD 20814-3449. ACOTE’s telephone number c/o AOTA is (301) 652-AOTA and its web address is www.acoteonline.org

The Bachelor of Arts in Social and Behavioral Sciences is awarded at the completion of four years of work and the Master of Science in Occupational Therapy is awarded at the completion of the sixth year of study.

The Occupational Therapy Program at Seton Hall University views the role of the occupational therapist as a practitioner, contributor and manager. As practitioners, occupational therapists establish, restore, maintain or enhance health and wellness through engagement in activities and occupations, and participation in lifestyles that are satisfying to clients. As contributors, occupational therapists advocate for their profession and clients, use current research to inform practice, and participate in the development of occupational therapy scholarship. As managers, occupational therapists plan, establish, supervise and evaluate occupational therapy services, promote occupational therapy services, collaborate with other professionals.

Admission Criteria

Admission to the program is open to applicants who have successfully completed a high school college preparatory curriculum, including courses in social sciences, biology, mathematics, English and a foreign language. The Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) scores are required of all applicants. International students must submit Test of English Foreign Language (TOEFL) scores.

The combined B.A./M.S.O.T program is unique because it accepts students for enrollment in the entire program. Students who meet the requirements outlined below as an undergraduate are guaranteed admission into the final three years of professional studies. Students must have been admitted to Seton Hall University as first-time, full-time freshmen in order to be eligible for admission to the dual program.

Prerequisite Undergraduate Coursework

The following undergraduate coursework is designed to provide a solid foundation for the study of occupational therapy. All the coursework, including prerequisite courses, must be completed by end of Spring semester of the junior year. College Level Examination Program (CLEP), Advanced Placement (AP), and International Baccalaureate (IB) credits cannot substitute for prerequisite courses. All prerequisite courses must be completed with a grade of “C” or better and a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.2 or better.

- Anatomy and Physiology I (BIOL 1102)
- Anatomy and Physiology II (BIOL 1103)
- English (ENGL 1201 or ENGL 1202)
- Statistics (MATH 1203)
- Introduction to Psychology (PSYC 1101)
- Developmental Psychology (PSYC 2212)
- Abnormal Psychology (PSYC 2214)
- Introduction to Sociology (SOCI 1101) or Cultural Anthropology (ANTH 1202)

Healthcare Experiences Requirement

Before entering the graduate program, applicants are required to complete 50 hours of volunteer/observation work under the supervision of a licensed occupational therapist in a hospital or other health care setting to strengthen interpersonal skills and to develop an understanding of the needs and capabilities of clients and the role of the occupational therapists. A supportive letter of reference from a supervising occupational therapist is required of all students entering the graduate program.

Undergraduate Academic Standards

Students must demonstrate that they are prepared to meet the demands of the professional phase of the program. Students must complete all of their college core, University core and Social and Behavioral Science/Occupational Therapy (SOBT) dual degree requirements in the first three years of their undergraduate curriculum with a prerequisite and overall GPA of 3.2 or above as described below. Failure to maintain the required cumulative and prerequisite GPA will result in dismissal from the dual degree program. GPA requirements are exact and will not be rounded to determine eligibility. No exceptions will be made to any dual degree admission requirements.
Students are required to achieve and maintain a 3.2 cumulative and prerequisite GPA by the end of freshmen year.

Students are required to maintain a 3.2 cumulative and prerequisite GPA at the end of the Fall and Spring semesters of their sophomore year.

Students are required to maintain a 3.2 cumulative and prerequisite GPA at the end of the Fall and Spring semesters of their junior year.

Students dismissed from the dual degree program may become SOBS majors. They may not be readmitted to the SOBT program. Such students may apply to the graduate professional program in the occupational therapy program following graduation as graduate students.

Transfer Credits

Students from outside institutions other than Seton Hall University where formal articulation agreements are not in place, may apply to transfer into the undergraduate portion of the occupational therapy dual degree program as freshman.

All internal Seton Hall applicants must meet the undergraduate academic standards at the completion of each semester described above and demonstrate outstanding academic ability.

Due to a limited number of seats available in the professional phase of the MSOT program, transfer admission into the program is extremely selective. Current Seton Hall students will only be accepted as transfers into the dual degree program as freshmen or sophomores.

Progression into the Professional Program

Students enrolled in the dual degree program in Social and Behavioral Science/Occupational Therapy (SOBT) can choose from one of four concentrations in their undergraduate program: sociology, anthropology, social work or psychology. Regardless of the selected concentration, all students must declare their intent to continue matriculation into the professional phase of their program no later than July 1st prior to their junior year. Students who successfully complete all of the above requirements and maintain the appropriate cumulative and prerequisite GPA, as noted above, while in the dual degree program and the other course requirements within their concentration in the SOBT program will enter the professional phase of the occupational therapy program after their junior year. Students will be awarded a Bachelor of Arts Degree following the successful completion of the first professional year of the program.

Curriculum: Pre-Professional Phase

Social and Behavioral Sciences: Sociology, Anthropology, Social Work or Psychology (SOBT)

In the first three years of their undergraduate program, students in the dual degree program must complete all the requirements for the University core, college core, and their concentration. Additionally, the students must complete all the prerequisite course requirements by May of their junior year as follows:

Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education

CAATE accredited entry-level graduate program. The Accreditation examination. students for the Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS) training clinicians. Additionally, the curriculum prepares and prepared to enter the profession as entry-level athletic prepared for the Board of Certification (BOC) Examination. Upon program completion, students will be thoroughly as entry-level athletic training clinicians and to grow and experiences to enable graduates to assume leadership roles both within the field of athletic training, and within the community. The mission of the Master of Science in Athletic Training program is to prepare students to become competent and independent clinicians who will enhance the quality of patient health care and to advance the profession of athletic training. The program teaches and provides practical experiences to enable graduates to assume leadership roles both within the field of athletic training, and within the community.

The professional phase of the M.S.A.T. program includes academic courses and clinical practica in athletic training. Students develop the knowledge and skills needed to perform as entry-level athletic training clinicians and to grow and adapt to the rapid changes in the profession and health care. Upon program completion, students will be thoroughly prepared for the Board of Certification (BOC) Examination and prepared to enter the profession as entry-level athletic training clinicians. Additionally, the curriculum prepares students for the Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS) examination.

Admission Criteria

Applicants should have successfully completed a high school college preparatory curriculum, including courses in social sciences, biology, mathematics, English and a foreign language. The Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) scores are required of all applicants. International students must submit Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) scores. Transfer students will be considered for the first three years of the program and should have an acceptable overall average.

Applicants are encouraged to volunteer or work with a Certified Athletic Trainer (ATC) in their high school, local sports medicine clinic, hospital or other healthcare setting. This experience will help strengthen interpersonal skills and to develop an understanding of the needs and capabilities of patients and the role of athletic trainers.

The combined B.A./M.S.A.T. program is unique because it accepts students for enrollment in the entire program. Students who maintain an overall 3.0 GPA as an undergraduate are guaranteed admission into the final two years of professional studies. Due to a limit on the number of athletic training students in each entering freshman class, admission into the program is extremely selective.

Program Requirements

Athletic training students who complete the requirements of the social and behavioral sciences program, and who maintain an overall 3.0 average with successful completion of selected prerequisite courses (8 credits of A&P I and II, 3 credits of pre-calculus or calculus or statistics, 3 credits of biology, 4 credits of physics, as well as English, psychology, sociology – with no grade less than a C in prerequisite courses) will enter the professional phase of the program after their junior year. GPA requirements are exact and will not be rounded to determine eligibility. No expectations will be made to any dual degree admission requirement. Prior to admission into the fourth year, students must submit a current CPR/AED card for the Professional Rescuer and complete 50 hours of volunteer work under the supervision of a Certified Athletic Trainer in at least one healthcare setting to strengthen interpersonal skills and to develop an understanding of the needs and capabilities of patients and the role of the athletic trainer. The observational experience can be completed any time before they begin the professional phase of the program in their fourth year and require a letter of reference from the supervising ATC. Students can choose psychology, sociology, or anthropology as their concentration in their undergraduate program. The director of social and behavioral sciences assists students in planning their course of study in order to complete the program within the six-year time frame. Students must complete at least 94 credits before they begin the graduate courses in athletic training. Students enrolled in the athletic training undergraduate dual degree program must declare their intent to continue matriculation in their major no later than October 15th prior to their junior year. Eligible students seeking to transfer into the athletic training dual degree program will be considered on a space-available basis.

SOCI 2517 (LALS 2517) Latinas and Latinos in the United States
The course will examine the current situation of Latinas/ Latinos in U.S. society from the perspective of a theory of transformation. Latinas/Latinos are the youngest and the fastest growing ethnic population in the United States. Their growing involvement is having a significant impact on culture and politics but they continue to experience high levels of unemployment, poor education, substandard housing, inadequate social services and political under-representation. Solutions compared and contrasted: assimilation vs. transformation. 3 credits

SOCI 2601 Social Problems and Solutions
Sociological examination of a variety of current social problems and possible solutions, including, for example: privacy issues, poverty; environmental degradation; media issues; national security; racism, sexism, and heterosexism; drugs and the drug war; crime and prison issues; and health care system failures. Assigned to groups based on interest, students focus on particular social problems for more intensive study, and present their work to the class. 3 credits

SOCI 2701 Social Change
A review and critical examination of the transformation of human societies from pre-industrial to industrial, as well as the various forms—capitalist and socialist—that industrialization has taken. An analysis of various theories of “development” and “underdevelopment,” colonialism and post-colonialism, postindustrial society, globalization, and civilizations. A consideration of the role of technology in shaping the current world order and how it is likely to shape the future, with particular attention given to communication information, and bio-technology. 3 credits

SOCI 2713 Political Sociology
Relationship between, culture, social structures and political ideologies cross culturally. Role and functions of government. Politics and International Law; Police and personal freedom and behavior. Social policy engineering and government; Government, media and elections; Contemporary political issues are discussed. 3 credits

SOCI 2716 (ANTH 2716) American Society
The culture and social structure of American society. Evolving American national character. Tracing some present problems: wealth and poverty, religion and democratic tensions, crime and policing. Understanding American institutions, consumption patterns, celebrity culture, media and voting, etc. The themes of continuity vs. change, unity vs. diversity, individualism vs. community. 3 credits

SOCI 2813 Self and Society
A consideration of various theories of the self and its development through social interaction. Emphasis is given to the stages of the life course as they are shaped by broader institutional and historical forces, as well as to the fit or lack of fit between the needs of the individual and the functioning of collectivities. A critical review of the evolution from pre-modern to modern identity, and from modern to post-modern identity, and how these processes are filtered through the cultural frame of reference of particular groups and societies. 3 credits

SOCI 2910 (ANTH 2910) Quantitative Research Methods
This course introduces students to the logic and practice of the quantitative research. Exercises and a case study method are used to enhance students’ understanding of the three phases of the quantitative research process. The first, the articulation of a research question, involves conceptualization, the identification of relevant variables, and the formulation of testable hypotheses. The second, research design, involves the choice of survey, indirect, or experimental methods to collect required data, the operationalization of variables, the construction of instruments and indexes, and sample selection. The third, data analysis, involves data preparation, summarization of findings, interpretation of findings, and future research proposals. The course addresses ethical issues in quantitative research, as well as the critical task of preparing a research report that communicates effectively with the target audience. Prerequisites: SOCI 1101 or ANTH 1201 and MATH 1101 or MATH 1203. 3 credits

SOCI 2911 (POLS 2911) Research Methods II
Advanced instruction in sociological research, requiring the completion of a research paper. More detailed methodological techniques. Introduction to qualitative techniques of data collection and analysis. Employment opportunities in research outlined. Written paper based on original research. 3 credits

SOCI 2912 (ANTH 2912) Qualitative Field Research Methods
Students develop, refine and carry out qualitative field research projects using methods and techniques including participant observation, structured and unstructured interviewing techniques and non-probability sampling. Emphasis is not only on collecting, analyzing and evaluating ethnographic data within a hands-on research context, but also the very process of building relations between researchers, their communities of study, and other stakeholders. The course will also address ethical issues in social science research including privacy, institutional oversight, rights of the state, and common strategies and solutions. Final research paper is based on original fieldwork. 3 credits

SOCI 3219 (ANTH 3219) Urban Sociology
Sociological approaches to the city and its problems from the perspective of community. History of cities from towns to development of the megalopolis. Consideration of the structure of the city, life-styles, demographic trends, politics and relation to suburbs. Review of selected problems: housing, transportation, recreation, etc. Exploration of urban tensions, such as the rise of mass society and the persistence of local ties such as families and ethnicity. 3 credits

SOCI 3310 Sociological Theories
A survey of classical and contemporary approaches to collective life and the transformation of human societies. A major objective is to show the philosophical, moral, cultural and historical foundations of the dominant theoretical orientations in sociology over time. Consideration of the nature of social order and change, agency and constraint, and sociology as an objective and interpretive science. Focus given to the conversational chains that have been established between theorists from differing schools and within any given school. 3 credits
SOCI 3382 Sociological Practice
Approaches to and varieties of sociological practice, including policy research, action research, evaluation research, strategic planning, and clinical intervention. An in-depth analysis of the problem-solving process and guided social change, and the role of sociological knowledge and insight. Examination of the values guiding the sociological practitioner and the ethical challenges associated with being a consultant, policy research or social activist; and the criteria used to define “successful” practice. Students will participate in a sociological practice project. 3 credits

SOCI 3417 Sociology of Knowledge
What do we know, how do we “know” it? Examines “knowledge” in society and its relationship to social structure and individual consciousness. Emphasis is on the social construction of reality, the meaning of truth and fact, i.e., scientific, theological and sociological truth compared. How the social attributes of groups as well as individuals affect the production ordering and presentation of “information.” The form knowledge will take in a particular society. 3 credits

SOCI 3420 Crowds, Cults, and Revolutions
This course focuses on the social phenomenon of collective behavior from a multicultural perspective. Revolutions, social protest, fads, trends, social movements and crowd behavior across cultures are examined through comparative analysis. 3 credits

SOCI 3514 (ANTH 3514, WMST 3514) Sociology of Gender
Advanced exploration of social scientific theory and research on women and men, including such topics as: the social construction and interconnectedness of sex, gender, race, class, and sexuality; how gender operates in everyday social interaction, affecting love, violence, and friendships; how gender inequalities are institutionalized in work, education, religion, and family; and how gender differences and inequalities are implicated in relations of power and politics. 3 credits

SOCI 3815 Theories of Deviance and Conformity
An application of various sociological theories of deviance and conformity to a variety of deviant and conforming attitudes, behaviors, and conditions, including, for example: issues of crime and punishment; legal and illegal drug use; sexual minorities, majorities, and fetishes; body presentation, maintenance, and modification; and public opinion and political dissent. Taught as a seminar, with students responsible for presenting on the assigned readings and assisting in leading discussion. 3 credits

SOCI 3816 (ANTH 3816, CORE 3790) West African Derived Religions in the Americas in Dialogue with Catholicism
Examines the interrelations between West African religions and Catholicism as they met via the slave trade and forced relocation of Africans to the New World as well as contemporary practices. Cross-cultural, social-scientific exploration of issues of authority and power, cultural variation and similarities, authenticity and syncretism in Mexican, Cuban, Haitian, Trinidadian, Brazilian, and U.S. American traditions, that may include discussions of Catholic Saints, slave Baptisms, the Inquisition, folk Catholicism, sacred drumming, trance possession, ritual retention and innovation, Santería/Lukumi, Candomblé, Umbanda, Vodou, Regla de Palo, Abakuá, Yoruba Revivalism, Orisha Religion, and Spiritism. The course will be run as a seminar in which students will be responsible for taking part in leading class discussion. 3 credits

SOCI 3881-3888 Special Issues in Sociology
Topics to be announced by the department. Students should consult the registration handbook for specific titles. 3 credits

SOCI 3892 Internship
Students work in settings where they can apply their theoretical knowledge and research skills to the practical demands of the workplace. Designed to enhance the competencies of students as they prepare for their careers. Supervision is provided both by the site supervisor and a department faculty member. Students must obtain prior approval from their advisers. Seniors and juniors only. 3 credits

SOCI 5978 Independent Study 2 credits
SOCI 5979 Independent Study 1 credit
SOCI 5980 Independent Study 3 credits
SOCI 5981 Independent Study 1 credit
SOCI 5982 Independent Study 2 credits
SOCI 5983 Independent Study 3 credits
SOCI 5984 Independent Study 3 credits
SOCI 5986 Independent Study 3 credits
SOCI 5988 Senior Seminar in Sociology
A capstone course for majors, which integrates knowledge and skills acquired in the sociology program. Original research paper required that demonstrates mastery of program goals. Topics and approach to be announced by the department and instructor. Prerequisite: SOCI 2910. Recommended SOCI 2912. 3 credits

Anthropology

ANTH 1201 (ARCH 1115) Introduction to Physical Anthropology
This course is an introduction to the study of humans as biological and adaptive organisms. We will use the scientific method and natural selection theory to examine our close genetic relatedness with other primates and our evolutionary history. We will also emphasize humans as cultural organisms and discuss the biological basis and evolution of human behavior. Topics will include the history of evolutionary thought and the modern Darwinian framework, the application of the evolutionary process to humans, human genetics, human variation, the relationship of humans to other organisms (particularly within the order Primates), the human fossil record and the archaeological evidence for the emergence and development of human culture. 3 credits
ANTH 1202 (ARCH 1302) Introduction to Cultural Anthropology
This course takes a holistic approach to human behavior by introducing the discipline of anthropology. Students taking the course are exposed to both cultural differences as well as what it is that is universally shared by all humankind. Systematic cross-cultural examination of various rules of conduct in economic, political and religious systems, the role of expressive culture and the importance of kinship, gender and concepts of the self in the organization of human society are central features of this course. Students will become familiar with the four field approach of anthropology but with a primary emphasis on cultural anthropology. Additionally, the course introduces some of the major theorists and theories of the discipline since its inception in the late 19th and early 20th centuries, and will analyze contemporary approaches applied to cultures worldwide. 3 credits

ANTH 1210 Introduction to Linguistic Anthropology
Using classic and recent scholarship on linguistic anthropology, students will learn about the origins and building blocks of human language as verbal and nonverbal communication. Students will examine their own linguistic backgrounds, beliefs, attitudes and practices in order to explain how cultural conventions, gender and status differences modify meaning, transform or constrain social relations, and shape our views of ourselves and others. The course will include an ethnographic component on language in daily life including natural language, bilingual/multilingual experiences, the politics of slang words, as well as technologically-mediated linguistic interactions. 3 credits

ANTH 1211 Introduction to Archaeology
Surveys the study of human behavior and societies through material culture. The course introduces archaeological theory and methods for inferring social, economic, and ideological issues in past human populations. We will explore the history of archaeology, methods of excavation, and data analysis and interpretation. Topics include the earliest stone tool technologies, origins of agriculture, and the rise and collapse of civilizations. 3 credits

ANTH 1215 Race, Racism and the Meanings of Human Difference
Examines from a cross-cultural perspective the social and historical roots of the concept of race, and addresses the impact that racism has on a wide range of societies of the world. Explores the specific ways in which human variation is patterned and addresses the significance of this variation in intergroup relations. 3 credits

ANTH 2213 (SOCI 2213) Case Studies in the Anthropology of Law
Investigation of ways law operates in various cultures throughout the world. Concepts of justice as related to religion, politics, economics and ethics; case studies from many different societies. “Western law” contrasted with customary law and other forms of legal experience in several Third World countries. Discussions of benefits that may be derived from understanding mechanisms of dispute resolution among non-Western people. 3 credits

ANTH 2223 Anthropology of Food and Culture
A description and analysis of a number of gastronomic domains from an anthropological perspective. Students will examine not only what people eat, but how, when, where and why some foods and not others. How one can collect and analyze food data structurally and functionally for cross-cultural comparison; and the extent to which eating and drinking patterns tell us something about the way people organize their societies. 3 credits

ANTH 2224 (SOCI 2224) Health and Medicine: An Anthropological Approach
Explores how culture, religion, and history shape practices and ideas regarding diagnosis and treatment, and the meaning of sickness, illness, healing, cure, and health. Investigates health and medicine not only as biological phenomena, but in the context of the economic, political, kinship, and religious systems in which they occur. 3 credits

ANTH 2228 Global Problems and the Politics of Human Conflict
This course focuses on the manner in which societies of the world organize themselves with respect to the use and abuse of power and authority. Various theoretical and methodological approaches to political organization will be discussed with emphasis on the anthropology of modern nationalisms and the related discourses of ethnic identity and genocide, indigenism and modernity, nations-within-states, and the cultural ironies of tourism. 3 credits

ANTH 2230 Folklore and Mythology
Focus is on the origins, commonalities and differences in the diverse myths present in all cultures. Course will explore the connections between folklore and myth and their function in maintaining cultural systems. Special emphasis will be given to the effects of globalization on the appropriation of the myths and folkloric practices of various indigenous peoples as well as the way they are transformed and/or given new meaning in the complex, technologically developed societies of the contemporary world. 3 credits

ANTH 2232 Kinship in Cross-Cultural Perspective
Cross-cultural comparison of structure, organization and behavior associated with different models of kinship and social organization in diverse societies both traditional and modern. Social systems based on idioms of blood, marriage forms and marital relations, the incest taboo, mate selection and issues arising from new reproductive technologies will be explored. 3 credits

ANTH 2233 (SOCI 2233, WMST 2233) Understanding Human Sexuality
This course examines human sexuality and gender relationships from an anthropological and cross cultural perspective. It examines the culturally constructed roles of women and men in evolutionary perspective and within specific cultural and social contexts both past and present. The course also focuses on the economic, political and domestic roles, social statuses; and adaptive and maladaptive features of sociosexual patterns. This course pays specific anthropology of religion

ANTH 2412 Anthropology of Religion
Introduces students to the study of the Anthropology of Religion from a historical and theoretical perspective. Provides a framework for understanding the diverse ways in which “religion” manifests in different cultural settings and historical contexts. The course explores the human capacity to “make meaning” through the use of symbol, myth and ritual. It also explores transpersonal states of consciousness, many of which are induced through various public and private rituals and other devotional, ascetic and ecstatic practices. The category of “the religious” or “the sacred” as defined according to the western worldview is interrogated and explored. The course content is also relevant to students in religion, Catholic studies, sociology, psychology and Italian studies. 3 credits

ANTH 2716 (SOCI 2716) Understanding Americans: Anthropology of American Culture
This course examines the totality of the American experience through the unifying concept of culture. In particular we will be concerned with the origin, development and influences of ideas and assumptions that have shaped fundamental American values and character. (Formerly ANTH 2234) 3 credits

ANTH 2910 (SOCI 2910) Quantitative Research Methods
This course introduces students to the logic and practice of the quantitative research. Exercises and a case study method are used to enhance students’ understanding of the three phases of the quantitative research process. The first, the articulation of a research question, involves conceptualization, the identification of relevant variables, and the formulation of testable hypotheses. The second, research design, involves the choice of survey, indirect, or experimental methods to collect required data, the operationalization of variables, the construction of instruments and indexes, and sample selection. The third, data analysis, involves data preparation, summarization of findings, interpretation of findings, and future research proposals. The course addresses ethical issues in quantitative research, as well as the critical task of preparing a research report that communicates effectively with the target audience. Prerequisites: SOCI 1101 or ANTH 1201 and MATH 1101 or MATH 1203. 3 credits

ANTH 2912 (SOCI 2912) Qualitative Field Research Methods
Students develop, refine and carry out qualitative field research projects using methods and techniques including participant observation, structured and unstructured interviewing techniques and non-probability sampling. Emphasis is not only on collecting, analyzing and evaluating ethnographic data within a hands-on research context, but also the very process of building relations between researchers, their communities of study, and other stakeholders. The course will also address ethical issues in social science research including privacy, institutional oversight, rights of the state, and common strategies and solutions. Final research paper is based on original fieldwork. 3 credits
ANTH 3212 The History of Anthropological Thought
Examines the history of anthropological thought and its theoretical corpus as it developed from the 19th century to the present. Students are exposed to the major theories and theorists in the field and to some of the contemporary debates within the discipline. This course challenges students to critically assess the validity of various analytical approaches used to analyze the concept of culture, society and the person. 3 credits

ANTH 3215 Human Rights and Social Justice
Through an examination of the ways in which people in different societies of the world identify and define ethical and social standards, this course will examine the concept of universal human rights. Also examines the development of international efforts to apply such rights. The course will focus on ethnographic case studies from a wide variety of societies. 3 credits

ANTH 3218 Immigration to the United States
This course examines the history of immigration to the United States from the 17th Century to the present. Explores distinct waves or moments of immigration; presents theoretical explanations for these population movements; and assesses the cultural, political, and economic consequences of immigration to the United States. 3 credits

ANTH 3219 (SOCI 3219) Urban Anthropology
This course uses an anthropological perspective to examine the rise of urbanization in human history. Also analyzes the role of the modern city in both the developed and developing world. Examines issues such as rural-urban dynamics, poverty, crime, economic development, globalization, kinship, race/ethnicity and modernity. 3 credits

ANTH 3220 Anthropology of Consciousness
Human consciousness is of central importance to all four fields of anthropology. Grounded in cultural anthropology, this course explores the diverse ways that culture and human consciousness interact and shape each other. Drawing on the most recent research conducted by anthropologists of consciousness and by neuroscientists on the relationship between the brain and the “mind” students will learn about the human capacity to alter and expand consciousness through practices such as shamanism, meditation/contemplative practices, trance/possession/performance, ritual activity (both religious and secular) and the ingestion of psychotropic substances. Spontaneous healing, premonitional dreams, remote viewing, out of body experiences, telepathy, past life recall and other so called “paranormal” or “extraordinary” phenomena will also be explored. 3 credits

ANTH 3250 Human Osteology
An intensive introduction to the methods of interpreting the human skeleton fundamental to the disciplines of paleoanthropology, bioarchaeology, and forensic anthropology. In this course you will learn how to identify human skeletal elements, assign age, biological sex, and geographic ancestry, and estimate stature and weight. We will also assess pre and postmortem bone modification including evidence of trauma, disease, activity, and taphonomy. 3 credits

ANTH 3254 Independent Study 1 credit
ANTH 3255 Independent Study 2 credits
ANTH 3256 Independent Study 3 credits
ANTH 3257 Independent Study 3 credits

ANTH 3301-04; 3307-08; 3331 Special Topics in Anthropology
Topics to be announced. Check semester course offerings for specific themes 3 credits

ANTH 3305-06, Special Issues In Anthropology
Issues pertinent to the discipline. Check semester course offerings for specific themes. 3 credits

ANTH 3330 Visual Anthropology
Students will study the ways by which people and their cultural expressions have been documented and represented through the creation and refinement of photographic and cinematographic techniques, including documentary film. The implications of the reversal of the camera lens, such that the anthropologists or filmmakers become subject to scrutiny and investigation, as well as the analysis of the visual production of different groups of people, will be a central theme throughout the course. 3 credits

ANTH 3514 (SOCI 3514/WMST 3514) The Anthropology of Gender
This course examines the history of a gendered approach to anthropology in light of second-wave feminism’s theoretical contributions and to the new questions that gender analysis brings to traditional anthropological issues such as work, kinship, immigration, race and nationalism. 3 credits

ANTH 3794 (CORE 3794) Indigenous Peoples’ Responses to Conversion, Nation, and Empire
In what way does being Christian also signal civic belonging? When conversion to Catholicism occurs in contexts of large colonial projects, often spanning generations or centuries, what happens to the belief systems central to the lives of native or indigenous peoples before colonization? This course will focus on social formations and knowledge systems that shaped native peoples’ actionable responses to projects of conversion, nation and empire. Students will unpack persistent ideological constructs concerning native peoples from the 1500s to the present century, and read works that seek to present a view “from below.” 3 credits

ANTH 3816 (SOCI 3816, CORE 3790) West African Derived Religions in the Americas in Dialogue with Catholicism
Examines the interrelations between West African religions and Catholicism as they met via the slave trade and forced relocation of Africans to the New World as well as contemporary practices. Cross-cultural, social-scientific exploration of issues of authority and power, cultural variation and similarities, authenticity and syncretism in Mexican, Cuban, Haitian, Trinidadian, Brazilian, and U.S. American traditions, that may include discussions of Catholic Saints, slave Baptisms, the Inquisition, folk Catholicism, sacred drumming, trance possession, ritual retention and innovation, Santería/Lukumi, Candomblé, Umbanda, Vodou, Regla de Palo, Abakuá, Yoruba Revivalism, Orisha Religion, and Spiritism. The course will be run as a seminar in which students will be responsible for taking part in leading class discussion. Prerequisite SOCI 1101 or ANTH 1202. 3 credits

ANTH 4000 Anthropology of Art
An anthropological approach to the study of the arts. Students will read new and classic works that address the biological roots of the making of art, historical evidence in the archaeological record, the relationship of art and artists to religious, political and economic organization, and the arts as an expression, or rejection, of the cultured body as well as the collective identity of one’s group. Course focuses on art both as observable and meaningful phenomena as well as process and structure. Anthropological theories on art as a universal conceptual category, approached through the lens of material culture and symbolic behavior, will be applied to both vintage and contemporary case studies. 3 credits

ANTH 5988 Senior Seminar in Anthropology
A capstone course for majors, which integrates knowledge and skills acquired in the sociology anthropology program. Original research paper required that demonstrates mastery of program goals. Topics and approach to be announced by the department and instructor. 3 credits

Social Work

SOWK 1111 Introduction to Social Work
Introduces components of generalist social work practice. Includes: social work fields of practice, special (at risk) populations, the value of human diversity, issues of poverty and oppression, and the values and ethics of the profession. 3 credits

SOWK 1191-1193 Independent Study in Social Work
Individualized and guided study in social work. Covers a variety of topics and can include fieldwork, community service and research. Prerequisite: permission of program director. 1/2/3 credits

SOWK 1314 (AFAM 1518) Social Work and the Law
Examines the interaction of the disciplines of law and social work, as well as interaction between lawyers and social workers and the relationship of ethics and law. 3 credits

SOWK 1333 Current Issues and Trends in Social Work Practice
Examines selected issues and trends in social work practice. Areas selected for study vary each semester as need and demand indicate. This course is designed as a potential prototype for what is planned to be a CORE III (Engaging the World) course focusing on diversity, cultural competency and social justice. 3 credits

SOWK 1335 (WMST 1335) Family Violence
Examines the causes, manifestations, preventative strategies, and interventions applicable to the inappropriate use of force between and among persons known to each other, including acquaintance rape; spouse battering; child, adolescent and elder abuse. 3 credits

SOWK 1911 (SOWK 6911) Introduction to Gerontology
Overview of the basic facts about aging and aging processes, including demography, biology, psychology, sociology and policy analysis. Also includes financial, legal, and end-of-life issues. 3 credits

SOWK 1912 Psychosocial Aspects of Aging
Examination of the person/situation of older adults, focusing on factors contributing to behavioral stability and change over time. Emphasis on traits, self-concepts, and lifestyles; the roles of older adults; and the relationship of both person/situation to successful aging. 3 credits

SOWK 2401 Social Welfare: Commonality and Diversity
Develops a conceptual framework for knowledge building and enhancement of understanding of the social welfare system and how it is made available to and used by different groups in the United States and elsewhere. 3 credits

SOWK 2653 Substance Abuse Assessment and Intervention
The course provides a comprehensive introduction to the recognition, assessment, and intervention with persons who abuse substances. Attention is directed to the interactive effects of substance abuse on abusers, on other persons in the abusers’ lives, and on society. Other topics explored in the course will include: models of chemical dependency; the dually diagnosed client; the cognitive therapy model of substance abuse therapy; and the comparison and contrast of selected models of intervention. This is an elective course for majors and minors. It counts for three credits toward the minor and is one of two required electives for social work majors. Prerequisite: SOWK 1111, or Permission of Instructor. 3 credits

SOWK 3201 Social Problems and Programs
This course introduces students to the nature and extent of social problems and governmental and not-for-profit programs that attempt to ameliorate, prevent, or eliminate these problems. This course is designed to further inform students of the history and operation of social welfare programs as responses to social problems. The course focuses on history within the contexts of politics, economics, and social values at respective points in time, up to the present. This course focuses upon learning about understanding social justice; advocacy for human rights; and advancing social and economic justice by means of learning about social welfare programs as a response to social problems. Prerequisite: SOWK 1111. 3 credits
SOWK 3301 Social Policy Analysis
Analyzes major factors involved in social policies, programs and organizations. Presented using functional, structural and conflict perspectives. Examines how the interplay of politics, economics, social values and professionalism shapes the social welfare institution in the United States. This course is approved for infusion as critical thinking. Prerequisite: SOWK 1111. 3 credits

SOWK 3511 Behavior and Environments
Intensive elaboration of the life course with emphasis on the interactive effects of economic, physical, social, and technological environments (the ecological perspective) on the growth and development of individuals and families. There is emphasis on the interactive effect of these environmental variables. Social work majors only. Prerequisite: SOWK 1111. 3 credits

SOWK 3512 - Theories of Behavior
Intensive elaboration of the life course with emphasis on the interactive effects of economic, physical, social, and technological environments (the ecological perspective) on the growth and development of individuals and families. There is emphasis on the interactive effect of these environmental variables. Social work majors only. Prerequisite: SOWK 1111. 3 credits

SOWK 3611 Theory and Practice I
This course introduces and analyzes the helping process and provides theoretical and practical learning experiences for the comprehension and application of specific competencies of the helping process. This course is also designed to help students to understand and develop a professional identity, as they will analyze their personal values and assess their compatibility with social work values and principles. This course is a journey to further student’s “affective learning”- self-awareness and self-reflection- which are essential to professional development. Prerequisite: SOWK 1111. Corequisite: SOWK 3811. 3 credits

SOWK 3811 Junior Practicum
Introductory field work experience for students planning a career in social work. Students maintain written records and learn under professional supervision at social agencies for 84 hours paced over the semester, plus a minimum of three, one-hour in-class meetings with the Director of Field Education over the semester. Social work majors only. Prerequisite: SOWK 1111. Corequisite: SOWK 3611. 3 credits

SOWK 3910 Research Methods in Social Work
This course introduces students to social work research. Topics include: working with human research subjects; problem selection and conceptualization; formulating research hypotheses; research design; sampling; survey instrument construction; collecting quantitative and qualitative data; data treatment and analysis procedures. Prerequisites: MATH 1203; SOWK 1111. 3 credits

SOWK 4611 Social Work Practice and Research
Students gain proficiency in research processes and methodologies, particularly evaluative and including single system design, used in social work practice. Corequisite: any 4000 level social work course. 3 credits

SOWK 4811 Senior Practicum I
First of a two semester sequence that is the signature pedagogy of the program and designed for students to gain competency in the aforementioned list of competencies. Under professional supervision, students function in a social work agency to gain beginning level generalist social work competencies. An internship of approximately 200 hours is to be completed during this Fall semester learning experience. This course also includes periodic meetings with students as a group in class and with the Director of Field Education. Prerequisites: Formal admission to the social work program. The admission process takes place over the Spring semester of the junior year and is explicated in the Program Handbook, and implemented by the program under the leadership of the Director of Field Education. Prerequisites: SOWK 3611, 3811. Corequisite: 4911. 6 credits

SOWK 4812 Senior Practicum II
First of a two semester sequence that is the signature pedagogy of the program and designed for students to gain competency in the aforementioned list of competencies. Under professional supervision, students function in a social work agency to gain beginning level generalist social work competencies. An internship of approximately 200 hours is to be completed during this Fall semester learning experience. This course also includes periodic meetings with students as a group in class and with the Director of Field Education. Prerequisites: Formal admission to the social work program. The admission process takes place over the Spring semester of the junior year and is explicated in the Program Handbook, and implemented by the program under the leadership of the Director of Field Education. Prerequisites: SOWK 4811, 4911. Corequisites: SOWK 4912, 5111. 6 credits

SOWK 4911 Theory and Practice II
First of two theory and practice methodology courses designed to help students develop the competencies required for ethical, effective and compassionate generalist professional practice. Prepares students for micro/mezzo practice with individuals, families, small groups, organizations and communities. Emphasizes problem solving, strengths, cultural competence, best practices, and evidence-based practice. Prerequisite (formal admission into the social work program): SOWK 3611, 3811. Corequisite: SOWK 4811. 3 credits

SOWK 4912 Theory and Practice III
The second theory and practice (methods) course designed to help students develop the competencies required for ethical, effective and compassionate generalist professional practice. Prepares students for professional mezzo and macro practice to serve individuals, families and large groups, organizations, communities, and society at large. Emphasizes problem-solving, strengths, cultural competence, best practices, and evidence-based practice.
solving, strengths, cultural competence, best practices, and evidence-based practice. Prerequisites: SOWK 4911. Corequisites: SOWK 4812, 5111. 3 credits

SOWK 5111 Senior Research Seminar
A capstone learning experience designed to help social work students integrate their beginning preparation for professional practice and/or graduate school and to explore major issues confronting the profession and society today. The course focuses on specific areas of interest identified by participants with the guidance of the instructor. Through a written research requirement, student presentations, group discussions, community observations and guest lectures, the selected areas of interest will be integrated with the strengths perspective especially in needs assessment, with the fullness of cultural competency, in evidence-based/research-based best practice. Prerequisite: SOWK 3910. Corequisites: SOWK 4812, SOWK 4912. 3 credits

Special Arts and Sciences Programs

In addition to the major and minor programs offered by its academic departments, the College of Arts and Sciences offers a number of special programs that do not fit within the confines of a single academic department. These include:

- Interdisciplinary Majors: criminal justice*, economics* and environmental studies*.
- Interdisciplinary Minors, Certificates and other special programs: archaeology minor, Data Visualization and Analysis Certificate, Italian Studies minor, Multidisciplinary Certificate in Gerontology, Russian and East European Studies minor and certificate, women and gender studies minor, and the Multicultural Program.
- Dual Degree Programs: B.S. in Biology/D.P.T or M.S.P.A. or M.S.A.T.; B.A. Social and Behavioral Studies/M.S.O.T. or M.S.A.T.; B.A. or B.S./M.B.A.; B.A. in Political Science/M.P.A.; B.A. in Sociology/ M.P.A., B.A./M.A. in English; B.A./M.A. in History; B.A./M.A. in Museum Professions; B.A. in Psychology/M.S. in Experimental Psychology; and B.S. in Physics or Chemistry/Bachelor of Engineering with the New Jersey Institute of Technology

*An interdisciplinary minor or certificate is also available through this program.

Catholic Studies Program
Walsh Library Room 427
Chair: Ines Murzaku, Ph.D.

Catholic Studies is an innovative curriculum with uniquely designed tracks focusing on history, philosophy, theology, literature, art, religion and the University Honors Program. Students may choose a Bachelor of Arts (30 credits), a minor (15 credits) or a certificate (12 credits) in Catholic Studies. The Catholic Studies program can appeal to students of any creed who seek to deepen their knowledge of Catholicism’s rich intellectual tradition and living heritage. An interpersonal approach to learning and many opportunities for spiritual reflection invite students to a more profound and mature understanding of faith. A good number of students are enrolled as double majors or minors, thus enhancing their primary majors. A degree in Catholic Studies complements their primary majors in diplomacy, business, philosophy, theology, social work and other disciplines. Because of its emphasis on close interaction with faculty members, students and alumni, those who choose to participate in the program are part of a unique intellectual community.

Students pursuing a degree in Catholic Studies may apply for several competitive scholarships including Scholarships for Catholic Studies Majors; Scholarships for Catholic Studies Minors from the Diplomacy, Business or Sciences programs; Scholarships for Incoming Freshmen in Catholic Studies; Father Walter Debold Scholarship for students participating in foreign study and the Reverend Richard M. Nardone (’50) Endowed Scholarship in Catholic Studies. Additional scholarships are provided by the University of Münster to students who take either a semester or a year-long study in Germany.

Criminal Justice Program
Arts and Sciences Hall
(973) 761-9470
www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/criminal-justice

Interim Director: Harold Launer, Ph.D.

Faculty: Athens, Glasner, Launer;

Affiliated Faculty: Paitakes

Leading to a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree, the Criminal Justice program of study can lead to professional careers in law enforcement, courts, corrections, police, and other areas relating to crime and justice. The major in criminal justice is designed to give students a broad understanding of the operation of the criminal justice system. Graduates from the program may pursue careers in criminal justice, law enforcement, courts, and corrections or undertake graduate professional degrees in areas such as criminology and criminal justice. A series of internships are offered in federal, state, and municipal agencies.

Transfer Students
All transfer students are interviewed before being accepted into the program. Transfer students have one semester to reach the minimum required GPA. Transfer students are required to take at least 18 credits from the Seton Hall University criminal justice program.

State Police Program
A contractual program between Seton Hall University and the New Jersey State Police provides an opportunity for graduates of the State Police Training Academy to earn a select number of academic credits during their training as long as they receive actual grades for the courses taken at the Academy. Pass/Fail grades will not be accepted for credit. Please call (973) 761-9430 for more information. Most of the following courses are restricted to this program:
Course Descriptions

CRIM 2612 The Criminal Justice System in Modern America
The structure and function of the criminal justice system, including an analysis of values underlying two models of the criminal process. Role of police, constitutional rights, role of the attorney, courts and corrections, operation of the bail system, trial and role of the judge. 3 credits

CRIM 2613 Victimology
Consideration of victims of crime. Interaction between victim and offender in the criminal encounter, the risks of victimization, victim reactions to crime, the effect of victim characteristics on the legal system and a survey of victim-oriented alternatives to conventional criminal justice. 3 credits

CRIM 2614 Police in Modern Society
History and changing role of the police. Variety of sociological perspectives used to examine recruitment and socialization of police personnel. Meaning and functions of police work, police community relations, interactions between police departments and other official organizations (courts, prisons, schools, mental hospitals), police malpractice and control over police work. Comparison of police work in other modern societies, evaluation of various strategies for changing the role and structure of police work. 3 credits

CRIM 2615 Penology
Analysis of different philosophies of treatment and current techniques. Past correctional approaches surveyed to understand the changes made in institutionalized handling of a major social problem. Economic, cultural and political trends as the social setting in which society attempts to fashion a “practical” manner of treatment. 3 credits

CRIM 2616 Criminology
Examines the phenomenon of crime from a sociological perspective. Meaning of crime; official and unofficial counts of crime; social correlates of crime; lifestyles and behavior patterns of criminals. Critical analysis of various theoretical frameworks for explaining crime. 3 credits

CRIM 2617 Juvenile Delinquency
Examines patterns of delinquent behavior among youth. The definition and measurement of delinquency; influence of kinship; educational and other institutions on delinquency; social class and sub-cultural influences on delinquency; identification and processing of delinquents by official control agencies. 3 credits

CRIM 2618 Community Supervision
Study of community release movement in the U.S. Examination of parole and penal systems and their relationship to pre-prison identity and future behavior. Reentry into this system; relationship between self-concept and status passage, and notions of parole and probation success and failure. 3 credits

CRIM 2619 Prosecution and Adjudication
Examination of middle stages of criminal justice system;
Prosecutor’s decision to charge, pretrial procedures, criminal trial and sentencing. Discussion of central roles, case flow, current developments and defendants legal rights at middle stage of criminal justice system. 3 credits

CRIM 2910 Research Methodology
Basic exposure to the skills and understanding relied upon in criminological research. Concepts such as validity, reliability, research logic, design development and theory testing are addressed. Students also are exposed to elementary data analysis. Prerequisites: Two of the following courses: SOCI 1101, PSYC 1101, ANTH 1202 and MATH 1203; or permission of the instructor. 3 credits

CRIM 2912 Criminal Justice Administration and Management
Exploration of contemporary criminal justice administration with emphasis on leadership and management skills, as well as organizational theory. Discussion of management principles, communication, motivation of personnel, leadership and power, organizational conflict, decision making, organizational effectiveness, and innovation and change. 3 credits.

