Keynote Speaker: Dr. Yuki Terazawa is an associate professor of history at Hofstra University. She received a BA form Ochanomizu University, a MA from New York University, and a Ph.D. from UCLA. She works in diverse academic fields, encompassing Japanese History, Gender Studies, Asian American History, and Social Studies of Science (STS). In her recent book, Knowledge, Power, and Women's Reproductive Health in Japan, 1690-1945 (Palgrave Macmillan, 2018), she examined the emergence of modern "bio-power" that Michel Foucault first conceptualized, applying his theory to the case of the rise of modernity and modern nation state in Japan, focusing on women's reproductive health.
