

What is Home Away from Home?

Nothing is better than a home cooked meal and conversation around the dinner table. Yet for many Seton Hall students, the closest they get to a home cooked meal is ordering pizza and microwaving macaroni and cheese. Home Away from Home is an opportunity for your family to invite students to your house for a meal and to get to know each other. You have the chance to help students connect to their new surroundings and feel at home. This is an excellent way to become involved with Seton Hall in a personal and enjoyable way.

How do I meet the students?

After we receive your information, a pair of students will be matched with you according to your availability and interests. The Office of Community Relations will set up the first meeting and you will be responsible for planning future gatherings if desired.

What do I need to do?

1. Fill Out a Sign-Up Form
2. Host 2-3 home based informal dinners over the course of the academic year.
3. Contact the students prior to the scheduled dinner gathering (if able, ask if they need to be picked up)
4. Have fun!