CRIM 2913, 2915-2916 Special Issues in Criminal Justice
Selected topics in criminal justice. 3 credits

CRIM 3120 Qualitative Methods of Criminal Justice Research
Qualitative methods of criminological research, including criminological “field methods” and “ethnography.” Four principle areas: (1) the distinctive logic or philosophy underlying the use of qualitative methods, (2) the different qualitative methods for collecting data, (3) the principal means for qualitatively analyzing data, and (4) criteria for evaluating qualitative research. Prerequisites: Two of the following courses: SOCI 1101, PSYC 1101, ANTH 1202 and MATH 1101 or permission of instructor. 3 credits

CRIM 3310 Violent Crime
Explorations of the topic of violence from a number of social science perspectives. Particular attention to the “process” of becoming violent, and the policy implications of violent behavior in the United States. 3 credits

CRIM 3550 Criminological Theory
Major sociological, psychological, psychiatric, biological, as well as interpretative theories of criminal behavior. The assumptions underlying the explanations that these theories offer, the empirical evidence supporting and contradicting them, and the attendant solutions that each implies. The different “images” of the “criminal” and “criminal action” upon which they operate are contrasted with each other, and the criminal law. 3 credits

CRIM 3894, 3895, 3896 Criminal Justice Co-op I, II, III
Internships or work experience in local, state, or federal criminal justice institutions. 3 credits each

CRIM 4400 Homicide
The nature of criminal homicide and its investigation are examined from both a legalistic and social scientific perspective. In part I of the course, criminal homicide is legally distinguished from non-criminal homicide, and five different types of criminal homicide are legally distinguished from each other: capital murder, first and second degree murder, and voluntary and involuntary manslaughter. In addition, the main legal defenses to criminal homicide (immaturity, insanity, intoxication, self defense, prevention of dangerous felony, and duress) are reviewed. In part II, various social scientific schemes for classifying and investigating homicide offenses and offenders, including the FBI’s standardized system, are critically compared. In comparing these different classification systems, actual death investigation reports, autopsies, toxicological and ballistic reports, crime scene stills and sketches, and trial court transcripts are utilized. Students will be required to classify homicide offenses and offenders on the bases of the different schemes and methods reviewed. Prerequisite: CRIM 2612. 3 credits

CRIM 5980-5983 Independent Study in Criminal Justice
Selected topics are explored in conjunction with the guidance and direction of the instructor. In instances where the topics change, additional independent study may be taken for a maximum of 6 credits. 1/2/3 credits

CRIM 5986-5987 Special Theoretical Issues in Criminal Justice
Instruction in important emerging areas in the field of crime and justice study. Course content and techniques draw on the expertise of researchers and writers across a wide spectrum of interests. Prerequisite: Completion of 30 program credits or permission of the instructor. 3-6 credits

CRIM 5988 Senior Seminar
A capstone course that consolidates the theoretical and methodological knowledge and skills acquired as a major. Major research report and oral presentation required. 3 credits

Police Program Course Descriptions

EDST 1415 Physical Education I
Physical conditioning and defensive tactics and how they apply to the student’s experience. Various forms of running, freehand exercises, weight training, organized athletics, tumbling and gymnastics. A boxing program reflects students’ reactions under the stress of physical confrontation. Training extends into hand-to-hand combat and self-defense against various weapons. Examinations and critiques included. 3 credits

EDST 1416 Physical Education II
Crash injury management and physiology, water self-survival and lifesaving. Learning the structure and functions of the human body to enable the student to better perform physical functions of present-day law enforcement. Emergency care work is emphasized. 3 credits

ENGL 1025 Communication for State Police
Communications and speech with practical exercises performed in front of a television camera with critiques of the tapes. Interviewing and courtroom testimony. Hostage recovery, public information and police discretion. 2 credits
ENGL 1027 Language and Communication for Law Enforcement Officers
Grammatical aspects of language and the mechanics of composition of primary importance covering police reporting systems, unity and coherence, and sentence and paragraph structure. Semantics and word content, within the parameters of a meaningful and pragmatic vocabulary. Compositions and assigned readings. 3 credits

B.A. in Economics
Chair: Richard J. Hunter, Jr., J.D.
Adviser: Kurt Rothoff, Ph.D.
973-761-9511
www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/ba-economics

The Department of Economics in the Stillman School of Business provides students with a solid foundation in the discipline of economics. For undergraduate students majoring in economics, the objectives of the program are threefold: to help develop a thorough understanding of the economic relationships between business, households and government; to lay the groundwork necessary for graduate studies in economics, law and related fields. Scholarly instruction and continuing personal guidance provide students with a high degree of flexibility in the development of their careers and educational plans.

The course offerings of the department enable undergraduate students to major in economics either through the College of Arts and Sciences or the Stillman School of Business, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, respectively.

In addition to meeting the standards and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences, degree candidates must complete a minimum of 36 credits in the economics and quantitative courses specified below. In general, required courses will be taken in the order listed. However, all programs are worked out in consultation with an economics department adviser who may modify the program in view of each student’s background and objectives.

Economics Minor
Both business and non-business majors may elect to compete a minor in economics. This 18-credit minor consists of two core courses in economics (ECON 1402 and ECON 1403) plus one required course (either ECON 2420 or ECON 2421) and three economics electives. See Index to locate course descriptions.

Environmental Studies Program
Director: Michael Taylor, Ph.D.  973-275-2868
www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/ba-environmental-studies

The Environmental Studies Program is dedicated to the rigorous interdisciplinary education of its students, to the integration of the principles of sustainability into the curriculum and campus life, to experiential learning, and to ongoing ethical considerations of pressing environmental issues. As a major Catholic university, Seton Hall seeks to make significant contributions to sustainability efforts in New Jersey and the region. Questions are framed in the context of social justice and a broad understanding of the Catholic intellectual tradition. Students are challenged by outstanding faculty and work in evolving and technologically-advanced settings. The program prepares students to be leaders in their professional lives and responsible citizens of a global society that is facing immense challenges of limited resources and global climate change.

Environmental studies prepares students to lead the transition to a more environmentally, economically and socially sustainable society, one that balances the needs of the present with those of future generations. Environmental studies provides a multidisciplinary opportunity for the study of the complex relationships between human society and the natural environment, and the environmental consequences that human policies and actions have on our communities and individual lives. The course of study challenges students to understand environmental issues from various disciplinary perspectives, stressing the use of critical thinking, collaborative problem-solving and effective communication. Students benefit from on-campus and extracurricular events with environmental experts regarding specific environmental issues.

The environment protects and sustains life, yet the unrestrained use of the earth’s resources causes problems that affect all humankind. The broad-based acceptance of this statement is producing profound economic and political changes in society at large. This is a topic that transcends several disciplines. Courses in environmental studies are taught by faculty drawn from disciplines across the university, including natural sciences, economics, social sciences, philosophy, history and literature. These courses are rigorous within their traditional disciplines, from natural sciences to political science, philosophy, economics, management and sociology.
Partial scholarships include the Landsberger Foundation Scholarship awarded annually through an essay competition.

Major in Environmental Studies

The Bachelor of Arts in Environmental Studies includes three tracks: public policy, education, and supply chain management. The education track offers a double major in environmental studies and elementary education with an option for Middle School science certification. The supply chain management track includes a certificate from the Stillman School of Business in Supply Chain Management.

Minors in environmental studies and environmental science are also offered. The Minor in Environmental Studies complements any major, and the Minor in Environmental Sciences is designed for students majoring in the natural sciences.

Minor in Environmental Studies

The environmental studies minor is intended to complement a major in any subject to increase awareness of environmental problems and possible solutions.

Required Courses: 10-11 Credits

- ENVL 1011 Introduction to Environmental Studies 3
- ENVL 2122/BIOL 2122 Introduction to Ecology 4

One of the following as a prerequisite to ENVL 2122/
BIOL 2122

- BIOL 1101 Introduction to Biology * 3
- BIOL 1104 Biology and the World Around Us 4
- CHEM 1001 Chemistry and the World Around Us 3

* BIOL 1201 or BIOL 1202 may be substituted for BIOL 1101 or BIOL 1104. CHEM 1123-1124 or CHEM 1107-1108 may be substituted for CHEM 1001-1005.

Elective Courses: 9 Credits

Choose from any ENVL courses.

Environmental Studies 221

Course Descriptions

ENVL 1011 Introduction to Environmental Studies
This course introduces students to the interdisciplinary field of environmental studies, through lectures and discussion led by environmental studies program faculty from the social sciences, natural sciences and humanities. 3 credits

ENVL 1019 (ERTH 1019) Introduction to Geology
Descriptive survey of the science of the earth; the composition of the earth; weathering and erosion; the formulation and movement of glaciers; the origin of mountains, volcanoes, earthquakes and deserts; and geological history of the earth. Field trips when possible. 3 credits

ENVL 1111 (GEOG 1111) Fundamentals of Geography
Geography as a periodic relationship between the physical environment and life. Elements of the natural environment and their influences on human cultural activities. 3 credits

ENVL 2115 (PHIL 2115) Environmental Ethics
Examination of current theoretical and practical issues in the field of environmental ethics, among them, obligations to future generations, human relationships to nature, and the inherent value of the natural world. 3 credits

ENVL 2122 (BIOL 2122) Introduction to Ecology
Application of basic scientific laws, principles and concepts to environmental and resource problems. Scientific concepts such as matter and energy resources; soil, water and food resources; ecosystems, atmosphere and geologic processes; air and water pollution and pesticides will be studied. Problems such as deforestation, loss of biodiversity and global climate change will be examined. Three-hour lecture, three-hour laboratory per week. (Part of the environmental studies program; not a biology major elective course.) Prerequisites: BIOL 1101, BIOL 1104 or CHEM 1001 or equivalent. Lab fee $25. 4 credits

ENVL 2311 (ANTH 2311/SOCI 2311) Ecology, Demography and Environment
Examines diverse socio-cultural strategies used by human societies throughout the world. Addresses a broad range of social formations such as those used by tropical hunters and foragers, small scale agriculturists & pastoralists, peasant farmers, and agro-industrial corporations, as they respond to and transform the natural environment. Students will learn to apply an anthropological perspective towards the understanding of topics of great global import such as population, pollution, industrialization, sustainable development, and ecosystems. 3 credits

ENVL 2321 (HIST 2321) Environmental History of the United States
Explores the changing relationship between people and the environment in the United States. As a general survey of the nation’s environmental history, the course examines a variety of issues, including our changing understanding of the “natural” world and our place in it; the consequences of human efforts to commodify and control nature; social and ethical responses to environmental problems; and the evolution of environmental policy. 3 credits
ENVL 2910 (POLS 2910) Research Methods for Social Sciences
An introduction to social science research. Topics include problem selection and hypothesis formation and testing; research design; sampling; construction and administration of research techniques; elementary data analysis and ethical issues. Some statistical and computer applications. Prerequisite: Math 1203 or MATH 1101. 3 credits

ENVL 3014 (POLS 3014) Ecology and Politics
Explores the relationship between politics and environmental policy in the U.S. Looks at specific problems such as pollution, global climate change, species depletion, land management and hazardous waste. Explores attempts by government and other interested parties to rectify these problems. 3 credits

ENVL 3050-3052 Selected Topics in Environmental Studies
Topics are chosen by the environmental studies faculty. Through lectures, discussion of readings, written assignments, field work and other means, students explore a special topic in the field of environmental studies. 3 credits

ENVL 3150 Geographic Information Systems
Geographic Information Systems are mapping technologies used in a variety of professional fields. In this course, students will acquire basic GIS software skills for representing and interpreting data on maps. Individual and group projects emphasize real-world applications. 3 credits

ENVL 3200/BIOL 3200/CORE 3200 Engaging the World: Sustainability in the Marine Environment
Sustainability in the marine environment involves synchronizing human activities with the rhythms of nature. Students learn the theory of sustainability from the perspectives of marine biology and resource management, religious values, and socio-economic constraints, and study the application of these concepts in a particular geographic setting, Campobello Island, at the US-Canada border. This “travel and learn” course is offered in the Summer term, and includes travel and residence for one week on Campobello Island, off the coast of Maine. The course fulfills the University Core Signature 3 requirement. 3 credits

ENVL 3592 Human and the Natural World: Ideas that Matter
This course explores the various paradigms of the natural world that have been developed over the course of the Catholic intellectual tradition, broadly understood. These paradigms have had enormous influences on the ways that we in the west have thought about, organized, and acted upon in the natural world. These paradigms include significant descriptions and norms about the relationship of humans to the natural world. During this course we analyze and evaluate these dimensions of the paradigms of nature as well as human relationships to the earth. The course fulfills the University Core Signature 3 requirement. 3 credits

ENVL/BIOL 3593 Permaculture Design
The ethics, principles and practices of permaculture (permanent agriculture and permanent culture) are introduced with real life examples of urban, suburban and rural landscape regeneration projects. Using whole systems thinking, students will design human habitats that yield perennial abundance and enduring value. Focus on habitats that are adaptive, resilient and secure places, in a future of peak oil, climate instability, and deepening economic insolvency. The course is accompanied by Permaculture Design Lab (1 credit). Together, the course and the lab lead to a professional certificate in Permaculture Design. 3 credits

ENVL/BIOL 3594 Permaculture Design Lab
Permaculture Design lab is the practical application of material being discussed in Permaculture Design lecture. Students who complete 40 hours of practical work receive a Certificate in Permaculture Design from the Permaculture Design Institute. 1 credit

ENVL 4111, 4112, 4113 Reading and Writing Tutorial in Environmental Studies
The tutorial courses provide opportunities for a senior student to pursue an in-depth reading and writing project in close consultation with a member of the environmental studies faculty. 1-3 credits

ENVL 4511 Practicum
This course provides a field experience under the supervision of a member of the environmental studies faculty. The specific form and requirements of the practicum, e.g. internship, service learning, etc., is developed in close consultation with the instructor. Students share their reflections on the experience during the semester and make a formal presentation of the results. 3 credits

ENVL 5050 Senior Capstone
This course is the senior capstone for all students majoring in environmental studies. A broad topic of pivotal importance to the field is selected annually. Each student prepares an independent research project on a specific aspect of the topic, closely mentored by faculty of the environmental studies program. The course is taught in the Fall semester, but students begin preparation through required Summer reading. The Fall semester is a structured research/writing seminar that culminates in a formal written and oral presentation of the student’s findings. 3 credits

Minor in Middle Eastern Studies
The Arts and Sciences has created the Minor in Middle Eastern Studies in order to provide an interdisciplinary overview encompassing the history, cultures, religious traditions and political institutions of the lands stretching from Morocco to Iran and from Turkey to the Southern tip of the Arabian Peninsula in the period from the rise of Islam to the present day. The rationale of the program is to provide students with a deeper understanding of on-going events and processes in the region by exposing them to a broad and balanced range of courses from a variety of disciplines.
Minor in Middle Eastern Studies/Liberal Studies

The Middle Eastern Studies Minor will consist of three required and three elective courses, totaling 18 credits. No more than two of the three electives can be taken from the same department.

Liberal Studies Program

Fahy Hall Room 314
(973) 761-9000 Ext. 5183
www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/ba-liberal-studies

Director: Mark B. Couch, Ph.D.

The Liberal Studies program leads to a Bachelor of Arts degree. The program provides a more individualized education than can be gained by a concentration in one of the usual majors of the College of Arts and Sciences. In the program an education in the liberal arts is the foundation for students’ intellectual life and provides their preparation for various careers. Students are able to develop a course of study by selecting from a variety of courses. They learn to analyze what they read, to write effectively, and to appreciate art in its various forms. Students have gone on to further study or careers in such areas as education, teaching, business, law, linguistics, and creative writing.

The Liberal Studies program is based in the disciplines of the College of Arts and Sciences. To complete the major, students are required to satisfy the core requirements of the College in addition, students are required to complete a program that consists of an 18-credit minor, 15 additional credits from the liberal arts, a 3-credit writing course, and a Senior Seminar. After these requirements are met, students must take sufficient electives to satisfy minimum graduation requirements of 120 credits.

To earn a bachelor’s degree, students must have a minimum GPA of 2.0. They must also maintain a minimum of a 2.0 GPA within the Liberal Studies program.

Program Requirements

The Liberal Studies major consists of a minimum of 39 credits. Students work out the details of their course of study with the director who provides advice in selecting courses. As soon as students decide to enter the program, they should see the director to file a form for the courses under requirement (C). These courses should fit with the minor in (B) to create a coherent program.

Curriculum

A. Completion of the Core Curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences;

B. Completion of a minor (minimum 18 credits) in one of the following disciplines:
   - Africana Studies
   - Anthropology
   - Archaeology
   - Art History
   - Asian Studies
   - Classical Studies
   - Communication
   - English, French, Italian, Latin, Russian, Spanish Fine Arts
   - History
   - Music Performance
   - Philosophy
   - Religion

C. Completion of four additional courses (12 credits) from the disciplines listed in (B) not required for the Core Curriculum or the selected minor;

D. Completion of one English course from the following:
   - ENGL 2511, ENGL 2514, ENGL 2515, and ENGL 3511;

E. Completion of three creative arts credits from the following:
   - AART 1110-2316, MUAP 1011-3699, COBF 2222 and 3222, COTH 3620 and 3625;

F. Completion of Senior Seminar, IDIS 5001;

G. Completion of additional elective credits sufficient to meet the 120-credit minimum graduation requirement of the College; and

H. A minimum GPA of 2.0 in the courses used to satisfy major requirements (B)-(G) inclusive.

Total: 120
Interdisciplinary Minor, Certificate and Other Special Programs

The College of Arts and Sciences offers several interdisciplinary minor programs: the minor in archaeology, the minor in Italian Studies, and the minor in Russian and East European Studies. The College also offers three interdisciplinary certificate programs: the certificate in data visualization and analysis, the multidisciplinary certificate in gerontology, and the certificate in Russian and East European Studies.

Data Visualization and Analysis Certificate Program/Online Program

Science and Technology Center (McNulty Hall) Room 116
(973) 761-9466
dava@shu.edu

Director: Manfred Minimair, Department of Mathematics and Computer Science

The program is offered by the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science and the Department of Psychology. This pioneering program identifies the skills and knowledge that information workers need to succeed. It trains students to communicate information clearly and effectively through graphic depictions that stimulate and encourage viewer engagement. The students learn how to analyze and portray complex data in an attractive and vivid design format. The students practice preparing real-world data for storing in databases, analyzing data with statistics and machine-learning tools, and using visualization in order to study data and present findings.

Prerequisites

- PSYC 1101 Introduction to Psychology (minimum grade of C-), or equivalent
- Undergraduate admission to Seton Hall University

Curriculum

The certificate is earned by completing 15 course credits and an additional 3-credit internship, for a total of 18 credits.

Course Descriptions

DAVA 3000 Data Visualization

Visualization is crucial for understanding complex information and for enabling humans to act on information appropriately. For example, visualization is used in many application areas such as social and health sciences, business, the natural sciences and engineering. This course introduces the foundations of information visualization rooted in cognitive psychology and perception. This course also teaches retrieving information from data sources, such as data bases and the internet, preparing data for processing, as well as creating and presenting information visualizations using standard software. 3 credits

DAVA 3010 Data Mining

This course introduces the foundations of applied data mining. There is a need for extracting useful information from raw data in fields such as social and health sciences, business, the natural sciences and engineering. This course covers the fundamental ideas and algorithms of data mining. Furthermore, it teaches applying data mining techniques in order to extract useful information from data. Standard software for data mining will be used. The course is intended for any student desiring an introduction to data mining. Prerequisite: MATH 0012 or appropriate placement. 3 credits
DAVA 4011 Intern in Visual Analytics
This course provides credit for students participating in an internship experience through the Career Center. As part of the requirements, students are required to give a presentation about their experience in the departmental seminar. Students interested in the internship experience are required to consult the departmental internship adviser. Prerequisites: DAVA 3000 and PSYC 3214 with an average 2.5 GPA in each. Corequisites: DAVA 3010 and MATH 1203 (or equivalent).
3 credits

Archaeology Minor Program
The Archaeology program is co-sponsored by the Departments of Religion, Languages, Literatures and Cultures, and Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work.

Participating faculty bring a broad range of academic experience from disciplines of arts and humanities, behavioral and exact sciences.

The Minor in Archaeology is a program designed to lead the student to ancient foundations of human intellectual, social and material achievement through guided applications of academic disciplines.

A liberal arts education is intended to provide students with knowledge about a variety of academic areas and some experience in several of its disciplines. Archaeology as discourse about ancient people and material culture is a discipline that integrates into its own operations a variety of academic disciplines.

Students who minor in archaeology can achieve more than knowledge of the deepest foundations of human civilizations. Because of its practical and experimental nature, archaeology facilitates the integration of academic disciplines into a more coherent vision of what a broad liberal arts education is all about.

Students are encouraged to integrate their majors and/or minors with the study of archaeology where possible. Projects chosen range from studies in art, artifacts or architecture of antiquity to chemistry, computer applications and photography. Museum independent study courses at the Seton Hall University Museum of Anthropology and Archaeology (SHUMAA) are available and encouraged. Archaeological field school offerings at other institutions may be taken as independent study credit(s) with permission from the participating faculty.

For advisement in the archaeology minor program, please contact Dr. Raymond Capra (raymond.capra@shu.edu) in the Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures and/or Dr. Rhonda Quinn (rhonda.quinn@shu.edu) in the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work.

Archaeology Minor
Requirements
Each course is offered for 3 credits and may be taken either under ARCH or under the cross-listed department designation.

Italian Studies Program

The Italian Studies program capitalizes on Seton Hall’s unique resources. The Charles and Joan Alberto Italian Studies Institute coordinates initiatives throughout the university, organizes conferences and oversees the awarding of scholarships to students working in Italian Studies. A vibrant Italian Language and Literature program, housed in the Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures offers an array of courses in Italian (on-campus and in Rome). The Joseph M. and Geraldine C. La Motta Chair in Italian Studies sponsors a lecture series; the Valente Family Italian Studies Library has an important book collection on the third floor of the Walsh Library; and the University Archives house detailed records from the historically important Italian American communities of New Jersey.

Italian Studies Minor

The Italian Studies Minor (18 credits) offers outstanding preparation for graduate school, or a career in international business, diplomacy, teaching, social work and the law. Recent graduates of the Italian Studies Minor have established careers in finance, tourism and the fashion industry, and some have gone on to the best law schools in the United States. Students majoring in any field are encouraged to consider the advantages of a minor program that provides focused attention on the history, language and culture of a country and people whose experiences continue to be fundamental in shaping the modern world.

Requirements

The Italian Studies Minor requires 18 credits of study distributed among at least three of the participating departments and programs. Students must complete at least 6 credits in Italian language and literature at any level.

Multidisciplinary Certificate in Gerontology

Director: Emma Quartaro, D.S.W., A.C.S.W., L.C.S.W. (Social Work)
Advisers: St. Romain (Law); Boroff (Business); Levy (Psychology); Mirabella (Political Science and Public Affairs); Pritchett (Africana Studies); Smith (Philosophy)

The multidisciplinary certificate program in gerontology is a concentration of studies designed for those who wish to understand and advance the quality of life of older persons. The concentration may be taken in addition to an appropriate major: nursing, social work, sociology, social and behavioral sciences/occupational therapy, business, psychology, biology, political science, Africana studies, education or religion. Students wishing admission into the concentration should contact the program director and/or the gerontology adviser in their discipline, as indicated above.

Requirements

In addition to the requirements of the school and the major upon which the concentration is built, the following four units - a minimum of 17 credits - are required. Courses are all 3 credits, except as noted.

I. Gerontology: 8 credits
AFAM 3312 Advanced Seminar in Gerontology
NUTH 3002 Gerontological Nursing (2 credits)
SOWK 1911 Introduction to Gerontology

II. Electives: 6 credits from the following courses:
PSYC 1214 Adult Development
SOCI 2511/AFAM 2328 Growing Older: The Sociology of Aging
SOWK 1912 Psychosocial Aspects of Aging

III. Internship
An internship (practicum or clinical) in direct service or research is required of all students. Students in the professions need not do another internship but must complete their required clinical or practicum in aging. Students in majors not requiring an internship must complete an internship. Contact the director of the Gerontology Program to plan for satisfaction of the internship requirement.
3 credits minimum

IV. Additional electives (not required)
Students wishing to supplement the required courses should consider the following courses:

Social and Behavioral Sciences
ANTH 2224 Health and Medicine: An Anthropological Approach
PSYC 2212 Developmental Psychology
SOCI 2813 Self and Society

The Life Sciences
BIOL 1102-1103 Human Anatomy and Physiology I-II

Policy and Economics
POLS 2110 Contemporary Issues in U.S. Public Policy
SOWK 2201 Social Problems and Programs
SOWK 2301 Social Policy Analysis

Contact the Director of the Gerontology Program for additional elective options. See Index to locate elective course descriptions.

Russian and East European Studies Program

Fahy Hall
(973) 761-9386
www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/russian-east-european-studies

Director: Maxim Matusevich, Ph.D.

The Russian and East European Studies Program brings together students and faculty from a range of different disciplines around a common interest in the cultures, languages, history and political institutions of Eastern Europe and the territories of the former USSR. Students pursuing a minor or certificate in the program receive a comprehensive interdisciplinary training preparing them for a life-long engagement with this intriguing and important region. In addition to the academic offerings students in the program will have the opportunity to take part in a wide variety of cultural activities including lectures, forums, films, field trips and our study abroad program in St. Petersburg.

Minor in Russian and East European Studies

Requirements:

To complete the Minor in Russian and East European Studies student must receive 23 credits consisting of eight credits of intermediate level Russian and 15 credits of area studies courses drawn from the list below. The language requirement may be waived for students passing an advanced level proficiency exam in a major Slavic or East European language.

Courses:

Language:
RUSS 2001 Intermediate Russian I
RUSS 2002 Intermediate Russian II
RUSS 2011 Interactive Intermediate Russian I (1 credit)
RUSS 2012 Interactive Intermediate Russian II (1 credit)

Area Studies:
DIPL 4185 Foreign Policy of the Post-Soviet States
DIPL 4193 Eastern European and Post-Soviet Politics
ENGL 3401 Classical Russian Literature
ENGL 3402 Contemporary Russian Literature
HIST 3246 Kievan Rus’ and Moscovy
HIST 3256 History of Imperial Russia
HIST 3257 East Central Europe
HIST 3266 Twentieth Century Russia
HIST 3276 The Transformation of Russia, 1894-1932

RUSS 4431-4432 Modern Russian Literature I and II
RUSS 3601 Russian Cinema
RUSS 4463 Russian Drama
RUSS 4801-4802 Studies in Russian Literature I and II

Additional area studies electives may be accepted for credit toward the minor at the discretion of the Russian and East European Studies Program Director. No more than 9 credits of area studies electives may be taken within a single department.

Students wishing to receive a certificate in Russian and East European Studies must complete all the requirements for the minor plus a certificate essay, a substantial work of original research produced in the course of a three credit research seminar or directed reading.

Certificate in Russian and East European Studies

The College of Arts and Sciences offers an undergraduate certificate program on Russia and East Europe, a broad multidisciplinary course of study leading to a certificate of proficiency in Russian and East European studies.

With a broad liberal arts background, students will gain a well-planned, comprehensive introduction to Russia and Eastern Europe, including the fundamentals of the Russian language and the history, literature, politics and economies of the region.

The program includes a minimum of 30 credits in language and area studies courses.

Program Requirements

The basic program consists of 12 credits in Russian language (or a proficiency examination in another language of Eastern Europe), 15 credits in area courses, and a 3-credit program essay.

The Elizabeth Ann Seton Center for Women’s Studies was established in the spirit of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton, whose life of activism, spirituality and leadership serves as an inspiration to our community. The center offers an interdisciplinary minor in Women and Gender Studies.

Minor in Women and Gender Studies

As an 18 credit minor, Women and Gender Studies is an excellent complement to virtually any major. It will strengthen students’ academic preparation and better prepare them for a competitive and rapidly changing job market. Students’ preparation for the professions (law, medicine, education) and the corporate world will be greatly enhanced by a rigorous analysis of gender and its importance in the wider culture. Students who have explored the disciplines through the gender lens will be better prepared to understand the complexities of the work world.

The women and gender studies minor at Seton Hall University is an interdisciplinary exploration of the experiences of women and the diverse perspectives on women and gender. Courses will investigate the roles of gender in society and culture.

Course Descriptions

See cross-listed courses for additional course descriptions.

WMST 1401 Women, Culture and Society
An interdisciplinary course designed to introduce students to the contributions of women to history, society and culture, and enable them to understand and evaluate the effects of social institutions and cultural expectations on gender. 3 credits

WMST 3191 Independent Study 1 credit
WMST 3193 Independent Study 3 credits
WMST 3194 Independent Study 2 credits
Directed study and research in chosen area of women and gender studies selected by the student in consultation with the program director. Requires extensive collaboration with a faculty member in the specific discipline and a major research problem. 3 credits

WMST 3332 Special Topics in Women’s Studies 3 credits

WMST 3382/ENGL 3382 English Catholic Women Writers of the 17th and 18th Centuries
Through texts by and about English Catholic women composed between 1660 and 1800, students in this course will learn about the challenges and opportunities facing these women and the ways – textual and practical – in which they faced them. Students will explore how text, whether private or public, provided 17th and 18th century English Catholic women with a means for negotiating the opportunities and limitations they faced as women, as Catholics, and as Catholic women. 3 credits
Additional Interdisciplinary Courses

In addition to departmental courses the College of Arts and Sciences offers several interdisciplinary courses that may fulfill Core Curriculum and certain major requirements. Interdisciplinary courses are taught, both individually and in teams, by faculty from various arts and sciences departments.

Students interested in taking any of the following courses should refer to the A&S Core Curriculum or consult with an adviser in the appropriate department.

IDIS 1201 (ARCH 1001) Archaeology for Liberal Arts
Multifaceted presentation draws on humanities and sciences in theory and practice. Students handle ancient artifacts, become acquainted with processing data scientifically and learn about ways scientific knowledge is integrated into an understanding of human life. They study ancient archaeological sites together with literature of art, history, politics and religion derived from them and provide a liberal arts framework within which to place a career-oriented major. 3 credits

IDIS 1501 Peoples and Cultures of America I
Introduces the various racial, ethnic, and religious groups who comprise the current American mosaic, from its earliest Native American inhabitants to the most recent immigrants. An overview of their cultural contributions and the manner in which gender and class influences their experiences constitute an important focus. Readings are drawn from original sources as well as monographs. Guest speakers and films will be used in this interdisciplinary multicultural course. 3 credits

IDIS 1502 Peoples and Cultures of America II
Presents a comparative overview of those foreign cultures that have sent and are sending America immigrants from Asian, African, European, Caribbean, and Latin American nations. Readings are obtained from original sources and monographs. A multicultural course exploring cultural diversity in a global context. Guest speakers and films will be used in this interdisciplinary multicultural course. 3 credits

IDIS 5001 Senior Seminar in Liberal Studies.
This course is a senior seminar for students in the Liberal Studies Program. The aim of the course is to give students the chance to examine how their previous coursework in the program contributes to their education in the context of a rigorous seminar. This is a writing-intensive course that focuses on issues within the humanities and discussions with the director. 3 credits

IDIS 5002 Senior Seminar in Social and Behavioral Science
Interdisciplinary senior seminar for social science majors which fulfills the graduation requirements for the SOBS or the SOBT major. Topics for the participants are decided upon in consultation with the faculty members directing the seminars and vary by the student’s minor field. 3 credits

Dual Degree Programs

The College of Arts and Sciences offers a variety of dual degree programs. In most cases, an incoming first-year student can be admitted to the entire program conditionally on performing above a defined level during the first phase of the program. Students may be admitted to the second phase of a program based on outstanding performance and available space.

For further details regarding any of these programs, contact the department or Enrollment Services.

Department of Biological Sciences Dual Degree Programs

The following dual degree programs are administered through the Department of Biological Sciences and the School of Health and Medical Sciences (SHMS). Please see the Department of Biological Sciences section of this catalogue for admission and curriculum information.

Optometry

An agreement with the Pennsylvania College of Optometry permits outstanding students to spend three years at Seton Hall University and be admitted to their optometry program. The B.S. from Seton Hall University is granted on successful completion of the first year of the optometry program.

Physical Therapy

The Department of Biological Sciences offers a 3+4 dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Science in Biology and a Doctor of Physical Therapy with the School of Health and Medical Sciences. This seven-year program offers select students an opportunity to study in a traditional liberal arts environment as well as in a major healthcare organization. For a complete description of this program, see the Department of Biological Sciences section of this catalogue.

Physician Assistant

The Department of Biological Sciences offers a 3+3 dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Science in Biology and a Master of Science in Physician Assistant with the School of Health and Medical Sciences. This six-year program offers select students the opportunity to study in a traditional liberal arts environment as well as in a major healthcare organization. For a complete description of this program, see the Department of Biological Sciences section of this catalogue.

Athletic Training

There are three options for this six-year program. The Department of Biological Sciences offers a 3+2 dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Arts in Biology and Master of Science in Athletic Training with the School of Health and Medical Sciences. The third option involves completion of the Bachelor of Arts in Social and Behavioral Sciences program offered through the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work. Both programs offer select students the opportunity to study in a liberal arts environment as well as in a major healthcare organization. For a complete description of the Biology programs, see the Department of Biological Sciences. For a complete description of the Social and Behavioral Sciences Program, see the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work section of this catalogue.

Social and Behavioral Sciences Dual Degree Programs

The following Social and Behavioral Science dual degree programs are offered in conjunction with the School of Health and Medical Sciences. Please see the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work section of this catalogue for admission and curriculum information.

Occupational Therapy

The College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Health and Medical Sciences offer a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Social and Behavioral Sciences, and a Master of Science in Occupational Therapy. This six-year program offers the opportunity to study in a traditional liberal arts environment as well as pursue a professional degree in one of the health professions.

Athletic Training Program

The College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Health and Medical Sciences offer a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Social and Behavioral Science (B.A.) and a Master of Science in Athletic Training (M.S.A.T.). This five year program offers students the opportunity to study in a liberal arts environment as well as pursue a professional degree in one of the health professions.

Five-Year Dual Degree Programs

The College of Arts and Sciences offers eight five-year programs: the B.A. or B.S. degree and Master of Business Administration program, the B.A. Political Science or Sociology/Master of Public Administration program, the B.A./M.A. in Museum Professions program, the B.A./M.A. in English program, the B.A./M.A. in History program, the B.A./M.A.E. in Psychological Studies, the B.A. in Psychology/M.S. in Experimental Psychology, and, in cooperation with New Jersey Institute of Technology, the Physics/Chemistry and Engineering degree program.

B.A. or B.S./M.B.A.

The College of Arts and Sciences and the Stillman School of Business at Seton Hall University offer joint programs that lead to:
- a Bachelor of Arts or Science degree offered by the College of Arts and Sciences; and
- a Master of Business Administration degree from the Stillman School of Business, whose programs are fully accredited by the AACSB (Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business - International).

Both degrees can be earned in five years. The program has a two-fold purpose: to provide a broad-based undergraduate education with a comprehensive grasp of one arts and sciences major; and to permit students to earn a Master of Business Administration within a time frame of five years.

Students in the program take arts and sciences courses during the first three years. After taking the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) and, at the end of the third year, students apply for the Master of Business Administration program. Applicants who are accepted take a combination of arts and sciences and business courses during the fourth year. They must earn a minimum of 99 liberal arts credits and satisfy applicable core and major requirements.

At the end of the fourth year and upon completion of a minimum of 120 credits, students in the program receive a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science degree. The fifth year is devoted to business courses, and a Master of Business Administration degree is awarded upon completion of all requirements and a minimum total of 140 credits. Courses are selected with the assistance of each student’s faculty adviser. More information about this program is available through Enrollment Services.

B.A. in Political Science/M.P.A.
B.A. in Sociology/M.P.A.

The Department of Political Science and Public Affairs and the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work offer a dual degree program that leads to two degrees completed in a five-year span: a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree in Political Science or Sociology and a Master of Public Administration (M.P.A.) degree.

The program has a two-fold purpose: to provide a broad-based undergraduate education with a comprehensive grasp of one’s major in either Sociology or Political Science; and to permit students to earn a Master of Public Administration degree within the timeframe of five years.

Students may apply for admission to the joint degree program when first making application to the University or after they begin their studies. Students who are accepted into the University and declare Sociology or Political Science as their majors also may be provisionally accepted for work toward the M.P.A. degree. Final acceptance into the M.P.A. degree program, however, will only occur upon successful completion of no fewer than 89 credits of the undergraduate degree program with a grade point average of no less than 3.2 and the successful completion of the M.P.A. application process.

In applying to the M.P.A. degree program, which is fully accredited by the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration (NASPAA), the student must follow the regular application procedures for admission to the M.P.A. program, except that he/she must:

Undergraduate Catalogue 2015-16

SETON HALL UNIVERSITY
• achieve a cumulative GPA that is 3.2 or above by the end of his/her third year;
• have transferred no more than 18 credits to the University, and
• submit three letters of recommendation from his/her undergraduate instructors, two of which must be from full-time political science or sociology faculty.

Full matriculation in the M.P.A. degree program is completed only upon the recommendation of the Graduate Admissions Committee of the M.P.A. program.

Students accepted into this program follow the academic program prescribed by their majors in consultation with their advisers (including the core requirements in Arts and Sciences and the requirements of their majors) during the first three years. If accepted into this program, students may take a maximum of four M.P.A. courses (12 credits) during their senior years, which count toward the completion of the bachelor’s degree.

At the end of the fourth year and upon completion of a minimum of 120 credits, students in the program receive a Bachelor of Arts degree. If the student wants to complete the five-year B.A./M.P.A. degree, twelve of those credits must come from the core courses of the graduate public administration program. During the fifth year, 27 additional M.P.A. credits, which include a 3-credit internship, must be completed. It is highly recommended that students wishing to complete both degrees in the five year time frame take at least two Summer courses after their fourth year.

For further information, please contact the Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work, or the Department of Political Science and Public Affairs.

Dual Degree Programs in Psychological Studies

The Departments of Psychology (College of Arts and Sciences) and Professional Psychology and Family Therapy (College of Education and Human Services) offer a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology (B.A.) and Master of Arts in Education (M.A.E.). This five-year program permits students to take four classes (12 credits) from the psychological studies core curriculum during their senior year. Satisfactory completion of the M.A.E. program would enable entry into one of the PPFT Ed.S. practitioner programs in School Psychology, Mental Health Counseling, or Marriage & Family Therapy. For more information, please contact the Director of Graduate Studies in the Department of Psychology.

B.A. Psychology/M.S. Experimental Psychology (3+2) Dual Degree Program

The Department of Psychology offers a dual degree program leading to a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology (B.A.) and a Master of Science in Experimental Psychology (M.S.). This five-year program permits undergraduate students to take 12 graduate credits in their senior year, which would count toward the completion of the bachelor’s degree. Satisfactory performance in these remaining 24 credits of graduate-level coursework as well as an empirical thesis project completed in the fifth year would earn students an M.S. degree in Experimental Psychology.

As part of the coursework in the M.S. Experimental Psychology program, students have the option of focusing their electives on a Behavioral Neuroscience or a Psychological Science (general) concentration. Both areas would well prepare students for a broad range of career possibilities, or would enable students to more successfully compete for admission into a Ph.D. program in a number of experimental psychology fields such as cognitive, developmental, social, and biological psychology, or neuroscience.

Students may apply for the B.A./M.S. option in their junior year (second semester). For more information please contact the Director of Graduate Studies in the Department of Psychology.

Engineering Degree Program in Collaboration with NJIT

Seton Hall University and the New Jersey Institute of Technology in Newark together offer a five-year joint degree program that allows students interested in biomedical, civil, computer, industrial, electrical, mechanical and chemical engineering to earn both the B.S. degree from Seton Hall in physics or chemistry and the B.Eng. from NJIT in five years. Students in this program take the first three years of coursework at Seton Hall, and the fourth and fifth years at NJIT. The B.S. is awarded at the completion of four years of work and the B.Eng. after the fifth. Students interested in this program should contact the chairperson of the Department of Physics (for biomedical, civil, computer, industrial, mechanical and electrical engineering) or the chairperson of the Department of Chemistry (for chemical engineering) for details regarding this program.

The principal advantage of such a five-year program is that it affords students a broader education in the humanities and the social sciences than the typical four-year engineering program allows, and thus better prepares them for careers in engineering, which require interaction with persons not trained in engineering. Such careers are found both in the corporate world and in the public sector and often include high-level managerial responsibility and communication with the non-technical public.

Mission Statement

Our mission is to enrich each student’s life through an ethics-centered education focusing on transforming concepts into business practice.
Programs of Study

The Stillman School of Business offers programs leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration, and Master of Business Administration, as well as Master of Science degrees in Accounting and Professional Accounting. The Graduate Catalogue contains information about the M.B.A. and M.S. programs.

The program leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration is built on a foundation of liberal arts courses. Studies in the first two years provide the economic, quantitative, behavioral, regulatory, scientific and philosophical foundations of business and society in general. In addition, the program enhances students’ competency in change management, communication, critical thinking, ethics and social responsibility, teamwork and technology. For all concentrations, the program culminates with Business Policy, a course that integrates skills developed in previous courses.

As part of the graduation requirement for either the B.S. or B.A. in Business Administration, students are required to take both pre-assessment and post-assessment tests. Furthermore, during either their sophomore or senior year, as decided by the School, students are required to participate in an undergraduate assessment panel.

Students pursuing the B.S. in Business Administration concentrate in accounting, economics, finance, information technology management, management, marketing, mathematical finance or sport management. These students also may use general elective credits to pursue a second concentration or a minor in international business. The concentrations in accounting, finance, economics, marketing and mathematical finance are offered during the day only, on a full- or part-time basis. Evening students wishing to concentrate in information technology management must first contact the chair to discuss availability. Students pursuing the B.A. in Business Administration concentrate in arts and sciences, international studies, diplomacy and international relations or general studies.

