

Seton Hall University

welcomes new pirate families!

Welcome Aboard!

It doesn't matter who you are, where you are from, what you study, or what you believe – we are all on the same journey of life and faith. That includes incoming students, your families and friends, undergrads, graduate students, faculty, staff, and yes, even our priests.

At Seton Hall, you will find a supportive community where you can engage in your spirituality, delve into the Christian faith, build new friendships, and dedicate your time in service to others.
