

Design a Path Toward Great Success

If you're considering a future in communication and the arts, then your potential for great success is unparalleled at Seton Hall. We offer programs in Art, Art History, Design and Interactive Multimedia, Visual and Sound Media, Music, Theatre, Communication, Journalism and Public Relations. Plus, you'll grow your résumé or portfolio with incredible hands-on learning opportunities in the media and arts capital of New York City — just 30 minutes away.

Our College of Communication and Arts has forged countless internship and career connections at top companies, theaters, agencies and publications throughout the area and beyond. Students also benefit from our CHAMP mentorship and Professionals in Residence programs, which allow students to learn from, network with and receive mentorship from alumni executives at leading employers like The New York Times, American Express, MTV, Viacom, Sports Illustrated, TV Land and more.

Incredible opportunities are also found on campus. You can produce your own show for our #1 ranked college radio station, WSOU. Write breaking news for our award-winning newspaper, The Setonian. Work the control booth or camera at Pirate TV. Create ad campaigns in our student-run public relations agency. You can even participate in the more than 10 plays we stage annually on campus and off campus at the South Orange Performing Arts Center.

If that's not enough, you can build skills and connections in organizations like the Brownson Speech and Debate Team, Intercollegiate Ethics Bowl, AIGA The Creative Types and more. In addition, film students can submit their work to the annual South Orange Maplewood Film Festival.

With opportunities like these, great minds like you can accomplish anything.

"I've been able to work in marketing, print, radio and television; I even helped design a trivia app. I don't think I would have had these unique and diverse opportunities without Seton Hall. Having these experiences on my résumé help me to stand out. Most importantly, they helped me land a full-time job with ABC's 20/20."

Hands-On Learning

At Seton Hall, you'll develop your skills and résumé — with countless hands-on learning opportunities. You can produce shows in our state-of-the-art television studio, work on cutting-edge research with your professors or start developing your own product idea. Many of our students also gain real-world experience by studying and interning in places like China, India and Portugal. Others write for our award-winning newspaper, The Setonian, or produce a show for our #1 ranked college radio station in the country, WSOU, or track public opinion at the Seton Hall Sports Polling Center. In and out of the classroom, great minds keep learning.

Internships and Career Opportunities

Here, you'll get a head start on a great career. We offer extensive career services few schools can rival. A dedicated career adviser will start working with you freshman year, and you can take advantage of more than 17,000 internship opportunities from a school ranked #4 in the nation for providing internships. It's why we have a 92% employment rate and our graduate mid-career earnings are 50% higher than the national average. Of our internship providers, 98% say they would hire our graduates if they had an opening — because they know when they hire a Seton Hall graduate, they're getting the best talent in the field.
