

Undergraduate Certificate in Supply Chain Management

The Certificate Program in Supply Chain Management is designed for non-business and business majors at Seton Hall University and other regionally accredited colleges. Supply Chain Management integrates supply and demand management functions within and across companies. Over the past few decades, supply chains have become prominent within many companies. This has created a growing need for students who can contribute to various parts of the supply chain by utilizing specializations obtained during their higher education.

Qualifications:

- () Enrolled as a non-business or business major.
- () Have completed at least 60 credit hours of college-level courses.
- () Complete the following courses with a grade of C or better:

- () BQUA 2812 Quantitative Methods for Business Semester: _____ Grade: _____
- () BITM 3741 Supply Chain Management Semester: _____ Grade: _____
- () BITM 3732 Enterprise Resource Plan System Semester: _____ Grade: _____

() Any one (1) of the following courses:

- () BITM 3753 Enterprise-Wide Accounting Information Systems Semester: _____ Grade: _____
- () BMKT 4625 Retail Marketing Semester: _____ Grade: _____
- () BMGT 4562 Negotiation Semester: _____ Grade: _____
- () BQUA 3840 Procurement Management Semester: _____ Grade: _____

Name: _____

Date: _____

Student ID Number: _____

Major: _____

Graduation Date: _____

Mailing Address for certificate: _____

Chair Signature: _____

Date: _____

Dean Signature: _____

Date: _____