Japanese Placement Test

1. To take the Japanese placement test

- a. Go to <https://app.avantassessment.com/test>
- b. Log in with:
 - Username: 4532-pl-jp-8
 - Password: m9mgzfh9
- c. Enter your SHU ID in the field labeled "Login Name"
- d. Also put your SHU ID in the fields labeled "Test Taker ID"
- e. Follow the rest of the instructions to register and take the test.

 You can begin the exam and save your progress if you need to stop mid-test, then go back and finish later. Once you complete the exam, it will automatically go into scoring.*

Note:

- Tests can take 3–5 business days for a completed test to be scored and reported.
- You will receive your results and placement level via email about one week after you complete the exam. Then you can register for the course you place into.*
- Registration for language classes opens once the placement scores officially post into the system. This may take a day or two from when you're notified by email, so have patience and check back to register for your classes.

You should take the placement test 2–3 weeks before your Orientation. If you take the test later, your results may not be processed in time for Orientation and Registration.

Please direct further questions about placement testing to languageplacement@shu.edu. Use your Seton Hall email address and include your SHU ID when corresponding about your placement test and results.
