

Viewing your Federal Work Study Paid

If awarded Federal Work Study (FWS) funding, it is important that you monitor and track your usage throughout the semester and aid year. Some Student Employment positions require FWS funding; if you are employed in one of these positions and exhaust your FWS allotment, your position may end effective the close of that pay period.

1. Log on to your PirateNet account and go to the University Portal

2. Select the Financial Aid tab, then click the View Financial Aid Status link. You will be transferred to your Financial Aid Portal @ SHU.

3. Confirm that you have selected the correct aid year from the dropdown in the top right corner. This should match your FAFSA aid year.

2026-2027 is Fall 2026 - Spring 2027

4. Choose the Financial Aid History tab. Scroll down to see the amount of FWS funding paid.

- FWS amounts are updated on your Portal approximately 10 days following the close of the pay period

5. Determine your remaining FWS amount : Allotment - Paid = Remaining

You should subtract the amount of FWS paid from your allotment total to determine your remaining amount

- If you are nearing your allotment for the semester, inform your Supervisor and reach out to the Student Employment Office to request an increase to your allotment. Supplemental FWS funds may be awarded depending on remaining funding and student need.

A template is available from the Student Employment Office that can be used for tracking FWS paid and remaining allotments. Review the Student Employment Office website for details.