Students pursuing the B.A. or B.S. in Business Administration may apply for admission to the Stillman School’s Master of Business Administration program through a dual-degree study option. In addition, the School offers a minor in international business (to business majors only). This minor is designed to enhance a business major’s relevance in today’s global business environment.

The Stillman School also offers several programs for students majoring in areas other than business administration. These programs include a five-year B.A. or B.S./M.B.A. (dual degrees including a liberal arts bachelor’s degree and Master of Business Administration) and a minor in business administration. Business and non-business majors may pursue certificates in information technology management and supply chain management, the minor in accounting, the minor in economics and the minor in legal studies in business, which is designed to help students study how to manage the legal aspects of business, rather than simply learn black-letter law, that is, a set of legal rules.

Programs of the Stillman School are fully accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business - International (AACSB), a distinction shared by less than one-half of business schools nationwide. Seton Hall was the first private university in the state of New Jersey to earn this distinction. This is a professional accreditation above the regional accreditation held by most business schools. Accredited since 1978, the Stillman School meets the highest standards in business education.

In 2010, the School earned separate accreditation of its accounting programs, a distinction shared by only 181 business schools worldwide.

Honor Society and Business Fraternity

Beta Gamma Sigma is the national honor society in business and management. Membership in Beta Gamma Sigma is the highest recognition an undergraduate or graduate business student can receive. Founded as a national organization in 1913, Beta Gamma Sigma encourages scholarship, promotes the advancement of business education and fosters integrity in the conduct of business.

Founded in 1904, Alpha Kappa Psi is the nation’s oldest professional business fraternity. Its purpose is to educate the public, the business community and its members on the role of the free enterprise system and the ethical responsibilities in business. More than 200 Alpha Kappa Psi chapters across the country welcome aspiring men and women to membership.

Experiential Education – Cooperative Education/Internships

Experiential Education at Seton Hall University is an educational strategy in which students apply factual, practical and theoretical knowledge in a real-world work experience. Programs include cooperative education/internships, community service, service learning, volunteer work and field experiences. The common element of these programs is that all provide the opportunity to combine classroom learning with “hands on” work and learning experiences. Students’ participation in a variety of experiential programs enhances the academic experience and contributes to their career and lifelong success.

Internships/cooperative education can be paid or non-paid and credit bearing or non-credit bearing. All students interested in either a credit-bearing or non-credit internship/co-op experience should schedule an appointment with a career professional at The Career Center.

Internships/co-ops are available to business majors for academic credit in the Stillman School. An internship/co-op integrates substantive supervised work experience with intentional learning/academic goals involving the student in a career-related activity. Before taking the first co-op course, students must complete 30 credits, maintain a 3.0 GPA and receive the approval of the co-op faculty adviser in a major area of study. Undergraduate students with a GPA between 2.5 and 2.99 will be eligible with the recommendation and signature of a faculty member with whom they have completed a course. Students pursuing a non-credit co-op/ internship must have at least a 2.5 GPA. Transfer students must have completed a semester to be eligible. Students are not required to take all 9 co-op credits. While credits earned through internship/co-op courses are normally considered to be general elective credits, 3 credits of co-op coursework are generally required for students concentrating in Management and 6 credits for Sport Management.

Courses in the Internship/Cooperative Education program within the Stillman School of Business all require sophomore standing. Courses include:

Cooperative Education/Internship I: 1-3 credits
Preprofessional introductory/exploratory experience in a field. Assignments are made in an entry-level position of employment. Taken only with the permission of an intern/co-op faculty adviser.

Cooperative Education/Internship II: 1-3 credits
Intermediate introductory professional experience in a field. Taken only with the permission of an intern/co-op faculty adviser.

Cooperative Education/Internship III: 1-3 credits
Professional experience in the field specifically oriented to the academic major and career objectives. Taken only with the permission of an intern/co-op faculty adviser.

Center for Entrepreneurial Studies
Director: Susan Scherreik, M.B.A.

The Center for Entrepreneurial Studies was created in 2003 to raise student awareness of self-employment as a career option. The Center fosters the collaboration of faculty, students, alumni and entrepreneurs in a variety of activities and projects to advance hands-on entrepreneurial learning at the Stillman School. The Center is integral to the Stillman School’s mandate to prepare students for careers in the 21st century by acknowledging the growing importance of entrepreneurship in the global economy.

Institute for International Business
Director: Larry McCarthy, Ph.D.

The Institute for International Business, established in 1964, serves as the center of international business expertise for students, faculty and the business community. The Institute is critical to the mission of Seton Hall University and of the Stillman School in accepting the challenges of the global marketplace. As a center for academic excellence, the Institute aims to assure that the academic and business communities work in harmony to create an atmosphere of competence, progress, professionalism, and integrity in the realm of international business.

The Institute sponsors international courses, lectures, internships and scholarly exchange for both students and faculty with several leading academic institutions as part of the mission of the Stillman School. Endowed with a grant from the estate of W. Paul Stillman in 1994 to support its initiatives, the Institute funds internationally focused faculty research.

At the undergraduate level, the Institute offers a minor in international business in which the curriculum includes language and cultural components, as well as core business courses. The concentration in International Business and Certificate in International Business, offered as part of the M.B.A. program, consist of courses in the international aspects of accounting, economics, finance, management and marketing. The certificate also is available to qualified individuals from industry on a non-degree basis.

The Dr. Gerald P. Buccino ’63 Center for Leadership Development
Director: Michael M. Reuter, M.B.A.

Program Website: http://www.shu.edu/academics/business/leadership-development

Founded in 1994, the Center for Leadership Development has as its mission to develop extraordinary leaders who will be recognized for the values and principles, their vision and purpose in life, the outstanding results they achieve, their leadership, their service to the community, and for their love, dedication and caring.

A major initiative of the Center for Leadership Development is the Leadership Development Program, an honors program, with a specialized curriculum that combines traditional course work with practical experiential learning. These courses, outlined under the section Leadership Development Program, have been recommended by our Leadership Advisory Council. The program enhances its members’ core values, competencies, and skills enabling them to be effective leaders, corporate citizens, and community servants.

Students in the program participate in unique learning opportunities and experiences that broaden and deepen their potential to be highly effective leaders. Development of self-knowledge early in the student’s university career is a key focus, since it is the foundation for highly effective and successful leadership. Special courses explore leadership theories as well as their practical and operational application. From Freshman through Senior year, students engage with... senior executives and business professionals, who serve as their mentors and coaches, to learn from their rich and varied leadership experiences.

Throughout their university careers students in the program are provided with opportunities to assume high-visibility leadership roles that allow them to discover, test, and hone their leadership skills. At the end of their four-year journey these highly motivated student leaders have a track record of academic excellence, highly-developed and tested leadership skills and a deep understanding of servant leadership. They have a high degree of self-confidence, a strong sense of their life’s purpose and a passion to succeed in all that they do.

In addition to the academic requirements, students must complete 80 hours of community service, participate in the group mentoring program, hold leadership positions both on and off campus, attend leadership functions, adhere to the Leadership Code of Conduct, and maintain a GPA of 3.6 or higher.

Market Research Center

Director: Adam Warner, M.B.A.

Program Website: http://www.shu.edu/academics/business/market-research/

The Market Research Center provides a hands-on learning environment and programs for students to gain practical market research skills and experience. At the Center, students, faculty, and business clients partner together on customized market research projects across a variety of industries. The Center also offers opportunities for conference center, observation room, and audio-visual recording equipment. Students learn transferable market research skills with the opportunity to conduct interviews, moderate focus groups, create web-based surveys, uncover insights and develop actionable solutions for real business clients.

Our programs are seamlessly integrated into many courses at the Stillman School of Business. However, to be better prepared to enter the profession – please explore our Market Research Certificate option. Details about the certificate can be found on our website or elsewhere in this catalog.

For more information, for both students wishing to learn more about the Market Research Center or the Market Research Certificate, and businesses interested in learning more about partnering with the Market Research Center, please visit our website or contact us directly at (973) 275-6489.

Micah Center for Business Ethics

Director: Henry J. Amoroso, J.D.

The Micah Center for Business Ethics seeks to engage and support the development of Stillman School faculty and assist them with incorporating consideration of ethical behaviors and decision making into the curricula of business courses, all within the context of Catholic Social Tradition and the Catholic mission of Seton Hall. Through business creativity and innovation, we seek to address the human problem of making the world a better place to live and an even better place to bring up future generations.

Center for Securities Trading and Analysis

Director: Elven Riley, B.A.

The Center for Securities Trading and Analysis is designed to mimic the actual trading room activity of a hedge fund, wealth manager or corporate treasurer. Several Bloomberg Professional Workstations are installed to provide the same dynamic market information flow that industry professionals rely on. Filling in with today’s world news, two wall mounted monitors complete the sounds and information of an active trading environment. The laboratory model encourages interaction and experimentation that provides students with an outstanding opportunity to test the real-world relevance of classroom theories in accounting, economics, finance, international business and law. In addition to the traditional faculty-student learning relationship, industry professionals are invited by the two active student clubs, the Investment Club and Finance Club, to lead workshops on investment techniques as well as on career directions. Over their academic careers, students become more confident and self-aware of how to apply successfully classroom knowledge with real-world demands, always a skill set sought by our corporate partners.

B.S. in Business Administration

To attain the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, all students must satisfactorily complete liberal arts courses, both required and elective, business core courses, the requirements of their concentration and sufficient free electives to total 120 credits (121 credits for students concentrating in accounting). The last 30 credits of the B.S. in Business Administration degree must be taken at the University.

To complete degree requirements satisfactorily, the student must have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.0. Each concentration specifies the average required in concentration courses as well as any minimum grade requirements for specific courses. Each student is advised by a faculty member in the area of concentration. The ultimate responsibility for complying with curriculum requirements rests with the student. Choice of a program of study must be made before completion of 75 credits, but normally occurs by the end of the sophomore year.

B.A. in Business Administration

Adviser: Ann M. Mayo, Ph.D.

The Stillman School provides education geared toward the complex practical needs of business leaders. Consistent with that objective, the School offers the Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration program to enable Seton Hall students to obtain competencies of the business core and a breadth of knowledge in liberal arts and other fields.

The B.A. in Business Administration (B.A.B.A.) requires a minimum of 120 credits, including 82 core credits and 38 credits of selected concentration and elective coursework. Electives may be taken at any undergraduate college or school of Seton Hall, but may not exceed the maximum number of business credits noted within each concentration. Students may choose a concentration in arts and sciences, international studies, diplomacy and international relations or general studies.

Concentration in Arts and Sciences

Students may select a concentration from any one of the arts and sciences fields. The number of credits required is the equivalent of a minor program in the chosen area; this number generally ranges from 18-30 credits. In addition, students will be required to elect an appropriate course in history perspective through consultation with their advisers. The remaining electives shall be taken in the College of Arts and Sciences. It is recommended that these elective credits be taken from any arts and sciences courses that are NOT part of a student’s chosen concentration. Elective courses may be selected only from the arts and sciences curricula.

Concentration in International Studies

Students who declare a concentration in international studies are required to take 27 credits, which consists of 12 credits in a specific language sequence, 6 credits in the cultural and geopolitical component, and 9 credits in the international business component (see Minor in International Business). They also must complete the core credits. The remaining elective credits may be taken in any college or school of Seton Hall.

---

Notes:

1. Prerequisites are strictly enforced. Students registering prematurely for courses will be administratively withdrawn.
2. Participation in Senior Assessment Panels, which take place in Fall, requires the completion of all business core courses except BPOL 5000.
Concentration in Diplomacy and International Relations

Students may elect to declare a concentration in diplomacy and international relations. Students who declare this concentration will complete the requirements of the minor in diplomacy and international relations offered by the School of Diplomacy and International Relations. Remaining elective credits must be selected from courses offered by the College of Arts and Sciences.

Concentration in General Studies

In addition to the core, students may accumulate their elective credits from any college or school of Seton Hall. Business electives may not exceed 9 credits. Students in the B.A.B.A. program also are allowed (and encouraged) to take a maximum of 9 credits through the co-op program. They must meet the criteria for participation in this program (see “Experiential Education/Cooperative Education/Internship” in this catalogue).

Dual Degree Programs

B.S.B. or B.A.B.A./M.B.A. Program

(For Business Majors)

Adviser: Steven Lorenzet, Ph.D.

Students pursuing either the B.S. or B.A. in Business Administration have the option to apply to a dual degree program in which they can earn both their bachelor’s degree and a Master of Business Administration within a five-year period. Two options are available. Students may: (1) apply for dual admission to both degrees at the time of their initial application to the School or (2) apply for admission to the M.B.A. portion of the program during their junior year.

To be offered admission to both programs at the time of initial application, prospective students must have an SAT score of 1300 or higher (math and critical reading components). To be eligible to begin graduate coursework (generally after the completion of 90 credits), dual-admissions applicants must have attained a GPA of 3.5 or higher.

Stillman students who do not apply for dual admission may apply after completing between 75 and 90 undergraduate credit hours. Applicants must meet all requirements for admission to the M.B.A. program, including earning a GMAT score of 500 or higher (or equivalent GRE results) and attaining an overall GPA of 3.5 or above.

If accepted, the student takes a mixture of undergraduate and graduate business courses in the fourth year. The fifth year is reserved exclusively for graduate business courses. When the student has completed all undergraduate degree requirements and at least 120 credit hours, the student receives a bachelor’s degree. After completing the M.B.A. requirements and a minimum of 150 total credit hours, the student also receives an M.B.A.

The breakdown of the minimum 150 credit hours is as follows:

1. Students complete all requirements of the B.S.B. or B.A.B.A. program; 2 credits of general elective coursework will be waived for all concentrations other than accounting and economics.

2. Students will receive waivers for the following M.B.A. Pre-Qualification courses: Accounting, Economics, Finance and Legal Studies.

3. Students will receive waivers for the following M.B.A. core courses:

<tr>
<td>BMBA 9114</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

4. Remaining M.B.A. curriculum requirements, including 12-15 credits in the selected concentration area, are fulfilled by taking graduate business courses.*

*As part of their program, students must take at least one 3-credit BMKT course. In addition, students concentrating in areas other than sport management must take at least one 3-credit BACC course.

The total credit hours consist of 118-121 undergraduate credits and 32-35 graduate business credits. Students must consult their concentration advisers in the Stillman School for specific information. Graduate course information is available through the Stillman School’s Student Information Office, Jubilee Hall, Room 526, (973) 761-9222.

B.A. or B.S./M.B.A. Program

(For Non-Business Majors)

Adviser: Steven Lorenzet, Ph.D.

The College of Arts and Sciences and the Stillman School offer a joint program that leads to two degrees: a bachelor’s degree in a liberal arts or science and a Master of Business Administration.

The unique feature of this program is that both degrees can be earned in five years. By carefully selecting courses, the student can complete the requirements for both degrees in as few as 150 credit hours. The student spends the first three years taking arts and sciences courses. After the completion of 75 credit hours, the student applies for the M.B.A. program. Students must meet all requirements for admission to the M.B.A. program, including earning a GMAT score of 500 or higher (or equivalent GRE results) and attaining an undergraduate GPA of 3.5 or above. If accepted, the student takes a mixture of arts and sciences and business courses in the fourth year. The fifth year is reserved exclusively for graduate business courses. When the student has completed all undergraduate degree requirements and 120 credit hours, the student receives a bachelor’s degree. After completing the M.B.A. requirements and a minimum of 150 total credit hours, the student also receives an M.B.A.

Purpose

The purpose of the program is twofold:

1. Students receive a broad-based undergraduate education. Students major in an arts and sciences discipline to gain a broad perspective in the humanities and social and physical sciences and a comprehensive grasp of one arts and sciences major;

2. Students begin graduate coursework while completing a bachelor’s degree. This enables the arts and sciences student to obtain an M.B.A. with one additional year of study.

Basic Principles and Requirements

In offering this program, Seton Hall operates on three basic principles:

1. Students must complete their undergraduate arts and sciences courses and fulfill the requirements for an undergraduate major;

2. Students must apply for and gain admission to the M.B.A. program after the completion of a minimum of 75 credit hours in arts and sciences; and

3. The joint program requires a minimum of 150 credit hours; within this number, a student completes specified arts and sciences requirements, an undergraduate arts and sciences major field, and the specified M.B.A. curriculum.

The breakdown of the minimum 150 credit hours is as follows:

1. Students complete the core curriculum of the College of Arts and Sciences and major field requirements. The total credits vary depending upon the requirements of the major field.

2. Students complete the following undergraduate and graduate business courses:

   Credits

</tr>
</tbody>

3. Remaining M.B.A. curriculum requirements, including 12-15 credits in the selected concentration area, are fulfilled by taking graduate business courses.

   The total credit hours consist of a minimum of 108 undergraduate credits and 42-45 graduate business credits. Students must consult their major advisers in the College of Arts and Sciences for specific information. Graduate course information is available through the Stillman School’s Student Information Office, Jubilee Hall, Room 526, (973) 761-9222.

B.A./M.B.A. Curriculum

1. Arts and Sciences Core Requirements.
2. Arts and Sciences Major Field Requirements.

Consult course descriptions for more details. If these requirements can be met in fewer than 150 credit hours, students may take elective courses to complete the 150 credit-hour minimum.

B.S.B./M.S.P.A. Program

(For Seton Hall Accounting Majors)

Adviser: David Mest, Ph.D.

Students pursuing the B.S. in Business Administration with a concentration in accounting have the option to apply to a dual degree program in which they can earn both their bachelor’s degree and a Master of Science in Professional Accounting within a five-year period. Two options are available. Students may: (1) apply for dual admission to both degrees at the time of their initial application to the School or (2) apply for admission to the M.S.P.A. portion of the program during their junior year.

To be offered admission to both programs at the time of initial application, prospective students must have an SAT score of 1300 or higher (math and critical reading components). To be eligible to begin graduate coursework (generally after the completion of 90 credits and BACC 3111), dual-admissions applicants must have attained a GPA of 3.5 or higher.

Stillman students who do not apply for dual admission may apply for admission to the M.S.P.A. program after completing between 75 and 90 undergraduate credit hours. Applicants must meet all requirements for admission to the M.S.P.A. program, including earning a GMAT score of 500 or higher (or equivalent GRE results) and attaining an overall GPA of 3.0 or above. The GMAT/GRE can be waived for applicants with a GPA in accounting concentration courses of 3.5 or higher. (This GPA calculation must be based on at least four concentration courses, including BACC 3110 and BACC 3111.)

Students are eligible to enroll in the combined B.S.B./M.S.P.A. program once they have earned 90 credits and have completed BACC 3111 (Intermediate Accounting II). Students enrolled in the combined program take a mixture of undergraduate and graduate courses during their senior year followed by all graduate work thereafter. After earning 120 undergraduate credits, completing the required accounting concentration courses with an average GPA of 2.0 or higher, and fulfilling all other specific B.S.B. degree requirements, students have the option of receiving their B.S.B. degree. Students in the combined program will satisfy the required courses in Auditing (BACC 3119), Enterprise-Wide Accounting Information Systems II (BACC 4102), and Advanced Accounting (BACC 4113) by taking similar graduate courses. Courses taken at the graduate level cannot be used to satisfy the 120 undergraduate credit hour requirement. After completing all M.S.P.A. requirements and earning 150 credits (120 undergraduate credits and 30 graduate credits), students receive their M.S.P.A.

Standards for Admission to and Continuance in the Stillman School of Business

Requirements for Regularly Admitted Business Students
To be eligible to continue in the Stillman School, students regularly admitted as first-semester freshmen must:

1. Successfully complete the following course sequence by the end of their sophomore year or completion of 75 credits, whichever comes later:
   - BACC 2103 Financial Accounting
   - BACC 2104 Managerial Accounting
   - BITM 2701 Management Information Systems
   - BQUA 2811 Business Statistics
   - ECON 1402-1403 Principles of Economics I-II
   - MATH 1205 Finite Mathematics with Calculus for Business

2. Declare a concentration upon completion of 75 credits.

Changing to a Business Major from a Non-Business Discipline
Students transferring from other colleges within the University to the Stillman School must meet the following requirements:

1. The student earn at least 45 credits, of which 12 credits must have been earned at Seton Hall University.
2. The student must successfully complete MATH 1205, ECON 1402 and BACC 2103, where successful completion is defined as a grade of at least “C+” in MATH 1205 and at least “C” in ECON 1402 and BACC 2103.
3. The student must successfully complete MATH 1205 (with a grade of at least “C+”) before taking either ECON 1402 or BACC 2103.
4. The student must achieve an average GPA of at least 2.67 (equivalent to “B-”) across all three courses.
5. The student must maintain an average GPA of at least 2.67 in the required 45 credits.

Finally, for the purpose of admission to the Stillman School, a student may take each of the courses (MATH 1205, ECON 1402 and BACC 2103) no more than three times.

Students who desire to transfer to the Stillman School from other schools and colleges within the University are advised to do so before the completion of 60 credit hours. Students who are designated as BART, PART or UART pre-majors/undeclared should seek academic advising in the Stillman School’s Student Information Office (Jubilee Hall, Room 526).

Department of Accounting and Taxation
Jubilee Hall, Room 608
(973) 761-9133
Faculty: Abdallah; Easton; Fried; Gelb; Henry; Holtzman (Chair); Mest (Adviser); Murtuza; Strawser

Mission Statement
The mission of the Department of Accounting and Taxation is to prepare students to assume roles as accounting professionals in a global society and to advance the body of knowledge in the discipline. Our curricula, delivered in an environment characterized by small classes and extensive faculty-student engagement, provide innovative and high-quality educational experiences that emphasize technical knowledge, analytical and communication skills, proficiency in information technology, and ethics. Our programs are strengthened both by the contributions made by our industry partners and the ethical philosophy of the University.

Concentration in Accounting
The concentration in accounting is designed to give training in the fundamentals of accounting as a necessary skill for the understanding of business. It provides a sequence of specialized instruction in accounting theory, financial reporting requirements, cost measurement issues, budgetary control, auditing, taxes and systems that helps the student to prepare for the Certified Public Accountant, Certified Management Accountant and the Certified Internal Auditor examinations and prepare for managerial positions in internal accounting, auditing and controllership, or for graduate study.

Individuals who wish to become licensed as a Certified Public Accountant in the state of New Jersey must complete 150 college credit hours. Those concentrating in accounting can obtain the necessary requirements by enrolling in the combined Bachelor of Science in Business Administration/Master of Science in Professional Accounting Program. Students who wish to sit for the Certified Public Accountant exam in the state of New York should take one additional 3-credit accounting elective course. Students with questions are encouraged to see the Accounting Department Chair.
B.S.B./Master of Science in Professional Accounting (M.S.P.A.) Combined Program

Students pursuing the B.S. in Business Administration with a concentration in accounting have the option to apply to a dual degree program in which they can earn both their bachelor’s degree and a Master of Science in Professional Accounting within a five-year period. Two options are available. Students may: (1) apply for dual admission to both degrees at the time of their initial application to the School or (2) apply for admission to the M.S.P.A. portion of the program during their junior year. For additional details, please see the full description of the program under the “Dual Degree Programs” section.

Certified Public Accountant (CPA) Examination

Applicants for examination for a New Jersey Certificate as a CPA should contact CPA Examination Services at 1-800-CPAEXAM or refer to information posted at www.nasba.org/nasbaweb.nsf/exam

Information on requirements for admission to practice in New York state as a CPA may be obtained from the New York State Education Department, Albany, New York or at www.op.nysed.gov/cpa.htm

Certified Internal Auditor (CIA) Examination

The CIA designation acknowledges a professional level of competence in internal auditing. Information on the CIA Examination and the additional requirements for the CIA designation is available from The Institute of Internal Auditors, 249 Maitland Avenue, Altamonte Springs, Florida 32701-4201, (407) 937-1100 or at www.theiia.org

Certified Management Accountant (CMA) Examination

The CMA Examination is a four-part examination in the areas of: (1) Business Analysis, (2) Management Accounting and Reporting, (3) Strategic Management and (4) Business Applications. Successful completion of the examination requires mastery of a comprehensive body of knowledge in management accounting and financial management. Information on the CMA Examination and the additional requirements for the CMA designation can be found at www.imanet.org/certification.asp

Beta Alpha Psi

Beta Alpha Psi is the international honors organization for financial information professionals. Its rich history dates to 1919 with chapters installed at colleges and universities where accounting programs are of a high level of academic and professional achievement. Since that time, Beta Alpha Psi has expanded its membership to include top students with concentrations in either finance or management information systems, along with those students concentrating in accounting. Of the more than 200 chapters in the United States, Seton Hall University’s Zeta Xi chapter was the first in the state of New Jersey.

The Accounting Club

The Accounting Club is a student organization open to all business students. Members gain an opportunity to network with professionals, learn about various career options and gain important information on professional certification such as the CPA exam.

Accounting Concentration Requirements

A student concentrating in the area of accounting must earn a grade of C- or better in both BACC 2103 and BACC 2104 and must complete the following courses with an average GPA of 2.0 or higher:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

A single BACC course of 3000 series or higher can be taken at most twice.

Students pursuing the Accounting concentration are required to successfully participate in an assessment panel and complete a post-assessment test, preferably in the last semester before graduation.

Please note: Students who wish to qualify to take the Uniform CPA Examination in either New Jersey or New York must: (1) meet specific course requirements determined by the state and (2) earn a baccalaureate degree. The specific course requirements set by the State of New Jersey are met by fulfilling the requirements of the Accounting concentration. Students who wish to satisfy the specific course requirements set by the State of New York must take three additional credits from courses offered by the Department of Accounting and Taxation. Regardless of whether they wish to qualify under New Jersey or New York requirements, all students must complete a total of 150 credit hours in order to become licensed as a CPA.

Concentration in Information Technology Management (ITM)

The concentration in information technology management is designed to achieve the following objectives: to provide a thorough understanding of the strategic importance of information systems to organizations; to enable students to identify information systems necessary for effective and efficient operations of an organization; to empower students to effectively link business managers with information technology professionals in the process of information systems development; to communicate the principles of computerized information systems, including computer programming concepts, techniques and languages; to develop skills necessary for the evaluation, development and implementation of information systems; and to increase the students’ appreciation of the economic, social, legal and technological considerations present in information processing activity.

For students from other concentrations, several elective courses provide a general introduction to computers and their applications in business.

Note: Evening students wishing to concentrate in ITM must first contact the chair to discuss course availability.

Beta Alpha Psi

Beta Alpha Psi is the international honors organization for financial information professionals. Its rich history dates to 1919 with chapters installed at colleges and universities where accounting programs are of a high level of academic and professional achievement. Since that time, Beta Alpha Psi has expanded its membership to include top students with concentrations in either finance or management information systems (information technology management), along with those students concentrating in accounting. Of the more than 200 chapters in the United States, Seton Hall University’s Zeta Xi chapter was the first in the state of New Jersey.

Information Technology Management Concentration Requirements

Students concentrating in information technology management must maintain a 2.5 GPA in concentration courses. In addition, all students must complete the following requirements:

Quantitative Analysis

Courses offered in quantitative analysis are designed to give students an understanding of quantitative methods used to solve business problems. Knowledge of these methods is imperative to master successfully the quantitative aspects of accounting, economics, finance, management and marketing. Although there is not a concentration in quantitative analysis, courses in management science, supply chain management and business statistics are offered.

Department of Economics and Legal Studies

Jubilee Hall, Room 674
(973) 761-9356

Faculty: Amoroso, Cordo; Cotet-Grecu; Hunter (Chair, Adviser, Minor in Legal Studies in Business); Kant; Rotthoff (Adviser, Concentration in Economics); Shannon

Concentration in Economics

The concentration in economics provides students with a solid foundation in the discipline of economics. For undergraduate students majoring in economics, the objectives of the program are threefold: to help develop a thorough understanding of the economic relationships between business, households and government, and the principles governing these relationships; to help develop proper analytical methods and modes of inquiry that will prepare students for careers in business, government and education; and to prepare the groundwork necessary for graduate studies in economics and related fields.

The course offerings of the department enable students to major in economics either through the College of Arts and Sciences or the Stillman School, leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, respectively. Students concentrating in economics should plan to take at least one elective per semester during junior and senior year. The department will offer two electives each semester on a rotating basis.

Note: A concentration in economics is not offered in the evening.

Omicron Delta Epsilon

Membership by invitation. Seniors concentrating in economics are considered.

Economics Concentration Requirements for the B.S. in Economics

To concentrate in economics, students must earn at least a grade of “C-” in each individual ECON course and earn at least a 2.5 grade point average for all ECON courses.
Concentration in Finance

The concentration in finance develops the skills necessary for understanding how to create wealth through the art and science of money management. The study of finance will help the student answer three fundamental questions. First, how much should any individual or firm invest? Second, what assets should the individual or firm invest in? Third, how should the cash required for the investment be raised? The finance concentration provides students with an understanding of how to answer these questions at the individual investor level and at the business/corporate level. Topics covered include financial strategy, asset pricing, investments, fixed income, security trading and analysis, portfolio analysis, financial modeling, advanced corporate finance and international finance.

Through an understanding of these topics, the concentration in finance seeks to integrate the fields of accounting, economics, law and quantitative analysis. In turn, it is designed to prepare students for careers in corporate finance, investments, financial institutions, insurance and real estate.

Concentration in Mathematical Finance

In cooperation with the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science, the concentration is designed to enhance the student’s comprehension of finance through the power of mathematics. The application of mathematical methods holds great promise for delivering solutions to fundamental financial problems, as found in capital budgeting, risk management, portfolio analysis, and actuarial science. The concentration draws on tools from applied mathematics, including calculus, linear algebra, and statistics, to prepare students for careers in corporate treasury, investment banking, commercial banking, hedge funds, insurance, and risk management. As the pace of financial innovation quickens, the need for highly qualified individuals with specific training in financial mathematics will only intensify. The concentration is designed not only to meet increasing market demands but also to prepare students for advanced study in finance at the graduate level.

Finance Club

The department promotes student activities through this organization, which is a chapter under the Financial Management Association International. It welcomes students of all majors to participate in its interactive meetings, which are designed to introduce students to career paths in finance through alumni panel discussions, guest presentations, and corporate field trips. In the fall of 2013, the Finance Club had the unique opportunity to host the Hedge Fund Association’s inaugural student symposium, and the club’s collaboration with the Finance Advisory Board, a Seton Hall alumni association, connects students with mentors who work for Barclays Capital, BlackRock, HSBC, J.P. Morgan, L’Oreal, Morgan Stanley, and Pulte Homes, among others. The club also offers tutoring for finance courses in the Center for Securities Trading and Analysis.

To earn a B.S. in economics, students must earn a minimum grade of “C-” in each individual ECON course and earn a minimum grade point average of 2.5 for all ECON courses.

Economics Minor

Both business and non-business majors also may choose economics as a minor. The economics minor consists of the two core courses (ECON 1402 and ECON 1403) plus one required course (ECON 2420 or 2421) and three economics electives for a total of 18 credits.

Legal Studies in Business Minor

Both business and non-business students may choose legal studies as a minor. The Legal Studies in Business minor consists of three core courses plus two elective courses for a total of 15 credits. The Legal Studies in Business minor is designed to help students study how to manage the legal aspects of business, rather than simply learn black-letter law, that is, a set of legal rules. Often, managers view the law as limiting their ability to manage, innovate and lead. The law provides stability and predictability in business transactions and a mechanism to help managers develop and implement a set of achievable objectives. The exercise of informed judgment when evaluating and assessing the legal implications of a business opportunity or management decision is a critical skill set every successful manager must master.

Legal Studies Honor Society

Students who maintain high academic standing are eligible for induction into the Legal Studies Honor Society. For details, please consult the Legal Studies in Business minor adviser.

Department of Finance

Jubilee Hall, Room 615
(973) 761-9127

Faculty: Itzkowitz; Loviscek (Chair); Riley (Adviser, Co-op Adviser); Rothbort; Tang; Xu; Yoon

Mission Statement

The mission of the Department of Finance is to enrich the educational experience of each student through a sustained commitment to excellence in teaching, the pursuit of high-quality research, and dedicated service to the community and profession, all within a values-centric framework.
Investment Club

The Investment Club is organized as a mock brokerage corporation complete with an investment fund branded as the “Hall Street Fund”. The primary objective of the Hall Street Fund, as managed by the Investment Club, is to provide students with real-life investment banking business experience and encourage students from disciplines other than finance to assume roles of responsibility, including asset allocation, security analysis, and portfolio management, operational risks, compliance reporting, marketing campaigns, public relations, expense budgeting, organizational management, and legal reviews. Because students will be making investment decisions as part of broadening their educational experience, it cannot be presumed that the fund’s performance will outperform the market. The money has been generously donated by outside benefactors for the purpose of providing working capital.

Finance Honor Society

The Stillman School’s Finance Honor Society formally recognizes BFIN and BMAF students who consistently achieve academic excellence and who contribute to community development through their active involvement in the finance-related campus activities. The criteria for induction are: (1) GPA of at least 3.50; (2) GPA of at least 3.50 in all finance courses (prefix BFIN) completed; (3) completion of at least 12 credit hours of BFIN courses with a grade no lower than a B; and (4) active involvement in finance-related campus activities such as the Finance Club, the Investment Club, the Stillman Exchange, or the CFA Research Challenge.

Finance Concentration Requirements

Students must earn at least a “C” in each individual BFIN course and earn a 2.5 average for all BFIN courses. A single BFIN course of 3000 series or higher can be taken at most twice.

Concentration in Management

Managers make a difference in determining organizational outcomes through planning, organizing, leading and controlling human and material resources. The concentration in management is designed to present to students the theories and practices of management and to encourage flexible learning practice in managerial skills and ethical business dealings.

To be better prepared for business careers, management concentration students are required to take a co-op (internship) placement. These credits will count as general electives.

Alpha Sigma Omega

Alpha Sigma Omega, the Stillman School’s Management Honor Society, invites qualified management majors to join during their junior or senior years. The members will have completed 60 credits, have an average GPA of at least 3.25, with a 3.5 in their concentration courses. Transfer students will have completed 60 credits and are required to complete one full semester at the Stillman School before admittance.

Management Concentration Requirements

Students concentrating in management must maintain an average GPA of 2.5 or higher in concentration courses. All students must complete the following requirements:
Concentration in Marketing

A concentration in marketing prepares students for marketing jobs in product development, brand management, services marketing, advertising, international marketing, retailing, sales and marketing research. Because of the increased emphasis on marketing strategy throughout American business, the marketing field offers excellent employment and advancement opportunities. There has been a continuous increase in the demand for marketing professionals, and the average starting salaries of marketing graduates are higher than those in many other fields. Because of the knowledge of products, services and consumers gained in these jobs, marketing positions provide an excellent basis to reach the highest levels in the organization. A marketing education also provides entrepreneurial skills that enable students to start and operate their own companies or enter an existing family business.

The marketing curriculum consists of required core and elective courses. The core courses provide students with insights into consumer behavior and marketing research and the skills required to analyze, plan, implement and control marketing programs. The elective courses provide the opportunity to learn how to manage products and services and develop pricing, distribution and promotional strategies, both in the United States and international markets.

Students concentrating in management are required to take the five concentration requirement courses in three or more semesters, or over two semesters with special permission. No student is allowed to take the five required courses in one semester.

In addition, management concentration students are required to take a BMGT co-op (internship) course. (Note that co-op/internship courses do not count as concentration credits, but rather as general elective credits.) Students who can demonstrate relevant experience comparable to a BMGT co-op/internship course may have this course requirement waived by the department chair.

Concentration in Sport Management

This interdisciplinary program includes courses in sport law, management, marketing, economics and finance, and prepares students for positions in professional and intercollegiate athletics and the industries that serve them. Students gain exposure to all facets of the business of sport, including sport sponsorship relationships, team and league equity issues, player-management labor relations, and a wide variety of ethical dilemmas facing business professionals in both professional and amateur athletics. The program prepares students for internal positions in sport management organizations; sport marketing firms; licensing and apparel marketing; radio and television programming; and events and facilities management. As sales is an important part of the curriculum, the Seton Hall Sports Poll provides opportunities for working the phones and a call center for Sport Marketing experiences.

The Stillman School Marketing Honor Society

The objective of this group is the pursuit of excellence in undergraduate marketing studies at Seton Hall University and the productive involvement of the best marketing students in the life and activities of the Stillman School of Business. This society is open to marketing majors who have completed a substantial portion of their marketing courses, demonstrated excellence by obtaining high overall and marketing GPAs, and have been active members of the Marketing Club. Students who fulfill these criteria, according to standards set annually by the marketing faculty, are invited to join the society each Spring.

Marketing Concentration Requirements

In total, marketing majors must complete between 15 and 21 credits in marketing (in addition to BMKT 2601, which is part of the Business Core), with a minimum GPA of 2.5 in all marketing courses.

Alpha Chi Lambda

Alpha Chi Lambda is the Sport Management Honor Society. In Spring 2001, the Center for Sport Management in the Stillman School of Business at Seton Hall University, and the Sport Management Student Association (SMSA), having discovered no honor society in sport management programs nationally, founded Alpha Chi Lambda, the first Sport Management Honor Society. Requirements for nomination, which is awarded in either the junior or senior year, include a 3.4 GPA in 60 or more earned credits. Initiation occurs in the Spring of each academic year and members wear a royal blue cord at graduation.

The Sport Management Student Association (SMSA)

The Sport Management Student Association (SMSA) is one of the largest and most active student organizations in the Stillman School of Business. Comprising both graduate and undergraduate students, the organization provides an outlet for students to engage in the interactive learning of the business of sport through off-campus visits to sporting events and facilities, internships, guest speakers and more. The SMSA also holds community service in the highest regard and works diligently to be a leader and facilitator of charitable activities at Seton Hall University and in the surrounding communities. Annual field trips to the sports Halls of Fame are a favorite activity.

Transfer Courses

With the approval of the associate dean of the Stillman School, a maximum of 6 credits may be transferred from other institutions and applied toward the minor in business administration.

Changing to a Business Major from the Minor

The minor in business administration is specifically not available to students majoring in business. The economics course designated for the minor does not count toward the core requirements for a degree in business administration. If a student completes the economics course and then changes to a major in business, the student must still meet all core economics course requirements (ECON 1402, 1403 and 2408).

Minor in Economics

(For both Business and Non-Business Majors)

Both business and non-business majors may elect to complete a minor in economics. This 18-credit minor consists of the two core courses in economics (ECON 1402 and ECON 1403) plus one required course (either ECON 2420 or 2421) and three economics electives.

Minor in International Business

(For Business Majors Only)

Adviser: Larry McCarthy, Ph.D.

Restricted to business majors, the minor in international business provides the global and cross-cultural knowledge required for success in today’s rapidly changing international business environment. The program incorporates an interdisciplinary curriculum from the Stillman School and the College of Arts and Sciences. A special emphasis is placed on languages as well as cultural and geopolitical dimensions of the international business environment.

The opportunity to study abroad may also become a component of this program. The credits earned abroad will count toward but are not restricted to the language and cultural component of the minor. Upon declaration of the minor, students must choose from among the following international studies tracks:

- Eastern European Track: Russian or other approved language and related cultural and geopolitical courses;
- Western European Track: French, German, Italian, Spanish or other approved languages, and related cultural and geopolitical courses;
- Pacific Rim Track: Japanese or Chinese languages or other approved language, and related cultural and geopolitical courses; or
- Latin American Track: Spanish or other approved language, and related cultural and geopolitical courses.

Qualifications

Enrollment is restricted to business majors in good academic standing with a GPA of at least 2.25.

Requirements

The program includes 27 credit hours:

- 12 credits in a specific language sequence (listed as “Language Electives”);
- 6 credits in the cultural and geopolitical component (listed as “Other Electives” and “Additional Non-business Electives”); and
- 9 credits in the international business component (listed as “Business Electives”).

Students who demonstrate an intermediate level of proficiency on the language department’s proficiency exam may take no more than 6 credits in advanced language. The remaining 6 credits may be taken in a combination of cultural, geopolitical and international business courses. These students also may elect to take all 12 credits in non-language preapproved electives.

Students are encouraged to study abroad, and up to 12 credits for the minor may be transferred from preapproved studies abroad.

Certificate Programs

Certificate in Business
(For Non-Business Majors)

The Certificate Program in Business is designed for non-business majors at Seton Hall University and other regionally accredited colleges.

Students are exposed to the language of business. Major concepts in accounting, marketing, finance and management provide a head start in the business world. These courses provide solid preparation for entering the job market and starting a career after graduation.
Qualifications
To qualify for the Certificate Program in Business, applicants must:
• major in an area other than business at a college or university with regional accreditation;
• have completed at least 60 credit hours of college-level courses.

Application
To apply for the program, applicants should complete the appropriate form in Room 526 of Jubilee Hall. This can be arranged by mail or by calling the Student Information Office, (973) 761-9222.

Certification of Credits
Students successfully completing the 12-credit program will receive a Certificate in Business from the Stillman School of Business at Seton Hall University. In addition, Seton Hall will verify completion of the overall program to potential employers or other parties, if requested by the student.

Requirements
To qualify for the Certificate in Business, students must complete the following:

Note: Prerequisites are strictly enforced.

Students must earn a GPA of at least 2.5 for the four courses and earn no more than one grade of “D” or “D-” in the above courses to be eligible for the Certificate in Business.

Some institutions require the last 30 credit hours to be taken in residence. Other colleges may have specific requirements for advance permission before courses may be taken at another college. Applicants should investigate the regulations of the home institution prior to applying for the certificate program.

Certificate in Business Analytics
Business Analytics is defined as the combination of skills, technologies, applications and processes used by organizations to gain insight into their business based on data and statistics to drive business planning. As technology continues to facilitate organizations to measure, collect and retain more data, companies are challenged to make sense out of it. Business Analytics provides a set of analytical tools that answers such problems. While statistics and operations research have long been used to allow businesses to make objective decisions, Business Analytics uses these tools plus others like pattern detection to find meaning in the data. It is no exaggeration to state that every business of moderate size is either using Business Analytics or will have to in order to stay competitive.

Certificate in Entrepreneurial Studies
(For Business Majors)

This Certificate in Entrepreneurship is composed of four 3-credit courses (12 credits). See below for the list of required and elective courses. These courses will focus on providing theory and practical knowledge and skills through class instruction and will employ experiential learning to help students start a new business or become a major contributor to their family’s business upon graduation. These skills are just as relevant to students who desire a career in the corporate world. These four complementary courses have been structured so that each addresses skills that are necessary to be a successful entrepreneur. The certificate requires at least two courses that address important fundamental skills (e.g., analyzing the feasibility of a business opportunity, developing a business plan, and product and business innovation) that are necessary in starting a business and one elective course that provides specific skills that entrepreneurs need in starting and running a business (e.g., sales, negotiating, conducting financial statement analysis, and creating financial strategies). A student who wishes to earn the certificate should consult with the faculty in the Center for Entrepreneurial Studies.

