IMAGINE A WORLD WITHOUT RELIGIOUS PREJUDICE

The goal of the Jewish-Christian Studies Program at Seton Hall University is to build appreciation, understanding and cooperation among Christians, Jews and people of other religious traditions. Through the program, matriculating and non-matriculating students have an opportunity to better understand the importance of religious diversity in a dynamic society. The coursework can lead to a Master of Arts or a graduate certificate.

MASTER OF ARTS
Within the College of Arts and Sciences, a comprehensive curriculum in Jewish-Christian studies can lead to a Master of Arts degree. Courses explore the biblical-traditional sources and the relationship between Jews and Christians through the ages, providing a critical analysis of the values and resources deriving from each in historical and cultural perspectives.

The program helps its students explore lessons of lasting social significance, countering the destructive power of prejudice, anti-Semitism, ethnocentrism and bigotry born of ignorance. It promotes personal and societal benefits of mutual cooperation through understanding.

CERTIFICATE PROGRAM
A certificate in Jewish-Christian studies is available for those taking four courses (12 credits) in the program. These courses can assist those education professionals in elementary, middle and secondary schools responsible for implementing the New Jersey Mandate for Holocaust and Genocide Education. They include:

JCST 6001: Christian-Jewish Encounter*
JCST 6014: Lessons from the Holocaust: Trauma and Resilience
