Preventing Discrimination and Sexual Violence:
Title IX, VAWA and Clery Act
for Faculty, Staff, and Administrators
On-line Training

All University employees, officers, priests, faculty (full and part time, as well as adjuncts), administrators, and staff are required to complete this on-line course within thirty (30) days of receipt of the registration e-mail from Vector Solutions, the University's vendor who administers the training. The email from Vector will include log-in instructions for completing the training. The course can also be accessed by logging in to PirateNet and selecting the Vector LMS app; it is recommended that you use the Google Chrome browser for the most efficient operation of the module

This training course has been developed to reflect current state and federal laws and regulations and includes a section specific to requirements under Title IX and the Clery Act. This course also includes information on University policy, procedures, and reporting protocols.

Seton Hall University strives to maintain a safe environment that is free from gender-based intimidation, harassment, and discrimination. Sexual assault, sexual harassment, and sexual misconduct violates the Seton Hall University mission and its core values. In accordance with Title IX and the Violence Against Women Act, Seton Hall University works to create a campus environment that eliminates sexual harassment, prevents its re-occurrence, and addresses the effects it can have on the campus community.

The University's Title IX Website is located at https://www.shu.edu/title-ix/.

Problems accessing or navigating through the course should be reported to the Technology Service Desk via email at servicedesk@shu.edu or by calling (973) 275-2222.