Requirements
Students are required to take two of the following courses: (Course offerings rotate.)
BMGT 4640 Introduction to Entrepreneurship 3
BMGT 4566 Starting a Business 3
BMGT 4565 Innovation and Entrepreneurship 3
BMGT 4599 Directed Research (Approval Needed) 3

See Co-op/internship adviser. Co-op/internship courses are counted as general electives. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer. 1 credit each

BFIN 4399 Directed Research
Individual research in the area of finance independent of a formal course structure. Prerequisite: permission of supervising faculty member and department chair prior to registration. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer. 3 credits

Computing and Decision Sciences

Information Technology Management (ITM)
Evening students wishing to concentrate in ITM must first contact the department adviser to discuss course availability.

BITM 2701 Management Information Systems
Role of technology in the management process. Introduction to the basic concepts of computer hardware and software. A significant part of the course deals with building spreadsheets to model business problems. In addition, database and Internet-related tools are covered. Emerging ethical issues in technology are treated. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BITM 3724 (BACC 4101) Business Information Modeling
The course is designed to provide an understanding of accounting information and information technology in the operational and strategic decision-making of the firm. Relational databases, data modeling, SQL and web application development are covered in significant detail. Students will become familiar with the revenue, expenditure, conversion and general ledger transaction processing subsystems. Students will develop an understanding of the impact of information systems on managerial decisions and organization performance. This course covers SAP and is one of the courses that prepare students for SAP certification. Prerequisites: BACC 2103, 2104 and BITM 2701. Offered: Fall. 3 credits

BITM 3727 Advanced Business Software Tools
This course will teach advanced topics in spreadsheet (Excel) design/programming. The course will show students how to use Visual Basic for Applications (VBA) to build functionally rich spreadsheets. In addition, the course will show how VBA can also be used with a database tool (Access) for building user-friendly applications. Prerequisite: BITM 2701 or permission of the instructor. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BITM 3730 Developing Web Applications
The course will focus on the development of web pages enhanced with live data from databases, adding interactivity, user preferences, and storage. The course will start out with a simple example and end with a “sophisticated” project that uses all the techniques and technology examined in the course. Prerequisite: BITM 2701. Offered: Fall. 3 credits
BITM 3744 Business Intelligence
An important determinant of success today is the ability of a business to extract intelligence from data generated as a byproduct of normal operations. Typical business intelligence applications include: Recommender systems, used for example by Amazon.com to suggest additional products and by Netflix.com to suggest movies; Market-based analysis, used to identify which products are frequently purchased together. This can in turn be used for store shelf layout and for promotions to shoppers and classifier systems, used to identify customers who should receive promotional mailers or subscription offers. Also used to identify spam email. This course covers the analytic techniques currently used by businesses. Rather than stress the mechanics of the underlying mathematical and statistical concepts, the course will build a strong intuitive understanding of the techniques and leave the mechanics to statistical packages. Prerequisite: BQUA 2811 and 2812 Offered: Fall. 3 credits

BITM 3753 (BACC 4102) Enterprise-Wide Accounting Information Systems II
This course will provide participants with a clear understanding of enterprise applications like accounting, materials, management, sales and distribution, materials requirement planning and process manufacturing. Each of these applications will be covered through the use of the SAP enterprise systems. In addition, the course will cover security, auditing, evaluation and implementation as applied to information systems. Prerequisite: BACC 4101 or BITM 3724. Offered: Spring. 3 credits

BITM 4639 Web 2.0 Marketing
The application and management of direct-response marketing in segmenting, targeting and establishing long-term relationships with customers. An emphasis on interactive technologies in the dissemination of marketing information and the distribution of goods and services in the electronic marketplace. The management of personal and business-to-business customer databases, and the development, management and evaluation of effective Internet marketing, virtual shopping and customized marketing strategies. Prerequisite: BMKT 2601. Offered: Spring. 3 credits

BITM 4794, 4795, 4796 ITM Co-op I, II, III
See Co-op Adviser. Cooperative Education courses are counted as general electives. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits each

BITM 4799 Directed Research/ITM
Application for Independent Study must be completed and approved prior to registration. Forms are available from the faculty member chosen for the supervision of the project. Emphasis on research and field work appropriate to the students’ backgrounds and career objectives. Prerequisite: Departmental approval. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

Quantitative Analysis
BQUA 2811 Business Statistics
This course provides students with an understanding of statistical techniques for analyzing business problems. Concepts are developed using calculations for simple problems with small amounts of data. Larger and more realistic problems are handled using Microsoft Excel. Topics include descriptive statistics, elements of probability, sampling, interval estimation, hypothesis testing and regression analysis. Prerequisites: MATH 1205 (minimum grade of C), BITM 2701. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BQUA 2812 Quantitative Decision Making
This course introduces quantitative models of management science and their applications to decision making in a business environment. Topics may include decision analysis, forecasting, linear programming, inventory, queuing and simulation. Prerequisite: BQUA 2811 and 45 credits. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits
BQUA 3510 (ECON 3510) Business Decision Making with Game Theory
Game theory is the theory of independent and interdependent decision making. It is concerned with decision making in organizations where the outcome depends on the decisions of two or more autonomous players, one of which may be nature itself, and where no single decision maker has full control over the outcomes. In this course students will learn about different types of games and understand how to apply these categories to business decision making. Game theory will be used to find (where possible) optimal solutions to situations of conflict and cooperation under the assumption that players behave rationally and act in their own best interests. Prerequisite: BQUA 2812. Not offered in: 2014-2015. 3 credits

Economics
At least two economics electives will be offered each semester on a rotating basis. Please consult Department for scheduling of elective courses.
Note: A concentration in economics is not offered in the evening.

ECON 1402 Principles of Economics I
Introductory approach to the development of microeconomic analysis. Principles governing economic behavior in a market-oriented system: exchange, market pricing, production and costs, market structures and their effects on product and factor markets. Emphasis on developing techniques for rational micro decision making and evaluating contemporary policies and trends both nationally and internationally. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

ECON 1403 Principles of Economics II
Introductory approach to the development of macroeconomic analysis: principles governing the determination of national income, aggregate output and prices, employment, economic fluctuations and the cost of money and capital. ECON 2408 Money and Banking (offered by the Department of Finance)
Introduction to the institutional and theoretical bases of money, credit, the financial markets and the banking system. Functions and operations of the Federal Reserve System in relation to current economic, financial and monetary development and problems. Role of international financial and money markets evaluated for impact on the U.S. economy. Prerequisites: ECON 1402 and 1403. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

ECON 2410 Consumer Economics
Even though we live in a more complex and ever-widening world, the basic task of consumer decisions remains unchanged. This course assembles a series of major consumer decision alternatives whereby students must apply economic analysis to arrive at optimal solutions. Prerequisites: ECON 1402 and 1403. 3 credits

ECON 2420 Intermediate Microeconomic Analysis
Systematic development of microeconomic theory. Consumer behavior, market demand and supply functions for output and resources, decision rules for the efficient allocation of resources, production costs and pricing for benefit maximization. Development of modeling techniques applicable to a variety of functional areas of management, finance and operations. Develops skills for private and public management. Prerequisite: ECON 1402. Offered: Fall. 3 credits

ECON 2421 Intermediate Macroeconomic Analysis
Systematic development of macroeconomic theory. Neoclassical, Keynesian, post-Keynesian, and contemporary models for income, output, employment and interest rate determination. National and international problems in relation to the applicable models and the practices of fiscal and monetary authorities. Develops analytical skills for fiscal and monetary management, forecasting and public policy. Prerequisite: ECON 1403. Offered: Spring. 3 credits

ECON 3410 Environmental Economics
Prerequisite: ECON 1403. Offered: Spring. 3 credits

ECON 3411 Intermediate Microeconomic Analysis
Prerequisites: ECON 1402 and 1403. 3 credits

ECON 3412 Economic Development and Cultural Change
Surveys global economic interrelationships and current issues in the underdeveloped and developing regions of the world. Measurement and sectoral analyses to assess the roles played by agriculture, human and capital resources and the foreign sector. Prerequisites: ECON 1402 and 1403. 3 credits

ECON 3425 Economic Development and Cultural Change
Surveys global economic interrelationships and current issues in the underdeveloped and developing regions of the world. Measurement and sectoral analyses to assess the roles played by agriculture, human and capital resources and the foreign sector. Prerequisites: ECON 1402 and 1403. 3 credits

ECON 3427 The Economics of Health Care
Theoretical and empirical analysis. The growth of the health industry; the supply of and demand for health practitioners; the hospital as an economic organization; models of pricing in selected sectors of the health market; the financing of health services; cost-benefit analysis; and spatial analysis of delivery systems. Prerequisites: ECON 1402 and 1403. 3 credits

ECON 3437 Economics and Liberty
This is an interactive course that will increase the students’ ability to apply their problem solving skills through discussions on the impact of liberty and freedom. This course will have requisite readings in economics, politics, and philosophy, and their combination in the political economy. The course will promote interaction between students, faculty, and guest speakers to discuss these resources.
in detail and how they affect our lives and the world. Prerequisites: ECON 1402, 1403 and instructor approval. Offered: Spring. 3 credits

ECON 3450 (BSPM 3450) Economics of the Sport Industry
An economic analysis of the sport industry, with special emphasis on the market structure and conduct of baseball, football and hockey as played in the United States. Topics include: an analysis of the work-leisure decisions of sport fans; trends in the market for sport franchises; player salaries and their distribution; the competitive balance in sport leagues; and the cost and impact of sport stadiums. Prerequisites: ECON 1402, ECON 1403. Offered: Every third semester. 3 credits

ECON 3462 Government and Business
Examines the regulatory interactions of government with enterprise. Survey of the institutional and legal structure in which business functions in the United States. The theoretical and empirical implications of regulation evaluated through the case method. Prerequisites: ECON 1402 and 1403. 3 credits

ECON 3470 History of Economic Thought (Required for ECAS students)
Survey of the evolutionary development of contemporary economic analysis. Major economic schools, classical, socialist, neoclassical, Keynesian and others, as well as key economists. Prerequisites: ECON 1402 and 1403. Offered: Fall. 3 credits

ECON 3510 (BQUA 3510) Business Decision Making with Game Theory
Game theory is the theory of independent and interdependent decision making. It is concerned with decision making in organizations where the outcome depends on the decisions of two or more autonomous players, one of which may be nature itself, and where no single decision maker has full control over the outcomes. In this course students will learn about different types of games and understand how to apply these categories to business decision making. Game theory will be used to find (where possible) optimal solutions to situations of conflict and cooperation under the assumption that players behave rationally and act in their own best interests. Prerequisite: BQUA 2812. Offered: Spring. 3 credits

ECON 4232 (BFIN 4232, BSPM 4232) Economics and Finance in Sports
Application of finance principles to the sport industry, including revenue sources, valuation issues, performance, and corporate sponsorships. Prerequisite: ECON 1402, 1403, BFIN 2201. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

ECON 4420 Econometrics
Application of mathematics and statistics to economic theory for solving economic problems. Econometric models, both static and dynamic, developed assuming conditions of uncertainty. Open to upper-level students only. Prerequisites: ECON 1403, BQUA 2811. 3 credits

Management
BMGT 1535 (BSPM 1535) Introduction to the Sport Industry
An introduction to the sport industry, growth trends in the industry, and careers in the industry, including an overview of management in the professional sport franchise; intercollegiate athletics, sport marketing and promotions;
athlete representation; sport law; facilities management; the health club, spa, resort industry; and sport tourism. Offered: Irregularly. Limited to students with less than 60 credits. May be taken as a general elective only. 3 credits

Fundamentals of management: planning; organizing; coordinating and controlling organizational activities. Study of the evolution of management thought, careers in management, international management, production/operations management and social responsibility. Prerequisite: 45 credits and ECON 1403. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BMGT 2503 Organizational Behavior
Behavioral science approaches to understanding and effectively managing and leading organizations. Emphasis on developing students’ theoretical understanding and behavioral capability to deal with issues at the individual, work group and organizational levels. The course focuses on developing leaders who know how to make decisions, build teams, communicate effectively, design work and organizations, manage conflict, change and diversity and recognize and reward this workforce in a global environment. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501 and 60 credits. Must be taken no earlier than junior year. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BMGT 3511 Human Resource Management
Human Resource Management (HRM) refers to the functions of an organization that coordinate and develop human capital as a strategic competitive advantage. These functions are HR staffing, HR development, Compensation, Safety and Health, and Employee and Labor Relations. In this course, students will learn the theories and concepts of HR and how to apply them so that these align with organizational strategies. In so doing, students will have the tools both to formulate and to implement effective HRM strategies in organizations in which they will manage and lead, regardless of their position in that organization. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. 3 credits

BMGT 3515 Operations for Competitive Advantage
An introduction to the management of operational activities, including project management and supply chains, in manufacturing and service industries. Some of the topics include physical plant location and layout, work and job design, and the integration of activities across departments. The course places an emphasis on solving operations problems using quantitative techniques employing information technology. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. 3 credits

BMGT 3524 (BINT 4924) Doing Business in India
This course is designed to impart an understanding of how to do business in and with India and the regions surrounding it. It includes a visit to India for firsthand experience of its cultural, social, industrial, business and financial centers. The course requirements include attending two classes before the visit to India and one after returning. In addition, students will be required to maintain a journal and make a presentation on their return. The travel to India takes place during spring break. The course can replace the requirements for BINT 3001 for Business majors if a paper on doing business in India is completed satisfactorily. The course is open to all Seton Hall undergraduates. Spring. 3 credits

BMGT 3641 (BITM 3741, BMKT 4627) Supply Chain Management
The function of supply chain management is to design and manage the processes, assets, and flows of material and information required to satisfy customers’ demands. Globalization of the economy and electronic commerce have heightened the strategic importance of supply chain management and created new opportunities for using supply chain strategy and planning as a competitive tool. The purpose of this course is to explore the basic dynamics of supply chains and to study quantitative methods currently applied to supply chain management (SCM). The course will provide an introduction to the theory of supply chain management together with examples of how businesses implement these theories in practice. Prerequisite: BQUA 2812. 3 credits

BMGT 4535 (BSPM 4535) The Management of Sport Organizations
This course examines the application of general principles of management to the sport industry and to the management of sport organizations in particular. The course provides the student with an overview of the sport industry, as well as the issues encountered by managers of sport organizations and how management techniques can be applied to effectively address these issues. Students will also consider the ethical and moral dilemmas facing sport managers and the sport industry as a whole. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BMGT 4537 (BSPM 4537) Global Sport Facilities Management
This course examines the real-time history and operations of sport facilities in the U.S. and throughout the world, largely through the use of the World Wide Web. Course content includes the study of: planning and design, services management, marketing and public relations, concessions, event and operations management, maintenance, funding, administration and franchise interaction. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. 3 credits

BMGT 4538 (BSPM 4538) International Sport Management
This course examines the management of sport in the global village. Examination of sport as a cultural phenomenon and a management challenge in differing political, social and economic systems will be undertaken. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. Offered: Spring. 3 credits

BMGT 4545 Leadership Seminar
Explores organizations’ need for leadership and how members can take on leadership responsibilities. Defines leadership and how it works. Explores the full range of leadership models and issues. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. Experimental. 3 credits
BMGT 4552 (BINT 4928) Doing Business in China
Learning through seeing and experiencing. This course is designed for students to learn the economic and business environment in China by traveling to China. In addition to readings and class discussion, students will be asked to contact local people, to investigate the Chinese market and business conditions and to observe foreign business operations there. Business and career opportunities will also be explored. Students will be asked to develop a business plan for doing business in China. Offered: Summer. 3 credits

BMGT 4560 (BITM 3740) Project Management
This course will help you understand the role of project management and how to set and manage client expectations. Topics include creating a project plan, assessing project risk, managing multiple projects, and scheduling, controlling and managing contracts for repeatable success throughout the organization. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. Offered: Spring. 3 credits

BMGT 4562 Negotiation
Managers spend much of their time negotiating yet generally devote little time to thinking about how to negotiate. This course explores both the theoretical and practical aspects of negotiations. Students will study the negotiating process, reviewing the negotiation literature and engaging in negotiations in a variety of settings. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. Offered: Fall. 3 credits

BMGT 4565 Innovation in Entrepreneurship
In this course, students learn about the role creativity plays in the entrepreneurial innovation process. They explore what increases and/or decreases creativity levels and how personal, group, organization, national and global factors impact the resultant innovation. Students also learn how to generate ideas that can lead to truly innovative products, services, processes, and/or business models and how these techniques can be applied in many contexts, such as start-up businesses, new social ventures, and existing organizations. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. 3 credits

BMGT 4566 Starting a Business
Essential considerations for beginning a business. Focus on business planning, including: assessing the environment, developing goals, planning operations, seeking financing and gaining a competitive edge. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. 3 credits

BMGT 4594, 4595, 4596 Management Co-op I, II, III
See Co-op Adviser. Cooperative Education courses are counted as general electives. Prerequisite: Departmental approval prior to registration. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer. 3 credits each

BMGT 4597, 4598, 4599 Directed Research
Independent research in the area of management. Project is developed in consultation with faculty and must be approved by chair prior to registration. Offered: Fall, Spring, Summer. 1/2/3 credits

BMGT 4629 Sales and Personal Selling (BMKT 4629)
Personal selling and managing the corporate sales force in the context of overall marketing strategy. Finding and reaching prospective buyers, developing effective sales presentations, handling objections and closing sales. Sales management, including recruiting, selecting, training, motivating and compensating sales personnel, sales forecasting, territory development and an optimal use of the sales budget. Prerequisite: BMKT 2601, BMGT 2501. Offered: Spring. 3 credits

BMGT 4640 Entrepreneurship
A study of small businesses and owner management with a practical orientation toward understanding the process of creating and managing one’s own business. This includes but is not limited to strategic and operational planning, organizational controls, marketing management and techniques, financial analysis and accounting, risk management, and securing growth capital for small businesses. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. 3 credits

BMGT 4645 Writing A Business Plan
Students will learn about the creation of new ventures in a very hands-on manner. Students will be exposed to concepts, skills, information, and tools that are relevant for the creation of a new venture, the management of an early-stage venture, and the harvest of a venture. Students will have opportunities to apply knowledge through class discussions, projects, individual reflections, and the creation of an actual business plan. The creation of the business plan will provide students with an opportunity to appreciate the challenging and ambiguous environment that entrepreneurs face. Experimental. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. 3 credits

Marketing
Note: A concentration in marketing is not offered in the evening. BMKT 2601 Principles of Marketing is a prerequisite for ALL marketing courses.

BMKT 2601 Principles of Marketing

A focus on new retail formats such as electronic shopping and other forms of non-store buying. Prerequisite: BMKT 2601. Offered: Fall. 3 credits

BMKT 4627 (BITM 3741, BMGT 3641) Channels of Distribution
The function of supply chain management is to design and manage the processes, assets, and flows of material and information required to satisfy customers’ demands. Globalization of the economy and electronic commerce has heightened the strategic importance of supply chain management and created new opportunities for using supply chain strategy and planning as a competitive tool. The purpose of this course is to explore the basic dynamics of supply chains and to study quantitative methods currently applied to supply chain management (SCM). The course will provide an introduction to the theory of supply chain management together with examples of how businesses implement these theories in practice. Prerequisite: BQUA 2812. 3 credits

BMKT 4629 (BMGT 4629) Sales and Personal Selling
Personal selling and managing the corporate sales force in the context of overall marketing strategy. Finding and reaching prospective buyers, developing effective sales presentations, handling objections and closing sales. Sales management, including recruiting, selecting, training, motivating and compensating sales personnel, sales forecasting, territory development and an optimal use of the sales budget. Prerequisite: BMKT 2601, BMGT 2501. Offered: Spring. 3 credits

BMKT 4631 Advertising Management
The planning, execution and control of advertising programs. The interrelationships among manufacturers, advertising agencies and the media in the preparation and execution of advertising campaigns. The regulatory, cultural and ethical advertising environment, setting advertising objectives, creative themes in designing print and broadcast campaigns, media selection, advertising research, and the budgeting and evaluation of advertising expenditures. Prerequisite: BMKT 2601. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BMKT 4633 Product Management and Development
Effective management and revitalization of existing products and the development of new products as the cornerstones of corporate marketing strategies. Topics covered include estimating market potential and demand for new and mature products, managing the product portfolio, the changing marketing mix throughout the product life cycle, and the new product development process. Understanding of public policy considerations, ethical issues and the impact of emerging technologies on product strategies. Prerequisite: BMKT 2601. Offered: Fall. 3 credits
BMKT 4634 Marketing Metrics
The course helps students understand research methods in the broader context of strategic and tactical marketing planning. Marketing metrics consist of methods used to measure a company’s marketing effort and outcomes to ensure that the marketing function is focused, accountable, and adds value to the bottom line. The focus is on what to measure and how to measure it when assessing the effects of marketing activities. Prerequisite: BMKT 2601.
Offered: Spring. 3 credits

BMKT 4637 Services Marketing
Needs and challenges of service organizations in the area of marketing. Measuring and monitoring customers’ needs, expectations and satisfaction, developing and implementing service quality standards, managing service encounters, promoting and differentiating services, pricing services, managing service demand and developing customer relationships for repeat business. The role of the rapidly growing self-service technologies is integrated into the course. Prerequisite: BMKT 2601. Offered: Fall. 3 credits

BMKT 4639 (BITM 4639) Direct and Interactive Marketing
The application and management of direct-response marketing in segmenting, targeting and establishing long-term relationships with customers. An emphasis on interactive technologies in the dissemination of marketing information and the distribution of goods and services in the electronic marketplace. The management of personal and business-to-business customer databases, and the development, management and evaluation of effective internet marketing, virtual shopping and customized marketing strategies. Prerequisite: BMKT 2601. Offered: Fall. 3 credits

BMKT 4640 Building and Maintaining Strong Brands
The course explores the strategies and options marketers can use to build strong brands. Students will develop an understanding of how marketers can use brands to generate customer loyalty, accelerate acceptance of new products, and make consumers feel pleased and satisfied with their purchases. In addition, students will acquire expertise that will enable them to understand and critique the branding strategies that target us throughout our daily lives. The course includes lectures, exercises and some small case studies. Students will be required to develop a “brand audit,” an in-depth analysis of a brand and its strategy. Prerequisite: BMKT 2601. 3 credits

BMKT 4694, 4695, 4696 Marketing Co-op I, II, III
(See Co-op Adviser.) Prerequisite: Departmental Approval. 3 credits each

BMKT 4697, 4698, 4699 Directed Research/Marketing
Individual research in the area of marketing independent of a formal course structure. Prerequisite: permission of supervising faculty member and department chair prior to registration. 1/2/3 credits

Sport Management
BSPM 1535 (BMGT 1535) Introduction to the Sport Industry
An introduction to the sport industry, growth trends in the industry, and careers in the industry, including an overview of management in the professional sport franchise; intercollegiate athletics, sport marketing and promotions; athlete representation; sport law; facilities management; the health club, spa, resort industry; and sport tourism. Offered: Irregularly. Limited to students with less than 60 credits. May be taken as a general elective only. 3 credits

BSPM 3450 (ECON 3450) Economics of the Sport Industry
Application of finance principles to the sport industry, including revenue sources, valuation issues, performance, and corporate sponsorships. Prerequisite: ECON 1402, 1403. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BSPM 4232 (BFIN 4232) Sport Finance
Application of finance principles to the sport industry, including revenue sources, valuation issues, performance, and corporate sponsorships. Prerequisite: ECON 1402, 1403. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BSPM 4330 (BLAW 4330) Sport Law
The constitutional aspects of athletics with special attention toward procedural and substantive due process. The formation and conditions of contracts from both the management and individual’s perspectives. Topical coverage includes: Agency; Labor and Employment; Antitrust and Title IX coverage. Strong emphasis on ethical concerns in the sport industry. Prerequisite: BLAW 2301. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BSPM 4535 (BMGT 4535) The Management of Sport Organizations
This course examines the application of general principles of management to the sport industry and to the management of sport organizations in particular. The course provides the student with an overview of the sport industry, as well as the issues encountered by managers of sport organizations and how management techniques can be applied to effectively address these issues. Students will also consider the ethical and moral dilemmas facing sport managers and the sport industry as a whole. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. Offered Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BSPM 4537 (BMGT 4537) Global Sport Facilities Management
This course examines the real-time history and operations of sport facilities in the U.S. and throughout the world, largely through the use of the World Wide Web. Course content includes the study of: planning and design, services management, marketing and public relations, concessions, event and operations management, maintenance, funding, administration and franchise interaction. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. Offered: Irregularly. 3 credits

BSPM 4538 (BMGT 4538) International Sport Management
This course examines the management of sport in the global village. Examination of sport as a cultural phenomenon and a management challenge in differing political, social and economic systems will be undertaken. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501. Offered: Spring. 3 credits

BSPM 4546 The Business of Sports TV
This course provides the student with an overview of the sports television industry, as well as how sports institutions interact with broadcast organizations. The course will examine the basics of production, programming, sales, marketing, public relations and promotion on the network television level. Prerequisite: BMGT 2501 and 60 credits. 3 credits

BSPM 4592 Sport Management Co-op I
See Co-op Adviser. Prerequisite: Departmental approval prior to registration Summer. 1 credit.

BSPM 4594, 4595, 4596 Sport Management Co-op I, II, III
See Co-op Adviser. Prerequisite: Departmental approval prior to registration. 3 credits each

BSPM 4597, 4598, 4599 Directed Research – Sport Management
Prerequisite: Departmental approval prior to registration. 1/2/3 credits

BSPM 4607 (BMKT 4607) Sport Marketing
The applications of marketing science to all realms of the sport industry, including: professional sport; intercollegiate, interscholastic and amateur sport; and commercial and public sport and recreational facilities, clubs, resorts and service organizations. An introduction to sales as an element of marketing. A view of the international sport business and ethical issues in sport marketing. Prerequisite: BMKT 2601. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

BSPM 4730 (BITM 4730) Application of Information Technology in Sport Management
This course will examine the use and impact of Information Technology (IT) on different aspects of the sport industry. As video and audio media are an important part of the revenues generated by sport companies, they are also included. The course will provide foundation knowledge in key IT topics such as networking, WWW, hardware, CRM (customer relationship management) and data mining. Included in the course will be material on building and evaluating Web sites. The goal of the course is to show how and where IT has been an “enabler” in the Sport Industry. Prerequisite: BITM 2701. Offered: Irregularly. 3 credits

Integrated Courses

BPOL 5000 Business Policy
Students are organized as a top management team to run a computer simulated business enterprise in a competitive environment. Employing business strategies and models, they integrate the functional knowledge from prior courses and exercise their business skills. Prerequisite: ALL BUSINESS CORE courses. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits

CORE 3810 (BINT 3001) Global Business
The thrust of this course is to develop “global business literacy” in students. The focus is on trends and forces that shape international commercial activity and their impacts on business decisions. The topics covered stem from the broad viewpoint of international trade, economics, finance, political and economic geography, risk management, marketing, ethics and international law. These topics are presented from the perspective of a generalist. (The faculty strongly recommends that students complete this course before taking other international business courses in the Stillman School curriculum.) Prerequisite: Junior standing or above and completion of BACC 2103-2104, BITM 2701, BLAW 2301, ECON 1402-1403, CORE 1101 and 2101. Offered: Fall, Spring. 3 credits
College of Communications and the Arts

The College of Communication and the Arts offers programs of study leading to the degree Bachelor of Arts, and Master of Arts.

Seton Hall’s Catholic mission and Bishop Bayley’s vision of a “home for the heart, the mind, and the spirit” will inspire and direct ongoing strategic planning efforts for the College of Communication and the Arts.

Mission Statement
The College of Communication and the Arts at Seton Hall University is dedicated to enabling innovative, genuine, and professional interaction in academic, social, artistic, and technological settings. Our programs challenge students to lead, create, and communicate with responsibility, passion, and excellence.

From time to time, the College offers special courses unattached to any particular department. They are by nature occasional, interdisciplinary and experimental, and allow for a variety of interests and initiatives.

The undergraduate program is based on the general requirements to which students, guided by a faculty adviser, add courses required in their major field and free electives.

Academic Advising and Tutoring

Students who have declared majors within the College of Communication and the Arts are advised by experienced faculty in their chosen academic departments within the College. This faculty adviser assists the student in the determination of educational objectives commensurate with his/her interests, talents and abilities. Course selection, particularly the sequencing of courses, is also accomplished in these advising sessions. Appropriate advising is a shared responsibility; both the faculty person and the student are engaged to seek the best possible experience for the student. As adults, it is the responsibility of each student to familiarize themselves with all academic policies and to understand all academic requirements. Included in these discussions is information about academic policies and procedures, curricular and co-curricular programs, and exposure to the full range of services and opportunities available for all Seton Hall students. Students follow the requirements listed in the Undergraduate Catalogue for the year in which they entered Seton Hall University.

Please note: It is the responsibility of each student to know and meet graduation and other requirements, and to make every reasonable effort to obtain adequate academic advising. It is recommended that students declare their majors by the time they complete 60 credits. Any student in the College of Communication and the Arts who has not declared a major and who has completed 75 or more credits prior to October 15 preceding a Spring Semester, or prior to March 1 preceding a Fall Semester, shall not be allowed to register or pre-register for any further courses at Seton Hall University without formally declaring an academic major. A hold will be placed on the student’s record, which can only be removed with permission of the dean and by filing a declaration of major.

Project Acceleration

Project Acceleration provides high school students the opportunity to earn college credit for successfully completing courses at their local high schools. Courses are offered at significantly reduced tuition rates, and are available in all fields, including the physical and biological sciences, languages, English, mathematics, education, art, music, economics, philosophy, religion, and social sciences. Upon completion of these courses, the credits earned are entered on to an official Seton Hall transcript. Project Acceleration credits can then be applied towards a Seton Hall degree, or can be transferred to many other colleges and universities.

For more information call (973) 761-9224, send an e-mail to projectacceleration@shu.edu or visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/project-acceleration/index.cfm
Internships
Internships are offered as an optional educational program available to students in the College of Communication and the Arts. Internships integrate classroom study with supervised learning through productive work experiences. Employer partners work closely with The Career Center and the College of Communication and the Arts internship faculty advisers to provide students with supervised, “hands-on” working and learning experiences that have relevance to their academic major and career goals. All internship positions are carefully screened to insure that they provide a quality work and learning experience.

To be eligible, students must have completed 30 credits and maintain an overall GPA of 2.8. (Some academic areas may have additional requirements.) Transfer students need to complete at least one semester at Seton Hall to be eligible. Internships can be paid or non-paid and credit bearing or non-credit bearing.

All students interested in either a credit-bearing or non-credit internship experience should schedule an appointment with career professional at The Career Center. Upon approval from an internship faculty adviser, internship credits will satisfy general elective requirements. At the discretion of the College and/or the academic department, internship credits may be used to fulfill major elective credits. Students are eligible to earn 3 credits per semester for an internship experience and a maximum of 9 credits. Students pursuing multiple semesters with the same employer must demonstrate increased level of responsibilities in their internship experience. Students who elect a non-credit internship experience are closely monitored by The Career Center.

Courses in the Internship Program include:

- Internship I - Pre-professional exploratory experience in a field. Assignments will be made in an entry-level position of employment. Taken only with the written permission of a co-op faculty adviser.

- Internship II - Intermediate professional experience in a field. Taken only with the written permission of a coop faculty adviser.

- Internship III - Professional experience in the field specifically oriented to the academic major and career objectives. Taken only permission of a co-op faculty adviser.

Course Identification
The course numbering system used throughout the University is described in the Academic Policies and Procedures section of this catalogue. The abbreviations used to designate courses offered within the College of Communication and the Arts are:

- ADIM: Art, Design and Interactive Media
- ARTH: Art History
- COBF: Broadcasting and Visual Media
- COJR: Journalism
- COMM: Communication

Degree Requirements
To attain the degree Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science in the College of Communication and the Arts, students must satisfactorily complete the core curriculum requirements of the University and the College, the requirements of their major fields and a sufficient number of electives. Effective in Fall 2008, a minimum of 120 credits is required for first time/full time students. To qualify for the bachelor’s degree, the student must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0. A GPA of 2.0 also must be maintained in the major field and in any optional second major or minors unless a higher GPA is required.

All students are assigned a faculty adviser from the department or program in which they are enrolled who will assist in planning a four-year program.

Core Curriculum of the College of Communication and the Arts

The hallmark of a liberal education is that it entices a student to examine the tree of knowledge, to see both the distinction and interdependence of its branches. Through its program, the College of Communication and the Arts offers students the opportunity to examine areas of the humanities and sciences in depth, while exposing them to the breadth of the related disciplines.

The following core curriculum is the basis of the education of all students in the College of Communication and the Arts. This statement of the core curriculum begins with a discussion of the aims of a college education and proceeds to a listing of the various elements of the core requirements.

The College of Communication and the Arts recognizes the value of the distinctive and complementary perspectives of humanities, physical and biological sciences, and the social and behavioral sciences in understanding our world and the human condition. Its core curriculum is designed to enable students to be conversant with the goals, methods, and values of these perspectives and to acquire the habits of mind to appreciate and contribute to the constantly evolving body of knowledge.

In order to understand and place in personal perspectives the world in which they live:

1. Students will grasp the relationship between themselves as individuals and their communities, and develop an appreciation for the past’s influence on the present and the cultural differences and challenges posed by increased globalism.
2. Students will display the ability to write clearly and effectively, to read texts critically, to articulate ideas, to reason quantitatively and to use appropriate technology.

3. Students will develop the analytical tools required for an appreciation of the strengths and limitations of scientific methodologies and their applications to the natural world as well as human behavior.

4. Students will acquire basic interpretive tools to develop an appreciation of human creativity in its many forms, and understand its central place in people’s daily lives and rituals.

5. Students will appreciate and understand diverse human existence including its spiritual dimension and critically assess their values.

In addition to these broad liberal education objectives, students will develop competence in an academic discipline or area of study.

The Core Curriculum
The following are the requirements for the Core Curriculum of the College of Communication and the Arts and courses and examinations that fulfill these requirements for students required to complete 120 credits to obtain a Bachelor’s degree from Seton Hall University. The A&S Core Curriculum focuses on the following seven areas:

- Aesthetics. To acquire the interpretive tools to understand its place in people’s daily lives and rituals, students will explore human creativity in its many forms.

- Humanities. To better understand the world in which they live, and how it developed, students will examine the human story through time and place, using history and literature, while equipping themselves with the critical skills to analyze and evaluate evidence, and to understand race, gender, and power.

- Language. To increase awareness of cultural roots and traditions, students will demonstrate understanding and appreciation of classical or modern language.

- Rhetoric. To be prepared to speak in public, and to understand the varieties of speech discourse, students will study and practice presentations and other forms of spoken influence.

- Philosophy and Religion. To examine different ethical or spiritual worldviews, students will use the principles of sound reasoning to critically evaluate fundamental moral or spiritual values in making well-informed decisions about the issues of faith or moral issues.

- Science and Mathematics. To sharpen abilities to use and interpret quantitative information and utilize the power of mathematical reasoning to solve problems, students will study mathematical methodologies, modeling and their applications; and to better understand the natural and physical world around them, including the challenges and impacts of discovery, students will examine the scientific principles and practices.

- Social Science. To provide a sound basis for understanding and appreciating human institutions and behavior and to create the capacity for civic engagement, students will explore the foundations of society, culture, and government.

A course taken to fulfill one core requirement may not be used to fulfill another core requirement.

Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Core Curriculum

The following are the requirements for the Core Curriculum of the College of Communication and the Arts and courses and examinations that fulfill these requirements for students required to complete a minimum of 120 credits to obtain a Bachelor of Arts degree from Seton Hall University.

Art and Design
As the professional art field has expanded vastly to include everything that is visually communicated or “designed”, the Department of Communication and the Arts offers a major in Art and Design leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree. The faculty is a consortium of scholars and practicing professionals who provide an education that is both theoretical and pragmatic in approach. Thus, students are well prepared for careers in their professional fields relevant to the disciplines of Fine and Digital Arts, Graphic Design and Advertising, and Interactive Design and Multimedia. Students interested in teacher certification apply to the College of Education and Human Services for a major in Secondary Education and then declare a second major in Fine Arts. These majors begin field experience in their sophomore year, conclude student teaching in their final semester, and are granted New Jersey certification in teaching art.

Dual Degree Program in Museum Professions

The combined B.A./M.A. in Museum Professions allows Seton Hall University undergraduate students to take 12 graduate credits during their junior and senior years. These 12 credits count toward both the B.A. and the M.A. degree. Following graduation, students complete the remaining 27 credits of the M.A. degree.

Students are admitted into the dual degree program at the end of their sophomore year. Admission is based on GPA, application essay and interview. Students must maintain a 3.0 GPA average in the four graduate courses in order to be allowed to continue in the M.A. degree program. Students can have any undergraduate major from within the College of Arts and Sciences and Communication and the Arts as long as they complete four undergraduate courses in art history before they receive their B.A. degree.

A completed application package for the dual degree program consists of:
• completed application
• two (2) letters of recommendation
• GRE scores (the GRE may be waived for admission, but scores must be submitted to the program prior to the completion of the Masters Project)
• transcripts from all previous colleges and universities (including Seton Hall University)
• personal statement
• résumé or CV
• application fee
• additionally, all applicants are required to have an interview with a full-time faculty member, either on campus or over the phone. Applicants will be contacted to set up this interview once the application package is complete. Incomplete applications will not be reviewed.

A minimum GPA of 3.0 is required, although under certain circumstances the GPA requirement may be waived. Please contact Dr. Petra Chu, director of graduate studies, at (973) 761-9460 or visit www.shu.edu/academics/artsci/ma-museum-professions for further information.

Broadcasting and Film

Broadcasting and Visual Media Major

The Broadcasting and Visual Media major stresses a thorough understanding of media as social instruments which emphasize responsibility, professionalism and ethics, as well as hands-on practical experience in all aspects of communication technology. Experienced faculty working in the fields of broadcasting and visual media create the best educational environment for students. Facilities are dedicated for student use; the television studio and computer labs are state-of-the-art. The College also offers co-curricular experiences with student-oriented activities including WSOU 89.5 FM radio and Pirate TV.

Journalism and Public Relations

Journalism and Public Relations Major
The Journalism and Public Relations major stresses a thorough understanding of media as social institutions. Students learn responsibility, professionalism, and ethics, while they gain hands-on practical experience in a variety of communication technologies. Each track involves a comprehensive program of pre-professional courses tailored for each student’s needs. The Journalism track prepares students for careers in newspaper, magazine, sports, broadcast, and online writing, reporting, and editing. The Public Relations track prepares students for careers in public relations, integrated marketing communication, and corporate and organizational communication. Co-curricular and extracurricular activities include the Setonian, Seton Hall’s award-winning campus newspaper; the Seton Hall Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America; WSOU, Seton Hall’s award winning radio station; and Pirate Television.

Journalism and Public Relations Minor

The Journalism and Public Relations minor consist of 21 credits, as follows:

COTC 1131 Mass Communication I
COMM 2134 Communication Ethics
COJR 2431 American Journalism

Four additional communication elective courses (12 credits) as approved by the area’s academic adviser.

Five Year Dual Degree Programs (B.A./M.A.)

The College offers three dual degree five year programs that allow highly qualified undergraduate Journalism or Public Relations students to take advantage of combining undergraduate and graduate level study during their junior and senior years. Students are offered the opportunity to earn both their BA and MA degrees in five years. There are three programs: Communication, Public Relations and Museum Professions.

Accepted students can complete a Master of Arts in one year beyond their BA. Students who qualify for admission into the dual degree program will take 12 credits of graduate-level courses during their junior and senior years (3 in the Junior year and 9 in the Senior Year). A maximum of 12 credits (4 courses) may count toward both the BA and MA degree

Requirements

Students accepted into this program follow the academic program prescribed by their majors in consultation with their advisers (including the core requirements of the University and the College of Communication and the Arts as well as the requirements of their majors) during the first two years. Students apply to the Five Year Program upon completion of their sophomore year.

Journalism/Public Relations majors who have completed at least 60 undergraduate credits (by end of sophomore year) with a minimum GPA of 3.2 may apply in the second semester of their sophomore year. Students can apply to the Five Year Program by completing the SHU Graduate Application process.

Applicants are not required to take the GRE, but they must complete the graduate application form, and their application must include a transcript, a writing sample and three letters of recommendation from their undergraduate professors, two of whom must be full-time faculty in the College of Communication and the Arts. In addition, the student will have an entry interview with the Director of Graduate Studies, Graduate Communication Program. Students are charged the undergraduate tuition rate for undergraduate courses and the graduate tuition rates for graduate level courses. This will be clearly stated in the graduate application.

Music

Music Major Program

The College of Communication and the Arts offers major programs in music leading to the Bachelor of Arts Degree. In the field of music, students have a choice of two different majors:

1. Music Performance (voice, keyboard, selected orchestral instruments)
2. Comprehensive Music (required for students seeking New Jersey certification in the teaching of music)

Music majors may also participate in a broad range of co-curricular activities including the University and Chamber Choirs, Orchestra, Pep Band, Jazz Ensemble, music and theatre workshops and more.

Music Performance Major (Voice/Keyboard/Instrument)

Music is a competitive major. Before a student is accepted into the music program, an audition must be successfully completed. Students wishing to audition for admittance to the program should contact Dr. Dena Levine, Music Program Coordinator, at dena.levine@shu.edu

ADIM 1223 2D Design and Color
Development of visual literacy with regard to the ability to construct, interpret and verbalize the concepts involved in image making. Concepts covered will relate to all fields in the visual arts. Examples of fine and applied art will be analyzed using the principles and elements of two-dimensional design and color theory. Supplies fee $25. 3 credits

ADIM 1224 Printmaking I
Introduction through lectures, demonstrations and practical work into intaglio and relief processes. Basic drawing skills are required. Special supplies fee $50. 3 credits

ADIM 1225 Printmaking II
Advanced projects in intaglio and relief printmaking, book arts, and digital/photo processes. Basic drawing skills are required. Special supplies fee $50. 3 credits

ADIM 1226 Traditional American Crafts
This course combines lectures on traditional American crafts with hands-on instruction in such techniques as paper making, trade sign painting, quilting, rug hooking and bandbox painting. Special supplies fee $50. 3 credits

ADIM 1311 Graphic Design and Advertising Art I
Overview of creative, conceptual and practical aspects of graphic design and advertising art with projects, demonstrations and lectures on design, imagery, typography and new media. 3 credits

ADIM 2141-2144 Special Topics in Applied Art
Selected topics, designated in advance of the semester, in the area of applied art. May be repeated for credit (under different number as topics change). 3 credits

ADIM 2210 Drawing II
Individual projects using a variety of drawing media and techniques, resulting in a portfolio presentation. Prerequisite: AART 1110 or permission of instructor. Studio fee $50. 3 credits

ADIM 2215 Watercolor I
Introduction to the materials, processes and techniques of transparent water color. Supplies fee $25. 3 credits

ADIM 2216 Watercolor II
Advanced exploration with the materials, processes and techniques of transparent water color. Prerequisite: AART 2215. Supplies fee $25. 3 credits

ADIM 2220 Figure Drawing
Introductory course in drawing the human figure, employing the use of male and female models. Comprehensive study of the nude human figure and its relation to drawing and painting. Studio fee $50. 3 credits

ADIM 2227 Painting II
Continued exploration of oil painting materials and techniques, emphasizing more complex formal and conceptual problems. Prerequisite: AART 1217. (Formerly AART 1227) Supplies fee $25. 3 credits

ADIM 2230 Drawing as Design
Introduction to graphic illustration. Beginning course in learning how to develop basic illustrative ideas using a variety of media and conceptual approaches. Focus will be on basic composition, drawing and simple rendering techniques used in client-based illustration. (Formerly called Illustration) 3 credits

ADIM 2233 Typography I
Course will focus on basic use of letter forms and words as design elements in visual communication projects. Students will gain an understanding of historical roots of modern typography and use this knowledge to design logos, one page and multiple page designs for editorial, advertising, corporate and institutional design projects. 3 credits

ADIM 3233 Typography II
This course expands the knowledge acquired during Typography Design I. Historical and contemporary viewpoints, print production and layout skills are emphasized. In addition to learning how to develop rough ideas into finished art, the course will explore the fundamentals of creating motion-based, screen typography. Projects involve functional and personal expression through the use of Macintosh design and animation programs. Prerequisite: AART 2233. 3 credits

ADIM 2311 Graphic Design and Advertising Art II
Instruction in successful union of concept, type and image as they are combined in designing a wide range of print and new media applications in corporate, advertising and institu-
ADIM 2312 Digital Art and Design I
Introduction to computer graphics using draw and paint software programs. Image and type manipulations for graphic design applications will be taught through projects, lectures, seminars, and hands-on experience. Course focuses on computer-based illustration and design techniques which involve industry-standard software packages. 3 credits

ADIM 2314 Computer Assisted Illustration
Course in generating digital illustrations from sketches, tracings and photographs. Drawing and painting software will be used to create illustrations for diverse graphic design applications with emphasis on creativity and composition. Prerequisite: AART 2230. 3 credits

ADIM 2315 Web Design I
Utilizing programs such as Macromedia’s Flash and Dreamweaver, students will create dynamic web pages incorporating animation, video, audio and interactivity. Each student will be expected to complete a fully functional site by the end of the course. 3 credits

ADIM 2316 Web Design II
This web design course introduces the students to the advanced applications used in Internet web communication. Instruction will include paradigms for developing web content for different uses, outcomes and audiences. Technical design strategies and the use of advanced interactive techniques using software are inclusive of this course. Assignments in class will be structured around the contemporary publishing issues facing the Internet user of today. Upon completion of this course, students will possess knowledge of composing customized Internet content with interactive navigation, motion and sound design. Prerequisite: AART 2315. 3 credits

ADIM 2317 Digital Painting
Course is designed to introduce the student to the basic use of the digital computer’s state-of-the-art Adobe Photoshop and Painter software in creating original paintings and drawings. Emphasis will be placed on the translation and conversion of traditional studio-based artwork brought into a pixel based medium. Prerequisite: ADIM 2312. 3 credits

ADIM 2318 Digital Art and Design II
This course provides advanced computer instruction in digital design and concept development in the context of commercial advertising design. This is an applied studio course of technical approaches and computer design strategies used in solving challenges in visual communication and persuasion. Interactive component is part of course plan. Prerequisite: ADIM 2312. 3 credits

ADIM 2334 Three Dimensional Packaging and Exhibition Design
Design course will expose the student to solving three-dimensional client-directed design problems. Students will learn about point-of-purchase display, product packaging, as well as exhibit design (institutional and corporate). Isometric drawing and orthographic project in the conceiving of environmental interior spaces for display purposes. Prerequisites: AART 1311 and AART 1223 and AART 2312. 3 credits

ADIM 3161-3166 Individual Studies in Art
Independent work under the guidance of the instructor. Prerequisite: 6 credits in studio art and permission of department chair. Credits to be arranged.

ADIM 3193-3194 Art Internship
Pass/Fail option only 3-6 credits

ADIM 3313 Art Direction and Creative Strategy
Course is designed to expose the student to a professional field experience structured through fully art directed project activity, creative strategy and targeted campaign design. Projects are comprehensive, including tactical and communication concepts and audience profiling. On and off-site visitations are part of course. Prerequisite: AART 1311. 3 credits

ADIM 3410 Children and the Visual Arts
An introductory course for students interested in careers in which children make art: schools, hospitals, recreation centers, camps, day care centers, museums and community organizations. Studio-based with readings in art appreciation and curriculum design. Art and non-art majors. No prerequisite. Supplies fee $25. 3 credits

ADIM 3312 Designing for Mobile
Advanced students will be introduced to comprehensive mobile website design strategies and iOS application design. Instruction will include mobile design terminology, information delivery planning, navigational paradigms, best practices for designing interactive applications and the use of current software applications involved with building mobile websites and native iOS apps. Learning how to code websites using HTML and CSS optimized for traditional and mobile viewing environments are also inclusive of course instruction. Upon completion of this course, students will possess knowledge of how to design effectively for mobile. Prerequisites: ADIM 2315, ADIM 2316 3 credits

ADIM 4312 Practicum Design Seminar
Comprehensive senior capstone course which involves preparation for final portfolio presentations and for developing professional résumés. 3 credits

ADIM 2111 Introduction to Hypertext Markup Language
Introductory course in the preparation of Hypertext Markup Language (HTML) documents. HTML instructions are embedded in all web pages and control formatting of page layout, fonts and graphic elements. Students learn HTML codes, conventions and procedures. They create web pages by typing page content and HTML instructions into a text editor. These pages are posted on the World Wide Web. No experience in graphics or programming is necessary. 1 credit

ADIM 2112 Introduction to Multimedia Communication
This survey course examines the social, economic and cultural implications of multimedia use on the web and in portable handheld devices. It discusses hardware and software tools and generally serves as an introduction to multimedia design and interactive communication. Multimedia can be defined as the delivery of video animation, graphics, sound and text in a non-linear computer based form. Students create personal web pages using Adobe Dreamweaver software. 3 credits

ADIM 2114 Game Design and Digital Storytelling
Introduction to the theory and practice of game creation and design for interactive home entertainment, arcade games, education, and multiplayer online environments. Students will study the history of games, game genres, game technology, organization, psychology, story and structure. Students will complete design assignments exploring topics discussed in class such as game prototyping, interface design and character creation. 3 credits

ADIM 2320 Still Photography
Development of visual expression through the use of the still camera. Fundamentals discussed and practiced include optics, film emulsions, composition, lighting and darkroom technique, including developing, printing and enlarging. Students furnish their own 35mm cameras. 3 credits

ADIM 2322 Introduction to 3D Computer Graphics
Introduction to the wide range of three-dimensional computer graphics applications in broadcasting, business, art and journalism. Concentrating on three-dimensional modeling terminology, software and operations from an artist/manager/buyer perspective. No prior skill in computer programming required. 3 credits

ADIM 3112 Multimedia Production
Prepare students to use multimedia authoring software, such as Macromedia Director, for the creation of multimedia presentations used in business, training materials, kiosk displays, computer games and entertainment. Students learn how to prepare and manipulate the basic elements of multimedia, such as digital sound, animation, graphics and text. Prerequisite: COGR 2112. 3 credits

ADIM 3320 Advanced Photography
Using digital still cameras with video capability, students will create and edit short news and documentary stories. Techniques of the small photographic studio, including portrait photography and studio strobe lighting, will also be taught. Prerequisite: COGR 2320 or COGR 3325. 3 credits

ADIM 3321 Publication Design
Fundamentals of publication design, including a review of design theory as it relates to contemporary publication design practices. Projects and portfolio work selected according to students’ design goals. Course covers newspaper, magazine, advertising and web page design, and other design situations depending on student needs, resulting in an individualized, comprehensive publication design portfolio. 3 credits

ADIM 3322 Computer Animation
Theory and practice of computer animation. Students create their own 3D animations. Classic examples of short computer animations are screened and discussed. No prior programming skills required. Prerequisite: COGR 2322. 3 credits

ADIM 3325 Digital Photography
Introduction to digital photography and image editing software. Students will learn photographic and computer techniques essential for creating computer mediated imagery. The course will cover digital camera operation, photo editing software, desktop scanners and ink jet printing. Digital images will be edited with Adobe PhotoShop. Completed assignments will be posted on the web and reproduced as color prints and/or 5mm color slides. 3 credits

ADIM 3326 Video Animation and Motion Graphics
Introduction to digital video editing. Students learn fundamentals of nonlinear video editing for the World Wide Web, CDROM, and DVD applications. They gain hands-on experience in digital video capture and learn industry standard software such as Adobe Premier and Adobe After Effects. Prerequisite: COGR 2322. 3 credits

ADIM 3327 Flash Animation Design
This course focuses on tools and techniques for creating two-dimensional animation and motion graphics for the web. Students learn how to create GIF animations and how to incorporate them into web presentations. Students then study interactive vector animation used in creating animated web menus and web sites; web cartoons; television advertisements and other standalone presentations. Web animation is placed in the larger context of short-form traditional animation. Examples of animation from motion pictures and the web are studied. (Formerly Animation for the Web) Prerequisite: COGR 2322. 3 credits

ADIM 5399 Senior Seminar in Computer Graphics: Design, Animation and Multi Media
Visual theory, aesthetics, the history of graphic design, and visual criticism will be synthesized in an individualized final project incorporating the design background of each student. Seminars will critically evaluate various areas of computer graphics relevant to the students. Design portfolios well be required in addition to the major critical/aesthetic project. 3 credits

Art History

ARTH 1001 Art and Human Needs
Throughout history, and throughout the world, art has served key functions related to home and shelter, religion, magic, propaganda, commemoration (individual and collective), instruction, and societal critique. This course, which fulfills the aesthetic requirement in the Core Curriculum of the College of Communication and the Arts, is aimed at informing students about the essential place of the visual arts in human experience across the globe. 3 credits

ARTH 1101 Art of the Western World
General survey of the history of art in the West from pre-classical Greece to the present day. 3 credits

ARTH 2101 Looking at Art and Visual Culture
The course addresses the methodologies of art history and the newer field of visual culture. To be considered are the various ways of looking at art and visual culture, roughly in the order of their development from the late eighteenth through the twenty-first centuries. The course’s format - lectures and discussions - is aimed at maximum participation on the part the students as the study of art and visual culture, ideally, is a discursive practice. 3 credits

ARTH 2107 American Art
Overview of art and architecture in America from colonial times to the 20th Century. (Formerly ARTH 1107) 3 credits

ARTH 2109 (AFAM 2529) African American Art
Overview of African American material culture and visual arts from colonial times to the present, including painting, printmaking, photography and sculpture. Close analysis of visual representations will go hand in hand with a discussion of key texts in art history and critical theory. Topics include the effects of patronage, the influence of class, gender and sexual orientation. Special emphasis in exploring how transatlantic travel and dislocation affected continuity and transformation in African American art practice and beyond. (Formerly ARTH 5009) 3 credits

ARTH 2111 (ARCH 2311) Greek and Roman Art
Study of the art and architecture of the ancient Greeks and Romans. (Formerly ARTH 1111) 3 credits

ARTH 2112 Medieval Art
Art in Europe from the beginning of Christianity through the full flowering of medieval culture in the Gothic age. (Formerly ARTH 1112) 3 credits

Evolution of Italian art from the 14th through the 16th centuries. (Formerly ARTH 1113) 3 credits

ARTH 2115 Baroque and Rococo Art
Historical development of painting and architecture in Europe from the post Renaissance period to the late 18th century. (Formerly ARTH 1115) 3 credits

ARTH 2116 19th Century Art from Neoclassicism to Impressionism
Evolution of modern art in Europe from the dawn of Neoclassicism in the later part of the 18th century until the last Impressionist exhibition in 1886. (Formerly ARTH 1116) 3 credits

ARTH 2118 20th Century Art
An overview of the history of art of the 20th century, from Expressionism and Symbolism to the Postmodern trends of the end of the century. (Formerly ARTH 1118) 3 credits

ARTH 2119 Art Since 1945
An overview of contemporary art since the end of World War II in the Americas, Europe and the Pacific Rim. Emphasis on the contextualization of art in the political, social and cultural realm. The blur of traditional boundaries between art forms will be discussed, as well as the erasure of certain canonical properties of art, such as visuality and plasticity, (e.g., the handmade object). (Formerly ARTH 5001) 3 credits

ARTH 2124 History of Graphic Design
An historical overview of graphic design from the early pictograph to the present. The course stresses both the theory and historical development of visual communication. The relationship between word and image is also a major theme. (Formerly ARTH 1124) 3 credits

ARTH 2126 (ASIA 2126) The Arts of China and Japan
Survey of Far Eastern art from prehistoric times to the 19th century. Original works of art from the University’s collections used for illustration and examination. (Formerly ARTH 1126) 3 credits

ARTH 3101 (CORE 3130) The Art of St. Peter’s
The course explores the physical fabric and artistic embellishment of Saint Peter’s and the Vatican from Early Christian times through the twentieth century as a way of assessing the development of Catholicism’s distinctive and powerful visual language. 3 credits

ARTH 3127 The Art of Van Gogh and His Contemporaries
European art of the Post-Impressionist era, with special emphasis on Vincent van Gogh. (Formerly ARTH 1127) 3 credits

ARTH 3140 History of Photography
This course provides an introduction to the history of photography from its nineteenth-century beginnings to the present. In a dual approach, this class charts the evolution of this representational technology in a chronological fashion, whereas a subject-focused approach provides a parallel line of inquiry. Survey follows the emergence of photography as an aesthetic practice in historical perspective across geographic and national boundaries. Course focuses on France, England, and the United States but also considers less obvious, but equally important areas, in which photography evolved. Issues to be addressed include landscape photography, pictorialism, chronophotography, social documentary, art photography, street photography and various postmodern practices. 3 credits

ARTH 3141-3144 Special Topics in Art History
Selected topics in art history. May be repeated for credit under a different number as topics change. (Formerly ARTH 2141-2144) 3 credits

ARTH 3151-3156 Individual Studies in Art History
Study and research in individual areas selected by the student in consultation with adviser and department chair. Junior or senior art history majors. 1 - 6 credits

ARTH 3193-3194 Art Internship
Pass/Fail option only. 3 credits

ARTH 3201 Gender and Art
Examines representations of masculinity and femininity in the history of western art. Explores how contemporary artists and theorists are challenging these gendered constructions. Discusses barriers women artists have faced and strategies they have formulated to surmount these obstacles. Introduces diverse methodologies from feminist and gender studies. Prepares students to include a feminist perspective to their evaluation of museum exhibitions. 3 credits

ARTH 4101 Art History Seminar
The seminar is intended for advanced art history majors, preferably seniors, and possibly others (such as students in the University Honors Program, Women’s Studies, Catholic Studies, etc.), depending on the subject and with permission of the instructor. Its purpose is to involve students in the intense study of a specific topic, selected by the faculty member teaching the course. In a typical seminar, the faculty member gives a series of introductory lectures on the topic. Students read a group of texts related to the topic and these are discussed in class. Students then present a seminar paper on a specific aspect of that topic. The paper, upon presentation, is also submitted as a final project. 3 credits

COBF 2211 Alternative Television
This course investigates how the category “alternative” can help us make sense of the politics in television culture. Topics include alternative taste cultures found on tabloid television, alternative modes of audience participation on reality TV and the Internet, alternative political voices in the 1950s and 1960s television industry, and the representation of alternative social movements on 1960s television. 3 credits

COBF 2212 Introduction to Visual Theory and Technique
Lectures, discussions and screenings focus on the development of visual expression in film, video, and computer graphics, with emphasis on the narrative form. There is an opportunity for practical exercises; a photo assignment and an optional digital video final project. 3 credits

COBF 2213 Documentary Film

Writings of various popular contemporary critics are evaluated in class discussions that examine questions of aesthetic criteria and the development of a style appropriate to the film critic’s audience. 3 credits

COBF 3216 Film Genre
A study of the aesthetic, social, and cultural importance of television genres. The course will survey various theories about television genres and then use those theories to examine one or two specific television genre(s) in detail. 3 credits

COBF 3221 Television Genres
A study of the aesthetic, social, and cultural importance of television genres. The course will survey various theories about television genres and then use those theories to examine one or two specific television genre(s) in detail. 3 credits

COBF 3222 Introduction to Film Production
Principles and techniques of motion picture production, including scripting, cinematography, budgeting, non-synchronous sound, and non-linear digital film editing. Students work in groups to create original film projects. Prerequisite: COBF 2212. 3 credits

COBF 3223 Television Production II
Broadening and deepening of students’ knowledge of studio and field techniques and processes, followed by production of an original television program by student groups, from concept to videotape recording. Prerequisite: COBF 2223. 3 credits
COBF 3224 Television Production III
Studio and field digital video production equipment, shooting technique and non-linear digital video editing. Each student, working in a group, progresses through a series of introductory camera and editing exercises related to electronic field production and advanced studio production to create an original television program. Lectures and demonstrations. Prerequisite: COBF 2223. 3 credits

COBF 3225 Radio Programming and Production
Various current programming philosophies as exemplified by local independent AM and FM station operators: problems in the management of local radio stations, and production techniques for studio and remote broadcasts. Prerequisite: COBF 2215. 3 credits

COBF 4222 Advanced Film Production
Students use HD production techniques and form production groups to produce original 5-10 minute film and/or HDV productions. Prerequisite: COBF 3222. 3 credits

COBF 4224 Television Production IV
Students, working in groups, prepare and produce an original long form video production taped on location and/or in the studio. Prerequisite: COBF 3224. 3 credits

COBF 5299 Senior Seminar Radio/TV
In this course, students use skills learned in other communication courses – the ability to read critically, write persuasively, and research effectively – to pursue a larger research project. As such, Senior Seminar-Radio/TV is both a synthesis (in that it asks students to draw on knowledge from other classes) and introduction (in that it introduces students to ways that scholars craft compelling, original essays). Students will write a major research paper on social, cultural, or institutional aspects of broadcasting. 3 credits

COBF 5698 Senior Seminar in Film
This senior capstone course in film studies for students with basic knowledge of film history, theory, and criticism. The purpose of this course is to investigate the technical, philosophical, and stylistic foundations of film as an art form, and film’s social, political, economic, and cultural context. 3 credits

Journalism

COJR 2330 (AFAM 2330) Mass Media and Minorities

COMM 2620 Oral Interpretation
Art and development performance techniques for the interpretation of prose, poetry and drama. Prerequisite: COST 1600. 3 credits
COMM 2622 Group Discussion
Effective management of and participation in formal and informal discussion groups whose goals are to investigate, evaluate, solve problems or make decisions. Prerequisite: COST 1600. 3 credits

COMM 2623 Persuasive Speaking
Art of inspiring, convincing and actuating audiences through the use of ethical appeals, both logical and psychological. Prerequisite: COST 1600. 3 credits

COMM 2625 Public and Presentational Speaking
A broad study of the “one-to-many” speaking context with a focus on developing speaking and listening competence. Includes the message organization, speech presentation, vocal and physical delivery of various types of formal and informal speaking situations. 3 credits

COMM 2626 Rhetorical Criticism
Methods of close textural analysis. Multiple perspectives and procedures for assessing how rhetoric works to create, maintain, and oppose social meanings. 3 credits

COMM 2630 Non-Verbal Communication
This course examines theories, principles and implications concerning the many important ways by which humans communicate personally and professionally without words (including such channels as space [proxemics], movement [kinesics], vocal tone [paralanguage], time [chronemics] etc.). Knowledge and skills will be enhanced through readings, lecture/discussion, projects, and various experiential learning techniques. Prerequisite COST 1500 or COST 1600. 3 credits

COMM 3130 (CORE 3320) Propaganda, Religion, and War
Propaganda, Religion, & War entails a political, historical, and ethical exploration of discursive and visual propaganda. As a form of mass persuasion, propaganda has long been a vital constituent of both religious discourse and the rhetoric of warfare. The course begins with an examination of the emergence of propaganda as a strategic concept in the 17th Century Vatican’s response to the Protestant Reformation. It then combines analytical and ethical perspectives on propaganda with a detailed examination of propaganda-like practices throughout history. 3 credits

COMM 5899 Senior Seminar in Communication Studies
This is a capstone course in Communications Studies that encompasses the history, theory and philosophy of communication while focusing on the research literature on the field and providing students with the opportunity to conduct original research in the area of Communication Studies. 3 credits

Communication Theory
COTC 1131 Mass Communication I
This course surveys the mass media from the rise of print to the age of the computer. The historical and theoretical implications of mass media are examined by studying representative examples of each medium. 3 credits

COTC 1132 Culture and Communication
Interpretation and analysis of verbal and non-verbal behavior, with an emphasis on intercultural communication. This course examines the personal, social, and cultural functions of communications, the development of language and how cultural conventions, gender and status differences modify meaning and how the media influences our view of ourselves and others. 3 credits

COTC 2240 Media Criticism
Survey of various methods for analyzing and evaluating mass media. Students learn how to apply critical methodologies to understanding media production, content and the audience. 3 credits

COTC 3191 Independent Study
1 credit

COTC 3192 Independent Study
2 credits

COTC 3193 Independent Study
Projects chosen according to the student’s interest. Completed under the guidance of a faculty adviser, with the approval of the department chair. A maximum of 3 credits may be taken in individual research in one semester; none of these courses may be taken in the same semester as COTC 5199. (Open to senior majors only). 3 credits

COTC 3197 Communication Internship I
COTC 3198 Communication Internship II
COTC 4197 Communication Internship III
COTC 2198 Communication Internship IV
On-the-job education and experience in New Jersey and New York media organizations, under professional supervision. (Open to selected seniors and juniors). See Internship Director. 3-12 credits

COTC 5000 Preparation of the Senior Communication Portfolio
Independent study on a selected topic completed under the supervision of the instructor. 1 credit

COTC 5199 Senior Thesis
Students select section to meet their needs. Seminar sections: review of research in broadcasting, film, journalism or theater. Students engage in individual and/or group research projects. Thesis section: tools and techniques of research. Each student completes an independent research project (thesis) in consultation with a faculty adviser. Individual research (COTC 3191-3193) may not be taken in the same semester as COTC 5199. (Open to senior majors only). 3 credits

Theatre
COTR 1620, 1621, 1622 Performance Lab: Theatre and Performance
Students can earn credit from their experience in performance, construction, and/or running of University Theatre shows. Theatre majors need three performance credits to graduate. 1 credit each

Course develops the discipline of stylized acting techniques and explores the history of Greek, Shakespearean and Restoration theater. Prerequisite: COTH 2626. 3 credits

COTR 3627 Theatre in London
Study abroad course that covers British theatre and history culminating in a week long trip to London visiting historic sights and viewing several theatre performances. Usually included are tours to Westminster Abbey, backstage tours of the Theatre Royal Drury Lane, the Houses of Parliament, the British Museum as well as workshops at The Globe Theatre and theatre performances in the West End and with The Royal Shakespeare Company in Stratford-upon-Avon. Particular sights and productions are subject to availability at the time of the trip. Instructor’s approval required. 3 credits

COTR 3628 (CORE 3321) Religious Experience on Stage
This course centers on the theatrical performance of plays that reflect different religious traditions and values. Since plays were written to be performed, students compare and contrast the productions’ expression of these beliefs. This expression, while including textual analysis, primarily focuses on performance styles with particular attention to the performance as a religious experience. Theatrical tradition, style and actor performance and technique are explored. The student will engage in the audience/actor/text experience through the viewing of live performances in New York and on campus (subject to the theatre offerings of the semester), through video of live performance and by performing scenes from the texts. No acting experience is necessary as it is not a course in learning acting technique but rather in studying the connection between actor/audience/text and religious traditions. 3 credits

COTR 5799 Senior Seminar Theatre
A required capstone course for Theatre majors. Students will discuss and write about contemporary theatre drawn from their experience of seeing shows in New York City. 3 credits

Applied Music
MUAP 1011-1012 Beginning Piano I-II
Group piano instruction for beginners, taught in electronic piano lab. Two one-hour classes per week. Prerequisite to private piano lessons. 2 credits each
MUAP 1131 Beginning Voice
Group voice instruction for beginners. One two-hour class per week. Prerequisite to private voice lessons. 2 credits

MUAP 1141-1148 Band
Brass and woodwinds ensemble, which plays a varied repertoire from classical to contemporary music. One or more performances a semester. 1 credit each

MUHI 3101 (CORE 3131) Music, Theology and Catholicism
The change in sacred music over several centuries prompted debates within the Catholic church as to the identity of religious music. Traditionalists often felt that the importance of sacred music was related to its devotional characteristics, while others thought it to be an art form that could become increasingly complex. Many of these disputes paralleled theological and social disagreements within the church over the mission of Catholicism. This class will discuss these ideas and historical developments within the church in relationship to music as well as theology. 3 credits

MUHI 3171-3176 Individual Studies in Music History
Study and research in individual areas selected by the student in consultation with adviser and department chair. Prerequisite: 6 credits in music. Course open to graduate and advanced undergraduate students. 1-6 credits

School of Diplomacy and International Relations, established in alliance with the United Nations Association of the United States of America, which is now a division of the United Nations Foundation, prepares students from around the world to become the next generation of global leaders. The School’s academic programs provide students with critical knowledge and concrete skills essential to international careers in public service, business, law and the nonprofit sector.

Students participate in an innovative curriculum that educates students from a global perspective, with an emphasis on global studies, multilateral diplomacy, conflict resolution, international management, economics and leadership training. A distinguished faculty of scholars and professionals bring cutting-edge theory and practical perspectives to the classroom. A unique link with the United Nations community exposes students to the policymakers and practitioners addressing today’s worldwide concerns. Diplomacy students also have the opportunity to take certain courses in Washington, D.C., in order to maintain their full-time status while pursuing Washington-based professional internships.

A degree from the School of Diplomacy enables graduates to be effective and ethical leaders in their professional careers and to engage dynamically in the complexities of a global society.

Bachelor of Science in Diplomacy and International Relations

The undergraduate program is based on an interdisciplinary global studies curriculum with strong components of cultural understanding, international economics and leadership. A comprehensive world languages program enables students to attain professional proficiency in multiple languages. All students complete a professional internship in order to gain an understanding of career opportunities available to them upon graduation. The School of Diplomacy sponsors regional study trips. Opportunities to participate in Model U.N. and other activities related to the United Nations also are available.
To attain the degree of Bachelor of Science in Diplomacy and International Relations, students must complete the program for a total of 120 credits. While each student is guided by a faculty adviser of the School, the ultimate responsibility for complying with curriculum requirements rests with the student. To complete degree requirements satisfactorily, students must have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.0. Transfer students should obtain academic advisement from one of the Associate Deans.

B.S./M.A. in Diplomacy and International Relations Program

The B.S./M.A. in Diplomacy and International Relations Program allows students in the undergraduate program in diplomacy and international relations to earn a bachelor’s and a 45 credit master’s degree.

Students who have completed 60 credit hours in the first semester of their junior year, may apply for admission to the M.A. in Diplomacy and International Relations program. If accepted, the program begins second semester junior year. The BS/MA accelerated program requires attendance during Summer Sessions.

Applications for the BS/MA are available in the Office of Graduate Admissions, McQuaid Hall. Applicants must have a 3.2 minimum GPA, and all applicants will have a one-on-one meeting with the School’s Graduate Admissions Committee.

The total number of credits required for the combined B.S./M.A. program is 147, with 102 at the undergraduate level and 45 at the graduate level. The requirements for the B.S. degree are reduced by 18 credits but the students complete all of the requirements for the traditional M.A. degree as described in the graduate catalogue.

Students in the B.S./M.A. program use their first six graduate courses (18 credits) to waive the following undergraduate courses/credits and receive their B.S. degree:

1) DIPL elective 3
2) DIPL elective 3
3) DIPL 3111 3
4) Free elective 3
5) Free elective 3
6) Free elective 3

Once the student completes the remaining nine graduate courses (27 credits), including all core, distribution, and specialization requirements, they are eligible to receive their M.A. degree.

Course Descriptions

The courses below represent a comprehensive list of all University approved Diplomacy course offerings. All courses have been taught and are eligible to be taught again. However, some courses are offered more frequently than others. Please see the School of Diplomacy website at diplomacy.shu.edu for a schedule of this year’s courses. Students interested in courses that are not currently scheduled should contact the Department Chair.

DIPL 1002 Interdisciplinary Seminar in Diplomacy and International Relations

Focuses on a few current international challenges or issues while applying several advanced international relations perspectives simultaneously. The course will expose students to a variety of tools and perspectives in the field of Diplomacy and International Relations, and help students to see the complementarity of the various theoretical perspectives. Team taught. 3 credits
DIPL 1101 Emergence of the Contemporary World
Surveys development of major cultures and societies, focusing on these traditions in the context of interaction among European, Asian and African peoples and the encounter of European and American peoples in the 15th century. 3 credits

DIPL 1711 International Relations
Analyzes the dynamics of the relations between and across the different countries of the world. Examines the role that countries, international organizations, nongovernmental organizations, businesses, and individual people play in addressing pressing global problems such as peace, war, security, arms control, trade, development, human rights and the environment. 3 credits

DIPL 2101 Ethnopolitical Landscapes of the Contemporary World
Surveys political, economic, cultural and socio-demographic trends shaping the contemporary world and their impact on international, regional and global relations. Focuses on nationalism and ethnicity. Topics include: rise of nations-states; impact of nationalism; nation-building and empire building; Western imperialism in the Third World; ethnicity and nationalism; ethnic relations in the U.S. and other parts of the world; and post-Cold War development. 3 credits

DIPL 2103 History of Diplomacy
Surveys the evolution of diplomacy from ancient civilizations to the present. Examines the actors and processes associated with classic diplomacy, and considers the new challenges facing diplomats as a result of recent changes in international affairs. 3 credits

DIPL 2109 Institutions of Global Governance
Examines the process through which states, intergovernmental organizations, nongovernmental organizations, and multinational corporations seek to address pressing problems of global governance. The challenges associated with international cooperation are explored, including the changing nature of sovereignty and the difficulties with promoting compliance. A variety of transsovereign issues are covered and the course concludes with a diplomatic simulation of a global issues conference. 3 credits

DIPL 2110 Comparative Foreign Policy
Explores the different processes through which countries design their foreign policy. A variety of countries are examined encompassing various regions of the world, levels of development, and types of political regimes. Of special concern is the manner in which both domestic and international pressures influence the foreign policy making process. 3 credits

DIPL 2111 European Union Trip
Students learn about diplomacy and international relations as well as European culture and history first-hand, by visiting some of the major institutions involved in European Union governance and in Europe’s trans-Atlantic relations. The School’s other intensive study seminars (DIPL 2112, 2113, and 4197) will also fulfill this practicum requirement. 3 credits

DIPL 2112 Cyprus-East Mediterranean Study
This course will assess the economic, political and social impact of EU membership on Cyprus. Students will gain insights based on the perceptions of different actors, namely public sector, private sector, and civil society. After serious preparation, students will visit Cyprus and interact with the main players. Based on this visit, the class will prepare a report, for which every member will contribute. 3 credits

DIPL 2113 China’s Rise: Opportunities and Challenges
This course explores the opportunities and challenges posed by the rise of China. It culminates in a 10 day field trip to China. 3 credits

DIPL 2114 African Union Seminar
This course examines conflicts in Africa and the AU’s role in conflict resolution. Included in the study seminar are the nature and sources of conflicts in Africa; the structure and organization of the AU and its predecessor, the Organization of African Unity (OAU); agenda-setting at the AU; and the role the AU plays in conflict resolution, especially its relationship with the UN regarding peace operations in Africa. Through a study trip to the AU Headquarters in Addis Ababa (Ethiopia), students will explore and interrogate the theories and practice of conflict resolution by international organizations, with particular reference to the AU. 3 credits

DIPL 2115 Small State Diplomacy: Portugal’s Role in International Affairs
This course examines Portugal as an example of the role smaller states play in global affairs and especially international institutions, including the European Union, the United Nations, NATO, and the Community of Portuguese Speaking Countries. Through a study trip to Lisbon, students will learn how small states defend their interests in international affairs, what strategies they use, and what resources they draw upon, as well as the benefits and constraints that accrue from membership in international organizations. 3 credits

DIPL 2116 Kosovo Study Seminar
This course will examine the transition of Kosovo from its status as an autonomous province of Serbia within Yugoslavia to a subordinate part of Serbia after the dissolution of Yugoslavia to a ward of the UN to a newly independent country recognized by half the member states of the UN. This will be done through a combination of traditional learning and research and a ten day study tour. Students will have the opportunity to consider the role of the UN and NATO in building institutions of governance in a vacuum, the difficulties of building a viable economy where none existed, and the post-independence prospects of the world’s newest independent country. On the ground in Kosovo we will meet with representatives of the international organizations and NGOs that continue to play a central role in shaping the society, senior officials of Kosovo, representatives of Serb and Albanian communities and political party leaders. 3 credits
DIPL 2117 Catholic Peacemaking Intensive Study Seminar

The Catholic Peacemaking Intensive Study Program immerses participants in the practice of Catholic peacemaking as experienced through the offices of the Holy See and the work of the Community of Sant'Egidio. After an introduction to the themes of the course, the students will visit and have interactions with diplomats and researchers based in Rome. The course is designed to familiarize students with the inner workings of Vatican diplomacy and of the non-governmental organizations dedicated to peacemaking. 3 credits

DIPL 2120 International Conflict and Security

Provides an overview of the classical issues in the study of war and peace, and examines the nature and functions of the use of force, macro- and micro-theories of conflict, arms races and control, nuclear proliferation, and deterrence. Recent developments in the management of weapons of mass destruction are also explored. 3 credits

DIPL 3101 Concepts in Leadership

Analyzes historical and contemporary concepts of leadership and explores traits, strategies and techniques that define leadership. 3 credits

DIPL 3104 Public International Law

Deals with the nature, history and domains of international law. Through case studies, this course provides understanding of the international legal system with regard to such basic goals as curbing resort to war, peaceful settlement of disputes, fostering peaceful use of the oceans, Antarctica and outer space, enhancing respect for human rights, preserving the environment and strengthening the capability of the United Nations and the U.N. system as a primary instrument of world order. 3 credits

DIPL 3111 Practicum III: Internship

Provides students with educationally-related work and learning experiences that integrate knowledge and theory with practical application and skill development in a professional setting. Departmental permission required. These courses are offered on a (P)ass/(F)ail basis. 3 credits

DIPL 3115 The Washington Experience Study Tour: Actors, Institutions and the Policy Process

This course introduces students to prominent Washington-based actors and institutions that influence international policy. Washington, D.C. is not only the capital city of the United States, but also the headquarters of many major global institutions such as the World Bank and International Monetary Fund. Thorough meetings with representatives of governments, international organizations, think-tanks, advocacy organizations and the press, students gain a first-hand understanding of the policy-process and apply that knowledge to current, economic, diplomatic, humanitarian, and security challenges. 3 credits

DIPL 3116 The Washington Seminar on Global Policy Challenges

This Washington, D.C. based seminar examines the causes, consequences and possible solutions to many of the global policy challenges of the 21st Century. Adopting a multi-disciplinary approach, this course examines the economic, political, and social aspects of issues such as climate change, global health, post-conflict resolution, and economic development. Access to policy-makers provides students an opportunity to analyze these issues with leading experts. 3 credits

DIPL 3150 New Dimensions of Human Security

This course transcends traditional interstate conflict by examining new security threats such as infectious diseases, environmental change, growth of human populations, energy security, and water and food scarcities. Special attention will be given to their effects on development, stability, and security. 3 credits

DIPL 3201 Sustainable Development

Explores the concept of sustainable development. Examines sustainability issues related to both industrial countries and developing countries, for example aging of populations, sustainable consumption, institutional adjustments, managing growth, and pressures of population change. 3 credits

DIPL 3800 Investigating International Relations

This course introduces the basic tools of scientific investigation. Students learn about the scientific method, data gathering, research design, quantitative and qualitative analyses, and computer applications for international relations research. The course aims to equip students with the facts, intuition, and experience necessary for conducting research projects in subsequent diplomacy courses. 3 credits

DIPL 3850 Church, State and Politics in Latin America

This course aims to provide students with (1) an understanding of the evolving role of religion in Latin American politics, with an emphasis on the period of the Second Vatican Council until today, and (2) an opportunity to reflect on the formative questions of how religious beliefs and religious institutions should affect politics and of how different political systems and state policies should affect the practice of religion The major themes include the institutional relationship between the Catholic Church and the state, the different political expression of Catholicism (including those inspired by Liberation Theology), the persecution of the Church under certain authoritarian regimes and the Catholic response, the rise of religious and political pluralism, and the role of religion in contemporary politics and public policy. This course will count as a Signature Three Core Course. Prerequisite: CORE 2101. 3 credits

DIPL 3851 Religion, Law and War

This course will examine wars of religion and religious views of war. We are living through an era fraught with religious warfare – wars animated by religious conflict and wars that use religious abuse as weapons to demoralize and subdue the enemy. The course will focus on three major religious traditions (Christianity, Islam, and Buddhism) and set in dialogue their respective views of war, assess their contributions to the contemporary laws of war, and examine the particular historical episodes of religious conflict – as well as contrary episodes of religious toleration. This course will count as a Signature Three Core Course. Prerequisite: CORE 2101. 3 credits
DIPL 3852 Catholic Peacemaking
The Catholic Peacemaking course offers an introduction to the understanding and practice of Catholic peacemaking as experienced through the centuries. It focuses on Catholic contributions to a contemporary understanding of peace; the appreciation of the changing context in which this understanding has evolved, especially through the encounter with relevant Catholic Peacemakers; and the identification of peace as a relevant contemporary challenge that must be confronted by all. Each student will present on an historical case. This course will count as a Signature Three Core Course. Prerequisite: CORE 2101. 3 credits

DIPL 4101 Research Project
Culminating research project of the international relations program. Enables students to apply qualitative and quantitative methodologies as needed in the development of interdisciplinary research projects related to their own area studies. Course runs as a research seminar. Students work with a faculty mentor to write their research thesis. Limited to Diplomacy majors only. 3 credits

DIPL 4104 Independent Study
Students pursue a course of specialized reading and discussion supervised by a member of the faculty. 3 credits

DIPL 4106 Human Rights Law and Policy
Combines skill development in research, writing and oral communication with development of an understanding of the sources and nature of those rights of individuals and groups that are, or have been, identified as “Human Rights” under various international conventions, state constitutions and bills of rights, United Nations resolutions and other sources. Specific human rights violations in areas of health, nutrition, labor, the environment, educational systems, political torture and genocide are explored. 3 credits

DIPL 4108 International Political Economy
This course examines the interaction between politics and economics in the international system, i.e. how international economic activity is affected by the political decisions rendered by states and how states are in turn affected by the international financial and trading systems. 3 credits

DIPL 4111 Senior Leadership Internship
Provides students with educationally-related work and learning experiences that integrate knowledge and theory with practical application and skill development in a professional setting. Departmental permission required. These courses are offered on a (P)ass/(F)ail basis. 3 credits each

DIPL 4113 U.S. Foreign Service
This 1-credit course offers intensive preparation and individualized review for entry to the U.S. Foreign Service. 1 credit

DIPL 4114 International Financial Institutions
Analyzes the dynamics of international trade and finance through the structure and work of the international financial institutions. Covers the basics of the international finance system and explores the potential for international cooperation in the field of development. 3 credits

DIPL 4115 Cross Cultural Negotiation and Conflict Management
The ability to negotiate and manage conflicts across cultures is no longer an optional skill set in the worlds of international business, diplomacy and advocacy. This course, built on cases, interactive exercises and theoretical frameworks, develops the skills and knowledge for managing the most challenging political, organizational and interpersonal relationships. 3 credits

DIPL 4116 Palestinian-Israeli Peace Process
This course delves into the significant history of attempts to transform the Palestinian-Israeli conflict into coexistence. The instructor builds on significant field research into the open and secret negotiations that have taken place between Israel and the PLO. Students simultaneously conduct actual negotiations joining one of four delegations and negotiating either interim or permanent issues. 3 credits

DIPL 4117 International Mediation
Third parties, including governments, prestigious individuals, IOs and NGOs often attempt to mediate international conflicts and wars. Some succeed brilliantly. Others fail miserably. This course offers perspective on the political, behavioral and strategic dimensions of international mediation. Participants learn about the methods, tactics and strategies of international mediation, the causes of failures and success, the dynamics of mediation in crises, internal wars and other conflicts. Participants also develop skills by practicing on large and small international mediation exercises. 3 credits

DIPL 4170 Topics in Economic Development for International Affairs
This course is an in-depth analysis of current aspects of development. We consider recent development dilemmas such as delivery of services for poor people, building institutions for markets, the role of knowledge in advancing economic and social well-being, the role and effectiveness of the state in the changing world, and infrastructure and development. We analyze experiences of different countries in Latin America, Africa, East Asia, Eastern Europe, the Former Soviet Union, and the Middle East. 3 credits

DIPL 4180 The Modern Middle East
Commences with an overview of the historical events of the Middle East that are crucial to understanding the emergence of the modern period in 1832, and concluding with current issues and opportunities. 3 credits

DIPL 4183 Art and Science of International Negotiation
States, NGOs and international organizations all negotiate with each other in the context of international conflicts. In this course, students practice and improve their negotiation skills in interactive exercises, learn theories and dynamics of conflict, and apply this knowledge to practical cases. 3 credits

DIPL 4185 Foreign Policy of Post-Soviet States
Detailed analysis of the global role of states within the former Soviet sphere, both among themselves and in relation to the European Union, China and the United States. 3 credits
DIPL 4186 Afghanistan: History and Current Issues
In-depth analysis of Afghanistan’s modern history and its uneasy juxtaposition as a buffer state between British India and Russia. Also discussed are the rise and fall of the Taliban movement, U.S. war against terrorism, and the challenges and opportunities of having emerged from two decades of Russian occupation and civil war. 3 credits

DIPL 4187 Modern Middle East: U.S. Involvement
This course examines U.S. involvement in the Middle East in the 20th century, exploring how the U.S. has emerged as the principal foreign actor in the Middle East. 3 credits

DIPL 4193 Eastern European and Post-Soviet Politics
Comprehensive introduction to the politics of the former Soviet Union, Eastern Europe, and post-Soviet Russia, including the development of the Soviet Union as a multi-national, planned economy empire and the causes of collapse. The course also explores the challenges faced by the states that emerged, with special attention to the economic and political problems of these states’ transformations as affected by the different legacies of the Soviet period in each of the countries involved. 3 credits

DIPL 4196 International Relations in Southeast Asia
Examines the Southeast Asian states as autonomous actors, the regionalization of Southeast Asian foreign policies, and the states’ and regions’ relations in the environment external to Southeast Asia. 3 credits

DIPL 4197 U.N. Insiders’ View
Bridges the gap between students and practitioners by complementing an academic understanding of the United Nations with an appreciation of the day-to-day concerns and realities of the organization. Structured around a series of guest lectures offered by U.N. officials and representatives of governments, civil society, and the private sector on a broad range of issues of current concern to the United Nations. 3 credits

DIPL 4198 International Criminal Law
Explores the historical, political and diplomatic evolution of international criminal law in this century, including war crimes, crimes against humanity and the International Criminal Court. 3 credits

DIPL 4205 United Nations Field Seminar
Students attend, at UN Headquarters, weekly briefings and conferences involving UN DPI-accredited NGOs and committees. Students supplement their academic appreciation of UN NGOs, explore the issues before these organizations, discover how issues are identified, and learn how issues are dealt with in a multicultural, multi-sectoral environment. 3 credits

DIPL 4250 Conflict and Conflict Resolution in Plural Societies
This course will explore the phenomenon of intra-state conflict from interdisciplinary perspectives. It reviews the competing theories toward understanding the causes of ethnic conflicts and civil wars. It discusses the roles played by ethnicity, religion, culture and development in the generation, conduct, and resolution of social conflicts. It also investigates the dynamics of post-conflict peace-building and reconstruction. It would ground in students the basic concepts of conflict resolution and skills of diagnosing social conflict. 3 credits

DIPL 4251 Justice, Truth and Reconciliation in Post-Conflict Societies
This course examines conflicts, conflict resolution, and the balance between justice and truth in promoting reconciliation and state sustainability in post-conflict societies. It interrogates the nature of truth and reconciliation commissions and their role in state building endeavors. The course gives particular attention to the dynamics of face-to-face interaction between the perpetrators and victims of violence. 3 credits

DIPL 4252 Institutions of Post-Conflict Governance
This course seeks to answer two basic questions: 1) why have states failed and 2) what can be done to prevent failure and rebuild weak/failed states in the 21st century. To answer these questions, this course focuses on the integral role that institutions play in ensuring the day-to-day stability of nation-states. The course will explore the theory and practice of rebuilding institutions to strengthen states that have undergone failure, and assess strengths and shortcomings of varied interventions at the institutional level. 3 credits

DIPL 4277 Global Health, Bioterrorism, and International Security
This interdisciplinary course covers the issues of global health, biological weapons and international security. It has four main objectives: 1) to introduce students to the concept of health security; 2) to elucidate the linkages between health and security, with special attention paid to bioterrorism; 3) to examine the global health challenges and their conflict and security implications; and 4) to explore the policy options addressing such challenges. 3 credits

DIPL 4278 Global Health Diplomacy
The course examines contemporary issues in global health and the international diplomacy which enhances, or complicates, its advancement. The course undertakes a strategic leadership approach in analyzing cases in global health diplomacy, using a core framework that enables the student to better conceptualize a policy player’s missions, interests, goals, and plans. 3 credits

DIPL 4280 Politics of Terrorism in the Middle East
Investigates the use of terrorism for political purposes. Areas covered include the debate about who/what constitutes a terrorist movement or organization; the financing of terrorism; exploitation of media; connections between fundamentalism, religion and terrorism; and the abilities of security services and intelligence organizations to effectively monitor and combat terrorism. 3 credits

DIPL 4555 Economic Aspects of International Relations
Reviews the current economic issues generated by globalization by emphasizing facts as well as theories. 3 credits
DIPL 4556 Financial Aspects of International Relations
This course focuses on issues such as proposed changes in the international financial architecture, the single currency in Europe, the Asian financial crisis, and government intervention in the foreign exchange market. 3 credits

DIPL 4601 Chinese Politics and US-China Relations
Based on historical events and the latest developments of the bilateral relationship between the United States and China, this course will explore how the relationship between Washington and Beijing evolved in the past three centuries with the interactions between the U.S. and "new China" - the People’s Republic of China as the focus. Moreover, in probing the current affairs in the Sino-U.S. relationship, specific areas such as the Taiwan issue, security and economic cooperation, and human rights will be discussed. 3 credits

DIPL 4803 Politics and Society in Latin America and the Caribbean
This course provides an overview of major approaches to the study of Latin American politics and society. It emphasizes both a historical perspective and an analysis of current trends and issues. Using various analytical lenses, including cultural, structural, institutional, and rational-choice perspectives, the course focuses on the different kinds of political regimes and the patterns of political change that have characterized Latin America. 3 credits

DIPL 5101 Diplomacy Honors Thesis Project
This course is the capstone designed for Diplomacy Honors students. It helps students learn research, writing, and oral communications skills that they can apply to academic and professional pursuits. The course runs as a research seminar. Limited to Diplomacy Honors students. Pre-requisite: HONS 2105. 3 credits

Programs of Study
The mission of the College of Education and Human Services is to promote professional practice. We strive to do that by developing competent, socially conscious, reflective professionals. What does this mean for a candidate in the college? The faculty and the professionals we work with in the community are committed to: (i) the development of a broad, deep knowledge base that can be translated into practice; (ii) a respect and valuing for difference in our society; (iii) and the ability to practice introspection regarding self-development and pedagogy. An integral step toward achieving these goals is the alignment of our programs with national professional standards and those of the New Jersey State Department of Education. When a candidate graduates from the College of Education and Human Services at Seton Hall University, he/she will be recognized for these qualities and future potential.

Undergraduate programs are accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and approved by the New Jersey State Department of Education. The college has been awarded NCATE (National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education) accreditation. In addition, the following programs are nationally recognized by their professional associations: elementary education, special education, English, mathematics, social studies and science.

The Bachelor of Science in Education is offered with major programs in elementary, early childhood, and special education and secondary education content fields. Candidates complete a broad scope of liberal arts studies, a major in an academic field and a component of professional education courses with integrated internship experiences. After completing the appropriate course of study, candidates are eligible for the baccalaureate degree and for recommendation to the State of New Jersey for the appropriate teaching certificate. A passing score on the appropriate Praxis Examinations is also required for certification.

Although reciprocal certification agreements exist among many states, the agreements are subject to change. Candidates from states other than New Jersey are advised to consult with Joseph Martinelli, Ed.D., Seton Hall’s certification officer, and/or the appropriate state’s Department of Teacher Education, for information about specific requirements.

General School Requirements

Admission

• All candidates, interested in education when they enter the University as first semester freshmen, are welcome to take the introductory courses in their area of interest (early childhood/elementary/special education or secondary education): EDST 1001 Introduction to Teaching or EDST 1501 Education in the United States: Past and Present.

In order to fully matriculate into the education major, candidates must:

• Have a GPA of 3.0 or higher for admission to the early childhood/elementary, special education program, secondary education, and secondary/special education.
• Have a GPA of 3.2 or higher for admission to the 4+2 program.
• Pass the PRAXIS Core Academic Skills for Educators or demonstrate a passing score in the top third of the SAT or ACT.

Retention and Graduation for Education Majors

• Maintain a GPA of 3.0 or higher for early childhood/elementary/special education program, secondary education, and secondary/special education.
• If any education major’s (early childhood/elementary/special education, secondary education, secondary/special education or the 4+2 program) GPA falls below a 3.0 he or she is considered ‘on probation’ from their education program and may not take additional education classes or continue fieldwork. If the candidate’s GPA remains below a 3.0 for another consecutive semester, he or she is dismissed from the college (not the University).
• Those who are on probation or who are dismissed may be readmitted and permitted to take education classes if they raise the GPA to 3.0 or higher. Re-admittance into the program may only occur one time. Failure to maintain the 3.0 a second time leads to permanent dismissal from the college.

All education majors (early childhood/elementary/special education, secondary education, secondary/special education or the 4+2 program) must complete a full major in the College of Arts and Sciences, a general education sequence of liberal arts courses, and their professional major in education.

• Each education program requires clinical experiences and a culminating clinical practice. Candidates must fully meet the requirements of the clinical component of their program (including specified number of hours, course related assessments, and evaluation forms).
• All education majors:
  • must meet with their education advisor each semester for a review of their academic and clinical requirements in order to determine potential areas of need and standing in the program.
  • must adhere to the Department of Educational Studies Professional Code within courses and the clinical component.
  • must earn a C or higher in their professional education course sequence. Any grade lower than a C must be repeated and done prior to the start of the senior clinical practice.
  • must pass the Praxis II content exam associated with their education or content major to be eligible to begin the senior clinical practice.
  • must pass the state established performance assessment associated with their senior clinical practice.

Additional Requirements for 4+2 Majors

All of the requirements of an education major apply to students in the 4+2 program in addition to the following requirements:

• Maintain a GPA of 3.2 or higher every semester, earn a B or better in each GMSL class, and earn at least a C in the 5 Arts and Sciences classes required by ASHA (English, statistics, biology, physical science and a social behavioral science).

• Note the semester GPA requirement will not be applied to overall Seton Hall summer coursework if a student takes less than 12 credits. However, the cumulative GPA cannot drop below 3.2 at any time.

• Students may repeat one of the six GMSL speech courses if a grade of B is not obtained during the first attempt. A second grade of B- or below in any of the speech-language pathology preparatory courses results in a loss of automatic admission which cannot be regained.

• If a student drops below the required 3.2 semester/cumulative GPA, automatic admission to the graduate speech-language pathology program is lost. The student cannot retake courses to increase their GPA and regain... admission into the program. Students may continue to take the preparatory courses and apply as “outside students” to the program. Please see the University speech-language pathology website for details about admissions requirements for outside candidates.

Transfer Students

- Internal and external transfer candidates interested in transferring into education (early childhood/elementary/special education, secondary education and secondary/special education) must have a GPA of 3.0 or higher.
- Students must have a GPA of 3.0 or higher to take any education classes or be assigned a field placement.
- Internal and external transfer candidates interested in transferring into the 4+2 program must have a GPA of 3.2 or higher and have completed no more than 67 credits.
- All transfer students must pass the PRAXIS Core Academic Skills for Educators or demonstrate a passing score in the top third of the SAT or ACT.

*The University reserves the right to make additional adjustments based on the requirements of the New Jersey Department of Education.

Senior Clinical Practice

Undergraduate senior candidates who are matriculated in the College of Education and Human Services and others seeking New Jersey state certification must complete senior Clinical Practice. The culminating Clinical Practice is two semesters in length; the first semester is 2 full days and the next semester is full-time, full-semester teaching. Clinical Practice consists of 2 full days in the classroom and the following semester and complete a Teacher Work Sample and Performance Assessment. Candidates are assessed on their teacher meetings, professional development workshops, and other relevant school experiences.

Application Procedure for Senior Clinical Practice

Applicants must secure an official application from the Office of Clinical Experience and Applied Research. The application procedure includes a comprehensive review of the candidate’s academic record and clinical experiences. Completed applications are due nine months prior to the first semester of Clinical Practice.

Applications must document that the following requirements have been met:

- a cumulative GPA of 3.0 for all education majors;
- completion of all required Professional Education courses with a grade of C or higher;
- successful completion of three prior clinical experiences;
- passing scores on the appropriate Praxis II exam in the area of licensure;
- submission of a resume; and
- approval and recommendation of department chair and/or program director.

A minimum of three months prior to beginning the clinical practice, applicants must meet the following additional requirements:

- successful completion of all prior clinical experiences;
- maintenance of 3.0 or higher GPA;
- completion of all Professional Education courses with a grade of C or higher, and no grades of Incomplete; and
- documentation of a current, negative result on a Mantoux test.

Additional requirements of cooperating school districts may include:

- a physician’s certificate indicating freedom from any infirmity that would make the applicant unfit for teaching.
- fingerprinting, background check, substitute certification, other documentation or training; or
- in-person or telephone interview.

Senior Clinical Practice Requirements

The culminating Clinical Practice experience is two semesters long or one full year with a tenured cooperating teacher who has been preapproved by the Office of Clinical Experience and Applied Research. The first semester consists of 2 full days in the classroom and the following semester is full-time, full-semester teaching. Clinical Practice requires a developmental sequence of in-depth observation, planning, and teaching of all subjects or class periods, parent-teacher meetings, professional developmental workshops, and other relevant school experiences.

Applicants are required to enroll in the Clinical Practice Seminar 6-credit course during the full-time teaching semester and complete a Teacher Work Sample and Performance Assessment. Candidates are assessed on their full Clinical Practice year by a University supervisor, the cooperating teacher, and the Clinical Practice Seminar professor.

Transfer candidates must complete a minimum of 24 credits at Seton Hall University before they may apply for senior Clinical Practice.

English as a Second Language (ESL) Program

Designed as a support system for the international candidate, the ESL Program offers classes at levels ranging from advanced beginner to pre-college. Small classes, created to meet the needs of individual candidates, are offered in communication skills such as listening, speaking and American culture, as well as in academic skills such as reading and writing. ESL courses and activities are planned to help candidates bridge the language and cultural gaps between their home countries and the United States, and between the ESL program and the University academic courses.

Course Identification

The abbreviations used to designate courses offered by the departments and special areas of undergraduate instruction within the College of Education and Human Services are as follows:

- Applied Computing (BMIE)
- Professional Psychology and Family Therapy (CPSY)
- Educational Studies (EDST)
- English as a Second Language (ESLP)
- Health Education, Physical Education and Recreation (HPER)

Department of Educational Studies

Director of Clinical Experience and Applied Research: Mary V. Brancaccio

The Department of Educational Studies offers courses leading to the degree Bachelor of Science in Education and teacher of certification. Graduates of teacher preparation programs are eligible for recommendation to the State of New Jersey for certification in accordance with state guidelines and codes. Under current state rules, candidates must pass the Praxis Exam to qualify for certification and must pursue an academic major from the College of Arts and Sciences in conjunction with their professional education major. A cumulative GPA of 3.0 must be maintained in order to take any course in a certification program (EDST and CPSY) and participate in a field experience as well as the culminating clinical experience. The College of Education and Human Services may exceed state standards for teacher certification while always adhering to minimum state standards. Any changes in state certification requirements must be followed by the College of Education and Human Services and apply to all candidates.

All teacher preparation programs in the college require a sequence of field experiences and senior clinical practice in the surrounding communities. Transportation to these sites is the responsibility of the candidate.

The Department of Educational Studies is dedicated to the preparation of highly competent, socially conscious, reflective professionals. All the programs within the department reflect this goal. Our emphasis is on outcomes meaning our candidates have not just heard what was taught, but we can see evidence of their learning. The dispositional qualities a candidate brings to the university classroom, fieldwork, and community are an essential component to their overall development and performance. The dispositions listed below are expected of all candidates in the Department of Educational Studies.

Professional Code:

Candidates enrolled in the teacher preparation programs in the College of Education and Human Services operate under the following professional code:

1. Dependability: candidates are reliable, timely, and consistent in their presence and preparation for courses at the university as well as their field settings.
2. Respect & Empathy: candidates are respectful in their address, writing, language, and physical space toward faculty, university staff, school personnel, peers, and students in the field.
3. Open-mindedness: candidates respect the context and experience of others; developing the skills to use that information in classroom conversation, writing, and lesson planning.
4. Integrity: candidates submit original work, fully cite all sources associated with the development of their work (including information from the internet), and recognize that the university fully supports the use of anti-plagiarism software in support of academic integrity.
5. Dress code: candidates recognize that they are considered representatives of the university, college, and program when they are in their field placements. They are expected to adhere to the dress code of the field placement where they are working, recalling that their professional appearance and behavior reflects Seton Hall.
6. Passion for the profession: candidates display in action, word, and commitment their passion for the profession of teaching, the right for all children to have access to positive and productive learning environments, and a recognition that life as a teacher means dedication to life-long learning.
7. Professional Communication and Technology Use: candidates maintain consistent timely and professional communication with professors, Seton Hall administrators, supervisors, cooperating teachers, and school administrators in written, telephone, and electronic mail communication. Candidates exercise professional discretion in their use of social media and recognize the responsibility of professional educators to refrain from expressing defamatory opinions of peers, professionals, parents,
Elementary Education, Early Childhood and Special Education Programs

Faculty: Hindin (Co-Director); LaMarca; May; McFadden; Mitchell; Mueller (Co-Director); Peskin; Yankouski; Zinicola

There are two programs of study to choose from within this area.

1. Integrated Elementary, Early Childhood and Special Education
2. Integrated Elementary (ESED) and Special Education (DVSL) with a concentration in speech and language pathology (4+2 program) This is a combined undergraduate/graduate program. The undergraduate program consists of (i) a major from the College of Arts and Sciences; (ii) a dual certification in elementary and special education; and (iii) a concentration in 18 credits of speech-language pathology courses. Students must maintain a cumulative and semester by semester GPA of 3.2, as well as earn a grade of B or better in each GMSL course in order to earn an automatic admission into the Seton Hall graduate program in speech-language pathology. A student will be allowed a total of only one repeat of any of the six GMSL undergraduate courses if a grade of B is not obtained during the first attempt. A second grade of B- or below in any of the speech-language pathology preparatory courses results in a loss of automatic admission which cannot be regained. Students are required to maintain a cumulative GPA, as well as a semester GPA of 3.2 (including the summer May to August sessions if a student takes 12 credits of coursework or more). The semester GPA requirement will not be applied to the overall Seton Hall summer coursework if a student takes less than 12 credits. However, the cumulative GPA cannot drop below 3.2 at any time. If a student’s cumulative GPA and/or semester GPA goes below 3.2, automatic admission to the graduate Speech-Language Pathology program is lost. The student cannot retake courses to increase their GPA and regain admission into the program. Any student losing automatic admission to the graduate Speech-Language Pathology program is welcome to apply as an outside student. Note, however, that additional requirements may apply. Those applying as “outside students” are advised to check the Seton Hall University Speech-Language Pathology website for details. If a candidate’s GPA falls below a 3.0, he or she is considered “on probation” from the ESED program and may not take additional education classes, or continue fieldwork. If the candidate’s GPA remains below a 3.0 for another consecutive semester, he or she is dismissed from the ESED program. Those who are on probation or who are dismissed may be readmitted and permitted to take education classes if they raise the GPA to 3.0 or higher. Re-admittance into the program can occur only one time. Failure to maintain the 3.0 a second time will lead to permanent dismissal from the ESED program.

Note, this is not an undergraduate speech-pathology program. No certificate in speech is awarded at the end of the undergraduate degree. All speech courses must be completed at Seton Hall University; transfer students with speech courses from other institutions must complete the six required courses at Seton Hall.

Both programs of study require candidates to: (i) select a full major from the College of Arts and Sciences; (ii) complete a general education sequence consisting of courses outside of professional education; and (iii) complete an education major. Candidates must maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher to remain in a teacher preparation program; coursework and fieldwork in education cannot occur if the GPA falls below 3.0.

Candidates in the combined 4+2 program must maintain a GPA of 3.2 or higher each semester and earn a B or better in each of their graduate speech courses, to maintain the guaranteed admission to the graduate program. Candidates seeking to transfer into the 4+2 program must not have completed more than 67 credits, and require an interview with the faculty in education and speech-language pathology.

The College of Education and Human Services may set standards higher than state regulations related to teacher certification while always adhering to minimum state standards. Any changes in state certification requirements must be followed by the College of Education and Human Services and apply to all candidates.

The minimum number of credits to graduate, for either program listed above, is 120. Credit requirements of the full major from the College of Arts and Sciences may require the candidate to exceed this minimum. Candidates in the 4+2 program, because of the speech concentration, complete the undergraduate degree with a minimum of 141 credits.

The professional education sequence for these programs leads to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education and eligibility for endorsement as a teacher, in specified areas, in the State of New Jersey. The sequence of the curriculum of this program is based upon the standards of the state and several national professional associations: (i) the Association for Childhood Education International; (ii) the Council for Exceptional Children; and (iii) the Interstate New Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (INTASC). As such, the programs offer a high-quality education that reflects best teaching practices as defined by the leading practitioners and researchers in the fields.
Field experience is required for sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Candidates are required to complete three field internships, connected to specific professional education courses, prior to their senior clinical experience. The internships range from 60 to 72 hours across 8 weeks in a field setting. Each internship is supervised by a trained representative from the college. The senior clinical experience requires an entire semester of full-time teaching along with the completion of a Teacher Work Sample through the senior seminar. Supervision at this level occurs at a minimum of eight times throughout the semester. Candidates are responsible for their own transportation to the field internships and senior clinical experience. Please review the general school requirements for the college on the prior page to see procedures and deadlines for applying for the senior experience.

Field Experience and Its Connection to Certification

The mixture of field placements and Praxis exams in the Integrated Elementary and Special Education program can lead to three possible certificates:

- Elementary Certification, Special Education Certification, + Early Childhood Certification. Candidates must complete the following range of placements to achieve all three certificates: (i) general education classroom; (ii) inclusive classroom; (iii) one special education classroom (such as a resource room or a private school classroom); and (iv) one preschool – 2nd grade classroom.

  The mixture of field placements and Praxis exam in the Secondary/Special Education program can lead to two certificates.

- Content area certification and Special Education Certification. Candidates must complete the following range of both placements to achieve both certificates: (i) general education classroom in the content area; (ii) inclusive classroom in the content area, and (iii) a special education classroom (such as a resource room or a private school classroom) with a focus on the content area.

Eligibility for Endorsement

Upon completion of the undergraduate education program, candidates are eligible for recommendation to the State of New Jersey for the Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing (CEAS) within their field of study. A passing score on the appropriate Praxis examination is also required for the CEAS. Under current New Jersey regulations, the candidate must then successfully serve as a provisionally-endorsed teacher for two years before the state will grant a permanent certificate.

Although there are reciprocal certification agreements among many states, these are subject to change. Candidates from states other than New Jersey should check with their state’s Department of Education for specific requirements.

History
- Recommended:
  - HIST 1301 American History I
  - OR
  - HIST 1302 American History II

Liberal Arts Major:
Every education major must complete a full major from Arts and Sciences. Social Work is not an option for a co-major with education. This major must be a minimum of 36 credits. Teaching majors, as defined by the New Jersey Department of Education, are English, math, history, science, (biology and environmental studies) world languages, and fine arts. Other majors such as psychology, social and behavioral sciences, sociology, communications and others may be taken. However, these types of majors are not considered to be teaching majors and elementary teachers who have chosen these majors may not teach beyond 6th grade.

Students in the 4+2 program must take a statistics course, a physical science course (preferably in physics or chemistry), a biological science course and a social/behavioral sciences course.

Liberal Arts Major: Every education major must complete a full major from the Arts and Sciences. Social work is not an option for a co-major with education. Teaching majors, as defined by the New Jersey Department of Education are English, math, history, science (biology and environmental studies), world languages, and fine arts. The social studies praxis exam includes content in economics, geography, political science and sociology as well as history. The history major does not require courses in the allied field, but those seeking the social studies certificate are advised to consider coursework in these areas in order to be fully prepared for the state required Praxis exam. Other majors such as psychology, social and behavioral sciences, sociology, communication, and others may be taken. However, these types of majors are not considered to be teaching majors, and elementary teachers who have chosen these majors may not teach beyond 6th grade.

The minimum number of credits to graduate, for any of the options listed, is 120. Credit requirements of the content area major may require the candidate to exceed the 120 credit minimum.

Candidates must maintain a 3.0 GPA in order to remain in a teacher preparation program; coursework and fieldwork in education cannot occur if the GPA drops below 3.0. This GPA must be maintained through the entire academic program and is not limited to a single semester. The College of Education and Human Services will adhere to state regulations as they change in regard to minimum standards.

Secondary Education

Faculty: Daly; Devlin-Scherer; Katz (Program Director); McCartan

The program in secondary education (SCED) consists of strong field-oriented and sequenced professional studies and a diverse selection of fields of specialization. Candidates must complete a liberal arts core and an academic major in one of the listed fields, in addition to the sequence of professional education courses in secondary education. Candidates must maintain an overall GPA of 3.0 in order to remain in the program. The College of Education and Human Services will adhere to state regulations as they change in regard to minimum standards. Continuation in the program requires demonstration of competencies.

All secondary education content fields have been nationally recognized for meeting rigorous standards for teacher preparation. Secondary teacher candidates join professional organizations in their respective content areas to keep apprised of developments in teaching their subjects. Candidates are encouraged to take advantage of study abroad to develop high level proficiency in their language. Other content majors have similar opportunities to excel in study of and scholarship within their fields.

Secondary program faculty, are committed to the Civic Mission of Schools. Candidates in all content fields are aware of the importance of civic engagement and the civic mission of schools through participation in experiences such as Project Citizen and Deliberations in Democracy. Work in international programs is an increasing component of this program. In addition, technology experiences are infused throughout the program so that pre-service teachers exit the program prepared to use technology applications with their students.

Supervised internships in sophomore, junior and senior years are varied and are connected to specific professional education courses. The senior clinical experience involves a semester of full-time teaching. Candidates apply for internships with the Office of Field Placement and Supervision: Fall (January 1) and Spring (September 1). For student teaching, applications are due a year in advance: December 1 for the following Fall semester and April 1 for the following Spring semester. Candidates provide their own transportation to the field internships and senior clinical experience.

After completing the degree program, candidates are eligible for the baccalaureate degree and for recommendation to the State of New Jersey for the certificate of eligibility with advanced standing to teach specific subject areas, K-12. Passing score(s) on the appropriate Praxis Exams also are required for this certificate of eligibility with advanced standing.

Reciprocal certification agreements exist among many states; occasionally, they are subject to change. Candidates from states other than New Jersey should check with the Seton Hall Certification Officer and the individual state’s Department of Education for specific requirements.

Candidates elect a certification field that must be taken as an academic major in the College of Arts and Sciences. Fields of certification include:

- Art
- English*
- Mathematics
- Music
- Science (Biology, Chemistry, Physics)
- Social Studies
- World Languages* (French, Latin, Italian, Spanish)

Candidates must complete the academic major in their field of certification and are required to have an adviser in that field. Credit requirements vary for each major.

*English Education majors’ course work includes History of the English Language, Adolescent Literature, Shakespeare and Grammar (1 credit).

Music is a competitive major. Before a student is accepted into the music program, an audition must be successfully completed. Students wishing to audition for admittance to the program should contact Dr. Dena Levine of the Department of Communication and The Arts at dena.levine@shu.edu

Social studies coursework requires economics, geography, political science and sociology in addition to the history major to prepare for the Praxis Exam in the area.

*Language education majors must pass the OPI (Oral Proficiency Interview) in order to earn state certification to teach the language. See adviser for details about prescribed language electives and OPI information in support of this major.

Students studying for the secondary certification track (SCED) may opt to enroll instead in the Secondary and Special Education (SSED) dual-track major which prepares candidates for certification in a secondary content area, and as a teacher of students with disabilities in the State of New Jersey.

Major Program

In addition to the departmental core requirements for the degree, candidates must satisfactorily complete the required courses in professional education, their academic major and related areas and liberal arts electives.

Course and credit requirements are subject to change in accordance with changing New Jersey teacher certification requirements. Candidates are responsible for meeting with their assigned advisers in teacher education and the College of Arts and Sciences each semester to schedule courses and assess progress. Course registration is done with the secondary education program faculty. Individual courses of study will vary according to selected major field(s).

The minimum number of credits required to graduate is 120. Credit requirements of the academic major may require the candidate to exceed the 120 minimum. If the candidate has a total of fewer than 120 credits after completing the liberal arts core, the professional core and the academic major, then additional liberal arts electives must be taken to reach the minimum of 120. It is the responsibility of candidates to be aware of requirements of their academic major. The maximum number of professional education credits allowed as part of the degree program is 30. The minimum number of liberal arts credits required is 60, including the liberal arts core and the academic major.

Liberal Arts Core

All teacher education candidates take a minimum of 60 hours of liberal arts credits in their program which can be drawn from core courses listed below, their academic major and/or minor programs, and electives. Currently, academic major requirements in different disciplines approved by the State of New Jersey for teaching in public schools range from 42-57 credits. For their remaining liberal arts course requirements, candidates may choose to prepare extensively in their chosen academic field, pursue minor programs that expand or supplement their content area knowledge, or explore related fields.

Secondary Education and Special Education (SSED) Major
By enrolling in the SSED major (instead of SCED), candidates for teacher certification in secondary content majors may also prepare to become certified as teachers of students with disabilities in the state of New Jersey. The dual-track major has identical requirements to the SCED major with the following additional courses:

Special Education Sequence: 18 credits

Freshman Year, Fall Semester
CPSY 1001 Diverse Learners and Their Families I 3

Freshman Year, Spring Semester
CPSY 1002 Diverse Learners and Their Families II 3

Sophomore Year, Spring Semester
EDST 2005 Teaching Math in the Diverse Classroom 3
EDST 3005 Literacy Across the Curriculum 3

Junior Year, Fall Semester
CPSY 3400 Literacy and Numeracy Strategies 3
CPSY 3103 Assessment in Special Education 3

Junior Year, Spring Semester
CPSY 2101 Learning Disabilities 3
CPSY 2102 Developmental Disabilities 3

Upon completion of all other requirements in secondary education, students who complete this sequence of courses will be dually certified in their content area, and as a teacher of students with disabilities.

Undergraduate Certificate in Information Technologies
Director: Joseph Martinelli, Ed.D.

Preparing for Your Future
From modems to satellites, from online education to augmented reality, information technologies are creating exciting and far-reaching changes in our lives. How will you respond to the opportunities and dilemmas they present today and in the future?

A Certificate in Information Technologies will help you establish a base of knowledge that will enable you to live and work effectively in today’s knowledge-oriented society.

In this program, you will discover the basic concepts behind a wide range of information technologies and the powerful impact they have on our lives. You will become actively involved in the intelligent utilization of a variety of information systems and digital resources to improve productivity, make decisions, pursue research interests, produce multimedia presentations and enhance learning.

The Certificate in Information Technologies
The certificate program acknowledges students who achieve a level of experience and knowledge with information technologies. The certificate program is open to any undergraduate students enrolled at the University or high school graduate who enrolls in the certificate program.

Certificate Requirements
The College will award the Certificate in Information Technologies to students who successfully complete five, 3-credit information technology courses (15 credits). The certificate award will also be noted on the student’s transcript. A maximum of 6 credits will be accepted for equivalent experience in other divisions of the University, or for courses taken at other colleges.

Select five:
BMIE 1001 Real World Technologies
EDST 3700 Integrating Curriculum and Technology in the Inclusive Classroom
BMIE 3705 Emerging Web Technologies
BMIE 3710 Digital Research and Information Literacy
BMIE 4304 Production of Instructional Resources I
BMIE 4305 Production of Instructional Resources II: Technology Enhanced Learning Strategies
BMIE 4343 Production of Instructional Resources III: Digital Video and Animation
BMIE 4344 Seminar: Social, Ethical and Legal Issues in Technology
BMIE 4345 Online Course Management and Delivery
BMIE 4347 Special Projects in Technology
BMIE 4348 Online Course Design and Implementation
BMIE 4349/4350 Internship in Information Technologies I & II

Total: 15 credits

Certificate in Online Course Development and Management
Director: Joseph Martinelli, Ed.D

Develop and Teach Online Courses
As we enter deep into the 21st Century, universities and colleges around the world are experiencing the changes created by technology and looking for ways to implement new modes of teaching and training students. Faculty and students are no longer bound to a classroom. There is a shift... from the traditional mode of teaching and learning to online education.

Seton Hall University, a leader in web-based education, is offering an Online Course Development and Management Certificate to help educators and trainers acquire the teaching and technical skills desirable for online teaching. This certificate provides the expertise educators need to teach courses in an online learning environment. As a leader in online education, Seton Hall University offers this program to prepare students for future success in a high tech world. A Certificate in Online Course Development and management will enable you to communicate and instruct effectively in today’s cyber environment.

The Certificate in Online Course Development

The certificate program acknowledges students who achieve a level of experience and knowledge with information technologies. The certificate program is open to any undergraduate student enrolled at the University, as well as students who are not enrolled in a full University program.

Certificate Requirements

The College will award the Certificate in Online Course Development and Management to students who successfully complete five 3-credit information technology courses (15 credits).

A maximum of 6 credits may be accepted for equivalent experience in other divisions of the University, or for courses taken at other colleges.

Undergraduate Program

The following courses may be applied toward the Online Course Development and Management Program Certificate.

Required Courses:

BMIE 3705 Emerging Web Technologies
BMIE 3710 Digital Research and Information Literacy
BMIE 4345 Online Course Management and Delivery
BMIE 4348 Online Course Design and Implementation

Select one of the following:

BMIE 4343 Production of Instructional Resources III: Digital Video and Animation
BMIE 4344 Seminar: Social, Ethical and Legal Issues in Technology
BMIE 4349/4350 Internship in Information Technologies I & II

Course Descriptions

BMIE 1001 Real World Technologies

Introduction to computers and computing, problem solving, and the impact of computers in our lives. Course provides a working knowledge of computers and Windows environment with an emphasis on word processing, desktop publishing, spreadsheets, presentation, and web editing software. Course designed to focus on student computing needs. 3 credits

BMIE 3705 Emerging Web Technologies

Students will receive step-by-step instruction and in-depth explanations of the theory, design, practical applications and ADA guidelines for effective web design. Hands-on experience includes: working with text, graphics, links, tables, styles, layout position, as well as numerous on-line web design applications. By the end of the course, students will have designed professional looking portfolios and informational sites. 3 credits

BMIE 3710 Digital Research and Information Literacy

Advanced electronic research using computer-based and Internet accessible tools. Find, evaluate and assemble the best information for individual research interests and workplace needs. Develop research skills and information discrimination techniques using electronic resources. 3 credits

BMIE 4304 Production I: Visual Communication Design

Introduction to a basic model of communication and the visual production skills required to design information. Text, graphics, visual literacy, visual design, digital photography, and video recording will be explored in relationship to constructing clear communications for maximizing learning. Presenter and presentation techniques using these various communication modes will also be examined. 3 credits

BMIE 4305 Production II: Technology Enhanced Learning Strategies

Learn to design and develop technology-based strategies that support the instructional needs of learners in any content area. Advanced techniques for concept mapping, Online tools, Excel, PowerPoint, and more will be employed to visualize the thought process, design games, create simulations, encourage collaboration, stimulate active learner participation, and spur learners to engage in both independent and group activities that encourage higher order thinking skills. 3 credits

BMIE 4343 Production of Instructional Resources III: Digital Video and Animation

This course combines the use of new media tools to create instructional products that enable the creation of products which can fully engage the community through creative educational experiences. New media applications will be used to model how to remix video, audio, songs, text and images into products which will be delivered through Web 2.0 social networking applications such as Facebook, YouTube and Twitter. 3 credits

BMIE 4344 Seminar: Social, Ethical and Legal Issues in Computing

Social, ethical, and legal problems associated with computer-based technologies will be explored, debated and researched, along with the means for reducing problems and coping with their effects. 3 credits

BMIE 4345 Online Course Management and Delivery

Learn to design and build online course instruction for delivery via the Internet. Develop the tools to provide online instruction including creating an online environment, learning research techniques, examining plagiarism and copyright issues, and planning overall online course management. 3 credits
BMIE 4347 Special Projects in Technology
Students develop technology-based projects using new and emerging technologies. The instructional design process is employed throughout the development of the project. Project content is related to student’s field of study. 3 credits

BMIE 4348 Online Course Design and Implementation
Design and develop a complete plan for building an online course for Internet delivery. Learn to create course modules, use facilitation and moderating techniques, design assessment and develop a student-centered online environment that encourages positive learning outcomes. 3 credits

BMIE 4349 Internship in Information Technologies I
A field-based opportunity to gain professional experience in a work situation appropriate to career goals. Development of critical thinking and leadership skills while performing authentic tasks. 3 credits

BMIE 4350 Internship in Information Technologies II
Students may take a second semester of a field-based opportunity to gain professional experience in a work situation appropriate to career goals. Development of critical thinking and leadership skills while performing authentic tasks. 3 credits

CPSY 1000 Grammar Workshop
This course is designed as a workshop where candidates actively engage with each other about the appropriate use of grammar in everyday life. Whether applied to preparation as a teacher, use in the business world, or for personal development, the course provides useful information that immediately translates to the student’s work. 1 credit

CPSY 1001 Diverse Learners and Their Families, Part I
Introduction to special education law, the referral and evaluation process, definitions for federal and state disability classifications as well as the associated behavioral and learning characteristics for students within the areas. All classifications will be discussed with extra focus on learning disabilities, mental retardation, ADHD, autism, and emotional and behavioral disorders. Exploration of concepts such as the social construction of disability, the development of a sense of self, stereotypes, prejudice and stigma. The overarching goal for the course is that candidates understand the terminology and general learning needs associated with disability areas while always keeping the person-first in their perceptions and actions. 3 credits

CPSY 1002 Diverse Learners and Their Families, Part II
This course builds upon the foundational knowledge related to special education law and classifications in CPSY 1001. Specifically, areas of service for individuals with disabilities and their families will be examined in this course such as IEPs, IFSPs, and community agencies. Family structure and functioning will be discussed as a means of understanding the interconnection between home, school, and community. In addition, the role of stigma and disability will be discussed with a focus on why it develops and how to counter it. The end of the course translates theory to practice with methods and materials associated with serving students with special needs in the classroom. 3 credits

CPSY 2101 (Formerly EDST 2101) Learning Disabilities
Provides an introduction to the theoretic constructs underlying learning disabilities and behavioral manifestations of the learning disabled in academic environments. The relationship of several psychological theories (e.g., developmental, behavioral, and cognitive) associated with teaching students with learning disabilities and learning strategies are received. Legal aspects, federal and state mandates are discussed with exceptional learning needs in inclusive classrooms. There is a required field experience component with this course. 3 credits

CPSY 2102 Developmental Disabilities
This course will focus on developmental disabilities such as autism, intellectual disabilities, and cerebral palsy. Three themes provide the framework for the course: (i) speech and communication challenges; (ii) educational program options and (iii) transition programs. Assistive technology will be discussed as a tool in these areas. 3 credits

CPSY 2200 Health Promotion for Children
To effectively deal with health-related issues of youth, this course combines the study of the nature and nurture of children. It addresses the skills, information, and behavior relevant to the promotion of wellness and resiliency of children. HIV/AIDS, sexuality, violence, chemical substances, safe environment, illness and disease prevention are issues that bring public attention to schools and community agencies. This course attends to the current findings in the area of prevention education to enable learners to make informed decisions. Information and resources, professional responsibilities, procedures, policies and laws, and resources are integrated with multiple approaches to be taken with children. 3 credits

CPSY 3103 (Formerly EDST 3103) Psycho-Educational Diagnosis and Assessment in Special Education
Study of best practices related to classroom and normative assessment. Principles of educational testing and evaluation relevant classroom teachers. Historical/philosophical orientation; statistical concepts underlying measurement, validity, reliability, formative and summative evaluation; evaluation and interpretation of testing data, use and misuse of testing data; reporting data to parents and colleagues. Introduction to the Intervention and Referral Services process. Teacher candidates will also have the opportunity to develop assessments in conjunction with a required field experience component. 3 credits

CPSY 3105 or CORE 3881 Leadership through Community Service
Students in this class will experience service learning as a method of instruction and practice in social action as a remedy for schools and community problems by providing real-world experience, pertinent course materials, and completing projects that can be part of a professional portfolio, résumé and/or publication. A course in service learning offers a practice-based experience that involves students in reflecting on their potential to contribute to society. 3 credits
CPSY 3400 Strategies for Literacy and Numeracy for Diverse Learners
This course is designed to prepare teacher candidates for addressing the learning needs of struggling/at-risk students. Literacy and numeracy strategies learned in this class are intended to be used with individual students, small groups, and the whole class. These strategies can easily be translated to different content areas. Candidates will learn ways to identify students’ learning difficulties using informal and formal assessments, and students will plan instruction based on students’ needs. 3 credits

CPSY 4103 (Formerly EDST 4103) Sign Language I
This course provides an introduction to those with no experience with sign language. A focus on vocabulary development for everyday activities and visual recognition of finger spelling and signing is emphasized. 3 credits

CPSY 4104 (Formerly EDST 4104) Sign Language II
This course is for candidates who have taken Sign Language I or have had practical use of sign language in other contexts. Development of conversational ability and applied use is emphasized. 3 credits

EDST 1001 Introduction to Teaching: The Profession
This course is an introduction to the many facets of education. The course will explore the profession of education, the structure and organization of schools, the legal and historical aspects of education, educational theory and philosophy, and schools for the next century. Candidates will understand how to establish healthy, positive relationships with children, parents, colleagues and community members. They will reflect on attitudes, aptitudes, skills and dispositions of successful teachers. 3 credits

EDST 1301 Educational Psychology and Classroom Practice
The components of the learning process and the contributions of psychology to education. Student characteristics, the process of human growth and the role of intelligence in the context of family and schooling. Environmental factors, social class, and cultural and racial differences on the development and measurement of teaching. Leading learning theories and their applications to teaching. Personal and social factors impacting on motivation and learning. Theories of the cognitive process. Methods for effective instruction, measurement and evaluation. Presenting classroom materials in a healthy school environment that accommodates individual, linguistic and cultural differences. 3 credits

Physical conditioning and defensive tactics and how they apply to the student’s experience. Various forms of running, freehand exercises, weight training, organized athletics, tumbling and gymnastics. A boxing program reflects students’ reactions under the stress of physical confrontation. Training extends into hand-to-hand combat and self-defense against various weapons. Examinations and critiques included. 3 credits

EDST 1416 Physical Education II
Crash injury management and physiology, water self-surival and lifesaving. Learning the structure and functions of the human body to enable the student to better perform physical functions of present-day law enforcement. Emergency care work is emphasized. 3 credits

EDST 1501 Education in the United States: Past and Present
A study of the public education system (K-12) in America, the goals of education and the institutions that have evolved to meet those goals. The political, social, economic and intellectual developments that historically influence educational theory and practice. Recent educational changes resulting from contemporary reform efforts. 3 credits

EDST 2001 Life in the Diverse Classroom
Life in the Classroom is designed to assist pre-service teachers in developing the skills, competencies and attitudes needed for teaching and managing a classroom of diverse learners. Candidates will examine learners and their diverse needs and gain knowledge of how to address these needs in an inclusive classroom. Candidates will examine the nature of teaching, overview of the elementary curriculum, strategies for working with diverse learners, planning for effective instruction, and instructional theory into practice. They will be introduced to various materials for use with children with disabilities, such as, assistive technology and functional academic guides. 3 credits

EDST 2003 Instructional Theory and Practice
Readings and discussions focus on models of teaching and enriching student learning. Practice in improving communication skills and lesson delivery through microteaching and structured exercises. Meeting student needs with appropriate strategies is an essential part of this course. 3 credits

EDST 2004 Early Literacy for All Children
Focuses on the teaching and acquisition of literacy in the early elementary years; develops knowledge of specific literacy skills such as phonics, sight words, oral reading fluency, reading comprehension, spelling and composition; presents techniques for teaching reading, writing, listening and speaking; develops knowledge of special corrective techniques; stresses an integrated skills approach, emphasizes motivation, the development of positive attitudes towards the language arts, and a love of literature. Field experience involvement. 3 credits

EDST 2005 Teaching Math in the Diverse Classroom
This course is designed for those who will be elementary teachers of mathematics. It is designed to help pre-service teachers facilitate children learning mathematical concepts and skills, as well as important problem solving techniques. In the process it will challenge thinking and further stimulate interest in mathematics. It will increase knowledge of the NCTM Standards. The National Council of Teachers of Math Standards have identified communication as an important part of mathematics learning and this class is designed to encourage and facilitate communication. Field experience involvement. 3 credits
EDST 2006 Teaching Science in the Diverse Classroom
Elementary Science content areas, process skills, teaching styles, strategies and techniques are explored through class lectures, discussions, assigned readings, lesson planning and teaching, cooperative group work, research, projects, experiments, demonstrations, use of technology and presentations. The process of learning by doing science with a constructivist emphasis is demonstrated and practiced in class as well as the integration of science with other subject areas. Field experience involvement. 3 credits

EDST 2501 Philosophy of Education and Curriculum Development
Ideological, philosophical, psychological and sociological influences on curriculum. Examination of major philosophies that affect education and curriculum development. Curriculum design and the factors that impact on its effectiveness and evaluation. How goals and objectives reflect educational purpose and the curriculum. Alternative models in curriculum design and implementation. Specific curriculum design issues in various content areas of secondary education. 3 credits

EDST 3003 Teaching Social Studies in the Diverse Classroom
Preparing productive and responsible citizens requires education directed at that goal. Such education imparts knowledge about our history, and our political and economic systems. It develops the skills, attitudes, and values that support motivated citizen movement. It shows candidates that accurately informed and directly involved citizens are important to our national well-being. Develops strategies for teaching the social studies. Field experience involvement. 3 credits

EDST 3005 Literacy Across the Curriculum
Focuses on the teaching and acquisition of literacy in the upper elementary years; stresses techniques for improving vocabulary, comprehension and writing skills; develops knowledge of process writing and methods of assessing language arts performance; investigates the application of reading and writing to content area learning; develops knowledge of children’s literature; underscores the importance of modeling, motivation and positive attitudes. Field experience involvement. 3 credits

EDST 3301 Educational Evaluation
Theory and practice of educational testing, and the development and use of tests and other forms of assessment. Analysis and interpretation of test results. Practice in test construction and application in candidates’ major areas of specialization. Emphasis on alternative and authentic forms of assessment. Candidates examine the assets and limitations of various assessment instruments and strategies as well as develop a variety of assessment tools in their subject fields. 3 credits

EDST 3510 Culture, Community and Schools
Implications of race, ethnic background, religion, language and gender on schooling of children. Community organizations that impact on the school. Analysis of various cultures that influence American education. Special attention to recognition and integration of multicultural education. 3 credits

EDST 3513 Methods of Teaching Music
A comprehensive study of elementary/secondary methods of teaching music. Development of philosophy, various teaching techniques, and strategies are explored and discussed as well as the writing and implementation of lesson plans. 3 credits

EDST 3514 Teaching Art, K-12
Development of age-appropriate lesson plans and curriculum units for K-12 art instruction. Emphasis on teaching art techniques and processes in the classroom in addition to methods for teaching art history, aesthetics and art criticism to youth. 3 credits

EDST 3601 English Language Arts: Teaching Middle and Secondary English
English Language Arts provides an in-depth study of the best practices in teaching language, media, literature, speaking, and writing for candidates working with students at the middle and high school levels. Candidates will apply the content and skills from this course in their concurrent field experience. 3 credits

EDST 3602 Math Education: Teaching Middle and Secondary School Mathematics
Contemporary standards for secondary math curriculum and assessment; the mathematics essential for teaching secondary mathematics; the roles of secondary school math teachers; and the social and learning environments that affect the teaching and learning of mathematics. 3 credits

EDST 3603 Science Education: Teaching Middle and High School Science
Provides instruction on teaching styles, strategies, and techniques for use in middle and high schools science classes; multiple opportunities to explore teaching methods, all in support of science content knowledge and application, such as the use of discussion, demonstration, scientific method and experimentation, presentations, unit development, implementing labs, lab safety, grouping, lesson planning, assessment, and technology. 3 credits

EDST 3604 Social Education: Teaching Middle and Secondary Social Studies
How the goals for social studies education are met in the secondary school. Competing rationales for the social studies field. Proposals for curriculum change compared to the dominant patterns of classroom instruction. Candidates examine, design and use materials available for teaching the essential skills and content knowledge in social studies, and participate in at least one professional activity. Also studied are: the influence of the bureaucratic, hierarchical nature of schooling on social education; existing and proposed alternatives; the making of teaching decisions and the influences that shape them; and identifying individual differences. 3 credits
EDST 3605 Teaching Methods for World Languages
Presents candidates with a current picture of modern language teaching and its place in our society. Candidates learn a variety of approaches to communicative language instruction, create lessons using these methods, and practice presenting their lessons as they learn to become reflective practitioners of their craft. Candidates are responsible for readings in the texts, professional journals and other materials. 3 credits

EDST 3700 Integrating Curriculum and Technology
Learn how to integrate “best practice” and technology standards with a technology-based curriculum. A broad range of computer-supported learning tools, projects, and emerging technologies explored, created, and evaluated through an interactive approach. 3 credits

EDST 4000 Child Development and Curriculum
This course is designed for freshmen to enable them to understand the emotional, physical, cognitive, social and moral development of the child prior to working with children in schools. The course offers instruction on development from birth through adolescence with a special focus on the early childhood developmental stages and developmentally appropriate practice. Understanding how children grow and develop enables candidates to make appropriate decisions in their work with children relating to subject matter, methods, curriculum goals, and materials. In addition to field visits to Pre-K settings, candidates will complete projects that connect child development knowledge to curriculum. 3 credits

EDST 4001 Senior Internship
The seminar is organized to support senior candidates engaged in their culminating field experience and to deepen beginning teachers’ understanding of three main topics: the classroom and the school, student development and learning, and curriculum. Selected topics will include current curriculum, analysis of teaching effectiveness, human relations in the school, classroom management and discipline, teaching strategies, learning across the curriculum, evaluation, employment and professional growth. Prerequisites: EDST 1001, 4000, 2001, 2004, 2005, 2006, 3003; CPSY 1001, 1002, 2101, 2012, 3103, 3404 and completion of all field experiences. 6 credits

EDST 4500 Senior Internship
A 15-week placement in an approved school setting (under the supervision of a cooperating teacher and College of Education personnel) that enables candidates to develop and refine their competencies as teachers. Complementing this full-time practical experience is a weekly seminar that relates theoretical principles and content to practice through case studies, class discussion, and the development of lesson plans, modules and curriculum units. Requires full-time student teaching for a full semester. Prerequisites: EDST 1501, 3510, 1301, 2003, 3700, 3301, 2501 and appropriate methods course or program recommendation. 6 credits

HPER 1402 Introduction to Team Sports I
This course will serve as an introduction to the skills, rules, and philosophies of traditional Fall and Winter sports. The organization of teams and skills of officiating are practiced for aspiring coaches. 3 credits

HPER 1404 Introduction to Team Sports II
This course will serve as an introduction to the skills, rules, and philosophies of traditional Winter and Spring sports. The organization of teams and skills to officiating are practiced for aspiring coaches. 3 credits

HPER 1405 Dance Fundamentals
This physical activity course is an introduction to various types of modern, classical, cultural, social, and artistic forms of rhythmical movement and dance. The elements of creative dance will be covered. 3 credits

HPER 1407 Beginner Tennis
Fundamentals of the rules, regulations, etiquette, basic strokes and a general knowledge of how the game is played are covered during physical activity and classroom instruction. 3 credits

HPER 1417 Basic Concepts in Health
This is the study of the health as a “complete state of well being,” not merely the “absence of disease.” Consideration is given to current aspects of health: social, mental, spiritual, emotional, personal and physical. 3 credits

HPER 2200 Health Promotion for Children
To effectively deal with health-related issues of youth, this course combines the study of the nature and nurture of children. It addresses the skills, information, and behaviors relevant to the promotion of wellness and resiliency of children. This course attends to the current findings and reliable resources in the area of prevention education. 3 credits

HPER 2222 Personal Fitness
Students are mentored in the establishment of their own attainable and measurable fitness goals and devise a comprehensive fitness plan. Participants engage in exercises and assessment related to their personal goals. 3 credits

HPER 2404 Athletic Conditioning and First Aid
This course focuses on the prevention and emergency treatment for common injuries and sudden illnesses. Learners develop skills in bandaging, taping, conditioning, massage, and rescue techniques. American Red Cross Standard First Aid and First Responder certification is available to qualified students. 3 credits

HPER 2405 Aquatics
This course is for non-swimmers to lifeguard candidates. It provides training in teaching Red Cross swimming skills, water safety and conditioning. The course offers the opportunity to receive certification in Advanced Senior Lifesaving and/or Water Safety Instruction. 3 credits

HPER 2407 Intermediate Tennis
To improve techniques of experienced players, the course focuses on match play and strategies for both singles and doubles tennis. 3 credits
HPER 2444 Sexuality for Healthy Living
This course includes the study of relationships, physiology, disease prevention, and decision making with regard to healthy sexual behavior. 3 credits

HPER 2601 Contemporary Women’s Health Issues
This course involves the application of critical thinking to major physical, mental, emotional, spiritual, social and environmental health issues and resources related to the wellness of women in contemporary life. 3 credits

HPER 3401 Physiology of Exercise
Studies pertaining to the changes in body function resulting from physical effort and applied anatomy and kinesiology as it relates to sports medicine. Prerequisites: BIOL 1102 and BIOL 1103. 3 credits

HPER 3402 Health and Physical Education for Young Learners
The strands of national and state standards of comprehensive health and physical education are addressed. The role of the classroom teachers within the Coordinated School Health Program is introduced. 1 credit

HPER 3403 Curriculum & Methods of Teaching Health Education
Planning, instructional, and assessment techniques for the affective, cognitive and psychomotor domains of health education are studied and applied in course activities. Practices, standards, laws, ethics, and controversies of health education are addressed. 3 credits

HPER 3407 Lifetime Recreational Activities
The values of leisure activities are examined during the application of competitive and non-competitive participation. Toward the promotion of leadership, students engage in a project to promote lifelong recreation in a particular target population. Additional fees may apply. 3 credits

HPER 3409 Topics in Family Life Education
Resources and strategies for teaching skills of prevention and intervention with regard to mental health, interpersonal dynamics, and issues of sexuality are addressed from the perspective of families. 3 credits

HPER 3444 Scuba Diving
Practice in the techniques of scuba diving skills, safety procedures and equipment management. Students may opt for certification. Lab fee additional. 3 credits

HPER 3445 Scuba Diving
Instruction in various forms of folk, social, rhythmic and aerobic dances. Simple individual and group games are presented for their development values. 3 credits

HPER 4402 Nutrition and Physical Fitness
A practical approach to the study of the relationships of nutrition to wellness, physical fitness, disease prevention and exercise are covered with the perspective of personal nutrition. Students assess their own health status with regard to habits of nutrition and exercise. 3 credits

HPER 4410 Elementary Folk Dance, Games and Rhythm
Instruction in various forms of folk, social, rhythmic and aerobic dances. Simple individual and group games are presented for their development values. 3 credits

The School of Health and Medical Sciences offers three distinct educational programs for healthcare professionals: residency and fellowship training for physicians, dentists and pharmacists; continuing medical education for primary care providers and practicing specialists; and graduate programs in health sciences. By design, the programs are intended to prepare healthcare practitioners to competently, competitively and creatively function in a dynamic healthcare environment.

General Information

The School of Health and Medical Sciences, established in 1987, is a professional school within the University structure. The School’s mission is to prepare healthcare professionals to assume leadership roles in the healthcare arena. To achieve this goal, a variety of unique and innovative educational programs are offered utilizing a multi-institutional/integrated approach to graduate education. The School comprises two distinct educational programs: medical residency and fellowship training, and graduate programs in health sciences.

Residency programs offer training for physicians and dentists in specialty areas such as internal medicine, surgery, orthopedics, dentistry, oral and maxillofacial surgery, podiatry, AOA internship, internal medicine and emergency medicine. There also is subspecialty training available for qualified candidates who have completed the appropriate prerequisite training. All residency and fellowship programs are ACGME, AOA, APMA, ADA accredited. Residency training is also available in pharmacy. The training occurs at participating institutions: Saint Michael’s Medical Center in Newark; St. Joseph’s Regional Medical Center in Paterson; Trinitas Hospital in Elizabeth; St. Francis Medical Center in Trenton and John F. Kennedy Medical Center in Edison. The hospitals and the University jointly attest to the successful completion of the residency training through issuance of a certificate.

The School offers dual degree (undergraduate-to-graduate) programs in athletic training, occupational therapy, physical therapy, physician assistant, and speech-language pathology in collaboration with the College of Arts and Science (Department of Biological Sciences/Department of Social and Behavioral Sciences) and the College of Education and Human Services (Program in Special Education/Elementary Education). Students enrolled in an undergraduate dual degree program must declare their intent to continue matriculation in their major no later than August 15th prior to their junior year. Eligible students seeking to transfer into any of the SHMS dual degree programs will be considered on a space-available basis. For detailed information about these programs, please consult the pages that follow in this section of the catalogue as well as the sections pertaining to the departments noted above.

At the graduate level, the School offers an innovative Ph.D. program in Health Sciences. This program, which offers specialization tracks in health professions leadership, movement science, and speech-language pathology, is designed to provide individuals with an enhanced knowledge base through a flexible and diverse curriculum.

The School of Health and Medical Sciences offers a Master of Science in Occupational Therapy program designed to prepare knowledgeable, caring healthcare practitioners who can provide a broad range of patient care services, conduct clinical research and carry out administrative responsibilities in all occupational therapy practice areas.

The Master of Science in Physician Assistant program prepares post-baccalaureate students to perform as entry-level physician assistants in the broad healthcare arena.

The School offers a Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology. The program prepares practitioners with the broad-based knowledge and skills to work with the infant-toddler, preschool, school-age, adolescent, adult, and geriatric populations in all settings that employ speech-language pathologists.

The School offers the only Master of Science in Athletic Training in New Jersey, and is one of less than two dozen entry-level master’s programs in the country. The program prepares students to practice as entry-level athletic training practitioners who provide a wide range of patient care services.

The School offers a Doctor of Physical Therapy program. The program is intended to prepare individuals to become professional doctors of physical therapy, who are competent and autonomous practitioners, possessing a depth and breadth of knowledge to support the best practice of physical therapy.

The School offers a Master of Healthcare Administration degree that prepares individuals to assume leadership responsibilities in a variety of healthcare organizations.

Class Attendance and Academic Integrity

Attendance at each class meeting is expected. Instructors may take class attendance into account when determining grades. All forms of dishonesty, whether by act or omission, including, but not limited to, cheating, plagiarism and knowingly furnishing false information to the University, are prohibited. Intentional disruption or obstruction of teaching, research or administrative proceedings is prohibited. University sanctions may extend to suspension and dismissal. Work submitted in courses must be the product of the efforts of the student presenting it, and contributions of others to the finished work must be appropriately acknowledged. The presentation of another’s work as one’s own is a serious violation of the academic process, and it is penalized accordingly. The decision on the appropriate penalty is in the first instance the professor’s, and it may extend to a failing grade for the course.

Repetition of Courses

Students who have completed SHMS courses and received a grade of C or better are not permitted to repeat such courses. However, any student receiving a grade of less than “C” (including a grade of “U” when applicable) shall be required to repeat the course the next time the course is offered and earn a grade of “B” or better (or “S”, when applicable), in the repeated course and maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or better. As a result of a course failure, the student shall be placed on academic probation. A student will have only one opportunity to repeat a failed course. Failure to successfully retake and/or pass a failed course shall result in a recommendation of dismissal from the program.

For further information see the SHMS Academic Performance Standards Policy and Student Performance Review Committee (SPRC) Procedures document.

Preparatory Undergraduate Course Sequence in Speech-Language Pathology
The Department of Speech-Language Pathology offers six undergraduate preparatory courses in speech-language pathology to individuals who hold a baccalaureate degree in a field other than speech-language pathology, communication disorders, or speech and hearing science. It is not a degree granting program. Successful completion of these courses in speech-language pathology does not, in any way, guarantee admission to the Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology program at Seton Hall University. Students interested in applying for the Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology program at Seton Hall University must complete a separate graduate admission application. Undergraduate preparatory courses in speech-language pathology are offered once per year and include:

Dual Degree Programs
Dual degree programs offer students acceptance into a course of study beginning in the freshman year as an undergraduate and culminating with a graduate degree. In fact, dual degree students receive a baccalaureate degree at the end of three or four years (depending on the health sciences program) and a graduate degree is granted two, three or four years later. If the required GPA is maintained as an undergraduate and all required prerequisite conditions are met, students are guaranteed admission into the final years of professional study.

The School of Health and Medical Sciences, in collaboration with other schools and colleges at the University, offer the following dual degree programs:

Department of Occupational Therapy
3+3 Dual Degree Programs
- Bachelor of Arts in Social and Behavioral Sciences and Master of Science in Occupational Therapy
For Social and Behavioral Sciences/Occupational Therapy Program description, see page 217 of this catalogue.

Department of Athletic Training
3+2 Dual Degree Program
- Bachelor of Science in Biology and Master of Science in Athletic Training
- Bachelor of Arts in Biology and Master of Science in Athletic Training
- Bachelor of Arts in Social and Behavioral Sciences and Master of Science in Athletic Training
For Biology/Athletic Training Program description, see page 105 of this catalogue.
For Social and Behavioral Science/Athletic Training Program description, see page 219 of this catalogue.

Department of Physical Therapy
3+4 Dual Degree Program
- Bachelor of Science in Biology and Doctor of Physical Therapy
See page 102 of this catalogue for program description.

Department of Physician Assistant
3+3 Dual Degree Program
- Bachelor of Science in Biology and Master of Science in Physician Assistant
See page 105 of this catalogue for program description.

Department of Speech-Language Pathology
4+2 Dual Degree Program
- Bachelor of Science in Special Education/Elementary Education and Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology

Course Descriptions

ATFY 4007 (GMAT 7007) Research Project I
Students develop a clinically focused research proposal for submission to the University Institutional Review Board. Students work in small classroom groups with a faculty adviser. Prerequisite: AFTY 4907 (GMAT 6907). 1 credit

ATFY 4010 (GMAT 6010) Athletic Training Principles I
This is an introductory course orienting the entry-level athletic training student to the profession of athletic training and discusses the various responsibilities of a certified athletic trainer. Other topics discussed include the recognition of environmental illnesses and emergency situations including the evaluation and management of acute cervical spine-related injuries. This course includes a lab component in which students learn and practice different taping and wrapping techniques, and fabricating protective padding. Students also learn to properly apply different sports equipment. 3 credits

ATFY 4011 (GMAT 6011) Athletic Training Principles II
This is a continuation of GMAT 6010 and includes discussion of common and acute pathologies of the upper and lower extremity. Mechanism of injury, signs, and symptoms, and on-field injury management is discussed in lecture and practiced in lab. Students demonstrate the appropriate care for these acute conditions as well as demonstrate preventative and protective methods. Prerequisite: AFTY 4010 (GMAT 6010). 3 credits

ATFY 4107 (GMAT 7107) Research Project II
In this course the student finalizes and implements the research proposal designed in Research Project I. Emphasis is on statistical procedures, data collection, data analysis and interpretation. Students work in small classroom groups with a faculty adviser. Prerequisite: AFTY 4007 (GMAT 7007). 1 credit

ATFY 4400 (GMAT 7400) Clinical Practicum I
This is the first of four clinical and seminar experiences. The students continue to develop clinical proficiency through the performance of selected clinical skills. With the clinical preceptor’s direct supervision and instruction, the students begin to integrate the examination, evaluation, assessment, and intervention skills learned in the classroom into the clinical setting. The seminar component will engage students in clinical problem-centered discussion providing integration of concepts of evaluation and management of musculoskeletal problems and proper medical documentation. Prerequisite: AFTY 4011 (GMAT 6011). 2 credits

ATFY 4401 International Clinical Practicum in Athletic Training
This course is designed to give international students enrolled in an appropriate course of study the clinical experience of an athletic training student in the United States. The student will have opportunity to develop competence in direct and non-direct patient care. The student will understand the role of an athletic trainer in the USA and the various opportunities for credentialed athletic trainers (ATs) in the United States. Permission from Chair, MSAT program required. 1 credit

ATFY 4907 (GMAT 6907) Research Methods
Introduces and provides students a working knowledge of the research process with an emphasis on formulating a research question and research design. The goal is to help students prepare a research proposal for a research topic. 3 credits

GMED 4001 (GMED 6001) Functional Human Anatomy
Study of human anatomy course in which all systems of the body are studied with special emphasis given to skeletal, muscular, cardiovascular and nervous systems. 3 credits

GMED 4004 (GMED 6004) Biomedical Ethics
A study of the application of human and professional values, judgment, and choices to selected ethical dilemmas that arise in the profession of athletic training and in clinical practice. 2 credits

GMED 4009 (GMED 6009) Surface Anatomy and Palpation
This course introduces the student to the application and techniques of palpation and observation as part of the physical examination process. Emphasis is placed on identification, location and palpation of anatomical structures. 1 credit

GMED 4012 (GMED 6012) Kinesiology
This course presents the application of physics, anatomy, and physiology to the understanding of human movement. Emphasis is on the study of the development and function of the musculo-skeletal system (bone, muscle, and ligaments) in contributing to normal motion. Attention is paid to synovial joints as key linkage in the human mechanical system and how their movements are created and governed. The laboratory component of this course reviews the theory and application of physical examination and evaluation through the use of selected biomechanical instruments. Posture, gait and activity analysis are included. 3 credits

GMED 4013 (GMED 6013) Therapeutic Modalities
This course emphasizes the use of heat, cold, compression, traction and electrotherapeutic techniques in the management of patients with a variety of medical conditions. This course will stress a problem solving approach for the selection and application of appropriate procedures to manage pain, swelling, and limitations in motion and muscle weakness. Clinical decision-making will be practiced throughout the course to develop appropriate treatment strategies and applications for the use of these physical agents for initial treatment as well as treatment modification based on the assessment of physiological and physical responses to those interventions. 3 credits

GMED 4022 (GMED 6022) Basic Rehabilitation Procedures
Provides the student with an introduction to the principles of patient care. Students are introduced to physical examination skills including: goniometry, range of motion, manual muscle testing, reflex testing and sensory testing. Students engage in the proper fitting of assistive equipment for ambulation and ADL activities. 3 credits

GMED 4101 (GMED 6101) Human Physiology
Analysis of the normal function in the presence of disease or trauma primarily affecting all systems. Information is presented at the tissue, organ and system level. Discussion will address changes in response to disease or trauma over the entire lifespan. 3 credits

GMED 4102 (GMED 6102) Neuroscience
This course will cover the basic structure, organization, and function of the central nervous system (CNS). Lectures and laboratories focus on understanding localization of function within specific structures and pathways of the brain and spinal cord, and typical syndromes associated with vascular accidents, trauma or diseases of the various parts of the CNS. 3 credits

GMED 4104 (GMED 6104) Exercise Physiology and Nutrition
This course integrates principles of nutrition and application to exercise. It examines the dietary practices used in pursuit of weight maintenance, health, and fitness. Also, presents the responses of the human body to normal and pathological processes. Emphasis is placed on the study of muscle physiology, metabolism, cardiovascular and respiratory adaptation, aging, thermoregulation, strength training, and exercise prescription. Application of evaluation procedures is provided thru the use of selected human performance instruments. 4 credits

GMSL 5001 Phonetics
Introduction to the field of phonetics, the study of speech sound production. Topics include speech sound production (phonetics), acoustic phonetics and phonetic transcription using the International Phonetic Alphabet. Students will gain an understanding of the production and acoustic characteristics of the consonants and vowels of Spoken American English. Additional topics include segmental and suprasegmental properties, dialectical variations, and clinical applications. 3 credits

GMSL 5003 Introduction to Language Development
This course is an in-depth introduction to language development. It prepares students for a variety of applications within education, speech-language pathology and psychology course of studies. Course content includes a definition of language and how language fits within the larger domain of communication. Students complete formal analyses of each of the five domains of language (pragmatics, semantics, phonology, morphology, syntax) to gain a thorough understanding in how each domain comprises language as a whole. The course focuses on expressive language but receptive language (comprehension) is introduced. The developmental course of language in the first 5 years is delineated in detail and students become familiar with important language milestones the child passes through. Language development in the school-age and adolescent years is also presented. Students gain understanding of the nature (i.e., innate) and nurture factors (i.e., environmental) that influence language development. Important theoretical constructs and their history as the understanding of development has evolved are reviewed. 3 credits

GMSL 5004 Introduction to Audiology
Overview of the important concepts and principle tests used in clinical audiology. Common pathologies of the auditory system and associated audiometric data are also emphasized. 3 credits

GMSL 5005 Anatomy and Physiology of the Speech and Swallowing Mechanism
This course provides a foundational review of topics related to speech science and the normal swallow process. This includes the anatomy, physiology, and neural underpinnings as it relates to the speech production/perception and swallowing mechanism. The clinical application of this content will be discussed. 3 credits

GMSL 5006 Fundamentals of Sound and the Auditory System
This course provides an introduction to the fundamental concepts of acoustics, psychoacoustics, and the anatomy and physiology of the peripheral and central auditory mechanisms. Pathological conditions that affect those mechanisms are also introduced. 3 credits

GMSL 5007 Introduction to Communication Disorders
This course provides the student with an introduction to the various disorders of the speech and language mechanisms assessed and treated by the speech-language pathologist and audiologist. 3 credits

OTFY 4150 (GMOT 6150) Functional Anatomy and Kinesiology
This course focuses on understanding and analyzing typical and atypical human movement across the life span using anatomy and kinesiology principles. This course includes labs. 5 credits

OTFY 4160 (GMOT 6160) Neuroscience for Occupational Therapy
This course covers body functions and structures of the nervous system, including the impact of impairment on activity and participation. 3 credits

OTFY 4170 (GMOT 6170) Occupational Therapy Practice Skills
This course introduces basic health assessment; client and provider safety; and demonstration and integration of occupational therapy practice skills. This course includes labs. 2 credits

OTFY 4180 (GMOT 6180) Introduction to Occupational Therapy
This course introduces the students to the foundations of the occupational therapy profession. This course includes labs. 4 credits

OTFY 4190 (GMOT 6190) Professional Formation I
This course focuses on the acquisition of professional knowledge and skills expected of graduate students in a professional program. 2 credits
OTFY 4250 (GMOT 6250) Group Process in Occupational Therapy
This course integrates theories of group dynamics and leadership with the development and implementation of functional activity-based groups. This course includes fieldwork I experiences. 4 credits

OTFY 4260 (GMOT 6260) Cognition, Perception, Vision and Function
This course addresses cognition, perception, and visual impairments; their impact on function; and principles of related occupational therapy assessments and interventions. This course includes labs. 3 credits

OTFY 4270 (GMOT 6270) The Occupational Therapy Process
This course introduces the principles and implementation of the occupational therapy process. 4 credits

OTFY 4303 (GMOT 7303) Research Methods I
This course addresses the use of quantitative methods in clinical practice and research. 3 credits

OTFY 4200 (GMOT 6200) Professional Formation II
This course critically examines sociocultural and other contextual aspects of health and occupational justice. 2 credits

PAFY 4001 (GMPA 6001) Human Anatomy
The course provides instruction to significant aspects of human anatomy with respect to physician assistant practice. Lecture instruction as well as prospected dissection in cadaver lab are methods used to convey material. Clinical application of anatomic structure and function are emphasized. 4 credits

PAFY 4104 (GMPA 6104) Psychiatry
An overview of psychiatric concepts and an introductory approach to the evaluation of patients with emotional problems, in preparation for clinical rotations. Includes the various psychiatric syndromes, in terms of causal factors, clinical presentation, diagnosis, treatment and outcome. The impact that psychological problems have on the total health care of the patient will be emphasized. 2 credits

PAFY 4107 (GMPA 6107) Pathophysiology
The fundamentals of the morphopathological changes found in the different organs of the body in order to interpret the various disease states affecting the human body. Gross and microscopic specimens are used to provide a clear understanding of the disease processes. 3 credits

PAFY 4108 (GMPA 6108) Health Maintenance and Education
Prepares students to provide preventive health care through the understanding of human development as it relates to illness, proper nutrition and health maintenance. Students will receive in-depth instruction in the principles of health maintenance from the Physician Assistant perspective. This course is predominately taught as a web-based course. 2 credits

PAFY 4111 (GMPA 6111) Human Physiology
This course provides an in-depth exploration of the physiologic aspects of homeostasis. Topics include the cell, musculoskeletal, cardiorespiratory, digestive, renal, endocrine, and reproductive systems. Correlation to the clinical aspect of disease is emphasized. Open to physician assistant majors only. 3 credits

PAFY 4112 (GMPA 6112) Pharmacology and Clinical Therapeutics
An introduction to the therapeutic agents most commonly used in the practice of medicine. Emphasis will be placed on drug interaction, adverse reactions, therapeutic effects and dosage schedules. Demonstrates the practical application of the pharmaceutical science as utilized for the formulation of drug therapy decisions. The course will assist the physician assistant student to develop management plans for initiating routine drug therapy, writing prescriptions, monitoring drug therapy, and providing emergency drug therapy. 4 credits

PAFY 4203 (GMPA 6203) Introduction to Clinical Medicine I
Introduction to interviewing techniques and principles, psychosocial development and behavior, and the effective relationship between the physician assistant, other health professionals and the patient. Techniques of physical examination and use of examining equipment are introduced. Students are assigned to preceptors for the purpose of taking complete histories and performing complete physical examination on patients. 4 credits

PAFY 4205 (GMPA 6205) Introduction to Clinical Medicine II
The problem-oriented medical record format, techniques of physical diagnosis and use of examining equipment. Systems-based approach to signs and symptoms of diseases commonly seen in primary care are discussed. Students are assigned to preceptors for the purpose of further understanding of the patient-health care provider relationship and communication with other health care providers. Narrative case presentation, using the problem-oriented medical record format. 4 credits

PAFY 4206 (GMPA 6206) Electrocardiography
This course introduces students to analysis of the electrocardiograph. The course will review cardiac electrophysiology and indications for ECG testing. Students will learn how to perform a 12 lead ECG as well as how to analyze an ECG for rate, rhythm, axis, intervals, cardiac hypertrophy and ischemia/infraction. 1 credit

PAFY 4207 (GMPA 6207) Diagnostic Imaging
This course introduces students to diagnostic imaging. Following an introduction to different imaging modalities and their indications, the course will progress through an organ system based review of normal radiographic anatomy and pathologic findings. 1 credit

PAFY 4208 (GMPA 6208) Laboratory Diagnostics
This course introduces students to laboratory diagnostic testing. The course will review indications for testing, normal results, and common pathologic findings discovered in testing blood, urine, stool, cerebrospinal fluid, synovial fluid and other body fluids. Students will have the opportunity to practice laboratory procedures including phlebotomy, urinalysis and guaiac testing for occult blood.

2 credits

PTFY 4001 (GDPT 6001) Functional Human Anatomy
This course provides the student with the knowledge of functional human anatomy using a regional approach with emphasis placed on the musculoskeletal, cardiovascular, respiratory, and nervous systems and review of the gastrointestinal system. Anatomical models, computer programs, and cadaveric dissection complement didactic classroom activities. 3 credits

PTFY 4009 (GDPT 6009) Surface Anatomy and Palpation
This course introduces the student to the application of palpation and observation as part of the physical examination process. Emphasis is placed on identification and location of superficial anatomical structures. Attention is paid to manual identification of selected musculoskeletal structures. 1 credit

PTFY 4012 (GDPT 6012) Kinesiology
This course presents the application of physics, anatomy, and physiology to the understanding of human movement. Emphasis is on the study of the development and function of the musculo-skeletal system (bone, muscle, and ligaments) in contributing to normal motion. Attention is paid to synovial joints as key linkage in the human mechanical system and how their movements are created and governed. The laboratory component of this course reviews the theory and application of physical examination and evaluation through the use of selected biomechanical instruments. Gait and activity analysis are included. 3 credits

PTFY 4013 (GDPT 6013) Therapeutic Modalities
This course emphasizes the use of heat, cold, compression, traction and electrotherapeutic techniques in the management of patients with impairments and functional limitations due to a variety of orthopedic, neurological and medical conditions. Management strategies and techniques to promote healing in dermal wounds and burns will also be discussed. This course will stress a problem solving approach for the selection and application of appropriate procedures to manage pain, edema, and limitations in motion, muscle weakness and wound healing. Clinical decision-making will be practiced throughout the course to develop appropriate treatment strategies and applications for the use of these physical agents for initial treatment as well as treatment modification based on the assessment of physiological and physical responses to those interventions. 3 credits

PTFY 4030 (GDPT 6030) Clinical Skills I
This course facilitates skills acquisition in basic elements of patient services and professional practice. Emphasis is placed on basic physical handling skills, health care record information collection and documentation, elementary physical examination, general screening for all systems, and essentials of patient-practitioner interaction. 2 credits

PTFY 4031 (GDPT 6031) Clinical Skills II
The course promotes skills acquisition in basic elements of patient services. Emphasis is placed on basic patient handling skills, physical examination and intervention techniques, health care record information collection and documentation, general screening, and essentials of patient-practitioner interaction. 3 credits

PTFY 4101 (GDPT 6101) Human Physiology
Analysis of the normal function in the presence of disease or trauma primarily affecting all systems. Information is presented at the tissue, organ and system level. Discussion will address changes in response to disease or trauma over the entire lifespan. 3 credits

PTFY 4102 (GDPT 6102) Neuroscience
This course will cover the basic structure, organization, and function of the central nervous system (CNS). Lectures and laboratories focus on understanding localization of function within specific structures and pathways of the brain and spinal cord, and typical syndromes associated with vascular accidents, trauma or diseases of the various parts of the CNS. 3 credits

PTFY 4108 (GDPT 6108) Motor Control Principles
This introductory course has been designed to assist students in the understanding and integration of the principles of motor control and learning into practice for the advancement of motor skill acquisition. Learning is an essential feature of human perceptual-motor behavior. This course provides an introduction to the principles of learning skills, as well as a preliminary application of the principles to therapeutic practice. Theory is explored as it relates to learning, performance and skill acquisition. Principles of learning as they pertain to task analysis and characteristics of learner and learning environment are also addressed. 2 credits

PTFY 4123 (GDPT 6123) Physical Therapy Roles in Health Care
This is an introductory course into the field of physical therapy taken by entry-level students. The focus of this course is to introduce the student to professional issues related to physical therapy; the professional organization; the concepts of evidence based medicine; the Guide to Physical Therapist Practice; and medical terminology. Foundational skills in communication, professional behavior, evidenced-based practice, self and peer assessment, and cultural competency. 2 credits

Programs of Study
The College of Nursing offers programs of study leading to the degree Bachelor of Science in Nursing and is accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education, and is approved by the New Jersey Board of Nursing. Seton Hall University also is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. The programs combine a liberal arts education with basic preparation in professional nursing. Registered nurse baccalaureate graduates are prepared to practice nursing in a variety of settings, which may include ambulatory care, acute care hospitals, long-term care facilities, hospices and schools, among others. In addition, the baccalaureate degree in nursing prepares graduates to continue education on a graduate level.
College of Nursing Mission Statement

The College of Nursing’s mission is to educate generalists and specialists in nursing at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Undergraduate and graduate curricula exist within a university community that embraces a student body enriched by cultural, ethnic, and racial diversity where religious and ethical commitment and academic freedom are valued. The College of Nursing aims to cultivate values in its students and graduates that enable a commitment to lifelong learning, service and leadership for the greater good of the global society.

Undergraduate Philosophy

Education is a dynamic process that directs and facilitates learning. Learning is the active, continuous process of acquiring knowledge and skill that brings about actual or potential changes in behavior. Acquired through lifelong endeavor, new learning builds on previous levels of knowledge and experience and is a function of motivation and readiness. Learning is facilitated when activities are goal-directed, purposeful, and meaningful for the learner. The faculty guide, direct, facilitate, and evaluate learning while encouraging self-direction and development of intellectual curiosity, creativity, and independent thinking. Learning is best achieved in an atmosphere where individual dignity is respected and a commitment to excellence exists. The development of cognitive skills that include critical thinking, analysis, and synthesis is a vital process necessary for professional nursing practice. The curriculum builds upon a liberal education and incorporates creative teaching strategies.

Undergraduate Program Outcomes

At the conclusion of the program, the student will:
1. communicate actively and clearly;
2. think critically and creatively in solving problems and making decisions;
3. design and provide care based on “best evidence”; and
4. act as a servant leader in a global society.

Admission Requirements for Pre-Licensure Students

In addition to the general University requirements for admission, the College of Nursing requires that applicants complete one unit in biology and one unit in chemistry. Students who do not meet the nursing requirement but meet the University admission requirement will be assigned to pre-nursing status and must contact the College of Nursing for advisement. Students may only remain on pre-nursing status for one academic year after admission. A student wishing to enter the pre-licensure BSN program must have completed 30 credits at Seton Hall, including, at minimum BIO 1102 and BIO 1103 as required in the nursing curriculum with a grade of C+ or higher, and 2 English courses with grades of C or higher, and must have achieved a cumulative GPA of 3.5 or higher. Students transferring from other majors must also submit satisfactory scores from the nursing admission examination selected by the College of Nursing. The relevant SHU paperwork, along with a letter outlining the student’s interest in the nursing major must be submitted to the Associate Dean for Undergraduate Programs by the end of the spring semester. Admission to the pre-licensure nursing major is on a space-available basis. Students who qualify will be admitted to the CON pre-licensure B.S.N. program once yearly, after the spring semester, and will enter the major in the fall of the following academic year. Pre-nursing students cannot enroll in any nursing courses other than NUTH 1101 and NUTH 1102. A student must have declared the nursing major by the completion of the Spring semester of the first year. This policy pertains to traditionally admitted students as well as transfer students.

Transfer Requirement for Pre-Licensure Program

All sciences must be taken at a 4-year college and be at least a B or better in order to meet the College of Nursing requirements.

English as a Second Language

All applicants to the College of Nursing whose native language is not English must have taken the TOEFL iBT® test within the past five years and achieved minimum scores of 22 in Reading, 22 Listening, 26 in Speaking and 24 in Writing.

Licensure

The State Board of Nursing has the responsibility to determine who is eligible to take the registered nurse licensure examination (NCLEX-RN). Graduation from the nursing program satisfies one of the eligibility requirements. There are other eligibility criteria as well. Since eligibility criteria may vary, applicants should check with the Board of Nursing of the state in which they plan to take the examination to determine the eligibility criteria.

Clinical Requirements

The College of Nursing uses CertifiedBackground.com to manage and store clinical documents. All students entering a clinical course must use CertifiedBackground.com for clinical clearance and to manage clinical documents. Students must begin the clinical clearance process the semester prior to entering the clinical setting in order to meet the deadline. Completion of requirements is due by July for Fall clinical courses and November for Spring clinical courses. Prior to enrollment in any clinical course, accepted students must complete requirements including a physical examination, medical history immunization, drug screen, and titers and competencies including the American Heart Association Certification course for CPR (BLS for Healthcare Professionals). This also includes a criminal background check through CertifiedBackground.com.
Clinical agencies vary in their requirements for participation and these may be in addition to the regular requirements. All requirements must be submitted by the established due date. For clarification, please see the Blackboard/Communities/Undergraduate Majors website. Requirements are also included in the student handbook. Failure to comply will result in inability to attend clinical. Decision on accepting students at a clinical site reside with the clinical agencies themselves, any findings on a student’s background check or drug screening could result in the inability of the College of Nursing to secure clinical placements for him or her. In this case it may become impossible for the student to complete the BSN program.

Liability Insurance

Students taking clinical nursing courses must obtain professional liability and malpractice insurance in the amounts of $2,000,000 per claim/$4,000,000 aggregate. Application forms and additional information can be obtained from the Blackboard/Communities/Undergraduate Majors website.

Uniform and Equipment Policy

A uniform and equipment policy for clinical practice is in effect in the College of Nursing. Appropriate attire is included in this policy, which must be adhered to by students of professional nursing. Please refer to the Undergraduate Nursing Student Handbook for details.

Honor Society

Gamma Nu Chapter of the international nursing honor society Sigma Theta Tau International, Inc. inducts members annually. Please refer to the Undergraduate Nursing Student Handbook for more information.

Fees

Fees are associated with certain courses for standardized testing, books, software, lab equipment, and criminal background check.

Cooperating Community Agencies

Students obtain their clinical experience in a variety of settings. There are more than 40 hospitals, nursing homes and community health agencies that cooperate with the College of Nursing.

Requirements for Progression

To enroll in the first clinical nursing course, NUTC 2011 Health Assessment, a pre-licensure student must be a nursing major, meet curricular prerequisites and have a minimum GPA of a 2.75 and at least a “C+” in the following courses: BIOL 1102, BIOL 1103, and CHEM 1301. BIOL 2111 is a prerequisite or corequisite for NUTC 2011. Additionally, students must complete all nursing courses in one semester with grades of at least “C+” (77%) in each course in order to proceed to the next semester. If a student receives a grade below a “C+” in a clinical course, that course must be repeated prior to moving on to the next clinical courses.

Any student enrolled in the undergraduate program who achieves less than a “C+” grade in nursing or science courses must repeat the course. Students also are expected to exhibit personality values and emotional characteristics consistent with a developing professional nurse role. If, after consultation and work with approved counselors, students still do not meet these criteria, they will not be permitted to continue in the nursing program.

Retention and progression in the nursing program also is determined by the student’s ability to meet successfully the requirements identified in the policy statements titled “Academic Standards for the College of Nursing” in the Undergraduate Student Handbook. All nursing students must maintain a cumulative GPA of at least 2.75 in order to enroll and maintain matriculation in nursing courses. Having a GPA below 2.75 makes the student ineligible to be enrolled in nursing classes, and the student must raise his or her GPA to the 2.75 minimum in order to proceed with the curriculum.

Students are placed on Risk of Probation, or College Dismissal for failing to meet the academic standards of the College of Nursing. Any grade below C+ (77%) in any NUTC or NUTH course, or in Anatomy and Physiology, Chemistry or Microbiology will result in risk of probation status. A course with a grade below C+ must be repeated and a C+ or higher must be achieved. Students may repeat an individual nursing course or science course only once. A grade below C+ (77%) on the second attempt at the same course will result in dismissal the College of Nursing. Three grades below C+ in a different science or nursing courses will result in dismissal from the College of Nursing.

If a nursing student withdraws from the same science course or nursing course more than once, the student will lose his or her matriculation status for the degree in nursing.

PROGRAMS OF STUDY

Traditional Program

Nursing courses are introduced in the freshman year along with the liberal arts and sciences. This approach is used to enhance the students’ exposure to the profession of nursing. This future-oriented curriculum highlights wellness and health promotion as well as disease management. Student experiences include caring for clients in a variety of settings, including acute care, hospice care, community-based agencies and day care. These exciting experiences all begin in the sophomore year.
B.S.N. Degree Program Requirements

The B.S.N. curriculum requires 123 credits for graduation, dispersed in the following program sample curricula.

*CORE 2101 may be taken in the Fall or the Spring semester of the second year.

Second Degree Students

Admission to the program is limited to students holding a baccalaureate or higher degree. All prerequisites must be completed with a grade of “C” or higher for acceptance. A minimum GPA of 3.0 is required.

Students must complete courses in Anatomy and Physiology I and II, Bio/Organic Chemistry, Microbiology, Statistics, Developmental Psychology, Economics, Nutrition and Ethics prior to starting this program. The program requires the completion of 61 nursing credits. The accelerated program requires 14 months to complete while the traditional second degree program takes 2 full academic years.

Program for Registered Nurses (RNs)
The program is available online, on-campus, and at select off-campus sites.

Admission Requirements
- Completed application with the non-refundable application fee
- Successful completion of an associate degree or diploma nursing program for the R.N. to B.S.N. Program and proof of non-nursing bachelor’s degree for applicants to the R.N. to B.S.N./Second Degree Program
- All official college transcripts
- GPA of 2.5 or equivalent
- Proof of current R.N. license (U.S. based)

In addition to the required nursing courses, RNs must also complete liberal arts curriculum requirements. Credits from other colleges for non-nursing courses will be evaluated for acceptance according to University policies.

The B.S.N. Programs for RNs have both theory and clinical components. Students will be responsible for locating clinical placement sites and preceptors. Clinical placements are individualized and congruent with course objectives, student interests and career goals. Preceptors must at least have at least baccalaureate degree in nursing. Students’ faculty mentor will review and approve clinical sites and preceptors that are compatible with students’ learning needs. Aside from proof of current R.N. licensure in the U.S. certain clinical requirements are required prior to starting a clinical experience. See sections on clinical requirements, health examination and liability insurance on Blackboard/Communities/Undergraduate Nursing Majors site.

The online program is identical to the on-campus program and the other off-site programs throughout New Jersey. While the on campus, off site, online R.N. to B.S.N. program course objectives are the same, the instructional delivery methodologies in the online degree program differ. Instructional delivery is primarily web-based in a password-protected environment. Coursework is supplemented through a learning package that may include audio, video or other media.

Students in the online program are required to attend on campus residencies. Prior to the start of the first course, students come to the Seton Hall University campus in South Orange, New Jersey for an orientation. Students meet with the program director, staff and student colleagues. Orientation includes a tour of the campus, a library orientation, and hands-on experience with multimedia technology that will be utilized in coursework.

R.N. to B.S.N. Program
This program is designed for registered nurses (RNs) who are graduates of associate degree or of diploma nursing programs.

Program design and curriculum: The entire program requires 122 credits for graduation including 32 credits for proof of current R.N. licensure (U.S.).

Transfer credits can be applied to all college level course work with a grade of “C” or better. Some liberal arts and science courses required in the program are offered on-campus and online through the College of Arts and Sciences.

*The B.S.N. Programs for RNs encourages students to continue their studies in the graduate programs by allowing eligible students, with permission of their adviser, to take NURS 6123 Theoretical Basis of Advanced Nursing Practice, 3 credits and NURS 6124 Forces in Health Care, 3 credits, in lieu of NURN 4020. See Graduate Catalogue for details.

Course Descriptions

NUCL 4210 Nurse Summer Training Program Clinical Elective

The Nurse Summer Training Program (NSTP) Clinical Elective provides Army ROTC nurse cadets with clinical experience in a hospital setting while introducing them to the duties, roles, responsibilities and expectations of an Army Nurse Corps Officer. The nurse cadet will exercise leadership skills in a hospital environment by planning, organizing, decision making, implementing and being accountable for the outcome of nursing care. Prerequisites: ROTC Basic Course; Advanced Camp; completion of all junior level nursing courses. 3 credits

NURN 2011 Health Assessment

This course will introduce the student to the theoretical bases necessary in order to perform a comprehensive health assessment which involves obtaining and analyzing data describing a person’s state of wellness, strengths relative to health promotion, and responses to actual and/or potential health deviations or clinical problems. The relationship of health assessment to the role and responsibilities of the professional nurse in the application of the nursing process will be explored. This course will focus on the theory and practice of health assessment skills, identification of deviations from the norm, and accurate documentation of findings. Emphasis is placed on the integration and application of these skills through the use of critical thinking. Prerequisite: anatomy and physiology, and chemistry completion. 3 credits

NURN 3001 Professional Nursing I

This course introduces the registered nurse student to the philosophy of nursing and the baccalaureate curriculum. The interrelationships between nursing theory, practice, education and research are discussed as foundations for understanding nursing theorists, the nursing process, and the impact of nursing research on practice. The major focus is on the use of the nursing process with individuals and families. Current and emerging roles and responsibilities of the professional nurse are compared and contrasted with other nursing roles as well as with other health professionals. 6 credits

NURN 4017 Community Health Perspectives

Basic concepts of community health and public health are applied to identify actual and potential health problems of individuals, groups and communities. The focus will be on community-based health care, roles and functions of the community and public health nurse, developing partnerships with community organizations, healthcare delivery systems, levels of prevention and health promotion and risk models. 5 credits

NURN 4020 Professional Nursing II

This course focuses on knowledge and skills derived from leadership and management as they are translated and integrated into professional nursing practice within the contemporary healthcare delivery system. Specific issues and trends in healthcare delivery, in general, and nursing, in particular, are analyzed. 6 credits

NUTC 2011 Health Assessment

This course will introduce the student to the theoretical bases necessary in order to perform a comprehensive health assessment which involves obtaining and analyzing data describing a person’s state of wellness, strengths relative to health promotion, and responses to actual and/or potential health deviations or clinical problems. The relationship of health assessment to the role and responsibilities of the professional nurse in the application of the nursing process will be explored. This course will focus on the theory and practice of health assessment skills, identification of deviations from the norm, and accurate documentation of findings. Emphasis is placed on the integration and with emphasis on the family context. The student will acquire the knowledge and clinical skills necessary to assess and provide safe and effective nursing care for children and adolescents experiencing episodic, acute or chronic illness. Clinical experiences are in a variety of settings and focus on the principles of family-centered care. Prerequisites: NUTH 2003, 2011, 2102, 3010, 3113. 5 credits

NUTC 3917 Acute Adult Nursing
This course will provide the student with the knowledge base to assess the client’s ability to function independently, intervene to maximize function, to help the client identify realistic outcomes and coping with altered function with acute disease states. The nursing process is viewed as the framework to guide the students to think critically when interacting with acute care clients. Clinical experiences will be provided in a variety of settings which will enhance opportunities for the student to initiate acute nursing skills and interventions for health promotion, risk reduction, disease prevention and illness and disease management. Prerequisites: NUTH 2003, 2011, 2102, 3010, 3113. 5 credits

NUTC 4019 Synthesis Practicum
This is a capstone clinical course for students in the traditional, accelerated, and second degree programs and serves as a transition between the role of nursing student and the role of the professional nurse. The major purpose is to increase independence in providing nursing care to groups of individuals in an acute care setting under the direct supervision of a faculty member. Students continue to implement the nursing process while caring for groups of individuals; however, the focus in this course is on the organization, delegation and supervision of care given as well as evaluation of the outcomes of care. Prerequisites: NUTH 2003, NUTC 2011, NUTH 2012, NUTC 3113, NUTC 3914, NUTC 3915, NUTC 3916, NUTC 3917 and CORE 3. Corequisites: NUTC 4001, NUTC 4018. 3 credits

NUTC 4118 Community Health Perspectives
Basic concepts of community health and public health are applied to identify actual and potential health problems of individuals, groups and communities. The focus will be on community-based health care, roles and functions of the community and public health nurse, developing partnerships with community organizations, healthcare delivery systems, levels of prevention and health promotion and risk models. Prerequisites: NUTH 2003, NUTC 2011, NUTH 2012, NUTH 3010, NUTC 3113 NUTC 3914, NUTC 3915, NUTC 3916, NUTC 3917 and CORE 3. Corequisites: NUTC 4001 and NUTC 4019. 5 credits

NUTH 1001 Group Dynamics
This course is designed to assist students to apply psychological, cultural and behavioral concepts to the study of group interaction. Principles of dealing with small groups in a variety of sociocultural settings are examined in order to maximize students’ ability to comprehend the interactive factors that influence group behaviors and to become effective group participants. 2 credits
NUTH 1002 Individual and Family Development Across the Lifespan
This course focuses on the theoretical perspectives of growth and development, family theories and family adaptation at different stages, as well as usual patterns of aging. Students will make assessments of individuals in various stages of life to identify developmental issues and their impact on health phenomena of interest to nursing. 3 credits

NUTH 1003 Culture and Health
This course will focus on some of the major cultures of the world that are represented within our regional healthcare systems. Discussions and readings will include patterns of beliefs, values, behaviors and religious practices across cultures as well as examining health practices and healing behaviors of specific cultures. Culture specific strategies will be reviewed for teachings and interventions for health promotion and disease management and healthcare systems will be examined in light of meeting culture-specific needs. This course aims to increase cultural awareness, cultural sensitivity and cultural competency among healthcare students. 3 credits

NUTH 1004 Dying with Dignity
Nurses spend more time with patients and families facing the end of life than any other health professional. Nurses are intimately involved in all aspects of end of life care and they address the myriad of needs facing individuals at this time of life. Expert nursing care has the potential to greatly reduce the burden and distress of those facing life’s end and the ability to offer support for the many physical, psychological, social and spiritual needs of patients and their families. End of life care is not confined only to specific illnesses (i.e., cancer or AIDS), but rather it is essential across all life-threatening illnesses and in cases of sudden death. 2 credits

NUTH 1112 Spirituality: Living Our Connectedness
This course is designed to present spirituality as a concept that lies beyond religious boundaries. As caregivers, nurses share both the privilege, and responsibility of awakening within themselves, the ability to be compassionate and competent caregivers. As the learning journey progresses, students will have the opportunity to explore cultural sensitivity, and the ways our differing belief systems, both religious, and otherwise, impact patient care. The importance of not only faith, but of forgiveness and hope, will be incorporated. 1 credit

NUTH 1992-1994 Independent Study in Nursing
Opportunity to study an area or problem in nursing in greater depth and to develop the ability for self-directed learning. Departmental permission required.
NUTH 1992 - 1 credit
NUTH 1993 - 2 credits
NUTH 1994 - 3 credits

NUTH 1101 Introduction to Professional Nursing
This course is designed to introduce the student to the art and science of nursing, as well as, the philosophy of the College of Nursing. The historical development of nursing and nursing education is discussed. Person, environment and health are examined as central concepts in nursing theories as well as the interrelationships between nursing theory, practice, research and education. Students are introduced to the nursing process as a means for designing and delivering nursing care. Selected ethical issues and trends will be discussed as they relate to current nursing practice. Students will explore QSEN (Quality and Safety Education for Nurses) competencies with emphasis on Teamwork and Collaboration. Information fluency concepts are presented, discussed and applied within this course. 3 credits

NUTH 1102 Development and Health Promotion Across the Lifespan
The focus of this course is human development, health promotion and wellness for individuals across the lifespan. Theoretical perspectives of growth and development, family theories and family adaptation at different stages are explored. Students will learn strategies to promote healthy lifestyles and environments to reduce risk of injury and disease in individuals of all age groups. 3 credits

NUTH 2002 Legal Aspects of Nursing
This course reviews the rights, privileges and obligations of nurses in their relationship to each other, their employers, their patients, and all providers of health care. Emphasis is placed on developing the ability of the nurse to recognize and apply relevant legal concepts to insure his/her legal safety while providing optimal patient care. Prerequisite: NUTC 3113. 1 credit

NUTH 2003 Pathophysiology
This course focuses on human response patterns, common to all ages, to internal and external stresses that result in physiological alterations. Subsequent nursing courses will focus upon nursing care component, integrating the student’s knowledge of these physiological alterations. This theory course is based upon physiological alterations and thus permits intensive study of concepts that will act as advanced organizers to change generalizations into usable scientific knowledge applicable to nursing. Prerequisites: anatomy and physiology, and chemistry completion. Pre or corequisite: microbiology. Prerequisite: NUTC 3113. 3 credits

NUTH 2012 Health Promotion
The focus of this course is health promotion and wellness for individuals across the life span. Students will acquire knowledge of strategies to promote healthy lifestyles and prevent injury and disease in individuals at all stages of life. Content focuses on health needs throughout the lifespan, risk assessment and screening, and health promotion resources. 2 credits

NUTH 2101 Nutrition and Health
This course introduces students to the role of promoting and supporting nutritional health. The course will examine the interrelationship among nutrition, food, medications, and the environment as they impact health status. The role and function of nutrients and therapeutic diets in health promotion, wellness and throughout the lifespan will be discussed. Prerequisites: Anatomy & Physiology I & II, or by special permission. 2 credits
NUTH 3002 Gerontological Nursing
This course will focus on the aging process from both biological and social perspectives. Discussions will include patterns of normal aging as well as common pathological conditions and health problems faced by the elderly. Health promotion, health maintenance, and restorative nursing are emphasized as well as adaptations in self-care required as a result of age-related changes and chronic illness. Prerequisites: NUTH 1003, 1102, 2001 2003, 2101, NUTC 2011, 2102. 2 credits

NUTH 3003 Research In Nursing
This course introduces the undergraduate nursing student to the research process and ethical issues related to nursing research. The student will acquire skills necessary to read, interpret, evaluate and critically analyze nursing research studies in view of their use in nursing practice. Prerequisite: MATH 1203 and NUTC 3113. 3 credits

NUTH 3004 The Business of Healthcare
This course will introduce basic concepts of business, financial management and economics. Emphasis is on the interactions between management, financing, regulation, competition and organizational innovations of healthcare. Prerequisite: NUTC 3113. 3 credits

NUTH 3010 Pharmacological Therapies
Focus on pharmacological therapy and the role of the nurse in drug management with consideration to social, economic and the technological changes in administering medications safely. Categories of drugs, including prototypes, related to each body system/drug function are studied. Emphasis is on developing the knowledge base and critical thinking abilities necessary to care for clients receiving medication therapy. Prerequisite: NUTH 2003. 3 credits

NUTH 3020 (CORE 3101) Engaging the World: Catholicism Intellectual Thought and Contemporary Health care Issues
This course focuses on a discussion of major themes and precepts in Catholic and other intellectual and religious traditions and their application to contemporary health care issues. Emphasis is on how Catholic and other religious and cultural traditions affect and influence people facing various transformative health care issues in their lives. 3 credits

NUTH 4001 Leadership, Management and Trends in Nursing
This course focuses on knowledge and skills derived from leadership and management as they are translated and integrated into professional nursing practice and in nursing are analyzed within the contemporary healthcare delivery system. Specific issues and trends in healthcare delivery, in general. Prerequisites: NUTH 2003, NUTC 2011, NUTH 2012, NUTH 3010, NUTC 3113 NUTC 3914, NUTC 3915, NUTC 3916, NUTC 3917 and CORE 3. Corequisites: NUTH 4118, NUTC 4019 and CORE 3. 3 credits

Immaculate Conception Seminary was founded in 1860 at Seton Hall and remained part of the University until 1927, when it moved to separate facilities in Darlington, near Mahwah, NJ. In 1984, Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology (ICSST) re-affiliated with the University. In 2007, the School launched a Bachelor of Arts degree in Catholic Theology, available to the University’s entire undergraduate population.

The Bachelor of Arts in Catholic Theology enables a student to engage his or her world from a rich theological and spiritual perspective that enhances any career or vocational path. Students participating in the program experience the profound intellectual heritage of Catholicism as a living faith that has laid the foundations for much of world civilization and that provides compelling spiritual and moral perspectives.
and guidelines for the modern age.

The program addresses the interests and needs of a wide range of students, following two basic directions of study. The first of these program options is designed to satisfy all undergraduate education requirements for religious order and college seminarians planning to prepare for priesthood formation at the major seminary level following graduation. The content of this course of study explores intensely the interaction of faith and reason at the root of Catholic thought, and follows the academic requirements stipulated by the Program of Priestly Formation (Fifth Edition, 2005) mandated by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops in June 2005. This option is open to any student; however, it is mandatory for all undergraduate seminarians.

The second program option allows a student to pursue a more focused study in particular fields of theology: sacred Scripture, moral theology, spiritual theology and systematic theology.

With this Bachelor of Arts in Catholic Theology, Seton Hall offers its students a unique opportunity to understand better Catholicism’s traditions and place in contemporary thought and society, as has been called for by the Second Vatican Council and articulated throughout the pontificates of Popes John Paul II, Benedict XVI and Francis.

Accreditation
ICSST is accredited by the following organizations:
Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada; Middles States Association of Colleges and Schools.

Bachelor of Arts in Catholic Theology (B.A.)

Students pursuing the bachelor’s degree program choose one of two program options: (I) an intense exploration of the interaction of faith and reason that is at the root of Catholic thought, following the academic requirements set out in the Program of Priestly Formation (Fifth Edition, 2005) or (II) a more focused study in specific fields of theology.

All students also must fulfill the University Core requirements as indicated below; fulfill the Core Curriculum requirements of the School of Theology; maintain at least a 2.0 GPA; and complete 120 total credits along with the particular program option requirements of the bachelor’s degree.

Total Certificate in Philosophical Theology credits: 45

Course Descriptions

Philosophical Theology

PLTL 1111 History of Philosophy I
An initiation into philosophical thinking, focusing on ancient and medieval philosophy. Special attention to the influences of Greek philosophy and the Gospel on each other. Includes: pre-Socrates; Socrates; Plato; Aristotle; Stoicism; Epicureanism; Neoplatonism; Augustine; Boethius; Bonaventure; and Aquinas. 3 credits
PLTL 1112 History of Philosophy II
An examination of four themes in modern and contemporary philosophy, starting with Ockham and Bacon through Descartes, Locke, the Empiricists, Enlightenment and contemporaries: the body-mind problem; success of the natural sciences; expansion of liberty and equality; the question of God. 3 credits

PLTL 1113 History of Philosophy III
Beginning with the end of the 19th century through the end of the 20th century, an analysis of the development of three major schools of contemporary philosophy – phenomenology, existentialism, and analytic philosophy – and more recent philosophical developments, such as postmodernism. Special emphasis is given to Christian philosophers and the revival of Thomism. 3 credits

PLTL 1242 Philosophical Logic
A study of the ens rationis, including: the nature of concept, judgment and inductive-deductive argument, basic notions of theory of language, theory of definitions, informal fallacies, syllogistic (Aristotelian) logic, propositional and predicate logic. The major emphasis is on the use of logic in philosophy and theology. 3 credits

PLTL 2218 Philosophy of Being
A classical description of being in terms of essence of being; substance and accidents; transcendental characteristics of being; the laws of being, such as the four causes. Alternative metaphysical systems as related to theology. (Formerly PLTL 1218) 3 credits

PLTL 2223 Philosophy of Nature
A study of ens mobile, including the analysis of movement and nature, the first division of being into substance and accidents, and the second division of being into matter and form in the Aristotelian-Thomistic tradition. Special analysis is given to Aristotle’s physics and Aquinas’ commentaries on Aristotle’s books on nature. (Formerly PLTL 1223) 3 credits

PLTL 2241 Philosophical Ethics
A study of ens qua bonum. The question of the moral nature of human action, what makes actions good and bad, and how this is knowable. Different ethical systems are examined along with the metaphysics they presuppose. Representative authors studied include Aristotle, Aquinas, Kant and Mill. Four areas are covered: the analysis of human action, natural law, moral conscience and theory of virtue. (Formerly PLTL 1241) 3 credits

PLTL 2243 Theory of Knowledge
A study of ens qua verum, including a consideration of the ontological nature of human knowledge as knowledge, followed by an historical survey of epistemological theory, with special emphasis on the rise of critical philosophy in the modern period. Special emphasis is given to topics such as the notion of truth, certainty, evidence, the problem of skepticism, idealism and realism. (Formerly PLTL 1243) 3 credits

PLTL 3214 Philosophy of Person
Basic issues of human reality and philosophical anthropology, including: fact of being; relation of body and soul; cognition; spirituality; relation of self to society; religion; and death. St. Thomas’ realist metaphysics, contemporary existentialism and phenomenological methodology are employed to discuss the spirituality of the soul. The role of imagination and subconsciousness, the meaning of male and female and the role of the person in society. (Formerly PLTL 1214) 3 credits

PLTL 3416 Philosophy of God
That part of metaphysics dealing with Being that is first absolutely. First principles and natural knowledge; arguments for the existence of God; ways to God, including the Thomistic approach; pantheism; Divine attributes. (Formerly PLTL 1416) 3 credits

Sacred Scripture
THEO 1102 The Bible: Word of God and Book of the Church
This course introduces students to the many ways Catholics have read and interpreted Sacred Scripture. Focusing on key Old Testament and New Testament passages, the course surveys historical-critical, narrative and canonical approaches, as well as methods grounded in liturgy and lectio divina, highlighting the advantages and challenges of each. 3 credits

THEO 2111 Theology of the Old Testament
This course aims to clarify how and why the Hebrew Scriptures became the Old Testament of the Catholic Church. The course examines the various ways these Scriptures constitute the Word of God that is still normative for Catholic theology, worship and living. 3 credits

THEO 2112 Theology of the New Testament
This course examines how the experience of Jesus Christ, especially in His death and resurrection, compelled His followers to interpret Him and the heritage of the Old Testament in a new light, how these insights opened new directions for Jesus’ disciples beyond Judaism while also preserving the Old Testament as indispensable for comprehending God’s revelation through the Paschal Mystery. 3 credits

THEO 2113 The Apocryphal Bible
This course explores the wide range of Jewish and Christian writings that appeared c. 100 B.C. – 400 A.D., making claims to Scriptural status but ultimately rejected as such by each religious community. The origins and theology of these writings, their relation to Sacred Scripture and their impact on Christian thought and culture are considered. 3 credits

BIBL 3106 New Testament Greek I
Introduction to New Testament Greek vocabulary and grammar, focusing on noun declensions and elementary verb tenses. Reading, translation, and analysis of short passages from the New Testament. 3 credits
BIBL 3107 New Testament Greek II
Further study of New Testament Greek vocabulary and grammar, focusing on more advanced verb tenses and moods. Reading, translation, and analysis of passages from the New Testament. Prerequisite: BIBL 3106. 3 credits

Moral Theology
THEO 1203 New Life in Christ: Introduction to Roman Catholic Moral Theology
This course examines the basic themes in Roman Catholic moral theology in light of the renewal of the discipline by the Second Vatican Council, The Catechism of the Catholic Church, the legacy of teachings from St. John Paul II and the integrating work of major Catholic theologians. 3 credits

THEO 2211 Jesus Christ and Moral Life
This course examines how the revelation of perfect human nature in Jesus Christ leads the Catholic moral tradition to consider authentic human living as necessarily a harmonization of body and spirit, freedom and choice, natural and supernatural virtues, and personal subjectivity fulfilled in love and social relationship. 3 credits

THEO 2212 The Culture of Life
This course examines how human personal life is fulfilled in social relationship; how the particular settings of family, nation and culture all receive a deeper understanding through the revelation of Jesus Christ; and how this reflection has led the Church to articulate a comprehensive body of teachings concerning social, legal, medical, political and economic institutions. 3 credits

THEO 2213 Theology of Service
The theological underpinnings of social justice are explored through active service in the field, classroom discussion and personal reflection, leading to a personal engagement of the work of justice and solidarity with the disadvantaged in light of Gospel and the Church’s tradition. The course involves a weekly classroom meeting and a weekly two-hour field assignment. 3 credits

THEO 3294 Holiness in Christian States
This course treats the nature and importance of the spiritual life in the Catholic tradition. It then examines the various Christian “states of life” and the way each state incarnates Christian holiness. The course takes Lumen Gentium, chapter 5, “The Call of the Whole Church to Holiness” as the guide, and then studies the particular paths of the laity, the clergy, and religious men and women. Texts examined and discussed include: “Christifideles Laici,” “Pastores Dabo Vobis,” “Vita Consecrata” of John Paul II, and Hans Urs von Balthasar’s “The Christian State of Life”. 3 credits

Church History
THEO 0302 American Context
This developmental course provides an introductory understanding for foreign-born students to the fundamental aspects of American culture and higher education, including: a study of the foundational documents of American society; an examination of America as a multi-cultural, multi-religious society due to immigration and internal migration; an examination of the multi-culturalism of the Church in northern New Jersey; and an introduction to how American higher education responds to these realities, with an especial focus on Seton Hall University. This developmental course is normally offered within the Pre-Formation Internship Program. 3 institutional credits

THEO 1300 Introduction to the History of the Catholic Church
This course approaches Church history as a theological enquiry necessitated by the central Christian belief that God has entered time through the Incarnation. The course examines the history of the Catholic Church utilizing the methods and questions proper to the sciences of History and Theology. Recommended: HIST 1201 and 1202 taken previously. 3 credits

THEO 3321 Anti-Catholicism in the American Experience
This course explores the complexity of anti-Catholicism as an aspect of American history and society. It critically examines the phenomenon from historical, sociological and theological perspectives and considers its implications for American culture and the Catholic Church in America. Recommended: HIST 1301 and 1302 taken previously. 3 credits

Spiritual Theology
THEO 1404 Life of the Soul: Introduction to Catholic Prayer and Spiritual Traditions
This course considers the centrality in the Catholic tradition of: a spiritual life rooted in personal prayer; the Church’s various traditions of prayer and spirituality (e.g. Benedictine, Dominican, Franciscan, Carmelite and Jesuit); and prayer as a basis of both radical personal transformation and modes of communal Christian life, (e.g. monasticism, religious life and ecclesial movements). 3 credits

THEO 2411 Vocation and Christian Living
The idea of vocation is explored as a fundamental direction God gives each human person, born of their creation in the divine image and likeness and the universal call to holiness and union with God. Specific attention is given to what it means to live a “holy life,” to mirror the love of God and how particular vocations – marriage, single life, priesthood, religious life – aspires to achieve this. 3 credits
THEO 2412 The Cross, Suffering and Discipleship
This course examines the role of Christ’s Paschal Mystery in one’s progress to holiness and union with God; how the Cross offers a redemptive value to suffering and death; how the Cross also affirms the value of life and draws one more deeply into a life of love. Based on a wide range of sources, focusing on such pre-eminent teachers as Saints Teresa of Avila, John of the Cross, Thérèse of Lisieux and Edith Stein. 3 credits

THEO 2413 Monasticism
This course investigates Eastern and Western Christian monasticism from its origins in 4th-century Egypt to the medieval mendicant orders. Particular attention is given to examining the various forms of monastic life, its rules and ideals, devotions and ways to sanctity, and how the monastic movement has both challenged and sustained the Church and society. 3 credits

THEO 3411 The Theology of Dante’s Commedia
This course entails a detailed reading of Dante’s masterpiece The Divine Comedy. The poem’s theological content will be uncovered, especially its doctrinal, spiritual, liturgical, biblical and historical layers as well as its artistic construction. The Commedia will be read in translation. 3 credits

Systematic Theology
THEO 1501 To Know God: Introduction to Roman Catholic Doctrine
This course explores the primary ways Catholicism believes God in Jesus Christ reveals Himself to humanity: through Sacred Scripture, tradition and magisterium; communal life and worship; personal prayer, moral development and spiritual growth; and the ongoing engagement of all these elements with human learning, reason and history. 3 credits

THEO 1502 The Church’s Saving Mysteries: Introduction to Roman Catholic Liturgy and Sacraments
This course considers the worship and sacraments of the Catholic Church as necessary expressions and celebrations of the presence of Jesus Christ’s Incarnation and Paschal Mystery, how these encounters with Christ have shaped Catholic doctrine, and the role of liturgy and sacraments in human transformation to fulfillment in God. 3 credits

THEO 2511 Jesus Christ and the Triune God
An exploration of how the experience of Jesus Christ led to a radical reconsideration of the monotheistic belief of His followers, resulting in Christianity’s unique understanding of God – trinitarian monotheism; how Christians struggled with this articulation through the first five centuries; and how this still shapes the contemporary Christian world. 3 credits

THEO 2512 Jesus Christ and the Mystery of the Church
An exploration of how Christian reflection on the person and mission of Jesus Christ led to an understanding of His community of followers, whereby the Church becomes an object of faith; and how this Christological reflection is the basis of the Church’s self-understanding, even in its concrete historical, cultural and institutional manifestations. 3 credits

THEO 2513 Apologetics
This course examines how Christians have defended and proposed their faith from New Testament times to today. Emphasis is given to the various methods of apologetics that have developed as part of the Church’s engagement of the modern world’s profoundly religious questions about humanity and society. 3 credits

THEO 2514 The Fathers of the Church
This course introduces students to the writers and theologians of the Church’s first seven centuries who laid the common foundations for Christianity’s understanding of God, Jesus Christ, the Church, the Bible and the essentials of Christian living. Special attention is paid to the most pre-eminent of the Fathers and samples of their writings. 3 credits

THEO 2515 The Teachings of St. John Paul II
The extensive legacy of teachings from St. John Paul II is examined, especially his emphasis on Jesus Christ as the basis for personal fulfillment, social responsibility and human culture. His contributions to a renewed sense of Christian mission following Vatican II and for the third millennium also are examined. 3 credits

THEO 2516 The Theology of Benedict XVI
The rich theological enquiries of Joseph Ratzinger/Pope Benedict XVI as both a theologian and pontiff of the Vatican II Church form the basis of this course, in particular how his earlier academic contributions have related to his papal teachings and responsibilities. 3 credits

THEO 3501 The Church’s Marian Teaching
This course provides a survey of the place of the Blessed Virgin Mary in the History of Salvation and, in particular, in the life of Christ and the Church. The main areas of concentration are Mary in the Scriptures; Mary in the writings of the Fathers of the Church; the Marian dogmas of the Church; the teaching of the contemporary Magisterium; Mary in the liturgy of the Church; the spiritual motherhood of Mary; the Marian orientation of Catholic spirituality; Mary in ecumenical and interreligious dialogue; and contemporary approaches, questions and controversies. 3 credits

THEO 3591 Aquinas: Theologian of the Bible
Thomas Aquinas gave up everything to join the Dominicans, an order of begging preachers. His primary job description was teacher of the Bible. This course explores Thomas Aquinas’ project of faith seeking understanding. It examines his historical context and the various genres of his work, including his ample use of pagan philosophy, in order to understand how he tried to help preachers better understand and expound the theology of the Bible. 3 credits
Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies

Mooney Hall Room 312

Website: ceps.shu.edu  E-mail: CEPS@shu.edu
Dean: Karen A. Passaro, M.B.A., J.D.

The Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies serves the personal and professional needs of a diverse community of learners through credit and non-credit courses, professional development programs, workshops, seminars, symposia, lecture series, and professional certification.

Uniquely positioned to respond to the needs of the adult learner, the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies provides the leadership in coordinating campus-wide academic partnerships to carry out the University’s mission of educational outreach by offering a wide range of educational options through a full range of delivery methods and formats.

The Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies also collaborates with academic departments to offer credit courses during summer and weekend semesters and works with faculty and administrative units to develop short-term travel-study programs supporting the development of traditional and non-traditional student populations.

Committed to maximizing the capacity to learn, whether it is on-campus, off-campus, or “anytime-anyplace,” the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies facilitates access to the outstanding academic and enrichment programs available through Seton Hall University.

The Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies works with the colleges and schools to offer online degree and certificate programs as well as other online learning offerings that are designed for professionals who have the ability, desire and dedication to accept the rigors of a fast-paced, challenging curriculum.

Utilizing a web-based online delivery system, these programs provide a rich educational experience. Completing learning offerings online, students are able to earn the credential while continuing to meet professional and personal commitments.

The Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies serves the educational aspirations and professional needs of students from the region and across the nation. Committed to utilizing the technological advantages that web-based delivery affords and the Seton Hall University high level of academic quality that students deserve, students can pursue their education “any time – any place.”
Online Degree Programs

A vital component of the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies is its support of the wide range of online degree programs that have been designed for working professionals who can most benefit from “anytime, anywhere” course work. Acknowledging that these students are particularly able to integrate what has already been learned in their careers and demonstrate to others these enhanced capabilities, the University recognizes that as learning team members, they, along with the faculty and members of the instructional teams, are interrelated and interdependent. These relationships are key to a rich and dynamic online learning experience and each student is a vital link in the overall success of that experience.

Online degree programs are offered through the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Education and Human Services, and the College of Nursing.

The following programs are offered through the College of Arts and Sciences:

• Master of Arts in Strategic Communication and Leadership
• Master of Healthcare Administration

The following programs are offered through the College of Education and Human Services:

• Master of Arts with a major in Counseling/Ed.S. in Mental Health Counseling
• Master of Arts with a major in School Counseling/Ed.S. in Mental Health Counseling
• Master of Arts in Education Leadership, Management and Policy
• Master of Arts in Human Resources Training and Development for Law Enforcement Officers

The following programs are offered through the College of Nursing

• Master of Science in Nursing - Nurse Practitioner Program and Health Systems Administration Program
• Bachelor of Science in Nursing for Registered Nurses

Tuition

Tuition for the online degree programs includes all fees (except for the application fee), and room and board for the three-to-five residency weekends (depending upon the program). Travel expenses, books and materials, computer equipment, software and student ISP costs are not included. A deposit of $200 - $500 (depending upon the program) is required upon admission to the program. This NONREFUNDABLE deposit guarantees space in the program, and is credited toward the total cost of the program. Reduced tuition cost per student can be offered to organizations sponsoring a full learning team of students as part of a customized curriculum. Please contact the program director for tuition information.

Financial Aid

Financial aid payment plans are available for students interested in paying their tuition on a monthly basis or those interested in a loan program. Students must file the FAFSA on the web as a first step in applying for a Stafford Loan. Complete tuition and financial aid information can be found on the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies website, ceps.shu.edu

Online Degree Program Application

The application for online degree programs offered through the Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies may be found on the Division’s website, ceps.shu.edu Click on the name of the degree program for more information and to access the application.

University Buildings

519 South Orange Avenue. As of June 2014, the Department of Public Relations and Marketing is located in this building.

525 South Orange Avenue. Enrollment Services offices and art studios are located in this building.

Alfieri Hall. Alfieri Hall, completed in 1984, contains classrooms and faculty offices for the School of Theology, offices of the Educational Opportunity Program, and the Computer Training Center. The Department of Graduate Programs in Health Sciences is located on the lower level.

Alumni Hall. Alumni Hall was planned as a 25th anniversary gift to commemorate the opening of Seton Hall College in 1856. The needed funds were not raised in 1881, but the fund drive continued, and the building was dedicated in 1886 to commemorate the opening and first graduation in South Orange in 1861. Alumni Hall houses the Chapel of the Good Shepherd of Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology, as well as the School’s administrative offices.

Art Center. Originally a carriage house built between 1890 and 1895, and now a registered national landmark, this red brick Victorian building has been preserved and renovated and was officially dedicated in May 1974 as the University’s Art Center. It houses an art gallery, studios, classrooms and faculty offices.

Arts and Sciences Hall. Opened in 1973, the building houses the Ruth Sharkey Academic Resource Center, lecture halls, seminar rooms, conference rooms, classrooms, and offices for College of Arts and Sciences faculty and administrative personnel.

Bayley Hall. Erected in 1913 and named for Bishop James Roosevelt Bayley, first Bishop of Newark and nephew of Elizabeth Seton, Bayley Hall is used for business and administrative purposes, and houses Enrollment Services.

Bishop Dougherty University Center. Named for Bishop John J. Dougherty, president of Seton Hall from 1960-70, the University Center contains meeting rooms, dining areas, lounges, an art gallery and Theatre-in-the-Round. It houses the offices of student publications and student government, as well as the Department of Community Development and the office of the vice president for Student Affairs.

Chapel of the Immaculate Conception. The Chapel of the Immaculate Conception has been the center of campus religious life since 1863 and was renovated and restored in 2008. Open every day, the chapel serves as a place of meditation and prayer for all members of the University community. Several Masses are offered on weekdays and on Sundays.

Corrigan Hall. Named after Bishop Michael A. Corrigan and Reverend James H. Corrigan, brothers who served as second and third presidents of Seton Hall, this building contains offices, the facilities for Computing Services, classrooms, music studios, and labs.

Duffy Hall. Classrooms, offices, the Bookstore, Parking, Campus ID, Disability Support Services, and the Department of Housing and Residence Life, are located in this building.

Fahy Hall. Opened in 1968, this building houses many departments of the College of Arts and Sciences, as well as the dean of this College. In addition to classrooms and faculty offices, it contains communication laboratories, the language resource center, and a television studio.

Jubilee Hall. With six stories and more than 126,000 square feet of academic space, this structure provides a home for the Stillman School of Business, the College of Education and Human Services, the New Jersey Center for Civic and Law-Related Education and the Departments of Political Science, Psychology, Public and Healthcare Administration, and Sociology, Anthropology and Social Work. It contains 156 faculty and administrative offices and 30 teaching spaces, from seminar rooms that seat eight people to an auditorium seating 390. It also features a central, three-story skylit atrium where students and faculty can congregate informally. A major feature of the building is the technological capabilities it brings to the teaching and learning processes. These include fixed and flexible seating classrooms with the most contemporary information and distance-learning technologies that facilitate the transmission of lectures all over the world; laboratories with one-way observation mirrors; and classrooms with power for laptop computers at each seat.

Lewis Hall/Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology. Lewis Hall was completed in 1984 and houses Immaculate Conception Seminary School of Theology, including Seminary faculty and student residences, a dining hall, lounges, the Monsignor James C. Turro Theology Library and temporary faculty offices.

Marshall Hall. Built in the 1890s under the direction of Reverend William Marshall, this three-story building is situated to the east side of Presidents Hall. The building’s main level contains a newly restored Regents Suite and Regents Board Room. Marshall Hall connects via a gallery passage and a stair tower with marble treads and wrought-iron railing serves the second floor level.

Martin House. The location of the Department of Human Resources, a private home for many years, was dedicated on November 3, 2006, the feast day of Saint Martin de Porres (1579-1639). The building, located at 366 South Orange Avenue, was named Martin House in honor of the Dominican brother, known for his many good works among the poor of Lima, Peru, and a model of servant leadership.

McQuaid Hall. Named after Bishop Bernard McQuaid, first president of Seton Hall, this building was constructed in the early 1900s. The School of Diplomacy and International Relations is located on a major section of the first floor of this building. The School of Health and Medical Sciences is located on the second floor and part of the first floor.

Mooney Hall. Named for Monsignor James Mooney, president of Seton Hall from 1907-22, the building houses Freshman Studies, the Academic Success Center, Seton Summer Scholars, ROTC/Military Science, Special Academic Services, Counseling Services, the Print Shop, classrooms and offices.
Presidents Hall. Visually the “centerpiece” of campus, Presidents Hall dates back to 1867. It houses administrative offices, including those of the president, provost and executive vice president, general counsel, planning, and the Office of International Programs.

Residence Halls. Seton Hall has housing capacity for approximately 2,400 students. The residence halls include Cabrini, Neumann, Serra, Xavier, Aquinas, and North and South Boland halls. Ora Manor Apartments, Turrell Manor and St. Andrew’s Hall provide University housing off campus.

Ring Building. Located at 457 Centre Street, this building houses the Division of University Advancement, including the vice president’s office and the departments of Alumni Relations, Advancement Services, Development, and Government and Community Relations.

Schwartz College of Nursing Building. This facility was opened in 1973 and named for the first dean of the College of Nursing, Caroline Di Donato Schwartz, whose husband, Henry Schwartz, was the major benefactor who supplemented a U.S. Public Health Service Building grant for its completion. This building includes a state-of-the-art computer laboratory, patient care simulation laboratories, classrooms, an amphitheater, and offices for faculty and administration.

Science and Technology Center (McNulty Hall). Named in honor of Monsignor John Laurence McNulty, president during the University’s post-World War II expansion years, this building contains newly updated classrooms, teaching and research laboratories, faculty offices, conference rooms and a 230 seat amphitheater. This building has undergone an extensive redesign and was reopened in August 2007. The Departments of Biological Sciences, Chemistry and Biochemistry, Mathematics and Computer Science, and Physics are located in this newly renovated Science and Technology Center.

Seton Hall Law School Building. Seton Hall Law School opened its doors to its first class on the old site of John Marshall Law School, located at 40 Journal Square, Jersey City, in 1951. Twenty years later, in 1971, the School relocated to 1111 Raymond Boulevard, Newark. Outgrowing its space, the Law School moved to its current location at One Newark Center, Newark, in 1992. The Law School entrance leads to a striking, five-story, glass-encased atrium. Offices, classrooms, a moot courtroom and library are interconnected by balconies overlooking the atrium. The School’s location, just one block from Newark Penn Station, allows easy access to Manhattan and other destinations.

Stafford Hall. The building, which architects designed to complement Presidents Hall, features 12 technologically advanced classrooms. Nine of the rooms can accommodate 35 students each, while the remaining rooms include two large classrooms that can hold 70 and 50 students apiece and one smaller room for 25 students.

The building provides direct ADA-access to Marshall Hall on multiple floors, which visitors can then use to enter Presidents Hall. In a nod to the site’s history, Stafford Hall’s cornerstone (which was uncovered during its demolition) has been inlaid into the new building’s lobby.

Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center and Walsh Gymnasium. A student-oriented, multipurpose facility that serves the recreation, physical education and intercollegiate needs of the University community. Features of this facility, which is scheduled to complete a multi-million dollar renovation process in 2014, include the Richard and Sheila Regan Field House – home to a newly-installed four-lane MONDO track and recently re-surfaced basketball courts – and a 25-yard pool. The facility also offers a variety of fitness options available to the entire University community with dedicated areas for dance and exercise classes, extensive free weight and aerobic equipment, in addition to saunas and locker rooms. Adjacent to the Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center, is Walsh Gymnasium, a 2,000-seat arena built in 1939 and named for Newark Archbishop Thomas Walsh. Walsh Gymnasium is the site of practice and competition for many intercollegiate teams. The state-of-the-art WSOU-FM facility is also located here. Outdoor facilities include Owen T. Carroll Field and Ivy Hill Park, 19 acres of practice and intramural fields adjacent to the campus.

Walsh Library. Seton Hall’s Walsh Library was completed in spring 1994. Located opposite the Richie Regan Recreation and Athletic Center, the four-story, 155,000-square-foot structure is nearly three times the size of its predecessor, McLaughlin Library, and accommodates twice as many users at any given time. The library is named in honor of Board of Regents chairman and University benefactor Frank E. Walsh and his wife, Mary D. Walsh.

Walsh Library facilities include quiet, convenient reading rooms, group study rooms, study carrels and scholar’s studies; compact shelving and a flexible floor plan; state-of-the-art systems to protect, preserve and provide access to valuable resources; an exhibit and art gallery; the Valente Italian Studies Library; the Alberto Italian Studies Institute; and a central location for all library services, including Information Commons, the Special Collections Center, The Teaching, Learning and Technology Center, Walsh Library Gallery, and University Archives.
